SEPARATION OF SIAMESE TWINS PLANNED

By United Press
MEDFORD, Mass., July 2.—Surgeons prepared at Lawrence Memorial Hospital for a rare and exceedingly dangerous operation today to separate Siamese twins, one alive and the other dead.

Not until plans for the operation became known was it known the Siamese twins, both girls, had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Diego Fiorenza.

The larger and first born, weighing seven pounds, died at 10 o'clock last night, but doctors reported the second infant, weighing five pounds, was "very much alive."

Doctors said the bodies were back to back, attached at the head. Surgeons hesitated to operate because of the possibility the infants might have common brain tissue and the severing operation might prove immediately fatal to the surviving twin.

The operation will be performed late this afternoon.

Fire Damages a Grocery in Ranger

An explosion of undetermined origin and a fire which followed, did considerable damage to the stock of the Economy Grocery, Ranger, Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock, it was reported today by members of the Ranger fire department.

According to the firemen, residents living nearby stated that they heard an explosion just as the fire started, but an investigation after the fire was put out failed to reveal the cause of the blast and fire. It was assumed that a gas leak in the rear of the store was to blame, as stocks of merchandise on the rear partition were blown toward the front of the store.

The building in which the grocery was housed belonged to L. H. Flewellen. Little damage was done to the building and no estimate of the amount of damage done to the stock had been made Thursday.

YOUNG BOY IS NOT ACCUSED OF A MURDER

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 2.—Jimmy Thompson, 7, was freed today of all suspicion in the killing of his mother, Mrs. Florence Castle Thompson, pretty night club entertainer. At the same time police advanced a new theory for his fantastic account of the murder.

Police Capt. William O'Brian said: "Jimmy's story is too fantastic and elaborate, especially in connection with his admission that he talked quietly with the man who killed his mother and then went back to sleep."

"My opinion is the boy never woke up and the killer never saw the boy. He is a little fellow and the room was dark. I also believe his story is all a dream. I don't think he saw the killing as he said he did. He has an overdeveloped imagination."

27 KNOWN TO BE DROWNED IN FLOOD AREA

Receding floodwaters revealed additional death and desolation Thursday in the South Texas area where 27 died in a series of cloudbursts and floods.

As communication was re-established over roads still partially covered with water, rescue crews learned that Leesville, in the turkey-breeding section of Gonzales county, was wrecked badly by a 20-inch cloudburst Thursday. All telephone and telegraph lines were down.

Rescuers were investigating reports that three members of a family south of Leesville were drowned.

Below Hardy's Bluff, south of here, four members of a family were drowned when a freshet from Sandies Creek splintered their home and swept them downstream.

A woman suffering from paralysis was removed to safety, but died at Leesville.

First word of the flood was brought to Gonzales Thursday. A corps of 300 pipe line and PWA workers was organized to search the Leesville area for additional bodies.

Most of the houses and half a dozen stores of Leesville, a village of 300 inhabitants, were wrecked as O'Neal Creek swirled 10 feet deep through the town.

Floodwaters of the Guadalupe began receding slowly at Gonzales today, though still at the 35-foot level.

WARTON, Texas, July 2.—Roy Miller, finance director of the national Democratic party in Texas, today was summoned to appear before the Wharton county commissioners' court to tell how the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company spent $168,000 in public relations work.

Miller, public relations director for the company, had been in Philadelphia at the Democratic convention.

The county is seeking to increase the tax valuation of the sulphur company. Company attorneys, arguing the $15,000,000 valuation now used pays 58 per cent of all money paid as county taxes, are trying to prevent the raise.

BILLION ACRES IS PARCHED BY SUN, DROUGHT

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 2.—Nearly a billion acres of the nation's most fertile farm land scorched under a withering sun and drought today.

Located in the 24 states producing a major portion of the country's agricultural products, the billion acres supply food and clothing for most of the nation and "decent livings" for more than 15,000 persons who live on nearly 4,000,000 farms in the area.

Government officials heartened by reports of scattered rains in a limited section of the drought area, hastened plans to relieve distressed farmers.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, however, said he believed retail food prices would not be affected immediately. Wheat prices shot up today to the limit on domestic grain exchanges.

DECISION IS MADE TODAY AFTER MEET

Shoppers Are Urged To Do
Week-End Buying On Friday.

A decision was finally reached Thursday morning by the merchants of Ranger to remain closed all day Saturday, July 4.

