UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS

THE WEATHER

By United Press
West Texas—Partly cloudy to night and Thursday, warmer north portion.

Philadelphia apparently had its eye on the convention many years ago, in view of the fact that the scene of the president's acceptance speech is Franklin Field.

FARMERS OF DROUTH AREA CHEERED BY PROMISE OF LIGHT RAINS BEFORE WEEK END

By United Press
NEW YORK.—Cotton futures leaped more than $3 a bale in late trading today to the highest level in almost two years on a government acreage forecast, about 1,000,000 acres below expectation.

FOLLOW FARMERS—36 DC.
The devastating drought entered its second month of record temperatures with no relief in sight for thousands of farmers facing crop failure in the spring wheat belt.

Corn crops were failing. Consumers throughout the country were threatened with higher prices on some commodities, but officials said the cost of living would not be affected greatly.

President Roosevelt, confident that federal relief machinery is geared for speedy action, announced he would visit the stricken areas next month.

The agriculture department designated 97 counties in the northwest as emergency counties, in which relief work will be concentrated.

The Minnesota Farm Holiday association demanded abandonment of the new deal crop reduction program. The agricultural Adjustment Administration decided to modify restrictions to encourage production of forage crops to be used as livestock feed.

Cattle raisers rushed thousands of head of hungry and thirsty animals into the Chicago markets. Fire ravaged dry forests in the Black Hills of South Dakota and Wyoming.

The Canadian wheat belt suffered also.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Showers were promised for tomorrow in the worst drought area of the parched middle-west in the official forecast of the U. S. weather bureau. "Light showers will fall in the Dakotas, northwestern Minnesota and northwestern Nebraska tomorrow and in western and northern North Dakota tonight," Forecaster J. R. Lloyd predicted.

Showers would bring only temporary relief, experts said.

DALHART, Texas, July 8.—Farmers of the wheat growing upper Texas Panhandle were encouraged today by the prospect of row crops 80 per cent of normal.

Gorman Physician Has Little Credence In Langtry Tales

Dr. E. W. Kimble of Gorman doesn't take too much credence in the tales surrounding the conducting of court at Langtry by Judge Roy Bean, "Law West of the Pecos."

Dr. Kimble, pioneer Eastland countian, worked on a railroad in 1887 and 1888 which came within two miles of Langtry, but heard little then of the man whose decisions have interested many. The Gorman physician revealed his opinion in the sheriff's office after one of the officials handed him one of the latest books on Bean.

Dr. Kimble said Bean's notoriety in '88 was not greater than that of any other "saloon keeper."

Absentee Voting Begins In County

Absentee ballots had been delivered or mailed to six voters at the county clerk's office Tuesday.

The voters were: John Lewis Fragg, 24, teacher; R. J. Galloway, 27, teacher; Thomas H. Stanton Jr., 28, timekeeper; Cal May, 30, salesman; and Claude O'Neal.

Ballots are issued to voters by the county clerk after he receives an application, either by mail or personally. Fifteen cents is charged by the office for the mailing of ballots to the election judge in which the voter ballots.

Disability to vote July 25, either because of illness or absence from the county constitutes one of the requirements to cast absentee ballots.

Expiration for the absentee voting period is midnight, Wednesday, July 22.

DIVORCE GRANTED
Divorce to Gertrude Arent and H. R. Arent was granted recently by 88th district court.

Alfonso and Pretty New Pal

His attentiveness to gorgeous Marta Rocafort, young Havana society girl and model, has stirred the curiosity of New Yorkers about the divorce and annulment proceedings of Alfonso, Count of Covadonga, ex-heir to the Spanish throne, and his commoner bride, Edelmira Samperio of Cuba. Despite Alfonso's avowal that he never will remarry, he and Senorita Rocafort have been seen together frequently in New York, one occasion being recorded above.

Famed 16-Strikeout Pitcher Will Work Against the Allstars

The famous Eliasville softball team, with its famous 16-strikeout pitcher, will play the Ranger Allstars tonight at the Municipal field. The game will be preceded by a game between the girls team from Powell Grocery and the Rangerettes.

Eliasville is reputed to have one of the best softball teams in this section of the state, having recently defeated a fast team from Breckenridge, when the 16-strikeouts were registered by the Eliasville pitcher.

The twirler's delivery is said to be so fast that there was considerable controversy as to whether or not it was legal, but he was taken to Fort Worth, where slow motion pictures were taken of him in action and several softball authorities passed upon his delivery and pronounced it perfectly legal.

He will be seen in action against the Ranger team tonight, it has been announced by the manager of the Eliasville team.

