Streams swollen by heavy rains made access to the scene difficult. The bodies were not removed from the cabin until after daybreak today.

The U. S. Census of 1930 showed Texas to have 156,815 male and 151,306 female illiterates, a total of 308,121 or 6.8 per cent of the total population for that year.
Total native white illiterates, however, was 46,848. Colored races were credited with 90,225 illiterates, foreign born 7,136.
Illiterates and near-illiterates in federal-sponsored schools in Texas are taught reading, numbers and spelling, along with other elementary subjects. "Advanced" adult students study English, mathematics, science and similar subjects.

Cotton Farmers Due to Receive a Huge Federal Fund

By THOMAS O. HURST
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS.—Texas cotton farmers knocked out by the depression, are due to receive more than $32,500,000 from the Federal government for their co-operation in the 1934 cotton acreage reduction campaign, a United Press survey disclosed today.
In addition to this amount, cotton farmers throughout the state also will receive a very substantial sum through sale of their 1934 crop.
The depression "bugaboo," which caused marketing prices for King Cotton to collapse to a figure that actually made production of the commodity cost more than was profitable, has practically disappeared, H. H. Williams, state agent for the Texas A. & M. college extension service, said.
The disappearance of this depression nemesis has brought an upward trend in the market price of the cotton. This upward trend, coupled with the reduction acreage contracts signed by Texas cotton farmers a rental payment of 3 1/2 cents a pound on the average yield for the five-year base period of the acreage retired. This figure totaled approximately $25,400,000, according to the survey.
More than half of this figure is scheduled to be paid to Texas cotton farmers in the late spring. The remainder will be paid sometime in August and September.
In addition to the 3 1/2-cent price per pound on the average yield, the government has offered a party payment of one cent a pound, or $5 a bale, on 40 per cent of the five-year average production reported on contracts. This figure, the survey showed, totaled more than $7,100,000.
The party payments are scheduled to be made early in December of this year.
The United Press survey showed that approximately 5,400,000 acres have been contracted to be retired from the 1934 production by Texas cotton farmers. The figure represents complete returns from 215 counties, and involves 221,992 contracts. Incomplete reports from 11 counties also are represented.
The above counties from which the figures were compiled represent officially the cotton producing counties of the state.
Definite figures were unavailable for the survey due to the rapid changes taking place as more cotton farmers sign the reduced acreage contracts.
Average individual retirement from cotton production under each of the 221,992 contracts amounts to approximately 24 acres, the survey revealed.
The five-year plan for Texas, from 1928 through 1932, the base period, was slightly in excess of 16,000,000 acres.
A 40 per cent retirement, the survey showed, would mean a reduction of cotton acreage in Texas by 6,500,000 acres during the year 1934. Under the government reduction program it is hoped such an acreage reduction will materialize.
By the time a final check is made, it is believed the total retirement for Texas will reach or exceed 5,600,000 acres, which is 35 per cent of the five-year average and the minimum per cent for retirement specified in the contracts signed.

SUCCESSFUL BIDDERS ON THE HIGHWAY CUT-OFF IN RANGER READY TO BEGIN WORK SOON

Morgan, who will remain in Ranger to oversee the actual construction work, said that he was in receipt of a telegram from Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, to the effect that a work order on the project would be issued Friday or Saturday of this week and moving of machinery and equipment could be begun immediately upon receipt of the order.
A. E. Morgan, the other member of the firm, will be in Ranger until preliminary details are completed, after which he will take care of the office details for the company at Dallas.
It was stated Wednesday that 110 working days had been specified in the contract, but that for the first 45 to 60 days only a comparatively small number of men would be used on the grading and bridge work, but that when the base work was started more local labor could and would be used. The company intends to meet payrolls through the Commercial State Bank and will handle their banking transactions through the local bank while on the job, C. T. Morgan stated.
Wesley Hall, of the state highway department, was also in Ranger Wednesday helping to get details for the work completed so that actual construction could be begun as soon as possible after receipt of the work order.
The project is a cut-off on Highway 1, which will eliminate a number of curves in the eastern portion of Ranger, bringing the highway along side the old Ranger cemetery, through a portion of the rodeo grounds to the Texas & Pacific tracks, following the east side of the tracks to a point just beyond the underpass on the Eastland road.

J. ROBY PENN NEW PRESIENT T.P. COAL & OIL

THURBER, Texas, April 19.—J. Roby Penn was elected president of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company by the new board of directors elected at the annual meeting of stockholders at Thurber. Penn was president of the company a number of years ago, retiring to engage in the oil business on a personal basis.

He has been engaged in the oil business almost all of his life, the greater part of it with the Ohio Oil company, going from that company to the Texas Pacific shortly after discovery of oil on its holdings in the Ranger boom.

Edgar J. Marston, who has been president in the interim, has been on leave for over a year. In a letter to stockholders he said that even permit his being re-elected a director, and expressed a wish that he not be elected on the board.

The stockholders by resolution expressed thanks for his past service with the company.

Edgar L. Marston was re-elected chairman; John Hancock, executive vice president and general conusel; R. Seibel, secretary-treasurer; E. R. Lederer, vice president in charge of refining; O. E. Mitchell, vice president in charge of sales; R. J. Fleckenstein, vice president in charge of production; Sam M. Grenidge, tax commissioner.

The home domicile was changed from Thurber to Port Worth where the general offices have been located for a number of years, and future annual meetings will be held in Fort Worth.

The board was reduced to 12, with E. J. Marston, O. E. Mitchell and Clint Kimbro retiring. Present directors are: W. K. Gordon, Hancock, R. E. Harding, Lederer, E. L. Marston, J. C. Maxwell, C. H. Osmond, Penn, E. G. Rall, Seibel, S. J. Stuart and Lang Wharton.

In answer to questions by the stockholders, which members of the management answered freely, it was said that bank loans were being steadily paid off out of earnings, and that such a program would be continued this year. This has been made possible through sharp curtailment of expenses. A loss of $39,000 for the first quarter after all charges was reported. It was explained that during that period one of the worst sales was which it has encountered raged in the company's marketing territory, but that this appeared about settled.

The program of paying off bank loans out of earnings, it was contended, was not being carried on at the expense of sensible development activities of the company, and the recommended budget for the next year contains provision for a slightly larger amount of production development. With the reduction in expense already effected, it was said that the company was in a strong position to profit by any improvement in the oil business.

DILLINGER AND BARROW ROB BANKS TODAY

PANA, Ill., April 19.—Four bandits today held up and robbed the First National bank and escaped with an estimated $30,000 in cash.

One of the four, according to Ernest Butterfield, a jeweler, whose store is next to the bank, strongly resembled John Dillinger, notorious escaped desperado.

Linking of Dillinger with the hold up was the only voluntary assertion of Butterfield, who saw the men before the robbery and noticed one resembled the outlaw.

