BOHEMIA IS CUT OFF FROM GERMANIC AUSTRIA

GERMAN BOHEMIA UNABLE TO RESIST AN AUSTRIAN ARMY DON'T EXIST.

(By Associated Press) PRAGUE, Dec. 21.—With the occupation of Eger and Reichenberg, the Czech-Slovaks seem to have all of German Bohemia completely cut off from German-Austria.

German Bohemia is unable to resist since the Austrian army does not exist. Austria is the only country the army of which has been demobilized, if this term is applicable to the disordered scattering of the returning troops.

The Czech-Slovaks on the other hand have kept their forces intact, and have even mobilized a new class of recruits.

GERMANS ACCEPT HINDENBURG PLAN

SAID GERMAN ARMY WILL BE STRONGER THAN EVER UNDER NEW PLAN.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The German government has accepted Field Marshal von Hindenburg's plan to form a people's guard, or national army, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily Mail.

It is said that the German army under this plan will be stronger than ever. All officers have been instructed to keep the details of the plan secret. Women will be employed for auxiliary service.

GERMANY CAN'T DELIVER THE SHIPPING DEMANDED

(By Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 21.—Instead of two million and a half tons of shipping, demanded of Germany by the allies to carry out the provisions of that country, mentioned in the armistice, the German authorities will be able to collect only two million tons, according to German advices via Geneva.

TO AVOID AND RELIEVE INFLUENZA

By Dr. Franklin Duane. Many people have been frightened by what they have read or heard of influenza. The more you fear the disease, the surer you are to get it. Go right about your business and forget it. As the disease is spread principally by contact through sneezing, coughing or spitting, many health authorities have advised that everyone wear a gauze, which is daily washed and saturated with a one to five hundred solution of zinc sulphate in water, and then dried before wearing over the nose and mouth. You should avoid crowds, common drinking cups and public towels. Keep your strength up by taking lots of exercise in the open air and plenty of nourishing food.

If you have any of such symptoms as chilliness, nasal obstructions, flushed face, headache, feverishness, restlessness, weakness, or irritating cough, give up work at once and go to bed. This will save your strength to help overcome the disease. Put your feet in hot water for fifteen minutes. Thoroughly loosen the bowels with some such mild and non-irritant pellets. Drink principally of hot lemonade and then cover up with plenty of clothes in bed so as to get a good sweat. When sweating is free and the fever reduced take a dose of two Anuric Tablets every four hours, followed by drinking at least a glass or two of hot water. Anuric Tablets help quickly to relieve the soreness of the muscles and bones from which most patients complain and help the kidneys flush out the poisons.

To relieve nasal obstructions and excessive discharge from the nose, probably nothing is better than such a mild, soothing, antiseptic wash as Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will give great relief. Employed as a gargle, in same strength as made up for use in the nose, and as hot as can be borne, it quickly arrests soreness and relieves the throat.

When a patient's condition weakens the patient's resistance to disease, so that there is danger of bronchitis and pneumonia developing. To combat this tendency and build up the patient's strength insist that he keep in bed at least two days. Probably nothing will at this stage hasten the recovery and strengthen the patient more than an iron tonic tablet called "Ironite" or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which has been used by thousands in the past two generations. SCARES MEXICAN BURGLAR PROSTRATE WITHOUT SHOT

(By Associated Press) BEAUMONT, Dec. 24, 1918.—The case of an unknown Mexican recently puzzled the police authorities here. Prostrate as though dead, with the exception of heart beating, the Mexican was taken to jail and put under the care of a physician.

The Mexican's condition was brought about by an attempt to burglarize a store. Hearing a noise, the proprietor went to the scene with a shot gun. He covered the Mexican with the gun and turned his head. When he looked around the Mexican was lying on the floor apparently dead, although not a single shot had been fired. Ice water and other restoratives failed to revive him.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON ALSO ARRIVES, BRINGING HOME TROOPS.

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The United States transport Cedric, arrived in port today from Liverpool, carrying American troops. The Cedric was followed into port by the transport George Washington, the ship that conveyed President Wilson to France, also bringing home American troops.

BOARDING HOUSE RULES HAVE BEEN RECEIVED.

In his holiday greetings to the county food administrators State Food Administrator Peden says that while the functions of the food administration are gradually being abandoned, stronger emphasis must be put on the work of the price reporters. "It has been possible now that peace is assured to cancel many requirements for reports and many of the details of regulation," says Mr. Peden, "but the profit margins and rules for the most part have been retained and will be enforced by the revocation of licenses and other appropriate penalties."

This part of the food control act will remain in effect until the food administration is dissolved by presidential proclamation. The inclination to exceed legal profit margins is liable to be manifest and price reporters are urged to do their most efficient work in the future.

Another ruling in which the public is interested in has been received. This is the regulations which have been imposed on hotels and boarding houses. Effective Dec. 23, all restaurants or public eating houses are removed. At the same time the food administration urges that the proprietors of public eating houses affect the strictest of conservation in serving the public. Reports for December must be filed with the county food administrator as usual, but after December no records need be kept.

W. S. DAVIS, County Food Administrator.

Rev. M. L. Fuller is in town today, en route to his home in Athens, returning from Swift, where he attended the funeral of his brother, Elwood.

CLAIM RUSSIA FINANCED GERMAN REVOLUTION

SAYS GERMAN UNDERSECRETARY HAD LARGE SUMS UNDER HIS CONTROL.

(By Associated Press) BERLIN, Dec. 21.—The question as to whether the German revolution was financed from Russia is agitating political circles, the imputation being that the independent socialists received large sums from Russian sources. The newspapers say that Adolph Joffe declared that Oscar Copen, German Undersecretary of Justice had control of ten million rubles for the furtherance of the German revolution and that altogether 24 million marks had been placed at the disposal of the German revolutionists by Russia.

AMERICA'S CIVILIAN ARMY.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.—Before the war began, the United States Government employed approximately 500,000 persons in the civil branch. After Uncle Sam cast his lot definitely with the Allies the great army of workers behind the fighting forces grew by the tens of thousands until it numbered almost a million men and women. The force of civil employees of the government in the District of Columbia increased from about 35,000 to approximately 95,000. The forces in navy yards increased from about 20,000 to more than 100,000 plants from 10,000 to about 50,000.

During the nineteen months of America's participation in the conflict, the United States Civil Service Commission, whose duty it was to recruit the civil service to meet war needs, examined almost a million persons, more than 400,000 of whom were appointed.

The Commission found it necessary to advertise extensively to mobilize the workers. Three thousand local and 8,000 postmasters at third-class constantly kept the announcements of the Commission before their respective communities. More than 5,000 000 posters and other printed were distributed and displayed; lantern slides were thrown upon the screen in 16,000 moving picture theatres; cards were displayed in 28,000 trolley cars; notices were printed in 16,000 newspapers and more than 200 periodicals; posters were displayed upon the bulletin boards of 3,000 libraries, 1,200 chambers of commerce and boards of trade, and in many other prominent places in every city in the country. Appeals for recruits were also printed on the backs of gas and electricity light bills, on letterheads of business houses, in theater programs and on weather bulletin. Thirty motion picture producing companies either posted special pictures, or attached trailers to films. Educational institutional instructions and numerous organizations assisted in the work. The only cost to the government for millions of dollars worth of advertising was for the printing of posters and circulars and for the making of lantern slides.

From now on the civilian personnel will be greatly reduced.

FEW PRISONERS REMAIN IN GERMANY

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—General Pershing expressed the opinion that very few American prisoners remain in Germany, and believed that these would be quickly evacuated. A continued search is being made for the isolated prisoners. British and French officials in Switzerland, Holland and Sweden, and in Germany itself are aiding in this search. Mr. and Mrs. Ford Clevenger came in from Lufkin yesterday for a holiday visit to the homefolks.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the Officers and Members of Nacogdoches Lodge 118, Independent Order of Odd Fellows:

Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect of Lee Goldsberry, deceased, submit the following:

Whereas, on the 29th day of November, 1918, an allwise God saw fit in His wisdom to take from the walks of life brother Lee Goldsberry who was only 44 years of age.

Just one week from Brother Goldsberry's death his wife preceded him to a Mansion prepared by the Great Creator for those who put their hope in Him, and his little son, Hollis, went with him to join wife and mother who was waiting for their coming in a home not made with hands.

Their departure not only left a vacant chair, but a vacant and silent home, the three being the entire family.

In the death of Brother Lee Goldsberry and family the community lost a family that was always ready and willing to assist those who needed assistance. The country lost a citizen whose aim was to build up the community for honesty and christianity.

Be it Resolved: That in the death of Brother Lee Goldsberry and family the church lost a family that can well be said of them that their lives should be emulated; that the community lost one of its best citizens, and alas the Order of Odd Fellows lost one of its most loyal and truest members, not a member for what he might get out of the order, but a member whose aim was to put into the order for the benefit of others. His motto was "Friendship, Love and Truth," and on the lapel of his coat he wore the "Three Links" emblematic of this motto.

Be it Resolved: That in the death of Brother Goldsberry and family, his entire connection has the sympathy of the community, the church and the Order of Odd Fellowship. We all lost, but our loss was Heaven's gain. Weep not, for in their lives was something that should stimulate us to nobler and higher aims.

Be it Further Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the Minutes of the Order, a copy be mailed to the parents of deceased, and a copy be sent to the county papers and to the Texas Odd Fellows for publication.

J. F. FERRITE,
M. SMITH,
L. I. MULLER,
Committee.

RESOLUTIONS ON THE DEATH OF H. T. MAST

Addressed to I. L. Sturdevant, Chief Nacogdoches Volunteer Fire Department, Nacogdoches, Texas.

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of H. T. Mast, beg leave to submit the following:

No resident of Nacogdoches ever had more friends or deserved more thoroughly the esteem, confidence and gratitude of our people than did Hollis Mast. Sympathetic, generous and public-spirited, he displayed in his various civic activities a boyant optimism that was contagious and inspiring. As a member and officer of the Nacogdoches Volunteer Fire Department, he gave unstintingly of his time and his counsel.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Nacogdoches Volunteer Fire Department, that in the death of Mr. Mast this body and the entire community has lost one of its most loyal, faithful and efficient members, and that the splendid record of his life will be treasured by every member of our department as a priceless heritage.

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, a copy be spread upon the minutes of our organization, and that copies be furnished the local papers.

LEE GASTON,
ROBERT LINDSEY,
Committee.

GOVERNMENT WILL ASSIST IN FINDING NEW JOBS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The thousands of civilian war workers in the government service who will soon be dismissed because their services are no longer needed will be assisted in finding re-employment through plans now being arranged by the United States Civil Service Commission.

On the recommendation of the civil service commission the President issued on November 29 an Executive Order which provides that the names of persons in the competitive classified civil service with unrestricted status who were appointed either permanently or provisionally prior to the date of the order, who have served less than three years, who are separated from the service because of a reduction of force, and who are recommended for further employment by the government because of demonstrated efficiency in the office from which they are separated will, upon request, be entered by the civil service commission upon appropriate eligible registers for reappointment, eligibility thereon to continue for one year from the date of separation. The re-employment registers thus established will be used so far as is practicable for filling positions in the government service.

