MARTIAL LAW BUENOS AIRES

MILITARY AUTHORITIES MAY CONTROL THE COUNTRY FOR THIRTY DAYS

(By Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 15.—Martial law may become effective throughout the country if the senate acts favorably on the bill to that effect that was passed by the chamber of deputies yesterday.

The bill provides that the military authorities be in control of the country for a period of thirty days. Five provinces have asked for troops.

Government officials admit that the reports from outside the city are disquieting, and say that the troops are necessary to control the situation.

Situation Improves in Peru. LIMA, Jan. 15.—The situation brought about here by the declaration of a general strike on Monday, has improved and the authorities today are in control of the city. It is reported that a dozen strike leaders have been arrested, and it is believed that the backbone of the strike has been broken.

AMERICA TO SEND FORCES TO POLAND

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Jan. 15.—America has informed the allied government, according to the Temps, that it is ready to send American expeditionary corps to Poland. This force, the newspaper states, will be able to at least double the support given by two Polish divisions, to be sent from the western front and will enable the Poles to victoriously resist the Bolsheviks.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD SHE DECLARES

"I Wouldn't Take Five Hundred Dollars for the Good Five Bottles of Tanlac Did Me" Says Mrs. Hunt

"I wouldn't take five hundred dollars for the good that five bottles of Tanlac have done me, and I just think it is worth its weight in gold," said Mrs. Nannie Hunt, 6019 New York Ave., Nashville, Tennessee.

"I was told repeatedly that my nervousness could not be cured and it made me so despondent that I hardly knew what to do. Even the noise of the street cars passing would upset me so that I would shake like a leaf, my heart fluttered and palpitated and at a time I have had fainting spells and fallen to the floor. My stomach would so turn up that I couldn't even eat an egg, and this had gone on for five years until I was on the verge of nervous prostration.

A friend of mine who knew that my case had been given up as hopeless made me a present of three bottles of Tanlac, and it proved to be a priceless gift. I have taken five bottles altogether and have gained twenty pounds in weight and haven't had a nervous spell since last Christmas. I can eat anything I want and am building up every day. I just can't say too much in praising Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by H. H. Hartgraves, Phone 9006-F-4, and Bro. & Smith.

A FORMER CITIZEN DIED THIS MORNING

MR. E. C. BRANCH DIED AT HIS HOME IN SAN ANTONIO THIS MORNING.

Mr. Elbert C. Branch died at his home in San Antonio this morning at 11.00 o'clock. He has been suffering with a throat trouble for some time, and has been seriously ill for the past two weeks. A message from Mr. K. P. Branch, his brother, of this city, advised that he will be temporarily buried tomorrow afternoon at 3.00 o'clock in San Antonio. When his adopted son, Mr. Orland Patton, arrives from France, where he is in Uncle Sam's service, he will be brought to this county and buried at Linn Platt, his old home.

Mr. Branch was about 62 years of age. He is survived by his wife and two brothers, Mr. K. P. Branch, of this city and Mr. Hood Branch. He was born in Linn Platt in this county and moved to this city in his early manhood, where he attended school, and was educated in the old Tehuacana University. While attending the university he became acquainted with the daughter of the university, and married her, about thirty-five years ago, who now survives him.

In his early manhood Mr. Branch practiced law in this city, afterwards venturing into the business world; where he soon became prominent. He formerly owned the various other business enterprises here. He was progressive, farseeing, and a citizen of the higher type, who was of untold value to the town. At the time of his death he was living in San Antonio, where he had gone for his health some years previous. He was interested in the Fort Worth Elevators Co., of Fort Worth, and other business enterprises over the state.

Although having no children of his own, Mr. Branch was interested in young men who had ambition, and helped many in their struggle to do something in life. It will be remembered that Mr. Orland Patton was raised by Mr. Branch.

He had a multitude of friends here who are deeply pained to hear of his death, and a pall of sadness has been cast over the entire city. We cannot say him a tribute worthy of his deeds. Those deeds themselves are monuments that will long endear him to the citizens of this place, where he has lived and worked, and where he is loved and admired by all who know him. We can only tender our sympathy to the bereaved ones of the great and good man who has passed away.

