SIXTY-ONE YEARS IN SAME PLACE

Davis Ivy, a life-long resident of "just below Oak Flat," was in Huntington Monday. Uncle Davis, now in his sixty-first year, says he feels as spry as he did 10 years ago, and that the only thing in his way right now is that he has been eating entirely too much and is "too fat" to do good work.

Uncle Davis has peculiarities possessed by no other living man. When a young man he was known as the "Champion Deer Killer" and knew more deer "stands" than any man in the county. As a "yelper" he can make a "hen turkey" ashamed of herself. He has for fifty years held the championship on the "nigger holler". In his younger days he was an expert "accorcion player." He lives today where he has lived as far back as he can remember: he never "moved" in his life, and today he is as content as man can be. Asked if he had ever been out of the county he replied that he had crossed the line of Angelina once but it was by accident. He was on the river fishing and fell into the river from a bluff bank up which he could not climb and he had to swim across the river to the Nacogdoches side to keep from drowning. Contented? Absolutely. Fun? Has more than anybody.—Huntington Messenger.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. Ulric L. Rusche was very pleasantly complimented Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. B. Rusche with a miscellaneous shower, the George Washington motif being carried out in the decorations and refreshments. Little Misses Lois Guy and Velma Louise Rusche, dressed in Martha Washington costume, brought in the basket of pretty gifts and presented them to the bride, while Miss Gladys Scott at the piano played the wedding march. Messrs. Patric and Ulric Rusche gave several vocal solos with Miss Scott at the piano. Delicious refreshments of cake, punch and home-made candies were served, each guest being presented with a corsage of red, white and blue daisies and bouquets of violets and rose geraniums. The personnel included Mesdames W. L. Guy, Dave Field, W. G. Scarborough, George Shelts, A. Thompson, E. Robertson, Alex. Curry, Charles Lora, R. H. Bigger, Ross Caldwell, C. A. Pressler, M. Williams, G. G. Carlton, A. Harrold, Robert Holt, H. C. Rusche, Louis Guy and Velma Louise Rusche. Mrs. Ulric Rusche was formerly Miss Ollie York of Gonzales, where she was married to Mr. Ulric on January 22. Lovely gifts were received from friends in Gonzales, Coper and Nacogdoches.—Houston Post.

Milk thievers are operating industriously in the city, many of our people complaining of milk left on porches by dairymen being stolen. Of course the milkmen will be caught sooner or later and made to pay heavily for their pilfering. In the meantime, watch for the coming of the milkman and take in the bottle as soon as it is placed on the porch.

TWENTY FARMERS CHARGED WITH MEXICAN'S MURDER

Brownsville, Texas, March 1.—Among 20 true bills for indictment returned by the Cameron county grand jury Tuesday were two blanket indictments charging murder and conspiracy to murder against more than 20 American farmers, residents of the Wilson tract, near Harlingen, in connection with the fatal shooting on February 2 last of Manuel Duarte, said to be a citizen of Mexico. Officers withholding the names of men indicted pending arrests, although they said that it was expected that most of them would come to Brownsville Wednesday to surrender.

A CALL TO PRAYER

The Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions and the Council for Home Missions are again uniting in a Call to Prayer for Missions, Friday, March 3, has been set apart as the day.

The local churches of Nacogdoches will observe this service at the First Christian church, hours 9:30 to 11 in the morning and 2 to 4:30 in the afternoon.

The churches unite in requesting a full attendance for this service.

The Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions of North America is composed of thirty-one organizations, including denominational Woman's Foreign Mission Boards, of the United States and Canada, the Interdenominational Woman's Union Missionary Society of America, the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association, the Woman's Algerian Band and the Student Volunteer Movement.

The Council of Women for Home Missions is composed of nineteen National Women's Home Mission Boards and Societies in the United States and Canada. The Council and the Missionary Education Movement are each year joint publishers of the Home Mission books on the Current Theme for Mission Study.

A WORD TO CANE GROWERS

To the Growers of Ribbon Cane: On Tuesday, March 9th, Mr. E. W. Cole of the State Warehouse and Marketing department will be at Nacogdoches to discuss with you the advisability of making and selling a uniform brand of ribbon cane syrup. Mr. Cole is himself a practical East Texas farmer who has given considerable study to the problems of marketing this particular product. He is only one of a number of good, capable men now touring the whole of East Texas in the interest of this undertaking. I am not informed about the details of Mr. Cole's proposition, but I know him personally, and know he is entitled to a fair hearing. We all know that ribbon cane syrup is actually worth much more than it sells for on the local market.

Come out to hear Mr. Cole and study his proposition carefully. It may offer a practical solution of the problem.

FREZZING WEATHER IN MANY PARTS OF TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, March 1.—Temperature in Texas varied from 2 degrees above zero at Amarillo, to 40 above, at Galveston today, according to reports received by the local United States Weather bureau. Killing frosts were reported as far south as San Antonio.

No reports are available as to the effects of the cold on vegetables and early crops. Abilene reported a temperature of 12 degrees, the coldest in March since the weather bureau was opened there in 1885. It is snowing at Abilene today.

At Dallas the thermometer stood at 20 degrees at 7 o'clock this morning, and much suffering was reported, charity workers having many calls for food, clothing and fuel.

The forecast for today was 12 to 13 degrees in the northern part of the state and 18 to 20 farther south, with the probability of 24 to 30 in some parts of the east country and possibly a slight freeze in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

There was a temperature of 29 5-10 in Houston today, the coldest in March in 30 years.

Stockraisers in West Texas and the Panhandle are threatened with heavy losses unless the weather moderates immediately. Grazing lands and water tanks are frozen over and cattle are deprived of nourishment.

KENYON MAKES SCATHING ATTACK UPON NEWBERRY

Columbia, Mo., March 1.—A scathing attack upon Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, praise for the courage of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri and a strong defense of the agricultural bloc in congress characterized the address of William S. Kenyon, former senator from Iowa, before the students of the University of Missouri here yesterday.

ACCOUNTS OF WEDDING CROWD OUT OTHER NEWS

London, March 1.—President Harding's proposals for an American merchant marine and ship subsidy were crowded out of several of the London newspapers by accounts of Princess Ma.'s wedding, to which every journal devoted several pages.

BANDITS GET $30,000

Indianapolis, March 1.—Five armed bandits yesterday held up and robbed a branch of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company and escaped with $30,000 in cash. Three of the men entered the bank and struck R. A. Bechtold, the assistant cashier, over the head as he was closing the door to a vault.

INTERMEDIATE EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

The Intermediate Epworth League held its first social meeting in the basement of the Methodist church on Friday evening, February 24, 1922, and the hours spent in laughter and play will be long remembered by the young people.

The league superintendent, Mrs. Cooke, assisted by Miss Sylene Spears, superintendent of recreation, had charge of the entertainment, and their work, together with that of the leaguers, made possible a most joyous evening of games and contests. Peanuts and popcorn were distributed during the games, and lemonade and cakes were served during the last written contest, after which everybody took part in a candy pulling.

The closing event of the evening, which was the occasion of much fun and merriment, was the cutting of the mock birthday cake of Miss Margaret Gaston, in whose honor the cake was made.

The Intermediate League under the able leadership of Mrs. E. G. Cooke is steadily growing and the young people of the city should avail themselves of the privilege of uniting with the league that they may become trained workers for the Lord, and for the churches and Sunday-schools in our land and in other lands, if need be.

Miss Eula Bonner of Rank is in the city for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Bonner, and to meet her brother, Mr. Tom Bonner of New Mexico, who with his wife, is also visiting homefolks here.

FREE NATURE MATERIAL FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

New York, Feb. 28.—Announcement was made today that the sum of $30,000 has been placed in the hands of the National Association of Audubon Societies to aid teachers and pupils in the study of wild birds. Children will be taught to build bird boxes, feed birds in winter, to learn the names of the common birds in their communities and will be instructed in the value of the birds to mankind.

In making the announcement today, Mr. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Audubon Societies, at 1974 Broadway, New York City, made the statement that teachers who form Junior Audubon Clubs would receive free material to aid in their work of teaching bird study.

"Pupils who become Junior Members will receive material that costs us $30,000 more than their nominal fees," said Mr. Pearson, "already more than one million, seven hundred thousand children have been organized in these Junior Clubs in the schools of the United States and Canada, and we have colored pictures of birds and other material on hand to supply 200,000 more children during the spring months. Teachers everywhere are invited to write and secure free the Association's plans for bird study."

SWINE IN TEXAS

While Texas farms have increased 18,263, and improved farm lands have increased nearly four million acres during the last ten years, the number of swine on Texas farms have decreased 110,805, according to the United States census. Out of 2,225,558 head of swine on 436,032 Texas farms, there are $39,644 head of brood sows, all breeds included, which averages a good deal less than one sow per farm for the entire state.

W. H. Stratton says that the Texas State Fair Board, of which he is secretary, has been endeavoring to popularize the hog and increase production of them in Texas by inducing large and excellent exhibits of swine at the state fair each year. He has arranged with the Poland China Breed Promotion Committee of Peoria, Ill., for a futurity show carrying $1,000 in prizes for the 1922 fair. This purpose, in addition to the money offered in the open classes of the fair, will make the prize money in the Poland China classes alone aggregate nearly $2,000.

According to the terms of the futurity show, breeders will be eligible to compete for the premiums on condition that they nominate their herd by March 15th with the Poland China Breed Promotion Committee by the payment of $5. There must be at least twenty herds nominated for the show to be assured.

Breeders in any adjoining state where there is no futurity show, are eligible to enter the Texas show provided they nominate their herds. All such breeders are eligible to exhibit in the open classes at the state fair. The large amount of prize money offered by the fair board will assure a large swine exhibition this coming season.

A PROLIFIC PORKER

C. D. Warner, who lives out on Route 5, has a two-year-old registered Duroc Jersey sow that has just farrowed sixteen pigs. This is a record well worthy of mention, and it is doubtful if there is similar record anywhere in this section of the country. It pays to raise hogs in Angelina county and quite a number of farmers are giving this industry considerable attention.—Lufkin News.

FORT WORTH WOMAN CHIEF OF DIVISION

Fort Worth, Texas, March 1.—Mrs. J. D. Turner of Fort Worth has been appointed chief of the women's division, state labor department, according to announcement made here Tuesday.

She succeeds Mrs. Lena Gardner, Fort Worth, resigned.

THRIFTY CHILDREN

New York, March 1.—American school children deposited in banks more than $4,000,000 the last school year, it was announced today by the American Bankers Association. This was nearly double the amount so deposited the preceding year.

U. S. GOVERNMENT CON- TROLS PASSENGER FARES

Washington, Feb. 28.—Railroad passenger fares within a state are subject to regulation by the federal government, the Supreme Court ruled yesterday.

SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT DECLARED CONSTITUTIONAL

Washington, Feb. 28.—The woman's suffrage (the nineteenth) amendment was declared constitutional by the Supreme Court yesterday.

PREFER THEM SINGLE

Washington, Feb. 25.—Old Man Mars may be groggy from the stiff body blows that have been rained on him from all quarters since Armistice Day of 1918, but he won hands down in St. Valentine's Week, over the forces of Cupid in a decision of the Marine Corps. In the future no married man will get by the recruiters who wear the blues of the Marines, nor will any be re-enlisted from any branch of the service except in specific cases of men or duty at certain staff officers, those detailed on recruiting duty and the benedicts who have had long and honorable service with the sea soldiers.

The order of Major General John A. Lejeune was not issued as reflection on the fighting merits of the men who have been seriously wounded by Cupid's arrow. Vaudevillians who declare that the married man is a better warrior because he is always fighting will find no support in the order. It was based on economic reasons; the pay of a private and the lack of quarters at most stations for the families of enlisted men being the controlling reasons.

MAYO BROTHERS PURCHASE TEXAS MADE MATTRESSES

Sugar Land, Texas, Feb. 28.—Another victory for Sugar Land and for Texas industrialists is registered in the recent purchase by the St. Mary's infirmary of Rochester, Minn., for their new wing, 400 mattresses and 200 pairs of pillows. This is the institution in which the famous Mayo brothers, internationally known surgeons, conduct their operations, and the Texas mattresses have been installed upon the 400 beds that give ease and repose to patients that come to Rochester from all parts of the world.

WANT RECOGNITION

Mexico City, March 1.—An appeal to President Obregon to take the Mexican people into his confidence in matters concerning recognition by the United States coupled with an urgent demand that something be done to restore diplomatic relations between the two nations, was made in a signed editorial today in the newspaper El Universal by its publisher, Felix Palavicini. The president was asked to explain thoroughly what the demands of the United States are and to take counsel with the nation's wisest men as to how these demands can best be met in a manner commensurate with national pride and dignity.

NO CASH BONUS

Washington, March 1.—Elimination of the cash feature of the soldiers' bonus was virtually agreed upon today by republican members of the house ways and means committee. Mr. Fordney announced that a special subcommittee of six had been named to work out some plan that would not entail large drafts on the federal treasury in the next two years. Such a plan would make unnecessary any immediate bonus financing and remove the cause of controversy in the house over the bill.

NAVAL VESSELS TIED UP

Washington, March 1.—The American navy was virtually brought to anchor today by the action of the house appropriations committee in cutting the requested appropriation for navy fuel from $12,000,000 to $6,282,685. Plans were made immediately by the navy department to stop all steaming of warships and craft, which will remain where they are until additional funds are available.

