CONSIDERING BASIS FOR RAIL STRIKE SETTLEMENT

Chicago, Sept. 12.—A basis for the settlement of the strike of the railroad shopmen was considered today by the general policy committee of the shop crafts and labor, it was announced at the conclusion of the morning session. There was no indication as to what the plan was, and it was asked that speculation concerning it be dropped in order not to interfere with the committee's discussions.

FORT WORTH WOMAN IS GIVEN HUNDRED LASHES

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 13.—Mrs. I. C. Tatum, who was decoyed from her home late last night and given a hundred lashes by four women, this morning was in a serious condition. The whipping was given by a committee of "Ladies of the Invisible Eye," a communication addressed to the newspapers stated for the alleged "ruining of her daughter." One of the women told Mrs. Tatum they were from Dallas.

Had Mistreated Daughter

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Tatum, according to her aunt here, was decoyed into an automobile under the pretext of being taken to see her daughter, who had been missing. A young unidentified man told newspapermen last night of the alleged mistreatment by Mrs. Tatum of her daughter.

TURKS ENGINEERING ANTI-CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

Athens, Sept. 13.—Disquieting rumors are afloat on all sides, causing uneasiness. It is reported that the Turks in Thrace, encouraged by the successes of Mustafa Kemal Pasha's army in Anatolia, are engineering an anti-Christian movement.

RESCUE WORKERS HAVE HOPE MEN MAY BE ALIVE

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 13.—Rescue parties resumed their efforts today to reach the 47 men entombed for 14 days in the Argonaut gold mine, with the prediction by officials that the barrier would be broken through within 36 hours. Some predicted that at least a few of the stronger and more experienced miners would be found alive.

STUDENT AID PLANS

The Student Aid Association is fostering four methods for the aiding of students who may need encouragement or financial assistance in securing high school or college education:

1. To secure gifts from individuals and organizations for boys and girls who need only a little help in attending high school or college.
 2. To get men and women, clubs or societies to "adopt" a boy or girl during the years of high school courses.
 3. To promote Community and County Student Aid Associations which will provide scholarship funds for boys.
 4. To increase the loan fund of the Texas Student Aid Association.
- Those wishing to make a gift should find a student needing aid or send the gift to the student aid fund of the school, college or university in which the donor is most interested.
- Every organization of men and women is asked to appoint an education chairman and undertake some student aid work if this is not already a part of the plan of the club or society.
- The superintendent of public instruction of each county has been asked to serve as chairman of county organization; and some teacher in each community, as community chairman.
- Those wishing their contribution used as a loan fund may send to the loan fund of any state or denomination school or to Mrs. A. C. Buchanan of Temple, treasurer of Texas Student Aid Association, naming school or student to be aided; or write to Mrs. E. G. Townsend, of Belton, publicity chairman Texas Student Aid Association, for information regarding loan plan of the association.

CRISIS IS PASSED.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The crisis in Mrs. Harding's condition seems to have passed, an official bulletin issued by attending physicians this morning said. Early visitors at the White House were given optimistic reports as to the condition of the president's wife.

MRS HARDING IMPROVES

Washington, Sept. 13.—General appearances indicate as rapid an improvement in Mrs. Harding's condition as can be expected, a bulletin issued at the White House this morning said.

As the world battles toward normal conditions, General Prosperity stays well in the rear, as usual.

G. O. P. HOLDS KLAN ISSUE FOREMOST

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 13.—The republicans of Texas want to see a good anti-klan man go to the United States senate, and such a man need not necessarily be a republican, declared R. B. Creagor of Brownsville, chairman of the state republican executive committee, who arrived yesterday for several days visit in Dallas.

Creagor announced he had called the state executive committee to meet in Dallas at the Adolphus Hotel Saturday at 11 o'clock. This meeting will decide on a senatorial candidate in place of Dr. E. P. Willmont of Austin, who has declined the nomination.

While the republican committee is in session, the anti-klan convention called by Judge Barry Miller and associates will be meeting at the city hall.

Creagor said his committee will be in session off and on during the day. He admitted he had met with anti-klan democratic leaders on several occasions and that he expects to hold conferences here preceding the Saturday meetings.

"Earle B. Mayfield will never be elected to the senate," said Creagor. Creagor, when he learned that James E. Ferguson was in Dallas, said he hoped to talk with him.

INJUNCTION HEARING IS DEFERRED FOR TEN DAYS

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Judge Wilkerson today deferred hearing on the motion of the attorney for the rail strike leaders for a modification of the temporary restraining order pending completion of the government's effort to show that the dominant purpose of the alleged conspiracy is the destruction of interstate commerce.

Citing the supreme court decisions in the Coronado coal case, the retail lumber dealers case and the Patton cotton corner prosecution, Judge Wilkerson said the question raised by the government's allegation was a vital one, and said it should be settled before the request for a modification of the present order can be acted on.

"INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT"

Washington, Sept. 13.—The action of the Republican conferees in writing back into the tariff bill the dye embargo provision was denounced today in the house by Representative Fish, republican, New York, as the worst example of the workings of "invisible government" he had ever seen.

PRESBYTERY OF JEFFERSON

The Presbyterians of this section closed a most interesting session of the Presbytery of Jefferson last Sunday at Joaquin, Texas, from the reports of which we present the following facts of interests to the churches of this vicinity:

Sunday-schools 28, with a membership of 1,426.

Congregations 42, with a membership of 2,515.

Pastors, 20, Evangelists, 2; candidates 7.

Total Ministers 29.

Offerings for home missions, $970.55

Offerings for foreign mis. 1,861.03

Offering Local Benevolence $5,069.00

Offering Christian Education 447.43

Offering for Sunday-schools 153.90

Offering for local support, including pastors salaries and buildings $95,978.17

The Presbytery for all causes contributed to the Lord's cause to the amount of $41.73 per member the past church year. In the past ten years 12 churches have been erected at a cost of $150,000.00, and 11 manses at a cost of $28,000.00.

The Presbytery seems to be much enthused over all phases of the work in Eastern Texas, but more especially because every pastorate is now supplied with a minister, and that seven young men from 16 to 21 years of age recently placed themselves under the care of the Presbytery as candidates for the gospel ministry.

NEGRO IS DEAD AFTER VISIT OF MEN IN MASKS

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 12.—An official inquiry was under way here Monday into the death by gunshot wound Saturday night of Grover C. Everett, a negro who was found dead across the doorway of his room in a negro hotel, following a visit of three or four masked and robed men.

Negro witnesses testified Monday as to the visit of the men, some asserting that other men, not masked remained outside in four automobiles. One shot was fired, after which the men came downstairs and quietly departed. Everett had been here but a few days.

ENORMOUS LOSS ON WOODEN SHIP FLEET

Washington, Sept. 13.—The government Tuesday sold its fleet of war built wooden ships, the shipping board accepting a bid of $750,000, made by George D. Perry, an attorney for the firm of Lent & Humphreys of San Francisco, for the 225 of the vessels.

The bid was accepted at a competitive sale by Chairman Lasker and members of the shipping board and the action leaves the government with only 10 wooden ships on its hands. The ships today represent a cost of $300,000,000.

FORD FORBIDS 70,000 EMPLOYEES DRINK LIQUOR

Detroit, Sept. 11.—The 70,000 men employed by the Ford Motor Company here were under orders from Henry Ford today to leave all forms of liquor, wine and beer alone at all times under penalty of losing their jobs.

Asserting that drinking among certain classes of his employees recently had been the cause of accidents in the Ford plants the manufacturer issued a statement declaring that any of his workmen whose breath smelled of liquor, who were found to be carrying liquor or who were known to have it in their homes, would be dismissed at once.

Mr. Ford's notice said in part: "The 18th amendment is a part of the fundamental law of this country. It was meant to be enforced. Politics has interfered with enforcement of this law, but so far as our organization is concerned, it is going to be enforced to the letter."

TUESDAY'S PRIMARIES.

United States Senator Miles Poindexter won the republican senatorial nomination in yesterday's primary in Washington, returns today indicated. Former Congressman C. C. Dill seems to have been chosen the democratic nominee.

Senator Charles E. Townsend's lead over Herbert F. Baker for the republican senatorial nomination in Michigan was increased today to more than 24,000.

Senator Lodge is leading Joseph Walker for the republican senatorial nomination in Massachusetts by approximately three to one. William A. Gaston is leading for the democratic nomination.

Thomas G. McLeod defeated Cole L. Bleese by more than 15,000 majority in the run-off democratic primary for the gubernatorial nomination in South Carolina.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 13.—Benjamin C. Hilliard won the democratic nomination for congress in the First District in yesterday's primary, according to complete returns.

Jess Ramin and Alfred Simpson were taken to Livingston this week on warrants charging them with conveying stolen property into Polk county, the complaint being founded upon the alleged taking of the automobile of the late Dr. Parrish to Livingston. The men were under arrest here under indictment returned by the present grand jury in connection with the death of Dr. Parrish. It is alleged that both Ramin and Simpson made confessions in the case to Polk county officers. The Sentinel is not in position to give any details, or even vouch for the accuracy of any statements made in connection with the case.

"BIG TIM" MURPHY MUST SERVE SIX YEARS

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Timothy (Big Tim) Murphy, union leader, must serve six years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth for complicity in the $150,000 union station mail robbery in April, 1921, by decision of the United States court of appeals.

Murphy was convicted with three others and sentenced to prison by former Federal Judge Landis. He appealed the case to the circuit court which yesterday affirmed the finding in the district court.

REPUBLICANS VICTORIOUS

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—Revised figures on the election in Maine yesterday showed today that Senator Frederick Hale, republican, had been elected over him democratic opponent, Oakley C. Curtis, by a majority of over 26,000.

