

State Job Selling Probe Ordered Continued

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Tomorrow morning, beginning promptly at 9:14 o'clock, we are going to become an ardent and faithful follower of the Ranger Junior College Texas Rangers.

Yesterday we got a nice letter from one C. C. Davie, secretary of the Ranger Junior College Athletic association, in which he enclosed a SEASON PASS, the first we have seen in two years, to all Ranger Junior College football games.

The letter states that they would like, very much, for us to attend the junior college games this season and adds that for our convenience he is enclosing a season pass, with his compliments. The pass, all duly signed with enough signatures to make it look official, even at a Southwest conference football game, was enclosed and has been stored away in our wallet, along with a check marked "In" and a bill for $5.46 we got the first of the month but haven't gotten around to paying yet.

Now, if we could just promote the business office on the idea of sending us along to Alpine tomorrow we would like to try out our new pass and see just how slick it works. Incidentally the pass is signed by Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, chairman of the athletic association, and C. C. Davie, secretary.

Anyway, there will be four junior college games this year, the first to be played in Ranger being the next Friday, Oct. 20, between the college and the Decatur Baptist College.

Then comes a game with Weatherford Junior College, which will be played in Weatherford this year, a game with the Simmons university freshmen at Ranger Nov. 3, a game at Kerrville with Schreiner institute on Nov. 10; North Texas Agricultural College, if that is the correct name for N. T. A. C. at Arlington, Nov. 17.

Then late in November and early December, come two home games, one with John Tarleton Nov. 24 and the other with Terrell Military College Dec. 2.

The Rangers leave sometime real soon, we suppose tonight, for Alpine, where they play the Sul Ross team Saturday afternoon.

We don't know just what kind of team Sul Ross has, but they have some altitude and climate that helps out a lot, we are told, just as the climate and altitude helps up around Amarillo and Lubbock when teams go from here up there to play. For that reason, even if Sul Ross does not have the best team of its class in that section of the state, the Rangers will have to put up a mighty good brand of football to win.

Chiefly because the Rangers have played all their games out of town so far, we have not seen them in action, but the 0 to 0 tie with McCurry indicates that they have as good a team as last year when the score was the same, or, if McCurry is as much stronger this year as is claimed the Rangers are just as much stronger as McCurry.

There are a number of good high school players on the team. If they play as a team and do not try to be individual stars the team will go far. As we see it here is not an outstanding individual star on the squad and if the team works as a unit this should prove to advantage. We imagine they will.

We have seen one or two instances where an individual star almost ruined a team. That was true, once long years ago, of Babe Ruth and the Yankees, but Babe soon learned that it takes nine men to make a baseball team, just as it takes 11 men to make a football team. Babe learned this, incidentally, while spending six weeks sitting on a bench watching the other fellows win games.

With the material on hand the Rangers should whip into shape with the game this week-end and should be ready to go places and do things against Decatur next week. Decatur has one of the strongest teams in the conference, so we have heard, and is plenty tough. Whether or not it is as tough to beat as the Rangers will be seen next Friday.

One thing that looks good to us about the team, as we saw it in practice, is that there is some reserve strength, which is often the backbone of the team. All can't be starters and often the ones run in later in the game are the real stars.

We'll be seeing you at the Ranger-Decatur game next Friday, thanks to Dr. Davie, Dr. Kuykendall and the athletic association.

ENFORCEMENT OF OIL CODE IS PLANNED

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 13.—First steps in enforcement of the oil marketing code for zone 28 which comprises Eastland and Stephens county, were made Wednesday afternoon at a meeting held in the Petroleum club rooms at the Burch hotel here.

E. W. Moutry, of Abilene, a member of the Texas state marketing code committee, and director of zones 15 and 28, attended the meeting and told oil men present from Cisco, Eastland, Ranger and Breckenridge of the work to be accomplished by the committees to be named from each zone.

Mr. Moutry stressed the point that the men named on the enforcement committee from the above-named towns were being drafted into service through the efforts of the national co-ordinating committee and that they are not named locally.

Members of the committee named that were announced at the Wednesday meeting were: C. B. Newby, Breckenridge; G. P. Daniel, Breckenridge; R. R. Robertson, Breckenridge; E. O. McLain, Breckenridge; R. B. Haley, Breckenridge, and Jack Clements, Ranger.

C. B. Newby, one of the zone 28 committeemen, was in Cisco and Eastland today getting names of oil men in these cities to be added to the committee, while E. O. McLain visited Ranger for the same purpose.

The state of Texas is divided into 37 zones and each zone committee will have charge of enforcement of wholesale and retail marketing of oil under the code in its zone.

Filling Station In Ranger Robbed

The Gulf filling station on the corner of Elm and Commerce streets, Ranger, operated by Roy McCleskey, was broken into between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock this morning and a pay telephone and one gallon of oil stolen, according to reports to the Ranger police department.

The night patrolmen stopped at the station at 3:30 on their rounds and everything about the station was intact. When one of the patrolmen again stopped at the station at 4:30 the window had been broken in and the telephone and oil stolen.

No arrests in the robbery had been made today.

Modification of Several Codes Found Necessary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Modification of several NRA codes to give minimum wages for classes of skilled workers will be necessary to protect labor and prevent unfair competition, Chairman Wagner of the National Labor Board said today.

His efforts to settle the strike of thousands of silk mill employees have convinced him that early changes must be made in code for that industry. He intends to submit his recommendations to NRA officials immediately.

Macon To Pass Here Late Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The naval airship Macon cruised southward over the Carolinas early today en route to fleet maneuvers in the Pacific and her recently completed home base at Sunnyvale, Calif.

Fourteen officers, 55 enlisted men and two civilian passengers were aboard.

The dirigible left Lakehurst last night. It was expected to arrive over Fort Worth late today or early tonight.

The Macon's itinerary will depend upon weather conditions encountered on the trip, but a route which has formerly been used under favorable conditions is by way of Atlanta, Fort Worth and El Paso.

FOREST, Miss., Oct. 13.—Flying due west, the dirigible Macon passed over north Forest at 1 p. m. today. Its present course will take it over Jackson and Vicksburg, Miss., and Shreveport, La.

A Signature Worth $75,000

BILL CREATES COMMISSION FOR AID WORK

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—A bill creating a new state relief commission of 10 members to administer $5,500,000 of the state relief bonds and all relief funds allotted by the federal government was reported out today by a house and senate conference committee.

The governor is made chairman of the new commission, but has no vote. The bill permits the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house to appoint three members each. The governor appoints one member.

Director Lawrence Westbrook of the present commission, is carried over as the state relief director under the newly proposed setup.

