OUSTER CALLED HITLERISM BY A COMMUNIST

By United Press
HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—Homer Brooks, communist candidate for governor, who was ousted from Port Arthur by police last night, charged here today that denial of public buildings for communist meetings "constitutes political censorship, which smacks of Hitlerism."

"Developments during the course of this campaign have convinced us that more than ever the main issue in the 1936 campaign is fascism against democracy," the Houston youth said.

H. F. Baker, Port Arthur chief of police, arrested Brooks and two companions last night and released them on their promise to leave the city. The young communist leader had gone to Port Arthur to hold a political rally.

Brook denied the assertion of Chief Baker that he was not a resident of Texas and therefore was not qualified as a candidate for governor.

"My candidacy has been certified by the state secretary," he said. "I am a candidate in good standing."

Wilbur Dickey, business agent of the International Seamen's Union, meanwhile charged at Houston that communists and other radicals were trying to gain control of waterfront unions through terroristic practices.

At Dallas a committee of "the legion of honor" was named to determine if communism is being taught in the public schools.

'MURDERED' BUT LIVES

A friend stood trial charged with his murder rather than reveal the fact that Jesse Owen Gifford (above) 45 of South Pittsburgh, Tenn., still was alive, it became known when Gifford revealed his whereabouts through applying for the soldier's bonus at Susanville, Calif. When Gifford disappeared 8 years ago, another body was identified as his and his bonus paid to Mrs. Gifford.

SEAMEN GO ON STRIKE ON THE WEST COAST

By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Seamen on 300 vessels docked in Pacific ports were called ashore today and ordered to sign up for picket duty as a strike spread paralysis through the western shipping industry.

Police were detailed for waterfront duty. Forty ships were tied up here, 25 in San Pedro, about 20 at Seattle and the others at Portland, Vancouver, San Diego, Honolulu and other ports.

A steady stream of seamen paraded down the gangplanks from ships of every description. Most of them went directly to union headquarters to receive instructions on future strike activities.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 30.—Michael Dwyer, gulf coast president of the International Longshoremen's Association, said today his organization planned no sympathy action in connection with the maritime strike on the Pacific coast.

A Political Career Halted by Disease Created Sanatorium

By United Press
AUSTIN—It will be a surprise to many people to learn that Texas has an anti-tipping law. It's true. The provision does not apply to tipping generally. It prohibits any patient in the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Carlsbad from paying a gratuity to any of the employees.

Another provision in the sanatorium act requires that beds always be maintained for patients unable to pay, equal in number to the paying patients.

The institution, one of the largest in the state, owes its existence to the belief of a former Missourian in the health-building qualities of the Texas sun and climate.

T. H. McGregor had started a political career in Missouri that was so successful that he became a protégé of U. S. Senator Jim Reed. He was headed for the attorney general's office in that state when he contracted lung trouble. After suffering several hemorrhages, McGregor decided to try the effect of the Texas climate. For two years he abandoned a law practice and built up his health. He became convinced that proper treatment under Texas climate would cure tuberculosis and set about providing an easier way for others than he had to follow in regaining his health.

McGregor and former Senator Tom Love, Dallas, probably are the best known legislators in recent years. McGregor became the recognized leader of the "wets" while Love was the "dry" commander in the days when prohibition was the chief issue before Texas legislators.

Strangely enough, McGregor had entered Texas politics for the prime purpose of assisting Love. Both were from Missouri and McGregor ran for the House of Representatives so he could help elect Love speaker. Later prohibition became a leading issue and they took opposing sides.

The speed of pigeons used to expedite delivery of news picture negatives for NEA Service which supplies pictures for this paper was convincingly demonstrated when one of the NEA flock raced home first in the 100-mile special race of the Riverside Homing Pigeon Club. Flying against a stiff head wind and through cloudy weather, the bird made the 100 miles in 2 hours, 55 minutes, to average nearly 1100 yards per minute. Mrs. Martin Johnson, explorer just returned from an expedition to Borneo, is pictured greeting the Blue Checker to whose back is fastened the light metal capsule in which it delivers undeveloped photographic negatives from ships, sports events and political meetings to the NEA office in New York while the cameraman stays on the job.