Friday night a fats and leans game is to be played, with Fire Chief G. A. Murphy managing the Fats and R. H. Snyder managing the Leans. Eligibility rules state that in order to qualify as fat one must weigh 200 pounds, while to be classed as lean he must weigh 150 pounds or less. Players will be weighed in before the game.

The Powell's Grocery team has been organized for about a week, and has been working out, but has never played under lights. The Rangerettes were organized the first of the current season and have played a number of games, both here and in Eastland.

TOWNSENDITES MEET
Ranger Townsend Club No. 1 held its regular weekly meeting Monday night. Much progress is reported in the 17th congressional district.

All Townsendites are urged to attend a special meeting to be held at Morton Valley Wednesday night, July 8, at 8 p. m.

Preparations are being made for a county-wide "Jaye-for-Congress" rally to be held in Ranger Monday night, July 13.

LIGHT VISIBLE 24 MILES
By United Press
CAPETOWN.—South Africa's newest lighthouse, one of the largest in the world, will be placed in operation Oct. 1. It is situated at Cape Columbine, north of Saldanha Bay, on a stretch of coast which has for generations been shunned by mariners. The lighthouse has a strength of 9,500,000 candlepower and will be seen for 24 miles.

Relief Clients Go On Protest March

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 8.—Ragged relief clients, angry after days of delay, in which expected food orders failed to arrive, stormed the city hall today and jeered while Mayor Edward J. Kelly rapped helplessly for order and called for police reinforcements.

"They refused a police order to evacuate."

Mayor Kelly listened while more than 400 men and women in the gallery chanted "we want cash."

Father Is Seeking His Long Lost Son

T. J. Anderson of Ranger is in receipt of a letter from S. W. Anderson, 582 N. Hawthorne Boulevard, Hawthorne, California, seeking his son, whom he has not seen in many years. The son was known as "Andy" Anderson and the letter was written to the "Andy" Anderson of Ranger in the hope that he might be the son.

The letter states that the son once played baseball in the East Texas League, but has not been heard from in several years.

H. C. Ogden Buried At Merriman Tues.

Funeral services for Hershe Coats Ogden, Fort Worth, who died at the Blackwell sanitarium in Gorman Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, were conducted at Merriman Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Ranger. Interment was in the Merriman cemetery.

The decedent was born in Eastland county March 19, 1909, and for some time had resided at Fort Worth, where he was engaged as a teamster. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Ogden, of Fort Worth.

Al Capone May Be Transferred

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Al Capone, former Chicago gangster, may be removed, soon, from Alcatraz Island, federal prison, to the comparative safety of McNeil Island penitentiary, Arthur D. Wood, chief federal parole and probation officer disclosed today.

The government's plan to transfer the noted prisoner was believed inspired by a desire to protect his life. Capone has been the victim of numerous assaults and is reported to be a generally hated man.

Good Singing Is Outstanding at Christian Revival

A feature of the revival meeting now in progress at the First Christian Church is the lively evangelistic song service that is getting people into the habit of both singing and smiling. Although regular services begin at 8:15 p. m., there were so many people who desired a pre-song service that an informal sing-song now opens at eight o'clock.

All Junior boys and girls are urged to be present Wednesday night at 7:45 o'clock for the organization of a bible drill class and young people's choir.

Rev. Paul Campbell of Weatherford, Texas, who is acting in the three-fold capacity of song director, crayon artist, and evangelist, presented to the Tuesday night's audience, in both picture and sermon, a message about "God's Blessed Man". It was a sermon that offered the speaker an opportunity to unloose his evangelistic appeal and fires. The climax was reached with the statement that any one could be God's blessed man if they were willing to pay the price.

A cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend these services. A hearty welcome awaits you.

Cabbies Unconcerned Over Mass Meeting

By United Press
DALLAS, July 8.—Taxicab drivers and taxi companies voiced little concern today about the sympathetic mass meeting last night of representatives of 52 Dallas labor unions, held in connection with the recent drivers' strike.

The drivers, disgruntled because of enforced unemployment, tore their union cards to bits yesterday and returned to work protected by special guards. More than 200 cabs were in operation.

CLEMENCY IS DENIED FOUR CONVICTED SLAYERS DUE TO DIE IN CHAIR FRIDAY NIGHT

By United Press
AUSTIN, July 8.—An adverse report on an application for commutation of the death sentence of Grady Warren, one of four men scheduled to die Friday morning, in the electric chair at Huntsville prison, was filed today by the state pardon board. The report opposing clemency was unanimous.

Gov. James V. Allred will announce his decision on clemency pleas for all four tomorrow at Longview.

The others scheduled to begin a procession to the death chair after midnight Thursday are Glenn Warren, convicted of participation in the burglary that ended in the killing of Charles Cansler, in Angelina county; Mack (Coupie) Brown and Oscar Brown, negro brothers, convicted of robbing and killing Byron Belschner, near Edna. If all are executed it will take one hour, it was estimated.

