Merchants Will Discuss Carnival At Meet Tonight

A directors' meeting has been called for tonight by Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to which all the members of the board of directors of the organization are urged to be present. The meeting has been called for 7:30 tonight. Outcome of Church Contest to Be Made Known Wednesday

The votes cast Saturday night in the Prosperity Club campaign were collected early Monday morning and a check of the votes is now being made.
Announcement of the winning church and the standing of all the churches in the contest will be made in the Times of Wednesday afternoon. The delay in making known the outcome of the contest was caused by the large number of votes that were cast in the last few days of the contest, which made tabulation a big job that required considerable time.
Watch for the announcement in the Times Wednesday afternoon and learn how your church fared in the last day of voting.

ELEVEN MEN, A WOMAN ALSO FACE CHARGES

Assistant Attorney General Warns Lawyers About Accepting Ransom Money.

By United Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 18.—Eleven men and a woman went on trial today for the kidnaping of Charles Urschel in a federal courtroom tense with the drama of the government war to stamp out the underworld.

Examination of jurors was in full swing at noon. Sharp questioning by attorneys indicated it would require the day to obtain the 12 men who will rule on the $200,000 ransom kidnaping of the wealthy oil man.
The atmosphere in the ninth floor of the federal building tower was electrified further by an ultimatum of Assistant U. S. Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan that any attorney or others caught accepting any of the $185,000 in missing ransom money would be prosecuted as accessories to the sensational crime.

In this scene Harvey Bailey and Albert Bates, characterized as two of the most dangerous criminals in the nation, were ushered.
Indicating the government will fight at every stage of the trial to convict R. G. Shannon, his wife and son, who guarded Urschel and harbored Bailey, government attorneys questioned jurors on whether they were farmers or were familiar with farm life.
Police Chief Watt ordered all police to watch for George (Machine Gun) Kelly and his wife, fugitives accused in the case. Kelly and his wife, "the chief said, were reported to have spent the night in an outlying tourist camp and were said to be driving a new coupe with a Texas license plate.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FATE OF THE ROBBER: Behold at evening tide trouble; and before the morning he is not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.—Isaiah 17: 14.

DEATH OF A PRE-WAR DIPLOMAT

Viscount Grey of Fallodon, dead at 71, won a place in history which will certainly be secure but which is not entirely enviable.

It was Grey who, as foreign secretary in 1914, took England into the war; and as the English ever since 1918 have been nourishing a slow suspicion that the war caused practically all of their troubles, it is not surprising that this veteran diplomat suffered a kind of eclipse in his last years.

For Grey will stand for a long time as an epitome of the kind of diplomacy that was so common before the war—the kind that thrived on secret agreements, secret understandings and the jargon of what H. G. Wells has called the “great power game.”

Prior to 1914 the average Englishman calmly assumed that England could not be embroiled in any European war unless the people of England as a whole wished to be embroiled. It was Viscount Grey, as much as anyone, who had to dispel this illusion.

Like practically every other chancellor in Europe, the English foreign office saw the war coming long before it actually arrived. It is possible that the ease with which all the diplomats saw its approach was one of the reasons why it finally came. But at any rate the British foreign office, having visioned war from afar, got ready for it by making certain agreements with the French foreign office concerning united action against Germany.

Thus, when the storm clouds finally broke, the people of England did not have a free hand. Their diplomats had committed them in advance. When Grey laid the whole situation before Parliament, there was only one answer that could be made. To all intents and purposes, it was impossible for England to remain neutral. The invasion of Belgium rallied Englishmen to the standard, but the die had already been cast.

Now to recount all of this is not to condemn Viscount Grey. He was an able, sincere and patriotic man. There is no doubt that he actually wanted peace. He did his best according to his lights and it was hardly his fault if his lights were wrong.

It is the kind of diplomacy he represented that needs condemnation. The World War was a product of that diplomacy; and a world which is still suffering from the war can hardly be blamed for concluding that that diplomacy was an expensive sort of luxury.

JOBS IN THE VALLEY

State Relief Director Lawrence Westbrook, in his first message out of the hurricane zone of the Lower Valley, urged that people should not go into the section with the idea of finding work.

