

INSTRUCTED VERDICT DENIED IN KIDNAP CASE

COTTON PRICE TO BE RAISED BY 10c LOANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Cotton growers who came to Washington demanding currency inflation were sent home today happy with a program that immediately raises the price of cotton, but leaves the dollar where it is.

President Roosevelt decided to advance loans of 10 cents per pound on all cotton held by farmers who promise to reduce next year's crop.

The decision automatically booms the market, averted financial disaster for many farmers, and went far to assure success of the plan to reduce 1934 planting to 25,000,000 acres.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace insisted the loan program would not be compared to the disastrous cotton buying of the farm board during the administration of President Hoover.

"Cuba's Sandino" Leads New Revolt

Called "the Cuban Sandino," Capt. Juan Blas Hernandez (above) was reported to be at the head of 300 rebel troops marching through Camaguey province en route to Havana to attack defenders of the new Grau San Martin regime.

A CRIMINAL BUREAU FOR TEXAS URGED

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—A central criminal bureau for Texas, with sub-divisions throughout the state, was recommended by Joseph Keenan, assistant United States Attorney General who arrived here today by airplane from Oklahoma City.

Keenan left the Charles Urschel kidnaping trial to address a conference of Texas majors and city officials here on a co-ordinated drive to suppress crime.

Keenan was met at the airport by two Texas Rangers and a city detective.

The criminal bureau Keenan recommended, would be part of a coordinated system headed by the criminal identification bureau at Washington.

He also recommended a state law limiting the sale of firearms, especially machine guns, to federal officers and to the peace officers of the state and its political subdivisions.

Kidnap Goes Ignore Death Threats

In a huddle that boded no good for the alleged kidnapers, Charles F. Urschel, left, their victim who paid $200,000 for his release; Joseph B. Keenan, center, special assistant U. S. attorney general in charge of Uncle Sam's anti-crime war, and Herbert K. Hyde, right, U. S. district attorney for Oklahoma, are pictured at the trial of Harvey J. Bailey and 11 others in Oklahoma City for the Urschel kidnaping. Keenan and Hyde have received death threats from George (Machine Gun) Kelly, Bailey lieutenant still at liberty.

FERGUSON IS AGAINST SUIT OF OIL CASES

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson, speaking in Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's presence today, declared Attorney General James Alford should stop the $17,500,000 anti-trust law penalty suit against the American Petroleum Institute, the Texas Petroleum Marketers Association and 15 major oil companies.

The suit is set for trial in district court here October 2. "Such a suit at this time is inconsistent," said the former governor.

"If the NRA program is right, then we ought to do nothing that will make the NRA program impossible. Its purpose is to restore employment. This suit asks for penalties and ouster from the state.

"Should the attorney general win what he asks, people would be thrown out of work by thousands. I know nothing of the merits of the suit. Whatever they are it would not suffer from suspension."

Alford declined to comment on the former governor's statement. Preparations to go ahead with the trial have been evident. Sixty witnesses, summoned by the state, were listed today.

Studebaker, above, 68, member of the pioneer Indiana manufacturing company and whose fortune once was estimated to have been more than $3,000,000, has filed a federal plea in bankruptcy, listing assets of $500 and debts of about $2,500,000. Studebaker disposed of his interests in the Studebaker Corporation about 10 years ago.

GOVERNMENT IS LIKELY TO WIN ON NEW LAWS

Technicalities Are Argued By the Defense Counsel At Trial Saturday.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 23.—Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughnt today overruled all defense motions in Urschel kidnaping trial and in strong language upheld the government's case against Bailey, Bates and others.

Vaught dismissed Charles Wolf, St. Paul transfer company operator when it was shown he had no connection with discovery of ransom money other than to send one of his truck drivers to the bank with the holders of the money.

Vaught's action leaves the way open to proceed Monday with defense testimony.

Bailey may take the stand in his own defense.