MALICIOUS TRAIN WRECK

Washington, Sept. 12.—The derailment of the express train on the Michigan Central near Gary, Ind., August 20, which resulted in the death of two railroad employees and injury to two passengers, was caused by a "malicious tampering with the track," according to a report today by the Bureau of Safety of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

PETITION COMMISSION

Austin, Texas, Sept. 12.—Petitioning the Interstate Commerce Commission not to render a decision on the application of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission for readjustment of freight rates in Texas and nearby states until the disposal of the Memphis-Southwestern rate case was decided upon by the traffic committee of the Texas Commerce Commission.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Waco, Texas, Sept. 12.—"Service" is the motto and business of the Salvation Army today just as it was during the war, Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the Salvation Army in the Southwestern Division, told former service men yesterday when he addressed the state convention of the American legion.

Col. Wood conveyed to the Legionnaires the "heartfelt greetings and felicitations of your buddies of 1917 and 1918, the Salvation Army," and said that the friendship born amid the stress of those days in the front line trenches shall continue unbroken and bearing fruit through the years to come. The motive that actuated the Salvation Army in going overseas, he said, was only that of service.

"I want to assure you," Col. Wood continued, "that 'service' is still our motto and business in the world. And when the service is asked by a man who belongs to the Legion or who has his discharge papers, our instruction is to go the limit in our endeavor to give him the needed aid. Throughout this country last winter when so many were out of employment we were enabled to help our buddies by the thousands and this we will continue to do. If there is any way in which we may be of greater service to you and your organization, let us know."

"I want to take this opportunity of expressing our strong gratitude for the splendid help in return you have rendered us. I never see a buddy in cities throw his bit on the drum in the open aid services, but I say, 'there are the doughnuts still coming back.'"

Col. Wood expressed the hope that the Legion "may more and more become a force in our country for the building up of a genuine sense of responsibility among our citizenship, both native and foreign born, to the end that the sacrifices made in France shall not have been in vain, and that the torch of patriotism, brotherhood and liberty thrown to us by our buddies who paid the supreme price shall be carried forward."

SNOW IN WYOMING.

Sheridan, Wyo., Sept. 11.—Wyoming's first snow of the season lies on the Big Horn Mountain range, a heavy fall being reported from Dome Lake, 40 miles north of this city, where the thermometer registered 12 degrees above zero Saturday morning.

AFRAID OF HIS OWN GUN

From the Dallas News.

Mr. Daugherty begins to be haunted with the suspicion that when he loaded that temporary injunction against Mr. Jewell and the striking shopmen he put entirely too much powder in for the amount of lead it contained. In fact, the signs are that Mr. Daugherty is getting a bad case of gunshyness. The whole hunt is likely to be spoiled. Of course M. Daugherty says the hunt will continue. Indeed, he says it so loudly that one wonders where the game can be that they should be incapable of hearing the cannonade of Mr. Daugherty's advance announcements about what all he is going to bag, and this despite the overloaded gun that pretty nearly took the shoulder off of him when he was aiming experimentally to see how the trigger pulled.

Of course when Mr. Daugherty said that he had no intention of enforcing the injunction in such a manner as to squelch the press of a bridge free speech he meant to allay the fears of those who expressed concern. But his statement left him in the attitude of a confession that the order of the court goes too far. Nobody can say that an order shall be enforced only so far as the Constitution permits without implying that a part of the order exceeds the limits of constitutional permission. But the blundering efforts of the Attorney General to patch up the results of his own error leave him in worse state than before, and from another angle. If in the role of a lawyer who has gone beyond the rant of law Mr. Daugherty is in bad grace, how much more so is he in his attitude of yielding to the labor leaders, as if it were a gratuity arising in his own generosity, the freedom of speech which is guaranteed to them under the Constitution itself.

And finally Mr. Daugherty is in a sorry case over his hue and cry after a "conspiracy to paralyze transportation," seeing that any successful strike on the railroads must be at least an attempt—whether it be a conspiracy or not—which contemplates the paralysis or approximate paralysis of transportation as a means toward the end sought for by the strikers. The mere strike itself is calculated to bring about paralysis of transportation to a greater or less degree. Thus Mr. Daugherty's words leave him in the position of considering any successful strike an illegal conspiracy. And yet the right to strike is recognized by statute.

Such being the status, from Mr. Daugherty's viewpoint, a strike is not yet successful but likely to be so becomes illegal, whereas an unsuccessful one might be considered legal in that no paralysis is achieved. Even in the case of the abortive railroad strike however, the act of striking could be looked upon—if we adopt the Daugherty doctrine—as a futile conspiracy to paralyze, and hence forbidden. There are those who believe that the strike in public service employments such as the railroads should be made illegal, but Mr. Daugherty seems to be a minority of one who would make it illegal by the fiat of the Attorney General of the United States, regardless of what the statutes and constitution have to say on the subject.

Unlawful violence used to further the strike is one thing and lawful encouragement of the prosecution of a lawfully conducted strike is another thing. There has been plenty of the former to engage the attention of Mr. Daugherty and his department, but apparently he has been unable to draw so obvious a distinction. And the result is that he is going to have to modify his methods at the expense of his prestige, and perhaps at the expense of any promptitude in results by which a more judicious course might be marked.

It seems as if the modern dance is something else that better had watch its step.

The congressional rush to give the president the legislation he asked seems to have stopped considerably short of a stampede.

Senate and house conferees refuse to drop tariff bill. Might break the poor fragile thing before it breaks the country.

Among other things that appear to have gone permanently into discard is the waist line on the female form divine. No modists has the courage to try to re-establish it.

The reason there were fewer wrecks in the old horse and buggy days was because the driver didn't depend wholly on his own intelligence.—Newark Ledger.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

This present writing is responsive to letters from James H. Power, a youthful son of Frank Power, whose home is located six miles east of the town of Nacogdoches, being the long ago well known homestead of Dr. Oscar Engledow, and later, the Sisco place. He inquires about the ancestral history of Oscar Engledow, and makes references to this noted old landmark in view of its conspicuous early day peculiarities.

I have heretofore referred to this old homestead in my "Traditions." It has always been an interesting topic to me. But I am sorry to say that I have no definite information upon the origin or history of Oscar Engledow in his early life, and that I knew him only from the standpoint of a small boy and of youth. It is to be regretted that boys are not always taught points worth knowing about distinguished persons and places. My own experience in this respect is regrettable. For instance my middle name is Elkins, and my grandfather's also. He told me a story about his boasted name, but to me it was not impressive and it is forgotten.

While I do not know about Dr. Engledow's life before he came to Texas, I can say that I first knew him in 1849, and knew him till his death. But only from a boy's indifferent point of view. I would now guess that he was a Virginia gentleman of the well-to-do type. He was a small man with an important dignified and solid demeanor. But he was not arrogant or noisy. He never was a dentist, but he was called Dr. because he doctored toothaches. He did this because there was no such thing as a dentist then, and dentistry was new everywhere. He had two remedies for toothaches. One was to "pull" the tooth, as the extracting was then called. For this purpose he used one instrument for all teeth. It was called "twisters." It was constructed upon the fashion of the present day "saw-log" hook, and it was used that way. It was indeed a powerful remedy. But if it failed he fell back upon his other remedy. He called for a large knitting needle and heated it to a red hot, and he forced it into the hollow tooth, and this brought forth another vocal hollow. I witnessed a performance like this upon my mother, in her first so-called home in good old times in Texas. This was a small log cabin on the widow Creed Engledow's homestead. She was George B's grandmother. Her dwelling then stood where Moss L. Patton's home was built afterward. Later it became Robert Blackwell's home. It was really a nice house, with glass windows, the first I ever looked through. Our little hut, or temporary camp, stood just across the spring branch 200 yards south.

Dr. Engledow was a widower with one child, a daughter, Euphemia, a most charming petite. She was provided with a fine saddle pony and riding outfit and she often rode to town alone. People who saw her would say "There goes Miss Euphemia Engledow" as if it were remarkable. She married a young lawyer, Royell E. Wheeler, and she both died in early life, leaving one daughter, Julia, and one son, Roy, both now living at Los Angeles, Cal. Julia is the wife of Jesse K. Lloyd. Dr. Engledow's second wife was a Fulghum. She raised the two orphans and then died without offspring. She abandoned the fine country home and lived in town.

The old Oscar Engledow dwelling home was a wonder in its way. It was of the old time frame style, dormer windows, long front veranda, big hall through and the many extras. It was surrounded by spacious grounds, lawns, gardens, beautiful shrubbery, enclosed by ornamental fences. The chimneys were constructed with a peculiar soft yellow stone which was abundant in the vicinity. Miss Euphemia's horse block was hewed out of this stone, and stood at the front gate. It was afterward brought to town and stood on the corner opposite the front of Main street Presbyterian church.

Indeed this was the finest house and the home was superior to any in the county. The wonder is that it could be built when the materials and facilities of that day were so exceedingly scarce.

And there were rare fruit trees, rare shrubbery and poultry, barns, etc. Peafowls called from the high roof tops. There was not a house on the road between this and town when it was built about the year 1850.

The chain of title to the land is worth writing. But space forbids it now.

As to Dr. Engledow's previous life there are no living witnesses, but there are old timers who may have heard about it. Sam H. Reid, Jas. H. Haltom and Mrs. W. D. Peavy may recall it. Mrs. Peavy was well acquainted with the Ellis P. Bean family who were early owners of the land before Engledow got it.

Roy Wheeler, grandson of Oscar Engledow, made a visit back to this childhood home two years ago, and called on me at my home in San Antonio. George B. Engledow's grandfather, Creed Engledow, was presumably a brother of Oscar Engledow (To be continued.) J.E.M.

DEFEAT OF VARDAMANISM.

From the Shreveport Journal.

On the face of returns compiled Wednesday morning Vardamanism has received the knock-out that Democrats throughout the state were hoping would be its fate at the Mississippi polls. The unofficial, incomplete count, with the great majority of the votes reported, showed former Congressman Hubert A. Stephens retaining former Senator James K. Vardaman by 10,000 to 15,000 in the senatorial race, which has kept the Mississippi in the political struggle for weeks. Stephens' boxes may reduce the Vardaman lead, for Vardaman has a very heavy lead in the counties on the hills. It is there seen that the Vardaman lens has a nomination by a very substantial margin of several hundred votes.

