RESULT IN MAINE GIVES G.O.P. DAY OF REJOICING

New York, Sept. 14.—George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, in a statement commenting on the result of yesterday's election in Maine, said this is the republican's day of rejoicing. "They planned, labored and paid for it, and I would not, by any utterance of mine, rob them of their meed of joy. With splendid organization, and with the expenditure of every effort possible to great finances, they prepared the republican state of Maine for this election, in the hope of persuading the country the trend is heavily republican in the national race.

GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE POLICY REGARD PRISONERS

Washington, Sept. 14.—Attorney General Palmer told labor leaders asking a general amnesty for political prisoners that the government would continue its policy of considering cases individually.

LOOKS LIKE A BLUFF.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—The Cudahy Packing Company passed its dividend today. Officials said this was the first time since the reorganization of the company that a dividend had been passed.

VISIBLY WEAKER

London, Sept. 15.—There was little change in the condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney this morning. The Brixton prison physician reported that increased weakness was visible.

Howard Cole and Richard Overal were visitors in the city the first of the week.

NACOGDOCHES REFINERY FAST GETTING IN SHAPE

The Nacogdoches refinery is fast getting into working order. A visit to the plant Wednesday by the newspaper man revealed an unusual amount of activity and progress having taken place down there during the past thirty days.

The Carolina Company, the corporation owning the plant, received its long-awaited for agitator last week and they are now busy putting it up. The agitator is placed in position to be put up Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoon found it only half way erected. The immense iron receptacle, in which oil is clarified by means of sulphuric acid and other materials, weighs approximately six tons and is about thirty feet in height.

The company has also a large and commodious warehouse, or compounding room in which they prepare their oils for shipment. This house is two stories, and covers quite a plot of ground. It has only been completed a few days.

All of the stills and boilers have been completed and are ready for use. The condenser is completed.

The storage tanks are being filled as rapidly as the oil can be brought from the fields at Oil Springs. The tanks are filled by means of gravity.

Mr. W. M. Parker, refinery superintendent, showed the newspaper man all over the premises of the company, explained everything, but did not state just when oil would be refined. However, he is of the opinion the company will be refining its own oil within a short while.

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED

Austin, Texas, Sept. 15.—The Texas legislature has been called to convene in special session at 11 o'clock on September 21 by Governor Hobby. The governor stated that he had called the special session to give consideration to the subject of safeguarding the general election in November, 1920, to prescribe qualifications for voters, to prevent discrimination among voters in the exercise of the franchise, and to consider and act upon such other matters as may hereafter be presented.

The governor said in the statement accompanying the proclamation:

"I shall urge the legislature to pass a law giving all those who have not paid poll taxes fifteen days in which to pay a fee or tax equal to poll tax which those voters who have previously qualified have paid. I shall further urge that all funds derived by the state from the collection of such fees shall go to the available school funds. Under this plan all voters will vote in the November election upon an equal basis. I accept the attorney general's interpretation of the Nineteenth amendment as applied to the general election in Texas. Therefore I convene the legislature because in my judgment, it creates an emergency which can be dealt with only by immediate action on the part of the state's legislative authority. With out legislative action, opportunity is afforded for fraudulent voting. The possibility of such a thing should be avoided by the state."

About 750,000 persons in Texas qualified themselves to vote in the November election by paying poll taxes, and at least 2,500,000 persons are of voting age in the state. Under the attorney general's construction of the Nineteenth amendment all will be permitted to vote regardless of whether they have paid a poll tax. The governor contends that this should be avoided because it is unfair.

RUSSIANS COMING BACK.

London, Sept. 14.—The Russian Soviet forces have taken the offensive near the old Galician border, and are marching on Lemberg, according to reports from Moscow, dated Monday.

LEGION HEADQUARTERS

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 13.—This city will be national headquarters for the American Legion, until the close of the annual convention September 29. The clerical staff, headed by the national adjutant, began arriving today with the records of the legion.

Benton Kelly and C. B. Watkins of Douglas were in the city Tuesday.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT LUFKIN MONDAY NIGHT

Our neighbor town of Lufkin suffered two conflagrations Monday night which entailed considerable loss upon property holders, the exact amount of which has not been determined at latest accounts.

Mr. Ben Tucker of this city was in the town at the time of the disaster, and from him we learn that the first fire started about 8 o'clock in the second-hand furniture store of Mr. Campbell, destroying that building, then spreading to and consuming the Citizens State Bank building and the Hicks grocery store, with the offices of one or more lumber concerns on the second floor.

At 11:30 fire was discovered in the Bonner Hotel, the flames evidently originating in the linen room. The kitchen and rear portion of the building were badly damaged, but all guests escaped without mishap.

Both fires were of undetermined origin.

MEXICO OIL RESERVOIR

Washington, Sept. 13.—Mexico promises to become the oil reservoir of the western hemisphere, the Department of Commerce declared today in a review of the petroleum industry in the southern republic.

With increased consumption in the United States likely to exhaust producing fields in this country in 20 or 25 years, Mexico, the statement offers, the most encouraging in the American oil industry both for production and geographical situation.

Exhaustion of 40 percent of the producing fields of the United States, the department's review stated, has caused Mexico to take second place in oil production, although but about 12 percent of her potential capacity of Mexican works is being produced.

Exports from Mexico for the first six months of 1920 totaled 20,000,000 barrels, an increase of 72 percent over the previous year. At this rate the total exports for the year are expected, according to the department, to reach 135,000,000 barrels.

Development of Mexican oil fields is only in its infancy, the review states, adding that of the 231,250 square miles of territory believed to contain oil deposits, not more than 800 are being exploited. Curtailment of production is ascribed by the department to lack of transportation and storage facilities and to unsettled political conditions.

Of the $350,000,000 estimated to be invested in the Mexican industry, including $50,000,000 in tankers, about 70 percent represent American capital, the review says. About 27 percent represents British and Dutch capital and 3 percent Mexican and other interests.

Twenty-seven companies are producing oil in Mexico, 17 of which are American owned, 5 Spanish-American, 3 Dutch and two British.

The United States received 70 percent of the oil exported from Mexico during the first six months of 1920.

COAST TO COAST AIR MAIL

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Extensive daily coast to coast air mail service opened today when planes left five cities for points across the continent. One plane will leave every morning from New York with mail for San Francisco, one from San Francisco for New York, one from Cheyenne for San Francisco, one from Salt Lake for San Francisco, one from Chicago for San Francisco every day except Sunday and one from New York every day except Monday. The first of the Chicago planes to operate under the new schedule left here at 6 o'clock this morning for San Francisco piloted by J. H. Christensen. Each plane will carry 800 pounds of mail.