Relief funds are to be administered locally by a committee appointed by the commissioners' court.

The bill will likely reach the floor of the house and senate today.

Regulation of Oil Industry Is Before Courts

TYLER, Oct. 13.—Federal and state regulation of the oil industry was subjected to a new attack here today.

F. W. Fischer, attorney for the McMurrey Corporation, filed an amended petition against Lon Smith, Texas Railroad Commissioner, which challenged the right of Secretary of Interior Ickes to allocate oil production between states.

The petition also attacked validity of the new Texas law which makes violation of state proration orders a felony.

Joe Jones Will Prosecute Coleman

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—The government today moved rapidly to conclude prosecutions resulting from the Urschel kidnaping.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Joe Jones said that Cass Coleman and Will Casey, Coleman county farmers, accused of harboring George and Katherine Kelly, will go on trial in San Angelo federal court early next week, probably Monday.

Government prosecutors expressed the opinion that their case against the men was airtight. It was on Coleman's farm that agents found $73,250 of the ransom money.

Japanese Killed In Bandit Fight

TOKIO, Oct. 13.—A Japanese sub-lieutenant and 22 of his men were killed in an engagement with bandits in Manchuria on Monday, it was announced here today. Nine Japanese were wounded in the sharp fighting.

D. Joseph Brings Back Assortment Of Novelty Goods

D. Joseph, who has just returned from an extended trip to Syria, was busy today unpacking a large quantity of hand-made articles he secured in Jerusalem, Damascus and other towns in that section of the world.

From Jerusalem he brought wooden candlesticks, napkin rings, cigar cases, and egg dishes made from wood of the olive tree, hand-turned into beautiful articles, highly polished and decorated in neat designs.

From Damascus, famed for centuries for its metal work, he brought hand-made brass vases, some inlaid with silver designs. These cases came in a large assortment of sizes. He also had ink wells, coffee grinders and coffee pots of brass, all artistically designed. From the same place he brought wooden house shoes for ladies with inlaid mother of pearl designs.

Two gavels were among the assortment of novelty goods, the heads of which were made from rock from King Solomon's rock quarries. He brought back several pine burs from mountain Lebanon pines and a good quantity of seed from these trees, enough to plant in a number of yards around Ranger.

The entire assortment was being unpacked today and arranged for a window display, which is to be placed in the store window in the next few days.

Mr. Joseph stated today that his family would remain in Syria until spring, at least, and would possibly remain for two or three years in order that the children might go to school there, where they would have an opportunity to learn several languages that might be of advantage to them later in life.

School Papers Stop Soliciting Advs.

SAN ANTONIO.—Solicitors for school publications here will no longer make themselves a nuisance to city merchants.

R. S. Meneffe, president of the board of education, announced advertising no longer would be sought for the publications on the grounds such solicitation constituted "more or less a nuisance to merchants."

The schools will make up for reduction in revenue by decreasing size of their publications' formats.

THREE GUESSES

JUDGE WOULD GIVE ABDUCTOR DEATH VERDICT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 13.—George (Machine Gun) Kelly and Albert Bates would have been sent to the gallows without any hesitation if the Lindbergh law under which they were tried for the Urschel kidnaping had provided the death penalty, their trial judge revealed.

After imposing life sentences on Kelly and the gangster queen, Kathryn Kelly, U. S. Judge Edgar S. Vaughn wrote to Attorney General Homer Cummings in Washington, urging that the law be amended to provide a death penalty and to make possession of ransom money prima facie evidence of guilt.

He and U. S. District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde planned to enter protests in the record against any parole or clemency for Kelly, Kathryn Kelly, Harvey J. Bailey, Albert Bates and Mrs. Ora Shannon, all given life sentences.

Judge Vaughn revealed that the government expects to parole R. G. (Boss) Shannon, well-to-do Texas farmer and step-father of Kathryn, in a few years. He too was given a life sentence in the Urschel case, but the government believes he was an honest citizen until he married his present wife five years ago.

Bailey figured in the kidnaping merely as a sort of back-stop guard for the kidnap victim, Charles F. Urschel, while Kelly and Bates collected the ransom, it was learned from an authoritative source.

Judge Vaughn said he would not have given Bailey a death sentence even had the law provided one, because he believes death should be given only to the actual abductors.

"I felt sorry for Bailey," the judge said. "He acted like a gentleman (in court) though I have no doubt he was a dangerous man. But he looked to me like a man who came from a good family and who when he got started on the wrong track lacked the 'something' to pull him back."

"Kelly and Bates are entirely different types of men. They would do a lot of things that Bailey would not do."

Shanghai Resident Has Midget Auto

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—John Gray, a resident of Shanghai, China, for 24 years, went a long way to get an automobile. Gray, a consulting engineer, traveled to Coventry, England, to have a small but powerful car manufactured under his supervision.

The machine, tiny in size, has a "cruising speed" of 60 miles an hour, and a top speed of 80 miles an hour, Gray claims. "Gadgets" the car boasts include a top which cranks back to aid ventilation and turn the car into an open model, and headlights which become spotlights by a twist of another crank.

The car was shipped to Canada from England, driven through Chicago and Great Falls to San Francisco, then shipped to China as Gray returned to his home.

GEORGE KELLY REMOVED TO LEAVENWORTH

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 13.—In an armored, steel-barred railroad car, George (Machine Gun) Kelly, convicted kidnaper, was started on his way today to Leavenworth penitentiary to begin a life sentence.

Suddenly switching from its spectacular method of transporting criminals by air, the government adopted another plan just as unusual.

The train left at 12:30 p. m. His red-haired wife, Kathryn, sentenced with him to a life term, was left temporarily behind in the county jail.

Their Marital Harmony Is Off Key

Money matters have come between Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini, world famous opera singer of a generation ago, and her young husband, Pietro Vernati, with whom she is here shown. First Vernati brought suit to prevent her from "squandering her money." Now the noted diva has countered this action by charging her mate with extortion.

DESTROYERS IN CUBA LEAVING TROUBLE ZONE

HAVANA, Oct. 13.—American destroyers steamed from their posts along the Cuban coast today in a gesture of confidence there would be no incident endangering American lives.

The American ambassador ordered the destroyers to leave the potential danger spots because of the easing tension in the provinces. All American ships will remain in Cuban waters, however, ready to race to any spot where there is trouble that might endanger Americans.

Display to Show Crimes in Texas

DALLAS, Tex.—The Dallas police department's version of the Eden Musee, minus the wax, will provide a unique exhibit at the State Fair of Texas.