In first primary election of the fall but in the second election the main struggle was for capture of the 18,000 votes that went to Miss Belle Kearney in the spring ground Vardaman with 571 votes outran Stephens by a margin of 1,068 in the first race. The Stephens forces, however, did not seem discouraged. Rather, they claimed Vardaman had polled practically his full strength in that contest and was certain to lose in the run-off. Miss Kearney threw her support to Stephens, to clean the political waters of the state, so to speak, and although Vardamanites confidently declared they would split her vote in half, the Stephens campaigners, with just as much assurance, maintained that no less than 90 per cent of the Kearney supporters would join their ranks.

The returns indicate that the anti-Vardaman folks were not exaggerating when they made this prediction. To Miss Kearney, therefore, is due much of the credit for the political housecleaning.

If the result is as indicated on the face of the incomplete count, Mississippi has done herself proud. She broken the yoke that Vardamanism has held about her electorate for such a long time. She has chosen splendid

America Leads in Home Comforts

THE average American home has more comforts and conveniences than the palaces of Europe. Home for home, the American household has a well-kept look, an atmosphere of prosperity and contentment you cannot find in the homes of any other country in the world.

In foreign lands, the modernized dwelling, as we know it is found only in limited numbers and then only in the larger cities.

In America, even in remote rural districts, you find pianos, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems, telephones and numberless appliances that go far to make life easier, happier and more worthwhile.

You may not realize it, but America's high standard of home life is due largely to advertising. For the development of advertising is distinctively American. It has taken its place as a leading force in bringing together the interests and wants of a great united people. And a large share of the credit for this development is due the newspapers.

Stop and think how many of the appliances you use the foods you eat, the clothes you wear, and other articles entering into your every-day life, were popularized by newspaper advertising.

Then you will realize what a vital part advertising has played and is playing in your daily life

You owe it to yourself to read the advertisements. They mean a lot to you.

material to succeed the brilliant John Sharp Williams, and has informed the nation that the ideas as represented by Vardaman are no longer in control. The fight was very largely one of Vardamanism versus Wilsonism. Vardaman had bitterly opposed the Wilson program, and his nomination Tuesday would have been an unfortunate and unjust censure of the former president and Democratic policies.

There should be nation-wide rejoicing in the rebuke Mississippians have given the political influence known as Vardamanism.

LONG LIFE

There used to be considerable doubt whether it was possible for a human being to live for a century. Reports of centenarians were not convincing to people with a taste for statistics and documentary evidence. That doubt, however, has been pretty well swept away. Recently there have been a lot of news items about people alive or departed from life at anywhere from one hundred to one hundred and thirty six years of age.

Most of these very likely have been exaggerated tales, based as usual on tradition and unintention distortion.

But many of them seem beyond controversy. Among the latter may be set the latest case, that of a West Virginia farmer, who, according to the family records, was born in Scotland in 1796.

It will be observed, however, that practically all of these instances of extreme longevity have to do with people living simple plain uneventful lives, so far removed from the world of action and progress that no attention is paid to them until their death. Really, is a long life so generally to be desired when it can be said that the most important part of it is in its end?

Far more desirable seems the ideal represented by the deathbed words of Theodore Roosevelt who finished his course at an age comparatively early. "I have had a full life and a happy one." Properly estimated, Roosevelt lived longer than any score of those vaunted centenarians put together.

The third quarterly installment of the income tax for 1921 is due on or before midnight September 15. Notices have been sent to taxpayers but failure to receive a notice does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to pay the tax on time. Failure to pay the installment renders the whole

OF INTEREST TO COTTON RAISERS.

We are glad to say that our gin plant is doing even better work than we expected. Our list of customers is increasing every day, and if there has been one dissatisfied one we have not heard of it. We had a letter the other day from the Walter Connally Company of Tyler, asking for our bonded gin number. They stated that a certain cotton firm in Dallas wished to get the gin numbers of all the Murray Air Blast plants they had sold, as they would pay a premium for cotton ginned on the Murray Air Blast gin. This must mean that it makes a better sample than other gins. A cotton buyer here remarked the other day that the best sample he had seen in three years was ginned on our gin.

Come down and see this gin, even if you have no cotton to gin. You will see the best running gin machinery you have ever seen.

STRIKERS ARE FIGHTING THE RESTRAINING ORDER

Chicago, Sept. 9.—A motion to vacate the government's restraining order against the strikers so far as it applies to B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, and John Scott, its secretary, was filed in federal district court here today. The action was begun by Attorney Donald Richberg on behalf of the railway employees' department and was based on the three general allegations that the government had failed to make a case; that relief asked and obtained on the temporary injunction was prohibited by the Clayton act; and that relief was sought and obtained with ulterior objects and under misrepresentations.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Rumors that King Constantine of Greece intends to abdicate, current in several European capitals, were considered to have been given some color by the sudden recall of the Greek heir apparent, Prince George, to Athens from Bucharest.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Georges Salem, an Egyptian student, fired a shot at an automobile in front of the palace today, believing the car to be President Millerand's. The shot went wild. Millerand was away from home at the time.

IS YOUR HEALTH

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset.

STATEWIDE SABOTAGE PLOT IS BEING INVESTIGATED

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 8.—Federal operatives are investigating what they declare is a statewide plot among certain striking shopmen to destroy railroad bridges and hamper the operation of trains. Within less than a month five bridges have been burned in Oklahoma under mysterious circumstances and other instances of tampering with railroad equipment and endangering the lives of train crews and passengers have been reported. Four men are held today in connection with the burning of a bridge near El Reno on August 17th, and confessions alleged to have been made by two of the men indicated a well-organized plot among the strikers to destroy bridges and terrorize train service crews with the view of bringing about a general walkout of the railroad workers of the state.

FOR HERRIN MURDERS

Marion, Ill., Sept. 8.—A recheck of the list of men indicted yesterday by the grand jury in connection with the Herring mine riot shows 37 indicted instead of 38. Through error one man was indicted twice under different names. Four of the men indicted are now in jail and officers are searching for the others.

CONVENTION IN UPROAR OVER KLAN QUESTION

San Antonio, Sept. 6.—The democratic state convention adjourned late today after adopting the majority report of the platform committee and following a stormy afternoon, in which the pro-Ku Klux Klan majority made its strength felt.

The promised fireworks materialized when T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, leading the anti-klan forces on the convention floor, offered an amendment to the report of the platform committee denouncing the Ku Klux Klan as "un-American" and "secretly bound by solemn obligations to carry out a crusade of religious ostracism."

A loud uproar immediately followed, the anti-klan forces vainly trying to shout out the pro-klan majority. Amid much confusion, the Holbrook amendment was voted down 658 to 143. The big surprise of the vote was that many of the strong anti-Ku Klux switched and supported the majority forces. Galveston county voted against Holbrook, its vote being cast by Fred Pabst.

The motion to table the Holbrook amendment was made by John Mathis of Houston. As the various counties voted "aye" on the motion to table, the din became greater and Chairman Hicks vainly pounded on the table with a bowling pin, his gavel having been broken earlier in the session.

A dramatic incident arose during the voting when Austin county, first on the list, passed. At the conclusion of the voting, Chairman Tillotson arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact that three men of our county are now lying dead because of politics, we are constrained to vote 'no' on the motion to table this amendment."

The Holbrook amendment was the anti-klan resolution drawn by Judge W. P. Teagarden of San Antonio, and denounced the klan in measured terms. This is the resolution, which was voted down by the platform committee 22 to 4, and by the sub-committee of nine, by a vote of 8 to 1.

When the convention re-assembled this afternoon, Frank C. Davis of San Antonio was unanimously re-elected chairman of the state democratic committee. He was nominated by W. A. Hanger of Fort Worth, prominent ku klux leader, the nomination was seconded by Barry Miller of Dallas, prominent anti-klan man. Lee Satterwhite read the majority report of the platform committee, which did not mention the Ku Klux Klan.

Klan Divides People, Says Neff

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 6.—The democratic state convention, supposedly in the tight control of the pro-Ku Klux Klan element, was electrified this morning by an anti-ku klux speech.

The speaker was Pat M. Neff, governor of the state, and his statement that the Ku Klux Klan "tends to divide the people" met with tumultuous applause. The convention rose to its feet and roared its applause as the governor, responding to his nomination to succeed himself, made himself clear on the klan issue.

He said: "In order to hold myself in a position to serve all the people, I have never permitted myself to join or sympathize with any commercial, secret or ecclesiastical organization that tends to divide the people."

If possible, the governor was more specific when he added that "so long as I am governor, the poor and rich, the Jew and the Gentile, the Protestant and the Catholic, will have a fair play in Texas."

Nominated by Miss West

Miss Decca Lamar West of Waco nominated Neff for governor when the convention re-assembled at 11 o'clock this morning and the nomination was unanimously ratified. The governor was escorted to the platform while J. W. Blake of Houston was introducing Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan, who made a 40 minute speech eulogizing the governor. He spoke of Mr. Neff as "the logical democratic successor to Woodrow Wilson."

As the governor rose to respond, the crowd stood on its feet and shouted and raised his hand and the tumult subsided. Applause was resumed however, when he said that "capital and labor, individually and collectively, must bow before the law, and the channels of commerce will be kept open under the law and by the law."

After a morning of speech making, the Texas democratic convention adjourned at 1:40 o'clock to meet again at 2:30 to hear the report of the committee on resolutions, which was to end the convention. That the convention would end with a loud explosion was of course certain, for two members of the resolutions committee served notice Wednesday of their intention to bring out a minority report in favor of the anti-klan resolution.

In the consideration of the anti-klan resolution in subcommittee Wednesday morning the resolution was voted down, eight to one. It was then brought up before the entire committee on resolutions and again voted down 22 to 4. It was at this stage that notice of a minority report was served.

That the resolution would be voted down in the convention was a foregone conclusion on the part of nearly all the leaders on both sides, but the anti-klan forces said they wanted to put the convention on record.

Morning of Speechmaking

The entire morning session of the convention was devoted to speechmaking, in which Governor Neff was the first speaker. He was followed by Earle B. Mayfield, who was introduced by Mrs. Edith Wilmans of Dallas, the only woman nominee to the legislature. Mr. Mayfield discussed freight rates, immigration and Americanization, his speech being very largely a repetition of parts of his campaign speeches.

