THE MASS MEETING ENTHUSIASTIC EVENT

Auditorium Was Filled With Enthusiastic Citizens—Much Interest Was Aroused

If there was any doubt about Nacogdoches people wanting the Stephen F. Austin Normal, it was dispelled last night when the great crowd gathered at the auditorium of the new school buildings, and with one accord agreed to any and every measure, no matter what sacrifice might result, to go after the institution.

And the country can here and now sit up and take notice that Nacogdoches is going after it.

By move and second, Mr. W. U. Perkins was elected chairman and presided over the meeting with the splendid ability for which he is noted. Mr. J. R. McKinney was elected secretary.

Preliminary to the discussion of the business of the evening, the Nacogdoches Concert Band treated the audience to a few selections of splendid music, which was followed with a short address by Leon Stripling, a student of the high school, who made a pretty and timely little talk on the value of grasping opportunities.

Little Miss Eva Belle Sublett sang an ode written especially for the occasion by Prof. Allison, which charmed the crowd and fired all with a spirit of enthusiasm.

The object of the meeting was stated by Prof. R. F. Davis, who explained the requirements of the town to capture the institution, and what it would be worth to us. Prof. Davis was followed in timely addresses by Hon. Beemon Strong, Judge S. W. Blount, Mr. D. K. Cason, Mayor Matthews, Hon. Eugene Blount, Judge Middlebrook, Mr. Hollis Mast, Hon. June C. Harris, Mr. Jesse Summers and possibly others whose names we failed to note, all imbued with the spirit of the occasion, and offering ideas as to methods of procedure, etc.

After a full and free discussion, it was finally decided, by vote of the audience, to appoint a steering committee of three citizens who would have entire charge of the service, clothed with power to appoint all the committees they may need and take entire charge of the work, the audience pledging undivided support and co-operation in every demand that this committee may make upon the people, both individually and collectively. Prof. R. F. Davis, Mayor Matthews and Mr. Sam Stripling were appointed as a committee to select these gentlemen, and upon their recommendation, the following committee was unanimously elected: Messrs. D. K. Cason, Eugene H. Blount and H. T. Mast.

This committee accepted the responsibility with good grace and will establish headquarters and enter actively upon the work at once, never letting up until every possible effort is made. Energy and service is a characteristic with each of these gentlemen, and they were selected for their peculiar fitness.

The methods to be employed by the steering committee have not been made public—in fact, the members have not had time to work out all the details of their program. But whatever they can do and recommend

FIFTEEN LIVES LOST IN TORPEDO RAID

President Wilson is Expected to Make Known Definite Declaration in 48 Hours.

It has been definitely determined that 15 members of the crew of the Vigilancia lost their lives when the steamer was torpedoed last Friday. Among them were several Americans.

Three officers and five seamen of the crew of the Dutch steamer Selien (Selone) chartered by the Belgian Relief Commission, were killed when a boat in which they had left the ship was shelled by a submarine, according to a dispatch from Stavenger, Norway. The steamer was plainly marked, it is added, but did not stop when attacked. She escaped by putting on full speed ahead toward the submarine.

Wilson Expected to State Policy.

Washington, March 19.—President Wilson is expected within the next 48 hours to indicate definitely that he believes a virtual state of war exists between the United States and Germany.

News received from Plymouth that 15 men some of them Americans, had been drowned when the American merchantman Vigilancia was sunk without warning by a German submarine, added, if possible, to the already grave view of the situation held here as a result of the destruction of the Vigilancia, the Illinois and the City of Memphis.

Whether the president will hasten the extra session of congress, already called for April 16, or will take additional steps to protect American commerce without this move was not disclosed. No official pretended to know his plans, and the general view was that he is still considering the question in his usual deliberate way.

A cabinet meeting probably will be held tomorrow afternoon, and at that time the situation arising is expected to be thoroughly canvassed.

Preparation for aggressive action to protect American rights began today when the president visited the navy department and directed Secretary Daniels to place the $155,000,000 made available by congress to hasten building plans.

