LOCAL REBEKAHS LAUNCH ATTENDANCE CONTEST

The Rebekah Lodge of the city has entered upon an attendance contest which is arousing great interest among Odd Fellows and their friends. The plan is, as the Sentinel understands it, for the membership to be divided equally between the Guardian and Past Guardian, and the one securing the largest attendance from those assigned her shall be declared the winner. The contest probably will continue for two months, it was stated. When the averages are found at the close of the contest, the losing side shall pay for a luncheon for the winners and their guests.

The rivalry promises to grow strong, and those indifferent members who have been absenting themselves from meetings will be thoroughly and continuously "buzzed" until they surrender and come to the lodge.

The luncheon will be given upon the occasion of the removal into the new lodge room in the Elks' building.

A heavy rain and wind storm visited this section about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, damaging a sign or two in the business section and wresting branches from a few trees in the residential district. About 9 o'clock the mercury began to tumble and soon the predicted norther was upon us. The forecast of frost Wednesday morning now seems very likely of fulfillment.

H. C. Hale of Troup is here for a visit with relatives and friends, and is receiving a warm welcome on all sides. Mr. Hale was formerly a resident of the county and served as its tax collector with credit to himself and satisfaction of the people. He resided here practically all his life until a few years ago, when he moved to Troup. He is always a welcome visitor.

J. G. Williams, editor of the Cushing Journal, was in the city Tuesday morning en route home from a business trip at Tenaha.

A HIGH-YIELDING PEANUT STRAIN

A peanut selection experiment with Spanish peanuts was begun in 1917 at Sub-station No. 11, Nacogdoches, using several hundred individual plants. The work was continued year after year, eliminating each year the low yielders until the number has been reduced in 1921 to sixteen high yielding strains, or families.

The sixteen families were planted in increase plots in 1921 and again in 1922, and one family that had been numbered 279-9 was the high yielder for both years. Increase plantings have been made and Superintendent George T. McNeese now has a small quantity of this desirable seed which he will distribute to farmers desiring it, at a nominal charge. Farmers using some of this seed last year have indicated that they got splendid results and it is expected that the peanut yield of East Texas will be measurably increased by the use of seed from these selected strains.

DALLAS HOME BURGLARIZED OF ARTIFICIAL LEG

Dallas, Texas, March 6.—Burglars last night entered the home of H. P. Siegel and stole Siegel's artificial leg, trousers and $8 in money. The trousers and limb were found near the scene of the robbery today.

H. F. Estes reported that a highwayman beat him over the head and took all the money he had on his person—30 cents.

MOREHOUSE GRAND JURY BEGINS ITS GREAT QUIZ

Bastrop, La., March 6.—Attorney General Cocco appeared before the Morehouse parish grand jury today to submit the evidence obtained at the recent hearing into the black-hooded mob atrocities. Most of the evidence related to the kidnaping of five Mer Rouge citizens on August 24 and the murder of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richards, whose bodies were found in a lake. Other testimony related to a dozen or more cases of floggings, deportations and notes of warning, all charged to the Ku Klux Klan. The testimony, which is voluminous, is said to include additional evidence obtained since the hearing closed.

NINE INDICTMENTS FOUND AGAINST ROY MITCHELL

Waco, Texas, March 6.—Nine indictments were returned today against Roy Mitchell, negro, charged with killing W. P. Driskill, Harrell Bolton, Gfady Skipworth, W. E. Holt and Mrs. Ethel Denecamp and charged with criminal assault upon the three women who were with Bolton. Skirworth and Holt the nights their escorts were killed. The trial for the killing of Holt and Mrs. Denecamp was set for next Thursday.

Messrs. N. A. Linnall and Lake Orton of the Yuba Oil Company, returned home Tuesday morning from Texarkana, where they established a distributing depot for the products of their company, placing H. G. Jenkins, formerly of Terrell, in charge. They found the people of the Texarkana district using a high grade lubricant, and they entered the field with the confidence that they would share in the patronage, as there is no better (and few as good) oil on the market than that offered by the Yuba. They are pleased with the business outlook.

Messrs. J. F. Perrette, Moultrie Smith and Marshall Hester went to Lufkin Tuesday night to attend a luncheon and business meeting of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of that city. The reason for the meeting was to further the cause of providing funds for the erection of a new Odd Fellows building in Lufkin. The project was enthusiastically endorsed at this meeting and the fund was started by subscriptions amounting to about $3,300. No trouble is apprehended in raising an amount sufficient to construct a creditable building.

Senator Brookhart has been a lawmaker for some weeks now, but the world is still about the same.

POSTMASTERSHIP SETTLED COOPER APPOINTED

Official notification was received in the city Tuesday of the appointment of Captain H. H. Cooper as postmaster of Nacogdoches, and the long wait for departmental action ended. Captain Cooper has many friends in this section who will be pleased to learn of his appointment.

Captain Cooper is not a stranger to the postoffice game, by any means. For sixteen years he held that important and exacting position in Nacogdoches, and it is the consensus of opinion that this city has never had a more faithful, obliging and courteous postmaster.

If Postmaster A. Y. Donegan stays on the job until the 1st prox., he will have held the office for nine years and nine months, taking the office over on July 1, 1913. Mr. Donegan has made an excellent postmaster and goes out of office with the consciousness of duty well done and with the entire good-will of the patrons.

Captain Cooper had not announced Tuesday when he would assume his duties, but it is presumed he will take over the office on April 1.

PRESIDENT AND PARTY REACH FLORIDA SAFELY

St. Augustine, Fla., March 6.—The presidential special conveying President and Mrs. Harding and party to Ormond stopped here this morning to leave Secretary and Mrs. Weeks in the city and allow Charles G. Dawes to board the train. Mrs. Harding appeared on the rear platform for the first time and was greeted by Florida sunshine and the genial humor of ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

100,000 THROWN OUT BY HARDING ADMINISTRATION

Washington, March 7.—During the two years of the Harding administration ending March 4, almost 100,000 employees have been separated from the government service. This was given out in a tabulation made by direction of President Harding.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITIES

Austin, Texas, March 7.—The house passed and sent to the governor the Cousins-Holbrook senate bill amending the medical practices act by a vote of 90 to 19 after rejecting an amendment to strike out the clause granting exemption to chiropractors and Christian Science practitioners provided they do not charge for their services.

The Hackett motor vehicle license bill increasing fees approximately 100 percent was engrossed by the senate without a record vote. The debate on this measure lasted three hours. Several minor amendments were adopted.

A determined effort to kill the bill to authorize the consolidation of the Frisco and five other railroads will be made in the house when the measure comes up for consideration unless assurance is given by the officials of the International-Great Northern that the striking shogmen will be returned to work as alleged to have been agreed some time ago.

I. C. C. IS COMING

Washington, March 6.—The Interstate Commerce Commission will begin a series of hearings in the West on March 19 to give Western communities and state authorities an opportunity to present their views on railroad consolidation, it was announced. This will include Fort Worth on April 23.

IMPROVEMENTS AT DIBOLL

Diboll, Texas, March 7.—Southern Pine Lumber Company, manufacturers of long and short leaf yellow pine and mixed hardwood lumber, have plans under way for the erection of a new merchandise establishment, drug store, barber shop, postoffice, meat market and cold storage.

The postoffice will be moved to the ground floor of the library for the present.

The barber shop will be moved to the second floor of the old drug store for the present.

Other establishments will be changed as the building progresses. Contractor W. P. Berry of Lufkin is on the job and the work of tearing out the old structures is being done rapidly.

HERE IT IS—TEXAS' GEOGRAPHICAL CENTER

Denton, Texas, March 6.—The number of people who can offhand give the geographical center of the state of Texas is undoubtedly a limited one. It is significant that this bit of information is contained in few libraries of the state.

Dr. F. M. Bralley, president of the College of Industrial Arts, had occasion recently to make use of the geographical center of the state of Texas in work which he was compiling. Diligent search of the college library failed to reveal the information, even though the heads of the departments were called to aid in the search.

In Austin, soon after, the president called at the state library in order to consult an authoritative source of information, but his trouble availed him nothing. No one knew Dr. Bralley, former state superintendent of schools, is well acquainted in the state departments, and there came to his mind an individual who in the past possessed a ready answer to similar questions.

He was J. H. Walker, chief clerk in the land office, and—he knew. The geographical center of Texas is on a ranch about twenty miles northeast of Brady, in McCulloch county. Mr. Walker recalled the fact to mind instantly by virtue of the discussion waged two years ago over the location of the state university.

ANOTHER GAY OLD BOY

New York, March 7.—John Henry Kirby of Houston, Texas, head of one of the largest lumber companies in Texas and president of the Southern Tariff Association, has been sued in the supreme court here for $4,000 by Miss Olga Ralph, a music student of Evansville, Ill. She charges that Kirby promised her $500 a month for life for renouncing the name of Kirby after she had adopted it at his request. Miss Ralph, who is 29 years old, alleges that Kirby, who is 63 and married, agreed in 1918 that if she would give her entire time to him and travel with him as his secretary and companion he would take care of her for life. He said a later agreement was made that she give up the name of Kirby, which had been adopted by a court order, and return his letters, photographs and other documents.

DOCTOR ABDUCTED, BEATEN

Oklahoma City, March 7.—Dr. B. Chester Goldberg walked into police headquarters today and told the authorities that he regained consciousness lying in a pool of mud 13 miles from the city after he had been beaten and robbed. He was abducted by four unmasked men from his home late last night. His face was disfigured by an unexplained slash from eye to throat. The physician expressed the belief that his captors were seeking the narcotics in his emergency case. A diamond and $60 in cash were gone, as well as other personal effects. The authorities said the only clue was a description of one of the men by Mrs. Goldberg, who tried to drive the men away from her husband, and a hat sold by a local store which is believed one of the abductors dropped in the scuffle.

OFFICERS' SLAYERS CONFESS

Franklinton, La., March 7.—The bodies of Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce, deputy sheriffs who were slain Saturday by moonshiners, were found early today buried in the mud and covered with the carcass of a cow. The body of Pierce was mutilated with an axe. The slayers, John Murphy and Gideon Rester, the moonshiners, confessed and led the officers to the burial spot, the district judge announced. Previously the men had been rounded up with ten others and placed in jail by a posse. The confessions told the sheriff that Murphy killed the officers after the pair had been arrested in a raid on their still.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED

Austin, Texas, March 6.—The appointment of Mrs. Charles DeGroff of El Paso as a member of the Board of Regents of the Texas Technological College was confirmed by the senate, which postponed action on the remaining six members of the Textbook Commission.

INVESTIGATING FACTS CONCERNING COTTON MILLS

Secretary McKnight of the Chamber of Commerce is making some investigations of the cotton mill industry in Texas, with a view of establishing a mill at Nacogdoches, provided the facts secured and the local conditions seem to warrant doing so.

Through a bulletin issued by Prof. John B. Bagley, head of the textile engineering Department of A. & M. College, we are able to publish below a list of all the cotton mills in Texas, together with a statement showing the number of spindles and looms in each mill, and also the amount of capital invested.

The Sentinel will publish editorial information from time to time secured from Prof. Bagley's bulletin. Prof. Bagley is a native South Carolinian, a very efficient engineer and is making a life study of the textile industry of the South, with special reference to Texas.

The list of Texas mills follow:

List of Texas Cotton Mills in 1922
Belton Yarn Mills, Belton, Texas, capitalized for $100,000.00, producing high grade hosiery and underwear and yarns, sizes 14's-30's. This mill has 10,096 spindles.

The Bonham Cotton Mills, Bonham, Texas (Consolidated Textile Corporation), capitalized for $200,000; has 15,500 ring spindles and 438 looms, and produces brown sheeting.

South Texas Cotton Mills, Brenham, capitalized for $50,000; has 11,000 spindles and 200 looms, and produces duck and osenaburgs.

