Henry Collins, superintendent of schools at Olden, is quite an ardent enthusiast, it was revealed Saturday when he brought to the Times office six quarts of honey...

Collins said that he read in the Times where a talk was to be given at the Rotary club next Wednesday on bee culture, and it was the first time he had known anyone in the county was interested in bees.

Collins has taken first place at the county fair for three years in succession with his honey, and said he was saving the six quarts he had on display for exhibition purposes this fall.

BLACK RUST KILLS WHEAT IN MIDWEST

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 29. Black rust, dreaded plague of the wheat country, today threatened nation's granaries.

Prevalent in fields from Texas to the Dakotas the fungus which kills the growing grain became a menace as sinister as last year's drought and dust.

Private and official estimates indicated the wheat crop in America's bread basket would be reduced by nearly 30,000,000 bushels because of rust and excess moisture.

BRITAIN MAY CLOSE CANAL TO ITALIANS

LONDON, June 29.—Great Britain faced the choice today of giving its approval to an Italian war on Abyssinia or envisaging virtual collapse of the League of Nations.

Italy's determination to declare war on the ancient Ethiopian empire has brought about a diplomatic situation whose developments have almost incalculable possibilities.

So serious is the situation regarded that there is open speculation whether the government, if it decides to back the League of Nations against Italy will close the Suez canal, gateway from the Mediterranean to the east and perhaps the world's most important waterway.

Closing the canal would force Italy to send soldiers and food supplies out of the Mediterranean, down the West Africa coast, around Cape Horn and up the Indian ocean and Red sea to its bases of supply in its colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland.

Two High French Officials Fight a Duel With Pistols

PARIS, June 29.—Pierre Godin, former president of the municipal council, was wounded in the right thigh today in a pistol duel with Jean Chiatte, his successor in office.

Intimate friends for many years, during which, from youth old age, they rose to national eminence, the 60-year-old Godin and 57-year-old Chiatte exchanged four shots with dueling pistols at 8:30 a. m.

Chiatte challenged Godin a week ago. It was the culmination of an enmity that started with the Stavisky banking scandal of last year.

GOOD GOLFERS ARE EXPECTED AT TOURNEY

D. A. Harkrider, defending champion of the Ranger Country Club Golf Tournament, will be on hand to defend his title, according to news received in Ranger.

Harkrider defeated James Smith of Ranger, 5-4 last year, and this year the veteran title defender will have considerable more youthful competition, Smith will again vie for the championship, as will James Phillips and Houston Cole, both of Ranger, in addition to a number of West Texas lads who have been giving veteran West Texas golfers plenty of trouble in tournaments that have been held in West Texas the past few months.

Young Hammett of Rising Star, who this week defeated Houston Cole 1 up, 21 holes to win the Hamilton tournament, will also be a thorn in the flesh of some of the veterans in Ranger next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 2, 3, 4.

The calcutta pool and chicken barbecue will be held Tuesday night, July 2, and a big dance will be held in the club house Wednesday night, July 3. Many golfers from Eastland and Cisco, as well as Ranger, will turn in their qualifying scores Sunday or Monday, and indications are that there will be enough enter for at least five flights.

Prizes will be given for medalist, winner and runner-up in each flight and the winners of the consolation matches. Sam Gamble, president of the Ranger Country Club states that he is expecting the largest number of entrants and some of the best quality golf that has ever been shown on the local course.

This is the fifth annual invitation tournament of the Ranger Country Club, Gus Moreland having won the first in 1931, by defeating James Phillips, 4-3. D. A. Harkrider, present title holder, defeated Phillips in 1932, 1 up, 21 holes. James Phillips of Ranger was crowned champion in 1933, after defeating Ed Faircloth, also of Ranger, 3-2. Last year D. A. Harkrider again took the championship by defeating James Smith 5-4.

A proclamation by J. J. Gallaher, mayor, declared that the official garb of all male citizens will be the regulation cowboy dress until the opening of the three-day celebration on July 4.

Nearly 500 persons began rehearsals this week on the gigantic pageant depicting the history of Northwest Texas. Indian raids, droughts, warfare against cattle thieves, the rise of law enforcement, and numerous other episodes will be included in the pageant.

In addition there will be races, parades, rodeos and several reunions.

HILO, T. H., June 29.—Anxious Hawaiians today watched the giant Kilauea volcano for signs of an eruption preface by a series of violent earth tremors.

The tremors rattled windows and broken dishes on the northwest side of the island of Hawaii but no damage was reported. The volcano is 30 miles from Hilo on the slope of Mauna Loa. Its last eruption was in December, 1933.

U. S. DEFICIT FOR YEAR REACHES $30 PER CAPITA

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Record-breaking peace-time expenditures in the fiscal year ending tomorrow sent the federal government "in the red" to the extent of approximately $3,550,000,000—the fifth successive year it has been unable to make income meet expenditures.

