MARY SOCIETY

The girls and young ladies of Sacred Heart Church have organized themselves into a society which will be known as the Children of Mary.

Last Tuesday afternoon a meeting was called and was responded to by twenty applications for membership. The purpose of the society is to bring the young ladies and children into closer contact with church work. and to foster devotion to the Mother of God and, by their example, encourage others.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Annie Wolseifer, president; Anna Amelia Smith, vice president; Louise Rhein, secretary; Irma Greve, treasurer.

Judging from the bulletins coming from the West Virginia coal fields some ex-war correspondents have landed jobs.

Provision for New Bond Issues Places South in Lead for Good Roads.

Engineers Evolve Better Pavements-Highway Officials Turn to the Dustless Types-Cost of Surfacing Below War Prices.

By CLIFFORD SPURRIER LEE. Director, Highways Information Service, New York.

Recent provision by the legislatures of North Carolina, Virginia, Missouri and other southern states for bond issues to provide funds for extensive highway construction have placed the states of the South far to the front in the matter of good roads. North Carolina has provided a bond issue of $50,000,000, Virginia $40,000,000 and Missouri $60,000,000.

Texas is doing a large amount of 130 new projects involving 1,106.1 miles at a total cost of $7,366,314. The state is now building 192 projects at a cost of $26,955,348. Early Carrier of Mails Certainly Not in the Business for Purpose of Making Money.

Maurice Proctor, a man of wearth, was so anxious for his coach to bear the distinguishing "U. S. Mail" sign of the postal service that he made absolutely certain, when a service line was established between Mineral Point (where he lived) and Dodgeville, Ia., he would be the lucky one allotted the

Which is to say, he volunteered to do the job for a remuneration of 1 cent a year in wages.

Every day, rain or shine, he twice carried the mail between the two cities, proud of the "U. S. Mail" on the side of his coach. At the end of the year his enthusiasm had not worn off, so he construction work, having completed renewed his contract, agreeing to do the work at the same rate for four more years-in all, for 4 cents. Arbor-like bungalows are built by Australian bower birds. These bungalows are decorated by the birds with flowers and other bright objects. .

Sometimes one bird will move a flower placed in position by a fellow. The result is a free fight, for none of the birds will tolerate interference or criticism.

There are several different kinds of bungalows, and each is built by a variety of the bower bird. These structures have nothing whatever to do with the birds' nests. There is a garden in front of the bungalow, and great attention is paid to keeping this fresh. WISDOM OF TAKING "DAY OFF"

Leisure Time, That Has Been Earned, Means Better Health and Better Work Afterward.

"There is nothing that clears the cobwebs so effectually out of one's brain as a day off," the Young-Old Philosopher was saying. "Just as we plan our work, we should plan our play; only, most of us, in the clamor of the times, forget that to loaf occasionally is as necessary as to drudge; and we confuse leisure with laziness.

"I know in my own case how difficult it is for me to make up my mind, definitely and unbendingly, that I require, now and then, a morning away from

"So if the day off means so much to us, mentally and physically, why are we afraid to take it when the opportunity arrives? I like nothing better than to see, in the big town, a group of middle-aged men hastening out in a motor car on some crisp morning, their golf sticks piled beside them, while others trudge to dreary tasks. They have earned their liberty, no doubtlet us hope so, at any rate; and they will be all the better tomorrow for those few hours of delightful sport and health-giving freedom.

"Too soon the curtain is rung down on this glowing world we live in; and it is beartbreaking to consider how many spots there are close at our gates which we never find the time to see and enjoy. Partly it is our own fault. The green earth cries out to us to come and tread the corridors of the countryside; instead, we cling to the granite of the city, and pace desolate hallways-the more desolate because they are crowded with people we do not know. And all of them are hurrying-where?

"I wonder. And so, no doubt, do they."-From the Outlook.

DATES FROM "DIVINE RIGHT"

"Star Chamber Proceedings" an Echo of the Days When Kings Could Do No Wrong.

"Star Chamber Proceeding" is an expression now almost invariably used to denote an official action which is conducted in secret and, usually, in a high-handed manner.

The phrase comes to us from the fact that centuries ago there existed in England an all-powerful tribunal consisting of a committee of the king's privy council. The custom was either instituted or revived by Henry VII.

This council had omnipotent powers and was unfettered by rules of law. It dealt with civil and criminal cases alike by "bill and information," without the aid of a jury, and could inflict kinds of odds and ends. As soon as any form of punishment short of

The original was "star chamber" because in the room where the council met were deposited the Jewish bonds known as "stars" from the Hebrew word shetar, meaning a covenant .-Brooklyn Eagle.

Chinese Shoes Homemade.

