Center, Texas, Jan. 15.—The commissioners court of Shelby county, in regular session Saturday, awarded the contract for six miles of hard surfaced roadway to Belton Latimer of Garrison. The contractor's bid was $40,000. Contract for the construction of six miles of graded roadway was awarded to J. C. Daw of Joaquin for $8000.

The hard-surfaced road will run from the Attoyac river to Timponson and the graded road will lead from the Center-Logansport Highway to the Day community. The completion of these roads will increase the number of miles of good roads in the county to 100.

LIFE OF BOARD EXTENDED

Austin, Texas, Jan. 16.—The house today passed the senate bill extending the life of the board of managers of the State Railroad two years.

Mrs. R. G. Pleasant, wife of the former governor of Louisiana, spoke in opposition to bills sponsored by the National Women's party before both houses.

GERMANY IN DEFAULT

Paris, Jan. 16.—The Reparations Commission today decided that Germany had wilfully defaulted in deliveries in kind for 1923. France, Belgium and Italy so voted, Great Britain not voting. The president of the commission explained that the default resulted from the refusal of the German government to make deliveries in kind while the French were in the Ruhr. The French threat to arrest the German coal directors in the Ruhr caused a panic in Berlin, says a Central News dispatch to London.

OIL PRICE INCREASED

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 17.—An additional increase of 10 cents per barrel in Midcontinent crude oil was announced today by the Prairie Oil & Gas Company. The new price is $2.20.

PARKER THANKS SOLONS OF TEXAS FOR THEIR ACTION

Austin, Texas, Jan. 17.—Governor John M. Parker, of Louisiana, late yesterday wired his thanks to the state senate for the passage of a resolution yesterday morning commending him in his efforts against "hooded mobs and masked political organizations."

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 13 to 8, with two pairs. A copy was telegraphed to the Louisiana governor immediately.

"Please convey to the gentlemen of the senate of Texas my cordial appreciation of their resolution. It will be a great day for the state and nation when our laws are fearlessly and impartially enforced and masked or unmasked mob violence is suppressed. The action of the great state of Texas will have a powerful effect."

The senate yesterday morning adopted a resolution submitted by Senator Woods of Corsicana declaring for strict law enforcement and expressing opposition to any man or body of men taking the law into their own hands. The vote was 28 to 0. The resolution was introduced immediately following the passage of the "hooded mob" resolution.

WILL NOT OBEY ORDERS

Without Date.—A representative German magnate failed to appear this morning before the Control Commission of Dusseldorf. He sent word that he had decided to obey instructions of the German government instead of French orders for coal deliveries, a Reuter dispatch says. According to reports from German sources, four Ruhr industrial leaders were told by the French authorities at Dusseldorf to consider themselves under arrest after the magnates had reiterated that they would only obey orders from Berlin.

To Requisition Labor

Essen, Jan. 17.—The French occupational authorities today announced they will begin operating the Ruhr mines tomorrow, requisitioning German labor if necessary.

MAY SOLVE WHIPPINGS

Houston, Texas, Jan. 17.—Solution of the Goose Creek flogging is expected following the arrest last night of a Goose Creek man. The sheriff said he had sufficient evidence against the man and expected to gain the names of others involved. The Goose Creek Klan, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, condemned for the flogging of Mrs. R. H. Harrison and R. A. Armand, denied responsibility and offered assistance in discovering and punishing the assailants. Bonnie Lee Harrison, 8, daughter of Mrs. Harrison, was taken to the county jail and declared the man arrested was one of the group that whipped her mother.

CURTAILING LIQUOR SUPPLY

Washington, Jan. 17.—A drastic curtailment of dealings in denatured industrial alcohol has been decided upon by federal prohibition authorities as the next step in the campaign to combat the illicit liquor traffic. Orders have been issued revoking scores of dealers' permits, including that issued to one of the largest alcohol-producing plants in the country. Acting Prohibition Director Yellowly of New York is known to have secured evidence that a great bulk of Christmas beverages were manufactured with illegally diverted alcohol.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

OKLAHOMA-TEXAS BOUNDARY IS FIXED AT LAST

Washington, Jan. 15.—The south cut bank of the Red River was made the boundary between Texas and Oklahoma by order of the Supreme Court today in the famous Red River case. The court detailed the rule to be following in determining what constituted the cut bank, giving Texas in substance much of the territory over which the controversy arose. The decision was a compromise between the contentions of Texas and the United States. The court announced that a commission of three men would be appointed to locate the boundary under the court's jurisdiction.

GOVERNOR INAUGURATED FOR HIS SECOND TERM

Austin, Texas, Jan. 16.—Governor Neff at noon today took the oath of office for his second term amid impressive ceremonies and T. W. Davidson of Marshall was inaugurated as lieutenant governor. In his address Governor Neff asked the co-operation of the legislature to serve the people of Texas. He said the educational, livestock interests, farmers and business men are depending upon the legislature, and asked it to forget discords and differences and work for the best interests of the state. He pledged his best efforts to this end.

BALLOT RECOUNT GIVES WINNER MAJORITY OF 3

Hillsboro, Texas, Jan. 11.—The official count of ballots in the legislative contest in this county Saturday made by the commissioners' court today gives the office to L. W. Harris, of Whitney, who defeated Fred Long, of Hillsboro, by three votes, the vote standing: Harris, 1,352; Long, 1,349; Rogers 310; Tinner 100. A certificate of election was issued to Mr. Harris and he left today for Austin.

LIGHTNING FIRES OIL TANK

Beaumont, Texas, Jan. 15.—Lightning struck two oil tanks at the Magnolia Refinery here at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, about 200 yards to the rear of the refinery.

The blaze followed one of the heaviest rain storms in recent months. The flames spread from the first tank fired to an adjoining tank, and for hours flames and clouds of smoke poured forth. The two tanks had a capacity of 110,000 barrels and were laden at the time with approximately 53,000 barrels each. Of this amount, officials of the Magnolia company estimate 18,000 barrels were saved by pumping, leaving the total loss at approximately 87,000 barrels. With gasoline selling at $6.30 a barrel wholesale, the loss in gasoline amounts to about $548,100, and with the two tanks valued at $18,000 and with the total loss is estimated at $584,100.

SPEAKER HAS UNIQUE GAVEL

Austin, Texas, Jan. 16.—Speaker R. E. Seagler is presiding over the house session of the 38th legislature with a unique gavel, presented to him by J. C. Adrian of Austin. The gavel is made of nine kinds of Texas timber—ash, bois d'arc, birch, cedar, gum, mulberry, maple, oak, walnut. Lewis T. Carpenter of Dallas, defeated candidate for speaker, made the presentation speech at Mr. Adrian's request. In accepting the gift Mr. Seagler said it would be wielded in the interest of the people of Texas.

Horace said his honeymoon was broken up by his arrest. The girl and her two brothers, Horace and Bernard, are to appear in the McLennan District Court late today in habeas corpus proceedings seeking their release.

FERGUSON INVITED TO ADDRESS STATE SENATE

Austin, Texas, Jan. 11.—The state senate Wednesday, by a vote of 17 to 11, invited former Governor James E. Ferguson, once impeached by that body, to address it.

Ferguson then spoke, calling on members of the legislature to "lay aside party prejudices and passions and consider fundamental questions for the good of the entire state."

Ferguson said the present legislature is meeting under unique conditions and because of these facts only the great essential issues should be stressed.

Following a motion by Senator Parr of Benavides to ask Ferguson to address the senate, Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock entered a motion to indefinitely postpone the request. Strong argument followed but the Bledsoe motion was defeated by a vote of 17 to 11. Former Attorney General B. F. Looney also was asked to address the body.

The resolution, according to one member of the opposition, who sounded the tenor of feeling in the assembly, is equivalent to a public apology to the former governor, and may have far-reaching effect on future politics in the state.

Mr. Ferguson, who has been a decided factor in Texas politics since 1914, threatens to become a live issue in the present legislature. In fact, a fight almost as sensational as the impeachment of the former governor could develop if rumors are true. The rumor is—and this is purely a rumor offered as such, but well founded—that an effort will be made in the present state senate to repeal the general statute passed after Ferguson's impeachment and aimed at the Temple man, in which persons impeached and removed from office are forever barred from holding office again in the state. Should the senate pass the repeal bill and the house fail to take similar action, then an effort would be made, according to the same rumor, to have the present senate expunge from the records the proceedings of the Ferguson impeachment trial in 1918.

