CITY SCHOOLS ARE OPENED WITH PROGRAM

Opening exercises for the Ranger high school and the Ranger Junior College were held jointly at the high school auditorium this morning at 9 o'clock, when the entire student body of the two schools and the pupils enrolled were present.

The program was opened with a song, "America," led by R. L. Maddox, in which the entire assembly joined.

The song was followed by a prayer by Rev. G. W. Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist church of Ranger.

Supt. R. F. Holloway then read selections from the Scripture, which was followed by a piano solo by Miss Gillian Buchanan.

Mr. Holloway delivered a short talk, which was followed by a talk by Judge L. H. Flewelling on the subject, "Co-operation."

Rev. Thomas was the principal speaker on the program and he presented a very interesting talk, both to the students of the two schools and to the faculties. His talk was inspirational and no doubt will inspire both the members of the faculties and the student bodies to do their best work during the coming school term.

The faculty members, particularly the new members, were introduced from the stage of the auditorium by Mr. Holloway, who acted in behalf of H. S. Von Roeder, principal of the high school and dean of the junior college, who was absent on account of illness.

THREE GUESSES

SAN MARTIN IS FIGHTING OPPOSITION

By United Press
HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 12.—President Ramon Grau San Martin, struggling against fast crystallizing opposition, named his cabinet today. He hoped by this means to keep the revolutionary movement in power.

Predictions were free as the president summoned his ministers to take the oath of office that his regime would not last.

Army officers charged the new government was "dragging the mass of the citizenry to desperation," and were talking of "traitors."

The powerful A B C revolutionary society, which had much to do with Machado's fall, was hostile. Grau San Martin remained optimistic. He hoped for early American recognition.

ELKS CLUB IS GIVEN PERMIT TO HOLD BOUTS

A committee representing the Ranger Elks lodge went to Austin Monday and obtained a permit and license to hold legal boxing and wrestling bouts at the Elks arena from Sept. 1 of this year until Sept. 1, 1934. The permit was issued by Jack Flynn, labor and boxing commissioner.

George W. Murphy was named as deputy boxing and wrestling commissioner for Ranger, with Dr. Harry A. Logsdon as medical examiner, J. K. Houghton as boxing referee, J. B. Heister, assistant referee and Bill Angus, wrestling referee.

The club's boxing and wrestling bouts will be held under the new laws, which became effective Sept. 1.

The bouts in the future will be conducted from the Fox & Fox circuit of Fort Worth, formerly the Fox-Cranford circuit, which is considered the best wrestling and boxing circuit in the southwest, with practically all the leading fighters in this section of the country under contract.

Benny Wilson, Tiger Billy McEuin, Ue Moore and Jack O'Brien, four of the leading wrestlers in their divisions, have been signed up by Fox & Fox and will likely be seen in Ranger on some of the cards in the near future.

Under the new laws the referees and promoters are authorized to withhold the purse of any fighter who does not comply with all the regulations as set out by the boxing commission at Austin, the purse to be sent to the commission until the controversy has been cleared up.

Each boxer and wrestler, before entering the ring, must stand a physical examination and must have a license to fight in the state of Texas. These licenses can be obtained from the deputy boxing and wrestling commissioner. The medical examinations must be made each time the fighter enters a bout, in order to determine whether he is in condition for the bout.

The Elks, promoting their own shows in the future, will adhere strictly to the boxing and wrestling laws, it has been announced, and everything that is required of a promoter will be looked after carefully in order that no law will be broken in conducting the fights.

A change in date for the fights has been made. Hereafter they will be held on Tuesday nights instead of Monday, in order that they may not conflict in any way with the Fox & Fox bouts at Fort Worth, which are held on Monday nights.

Soft Ball Team to Play Breckenridge

A team, sponsored and managed by B. S. Lemma, is to play at Breckenridge this afternoon, taking on the Breckenridge All-Stars, which won three out of four games from the Ranger-All-Stars.

A return game between the two teams is planned for next week in Ranger, though the exact date has not been arranged.

Kansas Outlaw Shot by Boy

A shotgun in the hands of Eldon McCormick, 18, his youthful brother-in-law, brought a halt to the career of Cecil (Pete) Thornburgh, alleged outlaw, shown above in a hospital at Ottawa, Kan. McCormick shot Thornburgh—sought by officers in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma—in a dispute arising from Thornburgh's efforts to effect a reconciliation with his 17-year-old bride, Esther McCormick, who had left him.

FLYNN DENIES STATEMENT ON FIGHT LICENSE

By United Press
AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—State Boxing Commissioner Jack Flynn today denied he had told seekers for boxing licenses they must see the governor.

Flynn's denial was part of his testimony in answer to suit filed by Jimmie Guest, Houston, to force the commissioner to grant him a license.