There are shoemakers among the Chinese and shoes of varying grades are for sale in the shops, but many of the shoes worn by upper-class Chinese are products not of the shops but of be home. For the Chinese woman of good family who has been educated in the old-fashioned way, considers it both a duty and a pleasure to make the family shoes, and she lavishes upon them the money, the leisure, the taste and skill that do not enter into the making of the commercial article. writes Roland Gorbold in Asia Maga-

The soles, very much turned up at the toe, are made of bamboo and pith covered with white linen and are extremely rigid and light. The uppers of a pair in my collection are of pale blue silk, with an appliqued toe and motifs of purple and much embroidered in yellow, red and blue, enriched with gold.

Long Career as Statesman

John Quincy Adams was the only ex-President who had a long public career after leaving the White House. Two years after his retirement from the presidency in 1829 he was elected to the house of representatives where he served until his death, more than 16 years later. He rendered ten years of public service after passing seventy, and was known as "the old man eloquent." Edward Everett Hale, in his "Memories of a Hundred Years," tells of a Down East sea captain who said he wished "they could take the old engine out of Adams and put it into a new hull." Adams was stricken in his seat at the capitol in Washington on a spot that is still pointed out to visitors.

Browning's Poetry.

The truth is that many readers of verse resent any demand upon their intellects; poetry to them being only a pleasing indulgence—an occasional substitute for a sherbet-not to be taken seriously. Certainly Browning's poetry is not for such. No one today who knows "Sordello" derides it, for, difficult as it is to the beginner, it contains many veins of the pure gold of poetry and its pictures of the passionate, tumultuous life of the late Twelfth and early Thirteenth centurles in Italy, with the flerce conflicts of Guelf and Ghibelline by which it was torn, are unequaled in vividness and truth by any historian.

Dig for Fish in Florida.

Izaak Walton scarcely would believe his eyes if he were to walk through the country near here, according to a telegram from New Smyrna, Fla., and encounter negroes digging live fish from the ground as if they were potatoes, and even persons accustomed to the miracles of this age would look twice and then set out in search of an oculist.

But the mudfish, a queer member of the finny tribe, inhabits streams or ponds which have mud banks or bottoms. The fish is black and weighs up to five or six pounds. When the water in a pond evaporates, as it does during certain seasons of the year, leav ing only a mass of roud which on the surface is practically dry, it doesn't worry the fish. # Getting Eyesight Back After Measles

(Thursday Health Talk No. 24.) (By R. W. Zilar, D. C.)

UNCLE BEN SAYS-"To be popular with your neighbors, Nevvy, make your visit brief and cheerful. The only man who's paid to look down in the mouth is the dentist."

The nature of measles is such that during and for a short time after the attack, the eyes are extremely sensitive to light. In most cases with a little care, the patient recovers from an attack without any apparent impairment of eyesight. But if the eyes are weak, then the disease may leave serious after-effects.

Aside from the spinal nerves that by connective lines, keep the eye organs in healthful condition, the eyes are also sensitive to defective kidney action. Chiropractic spinal adjustments then, which will free the spinal nerves affecting the eyes, and the kidney nerves, will have good effect in restoring normal eyesight.

BLIND IN ONE EYE-RECOVERS

"When I was six years old measles left me blind. About one year ago the sight returned to my right eye so that I could see with glasses. But I could not see out of the left eye at all until about four weeks ago, after I had started Chiropractic adjustments. I can see with both eyes now and without the aid of glasses can read any kind of printing. Chiropractic did for me what no doctor had been able to do."-Roy E. Dougherty, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1274.

MANY FEATURES ON THE FAIR PROGRAM

There will be many feature attractions at the 1921 Louisiana State Fair. in addition to the mammoth arrays of exhibits. In fact, the management has taken special pains to provide one of the best possible fields of entertainment, and the list already booked indicates that none will be disappointed. Among the features will be the following: Seven days of horse racing; two days of automobile races; seven days of auto polo, a thrilling game played in stripped motor cars; band concerts by Al Sweet's aging aggregation each afternoon and evening: ten hippodrome acts; Gladway amusements furnished by the C. A. Wortham Company, with assurance that all the shows will be clean and interesting; spectacular fireworks each evening, featuring "Montezuma," in which is depicted the destruction of the Aztecs; annual football game between Louisiana and Arkansas Universities, and three other football contests; Better Babies Contest to be staged in Schumpert Home, concluding with program in the Coliseum; Old Fiddlers' Contest, to be staged in the Coliseum, free to the public. with aged players competing for prizes; auction sales of cattle and swine; parades of winning live stock, and various other features.

For the convenience of visitors coming to the Fair by automobile, special parking accommodations will be provided inside the Fair Grounds, with no extra charge for the privilege of parking. Many visitors are expected to take advantage of this offer, and traveling by auto the fair is expected to be unusually popular, owing to the many miles of model road leading to Shreveport.

The fact that reduced rates have been authorized will help to swell the crowds coming by railroad.