Several senators are warm friends of the former governor, while a large proportion of the more known to have looked kindly on his recent race against Earle B. Mayfield for the United States senate.

H. Harrison and R. A. Armand at Goose Creek ten days ago. Mrs. Harrison was taken into the jury room.

CONDEMNED MAN ESCAPES

Wichita Falls, Texas, Jan. 11.—Henry Toussaint, who escaped from jail here last night, was still being sought today. He evidently had duplicates of the jailers keys, officers said, has he unlocked four doors and relocked them. He was convicted of killing his 69-year-old father and sentenced to death. He feared being disinherited, and also though his father caused his separation from his wife, according to trial testimony. Toussaint was awaiting a new trial, the first verdict having been reversed.

ARKANSANS HANG STRIKER WHO SHOT AT OFFICERS

Harrison, Ark., Jan. 16.—The body of E. O. Gregor, a Missouri & North Arkansas railroad striker, was found hanging from a bridge near the railroad yards this morning. He was said to have been the man who opened fire on officers and citizens who searched his home yesterday, according to a telegram to the Arkansas Democrat at Little Rock. Several hundred armed citizens are still walking the streets today searching for strikers in an effort to find clues as to who is responsible for the destruction of railroad property. A well-known capitalist and hotel owner was publicly whipped on the streets this morning and then taken before a citizens' committee, said the Democrat correspondent. He is said to have signed the bond of a man accused of bridge burning. A National Guard officer will leave Little Rock for Harrison today to investigate in response to an appeal, said the dispatch.

FOR NEW AMENDMENT

Austin, Texas, Jan. 11.—Governor Neff sent a message to the legislature this morning requesting to be permitted to address a joint session tomorrow morning.

Senator Davis of Dallas introduced a joint resolution calling for an election on January 28th of this year to vote on a proposed constitutional amendment giving the legislature authority to publish or have published all public school texts. It was referred to committee. He also introduced a resolution for the establishment of an insurance department separate from banking.

RANGER CAPTAIN SUMMONED

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 15.—Ranger Captain Shumate, who has in custody Miss Naomi Boucher and her brothers, Bernard and Horace, held in connection with the murder of Grady Skipworth last November at Waco, was summoned today to appear before the Dallas County Grand Jury. It was understood he will be taken to Dallas to testify before that body. Whether the summons is connected with the Skipworth affair was not learned. Shumate telephoned Sheriff Stegall of Waco requesting the sheriff not to serve the order for Shumate's arrest charging that the ranger was evading the writ of habeas corpus granted the mother of Miss Boucher and her brothers, and asked to be permitted to complete the investigation. It is reported Bernard and Horace Boucher have been separately placed in jails outside of Dallas. Their sister is in a private home here, according to Shumate.

Strong for Chicken

A negro's idea was that the most useful animal was a chicken, because, he said: "You can eat 'em before they is born and after they is laid."

Possibly he was right, but the most useful THING in this world is the dollar on deposit in a good bank like ours. It is always safe there, but is subject to your check when needed, while the dollar thoughtlessly spent has departed from you for good. Take good care of the dollars. They will stand between you and lots of troubles.

COUE'S CURES

Emil Cone, the auto-suggestion apostle from Nancy, is here to expound his theories of mental cure for curable diseases. A self-educated man who claims to have lost his rheumatic pains just two years ago by the same treatment he wishes others to adopt, the progress of his tour will be watched with interest throughout the country.

Like Joan of Arc who suddenly became aware of almost supernatural powers, Cone's transmogrification from Nancy druggist and gardener to apostle of cure by mental concentration was swift and complete. Two years ago he was placidly engaged in a small druggist's business in his home in France, dividing his time between a drug business, a garden of flowers and the latest cures for rheumatism. Almost overnight he became a figure of worldwide repute.

Oddly enough, Cone got his idea from the cult of an American pamphlet that cost him exactly 30 francs. The pamphlet was in the nature of a testimonial from a Rochester, N. Y., man, who became miraculously cured through the powers of auto-suggestion in spite of scoffing friends, Cone says he adopted the treatment and was cured.

Cone's apparent willingness to work hand in hand with the medical profession should go far toward obviating any opposition that might arise. But as his tour progresses, the strength of Coue's doctrines will be subjected to a severe test.

THE NATION'S HEALTH

Alive to the danger its people face through poorly heated apartments, the courts of New York recently took the matter drastically in hand with the result that one of the many landlords who place monthly rentals above the health of their tenants has been lodged in jail. That the sentence imposed upon him will convince others of the sincerity of the law, there is little room for doubt.

It is of the nature of a precedent at this winter is proving itself in most sections less severe than many of the past. Coming on the heels of one of the most disastrous coal strikes in the history of the nation, the nation was poorly equipped to face a prolonged period of extreme weather. That it has succeeded in struggling through thus far without excess privation is not the fault of the persons responsible for the strike of last summer.

The efficacy of the law in New York which stipulates the temperature at which tenanted rooms must be kept, is clearly shown. Why can a country rich in brains not devise another law equally as efficacious as some municipal enactments, declaring that once and for all walkouts affecting the public welfare must cease?

COMBAT THE AUTO DEAMON

Steadily sentiment is developing in favor of imprisonment of the offenders and revocation of their license as the most effective remedy for reckless driving. In some places these rigid penalties are now in operation and, very likely, with mighty good results.

Newspapers throughout the country are joining in the campaign to curb speedsters and other unsafe drivers. One of those lending assistance is the El Paso (Texas) Herald, which, in a recent editorial said:

"Courts fail in their duty to the public when they let off reckless drivers easily. The reckless driver does not care for others' lives or he would keep within the speed limit and otherwise obey traffic regulations. The only reason the reckless driver hasn't killed someone before he is brought into court is because luck was with him and his possible victims. Fines are not an adequate penalty for reckless driving. They afford no insurance against it in future. The public is left unprotected. Phoenix has been fining reckless drivers $1 to $15 right along, but has had 100 in court in the past four days. When they become numerous like that, it's time to put them in jail. Southwestern states also need laws permitting judges at their discretion, revoke drivers' licenses for second offenses. When a man or woman has proved a public menace at the wheel of a car, take the offender away from it."

It may become necessary for general use of the revocation of license plan, but where prison terms of sufficient severity are imposed satisfactory results ought to be had. Every month the number of automobiles is increasing, and with their increase the danger of accidents grows larger.

To insure public safety, there must be strenuous proceedings against law-breaking drivers. Try imprisonment of the vicious drivers, and then if that don't check the trouble, revoke some licenses—permanently, if necessary.

STRIKE ARBITRATION

Seemingly many branches of industry are ready to adopt the rule of arbitration for the settlement of differences between capital and labor. Under the auspices of a cabinet officer the Paterson, N. J., silk industry has inaugurated a scheme of arbitration and four New Jersey civic organizations, under the direction of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, are meeting this month to draft legislation designed to set up a state board of arbitration. These are recent instances of the trend toward sane conciliation of the disputes between the wage earner and the man or the group of men who finance and operate great industrial organizations. These efforts will, in many cases, prove abortive, but the eventual benefits cannot be doubted.

Eventually, all the cards must come upon the table. The bituminous miners' delegates and operators, beginning their third effort to find a common ground on the question of the wage scale after next March 31, are warned by John Hays Hammond of the Congressional Fact Finding Commission, that if they fail to reach an agreement the responsibility for the failure will be told by the commission. The anthracite coal operators, and the miners, have welcomed the advent of the Fact Finding Commission. It will help clear the coal situation, both sides say. And this also helps tell which way the wind is blowing.

Arbitration may be expected to present, at least, all the facts. And injustices cannot long survive the will of public sentiment.

TAX FREE SECURITIES

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has advanced a course of action which is sure to meet with the approval of the rank and file of the American people when he urges that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the state legislatures barring the further tax exemption of securities by congress.

During the war there was an excuse for the exemption from income and surtaxes of the various government bonds floated for the purpose of providing funds with which to carry on the conflict. Tax exemption provided a means of making an issue of government bonds especially attractive and their ready sale at a high figure was assured.