During the week beginning September 20th, Cason, Monk & Company are holding a demonstration of the beautiful Majestic ranges—showing the new styles with white or blue enamel on doors and splashback. Go see the new ranges. Talk with the visiting expert from the factory. He will show you the distinctive features of the Majestic. A set of fine cooking ware is included as a gift with each Majestic during demonstration week.

Mrs. T. J. Young of Maytown was a shopping visitor in the city Tuesday.

GENEROUS TREATMENT OF OLD CONFEDERATES

Houston, Texas, Sept. 13.—Confederate veterans who live in Wichita Falls, the oil city of northwest Texas, have fallen into rare luck this year.

The expenses of every veteran in Wichita Falls will be paid for the trip to the annual Confederate Reunion in Houston October 5 to 8, out of a fund raised by W. R. Scurry Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, in the oil city.

But that is not liberal enough for a town full of oil money. Every veteran will be fitted out with a new uniform of the beloved grey, to wear to the reunion.

Not even that is thought sufficient. To guide each old fellow and look after his comfort, a boy scout from the Wichita Falls troop will be sent along with each veteran to Houston, all expenses paid.

Notification of this original plan was sent to General N. B. Forrest, commander in chief of the Sons of Veterans, now in Houston as general secretary of the committee preparing for the reunion, by District Judge Edgar Scurry of Wichita Falls, a member of the executive council of the Sons, and a member of W. R. Scurry Camp, named in honor of his father, Brig. General Scurry, killed in one of the last fights of the war. Carl Hinton, adjutant in chief of Sons of Veterans, has moved his headquarters from Denver, Colo., to Houston, to remain here until the convention is over. Remittances and other mail should be addressed to him at 1211 Capital Ave., Houston, Texas.

COTTON CONSUMED.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Cotton consumed during August amounted to 483,193 running bales of lint and 36,800 bales of linters, the census bureau announced today.

Last year's cotton consumption in August, 497,319 bales of lint, and 21,718 bales of linters. Cotton on hand August 31, in consuming establishments, amounted to 1,130,694 bales of lint and 267,156 bales of linters, compared with 1,133,365 lint and 232,454 linters, on August 31, last year. In public storage and at compresses there were 1,938,218 bales of lint and 358,640 bales of linters, compared with 1,816,593 bales of lint and 224,741 bales of linters at the same date last year.

RIO GRANDE OVERFLOWS.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 14.—The Rio Grande, on one of the biggest rises of the year, has left its banks and is flooding farms and highways between Laredo and Brownsville, according to information received. The loss to farmers will not be heavy, it is believed, because nearly all crops in the valley have been gathered.

SPECIAL RANGE OFFER

During the week beginning September 20th, Cason, Monk & Company will give a fine set of cooking ware to every purchaser of a Majestic Range. The price of the range will be no more than at any other time. FRIGHTENED PASSENGER CAUSES AIRPLANE CRASH

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 14.—Stephen Rusk, an aviator, is in a hospital here with a crushed leg as the result of a fall yesterday at Novice, in Coleman county. A farmer passenger, taking his first flight, grasped the control levers and sent the machine into a tail spin. The frightened passenger suffered only slight bruises. Another airplane rushed a doctor and nurse from here to Novice to render first aid to Rusk.

RUSH COTTON PICKING.

Huntsville, Texas, Sept. 14.—Every available convict in prison service is being rushed to the state's cotton farms to gather the cotton which is opening during the present hot, dry weather faster than it can be picked. This plan was decided upon by the prison commissioners to save the crop before it is hit by rain. The prison farms will produce between 7000 and 8000 bales of cotton, the prison commissioners believe.

WHICH ARE THE "RUBES?"

The funny papers and minstrel shows have always pictured the farm dweller as a "rube," and all the smart, slick people are, according to their theory, living in the cities. But is the theory sound? Which is the "rube," he who enjoys life as God and Nature intended, or he who huddles among brick and cement, lives by his wits, and doesn't know wheat from oats, unless it comes out of a carton in a sudden lunch joint.

The 1920 census shows us that a majority of our 105,000,000 live in the cities, and that 7,000,000 are jammed into New York like sardines in a tin can. No wonder the center of gravity tips a little in that direction.

New York, Chicago and Philadelphia have about a tenth of the entire population of the country, and the other cities have enough to make close to 55,000,000. But the country man has much in his favor and to his credit. In the first place, he feeds us all, and without the food he raises we would die quick and go to—er—some other place.

Most of the men who have been president of the United States have been recruited from the farms. Most of the great men the nation has produced were country born and bred, in fact, only two of our presidents, Roosevelt and Taft, were born in cities.

The farmer outranks us in wealth per capita, more motors cars per individual and more leisure per citizen. And in addition, he has a clearer conscience, a thousand percent better record for honesty, righteousness and fairness; man to man. There are no bunco-seeters on the farm, no burglars, no "dips," yegars or other "fiends," and, with much credit to the farmer be it said, very few politicians.

We wish Mr. Ponzi, who claims to know all about making fifty percent in ninety days, would come along instruct the newspaper boys how to make that much in the allotted three score years and ten.

HOT AIR POLITICAL SIMOONS

Never was there such an apathy upon the part of people over a presidential campaign as there is right now in this country. One cannot get a raise out of anybody on politics, and apparently the people, taking them as a whole, all over the country, do not care a whoop who is elected, or whether anybody is elected at all or not.

We heard one man say who recently attended a show in a large city that when a picture of Cox receiving notification of his nomination was thrown on the screen, not a single handclap was sounded, and when a similar scene as to Harding was shown two men responded with slight applause. According to this, Harding must be about two votes ahead of Cox at this writing.

As near as we are able to find out, many thousands of people in all walks of life are thoroughly disgusted with the modern game of politics; hence the apathy on their part. Probably there are several millions who feel that way about it. They have reasoned with more or less logic, that the difference between the administration of affairs by one political aggregation and by another, that it takes a microscope to find it, and so many of them do not bother to register or go to the polls at all.

But in spite of all the apathy, and in spite of the fact that there are really only two issues: League of Nations and the division of the spoils of office; and one of them has no place in partisan politics, the din of the clap-trap orators and phonograph spinners, rends the air with torrents of abuse to each other and the laudation of their particular party or candidate, and the partisan press of the big cities echoes it all and adds to it, until a peaceful citizen, deafened by the din of jazz mouths and wading neck deep through the turbid tide of dialectical dish-water fair would say: "A plague on both your houses."

In the name of high heaven, or anywhere else, what is this ear-splitting, nerve destroying cackle all about? The League of Nations? Not one in a hundred of those who are forcing so much hot air through their faces has read it or knows the provisions it sets forth, and couldn't define Article X to save from being damned. The average citizen believes that it is a war for political pie, rather than a legitimate controversy, and that the g. o. p. spellbinder who proclaims that President Wilson is an autocrat who has brought the country to the verge of ruin, and the Democratic "liberator" who proclaims that America stands only one show of living, and that is the triumphant election of Cox, ought to be tethered together out on the desert of Utah or Arizona, where their braying would disturb nobody and where they could comfortably kick each other to death.