EDWARDSVILLE, Kan., April 19.—Two men and two women today held up the bank here and escaped with $1,487.

Officers described the gang as heavily armed. The gang was driving a Ford V-8 sedan and was last reported going in the direction of Olathe. There was a report that the gang was headed by Clyde Barrow, notorious Texas bandit.

They kidnaped the vice president and a laborer working in the bank. The two men were released south of here.

BETHANY, Okla., April 19.—Three men robbed the Farmers State Bank of Bethany of an estimated $1,000 today. They escaped in an automobile in which they had a machine gun.

100-Year-Old Quilt Has 71,280 Pieces

LANCASTER, Pa.—A hundred-year-old quilt made from 71,280 pieces of material is in the possession of Mrs. Richard Van Riper.

Very little is known about the history of the quilt, except that it was made about 1834 by Elizabeth Zell, who lived in Little Britain Township, near here.

By inheritance, the quilt went into the hands of Mrs. Arthur Bickham, who provided that her sister-in-law, the present owner, should have it upon her death.

It has been estimated that the work on the quilt required at least 10 years. There is some dispute as to whether most of the material used is old chintz, or oil chalice. The pattern is made up of 7,920 diamonds, each with nine tiny rosettes. Each rosette is made of a tiny circle of cloth, apparently cut around a dime. Half the diamonds have eight rosettes, with a red one in the center. This color scheme is reversed in the remaining half of the diamonds. Seen from different angles, the quilt shows hundreds of geometric designs of larger diamonds, pyramids and cubes. Held to the light, the quilt looks like old lace.

The quilt is 7 feet 11 inches long by 7 feet 2 inches wide. So fine is the needlework that the stitches scarcely can be seen with the naked eye.

Cannon Pictured As Preferring Jail to Divulging Names

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., was pictured in district supreme court today as a man who preferred to go to jail rather than divulge the names of persons who received money in the 1928 campaign against Alfred E. Smith.

Cannon and his secretary, Miss Ada Burroughs, are on trial charged with violating the corrupt practices act in connection with funds collected by the Anti-Smith Democrats in Virginia. Cannon was scheduled to testify later today.

Frank Dunford, Richmond, Va., accountant who disbursed funds collected by Cannon, testified he frequently gave money to Anti-Smith workers on Cannon's orders without receiving a receipt.

He said at one meeting Cannon had a copy of the corrupt practices law.

Under cross examination Dunford quoted Cannon as having told him at that meeting: "I do not intend to furnish the names of any of the people to whom money has been given in the Virginia campaign. I'll go to jail first."

RURAL WORK CENTERS ARE BEING URGED

AUSTIN, April 19.—An ambitious program to create rural work centers at which blacksmiths, mattress makers, rug weavers and other artisans may be trained and put to work, was proposed here today by the rural rehabilitation division of Texas relief.

The division proposes to rehabilitate persons now living on farms and in rural communities, as well as depression victims stranded in the backwash of cities.

No colonization of such families is planned. They will be relocated in the soil by infiltration. The relocated ex-farmers would be required to repair the homes to which they move in return for the privilege of living there and for use of a few acres for gardening.

Until self-sustaining they would be paid their regular relief wages.

Hamilton Sought Near Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, April 19.—Raymond Hamilton, partner of Clyde Barrow, was sought throughout this section today.

A suitcase found near here late yesterday containing a picture of Hamilton's sister and a woman's pocketbook led officers to believe the outlaw had traveled this way.

Extra ammunition was issued to city and county officers of Port Arthur and Jefferson county. Six submachine guns were brought out.

The suitcase was found on the Port Arthur side of a ferry across the Neches river. Officers believed it bounced from the car as it left the ferry.

Popular Couple Is Married At Gorman Sunday

Special Correspondent
GORMAN, April 19.—Miss Levenia Whitfield and Mr. Bernard Blair were married Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Whitfield. The groom is the son of Mrs. Ida Blair of Abilene, and has attended Simmons university and is now assistant manager of the Paramount theatre in Abilene.

The bride is a popular young lady of Gorman and was a member of the 1920 graduating class of Gorman high school. She also attended John Tarleton Agricultural college and Simmons university.

Rev. J. L. Roden, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the impressive double ring ceremony before an altar improvised in the west end of the living-room, with masses of bridal wreath, palms and iris forming the background.

Mrs. Preston Lightfoot played the wedding march and accompanied Mr. Alton Grisham who sang "I Love You Truly." The bride's only attendant was Miss Mary Alice Short of Abilene, who wore a white sport suit with white accessories. Mr. Preston Lightfoot of Blackwell was best man.

The bride was lovely in a beautiful pink frock of triple sheer crepe with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds and fern.

A reception was held after the ceremony. The beautiful three-tiered bride's cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom before an altar, and rosebuds. Mrs. Earney Todd presided at the cake and Mrs. T. L. Stephens poured the coffee.

After a short wedding trip to points in West Texas, the happy young couple will make their home in Abilene. The bride traveled in a navy blue crepe suit with navy blue accessories.

Out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Preston Lightfoot of Blackwell, Miss Mary Alice Short and Mr. Royce Boyd of Abilene.

RECOVERY IS THWARTED BY LAND SHARKS

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Progress of the recovery program has been retarded seriously by real estate speculators and "land sharks" who watch federal emergency agencies in the hope of huge profits, the United Press learned today.

Land boom tactics, it was said, are being used by profiteers who wish to cut in on the $160,000,000 set aside for projects to obtain a better standard of living for thousands of unfortunates.

Officials of the substance homestead division of the interior department asserted that cooperation of the department of justice had been sought to apprehend promoters who are inducing people with meager resources to resettle the lands with little value.

Former Ranger Is For Centralized State Police Force

By United Press

FT. WORTH, Tex.—The Clyde Barrows and Raymond Hamiltons of Texas would find the "going tough" if this state had a centralized police force and a stringent parole system, believes Tom Hickman, former Texas Ranger captain and famed nemesis to bank robbers.

Hickman said he had reached his conclusion after study of the state police systems of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Oregon, and personally inspecting in 1924 and 1930, the operation methods of Scotland Yard.

He advocated a state superintendent of police, one not connected with politics and one who understands criminals thoroughly, operating his office 24 hours a day, and with a ballistic and berrillion department.

It would not be necessary to disturb the present organization of the Highway Patrol, the State Game Wardens, the Texas Rangers or any others, he said, although some changes would be necessary in the operation of each.

By centralizing the control of state paid officers it would be possible within an hour or so after an occurrence like the Sherman riot, the Cisco bank robbery or the recent double-slaying near Grapevine to have many trained men concentrating upon the seat of trouble.

"I have always contended that the State Highway Patrol should work in pair and travel in high-powered, medium priced automobiles, with radio equipment, instead of laying themselves open to slaughter while trying to park a motorcycle," Hickman said.