PROVISIONAL AGREEMENT FOR GERMAN REPARATIONS

Berlin, March 1.—A provisional agreement reached between the allied reparations commission and the German government provides for the annual payment by Germany of 720,000,000 gold marks in cash and 1,450,000,000 gold marks in kind, it was announced yesterday.

Should the deliveries in kind not reach the total fixed, the cash payments will not be increased, under this agreement. This, it is pointed out, the entente should have considerable interest in seeing that the stipulated deliveries of products were duly made.

OIL MILL DESTROYED

New Boston, Texas, Feb. 28.—Fire broke out in the linl room and destroyed the New Boston Oil Mill today, inflicting an estimated loss of $100,000.

JUDGE LANDIS QUILTS

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis today completed his seventeenth year's service as federal judge of the Northern District of Illinois. At 11 o'clock he rendered his last decision and stepped from the court room with the announcement that he never again would occupy the judicial bench. His resignation was recently sent to President Harding, effective tomorrow.

BUY CATTLE DIP

The County Commissioners Monday concluded a contract with the Chipman Chemical Company of New York for a minimum carload (2,350 gallons) of cattle dip for use in Nacogdoches county's crusade against the tick. This quantity is assumed to be sufficient to conduct a thorough campaign of eradication. The price agreed upon was $1.25 per gallon. The Chipman Company's was the lowest of several bids.

Russell Welch, who resides a few miles from town, was arrested Monday for transporting liquor. A gallon was found by officers in his wagon. He claimed to have bought the stuff of a negro whose name he did not know. Welch had a preliminary hearing before Judge Frank Huston at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and was held to the grand jury, giving the required bond. The officers said the tip that Welch had the liquor was furnished by Lee McKnight, the taxi driver, who is under bond for his appearance to answer a charge of assaulting Welch's sister.

A ROYAL WEDDING

London, Feb. 28.—Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, was married today to Viscount Lascelle with all the pomp and dignity befitting a royal wedding. Vast crowds gave tumultuous greetings, while the chiming of Westminster rang out a happy message. Princess Mary's "Honey-moon Special" is prepared to leave London for Shifnal, Shropshire, this afternoon. "Princess Mary" is the name of the locomotive assigned to draw the train. It is planned to have the 136 miles covered at an average speed of between 50 and 60 miles an hour, the train only slowing down at important centers to let the crowds obtain a fleeting glimpse of the couple.

R. R. POLICY CHANGES

Washington, March 1.—Two important changes in the government's policy toward the nation's railroads are effective today. The section of the transportation act fixing 6 percent as the return on properties which the railroads are entitled to earn under Interstate Commerce Commission regulations expired today. Also with today expires the period the railroads controlled by the government during the far are entitled to ask government loans to aid them in continuing operations after their return to private management.

SUCCEEDS LANDIS

Chicago, March 1.—Federal Judge Mack of New York was today selected by Senior Federal Judge Carpenter of the Northern District to serve the unexpired term of Judge Landis, resigned.

WEEKLY SENTINEL

PRICE $1.50 PER YEAR.

BY GILES M. HALTOM

GEORGE WASHINGTON

The following splendid tribute to George Washington is reproduced from the Columbus Miss.) Dispatch of the 22nd. It is without doubt the finest we have seen:

Of all genera, man differs most widely in species. In fact, aside from ethnological classification, there can hardly be said to be species in man, so widely does progeny differ. Bones, organs, tissues are alike, but character, which is the most of man, varies indefinitely. From the ignobly little, to the towering great, the way is long and the undulations many, and the heights are few.

Among the very great of our land, his towering form and lofty character plainly stamped upon the shores of time, in sharp outlines the passing years cannot dim, stands our first president, affectionately called "The Father of His Country," the immortal George Washington.

Calm, majestic and serene he stands—in his simplicity sublime—a lonely eminence in the world of men.

It is very lonely to be great. No lightning flash about his placid brow; no thunder utters terror in his name; no cowering slaves crouch at his conquering feet. Washington is simply, majestically, noiselessly great. Greater than Caesar, he conquered greed of power; greater than Cromwell, he won the love of his people; greater than Napoleon, he vanquished ambition.

It is the habit of history to proclaim as great, principally military heroes, perhaps because men love action, clamor and glitter. There are many in the story of the world greater as soldiers than Washington.

Alexander conquered the world, and died a drunken sensualist.

Caesar was master of Rome, when Rome was mistress of the world, refusing a crown as a people's gift because he chose to take it in the pride of his own power, and died beneath the daggers of his friends, and in the end, missed victory.

Marlborough, the unconquerable terror of his foes, who could fight as no man ever fought, wept out a dishonored, exiled life, the conqueror of a nation and the vanquished of aversion.

Cromwell refused a crown to wield a vulgar tyrant's power, to be torn at last from his quiet grave and exposed to a nation's scorn.

Napoleon, the terrible, splendid, lurid sword of destiny, purged Europe of its putrid traditions, making possible the freedom of the present day, to die a wretched captive, vanquished by his own wholly ambition.

Of all these men of laurel leaves, not one was greater than his crimes. In his utter sincerity, in his perfectly poised character, in his simple, but unapproachable dignity; in his lofty adherence to duty, and in the absence of selfishness, no man in history, except Robert E. Lee, approaches Washington. No man ever so completely made his way to the stars through difficulty. Trenton was a battle won; Yorktown was success, but Valley Forge was victory.

When a nation's love would have given him a crown, he was too great to coquette with fate, but simply, grandly, sincerely, finally refused it. No crown, no kingdom, could have been as great as Washington, the gentleman. Great as the power of the general was, he was greater than his power. Great as the fame of the man is, he is greater than his fame. He was called by the poet "Cincinnatus of the West." Nothing further from him. He was no ploughboy returning smirking to buccolic tasks to court the plaudits of the world by comparison. He was the gentleman who having done his duty as gentlemen do, retired in dignity to private life.

Never in the history of the world has human career been so marked with memorials of applause. In touching fame, he made fame greater. So great, so prevailing is the fame of this man, so radiant is it, that we lose sight of it as we lose sight of the daily splendor of the sun.

In this day, when little men do fret the world and proclaim themselves great, it is well for us to pause on the twenty-second of February, and stand with bowed head before the grandly-simple tomb at Mount Vernon and reflect that there in the dignity of death lies all that was mortal of the man, and keep within our hearts all that is immortal of Washington; for he was, indeed, "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

"A FINE CHAP"

The subtlety of language is a formidable weapon when a deft tongue wields it. Margot Asquith catalogues President Harding as a "fine chap."

Now what precisely does an English person mean by "a fine chap" and to what type of individual is such a remark applied? Would Mrs. Asquith have said President Lincoln is a fine chap? Probably not. She would not say it of Woodrow Wilson, nor of that sombre chip on the British political waters, her own famous husband.

There is only one type of man to describe as "a fine chap" and that type, Mrs. Asquith thinks, and therefore says, is President Harding. It is doubtful if the president may flatter himself on the impression he produced. The "fine chaps" of the world are not necessarily great intellects, nor gifted leaders, nor superfine orators. Usually they are good company, go all on a party, shake hands cheerily and never make an enemy if they can make a friend. We invite the "fine chaps" to our table, but we don't consult them when the family mortgage is at stake. We enjoy an hour of their chummy companionship, but we do not invite them to inspect our soul.

It is quite clear that Mrs. Asquith did not invite the president to inspect her soul, but she enjoyed him, admired his handsome big head, and classified him straightaway as "a fine chap."

There doesn't seem to be anything the president can do about it.

LANDIS' RETIREMENT

The resignation of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis from the United States district court bench in Chicago to devote all his time to his duties as the high commissioner of organized baseball causes no surprise, but it will give satisfaction to the hosts of admirers of the man that it came at a time when his enemies were reduced to silence. However, none who knew him, had any thought that he would retire under fire.

Since the country has come to recognize Judge Landis as an institution, whether in court or in the baseball world, the vast majority undoubtedly wish him well, having the justice and the sportsmanship to recognize that while some of his actions and statements have not pleased them, others thrilled them to applause. As shown by the fact that the reputation he earned while serving on a court bench at $7,500 a year won him a $50,000 position as the head of a profession just the opposite of judicial solemnity, he, therefore, is not to be viewed as a common man. Positions that might have been incompatible to some seemed compatible enough in his case. His nature demanded something like baseball as a relaxation from the work as a jurist.

Although Judge Landis, in his 17 years' service on the bench, frequently did some things that seemed purely sensational, as when he fined the Standard Oil Company $29,240,000 or laid a penalty of one cent upon some youthful offender, the courage he showed in standing by his convictions was constant and always won him admiration on the part of many. As he leaves the bench there will be found in his record vastly more to praise than to criticize adversely.

Unquestionably his resignation from the bench represents the better policy under the circumstances. Although practically every normal American is a baseball "fan," and judges and ministers have as much right to share in the recreation as others, officially the diamond and the court bench are scarcely associated. No one can for a moment find fault in the judge for clinging to the $50,000 position instead of the $7,500 one. If he succeeds in putting the national game upon the ideal basis he desires he will have rendered a useful service to the country. Success to him in that direction.

THE FOUR-POWER PACT

The four-power pact should be ratified by the United States senate. It is an integral part of the work of the arms conference and the various treaties and agreements achieved at Washington are so inseparably interrelated that one cannot fall without grave menace to the others. Of these new international understandings the four-power pact is obviously the keystone, providing as it does a means of compromising differences which may hereafter arise and which, left to chance, might wreck the whole.

Of and by itself the Pacific pact was open to critical inquiry in the early days of the Washington meeting. It committed the signatory powers to the ratification and respect of rights that had not been then defined. The underlying relations of all nations interested in the Pacific have since been written as clearly as could be wished and in a manner to command approval. In the light of agreements formulated since the four-power pact was published that document commends itself to all who are sincerely interested in winning a greater measure of international concord and organization.

The four-power pact should be ratified in spite of the blundering manner in which the administration had handled its presentation. It was written vaguely and without the splendid courage evinced by Mr. Hughes in his historic naval pronouncement. It was bedeviled by the blundering action of the president and his secretary of state in openly disagreeing as to what Japanese territories it was meant to include. It was bedeviled by secrecy and by failure of the administration to send to open view of the senate the loudly promised minutes and documents bearing upon its adoption. But the unintelligent management of executive administrations should not be allowed to militate against an essential part of a good work well done.

THE MAIN PLEDGE UNKEPT

The Harding administration is entitled to satisfaction with a number of the accomplishments of the Washington conference, but this does not redeem the main pledge for an association of nations. The meeting for arms reduction, which did not touch land forces at all, was but an incident to the work that must be done to enable the world to settle down after the greatest war in history. There must be machinery for the quick assembling of conferences as needed and the carrying out of details of agreements.

It was definitely understood long ago that if the Harding administration could not see its way clear to enter the League of Nations it was incumbent upon it to produce, if it could, a better association. Under no circumstances can the conference of a few nations at Washington be considered as an association, and it was made clear by spokesmen for the Harding administration that the recent gathering was not so viewed by the president. The latter, it was represented at one time, was hopeful that the meeting might create sentiment for a new association, but it did not. It was made plain that the other nations are for developing the League.

When it was recalled that leading republicans signed pledges that a vote for Mr. Harding would not be against the League and that others gave assurance that if he would not favor the functioning organization he would form a new association, it will be realized that the promise cannot be evaded.

The failure to do anything in line with redemption of this pledge is another thing to figure in the coming campaign—particularly in view of the fact that the continuance of hard times in this country is due largely to world unsettlement.

FORD AMENS CROCKETT

If President Obregon's platform was normalcy, he has made good.

Compulsory work has been imposed upon women in Bulgaria—and other places that a lot of women know of.

The president, it seems, favors any kind of a tax that is sure to win the disapproval of congress.

If there is to be a year of 13 months a tenant doesn't want it to be another month with only 28 days in it.

An exemption doesn't help out the income tax payer who studies it and finds he is exempt from the exemption.

Princess Mary's wedding is to be another "all-British event." We never expected that Cousin Wilhelm would be there.

Judge Landis is urged to run for mayor of Chicago but if we may judge from the recent past Chicago doesn't want a mayor.

President Harding is opposed to any union of bonus and debt, which is an official hint of about what the debt amounts to.

A New York man says he took a drink of moonshine and woke up married. That's a much better excuse than most fellows have.

An auto party has made its appearance in the Hollywood affair. Many had begun to wonder where it could possibly be keeping itself.

The fashion edict that there are to be no hooks on bathing suits for ladies this year does not mean that there will be no eyes on 'em.

Probably there are a few people in Ohio who have not been given jobs by the administration, but such are expectant, doubtless.

It has been found in Pennsylvania that a man hanged by the state 14 years ago was innocent. Well, better late than never.

Balfour says the world owes a debt of gratitude to the United States. But the United States will overlook that if the other debts are paid.

FORD AMENS CROCKETT

When he was asked the other day for an expression as to his "creed," Henry Ford said something that recalls the famous, familiar old saying of David Crockett when he immortalized himself with "Be sure you are right; then go ahead!" Ford declared that the whole of his creed of life is "Pray for wisdom and give service."

