YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

TO VISIT OUR INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE EXHIBIT at the Texas State Fair, Dallas, October 8th to 23rd. We invite all our thirty thousand former students, their friends and those interested in America's largest business training school to visit our booth in the Exposition Building, and see our splendid exhibit which has won first honors in state fairs in four different states. Our display will be interesting and educational to old and young. We will have demonstrations on some of the most modern office appliances, which are taught in our school, exhibit of student's work in bookkeeping, business training, shorthand, typewriting, business finance, penmanship, cotton classing and telegraphy.

Visit our booth and let our Professors Thornton and Baker show you why we have the largest school of the kind in America; you will see clearly why it is that we can make you a more practical and thorough stenographer in three and one-half months with the famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand than other schools teaching other systems can in seven months, and why it is with our original copyrighted system of bookkeeping and business training we can give you a course of both bookkeeping and business training in less time than other schools teaching other systems can. We want a mere theoretical course in bookkeeping and why it is that our practical department of telegraphy, the largest in the United States, with a loop of the Cotton Belt railroad train order wire, giving real messages to our students, using every station blank and record book that is used by the Western Union or Cotton Belt Railroad, turns out practical operators and station agents, and why it is that we can place our graduates in good positions and have more calls than we can fill; also investigate the practical manner in which we teach cotton classing.

Write today for catalogue and read what we guarantee to give you, what our former students say we have given them, and what their employers say of their exceptional efficiency. Get facts and you will decide at once the kind of education you want and the place to get it.

INTEREST AT LORENA CENTERS ON GRAND JURY

Waco, Texas, Oct. 4.—With the condition of Sheriff Bob Buchanan, Louis Crow and Edward Howard, who were seriously wounded in the clash between the sheriff and the Ku Klux Klan at Lorena Saturday night, slightly improved, interest here centers in the expected announcement by District Judge R. I. Munroe of a date for the convening of a grand jury to investigate the incident, in which seven other men received injuries. Lorena citizens today are still searching for the sheriff's gun, which disappeared when he was knocked down after attempting to halt the masked leader of the parade. Deputy Sheriff M. Burton said today that reports that he shot Sheriff Buchanan were untrue, and that he did not fire until after the sheriff cried "I'm shot!" Official investigators have been informed that the people of Lorena are withholding comment until after the officials have acted. Citizens of the little town continue to profess that they have no knowledge of who fired the shots which wounded Buchanan and several bystanders. The whole affair is shrouded in mystery, and many persons here believe an official investigation will add little to the known facts.

CRITICISES KLAN

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The Ku Klux Klan engenders deep hatred in the hearts of the creeds and races which are discriminated against particularly when the Klan lays claim to 100 percent Americanism, John Clinin, assistant United States District Attorney, said in a statement today after an investigation of the organization. "There is nothing in its charter of a sinister or mystic nature, but it is apparent that membership is automatically barred to negroes, Catholics and Jews. It is unfortunate that an organization of this kind should be instituted at this particular time, when the world is seeking to recover from the shock of the World War." He assailed the Klan's 100 percent American claim, asserting that all creeds and classes aspire to win the war.

REQUIT MUST COME THROUGH PROPER CHANNELS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—The attorney general's department will not entertain an opinion as to whether a parole of the Ku Klux Klan in this region, or other body of men, is a violation of the Texas laws unless such opinion is sought through the proper channels. First Assistant Attorney General R. E. Davis said today.

JOLT FOR PARADERS

Smithville, Texas, Oct. 4.—The city council of Smithville has fixed a penalty against any person refusing to assist an officer when duly summoned to help enforce the anti-parade law here.

PRODUCT OF IGNORANCE

Waco, Texas, Oct. 4.—"The contention that any group of persons have the right to take the administration of justice into their own hands is a product of ignorant and criminal minds," declared Judge Robert G. Street today in charging the grand jury to investigate cases where persons were whipped and warned to leave communities in this country.