The coming of peace has changed all this. There is no longer any excuse for permitting the issuance of tax-free securities. The exigencies of the war period are over and the only effect of issuing tax exempt securities now is to encourage tax dodging. By means of tax exempt securities a man of wealth is able to so invest his money that he is untouched by the government taxing machinery, while a less fortunate individual, working on a salary, is obliged to pay to the federal treasury a stated portion of his income.

Tax exempt securities had their place in the wartime scheme of things. There place has disappeared, however, and if congress senses the will of the people aright it will act on Secretary Mellon's recommendation.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY

Several readers have asked: "What do you think of the ship subsidy?" We have been just a little reluctant to answer. It is, to some extent, a political and controversial question, and we try to avoid controversy. Like a good many other folks, we are instinctively opposed to "subsidy." It is a meaningless word. Perhaps it is unfortunate that it became connected with the government's program for encouraging our merchant marine. We want to see the American flag on the high seas. We are in favor of using our own ships to carry our mails and our own cargoes. If it be necessary, in developing this program to give American-owned and American-manned ships the preference when it comes to making contracts, it is hard to see where objection can be reasonably taken—especially as we are assured by the president that means saving money rather than spending it. We find it difficult to be hard-boiled about the subsidy and take it for granted that the men who sponsor it so stoutly are actuated by honest motives. They know more about it than we do, and they believe the subsidy is necessary.—Farm Life.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM TOBACCO
FIRE DRILL PAYS

Nine hundred school children marched out of a three-story school building in a minute and a half the other day, when the fire signal was given. There was no excitement and no confusion, they had done it many times before. The only difference on this occasion was that the building actually was on fire.

This is a good example of what can be accomplished where fire drills are made a frequent feature of school routine. When the emergency arose, the established habit controlled the action of teachers and children.

This is as it should be. The school needs investigation in which the training of pupils for swift, orderly exit on emergency signal is neglected.

200,000 GALLONS WASTED DAILY

A daily waste of 200,000 gallons of gasoline by evaporation from 775 uninsulated storage tanks throughout the country was reported as one of the major findings of an extensive survey on conservation just completed by engineers of the U. S. Bureau of mines. The rate at which these evaporation losses take place has not been closely calculated. A 50,000 barrel storage tank holding gasoline will lose about six percent of its contents in one year. A similar tank holding crude oil will lose about three percent in one year, and the loss from the crude oil will be almost entirely pure gasoline. The loss from 775 tanks including both types, is therefore estimated at 72,765,000 gallons, an economic loss, at twenty cents a gallon, amounting to $14,553,000.—Farm Life.

CHANGE IN ORGANIZATION OF NACOGDOCHES REFINERY

At the annual stockholders' meeting of the Carolina Oil Company held here Tuesday it was voted to effect a complete reorganization of the corporation's affairs and to transfer all company's properties to a new Texas corporation for which charter has been applied to Secretary of the State of Texas.

The company will hereafter be known as the Yuba Refining Company, and will have a capitalization of $150,000, fully paid up. Directors and officers of the new corporation are as follows:

The following directors were chosen—Mrs. Phebe M. Rideout, San Francisco, Cal., T. E. Baker, Nacogdoches, C. A. Hodges, Luther Swift, J. H. Buchanan, Dr. A. A. Nelson, Douglas Patton, Jackson Waste, M. V. Miller, Greenville, S. C.

Officers—Mrs. Phebe M. Rideout, president; T. E. Baker, vice president; Jackson Waste, secretary; M. V. Wynne, treasurer.

Mrs. Phebe M. Rideout of San Francisco, Cal., recently acquired the controlling interest in the old corporation and it is assured that under Mrs. Rideout's proven and able leadership in conjunction with the splendid board of directors selected the new corporation will face a bright and successful future.

The Nacogdoches crude oil has long been known by experts to possess great qualities for refining of high-grade lubricating oils and the Nacogdoches oil field is the oldest proven field in the state of Texas. It is the purpose of the Yuba Refining Company to continue the refining of the splendid lubricating oils as heretofore made by the old corporation, and in addition to this activity a department has been added for the manufacturing of various sundries in which mineral oils form an important part, such as greases, automobile scaps, floor oil and sweeping compound.

The Yuba Refining Company is now perfecting its sales organization and will soon have a force of salesmen representing them throughout the entire Southwest. It will be the policy of the company to distribute the greater portion of its products directly to the dealer and large consumer.

Nacogdoches is to be congratulated upon the turn of affairs in the oil industry, and great activity in the development of the shallow field now extending into Angelina county is assured within a short time.

ALFRED HUTSON

Mr. Alfred Hutson departed this life. He was buried at the King cemetery January 3, 1923. He caught a moving truck January 2, 1923, in Tyler, Texas, on West Erwin street, when his hand hold slipped or he missed his footing; however, he fell under the moving truck, the rear wheel passing over him and a few minutes later he died at the home of Mr. A. F. Smith, on West Erwin street.

Mr. Hutson was prepared for burial by the Murk-Walter company, the good company to which the truck belonged was Mr. Walden. His wife got to him a few minutes after the accident. She highly thanked the good man, Mr. Walden, who paid all expenses of preparing him for burial; also all railroad and hearse expenses. The widow had every help that the good people of Tyler could grant her.

Mrs. Hutson and little son have my sympathy; also he leaves a host of other relatives who have my best wishes.

But we know the Lord knows best, we all loved him, but Jesus loved him more and he has sweetly called him to yonder shore. The golden gates were open, a gentle voice said come, and with farewell unspoken, he calmly entered home.

His sister-in-law,
Mrs. M. E. Hurst.

MRS. KITTY COON

Mrs. Kitty Coon, widow of the late Dr. Coon, dropped dead at an early hour Wednesday morning at her home at Douglas, following a long period of ill health.

Deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Bob King of Douglas, and two nephews, Will Fenley of Douglas and John Fenley of Nacogdoches.

Mrs. Coon was an old-time resident of Nacogdoches county, and was well known and highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends.

COMMISSIONERS ISSUE IMPORTANT ORDERS

At the meeting last week of the county commissioners two important orders were issued. One was instructing the sale of all the county's mules, Judge Angus Russell being appointed agent for the court for that purpose.

The other was more important—providing for the adoption of a budget system for the county, which will become effective as soon as the county clerk can file the necessary data for the guidance of the commissioners.

THE CARO NORTHERN

Mt. Enterprise Progress, 11th.

Lest we forget, Progress calls attention to the Caro Northern railroad under the efficient management of Mr. F. E. Evans. During the few months that Mr. Evans has had the management we see things greatly improved and traffic being moved expeditiously all along.

The track has been improved and made safe and passable. Work along this line is being carried on all the time and the track is being put in better condition every day and as Mr. Evans expresses it "We hope to have things in shape soon to put on a small locomotive and move carloads over the line."

The depot has been remodeled and repainted and the offices here are now in respectable quarters.

The service is right up to the minute both for passengers and freight. Mr. Evans never misses a connection with the main line and has so far had no serious wrecks or accidents. Owing to his careful driving there is hardly a chance of accident, especially since the track has been put in better shape.

The Caro Northern is entitled to the freight haul to and from Mt. Enterprise and in order to get along with any degree of profit it must have the patronage, especially during the months just ahead of us.

One thing that would be a boon to both the railroad, Mt. Enterprise and Nacogdoches would be to extend the line into Nacogdoches and give a one-line freight rate to Mt. Enterprise. In this case the wholesale people of Nacogdoches would control the trade of this territory. If this matter was laid before Nacogdoches in the right light it is almost certain that city would join in extending the Caro Northern the nine miles needed to reach that city.

We are proud to see the successful management of Mr. Evans and hope for his continued success, which is assured if Mt. Enterprise people continue to stand squarely behind the railroad as they should.

G. W. L. Woodlan has bought the Sanitary Market of Charlie McClain and is now in charge of that popular place. Mr. Woodlan brings years of experience to the management of the business, having been connected with like enterprises here years ago. After surrendering the office of sheriff, he debated the question of going to Fort Worth, but finally decided to remain at the old home, where he knows everybody and everybody knows him. We are glad he is staying with us. Mr. McClain, who has as many friends as anyone in the city or county, is uncertain as to his future movements, but it is hoped he may remain in Nacogdoches. Willis Miller will remain with the new firm, we are pleased to note.