That is the David Crockett creed raised to the dignity of a rather more comprehensive form. Ford meant when he said that his creed embraced the "praying for wisdom," that he "wanted to be sure he was right," first. Knowledge is not enough; the knowing how to apply what one knows is infinitely more important—and that is wisdom. And "going ahead" with Ford is "giving service." Service is the greatest word in the English language, according to one modern philosopher. Service holds all the accomplishment that can bring great results for the server, the servant—and for others; and the real philosopher has found that service rendered of the sort that serves others, many others, is the only permanent sort of success that redounds to the good of the one who serves.

It is quite natural and logical that when Ford was asked for a more specific statement of his extended creed that he said "There should be just one creed—the Sermon of the Mount." That includes the code of service as it is developed from an appropriation of the thought of "real wisdom." Mr. Ford believes that the "Master" is master because He was the "supreme servant." And that Teacher said that the man who would be greatest must learn that the way to such greatness is by learning to be "servant to all." The creed of David Crockett and the creed of Henry Ford are the same—the creed of the Master Teacher, who first taught service.

Thomas Edison, whose birthday anniversary was only recently observed, is great because he is a servant of millions—ministering by his superb scientific knowledge and marvelous inventive genius to the need of the millions. Ford is a friend and a follower of Edison. Others may serve, who minister to many, who are servants to humanity, are great for that reason.

Moonlight is stimulating but moonshine is paralyzing.

PRIZES AWARDED AT OLD FIDDLER SCOUTEST

The Old Fiddlers' Contest at Lufkin last week was a huge success and the old "boys" had a good time, which nobody begrudges them. The people of Lufkin exerted themselves to make it pleasant for the visitors, and their efforts were entirely successful in one is to judge by the reports of those who attended the meeting.

A large crowd greeted the old fiddlers at the high school auditorium when 22 contestants took part in the exercise, each playing tunes that created atmosphere of the days gone by.

W. B. Wallace of Groveton and T. Johnson of Angelina county divided honors for the first prize, while E. L. Nicols of Groveton won the prize offered to the best fiddler of the younger set. Bob Garrett, of Timpon, whose fiddle is the product of his own carving, was also given a prize.

After the contest the old fiddlers furnished the music for an old-fashioned "square dance," arranged and "called" by W. M. Glenn, which proved one of the most successful features of the evening.

Fortunately for him, the men who advocated 10-year terms in the United States senate has been forgotten.

At a late hour congress was reported still unconscious, while attendants mentioned "bonus" only in a whisper.

There is reported to be quite a little concern in congress as to what the effect of the November election will be on unemployment statistics.

A pleasure resort on the California coast reports the appearance of an alcohol cigar. But maybe this is only a scheme to boost the travel to that point.

President Harding is reported as having had a narrow escape from being struck by a street car in Washington. Just another reminder that neither a street car nor an automobile is much of a respecter of persons.

George Sylvester Viereck, the notorious pro-German of New York, now charges that Wilson plotted the world war. One of the best things in the record of Wilson is that he invariably incurred the enmity of cattle like Viereck.

CATCHES CHICKENS AND THEN COOKS THEM

The greatest attachment for Ford cars yet invented is the claim of a Missouri man.

The invention is patented after a street car guard so that when the driver runs over a chicken or turkey instead of leaving the fowl dead or maimed in the road, it scoops up the bird, runs it past the engine fan, which is ingeniously arranged with knife-like blades that dress, clean and cut up the fowl. The fowl then lands in a pan attached to the engine, which cooks it by the heat from the exhaust pipe. Water from the radiator slowly drips on the cooking bird so that gravy is made when and if desired.—Ex.

A PROGRESSIVE TOWN

Alto has an up-to-date light plant, good waterworks and sewerage system now under construction, gravelled streets that are well kept up, lots of good concrete sidewalks, wide-awake merchants and business men. Show us another town the size of this one that can boast of these improvements and we will eat your old winter hat.—Alto Herald.

Many investors who bought bonds without taking liberties are sorry.

DANDERINE

Stops Hair Coming Out; Thickens, Beautifies.

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store. After one application you can not find a particle of dandruff or a falling hair. Besides, every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and abundance.

The Grasshopper And the Ant

PROBABLY you have read the fable of the grasshopper and the ant. How the ant prepared for the winter and the grasshopper only played, and later starved.

And the moral—do you interpret it?

When you buy, do you purchase any kind of products? Or do you prepare for wise buying by reading the advertisements and selecting the article that will do you most good?

Advertised products are the best possible buys. They must give greatest value because they have a good name to protect. Manufacturers of well known articles and merchants value these names at millions of dollars. They cannot afford to jeopardize the worth of their names by selling any but the best quality at the most reasonable prices.

Buy with forethought. And read the advertisements to see what to get and where to get it.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

GARRISON GOSSIP

From the News, 24th.

J. J. Frederick visited Nacogdoches Monday.

Miss Sparks of Nacogdoches is visiting Mrs. Bert Corley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mills visited Nacogdoches one day last week.

Rev. T. N. Fore visited Nacogdoches last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Dale motored to Nacogdoches last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wilson and Miss Adelle Chandler motored to Nacogdoches Monday.

Howard Dennard, who is attending school at Nacogdoches, spent the week-end with homefolks in the city.

Miss Gladys Urey of Nacogdoches visited Miss Ruth Langston Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hunt of Nacogdoches spent Sunday in the city with Mrs. Hunt's mother, Mrs. J. A. Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Higginbotham have rented the Wiley Hotel and took charge of the same the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Higginbotham are experienced hotel people and have the reputation of being first-class hotel managers. The News joins their many friends in wishing them success.

Mr. Leroy Richards and Miss Lou Elliott, both of the Pine Hill community, were united in marriage Saturday night at the home of Justice of the Peace W. H. Williamson, his honor performing the ceremony. They are splendid young people, and their many friends wish for them a happy and prosperous life.

County Attorney Audley Harris of Nacogdoches made an address in the interest of law enforcement at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon which was listened to by a large and appreciative crowd. Mr. Harris is always greatly in earnest in any cause he espouses, and he put much enthusiasm into his address as well as good logical reasoning.

HUGE STORM DAMAGE

Green Bay, Wis., Feb. 25.—Property damage wrought by the sleet storm in the Appleton district will exceed $2,000,000, it was reliably reported today.

WILL LIFT MARTIAL LAW

Austin, Texas, Feb. 27.—The governor said today that he would issue a proclamation lifting martial law at Mexico this afternoon, effective March 6th, at 6 a. m.

The new silver dollar is now declared to be thicker on one side and wedge-shaped, but that won't prevent it from slipping through one's fingers.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS

The regular weekly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Directors was held at 10 o'clock a. m. with President Matthews in the chair, and with the following members present: Arthur Seale, L. B. Mast, G. A. Blount, Elbert Reese, J. J. Greve, W. C. Fouts, J. H. Miller, W. D. Burk, H. P. Schmidt, J. N. Thomas, Orland Patton, A. T. Mast, A. H. Smith, Link Summers, J. B. Atkins, Robert Muckleroy, F. W. Betts, C. B. Brewer, and W. D. Ambrose. Vice president Carl Monk was absent on account of sickness.

Mayor Middlebrook was present as a visitor.

President Matthews reported the names of Dr. A. A. Nelson, C. A. Hodges, J. M. Tucker, Frank Sharp, and Elbert Reese as a committee to select a site and arrange for equipment for a camp site for auto tourists.

The secretary asked for more time in which to look up the new road law before asking for the appointment of the committee to arrange for road signs and marks.

J. N. Thomas suggested the advisability of offering some inducements in the way of a bonus or premium for new industries to locate in the city. He submitted the idea, he stated, merely for the purpose of discussion to the end that a round, workable, policy might be adopted embracing the general idea. This suggestion met with considerable interest and is scheduled for future discussion.

The question of adequate fire protection for the industries located in the city was brought up for consideration and, after some discussion on motion of Director Greve, W. D. Burk and City Fire Marshal Muller were named as a committee to investigate the matter and to report their recommendations to the City Council.

Treasurer F. R. Penman was present and made a partial report for the finance committee. A final report is to be made at a later meeting.

GIPL CIVIL BOND

Waco, Texas, Feb. 25.—Miss Marie Matthews, the 17-year-old girl who shot J. S. Crosslin to death in the courtroom here yesterday, where he was being tried on a criminal assault charge, is at the Evangelina Home here. Her case will be called for preliminary trial Tuesday. Her father, W. E. Matthews, is proprietor of a shooting gallery at Rosebud. She is under a bond of $4,000.

REFUSED RESIGNATION

Okmulgee, Okla., Feb. 27.—Interest in the situation growing out of the recent dismissal of the grand jury investigating the affairs of the defunct Bank of Commerce here by Superior Court Judge Christopher took a sudden spurt today with the making public of a letter from Governor Robertson, sent yesterday to the judge, declining to accept the latter's resignation. No word has been received from the judge, who is believed to be in Chicago. In the letter, Governor Robertson upheld the judge in dismissing the jury, saying that to have let it render a report would have made more difficult the quick settlement of the bank's affairs. The governor, however, criticized Judge Christopher for offering to recall the discharged jury and let it make a report.

ROADS IN BAD SHAPE

A trip over some of the county roads Sunday disclosed the fact that a great deal of damage had been inflicted by the recent rains, and quick work will be necessary to protect them. On the Nacogdoches-Lufkin highway the fills have been washed away at certain points till there is barely sufficient room for one vehicle to pass over, and unless these are repaired at once, and the embankments permanently strengthened all the costly work will have been wasted. On the Chireno road where the Carrizo creek parallels the highway a few yards the bank has caved and been undermined till the passage of a car or wagon over the weak places would inevitably wreck the road till it would have to be entirely replaced.

EPWORTH LEAGUE GROWS

The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, made a net gain of 47,000 members last year and now has a membership of 1,974,522, according to an announcement made by Rev. Ralph E. Nollner, associate secretary of the general Epworth League board of the church.

Gains for the quadrennium totaled 62,000 members, Mr. Nollner stated. He also reported the payment of $200,000 by the league for mission work in Africa and the raising of $35,000 by the Texas league organization for the building of a missionary boat now operating on the Congo.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

People who were not acquainted with the lay of the land, or conditions that existed in old Nacogdoches county about the period extending from the 30s to the 60s, and even later, can hardly appreciate the wonderful transformations into the present day status.

Of course there were no railroads nearer than Houston or Beaumont, and as to water transportation, Nacogdoches or Grande Ecure, Shreveport and Jefferson, on Red river, were the entire or only places for freight shipments. Pattonia on the Angelina tried it, but failed. Wagons and teams, horses, mules and oxen were the sole facilities and a round trip required a week or more.

The chief mail route was on the big road, now called the King's Highway, running east and west. It was usually called the "Old San Antonio Road." This was the main artery of travel. The old time stage coaches carried mails and passengers. The ordinary schedule time to Nacogdoches was 48 hours. Mails were taken on to the east from there.

The changes since then are brought into sight by the fact that a new iron bridge is used now, across the Angelina at Spradley's ferry, and automobiles run between Nacogdoches and Lufkin, and one hour is the time. The railroad is not superior to this. And away back in the olden times the crossing was called Procella Crossing.

Little by little the times changed, and the crossing became known as Goodwin's Ferry. The noted gal, Sallie Goodwin was there. And the ferry boat was poled back and forth by her, and her daddy and mammy. Then there was a kind of primitive road that went to this ferry, and it became Owen's Ferry. This road was the called the Procella road. It was hardly worthy of the name road. It was rough, dim and crooked. The first hour on it was just south of Dr. Drury's present home. It was rather modern and it was the Mayfield homestead, containing about 30 acres. The next house on it was at the ferry, said to be twelve miles, till Owens disputed the measure and said it was only ten miles. Folks thought he was just trying to make it closer to town, till E. S. Hurton had it measured with a surveyor's chain, as he was on his way with an outfit to survey the famous old Michili grant just over the river.

And in those days it came to pass that Uncle Jake Lewis, and Uncle George Christian and other patriarchs settled along the west side of Lanana creek, above old Juan Prada's lonely home on the east side. And they had to go from house to house and for such purposes they made roads, and then extended them up the creek via George Finley's which became the Uncle Asa Moore home, and on up to town. But the old Procella road was not much used.

John W. Lewis, John E. Christian and Sterling Moore could tell all this and more. They were born there, and the wild deer roamed at will in the side open pine woods, which were sublime, both in day and night. When the woods were a fire at night it was truly a beautiful sight. The wild deer would often stand and gaze at it, and the cattle would come and stand near the flames. The lone doctor on his horse returning to town late in the dark silent night got the full benefit of these scenes.

But those are mere memories, and they could be extended to greater scope. J. E. M. San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 25, 1922.

H. L. McKnight, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Nacogdoches has entered the race for representative of Nacogdoches county. Mr. McKnight was for a long time connected with the extension department of the A. & M. College and has given many years towards improving farm conditions.—Timpson Times.

Senator LaFollette's one long regret seems to be that he was born in a country that is all wrong.

PROPOSERS THAT COUNTIES HAVE MEETING AT BRIDGE

A novel and friendly way to celebrate the opening of the new bridge across the Angelina river at the county line of Angelina and Nacogdoches counties would be to have a meeting of citizens of both counties at that point, according to suggestion of H. L. McKnight of Nacogdoches.

