BETTER SYSTEM NEEDED.

Just now while there is so much talk about "investigation" in the various departments of government, and all branches of public service, the idea comes to the layman that a better system of auditing is needed, and until we get it we will continue to have confusion.

And the system of auditing should be removed entirely from all political influences, if such a plan can be worked out.

The banks, the postoffices, and all great business enterprises have a perfect system of auditing, by which every dollar handled by any employe must be accounted for, and the business must be conducted along prescribed lines. It is even more necessary that the state and county governments should likewise be protected against both fraud and ignorance, and it must be admitted that the lack of this protection is the weak link in the chain of our public service.

Some system should be worked out for the proper audit of the state department in which the auditors would make their report to some department designed for the purpose, and which could not be reached with a "whitewash" brush by those coming under the investigation. A similar service should be worked out for the county and precinct officers. Just how to work out these departments is a matter for considerable thought, but it would be folly to say that some intelligent plan cannot be evolved. The Sentinel was given the task for the selection of a plan for the county administration it would suggest that the legislature appoint a competent auditor, who would be examined as to proficiency in accounting after the manner of civil service examinations, for each judicial district, and these auditors would change districts after each examination, to the end that no political influence may be brought to bear upon them. No dates would be set for their coming, allowing them to drop in after the fashion of the postoffice and bank inspectors, and they would make their returns to the district judge of the district. In this way every officer would keep constantly up with his work, keep the money belonging to the different branches of the service in its proper place, and thereby many times the cost of the service would be saved.

In making these observations The Sentinel does not write an indictment against the service of all county officers, or have in mind any particular one, but it is an admitted fact, proven by the court records of the country almost daily, that there are some grafters, and it must also be admitted that much money is lost to the service for lack of efficiency in the various departments.

GIVING UP OUR SONS.

The progress of civilization has been marked by wars. Just how essential they have been may be a question, but epoch-making progress in national or world life, however long the periods of evolution leading to them, have always been accompanied by convulsions and revolution. The mothers of every age have seen their sons go forth to battle.

The Spartan mother cheerfully sent her son to die. But every succeeding generation of mothers have seen their sons called to arms with increasing horror. Through the land today there is mother grief greater than ever felt before at such a time.

Civilization has reached another turning point. An epoch-making time has arrived. The marvelous productions of science and stupendous increase of material prosperity have evolved a foundation for another adjustment of civilization and life. We are in the midst of the change. If the magnitude of the change is measured by the holocaust of destruction what estimate can approximate its horror?

One possibility is involved in the present war that was never in the balance before—the end of all war. Fought to the end, every people on earth—neutral as well as belligerent—will be sick unto death of war. Treaties of disarmament, international policing and enforced arbitration will be made by all peoples that will make another war impossible.

If we have to give up our older boys now, let us do it with prayer and faith, confident that our daughters' sons to all generations will never know anything but the increasing joys of peace. Much as we live in the present and immediate future, almost no sacrifice is too great to secure such an end.—Exchange.

Nacogdoches feels more "normal" than she did a few days ago.

Patriots who use the stars and stripes for profiteering will soon discover another type of stripes.—Shreveport Times.

Germany answers the pope with the offer to partially restore Belgium, and reserve the right to run over again, as terms of peace. The first evidence of a weakness in a trade is a concession—a better proposition will be forthcoming ere long.

The information is gleaned from the Garrison News that the stock has been sold, and committees organized for the building of a sweet potato curing house in that progressive little city. We congratulate our neighbor on its good enterprise.

The Shelby Optimist, which has been published at Center the past two years, has moved its plant to Logansport, where the Logansport Record is being taken over and the old Interstate Newsboy will be revived. Editor Gibbs published a paper in Logansport many years, and the people of the town made him a very attractive proposition to return to his first love—so attractive that he could not afford to turn it down.

The commissioners court of Shelby county has ordered an election to determine whether or not a bond issue of $600,000 shall be levied for road improvement. That county has recently spent $100,000 on road improvement, and if this issue carries—and we hope it will—the old county will compete with Nacogdoches county for supremacy in the matter of good roads.

Advices from Austin are to the effect that Governor Hobby will recommend to the legislature the building of the new normal schools, but the building will be postponed. This news causes the Nacogdoches people to rejoice as well as other towns of this section, for it will mean much to the boys and girls of East Texas for this normal to be placed at Nacogdoches. Again The News congratulates our sister city on its normal to come.—Lufkin News.

TAKING LUNCH TO SCHOOL.

An exchange that visits the Signal table regularly and is a prime favorite here was cruel enough last week to speak of the lunch the children used to take to school. The cruelty came in two ways, one of which was in mentioning the subject at all, and the other was in calling the "dinner" the children used to take to school a "lunch." In those good old days, when a boy could go his way undisturbed by cushionites, and steal a ride on every passing wagon, there was no such thing as a lunch. An array of edibles sufficient to make a meal was either breakfast, dinner or supper—anything smaller than this in the eating line, such as children gerferd in time for the meeting, begged or stole "between meals" was merely "sumpen to eat."

But the exchange made a serious error when it attempted to tell of the contents of the oldtime dinner bucket. This exchange would have folks believe that the menu of the dinner bucket showed nothing more than corn pone and streaked bacon. A more slanderous error was never made. No bucket went to school without a bottle of molasses. This bottle was a bottle with a very large mouth—a quinine bottle, in fact. In those good old days people had a great many more chills than they have now, and in those halcyon times of yore quinine was an every-day poor folks kind of medicine. It was so cheap that people bought it by the big bottle full and measured it out to the children in liberal doses. In every dinner bucket there was a quinine bottle filled with molasses, and there was never on this earth a more tempting viand than a pone of cornbread into which a boy had bored a big hole with his index finger and filled the hole with molasses.

The paper of which we speak made another serious omission in telling of the contents of the old-time school dinner bucket—an omission so serious and so slanderous that we are tempted to doubt whether the editor ever sought the shady side of an old log school house to partake of the noon-day meal. He said nothing of the bottle of buttermilk—the flat tickler around which a clean rag had been wrapped. It's a mighty poor poet who can't indite a rhythmic apostrophe to the old buttermilk bottle the boy took to school. When full that bottle was white as snow with the acidulated fluid that has ever been a gustatory delight—when the contents had been emptied into a boy's abdominal regions it was as ring-streaked and striped, with as many weird shapes, as Dolly Varden's dress or Jacob's cattle; and it's a mighty sorry man who cannot see in memory the white mustache painted on the boy's mouth by the juice of the churn as he waded the last drops from the flat bottle. We may do mean things, but so long as there is a spark of good in us we will never slander the good old times by calling the dinner bucket a boy carried to school a lunch basket, or by omitting the molasses bottle and buttermilk bottle from the school boy's bill of fare.

And that old buttermilk bottle was the salvation of the globe. No boy who drank therefrom ever lined up with the antis in a prohibition election, and rapidly and surely they are voting the world dry.—Honey Grove Signal.

Get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and try it on my guarantee. You'll never again put a dose of nasty, dangerous calomel into your stomach.

so he hiked for the open.

When he found himself four miles deep in the country he stopped, perched himself on a fence and listened for the curative silence. But it was not there.

Over in the field a calf bawled raucously for its mother. A couple of catbirds started a family row in a nearby tree. A locust and a grasshopper set up a chorus antiphonal. His nerves were grated raw by a hundred unusual noises. Quiet? The city held more of silence than did the country. At least he was accustomed to the noises of town.

