SMALL HOPE ENTERTAINED FOR ENTOMBED MINERS

Jackson, Cal., Aug. 29.—Forty-eight coal miners still are imprisoned today nearly a mile underground in the Argonaut mine. Rescue workers are vainly endeavoring to reach them, while the families and friends of the entombed men wait anxiously and tearfully at the mouth of the mine. The fire, which started yesterday at the 3,000 foot level, has worked up to the 2,400 foot level. Superintendent Gabarini of the mine said everything humanly possible is being done toward rescue. He said the workers expected to establish communication with the miners, if they still live, within 18 hours. A party of rescue workers from the State Bureau of Mines expect to enter the shaft some time today equipped with gas masks and oxygen in an effort to extinguish the fire. Meanwhile, hope of rescuing the men alive is entertained, but it is a slim hope.

CHECKING THE TRUCKS

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 29.—State highway officers are working in Tarrant county especially on the Fort Worth-Dallas highway, checking overloaded freight trucks with a view to prevent wearing away of the improved highways by this traffic. They use a motor-meter that weighs the truck and load and when it is over-weight they cause part of the load to be removed at once. It requires about fifteen minutes to weigh a truck with its load.

JOHNSON RENOMINATED

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 30.—At 10:45 o'clock last night Senator Johnson said: "I have won the nomination and of course am delighted with the result. The returns are fragmentary, but the result is undoubted and California republicans have responded as we were certain they would. That the victory has been won we are certain."

OIL INDUSTRY EARNED SMALL PROFIT IN 1921

Since November, 1920, the refining branch of the oil industry has been conducted at a loss, according to evidence submitted to the Senate Committee on Manufactures, which is investigating the oil business. The industry as a whole—producers, refiners, transporters and jobbers—made an average net profit in 1921 of a little more than 4 percent. A computation based on the available balance sheets of oil companies representing all branches of the industry, recently made by the American Petroleum Institute, shows that last year these companies earned $156,815,711 on a total net worth of $3,651,170,000, or 4.4 percent. The unfavorable showing of the refining companies, according to the Institute's report, was due to the fact that crude petroleum other than gasoline, namely, fuel and gas oils, kerosene, lubricating oils, etc., which amount to about 75 percent of the total products of crude, had to be sold at prices which did not represent a fair share of the cost of production.

BISHOP FOR TEXAS

Waco, Texas, Aug. 28.—Bishop J. F. Dickey of Georgia, one of the new bishops elected at the Hot Springs Methodist Conference, has been made president of the Texas Conference and will reside here. He is expected the latter part of the week. Bishop Dickey succeeds Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, who will preside over the Georgia Conference.

A MINE CATASTROPHE

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 28.—Seventy-five men, comprising the entire night force at the Argonaut mine in Amador county, are entombed in the mine as the result of a fire at midnight, according to a report received by the State Bureau of Mines at Berkeley from the superintendent of the mine early today. The men are said to be imprisoned below the 3,000 foot level.

BIRDS GIVE LIVES TO AID RESCUERS

Jackson, Cal., Aug. 30.—Canary birds told the rescue workers the futility of attempting further descents into the shaft of the Argonaut mine where flames have raged since midnight Sunday from the 3,000 foot levels upward. The birds gave their lives in warning of the danger of the descent. They were lowered into the shaft by rescue workers from the state bureau of mines at Berkeley. The strings paid out as the canary cages were let down were carefully measured. Some of the birds came back with wings fluttering feebly. Others were dead. The tests showed that the descent to the 2,700 foot level could be made but that further was perilous.

May Live in Films

Jackson, Cal., Aug. 30.—Men who may never see the light of day again as a result of the Argonaut fire may come to life on the motion picture screen. A San Francisco film company recently visited the mine to get true scenes of the mother lode country as motion picture backgrounds. Many of the men of the Argonaut mine took part in the filming of the picture.

THE DOOMED MINERS

Jackson, Cal., Aug. 30.—Hope of rescuing the Argonaut mine prisoners waned today, but the rescuers continued their desperate efforts to extinguish the fire which shuts off the entombed men from the mouth of the mine. Their work is greatly hampered by the intense heat and smoke.

STRIKE RIOTS

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Violence among railroad strikers and union sympathizers was rampant in central New York last night.

At Oswego, the home of Albert Johnson, whose son is employed in the New York Central repair shops, there, was dynamited. Police found a part of the fuse of the bomb which was exploded under a corner of the porch, wrecking the house. The blast was heard throughout the city. Plain clothes men last night were patrolling the district to prevent another outbreak.

At Eastwood and East Syracuse, local suburbs, where hundreds of railroad families reside, night rider methods were employed early today by strikers in efforts to cause men remaining at work to quit their posts in the shops at Minoa and Dewitt.

Auto loads of masked men, women and children garbed in grotesque costumes, visited the homes of workmen in both villages, threatening the mechanics if they did not join the strike. Homes of railroad workers who remained on their jobs were stoned. Cat calls and shouts of "scab" were directed at the strike-breakers by the mob.

Sheriff Davis sent details of deputies to East Syracuse and the masked auto parties then went to Eastwood, where several homes were attacked.

Shots at Fort Smith

Fort Smith, Ark., Aug. 30.—Officers were rushed to Missouri Pacific shops at Van Buren, Ark., last night when a report was received that several volleys of shots had been fired at the buildings.

Lodge Men in T. P. Area.

Marshall, Texas, Aug. 30.—The Texas and Pacific Railway Company is making arrangements to take care of their strike-breakers within the areas within the fence around their shops here.

The city today issued permits for the construction of an eating house to cost $3,500 and three dormitories to cost $3,000 each, making a total of $12,500 to be spent at once for the care of the strike-breakers now at work here.

KILLED BY FALL

Washington, Aug. 30.—Wright McCormick, a former professor in the University of Texas, was killed in a fall from a mountain near the City of Mexico, according to word received here.

One group of G. O. P. leaders fears defeat in the fall if the tariff bill is passed, while others prophesy disaster if it is not. Both are probably right.

DAVIDSON ISSUES FORMAL STATEMENT

Marshall, Texas, Aug. 30.—State Senator T. W. Davidson of Marshall, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor of Texas, in a formal statement given out here, had this to say in part concerning the recent primary and his subsequent nomination.

"The wonderful loyalty and activity of my friends at Marshall and over the entire state made such a victory possible. It is not only a victory for my friends, but it is a victory for the conservative, thoughtful people of Texas and a victory for clean-cut issues, frankly stated. I misled no man to get his vote.

"My vote came from all classes and creeds and I am glad to be the lieutenant governor of all the people. In the language of an elder statesman I can face the future with malice toward none and charity for all.

"In laying out the program at the state convention," he said, "we should not forget that the taxpayers of this state, for the present at least, have about all they feel able to carry."

OFFERS SOUTHERN LUMBERMEN PERPETUAL SUPPLY OF TIMBER

Washington, Aug. 30.—Prospective Southern lumbermen, who are looking westward for future stands of timber as their own holdings become cut out, are showing great interest in the biggest offering of government timber ever made, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

The timber unit offered lies within the Malheur National Forest in Oregon and contains 890,000,000 feet of timber, 87 percent of which is yellow pine. It is one of a group of logging units all tributary to Burns, Ore., totaling 6,700,000,000 board feet. This forest region, government foresters say, will produce an annual cut of 60,000,000 feet for all time, thus insuring a continuous supply of raw material for the local lumber industries and steady employment for mills and woods workers. The opening up of the Malheur Forest presents an unusual chance for a new and permanent location for some company which is through in the South, say the foresters.

CRIMINAL "DISAPPEARS"

Shreveport, La., Aug. 30.—According to advices received here early this morning Thomas Rivers, the negro who confessed that he had attacked a young married white woman here last night, was taken by an armed band of about 25 men from the officers who were transferring him to Benton, La., for safe keeping. The party of men appeared suddenly while the officers were in the vicinity of Brownlee. The fate of the negro was not determined. After securing the negro, the band of armed men ordered the officers to return to Shreveport.

The full story of his attack on a young white woman at her residence in the west end of the city was Monday night told by Thomas Rivers, negro, to chief of Police D. D. Bazer, following his positive identification by his victim last night. The negro was arrested by Chief Bazer on Cotton street near Texas avenue yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

When confronted by the negro the young woman is said to have fainted and reports last night indicated that she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown as a result of her experience.

In addition to the attack here the negro told of a similar occurrence in Marshall, Texas, about a month ago, when he seized a young white girl by the arm when she walked out on the back porch of her father's residence in the west end of that city.

CONFESSIONS OF MURDER

Gary, Ind., Aug. 30.—The signed and sworn confessions of four men held by the Gary police on charges of murder in connection with the wreck of a Michigan Central express train August 20th today were in the hands of Dwight Kinder, county prosecutor, preparatory to presentation to the Lake county grand jury, according to the authorities. The grand jury is expected to be convened in a few days for the hearing of the wreck evidence. The murder affidavit is based on the death of the engineer and fireman of the express. The four men are Russians and all claim union membership.

TWO WOMEN AND MAN MURDERED IN OHIO

Canton, Ohio, Aug. 30.—Two women and a man were murdered and another man wounded today by an unknown man who laid in wait for his victims and struck them down with an iron bar as they entered their home. The dead are Mrs. Freda Burns, 27, and W. Frank Burns, 25, her husband, and Mrs. Mary Nola, 20. Luther Armstrong, 22, suffered a scalp wound. A pile of rags and paper was found burning in the house, the blaze evidently started by the murderer to cover up the crime, the police say. Mrs. Nola and her husband are known to be separated. The police are holding Armstrong.

BONUS BILL O. K.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Payment of the soldier bonus with money collected from foreign governments on interest on their debts to the United States was ordered yesterday by the senate in an amendment adopted to the bonus bill.

The new provision in the bill, which was drafted by Senator Simmons, democrat of North Carolina, and accepted by all the administration leaders, was adopted on a rising vote, which was practically unanimous. Thirty-three senators were counted in favor of it and only one, New of Indiana, against it.

Provisions of Amendment

The Simmons amendment directs the secretary of the treasury to pay all expenses of the bonus out of the interest collections, and if these funds are insufficient, to pay the remainder of the soldiers claims out of any other money in the treasury which is not otherwise appropriated. Supporters of the bonus were jubilant last night in reviewing the senate's action. It is believed the incorporation of the Simmons amendment removed the possibility of a veto of the measure by the president and insures enactment of the bill and payment of the bonus to the soldiers.

