AT REST

On Wednesday, October 5, 1921, at 7:15 a. m., Mrs. Laura Bellzora Box-Martin fell asleep in Jesus to await the call of the life-giver on the morn of the Resurrection. She had been a sufferer for more than eight weeks previous to her death. Although continually in pain, she was patient and hopeful until the last.

Mrs. Martin was born on September 15, 1863 being 58 years and 20 days old at the time of her death. She was married to John B. Martin in January, 1878. To this union twelve children were born, eleven of whom with their father, live to mourn their loss. The sons are Charles, of Tampico, Mexico; Foster, Lawrence, Bertoff, Vernon and Herschel, all of Nacogdoches. The daughters are Mrs. W. T. Petty of Dallas, Mrs. Herman Price of Beggs, Okla., and Misses Effye, Ennie and Laura Claude of Nacogdoches.

From her girlhood Mrs. Martin had lived a Christian life, always willing to help where needed and to go when called. She was indeed a mother, not to her family alone, but to all who needed her love and encouragement. During the last 15 years of her life she was a faithful member of the Seventh Day Adventist church, where she will be greatly missed.

The funeral services were held in the Lone Star school house on Thursday, October 6, Edler West, pastor of S. D. A. church at Dallas, officiating, the text being "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord—that they may rest from their labours and their works do follow them." After several solos rendered by Mr. Dunn, her six sons bore her to her last resting place where she will rest until Jesus comes.

"Thy work is done,
Thy sowing and reaping;
Thy crown is won,
And hushed is thy weeping."

NOTICE

The Annelina County Singing Convention will meet at Providence, about three miles from Lufkin, on the Iron Bridge road, Friday night before the 4th Sunday in October, continuing until Sunday. Everybody, and especially singers, are invited to attend. We are expecting singers from several counties, and I have the promise that the Vaughn Quartette will be there if possible.

Yours for more and better singing,
R. A. Courtney, President

Messrs. Brandt and Trolinger, who had been conducting a revival meeting at the Christian church for the past three weeks, concluded their work here Monday night and left for their homes at Kokomo, Ind., and Wagoner, Okla., respectively. There were many conversions, and the work these good men did will live long after they have passed to their reward. Mr. Trolinger's splendid music was a strong aid to Mr. Brandt's powerful sermons, and the services were helpful in every way.

KILLED BY OFFICERS WHEN TRIES TO ESCAPE

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 11.—David Bunn, confessed negro bandit, who admitted to more crimes than any other negro in the history of Tarrant county and who last week was snatched from three different mobs by officers and taken to Dallas, was shot to death early this morning between Dallas and Fort Worth while trying to escape. The officers had him in an automobile taking him back to Fort Worth.

SIXTH GAME IS ON

New York, Oct. 11.—The weather was clear at 7 o'clock this morning, with conditions favorable for the sixth game of the world's series. Babe Ruth announced this morning that the injury to his arm would keep him out of the games for the rest of the series. His physician had warned him, he said, that to take further chances would be to risk his arm.

KLAN BEFORE CONGRESS

Washington, Oct. 11.—A demand for an investigation of the activities of the Ku Klux Klan was made today before the house rules committee by Representative Teague, democrat, Massachusetts, called as the first witness at the hearings of a number of resolutions providing for an inquiry by congress. Teague said Attorney General Daugherty informed him that the department's own inquiry, then under way, showed a foundation for some of the charges against the Klan. William J. Simmons of Georgia, imperial wizard and founder of the Klan, was among the first witnesses to arrive. Teague charged the Klan with deliberately collecting from the public for the purpose of destroying the law. "Thirty million Catholics stand up and oppose the Klan and demand an inquiry," he added.

SHOES FITTED BY X-RAY.

The very modern shoe man does not trust to moral suasion to convince his customer that a shoe is too large or too small. He takes the customer back to the X-ray machine and shows him a picture of his feet in the shoes. The result is that a customer usually leaves the store with a pair of shoes that fit his feet instead of his pride or his imagination.

The customer, looking down into the machine, sees with startling clearness the outlines of the bones of his feet and the dark shadow of the shoes about them. The salesman can see the picture also, and there can be no argument as to whether the shoes do or do not cramp any part of the feet. The picture, flattering or not, is the truthful record of photography.

It is strange the civilized humanity, so sensible in the man, and so impatient of suffering in the rest of the body, has been so idiotic about his feet.—Shreveport Journal.

HIGH PRICED DRINKS

Houston, Texas, Oct. 12.—It is costing $50 in Federal Court this week for having been caught with "a little drink."

It is costing $100 for having been caught with "a big drink." Making whiskey for one's own use is being hit with anything from a $250 fine to 30 or 60 days in the county jail, depending on the seriousness of the offense.

These were the brand of sentences being handed out by Judge J. C. Hutcheson Tuesday in Federal Court as an apparent endless line of defendants with pleas of guilty passed before him. A large number of misdemeanor liquor cases were disposed of Monday and Tuesday.

But there are "old friends" to come before the court in a few days—men whom Judge Hutcheson promised he would hit hard if they came into court on liquor charges a second or third time.

ASHLAND BANK ROBBED

Gilmer, Texas, Oct. 11.—A lone bandit entered the Ashland State Bank at Ashland, near here, at 9 o'clock today, forced Cashier Simmons into the vault, locked it and escaped with $5,000.

NEGRO ASSAULTS GIRL, IS BURNED TO DEATH

Mr. Pleasant, Texas, Oct. 11.—Wylie McNeely, negro, was burned to death by a mob near Leesburg, Camp county, shortly after midnight last night. He had been arrested charged with an assault upon a white girl. The negro was seized by the mob when he attempted to leap from the jail into an automobile waiting to spirit him away from the crowd which surrounded the jail. It was the second time the mob had visited the jail, Sheriff Reese Sunday night having frustrated efforts to lynch McNeely.

Crowd Not Excited

Leesburg, Texas, Oct. 11.—Little excitement attended the burning of Wylie McNeely, 19-year-old negro, here last night. En route from Mt. Pleasant, where the negro was seized as the officers attempted to spirit him away, the mob was joined by hundreds of others, and when Leesburg was reached the funeral pyre was quickly prepared on a vacant lot at the edge of town. McNeely was tied to a stake and surrounded by dry wood, to which kerosene and matches were applied.

CONFEDERATE NOTICE

An order was made at the last meeting of Camp Henry Raguet, No. 620, directing me to give notice of a special meeting of the camp on the 18 day of October, at 1 p. m. It is especially urged that every member of the Camp be here on that date. The object of the meeting is to know definitely who and how many are going to the reunion; so fill out and deliver the identification certificates, determine the day we will start and the route.

The members of the camp, sponsor, matrons, chaperones, and maids of honor, and all old vets not members of a camp can go on a one cent rate each way. All who do not come within one of the above classes can go on a reduced rate of one and one-half cents a mile. The general passenger agent of the T. & P. System informs me that he will do what he can to have arrangements made by which all who wish to can change his route on returning home, and thinks he will have no trouble in the matter. Those who wish to change their route will have to have their ticket fixed here for the purpose. I am not authorized to issue identification certificates, this can be done only by the commander. He will be here at the special meeting next Tuesday, the 18th.

MOONSHINER KILLED

Mineola, Texas, Oct. 12.—Tom Painter was shot and instantly killed late yesterday when Sheriff Pat Oliver of Rains county and two prohibition enforcement officers raided a still seven miles northwest of Alba, Wood county. The officers said Painter and two other men at the still resisted arrest. His companions escaped.

RESUME INVESTIGATION

FOOTBALLISTS EN ROUTE

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.—The Boston College football squad, including only three members of the undefeated eleven of last year, left today for Dallas, where they will play Baylor University Saturday.

STATE SENATOR DEAD

Houston, Texas, Oct. 12.—State Senator William L. Hall, aged 54 years, a resident of Wharton county for the last 30 years, died at 11:30 Tuesday morning in a Houston hospital, to which place he was brought four days ago from his home.

At the time of his death Senator Hall was representing the district comprised of Wharton, Galveston, Brazoria and Matagorda counties in the senate. Prior to his election to the senate Mr. Hall was a member of the legislature. He also served for 12 years as county attorney for Wharton county.

EX-KLEAGLE TESTIFIES BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Major C. Anderson Wright, former grand go-blin, king kleagle, invisible empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and chief of staff, invisible planet, Knights of the Air, was the star witness today before the house rules committee which is considering a number of resolutions calling for congressional investigations of the Klan.

Major Wright occupied the chair for more than an hour and a half at the morning session and resumed afterwards.

He urged that the committee report in favor of an investigation and gave so many convincing reasons that at the close of the day's hearing there seemed to be very little doubt that an investigation will be recommended. Four resolutions are before the committee and it is possible a composite resolution embodying the best features of all, will be reported.

Staggering Income

Major Wright made a powerful case against the Klan, laying special emphasis on the staggering income, exceeding $20,000,000, it has derived in the last year from its 700,000 members and suggesting to the rules committee that an investigation be instituted to determine how much, if any, federal tax has been evaded by the heads of the organization.