STORY APPOINTED

Austin, Texas, Oct. 3.—R. G. Story of Tyler was appointed assistant attorney general before the Court of Criminal Appeals by the governor today. Story succeeds R. H. Hamilton, who was appointed to the bench of the Commission of Appeals. The court convenes today from its yearly vacation.

STABBED HER HUSBAND

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Mamie Lawson was charged with assault to murder following the stabbing of her husband, Hal Lawson, early today. Both the woman and her husband, who is reported in a critical condition, decline to discuss the affair.

Mr. J. G. Frederick of Garrison, one of the Sentinel's good friends, was business visitor in the city Tuesday

ALAN'S VICTIM DIES IN WACO SANITARIUM

Waco, Texas, Oct. 5.—Louis Crow, a victim of the Lorena tragedy, died at 9:55 this morning. Sheriff Bob Buchanan is doing nicely and his recovery is expected. Ed Howard, the Waco policeman who was shot in the abdomen, is not out of danger, but is doing fairly well. Carl West and Julian Minier, two of the others wounded, are improving. The grand jury will not be called until the results of the wounds are known in all cases. Grand jury action, it is maintained, would be only temporary in the event of the subsequent death of any of the parties. In the meantime County Attorney Tacey is gathering testimony to be presented when the grand jury convenes. Tacey refused to give any information concerning the investigation pending grand jury action.

OLD LANDMARK PASSES

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 5.—Among old landmarks which disappeared with the recent flood here was the "Quinta," better known as the first postoffice, on Dwyer avenue, in this city. It was built some 160 years ago, and passed with the Alamo in claim to more historic events in the city's past.

The structure was stone. It stood on the bank of the river just across from the courthouse. About a year ago it was condemned to be razed to make room for widening Dwyer avenue, but before the order was carried out the flood started the removal. The foundation crumpled and one end and side of the building is a mass of ruins.

Deeds show the "Quinta" was built in 1761. In 1814 it was confiscated by a Spanish general, who had sacked the outpost, and used as a prison for more than 600 American women and girls, who were forced to grind corn and perform other labor.

It next entered the limelight of Texas history when it was selected as the first postoffice for San Antonio in 1821. Then it was the property of John Bowen, the first postmaster of San Antonio. It remained in the family until the past few years, when it was sold to several Mexican immigrants, one of two small ones being retained. The structure at the time was in such a state of decay that it had to be abandoned until the last.

STRIKE ACTION DEFERRED

Waco, Texas, Oct. 5.—B. J. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, today announced that the railroad unions would take no action on the strike question before October 19, and probably for some time after that date. The announcement followed a conference of the executives of 15 railroad labor organizations.

PLUM TREE IN BLOOM

Carthage, Texas, Oct. 5.—A Japanese plum tree at the home of Constable P. W. Pitman here which bore a heavy crop of plums this year, is now white with blooms. A few forest trees have also put out new leaves as though for spring.

UNEMPLOYMENT LOSS

Washington, Oct. 4.—Losses in earnings for workers in the United States the past fiscal year, due to involuntary idleness, were placed at more than $5,500,000,000 in an estimate today by experts at the National Conference on Unemployment. This estimate, it is explained, covered the loss in wages because of the unemployment of all the jobless in the country from July, 1920, to August 21, 1921, and is based on an approximation of normal pay levels rather than the scales at the peak of high wages. The efforts of the conference will be turned to a remedy for the economic loss from such reductions in the earning power of workers in future by a stabilized industrial plan.

MISAPPLIED BANK'S FUNDS

Abilene, Texas, Oct. 4.—James Lyons, Jr., upon a plea of guilty of misapplication of the funds of a Dallas bank, was sentenced to seven years in Leavenworth in the United States District Court this morning by Judge James C. Wilson.

HARDING AND CABINET WILL HEAD PROCESSION

Washington, Oct. 5.—President Harding and the members of his cabinet will walk at the head of the procession on Armistice Day that escorts the American unknown dead from the capitol to Arlington National Cemetery. The decision to pay this tribute to the memory of all the men who lost their lives and identify overseas was reached yesterday at a cabinet meeting.