Flynn also denied he had promised Guest a Houston permit at the time the commissioner was entertained by the Galveston Booster club.

Flynn testified refusal of Guest's permit is not permanent. He said other permits will be issued if it is shown Houston will support more.

The governor was drawn into the testimony when Guest's attorneys were permitted to ask about a permit, for Austin sought by three newspapermen. Flynn said the three called on him and he told them to get some endorsements on their application. "I may have suggested that they get Ferguson's friends."

THREE STATES ARE VOTING UPON REPEAL

By United Press
Colorado, Maryland and Minnesota voted today on repeal of the 18th amendment. Twenty-six states already had voted wet. Repeal leaders expected by tonight to be only seven states short or the 36 necessary to abolish national prohibition.

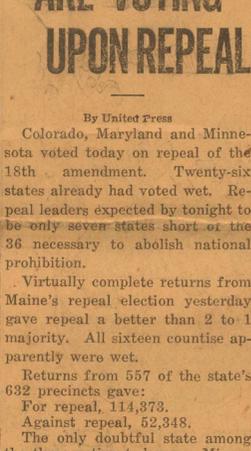

Virtually complete returns from Maine's repeal election yesterday gave repeal a better than 2 to 1 majority. All sixteen countise apparently were wet.

Returns from 557 of the state's 632 precincts gave:

For repeal, 114,373.
Against repeal, 52,348.

The only doubtful state among the three voting today was Minnesota, where drays have staged an extensive campaign. Andrew Volstead, author of the Volstead act, was among their speakers. Wets, however, insisted that Minnesota was with them and impartial observers were inclined to agree.

REGIME MUST SHOW ABILITY TO KEEP PEACE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The United States will maintain its right to intervene in Cuban affairs, it was made clear today in official quarters. America will not consent to the removal of the Platt amendment from the Cuban constitution, which gives this country right to intervene. Some Cuban political leaders have threatened the amendment.

While America's insistence on retention of the amendment was made clear, Secretary of State Hull in a formal statement said the United States "is prepared to welcome any (Cuban) government representing the will of the people of the republic and capable of maintaining law and order throughout the island."

The statement indicated the United States stands ready to recognize the new regime of President Grau San Martin when and if it shows it can fulfill these conditions.

Renunciation of the Platt amendment to be valid from the American viewpoint, would have to be approved by the United States congress. There is little belief here congress would approve.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

OMNIPOTENT CARE: The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.—Psalm 121: 8.

OUR SCHOOLS DEMAND SERIOUS THOUGHT

As some millions of school children all over the United States are getting themselves squared away for the coming year, their fathers and mothers might profitably spend a little time in meditation about the present plight of the entire school system.

Few public services have felt the depression more than the schools. Teachers have gone unpaid, school activities have been cut down, some schools have been forced to extend their holiday periods, others have had to close entirely, nearly all have had to drop certain courses and consolidate a number of activities.

Nor is that the worst. While all of this has been happening, there has been developing an influential and vocal group which has insisted that the schools have been getting more than their share of tax revenues even in good times. We are being told that our school system is far more elaborate and more expensive than it need be. It is being argued not only that the school budget must be drastically reduced during the depression, but that the reductions must be permanent.

Anyone who has ever paid taxes will admit that the schools have been costly. It is probably true that many school executives have become a bit self-important in their claims for tax support. Some towns have built school buildings on a too-elaborate scale. Some schools have tried to include too many things in their curricula.

Nevertheless, admitting that there has been extravagance and a lack of judgment in many school boards, one far more important fact remains unchanged. It is simply this: our whole society is built up around the public school system, and any drastic change in the school system must have far-reaching effects on the entire nation.

We are committed to a political democracy, and we are now trying to broaden it to make it an industrial democracy as well. To make a good of it we must have a body of citizens whose minds have been given all the training, all the enlightenment, which they can assimilate. The system simply cannot work otherwise.

Before we consent to permanent reductions in our public school services, we must do some very careful thinking.

A NOTABLE LEGAL CAREER

A distinguished native Texas lawyer has passed, in the death of R. A. John of Houston.

Mr. John was born in Bastrop county, a neighbor of the venerable Gov. Joseph D. Sayers. He was educated at Southwestern University in Georgetown, and began his law practice in that city. He and Ed Brooks were for years the county's outstanding law firm. Mr. John's first law connection was at Georgetown in the office of E. E. Townes, who later became dean of law at the University of Texas. While in Georgetown, Mr. John served as city attorney, and Williamson county attorney.

Governor Sayers in 1899 appointed him state's attorney before the court of criminals appeals. He removed to Beaumont in 1903, and from there to Houston in 1908.