He added that a rion-clad pardon and parole system would be necessary to abet such a police force.

"You doubtless will recall that he abolished the Pardon Board the day after he was inaugurated, and the gates were kept securely shut at Huntsville during his administration."

"General Manager Lee Simmons has accomplished wonders with out prison system but he should stop the employes of the system from recommending prisoners for executive clemency."

Surveys Pet Duck Herald of Spring

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A female duck, banded by the Biological Survey and used as a "Spring herald" for seven years is known clear across the continent for its regular return. This year it broke all its former records for an early return. It came back to its Nebraska barn roof on Feb. 4.

Her banded ducks have been killed all over the United States and Canada and although she has escaped injury and the hunters' bag, it is requested that if she is eventually shot, she will be returned to F. J. Keller, proprietor of the Rainbow's End Game Refuge. Her number was 555,414, but she was given a second after her first band became very worn. Her new designation is A604,109. Keller desires to mount the bird because of her history making performance.

TOM HUNTER DEMANDS 'DRIVE TO EXTERMINATE THUGS'

Thomas E. Hunter of Wichita Falls is a candidate for governor. He is on the firing line. He has issued a statement demanding "that lawlessness and banditry in Texas cease." This is the milk in the coconut: "If society is to be preserved, its edicts must be respected. The safety of life and property reflects upon a citizenship and its government. Without confidence society fails; without it government would be a failure. Every available means should be concentrated for the disposition of Clyde Barrow, Hamilton and others who defy our fundamental laws."

Well, how would one of the three Wichita Falls candidates for governor go about it? Is he for a modern state police system? Is he for the reorganization and consolidation of the rangers, the state highway patrol and all other local agencies of law enforcement units? Antiquated laws should be repealed. Rangers and patrolmen and sheriffs and constables should be provided with modern weapons and modern equipment. And lastly, "the punishment should fit the crime."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

A. LIVINGSTON, publisher of the Russellville (Ark.) Daily Courier-Democrat, says:

"Devaluation of the dollar, in effect might be comparable to a bargain sale announcement: 'These dollars have sold regularly at 100 cents; in our big devaluation sale only 60 cents each.'"

"We do not buy dollars at the store, like merchandise; we exchange labor and commodities and property for them. When they go on sale or exchange at reduced prices, we will all have more of them, for our labor or materials or whatever we have to exchange will bring us more dollars, just as a dollar will purchase more goods at a bargain sale than it did at regular prices."

"True, when a man goes to spend his bargain-store dollar it will not buy as much, because prices of the things he buys will tend to go higher, just as the price of his labor and the things he has to sell go higher. One effect of the cheaper dollar will be to enable individuals, firms, corporations and state and national governments to pay long-time debts with dollars more nearly of the value that they were when the debts were contracted. New debts, wages, rents, purchase and sale of merchandise and other transactions hereafter will be based on the bargain-store value, at gradually increasing prices, until a price level approximating that of 1926 has been reached according to the proponents of devaluation, when the value of the dollar will be pegged and an attempt made to keep it at that price by federal control of the currency."

"You and I and the man in the street will not realize that all this is taking place. A dollar will still be a dollar one day after another, but before the end of the year, perhaps, and next year, we will realize that we are making more money—our wages have been increased, we are doing a larger volume of business and realizing a larger profit from merchandising, selling automobiles or other activities, and the property that we bought for a thousand dollars will perhaps be worth twelve hundred. But on the other hand, we will realize that our dollars, or a given number of them, will not purchase as much as they did during the depression. It will all come about gradually and none of us will understand how it happened. But it is a 'noble experiment' and we are for it. Skipper Roosevelt has promised us that if the experiment doesn't work he will discard it and try something else."

If you want safe relief from Constipation

Science says Today use a LIQUID Laxative

- 1. Regulate intestinal action gently—no "purging"
2. Measure dose to suit your individual needs
3. Avoid Bowel Fatigue and the laxative habit

Here's Why:

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and in some cases even affect the liver and kidneys.

A doctor will tell you that the unwise use of harsh laxatives often does more harm than good.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to the use of laxatives in liquid form.

A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to take "a double dose" a day or two later.

In buying any laxative, always read the label. Not the claims, but the contents. If it contains doubtful drugs, don't take it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription preparation in which there are no mineral drugs. Its ingredients are on the label. By using it, you avoid danger of bowel strain.

The liquid test:

This test has proved to many men and women that their trouble was not "weak bowels," but strong cathartics.

First. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Take the dose you find is suited to your system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving regularly without any need of stimulation.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the highest standing among liquid laxatives, and is the one generally used. It contains senna, a natural laxative which is perfectly safe for the youngest child. Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Taking Ice to the Regions Below

TOOLS USED ON DRAKE WELL IN 1859

A FEW MODERN TOOLS—NOTE GREAT DIFFERENCE IN SIZE AS COMPARED WITH DRAKE WELL TOOLS

Down, down they go, even to where the heat is so great that ice must be used in cementing the well. To what depths will the oil well be drilled in the future? No one knows. What we do know is that 75 years ago this year oil was found at the depth of 69 1/2 feet by Colonel Edwin L. Drake near Titusville, Pennsylvania, in the first well drilled for oil. Today, wells have been drilled to depths of more than two miles, or one thousand seven hundred times deeper than Drake drilled. Some of the deepest holes are: a well in Kettleman Hills field in California, 10,900 feet; one in Old Mexico at 10,585 feet; and, one at Cement, Oklahoma, at 10,076 1/2 feet. However, these wells are not producers. The deepest producer at present is around 9,000 feet. In Caddo county, Oklahoma, the Binger well, at a depth of 9,982 feet, looms as the deepest producing well.

A celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the drilling of the Drake well will be held by the oil industry at the International Petroleum Exposition and Congress in Tulsa, Oklahoma, May 12 to 19. A replica of the Drake well will be on the exposition grounds and will be used for the ceremony. The above picture indicates the progress made in drilling since 1859 when Colonel Drake struck oil at 69 1/2 feet. The crude tools have been gradually replaced with huge rotary drilling equipment capable of drilling to depths of 15,000 feet or more. In the foreground is seen the springpole, the earliest form of derrick used in drilling. Just back of it is the Drake well type of derrick. Farther back are shown modern 120-foot derricks photographed on the grounds of the exposition. Tools such as used on the Drake well will be on display at the exposition and the modern tools will be seen in actual operation of drilling.

The significance of the advance in drilling is seen in the belief of oil men, based on geophysical exploratory work extending over an area from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico and from eastern oil fields to the Pacific coast, that the entire world may have a sea of oil underneath the earth's crust, varying in depth. When the Drake well was first drilled no one thought of drilling a half mile for oil. When oil was struck at half mile depths, no one thought it would be drilled for at mile and mile and a half and two mile depths, but it was. Oil men are now prospecting in many of the older oil fields which were drilled at shallow depths and predict that these fields will be re-drilled at greater depths.