Mr. McKnight was in Lufkin this week accompanied by his two sons, Bryant and Morris. Talking with a Lufkin Leader representative the visitor suggested that closer feeling should be cultivated more between the two neighboring towns. His idea for the date of the meeting would be around the first of March or shortly thereafter. He hopes to hear from others regarding the idea of a mutual gathering of citizens from both Angelina and Nacogdoches counties.—Lufkin Leader.

AUTO-TRUCK BURNED

Mr. Bud Brown of Martinsville was the victim of a costly mishap while he was returning home from town Wednesday. Some kerosene of carbon ("high life") which he carried became ignited and exploded, the gasoline in the tank also became ignited and exploded, wrecking the tank and engine and completely destroying the car. That Mr. Brown escaped serious injury is miraculous.

POLL TAX RECEIPTS ISSUED

Collector Melton's office has completed the count of poll taxes paid for 1921, and his books show that 5,405 receipts were issued.

The receipts issued for 1920 numbered 3,700, showing the gain over the previous year in this year's payments of 1,705.

The division of payments as to sexes has not yet been made.

Mrs. Jas. B. Dorsey and children visited John B. Dorsey and family at Nacogdoches the first of the week.

J. O. Fussell made a business trip to Nacogdoches Saturday.

Miss Dorothy Washburn was at Shreveport Sunday for a visit with her mother, who is in a sanitarium there for treatment. We regret to note that Mrs. Washburn is not improving to the degree hoped for, but hope she may soon take a turn for the better.

HEALTH WEEK

(By the Texas State Board of Health) Austin, Texas, Feb. 27.—On account of the vast number of inquiries on "Health Week" coming to the State Board of Health, this department has seen fit to issue a brief summary of activities that might profitably be undertaken during this period, March 5th to 11th, inclusive.

The department would first urge every community to organize for this work by appointing committees, promulgating plans and providing efficient machinery for executing the plans.

It is essential also, that a survey of the community be made, to locate the health menaces and then all efforts should be concentrated towards the removal of these menaces combined with the erection of defensive work against entrance of disease from outside sources.

City officials may desire to center their attention on the correction of defects of the water supply, methods of night-soil and garbage disposal, drainage, street cleaning, housing, swimming pools and municipal health and sanitary ordinances.

County officials might look toward improving sanitary conditions of their county institutions, including jails, courthouses, hospitals, and county farms and establishment of a full-time county health department.

School boards may undertake needed sanitary improvements of building and grounds. School officials may conduct health poster and essay writing contests, health plays, toothbrush drills and correct posture exercises. Lectures on health habits, dietetics, personal, oral and home hygiene might be given. A lay for voluntary vaccination or physical examinations may be set aside.

Women's organizations may devote time to a study of all local health and sanitary conditions. They might wish to familiarize themselves with the sanitation of places where food and drinks are sold and inaugurate a movement for public sanitary drinking fountains and comfort stations, a health officer or secure the complete statistics on the births and deaths of infants.

Chamber of Commerce, luncheon clubs and other welfare organizations might wish to assist the city officials in the clean-up campaign, an anti-mosquito campaign, or strengthen the local health and sanitary department, provide garbage and trash cans means for play-grounds and parks, etc.

Y. M. C. A.s may wish to sponsor lectures, start new physical culture classes and give exhibits on parallel bars, etc.

Boy Scouts may be willing to give first-aid demonstrations, scout drills and organize play exercises.

Most doctors will gladly give lectures on disease transmission, assist at clinics, discuss needed ordinances, outline the functions of city and county health departments, assist in the reporting of contagious diseases, and give their opinions on the value of county hospitals.

Red cross chapters may discuss ways and means of securing county nurses, health centers and provide for the care of indigent patients.

The pastors, if invited, will deliver talks or sermons on health and sanitation. Peace officers will assist in the enforcement of local sanitary ordinances, such as garbage collection protection of foods, common towel and cup, expectorating in public places, night-soil disposal, nuisances and fly-breeding places.

The individual might ascertain the purity of the milk and water he consumes and be advised on balanced food rations. He might find it profitable to have a physical examination made of himself, or be vaccinated or submit himself to a dental inspection.

It will also be in order to have a spring cleaning of the home from attic to cellar. Other items that might receive attention are the provision of a sleeping porch, screening the home with 16-mesh wire, draining standing water on the premises and providing a covered garbage pail.

Merchants may prepare a window display of sanitary wares.

DYE ANY GARMENT OR DRAPERY WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Buy "Diamond Dyes" and follow the simple directions in every package. Don't wonder whether you can dye or tint successfully, because perfect home dyeing is guaranteed with Diamond Dyes even if you have never dyed before. NAMES OF INSTRUCTORS FOR THE SUMMER NORMAL

Austin, Texas, Feb. 27.—Announcement of the names of the faculty of the University of Texas has just been made by Dr. Frederick Eby, dean of the summer sessions. The normal will open June 13 and close with the state examinations August 7-10, after eight weeks of instruction. The normal will be directed by Norman E. Crosier, assistant superintendent of the Dallas public schools.

In discussing the large enrollment expected this summer, Dr. Eby said the summer normal students come from all parts of the state in order to take advantage of the instruction under the best teachers of the state. The laboratories and buildings of the university are open for their use, and they come in contact with the university life and meet many of the leading school men of the state. There are other advantages in the recreational features and public lectures by prominent educators and specialists, who visit the university during the summer.

The faculty of the normal will be made up of the following: Luther G. Andrews, superintendent of the Navasota public schools; Miss Lila Baugh, principal of the Allen School, Houston; Carl W. Bingham, principal of South Park School, Beaumont; Andrew S. Bush, superintendent of the Cuero public schools; John W. Calhoun, associate professor of applied mathematics, University of Texas; Miss Eunice G. Carnan, of Fort Worth High School; George C. Clough, superintendent Tyler schools; Arthur T. Day, superintendent Commerce public schools; W. S. Feising, associate professor of chemistry in the University of Texas; Louis Clyde Gee, superintendent Greenville schools; Miss Lida Hool, supervisor of drawing, Dallas public schools; Miss Lillian M. Janoch, instructor in zoology of the University of Texas; Flordige G. Littlejohn, principal Alamo High School, Galveston; Miss Effie Littlejohn, instructor in music, University of Texas; Arthur N. McCallum, superintendent Austin schools; Joseph E. Nelson, superintendent Clarendon schools; Charles A. Puckett, superintendent Gainesville schools; Charles H. Rutledge, instructor Dallas high schools; John H. Shields, instructor in business administration, University of Texas; J. N. Singletary, instructor Longview High School; Leroy V. Stockard, principal Bryan high school, Dallas; J. C. Cochran, superintendent Lockhart public schools.

NEGRO GIVEN 107 YEARS

Allie Jordan, negro, was given sentences aggregating 107 years by a jury in Criminal District Court Thursday in three cases charging him with robbery, robbery by assault and assault with intent to rob.

The first case tried was the one charging him with robbery in connection with the robbery of a street car motorman. He received 50 years in this case.

A second jury assessed seven years on the charge of assault with intent to rob and a third jury gave the negro 50 years on the charge of robbery by assault.—Houston Chronicle, 24th.

The character of opposition frequently constitutes an argument for a proposition.

SECRET RECORDS OF PARLEY

President Harding's reply to the senate foreign relations committee that there were no minutes kept of the arms conference deliberations and even if there has been he would not inform the senate of the proceedings is still another chapter of the education of the public as to how venomously President Wilson was attacked for his course at Paris.

It will be recalled that President Harding's colleagues in the senate in the role of scavengers picked up the made of deliberations at the Paris peace conference. They accused Mr. Wilson of trying to hide what went on behind the closed doors and sought to ridicule "Open covenants openly arrived at." They condemned him for not submitting to the senate a complete stenographic record of all that was said in the most intimate conferences and charged him with trying to conceal secret and vicious clauses of the treaty.

All that they said about Mr. Wilson and the Paris conference may now be said about President Harding and the arms conference. Will they do it? Who among them will have the gracefulness, awe, the fairness, to come forward now and confess that they vilified Woodrow Wilson without cause, that what was done in respect to records at Paris is precisely what was done at Washington and that to have done otherwise might have wrecked the proceedings?

President Harding would stand infinitely better with the country if in his letter he would have confessed his senatorial sins and those of his colleagues and apologized not only to Mr. Wilson but particularly to his fellow-countrymen for the unpardonable wrong committed in the name of politics. In any event the country is learning from day to day the depths of the conspiracy hatched against a great American president.

IN THE MEANTIME, SWAT

The name of Achille Roubaud is not a familiar one at home. Yet if ever there was a man meriting the encouragement of the world it is Achille Roubaud, who, backed by the Pasteur Institute, is working out a plan for the extermination of flies.

He does not use the word "check," he says "eliminate." A pious, benevolent task, indeed. He concedes that "swat the fly" is a good thing, but says it is inadequate, even with the best will behind the swatting. Isn't it the truth? The idea the Pasteur Institute has is the discovery of a chemical which will be used in a trap to which millions of flies will be irresistibly lured.

Nor is that all. There may be flies beyond the reach of the trap or hardened to immunity from the chemical. For them Achille Roubaud has caught a germ, with a passion for devouring flies. So far this tiny germ has been fed on horseflies, and on this diet has multiplied with encouraging proliferation. Soon, with a little preliminary drilling, they will be introduced to other species of flies and asked to alternate their diet.

He has accurately the heart of the world with him. May the dear little germ he has discovered prove faithful and true to its mission. Pending the result, however, spring is not far off and the swatter will be necessary.

MORE MURDERS IN MEXICO

Another American citizen has been murdered in Mexico. This increases the growing number of such outrages which have been committed there since President Harding took office March 4th last. Obviously the thing to do is to drag Woodrow Wilson from his retreat and make him submit to court martial. These Mexican murders of American citizens take place only when the Democrats occupy the capital and the White House.

Charles Burrow, the American manager of a ranch near Monterey, may have died or he may have been an Englishman, a German, a Spaniard or a Turk, or having been any one of these he may have been murdered, but he could not have been both murdered and been an American, for such tragedies occur only when Woodrow Wilson is president. Mexican bandits have a peculiar custom of not killing Americans when the republicans are in office.

Conditions in Europe are reported on the mend, because, probably, there was no way to make them any worse.

George Sylvester Viereck's new grouch against the United States may have been brought on because he was overlooked when the Harding diplomatic poets were filled.

TWINS WERE BORN

There were born last Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parker, twin boys, at their home at the Gulf Pipe Line station, a few miles north of the city. The mother and little ones are doing nicely. If a News reporter may be allowed to discuss a little of the family history, it is believed it will be of some interest to the many friends and others. For instance, this recent visitation of the stork to the Parker home completes a total of fourteen children, all of them under the parental roof, with the exception of a daughter married a short time ago. When the tenth child were born there were nine lovely daughters gathered about the family altar, the ninth little Miss being christened "Ninety." After that two sons came to bless the household in their regular order and finally the twin boys of last week, bring the grand total up to fourteen, nine of them being girls and five of them boys.

Mrs. Parker is only 38 years of age, and the family physician, who resides in Lufkin, says in all his acquaintance and experience he has never known a more healthy, happy or attractive mother, nor has he ever observed a more robust and sprightly flock of children than is to be found in the Parker home. There is now a "baker's dozen" who are "autocrats at the breakfast table, the dinner table and the supper table," and those alarmists over the country who have been harping upon race suicide may find much to dispel their fears when instances of this kind are brought to their attention. Come to Angelina.—Lufkin News, 27th.

NOT ALWAYS EASY TO READ

At Certain Times Robert Louis Stevenson's Manuscript is Said to Have Been "Weird." Robert Louis Stevenson's handwriting was fairly legible when he felt well, although when he was not well his scrawl was distinctly weird. In his article on the genesis of "The Master of Ballantrae," he speaks of having been haunted by a story "conceived in Highland rain, in the blend of the smell of heather and bog plants, and with a mind full of the Athol correspondence and the memories of the dumbicide Justice."

A BOOB CONGRESS AT WORK

Congress has compromised with stupidity over the question of patent office relief. The house bill just passed unanimously by the senate pushes salaries up and so weakly that no motion is likely perceptible, and it only leaves them the lower than national pay. It is necessary to restore the personnel of the office, but even lower than the figures at which the house committee itself set the salaries.

On what has these fat-headed amateur economists made their faint-hearted decision is incomprehensible. It is not only a question of taxes; it does not figure in public expenses in any way. Had congress given the patent office the utmost it asked, still the office would have paid very cent of the cost from its own receipts. Over and above expenses there has been turned into the treasury of the United States an accumulated surplus of $6,000,000 from the patent office.

The chief improvements under the bill include the increase of pay to the two most important examiners of interference. The work of these men is of such vital importance and calls for such extended preparation and experience that they are exceedingly hard to replace. They are to get $5,000. It is a shame to confess it, but they used to get only $2,700. Also the five members of the board of examiners-in-chief, the supreme court within the patent office deciding property rights of million of dollars, are raised to $5,000 from their former $3,500.

The bill may put a little fresh heart into that loyal staff, so shabbily treated by congressional stupidity and indifference. But it will not recover to the government service the army of trained men who now enjoy fat salaries in keeping with their experience from private industries. It may check the desertions. And it is a beginning.