TO INVESTIGATE KLAN'S ACT

C Sherman, Texas, Oct. 3.—Judge Silas Hare today delivered to an extraordinary grand jury a charge to investigate the facts and bearing here on September 20, 1921, Fred Zeigler, a former hotel man, as well as the activities of any organization in the county which "presumed to take into its own hands the administration of justice."

THE WORLD SERIES

New York, Oct. 5.—New York was awake early today to enjoy the final game of its own world series. Hours before the two teams went into battle at the Polo Grounds crowds of fans from the four corners of the earth were hurrying toward the park, hoping to gain admittance to the Mecca of the baseball world. Some, in fact, didn't sleep at all. At midnight several fans gathered at the entrance of the Brush Stadium. It was a cold night for the waiting fans, who stuck to their posts like sentinels. Some brought sandwiches and hot drinks in vacuum bottles. Toward daylight the line grew longer. All along the line the Nationals were favored. Never in the history of a series were two teams so evenly matched.

MRS. DOLLAHITE ENTERTAINS

Miss Emma Powers, Effie Mae Carter, Doris Moans, Annie Weaver, Irene Cleveger and Mary L. Bailey, officers of the young ladies class of the Baptist Sunday-school met at the home of Mrs. S. D. Dollahite Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock to discuss their official duty.

They were shown into the dining room where an appetizing dinner was served, followed by jokes, laughter and merry conversation.

After dinner all re-entered the reception room and studied the duty of each officer and made future plans for the class.

SEARCH FOR NEGRO ROBBER

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 5.—Police today continued the search for the lone negro who last night terrorized and robbed the occupants of a camp at Lake Worth.

STATES STARS IN THE FLAG

The definite location of each star in the flag of the United States and the state for which it stands, is fixed by law. The first classification was made December 7, 1787, and the final classification was made Feb. 12, 1912. The stars are arranged from left to right, beginning at the top of the blue field and the stars are designated in the order of their ratification of the constitution or admission to the Union. Following is the official classification: First row—Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina. Second row—New Hampshire, Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee. Third row—Ohio, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri. THE WILSON FOUNDATION

When a man is an individual who is not a member of the Wilson Foundation, it is not his duty to contribute to the support of the Wilson Foundation. The Wilson Foundation is a service to the country and its people. It is not a charity. It is not a business. It is a service to the country and its people. It is not a charity. It is not a business. It is a service to the country and its people.

Independent of the purposes of the fund to honor a great American citizen there is an objective sought with direct appeal of its own. The service to be rewarded is a service the attainment of which will constitute an important part in the country's glory.

Stimulating the mind of the people to action along these lines is a most fitting tribute to the former president, for these ideals are the very ideals for which he stood and for which he stands today.

NOT A "LEISURE CLASS"

Reading advance "dope" on the football season, somebody remarked the other day that he wondered when college men got any time to devote to their studies. It seemed to him that from the beginning of the fall term until Thanksgiving football held first place in the curriculum of our modern educational institutions. Because a popular sport and national pastime naturally receive more publicity than the routine of the class and lecture rooms, many persons attribute to it an importance in college life that it does not possess. In any college only a small percentage of the students go in for football as participants. The interest of the large majority is expressed only in attendance at the games and most of the contests are staged Saturday afternoons.

While there will always be some slackers, most college students realize the significance of their job. They know what they are there for and the penalty for wasting time. The gospel of endeavor is being preached as never before. "Hard work" should be the motto for all, whether in or out of college.

FROM SPEECHES JOBS?

It would be conventional to express firm belief in the certainty of a bloom of jobs for the nation's idle men through the operation of an unemployment fund under the auspices of H. C. Hoover, but against the exercise of authority by a man whose name is so well known it is necessary to declare that H. C. Hoover is not a man who can create jobs. He is a man who can create a situation in which jobs will be created. He is a man who can create a situation in which jobs will be created.

There is no question as to the fact that the unemployment situation is the effect of a definite cause. So long as the cause remains the effect will stand. The removal of unemployment depends upon another cause. Until that cause is supplied there will be no change. And that cause lies outside the province of the Hoover conference. It has no jobs to offer and no authority to command others to furnish employment.