Nacogdoches State Bank
Guaranty Fund Bank

UNDERSTANDING A BANK

The banker's obligation is to safe guard the funds in his custody and keep himself in position to meet all demands for their return.

It is not enough that a loan shall be "good" in the sense that there is ample security to guarantee its payment sometime; it must be collected when due, if the banker is to be secure in his own position.

A bank of itself does not create wealth. It is a receptacle, a reservoir of the wealth of the community.

Sound banking requires that somebody shall put a dollar of liquid wealth into a bank for every dollar that the bank loans out.

TREES "STANDARD EQUIPMENT"

In connection with a call to the public to "celebrate the centennial of Arbor Day in 1972, fifty years before it happens, by planting trees now," the American Tree Association reviews what some of the states have accomplished in this field.

There is a phrase much used in the automobile business which aptly applies to trees in connection with road building. It has not been many years since the horn and several other indispensable accessories of a motor car did not go with the machine but had to be bought as extras.

Now in California trees are standard equipment of highways. If room can be found for them—and most of them do not require a great deal of space—trees should be standard equipment of roads, parks and residential areas everywhere.

A half century hence, when the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of Arbor Day is observed, there will be a great planting of seedlings. But a tree planted now will be worth a hundred set out then, for it will have reached maturity, and will be capable of conferring blessings that the other will not be able to give for many years.

HARDING FOR WORLD COURT

His request to the senate for its consent to the adhesion by the United States to the protocol establishing the Permanent Court of International Justice.

at The Hague is the most important act of President Harding toward development of a foreign policy. Its significance is great, showing that the executive, after hearing the subject discussed from all angles and after long reflection upon it, has decided that conditions demand that this strong nation assume a share of the responsibility for the maintenance and furtherance of a great world agency of advanced civilization.

Mere official recognition by the Washington government that this world court is an established institution of high character would in itself be of importance as encouragement to those who founded the tribunal and have been maintaining it. But there is, of course, vastly more to the president's proposal. There is a reminder that as Americans long have been calling for such a court they should be eager to join in upholding and perfecting it to make effective all the fine things which have been said by them in that direction.

The subject is one that ought to be dealt with on a basis above partisan or factional politics. World peace, and the responsibility of this nation in relation to it, are the things upon which the minds of the senators should be centered; personal pride of opinion should be suppressed. Let the lessons that have come to us from attempting to hold aloof where there can be no isolation be heeded.

President Harding, although tardy, has done a fine thing for those striving to have the differences of nations settled in court as those of her citizens and subjects should, without regard for party affiliation, support him in this request to the senate.

TRYING TO MAKE WAR "NICE"

Rules for war have been agreed upon by the international commission named by the Washington conference. They will be submitted to the powers, and soon may be published.

Discussing what has been done, Rear Admiral Rogers, chief American naval adviser at the conference, commented: "You cannot keep nations from fighting as long as individual citizens want to fight, but you can give them rules to make it as decent as possible, just as you can give boys rules for fighting. These rules may, of course, be broken. Germany broke the rules of international law during the recent war, although not denying them, but paid damages afterward.

That is a grewsome picture. Rules may be drawn to make war "as decent as possible" (how decent is possible does not appear) and after they are drawn may be broken. If the nation that breaks the rules of the game loses the war, then a forfeit must be paid. If the nation wins, presumably, it will "get away with it."

No one denies that, failing to abolish war, mankind must take steps drastically to limit the area of destruction. It requires no keen perception to see that we must put an end to many practices that sullied history in the last upheaval, merely its civilization is to survive. We must put end to unwarned sinking of non-combatant vessels. We must put end to cruel deportations of civilians. We must put end to the kind of war that draw no line between the civilians and combatant and kills wherever it can find life to kill.

NEFF FOR SCHOOL HEAD

From the Center Champion. On account of the resignation of Dr. Vinson as president of the State University, the matter of selecting his successor is an important matter for the board of regents to consider. Friends of Governor Neff have started a movement to secure his election to that position and friends have become so enthused over the matter until they have made such recommendations.

to the governor in person. The election of Governor Neff to this position would not be a bad thing. The Champion has been in accord with his administration as governor as a whole, differing with him in some instances and on one particular instance. But we have been able to see the wisdom of the greater part of his work as governor of the state and feel that he would be a splendid head for the University. The University is a great institution. It is a necessity in the program of education. It is an expensive institution and should, therefore, be managed with the greatest skill possible.

INDEPENDENCE DAY IS OBSERVED IN HOUSTON

From the Houston Chronicle. One hundred and thirty years after the birth of Houston, the city named for him is striving to erect a monument to his memory.

Today is the 130th anniversary of the birth of General Sam Houston. It is more than that. It is the 87th anniversary of the signing of the Texas Declaration of Independence at Washington-on-the-Brazos.

With banks, city hall and schools closed, Houston is attempting to fittingly celebrate the anniversary of that epoch-making event.

Scores of members of the City Club will make the event go home to Houstonians, today, for they are engaged in selling facsimile productions of the Texas Declaration of Independence. The money raised will be used for erecting a statue to General Sam Houston, its projected location being the sunken garden at the end of Main street.

The principal observation of the day took place during the afternoon, when Houstonians gathered at the University Club.

Col. A. J. Houston, only surviving son of the illustrious warrior and statesman, presided at the University Club where the gathering was under the auspices of the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

Judge Charles E. Ashe, grandson of Dr. Anson Jones, last president of the republic, delivered an address, and W. E. Kendall, grandson of General Sidney Sherman, commander of a regiment at the Battle of San Jacinto, read the declaration of independence.

Ennis Cargill, grandson of Dr. Thomas Mitchell, another old settler, read correspondence throwing a light on the conditions existing during the revolution.

Perhaps, in the entire day's program, nothing will be so forcibly recalled as the last public message of General Houston, delivered in Houston a short time before his death. This speech was made in March, 1863—60 years ago.

He said: "I have been buffeted by the waves as I have been borne along life's ocean until, shattered and worn, I approach the narrow isthmus which divides it from the sea of eternity beyond. Ere I step forward to journey through the pilgrimage of death, I would say that all my thoughts and hopes are with my country. If one impulse arises above another, it is for the happiness of these people; the welfare and glory of Texas will be the uppermost thought while the spark of life lingers in this breast."

A PUBLIC SALE IN 1850

The Star has been handed a clipping of a Public Sale which took place more than seventy years ago. The "articles" for sale are in keeping with the times, and since the sale was in Kentucky, "niggers" predominate in the offerings.

"Having sold my farm and intending to move to Missouri, will sell at public sale, 1 mile west of Harrisburg, Kentucky, on Saturday, September 26, 1850, the following described property to-wit:

"One buck nigger, 25 years old, wt. 210 pounds; 4 nigger wenches, from 18 to 24 years old; 3 nigger boys, 6 years old; 13 nigger hoes, 1 fine sled, 6 yokes oxen, broke; 10 ox yokes with hickory bows; 2 ox carts with 6-inch tires; 1 saddle pony 5 years old; 8 side saddles; 3 double shoveled plows, 10 and 12 inches; 35 gallons of whiskey in jugs; 100 gallons of apple cider; 2 barrels food sorghum; 2 barrels soap; 2 barrels kraut; extra good nigger whip; 2 tons tobacco, 2 years old. Sale will start at 10 sharp. Terms cash. I need the money."

"Col. H. Johnson, Auctioneer." Some persons work the hardest when they are trying to work somebody else.

Some men haven't spent a cent for repairs since they bought their cars in 1921, and some have better memories.

ATTRIBUTE THEIR SUCCESS TO NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Advocates Use of Newspaper Advertising

In an interview today, Mr. Warren Wright, president of the Calumet Baking Powder Company—the largest baking powder company in the world, strongly advocated the use of newspaper advertising, and points to Calumet's success as proof of his statement.

Sales 2 1-2 Times as Much

"Calumet sales are 2 1-2 times as much as any other brand," stated Mr. Wright, "and we attribute this to our lavish use of newspaper space. We believe that the newspaper is the most direct medium we can use in getting our message across to the housewife and we know from our experience covering thirty years, that the housewife will respond to newspaper advertising quicker than she will to any other form of advertising."

Newspapers Protect Readers

"The housewives have confidence in newspaper advertisements because they know that the newspapers set up high standards for their advertisers. It is for that reason that the housewife looks to the newspaper for information on products in which she is interested."

AFRAID OF IDEAS

From the Houston Chronicle. Having set up a democratic government, having proclaimed freedom of speech, having guaranteed religious liberty, we suddenly find ourselves afraid of ideas.

For the first time in our history as a republic, we find ourselves faced with a growing tendency to balk science and intellectual progress by prescribing certain theories.

There is no connection between church and state, of course, but what are we afraid of, and why?

What is there in the doctrine of evolution that scares us?

What do we propose to protect by its repression?

Just what kind of institutions are we aiming to safeguard?

Is it the republic that is in danger? Is it the constitution of the United States that is imperilled?

Or do we wish to set the clock back and return to old-school assumptions? If, so, why not decree that the earth is flat, that Volviva is right and Columbus is a fake?

Why not, also, prohibit the teaching of astronomy, except on the basis of the Copernican theory, or better still, the Ptolemaic?

And, having gone this far, why not forbid cattlemen to cross breed their stock lest they set an example that may undermine certain traditions?

Certainly, if evolution can not be preached, it should not be permitted to practice.

If the theory is wrong in words, it must be wrong in acts, and if Darwin's writings are to be barred the discoveries of Burbank ought to be barred as well.

If we are going to repress the thing, let us make a clean job of it.

But, when all is said and done, why be afraid of ideas?

ONE HOG TOO MANY

There used to be a man near Toronto who raised hogs to sell. He also was peculiar. On one occasion he sold a load of hogs to a local buyer named Hargis. Hargis was a Texan and held his word in high regard. Hargis received the load of hogs, weighed them and left another man to weigh the empty wagon. The seller took his weights to Hargis and received the money for his hogs. Later Hargis found that the hog man had weighed "on" with the load and "off" with the empty wagon. He mounted a horse and overtook the seller just at a place on the creek where they were fishing. Hargis made short work of it. "Mister, you sold me a hawg today I don't want. I ain't got no use for it. You weighed yo-self and sold yo-self for a fat hawg at 8 cents a pound. I hate mighty bad to go back on a deal, but yo' ain't woth it. Yo' are so stunted an' wouldn't make good soap grease I sorter suspected yo'd better buy yo-self right back, righ' now, if yo' count on drivin' home." And the man who sold himself for a hog promptly bought himself back again.—Topeka Capital.

TRIBUTE TO JOHN WINDSOR

John Windsor, son of Rev. Martin and Sara Ann Windsor, was born in Harrison county, Texas, March 9th, 1850, and departed this life at his home in the city of Nacogdoches at 4:45 a. m. February 28th, 1923, being 72 years, 11 months and 20 days old. The deceased had been married three times; first to Harriet Stack in 1867, by whom he had four children, two boys and two girls, all of whom died in childhood except Mrs. Anna Daniel, who survives her father. His second marriage was to Miss Hannah Louise Meeks, by whom he had four children, three girls and one boy, three of whom, Mrs. Mary Hutson of Nacogdoches; Mrs. John Booth of Little Rock, Ark.; and John M. Windsor of Nacogdoches, still remain. His third marriage was to Mrs. Josie B. Stanfield on June 27th, 1911, who survives her husband to mourn her loss.

Bro Windsor was converted early in life and united with the M. E. church, South. He received the blessing of entire sanctification under the ministry of Rev. George McCulloch, more than 30 years ago, soon after which he united with the Free Methodist church and ever afterwards lived an active, useful and consecrated Christian life, being one of our most honored laymen in all East Texas and was by far the most liberal and unselfish worker and supporter of our church in the conference, loved, trusted, respected by those who knew him.