EXHIBIT FROM COUNTY BEING MADE FOR FAIR

Vocational Agricultural Teachers of Ranger, Cisco, and Rising Star and the county agent are busy preparing the county exhibit for the State Fair at Dallas. Most of the crops that are to make up the exhibit will be taken from those at the Eastland county fair.

The score card for the exhibit will be a little different this year as thirty crops will be shown representing the county. In the past few years the exhibit had only twenty-three crops and had to major on three crops.

Eastland county has always been placing around the top during the past five years, winning a fifth, second, third, first, and eighth. The county has been hit hard with the drought and the crops will not be as good as in former years, but will be made up for in attractiveness.

The background for the exhibit will bear the names of the towns in the county and miniature animals of the milk cow, sow, sheep, hen and beef cow outlined in grains. This is an added feature and should add to the attractiveness of the exhibit.

Suit To Be Filed In Gas Rate Case

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—Suit was to be filed in a Travis county district court today to require the Lone Star Gas company to obey the order of the state railroad commission reducing gas supply charges from 40 to 32 cents a 1000 cubic feet.

Announcement of the suit was the reply of assistant attorney General Albert Hooper, to a temporary injunction obtained by the gas company yesterday at San Antonio.

Wednesday the Times will play the Lone Star in the last game for both teams.

Thursday afternoon the Lions and Barbers meet at the Willows field diamond and on Friday the Elks play their second game of the season, meeting the Sinclair team.

7TH ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR IS HISTORY

Entered by good attendance throughout and by splendid programs each night, the seventh annual Eastland county free fall fair closed Saturday night. It opened Wednesday.

Due to the lack of rain at the proper time agricultural products on exhibit perhaps were a little short in quantity and possible some were off on quality as compared with exhibits heretofore, but at that there were an abundance of fine exhibits in this line.

Boys and Girls club exhibits, cooking exhibits, and in fact all exhibits in the women's department were excellent.

The programs rendered were largely made up of talent furnished by neighboring town and included a program Saturday night by Bewley's Chuck Wagon Gang.

The crowds at these shoots have been growing each Sunday and more interest is being shown in the target practices held weekly.

New Drilling Order Causes Confusion

AUSTIN.—Reports that federal or state governments might stop "wildcatting" for oil has led many Texas operators to confuse a recent order issued by the state railroad commission.

The order held no permits for drilling under regulations governing well spacing would be issued unless the commission first held a hearing on the application. The oil and gas division explained no permits are required except under the spacing rule, and that any well located the regular distance from property lines and other wells may be drilled without a permit.

The only requirement is that a notice of intention to drill be filed with the commission.

Filling Station Robbed Saturday

Burglars broke into the Russell filling station in Ranger sometime between 4 and 5 o'clock Saturday morning, taking $1.85 from the sandwich shop operated by Miss Reuwer and Mrs. Ingram and several tubes and tires from the filling station.

Entrance to the building was obtained by breaking a window and unlatching it from the inside. The burglars ran up $40 on the cash register, trying to find the money supposed to have been kept in the station at night.

The amount of the loss was not known pending a complete check of the station.

Merriman School To Open Monday

E. A. Ringold, secretary of the Ranger school board, announced Saturday that at a meeting of the board Mrs. Smith had been selected as teacher for the first three grades at the Merriman school and was authorized to open the school on Monday morning.

The school is to be kept open for at least four and a half months, or the first term contingent on the patronage given the school, it was announced. Parents of pupils may, however, continue to send them to the Cooper school, if they desire to do so, provided they furnish their own transportation to the school.

Whether the school will be continued longer than the term specified depends on the patronage given the school by those living in that section of the county, it was stated Saturday afternoon and the board will see that the school remains open longer if it is found possible to do so.

Standing behind a machine gun, the leader of the gang boasted he was George Kelly, but checks of the rogues gallery revealed him as Underhill.