It is expected, however, that there will be a surplus of eligibles on these re-employment registers, and in order that those who cannot be replaced in the government service may find positions in private employ, the civil service commission has asked the co-operation of the department of labor in the work of finding suitable employment in private establishments for dismissed war workers who can not be further employed by the government.

It is the view of the civil service commission that the machinery of the government should be used to the fullest extent in finding employment for the war workers for it is realized that a considerable number of them entered the government service at some personal sacrifice to help the war program.

"Prior to the beginning of operations on this, the Meuse-Argonne sector, the commanding general published to the division on Oct. 15, 1918 his estimate of it, reserving final decision as to where it should be classified until later. He no longer has any doubt of reluctance in claiming for the 90th division fighting qualities second to none. Every regiment has gained its objective in every operation in which it has participated, and the division has exceeded its allotment in the execution of every task assigned it."

FINDING ONE'S SOUL.

There is much talk of landing a nation's soul. We are told that France has found her soul; so have Italy and England. It is in the war these nations are finding their souls. They are finding them in sorrow and sacrifice. The soul can always be found where suffering is, if search is made for it. But there are other places where the soul is needed just as much as in war. One place is education. The youth who has not found his soul is not educated; never can be, it makes no difference how much mathematics, language, science or philosophy he may have acquired. If this soul stays back in the caves of conceit, and his courage, courtesy, integrity, self-denial fail to get to the front to fight his battles of life, it would be well if he never was educated. He must find his soul, even if he loses the accusative of specification or the pons asinorum. He must get hold of his spirit, his intuition, his impulse, his purpose, his get-up, even if he loses the whole material world. The highest purpose of education is to find one's soul, and yet the whole educational world does not yet seem to know it. What would France be without its soul? What would any man be without his?—Ohio State Journal.

A gentleman remarked to us the other day that he wished we had the power of speech to induce the people of Nacogdoches to build better sidewalks. It seems that it would take an awful voice to get much response in this direction. This newspaper is endeavoring to keep the matter before the public in the hope that someone will see the merit of the argument and get busy. Good walks are greatly needed in weather like this.

The Sentinel would appreciate it if you would report your holiday visitors. We might perhaps overlook them if you did not tell us about them, and of course you want them reported.

The peace terms submitted to Germany are very good as far as they went, but we must say they did not go far enough. The terms should have carried the stipulation that the Germans must roll up all the stove-pipes they knocked down. This would have been tantamount to assigning them to hades, for no man could work with barbed wire and stove-pipes a year without cutting himself beyond the pale of redemption.—Honey Grove Signal.

IN MEMORY OF H. T. MAST

To the Local Council Boy Scouts.

We are often called upon to stand in wonder at what takes place in this life of uncertainties, but at the time we stop with hushed breath, because we can hardly realize that Hollis Mast is dead. With our short vision it is impossible for us to see why such a useful man should be snatched away from the waives of men, when we needed him so much, but we know that God doeth all things well, and we bow submissively to His will.

In the homing of our esteemed president and co-worker, the Boy Scouts have lost an earnest, faithful helper, whose ever effort was to elevate, uplift, and help the boys, who are to be the coming men of our country. While we deeply deplore his untimely departure there is a compensation in his exemplary life which he lived before us, that we urge the boys to emulate and follow in their character-building. Although our hearts are ached because his absence we should know that there are others closer to him by ties that are sacred who should have a deeper sorrow than is possible for any of us, and we take this opportunity to extend to them our real heartfelt sympathy, commending them to the tender care of Him who will help them bear their great burden in such a time as this.

We would impress not only upon the Boy Scouts but upon all others this great fact in his life—he was a follower of Jesus, without whom it is impossible to live a life that will count for most, and we are persuaded that the influence of the Spirit of Christ in his life was the impelling force out of which grew the many deeds of kindness and usefulness to the needy. Let us all live lives after this fashion and when we come into the presence of the King we shall hear the words—"Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Respectfully submitted,
R. C. MONK,
A. D. PARNELL,
W. F. GINTZ,

MASARYK TAKES OATH AS CZECHO-SLOVAK PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press)
PRAGUE, Dec. 23.—Prof. T. G. Masaryk, president of the Czecho-slovak republic, took the oath of office as president today. The president's oath on assuming the office, was as follows:

"I promise as president of the Czecho-Slovak Republic, on my honor and conscience that I will care for the welfare of the republic and its people and respect its laws."

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

The old city of San Antonio has always been connected with the old sister city of Nacogdoches in different ways. One of these connections was the primitive and noted old San Antonio road that has recently been officially marked by setting stone monuments along the authenticated original line of this road from the Sabine river to the Rio Grande. This road entered Texas on the east, running from Natchitoches, La., via Nacogdoches and San Antonio. In the latter city it passed right through the center of the town and is known now as Nacogdoches street and terminates at the famous old Alamo chapel and mission. Austin street runs the line further on, and along this old street are buildings that readily suggest antiquity. Moreover the peculiar irregularity of the streets, and the other peculiarities of the two old towns suggest their similarities in age and origin. They appear out of style and out of date. Both were slow to quit the six-shooter, the saloon and the desperado exploits. But the long lane has turned.

San Antonio's recent military prominence in her army camps has not separated her from Nacogdoches, but has drawn so many soldiers and civilians from the latter that the connections are stronger.

The pioneer patriots who figured in immortal deeds at San Antonio came largely from Nacogdoches. Travis, Bowie, Houston, Austin, Crockett, Burleson and others were instances. These facts and incidents are not generally recognized or remembered by the present-day residents of these cities, though related in school histories. Moreover, very few present-day residents of Texas fully appreciate the conditions and customs that existed in Texas in pioneer days. It is not easy to realize the fact that there was a virgin forest of giant trees growing all over every foot of land in the town of Nacogdoches, with the possible exception of a few small garden spots. Think of the mammoth red oaks and many other oaks of various species, but not a live oak and pines, elms and gums of great height, and not a saw mill nor a grist mill anywhere, and the pathless wilds of the hills and valleys.

But now San Antonio and Nacogdoches are not a day apart, whereas then it was a two-weeks' journey, and a dangerous and difficult trail. Now the citizens of the two towns usually come and go between them often, or change residence from one to the other. The world war of today increases the intercourse by reason of the astonishing number of soldiers through the immense training camps here, and the innumerable other people drawn here in many connections incidental thereto. But how little similarity between the days and those when Nacogdoches sent heroes to battle around San Antonio, in the struggle of freedom. These events have not been half told in history, nor in tradition. A sentiment that figured largely in the traditional events of Texas is expressed in the saying "Go west, young man, and grow up with the country." Ambition and adventure were in the saddle. San Jacinto was the culmination of that spirit. But the Lone Star state was the sequel—Nacogdoches was a leading factor.

NEGRO CHILD BURNED TO DEATH MELROSE WEDNESDAY

The six-year-old child of J. F. Kendrick, negro, of Melrose, burned to death last Wednesday.

The child had a string tied around its waist, and was playing by a fire out in the yard when the string caught fire, causing it to be enveloped in flames immediately, and nothing could be done to save it.

In reporting that a small negro child was burned to death the other day, the Sentinel erroneously stated that it was the child of J. F. Kendrick. It should have read Robert Hunt, who lived on J. F. Kendrick's place. Kendrick is a white man.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT IN CITY SATURDAY NIGHT.

A service car, belonging to W. G. Davis, and driven by Aubrey Means, containing himself and Homer Tutt, ran headlong into a wagon on North street Saturday night, the car turning over on the two boys, and bruising Aubrey up pretty badly, and Tutt slightly. The wagon contained a gentleman named Christopher, who lives near the Experiment Station, his wife and children. No one of them was seriously injured, Mrs. Christopher receiving slight bruises.

The accident is explained by the fact that the lights on the car went out, due to an accident, before they saw the wagon, and it being very dark they did not see it before they hit it.

Messrs. Clyde Reynolds, Lafayette Fitts and Irwin Parker, of Logansport, are in the city visiting relatives.

TO THE CHILDREN

Christmas will soon be here—that beautiful time when the angels sang "Glory to God in the Highest" and the little Lord Jesus was born in Bethlehem. Our hearts will be high as we think of Him; of the wonderful star; or the wise men who came with gifts for the King. Because of it we will make ready to remember our friends with tokens of love. The superintendent wishes to remind the children who are in her primary department at the Baptist church that there are orphans in Buckner Home near Dallas who have been ill with influenza—there are seven hundred inmates in all—and who will be left out of the holiday happiness unless kind and thoughtful Sunday school pupils save a part of their nickels and dimes to send them nice food and warm clothing. She is asking the question: "Will the children here enjoy themselves if the orphans are forgotten and left out?" She thinks that the answer will be "No. We will surely spend a part of our money for them." The opportunity is hereby given for the older members to take a part in the offering. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, ye did it unto me."

As a proof of the growing interest of the child welfare for the fatherless children of France, is that most every day new pledges and new names are added to the local chairman's roll of god-parents. Little Elizabeth and Mamie Ethel Blount have assumed the responsibility of one little French orphan girl for one year. These youthful god-parents will have the privilege of corresponding with their protegee and doing for their special orphan the dear things that their hearts dictate. In time, if they wish, they will receive a photo of their new-made friend.

CALL TO DUTY IN RECONSTRUCTION ISSUED BY PEDEN

TEXANS, WHO SET THE PACE IN FOOD SAVING DURING WAR, ASKED TO BE EXAMPLARS TO NATION DURING ADJUSTMENT PERIOD.

To the People of Texas:

The war is over! We and our allies have won! And, Oh! such a glorious victory. A victory not only for our country and those who fought side by side with us, but for All Mankind, for All Humanity, and for All Time.

What a meanink what a bearing this eventful ending of our world conflict will have upon the future welfare of our children and our children's children until the final judgment day.

And what a privilege; what an honor it was to each of us to contribute our mite toward this splendid accomplishment! How justly proud we can well feel to realize that we neglected not our duty when the call came.

The people of this great State responded cheerfully, promptly and with marked enthusiasm to every governmental war call. In many instances we set examples which helped and inspired other States onward and upward.

But now a tremendous change comes in our program: We turn from the war work, from the war conscience, to the call for world relief; to the crying need of, not merely thousands, but millions of hungry, starving people of old men—women and children in no way responsible for the cruel war through which the world for four years has been passing, but innocent victims—crushed, bleeding, starving, dying for want of food.

We've been saying: "Food will win the war." Now we take up a new slogan: "Food will win the WORLD." Our work is not over. A task greater than ever now confronts us, and will continue to confront us for some years perhaps, but the most urgent period is THE PRESENT—this winter which is now upon us with its chill and snow and ice.

Last week Mr. Hoover said: "There are now in Northern Russia alone some forty millions of semi-starving people, ten millions of whom will in all probability perish and die this winter for want of food and clothing." A similar cry comes from poor bleeding Belgium, from Northern France, Poland, Roumania, Servia, Armenia, Persia and the Holy Land, where the terrible Turk, in all his devilry and cruelty, has held sway so long. These persecuted people, these weeping women, these crying children, these bent and broken old men call out to us in their despair!

It's a fight against famine, and famine, you know, is the forerunner of anarchy. In many lands now it is a question of bread or bolshevism.

To America the world looks for relief. We alone can save the situation until next harvest, and Texas—this mighty Empire—has her part to play.

