NEWS * NOTES * BRIEFS

BIRTHDAYS ARE special days for residents of Western Manor and March finds two residents looking forward to their own birthdays - Jack McEyer will observe a birthday on March 24 and Mrs. Sadie Navakovich on March 29.

TO PITTSBURG - Coach and Mrs. Gerald Cumpston moved during the weekend, following his resignation, effective at the end of the week. They have a host of friends in Ranger who wish for them much happiness and success in their new home.

AT HOME, 414 S. Marston St. - Mrs. TOLLIE Norton moved from Hwy 80 E. bringing her house with her to above location. A long-time resident of Ranger, it is all familiar territory to her, but she is busy as the proverbial bee, betting everything back in place.

POSTIVELY the last time around for purchase of candy on sale by members of Ranger Bulldog band, according to Band Director Sam Burnes; if your diet doesn't happen to include this delicious, caloried-laden confection, why not brand yourself as a gracious hostess by storing some in the freezer for unexpected guests?

MEASLES SEASON is here according to report stating that on Tuesday, this most unpopular childhood ailment was responsible for 28 absences at Hodges Oak School.

M R S. VONCIL HOPPER, formerly of Ranger and now of Austin, was on hand for the Appeals Court hearing at the Capitol Tuesday.

IF YOU LIKE statistics, you'll enjoy this reprint from Editor B. A. Butler's Rising Star column:

If someone, able to do so were to offer you one billion dollars in cash on condition that you count the money dollar by dollar, would you accept the gift?

Before you say "You bet!" consider how long it would require.

If you were to count at the rate of one dollar a second, and count steadily, without a miss, without sleeping or eating or taking time out for anything else, it would take you almost 32 years to count the sum. Of course no one could count that consistently.

If you counted for eight hours a day without a coffee break, it would take you about 100 years. But even that rate, considering the numerous and inevitable interruptions that would occur, would be an impossible one. And even if you could live long enough to complete the job, you would have to have some means of support while doing it.

Now consider the national budget. Instead of one billion it is $220 billions, approximately. Says the Wall Street Journal:

"The terrific deficits so nonchalantly referred to in the Presidents State of the Union message, totaled about $20 billion in the next two years. It is difficult to grasp the implications of twenty billion dollars so just consider one billion dollars.

"If you threw away $1,000 every day for seven days a week in a year you would have disposed of $365,000. In three years you would have thrown away over a million dollars. One billion is a thousand million. So at the rate of $1,000 a day, it would require almost 3,000 years to get rid of the $20 billion? Or would have to start back a thousand years before Christ.

"Can you settle, then, for disposing of $20,000 a day for 3,000 years in order to get rid of the $20 billion. Or

11th Court of Civil Appeals Believed Saved for County Again at Hearing

Understanding Sub-Committee Given HB 92

By H. V. O'BRIEN
It appeared to be a first-round win as throngs of Eastland County and area citizens converged on the State House in Austin Tuesday to ask that the 11th Court of Civil Appeals remain right where it has been since 1925 — in Eastland.

By chartered bus, airplane and private automobiles, the very-interested locals were on hand at the 9 a. m. Judicial Committee hearing in the House of Representatives chambers in the Capitol.

And all returned Tuesday night, confident that the court "has been saved" again, although seeing the matter put into the hands of a sub-committee, made up of members favorable to the Eastland location.

The Eastland group's opponents put on a thin presentation for moving the court and, thanks to the impressive talks, demonstrations and the presence of the many who went to ask that the court not be moved, it was felt that the committee smiled favorably on the Eastland Court-house.

House Bill 92 was introduced in the House of Rep. Temple Dixon of Sweetwater, who was the bill's standard bearer at the hearing Tuesday.

He called by one witness, Bob Grisham, president-elect of the Abilene Bar Association. Dixon and Grisham said the court should be moved for "convenience." Committee Chairman Walter Knapp named these members to serve on the sub-committee to consider the proposed bill.

Raul L. Longoria of Edinburg (whose wife is a former Cisco girl), chairman; Tati Santiesteban, El Paso, (whose home city is the site of a civil appeals court on the extreme western edge of its district); C. L. Ray, Jr., of Marshall (who told an Eastlander, "it will never come out of committee); Lee Duggan of Houston; and John Hanna of Lufkin.

There were some question about whether to press for the bill to be brought out with a recommendation that it be killed on the floor of the House, with the hopes that this might help stave off future attempts, or just simply let the bill die a natural death in committee.

Late Tuesday this district's representative, Burke Musgrave, who showed little of his first-term rating in the handling of the locals' presentation, said by phone that it was felt that it probably would be best "just to let the bill die."