The Commercial Oil Company, an organization of Houston capitalists, are buying a large acreage of land in the Etolle neighborhood, for which they are paying one dollar per acre under lease contracts, and will begin drilling as soon as their attorneys have examined and passed upon the titles. This is in new territory, and is, of course, a wildcatting venture, but the men behind the enterprise are satisfied they have a good prospect.

The most comprehensive suggestion to date in this ship subsidy matter is to turn the government's idling vessels over to former service men and give them the bonus supposed to go with them.

FIFTY BILLIONS IN PENSIONS

Although the country is already staggering beneath the burden of war costs and the government is living beyond its means, Congress did not hesitate to pass the Bureau bill increasing Civil War service pensions from $50 to $75 a month and allowing widows of veterans $50 a month. It was plainly a measure dictated by "politics" and even its promoters were doubtless glad when President Harding courageously arose to the responsibility of vetoing it, pointing out that the added pension outlay of more than a hundred millions annually would not be the whole of the matter, for with such a law on the statute books the compensation to widows of World War veterans, now $24 a month, would have to be made equal to that given the widows of previous wars. In consideration of the existence of about four million veterans of the World War, the president made the impressive prediction that "with such a precedent established, the ultimate pension outlay in the half century before us will exceed fifty billions of dollars."

Mr. Harding pointedly added that such legislation as a discouragement to every effort to reduce expenditure and thereby relieve the Federal burdens of taxation." He intimated that the time for lavish pension legislation has gone by because the government and the country simply can not afford it, when, in guarded language he said further: "The government has so many defenders to whom generous treatment is due that congress will find it necessary to consider all phases of our obligations when making provision for any group."

Attorney A. A. Seale of Seale & Denman was at Rusk Tuesday to have Judge Quinn approve a bill of exceptions and statement of facts in the case of T. M. King, convicted at the September term of the Nacogdoches District Court on a charge of embezzlement.

A bill has been favorably reported by the judiciary committee of the house to remove the Ninth District Court of Appeals from Texarkana to Tyler, and to place Nacogdoches, Angelina and Shelby counties in the Sixth District (Tyler). This arrangement certainly would make for the convenience of attorneys and litigants of this section having business before that court.

Improved farm land in New England is reported to be steadily decreasing, the decrease in the last 40 years amounting to 7,068,857 acres, or about 480 acres a day, this involving land depreciation—allowing $10 an acre as a moderate average value—of more than $330,000,000. Presumably New England farmers have in large part sought a more encouraging climate and soil.

Rev. E. G. Cooke returned Wednesday morning from Center, where an institute attended by preachers and lay delegates of the district was held, and presided over by Rev. H. Taylor Ferrite, the presiding elder of this district. Rev. Cooke was accompanied by his wife. They were guests of Mrs. Sanders. Rev. E. W. Solomon, pastor of the First Methodist church of Lufkin also returned with Mr. and Mrs. Cooke. They made the trip to Center in one hour and 29 minutes and returned in one hour and 58 minutes. Mr. Cooke reports road conditions very good.

When court adjourned for dinner a lot of these jollies made a bee-line for the grocery. This was on the way to the hotel where Judge Walker put up. As he was passing he looked in and the boys had lined up to the bar for drinks. He saw the fiddle in a chair, and he stepped in and picked it up. The boys looked back at him with a sneer. He struck up a tune called Snowbird in the Ash Bank.

The spirit of the music added to the spirits of the tips inspired a spirit to dance. So, smiling at one another they hit the floor and cut the pigeon wing in full fledged shindig style. That little district attorney was at once a great favorite.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

"What's in a name?" For instance the name Shakespeare, hard to spell, not often used as a namesake, yet more famous in literary circles than any name in the English language.

But the name of Rusk ought to be in the lead for present purposes. The Stephen F. Austin Normal College at Nacogdoches, should be named the Thos. J. Rusk Normal. This would mate it with the Sam Houston Normal at Huntsville. Houston and Rusk were intimate associates in the development and events that made the Republic of Texas. Rusk never lived on any homestead but the one where this new normal is now located. He was the most respected and beloved citizen in the state, ranking next to Houston in the Texas revolution. And his home was here, his dearest ties were here.

Could the name of the normal be changed to Rusk? If not so then let the next best thing be done. Let the name Rusk be honored by calling the most popular boulevard Rusk—or at least let this name be given to a most prominent part or point.

Another that should be similarly honored is Griffith. If we entertain angels unawares, in like manner we may entertain magnets of humanity unawares. This was the case in the fact that Dr. L. E. Griffith, who was the next owner and occupant of the General Rusk homestead, and stayed on it until he left town, was a man of great ancestry, culture and personal merit. And his descendants still bear the blood. He was one of the F. V. V.'s in the best sense of the letters.

As a young medical doctor full of hope and pep, Dr. Griffith left his habit of affluence in the early 40's and came to Texas, then the scene of adventure and prospects. He joined the U. S. army and went as a military surgeon to Mexico. He married a Texas girl, Miss Jane Clark, of a pioneer family. He was, in every sense always a refined and true blue gentleman. His heirs have stood for the normal school here, and have been generous friends in the struggle for this location. Then let the name of Griffith be honored in merited perpetuity. Name a Griffith Park or promenade. Apropos, Mr. Henry C. Fuller has recently published an excellent write-up of old time names of places in Shelly and Nip-and-Tuck, names almost forgotten. In this list is Buck Snort, Lick Skillet, Rake Pocket, Nip-and-Tuck and others. But he did not name the first postoffice town of Rusk which failed to materialize on the right bank of the Angelina river, somewhere below Shawnee crossing. There was a name for that crossing. John F. Roberts once lived there.

Fuller might also have said a whole lot of interesting things about the original old bustling town of Mt. Enterprise by that old spring, and that mountain where Dr. March was the big man and R. R. Haltom, Col. Allen Birdwell and other big folks flourished. It would be a big story of one of the most notable has-beens.

A Mrs. E. S. Carroll has recently written up Shellyville and explains why and how came Center. She told the story well but the old timers there dispute a certain event. They may think they know it all, but they don't. It is this: When the election went in favor of Center for the county seat there was a hot contest in court. The friends favoring Center against Shellyville went over to Nacogdoches and got a talented lawyer named Monroe Hyde to sneak into the case. He won it and came back home very exultant. The piney woods porkers of Center routed the white oak rosters of Shellyville. Folks over there can dispute this because the county records got burned up.

Judge R. S. Walker of Nacogdoches liked to tell about his being the first district attorney at court in Shellyville. The natives of the free state of Moderators and Regulators were furious at that fidgety little upstart coming there to prosecute them for their customary amusements. They prepared to show him that he was barking up the wrong tree and to give him a snipe hunt.

When court adjourned for dinner a lot of these jollies made a bee-line for the grocery. This was on the way to the hotel where Judge Walker put up. As he was passing he looked in and the boys had lined up to the bar for drinks. He saw the fiddle in a chair, and he stepped in and picked it up. The boys looked back at him with a sneer. He struck up a tune called Snowbird in the Ash Bank.

The spirit of the music added to the spirits of the tips inspired a spirit to dance. So, smiling at one another they hit the floor and cut the pigeon wing in full fledged shindig style. That little district attorney was at once a great favorite.

JUDGE ROBINSON'S CHARGE TO GRAND JURY.

From the Houston Post.
Judge Robinson's charge to the grand jury with respect to the outrageous maltreatment of a man and woman at Goose Creek several days ago, was fully justified by the crime under investigation.

Burglary, theft, arson, highway robbery are serious crimes, but they pale into insignificance compared to the unlawful invasion of one's home and the brutal infliction of injury upon one's person.

The perpetrators of such outrages are criminals of the deepest dye, and every resource, agency and instrumentality of law should be invoked to apprehend, convict and punish them. It cannot be assumed that even well-meaning citizens had a hand in this disgraceful affair.

The statutes of Texas provide no adequate punishment for such offenses, for up to this time it was never thought possible that in this enlightened age such things could happen.

But these scoundrels should be run to earth, and such penalties as the law inflicts for such crimes, inadequate though they be, should be resolutely imposed.

The Post cannot believe that any good citizen can or will seek a shield these criminals, or to condone the disgrace they have brought upon this state and this county.

