REDUCTION OF SHANNON BOND BEING SOUGHT

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Aug. 24.—A bond reduction hearing for R. G. Shannon and three members of his family was delayed until late this afternoon while attorneys argued over removing the four to Oklahoma City to stand trial in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping.

The attorneys conferred behind closed doors. It was understood the government represented by U. S. Assistant Attorneys General Joseph D. Keenan and Herbert Hyde, were demanding possession of Shannon, his wife, his son and son's wife.

The hearing was called to consider reduction of the $50,000 bond under which each of them is held. While the attorneys argued the four prisoners were held under heavy guard in the U. S. marshal's office.

The courtroom, bristling with armament, was crowded by spectators by 10 a. m., scheduled time for the hearing. Officers carrying machine guns, sawed-off shot-guns and pistols stood guard at strategic places outside the building to thwart any gangland attempt to interfere with the hearing. The Shannons were escorted from Dallas by four carloads of officers. They were brought over a side road to avoid any possible delivery or massacre attempt.

Citizens Meet To Discuss Highway Route In City

A group of Ranger citizens met today in the Gholsion hotel to discuss possible routing of state highway No. 1 through the city.

After considerable discussion it was decided that a route should be recommended that would be most beneficial to the largest number of people and several suggestions were talked over.

City Commissioners Harwell and Mills were present at the meeting and pledged their whole-hearted support of plans that would serve the largest number of people.

It was urged that the citizens look into the matter of a highway route through the city in order that they might be informed on the subject and co-operate in every way possible in the matter. It was the consensus of opinion that this co-operation on the part of the citizens would aid in routing the highway in a manner that would be to the advantage of everyone concerned.

EL PASO.—Hisses and cat-calls greeted Jack Ridenhour, self-styled champion of the "forgotten woman" at the El Paso beauticians meeting, when he refused to agree to $5 and $7 minimum charges for permanent waves.

Backed by his horn-rimmed spectacles, an aggressive jaw and curly hair, Ridenhour arose as minority leader to assert that $5 permanent waves would come under the head of profiteering.

EAST COAST IS STILL SWEEPED BY HURRICANE

By United Press
A terrific southeast gale raged along the Atlantic seaboard from Atlantic City to Boston today, while the lashing tail of a tropical hurricane which yesterday created havoc in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia, was blowing itself out in Pennsylvania.

Property damage was reported in the millions with 16 known dead, but it was feared the death toll would be heavier when dozens of communities are heard from.

Today's gale was a new storm. It marked the fifth consecutive day of bad weather, which has gripped the Atlantic seaboard. In all at least 20 lives have been lost.

Six were known to be dead in the Norfolk area, which bore the brunt of yesterday's hurricane. Property damage was estimated at $5,000,000 in that area.

Capitalism Is Blamed by Pastor For Many Evils

By United Press
DETROIT, Aug. 24.—Capitalism has done more in this country in the past 25 years to create communists, empty churches and ruin men than the writings of Karl Marx and others, the Rev. Charles Coughlin told the grand jury investigating Detroit bank failures today.

"Capitalism," he said, "rests on the commandment, 'thou shalt not steal.' In the past 25 years capitalism has done more to create communists, empty churches and ruin men, than the writings of Karl Marx and others could possibly have done.

Meanwhile Judge Harry B. Keidman announced he had not abandoned efforts to bring former President Hoover here as a witness.

"When Mr. Hoover learns that many of the men he designated as possessed of first hand information have already appeared on the witness stand here and refused to give us the information we sought, I feel he will reconsider his refusal to testify."

WTCC DIVIDED ON THE RELIEF BOND ISSUE

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Aug. 24.—Opinions of the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on that organization's stand on the proposed $20,000,000 relief bond issue was closely divided, according to figures of a poll released here today.

Forty-six directors were in favor of supporting the issue, 55 were against it and 85 have not replied to the letter sent out by President Walter Cline of Wichita Falls, it was announced.