AGED TENNESSEE COLONIST DIES AT PALESTINE

PALESTINE, Tex., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Calvin Rucker, aged 95 years, died at her home in this city last night of old age. Mrs. Rucker was the last surviving member of the colony that came from Tennessee to Texas in 1839. The Indians were so bad at that time that they had to live for two years in the old Fort Houston, now the home of the Reagan family about two miles from here. Her husband helped to run the last Indian out of this county in 1842 and Grandma Rucker then moved to Palestine and settled here. She leaves 11 children, 18 grand children and eight great grand children and many other relatives.

Her mind was bright and clear up to the day of her death and she was very happy indeed at the result of the great war, as she had lived through the Mexican, the civil, the Spanish-American and the one just closed, and she saw this country victorious in all of them.

Mrs. Rucker was the grandmother of Mrs. W. G. Davis and Mrs. G. E. Worwood of this city.

Mr. A. J. Stoker, of Appleby, came in today, where he will go to the hospital for an operation for appendicitis.

The entire family of Mr. Henry Spradley are reported to be down with influenza and pneumonia.

D'Annunzio and His Famous Flying Circus

When the history of this war is written there will be pages illumined by the brilliant feats of Italy's intrepid flyers, her dashing naval heroes, her Arditi—the soldiers who scorn danger, and the wonderful feats of her engineers in scaling the mountain heights with their big guns, building roads above the side of precipices. But in all the brilliant feats of war none will shine out clearer than those of D'Annunzio and his intrepid squadron of flyers in their fast little "Savoys" covering as they did hitherto undreamed of distances without alighting or sustaining any loss.

It was D'Annunzio, who taking with him his flying circus of seven "Savoys" left the Italian front at six o'clock one morning, arriving over Vienna at 9:30, where they circled over Austria's capital city for nearly an hour dropping propaganda, then returning to the Italian lines from whence they started for lunch at noon, having made a sustained flight of nearly 800 miles net counting the distance covered in their maneuvers over the Austrian city. This was done without any mishap. Such a feat was unequalled during the war, and alone would well maintain the statement that "Italy rules the air." The "Sva," Italy's famed fighting airplane was designed by the engineers of the Royal Italian Aero Division, and derives its name from the two engineers and the Ansaldo plant which turned them out in large numbers. Its maximum speed is 147 miles per hour, its minimum speed forty, making it easily to handle in long or short flights. It has reached a height of 13,000 feet in 12 minutes, and fifty seconds. It is equipped for fighting with two machine guns synchronized with the propeller, and the operator can handle both guns at the same time, guiding his machine with his knees and feet. One flight made by D'Annunzio and his squadron covered over 1,000 miles sustained flight, and varying flights were made for bombing purposes, to the terror of the Austrians. Be it said however, that Italy only bombed fortifications whereas they had retaliated for the dastardly work of the Austrians flyers in wrecking and destroying hospitals and temples over the city of Vienna and other cities over which they circled at will. The inhabitants of Vienna were thrown into the greatest confusion and terror when the Italian flyers appeared in squadron formation over that city, but it was soon discovered that the Italians came not to destroy, but to give them definite and reliable information as to progress of the war and the number of Americans already on the shores of France and into battle line.

The following account of D'Annunzio the poet flyer, will no doubt prove of intense interest to many of our readers. D'Annunzio, the Poet-Flyer, is idol of Italians.

Captain Charles E. Merriam, well known to the citizenship of Chicago and to most people of the middle west has just returned from Italy where he visited all the important industries, and spent much time on the battlefield. While there he met many of the famous Italian patriots who have become heroes whose name will go down in history. Among them D'Annunzio, the poet-flyer, whose daring feats have made him known through the world. Mr. Merriam states that he prevailed upon D'Annunzio to make a visit to this country in the very near future. That he will receive a royal welcome from the American people goes without saying.

Through the great war there has been no shirking by any of Italy's citizens and of her men of letters and science who entered the lists as legion.

Her men of arts and letters, her men of science, her poets, her authors are all doing everything in their power to keep down the detested and detestable Hun. The women work in the factories and the fields. None there are who may be called slackers. It is an inspiring example of a loyal, gentle, happy people, bending every energy to the grim business of war, and taking their sufferings and heartaches without complaint. It's all for Liberty—and that means much to every Italian. Enough it means to call forth his greatest sacrifice.

Of the men of genius who have joined the colors in Italy, Gabriele D'Annunzio, the poet is the most widely known in this country. He is now a major in the aviation corps. As no one is excused in Italy if capable of bearing arms, the war has drawn heavily from business life, law, medicine and every other calling. 2 deputies are conspicuous among many for their rare talents in politics, and their value to the party and the country, but in a land of art and music, the number of singers, writers and painters is, perhaps, most striking.