LOOT RECOVERED

Pawhuska, Okla., Jan. 17.—An automobile in which were found approximately $9,000 in cash and bonds identified by police as part of the loot of the robbers who yesterday held up a bank at Cambridge, Kas., was discovered last night near a farm house 10 miles from here. Ralph Klopton, who admitted he participated in the holdup was captured, the authorities announced. E. G. Van Hamilton, kidnaped by the bandits after he was perhaps fatally wounded in the gun fight following the robbery, was left with Klopton at the farmhouse. Klopton was also wounded. The other bandits escaped.

SCIENCE ATTACKS
THE BOLL WEEVIL

From the Houston Post.

Up to the present time the boll weevil has been the victor in the warfare waged against him. Last year he stood at the peak of his power, holding sway over more territory and doing more damage than ever before since he crossed the Rio Grande and invaded the cotton belt.

But the boll weevil has reason to tremble for his future, with modern science enlisted to lead a new campaign against him. The marvelous achievements of the laboratories of science inspire hope that the attack now being prepared against the boll weevil will be entirely successful and that the Southern cotton farmer will at last be relieved of the this growing menace.

Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson is in charge of the new drive on the weevil. He is acting under the auspices of the American Cotton Association, and more than $2,000,000 has been made available for financing the campaign. Dr. Hutchinson is recognized as one of the foremost scientists of the country. For nine years he has been chief engineer to Thomas A. Edison, and as such has been the first lieutenant of the great inventor. Dr. Hutchinson is also a Southern man, a native of Alabama, and thoroughly understands the boll weevil menace. He has the incentive not only to achieve a scientific feat, but to render a great service to his native South in his fight on the weevil.

Dr. Hutchinson's proposed method of eradicating the weevils, in brief, is to sterilize them. By making it impossible for the weevils to reproduce themselves in a given territory, he hopes to eliminate the breed gradually from the whole cotton belt. Violet X-rays, known to be capable of sterilizing every living thing they touch, will be thrown on the young weevils in a specially constructed machine. Preliminary to this the cotton plants should be sprayed with a powerful solution of arsenate of lead.

Dr. Hutchinson himself is perfectly confident that his method will be successful. "The boll weevil can be halted and banished," he said in a recent interview. "You need only to put science earnestly and sincerely to work to do the job."

The experiments of the noted scientist will be watched with eager interest by all interests in the South concerned in the fate of agriculture. If Dr. Hutchinson can banish the boll weevil he will be a benefactor to the cotton grower comparable to Eli Whitney, who gave the South the cotton gin.

ROTARIANS AT TYLER

Four Hundred Members From Many Sections of Texas Attended Inter-City Meet

From the Courier-Times, 12th.

Between 400 and 500 Rotarians with their wives and sweethearts attended the Tyler-Inter-City Meet yesterday. The sessions were held at the Blackstone Hotel.

The visitors began to arrive shortly and by the time the afternoon program started at 2:30, the banquet hall was filled, and by the latter part of the afternoon, it was overflowing.

Preparations had been made to care for 350 Rotarians, but there were 400 out-of-town people, and it is seen what a job it was for the committee. 400 out-of-town people, which together with local Rotarians, swelled the crowd to about 500. It was stated that this is twice the size of any Rotary gathering ever held in East Texas.

Speakers for the afternoon included John Singleton of Waxahachie, district governor, and Hon. Stewart Smith of Beaumont.

Other speakers scheduled for the occasion were unable to be present, but several impromptu addresses were made by presidents of various clubs represented.

The speakers stressed the serious and constructive side of Rotary work and emphasized the importance of members of this and other similar organizations of devoting a large part of their time and energy to bring us out of the backwash of the war.

After the addresses in the afternoon, scores of visiting Rotarians and Rotary-Anns were driven over the city and out over the various highways.

Returning the dinner was served at Hotel Blackstone at 6:30.

When it was seen that the crowd was so much larger than had been anticipated Gerry Connolly, president of the Tyler Rotary Club, requested all the home Rotarians to stand back and provide seats first for the visitors.

Every seat was taken in the banquet room. The mezzanine blue room was filled and about two dozen seats were placed in the mezzanine room proper.

Still over 100 people had to be provided for, so the down stairs dining room was thrown open and in a few minutes it was filled, with some two or three dozen Tyler Rotarians left with no place to eat. They later secured meals in the coffee room.

Dinner being over the "stunt" feature started. Dining tables were removed from the banquet room and additional chairs placed, while fully one hundred guests stood around the wall and in the doors.

Gerry Connolly, president of Tyler Rotary Club, served as master of ceremonies. Mr. Connolly is always a pleasing host, but he did the best job last night he has yet attempted.

The Terrell Rotary Club, represented by 52 members, were lined up so the crowd could take a good look at them. The spokesman declared that Terrell had a population of 10,000, 8,600 of whom were not crazy and 2,000 who were "batty or nutty" or what ever you wish to call crazy. He dared the audience to pick the crazy ones in the crowd. No one even tried.

The Terrell crowd drew the attendance prize, being a Rotary flag to be presented by the Tyler Rotary Club. The Nacogdoches Rotarians introduced their internationally known jazz orchestra which gave several sections receiving liberal applause. This orchestra was carried to the big convention at Los Angeles and attracted much attention there. Mrs. Ambrose, wife of a Rotarian, an accomplished and attractive vocalist, delighted the audience with several songs. The lady possesses a voice of fine quality and much sweetness. Robert Lindsey, the "boy woad" of the Nacogdoches Rotary Club presented Mrs. Ambrose.

The Palestine Rotary stunt was perhaps the most novel and unique of the evening. A speaker read from a Palestine paper called the Daily Doper, Jan. 11, 1933, and quoted many interesting paragraphs. The paper asserted that Tyler, Longview, Jacksonville and a part of Dallas was being annexed to Palestine and that city is the railway center of the state. It also stated that the International Rotary convened there. A special from Tyler said that a Tyler citizen had dropped dead in the post office on being informed that another assessment on his hotel stock was due.

Several Palestine Rotarians passed through the audience distributing copies of the Daily Doper.

Mr. Connolly, president of Tyler Rotary Club, expressed pleasure at the items from The Doper, and invited the Palestine crowd back to Tyler, promising them that they would find that the Blackstone Hotel had not been converted into offices for a railway, which happened at Palestine.

Mr. Marvin Kelly of Longview invited Rotarians from all towns and cities represented to the front and informed them how the Longview Rotary Club had maintained its 100 per cent attendance. He said that each member had recited for one hour before retiring that night the following: "Day by day, and night by night, I am working for the success of the Rotary Club."

Judge Simpson of Tyler Rotary Club presented Hon. Stewart Smith, Rotarian from Beaumont, with a handsome pin as a slight tribute to his earnest and sincere work on behalf of Rotary Clubs. He expressed great pleasure at the task.

Mr. Smith was called to the front and a life-sized safety pin was attached to the lapel of his coat by Rotarian Will Marsh.

During the dinner, in the downstairs dining room, Mr. Andy Anderson, formerly of Tyler, but now of Houston, became so boisterous and so disrespectful to Rotarians who were passing through the room singing that he was placed under arrest by from the room, Gus Booty made a plea on behalf of "Andy", but his plea was unavailing, the rangers informing him that if he didn't shut up they would take him also. (Of course this was all a burlesque.)

It is the opinion of the Courier-Times editor that Mr. Anderson should not have been arrested, but that the singers—or rather those who thought they were singing but really were making a lot of discordant notes—should have been taken in charge by the Rangers instead of Mr. Anderson. They were disturbing the guests in an unpleasant manner. Some of the singers included Oscar Burton, Will Marsh, Ebert Gentry and Brady Bartlett.

Mr. Anderson was merely trying to protect the ladies present from an after attack of nervousness from such noises.

Guy Blount, prominent Rotarian of Nacogdoches, was also arrested by the Rangers and removed from the banquet room. We did not learn the charges preferred against him, but learn that Bob Lindsey said he had threatened to sing a solo, and Bob knew what the results would be.

One of the most active Rotarians among the visitors was "Shorty" Lalance, a live wire from Longview, "Shorty", for that's what everybody calls him, is pastor of the Episcopal church at Longview, is a dynamo of energy and kept the guests in an uproar at his antics.

Dancing began at 10:15 and continued until about 1 o'clock when the guests left for their homes.

