PEEPING THRU The KNOTHOLE

With BILL MAYES

Anyone who doesn't think the new stadium is going to be high when it is completed, can either try it out or take our word for it. We tried it out and don't want to put up on it again until it is finished.

Wednesday afternoon while watching the Bulldogs practice for the Abilene game Friday, which, incidentally, is to start at 2.30, we decided to climb the stands and see how the field looked from the top row.

Workmen had completed putting the seat supports to the top row on about half the stadium, and had put 12-inch boards on the seats where the seats will go. But the boards didn't cover near all the space that will be covered when the seats are completed.

We went up the ramp and then an up those boards to the top, just as nonchalant as you please. Then we sat down and got a good look at the field. Everything was lovely from there, but the grass was woefully thin and we decided that the field would not have a good covering this year, but probably could be used the latter part of the season, grass or no grass.

Then we looked down. That was where we made our mistake. It looked about a fillion feet to the ground, and the ground looked mighty hard, what we could see of it. The rest was covered with pieces of metal and lumber that had been dropped by the workmen.

But when we started down those boards we had stepped upon so cautiously as we dashed up the stands looked like laths instead of two by twos. We worked our way down carefully, estimating the distance we would drop if we slipped. And each step we wondered if those boards would bounce or just slip off the supports.

When we finally made it back to the ramp we stopped and took a deep breath—and discovered we had sprung a charley horse in sliding down the stands something like a crab slithers toward the sea when he gets out on the beach. And we made a solemn promise, mentally, not to go back up on top until the seats were covered and we had lots of footing.

If you don't believe those stands are high just run up them some windy afternoon, sit down, and then walk back down to the ground. Or take our word for it.

'Spiked' Beer Said To Violate Law

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—State liquor administrator Charles R. Miller has reworded to Federal appearance in Texas of a beer specially prepared so it can be "spiked" with alcohol. Special preparation of beverage for such a purpose, Miller said, amounts to a conspiracy to violate federal liquor law. The beer is being shipped into Texas, he said.

Spiked beer or "needle beer" was a favorite of bootleggers in prohibition days. Beer with legal alcoholic content was stocked. A small bottle of alcohol was kept in a sink. The legal beer was spiked as served. In case of a raid, the alcohol was poured down the sink and officers found naught but legal beverage.

FRANCO STATES FIGHT MADE FOR WORKERS

BURGOS, Spain, Oct. 1.—The insurgent armies are fighting for the people of Spain, including the workers, Gen. Francisco Franco said today in taking over the supreme leadership as political dictator and commander in chief of the armed forces. Franco said:

"The workers will enjoy the fullest rights, but they must also remember that they have their duty as well."

The Madrid government, meanwhile, prepared for a long siege. The war is nearing its fourth month, and it took almost that long for the rebels to capture Toledo.

The rebels are still holding out at Oviedo, despite a long siege. The Madrid government mustering further volunteers, seemed determined to fight it out. Madrid recognized the danger of being cut off from the sea and took every precaution to conserve the food and water supplies.

Unofficial sources in Madrid estimated the loyalists have lost 100,000 dead and 200,000 wounded in the civil war so far. There was no estimate of rebel casualties.

Street fighting broke out today in Bilbao, between anarchists and Basque nationalists. Many were injured and several killed. The fighting broke out after anarchists bands, 150 strong, sought to break up a demonstration of Basque women, praying for peace and pleading for surrender.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—A threatened tie-up of the great Pacific coast shipping industry was averted today when unions accepted a 15-day truce.

Radio Announcer Renews Friendship Started by Toad

An acquaintance resulting from the discovery of "Old Rip" in the old courthouse cornerstone at Eastland was renewed recently when Chailey Stookey, an announcer for a radio station in St. Louis visited A. L. Agate.

During the latter part of 1933, and continuing through 1933, Eastland county received considerable publicity through the radio station in information sent by Agate. In September, 1933, Agate called at the studios in St. Louis and, at the request of Stookey, broadcast the history of the famed toad.