Gabriele D'Annunzio is considered the greatest poet of the century. His hatred of Austrian tyranny exploded before the war on several occasions, and reached an impressive climax in his tragedy of "Na Nave," which was regarded as an apostrophe to the success of Italian arms upon the sea. "Ballads Beyond the Sea."

When the Turko-Italian war began, D'Annunzio was in France. He wrote the ballads, which he called "Le Canzoni d'oltremare?" (The ballads beyond the sea). One of them, "La Canzone dei Dardanelles," appealed to the hearts of the Italian people as the most terrible indictment against the cruelty of Francis Joseph and his autocratic government ever penned. As a result of the publication, but finally rejected, except for the lines which referred to the aged autocrat. Of course, since the war, it is published in full and widely circulated in Italy.

The world war finds an enthusiastic propagandist in D'Annunzio. Like Greek, Tirteo, the Italian poet rushed back to his country. With fervent speeches in Genoa, in Rome and other large cities, he inflamed the hearts of the people against the Central powers, and to take up the cause of liberty and democracy. When Italy declared war, D'Annunzio joined his old 19th regiment of "Cavalleggeri Guide." At his own request he was transferred to the aviation corps.

With the most famous Italian aces, D'Annunzio has performed signal acts of bravery as a soldier, a flyer and a citizen. He was made a captain and a major, and he wears three silver medals, the maximum one man can receive, among his many decorations. After his heroic fight over the Austrian lines, King Victor Emmanuel conferred on him the high honor of the cross of Sts. Maurizio e Lazzaro. The war did not prevent D'Annunzio from continuing his stamping tours, and he found time in his intervals of leave to make hundreds of speeches in the Italian cities.

Aim At Above-the-Average Yields In 1919

(From Progressive Farmer, Dec. 31.) For the average Southern farmer, we cannot think of a better resolution for the New Year than one calling for better than average yields. Average yields, whatever the crop, mean over a period of years, little more than a living wage. But as the individual farmer rises above the average, his net profits, nine times in ten, correspondingly rise. The man who raises about one-third of a bale per acre can mean poverty to the grower; the man who grows corn and oats at our average rate of 15 to 20 bushels per acre must see that there can be no profit in such yields; our peanut and tobacco farmers, our dairy and general livestock farmers must see that so long as they are content with a merely average yield per acre or per animal, just so long will they find the farming game unprofitable and unsatisfactory.

Good land, planted to good seeds and well fertilized and well tilled is the key to successful farming; for good land, plus good seed, fertilization and tillage, means high yields and good profits. In the new year, every farmer should aim at these; and in getting them, it should be remembered that rather than extravagant expenditures are justifiable. For instance, when a bale of cotton with the seed is worth $150, our average per acre yield of one-third of a bale is worth $50; but when we increase this to two-thirds of a bale, worth $100, we have a gross profit of $50 with which to pay for the cost of the increase. Of course the cost of this increased yield, if the matter be gone about judiciously, will practically never be as much as $50. More often than not, in fact, it will be $25 or less, leaving a net profit of $25 or more per acre. And the same rule will hold with other crops and livestock as well. The higher the yield per acre or per animal within certain limits, the greater the net return.

Let us, as our first New Year resolution, aim at putting our farms on a big-yielding, money-making basis. There is no surer way for making farm life more attractive and desirable and for keeping the boys and girls on the farms.

Great Variety of Fish on Market to Tempt Appetite on "Meatless Days."

"Fresh fish, shrimp, crabs and turtles." No form of meat is so cooling and healthful as fish, especially when the weather is extremely warm. Since we have formed the meat habit and can not change our ways too suddenly, why not eat more fish? The substitution of fish for meat at this season means a great saving of meat for a time when we may sorely need it.

All of the following will be found on the Texas market: Spanish mackerel, pompano, red snapper, sea pike, redfish, speckled trout, flounder, sheepshead, salt water cat, drum, salt water bream, croaker, halibut, buffalo, mullet, rock bass, striped sea pike, junebug, jackfish, angel fish, black bass and perch.