Old California Landmarks Nearly Hidden From View

HANFORD, Calif.—Buried from view of passerby in the barren hills of the Devil's Den district near here, one of California's oldest landmarks is succumbing to the elements.

The landmark, a towering, upright rock, bears in faded letters the inscription: "Rock of ages cleft for me, let me hide myself in thee." Faintly visible numerals reveal the passage was painted in 1850.

County Tax Collector E. W. Houston said the basin below the rock once was the only source of water for many years over the vast inland country.

Jesuit priests, on long treks from the coast into the barren inland country, used the pool as an oasis on their journeys. The water no longer is available there, a series of dry years having left the basin dry.

Sophisticated Co-Eeds Cleaning Up World

PHILADELPHIA.—Sophisticated co-eds will lead the way out of a "messy civilization," in the opinion of Ruth Dorsey, dean of women at Drexel institute.

The modern girl is faced with a rotten world, presented to her by her ancestors," Dean Dorsey said. "She will have a big part in making it a better world for her children."

"The present world is afraid of nothing, competing in all work and play. She isn't afraid of men and has no illusions of masculine superiority. She has met men on her own terms, and found them no better and no worse than she herself."

"The college girl of today is a credit to her parents, her sex, and herself."

Very Much Improved After Taking Cardui

"I have suffered a great deal from cramping," writes Mrs. W. A. Sewell, Sr., of Waco, Texas. "I would chill and have to go to bed for about three days at a time. I would have a dull, tired, sleepy feeling. A friend told me to try Cardui, thinking it would help me—and it did. I am very much improved and do not spend the time in bed. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers."

"Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit you, consult a physician."

Ranger Theatres Offer a Week of Outstanding Pictures

BIG FEATURES ARE BOOKED IN TWO THEATRES

Clarke Gable, Claudette Colbert, George O'Brien, Sally Eilers, Chic Sales, Wayne Gibson, Will Rogers, Ken Maynard Are Headliners.

A week of really outstanding screen entertainment has been announced beginning today by B. E. Garner, local city manager of the Arcadia and Columbia theatres which are operated by the Paschall-Texter management.

The picture starting the week Friday is "Sleepers East," featuring Wynne Gibson and Preston Foster. It is a story of a young girl on parole for a crime she did not commit and of the struggle she had getting in one jam and out of another. The short subjects on the bill include "The Little Girl With Big Ideas," a 20-minute comedy which is really runny. In addition to this another of the series of short subjects released by Paramount, "Hollywood on Parade," will also be shown. "Ever Since Eve," Saturday, is said to be a "rib-tickling romance of a modern Eve who lured her Adam with applesauce." Herbert Mundin is also in the cast as is Betty Blythe. The short subjects on this bill include "Chic" Sale in an excellent two-reel comedy called "The Old Bugler." A Pathe Sound News concludes the bill which plays at the Arcadia Saturday only. At the Columbia Saturday Ken Maynard will be seen in his newest western called "Gun Justice." In addition to this feature Buck Jones will be seen in another chapter of the serial, "Gordon of Ghost City," and a cartoon featuring "Popeye" called "Can You Take It" will conclude the bill.

A real comedy feature has been secured for the Arcadia for the Sunday date in "Three On a Honeymoon" comes to town. Included in the cast headed by Sally Eilers is Zasu Pitts, Henrietta Crossman, Charles Starrett, Irene Hervey and John Mack Brown. The picture plays one day only and an excellent short subject called "Rhapsody in Brew" has been secured. It is a musical comedy, running 22 minutes and is said to be one of the best ever to come from the M-G-M lot. A Paramount Sound News is also on the program. The Columbia Sunday in a return engagement of Will Rogers in "Dr. Bull." This picture played some time ago at the Arcadia and the management has had so many requests for it again that it is being brought back. Two unusually good short subjects have been placed on the program at the Columbia with "Dr. Bull" which include an excellent Paramount comedy, "Petting Preferred," and Lanny Ross in "Tune Up and Sing." Ross was seen at the Arcadia last week in a feature called "Melody in Spring" and made a decided hit with local theatregoers.

The really big picture of the week comes to the Arcadia Monday when Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable will be seen in "It Happened One Night." This is one of the most outstanding pictures released by any producing company this year and has enjoyed sensational business wherever it has played. It was held over in both Dallas and Fort Worth last week for extra playing time and

Woman's Day Plans Include Feature at Arcadia Theatre

With unusually strong screen attractions set for April 26—"Woman's Day"—Manager B. E. Garner of the Arcadia theatre here announced today that everything was in readiness for the red-letter day in the history of women's clubs in Texas.

"Woman's Day" was set aside as the date of a state-wide drive for funds to cut down the indebtedness of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs clubhouse in Austin. The plan originated with Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville, president of the federation, and Karl Hoblitzel, pioneer theatrical man and president of the Interstate Circuit, Inc., with offices in Dallas.

Under this arrangement a portion of the receipts of the Arcadia theatre here, together with an equal portion of the receipts from theatres in every city and town in Texas will go to the clubhouse fund of the woman's organization. "I am looking forward to a record business on April 26," said Manager Garner. "We have arranged to present an outstanding screen program on this day. We feel that it is a worthy cause and are doing everything possible to assist the ladies in putting across an event that will make history in theatricals as well as in club circles. The splendid co-operation of the ladies of the local organization has made it a pleasure for me and my staff to assist to the utmost."

Superstitious? No! Says Frank Capra, Not So Very Much

They all agree that superstitions are relics of the dark ages, and that they haven't any, but—

Ed Wynn always wears the same pair of shoes on his opening nights. They are the same pair he wore at his first Broadway premiere.

Billy Gaxton always crosses himself before he steps on the stage. Earl Carroll wears a pair of old overalls and watches his openings from back stage.

Screen directors also have superstitions. Even the best of them. Frank Capra won't admit it is a superstition, but he always manages to include the same minor bit players in his pictures.

In "It Happened One Night," which stars Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert, and is coming to the Arcadia Theatre it will be noticed that Theodore Robinson and Frank Halliday are seen as detectives. The fact is significant, for the same two were cast as detectives in "Lady For A Day," Capra's greatest success.

Sherry Hall, the kidnapped reporter in "Lady For A Day," is also in the same scene. So is "tiny" Jones. So is Bert Starkey, playing a drunk. They all played in "Lady For A Day."