Harding May Wield Veto

Washington, Aug. 30.—White House callers who discussed the bonus with President Harding today came away with the impression that the executive regarded the addition of the McNary reclamation and Simmons foreign debt amendments, adopted by the senate yesterday, as making the measure more objectionable than the original form.

GASOLINE 25 PERCENT OF CRUDE OIL

In order to obtain one barrel of gasoline, the oil industry has to produce nearly four barrels of crude petroleum and by-products.

According to the American Petroleum Institute, the average 42-gallon barrel of crude petroleum will run through a refinery, yields the following products:

Gasoline, 10.8 gallons; kerosene, 4.1 gallons; fuel and gas oil, 20.1 gallons; lubricating oil, 1.8 gallons; wax, coke and asphalt, 1 gallon; miscellaneous, 2.5 gallons; loss in refining 1.7 gallons.

Although gasoline is the principal product of crude oil from a commercial standpoint, and from the petroleum of the United States and Mexico is produced primarily to meet the constantly increasing demand for it, in point of actual volume, gasoline forms only about 25 percent of the crude.

RANGERS TO TWO TOWNS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 30.—State rangers Tuesday were dispatched to Tyler and Commerce as a result of a conference between Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton and Governor Neff and attorneys for the Cotton Belt railroad Tuesday morning. The rangers were sent for immediate protection of Cotton Belt property at these points, with possibility that the open port law may be declared later, it was said.

Attorneys for the Cotton Belt lines states that a number of men will be put to work in the shops of the road in the near future and that indications are this plan would meet with resistance.

Judge Marshall of Nacogdoches, nominee in Saturday's primary for district attorney of this district, has been in the city today receiving the congratulations of friends.—Lufkin News, 28th.

THE HERRIN MASSACRE UNDER INVESTIGATION

Marion, Ind., Aug. 30.—Employees of the electrical railway between Marion and Herrin and the employees of the power house near where 19 non-union miners were murdered were the first witnesses before the special grand jury investigating the Herrin mine war. These employees are said to have been eyewitnesses to the "death march" on the mine workers and the massacre which followed. Attorney General Brundage said he did not expect the grand jury to take long to complete their work.

FORGET-ME-NOT DAY

Cincinnati, Aug. 29.—Advancing the date of the national "Forget-Me-Not Day" from Armistice Day to Saturday, November 4th, National Commander C. Hamilton Cook of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, who will sponsor "Forget-Me-Not Day", explained the change in date by the fact that friends of the wounded and disabled soldiers made the request that a special day be set aside, when all thoughts and activities can be devoted to the needs of the men who sacrificed much on the battlefields of France and Belgium, during the great war. Every city and town in the country is to participate in "Forget-Me-Not Day" on November 4th, Captain Cook announcing that Citizens' Committees will be formed everywhere to direct the activities of the day, and to have charge of the funds and their distribution. All of America's wounded and disabled veterans of the great war will be provided for in the national campaign, the proceeds of which are to be used for national legislation in behalf of the disabled veterans of the great war, clubhouses and summer camps, employment and rehabilitation problems, relief work and numerous other activities in the interest of the disabled vets. Banks will act as depositories of funds secured from the sale of Forget-Me-Not on November 4th.

Citizens' Committees will direct the day's campaign, assisted by sub-committees of women war workers, ladies' organizations and other agencies which contributed much to the comfort of the American service men during the great war. In many cities and towns, the ladies organizations will make the paper and cloth Forget-Me-Not that are to be distributed on November 4th; and in other localities the bed-ridden soldier patients and disabled veterans now in hospitals, are engaged in making the flowers that will be sold on the streets of communities all over the country on "Forget-Me-Not Day."

Preliminary arrangements have already been started in many cities for the campaign that is to benefit the cause of America's wounded and disabled veterans.

CUSHING ENDORSES THE ROAD-BUILDING PROJECT

Secretary McKnight of the Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by Prof. R. F. Davis and Prof. J. P. Coates, visited Cushing Tuesday in the interest of the proposed road improvement.

Fifteen of the business men of Cushing met at the picture show to study the map and estimates prepared by the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce. After going over the matter very carefully, the group of fifteen endorsed the proposed bond issue unanimously.

The endorsement of Cushing, following the endorsement of Etoile, indicates that the people of the county stand ready to take the necessary steps to complete the system of hard-surfaced roads originally laid out, and also to provide a maintenance fund sufficient to keep the roads in good repair.

The business men of Nacogdoches feel that Sacul, Cushing, Etoile and Martinsville and the territory lying between each of these points and Nacogdoches has not had a "square deal" in the road building program so far.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Gilmer, Texas, Aug. 30.—Walter Harris, a white man residing near James, Texas, was shot from ambush and killed Monday, according to reports received here. Sheriff Brice of Upshur county has gone to the scene of the shooting. Harris leaves a wife and three children.

MODERN MAN IS A TOUGH CHAP

What is called in building construction the "margin of safety" must be in the case of the nerves and physical body of human beings a very generous one. The common run of mankind seems to be able to endure more than one might suppose.

We naturally associate physical stamina and endurance with primitive man. We like to think of the aborigine as sleeping on the bare ground with nothing but his war paint to cover him; as being able to go swimming in February. If he took it into his head he could run 100 miles in a day, snatching his food—berries and roots—on the run; and at the end of this little jaunt he might be persuaded to make a night of it with his fellow warriors. After which came a wink or two of sleep.

We haven't much exact information, however, on the doings of the aborigine. But a little observation of what modern man or woman can do may lead to the reflection that for sheer energy and endurance the aborigine wasn't in it with us. What would he have done with the roar of modern traffic pounding away at his auditory nerve incessantly for hours? Could he have picked his way through the multitudinous throng of shoppers in the downtown section during the busy hour?

The aborigine may have had the fortitude to run 100 miles a day, but did he ever go up and down a flight of stairs fifty times a day, and sweep and dust, and do the dishes, and bake, and darn socks, or go shopping, and entertain 35 members of the Jolly Bunch, and have a dress fitted, and rescue his own offspring from the pugnacious gestures of the neighbors' children, and stew prunes and prepare chicken salad as if nothing were as important in the world as these two dishes? Did the aborigine in all of his splendid vigor ever go through as composite a mess of daily chores as this?

Maybe the aborigine had a strong physique and nerves of steel, but the fact that so many of us seem to survive the days' shocks and strains speaks rather well for our own outfit of nerve and sinew. Judged by what he can endure, modern man is hardy stock.

A BARREN CAREER

The campaign of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts for reelection draws attention to the fact that he has been in congress continuously for practically 36 years. It is not a flattering commentary on him that his many years in the national life of the country have brought him a reputation only as a political partisan, without a single constructive act to his credit that the people can recall.

Before the appearance of Woodrow Wilson upon the national stage Lodge had a certain vogue in republican circles as "the scholar in politics." It was looked upon as his special mission to guard Republican national platforms against split infinitives. But it stands out that while the G. O. P. would humor Henry by making him chairman of its national conventions, it never could see him for the presidency or for secretary of state. He came to the position of leadership of the republicans in the senate by the seniority route, but one of the complaints against him is that while he could lead in the singing of a hymn of hate against Wilson he had been found wholly lacking when it comes to inspiring action of a constructive nature.

In "The Mirrors of Washington" it is asserted that Lodge's long period in congress "can be summed up in three achievements—the Force Bill, the attempt to wreck England by driving her to silver coinage and the part he took in defeating the (Versailles) treaty of peace with Germany. The Force Bill and the silver amendment his biographers have charitably forgotten; will the future biographer deal as gently with the closing years of his life? And if so, what material will the biographer have?"

SOME QUESTIONS FOR KLANSMEN

To the Members of the Ku Klux Klan: Is it not a fact that you boast of your one hundred percent Americanism, and flaunt your goodness into the face of the public in every conspicuous way possible? Is it not true that you claim to stand for, and defend the Constitution of the United States, the laws of the State, and the protection of society in general? Is it not true that you have repeatedly said that your object is to aid the officers in the enforcement of law, and that your organization is in no way a political movement?

You certainly will not have the effrontery to say that you have not claimed to stand for all of the foregoing principles, and in view of your publicly stated claims in this connection, will you please answer the following questions.

1. Name an instance in which your organization has officially reported a violation of the law to any officer of the law in this state, or the United States, and requested such officer to file proper complaints against such law violator.

2. If you are able to name such an instance, then tell us what, if any, disposition such officer made of the alleged offense?

3. Is it not true that the Constitution provides that "No man shall be deprived of life, liberty, property or pursuit of happiness without a due process of law."?

4. Is it not a fact that this "due process of law" means that the accused shall be apprised of the nature of the offense of which he is charged; that he shall have reasonable time in which to prepare to meet such charge; that he shall have compulsory service of witness on his behalf; the right of counsel; to be faced in open court by his accuser, and a jury of his peers?

5. Now if you answer questions Nos. 3 and 4 in the affirmative, then would any material departure from the process of trial referred to in the preceding questions be a "one hundred percent American" trial? Answer yes or no.

If you answer the preceding question in the affirmative, name the law or court decision which justifies your answer?

7. If you answer question No. 5 in the negative, then explain why you belong to and support an organization the very acts of which are in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States.

8. Do you believe in and respect that constitutional provision which guarantees equal rights, religiously, politically and legally to Catholics, Jews and non-believers alike?

9. If you answer the foregoing question in the affirmative, then explain why your organization disfranchises the Jew and the Catholic?

10. If your organization is not political, explain why it is making the hardest political fight of any organization in the United States.

11. What prompts your members to clothe themselves in white sheets and enter houses of worship and donate to ministers?

12. Is not the very method of making such donations the exact definition of hypocrisy?

13. If you are a minister, do you think you are doing God's service in tolerating an organization, the very acts of which have been condemned by the United States Attorneys, Attorneys General of the various States, Judges of Federal Courts, and the Governors of nearly all the States?

14. Is it not a fact that your actions as a minister in accepting the small bribes of this masked and lawless "Invisible Empire" are driving thousands of good men away from the church in disgust?

15. Name an act just one—of real patriotism and genuine loyalty to the United States Government which your organization has ever performed?

Remember in answering the foregoing question, that in every instance where your members have been brought into courts, or before grand juries, they have refused to testify, and some of them have been remanded to jail for such refusal; and remember, also, that there are cases of murder in the first degree committed by your organization while engaged in unlawful acts.

