The first Ranger Community Fair, sponsored by the Co-Workers Home Demonstration club of Ranger, was held on the Hayden Neal place, Spring road, Tuesday, with a large number of good exhibits and a large attendance throughout the day.

The front yard of the Neal home was made into a temporary fair grounds with exhibits of canned goods, relics, rope and wool demonstrations, vegetables, farm products, farm animals and many other varieties of exhibits on display. In the Neal home the sewing, quilting, cheese making and other exhibits were placed where they would be out of the weather.

The fair was exceptionally interesting, as it showed the accomplishmnts of the Co-Workers club during the past year, with a large map of the Ranger territory, showing the location of each club member and those contacted by the club, with the number of demonstrations held and the number of improvements made.

Exhibits both from the farm and from the city of Ranger were on display throughout the day, with a basket lunch served at noon. Iced lemonade was served from a booth on the grounds.

The exhibits were so numerous that it would be impossible to mention them all and a visit to the fair would be necessary to enable one to know of the work done by the club and the exhibits displayed. Miss Ruth Ramey and J. C. Patterson, county agents, took a nurmoer of the better exhibits to show at the Eastland County Fair the latter part of this month.

The winners in the woman's division were announced at the close of the judging as follows: Cooking

TOURING WITHOUT EVEN A ROAD MAP

The man who wants to get a good idea of the way the whole administration recovery program is going to work out can't do much else than come back about two years third.

The one thing that is clear today is that all signs fail in a time like the present. We're trying something so completely new that the man who wants to do a little prognosticating has nothing to go on. Everything is adrift, and about the only prediction that seems safe is that when the various blocks have all been put together again the picture will look like nothing we ever saw before.

It is for this reason that all the learned attempts to analyze and dissect the recovery program are so contradictory. No two critics of the program get the same result.

Does the arch-conservative complain—as one did, recently—that it is getting almost impossible to tell the news from Moscow from the news from Washington these days? On another page you can find the arch-radical protesting first; Mrs. Lee Slone, second.

You can find books by equally studious economists (written before March 4 last) proving that only through a planned economy similar to the one being attempted can a mechanized modern society survive.

W. D. HASTINGS, publisher of the Columbia (Tenn.) Herald, says:

"When cold facts well displayed in type in an advertisement come in contact with printers' ink, they make an indelible and lasting impression upon the human mind.

"Wilful waste is apt to create woeful want. And yet that is what is taking place in this country today. The destruction of cotton, the slaughtering of hogs. The use of printers' ink properly backed up by convincing words ham, first; Mrs. E. "It is better to give than to receive. Therefore, it would be better to allow these hogs to grow to maturity, slaughter them then and pack them away in bacon and give it to the poor and needy.

"It is better to have a half loaf than no loaf at all, but Majors, first; Mrs. H. H. Harrelwhen there is a whole loaf in sight, why discard it for a son, second; Mrs. A. J. Majors, half loaf? This holds good with the swine. A 225 pound | third. hog will go further than a 100 pounder.

"Nothing is so convincing as a statement printed on cold black letters-nothing is so lasting upon the mind. That this is a fact has been demonstrated through the ages that have passed. Printers' ink make a lasting impression, an impression that time alone can erase.

"Just one more than then I'm through. 'You can fool all the people some of the time, but can't fool some of the people all of the time.' Therefore, right is bound to prevail and the advertiser who thinks he can make a conversation over the radio stick will wake up and find that he has spent his money for nothing, and he is just where he began and will have to go back into the columns of his old home paper. OUR OWN Proud and glad to do our part"

ITH President Roosevelt's acceptance of the NRA Automobile Code, Chevrolet, the world's largest builder of motor cars, officially begins operations in accordance with the administration's recovery program.

Although the official code was signed only a few days ago, it will be of interest to Chevrolet's many friends to learn that the Chevrolet Motor Company started to carry out the spirit of today's recovery program over three years ago!

At that time, we put into operation a "share-the-work"? plan, whereby our workmen cooperated in spreading the work to give more men jobs. By means of this plan, as well as by regulating hours of work per week to meet retail demand, and by building up parts stocks in lean seasons, it was possible to carry 33,000 men on our payroll through the depression. For eleven months of each year since 1929, we have kept our employment within 10 per cent of this average. We are justly proud of that record. We are also proud to say that Chevrolet workmen did not, at any time during the depression, become a burden on public welfare departments. On August 1st of this year, Chevrolet announced a blanket wage increase as well as the adoption of a 71/2-hour, 5-day week and the employment of 12,000 additional men. This wage increase was the second in the last 4 months, Chevrolet having been among the first to put a blanket wage increase into effect.

We feel that the President's recovery program deserves the whole-hearted support of every citizen and manufacturer in America. It is a bold, swift, courageous plan to start the ball rolling toward economic recovery. Its sincerity is unquestioned. Its objectives are admirable. And the direct, forceful steps the President and his associates are taking to make it a success, should stir the pride and admiration of every American.

We are proud and glad to do our part. And we are deeply grateful to the American people for the patronage that has enabled us to anticipate the present recovery program and to play our part today. After all, the immense number of men employed by Chevrolet is a direct result of the continued preference America has shown for Chevrolet.