He was an affectionate husband, a devoted father and faithful friend, a useful citizen and a holy man of God. He has gone to be with the Lord. We have lost much and shall miss his greatly. Peace to his memory. R. A. Thompson.

New Industries keep coming to Nacogdoches. Messrs. Neely & Wilson have established a coffee-roasting plant next door to Stewart's Bakery. It ought to prove a popular and paying proposition. Mr. Wilson is in charge and will take pleasure in explaining anything you may wish to know about the enterprise.

A political convention brands the primary "a demoralizing, disrupting element in party government. It is moved the last word be struck out and "politics" substituted in the interest of accuracy.

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Straightens You Up Better Than Salivating, Dangerous Calomel and Doesn't Upset You—Don't Lose a Day's Work—Read Guarantee

I discovered a vegetable compound that does the work of dangerous, sickening calomel and I want every reader of this paper to buy a bottle for a few cents and if it doesn't straighten you up better and quicker than salivating calomel just go back to the store and get your money back.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your thirty feet of bowels of the sour bile and constipation poison which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable.

I guarantee that one spoonful of this harmless liquid liver medicine will relieve the headache, biliousness, coated tongue, ague, malaria, sour stomach, or any other distress caused by a torpid liver as quickly as a dose of vile, nauseating calomel, besides it will not make you sick or keep you from a day's work.

Calomel is poison—it's mercury—it attacks the bones often causing rheumatism. Calomel is dangerous. It sickens—while my Dodson's Liver Tone is safe, pleasant and harmless. Eat anything afterwards, because it can not salivate. Give it to the children because it doesn't upset the stomach or shock the liver. Take a spoonful tonight and wake up feeling fine and ready for a full day's work.

THE MERITS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD

The merits of the National Guard are many, but the most outstanding will be commented upon here. The pay, the training and the experience are three most outstanding features of the organization.

The National Guard is now a quasi-federal organization. Its officers and men are paid by that federal government out of the U. S. treasury, thereby avoiding the delays of a broke state treasury. Each enlisted man is paid one dollar for one and one-half hours drill each week. This money is paid every three months.

The National Guard is a very pleasant place for the young men of every community to get some training in the fundamental principles of American citizenship. Here the young men are taught that they must respect law and conform to the rules of discipline, which every man should know.

The experience of meeting with and of being associated with the fellows of other communities is very wholesome for the developing of the social instinct that is within all of us. Then the two-weeks' encampment each summer brings the young men of each community in this state in contact with each other, thereby broadening each individual.

We now have at Nacogdoches Company C, 143d Infantry, whose home is Baxley & Barnett's Grocery Store. We have one of the nicest kept and best equipped armories in the state. We also have an enlisted personnel consisting of boys from the best families of this county.

We have about twenty vacancies on our rolls. Join now, boys; get the pick of money and the trip to San Antonio. Don't let the old "being yellow idea" keep you away. You can't stay at home always. Any of the officers will be glad to enlist you.

HIGHBROW WITNESSES

Washington, March 5.—An attempt by legal process to prevent Attorney General Daugherty, Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board and Chairman John Barton Payne of the Red Cross from leaving Washington for a vacation trip with President Harding to Florida was begun and then abandoned today at the request of attorneys for Charles W. Morse, the shipbuilder, whose trial charges fraud in connection with war contracts, set for Wednesday. The United States marshal's office issued subpoenas requiring the three men to appear in court at the opening day of the trial as defense witnesses. While a deputy marshal was trying to serve the subpoena with Morse's counsel and agreed to red with Morse's counsel and agreed to abandon the attempt.

Year by year the cheers of war grow less vociferous.

TEXAS STUDENTS GIVEN HOLIDAY AT SEWANEE

Sewanee, Tenn., March 5.—Texas students belonging to the Texas Club, at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., were granted a holiday to observe Texas Independence Day. Raising of the Texas flag began the ceremonies, conducted on the tower of the science building at 10 o'clock in the morning. The program consisted of an address on Texas history by Langston Nelson of Nacogdoches, a short prayer and the singing of the State song. In the evening a banquet was held, during which speeches and toasts to the Lone Star State were made.

The Texas club at Sewanee is more than forty years old and one of the most active in that institution. At present there are thirty-four members of the club.

PREMIER CRIMINAL IS UNDER INVESTIGATION

Waco, Texas, March 5.—The grand jury began investigation of the alleged criminal activities of Roy Mitchell, negro, today, charged with the murder of five white men and one white woman, criminal assault upon three white women, two charges of assault to murder and two of attempted criminal assault. County authorities stated that Mitchell had confessed the crime. Judge Munroe asked the grand jury to investigate the McLennan county jail, saying he thought the present structure inadequate and out of date.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Austin, Texas, March 5.—The trial of Foster Bell and John Miller on charges of murder and assault with intent to murder was scheduled to begin here today. The charges grew out of a street battle at Sealy last September, resulting in the death of four persons. Approximately 200 witnesses are here from Austin county to testify.

ORGANIZE AGAINST VICE

New York, March 5.—Three of the country's oldest and most substantial reform organizations have pooled their financial resources and mapped out a plan of campaign against prohibition repeal, race-track gambling, prize fighting, salacious literature, Sunday theatrical performances and the traffic in narcotics, the New York World declared today.

The new organization will be known as the International Reform Bureau and World Temperance Foundation, the World said. The affiliated bodies are said to be the International Reform Bureau, the World Prohibition Foundation and the National Temperance Society.

Another thing America should produce at home is population.

SAY TOO MANY "TEETH" ADDED TO DEAN LAW

Austin, Texas, March 2.—Probably the most drastic piece of legislation yet attempted by the Texas legislature in the cause of prohibition was the Bell-Burmeister Bobbitt house bill passed finally in the house late yesterday by a vote of 101 to 22. The bill amends the present so-called Dean prohibition law of the Thirty-sixth legislature, by providing that the possession of liquor for the purpose of sale is prima facie evidence of the guilt of the possessor; also that if a person is arrested with a still in his possession, it shall also be conclusive evidence that he is guilty and he shall be tried along that line.

The bill also carries out the provision of the Volstead act which empowers the sheriffs or other officers to confiscate the automobile or other vehicle in which liquor is found and divide the proceeds from the sale of such vehicle among the officers making the arrest.

Consideration of this measure occupied most of the afternoon session of the house. Representative Henderson of McLennan offered an amendment to strike out section 2 of the bill. This section, one of the most important of the bill, provides that wherever possession or receipt, or possession or receipt for the purpose of sale is made unlawful in this act, proof of possession shall be prima facie evidence of guilt, but the defendant shall have the right to introduce evidence showing the legality of such possession.

"Not a White Man's Law"

"With such a provision in the bill," declared Representative Baldwin of Lubbock, "it is not a white man's law. It is going back to the Middle Ages. The burden of proof now on the state shall under this bill be on the defendant, which is unheard of in legal procedure. We get prohibition not by fanaticism, but by sound judgment. We ought not to go as far as section 2 provides. It is not necessary to resort to such methods."

Representative Price of Morris, although a strong prohibitionist, denounced the bill and supported the Henderson amendment. "If you pass this bill," said Price, "it will militate against the enforcement of prohibition in Texas. I shall never support a bill where English law is reversed and places the burden of proof on the possessor of liquor instead of on the state."

LEGISLATIVE AFFAIRS

Austin, Texas, March 2.—Final hearing before the joint legislature committee on the proposed relocation of the penitentiary will be held tonight. The committee then will begin the preparation of its report. Chairman Teer announced.

Investigation of the Gainesville Training School for Girls will be completed tomorrow night following the hearing. Several persons in Dallas have been summoned to testify, Chairman Beasley of the house investigation committee announced. He said he would submit a report early next week.

The house refused to concur in the senate amendment to the Coffee bill reducing the tax on oil from three to two percent and authorized the appointment of a free conference committee. By a vote of 99 to 21 a motion by Representative Hardin to concur was tabled.

The senate unanimously passed the Holbrook bill proposing to prohibit the operation in Texas of loan associations commonly known as 3 percent companies. A ruling by the attorney general recently held such firms unlawful.

MOB MEMBERS ARRESTED AND LODGED IN JAIL

Palatka, Fla., March 2.—11 members of a mob were captured today and lodged in the Alachua jail after being repulsed by the sheriff when they attempted to storm the jail and get a negro prisoner. More than 50 shots were fired by the mob into the jail. One struck the sheriff on the left hand. The sheriff slammed the jail door in the face of the mob, which retreated after shooting through the door and windows. A 50-foot rope was left behind. The negro prisoner is Arthur Johnson, who is alleged to have shot and killed F. L. Cross of Gainesville, Fla., Saturday.

WYNNE-FOWLER

Miss Lillian Fowler, formerly of Nacogdoches, employed by the Texas Oil Company, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fowler of Melrose, was married to Mr. Emmett Wynne of San Antonio, March 3d. Their friends and relatives are wishing them a long and prosperous life.

Times change little, after all, and this generation merely has changed the location from Paris to London.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR IN A MOMENT

Try This!—A Gleamy Mass of Soft, Luxuriant Hair.

At once! You can transform even plain, dull, flat hair. You can have it abundant, soft, glossy and full of life. Just get a 35 cent bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store. Then moisten a soft cloth with the "Danderine" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Instantly, yes, immediately, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will be a mass, so soft, lustrous and so easy to do up. All dust and excessive oil is removed.

Let "Danderine" put new life, vigor and brightness in your hair. This stimulating tonic will freshen your scalp, check dandruff and falling hair and help your hair to grow long, thick strong and beautiful.

WHERE AMERICA EXCELS

In estimating the population of the continental United States on January 1 last at 110,000,000, a gain of 4,500,000 since the 1920 census, the national bureau of economic research says the increase is due partly to immigration, but more to a reduction in the death rate. The decreased mortality, in turn, is attributable to the various vigorous movements for the public health that have been so notably successful during the last few years.

Dr. Leon Barnard, professor of hygiene at the Paris Faculty of Medicine, who recently visited this country on invitation of the Rockefeller Foundation to study the work of our leading health agencies, has made his report, which is highly complimentary to the efficiency of the institutions he inspected.

Dr. Barnard found an organization of such agencies here that is entirely unknown in France. There is no such systematic service for the defense of the public health. In continental countries the necessary war on disease is waged principally by private agencies. Dr. Barnard was particularly struck by the achievements in curbing the ravages of tuberculosis and by the general instruction in the principles of hygiene which is helping the people to protect themselves from the illness.

Our prohibition of alcoholic beverages he regards as "the culminating event of social hygiene in the United States. A country with 110,000,000 inhabitants has accepted the interdiction of the sale and consumption of alcohol. One passes through good sized cities and vast rural districts without encountering a single saloon. Under these conditions the regular alcoholism of the masses is rendered impossible."

There is no reason why France and other European countries should not organize their forces after the American pattern in the fight against disease and meet with corresponding success.

MRS. J. R. KNIGHTON

Mrs. J. R. Knighton of the Frost Johnson Mill departed this life March 2nd, at 12:10 p. m.

Her remains were shipped Saturday morning to Stamps, Ark., for interment, this being her former home.

Mrs. Knighton was a devoted Christian and a member of the Christian church in Nacogdoches.

Mr. Knighton and family have the deepest sympathy of all the people of the Frost-Johnson Mill.

BEAUTY AND HEALTH

Even if a woman's features are regular, her form symmetrical, she cannot be physically attractive if she is suffering from weakness peculiar to her sex. Many women owe their ill health to carelessness, late hours, etc., until Nature calls a halt. Sometimes it is too late; but in most cases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just the womanly tonic and nerve required. This wonderful herbal remedy was discovered 50 years ago by Dr. Pierce. It is a pure reconstructive tonic for women. Try it!

