DANGER RAILROAD STRIKE APPARENTLY DISSIPATED

Chicago, July 21.—The danger of an immediate strike of railway workers was apparently dissipated today when 2,000 representatives of the sixteen railroad crafts resumed the conference over wage increase with the Railway Labor Board. Less dissatisfaction and an apparent desire for serious deliberation and a peaceful solution was manifested by union men. Four courses of action are under consideration: Acceptance of the award under protest, acceptance with the proviso that preparation of the new wage demands start immediately, the tentative rejection and submission to a referendum, and the flat rejection of the exercise of its plenary powers by the grand council toward the strike.

Conservatives Predominant
Chicago, July 21.—All reports from the conference of the union officers indicate that the conservatives, who are disposed to accept the board's decision, will prevail. The Big Four brotherhood leaders are siding with the conservative factions, although their men did not fare as liberally as the others.

SCHOLASTIC APPORTIONMENT LARGEST ON RECORD

Austin, Texas, July 21.—The scholastic apportionment by the State Board of Education is $14.50, the highest on record and $6 above last year's apportionment. This increase was made possible by the increased property valuation and the gross production oil tax.

MAY RECALL TROOPS

Galveston, Texas, July 21.—Governor Hobby arrived here today for a conference on the martial law situation which may result in the removal of troops from Galveston. He declined to make any statement except he had come to Galveston for first-hand information. Attorney General Cureton also is here for the conference.

FREIGHT CARS FOR WEST

Washington, July 21.—The movement of 25,000 additional box cars from Eastern and Southeastern roads to Western lines to handle the grain crop was ordered today by the Commission of the Association of Railway Executives, the movement to begin July 25 and continue 30 days.

WANTS DEBS RELEASED

Denver, Colo., July 21.—Parley Christensen, the Farmer labor presidential candidate, telegraphed Harding, the republican nominee, and Cox, the democratic nominee, suggesting that all join in a demand upon President Wilson to immediately release Eugene V. Debs from prison.

INCREASE CAPITAL STOCK

Fort Worth, Texas, July 19.—The principal business of the Texas Farmers Union here August 10 will be the proposed increase of the capital stock of the union selling agency headquarters in Houston from $30,000 to $100,000, President Lyday announced today. The agency last year handled $100,000,000 worth of farm products.

UNITY PROCLAIMED

Washington, July 19.—Unity of opinion on the league of nations in particular and the democratic platform in general was acclaimed by President Wilson and Candidate Cox in a statement published today in treating of yesterday's conference at the White House. President Wilson's statement said he and the party nominee are "absolutely at one with regard to the great issue of the league of nations," and Mr. Cox said he was "ready to be the champion in every respect of the honor of the nation and the peace of the world."

SEVEN MINERS ENTOMBED

Pittsburg, Pa., July 19.—Seven miners are reported entombed at Renton, Pa., following an explosion. The United States Bureau of Mines First Aid Car was dispatched.

TURKEY SIGNS PEACE

Constantinople, July 21.—Turkey has decided to sign the peace treaty, it was officially announced today, the Turkish War Office advised the Greek army entering Adrianople.

CHILD KILLED

Little Hazel, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moffett who reside just beyond Brookshire's Lake, was killed yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock at the home of a neighbor, who lives about a mile from the Moffett home. The Moffett children went over to the home of Mr. Dowden's to spend the afternoon, and the child's sad death came while out playing with the other children on a pile of railroad ties. One of the ties was pushed off a stack in some way and fell on little Hazel, causing almost instant death.

The funeral services were held at the family residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon, interment taking place in Glendale cemetery.

The News in common with the citizens of Lufkin and vicinity extends sympathy to the parents of the little child.—Lufkin News, 19th.

LABOR BOARD AWARDS INCREASE TO WORKERS

Chicago July 20.—The United States Railway Labor Board today awarded nearly 2,000,000 railroad workers a wage increase totaling $600,000,000. The increase amounts approximately to 21 percent of the present rates. The award is retroactive to May 1, this year. The workers were awarded approximately 60 percent of the billion dollar increase sought. The presidents of the leading brotherhoods and representatives of the railroad managers were present when the award was announced. "The board assumes, as a basis of this decision, a continuance in full force and effect the rules and working conditions agreements in force under the authority of the United States Railroad Administration," said the award. The intent of the board is that the increase be added to the present wages unless otherwise stated.

Still Danger of Strike

Chicago, July 20.—Whether the award will prevent the threatened railroad strike is yet to be seen. The union leaders, left immediately to present the award to the one thousand general chairmen gathered to pass on it and refused to make comment on it before the meeting. The terms of the recessions were known to them yesterday, when they believed the men would stay in line till a referendum vote could be taken, which will require about a month.

Referendum be Invoked.

Chicago, July 20.—The new railroad union which called a series of strikes after breaking away from the recognized unions will submit the board's decision to a referendum vote, John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's Union, said today. The board failed to mention the unrecognized union's demand for the restoration of the seniority right lost during the strike. It did not mention the insurgent unions, although eighteen unions were specifically named. An 18 percent increase in freight rates will be necessary to meet the 21 percent wage award granted railroad employees, E. T. Whittier, representative of the roads, announced in a hearing before the board. He said, after a conference with the Western Managers Association, that the railroads would accept the award and apply it immediately.

A DANGEROUS PLACE

There is a dangerous place on the Old King's Highway in the opinion of the writer, to which attention should be called to avoid all possible mischief. The place is located near the Little Loco Creek, or the first Loco Creek one meets going toward Alto, and is nothing more than an unbridged Loco itself. The road builders in straightening out the road have built up an attractive road bed, presenting to the stranger's eye all the appearances of a part of the regular traveled road. This "prong" of uncompleted highway leads right in the banks of the Loco creek over which, at this place, there is no bridge. In the opinion of the writer this is exceedingly dangerous. Parties not acquainted with the road, seeing this new "prong", might innocently turn down this new piece of roadway, which is incidentally down a hill, get up considerable speed, and before the calamity could possibly be averted, go smashing right into the opposite banks of the creek, running all the risks imaginable of killing some one in the car, besides wrecking the machine beyond repair.

This is a dangerous place, and the new "prong" should be marked dangerous in order to prevent possible disaster. An ounce of prevention is worth of pound of cure.

ELECTION RETURNS

Returns from the governor's and county and district candidates' race will be displayed on a bulletin board at Swift Bros. & Smith's drug store Saturday night, and all the people from the city and the country districts are invited to take advantage of the opportunity to hear the earliest reliable news from the election. A fund is being made up to pay for this service so that the people may quickly know the result of the contests in the state and county. Come out and join the crowd.

SUPPOSED OIL MAN CHARGED WITH STEALING CAR

Tuesday afternoon Sheriff Woodlan received telephone message from Jasper from the authorities informing him that a man by the name of Tew, charged with stealing a Ford car, was in the city of Nacogdoches, and that the man should be under arrest until the Jasper authorities could come here and take charge of him. Mr. Woodlan began a search for the man and soon found him here in one of the local hotels. He is now in the county jail awaiting the people who have him accused.

Mr. Tew, while being uncommunicative, declares that he bought the car, that it is his own property. He is a married man, possesses the finest appearance, and is apparently a gentleman in every respect. He disdains having anything to say, and seems to think that great indignity has been heaped upon his head. He claims to be an oil man.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED

Oscar L. Collins, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Collins, who reside near Nacogdoches, is reported to have been dangerously, probably fatally injured Wednesday morning at a handle factory near Attoyac, where he was employed. It seems he was struck a violent blow in the abdomen by a piece of flying timber and hurts inflicted which may cause his death.