Judge John was married at Georgetown in 1887 to Miss Margaret Houston Morrow, granddaughter of Sam Houston.

In Mr. John Eastrop county gave to the state one of that group of illustrious men in whose names its renown endures.

His service to Williamson county and to the state stands out with the same distinction as his career as a private practitioner of the law. In death, he joins his friend, Joseph D. Sayers, in the affectionate memory and the veneration of those who knew him through a long and useful life.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT a city usually gets what it deserves. It will be just what its citizens make it.

If the citizens are not progressive, the city will not be progressive.

All citizens should interest themselves enough to study the affairs of the home city. They should keep posted—not play dead.

Citizens should not expect others to do things for the city that they should do themselves.

In order for a city to progress, all citizens should be alive to the responsibility of citizenship.

Many citizens who will not assume any responsibility in righting affairs spend time in expressing dissatisfaction in the way things are run.

Constructive criticism builds; destructive criticism tears down. Kicking all the time gets a city nowhere.

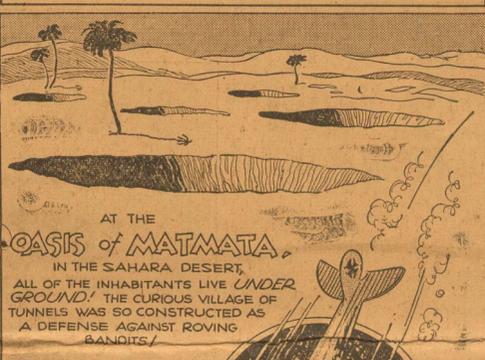

It takes constructive criticism, linked with work and money, to put a city forward!

The proverbs of Mrs. Solomon No. 1933.

God's grace is rather to be chosen than great display, and pleasing personality than silver and gold.

The rich and poor meet together: the crash is the equalizer of them all.

A clever man forsooth his creditors, and hideth himself; but the simple appear in public, and are dunned.

By the market and fear of conventions are riches, and honour, and life.

Nicotine and alcohol are in the way of the youthful; he that becometh an hermit shall be far from them.

Rob not the rich because he is rich: neither kidnap the magnate's infant.

For his lawyer will plead his cause, and prove thou art not insane... sending thee to the penitentiary.

Make no friendship with a blond woman; and with a redhead thou shalt not go.

Lest thou learn her age, and discover she went to school with thy mother.

When thou sittest to eat with thy date, consider diligently what is on the menu.

And put a bullet through her heart if she be a woman given to appetite.

Labour not to be thin: cease from thy reducing.

Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for fashion certainly makes itself wings; tomorrow thou mayest wish to be hefty.

Boast not thyself of thy job; for thou knowest not what a day my bring forth.

Whoso keepeth his money from the market keepeth himself from a crash.

Love not sleep lest thou be unpopular; open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with much night life... and an early exit from this thing called life.

Solomon Madama Solomon No. 1933... so mote it be.

GERMANS MAKE JOB PLANS

HAMBURG—To make a retreat in winter in the fight against unemployment impossible, a meeting of high government officials recently was called here. They agreed that the chief means to multiply jobs for the unemployed are: the introduction of the 40-hour week; the avoidance of overtime work; the elimination of double-earners; avoidance of dismissals, and replacement of young workers by married men. With these measures they hope to come through the winter safely.

BOSTON.—Keeping pace with today's rapidly changing world of business, Dean Everett W. Lord of Boston University's College of Business Administration has announced the addition of 23 new courses to the curriculum. Covering virtually every phase of modern business, the new courses stress advertising and marketing.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

WITH the potato crop "short" this year, many housewives are alert for nourishing potato substitutes. Just at this season is a good time to use substitutes, too, because they combine admirably with the late vegetables and contribute pleasing variety to vegetable menus. However, when we plan to substitute rice or one of the pastefoods for potatoes, certain fundamental differences should be taken into consideration. Properly cooked potatoes furnish minerals which are lacking in the cereal foods, but at this season of the year when vegetables are so abundant, this deficiency can be taken care of easily and cheaply.

Increasing the Calories

The person who is watching her calories should remember that the macaroni and noodles served in rich sauce leads to the addition of many calories that simply could and served potatoes would provide.

When the meat course is light, a zesty dish of macaroni, spaghetti, rice or noodles does much to make the dinner. The noodle ring with its eggs and milk, a many protein calories to a menu. Macaroni in a tomato and cheese sauce does its share toward increasing the calories.

Plain boiled rice is suitable to serve with a hearty meat course. Unless rice is cooked in milk, richly dressed with butter, the fourth cup is required to furnish 100 calories.