The visitors expressed themselves as being delighted at the entertainment offered by Tyler Rotary Club. It was a much more elaborate affair than they expected to attend, and they are anxious to come back to Tyler again when the opportunity presents itself.

Fred L. Hasket, editor of the Childress Index, received the prize for having come from the furthest city to the meet. This was a large leather medal.

FRUIT-CASON

A wedding of cordial interest to many friends was that of Miss Emily Cason to Julian E. Fruit at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Cason, on Tuesday morning.

Exquisite simplicity was the note of the wedding which only relatives and a few close personal friends witnessed. Tall baskets filled with Ophelia roses completed a banked altar of evergreen and ferns in the music room. Crystal baskets of bud roses with tulle streamers were in appropriate places.

Mrs. W. D. Ambrose sang "All For You" most beautifully. Miss Ardat's Ellington, who also accompanied Mrs. Ambrose, preceded the wedding march with a solo, Brahms' Waltz.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Lucile Smith. She wore a blue canton frock with moire ribbon streamers. Her toque was of blue taffeta. She wore a corsage of Ophelia roses. Miss Smith was a college mate of Mrs. Fruit.

The bride and groom entered together, meeting Rev. E. G. Cooke, pastor of the Methodist church, who read a beautiful ceremony, at the altar. "At Dawning" was rendered softly during the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in a lovely dress of brown poret with silk embroidery. She was never more beautiful. Her hair-cloth hat was charmingly becoming. Her shoes and gloves harmonized with her frock. Her shower bouquet consisted of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Fruit is a graduate of Nacogdoches High School and of Southern Methodist University. Wherever she has been she is loved.

Mr. Fruit took an academic degree from the Rice Institute with the class of 1920. Since then he has been in business in Houston with the Seaboard Cotton Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Fruit will be at home for the present at the Glen Ellen in Houston.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Dr. Fruit, father of the groom, and Mrs. Fruit of Dickinson, Texas; Mrs. Charles D. Whiteman and Miss Lucille Smith of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Cason, Jr. and son, Dick III, of Orange.

On motion of H. P. Schmidt and seconded by Marvin Echols, et al., the directors voted unanimously to hold two regular meetings each month, and to hold one of these meetings at Mrs.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR VISIT LUFKIN

A party of Knights Templar visited Lufkin Monday night for the purpose of witnessing the De Molay chapter in action. The party was headed by F. A. Beall, eminent commander of Nacogdoches Commandery, No. 55; Dr. T. J. Blackwell, H. L. McKnight, R. L. Perry, A. A. Seale, R. E. Price, Geo. T. McNeess, Dr. C. C. Pierce, N. H. Horton, Arch Millard and W. H. Ogg.

The order of De Molay is what might be termed the juvenile branch of Masonry. Its membership is limited to sons of Masons and to boys who are recommended by Masons. The age limit is 16 to 21.

Lufkin has a splendid chapter of this organization, and it was the purpose of the visiting Knights to ascertain the steps necessary to set up a chapter here under the local commandery. Clement Jones is the eminent counselor of the Lufkin chapter.

Other visitors from Nacogdoches were Mrs. R. L. Perry, Miss Nan Wright and Aileen Calloway and Mesdames Seale and Horton.

After the ceremonies were over the Lufkin Knights headed by that prince of good fellows, Sam Kerr, and ably supported by Broderick Newsome, Maas, et al., led the visitors to Lufkin's finest cafe, where light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Martin are moving to San Antonio, to the regret of their many Nacogdoches friends. Mr. Martin is connected with the Yuba Oil Company, and will represent that concern in San Antonio. The Sentinel joins in wishing the departing friends the utmost measure of success.

ODD FELLOWS VISIT LUFKIN

Several Nacogdoches Odd Fellows visited Lufkin Monday night to witness the public installation of officers of the lodge of Rebekahs of that city, and all report a fine time. Those of the party were Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Emmons and little daughter, Kathleen; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Perritte, Mrs. Ben Goodman, Mrs. Alice James, Moultrie Smith and Mr. Coyle.

There were appropriate talks, songs and readings, the opening address being made by Judge J. F. Perritte of Nacogdoches, his subject being "Odd Fellowship."

At the conclusion of the meeting in the Odd Fellows' hall, the members and their guests repaired to the banquet room of the Masonic building, across the street, where a tempting luncheon was served amid happy scenes of good fellowship.

About 200 persons are said to have been present, and every one of them enjoyed the occasion.

Complaint is made of the too early shutting off of the street lights, persons whose duties require them to start to work at 5:30 or 6 o'clock frequently being "left in the dark" on the streets and unable to proceed without serious discomfort and sometimes danger of heading into ditches and against such obstructions as trees and fences. These early risers, it seems, are entitled to some consideration. To operate the light would probably work no great hardship upon the city.

OLD NACOGDOCHES: HER STORY AND HER MESSAGE

THE GATEWAY INTO TEXAS, REPLETE WITH TRADITION, THE SEAT OF EDUCATIONAL AMBITION, THE PRIDE OF HARDY REDLAND FOLK, NACOGDOCHES HAS A SECURE PLACE IN HISTORY

By H. L. McKnight, Secretary Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce

From the Texas Commercial News.

Judged from the standpoint of natural beauty, the founders of the Stone Fort City, Nacogdoches, Texas, made no mistake when they set up their tents or, mayhap, their tepees on a gently sloping, heavily wooded divide halfway between the Lanana and the Banita (originally spelled "Bonita"), where these beautiful, limpid streams run parallel three fourths of a mile apart and at a point two miles above their confluence.

The name "Nacogdoches" is of Indian origin. On this point historians are in agreement. Tradition says its meaning is "wild onion". The Lanana ("Grandmother") and the Bonita ("Pretty") are of Spanish origin.

Spanish influence in the settlement of Nacogdoches county is everywhere evidenced by the names of its streams, such as, "Ysleta," "Loco," "Cariaso," "Moral," "Alazan," "Angelina," "Pontesuelas," "Visitador," "Atascosa," "Amaladeros," and "Bernaldo."

Nacogdoches is situated on the original trail leading from Natchitoches, La., to the City of Mexico, via San Antonio and Laredo. A few years ago the Daughters of the Texas Revolution caused this road, long known as the Old San Antonio Road, to be marked with suitable granite monuments bearing this inscription, "Camino Real," which, being translated, means "Royal Road."

Over this route came the adventurous pioneer from the East as he anticipated Greeley's advice and sought to carve a fortune out of the fabled West. Also, over this route, but traveling in an opposite direction, came the faithful missionaries sent out from Mexico to colonize and Christianize the straggling settlers and the marauding red men who inhabited, but did not control, the wide expanse of forest and stream and prairie called "Texas." These two contending forces often clashed in skirmish or battle. Nacogdoches was at different times the base of operations of both elements, but,

"After the pioneers, Big hearted, big handed Lords of the axe and the plow and the rifle,

Tanned-faced tamers of horses and lands, themselves remaining tameless,

Full of fighting, labor and romance, lovers of rude adventure;

After the pioneers had cleared the way to their homes and their graves on the prairies."

Come the "state builders" who are proving worthy of the rich heritage bequeathed to them by illustrious forefathers.

Nacogdoches has a population of 5,000. The city has been singularly free from anything that could even be called a boom. Due to the fact that her residences are practically all situated on large lots, there is no crowding of homes. Until recent years nearly every family kept a cow, and many of these found ample grazing on the residence lot. The business district is laid out in a "square" that opens both east and west on "plazas."

The original "Camino Real" passes through both plazas and through the square. One of the granite markers, a stone 40 inches high, 28 inches wide and 16 inches thick, stands at the northeast corner of the square as you enter through East Plaza. It was on this corner that the "Old Stone Fort" was built in 1770. For one hundred and forty years this historic building stood where Gil Y'Barbo built it until, crowded out by the irresistible march of progress, it was torn away in 1904 and partially rebuilt a few years later on the northwest corner of the old university campus, where it stands today, while its very stones seem to brood over its unhappy fate. For the stone fort is the Alamo of East Texas. True there is no authentic records of this building ever having been actually baptized in blood, as was the Alamo. But Gil Y'Barbo, its founder and builder, did not build the massive stone walls merely to keep out wind and weather. Port holes along its upper walls gave silent warning to the red man and to the adventurous buccaner who, scorning the language and religion of its founder, dared to set up contending institutions or file rival claims to tracts of virgin land.

