

All Club Delegates To Attend Clean-Up Meet Friday Night

WHAT'S... COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT We noticed in the papers yesterday where one of the big banks in Washington, D. C. had to borrow money from another bank before they could open up for the day's business.

Representatives from every Woman's Club in Ranger, together with representatives from the Lions Club, Rotary Club, Volunteer Firemen and the City of Ranger, will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce with the Garden Club Civic Committee and the Chamber of Commerce Civic Committee, to map final plans for Ranger's City-Wide Clean-Up Day, and set the date.

A cordial invitation is also extended to everybody else in town interested in Clean-Up Day to attend the meeting, and offer ideas and suggestions.

Mrs. R. L. Hamrick, president of the Ranger Garden Club, was to notify all Women's Organizations to have a representative at the Friday night meeting, and Rip Galoway, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, contacted the men's groups.

Due to a city-wide popular demand for a Clean-Up Day, since it has been two years since one was held in Ranger, the civic committees of the Garden Club and the Chamber of Commerce agreed to sponsor the project.

HOW MUCH IS $72 BILLION

Just how much is 72 billion dollars—the proposed federal budget for the coming fiscal year—in understandable terms?

According to the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, 72 billion dollars would make a stack of ten-dollar bills 410 miles high.

It would pay the combined wages of a million manufacturing workers, at present average wage rates, for 17 years.

It is nearly two and one-half times our farmers' total cash receipts for all the produce of American agriculture in 1956.

It is approximately twice as much as the U. S. Government spent for World War I.

It is more than one-fifth of our present national income.

It is $1,100 per American worker.

It is $1,700 per American family.

Spending 72 billion dollars in a year means spending $137,000 a minute for 24 hours a day for seven days a week for 52 weeks.

Lone Cedar Breaks By President

What's The Cost? How many times do you hear this expression every day?

Well, let's look at it this way: Have you considered building a cabin on Lake Leon? Or, any other lake? Our estimate is that if you have considered it, your cost ranged all the way from at least $500 to $5000, depending upon what you intended putting into the cabin, of course.

The initial cost of joining the Lone Cedar Country Club is only $150. That's all, just $150.

After that, you receive a monthly bill for dues, and club services. Monthly dues will be somewhere in the vicinity of $6 per month. At least, that is what is presently contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hinds had as weekend guests their son, Tommy and Miss Mary Ann McCann of Midwestern University, Wichita Falls.

as a man and his family, or a boy and his date. We read this stuff in a book, once.

President Eisenhower, still grasping for any kind of a straw that will save his neck, has sent out word that everybody should save more money to help keep down inflation. That is something we are perfectly willing to go along with whole-heartedly. And we are perfectly willing to start right this minute by saving seven or eight hundred dollars that Uncle Sam wants us to send to Washington between now and April 15. We will give our unreserved cooperation by putting the money right here in the Commercial State Bank in Ranger and saving it just as long as the president thinks it would be inflationary if it were turned loose.

The Pool Bill, which would have required a run-off in the present U. S. Senate election if none of the candidates got more than 50 per cent of the vote on April 2, failed to pass the Texas Senate by four votes. Twelve senators voted against the bill, and 17 senators voted for it, but 21 votes in favor of the bill were necessary for its passage.

It is an unwholesome thing and a dangerous thing when four State Senators can deny Democratic voters the right to elect a U. S. Senator with a clear majority over all his opponents.

How much better it would have been if the Herring Bill had passed, calling off the election entirely, with an interim senator filling out the unexpired term, until a regular U. S. Senator could have been elected under due process in a democratic country, in which the majority should always rule.

Introduce Better Government Bills

Sen. Doyle Willis and Rep. Howard Green, both of Ft. Worth, have joined with other legislative leaders in sponsoring the Texas Press Association's "Better Government" bills. Willis (left) and Green (right) have introduced legislation in their respective houses calling for removal from office of any elected public official who hides behind the fifth amendment and refuses to testify concerning the conduct of his official duties. Willis and Green are pictured as they discuss TPA's Better Government bills in Sen. Willis' office in the State Capitol building in Austin.