If you ignore the above questions it proves that you are prejudiced, and an enemy to fair investigation and honorable controversy; if you answer them evasively, it proves that you are dishonest and a hypocrite; if you answer them fairly and honestly, you will repudiate the Ku Klux Klan. Which class are you in?

Out-of-Date

YARDS that measure only 35 inches and 15-ounce pounds are out-of-date. Advertising has put them clear out of business.

Manufacturers who advertise must give value, because they have a good name to protect. Manufacturers of well-known products and the merchants who sell these products often value the names at millions of dollars.

They cannot afford to jeopardize the worth of these names by selling any but good goods of full measure and fair price.

A merchant or manufacturer cannot afford to advertise merchandise that will not give service. The penalty of such tactics is too heavy.

You can bank on this. Advertised goods must be as advertised. That is why it pays to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised products. The advertising is your protection.

Read the advertisements in this paper.
It will pay you.

THE SEPTEMBER SCRIBNER

In the September Scribner begins one of those absorbing inside stories of a life—"From Immigrant to Inventor," written by the man himself—of which great romances are made. Now one of the most noted inventors in the electrical field, honored by scientists everywhere, Michael Pupin came to America a poor immigrant boy, with but five cents in his pocket. A Serb, his boyhood in the little town of Idvor was rich in old traditions and the pride of race, and his early education was chiefly founded on the things heard in the neighborhood gatherings. He was led to America by an advertisement of a steamship line, and the story of his boyhood days and of his coming to America is one of the stories that make up what we call a "very human document." We all want to know about the way other men have succeeded. Here is the story of a most successful man, told in the simplest terms, with modesty and profound sincerity.

Professor William Lyon Phelps, who is to conduct a new department in Scribner's that he happily calls "As I Like It," makes his debut in this September number. He writes about youthful ideals, music, plays, books, with charming informality and touches of familiar humor.

The reader will get points on many things of current interest, food for table-talk discussion at the summer cottage and in woman's clubs.

DOG DAY SPECIALTIES

It always has to be something for which the dog days, otherwise the silly season, get credit; and the season of 1922 seems to have specialized in matters revolving around the little god Cupid and that antithesis of the young archer whom the ancients lacked the fortitude to invent when they composed their mythology—the one responsible for rending hearts asunder. In the East, at Hamonton, N. J., a "Cupid's court" sprang into being and flourished a day and a half, and in the middle West, in Chicago, a "love healer" has been hailed into a regular court of the land on suspicion that his cult for the eradication of the divorce germ in the home was a get-rich-quick and possibly some other kind of scheme of doubtful legality. The New Jersey "Cupid's court" was to serve mankind by trying the cases of the love-lorn and deciding on the soulmates of those seeking its jurisdiction. It might have been a great success if ribald newspaper men from the metropolis, seeking hot weather relief from strikes and politics, had not seized upon it as grist for their humor mills. Publicity worked with the reverse English, and justice, jurors and lawyers decided to join the strike contingent. The Chicago specialist of the season was the exponent of an occult system of establishing felicity in homes where wives seemed to live in dread of outside affinities. He is alleged to have received much coin of the realm for removing this fear. Several husbands, declared by the defendant to be unduly jealous of his ceremonies in their homes, and some women who paid cash are witnesses for the state. More sensational developments are predicted of the hot spell lasts another week.

It might help some for President Harding to wear a rough rider hat while trying to emulate Roosevelt.

WHAT IS THE BILL OF RIGHTS?

Not long since a prominent lawyer of Eastern Texas went out one day to address the plain people. He had an audience that filled the house to its fullest capacity. His subject was the Bill of Rights. In order to have a good start he propounded the question as follows: "Is there anyone, male or female, in this large and intelligent audience, who can tell me what is the Bill of Rights?" Profound silence reigned over that audience. Not one could tell him what it meant. We might conclude that our study of government in this free American republic is signally neglected. Among the thousands of readers of this page, how many can tell what the Bill of Rights is? Next fall when our schools open this question should be given to each and every student in the school who is able to read and a correct answer required if it takes the whole term.—R. T. Milner, in Rusk County News.

HOW TO FIGURE YOUR INCOME TAX

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Follow these instructions in figuring out your income tax: In the first place it must be worked by algebra, astronomy, trigonometry and syntax, that may be correct or may not. If your income is $2,400 a year and you have a diamond ring and automobile and are married to a brunette girl 26 years old, take the amount of your income, add your personal property, subtract your street number, multiply by your height and divide by your telephone number. If you have a child in your family, you subtract $200 from your income, add the amount of your personal property, multiply by your waist line measure, subtract the size of your collar and the child's age, multiply by the amount you have given the church during the year, and divide by the number of your automobile tag. If there is a second child you deduct $400 from your income, add the weight and age of one child, divide by the date of your birth, multiply the size of your hat, and subtract the weight of your mother-in-law. After you get it all figured out they can't collect it, for they will have you in the booby hatch strapped down.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 23.—P. J. Dunne of Lufkin was elected president of the Texas Farm Bureau Ribbon Cane Syrup Association by recently elected directors of the organization, who met in Dallas today for their first official meeting. H. L. Hess of Mt. Pleasant was elected vice president and other officers will be named tomorrow.

Authorization to build a syrup blending plant at Lufkin to cost $20,000 to $25,000 was made by the directors, who also voted unanimously to increase the present sign-up of 300,000 gallons to 500,000 gallons. The syrup will be marketed co-operatively this fall and spring, the first time that such a movement has been undertaken by East Texas producers. State headquarters of the association will be in Lufkin.

THE WAR DEBTS

Washington, Aug. 24.—The funding of the $4,135,000,000 war debt owed by Great Britain to the United States was declared today by Secretary Mellon to have no relation to the war loans made by the United States and Great Britain to other governments or to questions arising in connection with reparations payments by the former Central Powers. Mellon issued a formal statement in which he said on account of numerous inquiries as to the exact status of the obligations of various European countries held by the United States, he had insisted it was only on British security that the United States was prepared to lend money. Mellon said the advances were for the purpose of covering payments for purchases made by the Allies in the United States.

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work. Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable

OLD LANDMARK BEING REMOVED

The old two-story wooden residence building on main street just below the brick building occupied by the Thomas Bros. grocery and market is being torn down this week. This building, according to the best information available, has been standing there for 85 years. The lumber in it was saved by hand from the big trees, there being no saw mills in those days. It is apparently as good today as it was the day it was placed there.

Rumor has it that a modern brick building will be erected on this site by Thomas Bros., but Tribune man could not gain an interview with Mr. W. R. Thomas to verify the statement. However, here's hoping that the rumor proves true. Let San Augustine grow.—San Augustine Tribune.

TEXAN "BUMPS" SWINDLERS

Denver, Colo., Aug. 25.—Using the basement of a church in which to hold their prisoners in order that their raid might not be tipped off while it progressed, Denver police and Colorado state rangers early today completed the round-up and arrest of 33 persons alleged to have conducted confidence operations in Colorado, Florida, Cuba and other tourists centers. The district attorney announced that the information which led to the arrest of the gang was supplied by J. Frank Norfleet of Hale Center, Texas, who had been picked as a victim. Norfleet, according to the attorney, is the man who unmasked the operations of the so-called Joe Furey gang of confidence men.

PER CAPITA COST OF EDUCATION AT A. & M.

College Station, Texas, Aug. 23.—To correct erroneous opinions that may have been informed as the result of misinformation which has been publicly given from time to time about the cost to the state of educating men at the A. & M. College of Texas, President W. B. Bizzell has made public the result of an investigation made by H. A. Widdecke, college accountant, showing that the average per capita cost per year of giving instruction at the college during the forty-five years that it has been in operation has been $166.13, and that the average for the last six years is $192.62.

Mr. Widdecke made an exhaustive study of records in the office of the state comptroller, state treasurer, state library, University of Texas library and at the A. & M. College. He found the total sum of all appropriations made by the state legislature and federal government for maintenance and support since its creation, and dividing that by the total enrollment in those years, arrived at the per capita cost.

He found that in the forty-five years history of this institution, the state of Texas has expended the sum of $6,996,218.96 for the support and maintenance of the college, including permanent improvements; and that the Federal government has appropriated, under the provision of the Morrill Act, in this period $783,750 making a total of both state and federal governments of $7,779,968.96. The value of permanent improvements included in this total amounts to $3,445,686.61. Thus the net cost to the state of Texas and the United States for the maintenance and support of the institution after deducting the value of permanent improvements, is $4,334,282.37.

The records of the registrar show that in the forty five years' history of the A. & M. College there have been 26,089 students enrolled. If this number is divided into the net cost of the maintenance and support, it is found that the average cost per student is $166.13.

"In order to be perfectly fair," President Bizzell said in his report, "I want to call attention to the per capita costs during the last six years. On account of the changes in economic conditions, the per capita cost of instruction has been greater in recent years than in the earlier years of the college. During the last six year period the legislature has appropriated $3,613,083.96. Deducting $1,750,847.35 from this total for permanent improvements, leaves a net cost of maintenance and support of $862,236.61. The total enrollment for this six year period, from September 1, 1915, to August 31, 1921, according to the registrar's report is 3,558 students. Therefore, the average cost to the State of Texas per student per year for this period is $192.62.

"Therefore, so far as the Agricultural & Mechanical college is concerned, the per capita cost of instruction of students is relatively low. No fair-minded person can analyze the figures submitted above without being convinced that the institution is being administered on an economical basis, perhaps on too economical a basis to secure the highest efficiency. "I trust the friends of the college, in the interest of the cause of higher education, will familiarize themselves with these figures and help to correct the misinformation that exists in the public mind with reference to the per capita cost of instruction in this institution."

Locke is in a hospital with a bullet wound through his lung and his condition is serious. He charges he was shot by a Rock Island guard as he was leaving the roundhouse. The guard, according to Locke, stopped him and asked where he was going. A few words followed and the guard fired, Locke said.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECK

Lockhart, Texas, Aug. 24.—Authorities are investigating what they believe to have been an attempt yesterday to wreck a passenger train on the San Antonio & Aransas Pass road near Gonzales. Three iron spikes had been driven between joints of the rails. J. M. Guffey, roadmaster, struck the obstruction with a motor rail car when he was riding and was slightly injured when the car was thrown from the rails. Guffey was just ahead of a passenger train.