When general economic conditions have been readjusted employment will take the place of idleness.

H. HOOPER'S HOOPS

Mr. W. C. Hooks of Lufkin spent Monday night in the city with relatives and friends. He is a staunch friend of his new home, even declaring it to be a better town than Nacogdoches—which indicates somewhat of a "woibly" judgment.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Quite the opposite, it indicates judgment of a high order, and calls to mind the remark made by Mr. Hooks shortly after his arrival here that "even a blind man could see" that Lufkin was a better town than Nacogdoches.—Lufkin News.

CREDIT FOR GOOD WORK

The following letter from Hon. F. B. Horton, member of the legislature from Dallas county, concerning a matter which has been neglected by our own people, who are the beneficiaries of the splendid work performed by Mr. Thomason in behalf of the normal and other school enterprises. We are sure the people of Nacogdoches appreciate our representative's efforts, though they may have been lagging in expressing themselves. There is no doubt we owe Mr. Thomason a debt which will be difficult to pay. He is entitled to our lasting gratitude.

Mr. H. L. McKnight, Sec'y. Mgr., Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Dear Mr. McKnight—With a feeling greater than I can express I wish to thank you for your kind letter of September 9 thanking me for my interest in the Nacogdoches Normal School.

I stood always unwavering with your very efficient representative, Mr. Thomason, who fought from the start to the finish like a lioness for her young in his efforts to save the school for Nacogdoches. My opinion is that few men in Texas could have marshalled about themselves the support that Mr. Thomason was able to hold throughout this fight, and he accomplished what seemed to be the impossible.

Trusting that I may have the pleasure of visiting your city at some near future time, I am,

Yours very truly,
S. B. Horton.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

John J. Simpson was a widely known wealthy pioneer citizen of Nacogdoches. He came to the county about the year 1838, from West Tennessee, but his ancestors had previously lived in Giles county, middle Tennessee. This Simpson family has numerous descendants of the name and many who bore other names, being descendants of daughters married. They have scattered abroad from Canada to Mexico.

In the remote corner of Hardeman county, Tennessee, there was a neighborhood of these Simpson relatives and their intimate friends living for a long period before the Civil War. Some of their descendants are there yet. Some came to Texas. Among the latter ones was J. S. Simpson, usually known as Jim Simpson, who now lives at a new town called Asperton, which is in Dimmit county, about 150 miles south of San Antonio. He is a member of Albert Sidney Johnson Camp, No. 144, Confederate Veterans at San Antonio. At the Houston reunion last October, he stumbled on Will Parrish, a veteran from Nacogdoches and asked him about the Simpson there and also about Dr. Joe Mayfield. That led to a meeting of two old cousins, Simpson 79 and Mayfield 78 years old. They had not met since 1854, which was 67 years ago, when they were boys, and went in swimming in Hatchie river in Tennessee.

These two veterans talked over their past years. Simpson served in Forest's Cavalry. His family home was in the section where two war factions were about equally divided. A Federal colonel named Hurst dominated this region. His regiment included bad characters who lived there, and they went after raids from personal motives, for just and for mean spite. Their outrageous depravity took in two Simpson planters, one Wm. Simpson, Jim's father, the other Marshall Solheim, who married a Simpson and was like a father to Jim. The devil's vainly murdered Solheim trying to make him hand his cash over. Jim was already a soldier in the saddle and he applied himself to the scouting style of paying scores. He scored them to the limit, a plenty of scores. They never ran him to Texas, but he came in 1878.

The adventurous Simpson spirit that ruled J. S. Simpson led him to a career of varied experience. He was severely wounded in the Battle of Perryville, Ky. He does not make a hobby or boast his experiences. He is still lively and fond of his gun and wild game, and he expects to attend the next Confederate reunion at Chattanooga, Tenn., and to visit his old Harde man county home, at Simpson's bridge. He has been away from there 43 years.