When you give your heart to a boy—

You're in for some trouble—when your heart belongs to a boy. Boys don't like soap. Boys scuff up their shoes. Boys make too much noise when they're home—and when they go off to school, leave a house that is far too still. You're in for a world of happiness, too—when your heart belongs to a boy. The kind of happiness that erases tears, shuts out loneliness, rubs away all kinds of aches and pains. Small wonder mothers love their little boys so very, very much.

One of these days your boy will be starting off to school in his shiny new shoes and fresh clean shirt. And he'll start learning all the things he needs to know to make him the kind of man you want him to grow up to be. One of the most important lessons for your son to learn is the meaning of thrift and the value of a regular savings program. And that's what the U. S. Treasury's School Savings Program will teach him. By the purchase of 10¢ and 25¢ Savings Stamps in their schools, children are investing in U. S. Savings Bonds on the installment plan. And, as you know, Savings Bonds are one of the best investments that any of us can make. Is your child's school participating in this important program? Why not speak to your principal, school superintendent or P.T.A. group about it? Encourage your child to buy Savings Stamps regularly. Start the U. S. School Savings Program in your town today!

Earlier Spring Seeding Helps Lawns Last Longer

Careful preparation insures smooth lawn.

Many an otherwise attractive house looks lonely because the ground around it wants to be a lawn.

The most beautiful picture ever painted needs a fine frame to set it off—and, even bare, patchy ground can be converted by a little work into a rich carpet of green to frame your house.

For a new lawn, an early spring start is the best lease on life you can give it. Hot weather is killing for both new grass and new grass grower, so begin preparing your lawn as soon as the frost is out of the ground and the soil is dry enough to work.

Even poor soil will accept grass, and its roots are soil builders. However, in these scientific days it isn't necessary to complicate your life with poor soil.

Most leading turf authorities recommend using mixtures of two or more grasses. In the northern half of the United States, mixtures of Kentucky bluegrass, colonial bentgrass and/or fine leaf fescues are best. Merion Kentucky bluegrass alone or in mixtures with bents and fine fescues make a superb lawn too. In the southern half of the United States generally bermuda grass and Meyer zoysia do best except in the higher elevations. Ryegrass makes a good winter lawn in the south, but is not hardy in the north. In the north avoid mixtures with a heavy ryegrass content. These usually won't make a permanent lawn.

Should you seed or sod? The authorities recommend seed. With sod, they point out, you don't get the advantages of a mixture of vigorous green growth for the entire season, greater disease resistance, and more beauty. Seeding is cheaper, too.

Good treatment, however, is much the same for all grasses.

The first step in sowing a lawn is to apply plant food. Three or four pounds of balanced commercial plant food for each 100 square feet is usually sufficient. Half of this may be spread evenly over the area and spaded under. The lawn should then be raked smooth and leveled before the seed is sown.

The remaining half of the plant food can then be mixed with the seed and both spread together, preferably with a fertilizer spreader to insure an even distribution at the rate suggested by the supplier. The seed and plant food should be raked into the top soil. To assist germination and the early growth of the seedlings, use a lawn roller or tamper to compact the soil.

To prevent drying out—which is extremely injurious—sprinkle the lawn area regularly with a fine spray. Warmth and moisture will determine the length of germination of the seed and cool weather could delay it considerably. Once the seed has sprouted, the soil should never be allowed to dry out until the seedling plants have established substantial roots. This could mean twice-a-day sprinkling, but it will pay off in a rich, even lawn.

A strongly acid soil is not conducive to good lawns. You can test for acidity with a simple soil test kit available at your local seed supplier. For safety, the soil should be neutral. Should a test show acidity, use crushed limestone as a corrective. Limestone also improves the texture of heavy soil and causes fine particles to collect in crumbs, permitting air and water to pass between them.

Just as cold weather can slow the germination of grass, extremely hot weather can dry it out. To prevent this, it may be necessary in midsummer to spread a light mulch of straw or similar material free of weed seed over the soil as a shading.

A LOOK AHEAD

This is the first opportunity I've had to talk with you this way this year, so I'd like to take time to look at 1957.

We at the telephone company are planning to make it a good year—even better than last year, when it comes to the speed, dependability, and value of your telephone service.

It's our feeling that our most important job is to give you the kind of telephone service you want and need—in 1957 and the years ahead. So if there's anything we can do to make your service more pleasant and helpful, please don't hesitate to call on us.