GAME NETS $112,234

New York, Oct. 12.—The official figures for yesterday's game gave the attendance as 34,283, the gate receipts were $112,234, of which the advisory board's share is $16,385.10, and the two clubs' share $95,898.90. The players participated in the first five games' receipts only.

WORLD PRESS CONGRESS

Honolulu, Oct. 12.—The formal opening of the Press Congress of the World, which met in annual convention here yesterday, was marked by the reading of a message from President Harding by W. R. Harrington, governor of Hawaii. President Walter Williams of Columbia, Mo., in his annual address called upon journalists to disarm the typewriters of the jingo press of the world, and said that through such an accomplishment the limitation of armaments would become a reality. He also broached a plan for a League of Journalists—dedicated to ending secret diplomacy and imperialism and which would promote fair play and justice for the sponsoring of harmony and friendliness.

NEW YORK ALDERMEN BAN KU KLUX KLAN

New York, Oct. 12.—The board of aldermen yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the Ku Klux Klan and called upon all prosecuting officers to "vigorously prosecute to the limit of the penal laws every violation of orderly constitutional government instigated by this or any other intolerant and bigoted organization of sedition, disorder and know-nothingism."

DELEGATES MEET

Washington, Oct. 12.—A month of careful preparation for the American government's part in the armament conference began here today with the first meeting of the four delegates selected by President Harding to speak for the United States.

GIANTS 0, YANKEES 3.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 11.—Batteries—Harper-Schang for the Yankees, Tony-Snyder for the Giants. First inning—Giants 0, Yankees 3. Moriarty ordered Babe Ruth, who was in civilian clothes, from the Yankee bench.

Home Cookery

"Jimmy," said the fond mother to her smart 11-year-old, "what became of that little pie I made for you as a treat yesterday? Did you eat it?" "No, mamma," answered Jimmy, with a grin, "I gave it to my teacher at school instead." "That was very nice and generous of you, Jimmy," complimented his mother, "And did your teacher eat it?" "Yes; I think so," answered Jimmy. "She wasn't at school today."—The Pathfinder.

ATTEMPTED MURDER OF HEAD OF WOMAN'S K. K. K.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—Several steel-jacketed bullets and a trail of footsteps ending at a road were all the police had to start on today in their inquiry into what they characterized as an evident attempt to assassinate last night Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, head of the woman's department of the Ku Klux Klan. Five shots were fired into the bed room through a window in her home, she reported. The bullets were found embedded in a wall. A mysterious telephone call was received by the Atlanta Constitution half an hour after the shooting when a man's voice said "I just want to say we got Mrs. Tyler tonight and will get Colonel Simmons tomorrow."

U. S. VETERANS' BUREAU CLEAN-UP SQUAD AT FAIR

Will Aid Men with Pending Claims to Get Prompt Action and Receive and Expedite New Claims

One of the points of interest for the ex-service man at the State Fair will be the group of tents near the entrance where complete units of the clean-up squads of the Veterans' Bureau will be in daily session. This will be an enlarged squad similar to the one that appeared here not long ago.

The various squads which have been covering the entire country are completing their trips and reporting to their district offices. Their reports all show that hundreds of men were found who had just claims against the government and who had never filed their claims. In Texas this condition was especially prevalent and it is felt that even yet all men who are eligible for one of the various forms of compensation may not have been reached. To accomplish this the squad will be at the State Fair, and it is hoped that every man who was missed by it during its recent trip will arrange to see it at the fair.

The squad that will be in session at Dallas is composed of representatives from the compensation and insurance departments, the rehabilitation section for vocational training and medical examiners who will be empowered to give examinations or re-examinations and to order immediate hospitalization for treatment if necessary. The purpose of this squad is to advise with the men regarding the laws and rulings governing granting of compensation, to render him valuable aid in filling out and filing his claim, directing him how to start it through the proper channels and smoothing its way toward as speedy as settlement as possible.

This squad cannot rate a man's disability, of course. That is in the province of the rating board which, since October first, has been in operation in the district office at Dallas. This rating board will appraise and date all new cases presented to it by the clean-up squads and immediate settlement will follow in those cases found compensable. In cases where claims have already been filed at Washington it will be necessary, of course, to work through the channels already in operation for final settlement.

Every man who has a disability arising from his army service and who has not filed a claim for compensation should take all his government papers with him when he goes to the fair and appears before this squad. It will be his best opportunity to get direct action on his claim, as claims sent in by this squad have a receiving desk in the district office where they get special attention from the rating board and their final adjustment is thus greatly accelerated.

The Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts, American Legion and similar agencies are co-operating with the Veterans' Bureau in this work, and wherever you see their insignias there you can get further information or directions regarding the clean-up squads.

It is reported the barn of Mr. C. B. Patton of Melrose was destroyed by fire of unknown origin about 12 o'clock Monday night, together with about 300 bushels of corn and all his farming implements. He usually keeps his automobile in the barn, but last night it chanced the car was left in the yard, thereby escaping destruction.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The Salvation Army's report of its work during its last fiscal year, which ended September 30, constitutes a splendid record of benevolence. It is hard to see how the United States could get along without this organization of devoted philanthropists.

During the twelvemonth it dispensed charity on an amazing scale. Beds were supplied at hotels and lodging houses to more than a million and a half men and women, Christmas dinners were supplied to nearly 300,000 families and toys given to more than 125,000 children; thousands of families in the slums of the great cities were aided; thousands of prisoners advised and consoled; thousands of mothers and babies given health outings; thousands of men and women provided with jobs, and about 600 missing persons restored to their relatives.

The need of just such agencies as the Salvation Army is particularly apparent at the present time, when industrial depression has made it necessary to establish municipal lodging and soup houses. But a certain amount of this work must be done at all times, whether business flourishes or not. And the Salvation Army is constantly on the job. It relieves cities and churches of a large part of the task of caring for the poor and unfortunate. No other philanthropic body is more worthy of the public support.

SAFETY ALWAYS

The speaker at the national safety council convention made a pertinent point when he urged that the slogan of "Safety First" be changed to "Safety Always". Everyone at once acknowledges the wisdom of safety first, but how many remember to be careful of safety always?

The caution that prevents accidents is not the mere recognition of danger when it is called to attention, but the caution that is habitual. Take crossing streets, for example. If everybody would habituate himself or herself to looking at the traffic before stepping off the curb how many accidents would be averted? The same is true of automobile accidents at railroad crossings. It is better to be sure than sorry. The careful driver will take nothing for granted, he will make sure because it is his habit. The one time he takes a chance may be his undoing.

The great need of safety education is in this matter of acquiring the habit of caution. "Safety First" implies a momentary thought on a certain occasion. "Safety Always" means making precaution a rule rather than the exception. Let it be "Safety Always." Get the habit!

WILSON'S DIGNIFIED COURSE

No one who has observed the course of Woodrow Wilson since his retirement from the presidency—no one has given fair consideration to his character and broadminded, dignified methods of fighting for a cause—needed to be assured that he was not a party to any plan to obstruct President Harding in his efforts to secure ratification of his negotiated peace with Germany. It was not intelligent, to say nothing of its meanness, on the part of those who put out the story, that Wilson was to descend from the plane of a dignified fighter for a great principle to joining with "irreconcilables" who had fought him now that they might be used to embarrass his successor. Just such smallness as this draws attention anew to the bigness and patience of Wilson.

It is not, of course, that Wilson has departed in the least from his stand that the United States should enter the League of Nations and that a separate and negotiated peace under the circumstances is unworthy of this country, but that he has said and done everything that he could say or do to bring the majority of the people to his views. Following the rejection of his work in Paris, attempts on his part to continue the fight for the League at this time might be misunderstood as resentment against the verdict. As he has stated that he is playing for the verdict of history, it is but natural to assume that he is confident that while the majority might not see his way now, it will when the passions and political prejudices of this period have passed away. It is but logical to expect that if the Harding peace program is not found satisfactory, the Wilson policies may receive more consideration than they did at first. The better plan is bound to win in time.

There was enough smallness in this frenzied campaign that was carried on against the treaty of Versailles to humiliate the country. If there is to be any resistance to the pact in the senate, let fairness recognize that none of it will come from the big-minded, dignified fighter who bowed so gracefully to the will of the people even though his heart was all but broken by the rejection of that for which he practically sacrificed his life.

EARTH TO MOON ONE HUNDRED TIMES

It seems almost unbelievable that it was only 45 years ago that the telephone was invented by Alexander Graham Bell. Since then, in less than a lifetime, the telephone industry has been developed and expanded to such a remarkable degree that it now provides a service of national scope for the 107,000,000 people living in the continental United States. This has required the stringing of enough wire to span the distance from the earth to the moon more than one hundred times; the erection of pole lines which would reach nearly fifteen times around the world; the installation of duct space for carrying cables underground of sufficient length to reach more than six times through the center of the earth from pole to pole, and the construction of buildings sufficient to form a city the size of Richmond, Va.

