CANDIDATES WINDUP THEIR CAMPAIGNS WITH HOPES OF EASY VICTORIES SATURDAY

By United Press
Candidates for political offices in Texas, from governor to justice of the peace, wound up their campaigns Friday and hoped for the best in Democratic primaries Saturday.

Most of the candidates for state offices went back to their home towns for final speeches Friday. A few took the last day off.

Ernest O. Thompson, running for re-election to the railroad commission, was among the "short campaigners." He made his final address Thursday night at Amarillo, his home city.

His speech was a resume of his record.

"There is one thing that I never have done," he said, "and never will do. That is to try to please the 'hot oil' boys. The abuse of that crowd is a badge of honor."

Carl Hardin of Stephenville, also seeking a place on the railroad commission, planned to end his campaign Friday night in Dallas, where he will broadcast. He gave some indication that the talk would be like when he spoke at San Antonio Thursday night.

"I promise that if I am elected I will lower the domestic gas rates in hundreds of Texas cities," he said.

Gov. James V. Allred, seeking re-election, returned to his home in Wichita Falls for a final radio appeal tonight. Speaking in Waco last night Allred answered charges he was using the highway department for political purposes.

F. W. Fischer of Tyler expressed confidence in Houston today that he would receive strong support from West Texas.

"Fischer rallies at which thousands of people have appeared, strengthened my belief the western sector of the state will join East and Central Texas in giving me a decided advantage," Fischer said.

Sen. Roy Sanderford of Belton went to Marlin Friday, in his campaign for governor. He urged that old-age pensions be paid "in full to everyone qualifying under the constitution."

Such payments, he said, would increase the purchasing power in Texas $800,000,000 a year.

Tom Hunter of Wichita Falls, also was confident he would lead the parade of candidates for governor Saturday and then win the run-off.

Hunter expected to wind up his campaign tonight with a speech in Wichita Falls.

William H. McDonald of Eastland, candidate for state land commissioner, said in Fort Worth Friday that both opponents he had in previous races were campaigning actively for him.

John W. Hawkins, McDonald's opponent, told an audience in San Antonio he believed he would win the race by a majority of 500,000.

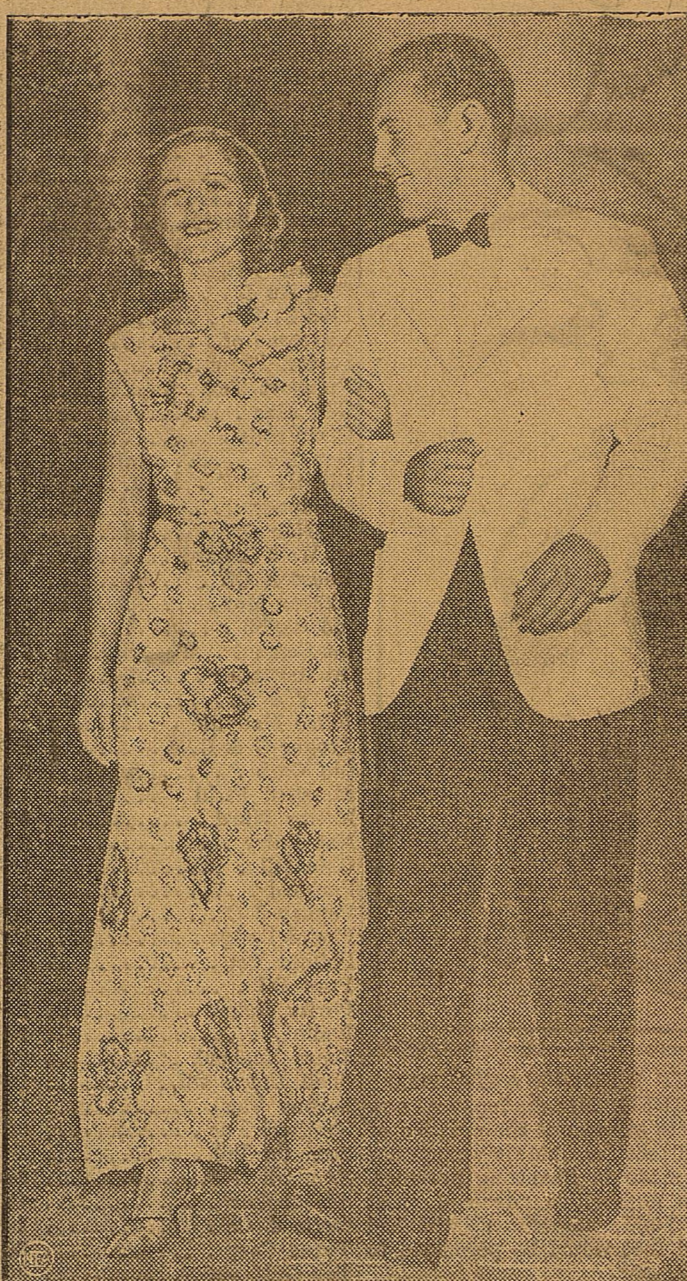

W. W. Jarvis Back In Ranger After Month of Study

W. W. Jarvis, Registrar of the Ranger Junior College, has returned to Ranger after spending the month of July in Brantley Draughon College, Fort Worth, Texas, in the capacity of teacher and student. While there Jarvis was a teacher of law, and at the same time he completed his work for the B. C. S. (Bachelor of Commercial Science) degree which was conferred on him July 21. The subject of his thesis, a study which is required for the degree, was "Office Practice and The Secretary." Jarvis is planning on using this study in connection with the business administration department of Ranger Junior College.