THREE FOR TWO'S A BARGAIN

Ranger people made more out-of-town calls last year than in any previous year—a fact which speaks well of the value of our Long Distance service.

Many of you who made these calls realized big savings, too, by placing your calls station-to-station, that way, you saved up to one-third, because you can make three station-to-station calls for about the price of two person-to-person calls.

Here's an example of what I mean. You can make three station-to-station calls from here to Mineral Wells for only $1.35. Two person-to-person calls to the same city will cost $1.40. That's using the bargain rates available every evening after six and all day Sunday.

This year, why not call station-to-station when you call Long Distance? You'll save money. And you'll save time, too, if you'll always call by number.

KITCHEN HELPERS

There's a lot of truth in saying, "The kitchen is the heart of the home." It's certainly true that a homemaker spends about as much time in the kitchen as in any other room in the house.

I guess that accounts for the popularity of some of the wonderful new "kitchen helpers", like dishwashers, waste disposals, and freezers. No wonder they're popular! Think of how much drudgery these conveniences save the homemaker.

There's another "kitchen helper" I'd like to mention that's growing in popularity, too. That's an additional telephone. Kitchen phones save time and steps for busy housewives, and make it easier to keep in touch with friends.

Additional telephones for any room in the house are low in cost—just $1.00 a month, plus tax and a small one-time installation charge. Just call the telephone business office.

Fumigate Garden Soil to Control Root Knot Disease

COLLEGE STATION — Root knot disease can be controlled in garden soils by fumigation. Extension Plant Pathologist Dr. Harlan E. Smith says the fumigant should be applied from 10 days to 2 weeks before planting and soil moisture should be adequate for germinating seed. More moisture is required in sandy soils.

Before fumigating, remove from the area to be treated all plant trash and infected roots. Prepare a good seed bed as if for planting. Use hoe or plow to open furrows 6 to 8 inches deep and 12 inches apart. Apply the fumigant from a fruit jar. Two holes should be punched in the jar lid, one to let in air and the other for distributing the fumigant. Make the application by walking along the open furrow and dribbling the fumigant into the bottom of the furrow. Smith advises covering the furrow immediately to prevent loss of the fumigant gases.

He says a pint of the material should cover about 150 feet of row space. It is a good idea, he adds, to test first with water in the jar to determine how fast to walk in order to make the proper distribution. He says Garden Dowfume, D-D, Soilfume 60-40, Iscobrome 40 and Bromofume 40 are all effective as garden fumigants.

Severe injury may result if the fumigant application is made closer than two feet to growing plant roots. Keep the material out of the eyes and mouth and should it be accidentally spilled on the hands or clothing, remove it immediately with soap and water or kerosene, cautions Smith.

Since such warm weather crops as tomatoes, peas, cucumbers and okra are more susceptible to root knot damage, the specialist suggests fumigating the rows where they will be planted. Finally, he adds, don't mix treated and untreated soil and use disease-free transplants.

Dad Grows Family Respect Along With Slimmer Waist

Vegetables fresh from garden are reward for relaxing hobby.

Not too many years have passed since the man in the house literally "brought home the bacon"—after shooting it in a forest.

Our ancestor was the "provider"—just as is modern man—but the old boy's family was a lot more respectful of the work he put in to keep them fed, clothed and housed. They saw him working twelve hours a day in the field, raising vegetables, and they heard the sharp report of his gun when he bagged some game for the table. The ordeal of keeping a family alive was a dawn to dusk struggle. The sons and daughters of the house could see that struggle with their own eyes—and, in those days, Dad was quite a man.

Earning a family's livelihood is considerably easier these days and—at least for city dwellers—it's usually done in an office, a factory or a store. Children no longer see their father doing the work that is translated into the food they eat, or the clothes they wear.

One way to reestablish Dad in his old position as the source of life's necessities is to put him in a backyard vegetable garden. Busy in the quiet, unhurried relaxation of gardening, Dad might also find himself acquiring the slim, trim waistline of his more vigorous ancestors.

There are few more satisfying experiences than harvesting the products of one's own labors and proudly carrying them into the kitchen to be cooked and eaten by one's own family.

There is unexpected delight in store for the man who, for the first time, watches a plant develop from a seed which he has sown. In its maturity, that plant is a tribute to the skill and patience of the gardener.