Because of the closeness of the poll, Cline said the organization would refuse to take active part either for or against the proposed amendment to be voted on Saturday.

By United Press
AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—More than 22 per cent of the population of the 94 West Texas counties embraced by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is on relief rolls, the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission reported here today.

The percentage of the entire state is only 19 per cent, according to the statement.

L. R. Pearson Is Speaker Before Lions Club Today

L. R. Pearson entertained the Lions club today with an interesting talk on the activities of the 43rd legislature.

He pointed out that the $20,000,000 bond issue, which is to be submitted to the voters Saturday, the repeal amendment and the vote on the legalization of 3.2 were some of the outstanding accomplishments of the session.

In explaining the bond issue he stated that it was not necessary to issue the entire $20,000,000 but only enough to supplement the federal aid and that the property tax couldn't be raised or used in paying off the bonds, but new revenue would have to be derived for the purpose.

He outlined the reduction of expense in handling the state government, stating that it was one of the most beneficial measures of the session, as it reduced the annual state expense by approximately 25 per cent.

Laborers Unite To Aid Destitute

A meeting of the laborers of Ranger was held last night, at which time committees were appointed to make reports on destitute families of this section which are in need of assistance. County Charity Cases Transferred to RFC Committee

E. A. Ringold, member of the county board of welfare and employment, has received a letter from County Judge C. L. Garrett stating that charity cases formerly handled by the county had been placed under the R. F. C.

F. C., through each local committee, was to take care of all county charity cases, relieving the county of everything besides the county poor farm, and we were instructed to so inform those who had been securing help direct from the county and naturally you and your committee will be called upon by them which, of course will necessitate your making an investigation of the needs of the various applicants."

"We will ask the county auditor to furnish each committee with the names of those whom we have been helping, together with the amounts as nearly as possible."

B. E. Garner Hurt In Auto Accident

B. E. Garner, manager of the Arcadia theatre in Ranger, narrowly escaped serious injury around midnight last night when the car he was driving was wrecked on the highway near Cisco.

According to Garner's version of the accident he met a large truck near a bridge and saw it would be necessary for him to take to the ditch rather than hit the truck. He sideswiped a bridge post when he turned out to miss the truck. Garner estimated he was driving at about 50 miles an hour when the accident occurred and estimated the speed of the truck at about the same. The truck did not stop.

Garner was knocked unconscious and was found by a representative of the highway department, who carried him to Cisco, where he was given medical attention. He received a cut on the head and both legs were bruised.

He was removed today to his room in the Gholsion hotel, where he is attended by his mother, Mrs. W. L. Garner of Strawn.

Garner's car was badly damaged in the wreck and was today towed from Cisco by a local garage.

MRS. DACH IS A VICTIM OF STARVATION

By United Press
LAGRANGE, Tex., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Anton Dach, 36, farm woman sentenced to death for the murder of a farm hand, died in a Fayette county jail cell last night of self-imposed starvation.

The widow, who weighed 250 pounds when arrested for the slaying of Henry Stoever, 58, weighed 130 pounds when she died.

Since last May, when she was convicted and given one of the few death penalties ever imposed on women in Texas, Mrs. Dach had fasted intermittently. She had not eaten for two weeks prior to her death.

"I will be carried out of this jail dead," she told her jailors, looking up from the German bible with which she had solaced herself.

Stoever was slain last February. At the trial the woman claimed he attacked her and otherwise abused her.

Local Option Elections Planned In 188 Counties

By United Press
DALLAS.—Local option elections will be held in 188 counties in Texas Saturday when the electorate votes on legalization of beer, repeal of the 18th amendment and four state amendments, according to compilations of the United Press.

Eleven counties, according to records from Austin, were without local laws forbidding sale of intoxicating liquors when the state adopted national prohibition. In these counties no election will have to be held to legalize the sale of 3.2 per cent beer if that issue is passed at Saturday's election.

They are Austin, Harris, Bexar, Comal, Fort Bend, Guadalupe, Jim Hogg, Kendall, Kinney, Lavaca and Zapata.