Jarvis feels that he is now better qualified to serve the students of Ranger Junior College as he now holds three degrees, covering both the field of business administration and educational administration.

He states that beginning August 1, he will be in his office regularly, and invites anyone interested in attending Ranger Junior College to see him in regard to courses available.

SCIENCE ENDS OIL DISCOVERY BY GUESSWORK

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO.—New, highly perfected seismicographic instruments, ordinarily used for recording earthquakes, are being tried throughout California, Texas and other western states for the detection of new oil fields, the California School of Technology reveals.

The perfection of the old-time seismicographs, the invention of seismometers and the development of new instruments that permit of a practical use in delving into geological formations far beneath the earth's surface, constitute the latest contribution to this branch of science by California research workers. The men most responsible for the discoveries and inventions are Dr. Joshua L. Soske and Dr. Raymond A. Peterson, research workers at the Institute of Technology as well as Dr. Russel Ratt formerly in the physics department of the institution.

Equipped with a complete set of their newest instruments, they are exploring the underoil over various parts of California in search of oil. Results are said to be satisfying.

Equal success has been achieved in Texas and other states.

The newer instruments for the search of oil are modification of Dr. Hugo Benioff's earthquake recording seismograph, perfected and adapted to record higher frequency disturbances below the earth's surface, usually artificially generated by dynamite.

Other principles, notably those used in Oceanography, also were utilized in developing and perfecting the new instruments. The basis on which the oceanographers work is to send sound to the bed of the ocean, and record its echo when it returns to the surface. By knowing the velocity of the sound waves and the time consumed in the trip, it is possible for the scientists to determine the exact depth.

Proceeding with the same principle, Dr. Soske and his associates decided to apply it to vibrations in the earth. Vibrations in the earth were set up by explosions of dynamite at various depths and in various geological formations until it was possible to create positive data not only to ascertain the depth from which the vibrations were reflected upward but also the nature of the geological formations through which the vibrations passed.

It was utilizing this data that it eventually became possible to sound out with the seismometers underlying stratas and to ascertain whether there was the presence of oil, oil bearing shale or similar deposits.

Fort Worth Chief Of Detectives Is "Grand Old Man"

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex.—Chief of Detectives Tom Jackson is the grand old man of the Fort Worth detective department—and he's never worn a uniform.

For 31 years he has been a peace officer—an officer of the old school with scorn for newfangled devices such as lie detectors. "Just let me grill them a little, that's all I want," he says.

And what a grilling they get. It has been said that certain criminals prefer solitary confinement to questioning by the "Chief." Few men can stand up under his close scrutiny through kind but searching eyes. Few men can long falsify statements when he says, "Now tell me the truth."

Just plain simple language he deals out, but the effect is more potent than polished oratory.

Criminals respect him and his detectives love him. "My boys," as he calls the city investigators, swear by their chief and jump at the slightest suggestion he may make, whether it be a bargain at the store around the corner or a new lead on a big murder.

Jackson started his career as a deputy sheriff shortly after the turn of the century. He was a member of the Teddy Roosevelt escort when the president visited here in 1905. Later he joined the city police and was one of the few men to go directly into the detective department without preliminary training as a patrolman.

Farm Jobs Increase And Pay Is Higher

By United Press
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—Chairman James A. Farley of the National Democratic committee, after striking out at Governor Landon's acceptance speech, reiterated today that President Roosevelt would win more electoral votes this fall than he did in 1932.

He based his prediction on the assumption the Roosevelt ticket would lead in Pennsylvania, a state that went republican in 1932.

Farley declined to discuss the effects of the drought on the campaign. Asked if higher prices brought on by the drought might not adversely affect the president's chance, Farley answered: "There isn't anything that can happen between now and November to disturb the president's popularity in the farm belt."

Navy Is Greater Insurance For Peace Than For War

One of the odd things about a navy is the fact that the less it is actually used, the more valuable it is to its possessor.

This fact is worth the attention of a nation which, like the United States, is spending hundreds of millions of dollars every year to put its fleet in shape.

"If through the existence of the navy," remarked the admiral "we are spared the ordeal of war, and for generations the navy never fires a gun in anger or is engaged in battle—I say to you that no matter what it costs us, it is cheap at the price. Any amount of fire insurance premium is cheaper than a fire."

The weather is a bit sultry these days for any serious arguments over military policy. But the navy is a deep-water institution, and it goes where there are cool and salty breezes, so perhaps the current heat wave makes it a timely subject.

And it must be said that even if one does not go all the way with Admiral Standley in his conception of a navy as a war-preventive, there still is a great deal in what he says.

A navy's chief value is as a threat rather than as an actual weapon. If the other fellow knows you have one, and knows that it can take care of any fuss that may develop in its own waters, he is not apt to come around and pick a quarrel.

And because of the inescapable geographical fact that any nation which plans to invade, oppress, or otherwise bedevil the United States has to come by water, the American navy does in fact represent the kind of fire insurance that Admiral Standley mentions.