The country is all right—greatest country ever on the face of the earth—and it is going to keep on being just that, and then some; and it is barely possible that the parceling of the emoluments, power and pie has much less to do with the great fact that the jaw-rattling, leather-lunged professional politicians, large of girth, and small of head would lead the American people to believe.

GULLIBILITY OF CHEESE

There was never a slick rascal yet who set up a three-legged stand and manipulated three walnut shells and a pea around it that did not have many to bite at his bait and invest their money upon the cock-sureness that they could locate the pea under the shell. They always lose, get the laugh and make room for more suckers who do the same thing over again—all possessed with the idea and desire to get something for nothing. What they get is experience, and nothing is so high priced as that.

We have had another illustration of it recently in the manipulation of the shells and pea by Mr. Ponzi, of Boston. He promised investors fifty percent on their money every ninety days, until their hundreds should be turned into thousands and their thousands into millions. What he really did was to take their money in at one window and pass it out at another, reserving enough for his own profit and pleasure, of course. Smith saw Jones receive fifty percent on his investment at one window, so he rustled up all the coin he could and passed it in at the other. Then both of them told Brown, and he did likewise, and so on with thousands of people, all determined to get something for nothing. Then came the inevitable crash, and another bubble was busted, another crook was shut up in the pen, and his victims now weep and wail because they got stung. They have no sympathy coming.

Cassie Chadwick's financial wizardry will be remembered; also the famous "Mississippi Bubble." These schemes always end the same way. The shell and pea manipulator always grabs the money, and the gullible galoots who hand it to him cannot be taught, even by experience, that the law of nature and all the laws of sound finance absolutely prohibit anybody's getting something for nothing.

HISTORY AND PROPHECY

"Go back a hundred years. Men were traveling in stage coaches. The steam engine was just beginning its work. There were no telegraph or telephone. If any man had suggested such a thing as wireless, he would have been investigated by those who looked after the witches.

"The New York Central railroad exhibits now its first train of cars; a queer little engine weighing less than the driving wheels of a modern locomotive, and behind it ridiculous little stage coaches hung on leather springs, with seats inside, outside, in front and back.

"What a change only one hundred years has made. Steam is old-fashioned, electricity is common-place. Flying is the new thing.

"Go back one hundred years, and it was a different world. You know that you elect the president in November and he is inaugurated (begins his work) the following March. When that system was begun this was a small country; thirteen states scattered along the edge of the Atlantic.

The traveling was so difficult that from November to March was about the time necessary for the electors to travel to Washington, meet, elect their man, and give him a chance to reach the White House. They allowed four months to do that which can be done in four days now. In those days a man that set out to travel two hundred miles prepared a new will and wrote everybody that he was going. Now a man goes two hundred miles in his automobile, and he is home for dinner, and doesn't tell anybody he is going to start.

"We think of the Dark Ages in Europe with horror, and they were horrible. Peasants, men and women, worked in winter with straw wrapped around their feet, living in miserable hovels without windows. And when windows and doors were made a tax was put on the windows and doors, thus enforcing lack of ventilation and lack of light.

"They passed laws to prevent 'eating the bodies of those that had died of the plague.'
 "We shudder at the horror of life in the Dark Ages. Those that lived then considered themselves civilized and fortunate, comparing their condition with the past, just as we consider ourselves civilized and fortunate today, looking back on those more miserable.

"The picturesque knights and barons of whom we read in history were really highwaymen, holding up and robbing the defenceless.
 "The great heroes of war were bloody villains; that killed thousands and tens of thousands, butchered entire populations of cities—men, women and children—leaving countries stripped and desolate, thinking that they added to their own glory.

"There was a day when every man you met would kill you if he thought he could and thought it safe.

"A hundred years ago the life we know would have been impossible. A thousand years ago conditions were so horrible as to be incoceivable. A hundred thousand or two hundred thousand, years ago our ancestors were miserable creatures, always cold, always frightened, always hunting or hunted, killing and eating each other, hiding in caves, terrified at the presence of imaginary evils and devils.

"Yet at every stage, men, such as they were, have thought themselves just about perfect and approved themselves and patted themselves on the backs, thinking what wonders they had accomplished, how far they had risen.

"It is all very well to pity our ancient ancestors that lived in constant dread of the devil and the demon that rode on the storm, or caused the thunder, or moaned in the cave. But what about our own day, in which ninety-five out of a hundred live in anxiety, worrying about tomorrow, fretting about old age, in a country which could easily produce ten times more that all could possibly use, if the intelligence of human things were devoted TO PROVIDING ENOUGH FOR ALL, instead of being devoted TO PROVIDING TOO MUCH FOR A FEW."

The above is from an editorial from the San Francisco Examiner, that is reproduced because it is very interesting, because it contains a great deal of food for thought, and because every man and every woman should give time to think over just such things. If they only would, the world would speedily become better.

We agree with the writer as to the wonderful things accomplished by mankind during the past few thousand years, but cannot agree as to the degrees of perfection which may sometime be reached, for the reason that while everything else has changed, ad changed for the better, human nature remains about the same as it was in the beginning, and changes but little, if any.

Men do not eat each other now because they have discovered other things to eat, but he would eat his neighbor if necessity should arise. Cannibalism was discovered in Austria only a year ago among the famished people. The marauding barons he tells of today. We have passed through the most horrible war slaughter in history, in which millions were murdered for no other reason than that some possessed land and goods which the others desired. Such a war is going on now between Poland and Russia.

Human greed and selfishness is much the same now as it was a thousand years ago, differing only as to methods. We kill more in a war in one day than any other generation ever did in a year, by using machine guns and poison gas instead of clubs and rocks, spears and bows and arrows.

When man will approach much nearer to living up to the doctrine of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man, but it does seem as though human nature will have to be changed more than it ever has been before any such perfection can be attained, even partially.

While the hatchet is frequently buried, it is never planted very deep.

Your Battery's Sturdiness

IT'S when your battery's plates wear out, that you buy a new battery. Economy for you, therefore, means the battery with durable plates.

Machine-Pasted Plates are what put the extra wear into the USL Battery. Heavy machine-pressure compresses the plate material into a tough, sturdy structure that stands up and lasts.

Jars, tops, separators, cases—all details right. The USL is a guaranteed battery.

We back the USL Battery with a SERVICE which keeps your electrical system in tune and keeps you "battery-happy."

MACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

This is a sequel to the story of the mysterious history and ending of Jim Linn of Nacogdoches. There are very few persons now living who know him or can relate his origin and family connections, but he was well and favorably known here just before and during the Confederate State war, which ended in April, 1865. That was fifty-five years ago. The South was thereby left in a deplorable shape for its distracted and desolate people. They were so demoralized that many fled to distant lands. Some went to Brazil, some to Mexico and some to South America and some simply moved out West, which meant on the Brazos and Colorado rivers.