Crime and crime-fighting will be the subject of the display. A pictorial history of the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping case, from the arrest of Harvey Bailey and the Shannons on the farm in Wise county to the trial and conviction of the principals at Oklahoma City.

Scenes, weapons and principals in many local murder, robbery and hijacking cases also will be presented.

In the weapon display will be everything from the gun used in the first Dallas bank robbery to latest types of police equipment. A uniformed officer will be on duty to explain use of various crime detection instruments in the display.

These instruments will include complete finger-printing equipment, microscopic paraphernalia used in the science of ballistics and the like. Bullets from Bailey's machine gun will be shown under powerful lenses that bring into view peculiarities which led officers to connect the outlaw with numerous crimes committed in the middle west.

Equipment of confidence men, gamblers and swindlers—from money-manufacturing machines and dice tables to slot machines and lottery tickets—will be exhibited. One display will be devoted to illustration of the peace officer's most difficult problem, the curbing of the drug traffic. Actual drugs will be shown together with explanations of methods used by their purveyors in eluding the law.

An educational traffic exhibit will complete the police display, which, if it proves popular, will become an annual feature of the fair.

Scientist reports that in New Guinea people sell their songs for pigs. In the United States we've been asked to sell our pigs for a song.

GRAND JURIES ARE ASKED TO MAKE INQUIRY

House Committee To Continue Its Work Until First of Year.

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—The Texas house of representatives today directed a committee to continue investigation of sales of state job until Jan. 1. A partial report by the committee, submitted today, was adopted. It called on grand juries in Dallas, Tarrant, Hill, McLennan, Smith, Upshur, Gregg, Angelina, and Leon counties to also make "diligent" inquiry.

The report said testimony already taken led the committee to conclude that Dr. E. F. Jarrel, Tyler, a member of the state livestock sanitary commission, was actively concerned in job selling and that he received directly and indirectly some of the money paid for jobs.

"After inquiry we were not convinced that any state officer was involved," the report said, "nor were we able to connect any such rumors with any state officer."

"We are convinced that many people paid their money under the impression that they were to be given jobs and placed on the state payroll, but in practically all instances brought to our attention, no permanent positions were awarded."

"Some of the money payments were returned either in whole or in part. Some of the payments were primarily made with checks, but in the major portion of such instances, the money was returned to the giver of the check and the check destroyed and then the money itself again accepted by the person pretending to sell the job."

"We found a few persons who had paid for jobs were employed for a short period, and then discharged after only a short period of employment."

Eastland Man Is Injured In Car Accident

STAMFORD, Texas, Oct. 13.—Five persons were injured, two seriously, in the head-on collision of two automobiles at the intersection of highways 80 and 18, west of Albany, late Wednesday.

The injured were: Mrs. Elizabeth Giel, 76, Pittsburgh, Pa., fractured leg, scalp cuts, shoulder injury.

Her two daughters, Mrs. S. P. Balcerzak, face and head cuts; Mrs. Zita Buck, face and head cuts.

Mrs. Buck's son, John, 10, broken right arm, leg injury. J. E. Craft, Eastland, broken hip, face and body cuts.

A small son of Mrs. Balcerzak, Stanley Paul, 3, and Fidelis, 3-year-old son of Mrs. Buck, were unhurt.

Members of Mrs. Giel's family were brought to a hospital here in a Castleberry ambulance sent from Albany to the scene of the accident. Craft was taken to Eastland in a Kinney ambulance from Stamford.

Twenty of T. C. U. Students Suspended For Hazing Frosh

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13.—Twenty Texas Christian university students, including 16 football players, were given a probationary suspension from school today for alleged participation in clipping the hair of 13 freshmen.

All accused were allowed to remain in school on their future "good behavior." Several of the men were regular, first team players and outstanding men on the team. Identities of the men were not disclosed.

Local Talent Made County Fair Success

HART, Mich.—Local talent was directly responsible for the financial success of the Oceana county fair here this fall, officials claim.

In previous years, the directors of the exposition have engaged high-priced vaudeville performers for the stage entertainment. For the 1933 fair, however, home talent was secured and profits netted $1,000.

THE WET WAIL

Mr. Judkins, our county wet leader, seems much concerned over the loss of business by Eastland county merchants to contiguous wet territory.

Now let us hear from another high wet authority. Mr. Rockefeller's paid investigators solemnly tell us that the wet sections of our country are in great danger of being overrun by bootleggers from dry territory.

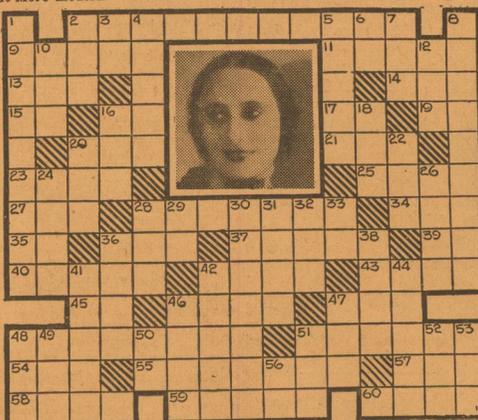

But it remains for one Mr. Jouett Shouse, the gentleman from Kansas, the one-time head of the wet parade, to figuratively take the rag off the bush.

We surely can rely on the local pride of the drinkers in wet territory to patronize their own bootleggers, if any such there be, and have no dealings with the cusses who seek to sell them the rotten dangerous stuff from dry states or localities.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

PICTURES OF SILVER
By BEULAH K. HICKS
"Paul in Antioch"
Acts 11: 19-30; 12:25

Antioch, the metropolis of Syria, situated at the northeast corner of the Mediterranean Sea, was the third largest city in the Roman Empire with a population of 500,000 people. Its outlet to the sea was by a navigable river and a splendid road to Seleucia, the seaport town whose protecting breakwaters and dock was cut out of solid rock. A huge canal was cut from this port to the capital also through solid rock, one of the greatest engineering feats of antiquity, making Seleucia harbor the most famous in the world.

Overlooking this great and wicked city was Mount Silpino, hewn into one vast statue of Charon, the infernal ferryman. He looked at the walls of the city, 50 and 60 feet in height, surmounted by huge towers, and so wide that two chariots could drive abreast on them. A splendid corso or carnival street with double colonades of solid marble ran for five miles in a straight line, through the very heart of Antioch, so that in wet weather people could still enjoy this great street.

Daphne morals derived its name from the infamous grove of Daphne, five miles out of the city with its shrines to gods, crowded with theaters, baths, taverns and dancing saloons.