A list of the leaders in the United States and pamphlets advocating the overthrow of this government and the establishment of a soviet form were uncovered in the literature the officers seized.

STRIKERS AND RAIL HEADS MAKE CONFLICTING CLAIMS

New York, Aug. 26.—With peace efforts launched by the "Big Five" brotherhoods definitely abandoned, the railroad executives and shop crafts leaders today resigned their forces for a finish fight in which both sides predicted early victory. "We are going home and start a real fight, whether it lasts three weeks or three months," declared President Ryan of the carmen's brotherhood. He said they had plenty of funds for a long fight. B. M. Jewell, head of the strike organization, was equally positive of the outcome of the battle, which he asserted the railroads had left as the only course for the unions to pursue. "We will break the strike within a week," said the railroad executives.

The couple gave their names as William A. Green and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Green. Mrs. Green was beaten into unconsciousness by the negroes.

The sheriff told the party that the negroes had been removed to some other point, and the party continued on its way.

MEDIATION FAILED

New York, Aug. 25.—Attempts to end the rail shopmen's strike by separate settlements with individual roads failed today. The conference was broken off and the rail heads are preparing to leave town. In announcing the breaking off of negotiations David Williams, head of the Eastern strike committee, said: "Nothing else could have happened." One of the brotherhood leaders said after the conference that the mediators had made every possible effort to bring about a settlement. It was indicated that there was no likelihood that negotiations would be resumed.

Will Be Finish Fight

New York, Aug. 25.—From unofficial sources it was learned that the break came when the labor men rejected a proposal advanced by the executives as representing a big concession. A statement by the executives disclaimed any desire to take advantage of the strike situation to curtail pension or other privileges earned by the strikers before quitting and expressed a willingness to restore all strikers with pension privileged unimpaired. Labor headquarters said the unions are prepared for a fight to the finish.

MOTOR NEEDS FUEL

About this time of year there usually appears a number of "don'ts" advising us how to regulate our personal habits so that we may survive the summer. Good advice, too, they usually are and we never heard of any person being harmed through complying with them. But there usually is among them one that we never know just how to take. "Don't overeat", it advises us and we feel certain that we have never done so. Usually we confine our hot weather meals to mere snacks like ham and cabbage with a couple of potatoes, side dish of some vegetable like peas, several ounces of bread and butter, a salad, a pie and cheese and ice cream and a beaker or so of milk. We eat comfortably, perhaps, but as for over-eating, we have no desire in that direction. We believe in moderation.

Seriously, that is about the way the average person dines. He will have about that amount of food at the evening meal at home. He will say he likes to have one full meal a day and that he can get along very nicely on that, but he forgets all about the fact that he probably has eaten a quantity of food almost as large, if not equally so, at midday. The puzzling part of it is that the hearty eaters usually are the healthiest.

The answer is that good food is the best medicine and that the right kind in proper quantities is just as essential in the summer time to keep the human engine in operation as it is in the winter. Immoderate eating often makes people ill and we also know that every person cannot eat everything. The only question is what does "don't overeat" mean? Probably different things to different individuals, but never, we are sure from observation, does it mean that a healthy man or woman should starve in order to avoid danger of being overcome by the heat.

THE LEAGUE IS STILL ALIVE

That the League of Nations, lacking the United States, does not measure up, in capacity, to its original intention, is a fact. But a fact no less obvious is that the League does exist and function. From it several important international movements are creeping out, the full value of which are suggested but not apparent.

The rapidly approaching meetings, first of the League Council, then of the League Assembly, can not be ignored, even if only on the general ground that every movement looking toward the removal of war is a good movement. The evils prophesied for the League have not materialized to the public gaze, and only the inexperienced could have looked for any sensational success in advance of public opinion. The balance sheet fairly struck shows an active body, of useful purpose and, in some cases already, not unimportant, a successful arbiter.

It is significant that virtually every small power in Europe and all the minority peoples are taking their troubles to the League, voluntarily ascribing judicial authority to it which, after all, is the precedent to possessing it. It is not to be expected that all the decisions will be generally acceptable; no power in the world could resolve all the minority problems to the complete satisfaction of the many disputants, but if broad lines of economic welfare are adhered to, time will be the justification or the condemnation of the League and all its works, for the goal, indirectly, is human prosperity and well-being.

The tendency to ignore the League, to deny its existence, simply because the United States does not belong to it, is foolish.

WHEN WOULD WE EAT?

In an address delivered at Leesburg, Va., a few days ago Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture contrasted the diminishing rewards in the pursuit of agriculture with the opposite trend in the rewards of organized labor with particular reference to mine and railroad workers. His statement of the subject is enlightening and interesting.

According to Mr. Wallace's figures a coal miner's wage a ton in 1913 would buy 1.1 bushels of corn. In 1921 it would buy 2.5 bushels. In the former year the ton wage would buy 4.7 pounds of cotton or 11 pounds of sheep. In 1921 it would buy 8.5 pounds of cotton or 18 pounds of sheep. Thus if the farmer's reward remained stationary the miner's was doubled. Then he took the railroad worker and stated that the yearly wage of the average railroad employe in 1913 would buy 1,492 bushels of corn, while in 1921 it could be exchanged for 4,112 bushels of corn. In 1913 it would buy 1,087 bushels of potatoes, while in 1921 it would equal 1,916 bushels. On the whole, other labor shows about the same relative gain. Either labor has doubled in cost or the value of farm products has declined a half. In exchange value labor's wages buy twice as much farm produce as nine years ago. Farm products buy only half as much of labor's output.

Notwithstanding this showing farmers go on producing. They may complain, as they are fully justified, but they do not quit. Would either the railroad workers or the miners continue under a 50 percent cut? It would be rash to assert that they would. In fact we know they wouldn't suffer any cut without a fight. That has been demonstrated beyond the need of argument. Were the tillers of the soil to take a similar position "When do we eat?" would become something different from an academic question. Yet, it must follow that there is a limit beyond which agricultural prices cannot drop without diminishing supplies. If the crops are grown without profit to the farmer the farmer will be as well off to grow for his own use alone and stop with that. It is impossible for him to prosper if what he sells is at half the level of that which he buys.

The farmer may cover a portion of the difference by means of increased production without increase of labor, but, if so, he is not benefited directly by his brain effort. It saves him from greater loss merely. It requires no demonstration that disaster for the farmer, and the rest of us, too, is ahead if wages of organized labor increase greatly out of proportion to the rewards of agriculture.

WHY NOT?

When it is recalled that we gave land to induce railroad building and are now in the midst of making a tariff that is declared to break all records in favoring big interests, the proposition of Representative Sproul of Illinois, that the government pay $1,000,000 to the person who discovers a permanent cure for any one of five diseases — tuberculosis, pneumonia, cancer, epilepsy and dementia praecox — is not unreasonable.

The practice of prize-giving, or awarding of medals and accompanying them with financial allowance is one of the oldest, with its value as a stimulus to endeavor and as an expression of justice always recognized. There are standing prizes for world statesmen who offer anything toward curing the world of the diseases of war. It is no argument against the proposition to say that men would continue to struggle for the solution of great problems with no other thought than of the satisfaction of their own minds and serving humanity. The trouble is that some of the greatest benefactors of mankind have had to struggle for a living after making their valuable discoveries.

At any rate, the subject is worth some thought.

PSYCHIC BOOZE

No more interesting burlesque has been staged since national prohibition became effective than that put on by the mayor and erstwhile saloon keepers of the city of Johnstown, Pa. The attention which the municipality has commanded of the rest of the country for the past several days has not been equalled since the flood of more than 30 years ago.

Incidentally it has been proven that "psychic" booze has just as much of a kick in it and is much safer than the synthetic products of questionable ingredients. The merry villagers were having a merry time until the fear of enforcement authority outside the local precincts caused the bartenders to hint that the stuff they thought was real beer was simple Vostead near-beer. The disillusionment even cured headaches the bibulops had been cultivating as part and parcel of fancied hang-overs.

As yet it is not quite clear whether Mayor Cauffiel is a deliberate defier of outside prohibition authority, a rare practical joker or a practical benefactor. The one certain thing is that he has a grasp of the science or psychology. He apparently accomplished one primary objective in focusing attention on an impure water supply by leading the citizens to think they could have all the regular beer they wanted in the same old way. When the people think they are getting something they are getting it, in a sense.

The man who gave a 90-day note at the bank 11 weeks ago is not complaining that the summer is passing slowly.

If any honors are heaped upon members of the old guard they will probably be medals for extinguished service.

Wheat is selling for less than a dollar, and if a farmer raises enough of it, and is thrifty, he can almost afford to buy bread in the city.

THE PAVING PROBLEM

Following is another of the series of letters received by Secretary McKnight in regard to the best material for use in the proposed paving undertaking.

Marshall, Texas, Aug. 19, 1922.
Mr. H. L. McKnight, Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Dear Sir—I received your sample of iron ore gravel and I am very glad to tell you what I think about it for use in street paving base.

I do not think that this material will be of any value whatever for use in what is termed "surface treatment" work or where a coat of asphalt is applied directly to the gravel. It would be impossible to secure the clean, hard surface necessary for the asphalt to adhere to.

We are at present using a large amount of similar though inferior in quality native iron ore gravel in the construction of forty miles of road in Harrison county. On top of the gravel we are placing a layer of crushed native iron ore rock and then applying the asphalt treatment to that. I think this will be fairly successful. A better plan would be to use Wise or Jack county or other similar hard limestone for the top layer. Asphalt will not stick to the native iron ore gravel. Mr. E. W. Davis, county engineer at Longview, tried it as an experiment without success.

A contract was recently let to Coker & Turner of Marshall for brick pavement at Mineola, using iron ore gravel for a base with a sand cushion for the brick between them. I think this should prove satisfactory. I would not recommend the use of this gravel for a base for any other type of pavement than brick and do not consider it by any means equal to concrete base for brick pavement. I am thoroughly familiar with the Appleby gravel, having been division engineer for the State Highway Department for three years and having seen it used in both Shelby and in Nacogdoches counties.

By adding a top surface of four or more inches of hard stone the gravel may be used satisfactorily as a base for surface treated roads. However, I do not recommend surface treated roads where have have to bear city traffic.

If this information is of any value to you you are very welcome.

Yours very truly,
Geo. A. McCellan,
County Engineer Harrison County.