Vocational Students Are Making Ropes

Forty-six vocational agricultural students of the Ranger high school have learned the art of rope-making. The materials used are binder twine and a small twister made of heavy wire and two pieces of board about 18 inches long.

The rope-making is very simple and the boys have made them a machine at home and are making the ropes used on the farm for one-third the cost of a new rope. All sizes can be made from the one-quarter to one-inch rope. The rope is as good quality as the ready-made ropes.

A survey was made of the amount of rope that has been made in the past two weeks by the members of the class run the total to 1,200 feet of rope with sizes from one-quarter to an inch.

Indications were that the respite might be brief and that if students continued to refuse to compromise a revolt would begin.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SANCTIFIED ESTEEM: Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.—Philippians 2: 3.

THE RIGHTEOUS CAUSE: Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favor my righteous cause: Yea, let them say continually, Let the Lord be magnified; Who hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.—Psalm 35: 27.

LIVE RIGHT TODAY: Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Proverbs 27: 1.

THE FUTURE OF THE FOREST ARMY

One of the most completely successful of the items on the "new deal" program seems to be the forestry work of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Some 300,000 young Americans who had no jobs and no prospects of any jobs last spring are hard at work, sending money home to their parents regularly, regaining their own self-respect, rebuilding their bodies—and doing a job of work that will be of vast benefit to the nation for years to come.

So well is the project working out that a person is inclined to wonder if it might not be a good thing to make this forest army a permanent affair.

To begin with, it is very probable that the nation will have a reservoir of unemployed young men for a good many years, no matter how fully prosperity returns. In the boom days of 1928 and 1929 we had more jobless men than it was pleasant to think about; the increasing use of labor-saving devices makes it look as if unemployment will continue to be a problem for a long time.

No one needs to be told anything today about the demoralizing effects of unemployment. No one needs to be told anything about the evils of the dole. The one sure way to avoid those evils is to find work for the men who need it; and a permanent forest army would provide upwards of a quarter of a million extra jobs, years in and year out.

All of this, of course, would be pretty expensive. You can't feed, house, clothe and pay 250,000 men for a year without spending a good deal of money. The federal government has plenty of claims on its purse already.

But it might be money well spent.

It would be hard to overestimate the financial value of the work such an army could do if it stayed on the job year in and year out. To save the timber resources we have, to develop new ones, to prevent soil erosion, to prevent floods—those are jobs well worth doing, even if they are costly.

Certainly the question deserves serious consideration. This forest army is too good an outfit to be discarded off-hand.

They say that "Money Talks." It's a cinch it won't do much talking in your own home town if you spend it elsewhere.

The 3.2 beer might not be considered such a great joke if it were pointless.—Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
 By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT effective support for a city is organized support. The difference between success and failure in making better business for a city is the difference between organization on one hand and the lack of it on the other.