T. W. Davidson, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, was introduced by Frank Bushick of San Antonio. Mr. Davidson brought mingled applause and boos at the outset when he appealed to the Fourteenth District voters to support Harry Hertzberg for congress. Mr. Davidson urged a mill tax for the support of the state schools, urged provision for the state penitentiary system. He suggested using 1200 or more prisoners in the building of highways in Texas, maintenance as well as building of roads, and urged a revision of the Mr. Davidson took several sharp raps at the Ku Klux Klan and these were applauded from parts of the floor while other delegations remained silent.

NEW PLANKS ARE ADOPTED BY DEMOCRATS

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 6.—Declarations that the democratic party in Texas is a "white man's" party, and upholding the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively were the principal statements contained in the democratic platform as reported to the convention Wednesday by the resolutions committee.

A summary of the platform as recommended by the platform committee, follows:

- Endorsement of Governor Neff's administration.
- Strict construction of the constitution; separation of church and state and freedom of press.
- Endorsement of the Woodrow Wilson administration.
- Condemnation of the present republican administration.
- Allegiance to prohibition act, regulation of vessels on high seas; state laws for more stringent prohibition enforcement.

- Tariff for Revenue Only
- Allegiance to tariff for revenue only; denouncement of Fordney-McCumber bill as an "act to increase the high cost of living and to prevent restoration of international trade."
- Upholding autonomy of states and right of states to control intrastate commerce; demand for repeal Esch-Cummins transportation act.
- Recommendation of legislation to assist farmer in co-operative marketing.
- Endorsement of Sheppard-Towner bill and legislation to give Texas full benefits of act.

"We again affirm the ancient and accepted doctrine that the democratic party is a white man's party and unreservedly recommend the continued observance of that principle."

Recommendation of legislation by state legislature to enable the state to take full advantage of funds from the federal government in constructing highways.

"We affirm the right of assembly is an inherent right of the American people. That labor has the right, both of peaceful argument and the legal use of its resources for the benefit of its brothers in distress. We reaffirm the right of workers to organize and give our approval to the principle of collective bargaining. Legislation to the end that the state operate the insurance system under the employers' compensation act should be adopted for a more equitable compensation than it now had."

Would Relocate Prison

Relocation of penitentiary survey for relocation and provision for prison for criminally insane.

Amendment to primary election law providing for nominations for judicial offices by convention.

Recall of county officials for refusal to enforce laws by the courts.

Endorsement of national defense act of 1920.

Compensation for disabled veterans of the world war.

Equalization of taxes among counties.

Recommendation of appropriations by legislation to supplement available school funds; levy tax for support of state schools.

Mayfield's Address

"To serve the people of Texas without regard to religion or creed," was declared by Earle B. Mayfield to be his aim in accepting the democratic nomination for United States senator at the state convention today.

Opposition to the national administration bill, to immigration and support of league of nations was expressed by Mayfield, who also declared for American assistance in stabilization of European affairs and development of foreign markets.

"Prohibition is here and this is no time to discuss whether we should have it," Mayfield said. "The Volstead act should be amended not to permit the manufacture of light wines and beer, but to make it a felony to violate the prohibition act."

"The return of light wines and beer means the return of the open saloon. Those who favor the return of these are those who attempted to escape service during the world war."

Commissioner Mayfield was nominated by Mrs. Edith Williams of Dallas.

Additional resolutions reported by convention reassembled in the declarations favoring establishment of a state agency to assist municipalities in public utilities problems, a constitutional convention, equal voting rights for Texans in federal service and the establishment of a West Texas agricultural and mechanical college co-ordinated with the Agricultural and Mechanical College at College Station.

Some of the short-skirt, bobbed-hair batteries we've met up with are just about as saving as Sim's wife! Big economy on the surface—big expense in the long run.

LAX LAW ENFORCEMENT

Denison, Texas, Sept. 9.—Rumors that Governor Neff would soon visit Denison and review the strike situation with the military and civil authorities have been current here for several days. It has been known here for some time that the suspension of the civil courts and substitution of a military court was under contemplation. A statement from Austin that the governor is considering the removal of certain local officers was the first report of that nature to reach here. As a result, there was a meeting of Chamber of Commerce executives and the military authorities, in which Colonel Charles Nimon, martial law commander, advised the citizens to "clean up" the city. A tentative citizens' law enforcement organization has been formed to work for the improvement of conditions. Nimon told the executives that the city and county authorities were not co-operating with each other or with the military, and that there was a general laxity in law enforcement.

MARSHAL ENJOINED

Washington, Sept. 9.—A temporary injunction restraining Federal Marshal Suvder from interfering with a meeting of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, one of the striking shop crafts, and from doing anything to prevent strike activities "in excess" of the Chicago restraining order, was issued today by Judge Bailey of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

"PENNY" TRAIN WRECKED

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 8.—The second section of Pennsylvania mail train No. 11 was derailed west of Altoona and two postal clerks and one passenger slightly injured. The cause of the derailment was undetermined.

GREEKS ARE FLEEING

Athens, Sept. 9.—Smyrna is being evacuated amid scenes of great disorder, according to the 2,200 refugees who have arrived here. Panic reigns as the Turks approach the town, it is said, and Greek soldiers are contending with civilians for places on outgoing ships. Airplanes of the Turkish Nationalists are bombing the town. The new Greek cabinet supplanting that which resigned yesterday is expected to be completed by tonight.

LAWS BROKEN DAILY

Denison, Texas, Sept. 7.—Urging the co-operation of citizens and intimating that stricter military rules were under consideration, Colonel Charles Nimon, martial law commander, told the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce that the laws are daily being broken and authority flaunted. A statement was issued asking all citizens to co-operate with the state troops in "cleaning up" the city.

OUR SWEET TOOTH

Now that the canning and preserving season is approaching the end we may look for a gradual decline in the price of sugar, or if not a decline, at least a removal of any fear of a shortage of supplies, inasmuch as a survey completed by the department of commerce has raised earlier figures of world production by 1,600,000 tons. The revised estimate places the 1922 yield at 17,500,000 tons, and the final carryover at the end of the year at 830,000 tons.

Official and unofficial estimates of more than one crop in recent years have been so far wide of the mark that the public is not so much impressed as formerly, although it fully appreciates the difficulty in obtaining accuracy in such statistics. In the present instance the unexpectedly large increase in the Cuban crop was responsible for the revision. Everybody can recall the experience of two years ago, when sugar soared to the highest price in nearly half a century, and the drop last year when it fell below the average.

Figures relating to consumption are much more reliable than those forecasting production, and it is here that the American's sweet tooth shines prominently. In the pre-war period 1912-14 our average consumption of sugar was 3,800,000 tons. The consumption in 1922 is estimated at 5,500,000 tons, an increase of approximately 44 percent. In this respect we lead all other nations by a wide margin, the nearest approach to us being 3,000,000 tons consumed by British India. The only other prominent countries which show an increase over the pre-war average are France, Italy, China and Japan.

The largest decreases in the order named are Great Britain, British India, Austria-Hungary and Germany. Of these Great Britain is financially better able than any of the others to return to the pre-war level of consumption, but evidently the new habit formed during the war rationing period has become fixed, and she is now consuming 400,000 tons less than the average for 1912-14. The increase in the United States, however, is so extraordinary as to be a matter of interest to economists. Possibly the substitution of soft for hard drinks has had something to do with it.

WIGGLE AND WOBBLE

One of the things that Republican campaign workers were taught to parrot in 1920 by some insidious person commenced with Will H. Hays' school for refined misrepresentation was a saying that the Wilson administration was wiggly and wobbly. In view of the firm and enlightened leadership of the Democratic administration, marked by marvelous accomplishments, and in view also of the fact that the republicans of the senate were seeking to represent Wilson as a man who was sticking to his course heedless of what anyone else might say, the attempt of the more feeble-minded prevaricators of the G. O. P. camp to picture the democratic executive as wiggling and wobbling was too asinine to get more than passing notice at the time.

It may have been prophetic, however, of the wiggling and wobbling that was to come after Wilson. The latter may have changed his mind occasionally, as anyone else when shown that his views were in error, but he recalls a single instance in his record that could be described as wavering? The whole complaint against him was rather that he was headstrong. If there was any wiggling and wobbling at all in his administration there probably was less of it in the entire eight years of his leadership in the most trying times in history than is to be found in any one month of the Harding administration. After wiggling and wobbling his way through the campaign on the League of Nations issue, president Harding wiggled and wobbled his way out of doing anything since to redeem his pledge for a world association of the pledges of the eminent republicans, including his secretary of state, that his election would mean the entrance of this country into the League. His administration has wiggled and wobbled its way out of redemption of the pledge to reduce taxation. After wiggling and wobbling on the tariff for nearly two years it is still stuttering over the schedules. The same is true of practically every subject that has been taken up.

The wiggling and wobbling of the administration in attempting to deal with the industrial disputes is almost without parallel in the history of the government.

FASHION vs. HEALTH

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York, may be too liberal in his views to be taken as representative of the medical profession, but he is a leader in the science of health engineering, preventive as distinguished from curative medical practice, and therefore is entitled to a hearing on all things visible and invisible.

"Woman's dress should be so planned that she has perfect freedom of movement," he says, "when a skirt is made so long it drags the ground, it must carry into the home dirt from the street and some of the germs of disease."

Paul Poiret, self-styled creator of fashions and one who gets away with it, will resent this invasion of his province. He has decreed that long skirts shall be worn. Health, he may say, has nothing to do with fashion. Styles are dictated by artists from models that have been used in every age since woman first killed a peacock to obtain feathers for her hat. Women have pieces their ears, bound their feet, put rings through their noses, clipped their eyebrows and shaved their heads according to the caprice of style-makers. Why should they fear a few germs so small they cannot be seen?

Perhaps former Supreme Court Justice Clarke could be induced to become a Judge Landis to arbitrate these conflicting views. Something must be done. Otherwise women are likely to decide for themselves what they will wear while these two great men, Dr. Copeland and M. Poiret, are arguing.

