

BY BILL ELLIS

WE FIRMLY BELIEVE that there is still a future for the small towns. Suppose that's why we just recently made another substantial investment in a "small town" venture.

Bovina definitely should be classed with those towns and small cities that have many "plus" factors working in their favor. Although many towns the size of Bovina and smaller are being predicted for eventual extinction, such should not, and need not be the case here.

During the 1960-1970 decade, for example, Bovina bucked the trend by being one of the few towns in the 1,000 population bracket to show a population increase during the census period that ended with the 1970 nose-count.

And the increase did not stop with 1970. Bovina has continued to grow, with new homes and new additions, thanks in a large part to the booming cattle industry and its related facets.

"Why, we have a new newspaperman and a new barber shop—no telling what we'll have next," was a comment to us the other day.

In the near future we expect to be able to announce a nice addition to Bovina's business community. And this could be just the beginning of growth for the city in the 1970s.

RECENTLY, DON SPRING, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, said he thought that the trend had reversed in the medical field to where there would be more and more medical students choosing the general practitioner field.

With this expected change, plus the addition of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, Spring predicts that securing, and keeping, a doctor at the medical clinic should be much easier.

"We have proven that a doctor can do nicely in Bovina. There is no end to what we could do along this line, if we can get the personnel in Bovina," Spring says.

LAST SATURDAY'S turnout here for the city and school elections was somewhat disappointing, what with the nice number of candidates in each of the elections.

However, the 167 votes cast in the school election were three more than voted in Friona's school board race. Friona's school race was uncontested, but their city race (held in conjunction) had five candidates running for three spots.

Our neighboring city elected a woman, Martha Bates, to its city council, the first time ever for a lady member of the city board. Another woman, Mrs. Cliff Porter, was elected to their school board, but this was not a first, we understand.

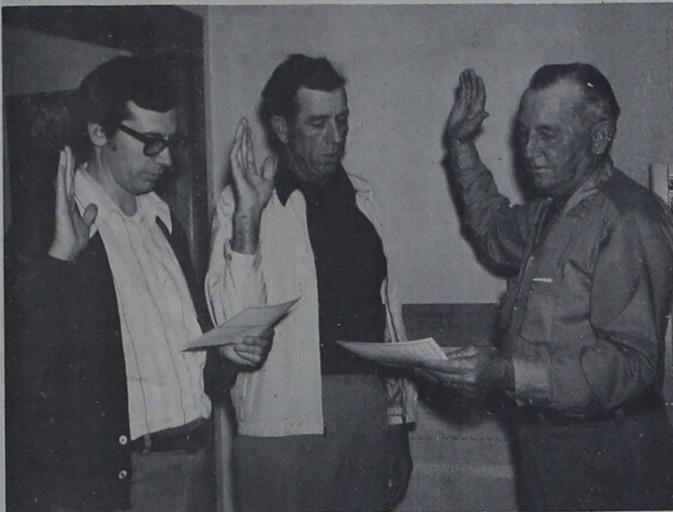

The cold, unfavorable weather that visited this locality on Saturday probably affected the voter turnout. Then, too, some were out of town.

THE BEEF BOYCOTT has affected our area, with the closing for a week of Missouri Beef Packers. This probably was not a surprise to feedlot people, as the packers had stopped buying almost a week earlier, in the face of the impending boycott and the price freeze.

We thought it was ridiculous that the president would single out one segment of the nation's economy for a price freeze. The president could have just as easily picked on automobiles, building materials, clothing—you name it, inflation has affected them all.

We have said that if most people will check line 17 of their Form 1040 before they mail it this week (gad, what a subject), they will undoubtedly find that two-year term as a member of the council. Whitecotton will be serving his first term on the council. At the special meeting in City Hall, votes in the Saturday election were canvassed.

TOMORROW NIGHT

Banquet Fetes BHS Athletes

The annual athletic banquet, sponsored by Bovina Booster Club, will be held in Bovina Schools cafeteria at 8 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday).