His father was notified and went to the scene of the disaster Wednesday afternoon, and it is hoped he will find the report of the extent of the injury to his son has been magnified.

LEST WE FORGET

It is too bad that Nacogdoches has no baseball team. Anything that old town could get together would just simply be candy for the Lufkin ball tossers.—Lufkin News.

Sure! And the Lufkin Thanksgiving candy tasted mighty good to the Nacogdoches football players, who defeated the Lufkin aggregation by a score of 37 to 6. And it has been some what of a puzzle as to how they managed to get the 6. But send on your baseball team.

TEXAS FARMERS CONGRESS

Among notable out-of-state speakers will be Dr. G. F. Warren of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. Dr. W. B. Bizzel, President of the Texas A. & M. College, College Station, Texas, will also address the congress, and among other speakers will be Will B. Munson of Denison, President of the congress, Judge L. Gough, extensive and practical farmer; J. T. Orr of Dallas county, farmer and president of State Council of Agriculture, and O. H. Cross, extensive farmer of McLennan county.

All the meetings are free to the public. Railroad rates of one and one half fare have been granted. However, be sure to get a receipt from your local agent, in order to get your return ticket at half fare as soon as many as 250 receipts are turned in at College Station. Those attending the Farmers Short Course the week ending August 7, and staying over for the congress, will get the benefit of the half fare return ticket upon presentation of local agent's receipt.

Rooms will be free at the college, only a small charge being made for incidental expenses. All dormitories have been screened, insuring every room being comfortable. Special attention will be given to ladies attending the congress, and arrangements have been made to care for automobile parties. First-class meals will be served at the mess hall at reasonable rates.

If you are farming or are at all interested in agriculture, it will pay you to attend these meetings.

Pat M. Neff would appreciate your influence and vote. 22-3dwl

GREAT STREETS IN LUFKIN

Mr. T. W. Ingram and family motored down to Lufkin Saturday, returning home Sunday afternoon and considering themselves mighty lucky to get back alive after their tussle with the open spaces except streets in that benighted community. In entering the town Mr. Ingram inquired of a discouraged looking citizen as to the speed limit, and he was informed that there wasn't any such animal in the vicinity of where Lufkin will be some day when it grows up; so the visitor "let 'er out," and by taking all the chances prudence would permit, considering the safety of his family, was able to make not less than five miles an hour, which was considered reckless driving by the natives, whose ideas of locomotion are limited by the character of ground over which they travel. The neighborhood where Lufkin is going to be has lovely streets—on paper. The hump-backed paving of Nacogdoches is somewhat of a trial, but it beats none.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

It takes all sorts of people to make up a world, and without the editor of the Nacogdoches Sentinel, the world would be incomplete to that extent. Also, it may be said that all sorts of reading matter may be found in various newspapers. The above clipping from the Sentinel offers a case in point. So grossly misleading in its every aspect, one can only surmise that the writer was striving at levity only, and granting that, it must be said that the attempt is rather crude. Just now Lufkin is doing a lot of residence street paving, hundreds of thousands of dollars being available for that purpose, and some of the more prominent residence streets are closed to traffic, or virtually closed, owing to the paving material being placed on the ground, and the grading necessary for the laying of the composition. Naturally, on these streets, where signs and warnings are ignored and people still travel over them in cars, no Barney Oldfield stunts are practicable. After awhile there will be several miles of well paved residence streets, and it is patent to every man, woman and child who has at any time made comparison of the business district paving of the towns of Nacogdoches and Lufkin, that the latter is so far superior to the former that a discussion of same would be tiresome.

As to "where Lufkin will be some day when it grows up," our neighbor across the way should manage somehow to get a report on its census before taking such liberties with other enterprising cities in this section. As advance information only, it will be said that Nacogdoches will not even show up in the class of Jacksonville, and Jacksonville does not measure up to Lufkin, so it would appear that there are other places that could well stand for a little "growing up."

But never mind all this, some thoughtful subscriber has favored the Sentinel editor with a watermelon by this time, and he is in a far better frame of mind than he was when Mr. Ingram returned from Lufkin.—Lufkin News.

A COUNTY HOSPITAL

One of Nacogdoches' most prominent business men suggests that Nacogdoches county should have a hospital the same as Angelina. He calls attention to the fact that Nacogdoches county is growing at a rapid rate, and that she demands from a standpoint of reason an institution for the sick that will meet all requirements, the same as those for the benefit of the well.

A county hospital is an institution that all physicians favor. It is a thing that the leading physicians over the state hope to see installed in every county in Texas. A hospital is the only place in which the sick can be properly treated, and slowly but surely the public is beginning to realize it.

It is the dream of some of the leading physicians of both Baylor and Texas universities to see at some time in the future, county hospitals erected in each county in Texas, and in each of these hospitals graduated surgeons employed by the county to take over the patients brought into the institution by the general practitioner. This is a great plan. When that day comes, and people can be convinced beyond a doubt that monetary considerations have no weight upon operations to be withstood, that another great achievement will have been made in the surgical world.

It would be a great thing for Nacogdoches county to have a county hospital, and it will have one sooner or later—y not sooner?

THE TEXAS DELEGATION AT SAN FRANCISCO

The reports of former Senator Bailey's speech at Corpus Christi represent him as berating the Texas delegation for "betraying the people of Texas at San Francisco." What that betrayal was is set forth in these words: "They talked dry in Texas as an voted wet in San Francisco."

There is not the shadow of foundation for this charge, and it is surprising that a man who resents misrepresentation as Senator Bailey does would be guilty of making it.

The wet and dry question was presented at San Francisco in the form of three minority reports, viz., The Bryan bone-dry resolution, the Hobson Anti-saloon league resolution, and the "light wine and beer" resolution reported by Bourke Cockran of New York.

The Texas delegation voted against the Bryan resolution, and very properly so, since it attempted to give the democratic party credit for the submission and ratification of the prohibition amendment, when as a matter of fact many republican senators and representatives voted for its submission, and many republican legislatures voted for its ratification.

The minority report was rejected by a vote of 929 1/2 to 155 1/2.

The Hobson Anti-saloon league minority report omitted specific credit for the democratic party in the submission and ratification of the Eighteenth amendment, but it affirmed it and pledged the party to the enforcement of the amendment and the Volstead act. The resolution was overwhelmingly rejected by a viva voce vote, the Texas delegation voting for its adoption. The Texas delegation tried vainly to get a roll call by States on this report.

The wet minority report was on a roll call of States rejected by a vote of 726 1/2 to 356, the Texas delegation voting against it.

The Texas delegates violated no instruction at San Francisco. They voted for a plank that was just as dry as the Bryan plank, and wholly free from inaccuracies of statement. They voted against the light wine and beer plank, fostered by "The Association Opposed to National Prohibitions," an organization with which Senator Bailey is familiar. And the roll call of the States shows it.

Then why should Senator Bailey charge the delegates with betraying their instructions, in face of these facts? The fact that they are opposed to Senator Bailey affords no warrant for him to make such unfounded charges.

These men and women were duly selected representatives of the people of Texas, chosen by the democratic convention, which was made up of men and women selected by county conventions. They voted for the administration platform, they complied with the instruction to vote against a wet plank, and in favor of a bone-dry plank, and they supported the candidate whom the state convention desired them to support on every ballot.

