At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the office of the secretary Monday night, plans for Ranger Day at the Fort Worth Centennial were discussed.

The name of R. V. Galloway was added to the committee in charge, which now consists of Coke Martin, T. J. Anderson, S. P. Boon and R. V. Galloway, and a committee in charge of transportation was named. The committee consists of C. D. Woods, E. R. Gentry and A. J. Rathiff. Fire Chief G. A. Murphy was named marshal of the motorcade.

Invitations have been issued to Judge Clyde L. Garrett, Democratic nominee for congress, Milburn McCarthy, vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and W. H. McDonald, Democratic nominee for state land commissioner, to accompany the motorcade. No word has been received as to whether or not they will be able to make the trip.

The heads of all organizations in town are to be written letters urging them to cooperate in making Ranger Day a success, it was decided at the meeting. All who expect to attend have been urged to register at the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible.

It was mentioned at the meeting that the American Legion Tickville Band would play on the pioneer street at the exposition, while the Ranger Band would give a concert. A radio program giving the history of Ranger, with musical numbers, is also being planned.

Funeral services for Miss Virginia Stone, 36, who died Sunday in El Paso after a long illness, were held Monday afternoon from the First Baptist church at Eastland. Interment was in the Eastland cemetery.

Last year she resumed work in Eastland, but again was forced to retire to an El Paso hospital, at which friends said she had remained until her death.

Survivors include her father, M. T. Stone, of near Ranger; a brother, Leroy Stone, Eastland; and a sister, Mrs. F. E. Springer, Bowie. Another brother lives in East Texas, friends reported.

Pall bearers were Milburn McCarty, County Judge Clyde L. Garrett, Judge O. C. Funderburk, Senator Wilbourne E. Collie, W. H. McDonald and R. L. Jones, all of Eastland.

Manner Undertaking company, Eastland, was in charge.

CISCO, Aug. 25.—W. J. Conner, 52, of near Breckenridge, died at a hospital here Sunday afternoon after a fall in the park south of Lake Cisco.

Mr. Conner was attending a family picnic here and fell from a water pipe across a ravine in the park. Hospital attendants were unable to say whether he slipped from the pipe or whether he was struck from the heat.

They gave the cause of death as a cerebral hemorrhage caused by a concussion at the base of the skull. Mr. Conner fell several feet, striking his head on the rocks in the ravine.

FCA Grain Loan Time Is Extended

Dry weather has resulted in the extension of time for making applications for grain loans from the Farm Credit Administration from August 31 to Sept. 30, Murrah Nolte of Breckenridge, district supervisor, announced today at Eastland.

At the same time Nolte announced the maximum amount for grain loans has been increased from $200 to $400. He stated dry weather in this district has not affected Eastland county as much as others.

The loans, in addition to financing purchase of seed for grain loans, is used for the breaking of land. First grain loans were made July 1.

Counties in Nolte's district are Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens and Palo Pinto.

Cisco Golf Meet May Attract 150

CISCO, Aug. 24.—At least 150 golf players, representing the cream of the West Texas crop are expected to enter the annual Cisco country club invitation tournament here September 5, 6 and 7.

Details of the tourney plans were mapped out by the club's committees in charge at a meeting. At that time it was decided to hold the Calcutta pool and luncheon at 7 p. m., Saturday, date of the qualifying round for visitors. Match play will start at 6 o'clock the following morning. Semi-finals, finals, and presentation of awards will be on Labor Day. There will be no ladies' bridge tournament.

The tournament will be the first played on the Cisco course since the construction of grass greens. The greens have been so well planned and constructed that they have the appearance and qualities of those several years older.

ROOM NEEDED IN HOSPITALS FOR INSANE

EL PASO, Aug. 25.—Because state hospital officials have refused to accept El Paso insane patients since April 10, lunacy cases are kept in the county jail, where some of them must be tied to cots, County Judge Joseph McGill said today.

McGill urged civic and labor organizations to back a drive in the state legislature for adequate provisions for insane patients.

Fourteen El Paso patients are waiting for admission to state hospitals now.

State Representative Harold Hankamer said that if state insane hospitals are inadequate it is because the state board of control has not completed buildings approved by the legislature.

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control, today challenged the statement of Rep. Harold Hankamer of El Paso, that state money was available for institutions for the insane which was not being put to use.