Heavy relief and recovery costs, as well as a sharp increase in regular government costs, sent expenditures in the 12-month period to approximately $7,300,000,000. Although income was bolstered by new and increased taxes, it amounted to only $8,750,000,000 and was $3,550,000,000 short of expenses.

In the previous fiscal year, covering the first quarter of the Roosevelt term, expenditures amounted to $7,243,725,025 and income to $8,277,733,940, leaving the government "in the red" in that period to the extent of $3,965,991,655.

Estimates on Per Capita Basis. On a per capita basis the federal government in the 12 months ending tomorrow spent the equivalent of $69 for each man, woman and child in the country. Against these expenditures it was able to collect in incomes only $29 per capita. The balance was borrowed. The further heavy borrowings carried the national debt to another all-time record peak of nearly $29,999,999,999, or more than $3,000,000,000 above the top reached just after the World War. It was $13,000,000,000 above the low point of $16,000,000,000 reached in the early days of the Hoover administration.

FIRE IN KEYS PLANE IS PUT OUT BY FLIERS

MERIDIAN, Miss., June 29.—The endurance plane "Ole Miss" caught fire today while flying five miles from the municipal airport, but the pilots, Al and Fred Key, extinguished the blaze.

The brother-pilots reported by radio the fire was due to a short-circuit and that damage was slight. Investigation revealed that the fire was confined to the wires leading from the battery to the radio sending outfit.

The fliers insisted they would remain aloft as long as the motor holds out. "No matter what happens," they advised by radio, "we'll stay up until we are forced to quit."

If "Ole Miss" stays up until 12:02 p. m., Monday, the Keys will pass the unofficial record of 64 1/2 hours set by Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brien at St. Louis some years ago. That record was disallowed because of improper records and equipment.

Relief Requests Due at Eastland Since New System

New applications for relief over Eastland county will only be accepted in the Eastland general office, Administrator H. E. Driscoll announced Saturday.

"Heretofore such applications were made at the various relief offices throughout the county, but that system has been abolished," Mr. Driscoll stated.

Repeat Attack Is Opened Saturday By Austin Drys

AUSTIN, June 29.—The opening gun of the attack on constitutional prohibition in Texas was fired today with a statement from all the members of the newly appointed state executive committee of the Texas Repeal Forces. The statement links repeal and reform in a common cause and urges advocates of both to support the proposed constitutional amendment forbidding open saloons, repealing the prohibition amendment and providing for local option.

The statement was issued from the state headquarters here by R. Emmett Hodge, chairman of the repeal forces and Houston legislator. It is as follows: "We, the executive committee of the Texas Repeal Forces, acting in accordance with a resolution unanimously adopted at the statewide convention held in Austin, offer the following statement to the people of Texas:

"Due largely to resentment against the old 'open saloon' we have gone through a 16-year period of prohibition which has not prohibited and which, as time goes on, does less and less to actually prohibit. Dissatisfaction with the old 'open saloon' brought about prohibition. Popular resentment against prohibition which does not prohibit has brought about a realization that some saner solution of the problem must be found.

Named to High Lutheran Post

First change in the presidency of the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church in 24 years occurred during the denomination's triennial convention at Cleveland, when the Rev. Dr. J. W. Bohlen, abbot, of Houston, Tex., was elected to the post. The Rev. Dr. Frederick Potenhauer of Chicago, president for nearly a quarter of a century, failed of re-election by a narrow margin.

First Baptist Church Showing Good Attendance

Attendance at the services of the First Baptist church have shown an increase during the past month or two. Several have been added to the church as a result of the regular weekly services during this time.

Frequently there have been conversions and baptizing. The splendid fellowship and the growing concern upon the part of the membership of the church for the spiritual and abiding things of life constitute a most wholesome background for the church's summer evangelistic campaign which is to begin Sunday.

It has been the aim of the church to bring to Ranger each year an outstanding minister whose ministry has been characterized by a fervent and unwavering loyalty to the Scriptures and whose life and messages effectually call the people to a holier manner of life. Rev. E. S. James, whose brief ministry has been a remarkably fruitful and constructive one, will lead the local forces in the present campaign. Brother James is a favorite with all who know him. He will give his best to the meeting, and may expect the unselfish, prayerful co-operation of the whole church throughout the campaign.

A splendid choir and orchestra will greatly aid in the music, which will be directed by Mr. Harlan Denham. Christian men and women everywhere in Ranger are urged to find their places in the choir and thus offer themselves to the service of the Lord that His praise may be sung unto the salvation of sinners.

Beginning Monday evening at 7:45 special prayer groups will meet each evening for a half hour preceding the night service.

Two Rough Bouts On Monday Card

Anything might happen in the present day style of wrestling, even to the third man in the ring isn't safe. The Elks have secured the services of Pat Swanson as referee for Monday night, anticipating an exciting rough bout between Tiger Billy McEuin, who is known to deal out misery to his opponents as well as the referee. His opponent will be Turfy Barnes of Sherman, a new comer in these parts, but comes recommended as capable of taking care of himself against the roughest.