Over 33,000,000 telephone conversations take place every day and since its birth, only 45 years ago, the telephone has become an essential and inseparable part of our everyday business and social life.

PARADE AT TIMPSON BY "INVISIBLE EMPIRE"

The following communication was received by the Sentinel in Thursday morning's mail. In conversation with County Attorney Audley Harris, who has looked carefully into the matter, our reporter was informed that the mere act of parading in disguise is not a violation of any law now upon the statute books of the state. If, however, the disguised paraders had in view the whipping or tarring and feathering or expatriating any person, then they would be violating the law and be subject to severe penalties. While the Sentinel is unalterably opposed to the Ku Klux Klan, or any other body of men, with or without masks, assuming the functions of the courts of the state, yet they are apparently not lawbreakers unless guilty of some overt act of lawlessness, or about to commit such an act.

The letter received by the Sentinel bore the official seal and was written on the official paper of the Klan: Timpson, Texas, Oct. 4th, 1921. The Nacogdoches Sentinel, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Gentlemen—You are requested to publish the following notice in the current issue of your paper:

Notice
The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan will parade at Timpson, Texas, on the night of Friday, October 14, 1921, at about 8:30 p. m. The parade will march down the Midway at the Fair Grounds.

Yours very truly,

EAST TEXAS DISTRICT SINGING CONVENTION

The East Texas Singing Convention composed of Angelina county and the other eight counties bordering on it met at Zion Hill church, seven miles south of the town of Jasper, in Jasper county, on Friday night before the fourth Sunday and continued until Sunday afternoon.

The president Mr. R. A. Courtney, of Lufkin, called the convention to order at 8 p. m. Friday with only a few present, but with the aid of his party, composed of Mrs. Courtney, Sam Courtney, Joseph Courtney and F. Smith, all of Lufkin, those who did attend were well entertained.

The Saturday morning session was not very well attended, but the president was not discouraged and handled the situation admirably.

"For indecision brings its own delays.

And days are lost lamenting o'er lost days,

Are you in earnest? Seize this very minute.

What you can do, or dream you can, begin it.

Boldness has genius, power and magic in it.

Only engage, and then the mind grows heated.

Begin and then the work will be completed."

So, the session was a great success and all the afternoon people from far and near came until Saturday night it was well attended, and the house was filled to overflowing. The Vaughan Quartette, composed of J. H. Carr, J. L. Jimmerson, E. C. Brooks and Roy Cannon, representing the Vaughan Music Company at Jacksonville, Texas, reached Jasper about 5 o'clock and was present at the convention that night. The quartette proved to be the most popular that has visited this section yet and many people expressed themselves as believing them to be the best. Special mention should be made of Mr. Cannon, the bass, who is totally blind and has a marvelously wonderful voice. Call up mentally "a harp with 8,700 strings," and it cannot beat these voices.

Sunday morning the crowd began to gather at 9:30 and by noon there was a crowd estimated at 3,000 and intense interest was shown in the singing. The house was soon filled and all that could stand in the aisles were wedged in.

Preparations were begun for the barbecue Friday and a large amount of beef was well prepared by Sunday noon. This was supplemented by basket dinners, and a more sumptuous feast was never spread at old Zion Hill. The committee who had charge of the dinner did their work well and everything was ready by 12 noon. The people gathered around the table and after being asked to act in an orderly manner, Rev. D. H. Behannon returned thanks.

Although there was an extraordinary crowd, everybody had plenty to eat, and there was lots of choice bits of beef and other good eatables left. The Sunday afternoon session was a great success and although it was very warm in the house there was not standing room and it was difficult for some of the leaders when called to get up to the front. So many good leaders were present that the president expressed himself as regretting the fact that all could not be used.

Among the out-of-county visitors present were Prof. Sam Davis of Tyler county and W. M. Byrne of Nacogdoches. Mr. Byrne asked for the next convention to go to his county, and Prof. Davis asked that it go to Tyler county; but as Tyler county had till last March, the vote was in favor of Nacogdoches county, and the convention will meet at Fairview, four miles east of Nacogdoches, Friday night before the third Sunday next March.

We feel that these conventions are a great thing and should be encouraged in all communities. The religion of Jesus Christ is a singing religion, and it is a blessing to be permitted to meet and sing His gospel and song. If we had the strength and intellect of Thomas Jefferson, and the literary excellence of Shakespeare, the oratorical ability of Demosthenes, and the statesmanship qualities of Gladstone, we could not say enough for this great work, and our prayer is that it may continue and be made an auxiliary to the church whereby we believe great good can be accomplished.

And just as news changes with each rising sun, so the advertisements in this paper tell daily new, fresh, interesting stories for you to follow.

That's why it pays to read them regularly. Then you'll be sure not to miss something that you want to know; where to locate some desired product or service; where to go for "this", or how to get "that" to best advantage.

GOOD NEWS FOR NACOGDOCHES

There is great significance in the big order we have just received for advertising Calumet Baking Powder.

This company has just given us a contract for one of the largest and most vigorous advertising campaigns attempted in years.

This, coming at a time when merchants think business is slow and believe the outlook for the winter none too promising, really spells volumes.

Any company that spends such an enormous amount of money employs experts who study and analyze conditions before such a campaign is launched. The agents of the company enter the field to find out what's going on and to learn whether or not the time is ripe for a big advertising campaign.

Evidently the investigators of the Calumet Baking Powder Company found conditions in our town much better than we thought they were and much more favorable, for never in years has this paper had the pleasure of lending its columns to such a big drive.

The action of the Calumet people is certainly a great lesson to all of us. It proves there is one thing greater than business depression and that is the "go get 'em" spirit.

It is that spirit that is sustaining the country today and helping make this the greatest industrial and mercantile country in the world; it is that spirit that leads the country that is laboring under business depression out of the woods.

As soon as buying is resumed and people again begin to purchase freely the wheels of commerce will turn and turn faster than ever before. Such optimism as the Calumet Baking Powder Company display should certainly be an example for all of us who have something to sell. An old preacher once said that the sounder his congregation slept the louder he talked until the very force of his voice held up their eyelids and made them listen, and just so is it possible for you—for any merchant—for any advertiser to win the attention of the public if you just talk loud enough.

STATE FAIR OPENS

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 8.—The thirty-fifth State Fair of Texas, expanded for the second successive year into an international exposition, the Canadian and Mexican exhibits, opened here at 9 o'clock this morning for a scheduled 16-day program. The agricultural, livestock and other exhibits are more extensive and the amusement features more elaborate than at any preceding fairs, according to the directors. The feature of the opening was dedicated to the Dallas Stadium, said to be one of the largest athletic bowls in the South, simultaneously with the staging in the stadium of the Texas centennial pageant. This was scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight, with more than 5,000 persons from all over Texas participating. The governors of 34 states and the governments of Mexico and Canada are represented by "duchesses". The pageant queen will be adorned with jewels said by the fair officials to be worth approximately $500,000.

There were many gifts presented by those who were delighted to show their appreciation of a year of faithful work on the part of Mrs. Atkins. Toasts by Mesdames Lindsey and Will Perkins were read. Musical numbers by Mesdames Lindsey and Perry and a picture contest were a part of the program. Mrs. Charles Perkins sang "Sweet Miss Susie," and after the refreshments of cake and cream were served Mrs. Atkins closed the afternoon with a talk thanking the women for the honor which had been shown her.

RESOLUTION PROPOSES PROBE OF SECRET ORDERS

Washington, Oct. 8.—Investigation of "each and every secret organization in the United States" was called for in a resolution introduced Friday by Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia.

Proposed as a supplement to efforts to investigate the Ku Klux Klan, Mr. Upshaw declared in a statement that he felt a sort of wounded pride in hearing many criticisms hurled at the Ku Klux Klan which was organized in his district and whose imperial wizard "is one of the knightliest, most patriotic men I have ever known."

Declaring the public would commend his resolution to investigate concurrently with the Ku Klux all other organizations holding meetings behind closed doors, Mr. Upshaw added:

"The imperial wizard and grand go-lin are titles to make the plain people shudder (and they are) then the same plain people have a right to know the meaning of such other startling titles as 'imperial potentate', 'most puissant and illustrious grand master', 'grand exalted ruler', 'mighty chief of the wampum' and a full thousand other weird titles of secret order officials who seem about to fascinate the majority of American free men into joining mystic conclaves of inscrutable words and deeds."

Investigation, he said, "must cause embarrassment to some, inconvenience to others and temporary strife among foolish factions, but the clouds will soon blow away, public confidence will be restored and it seems to me every good 'Secret' and American will welcome the light."

G. B. LAYTON

Mr. Green B. Layton, one of the most widely known residents of the county, died at 2 o'clock Monday morning at his home on Logansport street, aged about 55 years. Mr. Layton had been in failing health for two years and his death was not unexpected, though it came in the nature of a grievous shock to his many friends.

The early life of deceased was spent in teaching, and he was always a strong advocate of whatever wrought for the advancement of the educational interests of the county and state. For four years he was county superintendent of education, retiring at the beginning of the present term. He was also a lawyer, though he forsok that profession to engage in school work.