Highlight of the banquet will be the awarding of plaques to outstanding athletes for the past year, the second year for the awards to be given.

Plaques will be presented to the boy and girl chosen Outstanding Athletes and also to the boy and girl selected for the Mustang Awards. The Mustang Awards are given to the athletes who most exemplify school spirit and sportsmanship.

The plaques, which are permanent, will be inscribed with the names of the recipients and displayed on the wall by the trophy case near the front entrance of the school.

In order to devote more time to recognition of athletes in all the school's sports programs, club members agreed not to obtain a speaker for the event, as has been the custom for the past several years.

Roger Ezell, athletic director, will be in charge of the program.

The Bovina High School Stage Band will furnish entertainment for the event. Charles Turner, school counselor, will provide dinner music.

Mrs. Leon Ware is in charge of decorations for the banquet. Mrs. T.C. Wiseman is chairman of the food committee.

Mock filet, baked potatoes, tossed salad and chocolate cake will be on the menu.

Tickets for the banquet are priced at $2.50 each and may be purchased at Don's Medicine Chest, Gaines Hardware, Spears Handi-Stop, Sherrill Lumber Co., Bonds Oil Co. and The Bovina Blade. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Booster Club officials expect some 250 to attend this year's event.

Burglars Strike At Sherrills

Burglars struck Sherrill Lumber Co. here sometime Monday night, making off with about $100 worth of tools and money.

Entry to the business was gained by breaking a panel out of a door at the back of the building and lifting a bar on the inside of the door. A change box, keys and some pennies were found outside near the rear door.

J.E. Sherrill, owner of the firm, said that several socket sets, some other tools, a drill and a small amount of change is missing from the store.

The theft is being investigated by City Marshal Ronald Mitchell and Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter.

C.C. "Cap" Naegle, manager of the Parmer County Cattle Company, which is located on Highway 60 between Bovina and Farwell, reported that a 20-foot Hale gooseneck trailer with a red top and white sideboards was stolen from that location sometime Thursday or Friday. Naegle said that a trailer had also been stolen in the Clovis area about the same time.

IN MODERATE TURNOUT

Estes, Whitecotton New City Councilmen

Billy Whitecotton and Incumbent Vernon Estes were elected city councilmen in a moderate turnout at the polls Saturday.

With some 131 votes cast, including one write-in vote, Estes was re-elected to the city position with 59 votes. Whitecotton became a new member of the council after receiving 69 votes.

Estes is a farmer-rancher and Whitecotton is co-owner of Bovina Supermarket.

Seven candidates were seeking the two positions on the six-man council.

Durward Bell received 44 votes, Mutt Graham 12, Pat Kunselman 29, Mrs. C.C. [Sue] Naegle 31 and Kenneth Whitecotton 15.

J.E. Sherrill served as election judge. Mrs. Elton Venable and Mrs. Pearl Moore were clerks at the polls held in the American Legion Hall.

HOLDOVERS GIVEN

Holdover councilmen, with one year remaining on their two-year terms, are Mayor Johnnie Horn, Dolph Moten, Roy Allen and Don Spring.

Horn is operator of an insurance agency and manager of Bovina Gin. Moten is a rancher, Allen is manager of Riverside Chemical Co. and Spring is a pharmacist and owner of Don's Medicine Chest.

New members were sworn into office on the council at a meeting Monday night in city hall.

Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary, reported that the revenue sharing check for the first quarter of 1973 had been received. The check was for $5277. In a letter received with the check, it was noted that Congress had appropriated more money for the revenue sharing program. Mrs. Martin said that if the first check was any indication of the raise in funds, Bovina would receive more than double the amount received last year.