DISTRICT COURT.

The case of Chester Smith, charged with assault and attempt to murder Eugene Buckner, was tried in the district court this morning, and a verdict of two years in the penitentiary was returned. The verdict was agreed to by the counsel on both sides, and Mr. Smith will accept the sentence.

The jury in the Burkhalter case was released this morning after being tied up for several days, and a mistrial entered. The jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal throughout.

Mrs. Berta Matlock, who was charged with theft of more than fifty dollars, plead guilty and was given four years with suspended sentence.

The suit of Luther Swift and others against the H. E. & W. T. railroad company was settled by agreement with judgment in favor of plaintiff.

GETS FANCY PRICE SHIPMENT OF STEERS

Mr. Guy Blount, a prominent planter, stock raiser and dealer of this city, informs The Sentinel that he sold sixty-two steers in Fort Worth a few days ago for which he received a check for $6,210.00, net, making the steers bring more than one hundred dollars apiece.

No further argument should be needed to prove to the people of this section the great opportunity offered with stock raising in this section.

Hogs are also selling for more than fifteen cents a pound, gross weight, and the indications are that the price of both will go higher, even though the limit would seem to have been reached by both.

There is a food famine existence which it will take many years to entirely relieve, and with the increased population of the country we have the assurance of a good market for all kinds of feedstuff and foodstuff for many years to come. The wise farmer will profit with the condition, and those pursuing unprofitable avocations should lose no time in "getting back to the soil" for service before they are carried back for interment.

Mr. B. C. Mast of Melrose was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Tuesday.

LETTER OF INTEREST CONFEDERATE VETERANS

New Orleans, March 19, 1917. Adj. Jno. S. Doughtie, Raguet Camp, 620, U. C. V., Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Comrade: I am today in receipt of your kind favor of the 17th inst., containing list of officers, roster of members, and a remittance of $3.00, being the per capita tax of your Camp for the year 1917. Please accept thanks for your kind attention to the matter and find formal receipt herein.

This payment entitles your camp to two delegates and alternates as representatives at the re-union to be held in the city of Washington, D. C., June 5, 6, 7, 1917, and I forward blanks.

It has been thought best to issue buttons for the delegates (there will be none for alternates) from these headquarters, owing to the confusion and delay that have prevailed in the delivery in the past. A charge of five cents will be made for each, and they will be sent you in one lot, but not to individuals, on receipt of remittance. These buttons are for delegates only, that they may get admittance to that part of Hall reserved for them exclusively. Duplicates will not be supplied if the originals are lost.

With earnest good-wishes for your health and happiness, and hoping to have the pleasure of meeting you in Washington,

Sincerely your comrade,
WM. E. MICKLE,
Adj. Gen. and Chief of Staff.

DR. PEGUES VISITS NACOGDOCHES

On last Friday afternoon the high school students enjoyed a visit from Dr. A. S. Pegues, dean and head of the English department of Southwestern University.

This distinguished visitor spoke to the Bob Davis Literary Society on "Heroism," and closed his short address by reading two poems by Alfred Noyes, "Is Jack Johnson or Woodrow Wilson your hero?" he asked; and then showed how every boy and girl has an ideal, and the importance of getting the correct idea. In reading the poems of Noyes, Dr. Pegues proved himself a real poet. The students will welcome him any time.

There has never been a speaker to visit the high school who held the attention of the students so closely. Dr. Pegues has a wonderful personality, and a very pleasing voice, both of which, with his subject, appealed to the audience.

Mr. T. B. Jordan, a most excellent old gentleman, residing near Martinsville, is reported to be dangerously ill.

Old people and children are natural and frank. The rest of us are what the other fellow wants us to be.—Nettie Hall Austin.

The business man would have a line of regular, satisfied customers who will stay with him should get the philosophy that "the bitterness of poor quality lingers long after the sweetness of cheapness has been forgotten."

There was more rain here in Lufkin again today, which goes to show how wonderfully and powerfully this community is made up. If there was a rain-fall anywhere in Nacogdoches County, it has not been brought to our attention; therefore, come to Angelina.—Lufkin News.