Mr. Hoover with a corps of able associates is now in Europe studying the situation in person and working out the details of an equitable plan soon to be announced to you.

But even now I can say that the new program will include and stress maximum production of food and feed crops and fats, coupled with continued rigid conservation and the careful avoidance of all wastefulness. While Europe remains hungry, to waste food and fats is sinful—aye, almost criminal.

Shall we fail these hungry peoples? Never, never, never! I only wish I could be as sure of the fulfillment of all my desires and hopes as I am that the noble citizenship of Texas will nobly respond to this world relief appeal to fight famine and to save starving humanity, thus aiding in re-establishing stable governments among the tired and torn nations, big and little, of Europe, and thus paving the path for peace, permanent universal world-wide peace.

E. A. PEDEN,
Federal Food Administrator for Texas.

PLEDGE BY AMERICAN WOMEN

During Conservation Week for World Relief.

"We pledge to our country our best effort to prevent waste and the selfish use of our food reserves.

"We pledge our loyal co-operation in carrying out the conservation measures suggested by the government.

"And if economy sometimes grows irksome, or if this service works unwelcome change in our accustomed manner of living, we will think of those who have offered their lives for their country and those whose homes have been devastated.

"We will be glad that we, too, can serve in satisfying their hunger, in renewing their courage, and in re-establishing their homes."

Will It Plow Right After Years of Use?

is a question that occurs to you when you come to buy a new plow.

When you come to put on new wearing parts, they slip into place with ease and "fit like a glove," retaining the original shape and pitch of the plow.

Before you buy another plow, come in and examine the Avery.

Avery Chilled Plows

do good work "to the end of the chapter" because—
Share, moldboard, landside and standard are locked together so rigidly by "Lock That Locks" that the plow holds its correct set and pitch, no matter how hard the plowing or how long the plow is used.

WILSON HOLDS A CONFERENCE WITH GENERAL FOCH

CONFERENCE TO THE ARMISTICE LAST NIGHT.

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 18.—President Wilson and Marshal Foch talked for a half hour last night on subjects mainly in reference to the armistice between the allies and Germany, according to the Echo de Paris. It is probable that a treaty of peace will be signed at Versailles about the beginning of June and that Marshal Foch will lead the allied armies under an arch of triumph fifteen days later.

PERSHING DESIGNATES ADDITIONAL UNITS RETURN

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Additional units overseas, including about fifteen hundred officers and men are assigned by General Pershing for early convey home, the war department announced today as follows: 35th, 149th, 158th, 173rd and the 801st aero squadron and companies A and B of the 26th engineers; 102nd and 11th trench mortar batteries, and 39th brigade of coast artillery.

JESSE J. OWENS DIED YESTERDAY.

Mr. Jesse J. Owens died yesterday at the Tucker-Smith sanitarium at 10:00 o'clock. He was about 27 years of age, and was the son-in-law of Tom Crisp of this city.

Mr. Owens was employed by the Ford garage of this city at the time he became ill. He was well known and admired by all who knew him. The Sentinel joins the many friends of the survivors in extending sincere sympathy.

Interment will take place in Oak Grove cemetery this afternoon at 3:30, with the Odd Fellows in charge of the service.

Mrs. Ernest Marmor and little daughter are here for the holidays.

COUNTY BOY IS RELEASED FROM GERMAN PRISON

PVT. ERNEST J. KING RELEASED FROM RASTATT PRISON CAMP.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. King, of Woden, received an official telegram today from the war department, stating that their son, Pvt. Ernest J. King, had been released from the German prison camp at Rastatt, and had returned to France in good health. Private King was sent out by the local board of this county some time ago, and was reported as missing in action several months ago. He is a nephew of Mr. Hughes King of this city. This is the first Nacogdoches county boy who has been released from a German prison.

His parents, and many friends over the county are certainly overjoyed to learn that he has been released, and more especially so in the fact that he is in good health. Missing in action before the armistice was signed was almost a death warrant, and his parents were greatly worried.

The young man will doubtless have many experiences to relate upon his return home, which is possible in the near future, and having gone through what he has, has proven his patriotism in a way that will give him and his friends satisfaction in the years to come.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
On Sunday, Dec. 8, there was held at the Methodist church an impressive service to the memory of Hollis T. Mast.

To the President and Members of the Board of Stewards of the M. Church, South, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Brethren: Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of Hollis T. Mast beg to submit the following:

Brother Mast departed this life the morning of November 25, 1918. He was a man highly endowed with noble of heart, enthusiastic and radiant in spirit, a man of clear vision and high ideals, arduous and abundant in labors, with the moral wisdom always striking first at the right point, luminous in the statement of truth, and convincing in the logic of his conclusions. The spirit of God was in him, and he was a safe leader among men. Duty to him was divine opportunity and never a moving chance. His greatest pleasure was to be of service and to serve. All the walks of life, and among friend and a brother beloved.

Therefore, be it resolved:
1. That in the death of Hollis T. Mast this Board and the Methodist church have lost one of our most useful members, and the entire community one of its best citizens.

2. That we humbly submit to the will of Almighty God, praying that the comforting presence of the Holy Spirit may abide in sustaining power upon the bereaved family and friends of our departed brother.

3. That we will endeavor, by the help of God, to emulate Brother Mast's spirit and example, and strive to carry forward the work of the church which he loved and served so faithfully.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, copy be furnished the family and copy be given the local papers for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
J. D. ELLINGTON,
L. G. KING,
Committee

The Nacogdoches Sentinel is also in line with this paper about desirable rent houses. That publication has decided that no town can prosper when there are not sufficient houses for the people to live in, move and have their being—those people who live at a distance and would like to become citizens. It is hoped that not before long Lufkin will have plenty of houses to accommodate those who prefer to live in such a good town. One gentleman remarked to this editor that he was strictly in accord with the item appearing in this paper recently complaining about the shortage of desirable rent cottages in Lufkin. He wants a house himself, and knows of others who have a desire for the same thing. Let's build these houses, folks, before we do anything else?—Lufkin News.

Why shouldn't Lufkin be the oil center of East Texas? It is the center of all things else that are worth while. Come to Lufkin and enjoy yourself. It's true Nacogdoches appears on the right-of-way about twenty miles from here, but that should not deter from entering upon the best proposition you ever had in mind.—Lufkin News.

While the Sentinel would not detract from the glory of Lufkin's oil well which was reported to have started off with a 100-barrel well, we are informed that it has now "played out" and is only pumping about half what many oil wells have been producing in Nacogdoches county for some years. Nacogdoches is the true center of East Texas, regardless of the Lufkin editor's contentions.

Duty makes us do things well, but love makes us do them beautifully.—Phillip Brooks.

Better sidewalks, memorial to the soldiers, more rent houses, and a commercial club. These are the things in prospect for Nacogdoches. Everybody help and let's get them at once.

Again we would remind you that tomorrow is Sunday with services at all the churches. Read the church column and do your duty.

Johnny—What makes that new baby at your house cry so much?

Tommy—If all your teeth was out, and your hair was off, and your legs so weak you couldn't stand on them, I guess you'd feel like crying.—London Tit-Bits.

What of the boys that are coming back permanently disabled? The institutions that are salvaging the human wrecks of the war are fitting a large majority of them out for life new. A number of them will be financially or otherwise able to take care of themselves—but what of those who can't? Will the government make ample provision for their future? Many perplexing problems are before the legislature of the present, but this important one should not be lost in the shuffle, as it will not be. In the distant days of the future may the men with the spirit of "Retreat? Hell!" who stopped the drive of the invading hordes and saved Paris and the world not be subjected to asking alms of the public with which to purchase their daily bread.

It must be painful to both the patriotic Englishman and American to witness the many efforts that are being made to bring about inharmonious in the peace conference. This is not done altogether by German propaganda, either, for citizens of both countries have been guilty. If there be any ill-feeling it is nevertheless a fact that both took up the cause of justice and righteousness and fought valiantly together—whether standing in the mud and slush of the trenches or facing the onward rush of German steel with bare breasts. Now that the time for settlement has come, a feeling of comradeship, of brotherly love should permit the spirit of both, and the dead past bury its dead.

CROWN PRINCE WRITES KAISER

The following witty article has been going the rounds of the press lately, and is published by request:

Dear papa: I am writing on the run, as the brave and glorious soldiers under my command have not seen the Rhine for so long that they have started back that way, and of course I am going mit dem.

Oh, papa, dere hos beeh some offel dings happened in France. First, I started in my big offensive which was to crush de fool Americans, but dey know so little about military tactics dat dey will not be crushed like I want 'em. I sent my men in der fight in big waves and when dey got to de Americans dey all said "Boo" as loud as dey could holler. Vel, according to vat you have always told me, de Americans should haf turned and run like blazes.

But vat do you tink? Dem fool Americans don't know anything about war, and instead of running de odder way, dey came right toward us. Some of dem vas singing about "Ve won't come back till it's over, over dere," or some odder foolish song, and some of them laffin' like fools.

Dey are very ignorant. But dey are offel reckless mit dere guns, and ven dey come toward us it vas den dat my men took a notion dat dey wanted to go back to de dear old Rhine. Ve don't like de little old dirty Marne river anyhow.

And, oh, papa, dem Americans use such offel language. Dey know nothing of kultur, and sey such offel dings right before us. And dey talk blasphemy, too. Vat you tink dey said right in front of my face? One big husky from de place dey call Nebraska, he said—oh papa, I hate to tell you vat an offel ting he said; but I can't help it; he said, "To hell mit der kaiser!"

Did you efer hear anything as offel? I didn't tink anybody would say such a offel tink. It made me so mad, I wouldn't stand and hear such a offel ting, so I run mit the odder boys. Vas I right? Vat?

And oh, papa, you know dem breatplates vat you sent us—can you send some to put on our backs? You know ve are going de odder way now, and breatplates are no good, for de cowardly Americans are shooting us right in de back. Some of our boys took off dere breatplates and put 'em behind, but de fool Americans are playing "De Spar-Spangled Banner" mit machine-guns on dem plates.

Can't you help us? You remember in your speech you said nothing could stand before de brave German soldiers? Oh, papa, I don't believe dese ignorant Americans ever read your speeches, for dey run after us just like ve vas a lot of rabbits. Vat you tink of dot?

Can't you send dem some of your speeches right away? Dey don't know how terrible ve are. Can't you move my army back to Belgium vere ve von all our glory? My men can vip all de vimmen and children vot dem Belgians can bring up. But Co.

dese Americans are so rough and ignorant. Ve can't make 'em understand dot ve are de greatest soldiers on earth, and ven ye try to sing, "Deutschland uber Alles" dey laugh like a lot of monkeys.

But ve are getting the best of the Americans. Ve can out-run dem. Papa, if ve are not de best fighters on earth ve are sure de best runners. Nobody can ketch up mit us ven ve tink of de dear old Rhine, and my army never did tink so much of dot dear old river. Let us know right away vat to do by return postoffice.—Crown Prince Willie.

ASSISTING FATHERLESS CHILDREN OF FRANCE

The work of assisting the fatherless children in France has been undertaken in Nacogdoches by Mrs. Geo. H. Matthews, who has been appointed chairman of the work for the city. Her endeavors in this undertaking started off with flying colors yesterday when she secured a donation of $36.50 from the Cum Conclio club. The following letter received by her is self-explanatory:

Mrs. Geo. H. Matthews, Nacogdoches, Texas.

