RED ARMY IS PUSHING BACK NAZI FORCES

The Red Army reported today sustained counter-attacks before Leningrad and Odessa and on the Central Front had driven back Hitler's legions, sometimes "in panic" and with heavy casualties.

The battle for Leningrad continued in full force and it appeared to be the key to immediate military developments on the Eastern Front.

The Germans reported heavy artillery shelling of the birthplace of the Bolshevik revolution. The Russians said that artillery, tank and infantry attacks had recaptured four villages and had broken up a number of enemy units, including a heavy artillery battalion, used in the attack upon the City of Leningrad.

The Leningrad battle may hinge on other Russian operations, intended to relieve the defenders. On the front at an unspecified point the Red Army reported a successful drive, in which the Germans had suffered 7,000 casualties.

Moscow also reported that "more than 100" German bombers lay in ruins on the cliffs of a North Russian naval base.

The "V for Victory" Campaign Reaches Texas State Fair

DALLAS, Texas—The "V for Victory" campaign has found its way into Texas' annual extravaganza, the state fair.

Most of the gold keys which have entitled purchasers to special rates on opening day throughout the fair's history, "V for Victory" pins will be substituted.

Roy Rupard, secretary of the State Fair association, estimated that at least half of the 100,000 persons expected on opening day Oct. 4 would be wearing the victory pins.

"With the country directing almost its whole effort to national defense, it is appropriate that the State Fair of Texas adopt such a symbol, even if to do so we must suspend for a time the golden key that has become traditional with our opening day," Rupard said.

He added that in many respects this year's edition of the fair will be "symbolic" of what the state and the nation has achieved in the national defense program.

"It will show, for example," he said, "the part Texas is playing in the national economy, which is as important to ultimate victory as are airplanes and guns. It will show how our livestock and our agriculture can help feed America adequately in peace time or during world stress, and it will show how our commerce and industry are prepared to meet national defense."

The victory pins will be offered for public sale within the next week, Rupard said.

They will entitle holders to admission to the fair grounds, to the Queen of Queens pageant and coronation in the Cotton Bowl, half-price rates on all rides in the amusement area, and 25-cent credit tickets to Earl Carroll's Vanities.

Dove Season Opens On September 16; Closes October 27

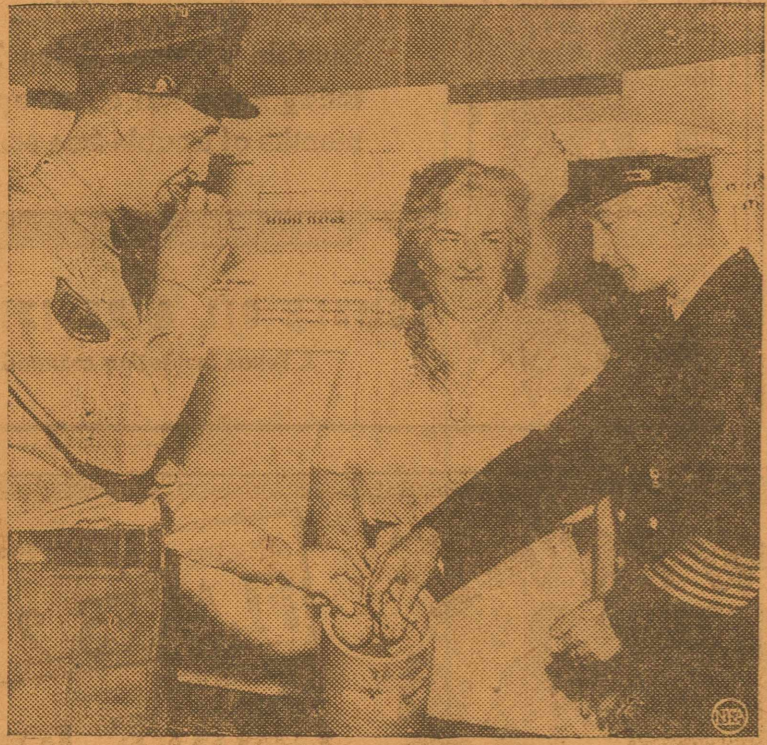

RISING STAR, Sept. 5.—According to an announcement made by Game Warden Ethridge, the dove season in this district will officially open Tuesday, September 16, and will continue for 42 days, through Monday, October 27.

This year's possession limit will be only 12 birds at any one time. These may be killed in any one day, but any accumulation of birds to the excess of 12 at any time regardless when they were killed, the possessor is subject to prosecution and fine.