A kind providence looks after the rain business in Nacogdoches county sending the refreshing showers upon the "just" and the "unjust" alike, and we would rather trust Him than Angelina county for our rain. Therefore, we will remain in Nacogdoches county for the present.

With the news breaking in today's papers, in which we read of three American vessels being destroyed by German submarines, one of which was without warning, the war clouds seem to be hovering low and heavy over our fair land in which we will be forced to go a step further with our "armed neutrality" and declare "armed conflict." The "overt act" has been committed with good measure, heaped up and running over, and it would seem that there is nothing left for the United States to do but to go forward in a declaration of war or back down. And the latter course would be attended with grave possibilities as the adversary seems to mistake the temper of American people in the spirit of neutrality that has been observed, and seem inclined to force the issue.

Center is not the only sidewalkless town in East Texas judging from the papers. And Center is not the only town in East Texas that is to make an effort to build some cement or other kind of sidewalks. The city council of Nacogdoches has issued an appeal to the citizens of that place to proceed to build walks in front of their property at their own expense and mildly calls attention that the council has the power, under their charter, to compel such improvement and that it would be much better for the work to be done without such action, if possible. It would seem that the property owner should do this improvement and it would seem that it would be fair for yard fences to be built by the city government as for sidewalks.—Center Champion.

GOVERNOR VINDICATED

Austin, Texas, March 15.—On the recommendation of the probe committee late this evening that none of the charges against Governor Ferguson justified impeachment proceedings, the house by a viva voce vote exonerated the governor and the matter was disposed of.

The committee's report was unanimous. Some criticism was indulged in relative to Governor Ferguson's transactions with the Temple Bank and his purchase of groceries out of state funds. Each charge was reviewed in detail and the final conclusion reached, as stated.

NACOGDOCHES WANTS IT.

Nacogdoches wants the Stephen F. Austin Normal to be located somewhere in East Texas, and her people are going after it.

We have all the elements stipulated in the bill of requirements here, together with some advantages not enjoyed by other places which will compete for it. No town in the state has a better school sentiment than this, and no town is making a better showing, proof of which is the units of credits our schools enjoy, giving them affiliation with all the leading universities of the country. We have a large town approaching city proportions, but have not the tendencies to evil and bad temptations that are to be found in many of the cities. Our town is settled up with people of the old south and their descendants who are moral, patriotic and chivalrous, and the society of the town cannot be excelled. We have the railroad facilities with quiet north and south, east and west, making the place easy of access to all parts of the territory to be covered with the school. We have an agricultural station supported by the national government which would be of advantage in the study of agriculture; a free library, and by the time the school could be installed we will have a Federal post-office building and free mail delivery.

Last, but by no means least, Nacogdoches was the pioneer gateway to the state, the early home of Houston, Crockett, Rusk, and other illustrious characters who helped pave the way to the civilization we enjoy, and it is the home of the Stone Fort which is rich with historical interest.

We can meet every requirement of the school with better measures than any other town that will compete for it—and we want it.

With these advantages which we offer to the Normal, the institutions would bring blessings in return to the town. It would help us realize our dream as the educational center of East Texas; it would bring a new class of people to us who would elevate the town socially and morally, and it would turn loose approximately ten thousand dollars new money in the community each month which would stimulate every commercial and industrial enterprise. Added to these advantages, it would bring many new homeseekers to us who are hunting the place with the greatest educational advantages, and homeseekers of this kind are the best any town can secure. Ultimately, the institution would play an important part in carrying the town on to a little city of ten or fifteen thousand population of the best people to be found in the world.

We can get the institution if we go after it with sufficient enthusiasm and intelligent effort. Let's get busy.

MAKE A GARDEN.

The high cost of living can only be overcome largely by producing food and feed crops. Vegetables and potatoes for the table; corn, fodder and hay for the cattle.

Every man's back yard is a possible garden and can help cut costs. Every farmer's holdings can be made to grow more than one crop.