Interested groups went to Austin Monday afternoon by airplane and private car, and a chartered bus left Eastland at 5 a. m. Tuesday for Austin called for 9 a. m. the hearing had been set for a committee room, but was moved to the House floor because of the multitude of participants.

Surprised were the Eastlanders who expected to find a large group of Abilenians. (Abilene apparently was busy with their multi-million dollar bond vote Tuesday.)

Chairman Knapp opened the meeting at 9:05 and two matters were handled before the court question was raised.

Rep. Dickson made the opening remarks, stating that his bill was introduced simply as a "Convenience for the people who use the court." In the practice of law for seven years, he said that he represented a "hue and cry" for moving the court to Abilene but entered no petitions.

Citing statistics, he pointed out that in 1925 when the court was established in Eastland, the oil boom population was some 60,000 and the Abilene population some 26,000, so the court had been properly placed at that time, but now he said, times and populations have changed.

Eastland County has some 19,000 and Taylor County some 100,000 he said.

Going to case-load of the Court, he said that Taylor County files 25% of the cases, and that the five "eastern" counties in the District (Eastland, Palo Pinto, Erath, Stephens and Comanche) together file about 18% of the cases in the west file about 82%, he said.

"Taylor County is more centrally located both in population and geography," Mr. Jackson said.

"What does a lawyer do when he goes to Eastland?" he asked. "There's no place to stay and there's no place to eat." He must fly into Abilene or Dallas and rent a car to go to Eastland.

"Half of the court's cases come from other districts. Of 625 cases filed in the past five years, some 300 came from out of the district."

"It's not a chamber of commerce thing," he said, "it's a matter of convenience."

Grisham said that the best interest of justice would be served by moving the court to Abilene.

Committeeman Ray asked: "What are the wishes of the

The Rangers, currently 24-2 for the season, captured the Texas Junior College Athletic Conference title by defeating Temple 90-82 in Brenham. The Rangers will go to regional ranked No. 4 in the nation and will try to up their season record.

Announces New Radial Tire Line

Horton Tire Co. Eastland and Brownwood, has announced the availability of the radically new Radial tires at their stores.

In announcing the new tire, Co-Managers Hollis Clifton and James McCormick said:

"The Radial tire is the first major breakthrough in tire manufacturing since the development of the balloon tire over the high-pressure tire. It's not just another 'improvement'—it's a brand new kind of tire, radically different in many, many respects."

As dealer for the Dunlop Tire Co., inventors of the radial tire, the Horton Tire Co. is the only firm in this area offering the drastically new tire.

The local managers quoted a top Detroit executive in saying, "The radial-ply tire is the most revolutionary change in American tires in many years."

Don Vieregger, co-owner of Horton Tire Co., reports that he has had radial tires on his personal auto for several months and states that everything claimed for the new tires, he has found to be true.

"This is not just an improvement on a present system, but an entirely new concept in tire manufacture," he says, "that is instantly recognized by drivers."

The 1967 Foods Show was a big success! There were 13 Junior and 3 Senior participants in the show. Miss Barbara Williams, Gorman, Senior 4-H club member will represent Eastland County in the District Foods Show, April 8. Other Senior participants were Lynne Pippen and Kay Green. All three girls earned a score of 90 and above thus received blue ribbons.

4-H members receiving blue ribbons in the junior division were Brit Ferguson, Cisco-Meat Group; Jeanette Jackson, Gorman and JoAnn Green, Cisco - Fruit and Vegetable Group; Brenda Browder, Gorman 4-H Club-Bread-Cereal Group; and Teresa Browder, Gorman, Milk, Group.

Receiving red ribbons in the junior division were Krista Henderson, Kathy Ripley, both of Gorman and Cadye Lee of Cisco-Meat Group; Annette Jackson and Sha Rogers of Gorman and Caryn Lee of Cisco, and Becky Miller, Morton Valley - Fruit and vegetable group; and Bill Farnsworth of Cisco - Milk Group.

Judging the event were 3 trained home economists from Brownwood. Contestants were judged on their knowledge of Foods Nutrition; their exhibit; their 4-H Foods Record; the days menu; and the exhibitors recipe.

The Eastland County Eliminations Contest was also held Saturday, Feb. 25, with 21 Eastland County 4-Hers participating.

Kid Pleasin' Meals was the title of the Vegetable Preparation Teams' Demonstration presented by Suzanne Harbin and Sherry Carey of the Eastland 4-H Club. The audience was made aware of 'Fall-out Protection by Misses Cadye and Caryn Lee of the Cisco 4-H Club.