Mayor Horn proposed that Jake Diel of Hereford be employed to repair some 24 blocks of pavement in town on a piece work basis. "Diel has the gravel available now," said Mayor Horn, in noting that there is currently a gravel shortage. The council voted to repair as many as 12 and not more than 24 city blocks. The winter damage has occurred mainly on Second Street, said Horn.

The council approved a motion to use a portion of the revenue sharing funds to pay off the "safety unit" panel truck the fire department purchased recently. Approximately $1300 is owed on the truck, said Horn.

Horn appointed Whitecotton and Spring to check into purchasing park benches, tables and garbage cans for the city park on the Dimmitt highway.

In other business, the council voted to have the city offices painted and to purchase necessary materials for cleaning up the city park near Bovina Schools.

Councilmen present were Estes, Allen, Moten, Whitecotton, Spring, Mayor Horn and City Secretary, Mrs. Martin.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS... Elected to three-year terms on the board of trustees of Bovina Independent School District in Saturday's election were Edwin Lide, left, and Billy Smith. Lide, who was completing his first three-year term, was re-elected to the post with 126 votes. Smith, who will be serving his first term on the board, received 81 votes. Both men took the oath of office at the re-organizational meeting of the board Monday night. Lawrence Jamerson was re-elected president of the board for the fifth consecutive time.

Re-Elect Edwin Lide; Smith New Trustee

Incumbent Edwin Lide retained his seat on the board of trustees of Bovina Independent School District here Saturday, capturing 126 votes. Joining him on the board will be Billy Smith, who received 81 votes. Smith will replace Robert Read, who chose not to seek re-election.

Lide and Smith were among five names appearing on the ballot this year.

Jon Lin Riddle received 47 votes, Duane McDaniel 46 and C.C. "Cap" Naegle 42.

Tom Caldwell, a farmer in the Oklahoma Lane Community, was elected to the county school board as trustee-at-large with 132 votes. He replaces Wendol Christian, who did not seek re-election.

A total of 167 voters marked ballots in this year's election with six absentee votes recorded. The total was slightly higher than last year's 159 votes in the school board election.

Johnnie Horn was election judge with Mrs. Norman Ferguson and Mrs. Dean McCallum serving as clerks.

The terms of Lide and Read expired this year. Lide was completing his first three-year term on the seven-member board. Read has served two terms, but not consecutively.

Holdover members include Lawrence Jamerson, Leslie

McCain and Leon Ware, who have one year remaining on their terms; and Earl Whitten and C.E. Trimble, who have two years remaining to serve.

Lide and Smith were elected for three-year terms. Terms of board members are staggered so that two members are elected two years out of three and three are elected one year out of three. Lide is a farmer and Smith is co-owner of Bovina Supermarket. (Continued on Page 7)

Nuttall, Miss Sorley Best Actor, Actress

Bovina High School's speech department copped Best Actor and Best Actress and third place awards in District 3-A one-act play competition at Farwell Wednesday.

Ronnie Nuttall and Debra Sorley, who played Roy and Norma Hubley in the production, "Plaza Suite," were tabbed for Best Actor and Actress over 24 others from six schools.

Farwell High School's production of "Once Upon A Playground" won first place with Springlake-Earth's production, "Of Poems, Youth and Spring," taking second. Sudan High School took fourth, Vega fifth and Hart sixth. Kress did not participate.

OTHER MEMBERS

Other members of the Bovina cast were Honey Mast as Mimsey Hubley and Tommy Page as Borden Eisler. The play was directed by Mrs. Margaret Durben. Stage crew members were Heidi Corn, Mike Ware, Larry Wiseman and Randy Monk.

The judge, who was from Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, commented that the three top plays were of excellent quality and "it was difficult to choose the top play." Farwell is now eligible for regional competition.

Members of the all-star cast were Jean Foster of Hart, Jason Cook of Vega, Pat Cleavinger of Springlake-Earth and Susan Symcox, Leslie Norton, Pam Erwin, Beverly Roberts, Caroline Anderson, Sandra Ensor, Joyce White and Lynn Blankenship, all of Farwell.