"The only part of the 1936 appropriation for this purpose now hanging fire is money for psychopathic wards in Terrell, Galveston and Wichita Falls," Teer said.

Japanese Warn of Repercussions of Slaying In China

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—The official Japanese news agency said today "serious repercussions" were expected to follow the killing of two Japanese citizens, the injury of one and the disappearance of another following an attack on them by a Chinese mob.

Defeat of Blanton Causes Discussion In Washington, District of Columbia

(From Abilene Morning News) WASHINGTON — The defeat of Representative Tom Blanton of Abilene, Tex., for re-election attracted as much attention in the capital today as if a new mayor had been chosen.

Although the District of Columbia's three commissioners were not available for comment, other leaders quickly expressed their opinions, some of gratification and others of regret.

As chairman of the House appropriations sub-committee which directs the District of Columbia's financial affairs, Blanton frequently had incurred the displeasure of capital officials, first through efforts to reduce the District's allocations and more recently through his successful sponsorship of a section in an appropriation bill forbidding the teaching of communism in schools here.

Washington newspapers displayed stories of his defeat on their front pages yesterday, just as they had "played" the lead of his opponent, Clyde Garrett of Eastland in the first primary several weeks earlier.

"I am delighted," said Henry Gilligan, member of the board of education. "It is a good break for Washington."

Capt. F. M. Dent, of the Anacostia Citizens' Association, said, "Blanton was bound to be a dictator where the District was concerned," and added, "he was a menace to the city's welfare."

On the other hand, James G. Yaden, former president of another citizens' association, said: "Tom and I are good friends."

Funeral For Oil Scout In Eastland

Funeral services for Joe Leonard, 48, oil scout who died Sunday at Midland, were to be held Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Poe at Eastland with Rev. E. R. Stanford, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Interment was to be in the Eastland cemetery under direction of Hamner Undertaking company.

Leonard was a scout in the Midland district for the Tidewater Oil Company. Before his service in the Midland district he was in East Texas with the Seaboard and Tidewater.

Leonard was well-known in state oil circles because of his work in the Eastland district for the Prairie Oil and Gas company and other companies during the boom. He was head of scout meetings, when as many as 50 scouts checked their data at Eastland.

Leonard was born Feb. 14, 1888, in Parkers Landing, Pa. Friends from Austin, Midland, Houston and other points were in Eastland for the funeral.

Survivors are his widow and a brother, C. A. Leonard, of Blackwell, Oklahoma.

Pall bearers were to be John Mouser, Eastland; W. C. Campbell, Eastland; Milton Lawrence, Eastland; Donald Kinnaird, Eastland; Dr. W. S. Poe, Eastland, and John Armstrong, Midland.

Light Workouts for Bulldogs Started

Most of the practice sessions will likely be held on the softball field, as the grounds at Bulldog Stadium will not be ready for use before the opening of the football season.

President Confers With Carter Glass

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt called Senator Carter Glass, Dem., Va., to the White House today while preparing to set out at midnight on a 3,000-mile inspection tour of drought states.

The purpose of Sen. Glass' secret visit was not known.

Preventable Deaths Take Almost Third Of the States' Toll

AUSTIN — Scythe swings of death are charted graphically by the Texas Planning Board in a document on public health in the state.

Almost a third of all mortality in the state is from preventable maladies, the report said, adding: "More than 17,500 persons in Texas lost their lives unnecessarily during 1934."

As in other states to which many persons come seeking health tuberculosis caused most deaths. Its toll was 4,302 in 1933. Texas was 14th state in deaths per thousand from infectious and parasitic diseases but 41st among the states in percentage of deaths from all causes.

Commercially, the planning board estimated that the preventable deaths cost more than $3,000,000 a year for funerals alone, computing the average funeral cost at $200.

The survey indicated that Texas is fourth among states in percentage of diphtheria deaths. No geographical reason exists for such a condition, the board reported, blaming the situation upon inadequate local public health facilities. Small pox gives the state its worst rating in comparison with other parts of the United States. Typhus has been in the state since 1915, when it first appeared along the Rio Grande. By 1934 it had increased to a total of 465 cases. Rodent control, garbage disposal and delousing of people grouped in institutions were recommended to combat typhus.