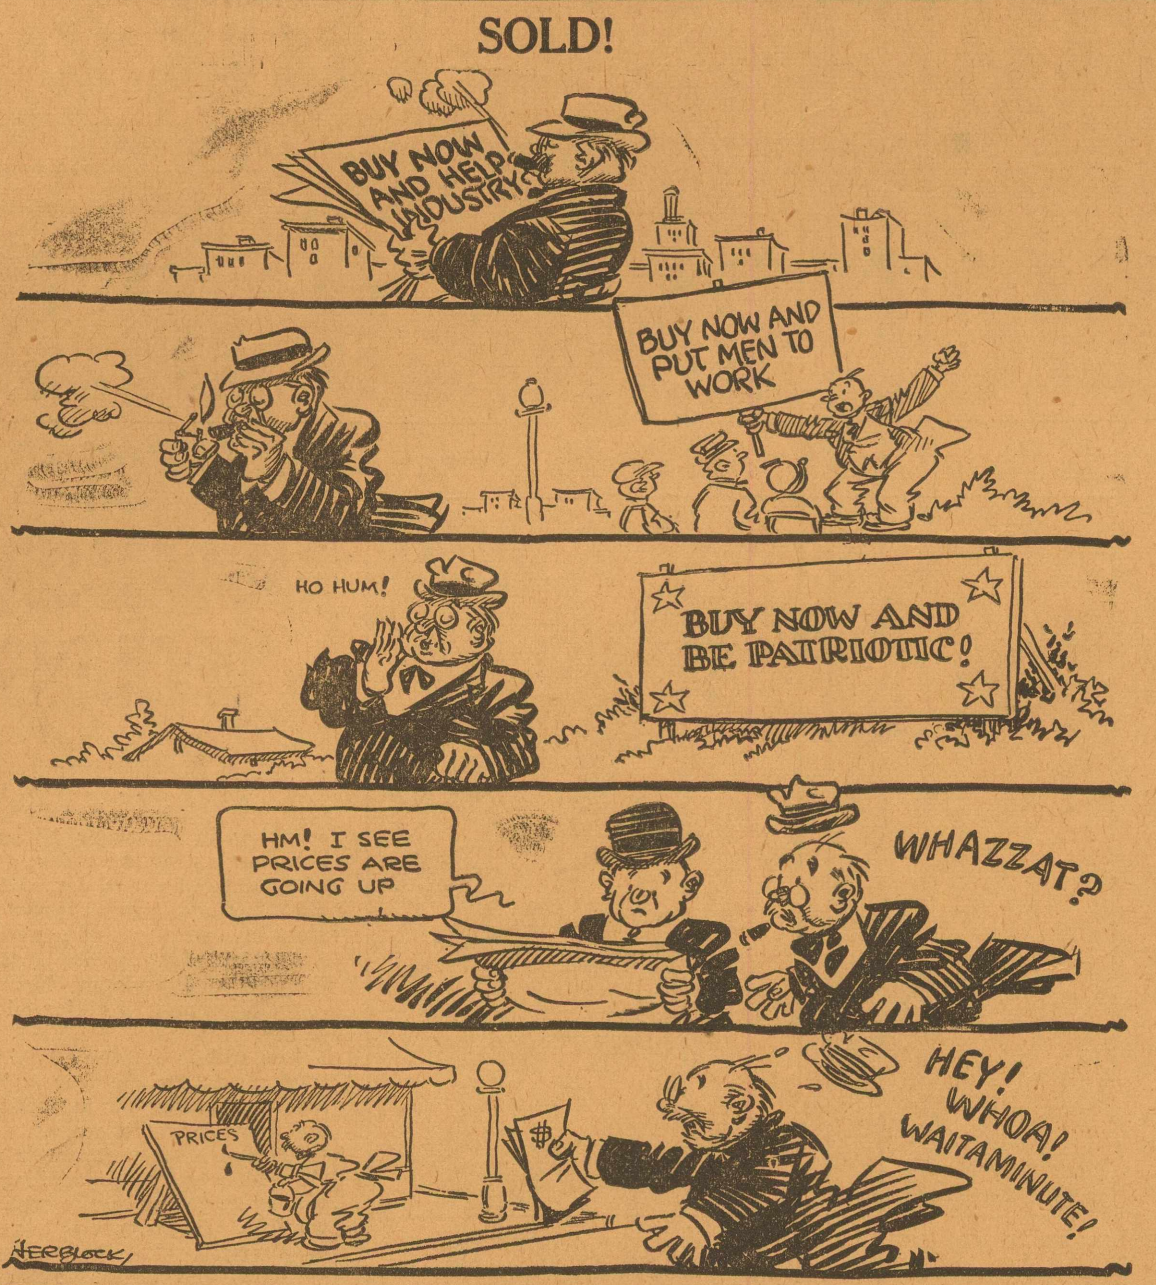

Home city boosters do more than their share in developing the city.

Some people do not understand and appreciate the value of the services that these boosters render.

If they want their city to keep its proper place in the world, it's about time they woke up and joined hands with them.