As he becomes more experienced, the home gardener will want to specialize in particular kinds of vegetables, pitting his ability against the obstacles of nature to develop a prized giant tomato, or the sweetest melons in the neighborhood.

One also has the satisfaction of knowing he is providing his children with the best food available—vitamin-packed vegetables whose freshness is undiminished by handling or storage.

It's more than probable that no other hobby could make the man in the house more popular with his family—and, that slimmer down waistline is something to consider, too.

Tax Bulletin Available for Farmer's Income

COLLEGE STATION — February 15, 1957 is the income tax report deadline for Texas farm and ranch families who did not file an estimate and payment before January 15, 1957, warns C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

Farmers and ranchers should not overlook the fact that certain livestock sales made under drought conditions need not be reported in taxable income provided the animals are to be replaced within one year, says Bates. An extension of this 12-month provision may be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue if drouth conditions continue, he adds.

Bates says all operators with a "net farm profit" of $400 or more must file a return and pay a 3 percent social security tax whether any income tax is due or not. Operators with less than $400 net profit, but over $600 gross farm income may use two-thirds of their gross income for determining self-employment tax up to $1200, says the specialist.

Landlords are covered for self-employment benefits this year provided they "materially participate" in the farm's operations, Bates points out. He says "material participation" may be determined either on the basis of actual physical work or through management decisions affecting farm and ranch production.

The Farmer's 1956 Tax Guide Bulletin provides information on tax credits and other deductions allowed farm operators. It is free from your county agent or the Internal Revenue staff. Also, suggests Bates, ask your county agent about a farm record book designed for income tax and social security purposes which is available for a small charge from the Exchange Store, College Station, Texas.

Driving Tips For Women

The old label "woman driver" is fast slipping into oblivion. Traffic experts say there's no doubt that 21,000,000 women drivers are gaining skill and self-assurance daily.

But it is acknowledged that many women (and men, too!) still have certain car-handling problems that keep driving from being the complete pleasure it should be. One of the biggest problems is parking the car, according to an article in the March issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine.

Don't try to parallel park too quickly, the article advises. If you back in too fast, you'll just have to pull out and try again. You can overcome your fear if you practice three things: Pull up until your steering wheel is even with the steering wheel of the other car, and your car is about two to three feet away from the other.

Now back your car very slowly, and cut your wheels sharply to the right and hold them there until your right front wheel is even with the left rear wheel of the car ahead.

When this car position has been reached, reverse your steering wheel sharply to a full left. Keep the car moving slowly backward and look back.

Smooth, tight turns are another problem for many women. On right turns, never swing left before making the turn. Be sure you stay in your own lane. On left turns, turn before, not after, you get to the middle of the crossing. This makes it possible for the driver coming toward you also to make a left turn at the same time. Women who make poor turns often do so because they don't know how to overlap hands as the wheel turns, the article says.

To become a better driver, practice is the answer. Find an empty lot, deserted parking lot, or a recreation field on weekends and practice two things: getting the "feel" of the car, and working out special problems.

Practice starting, turning, backing, or going around in circles, twisting . . . generally learn just what your car can do.

Then, work on sharp, tight turns. Practice parallel parking, too. And practice backing the car. But, don't expect perfection in an hour. Good driving takes time.

Kitchen Doodles—Party Fun

Here's a cute idea . . . make "decorative doodles" to perch atop puddings, pies, cakes, etc. With just one square of candy-making chocolate and 1-1/2 teaspoons butter you can create six to eight such doodles in no time flat!

Want a heart to show him you care? Like to use some loved one's initials, come birthday time? Well, once you get the hang of this chocolate doodling you'll be able to make these, and you'll further be inspired to dream up an appropriate doodle for each guest—say a number "8" for the guy who's behind the eight ball, or a musical clef for a singer!

Chocolate Doodles
1 square candy-making chocolate
1-1/2 teaspoons butter

Melt chocolate and butter together over hot water. Remove from heat. Pour from tip of teaspoon in thin stream onto waxed paper in lacy patterns. Make circles, squares, hearts, or any other desired designs. Chill in refrigerator 10 to 15 minutes. Lift from waxed paper with knife or spatula. Arrange as garnishes on chilled pudding, ice cream, chiffon pie, or frosted cake.