Mr. Layton was born and reared in the Attoyac community, and practically his whole life was spent in Nacogdoches county. His acquaintance was not limited to his home county, but he was known among educators throughout East Texas, by all of whom he was held in high esteem for his admirable personal traits as well as for his earnest devotion to school work, and to these the news of his death will come as a message of sorrow.

He is survived by his wife and six children, who have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their great bereavement.

ANGELINA MAN COMING TO LIVESTOCK SHOW

Secretary H. L. McKnight of the Chamber of Commerce has received the following letter from the secretary of the chamber at Lufkin and it would seem therefrom that interest in the Nacogdoches County Livestock Exhibition is not confined to our home people. In fact, a large number of Nacogdoches county citizens apparently fail to realize the great benefits accruing from such an exhibition, which has for its object the increase of interest and enthusiasm in the growing of purebred cattle and hogs. This enterprise has a foothold in the county. It is true, but there is room for a vast improvement.

The letter follows:
Lufkin, Texas, Oct. 5, 1921.
Secretary, Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Mr. McKnight—We have a request from one of our citizens, Mr. L. C. Odum, who desires to put on an exhibit at your livestock fair, November 15.

Mr. Odum will require about three pens, he informs us, for his pig display. Can you accommodate him to this extent? If so, kindly advise him at Durant, Angelina county, and oblige.

Yours very truly,
W. C. Hall,

Manager Chamber of Commerce. Ample facilities will be furnished Mr. Odum and his exhibit will be welcome.

The County's road bond fund was considerably boosted Saturday morning when Treasurer Floyd received a remittance of $22,000 from the State Highway Department to be applied thereto.

BATTLE OF NACOGDOCHES.

This account of the Battle of Nacogdoches is clipped from an article written in 1888 by Col. A. Horton of San Augustine, who settled in that community in 1824, which was 8 years before the town of San Augustine was founded, and was sheriff four years under the Alcades and a prominent citizen until his death about 1894. He was Sam Houston's aide de camp at the Battle of San Jacinto.

In 1832 a civil war broke out in Mexico, President Bustamante declaring in favor of a monarchical form of government and General Santa Anna in favor of the Constitution of 1824. The Americans everywhere in Texas took up arms in favor of Santa Anna. At that time there was a regiment of Mexican soldiers stationed at Nacogdoches under the command of Col. Piedras, who declared in favor of the central government. The people of Eastern Texas declared in favor of the constitution of 1824. The people at once flew to arms, and elected James W. Bullock commander in chief. James W. Bullock was a well-tried soldier, had served under the immortal Jackson on Indian wars and was with him at the battle of New Orleans. The Texans marched for the town of Nacogdoches the last day of July, 1832, and on the second day of August formed themselves in regular order of battle and demanded the surrender of the place or the raising of the Santa Anna flag, both of which Col. Piedras refused to do, sending word that he was well prepared and ready to receive us. About 10 o'clock on the 2nd day of August the battle began, the Mexicans meeting us at the entrance of the town.

A furious fight commenced which lasted all day, the Americans driving the Mexicans from house to house until they reached the stone house. There they made a desperate stand, but were again driven from there to the main fortification, which they called the quartel. This ended the fighting of the second of August. August 3rd the Americans were well prepared to commence the fight, but to their surprise they found that the Mexicans had that night abandoned the town and had retreated to the west. A call at once was made for volunteers to follow them. Seventeen men at once volunteered to go after them; attacked them at the crossing of the Angelina, and after a considerable fight, in which the Mexicans lost their great cavalry officer, Muscus (Musquiz), who was killed in the fight. The Mexicans took possession of John Durst's houses. The Americans then withdrew and took a strong position on the road west of the river, intending to ambuscade and fight the Mexicans to the Brazos; but after waiting until late in the day, returned to see what the Mexicans were doing. To our surprise, on arriving near the house we saw a white flag floating from Durst's chimney. We approached the place with caution, for we had only seventeen men, and Piedras had an entire regiment. But we approached as near as we thought prudent, and Piedras and his officers came out and surrendered themselves prisoners of war. We then were at a loss to know what to do with so many prisoners, so we hit upon the following plan: It was agreed that Col. Piedras and his officers should be taken back to Nacogdoches and that the soldiers should remain where they were until further orders. On arriving at Nacogdoches with our prisoners a treaty was made by which Piedras and his officers were paroled and sent home by way of New Orleans, pledging himself not to take up arms any more during the war unless fairly exchanged; and this was the end of the war of 1832. I have forgotten the names of some of the seventeen men, but remember some of them. I will begin with James Carter, Hiram Brown, John Nolin, William Lloyd, Jack Thompson, George Lewis, Horatio Hanks, James Bradshaw, A. Horton, George Jones. The other names I have forgotten.

MISS ZEVE HONORED

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. B. F. McElroy entertained in honor of Miss Elece Zeve, a bride-to-be. Some of the guests came at 3 o'clock to play the ever-popular game of "42." Luncheon guests arrived at 5 o'clock. The house was dainty and pretty with its pink decorations. A delicious salad course was served and on each plate the favor was a little hand-made basket filled with organdie flowers and ferns. The hostess' gift to the honoree was some beautiful hand-made doilies and an illustrated bride's book. It was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

WHAT IS IT FOLLOWING?

In an exchange of "compliments" between democrats and republicans in the senate, Mr. Harrison of Mississippi, charged the republicans with being without a program. To which Mr. Watson of Indiana replied that the republicans "unlike the democrats under the preceding administration, do not blindly follow dictation from the White House." Whereupon Mr. Harrison retorted: "If ever there was a crowd submissive to the White House it's you. You wiggle and wobble from day to day and don't know where you're going."

While the public naturally desires congress to have independence of judgment, it just as naturally recognizes that there must be co-operation between the branches of the government if the latter is to get anywhere. Contrariness must not be mistaken for independence. At the same time, when leadership is lacking in congress it is a good thing for the country if the executive can furnish some ideas and force to straighten things out and obtain needed action.

The outstanding question in the case is: If the majority in congress is not "blindly" following dictation from the white house what is it "blindly" following that seems to get it nowhere?

THE YELP OF THE KU KLUX

The smoke screen which the Ku Klux Klan would create for protection of its vicious self will not save it. Pushed into a corner by exposures of its un-Americanism, it calls upon congress for an investigation of every secret organization in the United States.

Thus it takes on the character of blackmail, for its purpose is to create suspicions of others and by this species of intimidation extort immunity for itself. This will not work.

There is no reason for inquiring about other organizations until the country has rid itself of the Ku Klux Klan. The menace it is to American institutions is confirmed in the public mind by its published purpose and demonstrated practices.

Charges are made against the Ku Klux. It is for the contemptible band to defend itself against them. If it knows of other societies vicious as itself let it prove its Americanism by making specific charges against them. All such should be disbanded, but the duty of the present is suppressing the Ku Klux.

A PERPETUAL TRUST FUND

No more appealing suggestions have been made with regard to the Allied debt than are to be found in the letter of Judge Lovett, published in today's Times. First of all, he has attention to the circumstances in which the loans were made—circumstances which make it unchivalrous as well as inhumane to demand the pound of flesh nominated in the bond. Nevertheless, he does not recommend unqualified remission of the debt. He urges that this debt be made a perpetual trust fund, to be administered for the direct benefit of the allied peoples, "free from any political purpose or other exploitation."

The heart of his proposal is that through binding treaties the interest on the fund shall be applied: (1) to the payment of pensions to surviving widows, minor children, and dependent parents; (2) to the establishment and maintenance of hospitals, and (3) to the care and support of orphans, of the aged and infirm, or to other educational or benevolent purposes.

It has already been suggested from another source that there should be conditional cancellation of the debt in such amounts as may be devoted by the several nations to the education of children. But the proposal of Judge Lovett gives a broader basis and one that has a deeper foundation in humane feeling. Moreover, this proposal comes from one whose financial advice is of high value. His contention is that it is "good business" not to demand full payment, with interest of that which we loaned, but spent largely at home, and after we entered the war. The fundamental principle on which it should rest is that the world as a whole owes something to the children who have no fair chance in it because of what those upon whom they are naturally dependent have sacrificed for the good of the world as a whole.—New York Times.

A New York woman wants a divorce from her husband because he spent all his time tinkering with his automobile. However, the divorce action suggests that he finally got her going.

PARROT GIVES POLICE CALL

Useful Bird Owned by English Hotel Proprietress—How King's Pet Saved Royal Property.

The proprietress of a hotel in Hertfordshire owns a parrot which she has trained to whistle in exact imitation of a police whistle, London Answers states.

The bird's accomplishment has come in handy on more than one occasion when rowdy customers have started to make a disturbance.

To King George belongs a parrot which on one occasion saved York cottage from being burgled. The royal family were at dinner, when suddenly loud cries were heard coming from an upper room where the bird was kept. "Look out!" it screamed. "Look out! Look out!"