And not only that. Most of these people play in every picture Capra makes, and somehow they are generally in the first scene shot. Not necessarily the first scene in the picture—but in the first scene to go into production. Practically every other Hollywood director has some similar

The clubhouse of the 21 Study club was beautifully decorated with pot plants and cut flowers Tuesday when the Gorman Excelsior club came over and gave their annual exchange program. Pink and white are the Excelsior club colors and they were used in the decorations and refreshments. The program was on Texas Day and proved very interesting. Before the program there was a short business meeting of the 21 Study club and the president, Mrs. Roy Ashburn, extended the welcome to the Excelsior club. Mrs. Ed Sutton was leader of the program and she and each of Excelsior club members gave splendid papers and talks on Texas. Music was furnished by Mrs. M. Thirty-five were present.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. I. N.

Williams drove over to Rising Star on business.

Mrs. W. E. Barron left Monday for Fort Worth to attend the annual meeting of the Central Texas Methodist conference missionary society. Mrs. Barron has served as secretary for the Cisco district for the past four years and has made a splendid record for the district.

On Friday night at the high school an evening of fun was enjoyed by a large crowd of people who came to see the "Womenless Style Show," sponsored by the 21 Study club. W. E. Barron was mistress of ceremonies, introducing himself as a French modiste but called by some "Maggie," the wife of "Jiggs." Between 15 and 20 men represented notable women of the present time and each one had his part splendidly. Between acts numbers were given by the expression pupils of Mrs. J. C. Brewer of Gorman, who kindly brought over her pupils as well as a good crowd of the parents. Mrs. Aaron Henslee was pianist for the style show and also had some of her music pupils to play. An unusual number was a "Double Wedding" in which Miss Roma Lee Wright was dressed half as a bride and half as a groom and gave a clever impersonation. The work of getting up the entertainment was done by Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mrs. A. B. Henslee, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawley of Caddo.

At present, the automobile is the greatest source of accidents. Automobile accidents have been increasing constantly. There probably will be as many automobile fatalities during the present decade as there were soldiers killed during all the wars of the United States. Under the law of averages, automobile fatalities will touch the lives of most of us, through our own death, the death of members of our families, or of close friends. It is our mutual responsibility to stop this vicious death toll.

Safety cannot be a matter of occasional enthusiasm, it must be a habit. Accidents occur unexpectedly. Anticipation and preparation for possible emergencies will prevent them. We must drive conventionally. Drivers must stay on the right hand side of the road because most road collisions occur from violation of this simple rule. Give hand signals when turns are contemplated. Turn left from the left hand side of the two right hand lanes, and right from the right hand lane. Stop or slow down at intersections, moderate the speed in accordance with driving conditions, and keep the safety equipment of the car in good condition. Keep your mind on driving. Never do the unexpected. Do not drive fast over strange roads, nor pass other cars at the top of a hill. When you stop on the open road pull off the pavement.

Universal observation of these simple rules would eliminate practically all automobile accidents. The driver, however, must realize that all do not observe these rules, and he must be constantly on guard against unexpected action by others. In this way, many accidents which are primarily the fault of others may be avoided.

Automobile fatality statistics provide interesting information. The greatest percentage of fatalities per accident occur in accidents in which pedestrians are involved. Most pedestrian fatalities occur to children under 12 and adults over 65. The driver must be extremely careful about children and elderly people, as they often step suddenly in front of the car. More pedestrians are killed crossing the streets in the middle of the block than at intersections.

Automobile accidents in cities have increased 27 per cent in the last ten years, while accidents in rural districts (on the open road) have increased 83 per cent. The worst accidents occur on the best roads. This indicates that the speed on the open road has increased faster than the capability of the drivers for safe driving. Fifty per cent more accidents occur on Saturdays and Sundays than on other days. This seems to confirm the thought that the man who drives with the greatest speed rarely as any pressing business to transact.

The young driver is 62 per cent worse from an accident standpoint than the average driver. Expensive cars are far more dangerous from an accident standpoint than medium or low priced cars. Perhaps some owners of these

Editor Praises the Press of the Nation

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Paul Bellamy of the American Society of Newspaper Editors today paid tribute to those who fought to reiterate in the newspaper code the constitutional guarantees of the freedom of the press.

Bellamy, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, in an address opening the society's annual convention, declared in the final analysis, the use made by newspapers of their freedom would determine whether the heritage would be retained.

"If we truly serve the people," he said, "if we fight for the poor and repressed, if we resist the demagog and exploiter, if we keep the faith, the freedom of the press, we will rest forever on the solid rock of public esteem."

Give hand signals when turns are contemplated. Turn left from the left hand side of the two right hand lanes, and right from the right hand lane. Stop or slow down at intersections, moderate the speed in accordance with driving conditions, and keep the safety equipment of the car in good condition. Keep your mind on driving. Never do the unexpected. Do not drive fast over strange roads, nor pass other cars at the top of a hill. When you stop on the open road pull off the pavement.

Universal observation of these simple rules would eliminate practically all automobile accidents. The driver, however, must realize that all do not observe these rules, and he must be constantly on guard against unexpected action by others. In this way, many accidents which are primarily the fault of others may be avoided.

Automobile fatality statistics provide interesting information. The greatest percentage of fatalities per accident occur in accidents in which pedestrians are involved. Most pedestrian fatalities occur to children under 12 and adults over 65. The driver must be extremely careful about children and elderly people, as they often step suddenly in front of the car. More pedestrians are killed crossing the streets in the middle of the block than at intersections.

Automobile accidents in cities have increased 27 per cent in the last ten years, while accidents in rural districts (on the open road) have increased 83 per cent. The worst accidents occur on the best roads. This indicates that the speed on the open road has increased faster than the capability of the drivers for safe driving. Fifty per cent more accidents occur on Saturdays and Sundays than on other days. This seems to confirm the thought that the man who drives with the greatest speed rarely as any pressing business to transact.

The young driver is 62 per cent worse from an accident standpoint than the average driver. Expensive cars are far more dangerous from an accident standpoint than medium or low priced cars. Perhaps some owners of these cars feel that everyone else should get out of their way. Accidents at night are 43 per cent worse than accidents which occur in daylight. The driver must be careful at night, watch his own lights, and guard against other automobiles and vehicles that may not have lights. There are four times as many accidents in the evening rush hours between five and nine than there are in the morning between 6 and 10. Evidently fatigue, drinking and social engagements contribute materially to accidents.

The mental and physical condition of the driver often determines whether an accident occurs or whether it is avoided. Mental and physical defectives, of course, should not drive. The fact that they do is a strong argument for a Drivers License Law. It is obvious that no one should attempt to drive while intoxicated. Mental conditions of inattention, inexperience, anger, fear, excitement and cockiness cause many accidents.

Your insurance cost is determined from the combined expenditures made in behalf of, and by reason of the action of policyholders. A reduction in such expenditures will produce lower rates, while an increase in these expenditures will force rates higher. Your interests and those of your insurance carrier are identical. Be careful and do your bit to save lives and reduce insurance cost.