Police Chief Asks Children To Be Careful on Hallowe'en Here

Have your fun Saturday night, children, but not at the expense of others.

This was the Hallowe'en warning Friday of Police Chief Jim Ingram.

The officer urged children to confine their merrymaking to activities in which no damage or expense is likely or possible.

He cautioned motorists not to speed. Chances of children being in the street, he said, create an additional hazard.

Parents were urged to remind their children of the department's suggestions.

"If any damage is sustained by residents or owners of business houses, then it will be the duty of the department to take official action as in case of any malicious mischief."

Cotton for Roads Used On 578 Miles Of 1936 Projects

COLLEGE STATION.—About 8,500 bales of cotton were used in highway construction during the summer of 1936, according to a report from the Department of Agriculture. This cotton was evenly divided between two projects, under the commodity diversion programs of the AAA, which involve the use of fabric binders for bituminous-surfaced roads and mats for curing concrete.

More than six million square yards of cotton, close to four thousand bales, were used by 24 states in the fabric reinforcement program, enough for building 578 miles of new road. The rest of the cotton was utilized in the construction of 89,500 mats for concrete-curing in 23 states. Both materials were made available to state highway departments by the Government, subject to performance reports.

The fabric is designed to reinforce secondary, or farm-to-market roads, where heavy trucking and severe climatic conditions have run up an immense seasonal repair bill. Comparative sections were laid without fabric on each project to determine costs, and early reports of this season's work justify the findings of preliminary tests.

The mat project was developed on the basis of tests made by the Bureau of Public Roads and the Highway Departments of Texas and Pennsylvania. Mats or pads simplify the curing problem by assuring proper moisture and temperature conditions. The mats are made from a single-ply layer of bat of low-grade cotton or cotton waste quilted between cotton cloth layers. Such mats retain moisture for a number of hours and are durable, easily handled, and capable of repeated use. In regions where water is scarce, their moisture-retaining qualities constitute a distinct advantage. Where excessively high temperatures or freezing are problems, their insulating qualities are important.

MUNITIONS TO AID MADRID IN SPANISH WAR

By United Press
Tanks, airplanes, munitions and supplies were brought into Madrid today, substantiating the claims of the loyalist government that it had the mechanical equipment needed to hurl back the rebels on the gates of Madrid.

Reports said 60 new tanks and 20 new airplanes, the latter from Mexico, had reached the capital. A 36-car freight train arrived with large quantities of foodstuffs.

The loyalist government issued a decree militarizing all able-bodied men between 20 and 45. It stipulated that persons failing to heed the decree would be considered deserters.

'LONGEST' CASE COMES TO END IN 88TH COURT

What was declared one of the longest cases—the $21,000 damage suit of W. A. Stiles against Dowell, Inc., and others—to be tried in the history of 88th district court came to a conclusion Thursday afternoon when Foreman R. C. Brown of Rising Star reported on the jury's answers to special issues.

The jury's answers will result in judgement of the court in favor of the defendant.

Judge B. W. Patterson stated the case was the longest in his four years experience as a judge and 35 years as an attorney.

The suit was filed by Stiles, receiver of the A. W. Drilling Company, against Dowell, Incorporated, claiming ruin of a well south of Carbon after the defendants' acidization.

It was understood neither party will appeal.

The case was begun Monday, Oct. 19.

The jury's findings to the special issues were:

That from a preponderance of the evidence that the separation of the tubing in the well was the cause of the loss of the well.

That the separation of the tubing was not caused by the eating or corrosion of the acid thereon.

That upon completing the acidizing of the well, the defendants left in the compartment above the packer and surrounding the tubing, a quantity of acid.

That from the above act on the part of the defendants in leaving acid in the compartment above the packer and surrounding the tubing was not negligence.

That upon completing the acidizing of the well the defendants failed to advise the A. W. Drilling Company that the acid in the compartment above the packer and around the tubing should be promptly removed.