Organization of alert county health units was urged. Nolan county was cited for results from an efficient unit, its deaths being far less than in similarly situated

Derides Charge of Dope Running

Scoffing at federal charges that she is a member of an international smuggling ring, Maria Wendt, Dutch-Chinese girl whose mother was a wife of a Tibetan official, declares that the $100,000 worth of narcotics said to have been found in her trunk was "planted" there. She is shown under arrest in Los Angeles after she once had escaped U. S. officers and made her way to New York by plane.

Sunken Village Visible Because of Low Reservoir

WALTON, N. Y. — The little village of Old Gibson, buried under the waters of Schoharie Reservoir for 10 years, rose into full view during the drought.

Ruins of churches, stores and homes came into full view as the reservoir water level sank to its lowest point in history. Spires of the Methodist church and the top of the Aldrich Hotel, venerable Catskill resort hotel, crept up first to be followed by houses tops of the sycamore village.

Despite objections of 300 residents of the little town, who fought against leaving their century old homes, the village was abandoned to build the reservoir which feeds the giant Shandaken tunnel.

As the 150-foot dam was completed and the waters of Schoharie Creek backed up, highways, village streets and sidewalks sunk from sight and gradually buildings disappeared, forever it was believed.

The continued drought, most severe in years in the Catskills region, cut into the water supply throughout the entire district and eventually brought the village above the lake again.

Foreign Imports At Record High

WASHINGTON — America, the Washington Post reports, is about to break a 43-year record by buying more goods from foreign countries than it sells to them.

Not since 1893, the Post says, has the United States had an "unfavorable trade balance." In the first six months of this year, however, American purchases exceeded American sales. That was the first time that had happened since 1926.

A Commerce Department compilation showed that already this year the United States has imported 63 per cent more wheat than it did in the comparable period in 1935.

Attention was called to this trend, the Post says, by George N. Peek, former federal trade adviser and first chief of the AAA. The Post quotes Peek as saying in his new book, "Why Quit Our Own?":

"For the year 1935 our country became dependent upon foreign food imports to an extent unparalleled in our history. Since we curtailed production, our imports of agricultural products increased by $248,000,000, while our imports of non-agricultural products increased $155,000,000. We are no longer feeding and clothing ourselves."

Clipper Planes Make Book Distributors

HONOLULU — It's not all mail and building equipment that Pan American Airways' trans-Pacific Clipper planes carry on their frequent trips. Every Clipper carries a load of books from the Library of Hawaii here to Midway and Wawa Islands, where Pan American staff members are regular readers of library volumes. Returning Clippers bring back the books.

CITY DOG SALES TAXED

OAKLAND, Cal. — The State Board of Equalization has notified the city of Oakland it must pay the regular sales tax on every pound of dog it has sold the past year. The city has replied that as it is not officially in the dog business, the sales tax does not apply.

WAR THREATS IN EUROPE ARE LESSENERED

The civil war in Spain increased in violence today while at the same time the threat of war in Europe diminished and there was every prospect that the Spanish outbreak would be confined to Spain and Morocco.

Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Russia were close to agreement on non-intervention and an embargo on arms and munitions to Spain. Germany's action in increasing her standing army to a probable 1,000,000 by raising the term of conscript service was regarded as a gesture toward Russia rather than a result of the Spanish war.

HENDAYE — While rebel planes bombed the beautiful corner of Spain adjoining this portion of the French frontier today, loyalists began rounding up families suspected of rebel sentiments. They were joined by 1,500 men already held as hostages.

Authorities prevented the mass slaughter of the 1,500 hostages during the night by dispatching heavy guards to the jails and promising that for every person killed in a rebel bombardment five hostages would be executed publicly.

GIBRALTAR — The British destroyer Cyrus arrested three Spanish trawlers last night when they were found without lights in British waters. Brought to Gibraltar the trawlers were found to be carrying war materials destined for the loyalist army.

HENDAYE — Most of the ambassadors accredited to Spain, who have taken refuge here, met today to draft a plan for the protection of hostages and other civilian prisoners in Irun and San Sebastian, whose lives are in jeopardy.

MOSCOW — Gregory Vinovlev and Leo Kameney, two leaders of the October, 1917, mobs that established the Red Soviet government and 14 other plotters against the government have been executed by firing squads, it was announced today.

Dogs Sense of Peril Is Beyond Any Explanation

OXFORD, Eng. — Disclosure at the conference of the British Medical Association here that three dogs had saved their masters in the Quetta earthquake last year has revived discussion on the mystery of canine "sixth sense."