Editor Praises the Press of the Nation

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Paul Bellamy of the American Society of Newspaper Editors today paid tribute to those who fought to reiterate in the newspaper code the constitutional guarantees of the freedom of the press.

Bellamy, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, in an address opening the society's annual convention, declared in the final analysis, the use made by newspapers of their freedom would determine whether the heritage would be retained.

"If we truly serve the people," he said, "if we fight for the poor and repressed, if we resist the demagog and exploiter, if we keep the faith, the freedom of the press, we will rest forever on the solid rock of public esteem."

CYCLONE STRIKES IN COUNTRY EARLY SUNDAY NIGHT, DOING MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGE

A small cyclone, that did considerable damage, struck in the Cross Roads community Sunday evening just after dark, demolishing several houses. No injuries to occupants of any of the homes was reported.

J. A. Jones, farmer, who had recently moved to Cross Roads, was the heaviest loser. His home and all his personal belongings were swept entirely away in the storm, which struck suddenly.

Monday Wilson Connell visited the scene of the storm and reported Jones and his family to be in dire want because of the damage done. All their clothing, bed clothing, furniture, cooking utensils and everything they owned was reported to have been swept away.

The family took temporary refuge in a dugout, after reportedly killing a couple of snakes that occupied it, but the rain, following the brunt of the storm, soon drove them out. They went to the home of a brother-in-law nearby, and remained throughout the night, though this house, also, was badly damaged, the greater portion of the roof having been blown away.

Efforts were made in Ranger to secure some aid for the Jones family through the direct relief offices, the Red Cross and by voluntary contributions from the citizens.

W. C. Hickey contacted J. E. Spencer of Cisco, county chairman of the Red Cross for Eastland county to determine the amount of Red Cross relief that could be secured for those suffering the most loss.

The home of Lee Hise was also badly damaged, every window in the house being broken and other damage sustained. The storm is also reported to have struck near Frankell without doing much damage and at Desdemona.

Hunter to Open His Campaign at Clifton, April 21

Special Correspondent

WICHITA FALLS, April 18.—Tom Hunter will open his campaign for governor at Clifton, Bosque county, on Saturday, April 21, he announced at his headquarters here today. Hunter's decision to open his campaign in Bosque county came as a result of numerous invitations by citizens of Clifton and other communities in that section of the state. Arrangements for a real old-fashioned political gathering are being pushed to completion by a committee of Bosque county citizens, assisted by Hunter leaders in a number of Central Texas counties. Hunter supporters in every section of the state have already notified the state campaign headquarters here that they will bring delegations to the Clifton opening.

In his address at Clifton, Hunter will outline the basic principles of his "Texas Recovery Program" and will enlarge upon the planks of the platform which he recently made public as the basis of his campaign.

Among the subjects Hunter will discuss will be consolidation of state agencies in the interest of reducing governmental costs, revision of the tax system to protect small property owners, assessment of a tax upon excessive incomes, strict regulation of public utilities, rigid supervision of the removal of natural resources from the state to insure an adequate return to the state from this removed wealth, drastic punishment for bribe takers and for office holders who take fees from private interests, elimination of stock manipulations by holding company operations, as well as other items that compose steps in his Texas recovery program.

Already conceded a certainty for one of the places in the runoff primary, Hunter plans an active campaign to follow upon the heels of his opening address at Clifton.

KANSAS CITY LEGION POST KANSAS CITY.—Members of the Missouri American Legion will hold their 16th annual meeting here Sept. 2, 3, and 4. About 5,000 visitors are expected.

The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury after a week long investigation, during which 140 witnesses testified. Langer was removed from the position as head of federal relief activities in the state recently after charges that subscriptions to his party organ, The Leader, were being forced on relief workers.

Langer denied the charges and characterized the prosecution attempt as a political frame-up. The investigation was ordered, he said, "because I am the only republican governor west of the Allegheny Mountains."

Breck Is Winner Of District Meet

He falls and is desperate. Gerry Marsh, his fiancée, takes him to a circus for diversion. He meets Jean, a beautiful ticket seller, whom he believes the right girl for the part. He places her with a Swedish family to learn the language and customs. Only Gerry knows of his plan to introduce Jean to Hollywood as a real Swedish. Max Hopper, the producer, is furious because the picture has lost money while not in production. Finally Jean is prominent, and Lane gives her the name of Sigrid Lund. He tells Hopper he has finally found the right girl, but that she doesn't want to go in pictures. Hopper finally persuades Sigrid to take a screen test and she is sensational. Lane makes the test with Sigrid, and Gerry is present.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

When Ken and Gerry were alone, the former said, "Well, was I right? Weren't you thrilled?" There was a touch of sarcasm in the girl's voice, as she replied, "Oh, utterly thrilled! You act far better than you direct! Quite the greatest lover of the screen, aren't you?"

"I'm not asking about my acting," Ken replied. "It's Sigrid's test. The kid's good, isn't she?"

"Almost too good. She played that love scene as if she meant it. And you didn't look as if you were about to swoon either." "Darling, that's a real compliment."

"I've seen her," Gerry replied. "I'm sure of it. I've seen that face somewhere."

"So Sigrid was signed up. Max

"Gerry be quiet. You're tight," Ken pleaded.

"You bet I'm tight," Gerry exclaimed pushing aside Linda and Alan who were trying to silence her. "If I drank a bucket full I couldn't miss what she's doing."

Everyone in the room was buzzing with excitement. Max ran up to the group. "What's the matter?" he inquired. "Gerry, don't get excited. Foreigners are like that!"

"She's no foreigner. She's just something Ken picked up in a circus."

Max was dismayed at the revelation. "What?"

Then Gerry turned viciously to the petrified Sigrid. "But you can have him! I don't want any part of him! He's yours! Take him back to the circus and you can run a side-show together." With intoxicated dignity, Gerry saluted out of the room.

Sobbing hysterically, Sigrid started out into the garden.

"Sigrid started out into the garden. As Ken began to follow her Max stopped him.

"Ken, that's not true, what Gerry says?" Max asked pathetically. The director's silence made him realize that it was. "A fine stunt to pull on me," he exclaimed furiously. "You gotta nerve to try to make a sucker out of Max Hopper! Couldn't you tell me the truth? What am I around here, an office boy?"

"I thought it would be a more impressive way to present her."

"A fine fool I make out myself!" Max yelled. "I'm dancing around

"Foreigners" Gerry exclaimed. "She's no foreigner. She's just some thing Ken picked up in a circus."

laughed heartily, pinched her cheek, and the girl turned to the director. "You must say for me something very nice, too, for congratulations. You are happy?"

"But, Max, I had an idea to sell."

"Yes. So after this sell your ideas somewhere else. If you think I'm so dumb I can't see talent unless you trick me into it, better you should produce some place else."