As for the inference that they were in an attitude of hostility toward Governor Cox, as some of the Bailey men have tried to make it appear, it is not out of place to state that the delegation was so friendly to Governor Cox that it would have supported him as first choice for vice president had the Texas presidential choice been successful.

There is no excuse for any misunderstanding or misstatements with respect to the work of the Texas delegation at San Francisco.—Houston Post.

THE THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT

of a "third party" has been watched with more than ordinary interest by political observers, because there has been much evidence of dissatisfaction with both the old parties, and because of the growing independence of the average voter.

It is no secret that many who are loyal to one or the other of the old parties feel that the parties are not measuring up to its full responsibilities and opportunities at this critical time, and who recognize the possibility of a "third party" being formed that would exercise considerable influence, if not in the elections, at least by the formulation of policies by the older parties.

But the prospects for an influential "third party" coming into existence become negligible when the groups meeting to organize such a party permit the soviet regime in Russia to be cheered in their gathering, and allow the element that is radical to the verge is disloyalty, to exercise a dominant influence in their councils.

No party that looks to Russia instead of America for inspiration will be seriously considered in this country, for loyalty to American ideals will prevail despite the shortcomings of political parties.

Sovietism is so fundamentally at variance with American democracy that it can be endorsed only by those who desire to overturn the whole structure of American institutions and to destroy the foundations of the American Republic. The old parties may differ radically on policies, but both are loyal to the fundamental principles upon which the republican form of government rests.

If the principles advocated by the so-called labor party are to be incorporated into the platform of the proposed new "third party," it makes little difference what else the platform contains, this party becomes fundamentally anti-American, and every voter who casts his lot with it should understand that he is voting to repudiate everything that has been accomplished by the American government from George Washington to Woodrow Wilson, that he is voting to overturn the foundations of the government that stands for the rights of all, and to substitute therefor a form of government that is operated by a class for the benefit of a class.

The news dispatches state that the declaration that was most widely cheered in the massed conventions at Chicago Sunday was the prediction that what had been done in Russia would be done in the United States.

If this indicates truly the color of the "third party," then the issue between it and the other parties is simply that of bolshevism against American democracy.

With this as the issue, the proposed new "third party" might as well merge with the socialist party and acquiesce in the leadership of Eugene Debs, who confesses to being the chief apostle of Lenin and Trotsky in America.

Thus definitely and truly aligned the mass of American citizenry, including the majority of labor, which in its recent convention at Montreal repudiated bolshevism, will understand clearly in the party's issue, and will dispose of it decisively.—Houston Post.

THE BUSINESS OF EDITING

The man doesn't amount to much nowadays that doesn't know more about how a newspaper ought to be edited than the editor does. We can think or hardly anybody just now who would not acknowledge, if pinned right down to it, that he could edit a newspaper a whole lot better than an editor can. And they may be right. We are not going to deny it for the reason that the preponderance of evidence is against us. Probably a hundred men could be found who are of the opinion that they could edit a paper better than the editor does, to one who thought he might not possibly be able to qualify; therefore, the evidence is so much one-sided that the verdict of the jury can readily be guessed.

It is quite true that the farmer feed us all, but it is also true that he wants a pretty good price for doing it.

That employers prefer married men is pretty good evidence that married men are the best men. That's why they get married.

No, we are not going to buy a limousine. The blamed things button up so tight that the people on the outside couldn't tell who we were.

When a candidate injects the element of denominational prejudice into a campaign, it is time for the voters to smite—and smite hard.

In the year 1919 the American people drank seventy million gallons of whiskey. Great goodness! What an editorial a fellow could write if he had all that!

There does not seem to be much difference between some of the profiteering gentry and the common jimmy burglars, except that one works daytimes, and the other at night.

Some of our friends persist in saying that if the Chicago program is to be taken as a precedent to go by, the presidency ought to be listed on the New York stock exchange. Some democrats do say some mean (but very true) things about the republicans, at times, especially during campaigns. And the trouble is they can prove 'em.

San Antonio, Texas, July 16.—Two hundred and forty-two Texas posts of the American Legion have been officially notified of the state convention to be held in Houston August 23-24. State headquarters here said 1,800 delegates will attend. Officials here expect the question of whether the Texas Legion approves a soldiers' bonus or not will be settled.

FEEDING LIVESTOCK

The farmers of Nacogdoches county would do well to clip this and file it away for references and the following articles as they appear from week to week, the series extending over a period of ten weeks. I expect to outline plans for the care and feeding of hogs and cattle, giving a number of balanced rations that will enable the farmers to use the feed they have and secure the best results.

Letter No. 1.

Feeding the Brood Sow and Litter
The time to begin preparations for a strong litter of pigs is at the time of breeding the gilt or sow. In the first place, she should be in fair flesh. If her hair is hard and harsh, a worm medicine should be given before breeding. The following is a good preparation to expell worms:
Santonin ..... 2 1/2 grains
Calomel ..... 1/2 grain
Arecá Nut ..... 1 drachm
Sodium Bicarbonate ..... 1/2 drachm

The above is a dose for a fifty pound pig; double the dose for a 100 pound pig. Withhold feed for 24 hours before giving the mixture. After breeding she should be placed in a good pasture, supplemented with a balanced grain ration. It is better that this pasture be a crop containing a large percent of protein, such as cow peas, velvet beans, rape or oats. If such pasture is not available she should have access to high protein hay, such as peavine, alfalfa or peanut is best that this hay be placed in racks to avoid waste.

Avoid feeding corn alone to a sow that is carrying young. Corn shorts, wheat bran, tankage, meat meal, fish meal, skim milk and buttermilk are satisfactory supplements.

If home grown protein cannot be had, a commercial protein, such as meat meal, tankage or fish meal, should be added. (Armour & Co. at Nacogdoches will carry a supply of tankage in stock.) Corn plus one-tenth tankage is about right. If hay is used, about 150 pounds to 100 pounds of corn will be needed when the sows are in fair flesh; if in a rundown condition more corn will be needed. It should also be remembered that a sow in poor flesh will farrow poor pigs. Keep her in good flesh.

Mineral matter is absolutely necessary to the proper development of the pigs. Most of the hogs in the county do not get enough mineral to make a strong frame. Wood ashes are rich in potassium and calcium, and should be kept before the hogs at all times. Soft coal and air-slacked lime are also good mineral foods. Remember that fresh water is essential at all times.