Honorable-mention went to Jackie Withrow and Anna Smith of Sudan and Debbie Stancell of Farwell.

Tommy Page, Ronnie Nuttall, Honey Mast and Debra Sorley. Nuttall and Miss Sorley were tabbed as Best Actor and Best Actress in the competition. Mrs. Margaret Durben, speech instructor, directed the play.

Map Available At SCS Office

A multi-colored general soil map of Texas has now been published and is available for sale to the public, a local conservation official said this week.

 Herb Evans, district conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service at Friona, said the beautiful 36-by-45-inch map can be seen in his office. It shows soil information compiled from years of detailed soil survey work by the Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

 Evans said the map lists basic soil information which should be useful to teachers, planners, conservationists, ranchers, researchers and others.

 The map gives color delineations of the 73 major soil associations (containing 161 separate soil series) in the state and their extent. It also lists special limitations of the soils that affect their use.

 Inset maps show rainfall, temperature, and length of growing season across the state.

 Published cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Soil Conservation Service, the map is available in two sheets or printed front and back. Printed front and back, the map costs $3.00. Printed on two separate sheets, the map costs $4.00.

 For mounting on a wall, Evans recommended the two-sheet style. For folding and filing, he said the map printed on both sides might be the best.

 The map may be purchased from the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

 Order blanks can be obtained from the SCS Office at Friona or from the County Extension Agent's office at Farwell.

In a shell

by Lou Nuttall

THERE HAS BEEN A MILLION words, at least, written about the beef boycott and price ceiling placed upon beef recently by President Nixon.

It seems a little strange to us that the President would go off the deep end because a few shrill-voiced women managed to get on the boob tube with their "stupid" protests and all the while beef experts are almost unanimous in their belief that the present situation may cause many ranchers and stockmen to go bankrupt.

Boy, what a lesson for our children! If they learn by watching, they know now that if one wants something from the government, all one has to do is riot, protest and above all, manage to get on TV.

Stockmen in this country are about the last holdouts against government subsidies and from here, it looks as if they are being punished soundly because of it.

We heard of one woman who said in an interview that she just didn't have enough money to get by on every month. Her husband gives her $1000 a month for household expenses, but she has over $800 set payments. Poor thing!

She probably has every household convenience money can buy, plus the monthly payments on each one of them, two or three cars in the driveway, belongs to the country club and probably has a summer cottage somewhere to boot.

But she doesn't have enough money to buy groceries. Someone has remarked that if she could buy meat on her credit card, she probably wouldn't care how much it costs.

Consider these facts as they relate to farm prices before blaming the farmer for the high costs of food—

Farm prices for food are up only six per cent from 20 years ago.

The farmer gets only 40 cents out of each dollar spent on food, the rest goes for transportation, processing, packaging and marketing.

During the last quarter of 1972, the average American family spent only 15.8 per cent of his income after taxes for food. Even with the increases in early 1973, the level is about 16 per cent. Compare this with 23 per cent 20 years ago.

Farm production costs have more than doubled in the past 20 years, hired help is up two and a half times higher than 20 years ago while farm machinery has more than doubled.

Average wage rates per hour of non-farm production workers are more than two and a half times higher than 20 years ago. In 1950, non-farm workers averaged $1.33 per hour; in 1972, they averaged $3.65 per hour; in 1973, it was up to $3.78 per hour.

While retail food prices went up 33 per cent from 1965 through 1972, per capita income was increasing 62 per cent.

Since 1950, if prices received by farmers for cattle had risen at the same rate as first class postage, cattle would now bring $72 per hundredweight. Had cattle prices risen at the same rate as hospital care costs, cattle would now bring $179.69 per hundredweight.

Although farm prices have shown some increase in recent months, agricultural income is still below the rest of the economy. Parity—that figure used to show how agriculture is faring with the rest of the economy—is about 80 per cent, still 20 per cent below the rest of the economy.