"I'll send you my resignation in the morning," said Ken as he left.

"Good. Make it early in the morning."

But the papers made Sigrid Lund even greater than she was before. Exhibitors demanded the film, but there was neither a director nor star to produce it. The New York office phoned Max long-distance and bawled him out for his absurd actions, and insisted that he get both Ken and Sigrid Lund back again.

"Say, you want to run this end of the business, too?" Max yelled over the telephone. "I'll get him back. I don't need you fellows. You attend to the distribution. I'll get him to come back."

But Ken had lost interest in production. "I don't care if I never make another picture."

Max was surprised and then suspicious. "So you want a new contract? You know I've got to have you and that girl back. You know my hands are tied. So how much do you want? And don't go too far with me."

"I don't want a new contract," said Ken. "You find Sigrid, and I'll come back to work."

"You don't know where she is?" asked the producer, in surprise.

"I haven't seen her since your party."

"Don't spare expense. Find her! The papers have been plastered with her pictures for weeks. Now get busy."

Ken went to see Lisa, but the Swedish woman was not keen on telling him where Sigrid was until Ken convinced her that there was a big job awaiting the girl at the studio, and that she was more popular than ever. Then he learned that Jean had gone back with the circus.

Ken took the next train to the place where the circus was playing and found Jean using her old time French accent, ballyhooing the show.

"I'm sorry you had so much grief," said Ken. "But I'm glad it all happened. Jean, you're looking at the dumbest animal in Hollywood. It took me two months to find out I was in love with you."

"Ken, do you mean it?" Sigrid exclaimed.

"You try to get away again," Ken replied.

Ken embraced her and the two started on the path to greater success and happiness together as man and wife.

OUR ALL FOR THE KINGDOM

Text: Matt., 19:1-30
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 22.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
Editor of Advance

THE story of the rich young man who came to Jesus seeking the way of eternal life has made a profound impression upon human interest, though it does not seem to have had an equal effect upon spiritual attitudes and decisions of the will.

Wealth, though it need not necessarily be a barrier between man and God, and though it may in fact be made a means of grace and blessing, still constitutes a barrier that keeps men from the Kingdom of Heaven and from appropriating the reality of eternal life.

It is as true today as it was in the days when Jesus was on earth that where man's treasure is, there will his heart be also. The Kingdom of Heaven must be the first and supreme thing in a man's life or it cannot be there at all, just as to a modern world a man cannot be a citizen of one country and at the same time give his chief allegiance to another country.

The failure to grasp this keeps men from entering the Kingdom, just as it kept this young man who came to Jesus.

One should not in any way misunderstand the dramatic aspects of the narrative. This young man was not a mean or selfish person. There is no indication that he was in any sense a money grubber or that he was unduly attached to his wealth.

He had great possessions, and he no doubt had grown up in the psychology that these great possessions induced.

The probability is that he was unable to see quite clearly the issues involved. He turned away sorrowfully when Jesus invited him to find the Kingdom by leaving his great wealth, but the probability is that he was puzzled rather than confirmed in a wrong decision.

The power of his wealth and his environment had taken from him the capacity for clear thinking and clear seeing.

He was a moral young man. Jesus loved him because there was so much that was right and true in his life.

WE should, no doubt, today in our modern world set such a man as an ideal for youth. Yet here is the clear record that there was one thing lacking, the most essential thing of all, the thing that would have linked him to the Master and that would have given him his place in the Kingdom.

There is a tradition that the young man did ultimately come to Jesus or gave himself to the Kingdom, as he was not willing to do at this time. Tradition has associated this young man with Joseph of Arimathea, who asked for the body of Jesus, that he might bury it; but all this is tradition.

We do not know what was the young man's future, whether his rejection of Jesus and his departure in sorrow marked a final decision in his life, or whether he came later to some finer commitment.

One thing is certain, that if he went away sorrowful, there was thereafter no rest peace in his life. He had missed that glorious satisfaction that again and again has come to men and women who have joyfully accepted Christ's invitation, though it has meant, apparently, the sacrifice of everything—even life itself.

They discover the truth of Jesus, that he that loseth his life shall find it.

Relief Work Took Spotlight of the Political Circus

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, April 16.—Relief administration again took the spotlight last week in the state political show.

Removal of Relief Commissioner R. L. Holliday, El Paso, a staunch Moody supporter, and appointment of Col. Julius Dorenfield, Amarillo, equally staunch Ferguson supporter, focused attention.

Resulting discharge of Director Adam Johnson, also a friend of former Governor Moody, heightened the political discussion.

Johnson, elected on a pledge to hew to the line regardless of personalities, had fired labor leaders at El Paso from relief places. Holliday was blamed by these leaders for starting the movement for their removal. The result was not therefore, displeasing to the organized labor vote.

It pleased also supporters of C. C. McDonald, whose campaign for governor has the Ferguson backing.

Attorney General James V. Allred neatly climbed out of the political hole into which he apparently had been put when he was asked to rule on legality of the change. It was figured that whichever way Allred ruled, he would make the other side mad. Instead, he announced he would file quo warranto proceedings against both Holliday and Dorenfield putting it up to the courts to decide.

Governor Ferguson gave him a good excuse to do this when she announced at the relief commission meeting that whatever the attorney general said would be only opinion—that it would be up to the courts to rule. He referred to her remarks in announcing his course.

Spreading farther, the Holliday-Johnson removal may have an effect on Speaker Coke Stevenson's ambition to be a two-term speaker of the Texas house of representatives. His removal of Holliday and appointment of Dorenfield changed the undoubted intention of the late house of representatives to make more than a majority of the relief commission membership un-Ferguson in politics. Stevenson said there was no politics in his action and that Dorenfield is for Maury Hughes for governor.

Another relief angle on Texas politics this week was announced that A. W. vonStruve, former publicity director of the Texas relief commission will return to Texas to take up the cudgels for election of Tom Hunter as governor. He had already drafted his resignation from the relief commission several months ago for this purpose but changed plans when asked to go to Washington with Col. Lawrence Westbrook. His return to Texas and the campaign, seems to indicate a pretty strong confidence in Hunter's chances.

Hunter will go right into Ferguson territory to open his campaign San Jacinto day. He will outline a "Texas Recovery Program" at Clifton, Bosque county, near the famous Ferguson-Bell-Bosque ranch. Senator W. Roy Sandford, campaign manager for McDonald, accuses Hunter of taking advantage of a big Central Texas picnic already planned for Clifton.

Developments in other races included announcement of Senator Will Martin, Hillsboro, that he has definitely decided not to run for railroad commissioner against Commissioner Lon A. Smith. Senator Welly K. Hopkins, Gonzales, mentioned as a possible candidate for the place, displayed no interest. He already has announced for re-election to the senate.