In the opener the super-demon, Red Rodgers, will take his spite out on Doug Henderson. Red has been anxious to get another chance at Doug and what he will do to him will be a plenty. Henderson relies on his science but when necessary he can get just as rough as the best and no doubt he will have to use roughness to hold the edge on Red.

6,000 LOCAL UNIONS WILL CALL OUT MEN

Strike Was Delayed From June 16 By Request of Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, said he was wiring 6,000 local unions today to suspend all coal mining operations Monday.

A meeting of the international policy committee of the miners' union was given instructions to put into effect the previous strike call which was sent out June 1 and suspended at the request of the president before the deadline, June 16. The agreement at that time extended the wage contracts until June 30, pending further negotiations.

Lewis said the strike call would bring from the mines about 432,000 union miners. "There'll be no disorder unless the companies attempt to operate their mines," Lewis added.

The union officials from districts throughout the country prepared to leave for home, as the meeting ended and filed by President Lewis' desk on the platform in the conference room, and promised to do their best. Shouts of "good luck" were exchanged on every hand.

JAP-SOVIET RELATIONS IN A NEW CRISIS

MOSCOW, June 29.—Two additional border incidents on the Manchurian-Soviet frontier today intensified already strained Soviet-Japanese relations. According to delayed reports from Khabarovsk said 40 Japanese soldiers and two officers crossed the Soviet border and entered an alley where they remained until dusk. Later 50 Nipponese soldiers in what was described as an "attack" formation, approached the border and was joined by 60 cavalymen, with whom they allegedly crossed the border. 'FASTEST LAND PLANE' WILL ATTACK SPEED MARKS

Called "the world's fastest land plane" by its designers, this odd barrel-shaped craft, piloted by Cecil A. Allen, right, transpacific flyer, will soon take off from Los Angeles municipal airport for an assault on all land speed records. The Gee Bee No. 7, as this short, blunt-nosed plane is known, has reportedly been flown 321 miles an hour in tests with and against the wind. Allen hopes to achieve 350 miles an hour without attempting to climb into the rarefied stratosphere, and to span the United States in nine hours. Designed by Z B Granville, the ship has a high speed cruising range of 10,000 miles, carrying 250 gallons of gasoline. It has been undergoing secret tests near Los Angeles.

Roosevelt Social Security College Talks Reveal

F. D. R. never hesitates. He never deserts his must program. His important measures are given the right of way. His vast social security plan, calling for the largest tax in the nation's history, was pushed through the senate by a 76 to 6 majority and thereby assured final enactment. Five republican senators and one democratic registered against the enactment of the measure. It was a record vote. Several pairs were announced. Although it excludes farm labor, domestic, casual, governmental and charity workers, the bill creates a huge national reserve. Its backers are assured that it would cover nearly 25,000,000 people who would draw $10 to $25 a month after they reached 65 years of age. Beginning next month, July, it would offer $15 of federal money a month if matched by state funds, for every individual over 65 years of age, or needy blind persons of any age. States without pension plans would not have to match the federal fund for the first two years. Another important provision would appropriate about $50,000,000 for dependent or crippled children, mothers aid and other welfare work, all of which must be matched by the state. Eventually the social security bill contemplates that about 25,000,000 workers will be covered by state unemployment funds to take care of them in periods of idleness. The old age pension fund will be financed by taxing employers each 3 per cent on the payrolls of employees up to $3,000 a year. This is estimated to yield almost $2,000,000,000 annually by 1950. Companies with approved pension plans would be exempt. Altogether the measure contemplates eventual expenditures between four and five billion dollars annually, more than the present cost of running the entire government. A reminder that the house has enacted the measure and conferees will be named by house and senate to report a compromise measure and then the approved bill will be sent to the President. It is perhaps the most important as well as the most far reaching social justice ever enacted by the congress or the parliament of any nation in the history of the world. It must be true revolutions never go backward."

By HARRY GRAYSON

THOMAS AUSTIN YAWKEY, who spent three of his many millions to put the Boston Red Sox where they are today, which is where the prospects are none too bright, returned from a 10-weeks hunting trip in Alaska just in time to see the outfit lose three straight and drop below .500 for the first time this season. Yawkey, who has had little news of baseball since he departed from New York on April 18, found his $285,000 manager-shortstop, Joe Cronin, out with a stone bruise, and the expensive southpaw, Fritz Ostermuller, on crutches. Max Bishop was spiked the day Yawkey joined the Red Sox in Cleveland, and Babe Dahlgren was benched the following day for his failure to hit. Bill Werber, star of 1934, is hitting only .219 and performing commensurately afield. Had not the time for inter-club and inter-league deals expired, there probably would have been some business, but the situation being what it was, Yawkey fanned about Alaskan brown bear and let it go at that.