Adverse reports had been filed previously in their cases. Grady Warren's report was delayed at request of relatives who had asked a hearing. They did not appear before the board.

Maverick Clubs In Texas Cities Prove Popular

By United Press
DALHART, Texas.—An organization for boys—a Maverick Club—around which white-hot litigation has blazed has been organized in Dalhart.

Emmett Galloway, Amarillo, founder of the original city-wide Maverick Club in Amarillo several years ago, met with a large group of Dalhart youths and organized the club.

Galloway, a former oil man, has contributed lavishly to the organization's rapid growth.

The purpose of the Maverick Club—named for unbranded "maverick" steers—is to organize boys into a useful group and train them as useful citizens. Since its beginning several years ago, only three boys have gone to reform schools, Galloway said.

The club already has spread to many Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle towns. Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma and Gov. James V. Allred of Texas both endorsed the club.

Litigation blazed, Galloway said, when the club was an infant. When Galloway said he would copyright the name, Rep. Maury Maverick of Texas objected—that was his name.

"We finally won on the dictionary," Galloway said. "The dictionary defined 'maverick' as 'an un-branded steer.'"

John D. Rockefeller Celebrates Birthday

By United Press
LAKEWOOD, N. J., July 8.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., became 97 years old today proclaiming his "good condition of health merely a miracle," and hoping that he will live to be 100.

Leans Manager Has Named Lineup For Fats Game Friday

R. H. Snyder, manager of the Leans, who will play the Fats at the Municipal field Friday night, July 10, has made the following announcement concerning his lineup for the game:

"Runt" Shingleto, the one-time big leaguer of the championship barber team.

Bill Lewis, also member of that team.

Edwin George, of the Gulf.

Dr. Logsdon, a member of Ranger's old-time ball team, 15 years ago.

Irwin Grentry—He'll cut the fat off of them.

Herwick—The mattress man—they need no "stuffs."

Creager—the banker—you can bank on him.

Hasson—on the corner—he's on the square, too.

Swaney—the druggist—He'll drug 'em alright.

Hal Durham—another good slim one.

Boone—the cleaner—He'll help to clean up for them.

Flewellen—We'll need a lawyer, too.

Martin—the feed man—They don't need feed, they are too fat now.

Calvin Brown—He'll "lumber" around with the rest of us.

Wade Swift—"Ride 'em cowboy."

Nathe Pirkle—The best second baseman on the team.

Pace, the laundryman—Another cleaner.

Schooley—He'll do 'em up brown.

C. E. May—"We need insurance."

Crawley, Uncle Sam's hired man.

Snyder—110 pounds of argument.

R. A. Steele, the telephone man.

We may have to protest Bran Garner, D. Joseph, Hal Hunter and Wall because they have been working out, running in fat man races. Our weight limit will be 150 pounds (?). Our heaviest man, Dr. Logsdon weighs 142 pounds (?). But there is no limit to our baseball efficiency.

It was our idea to have women umpires—for "nobody loves a fat man"—and they won't have a chance.

Seeks New Gold on Iowa Farm

With $234,800 already discovered on the 880-acre Sunbury, Ia., farm willed to him and his wife by their cousin, the last of the three Iwers bachelor brothers, Louis Voss, above, is seeking other hoards. Meanwhile, relatives plan an attempt to break the will, charging the Vosses had not properly cared for Henry Iwers before he died last year at 74.

NEW DEAL WINS IN OKLAHOMA PRIMARY VOTE

By United Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8.—Oklahoma Democracy was definitely established as the new deal brand today after conservative U. S. Senator Thomas P. Gore was smashed in the primary, Rep. Josh Lee elevated to political stardom, and a $30 per month pension amendment voted for the second time with a veto measure.

A torrent of ballots in yesterday's primary loosed many political surprises.

Equally as surprising as the defeat of Gore, nationally recognized leader of conservative senators, was the amazing strength shown by the Townsend candidate, Gomer Smith, who was in second place and running his best race after four unsuccessful attempts.

Judgment Rendered For Riley Loper

Title to acreage in Eastland County was awarded Tuesday by 88th district court to Riley Loper from Myrtle Loper and others. The judgment did not include that to one-half of one-tenth of oil, gas and mineral rights.

Defendants were Myrtle Loper, Wilson Loper, Blanche Loper, Warren Loper, R. M. Loper, Jr., and Mrs. Lillian Loper.

Carl Springer, of Eastland, guardian ad litem, was awarded five dollars from the plaintiff.

Freed Is Freed In Chicago Slaying

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 8.—Eddie Freed, whom police have held as a "beat" in the slaying of beautiful Annabelle Blake, walked from the police station today a free man.