In this great and wicked city, renowned in Christian history as the scene of a notable forward step in Christianity, came some Greek speaking Jews. On the way thither they had preached Christ only to the Jews but in Antioch they also preached Him to the Greeks, many of whom were converted.

The Christians at Jerusalem were disturbed at the rumor of these converted Greeks and sent Barnabas to investigate the matter. When Barnabas saw how the grace of God was working in Antioch he was glad, and advised the Greek Christians to cleave to the cause, "with purpose of heart."

Barnabas did a great work in this city and felt the need of help. He did not stop to think that Saul of Tarsus would do a greater work than he was doing, but sought Paul and brought him back to help the Lord's cause. They enjoyed the work together "even for a whole year"; a wonderful partnership in a wonderful business.

The mocking Antiochenes were unwitting prophets of the Lord when they jestingly gave the disciples the name Christian. The name at that time sounded ridiculous for it was made up of three languages, Hebrew, Greek and Latin.

"Christian enshrines the supreme glory of the gospel, and proclaims the universality of its grace."

Rumors came to these disciples that the Christians in Jerusalem were suffering from famine.

Saul, seeing the plenty that was in the rich plains of Antioch, remembered that before his conversion he had plunged many people into dire poverty by his persecutions, was anxious to send relief. A relief fund was made up and Saul and Barnabas carried it to Jerusalem.

When they returned to Antioch, they were accompanied by John Mark, a nephew of Barnabas. This was the Mark, who in later years, wrote the second gospel.

So, in the year A. D. 46, we see Christians working with power when they live and work with Christ. The office of the church is established in a great way, teaching, preaching and helping people to carry their burdens. Every Christian should be in the church of his choice where he can help in a larger way, saying, For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every man that believeth; to the Jew first and also to the Greek. Rom. 1: 16.

Old Stock Law Is Invoked at Kleburg

By United Press
KLEBURG, Tex.—A law passed in 1886 but which was forgotten and seldom used has been invoked here. It is a stock law providing fine and damages for the offense of letting hogs run at large.

Reference to the law was recalled recently by R. L. Page, an old-timer here. He mentioned it to J. Q. Carmichael, clerk of the County commissioners' court. Carmichael delved into the records, found the law.

Heretofore convictions for allowing hogs to run at large were not obtainable because prosecutors did not know the old law existed.

Broken Fire Plug Presents Spectacle

TAXARKANA.—The audience at the circus here recently saw a mixed presentation of geysers in action and Niagara in flood that was not on the program.

When a circus truck ran over a fire hydrant a stream of water shot 80 feet in the air, giving a fair imitation of Old Faithful at Yellowstone. The water in descending fell on the "big top," filling the air with a strange staccato as the show went on.

Water accumulated in a large pool as the canvas sagged under its weight. Finally the strain became too great and the heavy cloth ripped, losing a brief but heavy waterfall upon the bleachers.

Fortunately no one was seated under the four-foot-square hole torn in the canvas and no one was drenched.

Special Correspondent
Dr. and Mrs. Westlake of Graham spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barron.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bratton and little daughter, Cleve Jean, drove over to Gorman on business Thursday afternoon.

Guy Bruce left on Tuesday of last week for Port Arthur to visit his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hendrickson.

John Welder returned several days ago from a reforestation camp in New Mexico. He was well pleased with camp life up in the mountains during the summer but did not think he could stand the cold during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cutting arrived the first of last week from Cuba, N. Y., and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Gallagher. Their many friends are glad to welcome them back to our town.

Mrs. W. H. Davis and her daughter, Mrs. Aaron Henslee, visited in Gorman Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Acrea spent Sunday at Ranger with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pritchett. Her mother is still suffering from injuries received in a car wreck two weeks ago.

At the meeting of Desdemona Eastern Star chapter on Tuesday night of last week, after the regular business meeting was held, a program was rendered honoring the birthday of Rob Morris, the founder of the order. Those taking part in the program were Mmes. J. E. Heeter, C. W. Maltby, W. C. Bedford and Roy Rushing.

The program had been postponed from Aug. 31 on account of illness in the homes of some members. Those present were given a surprise at the close of the meeting by being invited to the dining hall where Mrs. I. N. Williams and Mrs. Roy Rushing served delicious pies and coffee to Mmes. W. C. Stark, Roy Ashburn, J. H. Rushing Sr., Bill Parks, Carl Baker, Clarence Ragland, Fred Weider, Joe Merrill, J. H. Jackson, J. E. Heeter, G. S. Bruce, Mattie Henry, M. P.

Williams, C. W. Maltby, W. R. McGowan, John Mendenhall, W. C. Bedford, and the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Robert drove over to DeLeon Monday and Mrs. Robert had some dental work done.

The "21" Study club met at their clubhouse Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 26. Mrs. Roy Ashburn, president, presiding, called the meeting to order. After a short business session, the following program was rendered: "How Our Nation Grew," Mrs. A. C. Robert; "Life of Washington," Mrs. Fred Weider; "John Adams," Mrs. W. E. Barron; "Thomas Jefferson," Mrs. A. B. Henslee; "James Madison," Mrs. John Mendenhall; "Martha Washington and Dolly Madison," Mrs. J. E. Heeter. Miss Nora Robert was in charge of the questions. Hostesses, Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mrs. Aaron Henslee, served a lovely refreshment plate of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles and punch to the following: Mmes. A. Anderson, Roy Ashburn, W. E. Barron, W. C. Bedford, C. M. Bratton, Mattie Henry, A. B. Henslee, J. E. Heeter, Ralph Ludwig, C. W. Maltby, John Mendenhall, A. C. Robert, Hugh Roe, S. E. Snodgrass, Fred Weider, M. P. Williams, Clarence Ragland; and Misses Nora Robert, Dorace Roe, and Miss Pansy Day of Dallas, a guest.

is a reward for him. They orders in a kindly spirit, work at the job assigned to you, and do it well. That will keep many people working, and it will be permanent.

Another funny development in the legislature's investigation. Dr. E. J. Jarrel has resigned as Live-stock Sanitation Commissioner. There was an accusation of "job selling." Whether true or not, this investigation brings out some things that man would get so stooped as to pick up money from the hands of the starving, groveling in the dust for existence.

What was the real motive for the existence of the two factions that have been fighting for the control of the Jonesboro Tabernacle at Jonesboro, Arkansas? It ended in the death of one, and a minister of the Gospel is accused of the killing. If there ever was a time for those who have allowed themselves to become incensed against their fellow man under the guise of religion, this is one time that both sides of the laymen could well take stock of themselves and ask themselves the question: Am I truly following the dictates of my Savior, and the commandments of my God?