That the failure on the part of the defendants to advise the A. W. Drilling company to remove the acid promptly was not negligence.

That any amount of money would have been unreasonably spent in the drilling of another well to the depth of 2500 feet in the immediate vicinity of the well in question.

That upon the loss of the tubing and packer in the well the A. W. Drilling Company was reasonably justified in incurring the expenses and obligations necessary incident to the attempt to reclaim the well.

That the A. W. Drilling company reasonably expended $3000 in such effort to reclaim the well. That it was an unavoidable accident in the separation of the tubing.

That at the time the same was placed in the well that any portion of the tubing in the string above the packer was of superior quality as to be unable to withstand the strain to which it would necessarily be subjected while acidizing the well and removing the tubing and packer therefrom.

That such negligence on the part of the A. W. Drilling Company was a proximate cause of the separation of the tubing.

That in attempting to pull the tubing from the hole the employees of the A. W. Drilling company did not apply a greater force than was necessary.

That the agents and employees of the A. W. Drilling company in their efforts to remove the packer from the hole failed to work said packer up and down.

That such failure of the A. W. Drilling company's employees to work the packer up and down prior to the attempt to remove the tubing and packer from the well was not negligence.

Straw Votes Encourage 'Bandwagon' Voting

We know a man who says he doesn't care particularly which candidate for president is elected next month; all he hopes is that somehow the final vote proves so eternally wrong that nobody will ever have the face to take one again.

It is a little bit hard to see how the election could do that, since the various polls differ so widely that one or another of them is almost certain to be at least partly right, whatever happens. But the complaining gentleman does have the germ of an idea which is undoubtedly shared by a good many of his fellow citizens.

The fact that the polls do differ is the one saving element in the situation. For a time it almost looked as if the various politicians would devote more thought to carrying the straw vote than to carrying the actual election; and the danger in a thing like that lies in the presence of a large, mentally irresponsible "bandwagon" vote in this country, a vote that can never bother to figure out what the issues are, but that desires solely to get on the winner.

As things are, the divergence among the polls leaves this bandwagon vote in much the same situation as that of the chameleon which, placed on a bit of Scotch plaid, tried so hard to adapt its color to its background that it exploded. But the bandwagon vote does exist, and it is not hard to imagine a situation in which it might follow the straw votes and decide an election.

There is this, of course, to remember about these polls. They have reached the status of a national pastime only in the last dozen years; and we have not had a reasonably close presidential election since 1916.

In all the succeeding presidential years (not including this one), a blind man could have told how the election was going to come out. A stray vote that could not have come fairly close to predicting the result in 1920, 1924, or 1932 would have been so wildly cockeyed that its parents would have disowned it on the spot.

Now it is interesting to see the opinion of the country sampled in advance. There can be no possible objection to it, except on the ground that there is a certain percentage of half-baked folk who lack convictions of their own to such extent that they are always ready to go along with the winner.

Once you have persuaded people that a certain candidate is going to win, that fact in itself helps to increase his winning margin. It shouldn't, but it does. It is probably the silliest single phenomenon in our politics.

For that reason it might be an excellent thing if this election could somehow cast just a shade of doubt upon the accuracy of the whole straw vote process. If the get-with-the-winner boys could be left permanently confused, our politics would be better off.

GRIDIRON HEROES. DIXIE has turned out some great gridirons in modern football but it is doubtful if any of them did as much toward putting southern football on the map as did Alvin "Bo" McMillin, present Indiana University coach. It was in 1921 that Bo's a doughty, praying band of southerners from little Centre College, Danville, Ky. into staid Harvard's vast stadium. When the smoke of the battle had cleared, Centre had scored probably the greatest upset in the annals of the game, having prevailed, 6-0. It was Bo's generalship that won. Figuring that Harvard would watch him because of his running against the Crimson the year before, McMillin fed the ball to his mates until the Harvard line began to weaken in the third quarter. Then, with Red Roberts crashing a hole in the Crimson line, Bo carried the oval himself, sliced through the opening and sprinted down the field with the winning center.