As last year all guns must be plugged to three shells and this must be a permanent job. And another thing the game warden stressed is that each hunter have in his possession at all times his hunting license, if he should be hunting outside the county in which he resides.

From reports of various sections of the county there are plenty of doves this year, and they should be in good condition, as there has been plenty for them to eat.

Cookies—Not Cocktails

Mrs. Ella Christner, Montclair, N. J., demonstrates at Grand Rapids, Mich., W. C. T. U. convention her theory that many soldiers and sailors prefer to raid the cookie jar than rush the beer growler. Sergt. S. C. Harris, left, and Chief Signalman Frank Drake are willing assistants.

Lunch Programs Are Set Up By NYA On Many Projects

AUSTIN, Texas—Since November, 1940, hot lunch programs have been set up on 33 NYA Projects throughout the State to further the development of health and hygiene among Texas boys and girls, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator.

Kellam said girls assigned to local NYA Projects are planning, preparing, and serving, as a part of their homemaking work experience, hot lunches for young men who are working on other NYA Projects in those communities.

Each day young people are receiving these well-balanced hot lunches at two projects each in San Augustine and Cuero and at one each in Center, Lubbock, Cleburne, Granbury, Woodlake, Naacogoches, Colorado City, Coleman, Abilene, Brady, Austin, Sweetwater, Fort Stockton, Big Spring, Huntsville, Brownwood, Waco, Laredo, Eagle Pass, Palestine, Seguin, Crockett, Groesbeck, Palestine, East Bernard, San Benito, Mercedes, Brownsville, and Harlingen.

"Young men on these local NYA Projects to whom these lunches are being served," the State Youth Administrator pointed out, "are receiving work experience in basic manual skills—metal, machine, welding, and construction work—to prepare them for jobs in vital defense industries."

Defense Quiz Bond

Q. To conduct the Treasury's country-wide Defense Savings Program would seem to require a large organization. Is this the case?

A. No. Promotion of the Defense Savings Program is largely a matter of volunteer effort. State chairmen are organizing general committees, which, in turn, carry on the Defense Savings activity through other committees appointed in counties, cities, and towns, and also in social, civic, labor, business, and other organizations throughout all the communities of the State.

Q. When will Defense Stamps go on sale in retail stores?

A. Many stores already have placed stamps on sale, and it is estimated that by the middle of September Stamps will be available in a million stores.

Note—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

P.-T. A. Membership Week Proclaimed

AUSTIN, Texas—With school days just around the corner, parent-teacher officials over the state are making plans for the coming year's activities. In recognition of the work of the Texas Congress, Governor Coke R. Stevenson recently proclaimed October 13 to 19, the anniversary of the founding of the State Congress, as Parent-Teacher Membership Week.

Many associations are following the State program, "In Defense of Childhood and Youth," which includes the following monthly subtopics: "Home in the National Picture," "Education at the Crossroads," "Not by Bread Alone," "Vocational Adjustment," "Citizenship—Your Challenge," "Mobilizing for Safety," "Family and Community Health," and "Constructive Leisure Time Activities."

Other associations are following the national study courses, "How We Grow," a pre-school program, and "Defense Begins at Home," a home and family life program.

Many children are being benefited from the Summer Round-Up, the major health project of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The objectives of this campaign are to arouse the interest of parents in improving the health of children entering school for the first time and to bring about continuous medical and dental supervision of children of all ages including those apparently healthy.

Funeral Rites Thursday P. M. For Mrs. Marshburn

CISCO, Sept. 5.—Last rites for Mrs. Amye Marshburn, 60, wife of Bedford Marshburn, Cisco rancher, were held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday from the chapel of Neil Lane Funeral home with Rev. Leslie Seymour, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Burial was at Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Marshburn died Tuesday evening in a Fort Worth hospital. Miss Amye Gude before her marriage to Mr. Marshburn in 1902 was born in 1881 in Dallas county, coming to Cisco less than a year later. With the exception of eleven years which she and Mr. Marshburn spent in West Texas and New Mexico, she had lived in and near Cisco all her life.

Mrs. Marshburn had many friends in Cisco and in the surrounding territory, and she was one of the first members of the First Methodist church here, having joined at an early age.

Survivors are her husband and daughter; four sisters, Mrs. C. A. King and Mrs. Emma Ayres of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Josie Clardy of Houston, and Mrs. Sadie Dodson of Dallas; a brother, E. B. Gude of Springville, Ariz., and two grandchildren, Patsy Ross Barton and Don Reed Barton.

Four NYA Boys Get Special Training In Radio Technique

Four boys, who received training in the Ranger NYA radio shop, have arrived at Gallup Island, Boston, Mass., where they are to receive further radio training with the United States Maritime Commission before being given positions in radio work.