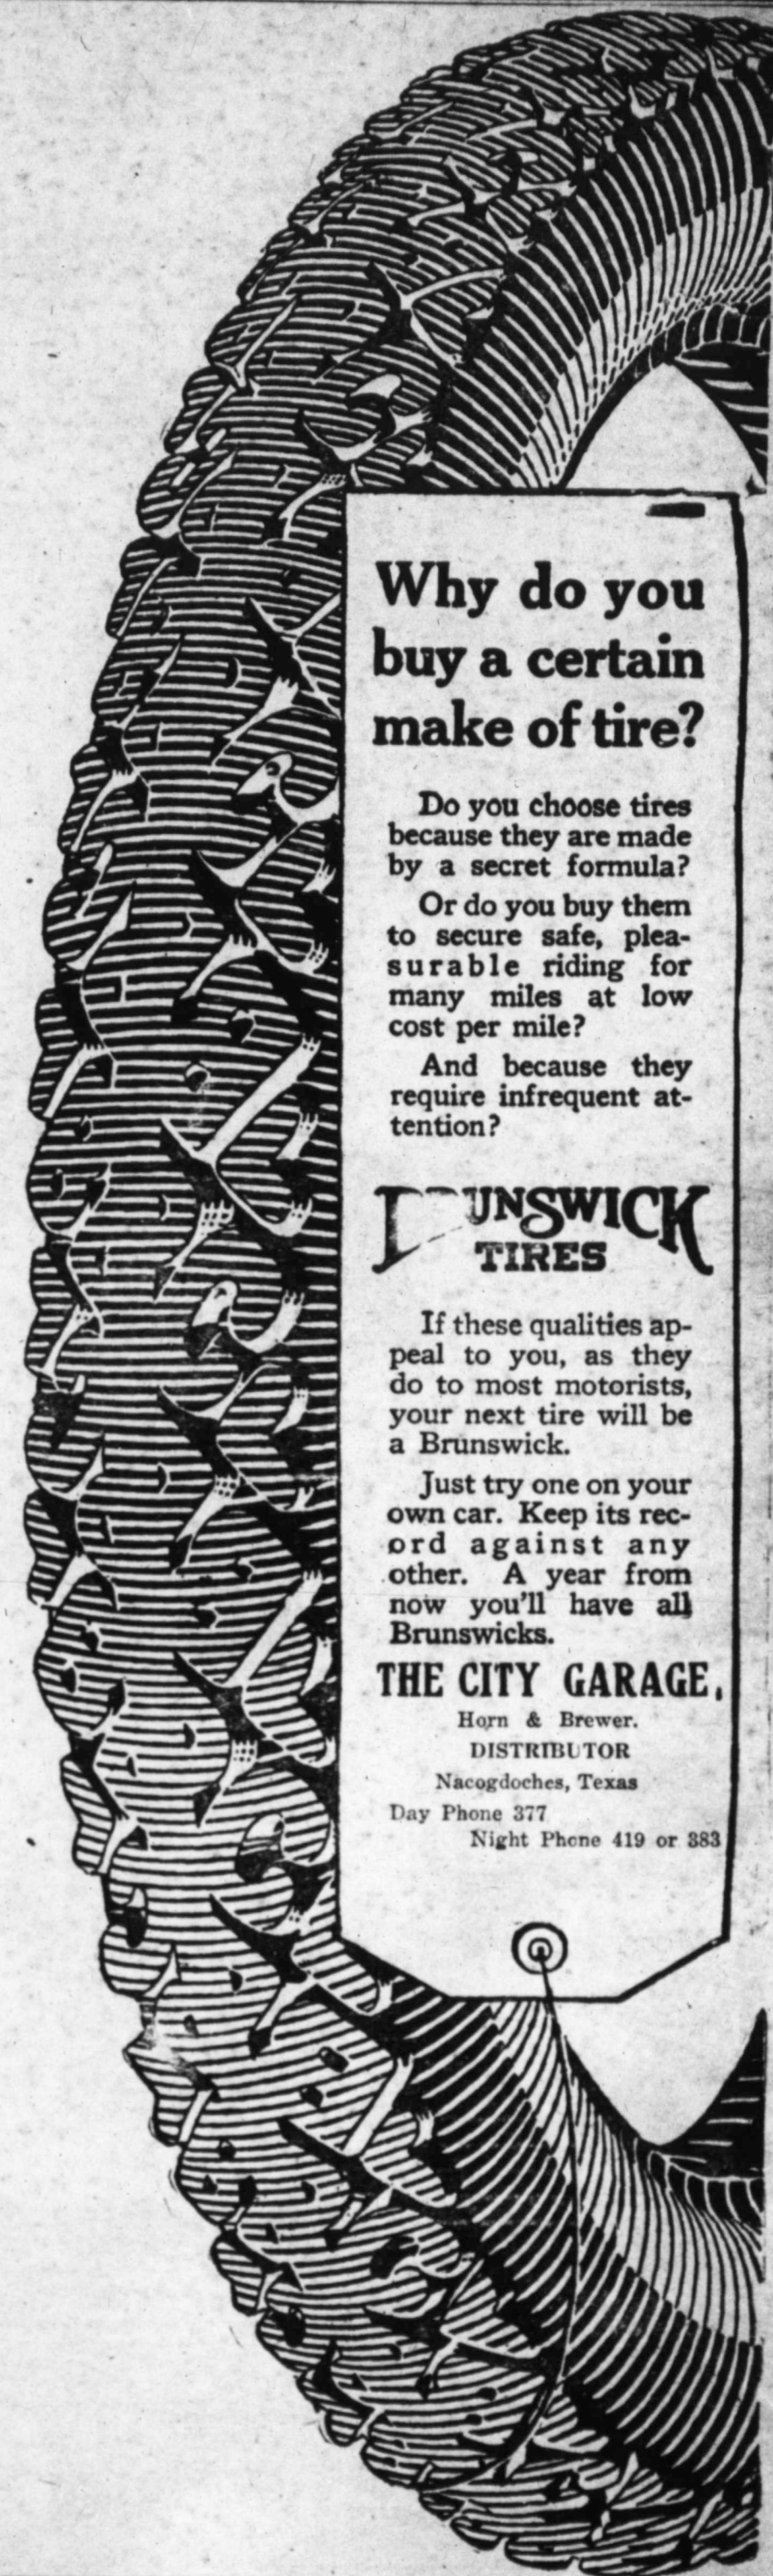

Ninety percent of the growth of the litter is in the last sixty days of the gestation period, and it takes an abundance of proteins and minerals to form skin, hair cartilage and bone. Ten days before farrowing the sow should be given sleeping quarters where she is expected to farrow her litter. She should be confined only at night, otherwise she would develop constipation and fever. A bran mash fed during this period will insure against constipation.

After farrowing she should have only water for the first twenty four hours. Get this—nothing but fresh water for the first twenty four hours after farrowing. Her first feed should be a thin bran mash of not over one pound of wheat bran. After the second day this should be increased gradually and shorts, skim milk and tankage included as a part of the ration. For the first ten days the tankage should not be over one-fifteenth of the ration; if skim milk is used one third by weight. In two weeks the sow should be on full ration and given all she will clean up twice a day. At the end of the first week she should be put on a good pasture if at all possible.

When the pigs are two weeks old a pen should be fixed where the pigs can eat at all times. Corn is the best to begin with, as there will be no danger of any sour feed being left in the trough at this critical period. At the beginning of the fifth week they may be fed a slop food of milg, shorts and corn meal in a small trough. Be sure and keep the trough clean so there will be no danger of spoiled food; cleanliness is a preventive of disease. Always feed the pigs to themselves. Beginning with the seventh week the pigs should be placed on a self-feeder containing equal parts of shorts and corn chops. By being on the self-feeder the pigs adjust themselves to the decrease in the flow of the sow's milk and are ready to be taken from the sow at weaning time.

Next week we will discuss the weaning of the pigs and outline the rations for all periods of his life.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

The Sentinel reported an address made a year or so ago in Nacogdoches by Eugene Thompson, on his return from the World War, reciting some of his personal experiences. Such addresses are always entertaining, especially to the personal acquaintances and friends of such soldiers. The speaker, Thompson, spoke more than an hour, and never rised the pronoun I. Modesty, instead of self-glory was a notable characteristic of George Washington.