NEW YORK—The well-dressed girl may wear rings on her fingers this year but the bells of the popular old jingle will be on her head.

And along with them will be elephants, keys, and all the other amusing ornaments that now dangle around the wrists of feminine America. Growing gayer with every passing week, the current mode has hit upon the charm bracelet as a millinery decoration and the result is chic.

Introduced by a Paris designer, the charm hat has made its first appearance upon Fifth Avenue. Designed for sports and tailored wear, the charm hats are being shown in felt in the season's new shades and the prospective wearer may select her own ornaments, which are strung upon gold and silver chains and fastened around the crown.

However, the new charm hats are only one of a variety of chapeaux that are filled with audacious surprises. Another is the wee little cap of velvet or suede so placed as to suggest a bang on the forehead. The wearer of one of these hats is supposed to match the feathers as closely as possible to her hair.

Then there is the tiny peaked affair of felt with a quill shooting up into the air to sky-scraperish heights. Mrs. Ernest Simpson is said to have first sponsored the new huntsman hat on her recent visit at Balmoral Castle in Scotland. This is a dashing affair of velvet that tops off a fall suit or tailored coat. The shape is implied by the name and thrust through one side of the upturned brim is the season's almost inevitable quill.

The many Shakespearean plays now on the screen and on Broadway are responsible for several of the newer and smarter modes, among the most popular at the moment being the Juliet cap for dinner and evening wear.

Miss Gholson Becomes Bride of Mr. Blair

Miss Martha Gholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gholson, of Lubbock, became the bride of Francis M. Blair, of Amarillo, son of Mrs. Ida Blair, of Amarillo, Friday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church at Lubbock, with the Rev. J. Hodge Alves, priest in charge of the single ring ceremony.

Proceeding the processional, Miss Olene Bates sang, "O Perfect Love," with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Raymond George. Mrs. George also played "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," (Wagner) and as the wedding party approached the altar, "The Wedding March" (Mendelssohn) was played as the recessional.

The vows were said before two seven-branch ecclesiastical candelabra. Along the chancel were gardenies and calla lilies flowers which were used as decorations throughout the church.

Mrs. O. L. Slaton, Jr., only attendant to the bride, wore a navy suit with blue fox fur and carried a small hand bouquet of red roses. Tom Braly of Pampa served as the bridegroom attendant.

Miss Gholson entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a slate grey tailored wool suit with matching hat, silver fox cape and dubonnet accessories. Her shoulder corsage was white gardenias.

Members of the two families and a small group of friends attended the wedding and informal reception afterward at the Gholson home, 1504 Avenue X.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Austin where Mr. Blair is employed in the oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad commission. They will live at 1915 Oldham avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Ranger High school and the University of Texas. She attended Texas Technological College two years and was a member of the San Souci, women's social club on the campus.

Mr. Blair is a graduate of Amarillo high school and the University of Texas. He was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Crowell, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cherry and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bowden, of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Gholson, and Mrs. John M. Gholson, Ranger; Cliff Braly, Pampa; Miss Louise Coe and her mother, Mrs. Coe, and Mrs. Ida Blair, of Amarillo, and Charles B. Gholson, Houston.

Hallowe'en Party

The district convention to be held at Mineral Wells, November 6th, was discussed. The local unit will be represented by a group of some fifteen members. Drill team members are asked to report next Wednesday afternoon at the hall for practice.

A plate of pimento cheese sandwiches, ginger bread and coffee was served. Mmes. Eula Blackwell, Maggie Masters, Ava Nell Burke, Claudie Barney, Ruby Greer, Oda Stiles, Hazel Smoot, Bessie Harris, Alma Milburn, Edna Williamson, Viola Cash, T. H. Reese, L. Vatican City Has 600 People and 176 Motor Vehicles

The tiny state has 176 vehicles—145 are automobiles, 21 trucks and 10 motorcycles. The official population of Vatican City is 600. The city has four filling stations where only Vatican motor cars can refuel. The price of gasoline is much lower than in Italy.

