Let us remind you again, as Summer is right upon us, that now is the time to have your Winter clothing demothed and stored away.

By having them demothed and stored, you are also protecting them from the elements, which gradually detoriate textiles The atmosphere at times contains elements and compounds quite harmful to clothing. Besides the oxygen, nitrogen, moisture and carbon dioxide which make up the bulk of air, there are found quite often, traces of ozone, nitric acid gas, ammonia gas and also sulphur dioxide. All textiles have a tendency to absorb these elements due to the humidity of the air. And those spots and stains in your clothing that would be quite easy to remove now, might next year, be changed to an insoluable oxide impossible to remove. Every housewife is familiar with the tarnish that collects on silver articles in the home. It is nothing but silver changed to silver sulphide by the air. So even if the moths don't find your clothes, the elements will. Play safe and have them demothed and stored to insure their appearance next fall.

Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race — the most gruelling tire test in the world—drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the irestone patented process of Cum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread. Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid

Mother Rabbit Keeps Bunnies Separated

EL PASO .- A blue rabbit owned by L. H. Palmer, resident of the El Paso valley, knows her colors, Mr. Palmer is convinced.

She became the mother of four bunnies a few days ago. Two of the rabbits were blue and two were white.

The mother rabbit made a double nest, and is keeping the white rabbits in one part, separated from the blue rabbits.

MILKMEN FIGHT CHISELERS CHICOPEE, Mass.—The chiselers in the milk business have got to be stopped somehow, so the Chicopee Milk Dealers' Association adopted this method: They loaded a truck with cases of milk, parked near an offending place, and sold milk at 4 cents a quart. RANGER IN 1930—(Continued)

March 7 Joe Carr, 29, of Chicago, was instantly killed and Ray Sands, of Kansas City, his companion, was injured when a car, said to have been stolen, overturned at Olden after the two had stopped in Ranger for sandwiches. Sands was held in the Eastland jail but

March 9 Howard R. Gholson was elected exalted ruler of the B. P.

March 17 two men wanted in Peacock and Jayton for robbery and car theft were arrested in Ranger by the local police and were turned over to officers from Jayton for transportation back to that town to March 20 Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Landers of Ranger were struck by a 'Ringling" railroad train at the crossing at the city limits of Eastland on the Bankhead highway and both were slightly injured. On May 21 the county track meet was held in Ranger for the first time in several years, with schools from all over the county being represented. The winning teams were Ranger, with 57 points, Eastland with 40 points and Cisco with 34 points.

March 23 the Ranger Rifle Range was formally opened with a big shoot, at which more than 150 were present, all visitors being allowed five free shots at the targets with the large-bore rifles. Skeet and trap matches were also held. March 24 Marjorie Ruth Crabb, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and

Mrs. Lonnie Crabb was instantly killed and Mrs. Crabb and her sister, Mrs. Fred Williams, were seriously injured when struck by a train at the Prairie Crossing, within the city limits of Ranger. March 25 Gus Kelly, fireman for the Texas & Pacific railroad, was painfully injured when two freight trains collided head-on at Moss Curve three miles south of Ranger. The engines and several cars of both trains were badly damaged and wreckers from Fort Worth and

WORLD PEACE

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 29. The United States went on record for peace at the world arms conference today by offering to reduce its navy and to join an international agreement for control of the traffic in arms. America also declared its willingness to consult with other nations in event of trouble. The action marked a climax in the long and losing struggle for disarmament at Geneva.

Norman Davis, special representative of President Roosevelt, in opening debate at the long-postponed meeting of the conference, made a strong bid to prevent its threatened collapse.

Davis foreshadowed Germany's possible return to the conference from which she walked out last year. He expressed hope Germany would resume negotiations with swirling dust storms, found them by the United States to reduce its selves in a position where they cannot readily abandon their wheat fields for another cash conference.

Anxious as the United States is for disarmament, Davis said ,this country will not participate in any purely European disputes or settlements, nor will it agree to use have pocketed not to plant the for settlement of disputes any-

New Discovery Is Featured By Camels In New Campaign

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco ompany has just released an incensive new nation-wide campaign of newspaper advertising for Camel cigarettes. As revealed in the first advertisement appearing in this newspaper this week, the new campaign embodies important facts for smokers which throw a new light upon our past knowledge of cigarettes.

A basic scientific discovery has been made in a famous New York research laboratory concerning Camel cigarettes and their "energizing effect"-which means that curve" varies a great deal-frequently drops below normal. That's gizing" effect of Camels has long been recognized by Camel smokers, but even science hasn't been able to explain it until now.

