WHERE WERE YOU at the time of the JFK assassination? This is the question being posed this week on the eve of the 30th anniversary of the event.

Since many folks are sharing their thoughts and remembrances, we wanted to do the same thing. And since you seem to forget details as time goes by, I decided to quote myself from a column I wrote for the JFK anniversary 20 years ago, when the events were much closer than they are today:

WE'LL NEVER FORGET that Friday in November. It was truly one of the saddest days we've ever experienced, coupled with the chain reaction that resulted in the capture of Lee Harvey Oswald, and Oswald being killed by Jack Ruby two days later as he was being transferred by Dallas law officers.

It was an unbelievable sequence of events. We couldn't believe it was all taking place here in supposedly civilized America, right here in our beloved home state.

But the thing that brought the starkness of the situation so vividly to Americans was that it practically happened right before their very eyes. Especially Ruby's shooting of Oswald, which happened on nationwide television.

Like most Texans, we were on our lunch hour at the time of the amount to," Buske said. Kennedy assassination.

bulletin, and identified it from Dallas, we were fearful of what we ina amount to $4.6 million per would hear--sort of like an instant year. premonition--and our fears were soon confirmed.

The first announcement reported that President Kennedy had been shot during the parade, and that he had been taken to a Dallas hospital.

breathed a silent prayer-- "Oh, God, suffered," Monroe said. don't let him die. Not in Texas!"

But by then, the president most likely was already dead (1 p.m. officially). It was a very painful time for all Americans, and we still bear the scars of that day, after all

At that time, Plains Publishers, the central printing plant, was flourishing in Friona, and for the first and only time in the city's history, an Associated Press news wire was feeding news locally.

We returned to the office, and followed the sequence of events leading up to Oswald's capture on the AP news wire at Plains Publishers.

The events left a strange, "scary" feeling with many people. We had intended to go to Muleshoe that night to watch a bi-district playoff game between Muleshoe and Denver City, but wife Carol persuaded me to stay at home. It was as if she felt there was a danger in being out in public.

We recall that we spent practically the entire weekend watching the drama unfold on television, and believe me, it was a very depressing weekend.

Several area folks were enroute to Austin, where the president had been scheduled to speak on Friday

But Lee Harvey Oswald had changed the course of history that noon hour in Dallas, shattering the beauty of Indian Summer in Texas, and spoiling what had started out to be a successful good-will mission by the president to our state.

The following spring, Governor John Connally was the main speaker at our Texas Press Assn. convention. He still had his arm in a sling from his wounds that day in Dallas. We felt we were touching an historical event.

We recall the tremendous "sinking feeling" we got when the news came across of Kennedy's death. It was akin to the feeling you get when you learn of the death of a loved one. Or perhaps when you hear that our country is at war....

We sincerely pray that our nation never has to experience such a traumatic event again. After all this time, the events of that week are still very vivid to us.

Howard and Minnie Kelso of Bovina and B.K. Buske of Friona spoke for those residents owning rental property, and pointed out the big inconvenience the change will cause to many rental customers when they need to open an account.

In most cases, it will be necessary for these electrical patrons to drive to Hereford (44 miles from Friona and 70 from Bovina) to pay the required deposit.

We have a trailer park with ten electric meters, and they change frequently," Kelso told Webb.

Buske asked Webb if he had an estimate as to the amount of proposed savings from closing the Friona office. "You spend thousands of dollars on P.R. (public relations) every year, and it seems to me that you're going to lose more on P.R. than what the savings will

Monroe pointed out that many electrical customers who pay their monthly bills do so with cash, and with the office closing, this will be a big hardship.

The SPS officials indicated that they planned to get with representatives of Friona State Bank and First Bank in Bovina/Muleshoe, to see if something can be worked out to allow patrons to pay their bills, both by check or cash, locally.

"We have done this for you the past 16-18 years, and haven't charged you a dime," said Jerry Hinkle of Friona State Bank. "But we got a letter from SPS the other day saying this would be elimi-

Concern was voiced as to what would happen when and if either of the two service people stationed at Friona were to change jobs or quit. Doyle Moore, service director for SPS, said that this situation had been addressed at Friona last summer, and the serviceman was re-

In his presentation, Webb pointed out that SPS has previously closed offices in Texhoma, Oklahoma, Sudan, Silverton and Vega, with the closure of its McLean office pending.