Linn mounted his horse with his money in his saddle bags and rode off towards Waco. After this, in 1870, Tom Keys, who had lived in Nacogdoches for a decade or so, moved with his family to Cotton Gin, in Freestone county, a few miles east of Mexico. Others from this town and county moved out there. One family was that of E. N. Swiuburn, a brick mason, who settled in the town of Mexia. One of the Russells and Billy Boyd from the vicinity of Douglass, did likewise. Tom Keys had a son named Cal, who lives there yet, and he writes me that he met John Haltom at Teague, and John gave him a copy of the Sentinel containing the Jim Linn story. He says that Billy Boyd told him that Linn was murdered and robbed by a man named Sellman, who was raised near Douglass. He and Boyd both knew Linn well. Sellman was tried and hanged for the crime, in Limestone or Robertson county. This was soon after the war.

Other such instances occurred. One was the murder of Billy Tindall, a brother of Andy Tindall. It was said that he was "killed by the Indians," in Parker county. May be so. Another was the cruel murder of Fred Moore, a brother of the late Mrs. John B. Nelson. This occurred later in the Corpus Christi country, by roving bandit robbers, then infesting that section.

The distracted and disquieted condition of the state was the cause of

STATE FAIR RACE MEET WILL DRAW MANY HORSES

Purses Aggregating $7,200 Are Hung Up, With Additional Contests Planned.

An abundant offering of horse races is on the program for the State Fair of Louisiana, October 28 to November 7, inclusive. The Fair will run eleven days.

Purses totaling $7,200 have been hung up for the meet, which is far more than ever before listed. The management is planning to add several special $1,000 derby events.

There will be both harness and running events each day of the meet, which will be held on the following days: October 28 and 29, and November 1 to 5, inclusive.

The finest racing card ever seen on the State Fair track is looked for. The prizes are the most tempting ever offered, and the track, a mile circuit, is to be put in tip-top shape, with splendid accommodations for the numerous horses that are expected to be attracted to Shreveport.

George R. King, of Indianapolis, one of the best known race officials will be superintendent.

Judging by the money offered, and the interest that is being taken in the meet, visitors to the State Fair this year may safely expect the best lot of racing ever seen on the track at Shreveport.

For further information, write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary, Shreveport, La.

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL COMPETE AT BIG FAIR

With approximately $3,000 in cash premiums to be awarded and a strong spirit of rivalry existing among the youthful farmers of Louisiana, the exhibits by the Boys' and Girls' Clubs are going to be among the most interesting features at the State Fair, October 28 to November 7, inclusive. The competition this year is expected to be the liveliest ever noted in connection with the State Fair, owing to the steady extension of the club work and the natural rivalry that has developed among different clubs and sections.

The exhibits of the juveniles will open the eyes of visitors to wonderful progress the boys and girls are making in farming activities by using the improved methods that are taught them. In numerous cases the club members show much better results than do their elders, owing to the failure of the latter to break away entirely from the old methods of planting, cultivating, etc. That this is true, will be demonstrated in some of the contests at the Fair in which boys' and girls' entries will compete against those of adults.

If the Junior Extension booths there will be numerous exhibits by the Corn Clubs, Pig Clubs, Poultry Clubs, Cattle Clubs, Potato Clubs, Dairy Clubs, Home Economics and Demonstration Clubs and in the Agricultural High Schools. Every branch of the Junior Extension Department will be well represented. The Dairy and Sweet Potato Clubs have been added since last year.

W. C. Abbott, state agent in charge of Junior Extension work, will be superintendent of this important department.

For catalog and further information, write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary, Shreveport, La.

BOYS' PIG CLUBS TO COMPETE FOR PRIZES

In raising swine Louisiana is showing wonderful progress, and entering in this development on an important scale is the Boys' Pig Club work, which will be represented with hundreds of pure bred pigs on exhibition at the 1920 State Fair, to be held October 28 to November 7, inclusive. The display by the Boys' Pig Clubs promises to prove one of the biggest livestock shows in the history of the State Fair. The competition is going to be very brisk.

Approximately $1,000, more than ever before, will be awarded in the Pig Club section, and, in addition, there will be a number of cash premiums awarded as special prizes offered by packing houses of the Southwest in their desire to encourage the youthful livestock breeders. These specials have been offered by the Crescent City Stock Yards of New Orleans, the Clay Robinson Company and the Fort Worth Stock Yards, of Fort Worth, Texas.

The exhibit will be in charge of J. B. Francioni, Jr., who has charge of Boys' Pig Club work in Louisiana, with Morris M. LaCroix as assistant superintendent.

Besides entering their hogs in the Pig Club classes, the club members have the privilege of competing against adult exhibitors, and if the records of the past are continued some of the juveniles' entries will win over some of the adults' entries. The showing made by the club members goes to demonstrate how well they are learning the lesson of improved breeding and raising of good swine.

There will be some girl exhibitors as well as boys, for the club membership is not confined to the boys.

For further particulars, and for catalog, write to W. R. Hirsch, secretary, Shreveport, La.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF FORGERY OF PAY CHECKS

Lufkin, Texas, Sept. 11.—On August 1, the pay roll of an extra gang of negroes working at Dikoll for the Houston East & West Texas railway was lost at the Lufkin depot. The loss was not noticed until complaint was made some days later that no pay checks had been received by the negroes.

Wednesday night Sheriff Evans and Marshal Matthews jailed W. O. Welch and A. J. Vinson on a charge of forgery. Checks to the amount of $295 were cashed at the Citizen's bank and one for $111 at the Guaranty State bank, all seemingly properly endorsed with the added endorsement of the accused. Vinson claims to have won the checks in a crap game and has refunded the money to the bank, but railway officials have refused to drop the charge. Steve Lakey is being held as an important witness.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 11.—While flying a United States mail plane, J. L. Stevens encountered a baldheaded eagle, and despite the fact that he increased his speed and left the bird behind, he reported that the eagle trailed him for 900 miles into Cleveland.

The chase began as Stevens, making a run from New York to this city, soared over the Allegheny mountains in Northern Pennsylvania, and did not end until the machine landed at the flying field here.

Watchers at the field who saw the plane appear above the landing place, followed a short distance by the bird, believed for a time that it was a second machine.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. George L. North, of Naples, N. Y., that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago, last summer," she says "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and he was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion to another. I sent my husband after a doctor and after he was gone I thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger." Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

HIS CAMPAIGN BUDGET

Washington, Sept. 11.—Here are some of the campaign expenses of G. H. Foree, a defeated Missourian congressional aspirant, which he listed under oath in his expense account filed recently with W. Tyler Page, clerk of the House of Representatives.