The revelation at the conference was made by Sir Henry T. Holland, for 36 years chief of the Quetta Mission Hospital. He related how at Quetta, an army instructor was pulled from his bed by his dog 22 minutes before the earthquake, and was in the garden hunting for possible burglars when his house crashed.

Two other dogs, he explained, one belonging to a soldier, and another to a deaf woman, also pulled their owners from their beds.

An official of the Canine Defence League expressed the belief that dogs knew of minute vibrations affecting their bodies which no machine could record.

"I know of dogs," he said, "which refused to cross condemned bridges or dangerous floors."

The fact that dogs can sense impending catastrophe was emphasized by a Royal Veterinary College expert.

"They can even tell," he added, "what sort of weather is coming, but we have no idea how they know."

He quoted the case of a London woman being roused from her bed by her dog. She went downstairs, wandered about, as if wondering what was wrong, and came back to find her bedroom full of gas from a broken pipe.

Another instance of canine sagacity was quoted by an R. S. P. C. A. official. A blind shepherd dog, he said, refused for the first time in its life to answer the call of a shepherd because an inspector, who had been asked to destroy the dog, was present.

Behind Champ Athlete Stands His Teacher

Behind the man who makes good there is almost always an unsung person who, if the whole truth were known, would be entitled to take a bow along with the hero.

There is, for example, the case of Jesse Owens and Charles Riley.

Owens is America's amazing young Olympic champion. Every human being who knows anything about athletics knows about Jesse Owens.

Riley is a teacher in a junior high school in Cleveland, O. Hardly anybody outside of Cleveland ever heard of him. But in the exciting little drama of Jesse Owens's life, this man Riley has played an exceedingly important part.

Not that Riley is the man who "made Jesse Owens a runner." Owens is one of those naturals who don't need much in the way of training. He just picks up his feet and lays them down according to instinct. No coach can claim much credit for his performance.

What Riley did for him was for more important. He helped make the runner the sort of lad who can take fame and success which have come Jesse's way without getting so swell-headed and self-satisfied that he is forever after ruined for ordinary living.

A teacher, Riley also acts as unpaid coach of his school's track athletes. He took Jesse under his wing half a dozen years ago, when the present Olympic champion was a spraddle-legged, shy little colored boy, and became his friend and mentor as well as his coach.

He taught Jesse what the little boy needed to know about "form" on the cinder path; and he also gave the youngster a pretty fair idea about the "form" a young man needs in the business of living.

He used to take the boy for walks through the parks, sit on a bench with him, and tell him about other boys who had come up from the bottom to make good—in athletics and in adult life as well. When Jesse got a little chesty over his prowess, Riley was there to deflate him with a barbed word or two; when he got discouraged, Riley had just the encouragement he needed.

Riley equipped young Owens to dodge the pitfalls that await any star athlete in this super-ballyhooed age. He fired him with the ambition to go to college and make something out of himself.

To make a long story short, he gave the youngster just the kind of friendship and counsel that Jesse needed. And it occurs to us that this Charles Riley is the prototype of a vast number of unsung teachers who get youth when it is confused and impressionable, and give it the guidance that sends it on to fine, decent, robust manhood and womanhood.