Agate accompanied the radio announcer to Cisco on his trip to the west. The visitor expressed a desire to see the remains of the horned toad on his way back to St. Louis.

Morgenthau Says Hearst Information Is Entirely Wrong

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., today charged William Randolph Hearst with using "incorrect" facts in an editorial criticizing the Administration.

The statement which drew Morgenthau's ire was an assertion that the tri-power currency agreement provided that the American stabilization fund would be used to aid the French franc.

"How far is Mr. Roosevelt going to aid his fellow communists?" Hearst said. "Why should we make sacrifices to aid France?" Morgenthau replied, "We have not loaned any money to France."

BRAZOS STILL RISING NEAR WASHINGTON

NAVASOTA, Oct. 1.—Although the turbulent Brazos river continued rising today, farmers remained at home. Neither the Brazos or Navasota had done any serious damage in this vicinity.

At Houston the federal weather bureau predicted the crest of the upper Brazos flood would reach Washington tonight at 34 to 47 feet. The bureau warned the lowlands would be inundated and urged residents to take precautions against loss of life and property.

As the crest of the Colorado river's second flood within a week came southward, Caney Creek, at Wharton, cut off the northern and southern sections of the city. The creek was swelled by backwaters from the Colorado. All stations on the Colorado reported rises during the past 24 hours.

By Rep. Francis D. Culkin Assistant Director Farm Division, Republican National Committee

THE constructive farm policies offered to the electorate by Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential candidate, are simple and clear.

He proposes an effective soil conservation and erosion control program in connection with national land use and flood conservation. He proposes protection of the farmer in the right to all of the home market he can supply without creating injustices to the consumer. He proposes protection of the family type of farm in this country by such cash benefits as are necessary to cushion American farm families against the disastrous effects of price fluctuation, and to protect the American standard of living. He proposes relief to sufferers from the drought and economic depression.

Contrast with this straightforward expression of what the Republican party is ready to do for the farmer, the inhuman and obstinate policy of the New Dealers, who destroyed food while millions were starving; who plowed under and restricted crops in pursuance of a policy declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court, and who broke their solemn pledge to conserve the domestic market for the American farmer.

UNDER THE NEW DEAL, THERE HAS BEEN AN INCREDIBLE INCREASE IN THE IMPORTATION OF FOREIGN FARM PRODUCTS AND A STARTLING DECREASE in the sale of American farm products to foreign markets. Since President Roosevelt took office, importations of crude foodstuffs have increased 41 per cent and manufactured foodstuffs 49 per cent. Importations of wheat rose from 3000 bushels to more than 27,000,000 bushels, while importations of foreign corn jumped from 344,000 bushels to more than 43,000,000 bushels.

In the meantime, exportations of American wheat to foreign countries dropped until in 1935 they were only a hundredth of what they had been before the New Deal, while exportations of flour decreased 42 per cent, meat products dropped 19 per cent, and lard 82 per cent.

AS in other instances, the farm record of the New Deal administration speaks for itself. In the summer of 1933, the government paid farmers under the AAA to plow up 10,500,000 acres of growing cotton, or 25 per cent of the total acreage. The Bankhead cotton act of 1934, later repealed by the New Deal Congress, set a limit of 10,000,000 bales of cotton to be marketed by farmers from the 1934-1935 crop. The AAA reduced approximately 36,000,000 acres of corn, wheat, cotton, and tobacco from cultivation, or one-tenth of the land in cultivation in the United States.

In the fall of 1933, the AAA destroyed 6,200,000 pigs and slaughtered 220,000 prospective mother sows, at a waste exceeding $30,000,000. The total live weight of the pigs and sows slaughtered was 43,627,349 pounds. Of this, only 97,064,159 pounds of food products were obtained. The rest was converted into inedible grease or fertilizer and was buried.

NEXT: Representative Marvin Jones, chairman House Committee on Agriculture, defends the New Deal farm program in theory, and in administration.