Floyd Reeve stated "We'd like to think that we're a little bigger market than those towns.

Bill Ellis said "I think a big objection is the fact that you're placing Friona-Bovina in the class of those other places you've named. If you added up the population of all the other five towns where you've closed offices, I don't think it would be close to Friona-Bovina's 5500 to

"It's possible. We would hope that we can handle it with the people we already have, but we just don't know," Webb responded.

A question was asked why a charge of a dollar per electric bill or so couldn't be applied so as to pay the salary and keep the local facility open. Moore answered, pointing out that SPS couldn't make such a charge without having it approved by the Public Utilities Commis-

Also attending from SPS were John McAfee and James Bagley of Amarillo, Lewis McDaniel, SPS district manager from Hereford (former Bovina SPS manager), and Danny Fiel, manager of the Friona office until it closed this week.

In his preliminary remarks, Webb pointed out that Southwestern Public Service Company's service area covered 96 communities, 52,000 square miles and 350,000

Out of the 96 communities, 47 have offices, and 22 of these have 1 person on duty (besides the servicemen), as was Friona's case.

Combest Explains Reasons He Favored NAFTA Proposal

Congressman Larry Combest detailed the reasons that he was in favor of the issue because of the supporting the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) when it came before Congress on Wednesday, November 17, during a telephone "press conference" on Monday, involving several newsmen from his district.

Bill Ellis, publisher of the Friona Star and Bovina Blade, was one of those included in the 30minute discussion.

Congressman Combest started out with a two or three-minute dissertation, during which he explained that he had only decided last weekend to support NAFTA.

Negotiations on provisions of the treaty have been continuing in Washington, and there were at least a couple of areas where Combest had concerns for his district. He invited leaders from the sugarbeet and wheat industries to sit in on the negotiations. He said that following the negotiations, the wheat representative was satisfied with the NAFTA agreement, and the sugar beet rep had switched from "against" to "neutral."

Dinner Set For Sunday

The Bovina Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring a Spaghetti Dinner on Sunday, November 21 from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Bovina high school

$5 for adults, $3 for children ages 6-12, and ages five and under will be free.

Combest said he decided to vote tremendous economic impact that NAFTA could have on Texas, and particularly the 19th Congressional

He said that one study had shown that his district might expect 8,000 additional jobs, due to movement of companies from other parts of the nation into Texas.

The oil and gas industries are extremely excited about the possibilities of favorable business under NAFTA, Combest said. Their industries have lost more jobs over the past ten years than the automotive and textile industries combined. If NAFTA passes, American oil companies can go into Mexico and begin drilling oil wells and producing. On the illegal alien issue, Representative Combest said that we currently have problems at the border due to bad economic conditions in Mexico. "If we can improve these conditions south of the border, then there should be less of a desire on the part of Mexicans to want or need to come across," he

On the aspect of the U.S. losing jobs to Mexico, Combest said he has never been worried about that. "There's nothing in the agreement that would encourage this situation. Companies have more of an advantage before NAFTA to move to Mexico than they will after

It was also mentioned that there The price for the dinner will be was a distinct possibility that some of the "lost jobs" that opponents of NAFTA have been warning about might be jobs that would be lost by the so-called "rust-belt" of America, and might re-locate to Texas, which might prove to be our gain.

> "I think it's a tremendous opportunity for Texas, since we're bordering Mexico. We also have the right, after six months, to withdraw from the treaty, but if we reject NAFTA at this time, Mexican President Salinas has indicated that it might be awhile before we could bring it back up for negotiations-and there is the possibility that we may never get to this point again."

Combest stressed the fact that he considered the vote on NAFTA a long-range political decision.

"Nothing is going to happen overnight. It will take awhile for the trade barriers to come down.

The congressman pointed out that Mexico is currently our thirdbiggest and fastest-growing trade partner in the export business. "We do $18 billion in exports with Mexico each year, but Mexico has jobs today that depend on exports to two and one-half times the tarrifs on our goods than we have on ours. We have an opportunity to even this out," he said.

It also has been pointed out that Mexico is one of the few nations with whom the U.S. enjoys a favorable balance of trade. There are over 700 American manufacturing

Mexico. "This has been one of the most evenly-divided issues that I've had to deal with since I have been in Congress. There are some varied opinions on the issue. Some people strongly favor it, and some strongly oppose it," Combest said.