About forty years ago there was a noted outlaw in Texas by the name of Bill Longley. He killed twenty-one men, more or less, and then got captured near Logansport, La., by the sheriff of Nacogdoches county, Captain Milt Mast, assisted by an only deputy, Bill Burrows. Longley was tried and lawfully hanged at Giddings, in Lee county, Texas. Ben Judkins of Nacogdoches county saw him hanged.

While in jail awaiting the end, Bill Longley wrote his life history and his bloody exploits, and it was published in the Giddings newspaper. He used the pronoun I so often that the printer ran out of the type, and had to order a supply.

So, in these "Traditions" the writer classes himself with George Washington, by omitting the egotistical pronoun I. But hereafter he may deviate from this rule. He does not profess accuracy in details, nor absence of repetitions. For instance he has heretofore written about the Orton brick store house being the first brick house being built in Nacogdoches, and then when he wrote up Jim Linn and his drug store this reference was a repetition of the subject.

In the last installment of these "Traditions" the Sentinel compositor made several minor mistakes in the wordings, and though trivial and not necessarily misleading, let us get the record straight. One of these mistakes was to misspell Maury, "Maurey." The real name is the same as the noted geographer, Commodore T. F. Maury, of Tennessee. Maury Orton was the first white child born in Maury county, Tennessee. He was proud of the fact and of the name; a man of more than ordinary note and influence among the pioneers of Texas, a personal friend of General Sam Houston and General John H. Reagan.

Then, again, the Sentinel made me say that Jim Linn's name was bestowed upon his many children.—I stated that he had no children or relatives here.

And again, I wrote that Oscar L. Holmes made a bequest in his will, in which he "designed" a big share of his estate to be used for the support and maintenance of persons disabled by service in the Confederate army, "those from Nacogdoches county to have preference." I stated that the intentions of his will was "designed" to defeat. This clause of the will was indefinite, and John W. Lewis and others were thereby cut out by the court.

This patriotic clause of the will is inscribed on the slab over the grave of Oscar Lemon Holmes.

All Civil Government Ousted In Galveston

Galveston, Texas, July 16.—The military authorities have their forces organized for carrying out police duties following the suspension of the Galveston police force, the city commissioners and the city officials yesterday by the governor's proclamation. Less than half a dozen arrests of an ordinary character were made by the soldiers who took the place of the police last night. There was no development to support the rumor that the fire department would refuse to work, as a result of the suspension of the police, during the period of martial law.

FROM EUGENE THOMPSON

To the voters of Nacogdoches county:

As it has been impossible for me to see all the voters, I desire to say this brief word through the papers concerning my candidacy for County Superintendent.

All my experience as a teacher has been among the rural schools and small town schools. My observation has been that poor educational conditions is the biggest problem confronting rural life. Realizing this our state legislature made provisions to meet this situation. In this emergency your school will suffer unless you have the co-operation of the County Superintendent who has the energy, ability, and determination to be of real service.

I welcome an investigation of my record among the people whom I have served. Assuring you of my full appreciation if you see fit to elect me, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Eugene Thompson.

LATIMER CASE POSTPONED

The examining trial of Roscoe Latimer, charged with killing J. F. Fulgham, was called for trial in the justice court at Garrison Monday morning at 9 o'clock, the State being represented by the county attorney, L. G. King, and S. M. Adams, and the defense represented by George S. King of Houston and C. C. Watson of this place.

When the case was called the county attorney announced that the state was ready for trial; that they would only use three or four witnesses and the dying statement of the deceased; whereupon the defendant, through counsel, moved to postpone the case on account of the absence of several witnesses. The court postponed the case and the hearing will be had some day soon, either the latter part of this week or the first of next. The defendant will have to remain in jail pending the hearing. It is reported that many people were at Garrison to be present at the hearing.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

The following from the Dallas News concerns a matter which too often is viewed indifferently by the voters, when, as a matter of fact, it should be regarded as of the utmost importance.

"On next Saturday the democrats of Texas will vote directly in the primary election for candidates of their choice for the various offices to be filled. We entertain the hope that they will complete the job by also attending and voting in the precinct conventions. These precinct meetings will elect delegates to take county conventions, which in turn will elect delegates to district conventions and state conventions, and it is important that the right sort of delegates shall be chosen. The respective conventions have power under certain conditions to determine the nominations, as the vote of a county may be contested upon the ground of fraud. The conventions also make the platforms, and it is important that they shall be made right. In recent years there has been a disposition to leave the platform building to the successful candidate for governor, but in our opinion this part of the state government. Every part of the state government. Every county in the state ought to elect men and women of force and character as delegates to the state conventions, men and women who can be depended upon to go and serve. To the end that the counties may be adequately and ably represented, the practice of electing large numbers of delegates, with the view of distributing 'honors' ought to be abandoned. It is vicious as well as silly, because of one thing, when many delegates are elected most of them remain away from the conventions, in the belief that George will be there to do it."

FARMERS SHORT COURSE

The 11th Annual Farmers Short Course will be held at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station, Texas, August 2 to 7.

The short course is planned to give men, women, boys and girls an opportunity to secure valuable information and at the same time refreshing and wholesome entertainment.

The course this year will place special emphasis on farm management, more efficient organizations for farmers, better farm machinery and more comforts for women and girls of the rural communities.

Special work will be offered by the following departments: Agricultural Engineering, Agronomy, Animal Husbandry, Dairying, Horticulture, Poultry and Veterinary Medicine.

Arrangements have been made for a number of the most prominent home economic experts in the United States to give work in the home economics. The work will consist of lectures and demonstrations in cooking, canning, sewing and household arts.

Valuable prizes will be given to the winners in the Girls' Canning Club Contest and the Boys' Livestock Judging Contest.

The evening will be devoted almost entirely to high class entertainment such as singing, music, moving pictures and the like.

The railroads have authorized a rate of one and a half fare. Board and lodging will cost $1.75 per day. The total expense from Nacogdoches to the Short Course for the entire week will be $22.50.

Every farmer, farmer's wife, son and daughter who can possibly do so should attend this short course.

Ball Restored to Health Four Years Ago By Taking Tanlac, Good Effects Continue.

"I was entirely relieved of my troubles four years ago by Tanlac and have enjoyed the best of health ever since," said Edward Ball, a well known farmer who lives on route 3, box 8, Duluth, Minn.

"For two years I had the worst sort of stomach trouble and rheumatism," continued Mr. Ball, "what little I managed to eat would sour in my stomach and I was so nauseated after nearly every meal that I could not retain a thing. I would suffer terribly from gas and, to add to my other troubles, I was taken with rheumatism in my legs and knee joints and got in such a bad fix that I could hardly get up and down."

"After trying a lot of other things which done me no good I started taking Tanlac and, believe me, I soon soon felt like a new man. My appetite came back and I could eat anything I wanted without it hurting me the least bit. The rheumatism left me entirely and, as I stated before, although this was four years ago I haven't had a trace of bad health since. I always keep Tanlac in the house and once in a while take a little, for I believe it will keep anybody in fine shape and am always recommending it to someone."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Swift Bros. & Smith, Stripling, Haselwood & Co., and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Not being able to make a close canvass of the three counties of the district and give the voters an opportunity to know me and learn of my candidacy for the office of district attorney of the second judicial district, I hereby solicit your influence and vote in securing my nomination on July 24.