For our navy does not merely insure us against invasion; it makes it as certain as anything can be certain in this chancy world that no invasion of our shores will even be attempted.

That is why those great gray ships of ours, so expensive, so cleverly devised for grim combat, serve their purpose best of all when there is no enemy on the horizon.

Now it is perfectly possible of course, for us to misuse the power that they represent. We could get ourselves into a war in Asia or in Europe, send our fleet far afield, and use it for purposes not strictly connected with defense of our own shores.

But we needn't, if we play our cards carefully. We never will, if we once learn the lesson that our navy is built for peace rather than for war.

The longer our navy exists in the piping times of peace the better is it proving that is worth what it costs.

CHICAGO.—Max Schmeling will defeat Jim Braddock, if they collide in September.

Schmeling would belt out Joe Louis every night in the week. Max Baer would do the same thing to Schmeling.

Louis would never have any more trouble with Baer than he had last fall.

These are the opinions of Jack Kearns, who managed Jack Dempsey to the championship and million dollar gates.

"I doubt that Braddock can get in sufficiently good condition between now and the end of the current outdoor season to repel the Schmeling who came out of the Louis fight," says Kearns, now the proprietor of a loop restaurant. "Joe Gould was guilty of a colossal blunder when he permitted Louis to beat Braddock to the Schmeling scrap."

"I have an idea that Schmeling knocked Braddock out of his one chance for a really important purse when he convinced Louis of the folly of carrying his chin so high. The Negro was the lad who was packing them in."

"Fighting largely is a matter of styles," asserts Kearns, explaining his picking Schmeling over Louis, Baer over Schmeling, and Louis over Baer.

KEARNS considers Braddock as nothing more than an extremely fortunate individual who caught Baer in worse condition than Louis found the Californian.

"At that, Braddock might have gone on for another two or three years against the blokes who are around now had he kept busy," declares the dapper doctor.

"Braddock shows the almost inevitable result of a chap suddenly coming into what to him is big money after five lean years. Braddock is one of the finest men who ever boxed. Naturally a good fellow, he has reveled in the many banquets that have been tossed his way."

"I'll charge another large mistake to Gould if he sends Braddock into a Schmeling battle this year without something in the way of a warm-up, and the stevedore scarcely has time for anything more than that between now and another indoor season. Jim can't be sharpened up in a gymnasium."