Men, be it remarked, are properly the champions of a movement to free woman from the thrall of fashion. Men are historically the challengers of convention. Aside from binding their throats to the point of strangulation, binding their beads in unbendable hats to the point of semi-consciousness, and binding their waists with a thong of unstretchable rawhide—and aside from a few other little details too insignificant to mention—men are traditionally free, unconventional and gloriously defiant.

HIGH SCHOOL POPULAR

One-third increase over last year's enrollment is noted in the high schools of several cities. It is a most remarkable record. Reports generally give good evidence that the gospel of high school education for American boys and girls has not been preached in vain.

Raising school age limits may account for the additional enrollment in some communities. Economic conditions may help swell the list of others. But back of these reasons is a growing appreciation among all people all classes of the real value of high education and of the fact that the youth who completes a high school course has a distinct advantage in the business or professional fields over the one who does not.

The schools also are meeting the public need better than ever before with their broader courses and more comprehensive training, and make greater popular appeal. No boy or girl, unless it is absolutely necessary, should fail to take advantage of the high school course which is offered to them by the taxpayers of the community in which they live.

MENACE PASSED

Another menace has passed off into nothingness. In connection with the discussion of incoming styles in feminine apparel some supposed authority has said that the flapper, as such, is dead. It is an interesting admission and one which should make the loyal persons who have never entirely abandoned hope of the modern miss smile a little.

It seems to prove that the flapper existed chiefly in the minds of her critics. Utter brainlessness, vulgarity, boldness, bad manners and lax manners are not cured by the wave of the dressmakers' shears. Therefore, if the flapper were all these things she would not vanish merely at the lowering of the skirt hem.

With all her faults, the flapper possessed some sound traits. She was alive, enjoyed the world as it went, and with all, was a refreshing character. She made silly mistakes, but so did her predecessors who wore hobbit skirts, hoop skirts, bustles and empire gowns.

Dates for the fair this year are Oct. 6 to Oct. 15, so the oil men will have opportunity to remain for the last two days of the Exposition, after their own celebration has taken place. W. F. Gage, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Mid-Continent Association, has announced that a session of the association will be held in the morning, and that the remainder of the day will be given over to entertainment. One feature of the afternoon will be a football game in the State Fair Stadium between Waco High and Tulsa (Oklahoma) High School teams. On the following day, S. M. "Texas cooks are proverbially the best anywhere," he said, "and from reports to Mrs. Fannie Howard, superintendent of the culinary department, more of their handwork will be shown at this year's Fair than ever before."

Mrs. Howard declares that entries are more numerous than ever before thus far ahead of opening date, and that all indications are for a most interesting show of culinary products.

The telephone "loud speaker" will be a big feature at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 6-15. Addresses by long distance will be brought in, and over the loud speaker, will be heard simultaneously, by thousands.

NOT UNREASONABLE

A man, obviously from the country, stepped up to the ticket seller in a Chicago railroad station and demanded: "Been here long?" "Quite a while," replied the clerk. "Know a man named McConnell?" "No." "That's funny. Sure you don't know a man named McConnell?" "Say," epostulated the ticket seller impatiently: "there are several million people in Chicago. Do you expect me to know every man in the city?" "Not exactly," answered the stranger, shuffling away, "but I did figure you might have sense enough to know one."—Ex.

Earnest Baynes, the nature student, listened in silence at a dinner party to the dog stories recounted by his fellow guests. These stories demonstrated marvelous and almost incredible intelligence, heroism and what not on the part of certain dogs. The host finally related a story of dog honesty which Mr. Baynes felt obliged to cap. "Yes, that was a very honest dog," he said, "but I used to own a still more honest dog, a Spaniel named Towser." "Walking beside Lake Sunapee one day I felt a craving for a salmon luncheon, so I threw a dollar into the lake and nodded to Towser significantly. SPECULATIVE WORK CAUSE FLUCTUATION IN COTTON

Farm Bureau Head Says Behavior in Cotton Market Proves Need of His Organization

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 12.—Speculative influences are responsible for fluctuation in the cotton market following the publication of the government report of Sept. 1 is the opinion of John T. Orr, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

"There is but one method to stop tampering with the welfare of the cotton growers," Mr. Orr declares, "and that is for the farmers to quit dumping their cotton on the market at any price named by the street buyer and set up an organization that will be strong enough to sell cotton for what it is worth."

"It is encouraging to know that the goal is in sight. Nine states now have producers co-operative marketing associations, and will control more than 2,000,000 bales of this year's crop. These associations do not sell cotton when speculators put the market down, and when they increase their membership and control a larger portion of the crop, they will be in position to disregard completely the market manipulation by speculators. When that time comes, the future market will follow spots, instead of the spot market trailing futures, as is now the case."

"If anything further was needed to prove that now is the time for cotton farmers to make themselves independent of the whims of the speculators and form a bigger, stronger co-operative marketing association, it will be found in the erratic behavior of the cotton market since the publication of the government report. This report showed a condition lower than the trade expected and forecast a crop below normal consumption demand. All trade authorities, even speculators themselves, agreed that it was a bullish report—and yet the market declined and has continued to decline. If a government report that the 1922 crop has been reduced 874,000 bales in thirty days justified a lower price, then the law of supply has no validity and economic law is a farce."

"If cotton was worth 21.7c (Dallas spot) Thursday, August 31, it was not worth less the next day after it became known that the crop was 874,000 bales less than previous estimates. So-called experts may explain these fluctuations as they please, but as a farmer, I must believe that speculative influences are responsible for these fluctuations."

CALOMEL MAY TURN ON YOU NEXT TIME

Next Dose You Take May Salivate
And Start World of Trouble

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and strengthen you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and cannot salivate.

BAPTIST YOUNG MEN'S CLASS

Sunday was another great day for our class. Professor Birdwell delivered a wonderful address. Many heard him for the first time and were greatly pleased. His main theme dwelt upon "Returning to the Fundamental Principles." He spoke for a few minutes upon the economic and social unrest of this country and concluded his address by discussing the religious side of the question. The only solution, Mr. Birdwell said, was to get back to rock-bottom principles and do more for the interest of others.

Our attendance was real good, too. We had 109 present. Come out next Sunday. Reporter.

"BO" M'MILLAN OF FOOTBALL FAME TO BE SEEN AT FAIR

Former Center star to coach
Centenary—Tigers-Razorbacks to play

Unprecedented interest in the football schedule of the State Fair of Louisiana is assured this year because of the fact that America's greatest gridiron star, "Bo" McMillan, formerly of the Center College team, will be seen in action. "Bo" will direct the work of the Centenary College team of Shreveport, where he is under contract as athletic director. He signed with Centenary shortly after finishing his notable career with Center's team, the marvel of football history, and any team he directs is sure to compel widespread attention.

The Centenary College eleven will play in two games during the State Fair. One will be with the Tennessee College of Nashville on October 21, while the other will be with Louisiana Polytech of Ruston on October 25. These games will be of particular interest on account of the fact that the famous McMillan is the directing power behind one of the teams.

The annual meet between the universities of Arkansas and Louisiana will be staged Saturday, October 23, and, as usual, promises to draw a tremendous attendance. These two institutions are competitors of long standing, and the contest between their football stars each year is one of their greatest athletic demonstrations. The game is always bitterly fought.

Unusually low railroad rates.

STATE FAIR POULTRY SHOW OPEN TO WORLD

One of the most popular buildings at the State Fair of Louisiana, October 19 to 23, inclusive, will be the one in which will be shown the poultry exhibits. Thousands of fine chickens, ducks, pigeons and other birds will be on display, with competition keen. The contests are open to the world in this show, and many of the foremost poultry farms of the United States will be represented.

Premiums totaling in the neighborhood of $4,000 have been offered winners in the poultry classes, and it will not be surprising if there is a call for overflow space. Having adopted a policy of providing for the accommodation of every entry, the management will take care of all poultry that cannot find space in the regular display places. The importance of the industry is appreciated by those in charge of the State Fair, and every possible encouragement will be given exhibitors.

Besides general competition, there will be contests for members of the boys' and girls' poultry clubs of Louisiana. Special premiums have been offered the exhibitors in this section. The juvenile champions will also have the privilege of placing their birds in competition with the champions in the adult classes in efforts to capture the general championships.

One of the special features of the juvenile competition is an offer to several winners to make a trip to the national show at Madison Square Garden, New York. This offer is attracting widespread interest.

Railroad rates unusually low.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT STATE FAIR FEATURE

The history of Louisiana from the time when it was in the exclusive possession of the Red Skins to the present day of Prohibition and Woman's Suffrage, will be reproduced in a spectacular pageant to be staged at the Louisiana Fair Grounds on the opening day of the 1922 State Fair, October 19. The mammoth spectacle will be presented under auspices of the Community Service of Shreveport, with the co-operation of the schools and civic bodies.

Fully 3,000 persons will participate in the pageant, which will be given in front of the grandstand. There will be numerous school boys and girls, and many members of men's and women's organizations will also be on hand. They will be especially drilled for the various scenes forming the historical presentation, and will wear costumes prepared for the occasion.

Louisiana has had a varied history, having been held by both the Spanish and the French before becoming a part of the United States; it played prominent part in the different wars of the nation; and enjoyed wonderful progress in times of peace. The important stages of its history will be shown in the State Fair pageant.

SCHOOL CHILDREN OF TEXAS TO ATTEND FAIR

Oct. 6 Their "Day" at State Fair of Texas—Guests of City and Fair

As has been the custom for the last several years, school children of Texas by the thousands, will attend the State Fair at Dallas this year, as guests of the Fair Association and the City of Dallas.

Oct. 6—opening day—is Children's Day this year, and while every child knows or will know about the annual celebration, a more formal invitation will be issued in ample time. It has been the custom of the mayor and the president of the Fair, to extend the invitation in the form of an open letter to the pupils of all Texas schools, sent them through their principals and teachers. Such a letter will be issued again this year, and it is the expressed hope of State Fair directors that embryo Texans will be present in the large numbers ever known.