A third says: 'FOR ONE THING, THEY HAVE LOTS OF PATIENCE AND UNDERSTANDING--POP, KEEP OVER ON YOUR SIDE OF THE ROAD, WHEN YOU PASS CARS.' A fourth says: 'OKAY, MOM!!'

A cartoon strip showing a man driving a car. He says: 'BESIDES, THEY'VE DISCOVERED THAT WOMEN WHO ARE MARRIED ARE VERY PERSISTENT TEACHERS.' Another says: 'SAY, MARRIED MEN HAVE KNOWN THAT FOR CENTURIES!!'

The woman says: 'FIND THE PERSON WHO DOPED THIS PORK CHOP BONE FOR POODLE...AND THE POISONING WILL BE SOLVED!!'

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY. Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Earle Barnes, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries Dick Rader, a construction superintendent. Dick wants Eve to stop working but she refuses. Unknown to Dick, Eve plays the stock market on borrowed money. Arlene Smith, stenographer at Bixby's, buys stock on Eve's advice but loses all her money. Sam Holeridge, an advertising man employed by another store, is infatuated with Arlene. Mona Allen, copy writer, dislikes Eve and is responsible for several errors at the office for which Eve is blamed. The building on which Dick has been working is completed and his employers tell him they will have no more work for him for at least two months. He tries to make the best of this situation but Eve is irritable and discontented. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIII. Dick had refused to let Eve pay the housekeeping bills even though he was not working. Privately she was glad of this because she still owed her mother and sister and her pay envelope never contained the full amount of her salary because of deductions to apply on her charge account. The seasons changed rapidly and Eve felt it necessary for her to keep one step ahead of the average woman in fashions. She was rather hard on her clothes. With more care they would have lasted longer but Eve preferred to buy new things and felt she had no time to spend mending old wearing apparel. Still she complained to Dick, 'We'll never get ahead like this!' 'Like what?' he demanded. 'Well, you seem to be content not to be earning anything this summer.' Dick lost his patience then though he made an effort to control his temper. 'Listen!' he said, 'I don't like this any better than you do but there's nothing I can do about it. There isn't any building going on now. When the firm has another contract for me to work on I'll be notified!' Eve saw that her insinuations had hurt him and she was penitent. But she told herself it was necessary that she was working. As it was, Dick's temporary unemployment caused her no privation. She did not even have to give up the luxuries she had come to take for granted--frequent visits to the beauty shop, expensive cosmetics, fragile lingerie. She could never, she felt sure, be content to live as simply and economically as Mrs. Penney, yet she could not fail to respect the artist for her gentle dignity that rose superior to such details as a suit or blouse two years behind the fashions and fingers roughed by housework. Eve sometimes wondered what Dick really thought of her down in his heart. Of course she knew he adored her youth and beauty and that her little affectations usually amused him. But what about her ideals and ambition for a business career? Did he merely tolerate them because her beauty fascinated him? If she should lose that beauty would she lose his love? Once she questioned him about this. 'Dick,' she said, 'suppose my face should be marred by an illness or an accident of some kind. Would you still love me?' 'Of course I would,' he assured her. 'It's easy to say that. Perhaps you believe it now but I'm not so sure! If we should become dreadfully poor I don't think I'd be patient and cheerful about it. It wouldn't make me sweet and self-sacrificing like my mother or Mrs. Penney. I don't seem to be like them at all. I guess I'm rather hard!' 'Hard as nails, aren't you?' grinned Dick. 'Say, do you think all I see in you is powder and rouge and mimosa perfume and a slick marvel? No, Mrs. Rader, I see your mother's daughter. I guess if you had to you'd meet hard luck as well as your mother or Mrs. Penney, though it would probably be in a different way.' Eve was not so certain of this. 'Any way,' she exulted to herself, 'he's still enough in love with me to remember the kind of perfume I use and that's a good deal for a man like Dick!' Perhaps it was the certainty of her husband's trust in her that helped Eve through that trying summer. Eager for the promotion that now seemed within sight, she willingly undertook each new task that Barnes gave her, though the extra work taxed her strength and the vexation of numberless petty annoyances frayed her nerves. Mona Allen was responsible for most of these annoyances, Eve was sure, though it was always impossible to fasten the responsibility on the other girl. Important bits of copy would disappear, only to be found after much searching under a wire desk basket, on a hook used for filing memoranda, or per-

YACHT WON 12 RACES. LONDON.—King George's famous racing yacht, Britannia, has won 24 prize pennants in this year's races. She recently returned to Cowes, Isle of Wight, to lay up for the winter, flying flags representing 12 firsts, nine seconds and three thirds. Britannia ended her racing season earlier than was planned owing to the loss of gear when her mainmast stay broke in heavy weather.

DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples. If neglected, it can seriously impair health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