Why not bigger and better crops and more crops, putting your money in your own pocket and more in the pockets of your neighbors and merchants.

DO IT NOW while the opportunity is with you. Seed is cheap. Let us increase our production of food and feed stuffs and show the world what Texas can do. DO IT NOW.

H. M. MAYO,
 Industrial and Immigration Bureau, Southern Pacific Lines.

AN ODE TO NACOGDOCHES.

(Words and Music by Irl. L. Allison.)

'Doches, Nacogdoches,
 We all love you,
 Honor you on every hand;
 Thy green hills, valleys,
 And skies of blue,
 Fairest in God's fair land.
 None can compete
 None is complete,
 Save 'Doches, Nacogdoches town.
 Save 'Doches, Nacogdoches town.

Chorus—
 We want the new College Normal,
 Stephen F. Austin College Normal.
 Let's get it, we'll have it,
 By right it is our's today.
 Come what may, in our way,
 It is our's for the asking, we pray,
 Yes, the Stephen Austin Normal School.

'Doches has a history,
 Peer of them all,
 Brave heroes thy shield has been
 The Old Stone Fort,
 Where many have heard thy call
 And gave their blood to defend.
 None can compete,
 None is complete
 For the Stephen Austin Normal School.
 Yes, the Stephen Austin Normal School.

Chorus—

NACOGDOCHES IS SAFE.

The wiping from the face of the earth of the standpipe you mention will be our first, and sole ambition. If any reasonable sacrifice upon the part of the writer would result in the removal of this unsightly thing from the heart of the city, then will he consider that he has "fought a good fight and finished his course." After the accomplishment of this splendid feat, there would be no occasion for the turn bridge mentioned by the editor of the Sentinel, for the writer would at once abandon his car, give it away or throw it away, or else burn it up. There would be no more need for it in these parts, and the people of Nacogdoches should not become alarmed, should not lose sleep in contemplation of the possible fact that the writer would "whiz" into that town some day with his foot on the cutout and the throttle wide open, causing consternation as he rambled along. It is the standpipe that we are after—only that, and nothing more. Peace be unto all you Nacogdochians.—Lufkin News.

NACOGDOCHES BOY MAKES A RECORD

The following report of the record of marksmanship made by a Nacogdoches county boy is furnished The Sentinel by the marine department:

By hitting the bulls-eye with unerring skill from the standing, kneeling, or sitting position, George H. Derrick of Nacogdoches has qualified as a marksman in the United States Marine Corps, winning the medal of a marksman and an increase of pay, according to an official bulletin from Washington.

This keen-eyed young man is with the U. S. Marines who are busily engaged in restoring order in the little Republic of Haiti. While peace has been established throughout the greater part of the island, an occasional brush with bandits and other lively happenings provide plenty of excitement and adventure for the local boy.

George, who is a son of Mrs. Harriett Derrick of Nacogdoches, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Houston recruiting station on Nov. 13, 1916.

Van Cortlandt Park.

Van Cortlandt Park is as the extreme north end of the city, comprises in its diversified area a high ridge, which carries the Corton aqueduct. A wide level plain which is a parade ground of the National Guard, and a lake resorted to in winter by skaters and players of the Scotch game of Curling. Then there are golf links, ball grounds and, as the chief thing of interest is Van Cortlandt Mansion. The house is an interesting example of Dutch architecture. It was built by Frederick Van Cortlandt, in 1748; and the thick rubble stone walls are as solid today as a century and a half ago. A row of horse chestnuts is reputed to be 175 years old. In 1896 the house was given by the Park commission into the custody of the Colonial Dames of the State of New York by whom it is maintained as a public museum. It is open daily 10 to 6 in summer, 10 to 5 in winter; 2 to 6 on Sunday, admission 25 cents on Thursday on all other days free. The interior has an old-fashioned air, but it tells all through the story of substantial means and generous living. There are huge fireplaces faced with scriptural tiles, deep window seats, a generous wine closet in the wall. A big Dutch oven in the kitchen. And a cellar with massive hand-hewn beams of cedar and cypress and 3 foot walls, loop-holed for muskets. Washington made his headquarters here on his way to the entry of New York in 1783, and the Washington Room is now the museum, containing many colonial and Revolutionary mementos. Among them the four-post bedstead on which Washington slept. Altogether, the Van Cortlandt House is the best relic New York has of the old regime, and it is indeed a charming place to visit.