Football Contest Has Tight Race

There was an opportunity for a leader to "run off and hide" in the Bovina Blade Football Contest, but instead, things just got a little tighter after last weekend's results.

Donnie McDonald continues to hold the lead, but Coach James Russell gained two points on the leader, who managed to pick just seven of the 14 contest games.

With two weeks of picking left, McDonald has a score of 110, and Russell 109.

Mike Raymond, who was one of five contestants to correctly pick 11 games last week, along with Dean Stanberry and A.M. Wilson, are tied with scores of 108.

Danny Harris stands at 107;

In the weekly contest, the race was between the five contestants who correctly picked 11 games.

Darla Stormes wound up as the winner, with her tie-breaker prediction of Dallas 21, Phoenix 14. She missed the exact game score by only two points, as the Cowboys won, 20-15. Miss Stormes, whose other misses were White Deer-Hart, Miami-Philadelphia and Atlanta-L.A. Rams, was awarded $10 cash.

Gilda Garner picked the Cowboys to win by 27-10, missing by 12 points, to claim second place. She missed Littlefield-River Road, Florida State-Notre Dame and Green Bay-New Orleans.

Richard Grisham took third place after picking the Cowboys to win, 28-10, missing the score by 13 points. He missed Littlefield-River Road, Green Bay-New Orleans and Chicago-San Diego.

Also picking 11 were George J. Villarreal and Mike Raymond.

Gaining three points in the standings by picking 10 games correctly were Luis Franco, Nickie Villarreal, George L. Villarreal, A.M. Wilson, Mary Jane Wilson and Jason Kerby.

Holiday Meals Can Be Low-Cal

By CARLA McKEOWN

For as long as I can remember, 2 teaspoons low-calorie margarine holidays have meant food--lots of food. And, for as long as I can remember, most of the people I know have been trying to lose

Although I doubt our family get togethers will ever have less food, they can have less fattening food. With a few simple changes, we can serve basically the same foods but with less calories.

Thanksgiving meal, try the stirring frequently, until liquid is following:

*Substitute low-calorie margarine (preferably the type that comes in a tub) for butter or regular margarine.

*Use skim milk instead of whole milk.

*Use frozen egg substitute instead of real eggs.

*Use less sugar or use a sugar substitute in appropriate recipes.

*Substitute "lite" bread for

*Offer more fresh fruit and less

*Serve cider-based punch and bottled water in place of higher calorie soft drinks and alcohol-based

*Offer a selection of fat-free salad dressings.

*Put out large bowls of airpopped pop corn and fresh vegetables with a bowl of chunky salsa rather than the more fattening mixed nuts, and chips and dip.

Try the following lower-calorie versions of your holiday favorites: LITE STUFFING

1/4 cup low-calorie margarine, divided

2 cups chopped onion 1/2 pound apples, cored, pared and chopped 1/2 cup chopped celery 1/2 cup chopped green bell pepper 1 small garlic clove, minced

1/4 cup golden raisins, plumped by soaking in warm water 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning

4 ounces seasoned croutons 1/4 pound cooked turkey sausage, crumbled

1/2 cup thawed frozen egg

substitute In a 9-inch non-stick skillet, melt 1 tablespoon margarine. Add onions, apples, celery, pepper and garlic; cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until celery is tender. Stir in raisins and poultry seasoning and set aside. In a medium mixing bowl, combine stitute. Add vegetable-fruit mixture and stir to combine. Stir in remaining margarine. Spray a 2quart casserole dish with non-stick cooking spray; add stuffing mixture and bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes or until browned. Makes 8

LITE PUMPKIN PIE 1-9 inch pastry pie crust, uncooked, in pie plate 2 cups canned pumpkin (or 2 cups cooked fresh pumpkin)

1 cup plain low-fat yogurt 1/2 cup thawed frozen egg substitute

1/4 cup reduced-calorie pancake syrup

2 tablespoons sugar 1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice

1/2 cup thawed frozen dairy whipped topping (reduced calorie version, if available) In a medium bowl, combine pumpkin, yogurt, egg substitute, syrup, sugar and pumpkin pie spice; stir until well blended. Spread the mixture evenly in the pie crust, and bake, in the center oven rack, at 400 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out dry. Remove to a wire rack to cool. Serve at room temperature or cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.