Slide Out of Pants
 WHEN the conversation did veer back to baseball it was of the Red Sox farms that Yawkey and his general manager, Eddie Collins, spoke first. Their Charlotte, N. C., and Danville, Va., clubs are leading the Class B Piedmont and Class D Bi-State leagues, respectively. Herb Pennock, the illustrious left-hander, is president of the Charlotte club, and his athletes share the enthusiasm of the Squire of Kennett Square. "Just before I left Boston, Pennock telegraphed me to rush 10 new pairs of pants for the Charlotte players," beamed Collins. "Turning to Yawkey, boys down there actually are hustling so hard that they're sliding out of their pants." The once-great second baseman pointed to the St. Louis Cardinals as a striking example of a major league array with the spirit of a college football team. He asserted that the frequent fights in the Red Bird dugout, brought on by the players' criticism of one another, was a healthy sign. "I would much rather have a player who hops upon a teammate for his shortcomings than one willing to skip them with, 'Better luck next time, old man,'" explained Collins.

Old White Sox Best
 TALK switched to stand out squads of the past, and I am sure that you will be interested in knowing that Collins considers the Chicago White Sox of 1919 as the finest combination with which he ever performed—more formidable than the celebrated Philadelphia Athletics of 1910, '11, '13, and '14. "The most remarkable thing about the old White Sox was their ability to win while torn by dissension," elucidated Collins. "The success of the old Athletics was based on harmony and unity under Connie Mack. "But the old White Sox were divided into cliques. Half of them didn't speak to the other half. Infielders played side by side without a word between them. "Yet the old White Sox roared along even after the one clique became involved in its lamentable world series transgressions." "How would you like to have some of those old White Sox with the Red Sox now?" asked someone. "How was the spring weather on Admiralty Island?" asked Collins, turning to Yawkey.

Housewives Are Warned of Fake Federal Officials

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 29.—Housewives in central and southern Illinois were warned by federal authorities today to be on the lookout for racketeers, posing as federal operatives, who seek to collect "excess" canned fruit and vegetables. The racketeers have appeared at several places, among them Murphysboro and Litchfield. At Murphysboro two men drove up to a number of residences and after stating they were government agents declared they were seeking out families having canned fruit in excess of the department of conservation limit. The "agents" told the bewildered housewives that all canned goods over 65 quarts or pints was considered "excessive." As a result of their alleged representation of the government the agents in several instances were allowed to take the "excess" in canned goods. The agents declared the foodstuffs would be turned over to poor families without food. In Litchfield the racketeers posed as food inspectors and appeared at farm doors demand permission to inspect food stores. They are reported to have told housewives the same story about the limitation on canned goods and that they intended to confiscate all over the limit.

Governor Will Inaugurate New Program Monday

AUSTIN, June 29.—A special three-times-a-week radio program, marking the 100th anniversary of the Texas Rangers will be inaugurated Monday at 5:45 p. m. when Governor James V. Allred dedicates the new series in a speech to be delivered from the executive offices in the state capitol at Austin. The broadcasts will be heard over WFAA, Dallas; WBAP, Fort Worth; WOAI, San Antonio, and KPRC, Houston, Texas Quality Network Stations. The governor, whose reorganization plans for the Texas Rangers have attracted national notice, is expected to sketch a brief history of the adventures and development of the Rangers during the last century, as well as to outline some of the plans for the future of the body as a highly efficient modern unit of the newly created State Department of Public Safety. Governor Allred's speech will be the feature attraction in Monday afternoon's program which introduces a radio series to be known as "Riding With the Texas Rangers." Also to be introduced in the opening program are "Curly" Sims, accordionist and cowboy tenor, whose songs will be featured during the series, and "The Colonel," engaging pioneer character who will tell the Ranger stories which are to be a part of each program. Historical accuracy will mark the presentation of each episode, according to the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Mich., sponsors of the series. Exhaustive research in the state files at Austin, in contemporary newspapers and documents, will provide facts for the series. The authenticity of each episode is touched for by the office of the Adjutant General in Austin, thus giving the series a definite historical value. Opening episodes of the series carry a Centennial flavor, dealing with the creation of the Texas Ranger force and its Indian conflicts in the 1830's. "In this strictly Texas broadcast," said A. H. Wilde, southwestern representative of the sponsors, "we plan to present in the most interesting manner possible. Primarily for boys and girls, we know that every Texan is proud of the Rangers, and we believe that many listeners of all ages will welcome an opportunity to hear well-told factual accounts of the exploits of this world-famous group." The broadcasts will be heard over WFAA and WBAP each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 p. m., and over KPRC and WOAI, at 5:45 p. m.

The Golden Text is: "Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ" (Revelation 12:10). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions" (Psalms 107:20). Test of Processing Taxes Will Be Made In Court

CHICAGO, June 29.—A revolt of the food industry against administration processing taxes reached proportions of a concerted war today. Led by the largest mill interest in the country, an unprecedented number of injunction suits aimed at tying up the tax revenue with which the government pays farm benefits were understood to be in the making. In Minneapolis, General Mills, Inc., largest milling organization in the world, announced it would challenge the government's right to collect taxes on the processing of grain. The challenges will be made in courts in various parts of the country.