I shall be glad in deed to have you assist me in extending the work of the Fatherless Children of France among the people of your city, as well as other rural districts around Nacogdoches. I shall appoint, however, a chairman in the large cities in Nacogdoches county, such as Chireno, Cushing and Garrison. I hesitate to thank you for the labor this will involve, for I believe you will welcome it as an opportunity to translate into practical action the realization we all have of the debt our nation owes to the Fathers of France who gave all willingly for the cause of civilization.

I am enclosing a plan which I will ask that you follow carefully in your work. Deviation from this may cause confusion and material delay in extending the help to the Fatherless Children of France so urgently needed now.

If anything is not absolutely clear to you, communicate at once please, with me.

Urging you to act promptly and vigorously and anticipating your close cooperation in this great work. I am

Very sincerely yours,
MRS. LOUIS A. ADOLPH,
District Chairman Fatherless Children of France, Inc.

Mrs. Matthews has written the district chairman that she will accept this great opportunity offered, but on account of sickness deferred it until this week. She put it before the club Thursday. This body of women, seldom if ever turn down a philanthropic proposition, without one dissenting voice agreed to make one little French orphan a Christmas present of $36.50, for this amount will help a fatherless child with its mother one year. Therefore this small gift will add to the towering monument of American tenderness and mercy of which Marshal Joffre is president.

For this generous and kindhearted gift, Mrs. Wilson will soon get in personal and intimate touch with a little child whose father has given his life for the great world cause to which we, too, are pledged. Mrs. Wilson will receive as quick as possible a photo of her protegee, and will also have letters from the child, or her guardian.

CHRISTMAS AND WAR SAVINGS STAMPS.

The most significant and satisfactory gift that can be made THIS Christmas will be that of War Savings Stamps.

Uncle Sam has asked that these securities be used this year in the place of gifts ordinarily given at the Yuletide. Such gifts express the giver's loyalty and love of country; they assist the government in bringing back the fighting men who have won victory and made a joyous Christmas possible. They are remembrances that are valuable and increase in value each month.

Every War Savings Society should pledge its members to give War Savings Stamps for Christmas, and the society should make an energetic campaign to secure on the part of the community the observance of Uncle Sam's request.

Soldiers and sailors will soon be coming home. No better way of showing appreciation of their services can be used than by setting aside for them THIS Christmas a store of War Savings Stamps to be presented to them upon their return.

Uncle Sam has asked that all business institutions which observe Christmas by presenting their workers with presents or bonus money, give War Savings Stamps instead.

See that Uncle Sam's request is followed in YOUR home! Follow his request in your Christmas cheer. There is no finer or better way of expressing your appreciation of the "boy's" Christmas gift than in giving that which will enable the government to take proper care of them and bring them safely home.—From the Texas War Saver of December.

UP AGAINST IT.

The Sentinel editor is much in the same shape this morning that the Lufkin News gentlemen was a few days in which he devoted two columns or more to the caption of "Writing Against Time." However we have plenty of time and are writing against space. Space is endless, it is boundless eternity—or it is nothing. In the blue horizon above there is endless space for the sparrow or the vulture; for the airplane or the crackling waves of the wireless. There is space in our hearts for the green monster of jealousy, or the spirit of brotherly love to grow, reside and have being—aye, space is an elusive creature, and we are writing against it. Having made the usual rounds and secured nothing, and the exchanges failing to arrive, we say again, we are up against it. The little daily must come—it is regular, it is perpetual. It has no sympathy for the moods of the editor, it is heartless.

We have already suggested a clean-up campaign, agitated better sidewalks, a memorial to the heroes of the war—those gallant young men who went in the glory of their young manhood to defend the principles of righteousness which their mothers taught them. Mother!—what a beautiful word—an expression reflecting constant love, sacrifice, joy, sorrow, pain, gladness—an ever-present omnipotent something that eternally strives, ever serves, ever loves, rising in the glory of triumph or sinking in the maelstrom of defeat, but never giving up—always there. Love. Love—what a depth of meaning is enveloped in that little word that has more than once turned the world topsy-turvy—that fleeting, elusive, will-of-the-wisp, or that constant, undying devotion—but we will not discuss this subject, leaving it to Dock Lively of the Lufkin News.

We have already thrashed out the subject of Lufkin's majestic standpipe, and health-wrecking water, and all those other matters pertaining to the neighbor city, so we will have to pass that up. The peace conference, and the other matters of moment have been thoroughly discussed by prominent satellites, whose rays extend far greater than this insignificant writer could even dream of—so we say again, we are up against it, and are almost tempted to use some of the poetry that we have on file.

Poetry—ah! the dear poets, now that brings up another subject. It seems that Nacogdoches county is abundantly blessed with this variety of human song-birds. Some of them write anonymously and some upside down—at least it looks that way—while some of them express a real message. We have enough poetry on file to supply a large magazine. We are sorry that we cannot use it all, and thus give public vent to the innermost variety of feeling of the several contributors. It has always been a characteristic feature of poetry and love that they both thrive in the spring-time of the year, when the grass is green, the sky clear and blue, the sunshine trickling clearly down upon Mother Earth, whose plants are budding into being, and whose animals are mating for the season—human animals also mating, but for a life-time—possibly. Then too, the fish begin to bite, and nature starts calling, and the cares of business lose their customary dominance—thus inspiring the poetical flow of sentiment.

If you have gotten this far, we thank you for your kind attention!

LETTER FROM SOLDIER IN FRANCE TO FATHER

The following letter has been received by Mr. W. G. Barron, of this city, from his son, Sgt. Ayery Barron, Company M, 35th Transportation Corps, A. E. F.

"If the papers in the States have used the same publicity as the newspapers of the A. E. F., the 'Stars and Stripes,' you know from them that this is 'Dad's Letter Day.' Hence this letter to you, after such a long lapse of time without any letter from me. According to the Stars and Stripes we may write many things which we could not write before the armistice was signed. Previously it has been very difficult for me to write letters, but perhaps now it will be easier. 'Doubtless you have wondered what we are doing over there? Well, we have done quite a little, not the least of which is the humbling, or at least partial humbling, of the kaiser's bunch. But my particular part has been played in a region quite remote from actual hostilities. In fact, I feel almost as if I had not been in a war. Some of the things which our organization has done may interest you as an engineer. To begin with we had absolutely nothing, and we were set down over here to build rail road cars and lots of them, and in a hurry. We had not even the tracks to build them on. Neither did we have a place to house ourselves.

"Since we have come here we have constructed a railroad yard which has nearly thirty tracks and gives us a place which covers about 20 acres for the erection of cars. We have constructed buildings sufficient in number and size to house ourselves and all our shop equipments, etc. Some of the buildings are ten large barracks buildings, an engine or power-house, containing 16 75-horsepower engines and light electric generators and light air compressors, a machine shop, a blacksmith shop, and a locomotive repair shop. Three car-building sheds, each about 1200 feet long and covering two tracks. A tank tower carrying a wooden tank 24 feet in diameter by 16 feet high. Installation of water mains for fire protection. The erection of 40 American-made locomotives and the repair of many French locomotives. And last, but by no means least of the things we have done is the building of 12,000 freight cars since the middle of March. Besides all of the above things we have done many others which were of minor importance and yet indispensable to the conducting of the affairs of our regiment. In a space as brief as this letter must be, it would be impossible for me to give you an accurate idea of what our work has been, but from the above you can perhaps draw the conclusion that we have done a pretty well taken up with work. But although we have all worked hard and loyally, we all feel as if we had been cheated out of the opportunity of taking a real 'swat' at the Germans. For not a man of us has seen a battle nor a shot fired at the enemy, except on our way across the 'tubs' attacked us and had to be shot by our 'jackies.' Even here we were mere onlookers. Now however, that the war is over, if Uncle Sam will only hurry and get us back home, we will try to forget what we have and have not done.

"Aside from duties, many of us have found some time for pleasures. Personally, my spare time has been spent mostly in an effort to learn French. And during my efforts I have formed some splendid acquaintances among the French people. Recently, very recently, a Masonic club has been formed for the pleasure of all Masons in both the army and navy who happen to be in this base port. We have a very nice club room equipped with tables, chairs, writing material, magazines, games, a billiard table, a piano and a lunch or refreshment room. We meet as a club organization each Saturday night and the rooms are open to Masons at all times. Pretty nice, isn't it. Men who started in over here with nothing but some barracks, bars and beef and coffee.

"One day or two ago I received a Weekly Sentinel, which opened my eyes to the way our town and county have been backing the boys ever here. From it I learned of the death of Homer Dotson. We hope to leave here for the States before many moons, but you will doubtless receive this letter long before we start, so, if you see any of my friends who are inquisitive about me, you may tell them that I'm alive and still wig-gling. With the request that you wish for me a speedy departure from the shores of France, I am going to close, 'AVERY.'

SHIPPING SITUATION IMPROVING IN TEXAS

DALLAS, Dec. 17.—According to the statement of prominent local cotton man, the shipping situation as it affects Texas is rapidly improving. Large cargoes of Texas cotton are being shipped to Holland, Spain, France and England, he says, and other neutral countries. The advent of Spain into the market for cotton as an important buyer is an important point in the trade. Perceqna, he said, some time ago placed an order for 65,000 bales.

Most of the cotton is going from the Gulf or South Atlantic ports.

"When It Pours, It Reigns"

Mrs. E. M. Duncan, mother of Baxter Duncan, recently reported missing in action since September 15, is in receipt of a telegram from Red Cross headquarters, Washington, D. QUICK ACTION.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quick in time of danger. In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Nacogdoches evidence of their worth.

Mrs. J. J. Coker, S. North St., Nacogdoches, says: "I felt miserable and had no energy or ambition. My back was weak and ached constantly and dizzy spells and headaches annoyed me. Doan's Kidney Pills eased the pain across my back and strengthened my kidneys. My health improved and I have had little kidney trouble since."

RED CROSS WORKERS, ATTENTION.

Let every woman do her best to spend at least some time at the garment room next week as the quota of one hundred and eighty refugee shirts now on hand must be finished ready for shipment. Since the Red Cross rooms will be closed during Christmas week and we have a large quota of bath robes and women's skirts to begin on January first, we save only next week in which to finish these shirts. If you cannot work at the room the chairman will give you work to take home with you. A knitting chairman will also be present every day and those who are working on sweaters are urged to turn in as many as possible.

LET IT SLIP AND WAS RUINED FOR LIFE.

What's the matter, young man, young woman? Why are you letting opportunity slip through your fingers? What are your plans for the coming year? Do you intend to qualify for a greater success? A small investment now, accompanied by earnest endeavor and a few months of solid study in our school will mean, qualification, a position, promotion, increased bank account and greater satisfaction all along the line of your future life. Why hesitate? Don't you know that Uncle Sam and the business office is calling for young men and women trained as stenographers, bookkeepers, operators and secretaries? How much longer will you stand aside and make excuses? You can succeed. Other people—those are succeeding—nature didn't give them a single extra bone, one more nerve muscle or brain cell than you possess. Their success was not birthright. It came out of efforts—out of action. They used their gifts—as you should. They gained a training that developed and broadened and increased their talents—as you should. They took aim at success and fired away until they hit it.