The decision was reached after considerable confusion had been caused by various groups voting to close at different hours, but the final decision to close everything in town was reached after another meeting Thursday morning.

The four automobile agents were among the first to announce officially that they would be closed all day and the grocers soon followed their example and signed a petition Thursday to remain closed all day.

When the announcement was made that the grocers would close the dry goods merchants met again and voted to remain closed all day, as well as the furniture and hardware stores. Scott's and Woolworth will also be closed all day.

The barber shops had previously announced that they would remain open later than usual Friday night, but would close at noon on the Fourth, but later decided to remain closed all day.

Since practically every merchant in town, including most of the neighborhood grocers, have made a final decision the paper was authorized to announce that the entire town would observe the Fourth of July by closing their doors Friday evening and allowing employes to have a day off Saturday.

All who trade in Ranger have been advised to do their week-end shopping on Friday in order that they may have supplies for last time over the week-end.

Strange, How Parties Forgot Arms Issue!

If you can remember how hot and bothered everybody was getting a year or so ago over the actions of the munitions makers...

The Senate committee certainly showed us that the things which are done by and for the men who make the munitions of war...

There was, at one time, a good deal of talk about strong government action to regulate this trade into something like an approach to civilized behavior...

But all that excitement seems to have died down, and our two major parties found that they had singularly little to recommend to their followers in regard to munitions...

It is worth remembering, however, that the old game is still going on in the accepted manner. As an object lesson, there is an article by Frank C. Hanighen...

Germany, feverishly rearming has bought huge quantities of essential raw materials from France.

About a year ago the French government made a stern show of embargoing such shipments. But for some reason it failed to stop the exportation of French iron ore...

So German imports of French ore have risen from 56,621 tons in 1933 to 5,861,611 tons in 1935. When the next European war comes...

But the trade isn't one-sided. The Germans will have a similar consolation. Mr. Hanighen points out that Krupp torpedo equipment is being delivered to France steadily...

All this, to be sure, is happening in Europe. But it is a sample of the way the international munitions trade works; and, in a world which is as beset by the danger of war as this one, it is matter of overwhelming importance.

You would think that the munitions trade would have provided the two parties with one of their principal talking points. Somehow it didn't. A first-rate "issue" is lying around fairly begging someone to pick it up and go to town with it.

vision, teachers closed classes Tuesday, and no information has been received concerning future operation of the department. Since teachers have been paid a weekly wage, there will necessarily be some loss in pay to them.

One change has been noted in the National Youth Administration setup. Only youths from 18 to 24 years of age, rather than 16 to 25, will be employed on work projects. School aid projects will continue to assist youths from 16 to 25.

In most cases workers will be able to regain all lost time within a few days, thus drawing their usual income. Workmen in district 13 are allowed 140 work hours per month. For this common laborers receive $24 in Taylor, Nolan and Eastland counties, and $21 in the other 10 counties of the district.

Intermediate workers earn $36 in the three counties named and $30 in others. Skilled workmen make $48 and $38 monthly. Cost of operation of WPA is $576 annually per man, the part not going for wages being used in purchasing material. Under the old program cost was $600 per man annually.

That the operation cost is being cut does not indicate that wages are being lowered or increased, but instead more employables per job will be given work. Under the new program hours will be reduced but wages will remain practically the same.

J. E. Walker of Gorman was here Tuesday investigating the claims of those applying for old age pensions.

Members of the Epworth League entertained at the Methodist Church Saturday night with a party and shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hilliard, whose marriage was recently announced. Misses Nell Robert and Agatha Genoway were hostesses for the party and Misses Minyon Whitworth, Ruth Abel, Rebecca Daily and Dorothy Parks were in the receiving line.

Miss Frances Arnold had charge of the register in which 58 names were written. A program of music was rendered and a social time was enjoyed after which the gifts were presented and inspected. A new feature of the "shower" was that a large number of boys and men were present.

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served by the members of the Epworth League, assisted by their sponsor, Mrs. Annie Daniel. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parks and is an accomplished musician and has been pianist at the Methodist Church for several years.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hilliard and has attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood the past two years and now is working at Freer. Their many friends are extending best wishes.

Horace Morrison and his stepdaughter, Miss Joe Ceille Crenshaw, and Miss Leta Troy Hudleston, drove to Fort Worth Tuesday.