MAVS GO THROUGH FINAL PRACTICE FOR SAN ANGELO GAME ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Eastland's Mavericks were slated to undergo light workouts Thursday afternoon for final preparations in their game against San Angelo Bobcats there Friday night. Coach Johnny Kitchen Wednesday afternoon implored his squad to "get" the real spirit of the game.

"You'll have to be mean in that game at San Angelo Friday night. Play mean and vicious, but be clean. You were barely mean last week against Big Spring. We were all a little too good in the Mineral Wells game," Coach Kitchen declared.

And from all indications from San Angelo it was evident the Mavericks would have to be vicious to take the Bobcats, whose spirits have been raised by what many believed their disappointing showing against the North Side team of Fort Worth last week. The Fort Worth team took the game 14 to 6.

Blondy Cross, sports commentator of a San Angelo paper, believes the Bobcats will show a new spirit against Eastland. "There seems, however, a possibility the lads will be in there bouncing against Eastland Friday night, despite Eastland being the visitor and the guest," wrote Cross. "Rude? Well none of our football visitors in the past have been exactly polite."

Previously head coach Hal Taylor had half humorously given the following explanation for his team's loss: "We didn't want to be rude to the visitors, so we gave them the game."

Some passing plays which rainy weather prevented in the Mavericks with Big Spring (0-0) and the loss to Mineral Wells (12-0) will likely be uncorked in the Angelo game.

Kitchen's pleasure at one of these plays was shown Wednesday afternoon when he enthusiastically commented: "Oh, boy, what a play! That ought to make a touch. The rest of you men are decoys. Be good actors."

It was believed Roy Taylor, center, burned from lime in the Big Spring game, will be able to take his position Friday night. The only injury in the squad which will preclude playing all the game is in Harry Taylor who plays right half-back. Bob Daniels will be used for

Second Game of Series Postponed

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 1.—Ankle deep mud and big pools of water on the Polo Grounds today caused baseball commissioner K. M. Landis to order postponement of the second game of the world series between the Giants and the Yankees. The second game will be played tomorrow at the Polo Grounds, weather permitting, and the schedule set back one day.

BOTH SIDES OF THE CAMPAIGN

Official views of the Republican and Democratic Committees on leading issues of the campaign are presented by leaders of the two parties in this series of twelve articles, taking the place of Rodney Dutcher's Washington column during Dutcher's vacation. Woman's Story of Sawed-Off Arm Is Denied Today

BEAUMONT, Oct. 1.—Witnesses failed, today, to substantiate the story of Mrs. Anna Stone, 35, who told officers a Port Arthur refinery worker sawed off her right arm on the shattered edges of an auto window last night.

Deputy sheriff Claude Goldsmith said witnesses of the alleged attack claimed the woman became enraged, smashed the window and then mangled her own arm at the elbow.

Mrs. Stone said the purported attack occurred Sept. 11. The arm already has healed.

Fund Transfer Is Rapped by Ashburn

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Governor Allred's recommendation for the transfer of $3,000,000 of state highway funds for emergency payments of old age assistance because "eating is more important than riding," was attacked today by Col. Ike Ashburn of Houston, executive manager of the Texas Good Roads Association.

Delay of road work for six months would throw out of employment 50,000 men who provide for 200,000 people, Ashburn said.

Conference Will Discuss Highway Building In Texas

TULSA, Okla. — Experiences in Texas and other southwestern states in building their systems of low-cost bituminous highway systems will be discussed by C. M. Gillette, materials engineer, Bureau of Public Roads, Fort Worth, in the Fifth National Road Oil and Asphalt Congress here October 8 and 9, it was announced today by the program committee.

The Congress will bring together state and county engineers, engineers from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, chemists and engineers from the petroleum industry and scientists from southwestern universities in a two-day program devoted to papers and discussions of the modern practices in low-cost road building. Engineers from seven southwestern states and from Montana will participate in the program.

The 1936 Congress, fifth in a series, is sponsored by the Petroleum Refiners Association with the cooperation of state highway departments, universities and contractors.