Plans for entertainment of the youngsters are already under way and there will be no dearth of fun, frolic and amusement for all of them. Each child will be admitted to the Fair grounds at the main gates, free on Oct. 6, and also to the Coliseum and grandstand for the afternoon of that day.

Boy Scouts will also be present in number and will carry out an interesting program of exercises before the grand stand. These exercises will consist of Scout drills, singing, wall scaling and the like. First nailing by semaphores, bridge building, class Scouts will also aid in policing the grounds on Children's Day, and in taking care of the smaller youngsters.

Indictments charging murder in connection with the death of Dr. Parrish were found by the grand jury against Jess Ramin and Albert Simpson, and Sheriff Woodlan arrested Simpson Monday and placed him in jail and went to Lufkin Tuesday and brought back Ramin, who was under arrest at Livingston. Habeas corpus proceedings to secure the release of the men on bail will be instituted before Judge Guinn at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Many of the young people are going off to various colleges to pursue their studies, and the Sentinel would like to have the name of each and the school he or she will attend. The families and friends of the pupils are urged to supply us with this information.

FOOTBALL SEASON HERE

"Doches" warriors have plenty of pep in first men work out. Captain (Red) Parrish had a squad of twenty-five or thirty new candidates on the field. Coach Pat Green and his assistant, M. Dassey, were also on the field looking the new candidates over. Captain Parrish told the reporter that he was sure there were about twenty more new candidates to come out yet.

C. B. Davis, the full back that hit 'em hard and could gain ten yards in three downs against a stone wall, was on the field with his big, broad smile. C. B. is about three weeks up from a spell of fever, but he told one of his friends that he felt as strong as Samson. Captain Parrish has seven or eight letter men from last year's team losing seven or eight letter men, Gohub, Eiland, quarter; Swift, Washburn, guards; Thompson, Rudisill, tackles; Shofner, end; Jeffries, half, Jeffries moving away. Coach Green took over the team last year with fewer good men than he has this year, and with a smaller number of candidates and to a perfect stranger to all and now the district champion, what can he do this year with this number of letter men, 50 candidates, with an assistant and one-year experience with the boys? Just wait and he will show you.

The first game will be with San Augustine on the 30th of this month. Be sure to be out and see "Doches get No. 1.

K. K. K. QUESTION IS TABOO AT LEGION MEET

Waco, TEXAS, Sept. 12.—Through the organization of the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-second Divisions here yesterday and the assembling of the Woman's Auxiliary with the American Legion, plans for the perpetuation of the cherished principles involved in the American military have bright prospects for success, according to officers. Those who came to put the Legion on record on the Ku Klux Klan question yielded to the pleading of others for harmony. With that question out of the way, the convention proceeded harmoniously. The Legion Auxiliary met this morning.

There seems to be danger that so many proletarians will take up golf that the rich will lose interest in it. The harvest moon never shone upon more bountiful crops.

OIL NOTES

The quantity of gasoline available in refinery storage on June 1, was 82 gallons for each of the 10,448,632 automobiles registered on January 1, as against an average of 87 gallons January 1 of the four previous years.

On January 1, the oil refineries east of the Rocky Mountains could handle 1,789,440 barrels of crude oil per day. Of these, the refineries in the Mid-Continent field, in Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Louisiana, had a total daily capacity of 956,060 barrels, or 53.4 percent of all the total.

The oil refining industry always accumulates a stock of gasoline in the winter and early spring in order to take care of the heavy summer demand. During the first five months of this year, the unsold accumulation amounted to 11.8 per cent of the total production for that period.

A barrel of crude petroleum contains 42 gallons and yields 19.8 gallons of gasoline, 4.1 gallons of kerosene, 20.1 gallons of fuel oil and gas oils, 1.8 gallons of lubricating oils and 3.5 gallons of wax, coke, asphalt and miscellaneous products. The loss in refining amounts to 1.7 gallons.

DOUGLAS SCHOOL NEWS.

On the morning of September 18th at 9 o'clock the formal opening exercises will be held. Prof. A. W. Birdwell, president of the new Stephen F. Austin Normal College, and Miss Exier M. Lewis, county superintendent, will both be present. We are expecting a large crowd on this occasion to hear what these distinguished educators have to say. Our big objective at Douglas this year is the securing of classification.

We are expecting a good start on the 18th. Everybody come

IMPORTANT MEETING OF C. OF C. BOARD

The first meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held under the new schedule of two night meetings each month, convened Thursday night with the following members present and all on time: Oscar Mathers, president; Carl Monk, vice president; T. E. Baker, F. W. Betts, C. B. Brewer, Joe Goldsberry, W. C. Fouts, Robert Muckleroy, Guy Stripling, A. H. Smith, A. T. Mast and H. P. Schmidt.

The secretary made a detailed report of his trip to Fort Worth, Dallas and Carrollton in the interest of the proposed garment factory. The substance of this report was that, given a manager who knows his business, Nacogdoches can easily finance and support a 50-machine factory. Such a factory would give employment to 60 people, and would have (approximately) a daily output of 72 dozen overalls. The secretary's report showed that wages now being paid in Texas garment factories are equal to, if not above, wages paid in other lines of industry.

It was and is the sense of the board of directors that our first step should be to locate competent men to operate such a factory, and then to raise the necessary capital to finance the industry.

The secretary also reported that he visited the office of the county and city engineer of Fort Worth and also the office of the federal road engineer of Texas. He was shown a pavement in the city of Fort Worth made by putting down 8 inches of local gravel, topped with one inch of Uvalde rock asphalt. Fort Worth has built this type of road from the city to Lake Worth, and the authorities state the road is carrying the heaviest traffic in the county and is proving highly satisfactory. The cost of the topping is 90 cents per square yard, laid.

The good roads committee, composed of Carl Monk, A. T. Mast and the secretary, reported very favorable results from the three meetings held at Etowah, Cushing and Nacogdoches to feel out sentiment from the proposed plans of completing and maintaining our county system of highways. The committee was instructed to hold other meetings over the county as rapidly as possible, to ascertain the sentiments of all our people regarding this important matter.

The secretary reported that the committee sent to Center Thursday morning to invite the five-county teachers institute now in session there to meet at Nacogdoches next year, was successful and that next September the institute, composed of Nacogdoches, Angelina, Shelby, San Augustine and Sabine counties, would be held in our city.

The committee was composed of E. H. Blount, Frank Sharp, Prof. R. F. Davis, Judge F. P. Marshall, Mrs. F. P. Marshall, Edgar Thomason and the secretary.

VAT DYNAMITED

Center Champion, 6th. What is known as the Hutto Vat was dynamited at some time about midnight Sunday. The sheriff's department here was immediately notified and Sheriff Smith telephoned Shreveport, securing bloodhounds. The hounds were carried to the scene of the vat and by 11 o'clock Monday morning George Morris, a citizen of that community, was arrested. Mr. Morris was brought here and placed in jail. He was released on bond yesterday.

Local citizens of that section are aiding the officers in securing information relative to the violation of this law and other arrests are expected.

During the last several weeks a number of convictions have been secured against parties refusing to dip their cattle. These cases have all been in Justice courts.

SCHOOL OPENING DELAYED.

At a meeting of the School Board of the Nacogdoches Independent District Monday night, it was decided to postpone the opening of school till September 25. This postponement was made necessary by the delay in receiving the plumbing fixtures. The old fixtures have been unsatisfactory every since installed, hence when the contract for the new additions was let, new plumbing was included. Smith-Hunt, who were awarded the contract, have had the order in for some time for the fixtures, but the shipment has been delayed due to bad traffic conditions incident to the strike. Tracers are out and it is expected that the shipment will arrive in time to have the fixtures installed for the opening of school September 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Weems of Fredonia Hill, are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy baby at their home Thursday afternoon. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

DAUGHERTY ANNOUNCES GOVERNMENT'S POSITION

Washington, Sept. 7.—Attorney General Daugherty's announcement of the government's plan of procedure in connection with his injunction suit against the striking shopmen was viewed here today as a reply to the labor leaders and others who have assailed the injunction as a violation of constitutional rights, leaving no doubt of the determination of the Department of Justice to pursue the course adopted. Dividing interest with that development of the rail situation were continued reports of secret negotiations looking to some sort of separate strike settlement with individual roads and the significance of that in connection with the meeting called in Chicago by the policy committee of the shop crafts unions. Ignorance of such negotiations was professed in government and labor circles here.

IMPEACHMENT OF DAUGHERTY WAS MOVED IN CONGRESS

Washington, Sept. 11.—The impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty was attempted in the house today by Representative Keller of Minnesota, independent republican, who, rising to a question of highest privilege, declared: "I impeach Harry M. Daugherty." There was so much confusion that the rest of his opening sentence was not heard. He was forced to stop on the point of order that there was no quorum. The abolition of the railroad labor board and setting up in its place a "disinterested tribunal" for the settlement of railroad disputes was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Koch of Kansas, republican, member of the committee which framed the transportation act creating the board.

ARGUING THE INJUNCTION

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Arguments on the government's motion to make permanent the temporary injunction against the rail strikers were opened this morning before Federal Judge Wilkerson. Blackburn Esterline, assistant to the solicitor general, opened for the government. Donald R. Richberg, attorney for B. M. Jewell, president, and John Scott, secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, called attention to the motion he filed Saturday asking for dismissal of the injunction so far as it relates to his clients. Richberg declared the acts involved in calling and conducting the strike were entirely lawful. The restraining order, he said, was one the court had no power to issue because, he maintained, it is unconstitutional and violates the Clayton act.

AMERICAN LEGION MEET

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—Tanks, big guns and other materials of warfare will be exhibited by the United States War Department during the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, convention headquarters has been advised by Major General C. C. Williams, chief of ordnance of the United States army.

Ten carloads of ordnance, including virtually everything in the way of war materials, from hand grenades to 155-millimeter guns, will comprise the exhibit. The ordnance, which will be brought on flatcars, will be on display in a prominent site near the convention hall. Daily maneuvers in which all the latest tactics of warfare will be demonstrated, are scheduled during the five convention days.