A boob congress has difficulty in seeing its duty, but having seen it, does it—sometimes; but generally does it wrong.

It is where we don't see the girls' dresses that they are so scandalous.

Reports received from time to time that man has conquered the air are still unconfirmed.

Looks as though congress would give the bonus an all-summer vacation.

They will have to write a new chorus this year for "The Wearin' of the Green."

Judge Landis is among those in baseball who will be seen in a different uniform this season.

It seems equally as hard in Italy to get a cabinet as it is in this country to keep one.

Governor Pone of Alaska says the land where "hootch" originated is dry, but he did not say bone dry.

I speak for my government, said Ambassador Harvey, in London. So now we know whose it is.

It is said that confidence men are passing Confederate bills in Germany, but if they get marks in return, the mathematical problem is to discover which is the loser.

NEGROES IN FLORIDA IN 1528

Two Africans Were Members of Narvaez' Expedition of That Year, According to History.

The first record of negro slaves within the present boundaries of the United States is found in an account of the Spanish expedition of Narvaez to Florida in 1528, which included two negroes. But the negro was not in Florida to stay until 1585, when a few landed with Menendez colonists. It is believed the Spaniards had negroes with them in their unfortunate colony of San Mateo de Guadalupe in 1528, which J. J. Shea locates in the neighborhood of Jacksonville, Va. H. H. Bancroft, in his "Arizona and New Mexico," makes it clear the negro was in some of the early exploration and missionary parties to that territory. Doubtless the negroes continued in the province until the Spaniards were driven out in 1565. ("Introduction of Negroes into the United States," by C. A. Stakely, in Magazine of American History, November, 1891). The Treasurer, owned by the earl of Warwick, and a Dutch vessel brought slaves to Jamestown in 1619. The Treasurer is supposed to be the first slave fitted out in America. The first American-built slave was the ship Desire, a vessel of 120 tons, built at Marblehead in 1636. RETAIN YOUR HEAD COVERING Writer Asserts That "Flu" is Spread by Practice of Doffing the Hat in Salutation.

Influenza has always been widely mysterious in its operations. Long ago one of our warships was off the west African coast, says London Answers, when a dense black mist advanced from the shore and swept over the vessel. All the men on deck at the time were stricken down with the "flu"; and a little later the remainder of the men and officers were attacked. The ship was at once ordered home, and though many of the cases were complicated with pneumonia and bronchitis, some, luckily, proved fatal. The patients were treated with quinine and cod liver oil, with the exception of a recognized formula for malarial fevers.

During the devastating epidemic of "flu," the Turks in Europe escaped because, it is said, they never removed their turbans. The medical faculty of Vienna officially declared that influenza was largely due to the practice of doffing hats in the streets. In support of this contention, it was pointed out that the great majority of the victims were of the male sex. A traveler found influenza to be unusually severe in Mexico, where, as he remarked, there is so much hat-doffing.

It may be the case, however, that such a large proportion of males are attacked because of the constant drain on their vitality by the nature of their daily occupation. The writer was recently informed by a high medical authority in London that influenza epidemics of late years showed the principal sufferers to be male persons who had reached the most active years of their lives.

LEARN FROM THE ELEPHANT

Be Careful Where You Step and Take Credit When Due, is by No Means Bad Advice.

A circus man says that an elephant is always careful where he steps. He goes forward one step at a time, and doesn't lose his hold upon one piece of security until another is gained. If many of our business men had acquired this elephant philosophy and had followed it they wouldn't be hanging over financial precipices now. If one goes about thinking that the world is filled with crooks and schemers, the world it filled with crooks and schemers. On the other hand, if one believes that the world is filled with fine neighbors, helpful, kindly folks, one finds people of that class in the great majority.

Shopping in Ecuador. The common trade balance of Ecuador is a short stick carrying a suspended pan at each end and held up by a cord around the center. The weight is a rock about the size of a man's fist, and while no two of them are ever the same size, the merchant is always prepared to pledge his honor that the stone weighs a full and exact pound. The price for a commodity is almost never fixed, and as the Ecuadorian is always prepared and expects to come down somewhat from his first price, it speaks worlds for his optimism that he invariably tries to get more. The bargaining does not actually begin until you have disregarded the first figure and asked: "What is the last price?" ("el ultimo precio"). In fact, I have been told voluntarily, when pricing ponchos, that the price was 25 sucres, but "I can come down a little."

What Cabbages Dislike. Some time ago, a number of scientists, by means of a device invented by an Indian servant, were able to watch a plant growing, and study the beating of what in vegetable life corresponds to the heart of an animal. An average plant grows at the slow rate of one-thirtieth part of an inch per second, yet this device so magnifies this that, thrown upon the screen, the increase is easily seen. Plant life does not differ greatly from animal life. Place the roots in boiling water, it struggles and dies the same as the animal. A cabbage dislikes being holed as greatly as would your pet dog. The only difference is that the cabbage can not protest, but squirms, wriggles and writhes.

An Order for One Wife. An English traveler and author in northern Walgeria became interested in a Home for Freed Slaves. Women and children were kept in the institution until they could be otherwise disposed of, which was generally by matrimony, in the case of the women when the author acted as a marriage broker. He says: "A Maussa soldier would come to me with a note from his commander certifying him to be a man of good character and able to support a wife or another wife, as the case might be."

Embarrassing, Very! Our neighbor was a queer old bachelor, and, not having seen him out to his yard, I decided to investigate, writes a correspondent. Not finding him in the house, I went out to the barn, and there in the shadows I saw a body hanging from the rafters! I was so excited I ran for help. In five minutes the whole town had gathered there. I led the way into the barn and found it to be my neighbor's scarecrow, stored for the winter. And to make matters worse, the old gentleman drove up just then and wondered at all the company. I had to explain, and the laugh was on me.

MOVIES IN THE SENATE

Senator France of Maryland, may have set a new style in senatorial deliberations by his effort to introduce moving picture films to illustrate his address in the senate-chamber. Present day rules defeated his purpose, but his invitation to his colleagues to view the reels in another department almost broke up the session that was being voted to debate on the Yap treaty.

The senatorial impulse to rush off to see France's movies, leaving Lodge and Kellog toorate about Yap, proves that senators, no matter how they act or pose, are not different from their constituents. An invitation to see free films will stampede almost any gathering. Much has been said about the possibility of school films as an aid to education. Perhaps Senator France has the right idea and the cure for our political apathy of popular indifference to affairs of state and city may lie in a different presentation. People may be tired of long-winded oratory and rounded periods, but easily interested by optical demonstration on the silver screen. If our statesmen, instead of making speeches, were obliged to film their thoughts so they could be visualized they would at least have to be tangible ideas that the camera could catch, which is not always evident in their orations.

"In time of peace prepare for war," but where does the $350,000,000 navy appropriation get the idea that this is peace?

ANCIENT CITY IS CHAN-CHAN

Today Nothing but a Mass of Ruins, but Was Flourishing Before Pizarro Ravished Peru.

Chan-Chan is not, as the name would indicate, a place in China. It is one of the oldest cities in Peru, or in the world. The Chimu, who built Chan-Chan, are supposed to have been an elderly race when the Incas were yet barbarians. After a time the Incas became civilized and powerful and captured Chan-Chan. Then Pizarro came to plunder and wreck the city and massacre the inhabitants. So much of the Chimu's history is deduced from the remains of Chan-Chan and old Spanish narratives.

The people who inhabited the old metropolis were moon worshippers. The moon, they said, was the most worthy deity of nature, for it shone not only at night but also in the day, whereas the sun could shine in the day only. The sea was supposed to be under the special protection of the moon, because the latter controlled the tides. Images of fish and other sea creatures and temples to both moon and sea were therefore built by the Chimu and many have been uncovered in the ruins of their city.

Chan-Chan has since the time of Pizarro been a heap of wreckage. There are palaces, workshops, factories and great battered pyramids built up in terraces and surrounded by buildings. These are the mounds in which the Chimu dead once lay. Like the Egyptians, these people buried with their dead many articles of their personal property. From one of these mounds a Spanish adventurer obtained $3,000,000 worth of gold and silver. For many years Chan-Chan yielded to the Spanish conquerors fabulous sums of gold.

Chautauqua or Circus?

The manager was strolling about the big Chautauqua tent, which had just been set up in a small Missouri town, and the boys were laying the plank seats, when the whir of engines was heard, and two automobiles appeared, racing furiously toward the Chautauqua grounds. They stopped side by side in the dust and smoke of heavily set brakes, and the drivers leaped from their seats and ran at top speed toward the astonished Chautauqua manager.

"I'm a butcher!" gasped the first.
 "I'm a butcher!" cried the second.
 Then both together they shouted, "I want the contract to furnish meat for the animals!"—Youth's Companion.

All Ready for Him.
 At a political meeting held in a provincial town in England a crowded audience had assembled to support a parliamentary candidate.

During the speech of the candidate a man put his head in at the door and shouted in a stentorian voice, "Can anyone here sell me six pennyworth of sense?"
 The speaker halted, evidently quite dumfounded; but the chairman of the meeting immediately silenced the intruder by retorting, "Yes, but you have nothing to put it in."—Youth's Companion.

 "Go away from me!" said the fashionably dressed woman to the tramp. "I wouldn't have you touch me for a dollar." "I was only goin' to touch you for a nickel, lady," came the reply.

The Useless Bell.
 "The bell in your house has been out of order for weeks. I should think you would have it repaired."
 "What's the use? Nobody ever rings it any more. Our friends just 't out in their cars and honk their auto horns until we come to the door."

REAL TURK NOT A BARTERER

Refuses to Go Out of His Way to Make a Sale, and Is Apt to Ignore Strangers.

Love of baksheesh (gratuities) betrays the falsely named Turk. Eagerness to do something for you or business with you is another sign of the mongrel Turk. Some real Anatolian Turks are merchants and sit in the bazaars. But they will not go out of their way to make a sale and they really do not care if you buy or not. Often they ignore strangers; sometimes they rebuff them. When you run up against this type in the bazaars, where all the Jews and Gentiles are after your money with an insistence that we call oriental. It is like a dash of cold water in your face. Once in a little open shop I saw a rug that attracted me. I started to enter. But the crouched figure on a mat put out a long-fingered left hand, grasped firmly my ankle, and removed my foot outside the threshold. I thought there must be some superstition about which foot went first. So I tried the other. The same left hand proved again its strength. All the while the merchant did not speak or look up. His right hand was stringing beads and he was smoking a nargile. He simply didn't want to bother with me, and my shoe told him that I was a frango (European). Later I got to know that old bird, and we laughed over stories together. But he never asked me to buy anything, and I did not want to risk his friendship by making a second try for the rug. There are other things in life than selling and buying. And much more important! But the mongrel Turk, like the Christian, does not understand this. It isn't in his blood.—Chicago Post.

Ingenious Way to Save Gas.
 A woman's invention to save gas at the gas range makes the weight of pot or kettle on the burner throw open a valve which allows the gas to burn full force, while with the removal of that weight the valve closes to a point where it cuts off all the gas except an amount barely sufficient to support a pilot light.

George Harvey will wear black silk knee breeches and silk stockings—unrolled—at the wedding of Princess Mary. The line for tickets forms at the right. Camera men keep back; the moving picture concession has already been sold.

If you were a republican member of congress banking for re-election, you might also do some worrying.

ODD BELIEFS ONCE COMMON

Until Comparatively Recent Times, Silly Superstitions Had a Great Hold on the People.

Superstitions in regard to the most familiar things, as well as the most unfamiliar, still linger, even in a scientific age like ours.
 What man of middle age cannot remember as a boy firmly believing that if he should touch a toad warts would grow on his fingers; that if he should drop a hair from a horse's tail into water it would become a water snake; that cobweb would stop the bleeding of a wound; that a stiff breast bone in a goose betokened a cold winter? Every countryman believes some of these and scores besides.
 These superstitions are merely survivals of countless beliefs which seem to us mostly ridiculous, but which were once gravely accepted by everybody, even the most learned. How far back they go nobody knows. But Pliny, in his "Natural History," written in the First century of the Christian era, is full of them.
 And all down the centuries, especially through the Fifteenth and Sixteenth centuries, there were scores of books which gathered and advanced such "wisdom," and they found a public way down into the Eighteenth century. They find their way—these beliefs—into literature, and Shakespeare's plays are dotted through with examples of them.

The Greatest Cotton Sheds.
 The largest cotton storage sheds in the world are being erected at Hull, England. These accommodate 50,000 bales at one time under ideal conditions. There are all facilities for inspection of the cotton in the best light and also for removing any particular bales regardless of their position in the pile. This is done by a remarkable piece of mechanism recently invented.

The usual good time was had Saturday night at the weekly Cotillion Club dance at the Elks' Hall. Punch and sandwiches were served and Smith's Novelty Four furnished good music.

An electric railway, running in a subway, connects the senate chamber in Washington and the senate office building. A one-track affair, no doubt.

Lenine and Trotsky may have made Russia lie down and roll over, but they do not have it exactly eating out of their hands.

THE BIGGEST INDUSTRY IN THE SOUTH

Cotton is the biggest and most important product of the South—the staple crop, the thing that brings more money into the Cotton producing state than any other. The average crop of Texas is estimated at about two and one-half million bales, worth approximately four hundred and five five million dollars. The crop of Texas and Louisiana together is worth about four hundred and fifty million dollars.