Not only was my art desires aroused on entering this artistic place, but once upon a time in my mysterious life I had a very, very pleasant "Scotch-Artsit" romance, and now perhaps you won't wonder at the joy and interest this little Van Cortlandt Museum created for me. However I think it shows much good taste and sensibility in a person for not letting such affairs go to heart, on entering a magnificent place like Van Cortlandt's house, even though it be a reminder of the past.

The Scotch seem to have such unusual taste for art. And they don't mind making a display of the fact either.

I shall be delighted to carry you to church tomorrow and just think, too, it's to be Trinity church, one of the greatest churches in America.

STATE TO VOTE ON FREE TEXT BOOKS

Austin, Texas, March 16.—

The people of Texas are to be given an opportunity to vote on the question of free textbooks for the school children in the state, the senate having adopted by a vote of 23 to 2, the house joint resolution by Nordhaus of San Antonio and others proposing an amendment to the constitution on the subject. The resolution provides the levying of a state ad valorem tax of 35 cents on the $100 property valuation, as a school tax and also to buy the free textbooks. The present school tax is 20 cents on the $100, and this amendment increases this to 35 cents, and this 15 cent increase is believed will be sufficient to raise sufficient funds to buy the textbooks. It is provided also in the resolution that it shall be the duty of the state board of education to set aside a sufficient amount out of his revenue to provide the textbooks. The election is to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1918. The sum of $2000 is provided to defray the expenses of the election.

Trinity church, established in 1697, is the richest church society in America. From the income of $775,000 a year, it supports the parent church and eight chapels, contributes regularly to twenty-four congregations, and maintains schools, a dispensary, a hospital and a long list of charitable enterprises. The two plots of real estate occupied by Trinity and St. Paul's would bring a fabulous price.

You can't realize the beauty of this church until you have viewed it personally.

The beauty of the interior is capable of drawing your attention from the services. You may enter the church as rough as you please and the sounds never echo or attract the attention of the attendants.

NEW YORK AS I SAW IT

(By MISS RUTH SPRADLEY)

IX
Madison Square.

Beautiful as a park, with its trees and lawns and fountains and statues, the square is set amid distinguished surroundings. On the west is the Fifth Avenue Building, on the historic Fifth Avenue Hotel site. In the northeast the Madison Square Gardener lifts its graceful tower with the gilded Diana poised on the pinnacle. On the east is the Appellate Court House which I will tell you about later.

The edifice of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church (the pulpit of Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst) with its massive columned portico, tiled dome and gold lantern in design, a noteworthy departure from the Gothic style of the old church with spire dwarfed by the surrounding skyscrapers. The Metropolitan Life's stately home is one of the largest office buildings in existence. One should not fail to see the white marble court of the Madison Square entrance and the great central hall. The Square is dominated by the Metropolitan Tower, one of the architectural wonders of the world, and by the Fuller building, which stands at the 23rd street intersection of Broadway and Fifth Avenue, two of the most famous streets in the world. The building is popularly called Flatiron, because the plot on which it stands is of flatiron shape, with the rounded point toward Madison Square. "The Ship" would be a sobriquet quite as fitting, for from Madison Square, the structure has the semblance of an immense ship, bow on, about to plow its way through the square. From view-points far upon Fifth Avenue, the Flatiron towers up impressively. The land cost $800,721 and the building, including site, $4,000,000. It is 300 feet high, with twenty stories, 456 offices above the fourth floor.

On the south side of the square, east a few doors from Broadway are the American art galleries, where my heart wanders away again.