Roosevelt Signs Centennial Bill

WASHINGTON, June 29.—President Roosevelt has signed the bill authorizing federal participation in the Texas centennial. The measure provided an authorization of $3,000,000 for federal buildings and exhibits and authorized the president to invite foreign nations to participate. Actual appropriation of the funds has not yet been made.

Cement Industry Tendancies Mixed

AUSTIN.—The cement industry of Texas showed mixed tendencies during May, according to the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. Production, 355 thousand barrels, was 2.3 per cent above the previous month and 10.5 per cent greater than during the similar month last year. Shipments, 340 thousand barrels, were 2.7 greater than in April but 4.5 per cent less than during May last year. Stocks on hand May 31 totaled 697 thousand barrels, 2.2 per cent greater than on the last of the previous month and 25 per cent above the corresponding date last year. United States production, 8,222 thousand barrels, was 34 per cent above that of the previous month but 4 per cent below May last year. Shipments totaled 7,428 barrels, 9.8 per cent greater than in April but 15.4 per cent below the figures for last year. Stocks on hand May 31 were 22,014 thousand barrels, 3.7 per cent above the previous month and 3.3 per cent above the similar month last year. The proportion of rated capacity operated in the United States was 36.1 per cent, up 29.4 per cent from April but 3.7 per cent below May a year ago.

June Weddings Take Drop from Last Year

Issuance of June wedding licenses, which ended Saturday, at the county clerk's office was 10 less than in 1934. Three issued Saturday brought total for June to 31 and for the year to 155. Licenses issued Saturday were to Odus Bascum Smith and Lavada "Acquaintance with the original texts, and willingness to give up human beliefs... open the way for Christian Science to be understood, and make the Bible the chart of life, where the buoys and healing currents of Truth are pointed out... Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin" (pages 24 and 146).

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliott © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Katharine Strykhurst, 20 and beautiful, allows her emotions to rule when she marries Michael Heatheroe, young riding instructor who comes into a title and fortune. Katharine's father is rich and her stepmother is snobbish.

The night following her marriage Michael is injured in a traffic accident and when he regains consciousness his memory is impaired. He forgets the marriage. Katharine, heart-broken, believes he has deserted her. She goes to New Mexico to forget. Wandering off for an early morning stroll, Katharine becomes lost in the desert.

Michael arrives to explain and beg forgiveness. He hires a plane to search for Katharine. After a long hunt she is rescued. Michael takes her, ill from shock and fatigue, to a ranch house and a doctor is summoned.

Now Go on With the Story CHAPTER XLV
A nurse had come by car from Santa Fe. Katharine had been made comfortable. She was "resting easily now," the doctor told Michael. She had taken a little water; after a bit she might have some more.

"It was a shock—she has a little fever still—but she is young and strong. She will be all right."

He was an old doctor, gray and grizzled. He had seen much pain and despair. He liked the look he saw in this young man's eyes.

"You're her—her brother?" the doctor dazedly, Michael shook his head.

"Husband," he said briefly. "Ah, I didn't understand." The physician had observed the slender hand outside the coarse coverlet wore no wedding ring. But these modern young people—you never knew what they were going to do next.

The Millards were here now, and Miss Vincent. Michael had told them, quite simply, that Katharine was his wife. He had not expected them to believe him. But they had. Frank Millard had glared at him and muttered something in a rude undertone to his brother, Dirk, but Hilda, after one sharp glance at Michael, had silenced him.

Girls had their own reasons for keeping such secrets, she had observed later to Evelyn Vincent as the two rested in the ranch house sitting room and drank the strong tea Mrs. Darragh brought to them.

Within, Katharine slept and woke and slept again. The swift desert twilight closed in and lamps were lighted.

"We'll leave her in your hands then, young man," said Evelyn Vincent rather sternly, to Michael.

The Millards, now that they were certain Katharine was out of danger, were anxious to push on to the ranch. Dirk had gauged his time rather closely. He had to make an eastern train in another 48 hours. And there were no accommodations for Miss Vincent here. Much as she disliked to do it, she had decided to leave Katharine in Michael's care.

"He has a splendid face," Hilda said pensively. "I took to him right from the start. You know I can always tell about people," she went on dreamily. "I had a cook once. The minute I laid eyes on her I said to myself, 'that woman is a bad one. But we were hard pressed, having a dinner party or something, and so I hired her. She stayed on for a week, and do you know she walked off with the spoons?'"

Evelyn Vincent was rather cross and very tired. She longed with all her fastidious British soul for a bath in the coral-colored tub at Silencia—a rushing, luxurious bath with plenty of lemon-verbena crystals staining the water and huge sponges and a fat cake of soap and mammoth towels.