"The bituminous type highway, built of scientific mixtures of asphaltic oil or asphalt, has come to be recognized as the means of extending our state and national highway systems," states Embury Kaye, chairman of the Congress.

"We have learned it is uneconomical and unnecessary to spend $25,000 to $50,000 a mile for a highway when, through more scientific and economical use of the bituminous materials, excellent highways can be built for $2,500 to $6,000 a mile."

The Congress is held annually to provide a meeting place for highway builders to exchange experiences and benefit from developments in other territories. About 400 are expected to attend.

CHARGES MADE COMMUNISM IS BEING TAUGHT

AUSTIN, Oct. 1.—Direct charges that communism and atheism are taught in at least one state-supported college were made in the Texas House of Representatives here today.

Rep. Joe Caldwell Jr., of Ackerly offered a resolution for a committee investigation. Answering questions he said, "I have evidence one instructor has taught communism."

It is also reported, he said, that others do so and that groups are sponsored that hold communistic views.

The University of Texas was not named in Caldwell's resolution, but in arguments later the University was named.

The senate adjourned until Friday after receiving a bill to simplify delinquent tax collection. Deputy supervisors of old age assistance have been called from El Paso, Houston, Waco, Fort Worth, Dallas and Athens, to appear before the house inquiry this afternoon.

Care for insane persons will not be submitted as a topic to the legislature, Gov. Allred said.

His decision to withhold the subject was based on a survey of present conditions and fears that submission would open the way to appropriations—generally. Allred said he will submit nothing more to the session until old age pension money is provided.

YOUTH SLAIN BY OFFICERS AT DECATUR

DECATUR, Oct. 1.—Wise county officers today held two Minnesota youths wanted in connection with a filling station robbery and prepared to return the body of a third to his relatives.

Robert Grant, 22, of Claremont, Minn., was shot by deputy sheriff Fred Easley of Decatur last night when he attempted to draw a gun after Easley had halted the trio on a downtown street.

The youth died in a hospital 30 minutes later.

The two others said they were enroute to Florida to find we County Attorney W. K. Samp said they were wanted in Stillburn, Minn., in connection with filling station holdup Sept. 20.

The county attorney's investigation exonerated the officer in the shooting.

War Taught Us Lots (About Mechanics)

The human race seems able to learn any lesson as long as it involves mechanics. Transfer the lesson from the mechanical to the intellectual sphere, however, and the poor old race has moments in which it seems positively dull.

There appeared recently in the Illustrated London News a preliminary sketch of two new battleships which are about to be added to the German navy. These, if the London publication is correct, will be the most up-to-date fighting ships in all the world. They will embody all the lessons taught by the World War.

Thus, we are shown monster ships 700 feet long and approximately 98 feet wide, to be driven by 150,000 horsepower engines which will give them a speed of at least 30 knots. They will carry 12-inch armor plate amidships, a 5-inch arched deck for protection against aircraft, a 2-inch splinter deck below that, and they will have torpedo "bulges" on both sides.

Their guns will be nine 11-inch rifles with an effective range of 30,000 yards. In addition, they will carry a number of six-inch guns, an anti-aircraft battery, and hangars providing space for four airplanes.

Altogether, they will be about the most formidable warships ever built, fast enough to get away from any other battleships afloat, and sturdy enough to stand up and trade punches in case they are cornered.

And the melancholy thought which arises from contemplating them is just this: the purely mechanical lessons of the great war have been learned to perfection. The defects which sent ships to the bottom at Jutland and elsewhere will never be duplicated; the object lessons which the big rifles and the torpedoes taught have been taken to heart.

But it is only in fields such as this that the war seems to have taught us anything. In the larger field, the field of human relationships, it seems to have taught us nothing at all.

For the war was the most expensive and painful teaching in all history about the folly of imperialism, jealous nationalism, and the rule of force in human affairs. One would think that even a race of 10-year-olds could have seen, after the war, that the nations of the world must find some way of getting along in peace, no matter what the price.