Vick and Dock Simpsons visited there "before the war," and Uncle William Simpson and his son, J. J. Simpson, usually called Jack, visited Texas soon after this. There was a dance given in honor of Jack Simpson on the third floor of the great old Simpson Hotel, which then loomed up on the northwest corner of Main and North streets. The elite of the town and other towns was there. This included Simpson girls, Bufords, Thomases and Uncle Wiley Rusk, the fiddler played for a full house in glorious state. Dock Simpson wore patent leather pumps, and as he brushed them with a silk handkerchief he said he would outshine the whole drove. His sweetheart, Miss Emma Kyle, was there, a perfect little fairy. Bill Harris was there in his best rig, and his sweetheart, Miss Bettie Lewis, was there, a veritable queen. The young ladies wore white lawn dresses with low neck and short sleeves, and white kid slippers peeping out. If a young lady entered the ball room arrayed in the brevity fashion of today's style, the other ladies might have been panicked and ran into the dressing room and shut the door. The young men might have gone hog-wild. J.E.M.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29, 1921.

My Dear Sir and Friend—I was glad to see your article in the Sentinel with reference to suitable living conditions in Nacogdoches. I am afraid that our citizens do not fully realize the importance of providing living room for the many new families which will want to live in the city.

If we are to receive the full benefit of having the normal located in our city, we simply must provide for the folks who will want to enter or who will want to move in near in order that the members of the family can attend.

I asked a San Marcos citizen about the normal today and he states that there are a thousand young people there now boarding in the various houses and that they spend a great deal of money in the stores, theaters, etc. I doubt that Nacogdoches is in position to care for half that number at the present time.

Your Friend,
R. B. Walthall.

Attorney George King of Houston was in the city Monday.

You Don't Need a "Divining Rod"

ONCE in a while there appears in farming centers a mysterious gentleman who claims to locate hidden water through the agency of a hazel twig held in his hands. The twig guides him, so 'tis said, by turning his hands, and where it inclines toward the earth, there the well should be dug.

You need no divining rod to locate the things you want. Read the advertisements that appear daily in this paper. They are bonafide guides to buying—shorn of mystery and voodoo.

The advertisements tell you plainly where to go for what you want. They show you how to save steps—and money—and time. By watching them carefully, each day, you are enable to buy to best advantage.

Anything that adds to the purchasing power of your dollars is working hard for you.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT SITS IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, Oct. 3.—The Supreme Court reconvened today for the regular fall term. No cases of national importance was placed on its docket during the summer recess.

For the first time in its history, however, the court was presided over by a chief justice who formerly was a president of the United States—William Howard Taft, chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward Douglas White.

Miss Clara Lambert, who graduated from the Nacogdoches High School at the close of the last term, has been selected to teach Little's Chapel school, vice Mrs. Bertha White, resigned.

NACOGDOCHES 20, CROCKETT 0

A good-sized crowd witnessed the football game Friday afternoon at this place between Crockett and Nacogdoches. It was a one-sided affair from the start, Nacogdoches being victorious by a score of 20 to 0.

Everybody fell in love with the manly Crockett players, but they simply could not hold their own in the game with Nacogdoches. We hope the visitors may make a better showing next time.

TO PARTIES HAVING FISH TRAPS IN STREAMS

Recently the attorney general's department has issued a ruling holding that only two counties in Texas are exempted from the fish and game law. The fish and game warden, realizing that there has been a general misunderstanding about this law, is inclined to be lenient and not order prosecution until he knows that the law is being willfully violated.

I quote the following letter written to a county attorney in a neighboring county:

"Dear Sir—Our special game deputy, Mr. G. A. MacNaulton, has returned from your county, having made inspection of the fish traps in the streams in that vicinity.

"He reported that there are a great many fish traps being operated. That fish are being taken in a great many ways in violation of the laws.

"For your information, I am herewith enclosing an opinion rendered by attorney general's department to the County Attorney of Lamar county, in which he says that no counties are exempted from the operation of the fish law.

"I trust that with this information, some action will be taken to rid the streams of all the fish traps in that vicinity.

"Yours truly,
(Signed) "S. C. Tisdale,
"Chief Deputy."