The object that the home city booster have in view is making a better, bigger, brighter and busier city. They are always on the job.

If the boosters had the support they should have from their entire citizenship, there would be no question about the city growing. The only question would be how fast it would grow!

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON
 WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The real background behind the first formal ruling of the National Labor Board was as interesting as the ruling itself was important.

The board held the Berkeley Woolen Co. in violation of its NRA code and the recovery act itself, since it had refused to deal with any employees' representative who wasn't a worker in its mill.

That company has mills at Martinsburg, W. Va., and Winchester, Va. Vice President William F. Kelly of the United Textile Workers pulled a 100 per cent strike of its 400 workers at Martinsburg after the company was alleged to have fired members of an entire union committee when it called on the management.

The case reached the board for a strike settlement hearing. Employer representatives failed to show. A telephone call came to Chairman Bob Wagner's office from Martinsburg, purportedly from one Mr. Miller, chairman of the strikers' committee to the effect that the strike was being settled locally. Miller was in Wagner's office at the time.

Meanwhile, Kelly had gone to tell the Winchester workers about the Martinsburg strike. The mayor, county commissioners and chief of police said he could have the courthouse steps. The meeting was advertised. But the general manager of the company is an important politician. That night Kelly found the steps occupied by the Salvation Army, meeting there for the first time, and the local police there to bar other meetings. The higher officials had disappeared.

The ruling, applying to the Martinsburg mill, means that employees may be represented by outside union leaders or attorneys if they desire, and their own representatives mustn't be fired. The Berkeley company faces federal prosecution if it persists in violation. The precedent, in view of widespread labor troubles, is extremely important.

EACH of the thousands of window panes in the huge, new, uncompleted Labor Department building at 14th Street and Constitution Avenue is covered with a large letter "S." That looks funny. It's the initial of the contracting company.

Since the carpenters at work there walked out some folks think the initials stand for "Strike."

DRY minorities perhaps can console themselves with the fact that several federal taxes will automatically be abolished when repeal is proclaimed.

They are the additional half-cent tax on gasoline, leaving the tax at one cent; the five per cent tax on dividends, collected at the source; the tax of $1 on every $1000 of corporation capital stock, and the five per cent excess profits tax on annual corporate net income over 12 1/2 per cent of declared value of capital stock.

The nice thing about December repeal is that, under the law, the extra gasoline and dividend taxes would continue right through 1934 if repeal were not proclaimed before Jan. 1.

HOME BANKS TO LIFT CHURCH MORTGAGE

OAKLAND, Calif.—Pennies may lift a $2,500 mortgage from Old St. John's church. The Rev. C. W. Nelson announced a novel re-financing plan. He distributed "home banks" to every parishioner and asked them to put a penny into the bank at each meal. When church-goers have tucked napkins under chins 250,000 times, Rev. Nelson is confident the church no longer will be in debt.

Get This, Citizen!

'A Sales or Consumers' Tax, enacted in the Laws during the Special Session of the Texas Legislature, will spell dire distress and suffering for you and your family!'

Regardless of creed or occupation, every wage earner, every farmer, every home maker, every man, woman and child in the State, will suffer the devastating effects of this proposed heavy levy on the incomes of a people already burdened to the very limit with taxation!

A Sales or Consumers' Tax would mean this: You will be forced to pay a heavy additional tax on every dollar you spend . . . for food, clothing, entertainment . . . the very necessities needed for the happiness and existence of yourself and family.

It cannot be, Citizen! Any proposals for new or increased taxation by the tricky proponents of "more revenue" MUST BE DEFEATED! Texas is in need of no major revenue measures at this time!

Your Help is Needed to Strike Down this Menace that Again Threatens Us All!

Talk to, write, phone or wire your Senator or Representative that you do not want a Sales or Consumers' Tax of any kind! Urge him to vote AGAINST any proposals for new or increased taxation . . . tell him emphatically that our government costs must be kept within the amount that is necessary to meet its present income. Tell him that you know Texas is in need of no major revenue measures at this time. DO IT NOW!