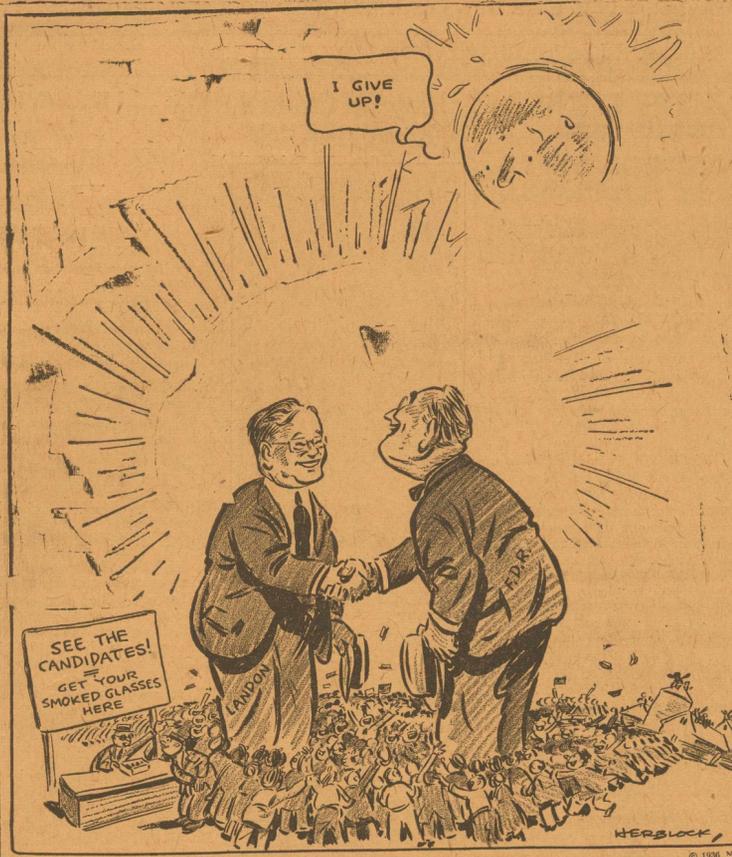

There are thousands of these teachers. They never become famous, and they seldom are well paid, but we owe them, all in all, a tremendous debt.

And we might let Charles Riley remind us that they are in there, day in and day out, helping us along toward better citizenship.

The burnt child dreads the fire, but you just can't keep the older folks off the beach.

DROUTH STRATEGY

(Roosevelt to Confer with Drouth State Governors)

Roosevelt Has Been Good Friend Of Texas Farmers

AUSTIN, Texas. — President Roosevelt assuredly has been a "good neighbor" to Texas farmers and ranchers, for his administration supplied to them during their direst needs the stupendous sum of $323,227,304, of which $136,019,144 was under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and $187,208,160 under the Farm Credit Act.

The above figures were prepared by the National Emergency Council, at Washington, and are indisputable, but the survey recently received reveals a still more important fact; how the Administration saved Texas. For the Council's report discloses, for the first time, that under Roosevelt the people of Texas received in all classes of benefits, loans, grants, relief, bonuses, etc., over one billion dollars, this gigantic amount being spread among all groups, keeping up purchasing power and markets. The 1,000,000,000 was used to purchase groceries, clothing, household supplies, ice, medicines, all forms of other merchandise, oil, gasoline, radios and what not, and Democratic leaders, including Governor Allred, Vice President Garner, Senators Sheppard and Connally, Myron Blalock and Congressman Rayburn, State Campaign Chairman, and Roy Miller, Director of Organization and Finance, say this saved Texas.

Miller, who served as campaign manager for Roosevelt in this State four years ago, and who is now performing similar service, has this to say: "It is inconceivable how any man or woman in Texas could vote against Roosevelt in view of the untold benefits he brought to us, for this was help in which every one shared. The little amount Texas is called upon to contribute to the National Campaign to swing doubtful states is only .00025 per cent of the amount Roosevelt gave us."

The Washington Administration sent to the people of Texas 4,000 times what Miller and associates are asking for the campaign, only $250,000.

Hardly had the campaign got under way in this state than a Texas woman, Mrs. Clara Driscoll Seyvier, Corpus Christi, opened her purse and put down $10,000 for the Roosevelt-Garner crusade. But this was not unusual in Mrs. Seyvier. It was she who years ago bought the Alamo property when it was about to be turned over to a brewery, saving the Texas cradle of liberty for the people of Texas. Mrs. Seyvier is president of one bank, large stockholder in another and owns extensive oil and ranch interests.

She is National Committeewoman from Texas. When the State Democratic convention was held recently in San Antonio other candidates for this post withdrew when it became known she was willing to serve again.

Attorney General McCraw and wife didn't let 24 hours go by. They sent Miller $250, McCraw adding one of his characteristic statements that "due to the benefits Texas received from the Roosevelt Administration the Republican candidate, Landon, ought not to get a single vote," and he offered to "tote wood and water" and do anything else to help in the campaign.

Under Miller, Blalock and Rayburn the entire State has been organized in precinct, county and district units, whose officials cooperate with state headquarters, and they, in turn, with National headquarters. All contributions will be acknowledged and listed with National headquarters.

States in the north and east are watching Texas' activity closely for it is known to the entire campaign organization that Texas' prestige at Washington is at stake for Texas leaders in Washington are more at the helm of affairs than those from any other state. Texas' interest, activity and contributions will materially help to keep other states in the Democratic column and thus assure continued Texas leadership, and continued help from the good neighbor, Franklin Roosevelt.