The sensational developments from time to time of the struggle for control of the situation has kept it on the front pages and the publicity has done more harm than good. Why should there be such a thing as a "fiery" pastor? Is not religion based upon an humble principle that should make us almost grovel in the dust in humility and begging forgiveness for our sins. Man is incapable of being perfect. Therefore we are always subject to being forgiven. It is in trying to live the life of a worthwhile citizen that will bring the approval of God that gives us the feeling that some of those sins which we cannot help will be forgiven. That's the thing worth while.

It is only hoped that people of all creeds will remember that religion based on fiery dictatorship cannot surmount the obstacles necessary to prepare us for a better world. It can only result in harm and as in this instance, death. Usually the publicity form of religion has as its goal, the greed for money. No preacher can be great that gets so by the route of dictatorship or publicity. It is too cheap for God to fool with.

And now what—a preacher will be tried. Other developments might make for more sensationalism, and in the end, not an inch will be gained towards the goal of happiness which has been promised the worthy. Too bad some of us can't see it.

Texas gets $13,000,000 in relief funds. That means work and happiness for many. But there will be some left out. Those that want to work, those that will work, and those that attend to their business of work and leave off selfish opportunities to hurt their fellow workers will be the choice in the end. Some times a good clean conscientious worker is the victim of scorching tongues and unmerciful submissions to power of the higher ups. But in the end, there

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

THE housewife in search of appetizing new vegetable dishes to tempt the family palate will find a wealth of possibilities in kale, kohlrabi, turnips, parsnips, beets, winter carrots, cabbage and onions.

These good cool weather vegetables possess certain dietary qualities which are most desirable and should not be overlooked. Kale very acceptably takes the place of spinach. Turnips and parsnips are valuable because they supply bulk, always a necessity in the diet, and some carbohydrates. These vegetables all supply some mineral matter and vitamins.

More Salt Needed
When cooking these vegetables, one should remember that their structure is very different from that of the succulent summer vegetables. Boiling water or intense oven heat is necessary to soften the woody fibers of turnips, parsnips and the like. They also must be quickly cooked in a generous amount of water. These precautions prevent them from becoming soggy and unappetizing both in taste and appearance. Add salt to root and tuber vegetables when they are about half cooked. Remember, too, that these vegetables require more salt than the delicate summer varieties.

Kohlrabi is delicious served in a mock Hollandaise sauce. Turnips in piquant sauce are so very good that one would mistrust their humble origin.

Kale scalloped with bacon is nourishing and appetizing.

Carrot timbales served with white sauce make an excellent main dish for luncheon or supper. Baked beets are superior to ordinary boiled beets. Baked onions are unusual and very good.

Kale Scalloped With Bacon
Two cups cooked and chopped kale, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon each pepper and paprika, few gratings nutmeg, 1 tablespoon soybean oil, 4 slices bacon, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 2 tablespoons fine dried bread crumbs. Cut bacon in dice and cook until crisp. Drain and keep hot. Combine kale with butter, egg yolks, salt, pepper, paprika and nutmeg. Put half in a buttered baking dish. Cover with minced onion and bacon. Cover with remaining kale. Sprinkle top with grated cheese and bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven until brown and serve from baking dish.

Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST: Baked pears, cereal cooked with raisins, cream, cornmeal pancakes, brown sugar syrup, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Kale scalloped with bacon, celery and apple salad, graham rolls, caramel rice pudding, milk, tea.
DINNER: Pot roast of veal with gravy, riced potatoes, kohlrabi in mock Hollandaise sauce, stuffed prune salad, steamed cup puddings, milk, coffee.

There is one thing that must happen Saturday. The Mavericks must beat Breckenridge. There is one way to get the boys to use superhuman efforts to do it. Everybody go to that football game and yell for the home team. The Mavericks can do it. We know it.

This is the first conference game of the season. Let's make it a 100 per cent one, both in attendance and in loyalty to the team. Reports are that practically all of the season tickets were sold. Eastland's loyalty was well demonstrated in that little drive. Probably 200 could have been sold if they had been put on sale two weeks earlier. Anyway, we're for Eastland, first, last and all the time—including school and everything.

CALENDAR

Saturday
Junior Missionary auxiliary, at 8:30 a. m., Baptist church.
Public library, 2 to 5:30 p. m., Community clubhouse.
Miss Loraine Taylor, hostess to Sunday school class party, 8 p. m., at A. F. Taylor residence.

Many Informal Entertainments Honor Visitors

Mrs. W. A. Randolph of Wynnewood, Okla., will return home tomorrow, Saturday, following a visit of two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Harry Porter.
Several informal, small affairs were tendered Mrs. Randolph by the friends of her hostess, and Mrs. Porter had entertained with a little tea, with ten women as guests, all close friends of Mrs. Randolph.

Boys and Girls World Club

A worship program was presented by the Boys and Girls World club at their meeting Wednesday afternoon in the lower assembly room of the Methodist church. "Help Us Do the Things We Should," led by their director, Mrs. Drago, who gave them a talk from the scriptures based on, "Blessed Are the Peacemakers," and explained the four ways to be happy, closing her talk with prayer.

A Japanese story was told, "In a Japanese Home, After School," that brought out something of the life of the Japanese children, the brother Soy-Chi and the sister, Ume and their pet, a monkey, Watako.

This series of mission studies of Japan and its people is similar to that the children studied about Mexico, and the adventures of the little boy Ramso and his donkey, at the mission school.

Songs in the Japanese language with their meaning was explained, and the children learned that the little girls' name, translated, was Plum Blossom.

After the lesson the work the children had accomplished was shown them, all packed ready to be shipped Thursday to the bureau in Nashville, and from there to the Indian mission school in Oklahoma.

The meeting concluded with a Japanese game played in the yard, a romp called, "Kon-Kon-Chi-Ki," a circle game played with a glass of water and a rope.

Children present were Joyce Bagley, Virginia Garrett, Betty Jo Newman, Dorothy McGlamery, Marie Hart, Betty King, Wilma Dean Pearce, Alva Roper, Wayne

Bagley, T. J. Haley, Jr., and Mrs. Drago.

Have Moved To Eastland

Eastland friends will be happy to know that Mr. and Mrs. L. H. McEwen, who have been living in Columbus, O., have returned to Eastland to live, and at present are located with Mrs. McEwen's parents, Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor.

Mr. McEwen has been employed by the States Oil Corporation, Mrs. McEwen was the former Miss Harriett Taylor.

Callahan County Club Have Eastland Women Present

The Callahan county clubs of Baird, Putnam, and Cross Plains, met in the Presbyterian church in the latter city at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday, with 0 women in attendance.