A hurried rush upstairs resulted in the discovery that one of the bedroom windows had been forced open, the burglars having secured access to it by means of a ladder brought from a neighboring outhouse. On the alarm being raised by the parrot they promptly bolted.

Parrots, however, are not invariably on the side of the police. Frank Woodstock, the famous "king of the colmers," evaded arrest for years owing to one he possessed.

His "mint" was situated at the bottom of a blind alley in the borough, and the bird, whose cage was placed in such a position that it commanded the entrance to the court, had been trained to give instant warning of the approach of strangers.

MANY BIRDS AVOID IRELAND

Species That Are Common in England Are Not to Be Found in the Emerald Isle.

One of the curious features of wild life in Ireland is the absence of some of the birds best known in England. The nightingale, for instance, is never found in Ireland, while the wood-warbler, the redstart, all the species of woodpecker, the wren, the nut-hatch and several other kinds are so rare that they are unknown to the great majority of the people. There seems to be no very obvious reason for the absence of these birds. It may, perhaps, be found in the lines of migration along which the birds travel, for most of those mentioned above are not resident in Britain all the year. But it is certainly strange that such a bird, for instance, as the common whitethroat, should thrive everywhere in Ireland, while the lesser variety is unknown, and that while the willow warbler is one of the commonest of summer birds its larger relative, the wood warbler, is found in only a few places and in very few numbers. Ireland can only boast of one bird, the hooded crow, which is not a regular visitor in the neighboring island.—Christian Science Monitor.

Four Colors Are New.

What is a season without a few new colors? Thus we have them—forward comes some fashion authority and announces in our midst that the four newest and most popular colors of the present moment are rosewood, chow, aztec and humming bird.

With rosewood we're more or less familiar—we've met it in pinnos, spinet, desks and so on.

But chow! This a different story—it might be anything from a pet pup to the food your doggiebo existed on in those mad days of memory.

Aztec—ah! There's something to conjure with! The name brings visions of bright shawls, beads and painted feathers in which we might array ourselves and bedeck the Sunday landscape.

As for humming bird—the subtleties of that are left to your imagination.

Giant French Machine.

From France it is reported that the Etablissement Schneider of Creusot, manufacturers of guns, armor, locomotives and other steel products, are hard at work on a new four-engine military airplane in which the four engines will be arranged in tandem inside a central fuselage. The wing span will be about 100 feet, and the power plant is to consist of four engines of 400 horsepower each. The machine will be designed for bombing work, and will carry several machine guns. The Farman "Goliath" pilot, Lieut. Genin, has been engaged to test the first machine, while it is possible that Casale, who has already tested the Bleriot "Mammouth," will test the second machine.—Scientific American.

The "Scaup-Duck."

Willoughby says in his work on ornithology that the duck is so called "because she feeds on scaup, broken shellfish," but later authorities state that the name of the bird is properly derived from the "mussel-scaups" or "mussel-scalps," the beds of rock or sand on which mussels are aggregated.

There are three species of the scaup-duck in America, which bear numerous names, mostly local, as broadbill and bluebill (both with various qualifying words prefixed), blackhead and black neck (with qualifying words), raft-duck, mussel-duck, greenhead, grayback, flock-duck, flocking duck, troop-fowl, shuffler, etc.

A Fitting Theme.

Opportunity knocks for some and others stumble over it.

PERFORMER IN HARD LUCK

Youthful Acrobat Deeply Humiliated in the Presence of the Girl of His Heart.

A group of neighborhood youngsters had organized a circus at the home of a boy whose 8-year-old sister was my girl. I was to be the star trapeze artist and was all dressed up in a bathing suit with a window curtain sash around my waist.

The circus was held in a vacant lot; all the dogs and cats in the neighborhood were the menagerie. The trapeze hung from a tree.

In due time my act was announced. I climbed the rope to my perch in approved fashion and went through a few minor stunts with generous applause from the audience. Then I made ready for the final act, which was to astound them all, especially my girl. I began to swing violently to get the trapeze going as high as possible, and with a last look into the fair one's eyes I swung out over the heads of the assembly. But I didn't swing back. The bar of my trapeze—a section of broom handle—broke, and I sailed on in a beautiful curve to the feet of my fair lady.

From this painfully embarrassing position I was hauled by the actors, actresses, and spectators. The extent of my injuries was a cut lip, a ruined window curtain sash, and a severely lacerated pride.—Exchange.

GOOD IDEA ALWAYS WELCOME

Incident Proves That Invention That Has Merit Will Secure Appreciation at Any Time.

"A good thing will always succeed." Charles M. Schwab was talking in Loretto about the remarkable popularity of a new steel.

"Let me tell you," he went on, "a story about a shovel. Just a hundred years ago a number of men were digging a line of railway between Birmingham and Manchester. The shovels they were using had square-cornered blades about fifteen inches long.

"The digging was hard and slow, and one of the workmen suggested to the boss that if he would grind off the corners of the shovels they would cut into the earth more easily and the day's output would be bigger.

"The boss ridiculed the idea, but the workman later on persuaded an ironmonger in Sheffield to make him a couple of dozen round-cornered shovels as an experiment. These shovels were submitted to the scoffing boss for trial. The boss reported at the end of a week that his diggers were all turning up 10 or 15 minutes ahead of time in the morning so as to get hold of one of the new round shovels.

"The boss, the ironmonger and the workman-inventor patented the new shovel between them and proceeded to manufacture it in a small way. In a few years they were all millionaires."

Childish Imagination.

"It is difficult to learn to know child nature, since it is continually in the act of becoming different," says V. Rasmussen in his work on child psychology. This remark applies to the development in the first four years of child life. The author is emphatic in his opinion that little children should, as far as possible, be allowed to follow their own way. Don't distract their attention unnecessarily, he says; rather come to their aid when they are particularly attracted to any one thing. Let them develop their imagination in their own kind of play.

It might be natural to think that the child's imagination is most healthily and powerfully developed if it is fed from an early age with tales of wonder and fantastic adventure. But this is a misunderstanding, says Mr. Rasmussen.

Road Construction in China.

The central government of China is evincing considerable interest in road building, and the ministry of the interior, which has charge of highway projects in conjunction with provincial officials, is said to have prepared a bill concerning highway development for presentation to the new parliament, which is expected to meet in Peking at an early date. Considerable road construction is being conducted in connection with the famine relief work whereby the recipients of relief are enabled to render compensation for the food furnished them and thus contribute to the permanent betterment of China's transportation facilities, which will tend to minimize such catastrophes in the future.—Scientific American.

Splendid Aerial Record.

Edu Chavez, Brazilian aviator, recently flew from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, to Buenos Aires, Argentina, in less than five days. Flying a Curtiss Oriole with K-6 motor, the pilot covered 1,735 miles on his route in 20 hours and 20 minutes. Several previous aerial efforts to link the two capitals had failed.

RED CROSS GIVES ANNUAL BUDGET

$19,361,657 Allotted for Current Program of Relief and Service.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Medical Aid for European Children Will Cost $6,000,000 This Year.

Washington.—Expenditures totalling $19,361,657 for carrying through its program of relief and services in the United States and overseas are outlined in the budget of the American Red Cross for the current fiscal year. This total is more than $5,000,000 lower than the expenditure during the last fiscal year, when the disbursements reached $24,492,741, it is announced at National Headquarters in a statement calling attention to the necessity of continued support of the organization by response to the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24, if the vital work of the society is to be effectively carried on.

Outstanding among the items of the domestic budget is the appropriation of $3,682,250 for work in behalf of the disabled ex-service man and his family. This appropriation represents the amount allotted to this work from National Headquarters only and does not take into consideration the millions being spent in chapters for relief of the World War veteran. It is in the chapter that the greater amount is spent in meeting this obligation of the Red Cross, the announcement continues, as manifested by figures of the fiscal year 1920-1921 when the total was approximately $9,000,000, of which $2,962,694 represented the disbursement of National Headquarters while the remainder was the chapters' contribution to this field of Red Cross service.

Vast Work for Disabled

Chief among the sub-divisions of the appropriation for work with veterans is that which concerns itself with assistance to disabled men and women in government hospitals. This item of $1,700,000, an increase of more than $500,000 over the appropriation for the same work in last year's budget, will provide those personal services for the disabled and their families which are indispensable to supplement those provided by the government. The director of the Veterans' Bureau has recently expressed his desire that the Red Cross should continue and extend these "humanizing services." Other items of the appropriation for veterans' relief are proportionately increased. An additional appropriation of $468,000 has been made for Red Cross work in connection with regular Army and Navy hospitals and with the regular Army and Navy.

For disaster relief, the Red Cross has set aside for the current twelve months an appropriation of $543,970, virtually doubling the appropriation for the same purpose for the fiscal year 1920-1921.

Helping Destitute Children

Other items of the domestic budget include $498,546 for miscellaneous activities, including contributions restricted for special purposes and $768,000 for management. Each of these items represents large reductions over similar appropriations of the previous year.