MEETING HELD IN MEMORY OF JUDGE PERKINS

The memorial exercises held at the District Court Room at 3:30 Sunday afternoon in honor of the late Judge James I. Perkins, was attended by a large number of our leading citizens.

The assembly was called to order by Judge Geo. H. Matthews, who was at one time associated with Judge Perkins in the practice of law. Judge Matthews explained the purpose of the gathering and also paid a high compliment to the late Judge Perkins. His report which will be found elsewhere in this paper was unanimously adopted on a motion by Attorney Arthur Seale. The chairman then called for Mrs. W. D. Ambrose, the nightingale of Nacogdoches, who responded with one of the sweet old songs so dear to all. After this, Judge S. W. Blount recounted many interesting facts in the early life of Judge Perkins. Judge Blount and Judge Perkins' boyhood friends in the old town of San Augustine. Later they were college chums at the University of Virginia and during their early manhood and up to the time of Judge Perkins' death, they enjoyed an unbroken friendship that covered more than half a century. The friendship and association of these two distinguished jurists really began with the close personal association and intimate friendship of their fathers, both of whom came to Texas and settled at San Augustine about 1830. In recalling these early associations Judge Blount paid a high tribute to the sterling qualities of James I. Perkins, the youth, who, through the misfortunes of war was left with nothing but a rugged character, an indomitable will and an intellect that even then gave promise of large achievements.

Following Judge Blount's story of the early struggles of the young lawyer and statesman, Judge V. E. Middlebrook paid high tribute to "James I. Perkins, the Citizen." Judge Middlebrook gave it as his opinion, based on more than 30 years of intimate personal contact with the deceased, that it was as a citizen, rather than jurist or statesman, that Judge Perkins' life really counted. In discussing this phase of the life of the lamented citizen, Judge Middlebrook took occasion to point out the tremendous responsibilities now resting on the men and women of today, and also of our duty to the boys and girls, who are so soon to inherit these responsibilities.

June C. Harris then discussed "James I. Perkins, the Lawyer and Jurist." Judge Harris recounted many incidents in the legal career of the deceased that proved the keenness of his wit and the soundness of his judgment. Judge Harris made special mention of Judge Perkins' exceptional ability as a prosecuting attorney. This ability, the speaker explained, was due so much to the prosecutor's almost intuitive knowledge of the guilt or innocence of the defendant as it was to his knowledge of the law, and later when the young attorney was elevated to the bench, this same keenness of perception, clarity of vision and unerring judgment of men and things as well as of the law, enabled jurist to render decisions that, in many cases, became guide posts to the courts of Texas.

Hon. W. B. O'Quinn of the Court of Appeals of Beaumont, was scheduled to speak of "James I. Perkins, the Christian Gentleman," but on account of sickness was unable to be present. Among the out-of-town visitors were: Mrs. James I. Perkins, widow of the deceased; Judge Bennett B. Perkins and daughter, Wilma; Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Perkins, all of Rusk; and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kerr of Alto.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Dr. A. J. Holt and closed with benediction by Rev. E. Gerard Cooke.

A GOOD MAN GONE

Bro. E. H. Hurst of the Swift community, was born in Butler county, Alabama, 58 years ago. He was married to Miss Eula Stewart 34 years ago. To this union were born twelve children, eight of whom still survive—five boys and three girls. After failing health for several years this good man passed away Wednesday morning. He was a good neighbor, patriotic citizen and devout Christian and devoted father and husband.

His remains were laid to rest Thursday morning in the Swift cemetery in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends, services being conducted by the writer.

A. T. Garrard.

CARD OF THANKS

Our hearts go out in love to all who so kindly and tenderly came to us in our sadness and deep sorrow during the sickness and going away of our loved one. May He who comforts all hearts bless each one of you.

Mrs. John Windsor and Children.

FROM THE DENTON NORMAL

Denton, Texas, March 2, 1923. Editor of Sentinel:

Although it is just one short week till final examinations begin, I do want to take time to write you some of the campus doings of the North Texas State Normal College. After the ordeal of examinations is over, we expect a rush of new students for the spring term.

The Chapel periods of the week, February 12 to 17, inclusive, were devoted to a discussion of the Bible by Rev. W. C. McClung of the First Baptist church. On Tuesday Mr. McClung spoke on "The Bible as a Book of Religion." "The Bible as a Book of Literature" was the subject on Thursday morning. Saturday's chapel hour was devoted to a discussion of the "Practical Value of the Bible." Rev. McClung is an alumnus of the Normal College.

Miss Tascia Sitton of Cushing, and Misses Bernice Birdwell and Gracie Hornbuckle of Nacogdoches, who are attending the North Texas Normal College at Denton, attended the annual banquet of the Scribner's Club, a journalistic organization of members from Texas counties.

Misses Virgie Blackwell, Bernice Birdwell and Gracie Hornbuckle are members of the Educational Exchange of the North Texas State Normal College. The Educational Exchange, numbering several hundred members, is open to all students of the N. T. S. N. C. that have done or are doing practical teaching in the Training School, whether they are in college or in the field. The Exchange is a clearing house for new educational theories, plans and projects.

The students of the North Texas State Normal College have had the opportunity of hearing two unusually pleasing recitals within the last two weeks. Miss Margery Maxwell, soprano, who sang in the Normal College Auditorium on Friday evening, February 16th, gave a delightful program. Miss Maxwell has a light lyric soprano voice. Miss Foster, at the piano, added greatly to the pleasure of the concert by her group of piano numbers.

The second recital was given on Wednesday evening, February 20th, by Miss Florence Hardeman, the Cincinnati violinist.

Miss Hardeman has appeared as soloist with some of the leading symphony orchestras in the country. She is a protegee of the late Maud Powell, and studied for many years under Leopold Auer, the great virtuoso and teacher.

Miss Margie Neal of Carthage, a member of the Board of Regents, has accepted the invitation to become an honorary member of the "Pine Burr Club." We are expecting a visit from her in the near future.

All Nacogdoches County students send best wishes to the Sentinel.

A Student.

AGED LADY DIES OF BURNS

Mrs. Martha Morton, who made her home with her son, Tom Morton, near Etolle, died from the effects of burns received on Thursday of last week.

She was doing the family laundry at a spring about 150 yards from the house. She was alone, and none saw the beginning of the tragedy. A member of the family glanced out of the window and saw her lying on the ground in the yard, and when the woman was reached it was found all her clothing had been burned off. Everything possible was done for her relief, but she died after eleven hours of suffering.

It was supposed her clothing caught from the fire under the washtub and she had started to the house for assistance, falling in the yard before attracting attention.

E. H. HURST

Mr. E. H. Hurst, a well-known farmer of the Swift community, died at 9:15 Wednesday morning. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and five sons, who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. Interment was made Thursday in the Swift cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. A. T. Garrard.

A POSTMASTER GENERAL

It can scarcely be over-looked that as Dr. Hubert Work is being shifted from the postmaster generalship to the office of secretary of the interior that practically all the comment on him is that he proved to be a good postmaster general. In fact, he had been promoted on merit from the position of first assistant postmaster general to the head of the department.

He has had two years' experience as an executive in the highest positions of the postal service, having been first assistant for a year and then postmaster general for a year. It is important to emphasize that in all that time practically every word heard by the public on his work was one of commendation. As he is about to leave the department, he shows that his welfare is on his mind. He makes a number of recommendations to the president, urging chiefly that the department be kept as free as possible of politics. The selection of postmasters, he says, should no longer be considered a political perquisite of senators and representatives, but should be vested in the postoffice department alone.

Making a cabinet shift by which this experienced postmaster general who is credited with making good in a big and difficult position is to be replaced by a man of no experience in such work and sent to a field of smaller activity naturally has caused a lot of talk. Moves of this kind are to be expected, however, from an executive who places politics above all else.

TUT STYLES MAKE DEBUT

The Sentinel had the prompting of a true inspiration when it predicted that feminine fashions were in for an Egyptian period. The world-wide attention given to the excavations at the tomb of King Tutankhamen made such a sequence inevitable. And as the shop windows show that the advanced guard of the Egyptian fashions has already arrived, it is of interest to foreshadow some of the things that will follow.

Bobbed hair was going out of style when King Tut's tomb was discovered. But leading hairdressers now say that bobbed hair may rule for another year or two, as part of the King Tut fashion craze now being planned by style dictators.

Bobbed hair and bobbed wings were "the thing" in King Tut's day. Among the rich and royal ladies of Tut's time, the headdress was a masterpiece that must have required weeks of work, elaborate and fantastic hair and jewelry being piled up in huge masses.

Girls who have been plucking their eyebrows into straight lines with tweezers will be glad to learn that such was the style in King Tut's day.

When it came to gowns the most daring Egyptian social leaders wore garments made entirely of transparent beads. Transparent bead dresses ought to be regular dreams!

Jewelry was worn extravagantly, profusely—large rings, bracelets, armlets, necklaces, anklets and headbands. The turquoise was the most favored of precious stones. Fans were carried, also hand mirrors. Nails were stained reddish-yellow with henna juice. Thick oils were rubbed all over the body.

The queer custom among fashionable ladies of ancient Egypt was painting a second set of eyebrows below the eyes, so that the optics resembled sandwiches. An effect so bizarre as that is too tempting to be wholly overlooked by our up-to-date dressers, especially those who are somewhat vampishly inclined. Men, there are some rare sights coming!

In time the country hopes to be out of the Harvy mess.

The most successful invention born of the world war seems to be the non-refillable treasury.

The man who undertakes to find fault never has need of a magnifying glass.

Several of the post-war countries seem to be finding it difficult to tell their own fathers.

The only permanent way to get rid of a dunning creditor is to pay him. (German papers please copy.)

Some members of congress do not mind the grease if they can only get their hands into the pork barrel.

The weather man was correct—there was considerable frost Wednesday morning.

ROTARIANS ENTERTAIN CONFEDERATE VETERANS

At its regular Wednesday luncheon the Nacogdoches Rotary Club was host to the Confederate Veterans of Nacogdoches county. A musical program suitable for the occasion was rendered by Rotarian W. D. Ambrose, assisted by W. S. Beeson and by Smith's Rotary Orchestra. Dr. A. A. Holt, Company A, third Louisiana Cavalry, now a prominent Baptist minister of Arcadia, Florida, made the principal address. When a boy of 14 Dr. Holt ran away from his home in Louisiana and joined the Confederacy. After Lee's surrender, this ragged, barefooted, woolhatted boy trudged back to the old home place—the home itself had been burned—and begun the task of rebuilding as did multiplied thousands of Southern youths. When he enlisted, this lad was supplied with a double barreled shot gun and a sword made from an ordinary fire poker. In a short time he and his comrades were well supplied with arms captured from Federals. The Confederate uniform and the wool hat worn home by the lad served him as a college uniform for two years. The wool hat, he explained, was frequently laundered. Dr. Holt was living in Travis county, Texas, in 1870, and was one of the twenty who surrounded the state capitol at Austin and forced E. J. Davis to surrender the governor's office to Richard Coke. Dr. Holt told about the distress telegram Davis sent to U. S. Grant, then president, telling Grant that he was surrounded by Confederate soldiers and asking for United States troops to protect him. Grant's wire was in substance this: "You have been governor of Texas for four years. If in this time you have not made enough friends to protect you, I decline to interfere."

In closing the speaker paid a high tribute to the Stars and Stripes, "a flag," he stated, "dear to the heart of every Confederate veteran."