"What's that got to do with this young man who says he's Katharine's husband?" she snapped.

"Well, it's what I was just saying," murmured Hilda, pouring another cup and pushing back her hair with a weary gesture. "I said you could always tell by a person's face, and I like this young man's face, and he must be all right. Isn't that so, Dirk?" she appealed to her husband.

"I guess so, honey," Dirk Millard looked tired and dirty. The desert sand had made deep grooves in his lantern face. It had been a terrible day—one they would talk about, telling the story with a thousand embellishments, for years to come.

"I think perhaps I should stay," Miss Vincent fretted. "After all, I am virtually in charge of the child. I don't seem quite proper."

"Nonsense," yawned Hilda, patting her disordered blond locks. "With a nurse and Mrs. Darragh for chaperons, I don't see very well how you could do anything. Besides a bride doesn't need a chaperon. At least, if she does, I've never heard about it."

Frank winced at this, but Hilda, always happily unconscious of another's reactions to her gay chatter, rambled on.

"He'll bring her back to Silencia after a few days, when she's ready to travel, and they can go on, picking up what I suppose was an interrupted honeymoon—probably they quarrelled—and everything will be lovely. Young love," sighed Hilda sentimentally. "I do so adore it. Delightful time of life, I always say."

"I don't agree," said Dirk, grinning and showing his big, fine teeth. "It's hellish. What say, Frank?"

He gave the young man beside him a brotherly nudge, and Frank grunted angrily and sank deeper into the collar of his coat.

Frank was indulging in the luxury of a man-sized hatred for Michael Heatheroe who had come winging out of the sky, out of nowhere, to rescue the golden girl with the mysterious eyes. Now the fellow claimed that girl as his wife.

"Well, come along everybody," said Dirk presently, the words ending in a prodigious yawn. "You know we Millards pride ourselves on never doing any night driving, but we've got to get going tonight if we expect to reach the ranch by sundown tomorrow."

Frank stood up, stretching his magnificent muscles and shaking his blond head.

"Count me out. I'm not going."

"Why, Frank Millard!" began his sister-in-law combatively, "I

He offered no explanation of his strange conduct and she asked none. Mrs. Darragh had met the Millards before this. She thought of them as "real city folks," and none of their vagaries could really surprise her. Besides she had seen Katharine's face, lovely in its stillness; she sensed romance.

"Why, say, Mr. Frank, I'm real sorry we can't give you a room, but you know how 'tis."

"Well, now, you can set that in the shed. It's real clean. Dossy does some of his carpentering there, but it's tidy. I'll give you some supper."

"Oh, don't bother." But the smell of frying steak that presently drifted to him from the open windows was too tantalizing to be ignored. Frank was young and healthy. When he shouldered his way into the kitchen he found there, besides a stray pilot who had lost his way and brought his plane down at Claymore instead of at the California field tower which he had been headed, the hated Michael Heatheroe. Frank glowered at him and rudely turned away.

"Oh, Millard," Michael said in a friendly tone, "I wanted to talk to you—thank you for looking for Katharine."

Frank stared past the offered hand, in a definitely insulting tone he said: "No thanks in order. Katharine was in our care. Still is, as a matter of fact. I'm staying to see she's o. k."

There was no mistaking the hostility of his tone; the sneer was marked.

Mrs. Darragh, bustling past with a steaming platter, said cheerily, "Boys, boys, no fighting in here!"

"All right then," grated Frank, burning for action, and not caring what form it took. "Come on outside. I'll show 'em!"

"No, I'm sticking around."

WARNING!

From the Chief of Police to the Housewives and Citizens of Ranger and Farmers of This Vicinity.

J.M. INGRAM

THIS IS A WARNING TO BEWARE OF THIEVES POSING AS SOLICITORS, salesmen or inspectors. STRANGERS seeking admittance to premises as salesmen, solicitors or inspectors SHOULD NOT BE ADMITTED UNTIL THEIR CREDENTIALS HAVE BEEN CHECKED UP AND VERIFIED THROUGH DEPENDABLE LOCAL PERSONS OR LOCAL INSTITUTIONS.

IN MANY CASES STRANGERS without reliable credentials, are spotters for professional criminals and, according to police records, lack of caution on the part of householders in admitting such strangers oftentimes results in costly property losses and bitter experiences.

DO NOT PAY CASH IN ADVANCE TO STRANGERS ON ANY MERCHANDISE . . . in many cases and from experiences reported to the police department the customer has never received anything for the cash advanced nor has any refund been made of the original cash deposit.

DO NOT CASH CHECKS FOR STRANGERS NOR ISSUE A CHECK as a down payment on an order to a stranger, as in a number of cases these checks have been altered and later cashed by a third and innocent party.