From a fund of $10,000,000, $5,000,000 of which was contributed through the European Relief Council campaign and $5,000,000 allotted by the Red Cross for child welfare work in Europe, there remains $8,765,108 still available, of which it is estimated that $6,000,000 will be required for this work during the current year. For Red Cross participation in the joint effort to relieve famine conditions in Russia, for final work in the China famine, for Junior Red Cross and other overseas activities including the closing of the old general relief program in Europe $4,978,000 is made available.

In announcing the national budget, the Red Cross makes it clear that the figures do not include chapter expenditures or place any cash estimate on the invaluable service of volunteers in chapters.

DEAD AT SAN ANGELO

John D. Roberts, 75, Succumbs After Long Illness

John D. Roberts, father of John B. Roberts of this city, died at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at 1322 Austin street. The funeral will be held from the Robinson Undertaking Parlors at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon with the Rev. F. A. Baucum conducting the service. The pallbearers are E. M. Weeks, C. Linthicum, Henry Birdwell, C. J. Riggs, C. G. Dunklin and R. A. Rushing.

Mr. Roberts was 75 years, 10 months and 24 days old and had come to San Angelo just a year ago Saturday because of his ill health. He was a native of Kentucky, but had come to East Texas and had been a farmer in that section about 35 years. A son, Lewis, resides at Carthage, a daughter, Mrs. Wayne Martin, lives at Alto. Burial will be made in Fairmount, it was announced.—San Angelo Standard.

DYED HER SKIRT TO MAKE CHILD A DRESS

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her old, worn, faded, things new. Even if she has never dyed before, she can put a new, rich color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything Buy Diamond Dyes, no other kind, then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.

Scientists say that men will some day live to be 150 years old. If the good die young, what a lot of old reprobates there will be in that day.

If Mark Twain had not denied it, as greatly exaggerated, John Barleycorn could.

Little Sign of Culture in Speech.

Americans are known the world around for their short and nasal a's and many have been misled into brooding all their a's to prove their culture. But the original sound was as in "far" and "palm;" it is the first sound uttered by infants and still the most general sound of the letter on the continent of Europe. The "ah" sound was the most frequent for the letter in the earliest English or Anglo-Saxon, still considered the model and best usage in our language. The a in "ask" may be pronounced like the a in "bare" or "at," but, according to the Encyclopaedia Americana, "with the majority of good speakers" it should be akin to the "ah" sound. Best authorities hold that the excessive use of the short a is most common in America, outside the greater part of New England. It is thus a provincialism, whereas the broadened a's may be indicative of travel, familiarity with the languages of Europe, and association with cultured people.

"Connoisseur" and "Dilettante."

The connoisseur is "one who knows," as opposed to the dilettante, who only "thinks he knows." The connoisseur is cognizant of the true principles of art, and through his knowledge is competent to pass a critical judgment concerning any art, particularly of painting, sculpture or music. He is of a higher grade than the amateur, and more nearly approaches the artist, whose rules of action he is familiar with, but does not practice. The dilettante may be a lover of the fine arts, science or letters, and may pursue any one of the arts in a desultory way and for amusement, and Lowell says of him: "The main characteristic of the dilettante is that sort of impartiality that springs from inertia of mind, admirable for observation, incapable of turning it to practical account."

Mrs. Belmont says women are not emancipated. Neither are men.

POSSIBLE TO BE TOO FRANK

Honest Criticism by Friends Would Weaken Relations—Almost Every One Has "Paste Jewels."

It is impossible to tell the whole truth to an average human being and still remain on terms of friendship with him. There is little friendship without make-believe. If two men are close friends, you may take it that they have been pretending to a considerably higher estimate of each other than they would set down in a perfect honest diary.

It is not necessary that they should deliberately lie to another, but they must discreetly conceal a certain amount of criticism that is going on all the time behind the bones of their skulls.

What is said in a spirit of truth is set down to malice. Can a man be your friend if he steals the crown from your head? Can he be your friend even if he steals a single jewel from your crown—especially the paste jewel? We have all—the greatest and the meanest of us—paste jewels in our crowns. Will a true friend point them out to a world that is already overmuch inclined to scoff? Or will he not rather organize a clique that will pretend to be dazzled by diamonds?

Man is not only a realist. He is also a lover of romance. He dreams of what he would be quite as often as he deplors what he is. He cannot help being attracted by people who make his dream appear true. There are some men who are such intense egotists that they can believe in the truth of their dreams without any assistance from other people. Southey agreed that his "Madoc" was "the best English poem since Paradise Lost." There was no need to tell him so; he knew it already.—New Statesman, London.

Mr. Phillip Sanders of Nacogdoches who recently resigned as court reporter of this judicial district, has been given a like position with the railroad commission of Texas at an annual salary of $2,400, and will be located at Austin hereafter, where he will also attend the law school at the State University in connection with his new duties.—Lufkin News.

"Phil" has acquired the habit of making good in whatever he undertakes, and we are confident his present and future plans will prove no exception.

It is difficult to believe that congress has just had a recess of a month. It appears to be as tired as ever.

CALOMEL MAY TURN ON YOU NEXT TIME

Next Dose You Take May Salivate and Start World of Trouble

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Shoot

John and George, small sons of a Baptist minister, after listening to one of their father's doctrinal sermons, in which he set forth that baptism by immersion is essential to soul salvation, decided they must baptize their family of cats.

The kittens made no objection and one by one they were soused in the big tub of water, but when it came to the mother cat, she at once rebelled and fought and scratched until at last in desperation Pohn remarked: "Just sprinkle her, George, and let her go to hell."—Judge.

Congress is to remain at what it calls work during the Washington parley on limiting armaments. Let it be hoped that the conference will not look upon it as a pace-maker.

Explanation that Japan wants territory, not for imperialism, but for economic reasons, needing the raw materials, is simply saying it another way.

Those Washington warnings against excessive hopes from the armament conference overlook the probability that no excessive hopes are being entertained.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—light, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Theford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

GOVERNOR IS MODERATOR OF BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Waco, Texas, Oct. 6.—Governor Neff came to Waco last night to preside at the meeting of the Waco Baptist Association being held today and tomorrow at Bethany Baptist church, near Moody, this county. The governor motored to the church this morning. He declined to discuss the tragedy at Lorena except to say that he had offered his assistance to the McLennan county officers when he heard of the occurrence, and still was at their service if needed. The governor is moderator of the Waco association, still holding his membership in the church here. He rode to the church with County Attorney Frank Tirey, who is also a member of the church.

ABOUT LEAD PENCILS

Washington, Oct. 7.—Where do all the lead pencils come from and where do they go? Although most everybody has one, many folks never buy one, but even so, more than 750,000,000 are manufactured for use in the United States every year, using up many thousands of cords of wood.

Put wood suitable for lead pencils are becoming scarcer and many manufacturers are turning to paper. Red cedar and red juniper, says the American Forestry Association, are the woods used chiefly in making lead pencils. A hunt is on for other kinds of wood that will take the place of these. In East Africa a kind of cedar has been found with which experiments are being made. The production in the United States is about 80,000 cases of pencil slats per year. From each case 100 gross of pencils is made. This results in about one billion pencils of American grown cedar. Since one fourth of this number are sent to foreign countries that leaves about 750,000,000 pencils for the home market, which means an average of seven pencils per person, figuring on the last census.

As far back as history goes man has tried to make something to mark with and to set down his thoughts. The Aztecs and the Pharaohs had crude marking devices. As early as 1750 Kalm, a Swedish naturalist, made experiments with American cedar. In 1812 William Monroe made 500 pencils at Concord and sold them in Boston, but the war stopped his plans. In 1861 Eberhard Faber began making pencils on a large scale in this country.

The graphite which makes the mark is of course the important part in the manufacture of a pencil. Ceylon has furnished much of the graphite used in this country. Graphite is also found in Madagascar and in Mexico. Czechoslovakia contains deposits of both amorphous and crystalline graphite. In the United States the chief deposits are in Alabama, New York and Pennsylvania.

HOW GREEN GAGE GOT NAME

Neglectful Gardener Responsible for Succulent Fruit Having Its Now Well-Known Appellation.

Not one person in a thousand who enjoys the small, green plum which goes by the name of the green gage, ever connects the fruit with an old manor house in Suffolk, England. A beautiful, old house it is, Hengrave hall, which in the time of Charles II was settled by the Countess Rivers upon her daughter Penelope, who married Sir John Gage. Her third son, Edward Gage, who was created a baronet by King Charles in 1692 inherited Hengrave, and his descendants after him.

The gardens were on a magnificent scale and everything that was new in the horticultural world found its way to Hengrave. In this way, among other plants and fruit trees, a small plum tree was sent to the gardener, who planted it without much care or thought, and without noticing that the label which ought to have been attached, was missing. When the little tree began to bear fruit it was seen that it was something in the way of a novelty, a little, round, green plum, that was not known to anyone in Suffolk and until some account could be obtained of it the name, the Gage plum, or to distinguish it from others, the green gage plum, was used and became general. — Christian Science Monitor.

LAI D OUT AS A PLAYGROUND

Famous London Street Had Its Beginning in the Whim of Monarch for New Sport.