Besides giving more than $300,000,000 to Texas farmers and ranchers the Roosevelt Administration saved hundreds, yes thousands of Texas homes, for the survey shows that the Home Owners Loan Corporation put to work $103,068,735 in this state, along with nearly $5,000,000 for Resettlement, and $19,000,000 sent here by the Federal Housing Administration. The total sum given Texas by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration was $171,102,000, coming at a time of darkest need. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation sent here $69,383,000 for all manner of business; Public Works Administration $112,724,000, which supplied many thousands of jobs. Other items were: Commodity Credit Corporation, $43,481,000; Civil Works Administration, $31,695,000; Bureau of Public Roads, $67,158,000; Emergency Conservation Work, $38,578,000.

Roosevelt is the Centennial President, as Allred is the Centennial Governor, and showing his great interest in Texas, its people and history, the President visited the Alamo in San Antonio, the San Jacinto battlefield near Houston and the expositions in Fort Worth and Dallas. Roosevelt has been Texas' best friend.

Steel Employment Sets High Record

NEW YORK — Employment in the country's steel mills this year has reached the highest level in the history of the industry, according to a statement by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

In June the total employment was 498,000 wage earners and salaried employees, an increase of over 6,000 in a month and of 82,000 compared with one year ago. In no month for which there is any record has employment in the industry been larger.

The industry's payrolls in June also established a new high record with a total of $63,000,000. That was a gain of $20,000,000 or 47 per cent compared with one year before. For the first six months of 1936 total payrolls of the steel industry amounted to $344,000,000 against $269,000,000 in the first six months of 1935.

Hourly rates of pay for wage earners during June rose to 66.9 cents against 65.5 cents one month before.

Life of the Saint Of the Day

By REV. S. E. BYRNE

When only a boy, Louis was told by his mother, that she would rather see him dead, than have him commit a mortal sin, and he never forgot her words. King of France at the age of twelve, he made the defence of God's honor the aim of his life. Before two years, he had crushed the Albigensian heretics, and forced them by stringent penalties to respect the true Christian religion. Amidst the cares of government, he daily recited the Divine Office and heard two Masses, and the most glorious churches in France are still monuments of his piety. When his couriers remonstrated with Louis for his law that blasphemers should be branded on the lips, he replied, "I would willingly have my own lips branded to root out blasphemy from my kingdom." The fearless protector of the weak and the oppressed, he was chosen to arbitrate in all the great feuds of his age. In 1248, to rescue the land which Christ had trod, he gathered around him the chivalry of France, and embarked for the East. There before the infidel, in victory or defeat, on the bed of sickness or a captive in chains, Louis showed himself ever the same—the first, the best and the bravest of Christian knights. The death of his mother recalled him to France; but when order was re-established he again set forth on a second crusade. In August, 1270, his army landed at Tunis, and though victorious over the enemy, succumbed to a malignant fever. Louis was one of the victims. He received the Vatican kneeling by his camp-bed, and gave up his life with the same joy that he had given all else for the honor of God.

City Approves of Fingerprinting Tippy Autoists

By United Press

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—Intoxicated and reckless motorists are treated like criminals by police here. They are booked, photographed and fingerprinted.

Traffic Sergt. Laurence Kelly, in charge of the recently created accident prevention bureau, keeps a complete Bertillon record of all offenders arrested on any of the three following charges:

Driving while intoxicated. Reckless operation of a motor vehicle and causing an accident. Drunken driving and causing an accident.

