New Platforms Make Better Springboards

No one can really get his teeth into this year's presidential campaign unless he begins by understanding once and for all that the party platform nowadays is not at all what it used to be.

Once it was something for a candidate to stand on. Now it is in the nature of a springboard—something for him to dive from.

It no longer pretends to be an all-inclusive definition of its party's aims and beliefs. Instead, it is the irreducible minimum, the foundation on which the candidate can erect just about any kind of edifice he chooses.

That is why it is so easy to be disappointed with the platforms adopted in Cleveland and Philadelphia, and so necessary to wait and see how the candidates will declare themselves on specific issues as the campaign advances.

For these platforms were designedly framed to be all things to all men. Their makers, indeed, seemed to pride themselves on that fact.

In each case they tried, apparently, to put together something that would hold out hope to the liberals and reassurance to the conservatives; something that would permit their candidate if elected, to go in almost any direction without doing violence to the compendium of party beliefs.

A platform of that kind obviously is hardly worth the trouble it takes to put it together. Its existence indicates that one of two things must be about to happen to us: either we are about to discard platforms altogether...

We have come fairly close to the first close to the first step already. The ink was not dry on the Republican platform before Governor Landon undertook to clarify some of its vaguer points...

And yet it might be a safer bet to expect the second possibility to come true. For this year's platforms merely reflect the confusion and the cross-purposes which exist in the parties that wrote them.

A party which is half-conservative and half-liberal cannot be expected to declare itself plainly on issues of conservatism and liberalism. That is the fix of both parties in.

If the next few years see them regaining their traditional unity—a process immensely helped by the Al Smith walkout—we shall, once more, have platforms that mean something.

It is a development we need very badly. Campaigns should be contests of philosophies rather than of men.

A New York man, choking on a tobacco cud, went to the hospital with a strained back after it had been pounded by a passerby, undoubtedly a politician.

GASOLINE TAX COLLECTION TO MOUNT HIGHER

AUSTIN.—Gasoline tax collections for the 1935-36 fiscal year are expected by George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, to reach an all-time high of more than $40,000,000.

Approximately six years ago when Sheppard was appointed comptroller by former Gov. Dan Moody, he immediately started a detailed study of the state's tax system.

UNION

This community had another good rain. Helen Fox spent Tuesday night and Wednesday with Dorothy Praterley of Eastland.

Babe Nabors spent Tuesday night with Arleta Terry. Juanita Fox spent Saturday night with Rozelle Fox. A. J. Taylor, Lloyd Fox and Jack Drake of Ardmore, Okla., spent the week-end here with homefolks.

Allen Crosby and family were in Eastland Friday night. The story of the substantial increase in gasoline tax collections is one of untiring research and endeavor.

Sheppard sponsored the law that required refiners and operators to maintain a detailed record of their transactions and made violations of the gasoline tax law felonies instead of misdemeanors.

One of the unique methods installed by Comptroller Sheppard to check violations is a traveling laboratory, completely equipped to take samples of gasoline at filling stations and make immediate tests to determine if the product meets the minimum legal requirements.

Mrs. Dee Whitehead of Lone Cedar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Fox of this community, was taken to a Ranger hospital last Thursday. Helen Fox left Monday with the Praterley family of Eastland to attend the Centennial at Dallas and other places.

Many operators were found to be contaminating gasoline with non-taxable products and this one phase of evasion alone cost the state several thousand dollars until curbed. Approximately 10,000 tests have been made and nearly 800 complaints filed. Prior to the time Comptroller Sheppard took office there was little provision for enforcing the gasoline tax. Through his efforts enforcement efficiency has been stepped up to a point where the state now obtains several millions of dollars more than formerly at a cost of less than 1 per cent.

Playoff Series to Start Next Monday

At a meeting of the soft ball managers, held Thursday evening, it was voted to hold a five-team playoff for the first half championship, after which the second half would be started on July 20, with two leagues, the American and National.

Monday night, July 13, the first games of the playoff will be staged when Caddo plays Magnolia and Robinson Grocery plays the Elks. The winners of these two games will play Tuesday night to determine which will play Lone Star Gas for the championship. It was announced at the meeting that Strawn wanted to enter a team and it was decided to let a team enter to make two leagues of six teams each. The managers drew for the teams to be in the National and American leagues and a schedule is to be worked up tonight, with each league having a game each night scheduled games are played.

It was also voted to let the fans pick an All-star team, by ballot, which can be turned in at the office of the chamber of commerce or at the gate at Municipal field. Ballots on which the fans can pick their players for the team will be found elsewhere in this paper, which can be filled in and submitted. The players receiving the largest number of votes will be picked to play on the All-star team.

Four factories for the production of carotin, from carrots and potatoes, used in treatment of certain diseases of the eye and in building up general bodily resistance, will be constructed soon.

OFFICE-WORKER HELPED BY NATURAL LAXATIVE FOOD

ALL-BRAN Corrected Her Constipation*

Here is her voluntary letter: "For years I was a sufferer from constipation.* It was necessary to take a laxative every night before retiring. I was an office-worker, and did not get much exercise. "Some one told me that ALL-BRAN was a good remedy for constipation.* I bought a box, and found that it helped my condition. Since then I have not had to invest in laxatives."—Mrs. Margaret Jones, 911 E. Laura Street, Clearwater, Florida. Scientific tests have shown that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN corrects constipation* safely and pleasantly. This delicious cereal supplies mild "bulk," as well as vitamin B and iron. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Wouldn't you rather enjoy this natural food than abuse your system with harmful pills and drugs? Protect your family from the dangers of common constipation.* Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked in tempting muffins, breads, etc. Recipes on every package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Read 'em and Reap The advertisements in this paper are guideposts to the best values in town. If they weren't the best values in town, by any chance, the advertisers would be foolish indeed to call your attention to them. Because no advertiser can afford to focus upon a fault! Just as you consult a road-map before taking a tour in your car; just as you pore over a bill-of-fare before ordering lunch or dinner; just as you read reams of booklets and folders before starting out on a cruise—read the advertisements before going downtown into the shopping traffic. Advertisements are advance news of all that's newest and best in merchandise and service. They show you, in the quiet and comfort of your home, what you may expect when you sally forth into the market-places. You can check the items that interest you, and "chuck" those that don't.