The four are Preston Rhoads, William Potet, Durwood Little and Raymond Blacker. Word has been received from the group that they are well pleased with the school there and believe they will like it very much.

Two other youths who took the examinations at the same time were underweight and could not pass the physical examination. As soon as they gain a little weight they expect to join the others in training with the Maritime Commission.

Old-Time Conventions Also Have Gone More Serious In Keeping With These Recently Troubled Times

By Harry Bengé Crozier
AUSTIN, Texas—Bankers of Texas, 250 of them, have been wrinkling brows over knotty problems of finance posed by new credit rules and other administrative regulations, in a five-day short course at the University of Texas. A few weeks ago a proportionate complement of the men who direct major hotel operations in Texas sweated through a like series of conferences over the administrative problems of our better improved rooming houses. Can it be that the old-fashioned convention made up of equal portions of oratorical fallaciousness poured in a convention hall before nine accredited delegates, and gallons of whiskey poured by the over-size drink in hotel rooms to ninety and nine accredited delegates, will it turn out that that sort of heart warming reunion will go on to join the old-fashioned saloon in storied memory?

It very well can if the present convention continues. For years there have been practical, working assemblies of farmers, housewives and even newspaper writers at A. & M. College. There is a spirit about the convention, though, that will be hard to put to death. No vacation center or big town convention bureau is going to abandon their activities. Nor is it likely that the old whoop "em up spirit" will ever go out of the robust breast of the man who is a regular at conventions.

Let us venture the guess then that the convention will survive; that officers will be elected, resolutions adopted and speeches made to empty benches—and that in some quieter spot these study conferences will be held at stated intervals for nearly every kind and class of human being. The new order of things seems to be general and to have permeated all of the warp and woof of society.

It was no new deal alphabetical agency that made advisable a convocation of the district judges of Texas in Austin on September 12 and 13. They are being assembled under the necessity of familiarizing themselves with the new rules of procedure promulgated by the State Supreme Court and acquiesced in by the State Legislature.

Several years ago the State Health Department instituted the practice of holding "refresher" courses for physicians in various regions. In these assemblies practicing physicians are brought down to date and given demonstrations in such subjects as maternity and child care.

World Do Move
There are sour cynics who complain that a man doesn't have time to attend to the ordinary routine of his business and attend all the meetings that are held mandatory. It is a cold, truth, however, that the stream lining endeavors of this day and age calls for constant schooling. There are new rules prescribed by this and that governmental agency but likewise there are new and improved techniques in all lines of enterprise.

In the words of the popeyed negro, hearing of new wonders, "Brother the world do move." Taking the grocery cart out of the cracker barrel and packaging the sugar and dried apples against the ant, and the fly and the loafer's hands, has become ancient history. The world is going on from there and it takes a heap of information passing for a man to keep up.

Safety Campaign To Be Carried To Accident Zones

AUSTIN—The Texas Safety Association today announced a defense campaign against accidents which will be carried into 13 high accident location areas of the state by means of regional safety conferences.

The campaign marks one phase of Texas' response to President Roosevelt's plea to speed defense by stopping accidents. The Texas Safety Association is acting as state coordinator in the nationwide campaign under designation of the National Safety Council.

Sponsors of the safety conferences include the state Department of Public Safety, the State Highway Department and the Department of Public Instruction in addition to statewide organizations cooperating in the safety movement.

"Thinking Texans share the President's concern over the rising death toll and recognize the relationship between safety and the efficiency of the national defense program," said C. J. Rutland, Association president.

"In World War I, industrial accidents were of primary concern to swift and efficient production. Today, off-the-job accidents due to traffic threaten defense production.

The National Safety Council estimates that the labor lost by American workers killed and injured in traffic accidents alone during the first seven months of this year could have built 20,000 fighter planes, or 50,000 light tanks, or 12 battleships.

"Because Texas already has become a major center for military, industrial and civilian defense preparations, there is urgent need to hold the accident front."

Cities selected for the regional safety conferences include: Wichita Falls, Greenville, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Waco, Bryan, Beaumont, Houston, Tyler, Lufkin, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, and San Antonio.

The thirteen conferences will embrace 120 counties which last year had a combined traffic death toll of 1183 persons. The toll accounted for 67.3 per cent of Texas' fatalities although the counties represented only 47.2 per cent of the state's total.

The first conference will be held in Wichita Falls, September 23, and will include industrial and traffic safety.

A feature of the one day conferences will be discussion of the new traffic safety laws by state, district, county and municipal officials charged with their enforcement. Interpretation and application of the laws will be fully brought out, Rutland said, so that the level of traffic enforcement might be raised in each region.