Mrs. Rand, the president, presented Mrs. J. A. Caton, formerly of this city and a sister-in-law of Dr. J. H. Caton, who introduced the speaker for the program, Mrs. J. M. Perkins of Eastland.

On the musical program, was a delightful little song, by the small niece of Mrs. Carl Springer of this city, a talented child whose home is in Baird.

Others of this city who were present included Mrs. Sterling Price Rumph of Baird, and Mrs. Underwood of Cross Plains. The latter taught in the South Ward school a few years ago, both women have many friends in Eastland.

Mrs. James Horton of Eastland gave a brief talk on the Eastland county library and how organized, for the benefit of the Callahan county institute which is now in its third year, and will start a county library of its own.

Hoboes Beat Up Wichita Sheriff

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 13.—Sheriff Perry Browning of Wichita county was in a serious condition in a hospital here today from injuries received last night when a gang of hoboes attacked him and hurled him from a railroad trestle.

While the officer lay in semi-conscious condition 16 men were rounded up and questioned. Browning said he had arrested three white men and four negroes along the railroad right-of-way and was marching them to town. As the party moved upon the trestle the negroes whirled and attacked him. He was struck in the head and thrown off the bridge, landing on sand 15 feet below. The sheriff crawled up the bank to a nearby filling station, where he collapsed after giving a brief account of the incident.

Most of the cotton is gathered here. The farmers have begun digging and threshing peanuts.

Among those out of the community who attended singing here Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hazlewood and Mr. and Mrs. Vanderford of Reich and Mr. and Mrs. Hap Sprawls and Sam Morgan and sister, Miss Ruth Morgan, of Scranton.

Woodrow Nix and Doc Horn are home from Rule, Texas.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Miss Rowena Cook, program chairman; Miss Irene Williams, personal service chairman; Mrs. H. R. Brazee, counsellor.

Each officer and chairman, was called upon to outline her duties as she understood them, and the manner in which they would be carried out.

The Y. W. A. will meet Tuesday, October 26th, at 7:30 p. m., with Mrs. Brazeale.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Terrell, served refreshments of hot chocolate with whipped cream and cake at close of the pleasant evening.

Several members are ill and were not able to attend. Those present: Misses Doris Van Geem, Geraldine Terrell, Irene Williams, Rowena Cook, Allean Williams, Anna Mae Chick, Mrs. O. C. Terrell.

Assembly Program High School Thursday

An enthusiastic assembly program was presented by the Pep Squad of the Eastland High School in the auditorium at the assembly hour Thursday morning.

If there is anybody that doubts whether or not football is popular this year they would have had their fears relieved had they attended this program.

There were many guests present, and all enjoyed the excitement and fun which opened with the pep song, "Hail Hail the Gang's All Here," and some new and original pep yells, introducing the captain of the football team, Willie Taylor, who gave a short and snappy talk.

The manager of the team, Wendell Seibert, followed with something to say that counted.

New yells galore then heralded the speaker of the morning, Samuel Butler of the Arab Gasoline Corporation, who was introduced by Daus Simmons of the public speaking class and one of the members of the football team.

A series of school songs followed the splendid address by Mr. Butler, and a pep talk predicting victory in the Saturday ball game between Eastland and Breckenridge on the home ground that was given by Bailey Hinton.

The program closed with remarks by Coaches Petty and Brothers.

John Tom Harris the young mascot of the Eastland team, was present.

The District Convention of Pythian Temple No. 10, held in Dallas Friday was attended by Eastland members, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Slaughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross, Mrs. Artie Liles and Mrs. J. H. Fry.

Mrs. Dick Phillips of Duncan, Oklahoma, will return home tomorrow, following a ten days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor.

Mrs. Walter I. Clark accompanied Mr. Clark on an all day motor trip Wednesday, visiting Abilene, Comanche and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carlisle and little daughter, Mary Elizabeth, will leave Monday for their home in Anson. Mr. Carlisle will be manager for a new store, a branch of the local Mickle Hardware Co.

Mrs. Fred Drago leaves Saturday for San Angelo, to make a two or three weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Beall.

Mrs. Earl Conner was in Dallas Monday, to meet her daughter, Mrs. Reineman, and little daughter Beth Reineman, of Gladewater. Beth returned with Mrs. Conner to Eastland, with whom she will spend the winter and attend the Spencer kindergarten.

Miss Spencer Leatherwood and sister, Miss Mattie Leatherwood of Big Spring were the guests of Mrs. Joseph B. Leonard from Tuesday to Thursday.

One of the few giant skyscrapers of uptown New York, the 70-story RCA Building, world's largest, with respect to floor space, is pictured in this striking photo from the newly completed Promenade between the British Empire Building and La Maison Francaise. The promenade, with its pool, fountain, yew hedges and white pine trees, gives a picturesque touch to the largest unit in Rockefeller Center.

Methodist Begin Campaign For $4,500 Fund

EASTLAND, Texas, Oct. 13.—The Methodist campaign army met in the basement of the church Thursday night at a banquet served by the J. J. Mickle circle of the Missionary Society with Rev. C. Q. Smith as toastmaster.

Great enthusiasm was displayed in the different talks and a complete financial statement was read by Neil Moore. The church has had offered $5,000.00 providing that they raise $4,500.00 and that must be done now. With this amount, the church can pay a $9,000,000 debt and start the New Year with a clean slate. This means that every dollar that a member gives means two dollars to the church. The teams are out working today and will work again Saturday. Every member of the army left the banquet with the determination to have the required amount subscribed by Saturday night.

Rev. C. Q. Smith, presiding elder of this district, will again fill the pulpit Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. Thompson, who is ill in Temple. Every member of the church is requested to be at the morning service to see and hear a very unique system in presenting the first report of the progress of the army. If you are interested in the welfare of your church come to the morning service and hear the address of Rev. Smith.

In this campaign, every member is asked to give a certain amount. This amount is all that you will be asked to give and will be considered as your pledge for this year. If the army does not get to you, you may call either Earl Bender or Neil Moore and give them the amounts that you will give.

Community Ethics

A good Newspaper is the city's best asset. Cheap methods make a cheap city that attracts persons of like calibre.

No single effort in a community calls for as constant and exact service as that given by the newspaper publisher and his staff. What would a boom mean without a newspaper? Nothing. Or the work of reconstruction? Or the handling of public charity?

With the government, state and federal, working to restore a unanimity of buying, cheap advertising methods adopted to avoid a proper share of the responsibility, only harm the real medium, the newspaper, his trade, and harm all.