Yet the trend of events today indicates that this lesson was entirely muffed. Victors and vanquished alike, the nations are straining every resource to get ready for a new and more destructive war than the last. For a few years they gave lip service to the ideal of international cooperation; now, they are frankly preparing to duplicate the catastrophe of 1914.

We can learn fast enough, when the teaching has to do with something that can be seen, touched, and reduced to blueprints. We seem dismayingly incapable of learning anything in any broader field.

Library Club Elects Officers

The Ranger high school library club, under the sponsorship of Miss Reeder met Wednesday, September 30. This club consists of fifty-six energetic members.

During the meeting the following officers were elected: president, Geraldine Smith; vice president, Eva Sue Turner; secretary, Dorothy Campbell, and reporter, Virginia Beach.

This club was established for the purpose of teaching students how to use and assist in the library.

Members of the club will be expected to make reports on special books.

Study Club Honors Mrs. Onis Littlefield

Adding to delightful social happenings of the current season, was the party held at the home of Mrs. Saule Perlestein, 717 Cypress St., when members of child study club No. 2 rendered an interesting program and honored Mrs. Onis Littlefield with a miscellaneous show.

The program proper brought the opening number by Mrs. Weldon Webb, whose piano numbers were thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. C. E. Maddocks was introduced by the hostess, and she talked in her capable manner on "children's habits in the summer." Mrs. Lee Galley, another talented musician, gave two vocal selections, "A Lullaby" and a negro skit, playing her own accompaniment on the accordion. At the close of her second number she delivered in wash-dry garb, Mrs. Perlestein's laundry, which revealed an array of gifts encased in pink and blue. These in turn were presented the honoree, Mrs. Onis Littlefield, who is a past president of the club, and had been an active member since the club's organization.

At refreshment time the house hostess was assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Max Ohr, Mrs. Carl Heinlin and Mrs. Eugene Jenkins, in serving a delicious plate of salad, devils food cake and coffee to the guest of honor and Mmes. Lee Galley, Odelle Cole, Wright Emfinger, Weldon Webb, Jack Terry, Pearl McKecher, Roy Todd, J. M. Robinson, Cecil Franklin, J. E. Ogg, Henry Davenport, Ethel Williams, C. E. Maddocks, J. B. National President of Woodman Circle to Attend District Convention at Mineral Wells

Highlight in the Julia Alexander grove, No. 1954, of Woodman circle, program rendered at the I.O.O.F. hall Wednesday afternoon was the talk made by the district manager, Mrs. Freda Fowler, of Mineral Wells, whose visit to Ranger was for the purpose of outlining further plans for the district convention which is to convene at Mineral Wells in November. The local grove was told by Mrs. Fowler that the national president, Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley of Omaha, Neb., is to be the principal speaker and honorary guest during the convention days.

Mrs. Edna Williamson, guardian, opened the meeting and presided over the election of Mrs. Bessie Harris as musician; Mrs. Eula Blackwell as advisor. Pal presents were exchanged and new names drawn for the month of October.

The social introduced games of "42" played at tables attractively decorated and centered with bouquets of mixed blossoms.

A course of ice cream and cake was served guest, Mrs. Fowler, and Mmes. Minnie Shirley, Claudie Barney, Anna Milburn, Lena Patterson, Hazel Smott, Eula Blackwell, Ruby Greer, Ava Nell Burke, Bessie Harris, Ella Reynolds, Viola Cash, Maggie Masters, Oda Stiles, and Misses Ruth Strong, Ruby Milburn and Patsy Barney.

Quartette tables were neatly surfaced and centered with clusters of fall flowers when Mrs. H. E. Barney and Mrs. C. C. Cash entertained the Ruth class of Central Baptist church with a luncheon at the home of the former hostess, Tuesday at 12.30 o'clock.