Or pour chocolate directly on top of pudding, pie, ice cream, or frosted cake and chill in refrigerator until chocolate is set. Makes 6 to 8 doodles, about 2 inches in diameter.

Should Child's Homework Be Abolished?

Is homework so unimportant that it should be abolished in favor of more time for varied "out-of-school" activities? Or, is "in-school" time so limited that homework is necessary for a complete education?

This problem of homework is not a new one, and there is no easy solution. Oren Arnold, writing in the March issue of Better Homes and Gardens magazine, says homework should be abolished. He is the father of four girls, author of books and articles, and is active in parent-teacher organizations and civic groups in Phoenix, Ariz.

Disagreeing in the magazine article are Norma E. Cutts, Ph.D., and Nicholas Moseley, Ph. D., nationally known educators and co-authors of several books on school and home relations with children. They say there are many advantages to be gained from homework, but it shouldn't be overdone.

Arnold says school children are forced to put in a full day at school plus a heavy stint of brain-work after normal work hours. Homework in the evening forces the child to hibernate in his room, missing much of the most valuable education of all—successful family living.

He says it is much more important for a girl to learn to bake a cake, practice sewing, loaf, and, as he puts it, "sample life as it's going to be in her adult years."

The schools themselves are not as much to blame as overzealous teachers, according to Arnold. In the article, he says, "We, the parents must insist that the teachers demand study during the school hours allotted for it, and in reasonable amounts."

The two educators agree in part with Arnold. There's such a thing as too much homework, they say in the article. Teachers in many schools haven't organized a system for making assignments reasonable.

Parents shouldn't worry too much about a youngster wearing himself out. His workday is not like his father's, Drs. Cutts and Moseley point out. The youngster has more breaks, more variety, and a good deal of time devoted to play. And, children have vacations at Christmas, in the spring, and three months in the summer.

"When you consider all these points, you'll probably agree that a high-school student can put in 40 hours a week on schoolwork and still have time for family life and for contacts with friends, the hobbies, the outdoor exercise, and the sleep he needs," they state.

Another point in favor of homework, noted by the educators, is that a student who wants to attend college must do a considerable amount of homework, not only to meet the demands for admission, but also to prove that he can learn by himself.

"If he isn't used to homework, he'll be lost in college," they say. "Homework within reason offers many benefits. It affords the student opportunities that are not available in limited study periods in school. He can savor at leisure a good novel that has been assigned. He can read widely and increase his knowledge of life and the world. He can conduct a months-long experiment requiring creative observation. He can assume the responsibility for planning and carrying out a long-term study, and learn from experience how fatal it is to leave things to the last minute. He can explore a particular interest deeply and thoroughly, and get a head start on his life's specialty."

To gain these benefits, and still not overload the students with homework, Drs. Cutts and Moseley recommended in the article, councils of parents, teachers, and students to adopt a policy for fair assignment of out-of-school work.

Why Should I Have An Abstract?

... is a question that all abstracters have a ready answer for. When the ownership of real estate enters your business life, title problems also enter. Buying, selling, mortgaging or otherwise conveying, demand title information. You get that information from the abstract, the only means yet devised which reflects the condition of the record title which has everything to do with the question of values. If you buy only good titles based on the abstract you will have few, if any, title problems.

Number Of Locations Made In County Area

Oil activity in Eastland County was on the increase during the past few days, with a number of new locations being staked.

Bartlett Petroleum Co. of Cisco has staked the No. 1-B A. L. Cozart in the Jo Kiel Caddo field six miles southwest of Cisco on an 80-acre lease. Location is 1670 feet from the north line and 2330 feet from the west line of Section 92, Block 3, H&TC Survey. Proposed depth is 3200 feet with rotary.

In the same field KLB Oil Corp. of Wichita Falls has staked two new tries. They are the No. 2 and 3 H. J. Hamilton "B". Proposed depth of both wells is 3000 feet with rotary. Location of the No. 2 try is 330 feet from the south line and 1630 feet from the east line of Section 91, Block 3, H&TC Survey, six miles southwest of Cisco. The No. 3 location is 330 feet from the south and west lines of the south-east fourth of Section 91, Block 3, H&TC Survey.