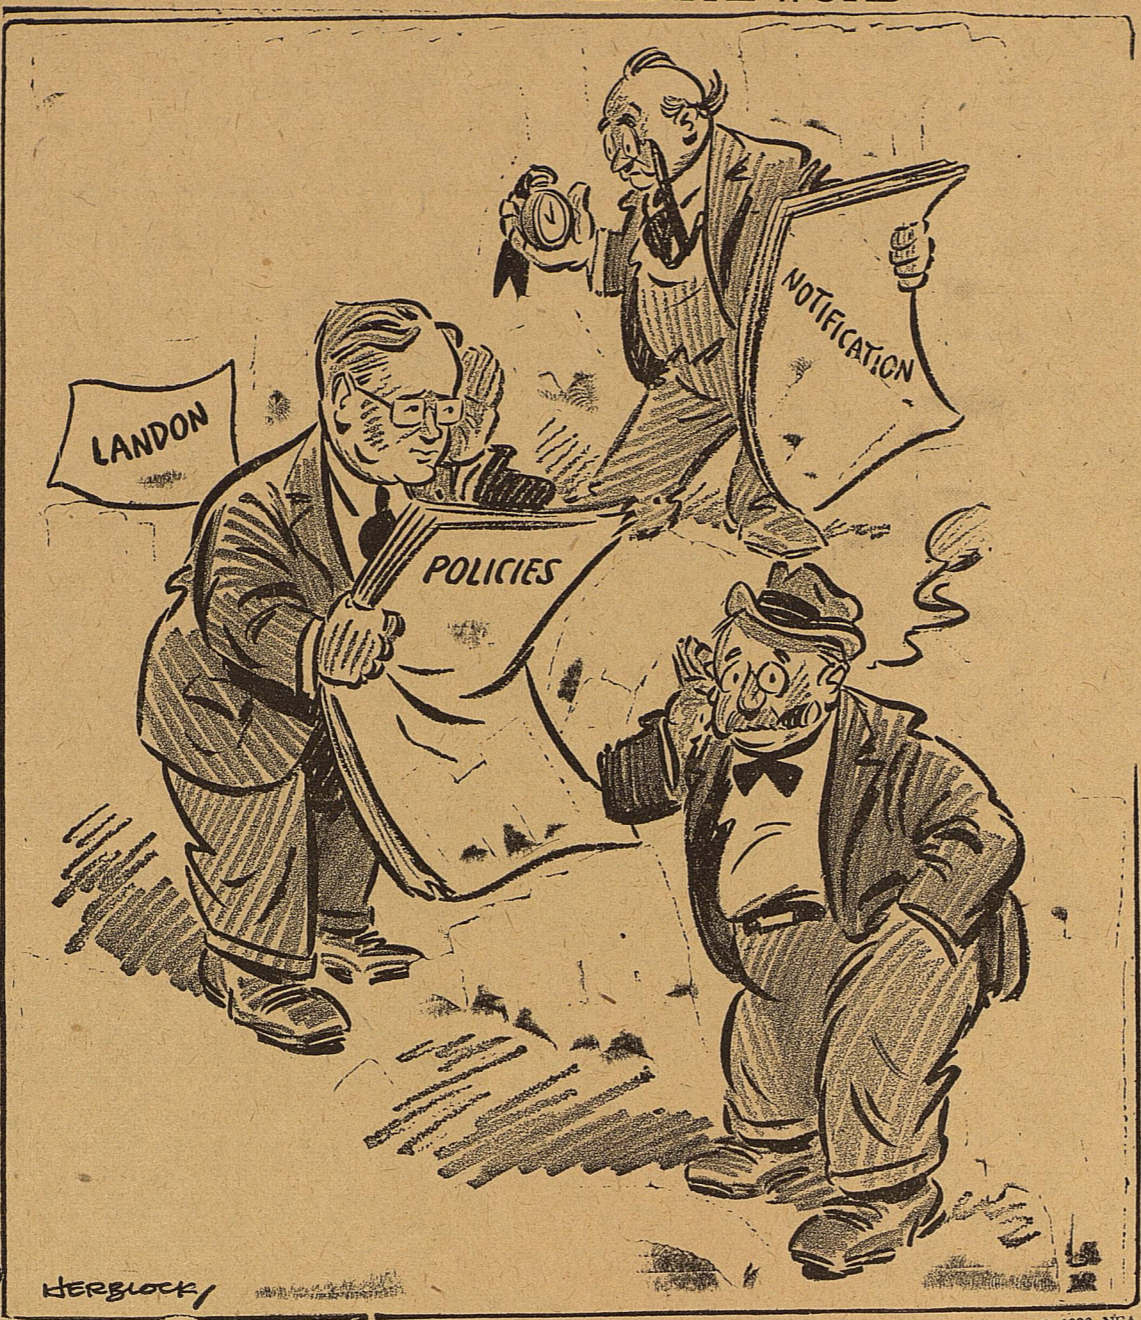

KEARNS cannot comprehend Baer's comeback activities to date any more than he can understand the management of Braddock.

"Ancil Hoffman first should have taken Baer into the woods and had him ready for something out of the ordinary this fall," says the man who signed for Dempsey while the Manassa Man was making boxing big business. "Schmeling's knockout of Louis presented Baer with a golden opportunity."

"After all, he stopped Joe Jacobs' entry. A great majority suspect that Louis experienced an off night against Schmeling. Any first class ballyhoo bureau could do a first class job of selling the customers on the possibility that Baer had two off nights a few weeks apart last year."

"But instead of bringing Baer east in some kind of shape and talking him back into the spotlight, Hoffman has him running around Texas towns, boxing for biscuits and hearing the Bronx cheer."

Trend Reveals a More Feminine Bathing Fashion

MURRAY BAY, Que. — With international society arriving here in increasing numbers, beachwear for the fashionable swimming hour is holding the spotlight. The majority of the more interesting swim suits show the dressmaker influence and the skimpy affair of bra and shorts popular last season is little worn by feminine resorters. Such suits are cut with the chic details characteristic of sports frocks. Simulated boleros give a definitely feminine trend to many of the suits and the princess line is gaining popularity. Flowered taffeta, tie silk and linen are among the favored fabrics, and silk jersey is also worn.

An interesting new idea for a beach coat noted during the week was developed in a homespun fabric loomed by one of the French-Canadian habitants in this section of Quebec province, where the customs of old Normandy still prevail.

A new cotton cloth which is water and wind resistant is being worn by feminine fishing and canoe enthusiasts, these two sports forming an important part of the summer recreation program.

Robot Is Devised That Pitches Hay

WASHINGTON.—The first exhibit of the Third World Power Conference to be held here Sept. 7-12—an electrified farm, replete with every device from an electric hay pitcher to an ultra-violet ray lamp for chickens—will be opened at Herndon, Va., this month.

A rambling farm house, situated on land that has been under cultivation since the Revolutionary War and which was a battleground during the Civil War, will be remodeled into a dwelling far more comfortable than the average city home.

More than 40 nations will be represented this summer at the Conference to discuss "National Power Economy," and special trips to the farm exhibit will be arranged for 700 distinguished foreign scientists and engineers expected to attend.

The farm, located on the Leesburg Pike south of here, has been equipped through co-operation of the Rural Electrification Administration, the National Electric Manufacturers Association and private firms. Most of the routine duties of farm life—hay pitching, milking, wood chopping, etc.—as well as the luxuries of city life—electric vibrators, vacuum cleaners, dishwashers, etc.—will be shown.

Governors Have Been Elected from Many Texas Towns

AUSTIN, Tex.—Most novel campaign argument heard this year is that of T. N. Jones, Tyler. He proposed that Smith county work for the election of F. W. Fischer so the statue of a Governor from Smith county might be placed at each corner of the county court house square. Smith county Governors have been R. B. Hubbard, O. M. Roberts and James Stephen Hogg. Hubbard and Roberts lived in Tyler. Hubbard was not elected but succeeded from Lieutenant Governor to Governor when Gov. Richard Coke became U. S. Senator.