"August 1.—Postage for 25 letters to influential men in my district, telling them that I was trusting to the kindness of the people and the mercy of God to elect me (both failed)—50 cents.

"August 2.—For professional services of a tonsorial artist in shaping up the sandy whiskers of an influential son or Erin—35 cents.

"August 3.—One jar of 'face creme' to fascinating blonde for passing out my cards—35 cents.

"August 4.—Another jar of 'face creme' to charming brunette for passing out mine of my cards—35 cents.

"August 5.—For her work among her many friends and admirers, a pair of open-work hose for a plump widow; the less said the better, special.—$1.

"July 27.—For street car fare to summer garden where Tony Steever and Congressional Committee held election one night a week previous to legal primary and nominated my opponent for Congress in the Tenth District—14 cents."

OLDEST, YOUNGEST VETS GET AIRPLANE FLIGHT

Houston, Texas, Sept. 11.—The oldest and youngest veterans of the Confederacy who attend the reunion at Houston, October 5 to 8, will get a free ride in a racing airplane.

If the oldest and youngest "Johnny" prefer to stay on the ground, the next in order of age get their chance to go up.

This offer was made today by H. C. Block and R. R. McCabe, pilots on the staff of S. E. J. Cox, a Houston oil magnate, who maintains his own flying field adjoining Hermann Park, where the veterans will be encamped while in Houston.

Block and McCabe, both veterans of the air service in the World War, are keenly interested in the preparations for the Confederate encampment. They promise more hair-raising stunts in the air than the old timers have ever seen, during the veterans stay on the neighboring tract.

There is a fleet of eight fast planes in the Cox Field hangar. It was there that Harold Van Buren, a young motion picture actor, recently rode a coddle strapped to the backbone of a fast plane while it executed spirals, loops, and nose dives in the air. Block piloted the machine. He promises not to "cut any monkeyshines" with the veterans, unless they find straight flying too tame.

"I'll bet those old boys will want everything we've got in the stunt line," grinned Block after he had made his offer.

The question now arises: who will be the oldest and the youngest veteran at Houston. Who are the candidates in your locality?

NO LAND FOR JAPS

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 11.—Following a prominent member's assertion that, if allowed to begin settlement and development of agricultural land in this vicinity, Japanese farmers would in short time completely control of the best soil, the Realty Board here recently adopted a resolution entitled "Keep the Japanese out of El Paso Valley."

The influential member expressed the conviction that it would be the policy of the Japanese, once established in the valley, to gradually extend their land-holdings by buying out adjacent tracts, until they had gained absolute control of the valley. Thus they would eliminate ownership of the land by any other race, he warned.

The board had been informed that a thousand acres in the valley had been purchased by representatives of a Japanese colony and negotiations were in progress for obtaining additional land for their settlement and development. The resolution passed seeks to discourage reality members and land owners in the valley of renting or selling to Japanese agriculturalists, in order to avoid what is styled a "yellow peril."

Let us Forget.

Let us remind you that Chamberlain's Tablets not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. Sold by Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

PRICE $1.50 PER YEAR.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

H. C. L. MUST COME DOWN

The cost of living has got to come down, and come down p. d. q., and that's all there is to that. The war is over and the excuses for two or three prices for what is sold and bought no longer holds good.

PREVARICATION

A great many people promise the candidates for office that they will vote for him, when they do not intend to do any such thing.

Yep! It's not a very truthful age. The philosophy of the schoolboy may be the cause.

We get so much advice it is a wonder we don't do better.

It's the price of spuds that counts, not silk shirts.

It is harder getting the country dry than it was to vote it.

Painted cheeks don't fool anybody.

The Irish in Ireland seem to be forinest themselves.

"Dainty refreshments" are relished by the women, but we menfolk want grub.

There are so many kickers that the grievance committee can always count on something to do.

Chances are your own extravagance hurts you more than the extravagance of the government.

Magazine editors are not the only ones who do not tell the truth. There is, for instance, the publicity of campaign expenses.

A married man doesn't need to join the aviation corps in order to be up in the air a good part of the time.

If the teachers attending the tri-county institute can teach as well as they look, there's no room for improvement.

Speaking of artificial respiration, old H. C. L. don't need it, but he ought to be rolled on a barrel, anyhow, on general principles.

The only way the church people can cure man of going fishing on Sundays is to find some way to make the fish quit biting on those days.

How in the Helen Blazes can there ever be a government of, for and by the people when only about thirty percent of the said people go to the polls to vote as to who shall run the government?

It looks very much as if bolshevism had dug for itself a large grave in Poland. We have noticed that when anybody starts out in the grave-digging business for anybody else it is only a question of time until it does that very trick—digs one for itself and topples right into it.

Instead of taxing excess profits, why not do away by law with such things entirely, and require that after a fair profit shall have been made the price of the article shall be reduced? Why not?

If you know what you want and what you are going after, and go after it boldly, everybody will get out of your way; but if you hesitate and are timid, everybody will show a disposition to trip you or throw an obstacle in your way.

We are in sympathy for our cotton growers who want a fair price for their cotton, but at the same time we are opposed to any such price manipulation that will make impossible a shirt-tail long enough to reach the trousers waistband.

Politics always breeds trouble. For instance Tammany can't get Colonel Bryan to take kindly to whiskey and Bryan can't get Tammany to take kindly to grape juice, and there you are. Why not compromise on one half of one percent of something or other?

With so many thousands of doctors and lawyers, sky pilots and air pilots, being graduated all the time, who in blizzen is going to chop the wood and draw the water. Or are we to quit chopping the wood and drawing the water, and just turn on the electric juice and the faucet? Also with the girls playing the piano with their feet and powdering their pretty noses, and doing nothing much else, who will wash the dishes and cook the meals?

In this issue of The Sentinel appears an article from Mr. M. G. Hazle, in which he seems to think there is some sort of scheme on foot to "steal out" the City Light Plant. The Sentinel is not aware of any such scheme, and believes Mr. Hazle is in error. However, if there is a movement to move the light plant to the Frost-Johnson Mill the Sentinel is opposed to the proposition.

For the first time in history war is painted as it is. The varnish, the glory has been taken off. It stands out in all its sordid horror. Nothing is new under the sun, not even the newest and most up-to-date girl striker of the present day, with bobbed hair, nor even the employer who complains of the fashion. Three years of drouth exhausted the herds and the bankers are forcing the sale of cows and calves to cover loans, the stockmen claim.

WARNING.

To the Citizens of Nacogdoches, City:

The third trial is on foot to rob the city of the electric plant, which is worth $150,000, all equipped and running, in first-class shape, with no debts on the said plant.