In desperation he dragged himself to the shelter of the catbird's tree and threw himself on the ground. Then came the crawling things—ants and bugs unclassified. And the heat of the day grew more intense. Flat on his back he lay, his pillowless head a messy flutter of pain. He cursed himself for the lassitude that held him stretched to the earth. And finally he slept—an uncomfortable, half-awake sleep, a nightmare of stupefying heat and buzzing insects.

After hours, more or less, of agony, he found strength to climb to his feet and begin the long drill home. Zoowie, how his head ached! And then wonder of wonders! he who had been tired grew fresh as a boy, he who had been distraught became nerved like a whip.

Brimming over with the marvel that had happened to him, he must tell someone about it. And the first man he met, as he swung down his home street, was his next-door neighbor, a physician.

"Your miracle is simple and unmythical enough," said the physician. "You lay for hours stretched out on the ground. The low position of your head made you uncomfortable enough at the time. But once you got up you found yourself fit. You've heard of nervous disorders being cured by mud baths. Well, lying on the ground is the same thing as a mud bath, and better and cheaper. It's this way: The earth is filled with and gives off magnetic currents. You found rest and strength by establishing close contact between your body and these earth currents. It never occurs to a plant to do otherwise."

LUFKIN!

In company with Mr. J. A. Warner, The Sentinel editor had the pleasure of visiting Lufkin, our enterprising neighbor down the line, last Friday afternoon—and he has just now sufficiently recovered to report it.

Upon arrival we "bearded the lion in his den" at The News office, and our entrance was so sudden—and so unlooked for—that that he was perfectly tame in reception, and quickly assumed an air of what appeared real cordiality. After a bit, however, he invited us out to take a drink (soda water) and this is where his cunning came near being our undoing—and "thereby hangs a tale." Passing the big hardware establishment of W. M. Glenn, where a crowd was congregated, he introduced the writer as the man who had persisted in assault upon the "beautiful and majestic standpipe." Frowns begun to gather on the countenances of many immediately, and Mr. Glenn and Sam Kerr suggested that the impudent editor be put into the receptacle at one. Others who were braver suggested that he be given a chance first by allowing him to approach the standpipe, and in a loud voice announce he could whip anybody in Lufkin. About this time fire broke out in the mattress factory, which so excited the populace that they forgot about the "impudent enemy" who had been bold enough to invade the very precincts of the town, and he made his escape.

It was some adventure! And we haven't anything more to say about the standpipe!

Lufkin, like many other East Texas towns, has enjoyed a wonderful growth in recent years, and the visitor can observe at a glance that it is one of the commercial and industrial leaders of East Texas. The paved streets and other civic improvements that have been added, and the magnificent brick business houses that take the place of wooden buildings of a few years ago, together with the good sanitary regulations that are observed, makes the town in all things modern and up-to-date in all of its appointments.

While in the neighbor city, the writer enjoyed a very pleasant sojourn as the guest of Messrs. Watford & Binion, publishers of our lively contemporary. The News has one of the best equipped printing plants for a small city in the state, and our neighbors seem to be enjoying a flourishing business, particularly in the job printing line. The institution is one that the town can well feel proud of, and it is the sincere wish of The Sentinel that the business men will soon wake up to the value of advertising, and that the paper may enjoy the patronage in this line that it so richly merits—the evolution of a condition that would be mutually profitable.

FROM CO. SUP'T. LAYTON
Sentinel:

Please say to the teachers and trustees who expect to apply for state aid this year to hurry up their applications, for the reason that we wish to get our applications in early. The State Department wants them as early as possible.

The requirements are printed in the application blanks. They are substantially the same as last year. However the inspector will insist upon at least two fly-proof sanitary toilets. These were in the requirements last year, but was not enforced.

So in filling out blanks be sure to figure the costs of these toilets and place the amount in the blank for improvements. Get your blanks filled, properly signed as indicated in blank and forward to me right away.

Yours truly,
G. B. LAYTON.

"GETTING BY THE EDITOR"

Getting by the editor is the most fascinating of indoor sports, says a writer in the Atlantic. When I was a journalist in Freudian sense (that is, as an unfulfilled wish), my chum and I devised a way to get money for all our articles. Each agreed when he sent out a "story" to bet the other the price of the "story" that it wouldn't be accepted. That little arrangement took the sting out of rejection completely and when you lost your pay, you had the glory of acceptance. Why and how the scheme broke down I shall not divulge.

SECOND LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN OPENS TODAY

The following telegram was received from the Federal Reserve bank at Dallas: The Sentinel,

Nacogdoches, Texas. On this the opening day of the Liberty Loan campaign we ask you to perform a solemn and most patriotic duty by urging your readers to a realization of the intense seriousness of the national situation. You can do this by the publication of this letter and by the exertion of your own great influence.

Will you ask your people to read carefully the few interesting and simply told facts about our country, the war and the Liberty Loan, which we sent you for publication today.

The facts referred to in our statement are none the less true, none the less serious because they are stated quietly without any touch of hysteria.

The Eleventh Federal Reserve District comprises Texas, parts of Louisiana and New Mexico, five counties in Arizona and eight counties in Oklahoma, is called upon to raise about one hundred million dollars during the next twenty-seven days. We have no huge cities, no vast commercial interest to draw upon. The money must come from the people, just the plain folks. It is no longer a question of can we afford to invest in Liberty Bonds. If we have to go short of food and clothing it must be done. As for luxuries they have become almost a crime. With seriousness, in deep sincerity and with confidence we appeal to you and your people to rise to your high opportunities of self denial and love of our dear old country.

If ever America needed the help of her sons and daughters, true daughters of a great and true daughters of a great race what is your reply?

J. W. HOOPES
Deputy Governor Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas, Texas.

If your child starts in its sleep, grinds its teeth while sleeping, picks at the nose, had a bad breath, fickle appetite, pale complexion, and dark rings under the eyes, it has worms; and as long as they remain in the intestines, that child will be sickly. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE clears out the worms, strengthens the stomach and bowels and puts the little one on the road to health and cheerfulness. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. eodw.

TEXAS SHARE OF THE WAR LOAN

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 29.—The Eleventh Federal Reserve District is expected to raise $100,000,000 toward the second Liberty Loan, according to word received today from Washington by J. W. Hoopes, deputy governor of the Eleventh District Federal Reserve Bank. The minimum allotment for the district is $75,000,000, Mr. Hoopes said.

The apportionments for the district are: Texas, $65,772,500; Oklahoma, $1,200,000; New Mexico, $2,092,500; Louisiana, $3,802,500; and Arizona, $2,182,500.

London Ideals: The Gramophone—John, I'm going to bed. See that you shut up everthing for the night. The Husband—I'll do my best, dear. I have done by best, but there are some things that won't shut up.

CONGRESS PLANS TO ADJOURN THIS WEEK

Washington, Sept. 31.—Congress enters Monday upon the closing days of the extraordinary war session called April 2 and marked by epochal legislation.

Headed by the $2,700,000,000 war tax bill, which the house sends to dispose of Monday and then to the senate for action, the program for adjournment which may come late this week and almost certainly no later than next week, was almost completed Sunday night.

The only other major items awaiting action before the session closes are the $3,000,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill now in conference and the administration soldiers' and sailors' insurance measure. The prospects Sunday night were that all other important legislation, including the administration soldiers' and sailors' bill, would go over until the December session.

The insurance measure is the stumbling block in the way of adjournment this week. Despite the president's insistence that it be passed there is renewed talk of sidetracking the measure if the opposition should delay adjournment.