For the origin of that famous street in London known as Pall Mall, we can hark back and take a peep into the diary of that remarkable man, Samuel Pepys. On April 2, 1661, he says: "To St. James park, where I saw the duke of York playing at Pelmele, the first time that I ever saw the sport."

The duke's brother, King Charles, had recently formed what is called the mall for the playing of this game which was now in England, as there had previously existed a walk for that purpose on the ground occupied by the street now known as Pall Mall.

The game was introduced from France, but the name appeared to be from the Italian "palmaglio" and was played with a ball and a mallet along a straight alley and through a ring elevated about 12 feet on an arm extending from a standard. The game somewhat resembles golf, as the winner is he who effects this object in the smallest number of strokes. The mallet is somewhat similar to the one used in croquet, the handle being much longer and the face so inclined as to raise the ball when struck. This ball was about 3 inches in diameter.—Exchange.

Getting Rid of a Knot.

It is often a difficult business to get rid of knots, especially if these are of long standing. By following the plan indicated it is a simple matter to free the hardest knots, whether these be in straps, harness, rope, cord or anything of a similar nature. As a first step place the knot on some hard surface and give it a good hammering on all sides with a mallet or a thick piece of wood. Now boil up a little water with soap in it sufficient to make rather a cloudy solution. Then soak the knot for two or three minutes in the liquid. At the end of this time it will be found that it can be quite easily untied, often enough with the fingers. The loosening can be done with some sharp implement.

Profitable Companionship.

Among the most curious and interesting of natural phenomena are those pertaining to the mutual relationships of common organisms. Two plants, two animals, or a plant and an animal, may live together for their mutual benefit. Very often one of the partners gets food for the combination, while the other receives protection. This is the arrangement that subsists between tropical plants and certain species of ants which live and feed in their hollow stems, and in return drive away other insects that would do damage.

Real Success.

"Uncle George, what is success in life?" asked the small boy.
Uncle George—"It's gettin' lther folk to think as highly of you as you think of yourself."—London Blighty.

Snow Geese.

The only known flock of snow geese in existence, containing more than 5,000, weighing an average of eight pounds each, arrived recently at Cape Tourmente, Quebec, on its annual northern migration from the Southern states. Each year the birds make this a stopping-off place on their way to the Labrador coast, and have been known to do so for more than forty years. The flock has been closely protected, and this year moving pictures were taken of them by the moving picture service of the Dominion parks branch, Ottawa.

Sea Serpent Proved Hawser.

The first sea serpent tale of the season was brought to New York by the liner Munamar, from Antilla, Cuba. On Sunday Captain Andrew Osborn saw something off the port bow. Passengers lined the rail and the Munamar was headed for the object. When alongside, seamen reached down with bathhooks and grabbed it. They drew up a 34-foot length of a ship's hawser with a wooden keg on one end.

GAME ENDS IN RIOT

Louisville, Texas, Oct. 10.—The riotous ending of the fourth game between Louisville and Baltimore in the Junior World's Series here yesterday, when 3,500 of the 6,500 spectators swarmed on the field, pelting the umpires and police with cushions, today was characterized by William Kenbelcamp, president of the Louisville clubs, as a disgrace. President Hickey of the American Association held the same view. The fans protested the umpires' decision forfeiting the game to Baltimore.

OFFICERS BATTLE WITH BAND OF MASKED MEN

Durant, Okla., Oct. 8.—Several shots were fired Thursday night between a group of officers composed of Sheriff Taylor of Bryan county and three deputies and a band of nine masked, white robed men whom the officers discovered in a pasture north of the city. None of the officers was injured. The robed men fled after the shooting and Sheriff Taylor said he believed none of them had been injured. The sheriff declared he would not permit meetings of masked men.

Sheriff Taylor was advised that the men were gathering by a party of boys, who, passing the pasture in a motor car, saw the white figures moving in the darkness. The officers went out once, and upon encountering the robed figures, called upon them to halt. When they did not comply, Sheriff Taylor is said to have shot at the figure who appeared to be the leader, and several of the masked men returned the fire, which became general as the latter started to run. The masked men were on foot.

THE FIFTH GAME

New York, Oct. 10.—On even terms the Yankees and Giants will meet today for the fifth game of the world's series, and both may try for the edge with the hurlers used in the second contest—Waite and Hoyt for the Americans and Arbie and Neff for the Nationals. There has been a lot of talk about the Giants' just and found batting eyes, and now the Yankees are having their say. They assert that they will pound Neff or any other pitcher McGraw sends against them. Ruth is expected to play today. Cloudy and misty weather prevailed at 7 o'clock this morning, with an official forecast for rain.

LEGION RESENTS SLIGHT TO AMERICAN FLAG

Houston, Texas, Oct. 8.—The local American Legion post last night adopted resolutions stating that "We hereby, individually and as a body, condemn Rev. J. M. Kirwin, of LaPorte, Texas, for the insult rendered the flag of our country, personally and in the funeral ceremony of one of our comrades, and condemn Rev. Mr. Kirwin for using the dead body of one of our comrades as an instrument for flaying an organization to which he is opposed." The resolutions represent the sequel to the funeral service some weeks ago of Lieutenant Edmund L. Risener, at which Father Kirwin stated that for the first time in his life he had passed the American flag at half-mast that day without doffing his hat. He said he could not pay tribute to the organization which erected the flag.

Health turns the Clock Backward

Why Accident Victims Demand Chiropractic

(Thursday Health Talk No. 25.)
(By R. W. Zilar, D. C.)

The spinal column being composed of segments is necessarily flexible. A fall on the slippery pavement, downstairs, or any distance from a few inches to many feet, it is almost inevitable, will cause some degree of disturbance to the correct alignment of the twenty-four movable bones of the spinal column.

W. G. Mainprize, Midale, Sask., Canada, reports the following instances in a contribution to the American Journal of Clinical Medicine:

"While a man was using a crowbar, a wheel fell on it, giving him a severe jolt. He came to me for relief from an intense pain in the head. Palpation showed tenderness at the fourth cervical (spinal bone in the neck). I reduced it with immediate relief from pain."

UNCLE BEN SAYS—
"Healthy, Nevvy, is like an organ recital with a master at the keys and every nerve in tune."

"A woman, three years before coming to me, had fallen, striking the back of her neck. Since she has had seizures resembling epilepsy. I found the second cervical displaced. After its reduction the seizures stopped."

"Other cases have shown me that adjustment of the spinal column, is potent with neuritis, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, and headache."

In case of accident, get immediate attention for the spine from a Chiropractor. For the correction of diseases already established, it is equally efficient.

DEMAND IS FOR SPECIALISTS

Versatile Man Has Little Chance of Rising to Really Commanding Position in the World.

The versatile man has always been a source both of envy and of pity, says a writer in the London Daily Express. We wish at times we had his talents, but then we recollect the ancient proverb, "Jack-of-all-trades," and we wisely are content to be ourselves.

Versatility is an enviable luxury—but it remains a luxury. It is of little market value in his world. Each generation becomes more and more a generation of "specialists"—one man picks the hops, the other brews the beer.

So it is in every path of life, and so must be. Progress does not come of discussing delicately "cabbages and kings" in my lady's drawing room. Progress comes from gritting our teeth and mastering one thing at a time.

Once we have struck our roots, then, certainly, the wider our interests are, the more we appreciate life. But the merely versatile man has never struck his roots. His talents may be varied, but he fails to savor life in its finest sense because he has never learned the meaning of the finest sense.

Do one thing with all your might and happiness is yours. Do two things with half your might and your labors are vain. Make up your mind what you want to do or be. Then refuse to be led away by side issues.

Dice Used by the Ancients.
Dice, in some form or other, have existed in every period of history and in every nation. They are depicted on the early Egyptian monuments, and those excavated at Thebes are very similar to the dice made today.

The invention of dice is attributed to Palamedes, about 1244 B. C. But the use of cubes with numbered sides for gambling purposes is probably much earlier.

The Latin word for dice, tesserae, is derived from the Greek tesserae, Ionic for tesserae, four, because it is an every side square. Frequent passages in the works of ancient writers and numerous representations in marble and paintings show how popular dice playing was among them.

Music.
All true arts are expressive, but they are diversely so. Take music; it is without contradiction the most penetrating, the profoundest, the most intimate art.

Extraordinary things are recounted of the ancient music. And it must not be believed that the greatness of effect supposes here very complicated means. No. The less noise music makes, the more it touches. Give some notes to Pergolèse, give him especially some pure and sweet voices, and he returns a celestial charm, bears you away into infinite spaces, plunges you into ineffable reveries.

The peculiar power of music is to open to the imagination a limitless career, to lead itself with astonishing facility to all the moods of each one, to arouse or calm, with the sounds of the simplest melody, our accustomed sentiments, our favorite affections. In this respect, music is without a rival—Victor Cousin.

Not a Patriot.
Let us never forget that we differ from others just as much as they differ from us. If, that is to say, there is something about another nation which we honestly do not like, or do not understand, or something which we even suspect, let us put it to ourselves quite fairly that in that very case there is something about us which people belonging to that nation with equal honesty suspect, or do not like, or do not understand.