The Rotary Club has offered each veteran who will go a free trip to the Reunion at New Orleans. It is expected that twenty-five veterans will accept this offer. The veterans present were: John Burrows, 81, Co. H, Fourth Texas Cavalry, Green's Brigade, Nacogdoches; A. L. Tindall, 78, Co. H Fourth Texas Cavalry, Green's Brigade, Nacogdoches; F. G. Criley, 77, Co. D Sixth Louisiana Cavalry, Nacogdoches; B. F. McBee, 77, Co. A Fifty-Fifth Alabama Regiment, Morgan's Brigade, Nacogdoches; Elias Pasche, 83, Co. H Fourth Texas Cavalry, Green's Brigade, Nacogdoches; George W. Shofner, 76, Captain Eubank's Company, Scott's Regiment, Nacogdoches; J. H. Watkins, 76, Captain Eubank's Company, Scott's Regiment; Sam Johnson, 83, Mitchell's Regiment, Alabama, Oklahoma City; Joe Stribling, 72, Co. G, Twenty-fifth Arkansas Regiment, Churchill's Division, Nacogdoches; Ben F. Evans, 77, Co. H Twelfth Kentucky Cavalry, Nacogdoches; Augustus Logan, 79, Co. C, 6th South Carolina Cavalry, Butler's Brigade; M. V. Baugh, 85, Co. H, Fourth Texas Cavalry, Hardeman's Regiment, Green's Brigade; John B. Nelson, 75, Co. G, Eighth Texas Infantry, Young's Regiment, Wall's Brigade; W. J. Green, 77, Co. F, Sixty-Third Alabama Infantry, Nacogdoches; W. J. Crossland, 77, Co. I, Thirty-Fifth Texas Cavalry, Nacogdoches; James Pettus, 77, Co. G, Twenty-seventh Mississippi Regiment, Nacogdoches; G. K. Clark, 76, Co. F, Third Georgia Reserves, Appleby, Texas; W. B. Parrish, 81, Co. G, 8th Regiment, Walker's Division, Nacogdoches; J. H. Haltom, 88, Co. A, Seventeenth Texas Cavalry (dismounted), Nacogdoches; J. B. Rushing, 78, Co. H, Eleventh Texas Cavalry, Reynolds' Regiment, Walker's Division, Nacogdoches; J. R. Richardson, 78, Co. A, Fourth Alabama Cavalry, Russell's Regiment, Mahl; T. B. Barker, 82, Co. L, Sixth Alabama Regiment, Chireno; A. J. Holt, 75, Co. A, Third Louisiana Cavalry.

The aggregate age of these twenty old soldiers is 1,568 years, an average of 78 2-3 years each. Mr. J. H. Haltom is the oldest of the old company, the next youngest of the "boys" being M. V. Baugh, 85, Elias Pasche, 83, Sam Johnson, 83, John Burrows, 81, and Wm. B. Parrish, 81. The youngest was John B. Nelson, 75.

President "Bob" made an opening address which his friends pronounced more than equal to the occasion. It was brief, pointed, logical, eloquent, and gave exactly the right "cue" to the masterful address of Dr. Holt, which followed.

Decorations were under the direction of Rotarian "Andy" (Bob) Lindsey. "Bob" Lindsey possesses a thousand and special qualifications and among these is that easy, graceful, tactful, thoughtful way of doing the right thing at the right time. As a host "Andy" is in a class by himself. His suit are found only one to the community. In looking after the wants of the veterans, "Chairman" Lindsey was at his best.

It is safe to say that "Old Black Joe," dear to the hearts of Southerners, young and old, was never rendered with more tender, touching sweetness than on this occasion when sung by Nacogdoches' nightingale, Mrs. Ambrose, assisted by our own Will Beeson.

"Dixie" followed and the entire audience joined in the stirring chorus. And whatever the veterans' voices may have lacked in "timbre" was more than compensated for in this old Southern melody by the unmistakable note of sweet sadness in the cracked voices of men who had in the buoyancy and prime of young manhood, heard and heeded the martial strains of this great wartime song.

First thing Senator Lodge knows, they will have him figuring in some kind of an entangling alliance.

If half the world doesn't know how the other half lives it is not because it isn't trying to find out.

AUTOMOBILE HERE TO STAY

Foolish to Compare it to Popular "Craze" That Merely Bloomed for a Time.

"If the automobile craze continues," quipped a Man Who Loves to Talk, "what will we do for roads for the cars to run on? Just now all the main roads around the city are used to capacity on nice Sundays, and it is common knowledge that downtown streets are so jammed at times that a man can walk on the sidewalk faster than a car can travel in the street. Shall we have to double-deck our streets?"

"Possibly," replied the Man Who Remembers. "But the use of automobiles is not a craze. It is too enduring for a craze. The roller-skating epidemic that swept the country in the middle eighties was a craze. Remember how rinks sprang up in every town? Bicycle riding ten years later was a craze. The Williamsburgh bridge was built while it was at its height, and plans for the bridge called for a space devoted exclusively to bikes, but the craze passed before the bridge was completed.

"Ping-pong was a craze that bloomed in the morning and died at night, though while it lasted there were ping-pong clubs, tournaments and contests. But baseball, politics and the motorcar are not crazes. They are institutions."—New York Sun.

CHANGES IN ARCTIC OCEAN

Seals Said to Be Finding Temperature a Little Too High, and Ice is Less Plentiful.

The Arctic ocean is warming up, icebergs are growing scarce and in some places the seals are finding the water too hot, according to a report to the Commerce department from Consul Pitt at Bergen.

Reports from fishermen, seal hunters and explorers all point to a radical change in climatic conditions and hitherto unheard of temperatures in the Arctic zone. Exploration expeditions reporting that scarcely any ice has been encountered as far north as 81 degrees 20 minutes. Soundings to a depth of 2,000 meters showed the Gulf stream still warm.

Great masses of ice have been replaced by moraines of earth and stones, while at many points well-known glaciers have disappeared. Very few seals and no white fish are being found in the eastern Arctic, while vast shoals of herring and smelts, which never before have ventured so far north, are being encountered in the old seal-fishing grounds.

AIRPLANES TO LOCATE LAKES

Plan to Use Flying Machines in the Finding and Photographing of Alaskan Inland Waters.

Locating and photographing undiscovered lakes in the national forests of Alaska are the latest uses to which the airplane has been put, says American Forestry, quoting the United States forest service. We read:

"It has long been known that there are many lakes on the headlands and islands traversed by the inside passage between Seattle and Skagway that do not appear on any map. During the New York-Nome flight made by army aviators, lakes were frequently sighted which could not be found on the latest and most authentic maps of the territory. Tales of unknown water bodies are constantly being brought in by trappers and prospectors. Less than a year ago a lake four and one-half miles long and one-half mile wide was discovered at the head of Short bay. This lake has over 1,000 acres of surface area and is less than one and one-quarter miles from tidewater, yet because of the surrounding territory's rough topography has remained unknown and unnamed. Recognizing that many others of these 'lost lakes' may be sources of valuable water power, the forest service has laid plans to map this no man's land of the North by means of aerial photographs. A few days' flight, it is said will be sufficient to cover the area with a degree of accuracy that would require many years and great expense to accomplish by ordinary methods. The work, which has been approved by the federal power commission, will be done by airplane, flying from Ketchikan as a base."

DAUGHTER IS LIKE A DIFFERENT GIRL

Dallas Mother Very Much Distressed About her Daughter's Health

STELLA VITAE BRINGS RELIEF

Mrs. T. B. Brown States Her Daughter is Now Like A Different Person

"Some other mother may have a daughter afflicted like mine was, and that's the reason I feel that I should tell what Stella Vitae did for my girl," recently said Mrs. T. B. Brown of 608 Fletcher street, Dallas, Texas. "I was really distressed about my daughter's condition, as for months at a time she would not have a period and her health, I was afraid, was breaking down. She often complained of headaches and dragging-down pains all through her body clean through to her back. She also felt dizzy at times and would have to lie down until the spell wore off.

"I gave her different kinds of medicines, hoping to find something that would bring her periods in a regular way and so end her troubles. But nothing I gave her did her any good till she started taking Stella Vitae. Soon after starting on this preparation she began to improve and now she is all right and never has any trouble at all."

Note.—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

APPLEBY SCHOOL NOTES

Thelma Matthews and Ethel Bass have been absent this week on account of illness.

Lillian: "Mrs. Stallings' teeth are like stars"

May: "How's that?"

Lillian: "Because they come out at night."

The tenth grade entertained Monday morning with the following program:

Song.—Student body.

Prayer.—Miss Pounds.

Song.—"When You and I Were Young, Maggie."—Misses Bass and Blake.

Dialogue.—By Laura Melton and Jewel Slay.

March.—By Mrs. Stallings.

Our visitors were Mrs. M. Hill, Miss Julia Hill and Mrs. Clara Blake. We are always glad to have visitors with us.

Mr. Otha Barr and Miss Ava Coleman embarked upon the sea of matrimony Monday afternoon. They left for Port Arthur on the Friday train. We hope they will have "smooth sailing." They were ex-students of this school.

"The world is all wrong," sighed Mr. Stallings as he picked up John Prince's map.

Ima Boyett was absent last week on account of the death of her cousin, Glynn Coats.

Mrs. J. B. Tillery and Mrs. Eloise Blake were visitors to the sixth and Friday morning.

Mr. Stallings: "Joe, why are you so late this morning?"

Joe: "Well, you see, it's this way: As I was coming to school I looked over in a barrel of molasses and fell in. I had to go back home and my ma licked me."

Miss Lita Muckleroy spent the week-end with Miss Laura Melton. She reported a most enjoyable time.

We had a class meeting last week and decided to beautify our school grounds. We had a half holiday the 24 and several of the boys went to the woods and got shade trees to set out. While the boys were gone the girls of each grade were planning what kind of flowers to plant and where to plant them.

Mrs. Stallings—"Why do you fight-housekeep?"

Miss Brodbeck—"Practice makes perfect!"

Miss Lillias—"Spell needle, Adam."

Miss Lillias—"It has no 'l' in it."

Adas—"Well, it isn't any good, then."

James Hill had the misfortune of getting dogbit last Saturday. The dog's head was sent to Austin for examination. Friends were glad when the telegram came Sunday stating there was no evidence of rabies in the animal's brain.

Seventh Grade

We are progressing nicely in our school work with so many absent, but think in a few days they will be able to attend school again.

We are all sad over the death of one of our school mates, Glenn Coats.

As we have finished physiology, we are glad to take agriculture. Jewel Slay has taken the place of our historian.

Dying Men and Women Do Your Duty

Your first duty is to make your peace with God. Your next duty is to provide for those who are dependent upon you for support and while living procure Life Insurance for your loved ones, should you be called to Eternity. The uncertainty of life and the certainty of death prompt thoughtful men and women to procure Life Insurance. The "Dorsey Plan" and the "Dorsey Management" is sound, reliable Life Insurance Protection that is in reach of the poorest people and the poorer you are the worse your loved ones need protection should you be called to the Great Beyond from whence no man ever returneth.

Bear in mind, all County Life Insurance is not the same, it is the management that assures success or failure in every business enterprise. Beware of imitators who tell you it is the same thing. That's what the Secretary and Agent said about the One Hundred and One Club and they had good directors, but the thing failed in just a few months regardless of the directors.

See or write us. We have a place for you in Orders that have passed the experimental stage and that is worth $1,000.00 the day you get it should you die. Separate Orders for the young and middle aged and elderly people. See or write to us today.

NACOGDOCHES, TEXAS

HOME PATRONAGE

That is the trouble with old Nacogdoches—her people won't stick together like some of our near neighbors. Here in Nacogdoches, people who can, by financial power at their hands, will not go into any enterprise unless they can see big returns for themselves, not caring for the fellow who needs help that would get it by such enterprises. Nacogdoches could have been a city of ten thousand and easily if it had not been for the selfish mossbacks. Now I will bet some galoot kicks at that. Some of you are always hollering "patronize home." That I believe in strongly, but when a person can save 20 to 50 percent on his money after paying all shipping charges, and get the same article then he should order. Then, there are reasons some of you should not be patronized. We have good insurance companies here that are in for a living. Yet you give your insurance to outside companies. You see your business dwindle, rub your eyes, arouse yourself and see why.