An afternoon session, presided over by the president, Mrs. W. B. Emfinger, brought to the attention of members current topics of mutual interest. Mrs. Sarah Scrivens offered a beautiful devotional and Mrs. H. H. Stephens led in prayer. Each class officer rendered a complete report for work covering the month passed. An auction sale to be held at the home of Mrs. Odelle Cole, was announced for Monday, October 14.

Mrs. E. S. Brink Ill at Her Home

Mrs. E. S. Brink, member of the Women's missionary union of Central Baptist church, is reported to be quite ill at her home on Walnut street, where she has been confined for the past week. Friends are interested in a rapid recovery.

Training School Makes Contest of Training Period

The young people's class of the B. T. U. training school that is in progress at the Central Baptist church enjoyed somewhat of an unusual ball game. Questions were hurled at the batter instead of the horseshoe sphere that is generally employed in baseball games.

Josephine Robinson inaugurated herself as mound queen by pitching shutout ball. Dan Milmo held his opponents in the first few innings but in the later periods turned the entire session over to the batters. The Robinson team won by a score of 7 to 0.

The box score:

Lease Is Secured On Lot For First Oil Well Marker

The Chamber of Commerce has secured a lease on a lot 50x50 feet at the south corner of Main Street and Highway 1, where the Centennial marker for the discovery well in the Ranger field will be placed.

The marker is furnished by the Centennial Commission, and is to be located on the lot, which will be made into a miniature park, with suitable landscaping to make it an attractive spot.

The lot is located on the corner, the two street sides of which are rounded, making it an ideal location for the marker.

In addition to furnishing the marker the commission furnishes a small fund for erecting it, while the lot is being furnished by the Chamber of Commerce, through the cooperation of the Texas and Pacific railway.

J. E. Fletcher Buys Burns Machine Shop

J. E. Fletcher, who was local manager of the Eureka Tool company here for a number of years, today completed a deal whereby he purchased the Burns machine shop from Bob Burns, who has operated it for the past six years.

The name of the company is to be changed to the Ranger Machine Company, Fletcher stated, today after taking over the active management of the plant.

For some time Fletcher has been stationed at Gladewater, making frequent trips to Ranger to continue in the capacity of captain of the local national guard unit. Recently he was transferred to Oklahoma City, where he was located at the time he purchased the machine shop.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By NEA Service

SOMEHOW, most of us feel that no dinner is complete without meat. It really is an erroneous notion. To prove it, here is a recipe from New Orleans that, served as a main dish, will make a dinner sure to be long-remembered.

The eggs are stuffed, fried in deep fat and served with a tomato sauce. Doesn't the description make you want to try the recipe? The Roquefort cheese in the stuffing gives the dish its distinctive flavor.

Eggs New Orleans for Three

Six eggs, one 1-4 ounce package Roquefort cheese, 1-8 cup finely chopped onions, 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon water, 1-4 cup fine bread crumbs, 1-8 cup finely chopped celery (optional).

Hard boil the eggs and slice them lengthwise.

Remove the yolks and mix them thoroughly with the mashed cheese, onions, celery and parsley.

Refill the egg whites with this mixture and press the halves firmly together.

Leave in the refrigerator for several hours to harden somewhat before frying.

Dip the eggs into the beaten egg, to which the water has been added.

Roll in very fine bread crumbs, toast. Ground crumbs are best. Fry in very hot fat until brown.

This allows two eggs for each serving.

For the tomato sauce, use a small tin of prepared tomato sauce, adding 2 onions and one green pepper chopped fine and browned in butter.

Pour this sauce around the eggs. With this egg dish serve Italian spaghetti or noodles on casserole, topped with browned butter.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Bananas and ready-to-serve cereal, cream, broiled bacon, whole wheat toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cheese fondue, salad of cabbage, celery and dates, apple cobbler, milk, tea.

DINNER: Eggs New Orleans, noodles in casserole, string beans, mixed green salad with French dressing, bittersweet chocolate molds, coffee.

Bittersweet Chocolate Molds for Six

Two squares chocolate, 1 can condensed milk, 1-2 cup fine bread crumbs, 1-4 cup cold water.