I have 15 years experience as a lawyer, two years as prosecuting attorney, and four years as county judge.

More than one year ago I made known the fact that I would ask at this time the nomination for district attorney of this district, an ambition which I have cherished for eight years, and which I ask you to make a reality on July 24.

This office in this district has at all times been filled by men of great ability, and any man who fills this important office acceptably will greatly contribute to the liberty of the people by affording that security which comes only through the supremacy of law and the majesty of just government.

Respectfully,
F. P. Marshall,

F. D. HUSTON, CANDIDATE FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE

Citation by Publication.
State of Texas, County of Nacogdoches:

Know All Men by These Presents:

That I, Bill Jones, formerly known as the hero of Cripple Creek, respectfully present to the voters of Nacogdoches County, the following reasons why my patriotic friend, Frank D. Huston should be re-elected Justice of the Peace.

First: He was born fifty yards south of the Redland Hotel, one day when he was young, and is therefore well qualified for the position.

Second: Having encumbered the bench for six years, he fits naturally into the office, having acquired that ease and suavity which long practice affords, being now saturated with learning and law, and all brofe out with jurisprudence.

Third: He is an unflinching democrat, heartily endorsing the Administration whatever they may be. He is one of the common people, eating plain food with both hands, and while chatting pleasantly with any chance visitor or guest.

Fourth: In the matter of tying nuptial knots, he is an expert, and while other candidates may be "promising" it is not believed that our young people would want these ceremonies performed by a rank amateur, or garbled by careless hands.

For these reasons I hope my fellow voters will weigh the issues carefully, and return to him the honor he has so long and graciously borne.

Bill Jones.

TO THE VOTERS OF NACOGDOCHES COUNTY

As each of you are aware I am making the race for a second term for sheriff of this county, the county in which I was born and reared, and in the county in which I have always lived.

Two years ago by your vote I was selected your sheriff and have tried to the very best of my ability to perform the trust that you gave me by your vote. My record as a private individual and as an officer for the two years past is an open book and I invite your careful investigation of the same; and should you find after this investigation that I have performed the duties of this office in a manner worthy of your support for a second term I should be glad to have you cast your vote for me as your choice for sheriff for the next two years, and promising if elected to give you the same class of service that I have in the past two years. I have run a clean race with not the slightest idea at any time of hurting the feelings of my opponents and their friends, and with this last word before the election on Saturday, next, bear in mind that I come to you with my official record and private life an open book and upon this I ask for the long established rule and principle of a second term for a man who has by his private life and official record entitled himself to the same.

I earnestly ask both ladies and gentlemen for their support, and for which I now thank you in advance and shall ever be thankful.

Respectfully,
G. W. L. Woodlan.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING IS IN THE EATING

There is no question but that the Byrnes Shorthand, taught by the Tyler Commercial College, is the grandest system in use today. It makes better stenographers in less time and with less cost than any other kind. It may be written either with a pencil or any typewriter. It has over 30,000 enthusiastic writers, it holds the world's record for speed in a given time, is the most simple, legible and rapid system in use, as is shown by the following remarks by our students who first studied other systems:

"I take pleasure in telling the public that the Byrnes Shorthand is the only system. I previously studied Pitman eight months, used it in the actual practice for four months. At the end of six weeks study of the Byrnes I was a better writer than I ever was with the Pitman."

"I have been a Sloan-Duployon stenographer for 15 years; I found the system inadequate. I then took the Gregg under Mr. Gregg of Chicago, but found it illegible. I then took up the Byrnes, which I consider the stenographic marvel of the age."

"I first studied Pitman shorthand, then took up the Byrnes, and found the Byrnes to be 35% shorter and that it could be written at a much higher rate of speed, and read like print."

"I studied Pitman four months, gave it up in disgust. I then took up Pernin and studied it almost night and day for six months; but was not competent to hold a position. I then took up the Byrnes for three months, and find that I can hold any kind of a position."

"I graduated in Graham Shorthand, writing 100 words a minute, after nine month study. After studying the Byrnes Simplified, together with Byrnes Practical Bookkeeping, for 4 months, I could write Byrnes much faster and regard it superior to any other system."

"I thoroughly mastered 14 systems, seven of the most prominent Pitman systems, Gregg, Chartier, Byrnes, and four minor systems, and find the Byrnes much easier to read, that it can be written with one and one half times the speed that can be made with any of the other 13 systems."

"After studying six different Pitman systems, I was unable to hold an ordinary office job, but with five weeks of study of the Byrnes I went into the District Court and did reporting successfully, and was appointed official court stenographer."

Why study and system of shorthand other than the Byrnes, when the Byrnes can be learned in half the time, or less, read with greater ease, and written at a higher rate of speed which means better salary and promotion? It does not cost half as much to complete a course in our school as does one of the other systems in other schools. We hold exclusive rights to teach the Byrnes in this section. The author is the president of the school. Fill in and mail to Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, for large free catalogue containing full endorsements and names and addresses of the above and of others who have tried the other systems and abandoned them for Byrnes. Our Bookkeeping, Cotton Classing and Telegraphy are as far superior to the other systems as is the Byrnes Shorthand.

FEEDING LIVESTOCK

Weaning the Pigs

By C. H. Deabler, County Agent.

Wean the pigs by decreasing the sow's feed and increasing the feed of the pigs. Also slightly widen the sow's ration by increasing the proportion of corn which will tend to build up her body and decrease the flow of milk. Pigs should be weaned when about ten weeks old. At this time they should be fed a ration which contains a fair amount of protein and mineral matter, since growth and not fat is what is desired. It is preferable to feed the grain dry.

The following are a few suggested rations, though many other combinations would be satisfactory. In any of these rations the following feeds may be substituted for corn, pound for pound: Ground milo, kaffir, rye, barley, rive polish and hominy feed.

Ration For Fattening Pigs

Ration No. 1

Corn.....9lb
Tankage.....1lb

Ration No. 2

Corn.....7 1/2 lb
Peanut Meal.....2 1/2 lb

The above rations are satisfactory where it is necessary to keep hogs confined to a dry lot, but for maximum results the forage crop system is by far the best.

Ration No. 1

To be fed to hogs on Sudan grass rape or oats pasture.

50 percent ground barley or chops.

25 percent ground oats.

25 percent wheat shorts.

Ration No. 2

50 percent ground kaffir.

50 percent wheat shorts.

Mixed with an equal number pounds of skim milk.

Ration No. 3

To be fed to hogs on cow peas or sudan grass.

50 percent ground maize.

40 percent whole oats.

10 percent tankage.

Ration No. 4

To be fed hogs on sorghum pasture

70 percent corn.

25 percent peanut meal.

5 percent tankage.

It will be noted that in all the above rations I have included either skim milk or tankage. It is important that one of the two be used to obtain the necessary protein that is needed. Corn, unless supplemented by tankage, is one of the poorest and most expensive feeds that can be given to hogs.

For growing hogs oats is one of the best feeds that can be obtained. It should always be fed dry in a self-feeder or scattered on the ground. Oats is almost a balanced ration in itself and is especially valuable for growing breeding stock. On account of its bulkiness oats are not satisfactory in making quick gains on market hogs.

Next week's letter will be "The Hog's Health."