Police hoped by his release to obtain the surrender of his wife, Carmelita, whom they believe was with the slain entertainer just before she died of a bullet wound last Thursday.

Second Siamese Twin Dies, Bodies Will Go to Science

By United Press
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 8.—Bodies of the Siamese twin babies, Nora Bell and Anna Bell, born joined together by a formation at the base of the skull, will be turned over to the Indiana Medical school at Indianapolis, Leslie Glick, 20, the father said today.

The second of the babies died late yesterday, about 28 hours after its twin.

MARRIED BY J. P.
Edwin Ingram and Lucille Raney of Nimrod were married at Eastland Wednesday morning by Justice of the Peace Milton Newman.

Court Gives Okay To Settlement In Appealed Question

Eighty-eighth district court has approved a settlement of $1,500 to J. R. Reeves from Standard Accident Insurance Company for injuries alleged Dec. 17, 1935, while in employ of Hickok company.

The case was an appeal from a decision April 30, 1936, of the Industrial Accident Board of Texas.

The law firm of Grindstaff, Zellars and Hutcheson of Weatherford was allowed $375 from Reeves in pursuance to the settlement.

Rising Star Man Posts $1,000 Bond

Oscar White of Rising Star, charged in justice of peace court at Eastland by Joe Everett, Maimi, Oklahoma, officer, in a "fugitive from justice" complaint, has posted $1,000 appearance bond.

Texan to Appear In Murder Hearing

SANTA MONICA, Calif., July 8.—James C. Henderson, 32 year old Alpine, Texas, cattleman, charged by a coroner's jury with slaying Thomas LeRoy Patton, beer parlor operator, was cited to appear in municipal court here today for preliminary hearing.

Henderson told police at the time of his arrest he shot Patton because he found him embracing his wife in a bedroom.

Eradication of Peach Diseases Is Being Sought

The eradication of Phony peach and Mosaic Peach diseases will be of much interest to the Fruit Growers of Eastland County.

Many of the Growers know what first noticed in Georgia, where it has done great damage to the Peach Growers of that State. In the last few years it has spread across the Southern States reaching into Texas, and doing considerable damage in parts of the State.

The Mosaic Peach Disease was first noticed in the State of Colorado. It has also found its way into Texas, first being discovered in Brown County. This disease has also ruined hundreds of acres of Orchards in Colorado and is rapidly spreading in this State. These are both Virus Diseases, and there is no known cure for either.

The effects of both diseases on the Peach is very similar; in that, not only the fruit becomes smaller each year, but the yield is also less. The trees do not seem to be more subject to winter injuries or to other serious weakening diseases than the normal trees, and they may live many years after showing characters of the disease; thereby harboring the disease and furthering the spread, more so than if the disease killed the tree outright.

This work is being done by Mr. D. E. Kelly and Mr. J. J. Rasor, representatives of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of both the U. S. and State Department of Agriculture.

Fruit Growers are urged to cooperate to the fullest with this work to the extent that the appearance of the disease may be stamped out before serious damage is done.

Craftsman Lays Aside His Tools To Prognosticate

J. Y. Jordan laid aside his paint brush and paper hanging equipment at an Eastland job Tuesday and did some long-range political forecasting, based on what he said were "astrological indications."

Jordan predicted: "Senator Frederick A. Steiwer of Oregon, keynote of the Republican National Convention at Cleveland, will be the chief executive after Gov. Landon. Landon will serve eight years. During Landon's administration the American boom will start. People will live in comfort and ease. After his eight years of administration, Senator Steiwer will be nominated for president and Theodore Roosevelt for vice president; therefore the East and West and middle west will continue to hold the balance of power."

Radio Has Put Crimp in Party Oratory

It is impossible to look back at the political conventions without reflecting on the tremendous change which the radio has wrought in American politics.

Time was when a convention was a place for leather-lunged orators and rapid-fire debate. A day's sessions ran from dawn to dusk and the delegates figuratively stripped to the waist, had at one another with whatever weapons were handy, and emerged with an honest feeling that they actually had come to grips with the pressing issues of the day.

But the moment someone slipped a microphone into the convention hall, the picture changed.

First of all, the old-style orator was hopelessly crippled. What price, now, the booming voice, the impassioned gestures, the hoarse crescendo, the restless pacing of the platform? On the air they go for Sweeney.

The microphone wants a voice that is soft and well modulated, it has no use for gestures, and it absolutely bars lunging and pacing. The old-style convention orator compares with the radio variety as a grand opera singer compares with a crooner.

Nor is that all. The orator nowadays can never forget that the delegates in front of him are not a thousandth part of his audience. He cannot talk directly to them; he must pick every word and every inflection with his great invisible audience in mind.