The prices the cattlemen get today for their livestock are only slightly higher than they were receiving 20 years ago.

Only six commodities are currently above parity; all others are at price levels below that ratio.

The above remarks weren't made by a farmer, they were from a governmental report.

Wish the President would read his own people's reports.

Billington, Woodruff Vows Read In Friona

Miss Katherine Joan Billington and Gary Don Woodruff were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony Saturday, March 17, at the Assembly of God Church in Friona. Rev. C.L. Bates, pastor, read the vows before an archway of white horseshoes with purple and white carnations flanked by seven-branch candelabra. The archway was centered with an arrangement of purple and white mums.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Don Billington of Bovina and Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Woodruff of Friona.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of bridal satin designed with an empire waistline, long fitted sleeves and a chapel length train. Her veil was attached to a cluster of flowers. Carrying out bridal tradition, she carried a handkerchief for something old, something new was her veil, something borrowed, her dress, and something blue was her garter.

Maid of honor was Diane Woodruff of Friona. She wore a street length dress designed with a fitted waistline and long, puffed sleeves. She carried an orchid flower-shaped candle.

Best man was Ray Peace of Friona. Ushers were Leonard Woodruff and Loney Paul Woodruff, both of Friona. They also served as candlelighters. Mrs. Farrell Bridges of Friona was pianist. Rhonda Roth of Friona read a poem prior to the ceremony.

A reception was held at the Friona Woman's Study Club House following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of purple and white carnations in a silver epergne. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in purple and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom figurine underneath a heart-shaped arch. Purple punch, nuts, mints and cake were served to guests.

The bride chose a purple pant suit for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M.

Mrs. Woodruff will be a 1973 graduate of Bovina High School. The groom is employed at High Plains Feed Yard near Friona.

MIND OVER MATTRESS

If your dependence on an alarm clock to get you up in the morning is cause for alarm, wake up to a new sleeping beauty, a real eye-opener that awakens you with gentle vibrations. The exciting new slumber number may well make you want to change the words of Irving Berlin's famous song to "Oh, How I Love To Get Up In The Morning!"

It's Vibra-Bod, a mattress massager that slips between box spring and mattress to deliver the kind of vibrations that hotel and motel patrons have been receiving in exchange for a quarter dropped in a slot at the head of their bed. Manufactured by Master Appliance Corporation of Racine, Wisconsin, this "sleeper" now on the market has the dual ability to help you meet Morpheus as well as gently awaken you.

A real dream of a device, it's now available at a price that gives users a fair shake. "It's a sad commentary on the way we live when our days begin to the tune of a blaring alarm clock," said Frank Pfeil, corporation marketing director. "However, if Vibra-Bod's new shake-awake concept takes hold, it could lay the buzzing alarm clock forever to rest."

To get you up in the morning, the device can be used with an automatic timer, which you can buy separately if you don't already have one.

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

"Hey, Pop, did you know this Bible is three days overdue at the library?"

THE ALL AUTHORITATIVE WORD

What does the word of God mean to you or me? Does God's word have any authority in my life? Or do I treat it with no respect-even contempt? When God's word speaks do I even try to listen? Or do I say, "That was the custom 2,000 years ago, but it is not the custom today. The Bible is old, you know, and times have changed. We are living in a modern world. We cannot afford to be crude or out of date, we must be modern." With such an idea, what does the Bible mean to me anyway? Do I consider it the word of God at all? Or, why did God speak if that is all the respect I have for his word?

Just the other day a man said to me, "Let us agree to disagree." Now what does that mean? Used in connection with the word of God, as it was, one meaning at least is, God's word amounts to nothing, you think as you like, and I will think as I like. No, that will never do; for that is plain unbelief. What state has man come to, when he thinks that his judgment overrules God's word? How sad that man can come to the state that he thinks he knows more than God, and therefore can dictate to God; he will even say, Yes, God says that, but it is not essential, in fact, it is not fair to man. How sad that man, claiming to be Christian, can twist and warp the word of God to suit his own devised desires and ideas. Where is the authority of the Word if every one can be allowed freedom to alter God's word to suit himself? It would be confusion plus worse confusion.