The larger guns, including three 75-millimeter pieces, will be drawn by trucks in the convention parade. There will also be a horse-drawn section of artillery, composed of 75-millimeter French field guns. Other objects of interest will be a 6-ton tank, a camouflaged ammunition wagon and numerous tractors.

The exhibit will be under the direction of a number of ordnance officers sent from the government arsenal at Rock Island.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 11.—The first game for the annual Dixie baseball championship between the pennant winners of the Texas League and the Southern Association will be played at Fort Worth Saturday or Sunday, it was announced today. The first two games will be played at Fort Worth and the next three at Mobile.

SHOOTING MAY BE FATAL

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 11.—Will York, 39, was shot and probably fatally wounded today at the farm of J. D. Pollock, near Wheatland. Pollock was taken into custody and York was brought to a Dallas hospital. The men had been estranged for some time, officers said. Pollock claimed self-defense, it was said.

ANTI-KLAN DEMOCRATS CALL STATE CONVENTION.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 11.—Following a conference held here Saturday, the statement, signed by Henry D. Lindsey, Barry Miller and about 100 other well known men, and addressed to "The Democratic Voters of Texas," was issued:

All democrats of the state who believe in the fundamental principles announced in the Declaration of American Independence and in the federal and state constitutions and in civil and religious liberty and who are in favor of the candidacy of a real democrat for United States senator in opposition to the Ku Klux Klan nominee, are invited and requested to meet and attend a statewide mass meeting of democrats, to be held in the city of Dallas, September 16, 1922, at 10 o'clock a. m.

ELEVEN HURT AS TRAIN HITS AUTO.

Greenville, Texas, Sept. 11.—Ten children and one woman, members of a Sunday school picnic party, were injured in a collision between the southbound Texas Special and an automobile in which the party of youngsters were en route to the City Park here at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Two of the children and Mrs. Turner who was driving the car were seriously injured. Full extent of the injuries are not known yet.

NATIONAL EDUCATOR WILL ADDRESS STATE OFFICIALS

Austin, Texas, Sept. 11.—John J. Tigert of Washington, national commissioner of education, today conferred with Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent, on the educational activities of Texas. He will address state officials late today.

SECRET CONFERENCES

Chicago, Sept. 9.—An air of secrecy cloaked the conferences between union chiefs and rail executives as the crucial hours of Monday drew near, that being the day Judge Wilkerson is due to hear Attorney General Daugherty's application to make the government's strike injunction permanent. The policy committee of the six striking shop crafts is scheduled to meet the same day. The strike entered its eleventh week today with conditions generally quiet throughout the country.

ELECTION IN MAINE

Portland, Me. Sept. 11.—The first state election for 1922 was under way in Maine today, with a United States senator, four congressmen and a governor leading the list of officials to be chosen. Democratic leaders maintained that in the women's vote lay a potential surprise for the republican organization heads, who predicted a plurality of 40,000. Senator Frederick Hale, republican, was opposed for reelection by former Governor Oakley C. Curtis, democrat.

DEMAND ALLIES AND ALL CHRISTIANS LEAVE TURKEY

London, Sept. 11.—Smyrna has surrendered to the Turkish nationalists, according to a report received from Smyrna Saturday afternoon by wireless. The morale of the Greek army was so badly shattered that it could not undertake any defense of the city. The Greek troops are in flight from Asia Minor.

It was reported that armistice conditions were being arranged that fighting probably would have ended by Monday. Practically all the Turkish territory in Asia Minor awarded to Greece by the treaty of Sevres and won by conquest is again in Turkish hands.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, head of the Turkish nationalist government at Ankara, has issued a proclamation notifying the public that the Turkish victory of the Greeks is complete.

The whole Christian population of Anatolia is in flight. Smyrna and other coast towns are choked with fugitives. The Turks are demanding that the allies and all Christians get out of Turkey.

FIVE COUNTY INSTITUTE

The following notes concerning the five-county institute are taken from a splendid report of the meeting in the Center Champion of the 6th inst.:

The five county teachers institute is holding its annual meeting here this week. The counties represented are: Angelina, Sabine, San Augustine, Nacogdoches and Shelby. The citizens of Center and the teachers of the county are hosts to the visitors and everything possible is being done to make their visit pleasant. The various counties are headed by their superintendents. They being: Angelina county, W. A. O'Quinn, Jr.; Sabine county, O. P. Pate; San Augustine county, W. E. Matthews; Nacogdoches county, Miss E. Maud Lewis.

The chamber of commerce offices have been, and are, headquarters for the assignment of homes and for such information as the visitors may desire. County Superintendent Chandler of this county is heading the superintendents and looking after the institute program proper from a local standpoint and A. W. Birdwell, president of the Stephen F. Austin Normal College, Nacogdoches, has the entire institute program in charge. Meetings are being held at the various churches and the school building. The chamber of commerce assigned 283 to homes here, many, especially those teachers residing in the county are going to and from home at night. The official registration of those attending will probably reach 500.

Plenty of homes have been provided for the teachers and many more could have been cared for. The hotels of the town and cafes have taken care acquitted themselves beautifully and of the crowds as they come and have in a satisfactory way. Citizens generally have been generous to the visitors and so far as this reporter can find out, or observe, there is no complaint to make on the part of anyone. Mr. Birdwell stated to this reporter yesterday morning that the teachers are being cared for in a very satisfactory manner, that handling of so large a crowd for a town of this size so satisfactorily was indeed a compliment to it.

R. F. Davis, for twenty years superintendent of the Nacogdoches city schools, arrived here yesterday and will visit with the institute. Mr. Davis has builded for Nacogdoches public schools a wonderful institution and they seem to want him to stay there for all time. He was very active in behalf of Nacogdoches in securing the location and later the appropriation for the Stephen F. Austin Normal College.

Superintendent of the Center Public Schools, A. E. Day, is busy seeing that teachers are getting what they want in the way of conveniences. Many of the teachers attending from other counties are known here and some have relatives, others friends, and in addition to the splendid work that they are doing, the week will be one of a visit, as it were, to many of them.

A musical program was rendered by Mrs. Sandel's orchestra, and refreshments were served. The entertainment was purely informal and they indulged in college yells and general social discussions, and every minute of the time was enjoyed.

The Metz Band and the Mrs. P. L. Sandel Orchestra has been furnishing splendid music for the several occasions, both organizations being deeply appreciated by the citizens of Center and their music appreciated by the visitors.

Those teachers who belong to the Shriners, were entertained at the Masonic Hall last evening by the Shelby County Shriners Club. This feature of the entertainment was very much enjoyed by those attending.

In attendance upon the institute are men and women from every branch of teaching. Many superintendents of independent district schools, with their faculties are in attendance, all common school superintendents and principals and other teachers from the five counties, and the latter embraces quite a few beginners. However, most of the teachers this year have had previous experience. The independent schools of Lufkin and Nacogdoches are not affiliating with the five-county work this year, they taking advantage of the law and will hold their own institutes. With these exceptions, however, all independent schools of the five counties are affiliating.

The teachers in attendance are representative citizens from their various counties, conduct themselves beautifully and it is a pleasure for Center to entertain this mass of people.

FARMERS LABOR UNION

J. A. Kinnard, national organizer for the Farmers' Labor Union of America, will speak at Nacogdoches at 3 p. m. September 23, in the interest of the organization. All are invited to hear him.

J. H. Landrum, County President.

HARSH CHARGES AGAINST WIZARD IN SUIT CASE

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 8.—Charging that Col. William Joseph Simmons, imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, has been on a prolonged debauch, and is unfit to transact the business of the organization, Phil J. Hays, exalted cyclops, and W. H. Holmes of Lookout Klan No. 15, of Chattanooga, yesterday answered the bill of the imperial wizard filed in chancery court here to enjoin the local klan from operating.

The petition of Wizard Simmons stated that the charter of the local klan had been revoked for sufficient reasons, but that it had continued to meet and carry on business.

The answer says: "While the so-called edict purports to have been signed by William Joseph Simmons, imperial wizard, it is denied that it was, in fact, signed by him, for the reason that he was, it is believed, on August 22, 1922, and had been for some time prior to that time, on a prolonged debauch during which time, it is believed, he was under the effect of intoxicating liquors and drugs, and hence not physically and mentally capable of transacting business of the klan."

SERVED WITH INJUNCTION

Chicago, Sept. 8.—B. M. Jewell, head of the federated shop crafts; William Johnson, president of the International Association of Machinists; and Martin Ryan, president of the Brotherhood of Carmen, arrived here today from the East and were served with notice of the temporary injunction granted the government last Friday.

Boy's Essay on Girls

The girls are the sisters of the boys and have long hair, wears dresses and powder an' are stuck on actor men. The first girl was called Christmas Eve. Most every family has a girl and some of the unlucky ones has two or three. We have a girl in our family an' she is my sister. She has a beau and my father, Henry Brown, says he hopes she'll fule him into marrying her. Girls can grow older and get younger. My sister has been twenty-three for four years and some day we may be twins. Fat girls want to be thin and vice versa. There are three kinds of girls, brunet girls, blonde girls and girls that have money. Girls are afraid of mice and bugs, which makes it fine to put these little reptiles down their backs. If I couldn't be a boy or a bulldog, and had to be a girl, I would be in hard luck and so would you.—Ex.

RUSK OIL ACTIVITIES

Overton, Rusk County, Texas, Sept. 8.—A few weeks ago it was reported that Dr. Imboden, of Dallas, was blocking leases in the Pinehill community, near the east line of the county, and that he probably would drill some time this fall or winter. Now it is reported that he is moving in machinery and that operations will start in a few weeks. It will be remembered that the Sinclair people brought in a well in that neighborhood, but capped it at once and left it. This well was a sure-enough producer, although the volume was not tested.

It is said that the Sinclair people will finish a well about 15 miles northwest of this city, that was shut down in 1920. The hole was down less than 2,000 feet when reshat orders were issued from the head office closing operations on about 20 wildcat projects. It is reported that operations will be resumed this month.