The bread crumbs are added to give the pudding a certain crunchiness, tasting rather like nuts or macaroons. The crumbs should be toasted and ground fine.

Melt the chocolate in the top of a double-boiler and add the condensed milk (not evaporated milk).

Stir and add 1-2 cup of crumbs. Allow to thicken.

Add the cold water.

Pour into six very small rinsed molds or sherbet glasses and chill well.

This dessert is very rich and should be made in small portions. Serve with whipped cream.

Rogers' Greatest Hit Returns By Popular Request

With America's most beloved humorist contributing what has been pronounced his greatest performance, surrounded by a veritable galaxy of stars in one of the finest stories ever brought to the screen, "State Fair" returned Will Rogers to the Arcadia theatre yesterday.

Brought back by popular demand, "State Fair" stands as one of the screen's great pictures. A film that pulses with the heart of America and skillfully blends romance, comedy and excitement in to its stirring narrative.

Demonstration Of Fertilizer Is Planned by Agent

Several farmers of Eastland county will have an opportunity to participate in the T. V. A. triple superphosphate farm unit demonstrations which are being sponsored by the A. & M. extension service, according to information received by Elmo V. Cook, county agent. The fertilizer will be furnished free but the farmer must pay the freight from Alabama and agree to follow a 5-year farm program on the land where the fertilizer is applied, also to keep records on the land. The T. V. A. has agreed to furnish the fertilizer only if soil conserving and building crops are planted on the fertilized land the first year.

Eastland county farmers having experience with fertilizers state that addition of phosphate fertilizer to the land increases the yield substantially. Land where triple

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Purdue's horrifying football tragedy, a dressing room explosion followed by fire that took the lives of two great stars, leaves the shattered remnants of what was potentially a championship squad to carry valiantly on in the shadow of appalling gloom.

Carl Dahlbeck, speedy senior guard, and Tommy McGannon, a real broken field runner, are dead. Lowell Decker, senior fullback; Pat Malaska, junior back; and Jimmy Maloney, sophomore guard, lie in a hospital in such bad condition that they are counted out for the season.

It is a terrible blow.

While Noble Kizer is not the kind of man who would think of the damage to Purdue's football prospects in the face of such a frightful tragedy, the fact that he had been very optimistic adds a degree to the tragedy itself.

I chatted with him only a day or two before the sorrowful catastrophe. The young coach's principal concern then was whether Cecil Isbell's shoulder injury was permanently mended.

McGannon, 20-year-old junior and typical Mick from Evansville, shared the title of touchdown twin with Cecil Isbell last fall.

"OUR line will be built around our captain and iron man center, George Bell, and Carl Dahlbeck, and three stalwart tackles who are hard to separate in ability, Marty Scheyer, Clem Woltman, and Forrest Burmeister," explained Kizer.

Purdue must now go on without Dahlbeck, too.

Cecil Isbell was a remarkable one-armed performer last season, playing in a harness that virtually kept his left arm strapped to his side.

"Isbell gives every indication of being prepared for a two-handed season. He's a natural when right," asserted Kizer.

Isbell and McGannon were to have been running mates, with John Drake at full and either Wayne Gift or Fred Stalcup at quarter.

ISBELL and Drake now are alternating between right half and full Isbell is partly due to the necessities of the play and also because of Isbell's shoulder injury.

Stalcup, senior quarter of Bicknell, Ind., has been shifted to McGannon's position at left half. Gift of Canton must now carry most of the burden at the field general's position. Cody Isbell has by process of shifting from center to end and then to quarter, arrived in the backfield as support for Gift.

A heavy-hearted Purdue varsity will carry on. Football men all ways do.

JAPAN ANTICIPATES GEISHA POPULARITY

TOKYO—An application has been filed with the police for permission to build Japan's largest geisha-house in Tokyo so that it may accommodate the many calls for geisha entertainment anticipated during the 1940 Olympic games here.