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 22, 1922.
Mr. H. L. McKnight, Secretary-Manager, Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Dear Sir—Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of August 14th, and also under separate cover a sample of iron ore gravel of which you request an opinion.

I have constructed a great many iron ore gravel roads and find them excellent in every respect for light traffic. The material you submit seems to be of excellent quality, and will make a fine foundation for concrete, and I believe it would take a cold rock asphalt very successfully. I have very serious doubts, however, as to the application of any asphaltic oil under pressure, or of tarvia and similar material.

My advice would be to use this as a foundation, place not less than 3 inches of broken stone on top of it, and then give the broken stone the desired treatment. I believe that a foundation not less than 12 inches of your material, if properly compacted and waterbound, would successfully carry on your streets a 3 inch vertical fiber brick pavement on a three-quarter inch sand cushion.

I would hesitate to recommend any hot application immediately on this material.

I trust the above information will be of some service to you.

Very truly yours,
R. Y. Glenn,
Consulting Engineer.

Houston, Texas, August 23rd, 1922.
Mr. H. L. McKnight, Secretary and Manager, Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Dear Sir—Your letter of Aug. 14th at hand, and I note you are sending me a sample of gravel under separate cover, but as yet I have not received same. However the writer is well acquainted with the gravel, and knows about what it is without a sample. I made a trip over your roads about a year and a half ago, and found this gravel to be a very good grade of gravel, and to have a good binding quality such as you need in your street work.

I am of the opinion if you will put 10 inches of this gravel on your streets, and let same bind properly, and apply a three-course treatment or lime rock and asphalt, or trap rock and asphalt, that you will have a job to be proud of.

It is my recollection that your streets are of a good clay base, which would make one of the best bases I know of.

We will cheerfully give you any information that we may have at any time, that will assist you in this work.

Yours very truly,
Haden & Austin,
By D. T. Austin.

Wichita Falls, Texas, Aug. 22, 1922.
Mr. H. L. McKnight, Secretary-Manager, Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Dear Sir—Yesterday I received the sample of "Appleby" gravel which you had informed me in your letter of August 14th that you were forwarding under separate cover.

In my opinion this gravel should make an excellent base for street pavement where you have a good drainage, good subsoil, and not too heavy traffic. In placing this gravel care should be taken that it is placed in layers not over six inches deep, loose measure, and after spreading it should be thoroughly harrowed. When the harrowing is done the gravel should be rolled thoroughly with a ten-ton roller and sprinkled if necessary to get the proper compaction. For a good, substantial base two layers of gravel each six inches in depth, loose measure, should be used, and each layer should be put down substantially as above described.

I have used both gravel and broken stone for bases for taoidr broken stone bases for street pavements and where these is proper drainage, a good subsoil and the gravel is of good quality, then it makes a very good base if properly put down for traffic that is not too heavy.

I believe that your best quality of iron ore gravel can be given a surface treatment of asphalt that will allay the dust and protect the gravel itself. However, the gravel should be put down and allowed to obtain a permanent set before this asphalt treatment is applied. Traffic should be allowed on the road for some time so as to set the gravel permanently, then when ready for the surface treatment the gravel road should be swept off thoroughly, removing all loose particles and exposing the stones in the gravel road as much as possible so that the asphalt will have a rough, clean surface to adhere to.

4. Desire to say that I resigned as city engineer some four or five months ago and am now in general engineering practice under the firm of Montgomery & Ward, consulting civil engineers. We are specializing in municipal engineering. During the two years that I was city engineer here for the City of Wichita Falls I planned and supervised over one million dollars worth of pavements.

Should you feel the need of engineering services for your street improvements or other municipal improvements, we would be very glad to handle same for you.

Yours truly,

Waco, Texas, Aug. 22, 1922.
Mr. H. L. McKnight, Secy. Chamber of Commerce, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Dear McKnight—Beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 14th and also the sample box of Appleby iron ore gravel. I am very sorry to say that I cannot give you the information that you desire. I am familiar with the iron ore gravel as used in making gravel roads, but have never undertaken to put an asphalt top of any kind on it and I have never seen anyone else try it. From my knowledge of the necessary conditions in order to obtain a good job of topping I do not see how it can be done with this material because I do not see how the bond can be established between the surface of the gravel road built of this material and the asphalt top. The truth of the matter is that putting an asphalt top on any kind of gravel has been a very uncertain operation. We have some that can be called real successes, but we have a lot of failures, and I think that it would be no more than proper to say that the whole matter of topping a gravel road is still in the experimental stage.

I would suggest that you submit this question to Capt. J. D. Fauntleroy, state highway engineer, Austin, as he will be able to tell you definitely whether or not any such work has been done and with what results.

With personal regards, I beg to remain,
Yours very truly,
Robert J. Potts.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON SWEDEN

In one field of industry Sweden leads the world. In her determination is utilizing to the utmost every pound of fuel and ounce of energy nature to conserve her natural resources she has given here. Official reports from Stockholm say electricity has conquered one-third of the cultivated area of Sweden. The plans are now formulated and the work is under way by means of which within a few years almost the whole country will be run by electricity.

It may be an unusual picture to us to see all Sweden spanned by high power cables which bring electricity to practically all the farms in the parts of Sweden that have already been electrified. That isn't the kind of picture which most of us have of this Scandinavian country. But whether we have it or not, it is the true picture. Nearly all of the power used in the daily labor on an ever-growing number of farms in Sweden is brought there from centralized power plants.

In this respect the Swedes are doing precisely what other progressive European nations are doing; but the Swedes are doing it more thoroughly. They are doing what we in this country have found out only recently we must do if our wasting of natural resources is not to be a national calamity in the near future. Sweden is converting her coal and her mountain streams into electric power; she distributes this power cheaply over vast areas; and so rapid and vast has been the development of this industry that the making of machinery for this purpose in Sweden has become a great industry in itself.

When it comes to efficiency on a large scale, the rest of the world may well keep its eye on Sweden.

ON COMING BACK

The little boy who kept hitting his head with a hammer explained on inquiry that he did it because he felt so good when he stopped. The little boy had the true philosophy of a vacationist.

About once a year we get a yearning to go away from wherever we are, to be different, to get out of our chosen path of life; and after much preparation and worry about where and how and when to go, we make the break and are gone.

And we are away only a while when we begin to get restless; we have a new yearning, this time it is to get back, back to the comfortable routine of the years, back to the cozy bed with just the right size pillow, back to the easy chair of the front porch, back to the little nook in the scheme of things as they are; away from the half cooked yet burnt food of the woods, away from the mosquitoes of the summer cottage, away from the knock-kneed nudity of the beaches.

We have a feeling a yearning down in the dim recesses of our soul that it's not the dim going away that helps; it's the coming back.

LAKE PARTY

Miss Mabel Allen of New York City, the house guest of Mrs. J. L. Phillips, was the honoree at a very pleasant lake party Thursday afternoon at Cooper's Lake, near Nacogdoches, having as hostesses Mesdames Coke Murphey, Roy Satterfield, E. L. Kurth of Keltys and D. C. Hucherson.

The party, composed of twenty-seven guests, motored to Cooper's Lake, where they enjoyed a refreshing swim. After the plunge an exceedingly nice picnic lunch was served to the merry crowd. They motored back to Lufkin at a late hour after this pleasant time. Lufkin News, 25th.

THEATER PARTY

Clara Belle, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Buchanan, gave a picture show party Tuesday night to a number of her young friends. Those attending were Ella Catherine Sharp, Kathleen Watkins, Jane Stripling, Leroy Gaston, H. P. Muckleroy, Margie Wynne, Itaska Blount, Albert Orton, Lee Tucker, Matt Tucker, Alice Hatchl, Merline Day, Golda Stroud, Juanita Sitton, Thad Sitton, Ruth Moore, Jack Moore, Frances Atkins and Lamar Acker.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by her mother and Mrs. Pearl Newton and Miss Ruba Coats of Appleby.

After the show the little folks were taken to Kennedy's Drug Store and feasted upon all the good things to be found there. It was a happy occasion and every one of the youngsters enjoyed it.

NOTICE

Fall is upon us and the leaves have begun to fall and the grass and weeds are dying, thereby increasing the fire hazard to the point that it is very dangerous. I will not be able to canvass the town and point out all the weeds that need cutting and disposed of; therefore I will appreciate you surveying your premises and dispose of anything that is dangerous, from a standpoint of fire. We maintained our record last year and are very anxious to do so this, for it is certainly a saving to those carrying insurance.

Another thing I would like to call your attention to, and that is the use of pennies behind the plugs in your electric switches. This practice is indeed very dangerous and is likely to burn your home at a time when you least expect it. I cannot inspect all of the switches and remedy this condition; therefore, I am forced to ask you to look into this matter and promptly replace new fuse plugs where pennies are found behind those that have been burned out.

The state inspector was in our city a few days ago and found our town to be in a first-class condition and I hope he will be able to make this same report on his visits in the future.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank our citizens for their co-operation in this work and to ask that you lend me this same co-operation in the future, and, if you do, we will certainly hold our fire losses to a minimum.

Again I urge you to keep your premises clean of any fire hazards.
L. I. MULLER,
City Fire Marshal.

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treachorous Drug Can Not be Trusted and Next Dose may Start Trouble

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury, quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless, vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. So salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless, and can not salivate.

HUGE AGRICULTURAL SHOW AT STATE FAIR

The Agricultural Building should be visited by every person who attends the State Fair of Louisiana. October 19 to 29, for in this mammoth structure there will be arrayed numerous exhibits of farm, orchard and garden depicting the fertility and productivity of the soil of Louisiana and evidencing the progress its agriculturists are making. Specimens of practically every product raised from the state's soil will be found in the Agricultural Building, and the value of diversification, the only safe plan for farmers to pursue, will be emphasized in almost every booth.

Among the exhibits there will be those from the Boy's and Girl's Clubs from the State University and its Experiment Stations, and from the federal government's agricultural department. There will also be found in the Agricultural Building, the exhibits from the various parishes competing for parish premiums. Individual farm and farmers' exhibits will also be shown in this building.

These various exhibits will give the visitor a mighty good idea of the wonderful agricultural possibilities of Louisiana, and of the great advancement that has already been made along the lines of agriculture, the state's main industry.