A combination of Friday and the thirteenth of the month threw a damper on a Jefferson Day dinner arranged by J. E. Josey at Houston. An advisory committee embraced democrats of various factions. Former Gov. James E. Ferguson and Amon Carter, Fort Worth, both appeared as committee members.

Farmers Are Warned To Watch Weights On Cotton Bagging

AUSTIN, State Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald warns Texas farmers that they are being imposed upon in the weight of cotton wrapping (bagging) furnished in some parts of the state.

Bagging which weighs two pounds per yard or 12 pounds per six yard pattern long has been standard. Now some gins are putting out 10 pound bagging. The buyer assumes that there is the usual 12 pounds of bagging with the bale so the farmer with a bale in 10 pound wrapping contributes two pounds of lint cotton to make up the difference.

THE COLONEL SAID HE COULDN'T BE ELECTED---PUPILS PROVE HE'S WRONG

Honest Candidate Can Win, Tulsa Vote Shows

By NEA SERVICE
TULSA, Ok.—It couldn't be done, so they did it. Lieut. Col. Oscar Winthrop Hoop will soon take office here as police and fire commissioner because his students of politics at the University of Tulsa didn't subscribe to his theory.

Hoop's theory, expounded by many a teacher of politics before him, was that an ordinary citizen without organization backing has no chance in running for public office unless he promises jobs, kisses babies, and in general stoops to low and unprincipled conduct.

Hoop's students wouldn't believe him. Further, they went right out to prove him wrong. Results: Hoop 18,994; opponent, 6731, for police commissioner.

Here's how it all started: Hoop was telling his politics class of his favorite theory—that only organization-serving, baby-kissing, free-promising candidates can be elected to office.

A saucer-eyed youth of 19 in the front row perked up with this question: "What have YOU done about that?"

Query Jars Colonel
"My Adam's apple bobbed up and down about five times," Hoop relates, "before I could find an answer."

But he had to answer, and a few days later, he filed his candidacy in the Democratic primaries for fire and police commissioner.

It was just a demonstration. "In announcing," Hoop said, "I wish to state that I have no prospects or desire for election, nor is my announcement made in response to public demand."

"I shall pay my own expenses, shall make no promises to any person or group of persons, make no campaign, kiss no babies, and conduct myself as a gentleman."

Professional politicians chuckled. There were seven candidates for the job, including lanky Thomas I. Monroe, veteran office holder and smart politician.

Students Get Busy
But the students did not chuckle. They didn't think the colonel was right. Being young, they felt it could be done. So they started out to do it.

Some 300 of them jiggled together a temporary organization, and while the colonel kept to his campus and classroom the students went to town.

They began bobbing up at pre-election meetings, boosting the colonel's program of a merit system in the police department instead of the spoils system, law enforcement, city manager government, and public ownership of public utilities. It started in a very modest way.

Then one night a woman political worker rose and remarked acidly: "You boys should be spanked, intimating that Democrats are dishonest!"

Boys Go On Stump
Instead of being spanked, the "boys" found themselves invited to speak at meetings. They did. The hall began to roll. The students got a professor of Spanish to stump the Spanish quarter.

Colonel Hoop himself began to be interested. He challenged Monroe to meet him in debate in Convention Hall.

It took the "boys" two days to find Monroe, and then he declined. But several other candidates accepted, and later wished they hadn't.

Col. O. W. Hoop, above, was overwhelmingly elected police and fire commissioner of Tulsa, Okla., as a result of electioneering by his students, top, who set out to prove to Hoop, their politics teacher, that machineless candidates can be elected. Right, one of the students' campaign stunts.

That one short speech, delivered in a machine-gun monotone three days before election, was Hoop's only campaign appearance.

But on election day the students paraded, and burned crooked politicians in effigy. They went from house to house getting out the vote. And when the ballots were counted, Hoop was in, with a count of Hoop, 5402; Monroe, 4680; Bowles, 3637; and the other four "also ran" Democratic nomination in Tulsa has always been considered equivalent to election and so it proved in this case.

Veteran Is Astounded
The defeated Monroe, pressed for a statement, said ruefully, "Hoop made one speech. I made 170. I think I've talked enough. But you do have an organization to win. I've been 20 years getting mine to working, and yours has already knocked it haywire."

The surprised Colonel Hoop carried on his campaign in the same tone, making speeches of no more than one minute each, kissing no babies, promising no jobs on the police force.

Hoop is an Iowan who entered the army as a private at 17, and retired a colonel four years ago at the age of 47. Since his retirement he has been teaching government at the University of Tulsa.

But the best lesson taught in his classes thus far is the one his students have just taught themselves: You can have a decent election and elect a decent candidate if you'll take the trouble.

No comment was forthcoming as to whether the increase in sales is attributable to the action of the Ford company in maintaining the original list prices on the new 1934 V-8 cars and trucks in the face of the general increase in prices on the part of the industry or to the increase in public acceptance of the new Ford V-8 unit or both.

Illinois Pipe Line Employees Hold a Safety Meeting

Employees of The Illinois Pipe Line Company under the supervision of Mr. J. R. McLaughlin and Mr. B. E. Rigby held a very interesting safety meeting at their pump station and office on Eastland highway last evening, April 16th, at seven o'clock.

Meeting was called to order by A. L. Burch, Safety Engineer of The Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, Tulsa, Okla., after a very interesting talk introduced J. P. Sutton, Director of Safety of The Industrial Relations Board of The Ohio Oil Company and its subsidiaries who was the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Sutton, whose office is in Findlay, Ohio, a man of great personality and a forceful speaker discoursed at length upon safety in general and the oil phase of safety in particular, stressed special emphasis upon the necessity of safe driving of automobiles and trucks upon the highways of our country; especially is this necessary at the present time with the trend in automotive manufacturing where speed seems to be the factor.

Mr. Sutton's territory extends from the Eastern part of Ohio to the Pacific Coast and from Canada to the Gulf, therefore he does not get to visit this territory but about once each year; however we were all very glad to have him.

The meeting was attended by forty employees of the Illinois Pipe Line Co., coming from Weatherford, Desdemona, Mingo and the local force, including H. W. Waldrip, Main Line Foreman from Weatherford, H. Newth, Chief Engineer in charge of main line station at Mingo, and O. C. Baker, in charge of operations in the Desdemona field.

In addition to the Illinois Pipe Line representatives, two wholesale agents of the Marathon Oil Co., J. E. Lewis Jr., of Eastland, and Walter Vernon of Mineral Wells attended the meeting.

After the close of the meeting a large portion of those present attended the athletic events of the Elks, witnessing, of course, the marriage ceremony of one of the participants of the show and a very lovely young lady of Ft. Worth, conducted by Rev. H. B. Johnson.

The employees of The Illinois Pipe Line Co., look forward to another of these splendid meetings.