SHOPLIFTERS WORKING THROUGH RANGER pilfer merchandise from local stores and dispose of this merchandise to citizens of this territory. Police KEEP CHECK OF SUSPECTED INDIVIDUALS and your co-operation is asked in tracing down stolen goods. Beware of this merchandise usually sold as a special deal or offered at a ridiculous price for quick disposal.

IT'S BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY . . . BE SURE YOU KNOW who the stranger is at your door before granting admittance to your home. IN CASE YOU ARE SUSPICIOUS PHONE THE POLICE AT ONCE . . . as we are anxious to co-operate with our citizens at all times.

HIGH-PRESSURE, FREE-GIFT ARTISTS HAVE BEEN WORKING the residential and farm districts of late selling all kinds of merchandise and offering "something free" to get into the homes. IN MOST CASES THERE IS NOTHING FREE TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

ONE NEED NOT BE AFRAID OF OFFENDING THE HONEST SOLICITOR, salesman or inspector living here or representing a local firm. THEY HAVE THEIR CREDENTIALS WITH THEM and welcome such investigation . . . that is why they are required to carry credentials. PROTECT YOURSELF. ASK FOR CREDENTIALS SHOWING THEIR IDENTITY AND THEIR LOCAL CONNECTIONS.

They are spending their vacation in Texas, first, in Hereford, with Mrs. Gray's parents, and coming from Hereford yesterday, they will remain a week in Ranger. Mr. Gray is with the Union Electric Light & Power company of St. Louis as heat distribution engineer. Miss Mary Leo Gray, the daughter of "The Manse," now secretary of the Abbey Presbyterian church, of Dallas, is expected on Monday for a visit to her parents also.

Merchants Who Are 'On Their Toes' Can Get Business

"Ranger merchants who are 'on their toes' and looking for their share of this summer's tourist dollar should reap a rich harvest. Reason: There will be twice as many tourists on the road as there were last summer."

Such is the surprising prediction just released by the Conoco Travel Bureau, America's largest free travel service, maintained by Continental Oil company, Denver, Colo.

In a bulletin addressed to the merchants of "Main Street" in all parts of the United States, the Bureau advises them to prepare for the greatest tourist trade in years.

"Dust storms have spent their fury, leaving a new top soil, and flood waters have receded," says Joe H. Thompson, director of the bureau. "As a result of heavy rainfall, America's highways, and particularly the mountain areas, are green in vegetation, and wild flowers are more beautiful than ever."

"During the first five and a half months of this year the Conoco Travel Bureau received 115 per cent more trip service applications than during the same period in 1934.

"At present, more than 250 carefully trained employes are working day and night shifts in the Bureau's Denver offices. During the early part of June last the Denver personnel numbered only 126.

"The Conoco Travel Bureau was founded five and one-half years ago in response to the demands of motor vacationists and every-day travelers anxious to secure accurate, up-to-the-minute information regarding North American highways, scenic regions and travel costs. Each motorist applying for Travel Bureau assistance receives a generous assortment of maps, booklets, cottage camp and hotel guides, and special instructions covering every phase of his journey. Even temporary highway detours and choice fishing and hunting areas are indicated. More than 22,000 Conoco dealer stations in 42 states act as branches of the bureau and are equipped to render additional tourist assistance of a more localized nature."

Readers of this newspaper may secure individualized trip services without spending a cent—even for postage—merely by writing the Conoco Travel Bureau, Continental Oil Building, Denver, Colo., stating where and when they wish to go.

Wooden Shoes Gain Much Popularity

By Fred Press

HOLLAND, Mich.—Ten times as many wooden shoes are being made and sold now as were several years ago, Chester Van Tongeren, operator of the only wooden shoe factory in the country, reported today.

Most of the output of his workshop, however, goes to tourists. A few persons of Dutch and Belgian descent still use the sabots to work around the barn or in other jobs.

Van Tongeren was a junior at Hope College when he entered the World War. In 1928 he opened his shoe factory on the second floor of his father's tobacco shop. Friends predicted the venture would fail.

Beginning with five assistants, Van Tongeren now employs more than 100 men. The work is not limited to wooden shoes. Souvenirs of every kind leave the Holland factory daily for every city in the United States. They range from ash trays to miniature windmills. All are made of wood.

Van Tongeren views the success of his venture as not phenomenal.

You Can't Advertise Today and Quit Tomorrow

You're Not Talking to a Mass Meeting . . . You're Talking to a Parade . . . !

BRUCE BARTON

Ceaseless hammering on the same spot helps win prize fights . . . it is the essence of advertising success. Not until enough individuals in the same neighborhood have been sufficiently saturated with a certain slogan, say, to cause them to react on one another does advertising become a social phenomenon.

The modern business man realizes that his best customers wear out at a rate of nearly 3 per cent a year. Advertising-made prospects disappear far faster. Casual impressions, however favorable, dry like dew in the heat of competition.

"Cumulative" effects of advertising come not from one advertisement paving the way for another. This is negligible, to say the least. Cumulative effect, on the contrary, comes from salvaging as customers half-finished prospects.