To try to stampee his convention with a Cross of Gold speech would be worse than useless. It is the audience outside the hall that he wants, and it is eternally beyond the reach of a stampee.

And that leads us to another point. Uncensored debate becomes an almost impossible luxury when the radio is turned on.

Suppose that some outspoken party man sincerely differs with the program of the party leaders and desires to take the floor to fight it; a Bill Borah at Cleveland, for instance, or a Carter Glass at Philadelphia.

What happens? The entire nation hears his speech. He immediately presents the appearance of one who is seeking to destroy party harmony; indeed, to a certain extent he actually does destroy it.

What he could have done with perfect propriety in the old, pre-microphone days, has become an almost unthinkable breath of party loyalty. So, unless he is prepared to bolt, he keeps quiet.

These are more than surface changes. They go to the heart of our political organization. They mean that we no longer can get the results that we used to get out of our traditional party machinery.

For a convention that cannot be swayed by the passionate arguments of a great leader, and that cannot indulge in anything resembling honest debate, is not a deliberative body in any real sense of the word.

The radio has given our two great parties an exceedingly knotty problem to solve. Solve it they must, if democratic government is to function properly.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. How many printers were in the Texas army at the battle of San Jacinto? B. E. Angelton. A. John Henry Brown listed 21, which was more men than any other vocation.

Q. What is the best way to locate the star that represents Texas on the U. S. flag? E. P. Cisco. A. Texas is the 28th state of the union. To find its star on the flag easily, count four down from the first star and four across.

Q. When was the largest number of stage lines engaged in carrying mail in Texas? E. M. L., Pilot Point. A. The Texas Almanac of 1860 gave 31 as the largest number in operation, 16 of which were operated by one contracting firm, then believed to be the largest mail contractors in the United States.

Q. Does Texas have a State bird? T. T. M., Alvin. A. The mockingbird is the state bird under a legislative solution.

Professor Figures Out Why Most of Job Hunters Fail. AUSTIN, Tex.—Why the school and college graduate has a hard quest for a job no longer puzzles Dr. A. H. Edgerton. He's studied the topic and knows.

Called to the University of Texas for research to assist the Texas Committee on revision of school and college curriculums, he has made his investigations and returned to the University of Wisconsin where he is director of vocational guidance.

Next year's successful job-hunter is pictured by Dr. Edgerton. He will be versatile, courteous rather than ruthlessly aggressive. He will not have a one-track mind. He will be prepared for, and able to do well, two or three kinds of work.

Lack of intelligent guidance is blamed for most job-hunting difficulties. Lack of proper school director, he believes, is proven by 27,000 annual failures in American high schools. Before the depression, his statistics show that 40 per cent of adult workers and 50 per cent of juvenile workers wanted to change the work in which they were engaged.

Beside lack of proper school direction toward vocations to which pupils are adapted, Dr. Edgerton finds a lack of serious thought about life work among the students. Pupils allowed to choose their courses, choose unwisely. Persons most influential with them rarely are qualified to advise on such matters.

ISLE ROYALE, LARGEST ISLAND IN LAKE SUPERIOR, IS ABOUT TWICE AS FAR FROM THE STATE OF MICHIGAN AS IT IS FROM THE STATE OF MINNESOTA, YET, IT IS A PART OF MICHIGAN!

THE LONGEST PERIOD THAT A TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN CAN LAST IS SEVEN MINUTES.

AMONG INSECTS THERE ARE "QUARTERNARY" PARASITES... NAMELY, PARASITES THAT LIVE ON THE PARASITES OF PARASITES THAT LIVE ON OTHER PARASITES!

ISLE ROYALE is only 25 miles from the easternmost point of Minnesota, and during the severe winters of this northern country, a solid ice bridge is formed between the island and the mainland. In 1912, the ice bridge remained solid unusually long, and moose colonized the island. Today, these animals are so numerous that their presence there has become a problem.

New Softball Plan Being Discussed In Ranger Wednesday

There was much talk in Ranger Wednesday of a play-off series, similar to that of the Texas League, for the softball league, with the four teams at the top of the standing competing, next week, for the championship of the first half and starting the second half the following week.

It was pointed out that teams which are hopelessly behind could be revamped for the second half, to make the contests more interesting, and that the four leading teams could complete with one another in a series of games to determine the winner. The winner of the second half could then play the winner of the first half in a city series.

There was also talk of dividing the league into two, an "American" and a "National" league, each to have five or six teams, and one game in each league be played each night. In the second half the teams at the top of the standing in each league could have an inter-league series and if the winners of the first half series did not win in the second half a "world series" could be played.