But Nacogdoches' claim to recognition does not rest on her history, rich though it is, nor on the tradition that hangs like a romance about her. In perfect candor it might be stated here that, commercially speaking, she has never aspired to a place in the sun. It is just possible that the old town has spent time and energy preserving the traditions of the past that might better have been spent solving the problems of the future. But if so, that day has passed.

Her business and professional men are today alert to the city's every need. Three years ago they organized a chamber of commerce and are conducting it along modern lines, with an ample budget. This organization has kept its feet on firm foundation. Its members know and understand that the city's greatest resource is agriculture. The rich rolling red lands, embracing the eastern and northern half of the county, are as productive as the high priced blacklands of Central Texas, and can be bought for less than half the cost of the latter. There is scarcely a tract of 100 acres in the entire county that is not crossed by a running stream of never-failing water. Artesian wells are to be had nearly anywhere in the county by drilling 450 to 550 feet. The city of Nacogdoches has three such wells from which an abundance of pure, soft water is had. The rare purity of this water is attested by the following true story: When the wells were brought in some years ago, a sample was sent to the pure food and drug department at Austin for analysis. When the chemist had completed his analysis, the infinitesimal amount of foreign matter shown caused him to suspect that the sample was not in reality a composite sample of city water as it came through the mains. The chemist withheld his report and his suspicions until he chanced to pass through the city, when he personally took a sample from the mains one mile from the well. The analysis of the two samples proved identical, and a report was made to the city council.

For nearly three-quarters of a century Nacogdoches has shown a deep interest in education. The University of Nacogdoches was established in 1858, and was therefore the second oldest university established in the State of Texas, and was more than a quarter of a century in advance of the present State University, located at Austin. The founded of this pioneer educational institution began by securing 16 acres of land situated only two blocks from East Plaza and heavily timbered with giant oak and pine. On this site a commodious building was erected. This structure stands today, a part of the public school equipment, and a monument to the classic architecture of its day and generation. The city owes a debt of gratitude to the founders of the University for it was largely through their vision that the city today owns what is declared by prominent educators to be the most commodious and most beautiful public school campus in all Texas, and perhaps in all the South. And having inherited from far-seeing ancestors such a school campus, it was the most logical thing in the world for the citizens of Nacogdoches when they entered into a contest with ten other east Texas towns in 1916 for the location of the Stephen F. Austin Normal College, to begin by offering the state a 207-acre tract of land adjoining the city limits, 40 acres of which is easily comparable in beauty and grandeur to the present public school campus. It is on this 40-acre block that the state is now erecting the first unit of the Stephen F. Austin Normal College. The building will cost $175,000, and is to open its doors in June Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president of this institution, is now on the ground and from inquiries received already estimates an opening attendance of 500 men and women.

In addition to her exceptional agricultural advantages and to her outstanding educational opportunities, Nacogdoches offers an ideal site for manufacturing industries. Located almost exactly half way between Beaumont and Dallas, and half way between Houston and Shreveport, with two trunk lines of railway, and with an abundance of cheap fuel in the form of lignite and cheap hardwood timber, industries now seeking new locations will do well to investigate what the city has to offer. Factory sites conveniently located can be had for a very nominal sum. Building material is abundant and cheap. Two large pine mills and one hardwood mill are located just outside the city limits. A good brick plant furnishes a high-grade of

A Quarter Century Of Service

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon or build a better mouse-trap The world will beat a path to his door."

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

Apply Vicks to help avoid infection. Use Vicks at the first sign of an oncoming cold.

MOST medical authorities now agree that Colds, Grip, Influenza and Pneumonia are all germ diseases—most commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not breed.

In fact the germs of all of these diseases are frequently found in perfectly healthy persons. It is only when the bodily resistance is lowered—as by a cold for instance—that they are able to harm us.

Avoid Sneezers and Coughers

It is best to keep away from the sneezers and coughers in the street cars and public places, or if you must meet them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils before you start out. On returning home, melt a little Vicks in a tin cup or a spoon and inhale the vapors.

Opposed to Bacteria

The ingredients of Vicks are not only antiseptic, but rubefacient—that is, they summon the blood to the tissues where applied and this free blood circulation is nature's best method of repelling germ infection. Also Vicks spreads a protective film over the membrane and furthermore is opposed to the growth of bacteria. In short, we believe you have a much better chance to avoid infection by these numerous germs if you have Vicks in your nose.

Attack a Cold Immediately

When you feel a cold coming on, go right home. Take a laxative. Make some hot lemonade, then take a hot bath—as hot as you can stand. Stay in the tub 30 minutes, sipping slowly several glasses of the lemonade. If your head is stopped up, melt Vicks in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the vapors arising; also insert Vicks freely up the nostrils.

After your hot bath, get into bed, with a hot water bottle at your feet, and pile on blankets. After an hour's sweat, dry thoroughly with a rough towel, apply Vicks over throat and chest, rub in well until the skin is red, and then spread on thickly and cover with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Get into bed again between dry sheets. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck, like a funnel, so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled. It is an obstinate cold, indeed, that will resist such treatment. If it does, call a physician.

Acts Two Ways At Once

Vicks is of benefit in cold troubles in two ways. 1st—It is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus helping to relieve the soreness, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing less difficult. 2nd—At the same time the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are taken with each breath directly into the congested, inflamed air passages.

A Vapor Lamp in Salve Form

Vicks is the discovery of Mr. L. Richardson, a North Carolina druggist. He realized that cold troubles were affections of the respiratory organs and that the only way to get medication direct to these parts was in the form of vapors. Mr. Richardson finally worked out the process for making Vicks, so made that the body heat releases the volatile ingredients in the form of vapors. Vicks really is "a vapor lamp in salve form."

The Ingredients of Vicks

Since the dawn of history mankind has been searching nature for remedies against cold troubles. The knowledge gained thru a thousand years has come down to us today. Vicks contains the best known remedies for these troubles, some of them of great antiquity. Menthol, for instance, comes from Oil of Peppermint which was grown in Egypt three thousand years ago and whose virtues are described in the old Icelandic books of the 13th century.

The highest authority on drugs and their uses is the U. S. Dispensatory. We give below a few extracts from the Dispensatory on some of the ingredients in Vicks.

MENTHOL—"It is actively anti-bacterial. It is employed for its antiseptic and anesthetic influence on coryza, pharyngitis and laryngitis."

CAMPHOR—"Has a peculiar and agreeable effect on the mucous membrane—relieves congestion and inflammation—is a powerful stimulant to the respiratory centers."

OIL OF EUCALYPTUS—"Germicidal, antiseptic and stimulant—largely used in chronic bronchitis and infections of the upper respiratory tract—its vapors are very effective."

OIL OF THYME—"This drug is a powerful antiseptic with wonderful healing properties, especially in congestion and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat."

OIL OF TURPENTINE—"Its vapors are an excellent remedy for, and highly beneficial in, nervous spasms of bronchial and lung troubles—has powerful heating, antiseptic properties."

Adopt the DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested, inflamed air passages.

VICKS VAPORUB

Lick direct from kilm to the builder.

The shallow oil field of Nacogdoches county is one of her greatest undeveloped assets. There are more than 10 producing wells in this field, with an average production of one to three barrels, though some few wells are making as high as 10 barrels. The superior quality of this oil is demonstrated by the price, $5.50 per barrel, which is being paid by the local refinery. This price is justified by the fact that this oil produces no kerosene or gasoline, but is refined exclusively into high-grade lubricating oils.

The local refinery, formerly owned and operated by the Carolina Oil Co., is now principally owned and entirely controlled by Mrs. Phebe Rideout and associates of California. Mrs. Rideout has large financial interests in California, where she has had wide experience in the oil game. She states that the Nacogdoches shallow field "looks good" to her. Mrs. Rideout is backing her own judgment with her money.

An analysis of a sample of Nacogdoches oil made by the Bureau of Mines from Sample No. 1036, is as follows:

Specific gravity 0.923; A. P. I. gravity 21.8; percent sulphur, .29; percent water 3; saybolt universal viscosity at 70 degrees Fahrenheit, 700 sec.; saybolt universal viscosity at 100 degrees Fahrenheit, 390 sec.; pour test below 5 degrees Fahrenheit, carbon residue of residum 7.4 percent; gas oil 19.5 percent; balance lubricating cuts of various viscosity.