Fill Out the Slip Below

... and mail in your opposition to your Representative or Senator NOW! Do not delay! Help defeat the "influential interests" trying to shift the chief blunt of taxation on the drooping shoulders of the toilers of the State!

Senator Representative
AUSTIN, TEXAS

I am vigorously opposed to the enactment of the Sales or Consumers' Tax and URGE YOU to vote AGAINST any proposals for new or increased taxation of any kind at this time.

RANGER HIGH BULLDOGS WIN FROM STEPHENVILLE BY 34-0

BRITT SCORES FOUR OF FIVE TOUCHDOWNS

Line Holds Well and Bryan Blocks Punt to Make Touchdown.

The Ranger high school Bulldogs, playing their first game of the season, easily defeated an "outlaw" team from Stephenville, composed entirely of ex-Stephenville high school Yellow Jackets. The score was 34 to 0.

The Bulldogs got away to an early start when Rankin Britt raced down the field for 42 yards and the longest run of the game to place the ball on the Stephenville 16-yard line. Jacoby made seven yards on an end-around and Anderson made a first down on the two-yard line when time was called by Stephenville. Anderson picked up one yard and Britt went over for the score. Anderson kicked the goal.

Anderson kicked off to the Stephenville 30-yard line and the ball was returned to the 39-yard line. Three plays gained only five yards and Bryan broke through to block the Stephenville punt and race over the goal line for the second touchdown. Anderson again kicked goal.

Another Stephenville punt was blocked and covered on the 20-yard line. It was bucked over to the one-foot line, where the line held and Britt failed to score and Stephenville kicked out to the 30-yard line. Briley fumbled the ball but recovered on the 24-yard line. On a bad pass from center, Gray lost three and Britt plunged off right tackle for 27 yards and another touchdown. Anderson missed the try for goal.

In the third quarter Briley, Britt, Anderson and Jacoby carried the ball from the 24-yard line down to the one-yard line where Britt again plunged through the Stephenville forward wall for another score. Anderson again kicked the goal for the extra point.

Coach Eck Curtis began sending in substitutes, three and four at a time, until the entire squad had an opportunity to play before the game was over. Britt scored again in the third quarter when the same combination, Anderson, Briley and Britt, had carried the ball to the one-foot line on the third down and Britt plowed through the line for the score. Anderson kicked the goal for the final marker of the game.

Up to the third quarter Stephenville had not made a first down, but with the second string playing they made three, passing for nice gains of from eight to 15 yards, to carry the ball to the Ranger seven-yard line, where it went over on down.

Britt's line-plunging and ball-carrying, Anderson's line-plunging and Briley's side-stepping featured the backfield work. Cole showed up well on punts, as did Anderson, giving the Bulldogs two good punters in the backfield. Cleo Gray showed his old-time form in side-stepping and slipping through tackle and around end, making a number of nice gains during the game.

The Ranger line, about which there has been some doubt in the minds of some of the fans, held well throughout the game, never letting a Stephenville player get through for more than five yards, their longest gain against the first-string line, and holding time after time for no gain. They presented a wall through which no Stephenville back could slip and not once during the day was a hole opened by the visiting forwards.

Jacoby did a nice job at working out interference, while Warden and Love played their usual game at guard. Bryan stood out at tackle because of his blocked punt and touchdown, but Hill at the other side of the line looked equally as good, often breaking through to smear plays. Walsh at end proved that he could handle that assignment and with a little more experience should do well.

Buhton played a good game at center with the exception of one or two bad snafus and Payton, who replaced him, also looked good.

The lineups: Ranger—Jacoby, Walsh, ends; Bryan and Hill, tackles; Love and Warden, guards; Bunton, center; Cole, quarter; Anderson and Briley, halves; Britt, full.