The plan, it was pointed out, would give the teams on the bottom of the percentage column now a chance to improve their teams and get back into the running, while the four leading teams could determine the championship and still have a good chance of winning in the second half.

J. J. Kelly, president of the league, stated Wednesday that he would call a meeting for some date in the near future to allow the managers to discuss and decide upon the plan.

Candidate to Wed If He Is Elected

DALLAS.—Criticized by his opponent as lacking qualifications because he is single, James J. Collins Jr., 30-year-old candidate for county judge, promised voters he would get married if elected.

Justice of the Peace Ben H. Fry, pointing to himself as the father of three children, said he was better qualified to handle juvenile court cases coming before the county judge than an unmarried man.

"That's a peculiar qualification—to have to be married," commented young Collins. "If that's so, why not give the office to the man with the most children? But I promise if I am elected I will get married and try to remedy the situation."

IMPRISONED DOG SAVED NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—Imprisoned in a hole 12 feet deep for three days, Jiggs, a bull terrier belonging to Herbert Bueler, was rescued by firemen aided by a small boy who descended into the small hole despite warnings from his elders that the dog looked to be suffering from rabies.

Magazine Designates Starr Place Near Cisco As Exemplifying Rare Combination—Good Farming, Selling

(Editor's Note: The following article, entitled "Yams and Hams," appears in the July issue of "Farm and Ranch," southwest agricultural magazine circulated in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.) Highland Springs farm (Eastland county, Texas) is no show place but it is probably one of the most profitable 320-acre patches in the county. Lying southwest of Cisco in the western cross timbers, is typical of the country—sandy soil, sandy loam land, some gravelly fields comparatively level and more rugged portions devoted to pasture. Most farms of its kind have been worn out and blown out, and the second generation practically starved out. Highland Springs farm now produces better than its virgin state, and with less than half of it in cultivation, it brought returns of $3,500 to as much as $6,500 per year to its owner over a long period. V. B. Starr settled here 32 years ago. He and Mrs. Starr have lived here and reared a large family to adulthood. With a gang of husky boys growing up to be fed, clothed and schooled, half-time farming and slipshod management was out of the question. Mr. Starr is a dentist who reads widely, not only farming, but on general economics with which agriculture is intertwined. He developed a system of diversification and rotation on the farm, which keeps it working profitably the year round and continues to build its soil. But production of commercial crops is futile without a market, and, on the average, will pay returns for the labor of production, a profit, and to this end of business Mr. Starr has devoted much thought, ingenuity and energy as to the production end, adopting the principle that successful selling begins with economical production of a quality product, and ends with getting the product to the right place at the right time in the right condition, developed his plans accordingly.

been cold, yet he had already collected $262, or a return of more than $10 an acre. He sows rye in the cantaloupe fields in the fall, to be turned under for soil improvement the following spring before planting a summer crop. This, and the manure spreader, one of the most active implements on the farm, goes far to explain the increasing productivity of Highland Springs fields. Cowpeas are also liberally planted to turn under, adding both nitrogen and organic matter. Mr. Starr uses high grade commercial fertilizers on most of his cash crops to improve yield and quality, and of course the crop which follows also derives some benefit from unused residues of the fertilizer. Broom corn, forage and grain sorghum, and other staples occupy the acreage not devoted to purely commercial crops. Several acres are in orchard, which, though almost a total failure this year, pays well on the average. Needless to say the orchard shows evidence of good care and culture in keeping with the sound practices followed in the fields. One of the principal sources of cash income on the Starr farm is pork production. The hogs run in well-watered pastures, and are fed out for marketing at 200 to 225 pounds at various times throughout the year. Mr. Starr usually has choice "butcher stock" to sell when it is scarcest on the Fort Worth market, which means a better average price than if the bulk were fed to sell when the market is better supplied. The farm truck delivers the hogs to the stockyards whenever they are ready, in three or four hours from the farm, and in good condition. The Starr farm is an excellent example of that rare combination—good farming and good selling. The owner keeps records, as every good business man must, and watches the trend of production and markets. While his well-planned system goes on from year to year, a study of the ever-changing situation enables him to make minor adjustments which, if they do not always result in greater profits, at least minimize the losses which so often result from blindly producing without considering the consequences. Mr. Starr is active in agricultural