Monday the house will take up conference report on the tax bill, while the senate hopes to begin work on the insurance measure. Approval of the tax measure Monday by the house is expected and many members are planning to leave for home immediately afterward.

Criticism of the conferees' revision of tax measure is expected to be more manifest in the senate than in the house bill and the senate bill as finally drafted by the conferees within one or two days is expected.

Probably but little time will be spent on the $8,000,000,000 appropriation measure upon which conferees begin work Monday. Its enactment with brief perfunctory discussion is expected.

There may be a spectacular and exciting final ending in both bodies of congress. While official investigation of charges of Representative Heflin of Ala., in connection with revelations of Count von Bernstorff's propaganda work is now deemed improbable, another flare impends.

In the senate, Senator La Follette is expected to reply to demands for his expulsion for alleged seditious utterances. Other senators may deliver patriotic speeches on a proposed resolution approving the nation's course and the government's prosecution of the war.

When the chest feels on fire and the throat burns, you have indigestion, and you need HERBINE to get rid of the disagreeable feeling. It drives out badly digested food, strengthens the stomach, and purifies the bowels. Price 50c. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. eodw.

OLD H. C. O. L. IS LOSING GROUND

Washington, Sept. 27.—Retail food prices, reports to the bureau of labor statistics show, declined approximately 4 per cent during the month ending July 15. Flour decreased 10 per cent and potatoes 33 per cent on the average.

THE LIBERTY LOAN.

By W. G. McADOO, Secretary of the Treasury.

For the purpose of equipping with arms, clothing and food our gallant soldiers who have been called to the field; maintaining our navy and our valiant tars upon the high seas; providing the necessary means to pay the wages of our soldiers and sailors and, if the bill now pending line of communication with our brave troops in France, and to keep our commerce afloat upon the high seas in defiance of the German Kaiser and his submarines. Creating a great fleet of aeroplanes, which will give complete supremacy in the air to the United States and the brave nations fighting with us against the German military menace; and for other necessary war purposes.

The Congress of the United States has authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to sell to the American people bonds of the United States bearing four per cent interest, with valuable tax exemptions, and convertible under certain conditions into other issues of United States bonds that may be authorized by the congress. The official circular of the Treasury Department gives full details.

There is now offered to the American people a new issue of $3,000,000,000 of bonds to be known as the Second Liberty Loan. They will be issued in such denominations and upon such terms that every patriotic citizen will have an opportunity to assist the Government by lending his money upon the security of a United States Government bond.

It is essential to the success of the war and to the support of our gallant troops that these loans shall not only be subscribed, but oversubscribed. No one is asked to donate or give his money to the government; but everyone is asked to lend his money to the government. The loans will be repaid in full with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum. A government bond is the safest investment in the world; it is as good as currency and yet better, because the government bond bears interest and currency does not. No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash, and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the United States.

People by thousands ask the treasury constantly how they can help the government in this war. Through the purchase of Liberty Bonds every one can help. No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot actually fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers and sailors all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.

We fight, first of all, for America's vital rights, the right to the unmolested and unobstructed use of the high seas, so that the surplus products of our farms, our mines and our factories may be carried into the harbors of every friendly nation in the world. Our welfare and prosperity as a people depend upon our right of peaceful intercourse with all the nations of the earth. To abandon these rights by withdrawing our ships and commerce from the seas upon the order of a military despot in Europe would destroy in congress passes, the monthly allowances for the support of their dependent families and to supply them with life insurance. Constructing a great fleet of merchant vessels to maintain the prosperity and bring disaster and humiliation upon the American people.

We fight to protect our citizens against assassination and murder upon the high seas while in the peaceful exercise of those rights demanded by international law and every instinct and dictate of humanity.

We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world.

We fight also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful to live and to govern themselves according to the will of their own people.

We fight for peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves and which not the sword nor the bayonet of a military despot, but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world.

To secure these ends I appeal to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free America and enjoys the blessings of her priceless institutions to join the League of Patriots by purchasing a Liberty Bond.

GASOLINE PROCESS GIVEN TO THE GOVERNMENT

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—The United States government, it was announced today, had been offered and has accepted the free use of a process, discovered by Frederick A. Kormann, San Francisco chemist, which Kormann said would increase the output of the country's gasoline by twelve fold, and thus avert a national shortage.

Kormann announced that Secretary of the Interior Lane has authorized the construction of a government plant at which the process will be utilized.

News comes from Austin to the effect that Governor Hobby is seriously entertaining the idea of vetoing the bill voted by the legislature to defer the building of the new normal schools, one of which is to be located here. At first this news might frighten the layman, but there is no occasion for alarm. In the event of veto the old measure would prevail, directing their immediate construction, and nothing would remain but to build them and carry out the provisions of the original bill. The governor's displeasure comes from some amendments the legislature tacked on which were not in accord with his recommendations, and which are said to be very objectionable to him.

Sour Stomach.
Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, abstain from meat a few days and in most cases the sour stomach will disappear. If it does not, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Red meats are most likely to cause sour stomach and you may find it best to cut them out. dw

FULLER NAMES HIS COMMITTEE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—The third called session of the Thirty-Fifth Legislature adjourned sine die this afternoon at 2:40 o'clock. Just before final adjournment Speaker Fuller announced the two committees from the house that will carry on the investigations. The central committee of 10 men includes Speaker Fuller and Bryan, Bryant, Cope, Fairchild, Fly, Johnson, McMillan, Spencer of Wise, Tillotson.

The subcommittee of 10 consists of Sackett, Seawright, Terrell, Pillow, Davis of Grimes, Holliday, Obanion, Debogory, McDowra and Hudspeth.

Johnson Lieutenant Governor.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—Senator Johnson of Hall County was today elected pro tem ad interim of the senate and by virtue of his office he becomes lieutenant governor.

Senator Johnson received 15 votes, Senator Alderice 7, Robbins 1, Hudspeth 1 and Dayton 1. Senator Johnson was declared duly elected. The oath of office was administered to the new president pro tem.

The senate today killed the house bill which sought to reduce the appropriation from $250,000 to $150,000 for the organization of a home ranger guard. The bill was postponed indefinitely.

The senate passed finally the house bill reducing the appropriation made at the second called session of the legislature for the Texas National Guard; the bill reduces the appropriation from $750,000 to $400,000. The Swope house equity redemption of property bill was also postponed indefinitely in the senate.

After the appointment of the usual committee to notify the governor, both branches of the legislature recessed until 2 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the legislature is scheduled to adjourn.

Senator Westbrook, chairman of the senate part of the investigating committee, announced that the committee would commence the probe on Thursday, November 1.

Mrs. Smith Recommends Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I have had more or less stomach trouble for eight or ten years," writes Mrs. G. H. Smith, Brewerton, N. Y. "When suffering from attacks of indigestion and heaviness after eating one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets have always relieved me. I have also found them a pleasant laxative." These tablets tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you are troubled with indigestion give them a trial, get well and stay well. dw

Millions of horses are being destroyed in the present war. Since the beginning of the war, about 750,000 have been sent from the United States to Europe, and reports show a decrease of about 33,000 in the number of horses in this country for the year 1916 and 1917.—Shreveport Times.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Most Reliable.

After many years' experience in the use of it and other cough medicines, there are many who prefer Chamberlain's to any other. Mrs. A. C. Kirstein, Greenville, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my mother's home and mine for years, and we always found it a quick cure for colds and bronchial troubles. We find it to be the most reliable cough medicine we have used."