As a partial preparation for the immediate growth and development that is to come with the opening of the normal college next June, the citizens voted authority to issue $225,000 in street improvement bonds. The wood block paving in the business district will be replaced with brick and in addition, some 6 or 7 miles of residence streets will be paved. It is believed that when this program has been completed that Nacogdoches will be the best paved city in Texas.

Nacogdoches county has more than 75 miles of hard surfaced roads, and is agitating a bond issue sufficient to build a hundred miles more.

One of the successful industries of the city is the Marigold Creamery, which is turning out an average of 1,000 pounds of high-class butter each week. The butter fat used in this plant is produced on small farm dairies carrying an average of 5 to 10 cows. Nacogdoches leads all East Texas counties in the production of the famous "ribbon cane" syrup. This delicately flavored product is made from cane grown on sandy branch and creek "bottom" lands. More than 60 carloads of this product was grown the past season.

Nacogdoches enters the new year with every prospect for a big year's business. At this writing there is more than $350,000 worth of buildings under way.

The prospective investor and the homeseeker who is looking for a live town with educational advantages, is invited to come to Nacogdoches. A warm welcome awaits him.

No man ever loses faith in humanity while the profits are coming in.

CITY BONDS APPROVED

City Secretary R. C. Monk received a message Friday from Attorney J. J. Greve, who is in Austin, notifying him that the attorney general's department had approved the recent issue of $225,000 street improvement bonds authorized by an overwhelming majority of the voters of the city.

This will be good news indeed to the progressive people of the town, who have placed their shoulder to the wheel and will continue to push until Nacogdoches is made into a real city. The work of printing the bonds will proceed as rapidly as possible, and their sale is assured. Just as soon as the matter can be arranged work up on the streets will begin.

Rah for Nacogdoches.

All of which is fully set out in plaintiff's petition.

That plaintiff is desirous of having said marriage between herself and defendant dissolved and declared null and void by a decree of this court.

Plaintiff says that residence of defendant and his whereabouts are unknown to plaintiff; that he is a transient person and has no fixed place of abode.

Wherefore prays the court that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition and that said marriage between defendant and plaintiff be dissolved and declared null and void and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity as in the premises she may be entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

STELLA VITAE IS THE BEST FRIEND WOMEN EVER HAD

THIS IS HOUSTON WOMAN'S CONVICTION BASED ON AN EX-PERIENCE OF MANY YEARS WITH REMARKABLE TREAT-MENT.

"After an experience of many years
I am thoroughly convinced that Stella Vitae is woman's best friend in the way of tonic and system builder that can be found," was the emphatic statement made recently by Mrs.
Gus Matthews, living at 50 Live Oak street, Houston, Texas.

"I first became acquainted with Stella Vitae," continued Mrs. Matthews, "several years ago when I had gotten in a run-down condition and was so very weak from loss of appetite and not being able to assimilate my food. Headaches bothered me, too, and my nerves weren't strong.
It was then I fell back on Stella Vi-tae, after trying several other preparations that didn't help me any, and it built me up wonderfully and made me a well and strong woman."

"I have taken it from time to time since, whenever I felt the need of a tonic, and it has never failed to do me good. So not long ago, when I began to run down and lose my energy and appetite, I turned to my old friend Stella Vitae and it is doing for me just what I want it to do.
I have so much confidence in Stella Vitae that I never hesitate to recommend it to any weak, nervous, rundown woman I see who is in need of something that will straighten her out and put the glow of health in her cheeks."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

IMPORTANT ROAD BUILDING

The Sentinel is mighty glad to report that Shelby county has recently let a contract for the construction of a highway from the Attoyac river north to Timpson. Our information is that our fellow county-man, Belton Latimer of Garrison, secured the contract to do the grading on this road, and that graveling will be done on county account. The building of this section of State Highway No. 35 will be the realization of a long-deferred dream and hope of the traveling public. And now if Shelby county will only push this building program on from Timpson north to a connection with the hard-surfaced road at Tenaha it will close up the last gap in this important highway to Shreveport and the northeast. We have no doubt but that Shelby county will at an early date, do this very important piece of highway construction.

WODEN

Please allow me a space in your paper. I read the Sentinel every week and enjoy reading it, but would enjoy in better if it had more country news in it, for I live in the country.

Health in our community is good, except Mr. Alder's. He is reported quite sick at this writing.

Mr. Kirk McKinley and children and Mrs. Jack Boozer visited relatives here last week.

The oil people report everything progressing nicely.

Mr. Henry McBride and Mr. Robt.
Hobbs motored to the Belleview oil field in Louisiana last week and reported a nice trip.

Mr. W. V. Daniel and wife of Belleview, La., visited friends and relatives here last week.

Brother Farr filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

We are having nice weather for killing hogs, and most of the people are making use of it.

Farmers are getting busy now,
cleaning and breaking their land.

The sad news reached our community Monday of the death of Grandmother Blakey. The funeral was held by Rev. A. T. Gerrard Monday afternoon. Quite a large crowd attended.
Mrs. Blakey was 91 years and 14 days old.

(We hope this correspondent will continue these letters weekly, and we would also be very pleased to hear from other communities.—Editor Sentinel.)

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Burns of Henderson, accompanied by their lovely little daughter, Eloise, and by Mr.
Burns' brother, Defee, and a Mr. Hart, noted over Sunday and spent several hours in the city visiting with friends, of whom they have quite a number here. Mr. Burns was formerly with the Sentinel as ad and make-up man and machinist-operator. He is now connected with the Henderson Times. All were glad to see the visitors and hope they will come again.

Like Knights of Old

YE olde knights used to fight to protect the fair fame of the devices emblazoned on their shields.
And the knight without escutcheon was looked upon askance. He had no name to protect. He could live fairly or unfairly, as his whims directed.

Modern knights of industry have devices—the advertised trade-marks of their products. They must safeguard the reputation of these trademarks to keep them worth while.

Advertising throws a powerful light on a trade-mark. If it proves worthy it gains popularity and confidence.
If it is shown to be unworth, it quickly fails.

So you can be sure that every consistently advertised product is good.
The advertising test has proved it.
The name of its maker stands behind it. The trade-mark is your warranty of satisfaction and true quality.

BOOSTERS HAVE CIVIC PRIDE

The Young Men's Booster Club held their regular weekly meeting on Monday night with practically the entire membership present. Several suggestions regarding the civic improvement of our city were offered, the one of the most importance at this time being that of beautifying the high school campus.

Nacogdoches is already known for its large and spacious school grounds, which, with its magnificent buildings surrounded by the beauty already afforded by nature, with a little effort can be made one of the most attractive to be found in the state, and with the plans in view by committee in charge, we hope in the near future to see our school campus made into one that will soon be noted for its size and beauty throughout the entire state.

Mr. Zeno Cox, Jr., was a guest at this meeting and made a very interesting talk with reference to the work of the Boosters and offered some valuable suggestions along the lines of civic pride for our town.

The change in school text books enforced by a recent order of the State Text Book Commission is meeting with considerable opposition, especially from county superintendents, who declare they see no good reason for the change, especially as it involved a cost of more than a million dollars, which is badly needed in maintaining the rural schools of the state, many of which are now operating under a three or four months schedule because of lack of funds. Miss Exier Lewis, superintendent of Nacogdoches county's schools, was among those registering a vigorous protest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bright, accompanied by Charlie Heitman and Fulton Lee, motored to Shreveport and back Sunday and had a very pleasant experience—barring a little rain.

On North street Sunday afternoon
a Studebaker roadster, with Bronson Spears at the wheel and three boy companions on the seat with him, swerved from the middle of the street and ran into a hitching post between the residences of Messrs. Polk Roberts and J. M. Weeks, flattening out the post and bumping into a telephone or electric wire pole, which was snapped off at the base and broken off at the top. The car was badly wrecked, but fortunately no one was injured.

Relief Manager R. D. Lucky of the Western Union Telegraph Company, arrived in the city and took charge
Saturday of the local office, relieving Manager Avey, who is off on his two-weeks' annual vacation. Mr. Lucky is a "gilt-edged" operator and expert accountant and will hold down the job to the satisfaction of all.