And some of you have to go to the city to have your dental work done, especially plate work, telling the city man there is no one at home that is up, when you have right in your little burg that you have grown too big for because you have the money. Dentists that have taken post-graduate courses side by side in every case that the big dogs you go to have, all the way from New York to San Francisco, and your own little man back home has taken two to one to some you go to and can duplicate if not do better work than you are getting done by the city man and doing your home man an injury by recommending to all of your friends to go to the city man. And there are some that look like they have good sense that want cheap work and go to the city to the dental parlor advertisers. One party that a certain dentist had traded with for years went to the city to get a set of teeth. He saved $4 on the job, but he had to pay railroad fare, hotel bills, get on a drunk and spent $25, lost his home customers to boot. So that is the way of some of you. Go to your home man and pay him like you do the city man and he will be able to put in time to as good job of it, if not better. So it is likewise the same in all lines. Get right at home with the people who made you what you are financially. Observer.

These are times when every man who has a grouch can find some way of expressing it.

The modern reformer seems to think that beauty is as beauty doesn't.

A writer says he sees "dawn for reformers." If it is the dawn of reform, he needn't hurry it any.

TWO BLUNDERS

Two blunders, which would prove very misleading unless corrected, crept into the 'Sentinel's' columns Tuesday. First—in the W. O. W. page advertisement the paper was made to say the rental value of the new building was $34,000 per annum, when it should have read $3,400, which would make quite a difference. That was the Sentinel's error. The second mistake was in giving the date of the first meeting in the new building as Tuesday, March 20, when it should have been Tuesday, March 13. That was the other fellow's error.

Remember the date of the meeting is Tuesday, March 13.

At the meeting Tuesday night there was an attendance of 203 members and three visitors, the largest in the history of the camp, and 36 new applications for membership received. The camp is growing rapidly.

In the attendance contest, Will Pack's side had 103 present and GIP 'children's' side 100. This leaves Mr. Childress one ahead to the present count. The contest will close next Tuesday night at the first meeting in the camp's new home.

R. H. McDill of Dallas, state manager for the W. O. W. will be here at the next meeting and a great time is expected.

WHAT LIMITS CROP YIELDS

By J. C. Pridmore

At the conclusion of the series of agricultural meetings held recently in Nacogdoches county under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. L. L. Sturdevant, president of the Stone Fort National Bank, was so impressed with the facts brought out in the discussions at the meetings that he has requested a summary on some of the essential points, an illustration which was used and a somewhat detailed explanation as well as an application of the illustration to Nacogdoches farm conditions. The purpose of this article is to review briefly some of these facts brought out in those meetings.

One of the first of these facts which we need to keep before us is that Nacogdoches county is primarily an agricultural county. The chief interests here are farming. The prosperity of the community is governed by the prosperity of the farmers.

Cotton is the important cash crop produced on the 4,219 farms of the county. The average area in cultivation per farm is nearly 47 acres, 14 of which is devoted to cotton. Thirteen acres is given over to corn as an average in the county.

Safety in farming is as essential as it is in banking or in the conduct of other business. The farmers of Nacogdoches county, however, are not following a safe system of husbandry because half of them buy feed in the form of hay, corn or oats when they should be growing it.

While the lands of Nacogdoches county are comparatively fertile in their virgin condition, the crop yields decrease gradually after the first few years of cropping. This is due to the fact that the land is allowed to wash away because of a lack of terracing, and to the loss of plant food by the removal of crops. Because of this loss of plant food from these two sources the yields of cotton, the principal source of money for farmers of the county, last year reached the low limit of 65 pounds of lint per acre or less than two bales of cotton per farm for the county. These facts, when studied in the light of the needs of the farmers and their families to maintain a high standard of living, are somewhat discouraging. There is hope, however, in the knowledge that when the soils are properly handled they can be made more productive. As was stated in the meetings, the starting point of making them more productive is terracing, the growth of legumes, such as beans and peas, and letting these go back into the land as often as possible, and the proper use of the right kind and amount of fertilizers. Along with these points we should emphasize the necessity of thick spacing of cotton for biggest yields, letting the rows be around three or three and one-half feet apart, leaving from two to three stalks per hill every hoe's width.

The proper use of the right kind and quantity of fertilizers within itself is a tremendously big question as was brought out in the meetings of last week. This is true notwithstanding the fact that only 35 farmers in the county last year used fertilizers. Both the red and the light gray lands are responsive, and when the proper kind of fertilizers are selected and applied as they should be, profitable returns can be obtained from them. The difficulty in the way usually is in determining or deciding what kind of fertilizer to use.

There are several ways in which this matter can be settled. One is by the analysis of soils. This is valuable only when plant food deficiencies are shown in the analysis. Dr. Fraps of the A. & M. College and the State Chemist of Texas, has shown by the analysis of the soils similar to those prevailing in this county that both nitrogen and phosphoric acid, two important plant food elements, are deficient to such an extent in these lands that there is not enough present in the soil to make more than 12 bushels of corn per acre nor more than 112 pounds of lint cotton as a general average. The findings of Dr. Fraps in this connection could be taken as a basis for fertilization for profitable returns.

Another way of determining the fertilizer needs is by actual tests although this is scarcely necessary because sufficient work of this kind has been done on such soils as we have here to know pretty definitely the kind and quantity of fertilizers to use for best returns.

After all has been done and said, the main purpose is to apply fertilizer which contains the plant food elements, in which the soil is most deficient and which determines the crop yields. The plant food element existing in the soil in the smallest quantity unfortunately determines the yield of the crop. As the strength of a chain is determined by its weakest link so also is the yield of a given crop on any soil determined by the amount of one particular plant food element which may be deficient in the soil. The work was continued year after year with accompanying illustration which, by way of explanation, we can call a tub:

EVERY TRACE OF FLU DISAPPEARS

Dreadful After-Effects Entirely Overcome, States Atlanta Citizen, Gains 18 Pounds

"I have reaped such great benefits from taking Tanlac that I can tell the world it is a truly wonderful medicine," recently declared A. W. Wheeler, 185 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., special representative of the Wright Co., dealers in hotel equipment.

"I suffered with nervous indigestion a year or more, lost nearly twenty pounds and became badly weakened. Then in this run-down state, I was stricken with flu and it left me in a very critical condition. I had no appetite, could not digest properly the little food I did eat, and was too nervous to sleep.

"Hearing of Tanlac through some friends I concluded to test it for myself. It ended my indigestion, built me up eighteen pounds, and ever since it set me right I have enjoyed excellent health. I gladly recommend the treatment, not only for what it has done for me, but also for the good it has done a number my friends and relatives."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.

WORDS OF SYMPATHY

Sacul, Texas, March 4, 1923.
Mrs. Josie B. Windsor and the Nacogdoches-Tucker Chapel Sunday-school, Nacogdoches, Texas:
Dear Friends—We, the Sacul Sunday-school assembled this, the 4th day of March, 1923, do hereby express our sympathy to you, dear friends, in the loss of our good Brother Windsor by sending a few words of comfort. Having known him for the last three years and longer, we formed acquaintance that we trusted would last longer, but we submit to the Providences of God.
Surely the Sunday-school there has our prayers and sympathy and we trust another will take the place of Brother Windsor in the vineyard of the Master.
In the midst of our tears we can look to Him who doeth all things well. Hoping these few lines will lift the burden that lies so heavy upon you, we remain,
Your truest friends,
Signed: Sacul Sunday-school, Arthur Clemons, Pastor, W. C. White, Superintendent, Ruth Button, Secretary.

INGROWN TOE NAIL

Turns out itself

A noted authority says that a few crops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

There are all kinds of cheap printing—but none of it is really cheap—at least not on a basis of value. Cheap stuff is usually worth almost what it costs. Our printing isn't the cheapest you can get, but it's as good as the best.

NEFF WIELDS VETO

Austin, March 1.—Governor Neff today vetoed six measures, including bills creating district courts in Bexar, Tarrant and Hidalgo counties. The others were the insurance reciprocity bill, a measure for codifying the state laws and the bill adding two bankers to the state banking board. The Burkett bill providing for the creation of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland was passed by the senate by a vote of 23 to 5.

Agreement on a compromise plan on the Pope textbook bill between the senate and house conference committees is expected to be completed today. Senator Stuart of Fort Worth announced. This would extend the contract in effect December 1st until 1925 and leave to the state commission the awarding of new contracts. The senate conference committee will meet late today to take final action. The house members have agreed to it.

Eight appointees by Governor Neff were confirmed by the senate, including the two new members of the railroad commission, and confirmed two members of the textbook commission. Action on the appointment of Mrs. Charles DeGroff of El Paso on the Texas Technology board was deferred.

Overrides Veto

Austin, Texas, March 1.—The senate passed the Hidalgo and Tarrant court bills over the governor's veto. The senate passed a resolution asking officials of the extension service of the University of Texas to submit a special session plan for decreasing illiteracy in Texas. Passed bills creating the Ninety-second and reorganizing the Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Judicial Districts. Committees reported favorably the gasoline tax bill levying two cents per gallon and the bill increasing the maximum road tax levy from 30 cents to $1.00.

The house passed bills requiring newspaper publishers not owning $10,000 worth of property to make bond for the protection of persons obtaining libel judgments; requiring adequate fire escape on buildings of three or more stories; accepting the provisions of the congressional vocational education act. A measure authorizing the consolidation of the Frisco and five other Texas lines was completed and probably will be introduced Monday, Senator Stuart stated.

THE FINNISH DEBT

Washington, March 1.—The minister from Finland, Dr. Alex Leonard Astrom, made an appointment with Secretary Mellon for tomorrow to begin preliminary conversations on the refunding of the Finnish government's debt to the United States. The amount is $8,281,926 in principal and about $1,150,000 accrued unpaid interest.

ECHO OF THE BIG STRIKE

Washington, March 1.—A resolution requesting the president to use his good offices toward settlement of the remaining disputes of the striking railroad shophmen was introduced by Senator Sheppard of Texas.

FATAL FLAREBACK

Manila, P. I., March 1.—Six enlisted men of the United States destroyer Hulbert of the Asiatic fleet were burned to death in an explosion in the boiler room, caused by a flareback of oil. No others were injured.

RAILROAD TAXATION

Chicago, March 2.—Taxes charged to railroads in 1922 increased 10 1/2 percent over 1921, Hale Holden, chairman of the Western Railways Committee on Public Relations, announced today. He said they amounted to $304,885,158, and said the benefits which might have been derived from reduced rates and expenses were seriously reduced by the increase in taxes.

STATE REVENUE FUND AGAIN ON CASH BASIS

Austin, Texas, March 1.—For the first time since last September, the state general revenue fund went on a cash basis Wednesday, State Treasurer C. V. Terrell announced.

A call for warrants amounting to more than $500,000 was issued Wednesday morning and it was announced in the senate that the treasury has sufficient funds to meet all outstanding warrants. The balance in the general revenue fund today was nearly $1,000,000, it was said.

THE LEGISLATURE

Austin, Texas, March 3.—The house engrossed, by a vote of 69 to 32, the Stroder-Howeth bill prohibiting the teaching of evolution in all public institutions of learning in the state. Evolution is interpreted as the theory that mankind sprang from a lower form of animal life. The bill forbids teaching it as a fact.

The state conference committee on the Pope textbook bill reported that it had reached an agreement with the house committee on a compromise plan which provides for the extension of contracts let by the commission last December to 1925, and permits the commission to award new contracts under certain conditions. It also was agreed to introduce a separate measure to permit the filing of suits to test the legality of the recent awards. The agreement was reached last night.