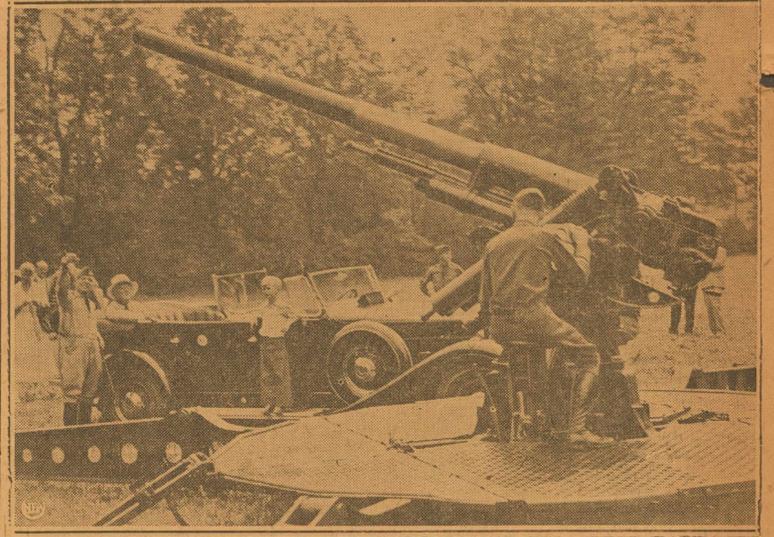

Since formation of the bureau, Kelly says, there has been a reduction in the number of accidents and he is convinced the new system will make for an even greater reduction.

Police Chief William Blaylock approves Kelly's new system of photographing and fingerprinting drivers.

"Fingerprinting is the best system of identification in the world," he said. "It won't be long before other cities are doing it."

Only two deaths have occurred from automobile accidents in Waukegan this year. This city is now rated as among the first five safest traffic cities in the state.

Aiming for Roosevelt Approval of Plane Gun

"These guns are the first teeth we have had to show an enemy invading us," Colonel Frank W. Ferguson assured President Roosevelt, seated in his car watching the impromptu demonstration of the new anti-aircraft gun, at his estate in Hyde Park, N. Y. After the gun, capable of firing 25 three-inch shells in a minute and of bringing down six planes a minute, had been put through its paces, the President exclaimed: "I wish we had more of them."

Argentine Youths Complete a Long Tour On Bicycles

By United Press

DALLAS — A six-day bicycle race would be a "cinch" for Victor Scarraffia and Vicente Gregori Espasa, Argentina boys who pedaled a tandem bicycle from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Dallas — an 8,000-mile journey through jungles, snow storms and blistering heat.

The young scholars left Buenos Aires Jan. 1, 1934, as they sought to set a record for travel by tandem bicycle from the South American metropolis to New York.

When they arrive in New York Espasa said he and his companion would return to Argentina by boat.

The youths underwent numerous hardships during the trip. Much time was lost because of sickness. For almost a year, they were forced to stay off their bike and have injections to cure malaria fever which they contracted.

On the first stage of the journey, they pedaled over the Andes mountains in Argentina where they were stricken with a form of asthma which made breathing difficult and caused their noses to bleed freely.

While going through Chile, they became lost in the desert country for five days, during which time their water supply gave out.

In Central America, it was at times necessary to carry their tandem through miles of jungles, the boys said.

Espasa and Scarraffia are making the trip in conjunction with the introduction of the international language, Esperanto, into the United States.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Albany barbers believe they have something to brag about.

Members of the Albany Barbers' Association have taken some speed tests to see how they compared with the times reported by the Wisconsin Journeymen Barbers' Association.

The Albany barbers are faster by almost two minutes for a shave, Joseph C. Papa, president of the association, reported.

Comparison of the times led to a discussion of Papa's philosophy on modern barbering.

"The barber," Papa said, "shouldn't talk to the customer except when necessary.

Quins Rapidly Get 'Help One Another' Idea

Every passing week finds the Dionne quintuplets more interested in helping one another—demonstrations which never fail to bring chuckles to throngs who watch them from unseen vantage points behind the screens in the new playground. To the nurses and Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, the babies' heightened interest in one another is evidence of a healthy social consciousness, amusingly demonstrated in this picture of Yvonne essaying the hairdresser's role, with Marie as her subject. Cecile, at left, awaits her turn while "muscling" the stone she has just picked up.

Cactus Is Making New Industry for Farmers of Texas

DALLAS, Tex.—A new industry is being developed in Texas from a plant which ranchmen have spent much time and thousands of dollars to destroy—the cactus.

While this industry is yet in its infancy, careful examination of articles produced from cactus stalks shows them to be of great toughness, strength and adaptability that the future of the business seems assured.

Horace Akin, University of Texas graduate in philosophy, has experimented with the Texas cactus for years and now is using it as a raw material for the manufacture of canes, gavels, handbags, fans, vases and other articles. Every product is made directly from the stalks and leaves—or joints—of the cactus. The patent application for the process is pending.