Each man should stick to his own. When any man goes outside his chosen work to take another's business, his own business is bound to suffer, not only because of the lessening of thought to his main effort, but because a wrong principle has been evoked.

Don't be a bootlegger. Bootlegging advertising harms the community, cheapens the city.

Play the game according to rules, and then nothing can go wrong. A recent national advertising survey shows that 25 companies increased their newspaper advertising budgets with returns in profits, with 25 other companies which decreased newspaper advertising expenditures and suffered losses as a result.

Handbills do not help the reader in permanent ways. They must be backed by consistent newspaper advertising. They only weaken the greatest public benefactors we have... the newspapers.

A Washington newspaper says, "Handbills and circulars are termed cheap and poor medium of advertising. They are one of the cheap methods, yet they are expensive, considering the results they bring. They are unsightly and clutter up the lawns; they leave a bad taste rather than a good one to the average home keeper. They are banned in many of the more progressive civic centers!"

CLEAN FOOTBALL by JOCK SUTHERLAND FAMOUS PITTS COACH

FOOTBALL IN THE OILBELT

By J. C. ALLISON
The old dope bucket went sailing in the air twice last week. How it did mess up the football outlook for this district! It will take this week end games to get the dope sorted out again, if it is ever done this season.
In the first place Gorman heisted the old bucket Friday afternoon by defeating Eastland by a score of 12 to 7. No one except the Gorman squad had such a thought before hand, but it was done and done in splendid football style. There is no reason except that with Garrison, Simmons and Rayley out of the Eastland lineup, Gorman had the better team. However, it is understood that several strong outside players were assisting the Gorman school squad. This was all right, since the Mavericks wanted a good stiff practice game and got it.
Then Saturday afternoon the Eagles flew over to San Angelo and gave the old bucket another terrific wallop by defeating the Bobcats by a score of 20 to 14. The dope was all set for a score of about that denomination but with the heavy end for the Bobcats' portion. San Angelo had a good alibi but refused to take protection under it. The guiding genius of the team, the quarterback, was on the side lines, unable to function.
And what the respective coaches have to say about this incident is astounding. Read their statements and ponder. Mayhew for the Eagles: "The Eagles could not have won had Herb Reid, star quarterback for the Bobcats, been in the game for four quarters and in the best of health." Blundy Cross of the San Angelo Standard: "It does not matter that Herb Reid, quarterback and spark plug of the San Angelo team, was kept on the sideline through more than three quarters of the game because of illness."

It is all right for those that are directly concerned to use this kind of sentiment, but the dopsters will take another view of it and use the alibi to save his dope. It is evident that had the quarterback been in the game the result would have been different just as the result would have been different between Gorman and Eastland had Simmons and Garrison been in there doing their best.
In the other games of the district the results were about as predicted. The Bulldogs lost to Central High of Fort Worth to the tune of 8 to 0; Highland Park of Dallas swamped the Buckaroos under a 26 to 7 score; Brownwood eased out a victory against Granbury with a score of 13 to 0 and the Lobos went down before the McMurry Freshmen, 19 to 14.
The battle royal for district honors opens this week with Eastland meeting Breckenridge Saturday afternoon. The dope places these two teams about on a parity, though the local fans stoutly maintain that Eastland will win. Each team has one win and two losses to its credit so far this season. However, the Mavericks have twice beaten this same Buckaroo squad when both were cubs.
Cisco goes to Brownwood Friday and, although both teams lost to San Angelo by the same score, Cisco is picked for the winner in this contest. Abilene will have rough sailing against Lubbock Friday at Abilene and will probably lose, while at the same time the Bulldogs will be taking the Mineral Wells Mountaineers into camp at Ranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hazard

Forgotten Sweetheart

BY MARY RAYMOND
BEGIN HERE TODAY
BOB WESTON, son of a millionaire, is in love with JOAN WARING, pretty Memphis girl. He has come to Memphis in connection with a textile plant under construction for his father's company.
BARBARA COURTNEY, society girl, whom he knew in New York, is scheming to win him away from Joan.
PAT, Joan's younger sister, is infatuated with JERRY FORRESTER, son of her employer, MRS. WARING, hopeful that her two daughters will marry well and escape the drudgery that has been her lot, has made every effort to give her daughters advantages.
Through Barbara, Joan is invited on a house party. Barbara realizes Joan will be ill at ease among so many strangers and hopes Bob will be distinguished. From the very beginning of the house party things go wrong for Joan. It is the sophisticated wealthy girls and Joan, determined to win Bob, who is in love with Barbara.
Doubts all Joan's mind. Unhappy because of Barbara's possessive attitude toward Bob, she pretends to show that she is hurt. Joan accepts the attentions of JIM WARFIELD, there is a dancing party and Joan, determined to win Bob, stays open all night.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIV
JOAN and Bob had barely circled the room when Jim put his hand on Bob's arm, cutting in on the dance. Bob made his way toward Barbara. The orchestra was playing a slow waltz. Barbara's bright head nestled close against Bob's shoulder, a smile curving her lips. The music stopped and they left the floor.
"I've been trying to get a word alone with you all evening," Jim told Joan, "but you're too popular. Listen, I'm out of cigarettes. Will you go with me to get some? There's a little store a few miles away that stays open all night." Joan hesitated.
"Please come!"
"Why not?" she answered, thinking of Bob and Barbara leaving the dance floor, going through the door leading to a dimly-lighted porch.
"Don't bother with a wrap," said Jim. "My overcoat is in the car."
A few minutes later they were spinning along the smooth highway. The small store, windows bright even at this late hour, loomed up suddenly. Jim drove past.
"Your cigarettes?" said Joan.
Jim laughed. "In my pocket."
"In your pocket?"
"That was an excuse."
"I certainly didn't!" Joan answered. "You said you wanted them."
"There were plenty at the house, even if I hadn't been well supplied. And I am." He reached into his pocket.
"Strike a match for me, Joan." He checked the car's speed. Joan struck a match and as it flared up she saw his bright, feverish eyes.
"Thanks." He pulled the car to one side of the road, stopping it.
"You know very well why I brought you away," he went on. "I wanted you here with me—away from that crowd. It isn't your crowd, Joan. And I'm crazy about you!"
His arms were about her suddenly. He was lifting her face to his. Joan, resisting fiercely, said: "If you kiss me I'll never forgive you, Jim."
"You don't think I'd lose this opportunity?" He was laughing.
"I liked you," Joan said steadily. "You seemed decent and understanding. I thought you were the best friend I had there."
His arms dropped. "Well, have it your way then. If I were just a little drunker I wouldn't listen to you."
He started the car and Joan relaxed in her seat. The engine began jerking. Jim pulled out of the choker and jammed it in again. The car moved along a few feet jerkily, then came to a standstill.
"No gas, Joan," Jim said slowly. "There's nothing to do but walk to the store and get some."
"I'll go with you," she said. They walked along in silence until they reached the curve in the road.
"Hell!" said Jim. "The lights are out in the store." He turned and looked at her, at the frail white slippers she wore and groaned.
"I'm all kinds of an idiot! We'll have to walk."
"How far is it?" asked Joan.
"Nearly three miles."
"Let's start," she spoke bravely, steadily. But she was thinking miserably. This is what comes of jealousy. I'm paying the piper."
"Where's that good-looking Joan girl?" Fred sang out.
"With Jim on the porch probably."
"Not on the porch," said Barbara. "They drove off in Jim's car an hour ago."
"Probably went to the store for cigarettes. I know those old tricks of Jim's," said Carol easily.
"Or a coca cola," suggested Charlie Ross with a laugh.
"Or an aspirin," someone else offered cynically. "Jim probably needed one. He certainly didn't need any more liquid refreshment."
Rage burned in Bob's heart. To think of Joan going off with that jug-head, letting herself in for a lot of gossip and internal speculation!
HE went out on the porch, staring down the black stretch of road toward the neighborhood store. He looked at his watch. It was one o'clock. A half hour later he looked at his watch again.
Some of the others came out on the porch. "I can't imagine what has happened to them," Carol was saying.
"We are being very silly," said Barbara. "Nothing's happened."
"They'll be coming in presently," Enid said.
"They always do," said Charlie in his tired, wise voice.
There were steps on the drive—a white blur in the darkness. And then, as the light from the porch reached out, a dark shadow beside the white.
Joan and Jim!
They came up on the porch. The gay girl of two hours before had vanished. Joan's hair, blown by the long walk in the wind, was in disorder. There were deep, weary shadows under her eyes. Her shoulders, under the man's coat, sagged forlornly.
Jim's face showed strain, too. His hair was rumpled. His eyes were bright and feverish. Searching the faces on the porch, he said contemptuously, "A royal reception. Don't say you were really alarmed about us!"
"The gas ran out," he added slowly. And then, as no one spoke, "Now, some darn fool laugh!"
"But evidently your liquor didn't." This from Charlie.
"Comedy isn't your role," Jim said.
"Nobody but a damn idiot would drive off without enough gas in his car," said Bob.
"Lay off, will you, Weston?" said Jim dangerously.