FREE PARKING SPACE FOR MOTOR VISITORS

With model roads leading to Shreveport from every direction, thousands of automobiles are expected to bring visitors to the 1932 State Fair of Louisiana. October 19 to 29, inclusive. Many auto parties came last year and the year before, but since then the system of improved highways has been enlarged through a wide radius, embracing Texas and south Arkansas as well as Louisiana parishes, and motor trips to the State Fair this year undoubtedly will be unprecedentedly numerous.

In order to show courtesy to the automobile parties, the State Fair management has arranged for a large parking space, which will furnish those who park there with free accommodations. Those who wish to spend more than a day will have camping privileges free in this parking area. And it is expected there will be many of these visitors, as autoing to fairs nowadays is a popular form of transportation, and one that helps relieve railroad congestion.

Inside and out of the Fair Grounds there are wide paved streets, which insure comfortable riding for the motorists visiting the State Fair.

For further information, write W. R. Hirsch, secretary-manager, Shreveport, La.

SHEEP EXHIBIT WILL BE FEATURE AT FAIR

The sheep division, established four years ago, promises to attract a great deal of attention to the livestock department of the Louisiana State Fair, October 19 to 29, inclusive. Premiums totaling $1,670 are offered. Interest in the sheep industry is growing steadily in Louisiana and many exhibits from Louisiana herds are expected, as well as many from herds of other states.

Jack P. Fullilove, of Shreveport, for many years engaged in farming and livestock raising, is superintendent of the sheep division, in which premiums are offered on herds as follows: Merino, Rambouillet, Oxford Downs, Southdowns, Hampshire, Dorset Horns, Shropshires, Cheviots, Cotswolds and other breeds.

SCHOOL FOR CLUB BOYS AT THE LOUISIANA FAIR

The annual School for Boys will be conducted at the Louisiana State Fair Grounds October 19 to 29, inclusive, and will be open to all members of the junior extension clubs attending the big exposition. Prof. H. F. Bretthauer, secretary of the Shreveport Community Y. M. C. A., will have direction of the school, insuring discipline and fine treatment of the boys.

This school promises to be very beneficial, as usual, with many privileges offered. There will be educational and recreational features provided. Lectures by experts on various topics of interest will be on the program.

BOYS' WORK COMMITTEE NACOGDOCHES ROTARY CLUB

Boys, the Nacogdoches Rotarians wonder if you realize what a good education will mean to your life's success.

You know that the chap who serves best, and so is worth the most, is the one who is best trained and knows the most. This is true in both games and work. The leaders in every line of work today are the trained and educated men—the men who "know."

Are you going to be a leader? We want you to be. Will you give yourself a fighting chance by developing your good qualities? If so, don't stop your education now. Carry it on as long as you can, and you will find in the end that it pays. Today practically any boy can acquire a good education if he wants to have one hard enough and has the right kind of stuff in him.

Consider the matter from the standpoint of earning power. Records were carefully kept of two similar sized groups of boys for the eleven years after they graduated from the grammar school. Both groups at that time had the same prospects of success, except that one group had the right idea and the other group had the wrong one. One group went on through high school and the other went to work, with this result: Those who attended high school earned in the succeeding seven years an average of $7,337.50 per boy. Those who did not attend high school earned in the whole eleven years only an average of $2,225 per boy, an average of $2,225 less in eleven years that the better educated boys earned in seven years; and the better educated boys would earn more the rest of their lives.

Money is good to have, but there are better things. A chap isn't worth his salt unless he wants to be something worth while. You will want to be a leader in whatever work you undertake. You will be interested in knowing that. Without a grammar school education, 1 in 150,000 wins distinction. With a grammar school education, 4 in 150,000 reach distinction. With a college education, 800 in 150,000 win distinction.

Education will put you in a better position to earn; will improve your prospects of winning a position of leadership; will equip you better for service; and will make life better with while in a thousand ways. We who have been fighting life's battles know the supreme importance of these things and so we urge you to seize now your opportunities for a good education. The school opens Monday, September 18. Will you be there?

Sincerely yours,
Boys' Work Committee
Nacogdoches Rotary Club.
C. D. Atwell, Chairman.

GIBBS-RHODES

Mr. Oscar Gibbs of Tenaha, editor and published of the Tenaha Optimist, and Miss Jessie Rhodes of Garrison, were united in marriage at this place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The happy event took place at the home of Rev. G. N. Weaver of this city, and only a few friends were present to witness the ceremony. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs left for their home in Tenaha.

Mr. Gibbs is a well known East Texas newspaper man, and enjoys a wide circle of friends. He is publisher and editor of the Tenaha Optimist, one of East Texas' leading publications.

The bride is one of Garrison's most popular young ladies and possesses all the lovely traits of Southern womanhood, numbering her friends by her acquaintances.

The Times extends to Mr. Gibbs and his bride best wishes.—Timpson Times, 28th.

The groom is well-known in Nacogdoches, where he was once editor of the Sentinel, which joins his many other friends here in congratulations and felicitations.

JOHNSON RETURNS THANKS

I wish my friends and supporters in the late run-off primary to know that I am deeply appreciative of their consideration in according me the nomination for tax collector of Nacogdoches county. My sense of indebtedness is enhanced when I realize they chose me over one of the best men in the county. My campaign was conducted without bitterness between Mr. Anderson and myself, and I hope nothing is left behind. I thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for your confidence. I shall try not to disappoint you.

BARBECUE AT ETOILE

Messrs. T. E. Baker, I. L. Sturdevant, J. N. Thomas, Carl Monk, June C. Harris, H. L. McKnight, B. S. Shirley and J. F. Perritte comprised the Nacogdoches contingent at a barbecue given by the good people of the Etoile community Monday. There was a crowd present variously estimated at from 400 to 700, while there was dinner enough for 2,000. And such a dinner! There was barbecued beef, fried chicken, chicken pic, pickles, cakes, pies of several kinds and other eatables to tickle the palate. The people of Etoile "spread" themselves to make it pleasant in every way for their visitors.

The prime object of the gathering was to go into the road question. A committee of seven representative citizens had been appointed, and the county commissioners being present, the matter was gone into rather thoroughly. The local committees gave voice to a reasonable complaint. The Etoile road was one of the four main highways contemplated—in fact, agreed upon—in the plans arranged when the original bond issue was under consideration, and the measure received the almost unanimous endorsement of the people of that section of the county. They voted overwhelmingly for the bond issue. When the funds were available, the roads to Garrison, Chireno and Douglass were constructed. Etoile was left out in the cold because the money had been exhausted before work on that road began. Etoile wants only a fair deal. It has and will still have to pay the extra tax to redeem the bonds which provided for the roads for other communities, and the people there think they are entitled to assistance from the county at large in constructing their road, as originally planned. They are in favor of an additional bond issue for this purpose, and their committee reported Monday unanimously in favor thereof. There can be no gainsaying the fact that they have justice on their side. Roads cannot be built without money, and money cannot be provided for such purpose without issuing bonds. Let's issue the necessary bonds and give the people of Etoile a fair deal. They didn't complain when their money went into the construction of roads in other communities.

STATE FAIR THRIFT TICKETS AS WALT MASON MIGHT TELL OF THEM

(With Acknowledgements and Apologies to the Poet.)

For rhymes Walt Mason has a wonderful gift—
To match this word he might employ "thrift."
And that's the idea this tale's to tell;
How you can save and have fun as well.
You've heard about the great State Fair,
Held at Dallas in the fall each year.
It's a fair meet worthy the great Lone Star—
Bigger and better than the rest by far.
Its mission is instruction—education;
To uplift and better the state's population;
To afford folks pleasure—to show the wonderful things
That industry, hard work and contentment brings.
Thousands go through its gates each fall,
And there's profit and pleasure—satisfaction for all.
This year a new building will grace the big park—
Almost as big as Noah's famous ark.
Its brick and steel arches are rising on high,
A silhouette of beauty against the blue sky.
Within it at Fair time, there'll be motor cars fine,
With Texas-made articles of 'most every line.
It's going to take money to pay off the builders,
So there's a new plan suggested to fetch in the "quidlers"
When you go to the Fair you pay fifty cents,
As you pass through the turnstiles at the entrance.
By buying your tickets ahead this time,
On every single ticket you'll save a good dime—
Where you took four in your party to previous Fairs
Now you can carry one more than two pairs.
This, in a word, is the Thrift Ticket plan—
A saving appreciated by every good man.
And, they not only save but are convenient too,
For at grandstand and coliseum they'll let your folks through.
Buy Thrift Tickets now so when you come up this fall
You'll see a new building, the best of them all.
Just send in your check for the tickets you need,
And they'll be mailed direct to you with uttermost speed.
Fix the folks up at home and tell the neighbor next door
About the Thrift Ticket plan—that'll sell a lot more.
You can buy them in Dallas at various stores,
But a check to "State Fair" will quickly bring yours.

ROADS STAND BY LOYAL EMPLOYEES

Tell President Harding Old and New Men Must Be Protected in Strike Settlement.

NOT A MATTER OF CHOICE

Faithful Employees Have Both Legal and Moral Rights to Seniority and Other Benefits.

New York.—The keynote of the reply made by railway executives representing more than 180 Class I Railroads of the United States to the proposition of President Harding, that "all strikers be returned to their work and their former positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired," lies in the last paragraph from their reply to the President as follows:

"It is submitted, that the striking former employees cannot be given preference to employees at present in the service without doing violence to every principle of right and justice involved in this matter, and without the grossest breach of faith on the part of the railroads to the men at present in their service.

"Under these circumstances, it becomes apparent that the railroads cannot consider any settlement of the present strike which does not provide protection in their present employment both to the loyal employees who remained in the service and to the new employees entering it."

The executives had accepted the first two conditions proposed by the President, namely, that both employers and employees accept the decisions of the Labor Board, and that all law suits growing out of the strike be withdrawn; and in relation to the third condition spoke not only as quoted above, but also as follows:

Agree With the President

"The railroad executives and managers agree entirely with the President's statement in his letter that 'it is wholly unthinkable that the Railroad Labor Board can be made a useful agency of the Government in maintaining industrial peace in the railway service unless employers and workers are both prompt and unquestioning in their acceptance of its decisions.'"

"Many men in the service refused to join the strike and in so doing were assured of the seniority rights accruing to them and of the permanence of their positions. On some important lines 50 per cent or more refused to join the strike. To these old loyal employees have been added thousands of new men who were employed and could be secured only upon a definite promise that their services would be retained regardless of the settlement of the strike, with all the rights appertaining to such employment, including that of seniority under the working rules and regulations previously approved by the Railroad Labor Board.