Now the party who is trying to devour and wrench out of our city government the control and ownership of said plant in the first place, to buy this plant out is to tear it up and move some parts of it to the Frost-Johnson Mill. They claim it can be run much cheaper by them furnishing the power. The above is all rot. In my opinion, when they get it all torn up and Frost-Johnson refuses to give them the power, and the city is without lights, then this goblin party will come up and say to the city, "You cannot build the plant back, so we will give you $20,000 for the old junk that is scattered around. So, the city will be forced to take the price they offer, then those same people will bring the same parts and erect it back as it is now. Then: "Mr. City, we want so much to pump the water for you, and we want so much for street lights, then we want so much for water for street sprinkling purposes." Another thing is this: They will charge you so much for pumping the water for the city that the city will be forced to sell them the waterworks, and then, good-bye; they will have you in slavery, or you will have to leave town.

Now, gentlemen for the good of the people of this city I ask you to stop this move at once.

I remain your friend and a citizen of this city.

M. G. Hazle

P. S. I am informed that the city is owing $10,000 and has no funds with which to pay it. As a citizen of Nacogdoches, I agree to be one of 100 men to pay $100 each to pay this off, then we can put the man back to work and carry on the city government.

RIDING TO A FALL

Milan, Italy, Sept. 13.—The immediate convocation of the Italian parliament to pass laws under which workmen may take over the management of industrial plants were demanded by the confederation of labor in session here. Resolutions favoring a compromise of the situation resulting from the occupation of plants by workmen throughout Italy were adopted at a stormy session of the confederation yesterday.

COMMITTEE ADJOURNS

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures completed its inquiry here shortly after noon today and recessed to meet in New York or Washington on September 22. Four witnesses who failed to appear will be heard in the East. They are William Wrightley, Charles Piez, W. A. Wofford and George Carroll. The plan to meet in Pittsburg was abandoned, Chairman Kenyon announced.

FIGHTING AT TRIEST

Triest, Italy, Sept. 11.—A revolt has broken out in this city and socialist troops and government troops are engaged in heavy fighting, with continuous artillery, rifle and machine gun fire. Barricades have been erected and trenches dug in the street of the city. The socialists are armed and provided with ammunition.

Italian troops and naval forces, however, succeeded by 8 o'clock tonight in completely restoring order. At that hour the troops were patrolling the streets and a destroyer anchored in the harbor commended the public square.

LATE PRISONER IS SAFE

Mexico City, Sept. 9.—Bertie C. Johnson, the British subject kidnaped by the bandit Zamora on August 10, escaped and is on his way to Guadalupe under the escort of government troops, the War Department has announced.

CONVENTION FIGHT OVER WEST TEXAS A. & M.

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 9.—The closing session of the Democratic state convention, marked the first important clash on the convention floor yesterday afternoon when delegates from West Texas lost their fight in which they were seeking to have the convention recognize officially, the proposed West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College by a vote of 522 to 378.

The platform, making 25 definite demands on the thirty-seventh legislature for progressive legislation, was adopted with no fight on any of its planks. The West Texas A. & M. came as a minority report from the resolutions subcommittee and was an effort to amend the platform as submitted.

The committee passed a resolution empowering each committeeman to appoint a woman assistant in each senatorial district.

The rest of the day's session was confined to speeches by Governor W. P. Hobby and the address of Pat M. Neff, democratic nominee for governor.

Subscriptions to the democratic national campaign fund reached $43,250 with Dallas county leading with a subscription of $6,000.

STILL LICKING 'EM

Warsaw, Sept. 10.—The Polish armies on the northeastern front delivered a series of successful attacks upon the Russians and took 3,300 prisoners.

SCHOOL IS POSTPONED ACCOUNT LABOR SHORTAGE

Lockhart, Texas, Sept. 10.—The labor shortage here caused the school board to postpone the opening of the public schools two weeks in order that the school children may remain in the fields picking cotton. The prospective crop of this county is estimated at 30,000 bales.

REFUSED TO SUMMON COX

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A refusal to summon Governor Cox as a witness before the senate committee investigating campaign expenses was announced by Senator Kenyon, chairman. He gave out a telegram from Frank Munsey, an Eastern publisher, demanding that the presidential nominee be summoned. The senator's reply said that Edmund Moore appeared before the committee as the personal representative of the Ohio executive and the committee considered that sufficient. The senator said that the telegram received from Munsey was typical of hundreds received by him and other members of the committee, and indicated that his public announcement to the Munsey message was intended to serve as an answer to other telegrams and letters which might be in prospect.

CANADIAN DRUG-GIST ARRESTED

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 10.—A. D. Sharlen, a wealthy curio dealer, with stores in Vancouver and Montreal, was arrested here today by federal narcotic agents on a charge of conspiring to import morphine and opium from Mexico. A code book was found in Sharlen's possession containing the addresses of drug stores in nearly every large city in the country.

DENIES STRIKE CALLED OFF

Chicago, Sept. 13.—John Grunap, president of the Chicago Yardmen's Association, one of the unions which called the switchmen's strike April 1, today denied the widely circulated reports that the strike had been called off. Grunap said the strikers of other centers had even refused to take a vote on ending the strike, while the Chicago men voted to remain out. Grunap is disputed by T. J. Meisenheider, head of the yard men of the Kansas City district. Meisenheider claims the Chicago strikers gave a majority in favor of remaining on strike, however.

MACSWINEY STILL ALIVE.

London, Sept. 14.—Terence MacSwiney was appreciably weaker this morning, as the result of his hunger strike. The bulletin said he was still conscious and his mind active. Today is the thirty-third day since he began his fast, in protest of his arrest by the British authorities at Cork.

EVER BILIOUS?

Charleston, Miss.—Mrs. R. V. Heins, of this place, says: "I have never had to use very much medicine, because if I felt headache, dizziness, or colds, bad taste in the mouth, which comes from torpid liver, I would take a dose or more of Black-Draught, and it would straighten me out and make me feel as good as new. We have used in our family for years and it certainly is the best liver medicine I ever saw. It has not only saved me money, it has helped keep my system in shape, and has never weakened me as so many physics do. I recommend it to my friends and am glad to do so." Black-Draught is the old, reliable liver medicine which you have doubtless heard much about. When you feel badly all over, stomach not right, bad taste in your mouth, bilious, or have a headache, try The Dorf's Black-Draught. At all Druggists.

THE DORF'S

BOARD BUYS BONDS

Austin, Texas, Sept. 10.—At its regular monthly meeting, the state board of education purchased $292,650 of school bonds for the benefit of the permanent school fund. A total of $436,450 of bonds was offered. Twenty-five percent in cash was paid on the larger issues and 50 percent on the smaller issues purchased. The board also paid a hundred thousand dollars on bonds previously purchased thus reducing their amount due to $551,000. Included in the purchase of new bonds were six issues of independent school district bonds and thirty-three issues of common school district bonds.