Walker Henry returned Tuesday afternoon from College Station where he had gone with County Agent Elmo V. Cook to arrange for a house for boys from this county who will enter A. and M. College this fall.

Rev. Mrs. Earl Alexander and her husband and Misses Capitola Browning and Naomi Alvis returned Friday night from Stephenville where they conducted a revival for the Church of God. Crowds attending the last week were estimated at 1,500.

Give Child Chance To Enjoy Summer Physician Urges

AUSTIN.— Schools are closed for the summer all over the State, and citizens interested in the welfare of the future generation are confronted with the fact that a vast amount of energy and ability may go to waste if skill and patience are not employed in directing growing children in this play time season, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "The civic, moral, and educational value of developing the natural talents of each child," Dr. Brown said, "has a far-reaching influence in the health, knowledge, and character of the future men and women of this state. The child need not be directed in each little act that he performs. Let the summer vacation season be the time when the child has a chance to develop his own individuality.

body, nourishing food of the right kind, regular habits, sufficient sleep, rest and play, and a happy state of mind. "Of course, where the child lives and under what conditions, means a great deal as to the type of recreation he will find during the summer. The city child will look forward to trips to the country or hours spent in the play grounds and swimming pools. The child living in the country will have many things to do that will keep him in the sunshine most of the time.

"Let us all work toward the end that each child may feel at the end of the summer that he has worked out some of his own ideas and dreams, and still developed his physical and mental capacities during these few months of play."

WOMAN TO TEST TEAR GAS LONDON.— Army "at home" to be held in many parts of Britain shortly, will give men a chance of being "tear-gassed." They will come in for a dose of the gas while they are in the front lines. Gas masks will be fitted by an officer.

CHAPTER I

IT was a week after her father's funeral. Claire Fosdick stood in the luxuriously furnished library and looked about her with a shudder. Almost as though she half expected some menacing horror to reach out from the familiar shadows and clutch her. Then she jerked herself together with an effort. Over there, by his favorite lamp, his body had been found slumped forward in an unnatural twisted position. She could see it yet, though she had tried to forget. The death certificate had said heart trouble, and there had been no autopsy. Nick Baum had managed that for her. But always in the back of Claire's mind would be the question—why had her father died so unexpectedly? He had seemed as well as usual when she bade him goodnight and left him chatting with Nick. And Nick had said that when he left at 11 o'clock Mr. Fosdick walked to the door with him and seemed in the best of spirits. Yet he was gone, and now Claire was alone with the wreck of the family fortune. This city house and the mountain property were about all that was left, and she knew only too well that Nick Baum had claims on both. Her father's words came back to her.

Illustrated by E. H. Gunder.

"I was just thinking of the jewel, Hannah," Claire said. "Oh, if I could only find it! Everything would be all right."

"We must pay Nick by this time next month, Daughter."
"But, Daddy," she had exclaimed. "Surely Nick will—"
"You don't understand, child. Nick has been more than lenient. I couldn't ask him to extend the time again. We've got to find the money somehow."

But how? Warily Claire inventoried again her chances of supplying a large sum of money in a limited space of time. Trained for nothing but a society life, lacking money that seemed as far distant as the snow-capped mountain peaks, what could she do?

As though in answer to her problem, the door behind her opened and a tall young man came eagerly toward her and took both her cold hands in his.
"Nick! I—I didn't know you were here. I didn't hear you come in."
"Because I came through the garden. Cut across from the garage. The maid opened the French window for me. Are you glad to see me, Claire?"
He kissed her fingers as he spoke, then stood looking down at her, his flashing dark eyes admiring every line of her. "You're prettier every time I see you."

THE girl freed her hands with an uneasy little gesture. "Of course I'm always glad to see you, Nick," she answered. "You've been awfully good to me. I don't know how I could have gone through everything without you, but—"

She jarred back against a small table, crashing a delicate Dresden figure to the floor. It lay shattered into bits. She gazed down at it dazedly. It was like her own world—the world that had always been so beautiful and safe. Smashed into broken pieces.

"But what, Claire?" he persisted. "You know I'm crazy about you and want you to marry me. Why won't you say you will? You're the loveliest girl I've ever known—and the coldest. Can't you like me a little, dearest?"
Claire looked regretfully at him. Certainly he seemed everything a girl could desire, as he stood there pleading with her. Handsome, young and ardent. Yes, she was a fool, yet—
"I do like you a lot, Nick," Her voice was sincere. "I like you, but—oh, don't ask me now. I don't know—I'm—I'm so uncertain about everything. I'm going up to the mountain house for a few days. Maybe when I come back—maybe later, Nick, dear—please!"