Look around you! Wherever your eye turns, you see some man or woman who had no better start than you—with no better general education or "school learning" than you, but who was wise enough to become especially trained in some one special line and who today is going ahead fast and leaving in the rear those who thought special business training unnecessary. You should not think of success as a present, which Santa Claus will bring and drop into your stockings while you sleep. You have made excuses and halted long enough. Your duty to yourself is to come to a decision NOW. Your best interests dictate a decision favoring an enrollment NOW.

The object of this appeal is to set you to thinking of your future. If we have done this, we shall feel that you owe it to yourself to investigate the methods of our school. Write us something of your ambitions; what you would like to accomplish; be perfectly frank with us.

When may we expect you? Write or wire America's largest business training school for free catalogue. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

NACOGDOCHES WINS COTTON PALACE PRIZES

County Agricultural Agent Jas. D. Greer informs The Sentinel that the Nacogdoches County Corn Club boys won the championship prize in all kinds of corn for the state, and that they won a second, fourth and fifth prize in classes, i.e. the corn was classified into grades, and these prizes were won on this certain grade.

Mr. Greer has received a letter of congratulations from the A. & M. College that Nacogdoches county made, together with the ribbons and cash prizes.

Mr. Greer has worked up a good interest in the corn club in this county, and this is certainly a fine showing, indicating what hard work and determination will do. The boys growing the corn that won the prizes are certainly to be congratulated for their good work.

GOVERNMENT NEEDS

$50,000,000 DAILY

This is no time, Nacogdoches War Savers, to relax your efforts for a single day. The war has been won, but that does not mark the end of the soldiers' and sailors' work, nor the fulfillment of your duty.

The vast expenses incident to the war have not ended. Peace has only stopped the need of sending bullets and powder across, and ammunition, you know, has been only a very small part of the great expense. The man who goes out on a hunting trip finds that the cost of ammunition is a small part of the expense. The hunting trip may cost him $500, while the actual cost of the ammunition he used on the expedition may have been only $1.50. Yet he had to pay the other expense of $498.50 to go on the trip.

That in a way explains the government's situation now. The cost of taking care of the soldiers and sailors and meeting other necessary expenses runs very high, and it will be a very great expense for months to come. Since the peace armistice was signed the government has been spending about $50,000,000 every twenty-four hours, or $1,500,000,000 a month. It must continue to meet this expense for months to come, because it will take a year to demobilize the army, and the soldiers and sailors must be cared for during that time.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND GRIPPE

Ask any physician or druggist and he will tell you that the best and only effective remedy for a cold, sore throat or grippe is what he calls "a brisk, calomel purge," which means a big dose of calomel at bed time. But as the old style calomel has some very unpleasant and dangerous qualities physicians and druggists are now recommending the improved nausealess calomel, called "Calotabs" which is purified and refined from the sickening and dangerous effects and whose medicinal virtues are vastly improved.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your diet, pleasures or work. Next morning your entire system is purified and refreshed.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price 35c. Your druggist guarantees Calotabs by refunding the price if you are not delighted.

RESOLUTIONS

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Milan Lodge No. 2 A. F. & A. M.

The sad reaper has again entered our sanctuary and mowed down and claimed for his own the full ripe grain; and Milan lodge is called upon to mourn one of its oldest, honored and loved members. Death shows no favors, but God in his platitude of power and mercy directed the steps of our deceased brother, August Lewis Tubbe, not only through the allotted time of man, but well beyond, even to the four score years, in the paths of duty, rectitude and brotherly kindness, and when his brethren of the mystic tie, with a great concourse of loving friends gathered around his bier, and tenderly laid his mortal remains back into the lap of Mother Earth, from whence they came Association teaches us his soul was basking in the sunlight of his God. Death is always sad; but death at the end of a long, and serviceable life is not all bitterness. It is appointed into man, once to die, and then the judgment. Without death there is no resurrection, and without resurrection, no eternal and hallowed abiding place. It is God's pleasure that we all pass through the valley of the shadow. The select, ripe grain planted in the ground must come to decay before it can come forth in abundance to ripen again and glorify the husbandman. It pleases God that we too, like the grain shall return to the earth and come forth by his power with a body which shall please Him, that His creatures, after the resurrection may be fit glorification of His Majesty; and when He called Brother Tubbe home, He gave passport to one schooled in years of experience and culture, all the more preparing him for that glory where unto God created man.

Therefore be it resolved:

First

In the death of Brother Lewis Tubbe, Milan Lodge has lost a time honored and loved member, and worthy brother; but his brethren do not mourn, as those who have no hope for we look forward to that day when things become eternal, and we know we are known, and when God shall wipe away all tears.

Resolved Second

His loved family for generations has lost a benefactor but Heaven is enriched. To his more than half a century consort we extend our fraternal and heartfelt sympathy. We would not say to her, "Mourn not," but we would rather say with our mourning rejoice that God gave you such a partner, and again rejoice in a hope of the glory to follow. To his children, grand-children and great-grand-children, we would say, emulate the character of your noble sire, and when it pleases God to bring your days on earth to a close, may you be inspired by a vision of a life spent for humanity and humanity's God, and for that crown of righteousness laid up for every diligent servant.

Resolved Third

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge a copy furnished to his widow, and a copy be furnished to the press for publication.

Fraternally Submitted, B. C. CASTELBERRY, JOHN SCHMIDT, E. MIDDLEBROOK, Committee.

SHIPPING BOARD RECOMMENDS SOME MODIFICATIONS IN MERCHANT MARINE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Completion of the great merchant marine construction program as it now stands modified to meet the coming of peace and still further extension of shipbuilding is recommended by the United States Shipping Board in its second annual report to congress, made public today. The question of permanent merchant marine program is left for further determination, the board indicating that it will have suggestions regarding both development and operation at the conclusion of investigations now in progress.

Describing the tremendous fleet now operated by the government, the report shows how enemy tonnage was secured not only by taking over vessels interned in United States harbors, but by purchasing and chartering from other nations which likewise had seized German and Austrian ships. Cuba, China, Siam, Brazil, Uruguay and Peru all aided the United States and the allies in this regard. The cost of repairing the German and Austrian vessels amounted to approximately $11,194,862.70.

With regard to the requisitioning of American tonnage, the report says:

"Perhaps no phase of the shipping board's work has been more difficult to adjust fairly and satisfactorily than that involved in the requisitioning of ships for use. Nevertheless, most owners have cooperated with excellent spirit."

Contracts and commitments of the Emergency Fleet Corporation for the construction of ships made during the year, provided for 1,296 steel cargo ships, of 8,877,605 dreadnaught tons; 80 steel tankers, of 737,000 deadweight tons; 104 ocean-going steel hospital ships of 20,000 deadweight tons; four steel refrigerator ships of 37,500 deadweight tons; and eight steel harbor tugs; and 16 steel barges, of 54,800 deadweight tons.

The wood and composite ship contracts called for 181 complete wood ships of 707,500 deadweight tons; 519 hulls, of 1,841,000 deadweight tons; 140 barges of 359,500 deadweight tons; 162 wood tugs; and 32 composite ships, of 116,000 deadweight tons.

From the time of its organization up to August 31, 1918, says the report, the corporation had negotiated 495 contracts, aggregating 2,298 vessels, with a total of 14,119,130 deadweight tons, involving an estimated cost of $2,319,216,204.

Dealing with the steel ship program, the report states that efforts of the steel ship construction division have been devoted to accelerating the construction of ships, obtaining ships suitable for war purposes, improving the quality of new constructions, and obtaining ships at reasonable prices. During the year ending August 31, 566 keels were laid, 358 ships launched, and 287 ships of 1,800,000 deadweight tons completed.

The report declares that a materially better accomplishment is confidently expected during the coming year and that gratifying progress along technical lines was made, particularly in the simplification and improvement of ships, and standardization of the many fittings required.

IN REGARD TO THE USE OF FIREWORKS

The following circular to insurance agents from one of the prominent insurance companies speaks for itself, and should be heeded:

"Owing to our desire to conserve all resource of the country and protect same from fire we are strenuously opposed to the use, storage or sale of fireworks during the Christmas season. We ask your cooperation with your local authorities to pass such laws as will prohibit the sale or use of fireworks within the city limits.

"Please refuse to grant permits for such use, storage and sale of fireworks on policies issued by this company covering stocks or on buildings containing same.

"No extra premium in our opinion is adequate for the additional hazard assumed."

DISCUSSES THE GERMAN DAMAGES

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 13.—One London banker estimates that Germany will have to pay to the allies for repatriation and restitution about $7,500,000,000. Calculated on a five percent basis, with a 1 per cent sinking fund, this would mean an annual charge on the German revenue of $450,000,000. He says there can be no question of Germany's ability to meet this demand.

It is impossible, he says, discussing the subject in a newspaper article, to arrive at any approximate figure as to damages and robberies in the invaded territory. "For Belgium," the article continues, "I would put the amount of indemnity at $1,400,000,000 of which sum levies on Belgian towns account for something like $500,000,000. I know of another estimate for Belgium which is as high as $2, whatever it might be, to meet the cost of conducting the empire and paying the interest on her loans, which amounted early in the present year to $27,000,000,000, a sum which has, of course, been substantially increased since."

In order to meet the Allies' bill of damages, the writer says, "it might be that Germany would have to suspend payment of interest on her own war loans—Don't say she would repudiate this obligation."

RED CROSS NEWS.

Fellow Americans: The object of the American Red Cross Christmas Roll Call which is now in progress, is the enrollment of every American citizen. National headquarters assures me there will be no further calls for contributions to the Red Cross during next year.

There appears to be some misunderstanding about enrolling the children. Many men have renewed their membership but failed to enroll the other members of their families. May I not appeal to all men and women to enroll their families 100 per cent and ask that every store, office, and home in Nacogdoches display 100 per cent service flags by Wednesday, December 18th.

The other four counties comprising the Fifth District, namely: Angelina, Shelby, and San Augustine, have assured our field representative that they will go over the top. Surely our citizenship will not permit adjacent counties to enroll a greater percentage of members than we do. Not that we want to make as good or better showing than other counties, but because we have one of the best Chapter Red Cross organizations in the state and our failure to enroll approximately 100 per cent of our population would be a great disappointment to those of us who realize and appreciate the highly important and useful services performed by our local chapter and its auxiliaries in this county.

We are assured our county chapters will be called upon to perform greater tasks in the future than in the past, hence we cannot afford to lose interest in the work at this, the most critical period of its usefulness.

I appeal to every one who reads this letter to personally interest themselves in procuring a 100 per cent service flag for their home.

F. R. PENMAN, County Roll Call Chairman. Mr. Penman is in receipt of a telegram from Chairman J. L. Johnson of the Southwestern Division, in which he appeals to the people to make the same good showing that they have in the past. The telegram follows: St. Louis Mo., Dec. 11, 1918.