That will probably be the last purchase of bonds to be made by the board during the present administration, as it is desired to use all available funds during the next few months in liquidating its indebtedness, which now exceeds half a million dollars. The board purchased during the fiscal year, which ended on August 31, over a million dollars in school bonds, thus breaking all previous records.

CRISIS IN ITALY

London, Sept. 9.—Friday will be a critical day in the history of the movement of Italian metal workers to occupy the large industrial plants of that country, the Milan correspondent of the London Herald, a labor organ, says. The general confederation of labor will meet in Milan on that day. If no decision is reached the workers will take immediate action, according to the correspondent, who declares the ultimate aim of the metal workers' federation is the socialization of industry, and this aim, now almost within their grasp, overshadows claims for higher wages. He says Friday may see the extension of the soviet principle to the other industries of Italy.

MOTOR VEHICLES REGISTERED

Austin, Texas, Sept. 9.—The state highway department has announced that registration of motor vehicles up to August 11 of this year totalled 388,900, with an increase of 3,226 during the past week included. The total for the year 1919 was 331,310. The department has issued so far this year 3,146 dealers licenses; 3,830 motor cycles have been registered; 18,638 chauffeurs licenses have been issued and 85,249 transfers were made. It is confidently expected by the department that there will be four hundred thousand motor vehicles registered this year.

CALOMEL

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury—quicksilver; and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't sllivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

MAYFIELD SHOULDERS ALL RESPONSIBILITY

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 9.—Testimony in the trial by court martial of Colonel Billie Mayfield was concluded last night at 8 o'clock with the submission of a signed statement by the accused.

The statement shouldered full responsibility for the attempted arrest of G. V. Sanders, editor of the Houston Press, at Houston, August 30. Mayfield declared: "If I were in supreme command again, as I was at the time I gave the order, I would do it again. I would break up that menace to the lives of the boys under my command and the lives of the people of Galveston."

Declaring that as a former newspaper man, he knew an "overwhelming lot of abuse" would fall on the officer attempting to arrest Sanders, Colonel Mayfield said he "waited until General Wolters got out of the city before issuing the order, because I wanted to take that abuse instead of the general."

Hardly a day passed, Mayfield stated, but that some officer or man in his command, came to him with the request that he be permitted to don civilian clothes for a day. When asked for their reasons, Colonel Mayfield said they would answer: "Have you seen the Press today?"

Editor Sanders who spent an hour and a half on the stand today was quizzed regarding articles on the martial law situation. Several times he admitted that stories bearing on the martial law question were based upon hearsay alone. Other stories printed, the editor said, were ex parte versions. He also admitted caricaturing Brigadier General Wolters as "General Jake" and as "General Disappointment," but said these were merely humorous articles and not intended to create feeling against the guardsmen. Society at the hotel, the hall of which is being used as a court room, today deserted the beach for the trial, a score or more fashionably dressed women appearing among the spectators. No decision will be made public by the court, a transcript of evidence going forward to Governor Hobby for his approval.

THRIFTY REPUBLICANS

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Charges by Governor Cox that the republicans had fixed quotas and planned extensive fund-raising drives in at least 51 cities, and that the national committee had had part in assessing cities' quotas, were admitted on the stand before the senate investigating committee today by Harry Blair, assistant to Fred Upham, republican national treasurer. Senator Reed brought out that the treasurer's office planned to organize extensive drives in 54 cities, or three more than Governor Cox mentioned when he read his list of 51 at Pittsburg.

The entire paragraph appearing in Mr. Blair's copy as "Form 101" was omitted from that sent in by the governor. This paragraph suggested that contributions of from $5,000 to $10,000 would be accepted, removing the thousand-dollar limit set by Chairman Hays. The copy furnished by the governor merely suggested that contributions from $5,000 upward be received. While drives were planned in 54 cities, Blair said it was impossible to carry out the program because of the local conditions at some places. He mentioned Dallas and Houston as cities where drives had been abandoned. Blair admitted when questioned by Senator Reed that the governor simply understated when he charged that the republicans had planned drives in 51 cities.

COX'S CHARGE CORROBORATED

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The first evidence supporting Governor Cox's charge that large quotas were assigned to the principal cities by the republican campaign committee were introduced in the senate committee investigation when Dudley Blossom, who helped raise Cleveland's quota, testified that Governor Cox's figures of $400,000 for that city were correct. Senator Reed called the witness' attention to the quota-sheet submitted last week by Republican Treasurer Upham fixing the amount of the entire state of Ohio at $400,000. A list of 3,000 names as "prospects" in Cuyahoga county (Cleveland) was provided. Blossom said the prospects were known republicans thought to be able to contribute to the campaign fund. Senator Reed remarked that there were surely more than 3,000 republicans in Cuyahoga county. Blossom said when he left Cleveland on Labor Day $74,000 had been pledged and workers were trying to reach the goal of $400,000.

Galway, Ireland, Sept. 9.—A constable was shot dead in a railway station here last night. Three of his assailants were killed.

To Our Friends and Customers

There have been some who could not understand certain advertising recently seen in the Dallas papers offering two McGRAW TIRES for the price of one, and in order that you might understand that such tires are FACTORY SECONDS we are publishing letter from the McGRAW TIRE & RUBBER CO., which is self-explanatory.

Dallas, Texas, September 4, 1920
Mr. Ben T. Wilson, Nacogdoches, Texas,
Dear Sir: Am in receipt of your letter of August 31st regarding enclosed copy of advertisement from the Dallas News.

We believe it has been the custom of every Tire Company to sell their seconds and at various times Tire Companies have old stock on hand which they would be unable to sell to their regular customers. Therefore they mark them "SECOND" and are sold as such. That is, without any guarantee whatsoever.

A great many tire concerns which sell tires of this type are apt to attract the attention of the uninitiated in the tire business and get out very classy ads, and we are returning your enclosed ad to you asking that you read this over and notice the parts that we have marked in brackets. In other words we may state that the Cullum Co., Inc., is our regular distributor for Dallas county and if you purchased any McGraw Firsts from them you would pay the regular price but if you asked for something cheaper they would attempt to sell you McGraw Seconds—two for the price of one, which means about fifty off the list.

Trusting this answers your question and assuring you that we have not changed our policy in any way, shape or form, in regard to protecting our distributors, we remain,

Yours very truly,
THE McGRAW TIRE AND RUBBER CO. OF DALLAS
W. M. Foster,
Branch Manager.

We handle nothing but McGRAW FIRSTS--6000 and 8000 Mile Guaranteed Tires.

We back the guarantee on anything you buy from us.

County Agent C. H. Deabler has resigned his position and is now at Laredo, where he is in the employ of the Arneur Fertilizer Company. Mrs. Deabler and the children will leave in a few days, and the family will make their permanent home in Corsicana. Mr. Deabler's resignation was caused by his inability to secure a dwelling, giving up the quest therefor after nearly a year of effort.