The handling and financing of this tremendous business involves a great deal of specialized work, classifying and stapling every bale. Samples from each bale must be graded several times during the journey of the cotton from the farmer's field to the factory. This work requires trained men. The demand for such men is always urgent. The ability to grade cotton is essential for the local buyer, employees of bonded warehouses and compresses, representatives of northern factories, cotton brokers and in many other branches of the industry. The farmer himself ought, in protection of his own interests, to be able to grade cotton. He is completely at the mercy of the buyer. It is self-evident that a man, in order to get full value for what he has to sell, ought to know what he is selling.

We can make you a competent cotton classifier in a few weeks' time qualifying you for a position as buyer, or wherever the services of a capable cotton man are needed. Our course includes classifying, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, shipping, exporting, keeping of Munger's Gin Record, Merchant's Cotton Record, warehouse record, cotton office stock books and other blanks necessary to the business. It opens the way for you to earn a good salary in a good position and makes you familiar with the most important industry of the South. If you are not in business for yourself or a cotton raiser, you can't afford not to take advantage of our special course in Cotton Classifying and Handling for Farmers and Cotton Men. Enter any time and advance as fast as your ability will permit.

We also have practical courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, business finance, telegraphy, wireless telegraphy and telephony or any one of which will enable you to take a good position in the business world at a good salary.

NEXT DOSE CALOMEL MAY SALIVATE YOU

It is Mercury, Quicksilver, Shocks Liver and Attacks Your Bones. Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than treacherous calomel, your money is waiting for you.

JUNK

An expert, one of the country's best-known ship-junkers, has just completed an estimate of the junk value of the British, American and Japanese navies. He says the lot is worth a shadow over $30,000,000. You can not build one dreadnaught for $30,000,000. Yet that is the scrap value of the world's three greatest fleets, on which hundreds and hundreds of millions have been spent.

Was there ever before in all the long history of mankind such another example of throwing money down a rathole?

TEXAN PROPOSES PROBE INTO W. O. W. AFFAIRS

Washington, Feb. 23.—Investigation by a special house committee of the affairs of the Woodmen of the World was proposed in a resolution introduced Tuesday by Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, who cited a number of alleged irregularities on the part of certain officers of the order.

DALLAS PRINTING SCHOOL OPENS NEW OPPORTUNITY

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 23.—Young men leaving high school with the feeling that they can't afford to spend four years in college, yet dreading the long, hard pull necessary to rise in the business world from a clerical position of long hours and small pay, have greeted the prospects of a new profession at a good salary made possible by the Southwest School of Printing at 2417-15 1-2 Commerce street, Dallas, Texas, with joyous acclaim. This is evident by the fact that the recently established school already has a large and active class, requiring four linotype machines.

The printing profession has made wonderful strides in recent years, and marching hand in hand with the advertising profession, it is looking forward to even greater developments in the next decade. This unusual growth has resulted in a shortage of printers. Under the old system of training printers it was necessary for a young man to enter the print shop and serve as devil for a number of years. At first the work was anything but agreeable, the progress was slow and the attainment of the ideal came soon to be looked upon as a game not worth the candle. In short, the old system wouldn't suffice; a new and better way had to be found to make printers—to train men of fair education and bright mentality. A recent census of printers showed the average to be over 40 years; young men were not "deviling" in order to learn the inspiring and artistic profession of Ben Franklin, William Caslon and other notables.

Facing the facts and letter, mother necessity guiding their efforts, the leading employing printers of the Southwest have banded themselves together and established the Southwest School of Printing. They intend that it shall be the nucleus of great Graphic Arts University, wherein all forms of printing, illustrating, binding, designing, etc., shall be taught. At present it is devoted to training bright young men to be linotypers.

The young man who shows an aptitude is given every advantage to forge ahead. He is taught how to take down and erect linotype machines, how to care for his machine and then how to set type. When he enrolls in the school he is given an elementary course in hand composition to teach him the art of making cold type speak in a convincing manner, the value of spacing, etc. Then he is given practice on a blank keyboard to teach him the positions. Within a week or two he has the thrill of seeing his words translated into lines of metal; he is the man at the helm of the great invention that "has the brains of a human being." Once he gets started in his work, if he has imagination and intelligence, there is no looking back. He can go as far as he likes, as his initiative and creative genius will take him. His first job will act him approximately $200.00 a month—which is twice or three times as much as he could make at the outset in any other line of work and his opportunities are bounded only by his determination.

A young man with a high school education and eager to learn, can finish the linotype course in about three months, and his training will be exactly as he will encounter in the printing office after he leaves the school.

The faculty is made up of men who have achieved notable success in the printing profession, and every person connected with the school, whether teacher or director, is a practical printer, and a majority of them own their places of business, which is but another way of saying they are successful printers.

SHOT WIFE KILLED SELF

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 27.—Fred McCormick, 55, after shooting and slightly wounding his wife, Ida L. McCormick, 38, last night, fired a bullet into his own head and died three hours later. A silver dollar in Mrs. McCormick's pocketbook probably saved her life, the one bullet fired at her having struck the dollar after passing through her arm, thus deflecting it from the direction of her heart. The bullet was found in the pocketbook. The couple were separated.

HOPE RESOLVES WILL SATISFY GOVERNOR NEFF

Mexia, Texas, Feb. 23.—Limestone county last night was hopeful that resolutions drawn up by a committee, representing every voting precinct, and including approximately 1,000 citizens, according to the text, will meet with Governor Neff's demand that the people of the county assure him that they are able to enforce the laws of the state. These resolutions concluded a four-hour session in the district court room at Groesbeck, where citizens gathered to take some action to meet with the governor's ultimatum that stringent martial law will be placed all over the county unless adequate steps are taken.

The resolutions were sent to Gen. J. F. Wolters in command of the military district of Mexia, with headquarters here, tonight and he will submit them to the governor. It is hoped that this expression from representative citizens and the action taken will meet with the demands of the governor, committee men said, claiming that some of the military authorities had intimated that they believe such arrangements would satisfy them and the governor.

NEGRESS CUT WITH RAZOR WEARS HUNDRED STITCHES

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 24.—One hundred stitches in various portions of the anatomy are being worn by a negro woman living in Little Mexico, as a result of a razor duel staged Tuesday night between two dusky lovers. All available help was called out at the emergency hospital when the lacerated negro was brought in. Hospital Surgeons Cobb, Hart and Spencer surrounded the operating table armed with surgical instruments, while Ambulance Drivers Sam Heyman and Eddie Addington stood near and kept the doctor supplied with newly threaded needles.

While the woman was slashed on the arms, face and body, the cuts are not deep and she is not in a serious condition, emergency hospital physicians say. She was taken to Parkland hospital.

VIOLATORS BOUND OVER

Waco, Texas, Feb. 23.—Six defendants charged with violating the federal prohibition laws were given a preliminary hearing by United States Commissioner McCormick today. Among them were a father and son, Calvin and George Murphey, of Bell county. The others were L. A. Teague, Jack Courtney, Martin Oliver and Herma Peetzes of Limestone county. All were allowed bond in the sum of $500 cash each.

Mason City, Iowa, Feb. 23.—Handford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, yesterday received a challenge to debate the bonus question before the city club post American Legion of New York. The challenge was forwarded to him in Chicago.

MEXICO PAYS AMERICAN GIRL FOR FATHER'S DEATH

Mexico City, Feb. 23.—Miss Betty Eckelund, an American, has received 20,000 pesos as indemnity for the death of her father in 1914 by Carranza revolutionists, the treasury department announced Tuesday. Miss Eckelund originally asked for 40,000 pesos, but the claims commission but it in half. Her father was shot in a Mexico City suburb.

HOLOCAUST AT CLEBURNE

Cleburne, Texas, Feb. 24.—Three persons were burned to death and three others probably fatally injured in a fire which destroyed the Lambert rooming house here early today. The explosion of an oil stove caused the blaze. The dead are J. F. Skaggs, about 80; Mrs. Leot Skaggs, about 75, both of Cleburne; and John Bailey, 17, of Wichita Falls. The injured are Miss Ruth Skaggs, 18, who received a broken arm in jumping from a window upstairs; Mrs. G. B. Warnell, badly bruised and back broken in jumping from a second window upstairs; and a 4-year-old son of Mrs. Warnell, who was in his mother's arms when she jumped.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Lockhart, Texas, Feb. 24.—Twenty-six mules, four hogs and two years supply of hay and corn were destroyed last night when fire started by lightning consumed a barn on the Mabane farm, near here. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Seven Washington theaters have been closed, but the capital will have lots of comedy as long as congress remains open.

LAWYERS OF ALL PARTS OF AMERICA ASSEMBLE

Washington, Feb. 23.—Delegates representing more than a hundred and fifty bar associations of the country had arrived last night for the annual meeting of the conference of bar associations today to consider improvements of standards for the legal profession. The principal subject to be decided will be resolutions recently adopted by the American bar association providing that hereafter two years of college work and three in a recognized law school shall be required as a condition of bar admission.

RANGERS AT TRIAL

Waco, Texas, Feb. 23.—Four Rangers are here to wait on the Seventy-fourth District Court at the trial of the case of Mrs. Ines Crow, widow of Louis Crow, who was killed in the Lorena tragedy, against Sheriff Bob Buchanan. Both sides announced ready for trial at 9 o'clock and the defendant's counsel filed demurrers in behalf of the sheriff's bondsmen, who are made parties to the suit, contending that they are not liable for the transactions set out in plaintiff's petition. Arguments on the demurrers will consume some time. Crow was stabbed in a disturbance when the sheriff attempted to stop a Ku Klux Klan parade at Lorena on the night of October 1, 1921. He died four days later, and the petition of the plaintiff alleges the sheriff was responsible for his death. She asks for $50,000 damages.

WAR ITSELF SCRAPPED, SAYS ADMIRAL KATO

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 23.—War itself has been scrapped as well as naval armaments, Admiral Baron Tomosaburo Kato, minister of the navy in Japan and a delegate from that country to the limitation of armaments conference, said Monday in an address at the Bohemian club.

500 TEXAS SHRINERS ATTEND CEREMONIAL

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 23.—More than 500 Shriners from all parts of Texas attended the mid-winter ceremonial session held here Wednesday at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Most of Wednesday was devoted to the reporting of candidates. A band concert was given from 5 to 5:30, followed by a business session. At 6 o'clock the opening section was followed by the first, second and third sections. At 8:30 a formal dance was given at the St. Anthony Hotel. A special divan, headed by Samuel P. Cochran of Dallas, had charge of the ceremonial session.

EFFORT IN WASHINGTON TO BLACKMAIL WOMAN

Washington, Feb. 24.—A sensation which has kept Washington social circles in a furor for 10 days came to light today when it was learned that a number of the most prominent matrons in capital society have received letters threatening them with death unless they gave up sums varying between $15,000 and $25,000.

Among those who have received the letters are Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, whose son is a United States senator from West Virginia; Mrs. Henry White, wife of the diplomat and former member of the American peace commission at Paris, and Mrs. Scott Townsend.

The letters were similar in each instance, it was declared, and demanded that the recipients deposit huge sums of money at designated places around Washington on the pain of having their magnificent homes blown up "during social affairs."

The missives were not of the "blackhand" type, but, on the contrary, written on paper of quality and in faultless English. In each case the writer gave explicit directions where the money was to be deposited and how the messenger was to take it to the spot.

Congress could soon dispose of the bonus issue if the former service men did not have votes.

YOUNG GIRL KILLS MAN IN WACO COURT ROOM

Waco, Texas, Feb. 24.—"He disgraced me, ruined my health and deprived me of my school privileges, but will never ruin another girl." This was the statement of little Marcine Matthews, 17, after she shot J. S. Crosslin in the Fifty-fourth District Court room at 9:30 this morning. She fired three shots from a pistol into Crosslin's body before Deputy Sheriff Burton could reach her. Crosslin died instantly. He was 59 years old. He was charged with criminal assault upon the girl two years ago and tried, convicted and given nine years in the penitentiary. The case was reversed on error in the admission of testimony and remanded for retrial. The preliminaries had been completed and Miss Matthews had been called to the stand. Confusion reigned in the court room. Judge Monroe dismissed the grand jury indefinitely. Crosslin was taken from a chair and laid on the floor. The shots were heard in every part of the court-house, and Captain Tom Hickman of the Ranger force who was detailed to wait on Judge Richey's court across the hall, rushed to the scene. There were few people present, and finding the sheriff's detail had the situation well in hand, he returned to his post.

Crosslin was in the real estate business, and when the charge was filed against him it created a sensation. The little girl, then only 15 years old, testified to her shame, for which she said Crosslin was responsible. She had given birth to a child, which was taken from her at a sanitarium here by the Caesarian operation. She was a little girl weighing not more than 90 pounds.

A complaint had been filed charging the girl with murder.

BUCHANAN OVERRULED

Waco, Texas, Feb. 24.—Judge H. M. Richey overruled the demurrers presented by counsel for the bondsmen of Sheriff Buchanan contending they were liable for the transactions complained of in the petition of Mrs. Ines Crow, who is suing for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband who received fatal injuries in the Lorena riot.