HOUSE OF SHADOWS

CLAIRE FOSDICK sets out to drive to the lonely mountain home left her by her eccentric uncle, LYMAN FOSDICK. Claire is trying to decide whether to marry NICK BAUM, to whom she owes money. She also hopes to find a valuable and mysterious jewel owned by her uncle and believed to be hidden in the house. Her car is wrecked by a log across the road. PAT MAGAN, an old friend, and BOB STEELE, young engineer, arrive on the scene and take Claire to the mountain home where EB SPRATT and his sister, SUSIE, are the caretakers. Claire sees a curious arrow carved on the wall of an upstairs bedroom and, lamp in hand, follows the arrow to the enigma. A noiseless bullet shatters the lamp. Next morning EB Spratt disappears. The men search the woods but find no trace of him. HANNAH, Claire's housekeeper, arrives and reports that a man is lying dead in the aspen grove. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VI DISREGARDING the rain which had become a steady downpour, the two men, Claire, Hannah and Susie all rushed to the aspen grove. They saw the figure lying there, just as Hannah had said. Pat ran forward with a little cry. "Bob! It's Bob!" Quickly he turned him over. When he looked up, Pat's own face was pale. "He's alive," he said, "but that's about all." "The first thing is to get him up to the house," Dan Dallas announced in a matter-of-fact tone. "You take his feet, Magan, and we'll ease him up the hill." "Better go on ahead, Susie, and get the north bedroom ready for Mr. Steele," Claire said. After the patient had been made as comfortable as possible and Susie had gone back to the kitchen, Claire dispatched Dan Dallas for the doctor from the village. Then she told Hannah of all the strange happenings at the House of Long Shadows. "The Doc may know something 'bout Eb being down at the town," Hannah suggested. "Anyway it won't do no good to let the police come messin' inter things, when there ain't a thing but a cap to show 'em." "That's why Bob was going down to find out himself," answered Pat. "Looks as though the opposition was engaged in picking off our men, one by one." HANNAH snorted and squared her shoulders. "Don't forget you got me now, Mister. I've looked across a knife at a ragin' devil of an Injun, and I'm alive to tell it. Guess I can do something 'bout this what-ever-it-is, that's kickin' up a ruckus 'round here." A faint smile touched Pat's lips. "I'm betting you can do just that," he told her. The shower was over now, and after what seemed an interminable wait, the doctor came, followed by Dallas. Expertly the doctor's gentle fingers moved over Bob's prostrate form to the accompaniment of little clucks of sympathy. "A bad rap on the head, that's all. Oh, yes, young man, he'll pull through okay. Don't look so downcast." He addressed Pat. "I suppose he fell and hit his head on a boulder or something," the doctor went on. When the doctor was ready to leave Claire asked the question that was uppermost in everybody's mind. "Have you seen Eb in the village today, Doctor?" "No, not for almost a month now," he answered. "Why?" "We were just looking for him, that's all, Doc," replied Pat. "That's how we happened to discover that Bob'd been hurt." "Well, keep the patient absolutely quiet, and I'll come out tomorrow to see how he is." Pat followed the doctor downstairs. After the ancient car had chugged off down the winding road he walked down toward Dan Dallas' cabin intending to demand the gun. BUT Pat did not reach the cabin. As he made his way around the edge of the aspen grove, he saw something moving up the winding trail on Squaw Mountain. He stopped and watched. A man in white was plainly visible, weaving his way in and out along the curving loops of the path. For a minute Susie's fantastic story of the white miner rushed back to Pat's mind. "Apple sauce!" He said it aloud. Then he started off at a brisk run to follow. Pat had come quite a way. Those trees that had towered above him a few minutes ago now were spindling tops. He looked across at the Fosdick house, thinking that the arrow mark in Lyman Fosdick's bedroom certainly pointed in this direction, too. Could it have meant, after all, something as far distant as Squaw Mountain? A gleam of white ahead made him bend his shoulders and once more take up the rocky trail. He began to save his breath and energy, stopping at brief intervals, then trudging on again. Whatever else the man in white might be, he was sure a bang-up mountain climber, Pat decided, after several more loops of the trail, in which he did not seem to be gaining on his quarry. What if, after all, he was following some image of his own imagination, inflated

This growth has been largely since I have been chief clerk; and Mr. Walker agrees with my estimate that the school fund has a probable future of $500,000,000. "The constitution wisely forbids current use of this money, but the income from it should go far toward reducing the necessary taxpayers expense of supporting public schools. "People of Texas cannot afford to jeopardize these excellent prospects by entrusting this guardianship to any except those whose experience guarantees a continuation of present safe and sound policies. One mistake through inexperience might be harmful to every school in Texas." Policies Proven By Time Declared Best By Hawkins GIDDINGS, Texas, July 8.—Time-proven policies in guarding the state's permanent school fund make prospects excellent for tangible returns to Texas taxpayers in the future, John W. Hawkins, candidate for land commissioner to succeed the retiring commissioner, said here yesterday. Hawkins, after serving the departments as legal advisor and chief clerk for 20 years, is seeking the office with the endorsement of Commissioner Walker. He campaigned at towns en route to South Texas today after spending Monday in Central Texas points. "Under Commissioner Walker," he said, "the permanent school fund has grown to $80,000,000.