Makes 8 servings. Send your favorite recipes or recipe requests to: Carla McKeown, P.O. Box 3651, Lubbock, Texas,

To serve, top each portion with 1 tablespoon whipped topping.

Interest rates are the lowest since 1970. Our improvement loan rate is currently 6.95% fixed for 10 years. A $35,000 center pivot financed for 15 years will have an annual payment of $3,380 for the first 10 years. A 10 year loan would cost $4,971 per year. You can't hire a hand to move pipe this cheap. Take advantage of low rates. Save labor; Save water! Rates change every Wednesday.

We received a news release that a "Victorian Christmas" is planned for area residents and it's the Annual Christmas Open House in Canyon at the museum.

This sounds like an exciting event for all ages. It is scheduled for Friday, December 3 from 7-9 p.m.; Saturday, December 4 from 7-9 p.m. and Sunday, December 5 from 2-4 p.m.

A Victorian scene of carolers and horse-drawn sleigh entice visitors to come inside the museum and experience the wonders of Christmas. Carriage lanterns light the way into Pioneer Hall, where the elaborately decorated Victorian Christmas Tree, surrounded by poinsettias, will delight young and

On the second floor, in a quiet area, is the "Storyteller's Corner." Here, a kindly grandmother in a rocking chair will be telling Christmas stories in front of the fireplace with sparkling embers and a braided rug.

The lower level will be devoted to children with Santa in an antique sleigh to listen to children's Christmas wishes. An outdoor snow scene, depicting the Victorian era completes the setting and parents are urged to bring a camera and photograph your child or grandchild with Santa.

This year, the museum will have a service program where families may purchase ornaments to decorate a special tree by exchanging a can of food or $1, for an ornament and all donations will be given to the "Canyon Cares" Food Bank.

Musical entertainment is scheduled throughout the three day event, which will be school choirs, chamber music, barbership quartets and bell choirs.

About 5,000 people plus usually attend the events and of sadness in the last several weeks everyone is invited!

NEWS AROUND TOWN....

The Farwell Masonic Lodge conducted graveside services for Lester Rhinehart on Tuesday. He passed away a week ago Friday. Lester had had heart problems for some time.

Lester moved to Bovina in 1938 from Louisiana and ran the Fina Station for several years before he retired. Friends talked about how Lester was a character that everyone loved and remembered how he would cook a pot of chili on a cold day at work and invite friends to "come and have a bowl." He'll be missed by many and our thoughts are with his wife, Flossie, and his daughter, Sandra, and grandchildren.

Ovid Lawlis suffered heart problems and underwent balloon surgery at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Ovid went to Levelland a week ago Thursday when he became ill thinking he had gall bladder problems.

He did have these problems, too, but his doctor sent him on to Lubbock in the ambulance when he discovered he also had heart problems. Tuesday he was still on the CCU floor of the hospital, but his granddaughter said he may be released the latter part of the week and may be scheduled for gall bladder surgery later on.

Mary Ruth Redden, former resident, was hospitalized at the Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon, where she now lives. We visited with her on the telephone and she said she entered the hospital a week ago Tuesday and was released last

She said it was first thought that she had had a stroke, but after tests, they decided she didn't. Her condition has improved, but she is still under a doctor's care.

Seems we have had our share as there have been several deaths and heartaches for many. Thursday is Thanksgiving and we saw this poem in the Baptist newsletter and thought it was worth sharing for those who may not have seen it

A THANKSGIVING PRAY-ER....Lord, our power is shut off, and suddenly we become thankful for electricity. Our garbage is not picked up, and suddenly we become thankful for the garbage collector's

A good friend dies, and suddenly we discover how much he meant to us. Our water becomes too polluted to drink and suddenly we appreciate pure water.

Why is it, Lord, that we take for granted the uncounted blessings of life until they are removed from us? We take for granted the mind you have given us, the beauty of the earth around us, the rain and soil combining to produce our food, the love of family and friends.

Today we thank you for being patient with us, for not forgetting us when we forget you, for loving and forgiving us, for music and singing, for rest and leisure, for those who understand us, for laughter and joy.

Most of all we thank you for not withholding the blessings of life from us, even though we take them for granted. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Have a wonderful Thanksgiving...Scooter.