Spanish Mackerel on Market. Spanish mackerel is on the market now—those wide, fleshy looking, aristocratic fish with a promise of a real dinner for a hungry man. While these delicately flavored fish are usually very scarce, it seems that there will be enough to supply the demand at 30 cents a pound. Its sharply pointed, reverse-spear shaped tail suggests the gamey nature of which it is abundantly supplied. Those on the market come from Louisiana. While they live in the warm waters near the tropics, they come north in large schools, feeding upon other fish, especially menhaden. They spawn in May off the coast of North Carolina. While their eggs are extremely small, they are very numerous. A six-pound fish will produce 1,500,000 eggs.

But the pompano is a favorite of the real connoisseur of the fine art of eating fish by the Fletcher method—tasting them as long as possible. There can be no better fish. They eat mollusks, small clams, crabs and shrimp. As they feed in shallow water and often root in the mud for their food, the caudal fin can sometimes be seen above the surface of the water. The striped sea pike is a game fish of no small pretensions; he can make a run almost equal to a fresh water trout and can leap clear of the water. The hook must have a long extension, for if he gets hold of the line he makes a clean cut almost as good as the scissors. It is best to use proper caution in removing him from the hook, for his bite is vicious. They are very fast swimmers. The meat of the sea pike is solid and well flavored. Most of the supply on the market is from Point Isabel.

Red Snapper is Toothsome. The red snappers are an exceptionally good keeping fish. They are a deep water fish and are caught by hook and line far out at sea, and it takes several days for a gang of men to catch enough to pay for a trip to market. At present they sell for 25 cents a pound and the demand is second only to the speckled trout.

The salt water gaspergou is a favorite low-priced fish; it is probably the best fish for the money on the market. It is a favorite with the colored people. Possibly it has more meat for the money than the salt water bream and there is little difference in the flavor. The buffalo is too bony, but it is a fairly good flavored fish. They are more easily obtained than any other fish except the salt water cat, and the price is about the same—two pounds for a quarter. Mullet comes from Brownsville and is sometimes compared to mackerel.

A Beauty to Look Upon. But we have not mentioned the speckled trout in a manner fitting its well deserved dignity and prestige among the denizens of the deep; here is a beauty to look upon, a world of joy to angle for and a complete gastronomic delight to feast upon; happy is that man who finds the opportunity to tickle his palate with one of these gusto-exciting delicacies. The sheepshead is not pretty, but it has many of the qualities of a good fish. Spawning is a very common way of taking them, but the gill net is the fastest. When rightly reduced to steak most all of the bones are removed. They are very plentiful in all parts of the gulf. Halibut comes from California and the steak sells for 30 cents a pound. Jack salmon, from the gulf, is sliced and sold as steak. Flounders can be found among the offerings. The meat is of excellent quality and it keeps well. While these fish can occasionally be taken on a hook or in a seine, the usual way is to spear them. The flounder is a good example of inherited laziness. Nature surely intended that he should swim upright and be like other fish, but his habits of life changed him into a curiosity of degeneracy.

Junebug Steak Excellent. The largest fish on the market is the junebug; it weighs 95 pounds, but it makes excellent steak. This fish is of the large kind and there are no pygmies and dwarfs in the family. The smallest specimen that has ever been taken weighed 45 pounds. There are only a few examples of the smaller size taken. It is an immense fish with a large gaping mouth and ferocious eyes. It is sometimes called the black or more do loato, but is familiarly known as the black junebug. In scientific works it is known as garrauga nigra; it would seem that black snapper is the more appropriate name.

LOUISIANA SECONDS AND THIRDS MADE AVAILABLE TO HOMES

When the sugar ration to the people of Texas was reduced from 18,900,000 pounds in July to 13,230,000 pounds in August there was some perplexity in the minds of the Food Administration whether the August allotment would supply much sugar to care for preserving. After careful analysis it was found that approximately 2,000,000 pounds might be diverted to householders for preserving purposes, provided the allotment of two pounds per month to the person were adhered to.

At the meeting of the District Administrators for Texas on August 9 a telegram was read from the United States Administration advising that the National Administration had been informed by Administrator Parker for Louisiana that Louisiana had on hand 10,000,000 pounds of Louisiana seconds and thirds, which, as a state, was unable to absorb and which was deteriorating by reason of inversion. The question was put up to the District Administrators whether or not Texas might handle some of this surplus and the decision was that if the seconds and thirds could be secured on a percentage over and above the straight white sugar allotment called for in the certificates, the sections of Texas where fruit is raised might be able to absorb a considerable portion. The districts most interested were the Ninth, or Paris district; the Second, or Lufkin district, and the Twelfth, or Navasota district.