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the whole system, and snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should enrich your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal-food and a building- tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it—YOU!

SWIFT LOCALS.

The fine weather we have had for the last several days has been a great advantage to crop gathering and it appears that most everyone has done their share in saving the products of the farm.

Wednesday, Sept. 26th, neighbors and friends of H. I. Chandler in response to invitation to a house covering, met together and spent quite a busy day. We are not sure that we did justice to the work, but all that were present will agree that we did justice at noon to the excellent dinner that was served to the satisfaction of all.

Mr. John Koonce and family, and Mr. Lewman of Beeville, have come to spend a few days with friends and relatives.

NOTICE REGARDING PRICE.

To our Customers:
Since the beginning of the European war three years ago there has been an ever-increasing scarcity of foreign drugs and chemicals. Some of these imported drugs we use in the manufacture of Prickly Ash Bitters. As a result of this great scarcity prices have advanced enormously. We have paid these high prices up to this time without making any change in the price of our remedy and we had hoped to continue to do so until the situation improved; but, advance has followed upon advance so rapidly in the last few months that prices have now reached such a high point that at our present selling price, we are confronted with a loss on every bottle we sell.

We don't like to ask more from our customers; that is why we have been putting it off, neither do we like to lose money and we could not consider for an instant reducing the fine quality of our remedy by substituting cheaper materials. We feel sure the people who know Prickly Ash Bitters would rather pay a little more for the genuine article than the old price for something not as good. In these circumstances we are constrained to ask the users of Prickly Ash Bitters to share this extra cost with us and we take this means of notifying our friends and customers that the price of Prickly Ash Bitters from now on will be

$1.25 per Bottle.

We regret exceedingly the conditions which make it necessary to do this and trust to your fairness that we may continue to be favored with your patronage. Yours truly,
PRICKLY ASH BITTERS CO.

LIVE WHILE YOU'RE LIVING

Shreveport Times.

Maybe you're dreaming of the day when the mortgage is paid off and the bills cleared up—the day when you expect to settle down and enjoy the comforts of life.

But now—it's night work and day work and nerve strain and headache—hoping that sometime you'll have a chance to appreciate the things which are actually yours already.

You're starving your soul. You never go to a concert or lecture. You don't even go to the movies.

Your wife goes, perhaps, and you feel that you are a kind of martyr because you don't.

Once in a while you tell her in a plaintive fashion that you never go to such "affairs." It doesn't matter that she has pleaded with you to take an evening or an afternoon off and go with her.

But no—you're too busy, and you feel grieved because she goes without you—but therein lies her good sense.

Meanwhile, you're withering mentally and physically. But you don't know it. You've been out of the running for some time, but you haven't found it out. Taken out of your routine job, which requires little originality or mental effort, you'd be lost.

What an absurd way of living! And when you consider there aren't many years ahead of you, it must seem all the more foolish. It would be very much better to get what you can out of your present possessions and opportunities than to struggle forevermore after bigger and more pretentious ones, and yet never be content with them when they are won.

And this should be remembered as you fight for many of the things ahead—the capacity for enjoying them gradually decreases. When your hand closes over the captured prize it seems to crumble in your grasp.

And you say you can't enjoy a book. Doesn't this prove that something has gone out of your life? You haven't a desire to listen to music. There was a time when you were fond of both books and music. These still have the same value that they have always had. You have changed—not books and music.

When the love of music went out of you soul you died by just so much, and when the desire to read good books passed away, you perished in part, in a most vital sense.

The man who possesses the most abundant life is he whose outreach on life is greatest—the man who appreciates the greatest number of the blessings of life. Tested by this standard, it should not be difficult to tell to what extent you are actually living.

We are going to miss all these fine young men we are sending out of the county in the industrial and commercial affairs, as well as otherwise, and this is one of the most potent arguments in behalf of conservation of all resources.

The Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas has not yet appointed a manager for this county, and in consequence the Liberty Loan campaign is slow in starting, and as yet no bonds have been subscribed for. The banks, however, have received their application blanks, and say that it will open with renewed vigor presently.

CONSCRIPT THE SURPLUS WEALTH

Shreveport Times.

In other countries than the United States of America there may easily be habits of mind, conditions of the workers, lack of democracy or lack of means that excuse continued bond issues to pay for the war.

There is no such excuse here.

The essence of war bond issues is that we sidestep our duty and pass up to our grandchildren the thing we ought to do ourselves. That we put dollars before duty and profits before patriotism.

That isn't American.

The essence of it is that we shall send our sons to die for our cause, but will not risk our money.

That isn't American.

The essence of it is that we shall land upon our country a huge device that always afterward will be working to make the poor poorer and the rich richer.

That isn't American.

We went into this war for no selfish or sordid motive, but only to save the world from slipping back into the Dark Ages.

We shall come out of it with nothing gained except the proud consciousness that we have kept the faith and contributed our share to the rescue of mankind.

It may be a hard fought contest. We may suffer many sorrows. There may be many darkened homes. It promises to be an ordeal that in all respects will test manhood and sincerity.

Here is a man whose only son the nation has taken to fight for the exalted principles that led us into the war. The son has lost his life in battle. The father goes lonely to the grave.

Shall we show to him then the carefully guarded millions of some neighbor? Shall we remind him that while we called for the sacrifice of lives and the breaking of hearts we kept intact the heaps of dollars?

We have enlisted men. We must enlist the dollars just as much.

There is but one way to do that.

No more long term bond issues. No putting of our burdens upon the workers of the future. No back breaking and heart breaking charges.

On income tax rising from a small per cent on small incomes to 100 per cent on all incomes of more than $100,000.

Universal service for the republic, universal duty, universal obligations. Life and everything this side of life. No shifting, no evading, but men and money to do equally their part.

That alone is American and that alone is just, right and on the level.

The editor sat in his hard bottom chair trying to think of a thought, and he ploughed all his fingers about his hair, but not a new topic they brought. He'd written on temperance, tariff and trade, and the prospects of raising a crop, and joked about ice cream and weak lemonade, till his readers had warned him to stop. And, weary of thinking, sleep came to his eyes, as he pillowed his head on his desk, when the thoughts while awake had refused to arise, came in drops that were strange and grotesque. And as the ideas airily float, he selects the bright one of the tribe, and this is the gem, while dreaming, he wrote "Now is the time to subscribe."—Ex.

Reports from over the country indicate that tremendous enthusiasm is being displayed over the second Liberty Loan campaign, and that a fair first day subscription was taken.

FROM W. U. PERKINS.

Mr. Editor:

I notice a disposition on the part of the peanut growers to get their nuts on the market too early this year. Peanuts should not be harvested until they are well mature, then they should be thoroughly dry before thrashing, and marketing. Mature nuts should in fair dry weather remain in the shocks in the field, at least six weeks before thrashing. If the weather is not good they should stay in the shocks longer, or until thoroughly cured. The thrasher, man cannot do you good and satisfactory work in thrashing green, or damp nuts, and after he has mended this class of stock through his machine, you have an article that is not fit for the market. There will be more dirt, sticks and pops in them than there should be from well cured dry peanuts. No oil man can afford to buy green, damp peanuts. They will not keep when bulked in large quantities. I understand everybody is expecting a good price, then why not market good stuff, as most people seem to have an exaggerated idea of what peanuts ought to sell for, I suggest you figure yourself what there is in a bushel of average dry peanuts. A bushel of peanuts is thirty pounds, and there is about one gallon crude oil, 7½ pounds, and about twenty pounds of meal and 2½ pounds of dirt, sticks, pops, and other worthless matter. Find out what this gallon crude oil, and twenty pounds of meal is worth, and you have the gross of what there is in a bushel of average peanuts.