Stephenville—Bland and Holcomb, ends; Rushing and Stafford, tackles; Sellman and Powell, guards; Latham, center; Johnson, quarter; Lovelace and Holcomb, halves; Ross, full.

Substitutes: Ranger—Payton, Whitte Gray, Westbrook, Carroway, Bray, Todd, Wheeler, Bruce, Agnew, Snyder, Blair, Carter, Porter, Coalson, Bruce, Ames, H. Cole.

Sinclair got off to a bad start when they allowed two runs in the first and seven in the second against the heavy hitting of the recruits to the Rotary team, who were picked from the best players at the game, and then tightened up in the last innings and scored their seven runs in two innings. A home run by Gracey started the Sinclair scoring in the fourth and five hits, an error by Vaughn in center field, who dropped a long fly to allow two runs added to the merriment of the fans when Sinclair got two men on third base when Ice overran second, but returned before being touched with the ball.

Jerseys . . . togs . . . water boys . . . grimy athletes.

Football is back . . . made her 1933-34 debut in Ranger yesterday to the tune of much enthusiasm and expectation for the season.

Women in too-hot-for-fall duds . . . men in shirt sleeves . . . ah, wise are the men.

A screaming and red-faced pep squad . . . youth climbs Rooter's Hill with blissful energy, staunchly refusing to believe there might be a top . . . another side.

A perspiring band . . . puffed cheeks . . . patting feet . . . witting collars.

Football is not a game . . . it is a disease.

Symptoms: flushed face, sore throat, jagged finger-nails, cracked lips, hoarseness and temporary mental unbalance.

It leaves humanity incapable of business cogitation, social quietude, or home study.

It runs rampant among both children and adults, and affects one no more than the other.

It brings visions of fortunes to peanut roasters and pop corn poppers and throat wash mixers.

It gives man a legitimate excuse to sit behind an enemy and brazenly beat him over the head . . . without violent results from said enemy.

It gives dad a chance to shout "That's my boy," and mother an agonizing gulp . . . "Ohhh . . . is he hurt?"

It creates more spirit than a ton of malt . . . more scholastic records than an army of professors . . . more fight than a dozen wars.

We freeze and scorch . . . sniffle and mop our brows . . . hunch our shoulders and fan ourselves.

We set up athletic idols and worship them . . . having never seen their flesh and blood selves.

We spend enough money to keep ourselves out of the breadlines . . . to re-finance storm-stricken areas . . . to hang the wolf by his prowling heels.

We walk miles and miles, reducing us when not necessary . . . eat candies and nuts and cream, fattening us when undesired.

Men go to college for it,

Women forget their clubs for it,

Children do without ice-cream cones for it,

The world cries for it . . .

And it all is kinda silly when you think about it, but

We wouldn't miss a game.

Daily Scrimmages Prepare Texas Rangers For McMurray Game

The Texas Rangers scrimmaged Friday for their second afternoon and toward the close of the workout Coach Ward expressed a high degree of confidence in the college team for this year.

"They are at last beginning to click," he stated, "I believe we have improved 50 per cent in our last week's workout."

Some 24 men have been issued suits. Those on the squad are: Lee Taylor, Eastland; Landers, Ranger; Willard Vaughn, Eastland; Beck, Ranger, ends; Steed, Townsend, Williams and Aishman, all Ranger men; Kidwell, guards; Wallace, Weatherford; Marby, Hillsboro; Murray and Love, Ranger, at tackle; Bray, Ranger; Truet Fulcher, center, Eastland; Buzz Daniels, Eastland; Jones, Hillsboro, fullback; Weaver, Ranger; D. Brown, Eastland; E. Brown, Eastland; R. Brown, Eastland, backfield.

Although the college organization is young, most of the men playing their first year on the Ranger college eleven, quite a bit of interest has been manifested, and a great season looms for the Texas Rangers.