"Just the Opposite Effect"

"We especially point out that a refusal to the old men who remained in the service and to the new men who accepted service of the rights of seniority incident to their employment would have just the opposite effect to that desired by the President, and would most seriously discredit the Labor Board.

"The board itself prescribed the rules of seniority under which the men referred to have secured their seniority rights, and the railroad companies have neither the legal nor moral right to deprive these men of those rights. By public utterances since the strike began the board has recognized and emphasized these rights, and to deny them now would, instead of upholding the authority of the Labor Board, overthrow its rules and discredit its authority.

"The Chairman of the Labor Board at the time the strike was called made the following public statement:

"Upon one question the striking employees should not be deceived. Their leader has said that the strikers are no longer employees of the railroads, and they have thus automatically abandoned all the rights they possess under their agreements and under the decisions of the board, including their seniority. This is not the board's action. It is their own.

"Many carriers are giving their former employees the opportunity to re-enter the service within a limited time. It must be understood now that men who remained in the service and those who are now entering it will have rights of seniority that the board could not ignore."

"What the Proposed Plan Means

"It must be understood that any proposal that employees now on strike shall be permitted to return to the service, without impairment to their seniority, is merely another way of suggesting that those men who took employment in this crisis in good faith, relying on the promises of the railroads to protect them in their positions, these promises being justified by the authoritative utterances of the Labor Board, and thus have made possible the continued operation of the railroads, shall now be sacrificed in favor of men now on strike, who not only brought about the crisis, but, by their own action and declaration, are no longer employees of the railroads, under the jurisdiction of the United States Railroad Labor Board, or subject to the application of the Transportation act.

"In addition to the necessity of upholding the Labor Board, and maintaining the pledges made by the railroads to the men now at work; there is the practical effect on the supervisory officers of a violation of the pledges they were authorized to make. Their discouragement and demoralization would be far more disastrous than this or any other strike."

MOTION PICTURES CARRY MESSAGE OF TICK ERADICATION

Carrying a message of better agriculture and hopes of improved and more profitable livestock, a single motion-picture outfit of the Department of Agriculture is reaching thousands of people in the South. The meetings are held chiefly in school houses, but owing to the small size of many buildings the shows are often put out of doors. To many persons it is their first motion picture entertainment. The project of which this outfit is a part is officially known as preliminary work in tick eradication, and results have shown the practicability of using the silent drama to suppress the serious livestock disease, Texas fever.

Cattle ticks, which are the villains of the picture, spread the costly and ravaging disease against which a large area of the South is still quarantined. Motion pictures have been found to be an ideal method for explaining the life history of cattle ticks, the difference in size and value between tick-infested cattle and healthy animals, and, finally, the many benefits which follow the eradication of ticks by systematic dipping. Short talks and the distribution of literature supplement the showing of department films on the subject.

Far from railroads and from cities where entertainment and instruction in agriculture are available, the motion-picture outfit of the Tick Eradication Division of Animal Industry, is driven by auto, or pulled by mules. The regular program is six shows a week, rain or shine. Men, women and children attend, and after the show the crowds frequently break up into small groups discussing tick eradication, which follows when public sentiment is ready. Ed F. Pickering is in charge of the outfit, which is thoroughly modern and complete.

A SPLENDID SELECTION

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 26.—Judge W. F. Ramsey, chairman of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank for the eleventh district, has accepted the finance chairmanship of the Salvation Army Divisional Advisory Board for Texas and Louisiana.

Judge Ramsey is now engaged in planning for the Salvation Army's annual appeal in the southwestern division, which will be conducted Oct. 16 to 23. He is determined that the appeal shall be the most successful that this division has had since the Advisory Board plan was adopted three years ago.

Judge Ramsey said he accepted the position of Divisional Finance Chairman "because the Salvation Army reaches a large class of persons not reached by other organizations, because of its ever-widening sphere of influence and because it reaches out to the man who is down, but never is out."

The record of the Salvation Army was investigated thoroughly by Judge Ramsey before he accepted the position. His investigation not only convinced him that the cause is worthy of his support, but he expressed surprise at the activities in which the Army is engaged and of which so many persons are not aware.

Judge Ramsey is one of the leading citizens of Texas, having been a member of the state supreme court and having attained distinction in politics. He was prominently identified with the Red Cross during the war.

County Advisory Boards of the Salvation Army will begin to plan for the appeal in the near future. Some of these boards may be visited by Judge Ramsey, and all of them will be called upon by representatives.

KLUXERS ACQUITTED

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26.—Thirty-five alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan were freed today by the jury which tried them on felony charges growing out of the Inglewood rail April 22, last, having acquitted them last night. They were accused of having raided the home and bonded winery of Fidel and Matias Elduayen, seized the men as alleged bootleggers and turned them loose after the officials had refused to lock them up.

GLADWAY SHOWS TO PLEASE PLEASURE-SEEKERS AT FAIR

C. A. Wortham Shows will furnish high class amusements To State Fair Patrons

Having stretched its purse in a desire to give patrons the best obtainable outdoor amusement, the management of the State Fair of Louisiana has arranged with the C. A. Wortham Shows to furnish Gladway attractions at the 1923 State Fair, October 19 to 28, inclusive.

The Wortham Shows, who have entertained State Fair visitors at Shreveport before, are recognized as leaders in their line. They rank high in carnival circles and have a reputation that insures pleasing, clean and up-to-date shows.

Something like thirty attractions comprise the Wortham aggregation, which will have such a variety of amusement to offer that those of every age and taste can be fully satisfied. Nobody will have the chance of disappointment at the Wortham Shows, according to the assurance given by their management.

Among the attractions the Wortham shows will offer Gladway visitors are these:

The biggest and steepest air-drome in the world—one of the noted drivers is a woman, who runs her machine against a straight wall at terrific speed without a shudder.

One of the largest portable radio-sets on earth, which is tested to pick up messages over a distance of 1,760 miles.

An animal act in which wild and domestic animals work in harmony with each other.

Only exclusively monkey circus in the world.

Only Siamese twins living—girls, 14, grown together and well educated.

The Broadway whirl.

Rajah Raboid, a student of Hindu necromancy, who throws a spell over a strong man so the man cannot lift a 95-pound woman from the floor.

Miniature city with toy clowns as actors.

Over the Falls, a Coney Island ride.

Water Circus with diving girls and sea.

A Mouse Theatre.

It takes thirty-five railroad cars to transport this "amusementville," as the Wortham Shows are called. They are one of the largest carnival outfits in the United States and Canada.

For further information, write W. R. Hirsch, secretary-manager, Shreveport, La.

Unusually low railroad rates.

BEE EXHIBIT TO BE MADE AT STATE FAIR

Owing to the unusual interest taken in the bee exhibit last year, the management of the State Fair of Louisiana has arranged for a similar exhibit at the 1923 exposition, October 19 to 28, inclusive. It will be shown in the Agricultural Building. There will be bees at work in the hives, and the various stages of the honey-producing industry will be demonstrated.

The apary business is steadily growing in importance in Louisiana, where the natural conditions are favorable to this business, and visitors to the Bee Department of the State Fair will see instructive displays and demonstrations along this line. Raising bees and producing honey under conditions that are found in Louisiana are not difficult matters, with proper application of effort, which will be pointed out to those making inquiry at the Bee Department.

For further information, write W. R. Hirsch, secretary-manager, Shreveport, La.

Unusually low railroad rates.

BOY SCOUTS TO STAGE CELEBRATION AT FAIR

Hundreds of Boy Scouts will be guests of the State Fair of Louisiana on October 26, when their organization will stage a gigantic celebration featured with drills and maneuvers. Handsome trophies will be awarded winners of these contests.

Many troops of Boy Scout have been organized in Louisiana, east Texas and south Arkansas, and the State Fair management is planning to have as many of them as possible in attendance at the Boy Scout celebration. For the convenience of the boys there will be at their disposal a model camp on the Fair Grounds. They will have the privilege of using this camp during their stay.

As is generally known, the Boy Scouts of America is an organization which seeks to build the highest type of character. It provides various recreational and educational opportunities for its members. An impression of the service it renders will be gained by those fortunate enough to witness the program at the State Fair of Louisiana October 26.

For further information, write W. R. Hirsch, secretary-manager, Shreveport, La.

Remember the dates of the State Fair, October 19 to 28, inclusive. Attractive railroad rates.

EDITORS AND REPORTERS BOOSTER CLUB GUESTS

The Boosters Club had as its guests the local editors and correspondents for the state papers at its meeting and lunch Monday night. The club wanted to know of its guests why Nacogdoches' improvements were not featured more by the state papers and why the local papers do not boost more for the things which are needed in the upbuilding of Nacogdoches.

In introducing the guests and stating the purpose of the meeting, Elbert Reese said the club wished very frankly to go on record as seeking all the publicity possible for these things which it is attempting to do for the support of the press is essential in bringing about most projects for the upbuilding of the town and community.

Correspondents for the state papers related some of the difficulties they have with their work. L. I. Muller represents the Houston Chronicle and H. L. McKnight the Houston Post and Dallas News, the leading papers received here every day. Each stated that many items they sent in are published but are not circulated in editions of the paper which reach Nacogdoches. The pay for the stuff sent in is small and the time which is necessary to get an item accurately is more than most people realize.

Each of the correspondents is serving his paper more for the benefit of Nacogdoches than for the financial gain there is in the work. Neither of them will report sensational matters or news which appears undesirable for the community. That is one reason there are not more Nacogdoches date lines in the state papers and the Sentinel believes the stand taken is right.

In local matters the Boosters were told that only about one man in ten is a good man for a reporter to interview because most people do not think about news and therefore do not think they know anything worth publishing when in fact they may be in possession of a good news story, the facts and details of which may not be generally known and therefore may be missed by the local paper. The Boosters were assured that the local press was anxious for the news of what the club is doing or has in contemplation and they were urged to appoint a member whose duty it will be to call on the local papers and tell their reporters about its proceedings.

The meeting was a most interesting gathering. The Boosters have on a campaign now for improving the appearance of the city. Owners of property on the principal streets are being urged to tear down unsightly fences.