In 39 other Texas counties partial prohibition was in force. The restricted areas in many includes majority of the eight precincts in each county, in others a minority area of the county represented by school districts or less than a majority of the number of precincts in the county.

The provisions of the bill passed by the 43rd session of the legislature said a local option election could be held, either concurrently with the state-wide poll or later, if a certified petition was presented the commissioners' court.

In many of the counties not holding elections on the local option issue Saturday the commissioners received petitions calling for the election but declined to act, either because the petitions did not bear sufficient signatures or because the court felt action at this time was not expedient.

Test votes of wet strength will be had in many populous counties, among them Dallas and Tarrant. An especially strong drive by wets developed along the Oklahoma border, where the argument in favor of voting for beer at local option elections was that residents would go to Oklahoma for their beer if the issue failed at home.

Ervin Conway Is Released On Bond

400 FEET OF OIL RISE IN WELL QUICKLY

Work Is Shut Down While Control Head Is Installed and Storage Prepared.

A good oil well has been brought in on the Hunt lease six miles southeast of Ranger by Bill Morris and his associates, it was reported in Ranger today.

Drilling on the lease has been going on for only a few weeks and had reached the sand at 1,235 feet. At that depth 400 feet of oil quickly rose in the well and drilling was shut down in order to install a control-head and to prepare for storage. It is expected that the work will require about two days before the work on the well will be continued.

A good showing of gas was also encountered in the well and indications are that it will be one of the best wells brought in in this section of the country in some time.

Much interest in the well is being manifested by the oil fraternity, which has been watching developments since the well was spudded in several weeks ago. It is now classed as one of the outstanding discoveries in this section in recent years as it opens up what is expected by some to be a new field.

Arguments On Gas Gate Rates Are Being Heard

AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—Over a table laden down with volumes of testimony, the state railroad commission today heard arguments of the reasonableness of the 40-cents a thousand gate rate charged by the Lone Star Gas company to 250 Texas cities and towns using natural gas.

W. C. Fitzhugh, attorney for the oil and gas division of the commission, argued for a 30 or 32-cent rate which the division recommended after valuation of the Lone Star properties.

Fitzhugh asserted that in valuing transmission lines, the engineers had allowed a higher cost of all kinds of construction work than witnesses for the company, excepting only back filling of dirt over lines.

KINK STRAIGHTENED OUT

Some minor officials with a bureaucratic trend, in some of the county relief organizations, did a degree of harm to the pending bond issue relief proposal before they got straightened out.

Specifically, voters in one county who were being asked to help the bond issue saw fit to inquire what money was being spent in relief employes' salaries in that county. A rather dictatorially-minded minor official told them in effect it was none of their business, and that they shouldn't be snooping around. The citizens appealed to Col. Lawrence Westbrook. His reply was that the information should come from local sources. This left the citizens wholly dissatisfied, and the matter went back to Westbrook.

The result is the entirely commendable showing that the cost of administering relief is less than 5 cents on the dollar, and that by setting up a trained administrative personnel of responsible employes, far more than 5 per cent is being saved.

The result showed that the county administrator of one of the three or four largest counties, a $10,000-a-year man in normal times is working for $300 a month, and handling many hundreds of thousands of dollars and thousands of relief cases.

It showed that in the second rank counties of up to around 100,000 population, administrators are being hired for $150 a month. There can, and could have been on objection to disclosing that these people are paid these small salaries—small as compared with the volume of work, the special training required, and the calibre of these in the jobs.

The whole situation showed that you cannot appeal to the people of Texans to put across anything even as great an emergency need as the state bond issue, without dealing with them in a frank, fair spirit, and recognizing their right to know every fact concerned with a public administration such as this. The situation, too, in its satisfactory ending, only emphasized the tremendous need that exists for Texas citizens to do their utmost to aid the relief situation—and active work for the bond issue is the foremost means now to that end.