CIVIL OFFICIALS REMAIN

Austin, Texas, Feb. 24.—Local peace officers of Limestone county will not be replaced by military officers, it was learned today on official information following a conference of the governor and Brigadier General Wolters.

FARMERS AID BILL

Washington, Feb. 24.—The senate yesterday passed the bill introduced by Senator McCumber, republican, of North Dakota, to appropriate $5,000,000 for loans to farmers to buy seed grains and food for livestock. Of the fund, to be secured with chattel mortgages, $1,000,000 would be available for live stock purposes, which were said to constitute an immediate emergency.

The bill is designed principally to aid farmers of North Dakota, Montana, South Dakota and Wyoming.

A BRIGHT POLICEMAN

Kansas City Mo., Feb. 24.—Charging that her husband was uncouth because he "thought pajamas were a Hindu religion," Mrs. Alma Ward, wife of a policeman, has sought a divorce.

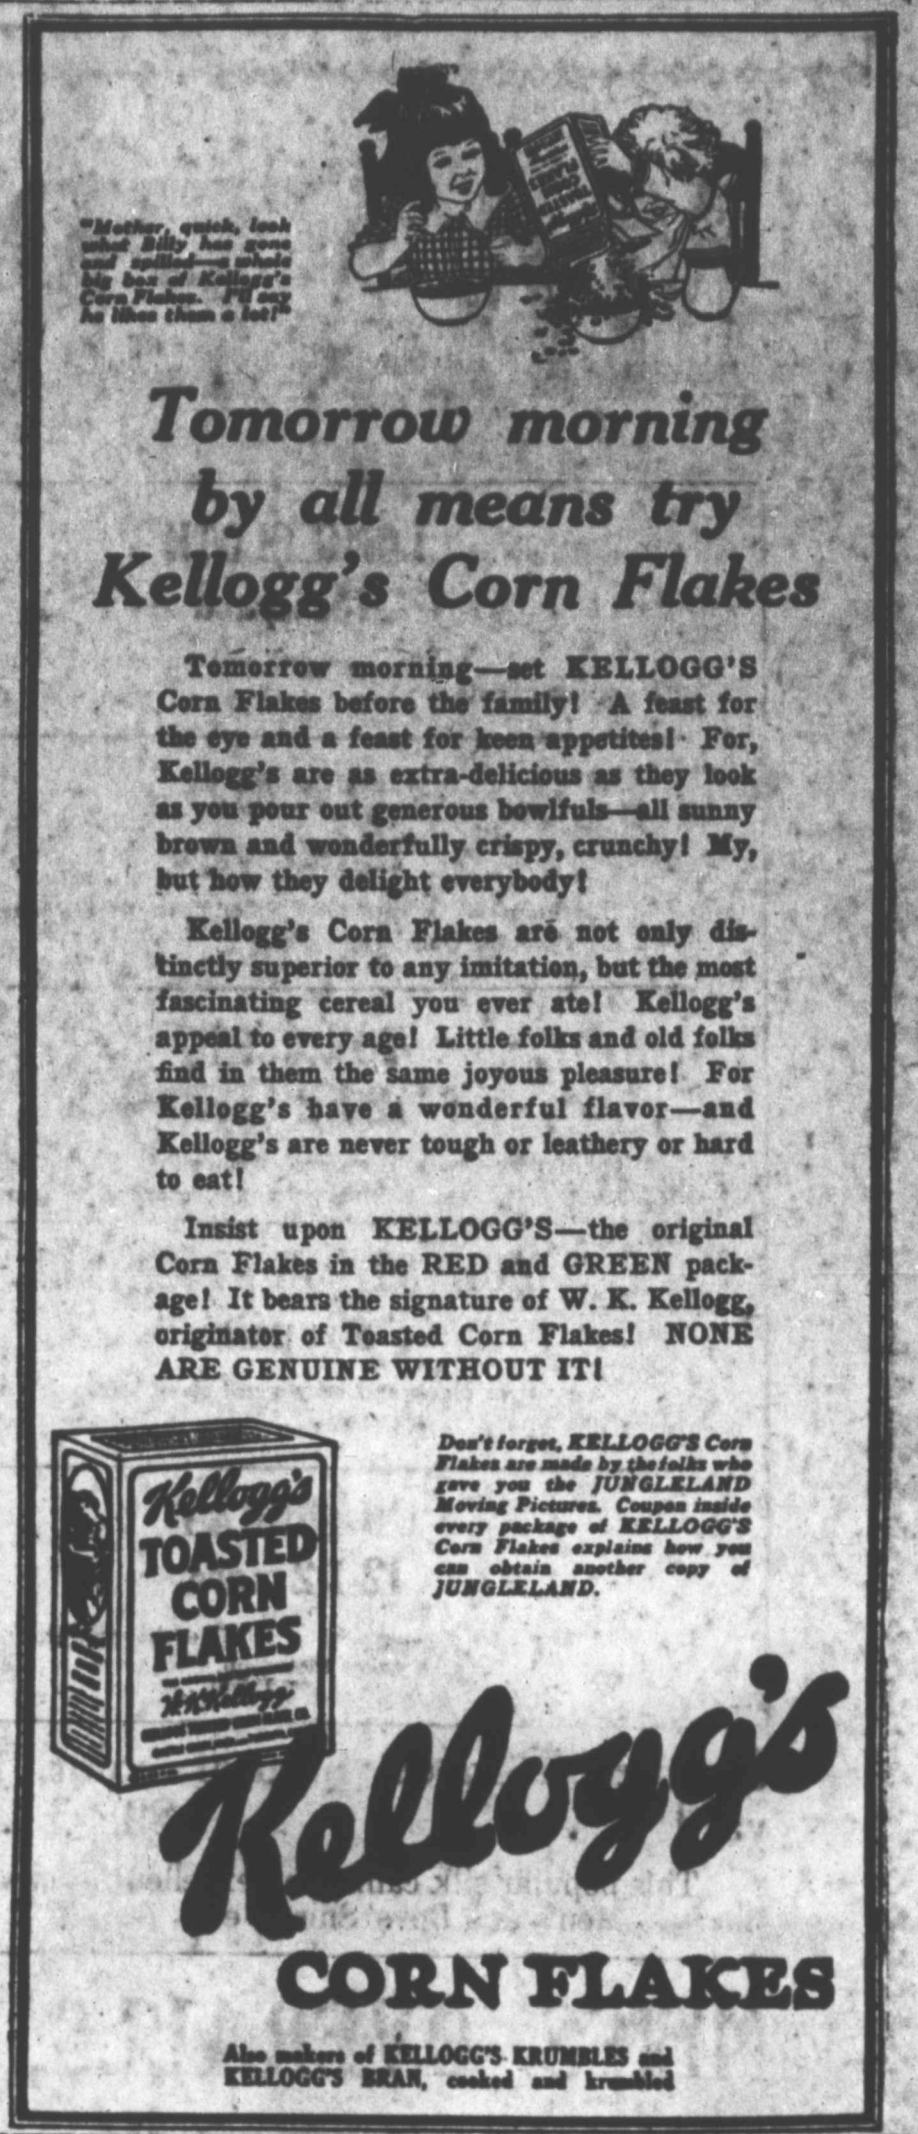

THE STORM'S TOLL

Chicago, Feb. 24.—The Middle West is beginning to recover somewhat from the storm which caused a sudden drop in temperature to below freezing and brought snow and sleet to a large area in Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and down into Northern Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. The Northwest, where the storm was of greatest intensity, reported a death toll of 12 and several hundred thousand dollars' property damage. Five persons met death in a train wreck near Minneapolis when a passenger train crashed into a snow-powder; four men were frozen to death at Minneapolis and St. Paul, a woman was frozen to death at Langford, S. D.; a woman was electrocuted at Rochester, Minn., and a man frozen at Dilworth, Minn.

OPPOSE KU KLUX

San Angelo, Texas, Feb. 25.—Resolutions opposing the organization here of a chapter of the Ku Klux Klan were adopted today by the board of city development.

When it comes to the cost of living the Sudan appears to be abreast of the times. A wife there now costs eight spurs heads or seven cows, instead of four of either.

ILLICIT LIQUOR VENDORS RUN DOWN BY OFFICERS

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Chicago prohibition agents announced here today that, following their return from a "two-weeks" investigation in three states, they had uncovered a plot to flood Chicago and other large cities in the Central states with grain alcohol to be used in making "bootleg whiskey." They said the principals were arrested at Columbus, Ohio, and five carloads of alcohol confiscated in four different cities.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Denison, Texas, Feb. 25.—Three men and two women, believed to be members of an automobile theft ring, were arrested here last night at a house on the South Side, in the residential section. They are also thought to be connected with the robbery of the Ravens Bank Wednesday night, members of the sheriff's force, who made the arrests, stated. Six persons are sought in connection with the case.

MURDERER "INSULTED"

Versailles, France, Feb. 25.—"It is an insult to a man like me," was the reply of Henry Landru when asked before the guillotine fell whether he had a confession to make. Mysterious until death, Landru resented Father Loisselle's question, but never did he utter the word "innocent," as he failed to utter it during the 34 months of imprisonment and the days of his trial.

President Harding's reputation as a "harmonizer" has not been gaining of late.

MAN SHOT AT WACO

Waco, Texas, Feb. 27.—Westley Crippen, 35, was shot twice in "Sandtown" here last night and is in a serious condition in a sanitarium. A negro man and wife are in jail charged with the shooting. The negro man has a long gash in his back made by a knife.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Newsom, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, realizing that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go to all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset.

I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it . . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it.

DAVID HARRIS LEE

David Harris Lee died at Camden, Ark., Monday, February 20, 1922 and was buried Wednesday at Shady Grove, Nacogdoches county, Texas, Rev. A. T. Garrard conducting the services.

Deceased was born in De Soto county, Miss., August 13, 1845. The family moved to Bradley county, Ark., when he was 9 years old. He entered the Confederate army from that point, was wounded and sent home on furlough. When he recovered he re-entered the army and served till the surrender.

After the war he moved to Louisiana, and later to Jasper county, Texas, where, at the age of 36 years, he was married to Miss Sarah Elizabeth Childress, who survives him, aged 63 years.

Besides his wife, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Jesse Layton of Camden, Ark., and three sons, W. P. and Robert of Camden, and W. M. of Nacogdoches; one granddaughter died at Nacogdoches in 1918, aged 7 years; and eight grandchildren, who reside at Camden, also survive him.

ENJOYABLE TACKY PARTY

The young people of the Baptist church had an unusually enjoyable "tacky" party in the basement of the church Thursday night.

Miss Bonita Gasley was winner of the prize for the "tackiest" among the girls and Otha McCall captured the boy's prize, and it was said they certainly earned them. They were a sight those participating formed in line for the grand march, after which partners were selected and a street parade followed.

Returning to the church, refreshments of apples and striped candy were served and old-time "tacky" songs were sung.

Five young men from Lufkin were guests at the affair.

Lee McKnight, a jitney driver of this city, was arrested Thursday on a grand jury indictment charging him with rape committed two weeks ago, his victim being a young girl residing near town, who, it is alleged, he inveigled into an auto ride while her parents were absent from home and kept out all night. The girl was found next morning at a point just south of the city. The child's father went gunning for McKnight, but the officers got him first.

DeWitt Grissom and a man named Wilson, the latter from Shelby county, were arrested Thursday on bootlegging charges. The taking into custody of Dr. Pat Wheeler of Shelby county on a charge of intoxication led to the arrest of the men. Grissom, when approached by Deputy Sheriff Chandler in front of the courthouse, alongside of the Willard Battery Station, drew a bottle of shinnny from his pocket and smashed it on the sidewalk. The officer, however, salvaged enough of the stuff to make a sample for evidence. Both the men gave bond.

Ed Buchanan, a local taxi driver, was arrested Friday morning on a charge of perjury, a true bill having been found by the present grand jury. The offense is said to have been committed in connection with the case of Lee McKnight, another taxicab man, indicted for rape. Buchanan gave bond for his appearance when the case is called in district court.

ATTRACTIVE BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. Eugene B. Blount was hostess at an unusually attractive bridge luncheon Saturday, February 25th. The affair was given to announce the date of the approaching marriage of Miss Gertrude Atwell to Mr. Mather Seymour of Chicago, on April 27th. The luncheon guests came expecting to meet relatives of Mrs. Blount from out of town, and the actual announcement was a complete surprise to all those present. Just at the assembled guests entered the dining room, which was beautifully decorated in bridal fashion, the bride-elect, with her mother and sister, came in at another door, thereby making known at once the nature of the affair.

The decorations and favors, all in yellow and white, added a note of spring-like freshness to the beautifully appointed table. In the center of the room was suspended a white and yellow wedding bell, filled with yellow flowers which fell in a graceful shower of tiny yellow ribbons. Tulle streamers ran from the bell to either end of the table, where stood yellow shaded candles; in the center of the table was a round mirror banked with yellow flowers, and on it stood a bride and groom and two tiny flower girls carrying baskets of yellow flowers. The little groom was very dignified in his tall silk hat, and the bride with her white satin frock and flowing veil, carried a very realistic wedding bouquet. Place cards which were little standing figures of a bride and groom in hand-tinted colors, and the tiny baskets of salted nuts were all in yellow and white. The cards announcing the date were brought in with the oyster cocktail, and with the next course came to each guest a pretty card bearing a toast in verse. These were read at various times between courses, and so clever and apropos were they that they caused much merriment. When the final course was served a lighted taper in a tiny rose holder was found on each plate, surmounting one of the kisses that were served with the ice. Mrs. Roland Jones, at the request of the hostess, made a very beautiful wish for the bride and her future happiness and each guest blew out her candle just as the wish was completed.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent at bridge in the delightful spirit of jollity that prevailed during the luncheon. It so happened that the bride-elect held high score, for which she received a pair of beautifully decorated candles. The bride's prize consisted of handsome accessories for the trousseau.