With a choked sob she turned and ran out into the hall and upstairs to her own room. Crumpling in a heap before her dressing table, she pressed small, clenched fists to her cheeks. "I can't—I just can't! I must find some other way out." The words ended in tears.
"Claire, honey!" An elderly maid's startled face appeared around an open closet door. She hurried to the girl and put her arms about her.
"Tell Hannah all about it now, child." She smoothed Claire's rumpled curls as she had done years before when she was nurse to the motherless little girl. "Any-one been pesterin' you?" She poked her cap to a belligerent angle, her seamed, weather-beaten face glaring defiance.

Claire laughed shakily. Drawing Hannah's head down, she kissed her. "Don't frown so fiercely, old dear. Anyone would think you were still fighting Apaches out on your ranch in the early days. Some scrapper yet, aren't you?"

HANNAH nodded. "You said it, honey. I am when anyone goes tryin' to drop a loop over you if you ain't willin'. Go on now, tell me. Is it that Baum fellow again?"
"Yes," Claire answered slowly. "He's awfully nice and he loves me, but—"
"But you don't want to marry him," Hannah finished the sentence for her. "Well then, you don't have to."
"But I know Daddy hoped I would, Hannah. Nick was very close to him, had even loaned him a lot of money, and we can't pay it back."

"Listen, child," Hannah broke in. "Your father was the best man in the world, bar none, but just because he was so darn good himself, he was a mere babe in arms when it came to some other things. Now you've got your own life to live, and he's gone. It's all bosh bein' tied up by dead folks' wishes. Nobody oughter try to run the affairs of the living from the grave. How about tryin' to unearth that blasted jewel your Uncle Lyman said he hid in the house in the mountains? Wouldn't that help, Claire?"

"I was just thinking of that, Hannah," Claire looked up eagerly. "Oh, if I could only find it! But we've gone over every inch of the place hundreds of times. Daddy had about decided it was just Uncle Lyman's delirium when he was dying. You know he spoke of it again, but couldn't tell us where it was. But if there really was a jewel, and I could find it, everything would be all right. I could pay Nick and—"

"Then your father didn't know whether he got all your uncle's jewels or not?"
"We've never been sure, Hannah. You know Uncle had some wonderful stones. He was an authority on such things and bought them all over the world on his various travels. But he was always boasting about his 'Jewel of the Rockies,' as he called it. He spoke of it again as he lay dying. Said it was hidden in the house, and that we must never let the place go out of our possession. But after we looked and looked without finding anything, we weren't sure whether it was just a fancy or not. You know Uncle was dreadfully eccentric."

lumber is being bought from local dealers so that the entire federal grant of $28,248.75 will be spent in the county.

On this project 162 acres of land has been donated by the property owners for the purpose of securing a full 60 foot right-of-way.

Eighteen miles of fence has been set back and rebuilt, new post being cut and furnished at no cost to the county or the property owners.

Eighteen permanent drainage structures with substantial rock abutments and wing walls, with timber decks have been completed. These structures if built by contractor would have cost the county from $188 each to $755. With a total cost of $6,153, the only cost of the county for these structures was bridge foreman.

There has been 11,000 cubic yards gravel at a contract value of approximately $9,900 placed on this job. This at no cost to the county other than the county maintaining same.

In addition to above, the road is being graded at low places filled in, hills cut down in order to improve grades, curves are being improved and made safer. Location changed and straightened where necessary, and deep and dangerous ditches filled with rock to prevent washing in the future.

The work on this project alone is providing labor for 91 men for a period of seven months. The labor for these jobs are taken from all over the county by the U. S. labor office, assigning sufficient men to do each job without regard to precinct lines, and the rate of pay for all labor and equipment is set in Washington by the federal administrator. All materials are bought on competitive bids from the lowest bidder. All this is furnished with only the expense of foreman, tractor and grader operators paid by the county.

of supervision and the furnishing of tractor and grader, with operators.

Since this work started in December, approximately $250,000 covering labor, teams, trucks and materials has been spent in the county by the federal department for county lateral road improvements alone.