A brilliant battle looms in Abilene the 30th with Coach Ward's eleven engaging the McMurray Freshmen. Both teams boast excellent material for this year and workout results good.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected. Those elected were: President, Mary Jane Dreinhoffer; vice president, Verna Castleberry; secretary-treasurer, Dana Lane Pate.

Plans for a seated tea were discussed. The tea, naming the disc-

Mount Baldy Falls Before Terraplane

Mount Baldy. "The guardian peak of Los Angeles," is the latest famous hill climb course to fall before the assault of the two-car Terraplane team that is campaigning for the remaining important A. A. A. hill performance records for stock cars.

Trying the climb with his Terraplane 6 sealed in high gear, Paul Bost made the first ascent and reached the summit of the seven-mile course in 8 minutes, 50 seconds, beating the former high gear record by four and one-half seconds. Shortly afterward, Al Miller, with his Terraplane 8 sealed in high gear, made the same run in 8 minutes, 20.2 seconds, not only shattering the old high-gear record by more than half a minute, but also beating the "through the gears" record by 24 seconds. The old record had been set more than a year ago by a car in the higher price range.

Miller's Terraplane was the one in which he won the recent Pikes Peak Climb in record-breaking time.

The Mount Baldy successes climaxed a two-day effort in which records for three noted hill courses near Los Angeles fell to the Terraplanes. The Cushmanberys-Johnson grade climb, which starts in the Mojave Desert and ends 8.7 miles away in the Sierra Range, was covered by Bost in the Terraplane 6 in 12 minutes, 43.3 seconds. Miller, in the 8, then dashed up the loose-graveled road in 12 minutes, 39.8 seconds. Both cars smashed the previous record and Miller had a margin of more than two minutes. As a final attack on this mountain, Miller, carrying William Taylor of the A. A. A. Contest Board as an observer, made the ascent in high gear in 13 minutes, 55.9 seconds. This had never been done before and will no doubt stand as an official record.

The herd of the trio of hills conquered in the two-day assault was Wrightwood Hill, near San Bernardino, which Miller and the Terraplane 8 climbed in 8 minutes, 13.8 seconds. This was 8.9 seconds better than the previous A. A. A. record for stock cars. Miller's average speed for this dash was slightly better than 60 miles an hour.

He jumped to the wrong conclusion

Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich.

One of the most surprising letters I have received in a long time came recently. A man wrote to ask why I had "abandoned the low-price field."

We found the writer of that letter. He had used only Ford cars; his present car had served him seven years; he hoped sometime to replace it with a new Ford;—but, as he saw the Ford V-8's grow thicker on the streets, and noted their style and action, he just naturally jumped to the conclusion that these must be expensive cars, and that therefore "Ford had gone out of the low-price field."

Besides that, "did not this new Ford have 8 cylinders?" "Did not that prove that the car was not low-priced—for are not all 8's expensive?"

Hence his letter. He complained that after 30 years of making cars for the low-price field I had deserted my old customers for those who were used to spending more money.

Of course, a price-list soon showed him his mistake.

He was helped to his hasty conclusion by seeing a new class of people riding in Ford cars the last four or five years. It was once believed that no one who could afford a high-priced car would use a low-priced car.

But that has changed. The matter of value now comes first, the matter of price second. America used to buy price-tags, now it demands quality.

That explains why tens of thousands of Americans who can afford to pay higher prices, prefer to buy the Ford at a lower price, because in the Ford V-8 they get the quality, the performance, the comfort, the style which are supposed to be exclusive in very high-priced cars.

To be low-priced, a car is not necessarily cheap. A really cheap or inferior car never could become low-priced. Not enough of them would be bought to make a low price possible.

That means that to keep my prices low I must remain in the high-quality field, for it is impossible to have the price right unless the car is right too.

What I have done is to adapt the expensive V-type 8-cylinder engine to the low-price field, making it simple, and less expensive to own and drive than the 4-cylinder cars were.

There is one thing I would make clear to my friends:—my field is the low-price field and will always remain so.