$1 of Every $3.43 In Filling Station Goes to Pay Taxes

NEW YORK—One dollar out of every $3.43 received by the average U. S. Service station is handed over to the tax collector, according to the American Petroleum Industries Committee. Taxes collected in 1935 by the 196,649 service stations in the United States on gasoline and lubricating oil amounted to $806,118,000 on a total net business of $1,961,780,000. Taxes were equivalent to a 4.1 per cent sales tax on the total business transacted. The committee's findings are based on preliminary reports of the U. S. Bureau of the Census on 1935 retail business.

Gasoline taxes turned over to state treasuries totaled $616,892,000, or more than three-quarters of the taxes collected by the service stations during the year. The balance was made up of federal taxes on gasoline and lubricating oil.

Although the average service station covered in the survey transacted only $9,990 worth of business during the year, compared with a $19,900 average for retail stores generally, it collected $4,105 in taxes, or an average of $2,106 in taxes per employee, inclusive of active proprietors.

The survey also shows that the $1,961,780,000 business transacted by the service stations amounted to 6 per cent of the volume of all retail business, which was $32,790,267,000. The committee points out that if all retail business was taxed on the same scale, more than $12,000,000,000 would have been collected, an amount larger than the total tax revenues in the United States for 1935 from real estate, incomes and all other sources.

Employment provided by service stations increased in 1935 about 14 per cent over 1933, with 382,422 workers in 1935, as compared with 328,528 in 1933. Payrolls

Department Store Sales Show Growth Over the State

AUSTIN—Department store sales in Texas during September increased substantially over the like month last year and the gain in sales from August to September was greater than the average seasonal gain between these two months, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reports from 87 representative establishments show total gains of 16.7 per cent over September last year. The increase from August to September was 40.9 per cent as against an average seasonal gain of 35.8 per cent. During the first nine months of the year aggregate sales increased 16.6 per cent over those of the corresponding period last year.

Percentage gains were greater than the average for the state in Corsicana, Dallas, Lubbock, Port Arthur and San Antonio.

The ratio of credit sales to cash sales during September was considerably below that of the like month last year, but a larger percentage of outstanding accounts were collected than occurred in September a year ago.

Michigan prisoners hit turnkey on the head with a cake of soap. One of the convicts probably acquired the technique in training his son to wash.

Increased from $152,380,000 in 1933 to $172,967,000 last year, an increase of 14.2 per cent. These figures, it is pointed out, do not take into consideration compensation for services of active proprietors and firm members.

The 1935 payrolls amounted to only 21.6 per cent of the taxes collected by the stations, which means, says the committee, "that the tax collector received almost five dollars for every one that was paid out in wages in the 196,649 service stations in the United States."

RANGER QUOTA IN PARTY FUND IS SURPASSED

M. R. Newnham, chairman of the Democratic campaign fund drive in Ranger, announced today that a total of $403.50 had been collected for the national campaign in Ranger, which is more than Ranger's quota. The Eastland county quota was $1,400.

The funds received locally will be forwarded to the state director Saturday night, it was stated in the letter received from Newnham today announcing the collection total, and any donations can be received until that time. Anyone who has not been contacted and who wishes to contribute may do so by calling at the Commercial State Bank, where their donation will be accepted.

The letter from Newnham announcing the total, reads as follows:

"Attached you will find new list of names, addresses and amounts of recent subscribers to the Democratic national campaign committee, which is in addition to the list I have already given you. This makes a total of $403.50 that Ranger has subscribed to the Democratic national campaign committee, and I am happy to say is more than our quota, in view of the fact that Eastland county's quota is $1,400. However, we would like to do even better than this and we will continue to receive funds up until Saturday night, at which time we will make our final report, which must be in Austin not later than Monday morning. This is instructions I received from Mr. Roy Miller, who is state director or organization and finance of the Democratic national campaign committee at Austin.

Illness Has Effect On Woman's Rings

LONDON.—Gold rings that change color according to the health of the wearer are described in the current issue of the British Medical Journal.