Each advertiser is in much the same plight. If he quits successful, he loses money. If he quits unsuccessful, he tosses away an equity in public recognition far more valuable than the money: So many thousand partly manufactured customers. The second group are spending as little money as they can and still keep their names before the public. They believe themselves wise spenders because they spend so very cautiously—or perhaps reluctantly is a better word . . . THE BALD TRUTH IS THAT THESE RELUCTANT SPENDERS ARE, AS A CLASS, THE REAL OVER-SPENDERS IN ADVERTISING!

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

WHEN hot days have dwarfed the luscious appetites of my family there's an infallible remedy I always call on—a salad chilled in the coldest part of the refrigerator, crisp, cooling, hunger arousing.

And to make the repast doubly alluring, I serve also a variety of breads and rolls, thus supplying the calories lacking in the salad.

With a dinner salad there's nothing more appropriate than a crisp salted cracker, but the lunch-eaten salad requires a more substantial accompaniment.

Half the trick of preparing appetizing salads lies in attractive serving. The lettuce or other salad greens always must be crisp. Keep lettuce wrapped in a clean damp cloth near, but never on, the ice. If it wasn't carefully washed before storing, rinse it thoroughly and arrange on the plates.

A delicious dinner salad which does double duty for both salad and dessert is a jellied salad Melba.

Or if you want to serve cold cuts for luncheon you'll like this salad with them.

Jellied Salad Melba
One package red raspberry gelatin, 1 1/2 cups warm water, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 cups diced peaches, 1 package Philadelphia cream cheese, 1-2 cup broken pecan meats.

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add salt and let stand until syrupy. Divide in two equal parts. Add sugar and peaches to one half and turn into a shallow mold. Chill. Put remaining gelatin into a mixing bowl and put the bowl into a pan of cracked ice. Beat with a rotary beater until thick and fluffy. Fold in cheese which has been beaten to a smooth paste with a little cream and nuts. Pour over first layer of gelatin in mold and chill until firm. Cut in

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Berries and cream, poached egg on toast, crisp bacon, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Cold sliced meats, jellied salad Melba, cinnamon rolls, hot chocolate.

DINNER: Casserole of calf's liver, creamed cauliflower, endive salad, summer rice pudding, milk, coffee.

squares and serve on a bed of lettuce with mayonnaise.

You might serve cinnamon rolls with this salad. If you have a bowl of ice-box dough ready, you can make up a baking of cinnamon rolls quickly or make them of quick dough. If using the ice-box rolls allow time for the rolls to rise. It takes longer for the chilled dough to rise than it does the regulation yeast dough which has been kept in a warm temperature during the whole process of rising.

Quick Cinnamon Rolls
Two cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons lard or other shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup water, 1-2 cup milk (about), 2 tablespoons softened butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Work in shortening with tips of fingers or pastry blender. Cut in liquid with a broad bladed knife, using enough to make a soft dough. Turn onto a floured molding board, flour tips of fingers and knead lightly for ten or fifteen seconds. Roll into an oblong sheet about 1-2 inch thick. Spread with softened butter, sprinkle evenly with sugar and cinnamon mixed together and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in slices about 3-4 inch thick and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees F.)

YOU ALWAYS GET BETTER QUALITY AT NO HIGHER PRICE WHEN YOU BUY A FIRESTONE TIRE WITH FIRESTONE NAME AND GUARANTEE

TIRES may look alike on the outside, but on the inside where blowouts start, they are different. Firestone Tires are made blowout-proof by Gum-Dipping, a patented extra process which soaks every cotton cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. In fact, every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight additional pounds of liquid rubber. This special process prevents internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. No other make of tire is Gum-Dipped, yet you pay no more for Firestone blowout-proof protection.

The make of tires you buy for your car becomes a matter of vital importance when you realize that in 1934 alone 43,000 accidents were caused by blowouts, punctures and skidding.

Firestone High Speed Gum-Dipped Tires hold all world records on road and track for safety, speed, mileage and endurance—undisputed evidence that Firestone Tires are not only blowout-proof but give greatest protection against skidding.

THERE ARE THREE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS THAT WILL SOLVE YOUR PROBLEM OF WHAT TIRES TO BUY

1 "Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes.

For eight consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death. This is undisputed evidence that Firestone gives car owners greatest protection against skidding.

2 "Are they blowout-proof?"

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the grueling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Kelly Petillo won the race and broke the record over this 26-year-old rough brick track without tire trouble—in fact, not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles in 23 1/2 hours, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without tire trouble of any kind. These are most amazing proofs of blowout protection ever known.

3 "Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. This is made possible by the tough, wear-resisting tread built with higher shoulders and a wider, flatter contour. This thick, rugged, scientifically designed tread is held securely to the Gum-Dipped cord body by Firestone's patented construction of two extra layers of cords under the tread. This is a special construction feature not used in any other tire. Unequaled mileage records by thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.