I am sorry indeed that this misunderstanding has arisen and hope that those who are now operating devices for catching fish in the form of traps and other devices not permitted by the law, will promptly conform to the ruling of the attorney general and remove such devices from the streams.
Audley Harris,
County Attorney.

TRIBUTE TO MR. CARNES

Rev. Mr. W. F. Carnes was born March 16th, 1845, and his age at the time of his death on the 24th day of August, 1921, was 76 years, 5 months and 8 days.

Brother Carnes was converted to the Christian faith when 12 years of age and united with the Methodist Episcopal church South. When about 40 years of age he was licensed to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ, and about 8 years later was regularly ordained as a minister of the Gospel, preaching his last sermon at Alan on the second Sunday in March, 1920.

Brother Carnes was a minister who received very little in a financial way for his preaching. If a poor widow would offer him funds for his preaching he would refuse to accept it, as it was his purpose not to preach for his financial gain but for the salvation of souls.

Brother Carnes spent his entire life in Nacogdoches county, being a native born Texan, and his life was devoted to service for his Master and his fellow-man. He was faithful in the cause of Christ.

When a young man he was married to Miss Louisa Blackburn, and to this union there were born eleven children, eight of whom survive him. His good and faithful wife preceded him to the great beyond a short time before his going. He is also survived by many relatives, among whom is a brother, George Carnes.

It may be said of him as it is of Paul, "He fought a good fight, he kept the faith, and there is laid up for him a crown of righteousness."

By his devoted friend,
Wm. A. Skillern.

Nacogdoches, Texas, Sept. 17, 1921.

Grip

Grip usually starts the same as a cold, with a watery discharge from the nose. You are much more likely to contract the grip when you have a cold. For that reason when grip is prevalent you should go to bed as soon as you feel that you are taking a cold and stay in bed until fully recovered which should not be long if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Three days in bed now is better than three weeks later on. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

HOUSTON FAIR TO SURPASS ALL PREVIOUS EFFORTS

Pageant, Racing and Big Exhibition of Live Stock Will Feature Show This Year.

Houston, Texas.—With a record list of exhibitors indicated, the Houston Fair and Exposition which will open November 5 to 13, inclusive, promises to surpass all previous efforts.

Work on the construction of the 11 buildings that will house the various exhibits and live stock is progressing rapidly and will be completed by November 1.

More than 100,000 feet of wire will be used to illuminate the grounds, which will present a veritable fairyland with myriads of lights. Every building will also be brilliantly illuminated.

The International and Great Northern Railroad is building a switch direct to the grounds. This will greatly facilitate and expedite the shipments of cattle and machinery.

The building in which the automobile show will be held promises to be a pretentious one. It will be fireproof and will have a capacity of housing 200 machines. More than 50 concerns have already signified their intention of exhibiting, as have a score of accessory men. The automobile show promises to be one of the biggest features of the fair.

The fair committee is busy designating certain days for different civic, industrial and fraternal organizations.

November 11, which is Armistice Day, will be known as American Legion Day.

November 12 will be set aside for the school children. All the children of the city will be admitted free.

The Kiwanis, Rotary, Civitan, Ad Clubs and various other luncheon clubs also will have special days. There will also be an Industrial Day and a Galveston Day.

Big Racing Program.

Racing will be one of the biggest features of the fair and the fastest horses in this section of this country will compete for the $6,000 purses offered by the committee.

"The racing this year ought to be the best we have ever had," Charles J. Kirk, secretary, said Saturday. "We have been liberal with our purses and some fast animals are entered. Every event on our card will be filled with well-matched horses. The track will be put in the best of shape and arrangements are being made for the care of 150 horses."

The educational features of the fair are proving popular. Hundreds of requests have been received for the premium book telling about the prizes to be awarded for live stock, girls' and boys' work, farm products and other kind of exhibits.

Fiddling Contest.

Many unique contests are being arranged. One of these will be a fiddling contest for men more than 50 years old. There are many oldtimers who played in the time of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

The Houston Fair and Exposition has also entered into a contract with J. Sanders Gordon for the production of "Arabian Nights" to be run during the exposition. This is a realistic portrayal on a colossal scale of the enchanting tales of the many nights entertainments. It will be presented in various episodes and will include the destruction of the mountain. More than 150 pounds of dynamite is used in this scene alone.