The rings, fashioned from gold guineas, belong to a patient of Dr. J. P. Jones, of Birmingham. One is the patient's own wedding ring and the other is her mother's.

The patient was born in India, and was brought to England by her British parents at the age of 14. She never became accustomed to English life, and suffers from nervous headaches and prostrations. During these attacks her rings often turn the color of platinum.

Old Clothes Man Just Plugs Along To Be Institution

NORMAN, Okla.—Morris Tennebaum plays no favorites. He'll sell a suit or just talk about the weather.

It really doesn't make much difference to Tennebaum. He isn't too ambitious and he's pretty sure of his ground. Tennebaum is the "2 Hand" dealer in Norman, seat of the University of Oklahoma. He is an ex officio member of every fraternity on the campus. He probably is one of the few fraternity men in the country who belongs to everything from A. T. O. to Zeta Beta Tau.

It's all a part of Morris' business to know Violets, White Star of Sigma Nu, and Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

If a student hasn't any pants to sell, Morris will set him up to a meal if he's hungry, help him get a job, or even tell him that the American Legion is the greatest organization on earth. Yes, it even tops Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta and the rest.

Born in Poland, Tennebaum hung out his shingle in Norman 13 years ago. The same sign still reads "2 Hand Clothing."

He purchases snappy clothing off the backs of college boys. What isn't resold in Norman is taken to Oklahoma City and sold to negroes.

"Funny thing," he grins. "College boys and colored gentlemen have identical tastes in clothing. That's why a college boy's pants sell better where colored gentlemen are likely to see it."

Well-wishers have told Tennebaum that he should expand his business. Didn't he come to this country without a dime, and wasn't he fairly prosperous now? Then why not branch out?

He just grins and replies: "No, I'm just a little guy. None of the other stores cares about me. If I go and expand then they'll be watching me. The bigger you get, the harder it is to stay on top. No, thanks; guess I'll just plug along."

Other "2 Hand" dealers have come and gone, all unable to break Tennebaum's monopoly. The college boys just don't patronize anybody else.

Tennebaum used to invade the holy sanctum of secret football practice daily—on a pass. But a couple of years ago, Major Lawrence M. (Biff) Jones instituted his football new deal at Oklahoma. Regrettably officials told Morris that not a soul but players, the coaches and newspapermen would be permitted inside.

EAR HAS 1,188 KERNELS

BELLE PLAIN, Iowa—Frank Stok, a farmer near here, claims the world's record for the largest ear of corn this year. Stok picked one ear from his 60-acre field which measures 14 1-2 inches long and 8 1-2 inches in circumference. It had 1,188 kernels.

HE MADE A TEN-YEAR TEST WITH ALL-BRAN

Say good-bye to the headaches, the low spirits, the sleeplessness that often follow common constipation. Just read this letter:

"In 1926, I started using ALL-BRAN. And now, after ten years, during which I have put Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to a long, hard test, I am writing you this letter. It is better to eat this food and be in condition, than to resort to laxatives."

Bernard Altman, 63 Goodale Road, Mattapan, Mass.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will help you too. Its "bulk" absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Tests prove it is safe and effective.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Either as a cereal, or in recipes. How much better to use this food than to take patent medicines. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Australia Asks For A Baseball Tour

By United Press
SYDNEY—The New South Wales Baseball Association has decided to take advantage of Australia's celebration of its 150th anniversary in 1938 to make the nation completely baseball conscious by inviting two professional baseball teams from the United States for a series of games here.

Negotiations have been opened both with the anniversary committee and with the National League in the United States.

While the state has expressed willingness to help the project financially, it will be up to the Baseball Association to make the series such an event in Australia life that even the bushmen will soon be playing baseball.

The proposal to the National League embraces a tour by team of front-rank players. It may be decided necessary and desirable to insure the financial success of the venture by playing a series of exhibition games at Honolulu and in Japan before reaching Australia.