We regret exceedingly to see this good family leave Nacogdoches but of course they could not remain without a place to live. Many other desirable citizens are deterred from locating here by reason of the scarcity of houses. Something ought to be done to relieve the situation. At least a thousand additional people would locate here if they could only find a place to live.

The Sentinel joins in congratulations and good wishes.

One Chance in Ten

They say that nine men out of every ten underestimate their power and ability to accomplish. The tenth man wins.

One man out of ten saves money. One man out of ten succeeds. Could the lesson be plainer? Do you want to succeed? Of course you do. So do the other nine. But not one of the ten decides that he will work and save, and that one wins. You can do the same. Our bank is ready to open an account with you and to offer you every encouragement. It is not an easy matter to save money, but it is the price success demands.

TEACHERS ADD LIFE TO THE CITY

Nacogdoches is a scene of unusual activity this week. Teachers from three counties included in the tri-county teachers' institute, and many other counties not included, are here enjoying the big meeting. The streets are crowded with pretty schoolmarm and in some instances, notwithstanding he is frowned upon by most of the profession, so the schoolkids think. Cupid has been busy. All of the teachers, aside from getting right down to "brass tacks" for work while attending the institute, are in for a good time, as is evidenced by all of them attending places of amusement after their "work hours." All of the teachers say that the institute this year is particularly successful and all are in for the tri-county idea. The lectures by some of the most eminent men in the country are especially fine. "People in the city interested in school life will find helpful information by attending the institute all they can. Incidentally, the school kids are getting ready for their share of it next week—their share to last nine long months. Be sure and go to Cason, Monk & Company's demonstration of Majestic Ranges, by an expert from the Majestic factory, during the week beginning September 20th. Each purchaser of any style or size of Majestic range during the demonstration week receives a gift of a full set of fine cooking ware, without extra charge.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

There are several historical associations in Texas, organized for plausible purposes and having similar forms. One is a Texas State Historical Association, with headquarters in San Antonio. It meets once a month and solicits membership of all Texas pioneers.

Too little attention is paid by the average citizen to historic landmarks and points along that line.

There are aged people who were born and raised and are yet living in San Antonio who have never been inside the Alamo, and who can't tell what about it.

Recently a learned literary lady of San Antonio was an attendant at the annual Chauauqua meeting in New York, and there heard a learned lecture by Dr. Somebody, in which he ended by reading a most impressive poem written by Mrs. Carl Wilson Baker, of Nacogdoches, Texas. Where is Nacogdoches, and who is Mrs. Baker? The question was a stunner. But not alone to this lady. There are others.

How many people in Nacogdoches can tell the original boundaries of the county? Such cities as Dallas and Paris had not been started when Nacogdoches county was founded. Their present territory formed a part of Nacogdoches county, and Albert Aldrich Nelson was county surveyor. He laid off the town of Crockett. The pioneer Aldrich family of Crockett were his relatives.

And how many Fort Worth people know that Hyde Jennings' mother, formerly a widow James of Nacogdoches, was the original grantee of land now in that city?

How many of the teachers in the great colored school of Prairie View near Hempstead, know that it is in sight of the famous old Grace homestead, where Sam Houston's tired and hungry heroes took their last rest and cooked their last grub before the eventful battle of San Jacinto?

And how many of Hardeman's Cavalry brigade during the last days of the Confederate war realized that they were travelling and camping on the very grounds that Houston's little band of patriots were upon in the days of 1836, on the Brazos river, around old Washington, San Felipe, Richmond, Columbia, Harrisburg and other notable points and places? Did they know or even think what about all this?

Do the graduates of Sam Houston normal at Huntsville take any notice of Sam Houston's only and last home in Texas there? Sam Houston may not have been, in every sense, an ideal man, but he was truly a real man, a patriot and a hero.

Let high schools teach high education and higher aspirations, but not spurn the meek and lowly people, and obscure landmarks, the brave pioneers and brave hearts that enacted deeds that made Texas the grandest state in the grandest galaxy on earth. Teach the children the story, the inspiring story. Small events, numerous and varied, make up the great story—the story of Texas. J.E.M.

MURPHEY-ROBINSON

Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Rev. J. L. Massey, Mr. Frank Murphey and Miss Alice Robinson were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Mr. Massey. The ceremony was attended by only a few friends, and was a quiet affair. The ceremony was performed about 3 o'clock.

Miss Robinson is a former high school girl, having graduated from the high school of this city last year. She was one of the leading pupils of her class. Mr. Murphey, it is understood, is one of the progressive young business men of the day.

All of the boys go with high enthusiasm, and think they will be able to make a good showing at the institution they are going to attend. They are all interested in athletics. One boy in the bunch made the remark that he was going to win out in a certain branch of athletics down there "or bust." This boy did not look like he would "bust."

The boys leaving for the college tonight are Floyd Woodlan, Tucker Mast, Cason Mast, Wilfred Blount, Homer Lyles, Edwin Gaston, Eldridge Gaston and Burk Summers.

COLORED TEACHERS INSTITUTE

The colored teachers of Nacogdoches and Angelina counties met with the Nacogdoches Colored High School, September 13, 1920, in their annual Colored Teachers' Institute with more than forty teachers present.

The session opened with warm greetings and response from the teachers. One very timely feature of the opening was the scripture reading and comment of same by Rev. T. A. Amos, pastor of the C. M. E. church of the city. He emphasized the idea of the teachers being examples in their respective communities. He also stressed the need of the lady teachers especially using discretion in their manner of dress. He urged that they be neat, decent and honest. The County Chairman, Prof. P. E. Walton, then entered into the regular routine of work as per the program. Every teacher took great interest in the discussions. The day's work closed very pleasantly.

HE TRAVELED ALL OVER THE WORLD

But Tanlac Helped Him More than Treatments Here, in Europe and in South America.

"I have been treated for indigestion in France, Italy, Switzerland, North and South America and in fact all over the world, but Tanlac is the only thing I have ever found that did me any good," said H. L. Finniger, watch maker for Nathan Dohrman & Co., San Francisco, Cal., living at 36 Plato St.

"Always after eating," continued Mr. Finniger, "I would have such cramps in my stomach that I could hardly stand it. I had fallen off until I weighed only ninety-eight pounds and was so nervous that the least little thing would upset me. I could sleep but little and got up in the mornings all fagged out. My strength and energy left me and I felt like I would have to give up entirely. Besides taking every thing in the way of treatments and medicines I tried dieting and the rest cure, but never got more than a little passing relief.

"The way Tanlac brought me out was marvelous, I can eat anything now without any trouble afterwards, I gained twenty pounds and my nerves are as steady as a clock. I sleep fine every night and get up in the mornings ready for a good breakfast and a full day's work, and an enjoying better health than I have in years."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co., Swift Bros. & Smith and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Co.