Eastland-Grapevine Road—Federal funds asked for and granted on this road:
Labor $19,352.00
Road gravel 700.00
Cement 741.00
Lumber 938.45

In the Swim for Olympic Honors

An unknown who has developed championship calibre almost overnight, Toni Redfern (above), 16-year-old Pelham Bay, N. Y., high school girl, proved the dark horse of the A.A.U. meet at Manhattan Beach when she won the 100-meter free style swim from a field of well known stars, making herself an Olympic team contender.

It takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself in the body, have it done now.

"Typhoid fever is an intestinal complaint caused by the typhoid bacillus. The digestive tract of a patient is consequently infected with typhoid germs. Anything that may be contaminated by the body discharge is apt to be infectious and dangerous.

"The prevention of typhoid fever is peculiarly a matter of community responsibility. In cities large and small most urgent control measures are those providing for (1) proper disposal of human excreta through sewage disposal plants and toilets of sanitary type; (2) safe public and well water supplies; (3) extermination of flies; (4) healthy food handlers; (5) supervision of disease carriers and (6) public milk supplies of high quality with the added safeguard of careful pasteurization.

"Prevention of single cases or of epidemics of typhoid fever is dependent upon cooperation of individuals with public health officials in endeavoring to stamp out typhoid entirely."

Austin Descendants To Be Incorporated

By United Press

HOUSTON.—Descendants of Moses Austin, father of Stephen F. Austin, and one of Texas' first colonizers, plan to incorporate.

The family charter was decided upon June 22, when 70 of the living descendants of Moses Austin met at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Brock, on Oyster Bay near Houston.

The corporation probably will be known as "The Descendants of Moses Austin." An educational loan fund for younger members of the family already has been established.

Mrs. Lewis R. Bryan of Houston and Henry A. Perry of Angleton, oldest members of the family, were special guests at this year's reunion.

Voice of Pulpit Has Lost Its Power Is Claim of Zionite

ZION, Ill.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva has turned to the sacred drama for his religious teachings because the "voice of the pulpit has lost its power."

"Preaching is at an end," he said. "It has seen its day."

Zion instituted its Passion Play a year ago. It played to 65,000 persons, a record which probably will be surpassed this year, the overseer indicated.

The sermon's message is lost on the average person, "as he squirms and fidgets between the pauses and throat clearings of the pulpiteer," Voliva said. Oratory, he said, has gone the way of preaching.

There is now an Alf M. Landon chrysanthemum, which will startle Farley, who didn't know a mum was a prairie flower.

Vaccination For Typhoid Protects The Individuals

AUSTIN.—Parents of boy scouts, girl scouts, and other young people going to camps of any kind, are urged by Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, to have the family physician vaccinate each individual against typhoid fever. Some of the danger points for spread to typhoid it was said, are creek swimming holes and flowing springs. Even though the water at these places may appear clear and sparkling, there is danger that it is contaminated.

"Typhoid fever is an unnecessary disease," Dr. Brown said. "Every case is due either to community negligence or to the carelessness or ignorance of some individual. Eternal vigilance in maintaining sanitary surroundings and a pure water supply is necessary.

WPA COMPLETES DIVERSIFIED PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM IN TEXAS

Representing a few of the numerous types of permanent public improvements installed in thousands of Works Progress Administration projects operated in Texas, these scenes show projects completed or nearing completion in various parts of the state.

(1) Conservation of water and provision of a place for boating and fishing are the aims of this project to build two low-water stone masonry dams at the Taylor City Park.

(2) Using salvaged material from an old building, WPA workers erected an eight-room school building on the North Ward campus at McKinney.

(3) Damage from the spring floods of 1935 was eradicated as WPA workers rebuilt and repaired this concrete spillway at the Huntsville state fish hatchery.

(4) This stone veneer terrace around the North Hi. Mount Elementary school is part of the million-dollar campus landscaping and improvements program conducted by WPA at 28 Fort Worth schools.

(5) Part of a project for improving 52 miles of Titus county farm-to-market roads, this substantial, permanent bridge is 1,908 feet long.

(6) Designed to reduce fire hazards and insurance rates, this water reservoir was constructed for the city of Ennis.

(7) Men at work on a project which brought about the installation of 7,095 feet of eight-inch sanitary sewer pipe in South San Antonio.

(8) This pedestrian underpass now allows Tyler school children to cross a heavily-traveled street adjacent to the campus in complete safety.

(9) One of two steel bleachers erected by WPA laborers who also cleared, drained, graded, and fenced the stadium site for Port Arthur high school.