Public support behind the efforts of the enforcement officials will be moulded at the conferences through participation by local representatives of the sponsoring organizations.

Among the organizations cooperating with the Association are the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, Texas Police Association, Sheriffs Association of Texas, Texas Press Association, Texas Newspaper Publishers Association, Chambers of Commerce, League of Texas Municipalities, American Legion, County Judges and Commissioners Association, District and County Attorneys Association, State Medical Association of Texas, Texas Telephone Association, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Texas State Bar, Texas Good Roads Association, Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, Texas Motor Transportation Association, Texas State Teachers Association, Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, The Texas State Dental Society, Travelers Protective Association.

Cisco Business Concern Observes 60th Anniversary

The Red Front Drug Store, possibly Cisco's oldest business establishment, and one of the oldest drug concerns in the State, is celebrating its 60th anniversary.

The store was founded in 1881 by Martin & Yarbrough when Cisco was little more than a pioneer trading post. The building housing the business was erected in 1883 and was one of the few structures surviving the destructive cyclone of 1893.

Quarterly Security Tax Return Is Due On September 30

ABILENE, Texas—The next quarterly social security tax return is due in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue on September 30, according to W. G. King, manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Board. Each employer was cautioned to include the name and social security account number of each employee to whom wages were paid during the previous calendar year.

"In making this tax return, every employer of one or more individuals in work covered by the social security law is requested to list each employee's account number, his name, and amount of wages paid. This wage report with the tax money paid by the employer and the employee is sent direct to the Collector of Internal Revenue. After the tax return is checked by the Treasury Department, the wage report is then sent to the Social Security Board in order that each employee's earnings may be credited to his old-age and survivors insurance account. Wages of an employee are thus credited to his account after the employer's report is received by the Social Security Board," King said.

"In nearly all instances," King continued, "the employee's wages are reported under the name and social security account number shown on his account number card, and the wage earnings are added to his own individual ledger account. However, if some discrepancy turns up in the name or account number, there is difficulty in posting wages. This necessitates asking the employer to check back on his records, and frequently the worker himself has to be contacted in order that his account may be properly adjusted."

Mr. King explained that such annoyance and waste of time can be avoided if the employer and employee will take the simple precaution of seeing that the employee's name and social security account number are reported exactly as they appear on the account number card issued by the Social Security Board.

SUB IS SOUGHT BY U. S. NAVY SHIPS TODAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—President Roosevelt said today that American naval forces were hunting for the submarine that attacked the United States Destroyer Greer several times in daylight on the American side of the Atlantic Ocean yesterday. American forces were instructed to "eliminate" the submarine if they find it, he said.

The president said that the U. S. S. Greer was subjected to more than one attack in good visibility. The attack, he said, definitely occurred on the American side of the Atlantic Ocean.

"Eliminate" is a good word, the president added in granting permission to put the word in direct quotation marks.

The president, however, declined to discuss the suggestion that such action might bring the United States into an actual shooting war. He said, with emphasis, it was fortunate, indeed, that the destroyer was not hit when the submarine attacked it with torpedoes.

Meanwhile congressmen took the torpedo attack calmly with few believing that it placed America any closer to a shooting war than heretofore.

Reapportionment Again

There was a census in 1940. The Constitution and the laws enacted thereunder provide that the representation of the states in the national Congress shall be apportioned in accordance with population as revealed by each 10-year census.

When the census returns were allotted up at the end of 1940, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones reported to the President the results, together with what they mean for the various states. Some states stand to gain representation in future Congresses after the 1942 elections, others stand to lose, because they have gained or lost population since the last census.

All this is right and proper, since under our form of government representation should be equalized as nearly as possible. Congress always hesitates to do its duty in this matter. Up to 1920 it sidled into that duty by simply increasing the size of the House, adding members for states with increasing population, without taking any away from the others.

In that year it was decided to freeze the total at 435, and a good thing, too. That is plenty big enough, and some critics say it is unwieldy. Obviously, as the national population grows and the House is not increased in membership, members must represent larger and larger constituencies, and some districts must eventually be eliminated or consolidated.

Now, however, comes an interesting problem within the problem. In Illinois, a suit has been filed by State Representative Daly of Alton asking the state courts to prohibit election of congressmen from Illinois on the basis of the 25 congressional districts as they now stand. If the courts support Daly's plea, either the legislature would have to meet in special session and quickly redistrict the state, or else next year all congressmen from Illinois (26) would have to be elected at large.