On Twenty-sixth street, at Madison's Manhattan Club, a leading Democratic organization. The large office and loft buildings surrounding the square are significant of the steady and restless northward march of business on Manhattan Island.

In the north-east corner of the square, is Bissel's bronze statue of Chester Alan Arthur, twenty-first president of the United States. Vice-president Arthur succeeded to the Presidency after the assassination of President Garfield, in 1881. In the southwest, near Twenty-third street, is the statue of Posco, Conkling, senator from New York, 1867-81. The figure is of bronze, by Ward, and represents the orator in the attitude so familiar to his audiences. We may hear him as when in a political convention he stilled the opposition uproar with the words, "The shallow murmur, but the deep are dumb." The memorial was erected by friends on the spot where bewildered and overcome in the terrible blizzard of March 12, 1888, he fell exhausted, and suffered exposure which resulted in his death. Conkling and Arthur were closely associated in public life and were warm friends. It is a suggestive fact that the chance circumstance of a winter should have caused their memorials to be given place there so close together.

The drinking fountain was designed by Miss Catherine Lorillard Wolfe, whose benefaction to New York's religious, educational and charitable objects aggregated $2,000,000. Madison Square will be continued until I've told you at least of the most important objects of its surroundings.

Because there's enough history within this square to baffle the most of our knowledge in the determination of describing it.

So prone and kind are we that search and find some great object behind the curtains of nature's scenes.

So interested indeed to stop and heed to the cries of those in need, and of the luxuries of nature help them to see.

And so wonderfully grand would it be that we wouldn't dispose ourselves to say anything against nature's innocent way or to mar one's day.

For the earth with its love and beauty abrim, should never to us seem strange and dim.

Mr. Floyd E. Aten, job printer of this office, reports the arrival of a fine daughter at his home. The mother and child are doing well, but it is doubtful if the father ever survives the joy brought to him with the arrival of a daughter after the arrival of four boys. The other printers of the shop will take care of his work for the remainder of the day until he gets better acquainted with the little lady.

THINK IT OVER.

Young men and women desiring to achieve a success should not waste their summer vacation. One vacation properly spent will protect them against poverty and enable them to earn a respectful living. There is no use idling away the summer months. Business men and farmers alike work during the summer. Ambitious boys and girls would rather spend their vacation with a large and enthusiastic student body, mastering a course of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Telegraphy, Business Administration and Finance or Cotton Cladding that they might use this practical knowledge in paying their way through some university or secure a good paying position in a business office. He who cares more for success than heat, goes to sleep with a cool head and awakes with a cool weather to study. Many a young boy or girl who at the close of school last year, entered the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, to spend their vacation, are now either in one of our large universities, paying their own way, or holding a splendid position, or are in business for themselves. Where there's a will there's a way. Courage forces success. If you desire to obtain a knowledge for which the business world readily pays cash, write for large illustrated free catalogue of the Tyler Commercial College, read the advantages of their splendid courses of instruction and what those who have graduated and are now holding good position, say of the institution; and what the employers of these graduates say of their efficient training. Read how some worked their way through school, how others quit jobs at small salaries, completed their courses, and went back to the same firm at two and three times their previous salary. Some finished a home study course and never had to quit earning their old salary. Get a salary raising education. It is yours if you are willing to make the effort. Write today for catalogue and make arrangements to enter as soon as your school closes. The U. S. government has held two examinations here in Tyler this spring enabling our graduates to go into nice civil service positions at entrance salary of from $900 to $1020.

The Tyler Commercial College building is one of the largest, most sanitary, best lighted and ventilated in the State; it is an ideal place for summer work.

More than five hundred students profitably spend their vacation there every summer.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ORGANIZED SUNDAY

Quite a crowd of enthusiastic young people met at the Methodist church on last Sunday evening and organized an Epworth League, which is an organization for the young people in connection with the work of the church. Such an organization had been on foot for some weeks but it was not completed until Sunday evening, when officers for the current year were elected and appointed.