IN MEMORY OF J. W. BOOZER

In the early morning of August 24, at his home near Rusk, Mr. J. W. Boozer passed into the Beautiful Beyond. He was ill only a few minutes and left us with a smile, the smile which he carried through life. Though he was fifty-eight years of age, he was young in spirit and he measured his friends by his acquaintances, for he had the nature that radiates sunshine. We cannot lift the veil and look beyond and understand why this had to be, but some day we can, when we no longer look through a glass darkly. In the silence of the night his memory as a true Christian character will steal back like the life imparted happiness and leaves volumes unspoken and unwritten of patience, unselfishness, and cheerfulness which should prove a heritage to his loved ones. No one in all that country was more universally loved than was he. This was proved by the many expressions of love and sympathy by the vast number of friends.

A great concourse of relatives and friends were assembled at his funeral Thursday afternoon bespeaking their highest sympathy and respect to his memory. Their love and esteem was also shown by the many beautiful and attractive floral tributes. No higher respect could have been paid than the service which was so beautifully officiated by Rev. Sparkman, the Baptist minister of Rusk, assisted by Mr. Perkins, also of Rusk, both of whom were intimate friends of Mr. Boozer. Touching and appropriate song selections were rendered. At this time, under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, the body was conducted to its last resting place in Mt. Zion cemetery.

We shall keep in memory the newly made grave embedded with beautiful flowers, but most of all we shall keep the person in loving remembrance, esteeming him for his worth as a citizen, a churchman, an exemplary husband and father, a friend and true brother. He will be missed most where he was loved most.

Mr. Boozer is survived by his wife, seven children, four girls, Misses Lilly, Edna, Mabel Boozer, and Mrs. Dudley Reaves; three boys, Messrs. Arnold, Howard and Earl Boozer, all of Rusk, and two brothers, Messrs. H. M. and W. B. Boozer of Nacogdoches. All of whom were present. He is also survived by a host of relatives and friends.

May his mantle rest upon these loved ones, and in God's own time they shall meet to part no more.

CAUGHT AT LAST

David James, B. H. ("Little Billy") Johnson and A. R. Hayatt, three men actively engaged in the illicit manufacture of liquor, were captured by Sheriff Woodlan and Constable Walters and Deputy Constable Walter McKnight about 11 o'clock Friday morning on the old Kelley place, five miles southwest of Alazan. The officers found the still in full blast and, slipping up on the operators thereof, arrested them before they had a chance to resist or escape. They captured the still, three gallons of whiskey and 14 barrels of mash. The men were brought to town and charged with making whiskey, and they succeeded in procuring bond and were given their freedom.

James has long been under suspicion and Sheriff Woodlan says he has been trying to catch him with the goods, but heretofore the "tips" the officer received were misleading. The officers think that in making these arrests they have found the source of a large part of the "shinney" supply which has caused so much trouble in this section.

Fire at 9 o'clock Thursday morning badly damaged the home of Mr. Joe Wolsiefer opposite the Methodist church. There was some delay in turning in an alarm, and when the fire company arrived the roof was in a blaze, but the flames were quickly brought under control. The fire originated in the roof over the bath room and evidently was the result of mouse and match. No fire had been in that part of the house during the summer. The damage was chiefly to the roof and from a flood of water required to subdue the conflagration. The furniture was all saved, though of course in a more or less damaged condition, though in better shape than usually follows removal under such circumstances. Mr. Wolsiefer carried $1,000 insurance on the building and $500 on furniture. It is doubtful if these sums will cover the damage inflicted.

Henry King of Alto, Prof. Wylie Odom of Jacksonville and Prof. Hammock of Gallatin were here Thursday prospecting with a view of locating near the normal. These are all big class citizens, and would make a very desirable addition to our population. We welcome all such people to our town and commend them to the attention of our business men.

FARMERS' GREAT CRIME

By J. I. McGregor, Agricultural Agent, S. P. Lines.
The greatest crime being committed now, as it has in the past, in Texas agricultural practices by 99 percent of our farmers, including our most progressive farmers along other lines, is the neglect of farm implements and machinery. In 1920 there was $154,320,996 worth of farm implements and machinery, on a conservative government estimate, on Texas farms. There is practically not any higher valuation to be placed on the implements and farm machinery on hand on the farms at the present time, yet Texas farmers have spent annually between $35,000,000 and $50,000,000 for additional implements and machinery the past two years. This means that the depreciation in the large majority of cases is 5 percent or more annually. The average life of the average farm implement or machine kept in repair, greased and under shelter is 10 years, yet Texas machines and implements as a rule give service for only 1 or 2 years.

When thresher after thresher, tractor after tractor, binder after binder, plow after plow, etc., can be seen remaining idle in one corner of the barnyard exposed to the sun, wind and rain the year round it is not hard to understand why they only last one season, to be replaced with a new one next season.

If the 436,933 farmers in our state would expend $200.00 each, or a total of $87,386,600 for implement sheds to house this machinery, and expend a little for grease and oil, and an average of 30 minutes per year per implement, they would save themselves annually this $35,000,000 expended for new implements to replace the previous years new implements, or over a period of 10 years the average life of the implement shed, a total of $350,000,000. Very few investments will return the farmer an income as an investment in an implement shed.

Most of the average farmers' revenue comes in during the fall of the year, so it is this season when he has the money to spend that he should construct this shed rather than figure on junking this year's machinery and having to buy new implements next year. If you are able to build, build and save your money. A successful farmer, as any other successful business man, must stop his leaks and wastages.

When you feel dull, aches and sleepy and you want to stretch frequently, you are ripe for an attack of malaria. Take Herbine at once. It cures malaria and chills and puts the system in order. Price 60c. Sold by Swift Bros. & Smith.

San Marcos, Texas, Aug. 28.—The San Marcos Rotary Club entertained with a stag supper Saturday night at Rogers Park honoring A. W. Birdwell. Dr. L. L. Lee, president of the club, presided and acted as toastmaster.

Birdwell is leaving for Nacogdoches, where he will assume the presidency of the Stephen F. Austin Normal. He has been the recipient of many social courtesies as expressive of the high esteem in which he is held by the town, and in recognition of his fine service as a citizen and as a teacher in the normal college for the past 12 years.

BOOSTER CLUB AND FOOTBALL

The Boosters held their regular meeting Monday night at the Lockey Tea Room with a very good attendance and two visitors.

The purpose of this meeting was to get the captain of the 1922 football team, Red Parrish, and Mr. Guy Blount to attend our meeting and to discuss our prospects of a good football team for the coming season. This idea grew out of the discussion of publicity for our town. In planning our last meeting when we had the newspaper reporters present, we fell upon the idea of this meeting, for nothing will let the outside world know that there is a Nacogdoches more than a good, clean, eligible football team. That will BOOST our town and show the world what kind of stuff we are made of and what kind of people we really are.

We could not have all the football enthusiasts of the town at our meeting, but in Mr. Guy Blount and Red Parrish we knew we had a good pair. The captain and others connected with the football team here have received many offers from good and popular players from over the district and other parts of the state to come and play with Nacogdoches if they would be paid for their services. In view of this fact the Booster Club went on record last night in their meeting as opposing any such policy, for in so doing you put the game on a professional basis and in turn kill the pep and enthusiasm that every team gets and rightly deserves from the public.

We further expressed ourselves as being willing to lose all our games with Nacogdoches county boys and boys who come here on their own will and expense, rather than hire one man Red said that was the policy that 'Doches had always pursued and they would continue to abide by the same if they lost every game.

But we want a good team and we are going to see that we have it. A number of boys over the county are good material and just on the eve of entering school here. They are only waiting for more encouragement. A committee composed of Jim Summers, John Crawford and Lacy Hunt was appointed to assist the captain in going to see these boys. This committee will also write to the old players who are not sure that they will be back this year and will try to encourage them to return.

We are Boosters and we are boosters for our football team, and everyone who knows of a good man who would make a football star should encourage him to come to 'Doches to school.

Mr. Blount made a most interesting talk and said that he would do anything to help the team and was in accord with the idea of not hiring a man. He said that that would spoil the sport and he would always oppose that policy.

A good team will put us on the map and make us forget our troubles.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

Little Miss Catherine Spradley, with some twenty of her youthful friends, enjoyed a delightful afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jim Grimes Saturday from 4 until 6.

After many interesting games were played the little guests marched into the dining room, where pink and white featured the decorations. The pink and white motif was further emphasized in the refreshments served.

Despite the disagreeable weather all had a merry time and departed for their homes with a happy heart.

At a called meeting of the city council Friday night arrangements were made for the purchase of a Reo "Speed Wagon" at a cost of about $1,300. This wagon will be equipped with a body to carry hose and chemical apparatus. Six hundred feet of additional hose also were purchased. This will be a big improvement for the fire company and greatly increase its effectiveness.

Mr. W. J. Burroughs, a splendid citizen of Center, was here Wednesday prospecting with a view of locating here for the benefit of our normal school.

Sonny Russell, colored, was badly injured about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon at a point five miles out on the Lufkin highway when a Ford car in which he was riding, headed toward this city, was run into from the rear by a Buick occupied by white men. In the car with him were Napoleon Bonaparte and Grover Hawkins, also colored, who sustained minor injuries. Russell received a bad scalp wound about eight inches long and also a large gash on his face. He was brought to town and surgical aid administered. His hurts left him in a critical condition. The names of the parties in the colliding car could not be learned. The car in which the negroes were riding was overturned and smashed.

The Roberts Electrical Company have installed a first-class radio outfit at their store, and Monday night concerts were heard from Chicago, Denver, Atlanta, Jefferson City, Mo., Waco, Shreveport, Dallas, Houston and other points. This set is equipped with a Westinghouse receiver and five-stage amplifier and a Western Electric loud-speaker, which can be heard for several blocks. The aeriels are on a pole about 40 feet above the roof of the building. Free concerts will be given as soon as necessary adjustments can be made and our people will be given an opportunity to come in direct contact with this latest wonder of the world.

Mr. Bryan plans to move to Nacogdoches and will be joined by Mrs. Bryan as soon as he can find a suitable location. Facing a heavy criminal docket at the forthcoming term of district court, Judge Guinn has written District Clerk Prince requesting him to inform the lawyers of his desire that all non-jury cases, including divorces, be ready for trial next week, as they may not have an opportunity to try non-jury cases after that time; also that they must be prepared to try all jury civil cases the second week of the term, beginning September 11th. The indications are that there will not be any time except the first two weeks to devote to civil business on account of so many criminal cases on the docket for this term.