Questions that Some Folks Ask About Cardui Benefit For Mal-Nutrition

Thousands of women testify Cardui has helped them to overcome mal-nutrition and to ease many of the functional pains of menstruation.

"What is meant by 'helping to overcome malnutrition'?"

Cardui contains extracts of two plants which are classed among the "bitters" in medicine because they are known to increase the flow of digestive juices—to improve digestion—so there is craving for sufficient food for the body's needs, and by their action more energy (or strength) is obtained from the food eaten. This food, of course, brings the additional strength, but Cardui serves as the means to this end, by its good influence on the digestive system.

Game Broadcasts Saturday Will Be Of Much Interest

An interesting Saturday afternoon is in prospect for radio followers of Southwest Conference football. Three games, engaging six of the seven Conference teams are scheduled for broadcasting under the sponsorship of the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

Leading the list, because the Aggies lead the league, is the game between Texas A. & M. and the University of Arkansas to be played on Kyle Field at College Station. The Aggie conference record, and for that matter, non-second, they came from behind to win from Baylor, 14-10. Always dangerous, and now smarting under inter-sectional reverses on successive Saturdays at the conference, too, is unblemished except for the tie game with Baylor at Waco last Saturday. Previously, the Aggies had vanquished Rice, 3-0, and T.C.U., 18-7 showing impressive form. Arkansas has only played two conference games; in one of these the Razorbacks came off second best, by a touchdown, to T.C.U., and in the hands of George Washington and Louisiana State University, the Razorbacks will bring all their heavy artillery to bear in an effort to blast the Aggies from the top of the heap. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30. The Humble Company's broadcast will start ten minutes earlier, at 2:20 with Kern Tipton handling play-by-play, and Bilo Hightower the colorator. Stations KPRC, Houston; WF AA-WBAP, Dallas, Ft. Worth; WOAL, San Antonio, KRGV, Waco.

In the second game of the afternoon, Southern Methodist University makes its first conference

The grim, terrifying threat of the noose casts its gruesome shadow over the love of Tom Brown and Frances Drake, remembered for their roles in "And Sudden Death," and now featured together in "I'd Give My Life," film thriller which includes Sir Guy Standing, Janet Beecher and Robert Gleckler in the cast, which opens TODAY at the ARCADIA Theatre.

start against the powerful Texas A.M. That's a muddle to baffle the most expert of the dopsters; only Saturday's game can clear it up. The Humble Company's broadcast will begin at 2:50 p. m., with Gene Wyatt and Cy Leland alternating at the microphone. Stations WACO, Waco, and KTAT, Ft. Worth.

Miss Mary Oyer has returned from Fort Worth, where she has been visiting friends and relatives. George Tucker was in Gordon on business Monday.

Miss Evelyn Gard is visiting her sister, Mrs. Russell Brown, in Abilene this week.

Miss Claudia Mae Anderson of McMurry College, Abilene, is visiting her parents here this week.

Mrs. J. Johnson of Abilene is visiting Mrs. J. D. Brothens and Mrs. J. H. Johnson this week.

the Mustangs have been nosed out by undefeated Fordham, 7-0, and have turned in an impressive first quarter win over Morrison-coached Vanderbilt, 16-0. Texas held the strong Louisiana State eleven to a scoreless tie and defeated Oklahoma, 6-0, only to fall victim on successive Saturdays to Baylor, 21-18, and Rice, 7-0. The Longhorns will be out to regain their conference standing Saturday, the Mustangs to establish theirs; the game promises to be a thriller from start to finish. The broadcast, under Humble's sponsorship, begins at 2:20 p. m., with Bill Ware and Tom Jacobs at the microphone. Stations KNOW, Austin; KTSA, San Antonio; KTRH, Houston, KRLD, Dallas.

The third game of the afternoon brings together Baylor and Texas Christian University at Ft. Worth. This is an old rivalry, made keener this year by the fact that each team will be battling to stay in the conference race. TCU after winning from Arkansas, lost to Texas A.M. Baylor, on the other hand, lost to Arkansas, but followed it up with a win over the University of Texas and a tie with