F. R. Penman, Nacogdoches, Tex. Christmas Roll Call Chairman Chapter American Red Cross:

A year ago the Southwestern Division led the country in the Christmas Membership Campaign. Over five states, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas enrolled a membership which cheered our boys across the seas and gave notice to the world that we were in the war for victory. The record you set then makes your task the harder now. The eyes of the country are turned toward the Southwest in expectation that the Roll Call will reveal, again the devotion of our people to the highest ideals of humanity. Our task is harder not only because of the handicap under which our campaign must be conducted. The influenza epidemic is sweeping our territory after it has abated elsewhere. We must carry on without the inspiration of public meetings or the enthusiasm which results from great gatherings, but we cannot afford to fail or run second in a race which we are determined to win. Let the handicap under which we are laboring cause us to perfect and tighten our organization. Tell your people to volunteer, not to wait until they are solicited. Let the infection of the Red Cross spirit overcome the infection of the influenza germ.

Let us have an epidemic of service flags in the windows and a rush of Red Cross buttons in the lapels of all patriotic citizens of the Southwest. J. L. JOHNSON.

PRESIDENT WILSON ARRIVES IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press) LEAVES BREST FOR PARIS AT FOUR O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON.

BREST, Dec. 13.—The steamer George Washington, with President Wilson, entered the Brest harbor shortly after noon today. The day is dark and gloomy, but the rain which prevailed yesterday abated during the night. The harbor is a myriad of ships.

The day's first ray of sunshine fell across the George Washington as she anchored. The Nile Hugh reproduction of the statute of liberty on the horse was brilliantly illuminated as the sun broke through the clouds.

One hour after the George Washington anchored President Wilson stepped ashore, the first time that an American president has trod European soil. The president left Brest for Paris at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon.

NACOGDOCHES VERSE FAVORABLE MENTION IN JINGLE CONTEST.

The Harris County Equal Suffrage Contest has recently conducted a "jingle contest" to stimulate the interest in women paying their poll tax, many verses or jingles being contributed and a prize being awarded.

Dr. W. R. Sivley of this city contributed a jingle, which, while it did not win the prize, was one of two receiving favorable mention. It follows: You may feed the men on taffy, Dope them up till they are daffy —Well enough. But the way to get their goat Is to beat them with your vote —That's the stuff!

Mr. Sivley received a letter thanking him for his interest in the contest and also suggesting that a like contest in this city would be timely. The Sentinel will gladly give the space if the Equal Suffrage Association of this county desires to put on the contest. The prize offered in the above contest was a War Savings Stamp.

RECEIVES INTERESTING LETTER FROM SON

Clay Perkins, ambulance driver, 90th division, in a letter to his mother, dated November 19, writes, in part, as follows: At present the company is located about two miles forward of where it was located when hostilities ceased. We moved from Mouzey to Stenay down the Meuse River, and north of Verdun. We are really on the outskirts of Stenay. We are occupying the barracks where the French have a military school. The grounds and barracks were used by the Germans as a replacement camp.

You remember the armistice went into effect at eleven o'clock on the 11th. About ten o'clock that morning I left one of the advanced aid stations with my last load of wounded. One of the four was an old French civilian, about seventy, I imagine. The old man made it to the field hospital, but I doubt if he made it any further. The other three were Americans, who, while severely wounded, looked as tho they would pull through. I have made several trips to the "triage," (field hospital) since then, but what was my last load of wounded, I'm glad to say. I also heard my last shell that morning. Just as I stepped out from the war department yesterday that his brother, Steve which was in an old ruined building. I heard one whizzing in our direction. I didn't pay much attention, for it was a familiar sound, and I knew it was going away over. In a few seconds it exploded a few hundred yards away with that familiar "crump," which did no damage. It was shrapnel.

I have driven through a good deal of shell fire, and once had my ambulance under machine-gun fire, but didn't get a scratch the nearly three months that we were in range of German guns. My car, however, has several shrapnel holes through its sides. Shells have torn up roads and torn down buildings all around me, but I escaped. I have had to wear my gas mask some, but not a great deal. Shrapnel and high explosives were much worse. It has been officially announced to us that we are to go to Germany to take part in the occupation of certain German towns. It is also the general opinion that our going to Germany will not delay our getting home—I hope not—but this is not official. The other might not be official, but it was announced as such. We are getting our cars in pretty good condition again. The Germans, in evacuating, left a repair shop intact, and we have made good use of it. My car is still giving good service—nearly all of our cars are—and needed very little repairing this time. It has been run about 5000 miles. Tomorrow is supposed to be our day for delousing—which simply means a bath and new clothing. It doesn't get one entirely rid of the "cooties," but a hot bath and clean clothing feel mighty good after going a month without either. It is nearly time for "chow" (supper) now, so I'd better close my letter and get into line. I am well.

BOHEMIA IS CUT OFF FROM GERMANIC AUSTRIA

GERMAN BOHEMIA UNABLE TO RESIST AS AUSTRIAN ARMY DON'T EXIST.

(By Associated Press). PRAGUE, Dec. 21.—With the occupation of Eger and Reichenberg, the Czecho-Slovaks seem to have all of German Bohemia completely cut off from German-Austria.

German Bohemia is unable to resist since the Austrian army does not exist. Austria is the only country the army of which has been demobilized, if this term is applicable to the disordered scattering of the returning troops.

The Czecho-Slovaks on the other hand have kept their forces intact, and have even mobilized a new class of recruits.

GERMANS ACCEPT HINDENBURG PLAN

SAID GERMAN ARMY WILL BE STRONGER THAN EVER UNDER NEW PLAN.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The German government has accepted Field Marshal von Hindenburg's plan to form a people's guard, or national army, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily Mail.

It is said that the German army under this plan will be stronger than ever. All officers have been instructed to keep the details of the plan secret. Women will be employed for auxiliary service.

GERMANY CAN'T DELIVER THE SHIPPING DEMANDED

(By Associated Press). PARIS, Dec. 21.—Instead of two million and a half tons of shipping, demanded of Germany by the allies to carry out the provisions of that country, mentioned in the armistice, the German authorities will be able to collect only two million tons, according to German advices via Geneva.

TO AVOID AND RELIEVE INFLUENZA

By Dr. Franklin Duane. Many people have been frightened by what they have read or heard of influenza. The more you fear the disease, the surer you are to get it. Go right about your business and forget it. As the disease is spread principally by contact through sneezing, coughing or spitting, many health authorities have advised that everyone wear a gauze, which is daily washed and saturated with a one to five hundred solution of zinc sulphate in water, and then dried before wearing over the nose and mouth. You should avoid crowds, common drinking cups and public towels. Keep your strength up by taking lots of exercise in the open air and plenty of nourishing food.

If you have any of such symptoms as chilliness, nasal obstructions, flushed face, headache, feverishness, restlessness, weakness, or irritating cough, give up work at once and go to bed. This will save your strength to help overcome the disease. Put your feet in hot water for fifteen minutes. Thoroughly loosen the bowels with some such mild and non-irritant Pellets. Drink principally of hot lemonade and then cover up with plenty of clothes in bed so as to get a good sweat. When sweating is free and the fever reduced take a dose of two Anuric Tablets every four hours, followed by drinking at least a glass or two of hot water. Anuric Tablets help quickly to relieve the soreness of the muscles and bones from which most patients complain and help the kidneys flush out the poisons.

To relieve nasal obstructions and excessive discharge from the nose, probably nothing is better than such a mild, soothing, antiseptic wash as Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will give great relief. Employed as a gargle, in same strength as made up for use in the nose, and as hot as can be borne, it quickly arrests soreness and relieves the throat.

When the weakness of the patient's resistance is so great, so that there is danger of bronchitis and pneumonia developing, to combat this tendency and verify the patient's strength insist that he keep in bed at least two days. Probably nothing will at this stage hasten the recovery and strengthen the patient more than an iron tonic tablet called "Ironite," or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been used by thousands in the past two generations. SCARES MEXICAN BURGLAR PROSTRATE WITHOUT SHOT

(By Associated Press). BEAUMONT, Dec. 24, 1918.—The case of an unknown Mexican recently puzzled the police authorities here. Prostrate as though dead, with the exception of heart beating, the Mexican was taken to jail and put under the care of a physician.

The Mexican's condition was brought about by an attempt to burglarize a store. Hearing a noise, the proprietor went to the scene with a shot gun. He covered the Mexican with the gun and turned his head. When he looked around the Mexican was lying on the floor apparently dead, although not a single shot had been fired. Ice water and other restoratives failed to revive him.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON ALSO ARRIVES, BRINGING HOME TROOPS.

BOARDING HOUSE RULES HAVE BEEN RECEIVED.

In his holiday greetings to the county food administrators State Food Administrator Peden says that while the functions of the food administration are gradually being abandoned, stronger emphasis must be put on the work of the price reporters. "It has been possible now that peace is assured to cancel many requirements for reports and many of the details of regulation," says Mr. Peden, "but the profit margins and rules for the most part have been retained and will be enforced by the revocation of licenses and other appropriate penalties."

This part of the food control act will remain in effect until the food administration is dissolved by presidential proclamation. The inclination to exceed legal profit margins is liable to be manifest and price reporters are urged to do their most efficient work in the future.

Another ruling in which the public is interested in has been received. This is the regulations which have been imposed on hotels and boarding houses. Effective Dec. 23, all restaurants or public eating houses are removed. At the same time the food administration urges that the proprietors of public eating houses affect the strictest of conservation in serving the public. Reports for December must be filed with the county food administrator as usual, but after December no records need be kept.

W. S. DAVIS, County Food Administrator.

Rev. M. L. Fuller is in town today on route to his home in Athens, returning from Swift, where he attended the funeral of his brother, Elwood.

CLAIM RUSSIA FINANCED GERMAN REVOLUTION

SAYS GERMAN UNDERSECRETARY HAD LARGE SUMS UNDER HIS CONTROL.

(By Associated Press). BERLIN, Dec. 21.—The question as to whether the German revolution was financed from Russia is agitating political circles, the imputation being that the independent socialists received large sums from Russian sources. The newspapers say that Adolph Joffe declared that Oscar Copen, German Undersecretary of Justice had control of ten million rubles for the furtherance of the German revolution and that altogether 24 million marks had been placed at the disposal of the German revolutionists by Russia.

AMERICA'S CIVILIAN ARMY.

(By Associated Press). WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.—

Before the war began, the United States Government employed approximately 500,000 persons in the civil branch. After Uncle Sam cast his lot definitely with the Allies the great army of workers behind the fighting forces grew by the tens of thousands until it numbered almost a million men and women. The force of civil employees of the government in the District of Columbia increased from about 35,000 to approximately 95,000. The forces in navy yards increased from about 20,000 to more than 100,000 plants from 10,000 to about 50,000.

During the nineteen months of America's participation in the conflict, the United States Civil Service Commission, whose duty it was to recruit the civil service to meet war needs, examined almost a million persons, more than 400,000 of whom were appointed.

The Commission found it necessary to advertise extensively to mobilize the workers. Three thousand local and 8,000 postmasters at third-class constantly kept the announcements of the Commission before their respective communities. More than 5,000 posters and other printed were distributed and displayed; lantern slides were thrown upon the screen in 16,000 moving picture theatres; cards were displayed in 28,000 trolley cars; notices were printed in 16,000 newspapers and more than 200 periodicals; posters were displayed upon the bulletin boards of 3,000 libraries, 1,200 chambers of commerce and boards of trade, and in many other prominent places in every city in the country. Appeals for recruits were also printed on the backs of gas and electricity light bills, on letterheads of business houses, in theater programs and on weather bulletin. Thirty motion picture producing companies either posted special pictures, or attached trailers to films. Educational institutional instructions and numerous organizations assisted in the work. The only cost to the government for millions of dollars worth of advertising was for the printing of posters and circulars and for the making of lantern slides.