A task to which state and national relief agencies are now giving strenuous efforts is to take care of all those already in the Valley. Such work as will be created in rebuilding will occupy only a part of those already in the Valley. Many in the section must rely on direct relief. Many will move out of the Valley temporarily, because there is nothing to do, no way to make a living until more normal conditions are restored.

It would be a serious mistake, and one increasing difficulties of the relief work, for others to throng into the Valley in the hope of finding work there, Westbrook has pointed out.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

We live in times when much is being done in many parts of the world to meet difficulties and to find solutions to different problems by conferences.

There is at times a disposition to be optimistic whenever a conference is called to try to solve a difficult situation. It is good that there should be confidence in conferences, for it indicates a belief in the reasonableness of human nature when people, no matter how bitterly opposed at one time, are capable of agreement when they come together.

All conferences, however, do not seem to have the desired results. Some of the meetings at which the parties would seem to be at enmity and irrevocably opposed have had better results than others which it looked as though they met with but a single thought and a single plan.

PROBLEM FOR POLITICIANS

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON
 WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—There's a wide split in the Department of Agriculture which may develop sensationally.

Profits of the middleman, return to the farmer and price to the consumer represent the issue.

Assistant Secretary Rexford G. Tugwell and Chief Counsel Jerome Frank of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration head the group of liberals which is primarily concerned with producer and consumer and hopes it can squeeze excess profits from the “spread” of the distributors and financiers.

On the other side are Administrator George N. Peek, Co-Administrator Charles J. Brand and Dairy Section Chief Clyde King of the AAA, who aren't so excited about those aims.

Milk is now the crux of the fight. The first group seeks a national minimum price for dairy farmers and a maximum for consumers and subsequent concentration on the “spread.”

Brand, who retains his post with the National Fertilizer Association, and Dr. King, who is charged with playing too closely with distributors, are special targets of the liberal group.

Peek, who failed to loom as large as Hugh Johnson of NRA when Secretary Wallace firmly seized the AAA reins, tried to get Fred Lee, former farmer lobbyist, as his general counsel and was forced to take Frank. Lee now operates in Peek's office.

Inspection of his payroll revealed that he had put his whole plant—higher brackets and all—on $13 a week, the code minimum.

NOT much has been heard of the gold mining company whose president Charlie Curtis became after his term as vice president of the United States expired.

But it has sold more than $400,000 in stock here in Washington.

WIDESPREAD misunderstanding exists as to the wage status of persons under the NRA codes or the PRA code who previously received more than the new minimum wages. The President's Agreement promises that wages shall not be reduced and that “equitable adjustments” shall be made for those persons.

Nearly every approved code bars lower weekly compensation for shorter hours and most of them provide for increases proportionate with the minimum wage increase.

A textile manufacturer came here from Northampton, Mass., to complain of labor troubles in his mills. He said he was observing the code to the letter.

Inspection of his payroll revealed that he had put his whole plant—higher brackets and all—on $13 a week, the code minimum.

 AUSTIN—Coach Bennie Strickland of Austin's schoolboy football players will work without a single letterman this season.

Wilbur Taylor, brother of Bud Taylor, the T. C. U. star, was the only letterman to answer Strickland's training call. Appendicitis sent Wilbur to the hospital. He will see no service this season.

Magnolia-Lone Star Will Play Today in Big "Crucial" Test

A game that has been looked forward to with much interest for the past few weeks is to be played at Willows field this afternoon when the Magnolia and Lone Star teams of the Twilight league meet for the first time.

These two teams have each been defeated once, the Lone Star losing to the Legion and Magnolia losing to the Elks. The game this afternoon will probably determine, to a great extent, the outcome of the second half of the Twilight league season.

FOR BETTER TASTE—FOR THROAT PROTECTION

HOME OWNER! SALARIED EMPLOYEE!
WAGE EARNER! FARMER!
*Awaken! Arise! Be on Your Guard!

The Monster in Form of the Sales or Consumers' Tax Bill Is Again Being Revived in Preparation for a Swift Drive to Enactment
During the Special Session of the Texas Legislature

Be Warned! The vicious Sales or Consumers' Tax Bill again raises its ugly head — and now, more than ever, you must, for the protection of yourself and family, fight against any new or increased taxation of any kind!

Don't be Caught "Napping"! Don't allow the proponents, the special interests of "more revenue," to choke the Sales or Consumers' Tax down the throats of the people of Texas.