It has been some years since there was an Epworth League in connection with this church, or any other sort of an association or organization for the young people, and it is to be hoped that this work will be taken hold of by all of the young people of the church, as much good can be accomplished in this field.

The following were elected and appointed as officers for the current year: L. G. King, president; vice-president Mr. F. D. Allen; Secretary, Miss Gladys Evans; Treasurer, Littleton Smith; Corresponding Secretary Miss Nadeen Weaver; Superintendents, Miss Ruth Lee, Miss Pearl Lloyd, Miss Minnie Lee

The experience of thousands is a safe guide to what it may be expected to do for you. Liquid or tablets—both tested by the public and approved.

Reporter.

Hon. Joe D. Garrison, the progressive mayor and a prominent business man of Garrison, was a business visitor to this city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Garrison originated the idea to appeal to the legislature for help in rebuilding the school building at Garrison, and had so much faith in the plan that he and Mr. R. B. Walthall made a trip to Austin and put the matter up to our representatives. His happiness was supreme yesterday in the receipt of a telegram advising that the governor had signed the measure which would give to the district the state taxes for a period of five years, which will amount to about ten thousand dollars and give him sufficient funds with which to do the work.

Mr. A. D. Jackson of Waco, who is at present engaged with the Texas State Conservation and Reclamation Association, an organization that has for its purpose a campaign in the interest of the constitutional amendment which will be voted on next August to allow any section to form a district and vote a tax for the conservation of its resources, was a visitor to this city yesterday, and honored this office with a pleasant call. The Sentinel will have more to say this proposed amendment later in the season, in which we shall take pleasure in giving it unqualified endorsement.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY A FIRE TODAY

From Monday's Daily. Just before noon today fire destroyed the residence of Mr. W. S. Chadwick, located out on Irion Hill, together with the bulk of the household effects.

Mrs. Chadwick was at home at the time, but the fire originating on the roof gained considerable headway before she discovered it, and before the fire department could get to the scene, it was impossible to save the building.

Some insurance was carried, the definite amount of which The Sentinel has been unable to learn in time for this report.

BABY DIED.

The five-weeks-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Hall died this morning about 11:00 o'clock and the remains of the little fellow will be laid to rest in the Maroney graveyard tomorrow.

The baby was taken sick Sunday, but did not seem to be seriously ill until near the close.

The many friends of the family will deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their little treasure which was spared them for so short a season.

LIVINGSTON COMING TO PLAY BASEBALL

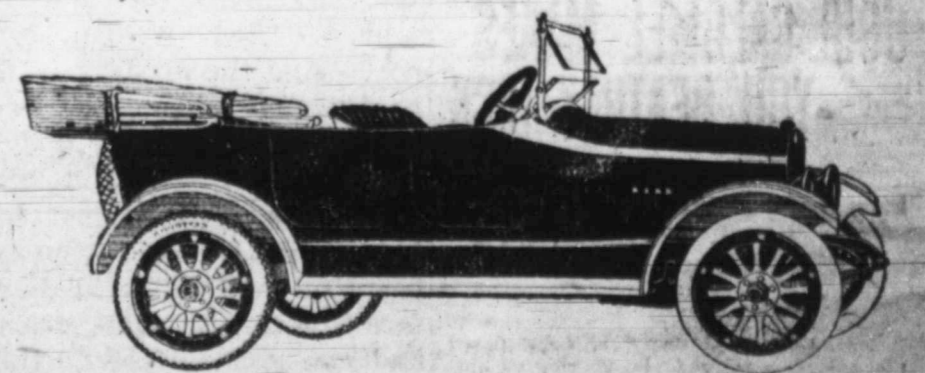

The local High School baseball team will play Livingston High School baseball team here next Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Nacogdoches has a strong team this year, which is going up against another strong team in this game, and the home boys extend a cordial invitation to the general public to come and help them in this engagement.

The two teams will have a parade in town at 2:45, with the Boy Scout band in the lead, which will be an interesting feature of the occasion, and will doubtless attract much attention.

An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged for admittance to the grounds.