The present districts were set up in 1901. There have been great shifts of population within the state since then, and Daly contends that it is unjust that, for example, the 10th district should contain 625,000 people, while the fifth has only 112,000. That would seem so obvious as to require no argument.

It will be interesting to watch this effort to force redistricting within one state in accordance with long-neglected provisions of the state constitution. Other states which lose part of their national representation after 1942 may also find some such internal action necessary.

There is no more excuse for being slack about equalizing representation than there is allowing the parts of a fine machine to grow rusty. Proper apportionment of representation is part of the machinery of government, and it should be kept bright and clean.

Ranger Pastor To Preach In Odessa

The pulpit of the First Baptist advertisement, stating that the store would be closed Monday was accidentally picked up and run in Thursday's advertisement. The Ratliff store was closed Labor Day, but will be open for business as usual next Monday.

Church of Odessa will be filled Sunday, Sept. 7 at both services by Rev. David M. Phillips, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Ranger, in the absence of Rev. John T. Kee, pastor at Odessa who is conducting a revival in Houston.

The pulpit of the First Baptist Church, Ranger, will be supplied at both services, Sunday by Rev. Frank K. Means of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

20 Year Old Boots Still In Service

By United Press
CAMP WOLTERS, Texas — Army shoes are reputed to be tough, but the boots issued to Sergeant Warren Givens in 1921 are tougher. He's still wearing them. Furthermore, they're good enough for "dress" occasions. Givens keeps them shined and polished for such activities as guard duty, furloughs, and visits to town. The United States is the world's largest consumer of sponges, the Department of Commerce says.

Kitchen Accidents Can Be Reduced Authority States

COLLEGE STATION.—Life insurance companies have figures showing that many thousands of deaths and disabling accidents each year result from accidents in home kitchens. To cut down on kitchen casualties, Louise Bryant, Extension Service specialist in home management, suggests a check-up to make this important room in the house safe.

A third of the deaths of children under five from home accidents come from scalds and burns. To avoid such tragedies, cook with the handles of all pots and pans turned to the back of the stove so they'll be out of reach of children.

Safety catches can be put on petcocks to prevent children from turning knobs on the gas stove; matches should be kept in non inflammable containers out of their reach. Canning in a pressure cooker and deep-fat frying are two of the more dangerous cooking jobs, so children should be kept out of the kitchen during these processes. "Be sure to cover your hand with a cloth before you lift the cover from a steaming kettle or roaster," Miss Bryant advises, "and lift the far side of the lid first." Here are other warnings: Fat accumulating under a broiler is a fire hazard. Long, loose, flowing sleeves are dangerous. Cook in short sleeves

World War 36th Division Reunion To Be Oct. 4 - 5

FORT WORTH.—The Annual Reunion of the Veterans of the Wartime 36th Division will be held in Ft. Worth, October 4th and 5th this year. Each year the veterans meet on Saturday and Sunday nearest to the date in October on which the Division entered the battle line in 1918. The reunion last year drew the largest registration in recent years, and with better conditions it is anticipated that the attendance this year will set an alltime record. Saturday, October 4th will be given over to registration, getting together assembly; a buffet lunch and the annual banquet and dance. All activity for the day will be in the Texas Hotel, reunion headquarters. Sunday, October 5th, memorial service and the annual business meeting will be held in the Municipal Auditorium, followed by the annual luncheon. The Women's Auxiliary to the 36th Division Association will meet Saturday morning at the Texas Hotel, and the memorial and business meeting will be followed by entertainment features throughout the day.

The Wartime 36th Division trained at Camp Bowie, Ft. Worth, and was made up of the National Guard units of Oklahoma and Texas. The Division fought with the French in the Champagne Sector of France and was officially credited with the capture of 813 prisoners, and munitions and materials of the German Army amounting to $10,000,000. The Division was in the line for 21 days and advanced 18 miles during that time. The present 36th Division, Texas National Guard, and the 45th Division, Oklahoma National Guard, now on maneuvers in Louisiana, have many old 36th men among their personnel, and those men are expected to add greatly to the attendance this year.

Occupation Clinic For Students Formed

By United Press
AUSTIN, Texas.—An "occupation clinic," a vocational service to determine whether the new students should become lawyers, teachers, chemists, engineers or whatever, has been set up at the University of Texas. Many have already availed themselves of the new free service which consists of aptitude and interest tests, personal conferences with vocational guidance experts, and planned courses of study. Charles V. Dunham, director of the counseling service, said similar tests which are given in private life would cost from $25 to $100. At least one other state university is offering the service for $10, he said. The clinic is sponsored jointly by the University administration and the Hogg Foundation, University mental hygiene agency.