Travis county can rival Smith county in furnishing Governors, and all of them have lived in Austin while serving. Peter H. Bell was a soldier so much of the time that his five residence was slight. He also served as Congressman from West Texas and the Congressional reports of that day fixed his residence at Austin. Gov. E. M. Pease, who followed Bell was also a resident of Austin. Gov. A. J. Hamilton, reconstruction governor, also was from Austin, and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was a resident of Austin when she was elected Governor the second time.

Gov. J. P. Henderson was a resident of San Augustine county. Gov. George T. Wood lived at Point Blank, now in San Jacinto county, then in Liberty county. Gov. H. R. Runnels was elected from Bowie county. Gov. Sam Houston's home was Huntsville and Gov. Edward Clark, who succeeded Houston, was from Marshall. Gov. F. R. Lubbock lived at various places in Texas. When elected Governor he lived in Houston. Governor Pendleton Murray was from Harrison county.

Gov. J. W. Throckmorton was from McKinney; Gov. E. J. Davis from Corpus Christi. Gov. Richard Coke came from Waco; Gov. John Ireland from Seguin; Gov. L. S. Ross from Waco. Gov. Charles Culberson had lived in Marion and Upshur counties, but was a Dallas resident when he became governor. Gov. J. D. Sayers lived at Bastrop; Gov. T. M. Campbell at Palestine; Gov. S. W. T. Lanham at Weatherford; Gov. O. B. Colquitt at Terrell.

Gov. James E. Ferguson was from Bell county. Lt. Gov. W. P. Hobby who succeeded him, and then was elected Governor, was from Beaumont. Gov. Pat M. Neff was from Waco, which also rivals Tyler in furnishing governors. Gov. Dan Moody was from Tyler, Williamson county; Gov. Ross S. Sterling from Houston and Governor Allred lives at Wichita Falls, though he had been in Austin as an official nearly six years.

Baylor Is Oldest Corporation In The State Today

AUSTIN, Tex.—Baylor University is the only corporation created under the government of the Republic of Texas that is a going concern today and has been in continuous operation since its creation.

This was the information gathered when Baylor's president, Pat M. Neff and alumni gathered here for renaissance of Baylor University's charter. Charters are good for a maximum of 50 years. Baylor received a charter by act of the Texas Congress in 1845. When consolidated with the Baptist General Convention in 1886, it was incorporated under the laws of the state. That charter expires August 5, the new one issued this week takes its place. In 1921, the second Baylor charter was amended to authorize operation of the medical school at Dallas.

Debate Question For Schools Picked

AUSTIN, Tex.—Balloting recently on next year's question for debate, member schools of the University of Texas Interscholastic League selected the following topic for the 1936-37 debates: "Resolved, that the United States Government should own and operate all plants engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war."

The question, which may be worded different, was selected over one of a unicameral legislature and the model tax plan. A bulletin on the munitions question is now being prepared by Thomas A. Rousse, of the public speaking department of the University.

SCIENCE ADVISES AGAINST MEALS LOW IN NEEDED "BULK"

Reports ALL-BRAN Supplies This Dietary Adjunct

Scientific tests have shown that meals which miss the proper "bulk" tend to cause common constipation. This condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches, loss of appetite, even serious disease.

Avoid these faulty meals by adding Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to your menus. It supplies generous "bulk" in convenient form. This absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN may be served as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over soups, salads or other cereals. Or work into appetizing muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It adds a delicious nut-sweet flavor to your recipes.

How much better than taking patent medicines—sometimes harmful! ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DESDEMONA

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Newberry of Gorman drove over here Thursday evening to bring their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Simpson of Coleman, who lived here during boom days and for several years afterward. As they had only a short time to stay they visited just a few of their old friends. During the years they lived here Mr. Simpson was in charge of a crew of Mag-olia men and Mrs. Simpson was the efficient music teacher at our high school. Mrs. Simpson was also pianist at the Methodist Church and Mrs. Simpson was leader of the choir, one of the largest and best that Desdemona has ever had. Their many friends would have been delighted to have had them make a long visit here. Mr. Simpson is Magnolia Company superintendent at Coleman and their two sons, Newby and Troy, are working in the East Texas oil field. Guy Bruce, who has been working for several months on an oil freighter, carrying oil to many Atlantic ports, both in North and South America, came in Tuesday of last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bruce. While in Jersey City Guy met an old steamboat captain 96 years old who had been a friend of his grandfather, the father of G. S. Bruce.

Maborn Wilcoxson was in Eastland on business Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gentry and three sons, Homer, Blawyer and Rex, came in Tuesday night of last week from Corpus Christi, where they have been living for several months. They were on their vacation and stopped here for a few days with their relatives, Ford Reid and family and their former neighbors, Howard Williams and family. They also made short visits to quite a number of others of their many friends, all of whom were delighted to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover drove over to Gorman on business Saturday afternoon. Rev. Otis Gatewood of Roby arrived Friday afternoon and that night began a revival at the community tabernacle. The services are being held for the Church of Christ and the crowds that attend are much interested and much good is being done. Rev. Gatewood is a graduate of Abilene Christian College and is well fitted for his life work of preaching the Gospel.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sloan of Stephenville were here Monday afternoon on his regular visit to the stores that handle the candy he sells. Their many friends here are always glad to see them.