Smith & Fisher are churning away day and night on their Johnson No. 1, west of Henderson. They have been bothered with water sand, but now all is going smoothly. They had hoped for a shallow well, and had a good showing of both oil and gas at 1,000 feet, but now are out for a deep test. The King Petroleum Company, Louisville, are associated with this enterprise.

Wildcatting is promising to be more general this year than ever before in Rusk county, and all the wells will be put down for a deep sand.

OIL STOCK BOOMS

New York, Sept. 8.—Responding to reports of a capital readjustment October 1st by which 12 shares of $25 par value would be exchanged for one share of the present $100 par value, the stock of the Gulf Oil Corporation advanced 30 points on today's curb market. The new price will be $50 per share.

ANTI-KLAN PARTY TO BE ORGANIZED IN TEXAS

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 7.—Plans for organizing the Texas Anti-Ku Klux Klan, a political party combining the anti-klan democratic and republican forces, were considered in a conference today between H. D. Lindsey of Dallas and R. B. Creager of Brownsville, republican state chairman. Financing the campaign of the party candidate was the chief consideration of the conference. It was said a call for a convention in Dallas to organize the party would be sent out today.

LAWLESSNESS AT NEWTON

SUPPORT IMPEACHMENT

New York, Sept. 7.—The support of the American Federation of Labor in their efforts to bring about the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkerson for their part in the issuance of the rail injunction was pledged by Samuel Gompers, federation president, in a telegram received today by the Central Labor Council.

THE COLORED INSTITUTE

The Colored Institute, composed of teachers from Nacogdoches and Angelina counties, closed at 1 p. m. Friday after a most pleasant, profitable and harmonious session.

Each teacher seemed anxious to get every particle of information that would be helpful to him in the work of the school year 1922-23.

The school is a place of great responsibilities, and each teacher should be a person of great obligation, for each is charged with the task of helping to shape the character and destiny of boys and girls of this generation. Every negro should be proud that his boys and girls, whatever their station or circumstances, may enter the public schools and be trained and disciplined for the struggles of life.

Friday morning the institute was visited by the following white friends: Judge F. P. Marshall, Hon. H. L. McKnight, Hon. S. M. Adams and Miss Exier M. Lewis, county superintendent of schools.

Each of these persons was introduced to the institute and each made an address. Secretary McKnight praised the teachers for the good work that was being done by them. He recited a lyric of Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the late negro poet.

Judge F. P. Marshall made a most timely address, wherein he advised the teachers to take high ground and keep themselves above the base and sordid things of this life. He made it very plain that industrial education was a necessity for both races and that education must help to provide to nurture, to foster, to keep pure all great influences in the life of the people, and hence in the life of the state and of the nation. Judge Marshall said that it pays a thousand-fold to educate the negroes, and that all rational-minded taxpayers would rather build schoolhouses than jails for the negro.

Hon. S. M. Adams spoke along the same lines as the other speakers.

Miss Exier M. Lewis addressed the teachers concerning their work for the coming term of school.

These four speakers aroused quite a deal of enthusiasm among the teachers and each was brought to a realization of the fact that the Southern white man is the best friend of the negro. Every negro should be proud that he lives side by side with the American white man, the most advanced representation of humanity the world ever saw. We are trusting in him, awaiting his promise, and will be with him in all good things. "Though He slay me, yet still I trust in Him."

J. R. Rowe of Prairie View college addressed the institute and plainly showed that the negro has no desire for "social equalities," but wants justice and the chance for a man in the game of life.

Tuesday afternoon the institute was called to order at 1 o'clock. The subject, "Cleanliness and Goodness as a Guarantee to Health," was discussed by J. M. Hurdle. Wednesday morning the institute assembled promptly at 9 o'clock. The text, "The Brown Mouse," was introduced by M. B. Davis and others and was very interestingly discussed by the institute.

The feature of the afternoon session of Wednesday was the discussion of the subject, "The Lack of Preparation on the Part of Teachers Who Wish to Teach the Child." This subject was ably handled by E. J. Campbell and it was plainly shown that each teacher should be well prepared in an educational way as a guarantee of success in the profession of teaching.

At 3 p. m. A. J. Whitaker and Mrs. L. C. Hoyt addressed the institute on the subject, "How to Secure State Aid for Rural Schools." These teachers have made remarkable progress in their communities by securing money from the state and the Rosenwald Fund, thus enabling their patrons to build and equip school houses and lengthen the term of school.

A HEARTLESS ACT.

Some miscreant perpetrated a very heartless act Wednesday when he placed a lot of poison in the pasture of Mr. Edmond Hogan, two miles out on the Logansport road. A quantity of corn, in which had been mixed paris green and salt, was found in the pasture following the discovery of the serious illness of two cows and two horses belonging to Mr. Hogan. Officers were called to the scene Wednesday night and an investigation immediately started. It was reported a clew had been found which may lead to the identification of the poisoner.

The two cows mentioned in Thursday's paper as having been poisoned in Mr. Hogan's pasture Wednesday, died Thursday night despite strenuous efforts to save them.

Prof. and Mrs. A. W. Birdwell left Sunday for Tyler, where Mr. Birdwell will conduct a tri-county teachers' institute composed of the teachers of Smith, Cherokee and Henderson counties during the coming week. PARIS GREEN POISONING

Farmers and stockmen are advised to vary from the usual way of turning stock in the cotton patch after all cotton has been picked, especially this year, since it has been necessary to poison the leaf worm with Paris green and other arsenic poisonings. We have not had sufficient rain to thoroughly wash these poisons into the ground. As is generally known, paris green arsenate of lead and the various arsenic preparations used to poison the leaf worm are very toxic and when an animal becomes poisoned on either of them it is absolutely essential that they be given an antidote immediately, for the only hope in treating any form of poisoning is to give drugs which will combine with the poison and render it into a form which will not be absorbed by the body.

The following is a list of some of the symptoms usually wound in arsenic poisoning: The animal appears restless, shows signs of colicky pains, saliva drips from the mouth, increased thirst, loss of appetite, foetid, often bloody diarrhoea, coldness of the ear tips and often profuse sweating is noticed.

Any or all of these symptoms may be seen. If enough of them are present to make you suspicious, your animal should be treated immediately. Dr. D. D. Giles.

For skin eruptions, rash, chafed skin, prickly heat, chigger bites and stings of poisonous insects, Ballard's Snow Liniment is an effective application. It heals quickly. Three sizes. 30c, 60c and $1.20 per bottle. Sold by Swift Bros. & Smith.

JAIL DELIVERY

The four white prisoners confined in the local jail made their escape Wednesday night by prying open bars which had been weakened in a former delivery. The men were Edgar Graves, charged with burglary; Dick Mason, bootlegging; Frank Baudrie, burglary; A. C. McSpadden, car theft.

Baudrie returned and gave himself up and McSpadden was recaptured by Sheriff Woodlan shortly after his escape.

The sheriff and Deputy Stone left the courthouse about 11 o'clock Wednesday night and at 11:30 the father of Edgar Graves called up Sheriff Woodlan at his home and asked about his son's absence from the jail, stating that Edgar had just run through the house and upon being challenged told who he was and that he was gone. This was the sheriff's first inkling of the trouble. He immediately phoned Deputy Stone and upon their arrival at the jail they found all the white prisoners had gone. Baudrie made no effort to leave town and came to the officers and surrendered. As he was leaving home Mr. Woodlan noticed Mrs. McSpadden hurrying down the railroad with a grip and baby. Following her unobtrusively to the Dorr Junction, he waited a few moments, and McSpadden came out of the weeds where he had been concealed. His arrest and return to jail followed.

Graves and Mason are still at large, though their early apprehension is confidently expected by the sheriff's office. Mason had been an inmate the Nacogdoches jail only a few hours, having been brought from Kaufman Wednesday by Deputy Stone.

ESCAPED PRISONERS BACK.

The prisoners who escaped from jail Wednesday night have all been accounted for.

Edgar Graves returned Friday night and gave himself up, having journeyed on a freight train as far as Timpson, where he decided the loopholes of escape were too well guarded for him to make a get-away.

Dick Mason, the other missing man, came in accompanied by his father, who resides near Sacl, and made bond for his appearance when wanted. He was therefore released from custody. It was learned bond had already been provided for him when he escaped.

JOHN E. TEUTSCH

John E. Teutsch, aged 36 years, died early Tuesday morning after an illness extending over a period of nearly two years. Several months ago his condition improved and he was able to come to town, but could not resume his duties with Thomas & Richardson, by whom he was employed, and in a short time relapsed and did not again leave his bed. All that medical skill and tender, devoted nursing could do to alleviate his suffering failed to bring relief, and he gradually faded away till the frail body could endure no more. His death had been expected for some time, but when it came it proved a shock to all who had known him so long and esteemed him so highly.

He was born at Melrose and had spent all his life in Nacogdoches county. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Teutsch of Melrose, by whom he is survived, together with his faithful wife, who formerly was Miss Emma George of Missouri; four brothers, Henry, William, James and Adolphus, all of this county; three sisters, Mrs. Robert Mettner of Chireno, Mrs. J. D. Blakey and Mrs. Charlie Barrett of Melrose; and a number of other relatives in this section.

Funeral services were conducted at the home at 5 o'clock by Rev. M. C. Johnson of the Main Street Presbyterian church, of which deceased was a consistent member, followed by interment at 5:30 in Oak Grove cemetery.

The Sentinel joins in sympathy for the family and relatives of this good man and worthy citizen, whose memory will be ever kept green by those who knew him best.

FUNERAL OF JOHN TEUTSCH

The funeral of Mr. John Teutsch was held at 5:30 Tuesday afternoon, the active pallbearers being Link Summers, J. H. Summers, Jr., R. D. Burrows, C. A. Hodges, W. D. Burrows, and Oscar Matthews.

The honorary pallbearers, composed of a committee from the Masonic lodge, headed by F. P. Marshall, as acting worshipful master, were G. B. Engledow, Luther Swift, Blum Mast, Adlai Mast, Henry Mast and Claud Thrash.

A large number of sorrowing friends paid the last tribute to the dead, and the floral offerings were many and unusual beautiful.