The other man, or the other nation, has its own point of view. And a man is not a patriot, but a fool and mischievous who wants the whole world to have his own or his nation's unqualified characteristics.—John D. Hutton.

No Divorce in Great Russia.
To the peasants of Great Russia marriage is a tie that death alone can sever, and divorce by the help of law courts is practically unknown to them. If the husband and wife cannot get along together they simply agree between themselves to live apart, the husband taking the boys and the wife the girls, in cases where there are any children. In spite of the fact that there is no recourse to the courts, however, husband and wife in Great Russia do not know each other before marriages except in rare instances. The selection is made by the parents or guardians, and it is unseemingly for the bridegroom to see the bride more than once before the nuptials.

Cultivate Distinct Speech.
Let us consider clear and distinct enunciation as contrasted with other kinds. Talking distinctly is one of the finest of human accomplishments. The Association of the Hard of Hearing, at a recent meeting, urged the cultivation of lip-reading by those inclined to deafness. Talking with the lips is as good for those who talk as it is for those who listen. The finest and clearest enunciation is by those who enunciate with the lower lip and the tongue, instead of by wagging their jaws and talking through their noses. Avoid masticating your spoken words, and that besetting Yankee sin—the nasal twang!—Boston Globe.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

"Pape's Diapepsin" has proven itself the surest relief for indigestion, gases, flatulence, heartburn, sourness, fermentation or stomach distress caused by acidity. The Nacogdoches County Purebred Livestock Exhibit will be held at Nacogdoches on Tuesday, November 15, 1921.

Present indications are that this exhibit will excel any other of this kind yet held in Nacogdoches county. Inquiries are already coming in for space. We are planning to arrange space for all exhibitors who request it. To enable us to do this it will be necessary that each exhibitor make his wants known as early as possible.

A substantial premium list will be arranged and some exhibitors are going to win the money. The show will not be limited to registered stock. If you have choice individuals, either hogs, cows, mules, horses, sheep, goats, jacks, jennets or chickens, bring them to this show and let the "other fellow" see what you are doing to improve the livestock of this county.

Last year our exhibit of registered hogs outnumbered and outclassed the swine exhibits at either the East Texas Fair at Timpson or the Tyler Fair. This year's exhibit promises to be better than last year's.

We are making a special effort to have a good exhibit of poultry for this show. We urge you to get your best birds ready for this occasion. Just now there is a growing interest in all kinds of poultry. People are thinking in terms of better poultry for the farm.

Also we are anxious to have some high class farm teams, both mules and horses, entered for this occasion.

The time is short to prepare your stock for this show. Please get busy and help us put on a real big, creditable exhibit.

Don't wait until the last day to ask for your space.

Ask for it now!
H. L. McKnight,
Secretary Manager.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

A jury in district court Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of the Western Union Telegraph Company in action for $1,995 brought by Mrs. Sadie Armstrong of Libert for non-delivery of a death message. A message announcing the death of a sister was telegraphed from Appleby to Nacogdoches with instructions to relay it by telephone from this place to Libert. The telephone wires were out of commission and the message could not be forwarded by wire, but was mailed and reached the addressee three days after it was sent from Appleby. Hence the suit.

Owing to the absence of defendants and witnesses the criminal docket was passed in district court Wednesday morning and the trial of civil cases was resumed.

Financial Loss Due to Colds

It is estimated that the average man loses three days time each year from inability to work on account of having a cold. Much of this loss can be avoided by treating a cold as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. Try it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won a wide reputation and an immense sale by its cure of this disease. Try it. You are certain to be pleased with its pleasant taste and the prompt relief which it affords. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Stop That Itching

If you suffer from any skin disease such as itch, eczema, tetter or cracked hands, ring worm or old sores, we will sell you a jar of Blue Star Remedy on a guarantee. The first application usually affords relief. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. D-9-291&16m

George Millard, who is attending the University of the South at Seawane, Tenn., has become affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity of that institution, and Lance Swift, also at the Seawane school, is with Phi Gamma Delta, having his membership transferred from the University of Texas, which he attended last term.

Grip

Grip usually starts the same as a cold, with a watery discharge from the nose. You are much more likely to contract the grip when you have a cold. For that reason when grip is prevalent you should go to bed as soon as you feel that you are taking a cold and stay in bed until fully recovered which should not be long if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Three days in bed now is better than three weeks later on. Stripling, Haselwood & Co.

Reports from City Marshal James Buchanan are somewhat discouraging, his condition not improving as hoped for. He is at the sanitarium suffering from a stubborn fever of nearly a month's duration. Of course he is receiving expert and careful attention, and the Sentinel and his other friends trust he may soon be on the road to recovery.

RED CROSS WORKING FOR HEALTHIER U. S.

Thousands Aided by Instruction in Care of the Sick, Food Selection and First Aid.

How the American Red Cross guides thousands of persons to health is shown in a summary of the society's activities in the health field based upon the annual report for the last fiscal year. Through its Nursing Service, its Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses, nutrition classes, First Aid classes, Life-Saving classes and Health Centers and in numerous other ways designed to acquaint masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health into all parts of the country.

The work of the Red Cross during the war in its traditional field of nursing, furnishing the military and naval establishments of the nation with 19,877 nurses, is well known. And there are today 37,787 nurses registered with the American Red Cross and subject to call in emergency. During the fiscal year, 1,561 Red Cross nurses were accepted for assignment to Government service, 888 by the Army and Navy and 1,168 by the United States Public Health Service.

In addition to the nurses enrolled by the Red Cross for Government service, the Red Cross itself employed a total of 1,348 public health nurses in the United States and Europe. By far the greatest number was employed in the United States, 1,257, while 81 were in foreign service.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, giving thorough instruction in the proper care of the sick in instances where the illness is not so serious as to require professional nursing care, during the fiscal year numbered 5,179. A statistical picture of the Red Cross operations in this field follows:

New classes formed during year	5,179
Classes completed during year	6,290
New students enrolled	101,068
Students completing course	73,432

What the Red Cross accomplished in giving proper instruction through its Nutrition Service is indicated by the following table:

New classes formed during year	142
Classes completed during year	186
New students enrolled	2,341
Students completing course	2,013

In addition to the above, a total of 22,000 children were given instruction in the proper selection and preparation of foods.

Through its 290 Health Centers, the Red Cross reached 90,252 persons. In these Health Centers, 4,015 health lectures were given and 780 health exhibits held.

In the United States last year, 75,432 persons were killed and 3,500,000 injured in industrial accidents. To prevent this enormous waste the Red Cross held 5,100 first aid classes with a total of 794,000 students enrolled.

RED CROSS RESCUED 600,000 FROM DEATH

Spent $1,200,000 for Relief of Famine Sufferers in China Last Year.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in five famine stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, $1,000,000 of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China.

Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation.

To the end that similar prompt relief measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is asking continued support by the American people by universal renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective, for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 900 miles of permanent roads that are sorely needed to prevent a recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Friday night a parent-teachers association was organized at Woden with the following officers:
Mrs. Elliott, president.
Mr. Bob Parrish, first vice president.
Mrs. Driver, second vice president.
Mrs. Gus King, third vice president.
Mrs. Jack Chisum, secretary.

There was a good attendance, and much interest was manifested. Woden is to be congratulated upon this forward step, which will mean much to the school interests of the community.

Keep your stomach, liver and bowels in good condition if you would have health. Prickly Ash Bitters cleanses and strengthens these organs and helps the system to resist disease germs. It is the remedy for working men. Price $1.25 per bottle. Stripling, Haselwood & Co. Special Agents.

By direction of the commissioners court, County Judge Marshall Friday turned over to E. D. Down, administrator of the Bland estate, contracts, $29,000 in county warrants against the road and bridge fund to cover the cost of the work of the Garrison, Chireno and Lufkin roads during the month of September. This payment does not cover the work on the bridges, which will be taken care of later. Some of the above are long-time warrants, a certain proportion of which will be taken up each year, and the burden of taxation will be very lightly increased. The bridges on these roads must be completed, of course, or all the work so far accomplished will amount to nothing.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and help to us during mother's illness and death. Our Savior said that "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of one of these, ye have done it unto me." So we look, unto Him to reward you.

A bad auto smash occurred Sunday afternoon near Douglass, according to reports. A Ford car, driven by a woman, met a larger machine in which there were two men. In order to avoid a collision the larger car turned into a ditch and the Ford, whose driver evidently had lost her head, piled on top of it. Fortunately no one was injured. The wheels of the Ford were smashed so that the car cannot be moved until new ones are provided. The larger car managed to limp into town and is undergoing considerable repairs while awaiting parts which were destroyed in the collision.

Bad breath is a symptom of disordered stomach, and weak digestion. The remedy for it is Prickly Ash Bitters; the medicine for men. It purges the stomach and bowels of fermented food and impurities, purifies the breath, clears the complexion of sallowness and makes you feel fine. Price $1.25 per bottle.