'Oh, My Achin' Back' was the title of the Farm and Ranch Management Demonstration. This demonstration was presented by a senior team from the Cisco 4-H Club, Lynne Pippen and Sandy Ingram. The Junior Poultry Marketing Team Demonstration, The Incredible Egg Machine, was presented by two Eastland 4-Hers, Stacy Kendrick and Katie Capers.

Eastland County Public Speakers were GREAT! They are Tommy Lee, Kay Green, Bobby Ables, and Pam Claborn, all of Cisco. Tommie's Teenage Challenge, is a challenge to adults as well as teenagers. Kay Green's speech What I Can Do About Crime, makes everyone aware of the crime situation local as well as national. Bobby Ables keeps everyone's attention speaking about My Sheep. The Trials and Tribulations of Public Speaking were expressed by Miss Pam Claborn.

Sharon Steddum and Gloria McDonald made all aware of the construction and uses of the electric griddle through their electric Team Demonstration.

The audience shared the fun of OPERATION SUCCESS performed by the Gorman 4-Hers—Christi and Ricky Fuller; Kathy Ripley; Kris Brown, Danny Snider, and Krista Henderson. Also taking part in the Share-The-Fun Contest was pretty little Miss Nancy Copeland playing The Spinning Song on the piano.

Blue ribbon winners will compete for first place in the District 4-H Eliminations Contest April 8. You should have seen these 4-Hers in action Saturday, but if you would like to have a second chance, contact the 4-Hers, the local leaders, or one of the assistant County Extension Agents. These youngsters are eagerly awaiting an invitation to appear before club and civic organizations. Give them an opportunity to show you what they can do and what they know!

Good Physical Plan Important For Men Over 40

Many men over 40 fight their own physical fitness, says Today's Health, the family magazine of the American Medical Association.

These are individuals who assume that because of their age they are no longer capable of much physical effort. One of the greatest dangers to men past 40, says Today's Health, is falling into sedentary ways, either because of job confinement or sheer laziness.

The male past 40 is advised to do two things with regard to physical exercise—

If he is not reasonably adept at a specific sport—bowling, golf, tennis, or swimming—he should take instruction in at least one of these or some other form of physical recreation.

He should take an inventory of his physical activity in the course of his regular daily schedule. This includes physical activity on the job and at home. It might include such chores as gardening and maintaining the home, sports activity and what he is doing in the way of regular calisthenic exercises. Often these do not provide enough activity.

For the sedentary person who decides to become more active, a good starting point is walking. This means a brisk posture walk, holding the belt line level and raising the breastbone. Then in addition to regular physical activities start devoting part of the weekend to a pleasant physical activity like golf, bowling, dancing or swimming—something that is really enjoyable.

Fifteen minutes of regular exercise every other day is hardly enough to produce noticeable results quickly, but it is a good start. Over a period of time, nevertheless, its benefits will be evident. With regular physical exercise, the sagging, dragging middle-ager will begin to exhibit a total change in his meals more and shows more interest in his home. Even his physical appearance is more vital.

For the man past 40 who decides to begin an exercise program, a visit to the physician for a physical examination is advisable, to make certain there are no conditions that would limit exercise.

WHAT IN THE WORLD IS THE RADIAL TIRE?

The Radial Tire is the first MAJOR break through in tire manufacturing since the development of the balloon tire over the high-pressure tire. It's not just another 'improvement' — it's a brand new kind of tire. Radically different in many, many respects.

And the difference is immediately noticeable to you the driver.

Invented by the Dunlop Tire Co., the radial idea is presently being adopted by every major tire manufacturer. Chances are that it will be standard equipment on all new autos in less than five years.

To the consumer, what can Radials mean?

50 per cent more tread life than today's conventional tires.

About ten percent more gas mileage.

Quicker steering response.

Improved traction on wet roads.

Greater safety at super-highway speeds.

A 'surefootedness' on curves you've never known before.

Substantially shorter braking stops, and less risk of skidding?

Price for all this? About equal to a premium tire.

A top Detroit executive has said: "The radial-ply tire is the most revolutionary change in American tires in many years."

In construction, how does the Radial differ to the tires we're using now?

In the conventional tire, two or more overlapping layers (plies) of rayon or nylon cord run diagonally across the tire from one side to the other. This makes a rigid casing.

In the Radial-Ply tire, two layers of cord run straight across from bead to bead, and on top of them FOUR layers of cord or wire mesh run lengthwise around the circumference of the tire like a belt or hoop. This gives flexibility to the sidewalls and more rigidity to the tread area.

THE BEST IS SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE in most of the critical functions of a tire.

The radial was first produced in France (as early as 1948) and later English, German and Italian manufacturers began to make them. Sports-car drivers were the first to utilize the new tire concept because of the fine cornering qualities.