WITH THE RED CROSS.

Washington, October 2.—More than two thousand Red Cross Nurses are now engaged in active nursing service, and another two thousand in teaching and committee work. The National Committee on Nursing of the American Red Cross announced today. Nine thousand more stand ready to serve at once, and number of trained nurses volunteering for service with the Red Cross now averages a thousand a month.

Miss Jane A. Delano, Chairman of the Nursing committee, said today that the general scheme of unit organization was to keep together groups of nurses and doctors with experience in the same training schools and hospitals. Page hospital units for the army and navy have been recruited from alumnae of the schools connected with the largest hospitals in the country, in groups of 20, 40, 65 and 100.

Besides the base hospital units the Red Cross has established units of nurses for emergency use. Such a hospital unit consists of one doctor and twenty-five nurses.

Specially trained nurses are being held in readiness for work in units devoted to pediatrics, orthopedics, mental diseases and public health.

Infant welfare nurses have already been sent to France and to Roumania. Plans are also under way for a special unit of nurses trained in the care of mental diseases to serve in the mental wards of the hospitals established at the thirty-two army cantonments. Units in orthopedics are being prepared to meet the needs of the maimed in the reconstruction hospitals.

In the civil zones surrounding the training camps and cantonments and the naval bases, fifty public health nurses have been assigned to work under the Red Cross Sanitary directors. Ninety-five Red Cross nurses in the town and country Nursing Service are engaged in teaching and nursing in rural and mining districts that the public health at home shall not suffer needlessly.

EX-SHERIFF SLAIN

IN PISTOL BATTLE

Sweetwater, Texas, Oct. 1.—G. McMeans, former sheriff of Ector County, was killed in a pistol battle with Frank and Gus Hamer here this afternoon. The battle was staged in a garage. Frank Hamer was badly wounded. Ten shots were exchanged during the battle.

The shooting is said to be the out-growth of an old feud. McMeans was on his way to Baird to attend the trial of a man named Johnson, who killed McMeans' brother-in-law at Snyder a year ago.

BOY SCOUTS TO AID IN LIBERTY BOND CAMPAIGN

New York, Oct. 1.—President Wilson's first pronouncement on the second Liberty Loan has come in a letter in which he calls on the Boy Scouts of America for effective help in the second Liberty Loan bond campaign soon to begin. He says that "it must be subscribed for in such a way as to show the firm resolution of our people in the present war."

The Boy Scouts of America are asked to make every effort to do even better than in the first Liberty Loan drive when they secured $23,238,250 in subscriptions from 139,645 people. Mr. Wilson's letter is addressed to Colin H. Livingstone, president of the Boy Scouts of America and is as follows:

"Another opportunity has developed for the members of the Boy Scouts of America to help our country. The second Liberty Loan bond issue must be subscribed for in such a way as to show the firm resolution of our people in the present war.

"The gratifying achievement of Boy Scouts with the aid of their scoutmasters and leaders throughout the United States in securing over $23,000,000 subscriptions to the first Liberty Loan will serve, I hope, to make their work even more effective in the new effort.

"My present wish is that every scout leader give every Boy Scout an opportunity to take a definite part in this practical method of giving expression to his second obligation of service to our country."

This letter was received in New York during a meeting at the National Headquarters at 200 Fifth Avenue of scout executives and scout council leaders from all over the eastern states, called to make plans for the second Liberty Loan canvass.

The Boy Scouts will take no part in the canvass, it was decided, until during the very last week of the time set in order that their work shall have a more practical value to the treasury department and the country.

They will make no effort to see how large a total they can pile up to their own credit, but they will render their service best by making a house to house canvass after all other organizations have covered the field, and then they will seek out and round up as many as possible of those who have failed to be moved by previous appeals.

STATE OFFICIALS TO FACE TRIAL OCT. 13

Austin, Texas, Oct. 1.—The October term of the Criminal District Court will convene tomorrow and the cases against former Governor James E. Ferguson and other state officials will be called on October 13 when the jury docket is called. At that time it is expected these cases will be set for trial. That a change of venue in these cases may be asked seems to be the general impression here.

The six state officials to answer to charges are former Governor Ferguson, State superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds Chas. L. Stowe, Secretary of State C. J. Bartlett, former Secretary of State John G. McKay, Commissioner of Insurance and Banking Charles O. Austin and former Labor Commissioner C. W. Woodman.

FROM GEORGE PARTIN.

Following is a letter received by Bob Taylor, from George Partin, who is doing his bit for our country, in France, and which will doubtless be of interest to his many friends here:

In France, Sept. 7th, 1917.

Dear Bob:

I have been in France about a month and am having a very good time. I left Dallas July 12th, and went to St. Louis, and was there in camp on * * *

We went to London and marched before the king and queen. From there went to Boulogne, France, and we are now camped in France, but not allowed to tell where, as all of our letters are censored. I am with the 12th Engineer Corps. This is the worst "shot" up country I ever saw, but the scenery is beautiful. Tell Ira Smith I wrote you. How is Charlie Shindler making it with his company. Tell Frank Smith to write to me. We see air fights every day and can't sleep at night for gunfire, as we are very close to the trenches. An air raid is in progress now about a mile from us. Write soon to your friend.

GEORGE PARTIN,

Co. B, 12 Engineers, in France.

HOBBY CALLS FOR AIDS NEW STATE ASYLUM

In selecting the site the board will be guided by the following considerations:—Accessibility and convenience to the greatest number of inhabitants; water supply, fertility of soil and healthfulness of location. The site must contain at least five hundred acres. The institution is to be located north of the Texas and Pacific Railway between Fort Worth and El Paso and west of the Santa Fe Railway between Fort Worth and Gonzales.

SOAKED PEAS AND LIMA BEANS BEING CANNED

If Represented As Fresh, Products Violate Food and Drug Act.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The officials in charge of the enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act are again calling attention to the practice of soaking dried peas and dried lima beans until they have the appearance of the fresh article and then canning them. Such products are then many instances sold as the fresh article. Unless soaked peas and lima beans are plainly labeled as "soaked" or in some other manner so as to show their character, they are regarded as in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

There is no denial that soaked peas and lima beans are a wholesome article of food. They are, however, admittedly inferior in quality to the products prepared from the fresh vegetables. Furthermore, the dried peas or beans may themselves be purchased by the housewife quite cheaply and while in the dried condition may be commercially and satisfactorily stored for future use.

The housewife will also do her bit in the conservation of our limited supply of tin plate by soaking and cooking her own dried peas and lima beans in the kitchen and thereby releasing a proportional amount of tin cans for use in the packing of perishable foods where they are greatly needed.

Consumers are urged to read labels of canned peas and lima beans carefully in order to see whether or not they are getting fresh or a soaked dried product.

S. D. ROGERS HAS GAINED 20 POUNDS

Prominent Business Man Says He Couldn't Walk up a Flight of Stairs Without Giving Out.

"Honestly, I haven't felt as strong and well in years as I do since taking Tanlac," said S. D. Rogers, residing at 500 East Seventh street, Oklahoma City, in an interesting interview a few days ago. Mr. Rogers, is secretary and treasurer of the Southern United Sales Company, distributors of Safety Vulcanizers.