An additional tax levy at this time cannot be justified on any reasonable basis. According to current propaganda that such a tax is to replace the State Ad Valorem Tax and who would pay for it under this new plan, is a cruel joke that would spell stark tragedy for the peoples of this State.

Don't be Hoodwinked by the Misleading Arguments of the "Interests" Clamoring for More Revenue! Veiled and insidious are many of the tricks of the "political trade" when played upon the sympathies of the people. The Sales or Consumers' Tax, or by whatever name it may be called, has no earthly connection with the National Industrial Recovery Program since this State or any other state is not called upon to furnish any funds whatsoever for the building projects. The Sales Tax agitation in Texas is purely a part and parcel of a nation-wide scheme by certain "influential interests" to make the already-overburdened mass, you and I, bear the chief blunt of taxation!

Don't be Fooled! State Finances Are Improving and Texas is in Need of No Major Revenue Measures At This Time! Any new or increased taxation simply means greater hardship on you and your family and every citizen of Texas. The cost of living has already increased, in some instances 20% to 30%, while wages lag far behind. And a Sales or Consumers' Tax will further increase living costs and intensify the difficulties of hundreds of thousands of families trying to expand small incomes to meet these rapidly-rising costs of living.

A Sales or Consumers' Tax would Mean a Heavy ADDITIONAL TAX on Almost Everything You Buy for the Well-being of Yourself and Family! As a relief measure it would prove a pathetic joke on every man, woman and child in Texas.

BE ON YOUR GUARD!
Don't Let the Special Session of the Texas Legislature
Choke Any New or Increased Taxation Down Your Throat!

CITIZEN...
NOW is the Time for Action!

Write, phone or wire your Senator or Representative at Austin that you do not want a Sales or Consumers' Tax of any kind! Urge him to vote AGAINST any proposals for new or increased taxation . . . tell him emphatically that our government costs must be kept within the amount that is necessary to meet its present income. Tell him that you know that the citizens of Texas are in no position to pay any new or increased taxes of any kind at this time. DO IT NOW!

Sign the Slip Below

. . . and mail in your opposition to your Representative or Senator NOW! Help defeat the tricky proponents of "more revenue."

HOOKS AND SLIDES

The King's in Again!

LEAPING Lena Levy rushes in to print again with the astonishing announcement that her protege and brother, King Levisky, will slug with ex-Champion Jack Sharkey when the two meet at Comiskey Park, Chicago, Sept. 15.

"My boy is a knockout puncher," the eccentric ex-fish peddler's manager and cook related the other day. "And he's hitting harder every day."

Sure he'll slug with Sharkey. He'll slug with Sharkey whether Sharkey wants to slug or not, because the Kingfish is a slugger at whatever he tries, including an occasional roundhouse attack upon the Queen's English.

A $25,000 Smack

AND there is just a chance that Sharkey, stepping out to Chicago and taking off his coat for a guarantee of $25,000 (not a bad pile of NRA shucks, my friends) may wake up again, as he did after the Carnera fight, asking his seconds who threw that brick at him.

In that event the Kingfish would be right up there with the other two strange men, Primo

Carnera and Max Baer, a topline act anywhere you want to take it (but perhaps you want no part of it).

There are stories from Boston to the effect that Sharkey hadn't realized how far back he had gone and had trained on buffoonery and ice cream for the Carnera thing.

He is aiming to make a piece of change here and there this winter, as who isn't, and has gone back to work to see how good he is with the idea of five fights in mind. If he can't pass the Kingfish, and there is every reason to believe he can't if he comes in all noly-poly as he appeared against Carnera, his four fights after the King gets through with him will retail at 5 cents apiece.

Out of the Dark

SHARKEY has the same thing to watch out for against Levisky that he failed to see coming from Carnera—a wild punch out of nowhere, with plenty of power behind it.

Then you would have the picture of a former fish peddler gunning for the heavyweight title seriously. Well, why not—didn't an old fish market man run for president?

Ministers, Dentists And Circus Clowns Ask Relief Work

HOUSTON.—Four pretty young women, calm as the fates casting their shuttle of destiny, sit in an office here reviewing the pages of a story of mighty proportions.

It compares with the novels of Hugo, Gorky and Tolstoi. Grim, courageous, macabre, defiant and hopeless, with occasional facets of humor, it offers the broad sweep, the wide play of emotions, the quality of universal appeal found only in works of the masters.