"We were very fortunate in obtaining 'Arabian Nights'," W. I. Shotwell said. "It will be an innovation for expositions in the South and gives to Houston the highest type of entertainment."

The various episodes include "The Genii and the Fisherman," "The King of the Black Isles," "All Babo and the Forty Thieves," "The Adventure of the Forbidden Casket," and many others.

In connection with this production a brilliant pyrotechnic display has been arranged for. This will include sixty aerial pieces and 20 set pieces. Special sets will be fired on the evening of November 11, Armistice Day. This will be American Legion Day at the fair. Sets showing the faces of Sam Houston, Bowie, Crockett and other noted Texans will be illuminated.

Many Affairs.

There will be several important affairs of statewide interest during the fair.

On November 5 Rice Institute will meet Southwestern University team in the first important clash of the conference on the Rice gridiron.

On November 11 Rice will clash with A. and M., which will be the biggest game played in Houston.

From November 7 to 12 will be known as "Buy in Houston Week" and hundreds of out-of-town representatives will be here.

The Texas Dry Goods Association will also hold its convention in Houston November 7 and 8. This will be a gathering of the biggest merchants in the state.

There will also be a special reduction on railroad fares to Houston during the fair.

Traveling Men's Day.

November 12 will be Traveling Men's Day and the program will be turned over to the knights of the grip. The local organization will invite other organizations throughout the state. A parade will be held in the morning, which will be followed by a barbecue in the afternoon. This day has also been set aside for the school children of the county and all of them will be admitted free. It promises to be the biggest day in point of attendance.

FAMOUS FRENCH PRODUCER PROVES "GOOD PICKER"

"Smiles of 1921," as the State Fair Coliseum Show is known, is a musical revue that will run the entire State Fair season—Dallas, October 3 to 22. It is a lively sort of performance, with lots of clever dancing, beautiful costumes, and handsome and costly stage settings. All of this, though, just make a background for the startling beauty of the chorus and the music of M. de Rocat, its famous producer, selected.

This chorus of forty girls is called "the rose garden of the West." M. de Rocat spent 45 days selecting them. It is said, and interviewed nearly twenty thousand young women before finally indicating his choice. It is this chorus that makes the show so sparkling. They sing, dance and play well in the numerous roles the clever little Frenchman assigns them.

This musical revue is one of the principal attractions of the State Fair season. It plays matinee and evening performances, so that all visitors will have an opportunity to see it.

CENTENNIAL PAGEANT TO BE INTERESTING

One of the most interesting events on the catalogue of the State Fair of Texas—Dallas, October 3 to 22—is the spectacular Texas Centennial Pageant, which will formally open the season of 1921. This affair comes on the evening of October 8 and will be held in the new Athletic stadium.

The Pageant will portray in a vivid fashion the history of Texas in the last hundred years—since the days when Stephen F. Austin and his little band of colonists came to settle the State for Anglo-Americans. Five thousand people will take part in this event, and will be gorgeously costumed for the various characters. Beautiful and appropriate music has been outlined for a background for the tableaux scenes.

The big new Stadium will seat 15,000 people and the indications are that a huge crowd will see this wonderful play. All parts will be played by Texas people.

FUN FEST TO FEATURE BIG NIGHT AT FAIR

Folks to get to the State Fair of Texas on the evening of Saturday, October 22, will enjoy a novel experience. They will have the opportunity to enjoy the "Fun Fest" which will be held on that occasion.

The State Fair will on that date block off a portion of the grounds for the exclusive use of pedestrians and will institute the Mardi Gras spirit into the proceedings. There will be concert singing, dancing, bands, confetti, paper streamers, costumes, horns and bells and whistles, and everything that goes into the making of an evening of hilarity. Freedom and unconventionality will mark the whole course of the evening.

Good order will be maintained throughout the evening, however, and only the spirit of good fellowship will be tolerated, the State Fair officials declare.