The Methodist Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon with the usual number present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Lee, and the secretary called the roll. The responses to Bible questions on the book of First Samuel. Opening song was "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go." The Word Outlook program was presented with Mrs. W. C. Bedford giving the "Meditation" on "Togetherness." A dialogue on "At Ewha College in China" was given by Mrs. C. O. Bragg, Mrs. G. S. Bruce, Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass,

Mrs. W. H. Whitworth and Miss Mollie O'Rear. During a short business meeting plans were made for the members of the society to look after preparations for the revival which is to begin next Sunday. Rev. Bob Butler, a cousin of W. H. Whitworth, is to conduct the revival. Those who heard Rev. Butler lecture last fall on his "Trip Around the World" will be glad of the opportunity to hear him preach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bragg and son, Charles, returned Sunday night from a 10-day visit with relatives and friends in the Panhandle. They reported that crops were almost all burned up in that section of the state. The same report as to crop conditions was made by Horace Morrison and S. T. Wilhite, who went to a place 17 miles beyond Wichita Falls, where they went to get some cattle that Mr. Wilhite had bought.

Born, on Thursday, July 16, at Freer, to Mr. and Mrs. Obed Henslee, a baby girl, who was given the name of Nelda Sue. The parents grew up here in Desdemona and their many friends are glad to hear of the arrival of the little daughter.

Mrs. Sallie Ervin of Rising Star visited her daughter, Mrs. Wiley Powers, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Mattie Henry, Mrs. Raymond Anderson and Miss Ruth Abel attended the picture show at Ranger Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballard and little daughter, of Brownwood, were guests of their cousin, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, one day last week. The Ballards formerly lived here and have many friends who are always glad to see them and to know that Mrs. Ballard has entirely recovered from her serious illness of a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Powers and son, Jack, were among the number from Desdemona who attended the picnic and political speaking at Mansker Lake on Saturday.

greatly and required the services of a trained nurse day and night. Through all his illness he was patient and bore his suffering with Christian courage. He was born on Sept. 25, 1879, in James county, Tennessee, not far from Chattanooga, almost on the border of Georgia. At the age of 15 he came with his parents to Texas and settled in Milan county. He married at the age of 21 and he and his wife had seven children, six of whom survive him. The oldest son, Buron Henry, was killed about seven years ago when blasting for an oil company. The six surviving are Preston, of Truscott, in Knox county; Wilma, of Big Spring; Mrs. Mandie Moon, Walter, Andrew and Miss Lois Henry, all of Desdemona, all of whom with their mother, Mrs. Amanda Henry, appreciated the acts of kindness of their many friends during the illness and death of their loved one. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the Baptist Church with his pastor, Rev. H. N. Balderee, in charge of the service and assisted by Rev. Sherrod Stover and the concluding service at the grave by Rev. Wilma Henry, pastor of the Church of God at Big Spring, a son of the decedent. One feature of the service at the church was the reading by Rev. Balderee of a poem, "To Daddy," written by Rev. Wilma Henry, expressing the love of the children and their appreciation of their loving father, who had passed away. The grave was covered with beautiful flowers as tokens of love from friends and relatives both here and at other places. The decedent and his family came to Desdemona in February, 1918, and during the years since then had become a part of our town and will be greatly missed. Sincere sympathy is being extended to the family.

We failed to mention in last week's issue that Kelly Salyer and wife and children, of Longview, were here visiting his mother, Mrs. V. Salyer. They also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. May, at Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fowler left Monday for their home near Austin, after visiting his mother, Mrs. A. C. Fowler, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezzell, who live a few miles west of town. His sister, Mrs. Ruby Haynes, of Odessa, is quite ill at the Blackwell sanitarium, and his mother is over there with her.

A large crowd gathered downtown Friday night and listened to the speeches of the county candidates, who were introduced by Judge W. P. Leslie of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals, who is a candidate for re-election and has no opponent.

FRANKELL

The Frankell 4-H Club entertained with an ice cream supper Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Herman Scoggins of the Frankell plant. The proceeds of the party were to send two of our club members, Barton Rasmussen and Aaron Howton, to the A. and M. College for a one weeks farmers' short course.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bradford and family, Mrs. Jess Boles and Mr. Henry Bradford were called to the bedside of J. W. Harmon of Weatherford, who was very ill, Thursday morning. Mr. Harmon improving, they returned home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Denison and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jameson of the Phillips camp, left Monday for a 12-day vacation in Arkansas.

Ranger's Foremost Department Store

So Much for Love

By NARD JONES
© 1936
NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
HELENA DERRIK, youthful head of the women's sportswear department at Helvig's store, goes on a week-end party at Crest Mountain Lodge. There she meets handsome PETER HENDERSON. It is a case of love at first sight between them. Peter asks Helena to marry him and the ceremony takes place.

Later the crowd goes swimming. Peter makes a reckless dive and is seriously injured. Linger- ing between life and death, Peter asks Helena to summon his lawyer, JOHN COURTNEY. Courtney arrives and a short time later Peter dies.

Helena is informed she is sole heir to a large fortune, including the Henderson department store. She meets beautiful LEAH FRAZIER who had expected to marry Peter and realizes Leah is an enemy. Peter's uncle, ROGER BARNES, is also hostile. Helena had planned to give up all claim to Peter's fortune but this hostility makes her decide to take over management of the store.