NOT PHILOSOPHY BUT MERELY "HORSE SENSE"

It is the desire of everyone to "make good" and to do so it is necessary to accumulate a certain amount of monetary wealth. It is an accepted fact that the "penny saving" method will hardly pave the way to fortune and everyone knows of instances where "stakes" have been made aside from the "sweat of the brow". This leaves only one road open---that is investment. Investing one's money and getting real returns is not altogether a matter of so-called "luck"; it is rather a matter of good judgment. When one, after sane consideration, can see the possibility of profits and even the assurance of real profits to be made out of a proposition or venture which is to be undertaken by men who know what they are doing, it is merely showing "good judgment" to invest money in same.

A Concrete Proposition With Big Returns

On first thought one has a great tendency to think such a combination is impossible. However, stop a minute and think of shallow production. There are hundreds of shallow oil wells being pumped every day that have been producing a quarter century and longer. The crude produced from same is of the highest grade and commands the top market price. The cost of drilling a well in this particular field is only about one-fiftieth of the amount expended in making the average deep test. Practically every time you "spud in" you bring in a producer. Shallow wells can be pumped economically and you may depend upon them day in and day out to produce the same amount of oil. It is absolutely necessary for the oil industry to look to shallow wells for all that is actually dependable in production. It is for these reasons that the public is seldom given an opportunity to invest in shallow oil and that in the majority of cases the stock of shallow oil companies is subscribed for by oil men who know and appreciate the possibilities in shallow oil.

The CHIRENO OIL & GAS COMPANY is strictly a home company and is giving the people of Nacogdoches county an opportunity to reap the benefits that will necessarily be derived from nature's subterranean treasure house.

A Proven Fact

Returns from shallow oil are not of the spectacular, "million over night" species that have resulted in a comparatively few instances in deep fields. However, they are sure it is a proven fact that investors have found that their returns have been more continuous, permanent and even larger on the whole from shallow fields. In your judgment which is the best investment?

Not For Promotion

When you invest money in the CHIRENO OIL & GAS COMPANY you may feel assured that it will be used for development purposes. It is not a matter of purchasing stock in some "foreign" company and thereby helping to pay the $5000.00 per month salary of its president. Of course, the officers and trustees of our company expect to make money, in fact "big" money but it will come from the oil which they know they will produce from the field. It is not practical to develop this particular field on a small scale and make it a real "paying proposition." For that reason, the trustees of the CHIRENO OIL & GAS COMPANY are asking the people of Nacogdoches county to join them and all share "pro rata" in the big returns which the oil in this field is bound to yield if developed properly. The oil is here and it means big and continuous dividends to all when marketed. Don't you want to come in with us and get your share of the profits? Fill out the subscription blank NOW and send it to us along with your check or call at the office and talk it over with us.

Tyler, Texas, July.—More than 100,000 squares that had been punctured by boll weevils were brought in by Smith county farmers in response to a prize offered to farmers bringing in to Tyler the greatest number of punctured squares.

Business men of the city, believing that the most effective method of combating the boll weevil, which was appearing in alarming numbers in the county, raised a fund to provide weekly prizes totaling $600 a week for six weeks.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce also advocates the spraying of cotton while the early morning dew is still upon it with arsenate calcium about once a week, and plowink shallow often in order to keep a bed of hot dust to discourage the weevils that are knocked off the stalks by a brush attached to the singletree from crawling back up.

The judgment as rendered by District Judge Covey C. Thomas in the suit of Mrs. Ira Coats against L. E. Bein et al. in district court in Karnes City last week awards the plaintiffs damages aggregating $57,430.69.

One judgment is against I. L. Bain individually for $28,887.43 and for foreclosure of lien securing said amount on 878 acres of land, and for the deficiency on said amount, if any, against L. E. Bain and A. J. Parker, individually and as executors, and against E. C. Seale, J. L. Bain and T. G. Butler as sureties. Judgment is also rendered against L. E. Bain and A. J. Parker as principals, and E. C. Seale, J. L. Bain and T. G. Butler as sureties for the sum of $28,543.26 with interest at the rate of 6 percent from June 30, 1920, until paid and costs of suit.

Following rendering of judgment a motion for new trial was made by Mr. Lewright, counsel for defendants, which was overruled. Notice of appeal was given.

Notwithstanding a verdict was rendered by the jury Sunday afternoon of last week, final judgment was not decreed until the following Thursday. The case presented various intricate legal phases, which were fought out before Judge Thomas by the attorneys on both sides.

INTERESTING MEETING AT C. OF C. WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Wednesday night the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce held one of the most interesting meetings it has had in a long time. The meeting was in honor of Mr. P. L. Downs of Temple, who is in charge of the sub-experiment stations over the state. He is in Nacogdoches county examining the stration under the charge of Mr. Geo. T. McNess. Mr. Downs is also well known in the banking circles of Temple, playing an important part in the agricultural life of Bell county, and is a leader in the boys' and girls' work in that county.

Mr. Downs made a very enthusiastic talk Wednesday night, commenting at length on the agricultural life of the county, and telling his hearers just what Nacogdoches could do for another year. He discussed many things connected with his business. Mr. Downs said that experiment stations should not be judged from the road by farmers, and they should not be confused with demonstration farms.

J. Thrash returned Thursday from Mexico, where he had been for a few days looking for Villa. Mr. Thrash says that there's tuff stuff down in old Mexico; so "tuff", in fact, that men have to wear leather collars, one of which he was wearing proudly when he landed in Nacogdoches. Mr. Thrash was considerably tanned from the Mexican sun, but showed no other bruises.

Marvin McBride of Melrose was in the city Friday.

SUSTAINS AN INJURED FOOT

Thursday afternoon after doing a day's work on the Nacogdoches-Douglass road, Wyman Windham, who lives in the west part of the city, was painfully injured when a wagon wheel ran over his foot, severely bruising it. It seems that the wagon was being towed by a truck, or may have been hitched to another wagon by a long chain, and Windham's attention was attracted to the front vehicle, causing him not to pay the proper attention to what was approaching him from behind or at his side. Physicians examining the foot gave their opinions that while he did not have a permanently injured member, he had one sufficiently crippled to cause him considerable inconvenience for a time.

The accident was a very deplorable affair and has cast a gloom among his friends, as he was a favorite among his friends, all of whom deeply sympathize with his good wife and other relatives.—Alto Herald.

FINE LIVESTOCK

DEMONSTRATION

Messrs. C. H. Deabler, W. B. Wortham, P. D. Stokes returned Friday from Arlington, where they had been attending a fine stock sale on the Duroc farm of Mr. George P. Lillard. Mr. Deabler reports that he never saw as fine livestock in all his life, of the kind that were shown and sold up there, as the kind he did see. Sales records were broken. One all breed Duroc hog sold for $3,225, thereby breaking the former enviable record of the Poland China, which was $3,000. Four animals sold at a price of $1,850 each. Mr. Wortham bought one animal bred to the famous "L's" Demonstrator and Mr. Stokes bought two, one bred to "L's" Demonstrator, and one to "L's" Pathfinder.

All who were at the sale say that it was one of the finest ever seen. Mr. Deabler says the animals bought by the Nacogdoches county people are the best to be had, and that the farmers should take cognizance of this for profit.

A STATEMENT

It has been reported over the county that I have been showing unusual favors to Roscoe Latimer, who is incarcerated in the county jail charged with murder, when as a matter of fact I have treated Mr. Latimer with the very same consideration with which I have treated the other inmates of the county jail. The report that I have let Mr. Latimer sleep in the jury room of the courthouse is notoriously untrue; and the statement that I have been giving Mr. Latimer better food than the other inmates is also false. Latimer gets the same consideration as the other prisoners and no more.