Read the "Ads" but don't ignore medical opinion if you want to —keep bowels regular and comfortable —make constipated spells rare as colds —avoid danger of bowel strain

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation. Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys. Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Can Constipation be Corrected? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say thousands who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose that you find suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without assistance. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels as regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is no "convenience" in any cathartic that's taken so frequently, you must carry it wherever you go! What is the "Right" Laxative? In buying any laxative, read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains one doubtful drug, don't take it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescriptional preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. By using it, you avoid danger of strain. You can keep the bowels regular, and comfortable. You can make those constipated spells as rare as colds. How many dimes and quarters are spent on "popular" laxatives! How quickly they count up, as you use more and more of these habit-forming helps! A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin would save you money—and bring you real relief. Why Doctors give a liquid laxative The habitual use of irritating salts, or powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets is risky. The properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without discomfort or injury. You need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. The public can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore.

New Era Club Has Interesting and Profitable Meeting

The New Era club met Wednesday afternoon in the colonial room of the Gholson hotel.

The program, "Agriculture in Texas," was opened by reading a collect, and the singing of the club song.

Ben Whitehouse discussed agriculture possibilities in Texas.

He said, "Agriculture is a vocation of wide appeal when properly conducted." Mr. Whitehouse then discussed Texas as a producing, not a consuming state.

The average yield of crops per acre in Texas is too low. Vocational teachers and demonstrators are working along these lines to develop efficiency in farming methods.

Mrs. F. D. Hicks discussed "Lure of Texas Trails." She mentioned various highways and outstanding ranking cities of Texas with their civic developments.

She also mentioned the beauty of trails in this part of the state, reading a description of a sunrise and a sunset in Texas.

In the business meeting the club voted to sponsor the Little Theater movement in Ranger.

F. U. N. Club Organized

Miss Rose McEver and sixth grade school girls recently organized the F. U. N. club. Officers elected were Fern Allen Meroney, president; Frances Johnson, vice president; Lucile Miller, secretary; Yvonne Kribbs, reporter.

This club will enjoy several outdoor occasions with the sponsor, Miss McEver. They will hike to some pleasant place for supper every two weeks.

Poison Favorite Route of Suicides

DALLAS, Tex.—The prospective 1933 suicide in Dallas, if he would be in the mode, will prefer poison to hanging as a way out.

The slightly less fastidious might use firearms, and doubtless there will be those who will employ gas or enough water in which to drown themselves.

But a rope—only a person who simply didn't care what people would think could dream of hanging himself.

For hanging, according to Miss

Her records for the past fiscal year listed 60 suicides in Dallas for the period. Poison was the popular favorite among the 60, twenty-six finding it to their taste.

Twenty-three used firearms, probably, it was suggested, because there usually was a gun somewhere about the house while you have to go to a drug store for poison. Six went out sniffling—sniffling gas, and three drowned themselves.

Only two were sufficiently old-fashioned to hang themselves.

Kibitzer Coaches Get Leather Medals

TUCSON, Ariz.—The University of Arizona has football coaches to spare, but they all have a thumb in the "pie."

In recognition of their support of the institution's team and their "hot-stove" coaching advice, various alumni were presented with leather badges entitling them to membership in the "Congress Street Football Coaches" association.

Lawson Smith, who was named president, was given an 18-inch leather badge. The "coaches" are entitled to sit in the front row of the bleachers during any non-secret practice for the 1933 season.

Dallas to Germany A Four-Day Trip

DALLAS, Tex.—The days are getting shorter, but the distance you can travel in them is getting longer.

During the last week-end of October, at least, that will be true. For then but four days will separate Dallas and Germany.

The traveler will be able to leave Dallas Oct. 7 on the United States Air Lines, board the Graf Zeppelin at Akron on the following morning, wave "buenos dias" on Oct. 30, and complete the journey on Oct. 31 at Friedrichshafen, Germany.

The Graf Zeppelin crossed the Atlantic to South America recently and will sail up the coast to Miami, fly to the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago and go from there to Akron.

Fare for the four-day trip to Germany, arranged through cooperation of the air line, will be $722.95, of which $650 is for passage on the zeppelin.

The traveler from Dallas would