CHAPTER VIII
ROGER BARNES stood up, banging his fist on the desk. "I won't be cross-questioned or doubted by this—this—"

"Take it easy," John Lassiter said. "It's natural that Mrs. Henderson should want to know the facts."
Helena smiled sweetly. "Yes, Mr. Barnes. Of course, there's no reason why you should stand my cross-questioning unless you care to. I'll be pleased to have you continue as manager of the store. But if you feel that you wouldn't be happy working under the new ownership..." She shrugged slightly, letting her voice trail into silence.

In the hallway Lassiter told her in a low voice, "I'm mighty glad you shot it into Barnes about the credit list he's been carrying. I've argued with him for months."
"I'm awfully pleased to know you agree with me," Helena said. "I—I'm going to need your help, Mr. Lassiter."

HE did not answer directly, but the slightest pressure on Helena's arm was all the reassurance that she needed.

Gently he guided her to the floor above the mezzanine, to the small auditorium which was sometimes rented out to clubs, or used for demonstrations—or, less often, for a meeting of employees. In a moment they were joined by Courtney.

"Barnes is sending word through the store that the new owner would like to have the employees convene up here," he told Helena and Lassiter.

Soon they began to drift in. Helena could sense their ill will. Barnes stepped to the platform. "Employees of the Henderson Department Store," he began in stilted fashion, "we have with us here the new owner of this organization for which we have all worked and planned together." He turned to Helena with an artificial smile. "Mrs. Henderson..."

Helena rose. There was a faint wave of applause. "I've got to win them," Helena thought. "If I don't do it now, I'm lost." Unsteadily she moved to the edge of the platform.

"I—I've never made a speech in my life," she began. Then panic struck into her heart—and was quickly dispelled at the wave of sympathetic laughter which greeted this confession. Regaining her composure, she answered the laughter with a smile. "But I've stood on my feet behind counters a good many hours, so I don't see why we can't understand one another."
"One thing I want to assure you—there won't be any sudden changes in the personnel. I hope there won't have to be any at all, sudden or otherwise. I haven't any definite ideas about the store." She smiled again.

hand. "You were marvelous!" he exclaimed.
Barnes was not enthusiastic, however. "I thought," he said, clearing his throat, "that you intended to outline some policy to them. I'm afraid it isn't a good idea to keep them after closing time just for a general handshake, Mrs. Henderson."

"I don't agree with you," Helena told him, holding her temper with an effort. "I happen to know that there's one thing a loyal employe appreciates—and that's an occasional word from the owner of the firm."

In the elevator she turned to Barnes. "Could I see a list of the customers whose accounts have been running 90 days or more?"

"Why, yes... of course." In his office he instructed his secretary to bring the list to Helena. Swiftly she surveyed it, saw the name of Leah Frazier, and Mrs. Frank J. Frazier. Their accounts showed no amount paid for more than 10 months, and Leah's alone was over the thousand mark. Helena turned to Lassiter, handing him the list. "These names mean nothing to me. What would you say about them?"

Lassiter studied the list. "Well..." he said slowly, "it's difficult to generalize. Some of these are farmers with assets, and they'll pay when crops are harvested. Some of the others have had profitable investments in the past, but..." he glanced at Barnes, "I should say that they are taking advantage of their reputations as first families in the town."
"I see," said Helena slowly. Then: "Mr. Barnes, I wish you'd have letters sent to all these people, advising them that unless some arrangement is made with the credit department we'll be forced to suspend their credit."
But downstairs Helena felt her stomach dissolving. Between Lassiter and Courtney, in the latter's coupe, she suddenly burst into tears.

Lassiter patted her wrist. "There, there. You did a darned good job of it, and it was a sensible bluff. As a matter of fact, it was something that the bank would have had to take up with Barnes—and mighty soon." He looked across at Courtney. "I think we've got a mighty fine president for Henderson's, and a mighty fine citizen for the town, don't you?"
"No question about it!" Courtney boomed.
"But I'll tell you a secret," Helena managed slowly. "When I've shown them, I'm going to turn the whole thing back. I don't want something that doesn't really belong to me!"

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

CINDERELLA'S "GLASS" SLIPPERS MAY HAVE BEEN THE RESULT OF AN ERROR IN TRANSLATION! IT IS BELIEVED, BY SOME, THAT THE SLIPPERS WERE OF VAIRE (ERMINE), NOT VERRE (GLASS), IN THE ORIGINAL STORY.

"DARK" AFRICA HAS GIVEN THE WORLD $5,000,000,000 WORTH OF GOLD, AND MORE THAN $1,000,000,000 IN DIAMONDS.

A BEE SELDOM MIXES ITS FLOWERS! IT PASSES FROM ONE PLANT TO ANOTHER, BUT USUALLY DOES NOT CHANGE TO ANOTHER KIND UNTIL IT HAS RETURNED TO THE HIVE WITH NECTAR FROM THE FIRST.