Man has been rebellious from the beginning. It was so in the Garden of Eden...It was so at the flood...It was so when Moses led the people out of Egypt...It was so when men nailed Jesus to the tree. Men, largely speaking, will not listen to God nor to his word. It is, as it has always been, only a remnant that will respect God's word, and have faith in it to be saved. Jesus said, "These words which I speak unto you, shall judge you in the last day." Whatever we do with God's word, it will remain the final authority.

Sugar Beet Growers Get More Money

High Plains growers for Holly Sugar Corporation's Shoup Plant in Hereford, will receive an additional payment of about $400,000 for their 1972-73 sugarbeet crop the end of this week, Robert F. Ginn, Agricultural Manager, announced today.

Ginn said the additional payment is based on a net return of $9.50 for sugar sold from this crop.

He said the additional payment will boost returns to growers to about $8,000,000 which includes both Holly and Sugar Act payments.

Growers will receive a final payment for their crop in October, Ginn said.

"Sugar prices are continuing to remain strong. Adverse weather has delayed planting the new crop but we have until the middle of May to get the crop in the ground," Ginn explained.

He pointed out that experience has shown that excellent results still can be achieved from a crop planted as late as May 15.

Re-elected vice president was Leon Ware. Leslie McCain was re-elected secretary. This is the third consecutive year for the two men to hold those positions.

Lide and Smith signed the oath of office at the meeting. . . . .

The board voted to send two special education students to Camp Wigwam, which is located north of Amarillo. The camp is a recreational and learning program for special education students which covers the Panhandle area. The two youngsters will spend a week at the camp.

St. John's Sets Special Services Sun.

St. John's Lutheran Church of Lariat, will be holding a Day of Confirmation Sunday. The service begins at 10:30 a.m.

Those to be confirmed include the following—Greg and Dan Geuther, Cindy and Conny Haseloff, Joe Haseloff, Charles Johnson, Bryan Kube, Sonia Kube, and Linda Gohlke, all of Farwell; also Nancy Ramm of Muleshoe, and Mandy Roach of Bovina.

Confirmation in the Lutheran Church is the rite by which a baptized person publicly confesses his faith, and is received into communicant membership by the congregation.

The rite concludes a period of study of usually no less than two years in the Christian faith and in Lutheran doctrine. The newly confirmed will be taking Holy Communion with their families for the first time Maundy Thursday, the day the church has set aside to remember Christ's Last Supper.

In 17th century Boston, men were forbidden to kiss their wives in public on a Sunday.

A COTTON PRODUCTION meeting will be held in Earth, Texas on April 16, 1973. It will be held at the Halsall Foundation Building, Highway 70 from 8 p.m.-10 p.m. The theme of the meeting is "Growing Cotton on the North End." The program will be brought by Mr. Lavon Ray and Mr. Bob Mitzer.

These Extension Service Specialists will discuss production practices and new spending methods for short micronaire cotton. This meeting will be slanted toward production techniques for this area. Again, the time and place is April 16, 8 p.m.-10 p.m. at the Halsall Foundation Building in Earth.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S DECISION to freeze the retail prices of beef, pork and lamb may have long-reaching effects on future production of farmers and ranchers.

Production costs of farmers and ranchers are continuing to increase. Since there is no freeze on these inputs and the producer knows now that he will not receive any higher prices for his animals, he may just become 'fed up' with the whole situation. This could mean a pullback in resources and less expansion. And that's certainly not what is needed at this time.

Just at a time when producers should be expanding their herds to meet the increased consumer demand for red meat, they are caught in a situation that may "choke" some of them out of production or at least cause them to slow down on their expansion.