Wednesday, August 14, Administrator Peden completed an arrangement with the approval of the United States Food Administration which allows of a 25 per cent increase on sugar as provided in statement E to retail grocers, conditional that the increase covers Louisiana seconds and thirds. The same privilege is extended to users of sugar on statement A, or the non-essentials.

Notice was immediately sent to the officials of the North and South Texas wholesale grocers associations so that the trade might be informed; also the District and County Administrators. Haste is necessary in the distribution of the seconds and thirds coming to Texas, as the preserving season ends on September 15.

Housewives who have been accustomed to purchase beef from heavier weight carcasses should now be able to buy at much lower prices than the average which has ruled during the past year if they observe the Food Administration's request to demand meat from cattle which dress below 475 pounds per head.

The Food Administration states that the lightweight cattle are now moving rapidly to market, the producers in the Southwest endeavoring to dispose of them before they suffer from the effects of long continued drought. Heavy steers are being sold in Eastern meat centers for $26 to $27 per 100 pounds; good steers, somewhat lighter in weight, at $24 to $25; medium weight steers at $19 to $21, and lightweight steers at $14 to $15. While prices are not uniform throughout the country, it will be found that this ratio will rule in practically every market. Meat markets which formerly cut $26 beef can obviously give their patrons the benefit of such a wide difference in first cost. Selling light cuts bought at $14 to $15, there should be a material reduction below the selling price of meat bought at $26.

The Food Administration believes that its request for consumption of the light cattle will not only do much to relieve the producers who are affected by severe droughts, but should be followed by a general downward trend in retail purchasing prices, the demand turning to the cattle which are now in abundance and relieving the strain on the market for heavier beef, which is still badly needed for the military and for export to the civilian population of the allied countries. The market should naturally follow in its price reduction the difference in first cost, providing a reasonably low price to those who utilize the lightweight cattle. They are wholesome, of good quality, and before being marketed have passed government inspection.

MT. MORIAH LOCALS.

MT. MORIAH, Jan. 10.—Our school is now going on with a very good attendance.

Mr. Emory Pleasant of Pisgah is moving to the T. B. Mills place.

Mr. Ed. Wheeler has moved to the John Stoker place.

Mr. Jim Eason is now preparing to move to Nacogdoches. We very much regret to lose them from our midst.

Mr. Norman Eason, of Oklahoma, is visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eason.

Mr. Cates Muckleroy has returned to his camp in Arkansas, Camp Pike, after a ten days visit to homefolks.

Mr. Alfred Simpson was a visitor to the Mills home Sunday evening.

We were all made sad with the news of the death of our friend, Mr. Luther Nelson. Luther was a young man of sterling worth, and had a bright future. He was a man who won friends wherever he went, and will be missed by all who knew him. Sometimes it seems very sad to say, "Thou will be done" and not ours. Weep not dear father and mother. Let's meet him on the other side where there will be no more sad partings and no more good-bys. "Come unto Me all ye who are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

WILL REORGANIZE FIRE DEPARTMENT TONIGHT

At a meeting of the city council Tuesday night, January 7th, it was deemed advisable to order a reorganization of the fire company, and to fix the active membership to 20 men, who must be fit and willing to face danger. This movement is in no way intended to be unkindly of valuable service rendered by the company in past, as the council fully appreciates this, and all those who have grown old in the service are requested to retain honorable membership. The only end sought by this reorganization is to keep up the fire company to the top notch of efficiency, for the protection of lives and property of our citizens, and is not a matter of sentiment. And now in compliance with the order of the council, which meets my hearty approval, I hereby call the regular annual meeting of the fire company for tonight, the 13th, at 7:30 o'clock, at the city hall, at which time the reorganization and election of officers will take place.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A comprehensive plan for the private ownership of the railroads under government regulation was laid before the senate today by the associated railway executives, including practically all the leading roads.

A New Spirit of Good Will

Thanks to the opportunity given it by the War Department at home and abroad, a new spirit of good will has grown up around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Wherever soldiers meet, this car is spoken of in terms of admiration and even affection. Soldiers grow to love the tools and weapons and implements that serve them.

They admire especially the inanimate thing that shows grit and endurance in a tight place.

That is American—and that is the American soldier in particular—and that is the sort of glory being woven around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

There will always be associated with it the remembrance of the work it did in the world war in army service on both sides of the ocean.