The Jones "truth-in-fabric" house bill was passed by the senate without a record vote and goes to the governor. If approved, it will require clothing manufacturers and merchandising establishments to place labels on all articles giving the amount of wool contained.

Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, superintendent of the girls' training school at Gainesville, testified before the house investigating committee yesterday, it became known today. She testified as to conditions in the school in general and the system of paroling in particular. The final hearing of the investigation will be held tonight, after which the committee begins the preparation of its report.

Recommendation that the penitentiary be relocated in Central Texas by the joint legislative commission became certain today when eight of the 15 members answered questionnaires favoring centralization.

The house adopted, by a vote of 93 to 22, the conference committee report on the Pope Textbook bill. The senate passed a bill outlining the requirements of fire escapes on buildings of over two stories and the constitutional amendment proposal authorizing counties to increase the road fund tax from 30 cents to $1.00 per $100.00 valuation, and a resolution urging organizations to contribute to a fund for collecting historical information concerning Confederate sailors.

San Antonio, Texas, March 3.—Six giant DeHaviland planes, carrying 12 officers of the air service, took off Johnson, negro, is closely guarded today. He was brought here for safe-keeping to prevent possible violence from Kelly Field about 8 o'clock this south, turning toward Houston.

GERMAN TOWNS FINED

Essen, March 2.—The town of Bochum was fined 35,000,000 marks because two news dealers were beaten by Germans for selling French newspapers. Kettwig, where the military telephone lines were cut, was fined 1,000,000 marks.

FIVE ARRESTS AT TIMPSON

Timpson, Texas, March 3.—Five arrests have been made in connection with the death of T. R. Musselman, whose body was found by two little girls near the Timpson lignite mines last Saturday. When the body was found officers failed to secure identification. The body was buried, but investigation was reopened and the body exhumed Thursday.

A shotgun wad and No. 4 shot were found in a wound in the man's head. Identification was followed by five arrests. Four of those arrested are women and one man, who was accused by one of the women of having threatened Musselman.

CONTEST REPORTED

Washington, March 3.—The contested nomination of James G. McNary of Mexico, to be comptroller of the currency was reported favorably by the senate banking committee.

Opponents of McNary's confirmation predicted that despite the favorable recommendation the nomination probably would fail with the adjournment of congress tomorrow. A recess appointment by President Harding is expected.

KLAN OFFICER ARRESTED

Atlanta, Ga., March 3.—Edward Young Clarke, former imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, was arrested here today on an indictment by the federal grand jury at Houston, Texas, charging violation of the Mann act. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Cal. Coolidge will be a candidate for reelection. The job isn't so bad after one has got used to it.

DREADED CATTLE DISEASE

Fort Worth, Texas, March 2.—A potent danger in the form of one of the most malignant of live stock diseases is creeping up the west coast of Central America in Guatemala and Honduras and warning has just been sounded by the bureau of animal industry and the livestock sanitary commission of Texas that the vigilance of their inspectors and veterinarians must be redoubled to prevent its introduction into the United States.

The danger is the foot and mouth disease.

The foot and mouth disease is not fatal to a large percentage of the livestock suffering from it, but its greatest malignance lies in the fact that it spreads like wild fire and almost ruins the market value of livestock suffering from it. Further, an animal which has suffered from it cannot be fattened properly for market.

Though greatest losses have occurred from the foot and mouth disease among cattle, its ravages are visited upon hogs, sheep, goats, deer and even chickens. Men also are subject to the disease, though the human form is less dangerous than that of animals.

Warning was received from Dr. Harry Grafke, inspector in charge of Texas, Saturday from Washington headquarters of the bureau of animal industry, declaring that it is considered the spreading diseases in Honduras and Guatemala is an imminent danger to Texas particularly. It is pointed out that from these Central American countries the disease quickly can jump into unprotected Mexico and thence through that country to the Texas border. The warning comes from Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau.

It is declared that the outbreak in the Northeast in 1914-16 quickly spread into twenty-two states, causing the death of 172,000 animals; 77,000 head of cattle alone being slaughtered to stop the spread of the disease. The cost was estimated at $9,000,000, which was spent by the federal government and states in combatting the disease and the loss was in excess of $5,000,000. The outbreak extended west to Montana and was severe in Kansas and Minnesota.

The most rigid sanitary regulations must be observed along the Mexican border, Dr. Grafke declared Saturday, to prevent the introduction of the disease into Texas. All inspectors of the department of agriculture along the Mexican border have been instructed to exercise the utmost caution in conducting examinations of cattle being shipped into the United States from Mexico, he said.

CHAPEL EXERCISES AT SCHOOL FRIDAY

Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president of the normal, made an interesting address on the historical importance of March 2d and its patriotic celebration. June C. Harris also made an interesting talk urging the celebration of March 2d and April 21 by a holiday in the schools.

Roland Jones of the school board was also present and made a delightful talk to the school and authorized the granting of a half-holiday Friday.

SWEETWATER WILL CELEBRATE

Austin, Texas, March 1.—Governor Neff and a delegation of legislators left today for Sweetwater, where the signing of the Texas Technology bill will be celebrated tomorrow.

McADOO FOR PRESIDENT

Austin, Texas, March 1.—A statewide conference to organize a McAdoo for president club will be held here March 6. Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock stated. Petitions calling for the conference have been signed by legislators. It will urge the candidacy of William G. McAdoo for president of the United States.

POSTMASTER BOUNCED

Fort Worth, Texas, March 2.—Robert E. Sheer, postmaster appointed by Wilson eight years ago, today received a telegram from Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett relieving him. His term expired last September. Pending the appointment of a successor, he was told to turn over the office to postal inspectors.

SAY "BAYER" when you buy Aspirin

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians for over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headaches, toothache, earache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic-acidester of Salicylicacid.

CHARLIE GETS JILTED BUT NOW HAPPY AGAIN

Los Angeles, Cal., March 2.—Pola Negri, screen tragedienne, and Charles Chaplin, the comedian, are re-engaged today after a six-hour break. Chaplin denied telling the news papers that he was too poor to marry, which precipitated the breaking of the engagement.

Y. M. C. A. AT LUFKIN

The County Executive Committee of the Angelina County Work Division of the Young Men's Christian Association held a luncheon at the Bonner Hotel in Lufkin Friday noon.

Those attending the luncheon from Angelina county were Wood Newsome, Rev. S. O. Landis, Dr. T. A. Taylor, Prof. I. A. Coston, W. L. West, Will Agee and A. E. Strass, both of Diboll. W. C. Trout, A. E. Percy, W. R. McMullen, Dr. J. C. Vanneys, C. D. Thornton, State County Work Secretary; G. G. Cross, Angelina County Work Secretary; A. E. Roberts, International County Work Secretary, New York.

Attending as guests from Nacogdoches were Oscar Matthews, H. L. McKnight, G. A. Blount, Ben T. Wilson and Judge V. E. Middlebrook.

Angelina County has recently employed Mr. Cross to do Y. M. C. A. work in the rural districts. His report covering the two first months of work was full of interest.

International Secretary Roberts made a 15-minute talk to the luncheon group that proved beyond any doubt that he is the right man for the place. Mr. Roberts was one of a group of some 60 men who visited Europe in 1913 to study the problem of rural development as it has been partially worked out over there. In speaking of this trip, Mr. Roberts paid high tribute to the two Texans, Col. Clarence inn the West and Northwest Texsey, who were members of this commission.

The Nacogdoches visitors were very favorably impressed with the County Work plan of the Y. M. C. A.

JACOBS-EASON.

Mr. William Jacobs of Dallas and Miss Marian Eason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eason of this city, were married at the Methodist church at 10:30 Saturday morning by Rev. E. G. Cooke, the pastor, and proved to be perhaps the most brilliant affair of the season. The church was filled with friends of the bride, who is one of Nacogdoches' most popular and attractive young ladies, and our people will join in wishing for her and her husband a long, prosperous and happy life. They left for Dallas immediately after the ceremony and will make their home in that city.

Every man is convinced that he has enough moral stamina to stand prosperity.

MOTHER! MOVE

CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you will have a well, playful child again. Even a cross, feverish child loves its "fruity" taste, and mothers can rest easy because it never fails to work all the sore bile and poisons right out of the stomach and bowels without griping or upsetting the child.

DeGROFF NOMINATION REPORTED FAVORABLY

Austin, Texas, March 5.—The appointment of Mrs. Charles DeGroff of El Paso as a member of the board of regents of the Texas Technology College was reported favorably today by the senate committee on nominations followed by a statement by Senator Dudley of El Paso withdrawing opposition to the confirmation.

RECESS APPOINTMENTS

Washington, March 5.—President Harding gave recess appointments to Elmer Landis, of Ohio, republican, and Merton L. Corey of Nebraska, democras, as directors of the Federal Farm Loan Board. James G. McNary, of New Mexico, whose nomination as comptroller of the currency failed of confirmation by the senate, was offered a recess appointment, but replied that he could not accept. D. R. Crissinger, the present comptroller, will continue in office for the present, despite the fact that his nomination was confirmed as governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

AVIATORS AT MONTGOMERY

Montgomery, Ala., March 5.—Twelve officers of the air service, flying in six DeHaviland airplanes from San Antonio, Texas, to San Juan, Porto Rico, expect to hop off from Maxwell field here this afternoon for Arcadia, Fla., the next leg of the 2,850-mile trip.

Later it was announced the plan was not to hop off until tomorrow, because necessary repairs can not be completed before night.

W. E. McMillon of Rayburn, representing the Russell Grader Company of Dallas, is doing some very timely and valuable road demonstration work at the Burrows place, about two miles out on the Appleby road. He is remarking a stretch of highway by methods used by his company, and involves widening of the roadbed, reducing the grade and "hardening" the surface so it will stand up under the most trying conditions. He is doing this work free of charge, just to demonstrate what he could really do if he were turned loose on the road-building project in this county. His work at the Burrows place should be visited and inspected by all interested.

The Sentinel has seen a letter purporting to chronicle the confession of one of the parties arrested for the murder of the man, Mr. Musselman, who was killed near Timpson a short time ago. If the details are as depicted by this alleged confession, the crime was one of the most heartless and brutal in the history of East Texas. A preliminary hearing was set for today (Monday) at Timpson.

There are not statues erected to men who thought it best to let well enough alone.

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you will have a well, playful child again. Even a cross, feverish child loves its "fruity" taste, and mothers can rest easy because it never fails to work all the sore bile and poisons right out of the stomach and bowels without griping or upsetting the child. Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottles. Mother, you must say "California". Beware any imitation.

Nervous Break-Down

MRS. ANNIE LANGE, of R. F. D. 1, Burlington, Tex., writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous break-down of some kind. . . I was very weak and so nervous. I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, tremble, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly. I began the use of Cardui to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I soon saw a great improvement, so I kept it up. I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Am now able to do all my housework and a great deal of my work besides."

If you are weak, run-down, nervous and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it helped Mrs. Lange and has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years. Ask for, and insist on, Cardui.

Mrs. R. L. Edwards of Tyler was called here Wednesday by the serious illness of her cousin, Mrs. George Weaver.

Mr. T. C. Butler, one of the Sentinel's good Woden friends, was a pleasant visitor at the office Thursday morning.

Mrs. T. Tilford returned Thursday from Dallas, accompanied by her son, Harry, who has been sick for the past several weeks.

Holman Warren, charged with assault to murder, was convicted of simple assault in district court Friday and fined $10 and costs.

Mrs. Lucy Grisham, mother of Mrs. H. L. McKnight, left at noon Friday for a visit with relatives at Turney and Dialville.

Mr. J. W. Owens, one of the progressive farmers of the Flatwoods neighborhood, was a business visitor in the city Friday morning.