Botanists over the State predict cactus manufactured products are destined to become a major industry in Texas.

"Texas needs a new crop besides cotton," Dr. G. W. Goldsmith, professor of botany at the University of Texas, said while examining products of the plant. "It seems to me that here is such a crop—one which should prove of great benefit to the people of the cactus region."

Dr. B. C. Tharp, another professor of botany at the University, also was impressed.

"This seems to point the way to a new and valuable industry for Texas, one which will be of great value to ranchmen of the State," he said.

Two articles most extensively manufactured from the cactus are walking canes and fans.

The canes—one of which was given to President Roosevelt—are made from the long stalks and have proved to be of unusual strength. Since the stick is a hollow, perforated tube, the canes also are light in weight.

The fans are fashioned so as to retain the shape of the cactus leaves. Before reaching the market suitable dyes of assorted color combinations are added with cellophane lining.

The famous Texas Centennial gavel, fashioned by Akin and Peter Mansbendel, an Austin wood carver, was used by Senator Joe Robinson to bring the Democratic National Convention to order during the nomination of Vice-President John Nance Garner by Gov. James V. Allred of Texas.

The gavel has a handle of cactus with a head of walnut. On the gavel is the following inscription: "Presented to the Democratic National Convention by the Texas Delegation in fitting memory of the Texas Centennial, 1836-1936."

Texas' cactus producing areas are the southern, western and central portions of the State. Although a number of species are involved, these are divided roughly into two types—the flat-jointed opuntias, commonly known as the prickly pear, and the cholla.

Most of those who see McGraw are astonished to learn that he is 64 years old. His hair and moustache are black and his body is hard. He dresses snappily.

leading newspapers and magazines published in the United States and circulated throughout the world. The campaign was launched the first of the year and will continue for the remaining five months of 1936.

Canada leads the list of foreign inquiries with approximately 2000 letters requesting information about the Centennial on file. England is second with several hundred. A collection of other foreign postmarks includes Philippine Islands, Brazil, Holland, Peru, Venezuela, Denmark, Italy, Costa Rica, Trinidad, Algeria, Uruguay, Portugal, San Salvador, Belgium, Poland, France, Bahamas, Newfoundland, Honduras, Bolivia, Czechoslovakia, Nigeria, Canal Zone, China, Chile, Spain, Ecuador, Cyprus, Mexico, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Russia, Ger-

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—New Dealers seldom have been scarcer in Washington than now. Nearly all of them are having their vacations.

But not Ed McGrady. It doesn't look as if he would get any vacation at all. Most lately McGrady has been down in Savannah, Ga., trying to head off a strike of longshoremen.

Before that he was sitting in, unofficially, at conferences in Washington between the A. F. of L. and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

A month ago he was trying to do his job as an official at the Democratic national convention and mediate the strike of RCA workers in nearby Camden, N. J., at the same time.

Before that, it was a long string of other labor difficulties, including the bituminous coal mines settlement, to which McGrady applied the important finishing touches.

He has played a unique role as the administration's trouble shooter and conciliator par excellence. He also has his position as assistant secretary of labor plus direct authority from the president, whose name he uses for all it's worth in the pinches.

Lone Star Winner Of First Game of Playoff By 10-9

Lone Star Gasoline took the first game of the three-game playoff series with Robinson Grocery in a playoff for the championship of the first half, the game being won by a one-run margin in the seventh inning after Lone Star came from behind to win.

Robinson made one run in the first to take a lead and scored two more in the second. Lone Star forged ahead in the second by scoring five runs, but the lead was short, as Robinson scored four more runs in the third and one in the fourth. Lone Star made its second bid in the fourth and fifth innings by scoring one run in each frame.

Robinson Grocery went into the seventh with a two-run lead after scoring once more in the sixth, but three miscues in a row by Collum at short, coupled with two hits, gave Lone Star three runs and a one-point margin of victory. Both teams made 12 hits.

In the second game of the evening Hanlon defeated Killingsworth, Cox by a score of 8 to 0. The Killingsworth, Cox team was bolstered considerably by the pitching of Boyd of Strawn, who fanned eight of the Hanlon hitters. The locals made but two hits, and Puryear, who started on the mound for Hanlon, fanned five batters, and Whittley, who relieved him in the fifth, fanned seven of the nine batters to face him in three innings. Hanlon connected for eight hits in the seven innings.