KLB Oil Corp.'s No. 2 F. E. Clark is spotted six miles south of Cisco on a 320 acre lease. Proposed depth is 3700 feet with rotary. Two miles northeast of Caddo on a 640 acre lease W. J. Gourley of Graham has staked the No. 4 J. M. Ward Estate. Location is 2018 feet from the south line and 660 feet from the west line of Section 19, Block 4, T&P Survey.

THIRSTY TOWN SAVED

Water-short Chanute, Kan., is meeting the crisis by re-using 50 to 60 per cent of its sewage works effluent, according to Engineering News Record, McGraw-Hill publication. The city's sewage treatment plant reportedly puts out an effluent of better quality than its receiving water. City officials credit the plan as a big factor in keeping the population of over 10,000 supplied with water.

Proposed depth is 2800 feet with casing tools.

L. A. Thomson of Cisco has staked the No. 1 Bernie McCrea as a wildcat try eight miles north of Cisco on a 160 acre lease. Location is 3050 feet east then 2450 feet north of the northeast corner of Section 385, SPRR, but in John Stephenson Survey, Stephens County. Proposed depth is 4200 feet with rotary.

Steps To Better Family Health

Every family can take steps to insure better physical and mental health in 1957, according to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life specialist. It will mean financial savings as well as happier living.

The specialist suggests seven important factors to check: good nutrition, sanitation, regular health examinations, immunization, exercise, rest and recreation, an adequate home health center, and a means of achieving the state of radiant health which is the result of complete physical, social and mental well being.

An accepted guide for good nutrition is the Texas Food Standard. Family attitudes toward food and pleasant meal-time atmosphere are as important as kind and amount of food eaten.

Sanitation includes a healthful water supply, safe sewage and garbage disposal cleanlines around the barn and home, as well as clean milk free from bacteria.

Regular health examinations for mother and father as well as the children are one of the most important steps in improving family health. The family physician can advise about immunization against contagious and infectious diseases.

Exercise, rest and recreation is a fifth step. The important thing, is to build toward a family attitude which considers rest and recreation as essential to good health and not a waste of time or evidence of laziness.

The sixth step is the maintenance of an adequate home health center. Every family should have supplies, equipment and medicine for the minor illnesses and emergencies that must be cared for at home.

Texas Tech Prof Says Safety Belts Needed On Cars

LUBBOCK—A Texas Tech assistant professor of psychology urges compulsory safety belts for all vehicles.

Dr. Herbert M. Greenberg has more than a casual interest in seeing the belts installed. He was a passenger in an automobile accident recently in which one person was killed and he and three others injured.

"Had we been wearing safety belts none of us would have been hurt," Dr. Greenberg said.

"Col. John Paul Stapp, who has been doing rocket sled experiments at Holloman A.F.B., N. M., has proved that the human body can survive the impact of a crash equal to two cars moving 660 miles per hour and smashing headlong," he continued. "This would mean you could drive at speeds up to 120 miles per hour, crash into a tree and still walk away from the wreck—provided you were wearing a safety belt."

Greenberg points out that airlines have made safety belts compulsory equipment for almost as long as air transportation has been available.

"It's no more dictatorial or undemocratic to require safety belts than it is to require a driver's license, good brakes, or a safety inspection sticker," he commented. "If you can't afford to drive a car, you can't afford not to have safety belts."

"In Texas," he said, "it would not require major legislation to make safety belts mandatory. We already have a safety inspection sticker law. It would be a simple matter to make the safety belt one of the check points before a safety sticker is issued."

 The prayer meetings for the revival will be conducted on Thursday and Friday evening at 7:30. Thursday night meetings: Wilson Guest, 808 Cherry; H. A. Shockey, 421 So. Hodges and G. C. McGowen, 303 Blundell.

 "The effective, fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much." We need those prayers, and we need the people to help us in the services. Plan now to come and assist in this important meeting.
 Morning services at 7:15 to 7:50 a.m. with breakfast being served from 6:50 to 7:10. Come ready for work, school, and to eat and worship.
 The Revival begins Sunday, March 17 and closes March 24. Evangelist Elmer Dunham will do the preaching and Jesse Sutton will lead the music. Evening services are at 7:30.
 Plan now to bring your family and worship with us. The Nursery will be open for the children under 4 years of age.