"I have actually gained twenty pounds in weight on six or seven bottles and I couldn't ask to feel better," continued Mr. Rogers. "I had suffered from indigestion and nervousness for five years and at times I was completely out of commission. Everything I ate would ferment on my stomach and the gas pressure around my heart was so great I couldn't walk up and down a short flight of steps without giving out. I was almost afraid to go to bed at night as I was so nervous and short of breath it kept me uneasy all the time. My whole system seemed to give way, I fell off twenty-five or thirty pounds in weight and nothing did me any good."

"I got some Tanlac last July in Arkadelphia, Arkansas, and since that time I have improved in every way. A few bottles set me right and I have been in fine shape ever since. I am eating just anything I want and the fact that I have increased so much in weight shows how well my food agrees with me. My nerves are quiet now, I sleep fine every night and I am convinced that Tanlac has put me on my feet for good. I suffered a long time and had awful pains but they are all gone now and I'm proud to tell what Tanlac has done for me."

There are thousands of men and women in just the same condition as Mr. Rogers. This is especially true of men and women whose business forces them to remain indoors and who fail to get the proper kind of exercise. Such people soon develop improper digestion, the blood becomes impure, the system is filled with impurities and they suffer from nervousness and loss of appetite, headaches and sleeplessness.

According to the statement of thousands of those who have actually tested it, Tanlac goes straight to the seat of the trouble, invigorating every organ of the body, and in brief, it results in a complete rehabilitation of nerves and splendid condition of the patient.

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and Swift Bros. & Smith, in Garrison by Garrison Drug Co., in Appleby by Weatherly Bros. and in Sacul by Arkan Cranford.

at the Texas State Fair, Dallas, Louisiana State Fair, Shreveport, Cotton Palace, Waco, East Texas Fair, Tyler and Pittsburg Fair, Pittsburg. We invite all our former students, their friends and those interested in America's largest business training school to visit our booth in the Exposition Building, and see our splendid exhibit which has won first honors at the state fairs. Our exhibit will be interesting and educational to old and young. We will have demonstrations on some of the most modern office appliances which are taught in our school. Speed demonstrations in Byrne Combination Shorthand, a system written either with a pencil or typewriter, exhibit of student's work in Bookkeeping, Business Training, Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Administration and Finance, Penmanship, Cotton classing and Telegraphy. A visit to our exhibit will show you why we have the largest school of the kind in America, you will see clearly why it is that we can make you a practical and thorough stenographer in three and one-half months with the famous Byrne Shorthand than other schools teaching other systems can in seven months, and why it is with our original copyrighted system of Bookkeeping and Business Training we can give you both a course of Bookkeeping and Business Training in less time than other schools teaching other systems can give you a mere theoretical course of Bookkeeping, and why it is that our practical department of telegraphy, the largest in the United States, with a loop of the Cotton Belt train wire, giving every message to our students every station blank and record book that is used by the Western Union or Cotton Belt Railroad, turns out practical operators and station men; and that we place our graduates into good positions, also investigate the practical manner in which we teach cotton classing.

From present indications we enroll 3000 students this year.

THE LOVE OF A THIEF.

Here is one of those Odd Plays, so odd that the very idea strikes you at once as being out of the ordinary, can you imagine a thief, a bank robber, a crook, one who professes to be nothing else except a crook gaining your sympathy, your admiration, can you find yourself getting excited because you believe that this thief is going to be arrested and wishing that you could assist him in some way to escape, that is what you will do when you see this thief, and grow to like him as others do. The plot is so intense, so wonderfully well calculated that your every thought and wish is for the welfare of the thief, and before the play is over you will feel good to know that you tendered him your sympathy. It only proves what love can do.

At the Tent Theatre Monday night.

ARIZONA SHERIFF DISPERSES MEXICANS

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 1.—Sheriff Slaughter and a force of deputies early today dispersed a band of 400 armed Mexican miners, marching from Morenci to Clifton, Ariz., where there has been a strike in the copper mines, according to reports received at the government's office. Seventy-three were arrested.

The sheriff has asked Governor Campbell for troops to protect mine property.

The Mexicans are miners who had been told that they could return to work in the Clifton mines today. There has been no settlement of the differences between the strikers and mine owners in the Clifton district. The sheriff telephoned Governor Campbell he is certain tonight will bring serious trouble with the Mexicans who made their escape.

The object of the Mexicans, according to the sheriff, is to "go and clean up on the whites."

GOVERNOR HOBBY WILL SPEAK AT TYLER FAIR

Austin, Texas, Sept. 26.—Governor Hobby Wednesday accepted an invitation to attend the East Texas fair at Tyler and deliver an address. Governor Hobby, accompanied by Mrs. Hobby, will be at Tyler on October 6. It will be his first address since his elevation to the governor's office. The invitation was extended to the governor by Dabney White of Tyler, who was here Wednesday.

RECOMMENDS ONE NORMAL EACH YEAR

A dispatch from Austin announces that Governor Hobby, in his message to the legislature in the matter of the new normal schools, recommends amendments to the laws creating the Sul Ross, Southwest Texas, and the Stephen F. Austin Normal colleges not later than September 1, 1919, one the following year, and one two years later.

Helps Sick Women

Cardui, the woman's tonic, helped Mrs. William Eversole, of Hazel Patch, Ky. Read what she writes: "I had a general breaking-down of my health. I was in bed for weeks, unable to get up. I had such a weakness and dizziness, . . . and the pains were very severe. A friend told me I had tried everything else, why not Cardui? . . . I did, and soon saw it was helping me. . . . After 12 bottles, I am strong and well."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Do you feel weak, dizzy, worn-out? Is your lack of good health caused from any of the complaints so common to women? Then why not give Cardui a trial? It should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women who suffered—it should help you back to health.

Ask some lady friend who has taken Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Try Cardui.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

THE COUNTY MEET.

It is not the purpose of this article to discuss the merits or demerits of this work in former years, but to give the teachers of Nacogdoches county some facts that will enable them to begin at once, with the one purpose in view—that of making Nacogdoches county a banner county this year.

The committee is already at work, and will continue to work until we see some boy or girl from this county on their way to the State meet at Austin.

The date of the county meet will be March the 1st and 2nd, 1918. The county precinct meets will be held sometime prior to that date.

The managers of the precinct meets are: H. T. Hunt, commissioner's precinct No. 1; S. V. Perritte, precinct No. 2; J. B. Johnson, precinct No. 3, and G. S. Drury, precinct No. 4.

The teachers will find these men willing at any time to assist anyone wanting information pertaining to the inter-scholastic meet work.

The committee is now working upon a plan whereby a prize will be offered the precinct that has the most schools enrolling as members of the interscholastic league. So the idea will be for each school to send its one dollar to the manager of your precinct at once. It will be forwarded direct to Austin, and in a few days the school will receive literature that will be of value the entire year, even though something should happen that it could not enter the meet.

Later I hope to give out information as to what is being done in various parts of the county.

S. V. PERRITTE,

Secretary of Committee for Nacogdoches County.

YES, LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN

Cincinnati Authority Tells How To Dry Up Corn or Callus So It Lifts Off With Fin-gers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoe that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

Cold Settled In His Back

"Foley Kidney Pills always give me prompt relief."—Ed Veltan, Rogers, Neb.

Ed Veltan, of Rogers, Neb., writes: "I have used Foley Kidney Pills for backache, the result of catching cold which settled in my back. Foley Kidney Pills always give me prompt relief and I can cheerfully recommend them."