Unlike these works, however, it will never be given the public. Its pages are the 28,033 questionnaires answered by the unemployed of Houston during the NRA volunteer sales army drive in August.

Thus far the young women compiling statistic have read only about 4,000 pages of the voluminous manuscript, but the story is majestic in outline.

Five ministers, two dentists, two lawyers and a circus clown reported they were out of employment.

A man of 83 and a youth of 10 filed their petitions for work. Both said they were able-bodied and willing.

To the question, "married or single," a woman of 50 wrote, "married, but deserted without funds."

A man answered the question as to his previous occupation by writing: "Pipe liner at the rate of a lousy 25 cents an hour." As to his marital status he added: "Single, and glad of it."

A 37-year-old college graduate wrote he was an accountant and once held a responsible post.

Since Feb. 1 have been at the social service bureau, working free for groceries," he added.

Another blank was filled out entirely in Spanish, while another bore a street address and, "Can't speak English."

A professional baseball player asked work because his wife and two children were needy.

A man of 54 carefully filled out the entire blank, stating he was formerly employed in a lumber yard, and then added, as on an afterthought: "I am totally deaf, crippled and without income."

"If you are employed part-time, what are you doing?" is one of the questions on the blank.

"Hunting for work," replied a young ex-shipping clerk.

a light forever burning a Voice that is never stilled

NIGHT comes on and spreads a blanket of darkness upon sleeping cities and towns. Here and there a lone policeman. In the distance a clock tolling the hour.

In the dark silence of the night, there is one light forever burning... one voice that is never stilled. That light is the light in the telephone exchange. That voice is the voice of your telephone.

A city without telephones would be a city afraid—a city of dread.

For the telephone brings security. Its very presence gives a feeling of safety and nearness to everything. In times of stress and sudden need it has a value beyond price. In business and social activities of a busy day it is almost indispensable.

The wonder of the telephone is not the instrument itself but the system of which it is the symbol... the system which links your own telephone with any one of eight-een million others in the United States and thirteen millions in other countries.

Every time you use your telephone you have at your command some part of a country-wide network of wires and equipment, and as many as you need of a great army of specialists in communication.

There are few aids to modern living that yield so much in safety, convenience and achievement as your telephone.

YOU feel a little embarrassed and sorry for her. She looks so admiring and helpless, so envious, and so—so—ineffective!

Her clothes are always so bad, poor little thing. And she pays too much for them. Her home is furnished with all the wrong things. She seems to have a genius for wasting money. When she goes out to buy anything, soap or silverware, or lingerie or lamps, she's sure to turn up with something nobody ever heard of before and doesn't want to hear of again.

She is that eager, but not very bright, little woman who, "my dear, doesn't ever read advertisements." Who doesn't know what to buy, or where to find it, or what to pay for it. Who doesn't know values and can't compare them. Who doesn't know that what a new style, or a new convenience, or a new anything arrives, one sees it first in the advertisements.

One really gets a little vexed with her—

But let's not waste too much time on her. It's about time for you, dear lady, to have your daily look through the advertisements.

Ranger Social News

Monday is Church Day. It is the purpose of the society department of the Times to devote this section of each Monday's paper to your church—my church—every church in Ranger.

Sunday School Superintendent, Pastor, Mission Leader, Society Reporter, Organization Secretary, Teacher! We are asking your cooperation for news from your church.

This is a new project. It can be a successful one if you will help us make it so. The church is your institution. It involves your interests.

This is not a scheme to create a spirit of competition between the various churches of the city. It is a news project. We feel that the importance of the religious phase of Ranger's activities has not been hitherto realized... by us or by you.

For this reason, we are asking you to help us make Monday's social section outstanding as a religious calendar or "Yesterday's Church Doings."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

THE harvest of the year brings a wealth of food offerings. Fruits, vegetables and meats are available in great abundance and variety.

The root vegetables are at their best now. Beets, carrots and turnips are tender and sweet when freshly gathered and vastly superior to those which have been stored and must be used during the winter months.

Until a "killing" frost comes, eggplant, cauliflower, sweet peppers, late spinach, tomatoes and lima beans are plentiful. Curry and celery will be good before the first hard frosts, while late cabbage needs a good nippy frost to improve its flavor.