This was conceded to be in every way one of the most attractive affairs Nacogdoches has known, and Mrs. Blount, always a charming hostess, in her graceful manner, made each moment enjoyable.

Grissom and Wilson, the men arrested Friday for bootlegging, had a preliminary trial before Judge F. D. Huston Saturday morning and were held to the grand jury in bonds of $500 each. Dr. Pat Wheeler of Shelby county, who was arrested by Sheriff Marshal Watson for being intoxicated, paid a fine of $12.90 for the offense. It was upon his testimony that the other men were held.

Secretary H. I. McKnight of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce has yielded to solicitations and will stand for election to the office of representative from that county. He was for a long time connected with the extension department of the A. & M. College, has the interests of the farming class at heart, and has splendid executive ability, and could do valuable service in the lower state house.—Lufkin News.

IT MUST NOT BE DONE

There is on sale at the music stands of the city a song, "It Must Not Be Again," written by Mrs. Hollis Mast, one of Nacogdoches' talented women. The Sentinel has received the following thought suggested by the song: "Forget the war, forget everything connected with it," is a common saying now.

But ask the little gray-haired mother whose brave soldier boy is sleeping out there in God's Acre, ask the wife, the mother, the sweetheart, or sister, who have seen their loved one go forth heroically to war, returning in a shroud of Stars and Stripes, or perhaps still sleeping in Flanders Field. Ask them if they can forget the war. In the presence of 5,000 dead American soldiers and sailors sent home from Europe, President Harding said "I find a hundred thousand sorrows touching my heart and there is ringing in my ears the admonition eternal an insistent call, 'It Must Not Be Again, It Must Not Be Again.'"

Every peace-lover will appreciate this song.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

A NACOGDOCHAN CLIMBING

"At the age of 27, G. Martel Hall, son of J. Thomas Hall of Nacogdoches, Texas, is vice president of the Peiking Bank, a subsidiary of the International Banking Corporation. He has been requested to learn the Chinese language, preparatory to becoming a confidential advisor of the republic. Young Hall was a Rice Institute student in 1913, studied law at Columbia University and was a lieutenant in the navy during the war."

The above item accompanied a picture in the photo department of Sunday's Houston Chronicle. The subject of the brief sketch was reared in Nacogdoches, and is one of the leaders among the young men who have gone hence to high places in the world. It always affords us pleasure to note the rise to prominence in any field of endeavor of the boys of this section. Young Lieutenant Hall appears destined to render a splendid service to his country and to the world at large in the work which lies before him. He has our most cordial wishes for continued success.

TRUSTER ELECTION

On Saturday, April 1st, the 63 school districts of the county will elect trustees. At the same time elect commissioners. Districts 1, 2 and 3 will elect members of the county board of education. These elections are very important, as the welfare of the schools depends largely upon the trustees and only men who have the school interests of their districts at heart should be chosen. This also applies to the county board of education.

Jim L. Miller, colored, was arrested Saturday on a charge of wife beating. It is said Miller has been in the habit of trouncing his spouse unmercifully whenever the notion struck him but has escaped punishment thus far because his wife feared to report the matter, he having threatened to kill her if she told. Heretofore, when the family ructions occurred, the woman claimed her perturbation was caused only by hubby's refusal to permit her to visit her mother, but the last outbreak was witnessed by several white men working nearby and they reported it to Constable Walters, who has been acting for some time to get something definite on the man, whom he had reason to believe was guilty of beating his wife, but couldn't prove it.

JEWISH FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS

Has Been Held for Centuries as a Memorial of the Dedication of the Altar.

Hanukkah, the Feast of Dedication, also called "Feast of the Maccabees," is a Jewish festival beginning on the twenty-fifth day of Kislev (December) and continuing for eight days, chiefly as a festival of lights. It was instituted by Judas Maccabaeus, his brothers, and the elders of the congregation of Israel, in the year 165 B. C., to be celebrated annually with mirth and joy as a memorial of the dedication of the altar, or the purification of the sanctuary.

After having recovered the Holy city and the Temple from the Greeks, Judas ordered a new altar to be built in the place of the one which had been polluted by Antiochus Epiphanes, who had caused a pagan altar to be set up in the Temple of Jerusalem, and sacrifices to be offered to his idol. When the fire had been kindled anew upon the altar and the lamps of the candlestick lit, the dedication of the altar was celebrated for eight days amid sacrifices and songs.

In the Talmud the festival is principally known as the "Feast of Illumination," and it was usual either to display eight lamps on the first night of the festival, and reduce the number on each successive night, or to begin with one lamp the first night, increasing the number till the eighth night. The lights are supposed to be symbolical of the liberty obtained by the Jews on the day of which Hanukkah is the celebration.

FIND HEALTH IN SUN'S RAYS

Anients Had Full Faith in Treatment New Practiced in the Most Modern Sanitariums.

In a small village in the Adirondacks there is a sanitarium where patients take sun baths. And a high price is charged for the treatment.

Bathing in the sun's rays for health is an ancient ceremony, handed down from the earliest ages. Wiseacres in bygone times used to bathe in the sunshine, believing in the great value of light as a destroyer of disease. Light was the secret and universal medicine by which they cured many diseases.

Sunlight is the greatest factor in our planetary existence; if it failed all life would perish. One has only to look at nature for potent examples. In vegetable, animal and human life the influence of sunlight is strongly manifest. Compare the vegetation in the gardens of a back street away from the sunlight with similar growth in the open country. Compare the children of the country with those living down a narrow street of the city slums.

For creating good general health and happiness so medicine is so effective as the direct rays of the sun. A sun bath consists of letting the rays of the sun bathe the skin each day, preferably during the morning. The body is, of course, wholly or partially uncovered.

Marine Phenomenon.

Late one January the steamship Trafalgar, when within ten miles of Wolf rock, off the southeast coast of England, met with a remarkable accident.

A report like that of a cannon was heard, and a large fiery body with a tall 30 or 40 feet long struck the water 20 feet from the vessel. It was accompanied by a loud hissing, and a column of water rose where it struck the sea. Immediately afterward the ship seemed to be on fire, the engine room glowing with a violet light filled with multitudes of sparks. The mate engaged at the wheel suffered a violent shock through the steel rod in his hand. The crew fled to the deck. It was found that all the compasses had been demagnetized, and the ship had much difficulty in making her way to Falmouth. It was probably a strong lightning flash which struck the water, and the subsequent electric phenomena were produced by the dispersal of the charge supplied to the surface of the sea.

"Gibraltar of Canada."

Quebec citadel, sometimes called the "Gibraltar of Canada," is a strong fortification covering 40 acres of ground, and in its present form it dates from 1828. The more modern fortifications were constructed in 1820-30, substantially on the lines of the French works of 1620. The citadel has been garrisoned by Canadian soldiers since the withdrawal of British troops in 1871. It incloses a parade and drill ground, 42 acres in extent, surrounded by barracks and magazines under the walls. Heavy cannon are mounted on the ramparts. A large stone building forms the "Officers' Quarters" with the "Governor General's Residence" (occasionally occupied by him) at the east end, overlooking the river.

A splendid vista can be seen from the king's bastion at the northeast angle of the ramparts. The west ramparts overlook the Plains of Abraham.

All the Symptoms.

"Was Mr. Grabocin in his office when you called?"

"No, he must have been playing golf."

"Are you sure about this?"

"Reasonably sure. The office force seemed to think he wouldn't be back soon. Most of the clerks had their feet up on their desks and three stenographers were glued to telephones."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

RAMIFICATIONS OF THE FEDERAL INCOME TAX

In filing their income tax returns for the year 1921, taxpayers must remember that taxable income is not necessarily cash. Where services are paid with something other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken in the payment is the amount to be included in income. For example, the value of merchandise received by a clerk in a grocery store as part payment for his services must be reported as income. Compensation paid an employee of a corporation in shares of stock is to be treated as if the corporation sold the stock on its market value and paid the employee in cash.

Promissory notes received in payment for services and not merely as security for such payment constitute income to the amount of their fair market value. Light quarters and meals furnished as compensation for services are to be reported as income. A hotel clerk given his room and meals as part payment for his services is required to be reported as income the amount he would have to pay for board and lodging elsewhere.

The value of quarters, light and heat furnished army officers, whether stationed at an army post or paid from funds allowed or such purposes when officers are stationed elsewhere is taxable income in an amount equal to the cost to the government of furnishing such quarters, etc. Where an officer or enlisted man is allowed certain commutation in lieu of quarters, light and heat, the entire amount received for such purposes for the taxable year must be included in gross income.

Where living quarters, food, clothing, etc., are provided for an employee solely for the convenience of an employer, the value thereof need not be included in the income of the employee. For example, where because of the location and nature of the work, it is necessary that employees engaged in fishing and canning be furnished board and lodging by the employer, the value of such board and lodging may be considered as contributed for the convenience of the employer.

Board and lodging furnished seamen in addition to their other compensation is held to be furnished for the convenience of the employer, and the value thereof need not be reported in the returns of such employee. Uniforms, rations and medical or hospital service afforded enlisted men or seamen need not be reported as income. These are furnished by the government for its own purpose and not compensation for services.

The value of board and lodging furnished employees of hospitals as part compensation for services is to be reported as income. If, however an employee in a hospital is subject in immediate service on demand at any time during the twenty-four hours of the day, and on account of that, is obliged to accept quarters and meals at the hospital, the value of such need not be reported as income. If the employee is on duty a certain number of hours and could, if desired, obtain meals and lodging elsewhere than the hospital, and at the same time perform the duties required of him, the ratable value of the board and lodging furnished him is considered additional compensation.

The value of quarters, subsistence, laundry, heat and light furnished officers and employees of the Public Health Service constitutes income and must be included in their returns for that year.

To avoid penalty, returns must be filed on or before midnight of March 15th.

REGULATIONS FOR LENT, 1922.

In the Diocese of Galveston The Lenten Season begins this year on March 1st, Ash Wednesday.

The time for filing the Easter duty extends from the first Sunday in Lent to, and including Trinity Sunday.

General Laws of Fasting and Abstinence

All days of Lent, except Sundays, are fast days. Only one full meal is allowed to those obliged to fast. They may take a cup of chocolate, tea or coffee with a small piece of bread in the morning, and a collation, not to exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal, in the evening. Those who prefer to take the full meal in the evening, may take the collation at midday or near that time.

Butter, cheese, milk and eggs are allowed every day in Lent, as is the use of lard or drippings in the preparation of abstinence food. Fish may be eaten at the same meal with flesh at such times as meat is allowed.

Those who are twenty-one years of age and over, and who have not yet reached their sixtieth year, are obliged to fast, unless legitimately dispensed. Those who have any doubt about their obligations should consult their confessor or pastor at the beginning of Lent. All who have reached their seventh year are expected to abstain.

SUCCESSORS TO S. MINTZ & SON

Lent, the Saturday of Ember week and the forenoon of Holy Saturday are abstinence days. On all other days of Lent meat may be eaten at the full meal allowed, but those not bound by the law of fasting, may eat meat oftener on the day it is at all allowed.

Dispensations
The sick and convalescent, those doing hard manual labor, whose health might be injured are excused from fasting.

Men in the military and naval service of our country, as well of the marines and aviators, are allowed to eat meat on all days of the year except Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, the forenoon of Holy Saturday and the Vigil of Christmas. The families of these, living with them, may avail themselves of this dispensation.

By an indulgent, granted by the Holy See in 1915, and holding for ten years, working men and their families are hereby dispensed from the laws of abstinence, except on all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the forenoon of Holy Saturday and the Vigil of Christmas.

These laws of fasting and abstinence bind in conscience; and we exhort our people to be as eager for the law as for the dispensations.

C. E. Byrne,
Bishop of Galveston.

NOTICE

Is hereby given that a meeting of the stockholders of the Nacogdoches Farm Loan Association will be held March 31, 1922, at 2 o'clock p. m. at the office of the secretary-treasurer in Nacogdoches, for the purpose of electing a board of directors to serve during the year 1922.

Dr. S. W. Tenney of Rusk visited our city Monday and met with the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church, speaking with them in regard to the budget for benevolent causes for the coming church year. Services were held at the church Monday night, Dr. Tenney delivering an inspiring address on the Presbyterian Progressive program to which it was a privilege to listen.

Reports from the Angelina river Tuesday morning were to the effect that the dump of the approach to the Lufkin-Nacogdoches bridge were about gone on both sides of the stream. The guardrails have sunk, it was said, and it was barely possible for a car to find room to get over the road at those points. The rains since the latest report probably will put the road entirely out of commission.

Mrs. N. F. Evans left Sunday for a trip, being summoned by the serious illness of her father, sister and nephew, all suffering from the influenza. We hope the patients will soon recover.