SESSION DATE SET

A week after the election, Texas lawmakers will be reassembled at Austin to adjust state laws to the relief emergency and to the national recovery program.

This is the report from members of the house and senate, who have been told by Governor Ferguson to be ready for the session Sept. 5.

Rep. J. D. Young, Cuero, and more than half a dozen other lawmakers have been assured the day after Labor Day, Sept. 5, has been chosen for the reconvening.

This session itself is an evidence of the unusual situation. It is the first special session ever called by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, and the first called by the Fergusons except that already convened by Speaker F. O. Fuller in 1917.

If the state bond issue amendment has been adopted, the legislature will authorize issuance of about $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 of the bonds—to be sold to the R. F. C., by the way—but if it should after all be defeated, then the legislature will have to take direct action to pay the state's ottal relief load from month to month.

Under this call date, the lawmakers will be in session when the bond, beer, repeal and other election returns are canvassed Sept. 11, and the results promulgated by Secy. of State W. W. Heath.

Seemingly, partisan politics and controversy will be laid aside in this session called for emergency needs of the state, and the best efforts of all factions and groups will be given to meeting the extraordinary conditions in the most effective way.

ANOTHER APPOINTMENT

The death of W. A. Morrison of Cameron has opened to Gov. Ferguson the appointment of another member of the state board of education, though it will not increase the present administration's membership in the board, Mr. Morrison was appointed by Gov. Ferguson after his first nominee declined to serve.

Politics jarred the board of education when the senate failed to confirm able men who had been serving as its members. But, with any one two-year administration having less than a majority on this board, the administration of public school affairs is pretty well beyond the reach of partisan politics generally. The new appointment can have little political significance one way or another. The practical result of this is that the administration can pick out an able man, without much regard to rewarding a political henchman.

It seems that the problem of world disarmament remains unsolved.

Fourteen States Needed to Repeal 18th Amendment

The electorate of 22 states has voted in favor of repeal of the 18th amendment before Texans went to the polls today. The 21st amendment, which calls for repeal of the national prohibition amendment, is one of two liquor issues presented to Texas voters Saturday.

Fourteen more repeal votes must be had before the 18th amendment can be taken from the statute books.

Formal repeal of the 18th amendment is not anticipated, by even the most ambitious repealists, before December when conventions will be held to vote effect to the outcome of the vote in Maine, Ohio, Pennsylvania and North and South Carolina.

Formal action on the vote in Texas will take place Nov. 27 when a state convention is held.

New Machine for Tabulating Votes Will Be Set Up

By United Press

AUSTIN.—A new machine for tabulating election returns, designed to speed announcement of total votes, will function for the first time the night of Aug. 26 when the polls in Texas' special election are closed.

The new machine was geared by a woman. For six years Senator Margie E. Neal, of Carthage, has tried to revise the state's cumbersome method of making known the results of an election. Only a few would listen to her at first. Her second effort was approved by the Texas senate but failed in the house by one vote.

Both house and senate of the last legislature passed her bill, effective immediately.

Her purpose was three-fold: 1. To make election returns more quickly available to the public; 2. to protect the interests of candidates for office; 3. to protect voters from being disfranchised through failure of election officers to perform their proper duties.

After the presidential election of 1932, at least six Texas counties failed to make any returns whatever.

Senator Neal's law requires that immediately after the polls close one of the election judges shall make a correct but unofficial memorandum of the total number of votes counted for each candidate at that time and publicly announce the status of the count.

Provision for tabulating unofficial returns. Precinct election officers are required to make official returns under seal within 24 hours. On the 15th day after the election, the secretary of state in the presence of the governor and attorney general shall open and count the official returns of the election.

Precinct election officers are required to telephone unofficial returns to the county clerk. He is directed to tabulate unofficial returns up to midnight on election day, and to announce the status of the count at intervals. When all unofficial returns have been tabulated, the totals must be telegraphed or telephoned to the secretary of state.

The secretary of state is directed to announce the status of the statewide count once each day. Heretofore there has been no