From now on the civilian personnel will be greatly reduced.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the Officers and Members of Nacogdoches Lodge 118, Independent Order of Odd Fellows:

Your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect of Lee Goldsberry, deceased, submit the following:

Whereas, on the 29th day of November, 1918, an allwise God saw fit in His wisdom to take from the walks of life brother Lee Goldsberry who was only 44 years of age.

Just one week from Brother Goldsberry's death his wife preceded him to a mansion prepared by the Great Creator for those who put their hope in Him, and his little son, Hollis, went with him to join wife and mother who was waiting for their coming in a home not made with hands.

Their departure not only left a vacant chair, but a vacant and silent home, the three being the entire family.

In the death of Brother Lee Goldsberry and family the community lost a family that was always ready and willing to assist those who needed assistance. The country lost a citizen whose aim was to build up the community for honesty and christianity.

Be it Resolved: That in the death of Brother Lee Goldsberry and family the church lost a family that can well be said of them that their lives should be emulated; that the community lost one of its best citizens, and alas the Order of Odd Fellows lost one of its most loyal and truest members, not a member for what he might get out of the order, but a member whose aim was to put into the order for the benefit of others. His motto was "Friendship, Love and Truth," and on the lapel of his coat he wore the "Three Links" emblematic of this motto.

Be it Resolved: That in the death of Brother Goldsberry and family, his entire connection has the sympathy of the community, the church and the Order of Odd Fellowship. We all lost, but our loss was Heaven's gain. Weep not, for in their lives was something that should stimulate us to nobler and higher aims.

Be it Further Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the Minutes of the Order, a copy be mailed to the parents of deceased, and a copy be sent to the county papers and to the Texas Odd Fellows for publication.

M. SMITH,
L. I. MULLER,

RESOLUTIONS ON THE DEATH OF H. T. MAST

Addressed to I. L. Sturdevant, Chief Nacogdoches Volunteer Fire Department, Nacogdoches, Texas.

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of H. T. Mast, beg leave to submit the following:

No resident or Nacogdoches ever had more friends or deserved more thoroughly the esteem, confidence and gratitude of our people than did Hollis Mast. Sympathetic, generous and public-spirited, he displayed in his various civic activities a boyant optimism that was contagious and inspiring. As a member and officer of the Nacogdoches Volunteer Fire Department, he gave unstintingly of his time and his counsel.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Nacogdoches Volunteer Fire Department, that in the death of Mr. Mast this body and the entire community has lost one of its most loyal, faithful and efficient members, and that the splendid record of his life will be treasured by every member of our department as a priceless heritage.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, a copy be spread upon the minutes of our organization, and that copies be furnished the local papers.

LEE GASTON,
ROBERT LINDSEY,
Committee.

GOVERNMENT WILL ASSIST IN FINDING NEW JOBS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The thousands of civilian war workers in the government service who will soon be dismissed because their services are no longer needed will be assisted in finding re-employment through plans now being arranged by the United States Civil Service Commission.

On the recommendation of the civil service commission the President issued on November 29 an Executive Order which provides that the names of persons in the competitive classified civil service with unrestricted status who were appointed either permanently or probationally prior to the date of the order, who have served less than three years, who are separated from the service because of a reduction of force, and who are recommended for further employment by the government because of demonstrated efficiency in the office from which they are separated will, upon request, be entered by the civil service commission upon appropriate eligible registers for reappointment, eligibility thereon to continue for one year from the date of separation. The re-employment registers thus established will be used so far as is practicable for filling positions in the government service.

It is expected, however, that there will be a surplus of eligibles on these re-employment registers, and in order that those who cannot be replaced in the government service may find positions in private employ, the civil service commission has asked the co-operation of the department of labor in the work of finding suitable employment in private establishments for dismissed war workers who can not be further employed by the government.

It is the view of the civil service commission that the machinery of the government should be used to the fullest extent in finding employment for the war workers for it is realized that a considerable number of them entered the government service at some personal sacrifice to help the war program.

RECEIVES MEMORANDUM OF NINETEETH DIVISION. (By Associated Press). AUSTIN, DEC. 24, 1918.—Memorandum of citations and commendations of the 90th division, American Expeditionary Forces, have been received by Governor Hobby from Major-General Henry T. Allen, commander.

The Nineteenth division is composed of Texas and Oklahoma men and was trained at Camp Travis. Among the messages of praise which were couched in warmest of terms, the documents bearing the signature of Generals Pershing and Foch. A general order from headquarters of the 90th division says:

"Prior to the beginning of operations on this, the Meuse-Argonne sector, the commanding general published to the division on Oct. 15, 1918 his estimate of it, reserving final decision as to where it should be classified until later. He no longer has any doubt of reluctance in claiming for the 90th division fighting qualities second to none. Every regiment has gained its objective in every operation in which it has participated, and the division has exceeded its allotment in the execution of every task assigned it."

FINDING ONE'S SOUL.

There is much talk of landing a nation's soul. We are told that France has found her soul; so have Italy and England. It is in the war these nations are finding their souls. They are finding them in sorrow and sacrifice. The soul can't always be found where suffering is, if search is made for it. But there are other places where the soul is needed just as much as in war. One place is education. The youth who has not found his soul is not educated; never can be. It makes no difference how much mathematics language, science or philosophy he may have acquired. If his soul stays back in the caves of conceit, and his courage, courtesy, integrity, self-denial fail to get to the front to fight his battles of life, it would be well if he never was educated. He must find his soul, even if he loses the accusative of specification or the pons asinorum. He must get hold of his spirit, his intuition, his impulse, his purpose, his getup, even if he loses the whole material world. The highest purpose of education is to find one's soul, and yet the whole educational world does not seem to know it. What would France be without its soul? What would any man be without his?—Ohio State Journal.

A gentleman remarked to us the other day that he wished we had the power of speech to induce the people of Nacogdoches to build better sidewalks. It seems that it would take an awful voice to get much response in this direction. This newspaper is endeavoring to keep the matter before the public in the hope that someone will see the merit of the argument and get busy. Good walks are greatly needed in weather like this.

The Sentinel would appreciate it if you would report your holiday visitors. We might perhaps overlook them if you did not tell us about them, and of course you want them reported.

The peace terms submitted to Germany are very good as far as they went, but we must say they do not go far enough. The terms should have carried the submission that the Germans must roll up all the barbed wire and put up all the stove-pipes they knocked down. This would have been tantamount to assisting them to have a fence around their work with barbed wire and stove-pipes a year without needing himself beyond the pale of redemption.—Honey Grove Signal.

IN MEMORY OF H. T. MAST

To the Local Council Boy Scouts. We are often called upon to stand in wonder at what takes place in this life of uncertainties, but at the time we step with hushed breath, because we can hardly realize that Hollis Mast is dead. With our short vision it is impossible for us to see why such a useful man should be snatched away from the walks of men, when we needed him so much, but we know that God deeth all things well, and we bow submissively to His will.

In the homing of our esteemed president and co-worker, the Boy Scouts have lost an earnest, faithful helper, whose ever effort was to elevate, uplift, and help the boys, who are to be the coming men of our country. While we deeply deplore his untimely departure there is a compensation in his exemplary life which he lived before us, that we urge the boys to emulate and follow in their character-building. Although our hearts are sad because his absence we should know that there are others closer to him by ties that are sacred who should have a deeper sorrow than is possible for any of us, and we take this opportunity to extend to them our real heartfelt sympathy, commending them to the tender care of Him who will help them bear their great burden in such a time as this.

We would impress not only upon the Boy Scouts but upon all others this great fact in his life—he was a follower of Jesus, without whom it is impossible to live a life that will count for most, and we are persuaded that the influence of the Spirit of Christ in his life was the impelling force out of which grew the many deeds of kindness and usefulness to the needy. Let us all live lives after this fashion and when we come into the presence of the King we shall hear the words—"Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Respectfully submitted,

MASARYK TAKES OATH AS CZECHO-SLOVAK PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press) PRAGUE, Dec. 23.—Prof. T. G. Masaryk, president of the Czechoslovak republic, took the oath of office as president today. The president's oath on assuming the office, was as follows:

"I promise as president of the Czechoslovak Republic, on my honor and conscience that I will care for the welfare of the republic and its people and respect its laws."

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

The old city of San Antonio has always been connected with the old sister city of Nacogdoches in different ways. One of these connections was the primitive and noted old San Antonio road that has recently been officially marked by setting stone monuments along the authenticated original line of this road from the Sabine river to the Rio Grande. This road entered Texas on the east, running from Natchitoches, La., via Nacogdoches and San Antonio. In the latter city it passed right through the center of the town and is known now as Nacogdoches street and terminates at the famous old Alamo chapel and mission. Austin street runs the line further on, and along this old street runs the building that is the oldest and most venerable. Moreover, the irregularity of the streets, and the other peculiarities of the two old towns suggest their similarities in age and origin. They appear out of style and out of date. Both were slow to quit the six-shooter, the saloon and the desperado exploits. But the long lane has turned.

San Antonio's recent military prominence in her army camps has not separated her from Nacogdoches, but has drawn so many soldiers and civilians from the latter that the connections are stronger. The pioneer patriots who figured in immortal deeds at San Antonio came largely from Nacogdoches. Travis, Bowie, Houston, Austin, Crockett, Burleson and others were instances. These facts and incidents are not generally recognized or remembered by the present-day residents of these cities, though related in school histories.

Moreover, very few present-day residents of Texas fully appreciate the conditions and customs that existed in Texas in pioneer days. It is not easy to realize the fact that there was a virgin forest of giant trees growing all over every foot of land in the town of Nacogdoches, with the possible exception of a few small garden spots. Think of the mammoth red oaks and many other oaks of various species, but not a live oak, and pines, firs and firs of great height, and not a saw mill nor a grist mill anywhere, and the pathless wilds of the hills and valleys.

But now San Antonio and Nacogdoches are not a day apart, whereas then it was a two-week journey, and a dangerous and difficult trail. Now the two cities are only a few miles apart, and the old trail has been changed into a road. The world war of today has increased the intercourse by reason of the astonishing number of soldiers through the immense training camps here, and the innumerable other people drawn here in many connections incidental thereto. But how little similarity between the days and those when Nacogdoches sent heroes to battle around San Antonio, in the struggle of freedom. These events have not been half told in history, nor in tradition. A sentiment that figured largely in the traditional events of Texas is expressed in the saying credited to Horace Greely in the words "Go west, young man, and throw up with the country." Ambition and adventure were in the saddle. San Antonio was the culmination of that spirit. But the Lone Star state was the scene—Nacogdoches was a leading factor.

NEGRO CHILD BURNED TO DEATH MELROSE WEDNESDAY

The six-year-old child of J. F. Kendrick, negro, of Melrose, burned to death last Wednesday.
 The child had a string tied around its waist, and was playing by a fire out in the yard when the string caught fire, causing it to be enveloped in flames immediately, and nothing could be done to save it.