Squash in the Menu
The hard shelled, full-flavored squash comes into market to take its place in the main course or dessert. Squash pie, squash custard and squash pudding make delicious and nourishing desserts.

Baked squash, squash and nut croquettes, squash souffle, and cream of squash soup are appetizing ways of using it in the main course.

The late fruits, pears, grapes, and peaches and quinces are still in the market. Apples are abundant. Cider and nuts add variety to menus.

Grapes always are popular as a breakfast fruit and can be used for luncheon and dinner as the dessert. The juice can be used in sherbet and frappe, in "whips" and sponges and gelatine desserts.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Chilled sweet cider with lemon juice, cereal, cream, shirred eggs, cornmeal muffins, milk, coffee.
L U N C H E O N : Eggplant with cheese on toast, celery hearts, grape tapoca pudding, milk, tea.
DINNER: Jelly omelet and toast, ten minute cabbage, lima beans in cream, green pepper and grape fruit salad, squash custard, milk, coffee.

Vegetable cocktails are ideal for autumn dinners. They whet the appetite without affecting the body temperature as a chilled fruit or hot soup first course tends to do. Crisp cauliflower cocktail, tomato juice cocktail, beet and cabbage cocktail and any number of celery combinations are particularly good.

The Place of Endive
Game is added to the list of poultry and meat. Oysters are plentiful among the sea-foods. The pork products which have been more or less taboo during the hot months provide a welcome change.

Use curly endive often as long as it is abundant. Raw or cooked, it is a whole green vegetable. Later in the winter lettuce will necessarily be our stand-by, but now endive can take its place.

October sounds the last call for most of the fresh vegetables in many localities, so use them generously and make the most of the season's bounty.

Eastland friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Knox Jr., at their home in Woodson.

SLIM AND ZASU IN A NEW WILM

Scene from "HER FIRST MATE," UNIVERSAL PRODUCTION

The announcement of a Slim Summerville-Zasu Pitts feature in Ranger is an event. It will interest a tremendous number of people to know that "Her First Mate" which is the latest of this famous pair's Universal features, will open at the Arcadia Theatre today.

A continuation of the study of the Indian, and the part taken by Uncle Sam as his legal guardian, formed the program, that opened with the song service, bringing, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "America the Beautiful," led by Marie Hart, and directed by Miss Davenport.

A discussion of the totem pole, and the significance they held in the Indian religion was brought in the lesson by their leader.

The morning concluded with the vocational work, the primary group working on the scrap books, and the junior division on the lunch cloths, to be sent the Indian missions.

There was only a small group of children in attendance.

EL PASO.—County rehabilitation and relief commissioners are protesting an order from the state relief headquarters requiring that every person applying for work relief must pass a physical examination.

"If we have anything more to delay getting men to work we might as well quit trying to produce relief before persons starve to death," said E. E. Neff, commissioner. "We would never find the doctors to give 5,000 examinations to workers."

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TURNER BREAKS OWN AIR MARK; WINS BENDIX CUP

Nerves Never Waver

LOS ANGELES — Colonel Roscoe Turner blazed across the finish line here 11 hours, 30 minutes out of New York, breaking his own coast-to-coast record for the running of the Bendix Trophy.

Forty-eight thousand spectators were on hand to greet the plucky pilot whose healthy nerves had carried him to victory. For a second time, the coveted trophy was his. One of the Colonel's first was for a Camel. Asked by a man if steady smoking nerves, Turner

"I WATCH MY NERVES as carefully as I do my plane," Colonel Turner says. "I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette and I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

COLONEL ROSCOE TURNER, in discussing healthy nerves and cigarettes, says:

"Breaking air records is an exciting business—and a nerve-wracking one! I know because I have gone out after a whole flock of records—and managed to pick off quite a few. Like most pilots I smoke a lot—in fact, I enjoy smoking any time. But I watch my nerves as carefully as I do my plane. I smoke Camels for the sake of healthy nerves, and I enjoy them more because of their mildness and better taste. To me Camels are a much finer cigarette, and being a faithful Camel smoker, I never have to give a thought to jangled nerves."

Are you nervous? Irritable? Try Camels and get a fresh slant on your smoking. Being a milder cigarette, Camels are better for steady smoking. You will find that Camels never get on your nerves...never tire your taste.