Possibly this ceiling may stymie many farm and ranch efforts directed to herd expansion. Producers will feel like they're in a dark room, afraid to move. Still others may even react with a 'get even' attitude and hold back cattle and calves.

Right now farmers and ranchers need to be enticed to continue to increase production. Higher prices have done this. Unfortunately, expansion takes time. You just don't produce more beef or more pork or lamb overnight.

Some analysts already project a shortage of beef in the second half of this year. This shortage could become more critical in the wake of the ceiling on meat prices.

Consumers will probably see less meat in the grocery case of the future and will be paying more for it, unless livestock producers are given some incentives for profitable production.

A planet's distance from the sun determines the length of its year. Mercury, closest to the sun, has a year only 88 days long. Venus, between Mercury and Earth, has a 224-day year. On the other side of Earth, Mars has a year that is nearly twice as long as ours. A year on Pluto, the most distant planet, takes 248 earth years!

4 Bovina Students Win Essay Contest

Bovina students swept all four places in the annual Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District's conservation essay contest.

First place winner was Rhonda Rhodes, a junior at Bovina High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rhodes. Second place was won by Larry Wiseman, a senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Wiseman. Christie Trimble, a junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Trimble, won third place. Evanna Johnston, also a junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Johnston, was fourth place winner.

This year marks the second consecutive year for Bovina High School students to sweep the contests. The year before, Bovina had three of the four winners.

The four students were presented cash awards at a meeting of the Parmer County

SWCD Tuesday, April 3, at the Parmer House in Friona. They were accompanied to Friona by Mrs. Margaret Durben, speech and English instructor in Bovina High School.

Following the awards presentation, the SCS accomplishment report was given by Herb Evans, district conservationist. Routine business matters were conducted by the board. Leroy Johnson was in charge of the meeting.

FIRST PLACE
RHONDA RHODES

The United Nations estimated that by the end of 1972 the population of the world stood at 3.74 billion. This is a staggering figure, but still it does represent the human race. If predictions are true this figure is likely to climb higher and higher. This means man will need more water, air, soil, forests, minerals, and wildlife. Can this supply of these necessary resources continue to meet the needs of people as the world's population reaches a new high?

The solution to this problem lies in man's hands. Natural resources can not be created therefore, man, as a member of the 3.74 billion people of the world, must do his best to conserve and make use of the existing resources.

"Every man has by the law of nature a right to such a waste portion of the earth as is necessary for his existence." Man must fulfill his needs, but he must also preserve his share for future generations. The overuse of man's resources will upset the earth's ecological balance.

Water, for example, meets man's needs in countless ways.

Without water man would not be able to survive. Man uses water for cleaning, cooking, bathing, irrigation for crops, industrial purposes, power, transportation, and recreation. Water is only one of man's resources, but it meets man's needs in perhaps more ways than man realizes.

In this area man is more aware of the role soil plays in meeting his needs. Air contains essential elements for making soil, as does water by breaking down rocks. Plants increase the value of soil and animals help to keep the soil fertile. Resources working together to form soil help supply the 3.74 billion people of the world with food and so help supply his needs.

Natural resources have met the needs of people from the beginning of time and if proper conservation takes place natural resources will continue to meet the needs of people.

SECOND PLACE
LARRY WISEMAN

Conservation means the protection and wise use of our natural resources. We can not control the supply of air we breathe or the sunshine that warms the earth. But we can influence the supplies of our other natural resources—soil, water, forests, minerals, and wildlife. Conservation means guarding these resources so they may be used wisely by the greatest number of people.

The German philosopher Goethe once said, "There is no trifling with nature; it is always true, grave, and severe; it is always in the right, and the faults and errors fall to our share. It defies incompetency, but reveals its secrets to the competent, the truthful, and the pure." We would like to think of our planet as being large enough to feed and supply every person adequately with the natural resources necessary for life, but unfortunately it is not. Water covers about seven-tenths of the earth's surface making limited the land area for growing crops and finding more of our already depleting natural resources.