The reason Foley Kidney Pills act so satisfactorily is because they neutralize and dissolve the poisonous waste matter that remains in the blood because the kidneys do not do their work properly in filtering and casting out from the system uric acid and other poisons.

Relief usually follows in a few days and such symptoms as pain in the sides or back, stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatism, too frequent action of the bladder at night, and other painful and annoying ailments disappear. Foley Kidney Pills contain no harmful ingredients. They are safe as well as quick acting.

"I am going back to my stock and my hogs," said the former governor, "and will reside at my home in Temple."

He did not care to go beyond that in discussing his future plans, but indicated he will spend considerable time on his ranch in Bell County. His personal effects in the executive department are today being packed and will be shipped to Temple. His family will leave the mansion also on Saturday for their future home at Temple. The effects of the governor at the mansion are also being made ready for shipment.

The former governor did not appear to be in any way worried today, despite the severe ordeal through which he passed during the past two months.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM DAINGERFIELD

The delegation of Nacogdoches good roads boosters, to the meeting at Daingerfield Wednesday, returned yesterday. The delegation consisted of Prof. R. F. Davis, Drs. Nelson and Sweatland, Messrs. V. E. Middlebrook, Guy Blount, H. C. Smith, H. J. Schmidt and Arthur Marshall.

The Sentinel has not been able to get a report in full for today's paper, but as best we can get it the particulars are about as follows: Our delegates put up a strong argument, and are encouraged to believe that we will be successful in bringing the highway through this city. The purpose of this highway has been explained before in The Sentinel. It is to be a scenic highway from the Great Lakes to the Gulf. It has already been routed to Paris, Texas, and the meeting at Daingerfield was to hear the arguments of the various towns in the proposed routes from there on to the gulf.

Tyler, Jacksonville, Longview, Henderson, Garrison, Timpson, Nacogdoches, Lufkin and other places were represented, and put up strong arguments. Tyler, is reported to have put up a strong fight for the route to come through that place and on to Jacksonville—which indeed seemed a little overbearing, and perhaps enhanced our own prospects.

REPRESENTATIVES RESORT TO FISTICUFF

Washington, Sept. 28.—The row in the house over Representative Hefflin's charges culminated today in a fight between Hefflin and Representative Norton his chief critic. Friends soon separated them.

Members favoring investigation planned to wage a fight on the floor against the action of the committee. Chairman Pou issued this statement:

"In view of the information which the committee on rules has received of a nationwide investigation of the use of money furnished by the German government now being conducted by the department of justice, the committee on rules has decided to take no action on the several resolutions before it."

PINK BOLL WORM MENACE IS OVER

Washington, Sept. 27.—After two weeks' work by 25 entomologists of the department of agriculture and Texas institutions, it is believed there no longer is danger that the pink boll worm will become established near Hearne, Texas, where it was discovered in a cotton field.

The department of agriculture made that announcement today and said the entomologists have gone to 10 oil mills in Texas which received cotton seed from Mexico prior to the enforcement of the quarantine November 1, 1916. Cotton was uprooted and burned from 105 acres within a half mile of the Hearne oil mill, from which the worm is supposed to have escaped from cotton seed brought from Mexico.

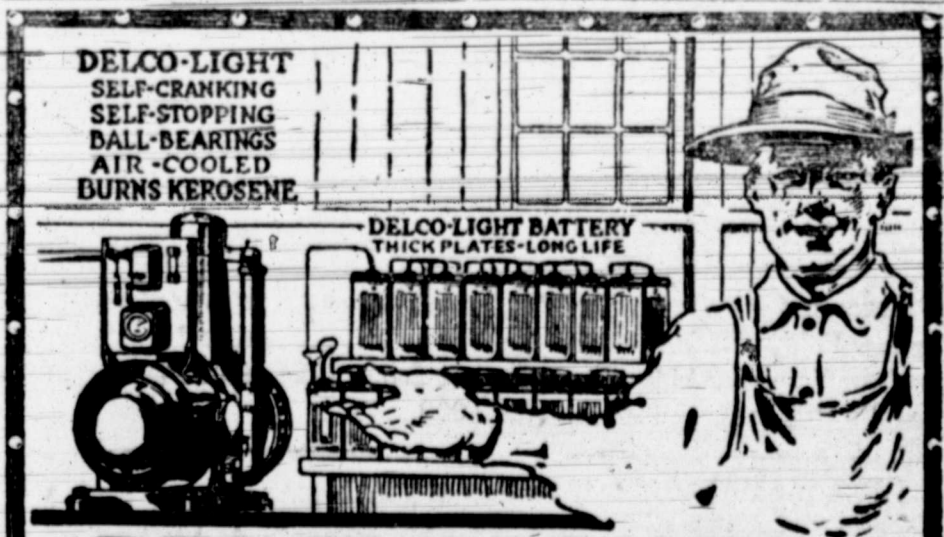

JAILBREAKERS SHOT AT.

The sheriff's department informs The Sentinel that they are making every effort possible to capture Walter Butler and Layton Strickland, who broke jail in this city the 25th. DELCO-LIGHT

The Complete Electric Light and Power Plant.

San Augustine, Texas, July 20, 1917
Mr. J. R. Dickerson, Delco Light Dealer,
San Augustine, Texas.

Dear Sir:—You ask me how I was pleased with my Delco Light Plant. Will say that I am highly pleased with it. It makes a fine light—the very best. Simple in operation and the cost of running expenses is practically nothing compared with the service it gives. I have run my lights, fans and iron for 5 days and nights on one charge of the batteries without running the engine, with good lights and I could have run a week. Anyone will make no mistake when they buy the Delco Light. I would not take twice what my plant cost me if I couldn't get another like it. You can use my name for reference. Yours very truly, I. E. BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."

—Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

U. S. SPY NET CLOSES UPON 150 OR MORE

Chicago, Sept. 28.—William D. Haywood and 35 other leaders of the I. W. W. were arrested late today in a raid by United States marshals on the local headquarters of the organization. The arrests were made as a result of indictments returned by the federal grand jury.

The arrests were the first to result from the indictments and followed hurried dispatches of deputy marshals from the federal building. The deputies jumped into automobiles donated and driven by Chicago women. Prisoners were brought to United States marshals' offices of the same machines.

Washington, Sept. 28.—More than 160 leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, engaged in the alleged nationwide conspiracy to hamper the government in carrying on the war, have been indicted by the federal grand jury at Chicago.

Indictments will be handed in to the court probably late today. Between 160 and 170 persons, resident in almost every section of the country, are named in the indictments.

Seditious conspiracy—the crime nearest to treason within the definition of the criminal code—is charged. This offense is punishable by six years' imprisonment, or $5000 fine, on both.

WOULD EXPEL FULLER.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 26.—Senator Clark today introduced a resolution in the senate, proposing that the senate ask the house of representatives to expel Speaker F. O. Fuller. The resolution was declared out of order by President Dean of the senate, whose ruling was sustained by a vote of 23 to 3.

The senate this morning refused by a vote of 16 to 12 to table the minority committee report, which recommends defeat of the Sunday gasoline bill. This is a house bill. The vote indicates that the bill will not pass or that it will be considerably amended.

VALUE OF WIDE ROW IN CROP CULTIVATION

Mr. George T. McNess, superintendent of Texas Agricultural Sub-station No. 11, delivered the following address at the Farmers' Congress at College Station, August 1st, which contains much information that will be of value to the farmers:

This subject should be of interest to every one engaged in farming, as the width of the row at which a tilled crop is planted is a vital factor in either the success or failure of the crop.