Sincerely,

G. W. L. Woodlan.
The reporter called upon Mr. Latimer upon his own accord and was assured by Mr. Latimer that Mr. Woodlan's statement as recorded above is a truthful statement. 19-1d-pol. adv.

TO THE VOTERS

The time is drawing near for you to cast a vote for the one in your good judgment best fitted to serve you in handling the county's affairs. Four years ago feeling that I was getting too old to keep up with the younger men in earning a living for myself, and being solicited by my friends, I offered myself for the office of County Treasurer and after working hard during the campaign against four opponents was defeated in the 2d primary by Mr. Will Hall, who has served his two terms, and engaged in a different line of work. I congratulated Mr. Hall and waited four years. I again earnestly solicit your support and assure you same will be appreciated. Should you, like some others, feel that the office of County Treasurer is a pension job, I will appreciate same on a pension basis, at the same time differing with you, as I feel like there are some important matters to look after the same as duties attached to any other county office. Again, if you would pension a man, pension dear friends, the man who has helped you for 21 years to bear the burden of taxation and the upbuilding of your county and his.

Some of the ones who are inclined to oppose me for the office would tell you that the banks do all the work connected with the office. This I most heartily differ with them on, as the bank only takes care of the county's money the same as it does the individual, or any other business firm, and they do not take care of the regular routine duties of the County Treasurer's office. I am well qualified to handle the office, and if you see fit to elect me, I will appreciate same from the bottom of my heart, and assure you that you shall never have cause to regret. 20-1dlw. J. F. Floyd.

Judge Lee D. Guinn will appreciate our support in his race for re-election as district judge. 17dwtf

A WORD TO VOTERS

To the Voters of Nacogdoches County:

It has, of course, been impossible for me to see all of you personally; so I want to use this method of soliciting your vote at the coming election.

I hope that you will join my other friends on July 24 and give me the only vote I have ever asked you for.

I assure that it will certainly be appreciated and that, if elected, I will strive to give satisfaction.

Sincerely yours,

Tom Crawford. 20-1dlw.

CELEBRATES 60th BIRTHDAY WITH SPLENDID BANQUET

In accordance with previously arranged plans, about twenty of the business men of Nacogdoches motored to Sacul Tuesday afternoon to be present at the home of Mr. John T. Lucas, whose 60th birthday fell on that day and who, in honor of it, gave a sumptuous feast, inviting a host of friends to his home to partake with him.

The party left here about 1 o'clock, and on account of the bad road with which the cars had to contend as a result of the heavy rains in the Sacul community did not arrive at their destination until about 3 o'clock.

Promptly upon the arrival of the Nacogdoches delegation, they with a number of Sacul citizens repaired to the Baptist church and there speeches were heard from H. L. McKnight, C. H. Deabler, Judge V. E. Middlebrook and R. F. Davis. Others were booked for speeches, but the time was cut short by the delay in getting to Sacul on account of the roads, and Mr. Davis made the concluding speech. Mr. Deabler made a very interesting talk on livestock. It must be mentioned here, too, that Mr. June C. Harris was one of the speakers of the occasion. Mr. Harris in the course of his remarks painted a very interesting picture of the future life of our community, depicting its progress and making prophecies.

As soon as the church meeting was adjourned, all went to the beautiful little home of Mr. Lucas, where every cordiality was shown all the guests. An informal program of music was enjoyed in the parlor prior to the supper, which was in the course of preparation. Little 5-year-old Tom Jack Lucas, grandson of Mr. John Lucas, sang several songs for the entertainment of the guests, who evidently enjoyed very much his singing, judging from the cheering little Tom Jack received.

Supper was served at 5 o'clock. The supper can only be described as a royal feast. Deliciously barbecued mutton was one of the items of the menu. The tables were placed beside each other and served eight people. There were two of the tables, both of which were heaped with things mighty good to eat.

Mr. R. C. Monk offered thanks. Following this, Mr. Lucas had Mrs. Lucas to read Mr. Lucas' message to his guests. Mr. Lucas while deeply enjoying the occasion, was deprived of some of its enjoyment on account of being afflicted with deafness. The following was his message to his friends: "My friends, I have not the words to express my appreciation to you good and noble people of dear old Nacogdoches and other towns and communities around here to come to my home and join me in celebrating my 60th birthday.

"I again repeat that it fills my heart with joy and gratitude to have you with me and my family to mark this age of life of mine.

"This may be my last birthday celebration, and it could be and may be my last birthday—as life is very unsubstantial and death is sure.

"But, dear friends, I hope to be with you many years to come, and to enjoy your visits and handshakes one more time, anyway.

"We should feel thankful to our maker for such happiness that he has bestowed upon us to allow us to live to the ripe old age of 60 years."

Following this, Captain I. L. Sturdevant, paying tribute to the host whom he termed "as that noble man," Mr. Sturdevant made a very beautiful talk, recalling some of the early-day life of the Lucas family, and ending with good wishes for the Lucas name. He was followed by Judge V. E. Middlebrook, who made a beautiful talk, spiced with humor, but carrying a message of the deepest friendship to the host, who seemed to greatly appreciate it.

They all contented themselves with satisfying their appetites on the many good things spread before them in abundance on the beautifully prepared tables. It is needless to say that the supper was enjoyed, as every other remark made by the guests was a compliment to the delicious food they were eating.

Concluding the supper the guests were carried to the old Lucas home and shown some of the interesting things connected with it. The old Lucas home was built in 1857 out of hewn pine logs. The doors and windows were made by hand, and all the lumber in the home was dressed by hand. The home had no floors except those made of poles. The brick chimneys are standing yet, and as it is one of the old-time chimneys, several thousand bricks are incorporated in it. The house was built in a double "L" shape, has two walls, and presents a very interesting appearance. At 6 o'clock the Nacogdoches delegation, on account of the extremely bad roads, motored back to the city, all of them expressing the greatest delight over the splendid time that had been enjoyed at the birthday party, and wishing Mr. Lucas the opportunity to again extend an invitation of a similar nature.

Those from Nacogdoches attending the banquet were H. L. McKnight, R. F. Davis, V. E. Middlebrook, Captain I. L. Sturdevant, I. D. Parmley, June C. Harris, Elmer Summers, Lee Gaston, Floyd Hardeman, C. H. Deabler, Tom Davidson, R. C. Monk, Tom Lloyd, Giles M. Haltom, W. S. Davis, John Baker and Miss Geneva Harris and Mrs. Kyley.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Coats left Wednesday for their home in Kennedy, Texas, after spending several days visiting relatives and friends in Nacogdoches.

A vote for Pat M. Neff would never be regretted. 21-3dw.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT

It being impossible to see every voter, I take this means of soliciting your vote and influence for the office of District Attorney.

I am 30 years of age and was born and reared in Nacogdoches county. I graduated from the University of Texas in 1915 with highest honors, and was president of the law department for that year. Since that date I have actively engaged in the practice, except for 27 months spent in the army (90th division.)

The office has always been filled with young men. O. M. Robert, Jas. I. Perkins, Beamon Strong and W. B. O'Quinn entered this office as very young men. I am young and active, with a successful record as a student, as a soldier, and as a lawyer. If elected I will make you a successful District Attorney.

Any aid given me in furtherance of my candidacy will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,

W. B. Bates,
Candidate for District Attorney.