Rev. A. J. Holt preached to a fair-sized congregation at the Baptist church Thursday night. He will continue the meetings into next week and everybody is invited to hear him.

The Chamber of Commerce office has been moved from the City Hall to the Hazle Building on East Main street. The office secured is the southeast corner room which gives plenty of light and ventilation. Secretary McKnight was busy Saturday cleaning and "brightening up the corner," and invites his friends to call.

Mr. Lee Gaston, recently in the drug business here, has accepted a position with Cason, Monk & Company and may now be found behind the counters of that popular establishment.

THE ROTARIANS

Regular meeting Wednesday, February 28th, 1923, Vice President Flat Fork presiding.

Absentees: Hal Brown, Little Joe Langston, Bill Nye Tilford, and Jack Waste.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Guests—Rotarian Tom Cleveland of Beaumont. Tom talked to us on the preparations his city is making to entertain the Rotarians who will meet there for the 13th District Conference on March 20th and 21st.

John Crawford and Red Muller sang a duet, accompanied by our famous orchestra, that started an avalanche of encore unprecedented.

The committee appointed to see that as many members as can possibly go to Beaumont was granted further time to complete their job.

The entire membership present sang two songs.

A motion prevailed that we fine any member $1.00 who, when slated to give his classification talk, fails to do so, and that said fine be imposed at every regular meeting thereafter until such member makes his talk.

The chairman was duly asked to appoint a committee to solicit funds for defraying the expenses of the Confederate Veterans from here who will attend the Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans in New Orleans April 10th to 14th: Bud Baker, Hye McKnight, Lucky Thomas and Guy Blount were appointed to serve on said committee.

A motion prevailed that Walter Davis should invite the Confederate Veterans here and about here to be our honor guests at next Wednesday's (March 7th, 1923,) luncheon.

Tom Summers and Link Summers will entertain us on March 14 with their respective classification talks.

Time was up so meeting was adjourned.

MRS. MARY ANNE WEAVER

Mrs. Mary Annie Weaver, widow of the late George H. Weaver, died at her home in this city at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, March 1, 1923. Her death was expected, as she had been desperately ill for several days, but it was a grievous shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Weaver was a daughter of Dr. Rook, a former well-known physician of Douglass, and was born at that place. Her husband preceded her to the grave several years ago.

She leaves nine children, as follows: Mrs. W. G. Reid, Mrs. R. D. Burrows, Mrs. Will Cox, Mrs. Rho Cox, Jim Weaver and Elmer Weaver of Nacogdoches; Mrs. George Poulter and Miss Ocie Weaver of Ardmore, Okla.; and Mrs. Floyd Matthews of McGregor. All were with her when she passed away. There are many other relatives to mourn her death.

Funeral services were held at the home at 3:30 Friday afternoon by Rev. E. G. Cooke, pastor of the Methodist church, and interment in Oak Grove cemetery followed, Cason, Monk & Company having charge of the arrangements.

The following acted as pallbearers: A. Y. Donegan, B. H. Wilson, F. H. Tucker, J. C. Harris, R. F. Davis, K. P. Branch, C. E. Richardson and W. C. Fouts.

The floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful, and came as a loving tribute from those who had known her in life and remembered her many admirable qualities.

We join in sympathy for the stricken family.

TEX-EX ENTERTAINMENT

The Nacogdoches County Association of Texas-Exes, or alumni and students of the University of Texas, held its annual banquet at Mrs. Lockey's tea room on Friday evening, March 2, in line with Texas-Exes all over the country. The long tables, appropriately decorated with the University colors of orange and white, made an effective setting for the serving of a delicious dinner, which was presided over by Dr. A. A. Nelson as toastmaster.

Dr. Birdwell spoke most interestingly of college education as the student's opportunity to associate with men of great mind and personality, and emphasized the necessity of adequate financial provision by the state for its university so that men of this character might be insured as its teachers.

Mr. R. F. Davis gave a brief appreciation of the service rendered the University through one of the most dangerous and difficult periods of its history by President Vinson, and upon motion the sentiment expressed by him was put in the form of a resolution by the Association, to be spread upon its minutes and to be forwarded to President Vinson, whose recent resignation will soon take effect.

A song charmingly sung by Miss Woolsey, accompanied by Mr. Holland Smith, was followed by a talk by the local president, Mr. Moss Adams, on the work of the Ex-Students' Association and its publication, the Alcaide.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

Mrs. Ben T. Wilson, president; Mr. R. E. Price, vice president; Miss Eleanor Atkinson, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Columbia Shipe, Alcaide Reporter.

The rest of the evening was given over to reminiscences of college days, led by Mr. Moss Adams, and to the singing of college songs, ending with the University classic: "The Eyes of Texas are Upon You."

Guests included the Texas-Exes of this county, their wives, husbands or friends, and were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Moss Adams, A. W. Birdwell, R. F. Davis, Ben T. Wilson, Robert Blackwell, W. D. Burke, Clarence Thompson, Ford Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Nelson, Dr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Misses Johnnie McDonald, Eleanor Atkinson, Tommie Woolsey, Elizabeth Hughes, Mabel Usrey, Anita Huston, Laura Owen, Columbia Shipe and Messrs. A. T. Mast, R. E. Price, Frank Beall, Holland Smith, Richard Hall, Culberson Denman, Guy Blount and Grady Stallings.

The seniors and juniors of the Nacogdoches High School had a big tussle Friday night. The seniors had hoisted their graduation year number, 1923, at the school, and the juniors joined in a scheme to take down the sign and substitute their graduation year numerals, 1924, but abandoned the project after receiving a drubbing at the hands of the seniors. It was a lively scrimmage while it lasted.

WHO EXAMINED THE 60,000,000?

No one doubts that America has its share of mental deficient of the human family, but when one of the latest warnings on the subject, that of a Princeton professor, puts 60,000,000 in this country far below normal, there may be a question as to whether the deductions from statistics on a comparatively few persons are not becoming pretty wild.

It was the psychological tests in the army and navy that gave such a stimulus to speculation of this character. Unquestionably the army tests showed a serious condition, but we must not go too far in our deductions from the statistics of a few millions. One of the statements in this connection is that "statistics show that 45,000,000 in the United States are subnormal and will never have the mentality of a child of 13; another 15,000,000 are feeble-minded and their brain power forever will be that of a child of 8." As the 60,000,000 were not examined, a large number must have been entitled to doubt as to the correctness of the judgment passed upon them by statisticians reasoning from the data on a comparatively few.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my most sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so generously assisted me during the sickness and death of my dear wife. May heaven's choicest blessings rest and abide with you all in my wish.

Letha is gone but not forgotten
Never will her memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
Around the grave where she is laid
It's hard indeed to give you up.
We loved you all too well
While we are drinking sorrow's cup,
Happy with the saints you dwell.
The earthly home you made so bright
Is now so lone and drear,
All seems still as stillness might
Since you from us have gone.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

The story of Ada Isaacs Menken, as recently told in the Sentinel by Henry C. Fuller, is quite romantic, but it omits two small events that are told outside of school.

When she played in Nacogdoches the young men went wild over her charms, and so when she went on and played in Douglass, they went to the show there. Among these were Tom Ochiltree, Thomas Davenport, "Little Hayde Arnold," Jesse Sparks and several others. They expected to find opponents there aspiring to the favor of the angelic Ada; and, as was customary, they carried side arms for jewelry and "red-eye" for snakebites. There was "a hot time in the old town that night."

Later on Tom Ochiltree chanced to be in Gay Paris while Ada was there sailing around among the grandees. She was driving by the hotel where Tom was standing with some young folks, and told them he was going to greet her. They laughed at his presumption, thinking it a joke. The carriage stopped in front of the hotel and Tom stepped out to it briskly. When Ada saw him she joyously exclaimed, "Why, howdy, Tom," and he responded "Howdy, Ada." A warm handshake was executed. Tom was noted for such yarns as this, proud of it.

He once represented himself in London as the celebrated African explorer Stanley. Such a big to-do was created that Tom had to haul in his horns, or yáms.

Mr. J. O. Dyer's list of Nacogdoches notables was too much for me. I never even heard of some of them. But it hit the target.

He failed to name one of the girls from Nacogdoches that created a stir from ocean to ocean. This was Laura Fair of California fame. She was "Little Laura Hunt" in Nacogdoches, living with her widowed mother at the place now owned by Mrs. John B. Nelson at the corner of East Main and Mound streets. Mrs. Peavy knew her and had letters from her a few years ago. She married and lived in San Francisco. She had a turbulent life and was at last oppressed with poverty. Her husband at one time was wealthy and prominent.

IF

By Rudyard Kipling

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

"If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with triumph and disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools;

"If you can make one heap of all your winnings,
And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings,
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them: 'Hold on!'"

"If you can walk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With 60 seconds worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man, my son!"

"You Are Wanted on the Phone"

YOU are prompt to respond to the ring of your phone. The very idea that some one has a personal message for you intrigues your interest.

Has it ever occurred to you that back of every advertisement in this paper there is some one with a personal message for you? More often than not these advertisements were written with you in mind. It is impossible for most merchants and manufacturers to give you a phone call about their goods, their wares or their services. So they pay us for the privilege of calling these things to your attention in our advertising columns.

Give an advertisement the same attention you give to a phone call. Many of them are just as important to you—and just as interesting. They will help you economize and keep posted on news of vital interest to you and your pocketbook. Don't lay this paper aside, today, without reading the advertisements.

It's a good habit to read the advertisements.
It's a profitable habit, too.

THE BOOSTERS

The Booster Club held a very enthusiastic meeting at the Lockett Tea Room on Monday night, this being their regular weekly luncheon.

Absentees: W. D. Burk, George Kennedy.

Guests: H. L. Dreeke of San Antonio and Rev. C. D. Atwell of this city.

Dallas Fezell and John Crawford were the two slated for a five minute talk each at this meeting and each proved himself well equal to the occasion by consuming the entire time allotted and expressed regret at not having more time in which to discuss the subject on which he was talking.

G. Wustenbecker, Albert Thomas, Culberson Denman and Holloway Muller being four new members recently elected, were duly, legally and constitutionally accepted and made 100 per cent Boosters, each of whom made a very interesting talk with reference to the activities of the Booster Club and expressed his appreciation of having had the opportunity to become a member. Holloway Muller was formerly one of the charter members of this club, though due to urgent business matters found it necessary to discontinue his membership for a while, and we are now delighted to again have him with us.

Rev. Atwell presented to the club the proposition of the State Board of Health in the extermination of the mosquitoes and asked for the co-operation of the Booster Club together with other clubs of the city in assisting the City Council to start this campaign, which co-operation was promptly granted and a committee appointed to act in conjunction with committees from other clubs of the city in assisting the City Council in any way possible in making of Nacogdoches free from mosquitoes.

Carroll Holt, chief engineer in the electrical department of the Gulf Pipe Line at Goose Creek, is here with his family for a visit with his sister, Mrs. R. P. Lockett, and to meet his father, Rev. A. J. Holt, former pastor of the Baptist church in Nacogdoches, who is now conducting a meeting here.

E. Mont Kelly has resigned as governor of Porto Rico. So the E. stands for eventually.

THE GRAPEFRUIT'S SQUIRT

Elimination of the squirt from grapefruit is to be listed high among gains in disarmament. The scientific philanthropist to be credited with this achievement has accomplished much in the way of establishing peace of mind of breakfasters on a permanent basis.

For years the militant grapefruit, armed with its squirt, put up a game fight against its assailants. Its unerring aim in spotting collar or tie or shirt, the suddenness with which it could shoot its liquid fire to the center of the eye, the unexpectedness of its assault, combined to make it a foeman worthy of a hero's spoon. But since it has been pacified by taking away its squirt, it is now to be catalogued as a non-belligerent.