S. J. Dean Home Scene Of Lovely Morning Wedding

Miss Sue Irene Dean, daughter of Mr. Sanford J. Dean, of this city, became the bride this morning at 9 o'clock, of Mr. Robert Wenzel, of Seminole, Oklahoma, at the home of the bride's father, 111 South Hodges street.

Preceding the lovely ring ceremony, and while the vows were said, music at the piano was given by Miss Margaret McLaughlin, of Eastland. The Rev. Edward S. Barlow, of the Episcopal church of Weatherford, officiated.

The improvised altar was banked with a lavish design of shasta daisies, roses and greenery. Bouquets of the chosen flowers graced other parts of the house, affording a colorful setting of pastel rays.

Miss Dixie Neal, cousin of the bride, acted as maid of honor and wore a frock of flush pink, with white accessories. Her corsage was sweet peas.

Mr. Charles Terrell Dean, brother of the bride, stood as best man. The bride was gowned in a smart brown chiffon, made complete with brown and white accessories. Her ring, carrying much personal value and sentiment, had been used at her mother's wedding, and a handsome handkerchief used by her was carried by her grandmother on her wedding day. A beautiful shoulder corsage was fashioned of gladioli, in two shades of pink, blending from the delicate hue to the deeper.

After the ceremony an informal coffee was held for close friends and members of the families. In the dining room a handsome Madeira cloth surfaced the board, centered with daisies and roses and flanked on either side with silver candle holders with pink tapers.

Mrs. Ross Hodges, Mrs. Alvin Strange, Mrs. Bob Hodges, and Mrs. Charles Terrell Dean served coffee and cake. A wine cup and toast to the bride came during the coffee hour. The wine was made

Miss Ada Mae Hinman To Attend Summer Camp With Mary-Hardin Baylor Students

The latest reports of Miss Ada Mae Hinman, of Ranger, is that she is a member of one of the largest senior classes of any summer session of Mary Hardin-Baylor.

With rolls of bedding, hiking clothes, and bathing suits, the class will leave the campus on July 11th, for the traditional senior camp. They have chosen a spot on the Lampasas River, where fishing, swimming, and boating will be fine. Another feature of camp is always the singing at night, when the dignity necessary to a "candidate for a degree in August" is forgotten.

As a crowning touch, "Shug", favorite of the college cooks, is going along, and he will outdo himself catering to the group.

Before breaking camp Sunday evening, they will have vesper services led by Dean E. G. Townsend.

Miss Hinman will return to her Ranger home for a visit with her parents, the latter part of the month.

"Through The Bible" Interesting Study At Bible Meeting

Members of the Women's Bible class of First Christian church gathered at the home of the hostess, Mrs. E. T. Matthews, South Marston street, Monday afternoon and heard a fine lesson "Through The Bible" with Mrs. H. B. Johnson, leader, in charge.

Song, "Jesus Is All the World To Me", prefaced the program, and Mrs. Nath Pirkle contributed with a fine devotion. Mrs. B. S. Dudley had part in the lesson and conducted a short period of Questions and Answers, a customary feature which brings about an interesting summary.

Business matters were to be approved and Mrs. L. R. Herring opened a brief session and attention was centered upon the year books which were outlined and completed in other details.

Bringing to a close a highly profitable study and pleasant social, Mrs. Matthews passed a dainty refreshment plate to Mmes. Herring, Johnson, Pirkle, J. C. Carothers, Jack Porter.

Caddo and Elks Win Tuesday at Municipal Field

Two fan-pleasing softball games were played at Municipal Field Tuesday night when Caddo defeated Tee Pee by a score of 6 to 0 and the Elks defeated Lone Star Gasoline by a score of 19 to 7 in a hectic, error-filled affair.

Although Caddo had an easy time defeating Tee Pee, the chief interest in the game was derived from the fact that Grounds, Caddo's ace pitcher, tossed the only no-hit game of the season. Though effective when he got the ball over the plate, Grounds had trouble in getting the range and walked eight Tee Pee batters.

The Elks, who were considered the underdogs in their game with Lone Star, startled the fans by forging ahead in the first inning by making two runs and coming back in the second with three more.

The only serious threat of Lone Star was made in the second when the Elks were a little off their game and allowed four runs on almost as many errors. The Elks had two big innings, in the fifth and sixth, batting around and scoring six runs in each stanza, while Lone Star was putting up a hectic brand of softball by booting the ball all over the diamond and outfield. Allison, Lone Star pitcher, was pulled during the two-inning rally and Minter was brought in from center field to do mound duty.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning! Get it to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks nunk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.