Thousands of American soldiers are coming back now from the camps in America and the battle-front in France, telling how well that work was done.

They are telling it to their fathers and mothers, their worshipping small brothers, their sisters, their sweethearts and their friends.

It is the central figure in many a stirring story told about the family fire-place.

To many a white-haired American mother it means something more, as it goes by, than just a motor car.

She links it, somehow, with what her own boy did, with what America did, and with what America stands for.

Dodge Brothers are proud that theirs was the one car of its type and class chosen by the War Department.

They are prouder still that it has been taken into the hearts and homes of the American people.

The old folks, and the little folks who don't forget, are spreading a leaven of good will which will endure for years to come.

Dodge Brothers cherish this new spirit of good will which has come out of the world war as their most valued possession.

RECOMMENDS RELIEF IN MAT- TER OF TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Nacogdoches, Tex., Jan. 6, 1919.
Hon. W. E. Thomason, Representative, of Nacogdoches;
Hon. W. R. Cousins, State Senator,
of Hemphill:

The county board of trustees of Nacogdoches county, in regular session on this date passed the following resolution, viz:

It is the sense of the board of trustees of Nacogdoches county, Texas, that the fact that the teachers in the State of Texas are unable to cash their salary vouchers. This is a deplorable state of affairs, and one that should have the immediate attention of the legislature of Texas.

All the other laborers are paid when the service is rendered, and in many instances the law makes it mandatory that they be paid twice each month. Cannot the legislature give the schools and the teachers relief in this respect?

We respectfully request that this matter have the attention of the legislature, and we respectfully request that our representatives, Hon. W. E. Thomason, and Hon. W. R. Cousins present the matter for consideration.

Respectfully submitted,
R. F. Davis, Chairman; G. B. Layton, County Superintendent and ex-officio secretary of board; G. F. Fuller, W. B. McKnight.

TO AVOID AND RELIEVE IN- FLUENZA

By Dr. Franklin Duane.
Many people have been frightened by what they have read or heard of influenza. The more you fear of the disease, the surer you are to get it. Go right about your business and forget it. As the disease spreads principally by contact through sneezing, coughing or spitting, many health authorities have advised that everyone wear a gauze, which is daily washed and saturated with a one to five hundred solution of zinc sulphate in water, and then dried before wearing over the nose and mouth. You should avoid crowds, common drinking cups and public towels. Keep your strength up by taking lots of exercise in the open air and plenty of nourishing food.

If you have any of such symptoms as chilliness, nasal obstructions, flushed face, headache, feverishness, restlessness, weakness, or irritating cough, give up work at once and go to bed. This will save your strength to help overcome the disease. Put your feet in hot water for fifteen minutes. Thoroughly loosen the bowels using physic as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant with some such mild and non-irritating Pellets. Drink principally of hot lemonade and then cover up with plenty of clothes in bed so as to get a good sweat. When sweating is free and the fever reduced take a dose of two Anuric Tablets every four hours, followed by drinking at least a glass or two of hot water. Anuric Tablets help quickly to relieve the soreness of the muscles and bones from which most patients complain and help the kidneys flush out the poisons.

To relieve nasal obstructions and excessive discharge from the nose, probably nothing is better than such a mild, soothing, antiseptic wash as Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will give great relief. Employed as a gargle, in same strength as made up for use in the nose, and as hot as can be borne, it quickly arrests soreness and dryness in the throat.

Influenza weakens the patient's resistance to disease, so that there is danger of bronchitis and pneumonia developing. To combat this tendency and fortify the patient's strength insist that he keep in bed at least two days. Probably nothing will at this stage hasten the recovery and strengthen the patient more than an iron tonic tablet called "Irradic" or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which has been used by thousands in the past two generations. (adv)

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, JAN 15.—With the resumption today of the meetings preliminary to the peace conference, it is apparent that the movement to create a league of nations is being carried out by two forces having the same object, but differing as to the means of making it effective.

One of these represents the contention that the league must be backed up by its combined physical force, while the other represents the view that its findings can be enforced without the aid of the common world as a police force.

While appointment of the delegation to the peace congress has not yet been officially made known, the list published after Monday's session of the supreme council met has caused unfavorable impression among some of the missions, according to the French press.

The Serbians and Belgians are notably dissatisfied with the giving of three delegates to Brazil, while they were only permitted two each.