Summing up with a popular slogan, each advertisement carries the reminder that you can "Get a Life With a Camel"—at any time, as often as you like-because the finer ,more expensive tobaccos used in the manufacture of Camel cigarettes never interfere with healthy nerves.

The first advertisement in this new and impressive series proclaims in large size display type, "NEWS! Science Reveals Important New Facts for Smokers!"accompanied by a chart showing the variable energy curve which people experience during the day. The illustration depicts an attractively gowned girl, all ready for a party but "Too Tired for Fun," followed by the caption "And Then She Smoked a Camel," and a picture showing her refreshed and ready for the gaiety and fun of a social evening.

Present plans call for frequent appearance of this striking new campaign, which embodies interesting and informative news from the field of science.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

John Hunter Yates, multi-millionaire, is extremely anxious to learn to play the Beethoven Sonata on the plano, which he hasn't been able to do. Despite his great business activities, he loves music. In the midst of a lesson from Zukowski, his teacher, in the huge penthouse living room over his great office building, three bankers,

"Unconditionally?" queried Yates.

"Unconditionally?" queried Yates.

"Unconditionally."

The conference ended. The reporters left to blast their story. The bankers, somewhat crestfallen, followed them.

Yates immediately gathered his faithful executive staff in the room. He sat down before them, leaning back heavily in the chair. Their mouths hung open in amazement as he started to speak—for John Hunter Yates was resigning—turning over his presidency to another. Startled questions flew at him.

Yates answered them calmly. "I'll tell you why. A week ago, gentlemen, Miss Gower placed a memorandum on my desk—I have it here with me. Permit me to read it to you. 'From Miss Gower to Mr. Yates. Today—you are forty-nine years old.' Miss Gower, I wasn't particularly happy to receive this reminder. You're an efficient secretary; you forget nothing—not even the things I want to forget. I want you to promise me, Miss Gower, that next year you'll overlook sending me such a memo. Will you?"

"No, sir."

Yates smiled. "Forty-nine isn't yates stared, for the girl bore a."

Yates obediently walked over with the tray.

You're saying to yourselves, "This man Yates has suddenly gone mad. He's a fit subject for an alienist." Maybe I am, but I've made up my mind. For thirty years I've been a slave to this company. "Stage people?" queried Yates.

"What's that—something new?"

Mrs. Yates became mildly excited.
"We're having a real play tonight—at midnight. I got the whole company from the Players' Guild to come over." She walked to the door. "I've got to take care of them."

Some time later the many guests were seated around the Yates table—one seat was emoty—that of John Hunter Yates.

Blossom scowled. "Oh, you are! Well, I'm Sarah Bernhardt. Quit promoting."
Yates looked back at the script. The lines were of a passionate quality depicting a love scene.
Blossom's voice was throaty, husky, as she acted. "I'sn't there a love that stands above bargaining, cheating and trading? I'm ready, darling, with open eyes. That's why my heart's dancing tonight. Hold me in your arms, dearest."

BIRD INVENTORY TAKEN

STOCKHOLM,-An inventory of the bird fauna of Lake Takern, in the Swedish province of Ostergotland, now is being made. This lake, which is exceptionally shallow and filled with low, rush-covered islets, has for years been the home of thousands of, wild birds. Dr. Folke Persson, who is making the inventory under the auspices of the Swedish Nature Preservation Society, estimates that there are from 25 to 30 different kinds of birds, totaling many tens of housands.

A group of additional new models for the 1934 Chevrolet line -four full-size cars -100% Chevrolet in quality and reliability

Right at the peak of Chevrolet popularity -with nationwide demand sending production to new all-time "highs"-Chevrolet dealers are displaying an additional group of four new models. These cars are identical in quality with all 1934 Chevrolets. And the prices have been set at such incredibly low figures that you can now buy a Chevrolet for $490! "A Chevrolet for $490!" That's the world's lowest price for a six-cylinder car. The lowest price, also, for a car of this size, wheelbase and power! And a figure that sounds even more impressive after you find out what it buys: A great big, full-size, long-wheelbase car, 169 inches from bumper to bumper. A cushion-balanced SIX of surprising smoothness, power, snap and dash. The most economical full-size car that money can buy-a record-breaker for gas and oil mileage, as well as long, dependable service. And every closed model has a Body by Fisher. Nobody interested in motor cars can afford to let another day slip by, without seeing this "Chevrolet for $490."