HOUSTON.—Former Gov. Ross Sterling, his son, and passengers on a Galveston-Houston interurban offered a helping hand to a troubled truck driver whose cargo, a 40,000-pound boiler, was lodged on the interurban tracks.

The governor took off his coat and pushed shoulder-to-shoulder to the truckman and train passengers until the track was cleared.

LAKE ODESSA, Mich.—Many Michigan towns have boomed and then vanished but few have ever picked up their foundations, moved and then continued to prosper. That, however, is the story of Lake Odessa, which formerly was bonanza. It moved from its former location in 1887 to be near a railroad.

District Manager of Woodmen Circle Hears Interesting Wednesday Program

Mrs. Freda Fowler, who serves as district manager of Woodmen Circle chapter, with headquarters at Mineral Wells, paid a visit to the local Alexander Grove No. 1954 chapter Wednesday and heard a very interesting program conducted by the guardian, Mrs. Edna Williamson.

The Ranger chapter will have part in the district meeting which is slated for September and will be held at Mineral Wells. Mrs. Fowler made interesting remarks regarding the general plans and urged as many members as possible to attend.

Matters pertaining to the grove were given attention during the latter period of the session and names were drawn for the Pal Club. Twelve members reported and had part in the drill and program.

Girl Scouts To Have Swim Party

Ranger Girl Scouts will be entertained with a swimming party at the Willows Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The swim has been arranged by the scout counselor, Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick.

Rev. D. W. Nichol and Family To Be Honored With Old-Fashioned Ice Cream Supper
The membership of the Church of Christ are honoring Rev. D. W. Nichol and family with an old-fashioned ice cream supper on the spacious lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bobo, Friday evening.

Rev. Nichol, who has been pastor of the church for the past six years, is leaving soon with his family for Kilgore, where he will serve as pastor of the Church of Christ. He has been a faithful servant and by his untiring efforts has built the church of Ranger up to an excellent standard. He was instrumental in the building of the lovely brick structure which the church now occupies.

He has taken part in all civic movements and his leaving will be a great loss to the local church as he is held in high esteem by his membership who feel that their loss is Kilgore's gain. The entire family has a host of friends who are grieved at their departure.

Wright received his transfer to Arlington. Business visitors and associates of the company in town today are D. E. Daniels, district manager of the office at Mineral Wells, and F. D. Chatman, district plan supervisor, of Fort Worth.

Mrs. M. W. Fafferty and children of Las Vegas, N. M., are in Ranger for a visit with Mrs. Fafferty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lawson, 720 South Marston street.

Mrs. F. F. Smith and children of McCamey are here this week visiting with Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. R. W. Jahn and family, South Commerce street. Sunday will find the visitors, together with the Jahns, departing for a two weeks trip to Arizona and California.

empty, the entire interior surface being whitewashed, giving it a much whiter and clearer appearance after it had been filled with fresh, pure water.

The filtration plant, too, was put in condition and is ready to go into operation, keeping the water in the pool pure at all times. The filtration plant pumps water out of the pool through a purification plant, where it is chemically treated to kill all germs, and is then pumped back into the pool. One inlet into the pool from the filtration and purification plant aerates the water to keep it clear, pure and sparkling at all times.

The pool is drained frequently, which, with the purification plant, assures the swimmer that the water is in excellent condition at all times, even just before a drain and refill.

Schmeling-Louis Fight Is Feature At Arcadia Today

Along with the regular feature of the Arcadia presentation today is a round-by-round, blow-by-blow picture of the Schmeling-Louis fight, which started the sports world on June 19 when Schmeling won a decisive victory over his colored opponent.

The picture is one of the best fight pictures ever filmed, showing clearly every detail of the action, with some of the most interesting shots slowed down so that they could have been at the ringside.

The picture was shot from a position close to the ringside, so that every detail of the fight stands out more clearly than it would have from a ringside seat at the actual fight.

Two Good Games Scheduled Tonight

One of the most hotly contested softball games of the current season is expected to be played tonight when the Lone Star Gasoline team will play the Lone Star Gas team in the first game of a double-header.

Lone Star Gas is leading the league with four wins in four starts, while the Gasoline team is in third position, trailing the Elks and Magnolia, who are in a tie for second place.

In the second game of the evening High School will take on Tee Pee. Both these teams have played two games, both losing two games in two starts, which indicates that these two teams, too, are evenly matched.

L. H. Flewelling Is Lions Speaker