ERMINE, which is the fur of the weasel, taken when in the white winter stage, was very popular with ancient royalty for making various articles of wearing apparel. Whether or not the word "vair" was changed to "verre," as some modern translators believe, there is no denying the fact that ermine slippers would have been a great deal more comfortable on Cinderella's feet.

way to recognition as one of the world's outstanding musical organizations.
It has been honored by an invitation to participate in the International Exposition in Paris next year, when many of the world's most famous orchestras will perform.
The invitation was conveyed by Jacques Thibaud, French violinist, who appeared here in a series of concerts this summer.
The performance and appreciation of Western music is comparatively new in Japan, which has its own musical tradition. But now every concert of the symphony orchestra is a sell-out and the old masters are interpreted in a manner that reflects credit on conductors and players alike.
A typical summer evening in Hibiya Park will find the orchestra playing Mendelssohn, Mozart and Dvorak. The cement and gravelled walks, flower-lined, are thronged with music-lovers on their way to Hibiya Hall. There are some foreigners, but mostly they are kimonod Japanese.
Inside the hall girl ushers scurry about. Japanese students in their blue uniforms and peaked caps are smoking a final cigarette before bursting to their seats with a great clatter as the curtains part.
The auditorium seats about 4,000 and it is filled to capacity. The music begins. The applause for the orchestra is surprising in its intensity. And the hearers know their music, with the result that conductors are not annoyed

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dumeau met with a group of their relatives and friends at Mineral Wells last Sunday for a picnic.
Miss Sarah Maye Barber of this community attended the Annual Young People's convention of the Southern Methodist Church at the Southwestern University of Georgetown last week. She was sent as a delegate from the De Leon Methodist church. Miss Barber attended high school in De Leon the past nine months and has returned to her home for the summer vacation.

McDonald Believes Will Win In Race By 150,000 Votes

DALLAS, Tex., July 24.—The Sabine river-bed contract under which the school children's revenue can be increased $250,000 a year, convict labor and old age pensions are the chief issues in the race for State and Commissioner, said William H. McDonald of Eastland, candidate for the position, in a final message to voters. Recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident that forced him to give up campaigning the final four days, he declared:
"The State has been flooded with an unsigned, last-minute circular full of misrepresentations of me that the newspapers recognized as such and refused to print. Where did the money come from to pay for printing and distributing these thousands of circulars—and why was it contributed?"
McDonald said his opponent favors convict drilling crews and a plan for the State to wildcat for oil which would be so costly that old age pensions would be endangered. McDonald pointed to his legal training, knowledge of the oil industry, and business experience, and predicted his nomination by 150,000 majority.

Hickok City No. 2 Gasser
CISCO.—The Hickok City No. 2 well a mile and a half northeast of Cisco today was believed to be good for a million cubic feet of gas or more, after it was given a nitroglycerine shot yesterday. The first test indicated a gas flow of 1,250,000 cubic feet.
Oil rose 150 feet in the hole after the shot, it was announced by company officials.
The well, drilled into the Lake Eastland sand, was believed to be on the edge of the producing structure.

Valley to Spread Sales Messages Into New Markets
McALLEN, Tex.—Lower Rio Grande Valley citrus interests this fall will spread their sales messages into two important new markets—the eastern United States and Atlantic coast cities and Europe.
Hedges of several large Valley shipping organizations are now making market contracts in the eastern markets and in Europe, both for fresh and canned citrus opening of the 1936-37 season in which a crop of around 20,000 carloads is expected.
English and European outlets for both fresh and canned citrus and by-products are being sought. Processed grapefruit and other citrus juices and by-products have become very popular in England and France during the past two seasons and it is with the view of expanding and developing these markets that the European trips are being made.
More than a score of by-products plants this season will make a heavy demand on Valley orchard for cull fruit, formerly buried or destroyed. By-products last year brought Valley growers a half million dollars.

In today's issue of the Times will be found a paid advertisement in the interest of L. A. Woods, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, which was handed in by E. A. Ringold with this statement:
"Mr. Woods has certainly been a real friend to the Ranger public school system over the years and a large number of his friends here want the people of Ranger to know about it. That is the reason we are asking that the voters of Ranger and patrons of the schools consider his name when they vote in the morning."
L. H. Flewelling, ex president School Board, also stated that when the Ranger school really needed a friend that L. A. Woods was that friend.

Roscoe Lake Will Be Drained Soon

By United Press
SWEETWATER, Tex.—One of the largest projects in Nolan county for unemployed is to get underway soon in the drainage of Potter's Lake, near Roscoe.
The project will provide work for 75 men through the WPA program. Ten trucks will be operated. Drainage of the small lakes in the area will protect sewer lines, pump, septic tank and sewage field of Roscoe and prevent water from backing up under houses and into wells, and will drain hundreds of acres of valuable land belonging to Nolan county farmers, and remove soil banks which hold water and breed mosquitoes.
All top soil drained from the area is to be spread over farm lands. A road is to be resurfaced with caliche over farm districts where traffic is nearly impossible in rainy weather.

Two Seek Office Without a Salary

By United Press
HOUSTON, Tex.—A. C. Stimson and J. Stuart Boyles paid a $200 filing fee to become Democratic candidates for the office of public surveyor—for which no salary is provided.
Besides having no salary, the office has no duties. Either Boyles or Stimson, however, will be provided with free office space and a telephone in the Civil Courts Building.
When the state was being settled and boundary lines were being marked, the public surveyor was an important figure, but now he is just a man with a title and nothing to do.

Surveyors, however, covet the position because it adds to their prestige. Boyles is the incumbent.