The limited land mass when put in comparison with the steadily evergrowing population falls short. At present there is only one acre of cultivated land for each of the three billion persons on earth and that one acre has to meet the need to supply each with his daily food requirement.

Conservation is the only answer to saving our natural resources for use now and certainly for use in the future. If mining of minerals and cutting of trees goes on at this rate there will not be enough of these things to live on in the future. Conservation steps have already been taken but not enough to accomplish what was set out to do. There have been plans to clean air and water but they are still polluted. Conservation is the answer to saving our natural resources so that they can meet the Needs of People.

THIRD PLACE
CHRISTIE TRIMBLE

We read from the Bible, "When God began creating the heavens and the earth, the earth was at first a shapeless, chaotic mass, with the Spirit of God brooding over the dark vapors...Then God looked over all that he had made, and it was excellent in every way." Now after many years of use is the earth still excellent or will we have to take further steps to preserve it for our future generations?

Steps have already been taken to cut down on waste and destruction of our natural resources but we do need more precautions to be taken concerning our resources.

Our natural resources are vital in every aspect of life. If we do not work to save our resources what will we have to drink, breath, heat our homes, and raise our crops?

Most of the resources are at present meeting the needs of people. Some of the resources are abundant, some are scarce, and some are depleted.

Some of the resources that are depleted can be revived again. Forests that have been destroyed by fire can be replanted and soil robbed of its minerals can be fertilized. Even though not all resources can be revived those that can be certainly should be.

While trying to form a perfect society Thomas More said, "Every man has by the law of nature a right to such a waste portion of the earth as is necessary for his subsistence." This statement is true, but someone must judge the amount of resources that are necessary for each person to survive. Until someone can achieve this we must stop undue waste and destruction of our resources.

When we are able to live sufficiently without wasting resources we will then be able to look upon our earth and say that it is excellent in every way.

FOURTH PLACE
Evanna Sharlene Johnston

I am writing about the three categories of natural resources, (1) the nonrenewable ones, including ores, minerals, and the fossil fuels (coal, oil, natural gas); (2) the renewable resources, which include soil, natural vegetation (forests and grassland), and wildlife; and (3) the so called flow resources, including water and air, which are naturally if slowly renewable.

All that man can do is wisely using nonrenewable resources is to avoid wasting them and share them fairly. "Once exhausted they are gone forever." Since these are extractive resources, found in mines, the government controls the rate of use. Are the nonrenewable resources meeting the needs of People? As long as the government does its job in controlling the use of nonrenewable resources, man uses them wisely, and scientists have the skill to find some substitutions, they will meet the needs of people.

Renewable resources will go on indefinitely as long as man wants them to. "Man's ability to continue exploiting the earth's renewable resources for his own benefit depends on his awareness of these interrelationships and on his self-restraint in exercising his "mastery" over nature." Are renewable resources meeting the needs of people? As stated before they will be on forever.

Human population growth and our greedy way of life have created shortages in the quantity or quality of flow resources. We still blame too would he know how to phone for help?

If your six year old saw something like this,

It's too important a question to leave to chance.

That's why we're running this ad.

If there are any six- or seven-year-olds around your house, teach them how to report emergencies. Tell them to dial "0", give their name and tell our operator where they are and what's wrong.

With older children, train them to dial emergency numbers direct, since that's the fastest way to call for help.

But don't stop there. Copy down the emergency numbers listed on the inside front cover or first page of your telephone directory. Add your family doctor's number. And the number of the nearest hospital. Next, tuck up the list near your phone.

Then get your kids to memorize it, in case it gets lost.

By the time they're through memorizing those numbers, they're going to have every grownup in the house knowing them, too.

Which is also why we're running this ad.