In reporting that a small negro child was burned to death the other day, the Sentinel erroneously stated that it was the child of J. F. Kendrick. It should have read Robert Hunt, who lived on J. F. Kendrick's place. Kendrick is a white man.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT IN CITY SATURDAY NIGHT

A service car, belonging to W. G. Davis, and driven by Aubrey Means, containing himself and Homer Tutt, ran headlong into a wagon on North street Saturday night, the car turning over on the two boys, and bruising Aubrey up pretty badly, and Tutt slightly. The wagon contained a gentleman named Christopher, who lives near the Experiment Station, his wife and children. No one of them was seriously injured, Mrs. Christopher receiving slight bruises.
 The accident is explained by the fact that the lights on the car went out, due to an accident, before they saw the wagon, and it being very dark they did not see it before they hit it.

Messrs. Clyde Reynolds, Lafayette Fitts and Irwin Parker, of Logansport, are in the city visiting relatives.

TO THE CHILDREN

Christmas will soon be here—that beautiful time when the angels sang "Glory to God in the Highest" and the little Lord Jesus was born in Bethlehem. Our hearts will be high as we think of Him; of the wonderful star; or the wise men who came with gifts for the King. Because of it we will make ready to remember our friends with tokens of love. The superintendent wishes to remind the children who are in her primary department at the Baptist church that there are orphans in Buckner Home near Dallas who have been ill with influenza—there are seven hundred inmates in all—and who will be left out of the holiday happiness unless kind and thoughtful Sunday school pupils save a part of their nickels and dimes to send them nice food and warm clothing. She is asking the question: "Will the children here enjoy themselves if the orphans are forgotten and left out?" She thinks that the answer will be "No. We will surely spend a part of our money for them." The opportunity is hereby given for the older members to take a part in the offering. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, ye did it unto me."

As a proof of the growing interest of the child welfare for the fatherless children of France, is that most every day new pledges and new names are added to the local chairman's roll of god-parents. Little Elizabeth and Mamie Ethel Blount have assumed the responsibility of one little French orphan girl for one year. These youthful god-parents will have the privilege of corresponding with their protegee and doing for their special orphan the dear things that their hearts dictate. In time, if they wish, they will receive a photo of their new-made friend.

CALL TO DUTY IN RECONSTRUCTION ISSUED BY PEDEN

TEXANS, WHO SET THE PACE IN FOOD SAVING DURING WAR, ASKED TO BE EXAMPLARS TO NATION DURING ADJUSTMENT PERIOD.

To the People of Texas:

The war is over! We and our allies have won! And, Oh! such a glorious victory. A victory not only for our country and those who fought side by side with us, but for all Mankind, for all Humanity, and for All Time.
 What a meaning what a bearing this eventful ending of our world conflict will have upon the future welfare of our children and our children's children until the final judgment day.
 And what a privilege, what an honor it was to each of us to contribute our mite toward this splendid accomplishment! How justly proud we can well feel to realize that we not only led our duty when the call came.

The people of this great State responded cheerfully, promptly and with packed enthusiasm to every governmental war call. In many instances we set examples which helped and inspired other States onward and upward.
 But now a tremendous change comes in our program. We turn from the war work, from the war conscience, to the call for world relief; to the crying need of, not merely thousands, but millions of hungry, starving people of old men—women and children in no way responsible for the cruel war through which the world for four years has been passing, but innocent victims—crushed, bleeding, starving, dying for want of food.

We've been saying: "Food will win the war." Now we take up a new slogan: "Food will win the WORLD." Our war is not over. A task greater than ever now confronts us, and will continue to confront us for some years perhaps, but the most urgent period is THE PRESENT—this winter which is now upon us with its chill and snow and ice.

Last week Mr. Hoover said: "There are now in Northern Russia alone some forty millions of semi-starving people, ten millions of whom will in all probability perish and die this winter for want of food and clothing." A similar cry comes from poor bleeding Belgium, from Northern France, Poland, Roumania, Servia, Armenia, Persia and the Holy Land, where the terrible Turk in all his devilry and cruelty, has held sway so long. These persecuted people, these weeping women, these crying children, these bent and broken old men call out to us in their despair!

It's a fight against famine, and famine, you know, is the forerunner of anarchy. In many lands now it is a question of bread or bolshevism.
 To America the world looks for relief. We alone can save the situation until next harvest, and Texas—this mighty Empire—has her part to play.
 Mr. Hoover with a corps of able associates is now in Europe studying the situation in person and working out the details of an equitable plan soon to be announced to you.

But even now I can say that the new program will include and stress maximum production of food and feed crops and fats, coupled with continued rigid conservation and the careful avoidance of all wastefulness. While Europe remains hungry, to waste food and fats is sinful—yes, almost criminal.
 Shall we fall these hungry peoples? Never, never, never! I only wish I could be as sure of the fulfillment of all my desires and hopes as I am that the noble citizenship of Texas will nobly respond to this world relief appeal to fight famine and to save starving humanity, thus aiding in re-establishing stable governments among the tired and torn nations, big and little, of Europe, and thus laying the path for peace, permanent universal world-wide peace!

E. A. PEDEN, Federal Food Administrator for Texas.

PLEDGE BY AMERICAN WOMEN

During Conservation Week for World Relief.
 "We pledge to our country our best effort to prevent waste and the selfish use of our food reserves."
 "We pledge our loyal co-operation in carrying out the conservation measures suggested by the government."
 "And if economy sometimes grows irksome, or if this service works unwelcome change in our accustomed manner of living, we will think of those who have offered their lives for their country and those whose homes have been devastated."
 "We will be glad that we, too, can serve in satisfying their hunger, in renewing their courage, and in re-establishing their homes."

REJOICES OVER THE END OF THE TROUBLE

Miss McKinzie Tells How She Had Suffered Since She Was A Child.

"I am thirty-four pounds heavier than I was when I began taking Tanlac and I just can't express the joy I feel over my wonderful recovery," said Mrs. Emily McKinzie, 604 East Second street, Fort Worth, Texas.

"Ever since I was a child, I had been afflicted with catarrh," she continued. "About two years ago my stomach began to get out of order and everything I ate would sour and form gas that would burn and distressed me until I hardly got any sleep or rest day or night. My kidneys worried me constantly and my back hurt until I couldn't straighten up without it hurting me until I would cry out loud with pain. My feet and ankles were swollen and gave me a lot of trouble and I was in a mighty bad shape every way."

"My friends recommended Tanlac to me and I began to take it and was improved since the very start. My stomach is entirely relieved of all that gassy upset condition and I can eat anything I want without trouble. The kidney disorders have disappeared, the catarrh does not bother me like it did and I am feeling so strong that I just want to tell everybody about my recovery and how much Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and Swift Bros. & Smith.

PROPOSE EXTENSION OF ROAD BUILDING SYSTEM.

(By Associated Press)
 AUSTIN, Dec. 21.—The prospect of an elaborate extension of the road building program for Texas and the entire United States is enlarged as a result of the annual meeting of the American Association of Highway Officials which convened in Chicago last week, according to the statement of Curtis Hancock, who, with other members of the State Highway Commission, has just returned from the meeting.
 It is planned that the so-called Page Bill shall be submitted to congress during the short session, says Mr. Hancock. The bill provides for the enlargement of the definition of post-roads so as to include non-post roads which may become post roads after their completion, and that such roads may become available for federal aid. The bill also provides for the removal of the limitation of $100 per mile for federal aid on such roads and for an annual appropriation of $100,000,000 per year federal aid. If this bill should become law, Texas would receive approximately $6,000,000 a year federal aid.

FOR COLDS AND GRIPPE DOCTORS ADVISE

The Improved Calomel Tablet That is Entirely Purified of All Nauseating and Dangerous Qualities.

Physicians are warning the public against trifling with colds and grippe. They say that a black calomel purgative, preferably Calotabs, the new and improved calomel tablet, should be invariably taken at bed time and repeated the second or third night, if necessary. In the earliest stages, one Calotab is usually sufficient unless the case is particularly severe.

Physicians say that it is a waste of time and is dangerous to experiment with other laxatives, as calomel is absolutely necessary sooner or later. One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with diet, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished, and your whole system is purified and refreshed. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages. Price 35c. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists everywhere. Price refunded if you are not delighted.

FORMER KAISER WILL CELEBRATE

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 23.—William Hohenzollern has arranged for himself a Christmas celebration after traditional German style, so far as circumstances will permit, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Amsterdam today. Arrangements will include elaborate religious ceremonies on Christmas Eve. The ex-emperor desired the court chaplain to deliver the sermon, but the Berlin government refused to allow the chaplain to go to Holland. Many friends of Count von Bentinck, Hohenzollern's host, has been asked to attend the celebration, but refused. Herr Hohenzollern himself will deliver the sermon.

SCHOOL NEWS.

The ex-football players sent a very tantalizing challenge to the present team of the high school yesterday morning. It was so boastful in tone and so full of bragadoos that the high school team felt that they could not let it go unnoticed, and so they decided yesterday in chapel to accept their challenge and to play them at 3:30 p. m. Christmas day.

Now all lovers of this royal sport will be out to see these boastful ex-players humbled to the dust by our husky regular team. From time to time the public will be given bits of the boastfulness of these ex-players and what we may expect them to attempt in this game.

There are few indeed who escape having at least one cold during the winter months, and they are fortunate who have but one and get through with it quickly and without any serious consequences. There are many families who have always used it for years when troubled with a cough or, and with the very best results.

INSTALL AMBULANCE

The progressive firm of Cason, Monk & Co., hardware dealers and undertakers, have installed a combined ambulance and ambulance. Nacogdoches has long needed an ambulance, and in case of accidents, where injury results the ambulance may be carried to it without delay, which is very essential in such cases.

In this connection it might not be out of order to state that an ambulance has right-of-way over everything, even the fire wagons, and should you see it coming you had better "watch your step."

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleans little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

PARLEY POSTPONED

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 21.—The preliminary peace conference at Versailles has been postponed until the beginning of February at the earliest, says Marcell Hutin in the Echo de Paris. The postponement is due to changes in the plan, because of President Wilson's visit to England and the reconstruction of the British cabinet.

DALLAS, Dec. 21.—The semi-annual Texas Association of the American Society of Civil Engineers unanimously went on record as favoring the amalgamation of the four societies, civil, mechanical, electrical, and mining, at its closing meeting here December 14. Representatives of other engineering societies were invited to attend the next convention of the civil engineers, which will likely be held at San Antonio next spring to consider organization plans.

Cattle Buying for Swift & Company

Swift & Company buys more than 9000 head of cattle, on an average, every market day.

Each one of them is "sized up" by experts.

Both the packer's buyer and the commission salesman must judge what amount of meat each animal will yield, and how fine it will be, the grading of the hide, and the quantity and quality of the fat.

Both must know market conditions for live stock and meat throughout the country. The buyer must know where the different qualities, weights, and kinds of cattle can be best marketed as beef.

If the buyer pays more than the animal is worth, the packer loses money on it. If he offers less, another packer, or a shipper or feeder, gets it away from him.

If the seller accepts too little, the live-stock raiser gets less than he is entitled to. If he holds out for more than it is worth, he fails to make a sale.

A variation of a few cents in the price per hundred pounds is a matter of vital importance to the packer, because it means the difference between profit and loss.