Before I present to you any data concerning yields obtained with various crops, I believe it would be well to consider, for a short time, the various factors that influence the width of the row at which crops should be planted. They are climate, soil, character of plant growth, and time of planting. Of these four factors, the first two are of utmost importance, while the character of plant growth and time of planting have also an important bearing in determining the width of the row at which a given crop should be planted.

The climatic conditions, more than any other factor, determine the system of farming to be practiced in any locality, not only in the kind and variety of crops to be grown, but also in the method of planting and cultivation. The nearer the Atlantic coast, both north and east, the heavier and more evenly distributed rainfall you will find, a shorter period of high temperatures, and with it less evaporation of soil moisture.

Under such climatic conditions crops like corn can be, and are, planted in closer width rows than is the practice in Texas. In the northern part of the Atlantic coast, not only are the rows closer, but several stalks of corn are left in the hills which, under the existing climatic conditions, produce normal yields.

Another instance, on effect of the climate upon the row, can be found in Southern Alabama, Georgia and Northern Florida, where, owing to the daily rains during the late summer months, cow-peas can be planted broadcast or in close drills upon out-stubble lands during the month of June and produce not only large yields of forage, but also of mature cow-peas.

Use such methods of planting in either corn or cow-peas in the most humid sections of Texas, and what success would you have in crop production? The type of soil upon which a crop is grown is the next most important factor to take into consideration in determining the width of the row. This not only applies to the fertility of the soil, but also to its texture, water-holding capacity, drainage and location. I wish my subject would allow me to speak about the abuse of our soils, especially by the renter class, who shift annually from one farm to another, taking each year all from the soil and placing nothing back.

Among our principal tilled crops in Texas are corn and cotton, and I take these two crops because the type of soil upon which they are planted directly affects the width of the row. In the eastern portion of Texas corn planted on the rich alluvial river or creek bottom soils is planted in closer width rows than when planted upon the upland soils, while with cotton it is just the reverse. On the river or creek bottom soils cotton is planted in wide rows, and upon the upland soils is closer rows. The reason for this is that the high state of soil fertility and moisture due to the poor system of farm management, while with the cotton the growth of the plant would be so dense in close rows on bottom land that the yield of lint cotton would be damaged from insects and other causes, while on the upland, where the soil is lower in fertility, the cotton can be planted in closer width rows. The character of plant growth also determines the width of the row, not only between crops of a different character, as between peanuts and cotton, but also between crops of the same variety. For instance Hastings Upright cotton can be planted in closer width rows than can the Rowden Big Boll cotton; Spanish peanuts can be planted in closer width rows than the Virginia Jumbo or the Valencia peanut, but in each case the row must be wide enough to give the plant sufficient feeding area, and to allow room for proper cultivation.

The effect of time planting is not such an important factor in determining the width of the rows with field crops. Early planting and maturing crops can be planted in rows of less width than crops planted later in the season, and taking longer to mature. With truck crops, however, this factor in determining the width of the row must be taken into consideration. No one of these factors alone will decide the width of the row at which a given crop should be planted, but it takes a careful consideration of them all on the part of the farmer in determining the width of the row to plant his tilled crops so as to obtain the maximum yields without loss of land, yet at the same time giving sufficient area for the needs of each individual plant in the crop. There is just as much danger to maximum yields by having the width of the row too great as there is in having the rows too close together.

For a series of years the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations have been testing the effect of yields of various crops planted in rows of varying widths. At College Station a four-years test was made with corn, comparing the yields of corn planted in rows three feet wide and three feet in the row with corn planted in rows six feet wide and one foot and a half in the row. (Table eliminated) The average yield for the four years that this test was conducted is 28,427 bushels to the acre for the corn planted in rows three feet in width, while the average yield for the corn planted in rows six feet apart was 25,181 bushels to the acre. Under the existing conditions at College Station this test shows that corn planted in rows three feet in width and the corn planted three feet apart in the row gave larger yields of shelled corn to the acre than when planted in rows of either greater or lesser width.

At Nacogdoches the greatest average yield of shelled corn covering the same period of years from corn planted in rows three and one-half apart in the row. The same thing holds true for the station at Troup, and although both Nacogdoches and Troup have a heavier rainfall than College Station, the need of the wider row at the two former places is due to the character of the soil. Although Lubbock is not in the corn belt, a test was made there in 1912 with June corn, the rows running from two feet in width to six feet wide, and the following data was obtained: Width of row two feet, yielded 4.6 bushels to the acre; 3 feet, 9.7 bushels; 4 feet, 11.48 bushels; 6 feet, 7.49.

In the test the corn planted in the rows four feet wide gave the highest yields of shelled corn to the acre, showing that under the soils and other conditions existing there during the year that rows of greater width would have been a waste of land and that a reduced yield would have resulted if the corn was in rows of less than four feet. A width of row test with Spanish peanuts has been conducted at the station at Nacogdoches for the four years 1913 to 1916 and the following forage yield obtained: Three feet and one foot and six inches inclusive were used and the peanuts were planted eight inches apart in the row: 1913, width of row three feet, yield 3620 pounds forage to the acre; 1914, 2840 pounds; 1915 3150 pounds; 1916, 2900 pounds. Rows 1 1/2 feet, 1913, 2770 pounds; 1914, 3070 pounds, 1915, 3080 pounds; 1916, 2380 pounds. The average yield for the four years is 2127.5 pounds of forage to the acre for the peanuts planted in rows three feet in width, and 2,822.5 pounds an acre for the peanuts planted in rows 1 1/2 feet in width, thus giving an average gain per acre of 30.5 pounds in favor of the wide row.

A test was also made with Sudan grass in 1914, at Nacogdoches, using three widths of planting, namely, 30-inch row 18-inch row, and in close drills, with the following results: 36-inch row 3440 pounds per acre with one cutting; 18-inch row, 3900 pounds; close drill 3090 pounds. In this test the largest yield was obtained from the grass planted in rows 18 inches in width. Both the 36-inch rows were planted at the rate of three pounds of seed to the acre. In every test conducted, with the exception of the Sudan grass, the high yields have been obtained from reasonable wide planting.

All plants must have a certain area of feeding in order to make normal growth; rows must be of sufficient width in order to give room for cultivation. The character of the crop and the factors mentioned at the beginning of this address, must be considered, and it would be to the advantage of the farmers of Texas to take notice of the work being done by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations in solving the problem as to the width of row that various crops can be planted in the different sections of the state.

BUSINESS COLLEGE IS GROWING RAPIDLY

The reporter paid a visit to Walden's Business College this morning, and was surprised to note the splendid growth that this institution is enjoying.

Mr. Walden is encouraged to believe that this institution will grow even more rapidly and become a permanent and prominent factor in the business and industrial life of the city. In fact it already is the center of attraction for many of our bright young boys and girls who are thus preparing themselves for competent service in the field of future endeavor.

About forty students are now enrolled, and Mr. Walden is expecting many more this week. There are several out-of-town students, and it is expected there will be many more when the institution becomes more firmly connected with East Texas.

The following pupils enrolled for courses in the several subjects taught by the college Monday: the Misses Florence Hillenkamp, Annie Lou Summers, Rubie Miller, Jewel Smith and Edith Besser.

Mr. Walden expects to soon have his college filled to capacity, and is making plans for a larger