Many of the advantages of the radial-ply tire stem from the fact that its sidewalls are more flexible than those of the conventional tire, and its belt-reinforced tread is more rigid. When you round a curve on a conventional tire, its stiffer sidewalls don't bend sufficiently to take up all the stress; the tire starts to roll under a bit, and part of the tread actually lifts off the road. When you round a curve on a radial-ply tire, its supple sidewalls bend and its tread stays flat on the road. This means more skid resistance, better steering control.

The new tires are subject for special articles in the March issues of "Readers Digest" and "Better Homes and Gardens"

Having secured the Dunlop line recently, the well known Horton Tire Co. of Eastland and Brownwood is the very first in this area to offer the all-new radial tire.

You are welcome to come in and let Hollis Clifton, James McCormick or any of the friendly sales people demonstrate for you the many advantages of the new radial tire. The firm has a complete line of sizes in stock.

Court of Civil Appeals

three judges?"

Rep. Dickson replied that he had had no expression from the judges.

Santiesteban asked why it would be a concenience since there are no witnesses called in the appeals court.

Dickson said that it might cost the clients more when the attorneys are forced to come to Eastland.

Rep. S. asked about the landing strip.

"Yes, there's one but there's no commercial air service to Eastland," Dickson said.

Ray: "Are the present court's facilities adequate?"

Dickson: "I don't know." Dickson later called the airstrip "primitive" and added that while the court's facilities are probably adequate, they aren't as plush as those in Austin. "They could be a lot plusher," he ended.

County Judge Scott Bailey

Virgil T. Seaberry Jr. Making the local presentation.

Rep. Musgrove opened for the "stay-where-it-is" group asking all who had come favoring the present location to stand, and it was a virtual total stand-up as the Eastland supporters came to their feet from the widely-spaced desks all over the House floor.

Attorney Virgil T. Seaberry Jr. made the major presentation, and began by explaining the investment the county has in the court. "We've spent money improving the 11th Court, think that eventually someday, people would stop attempting to move it."

Eastland is the only small town that has a civil appeals court and it is certainly a matter of pride. Six of the 13 courts are provided quarters by the local government by statute, he said.

He explained how some $25,000 had been raised to rent and remodel a court for the 11th when it was established in 1925 and how through the years money had been spent, including a $313,000 courthouse one floor of which was given to the appeals court. The court's replacement value would be some $250,000, he said, and last year we went into a remodeling project at nearly $60,000 to centrally heat and air condition the court. The court now utilizes two floors in the courthouse.

Seaberry then showed that few of the state's 13 courts are located in the "center" of their districts. "Anyone can reach Eastland court from anywhere in the district in less than two hours," he said.

Quoting Dickson, Seaberry explained that in fact most of the cases are transferred in, then went on to tell the committee that these cases are generally heard by the court in the district they are filed in. From 1960 to 1964, there were 417 cases heard. Some 47 per cent were transferred in from other counties and about 33 per cent were filed Abilene and west in the district.

"Lawyers are not inconvenienced," Seaberry said, "because in the past two years, of 209 cases, 133 were from out of district, only 23 percent were from Abilene or west, with only 12 per cent margin."

"Why move the court for six cases?" he asked. "And further why should the taxpayers of Taylor County be penalized by providing facilities when adequate facilities already exist."

"We have hotels, motels and restaurants," Seaberry said, "and we've heard no complaint about them. The judges would be penalized if they were forced to relocate their homes."

"The court represents some $78,000 in payroll annual and 'yes', that may be a chamber of commerce matter, but it's a vital matter to the town of Eastland."

Chamber President Jay Staggs pointed out that the all-weather airport facilities are adequate and that the city takes pride in the court.

Rep. Longoria asked: "How far is Eastland from Abilene?"

"55 miles, and few lawyers appear before the court often than about once in five years," Seaberry answered.

County Judge Scott Bailey asked that the matter be put to rest for good, and pointed out a major "inconsistency" in the bill—it names Abilene, but it would be Taylor County that would have to provide the facilities.

Judge Bailey further stated that keeping the court in Eastland could be considered keeping a contract, in which the court was placed here so long as adequate facilities are provided. And they are, he said.

Ranger Mayor Morris Newham said, "We hope it never comes out of committee."

James Myers, Gorm a chamber president presented a petition of 105 names stating that a move would be "unjust."

Cisco Attorney and Chamber President W. B. Wright brought chuckles in the hall when he stated:

"If we followed Mr. Dickson's line of logic, we'd just have to move the nation's capitol from Washington, D.

C., to St. Louis, Mo."

Others testifying for the local cause was Virgil Moore, formerly of Eastland and now of Breckenridge.

While not actually assisting with the presentation, Abilene Reps. Frank Calhoun and Grant Jones were on hand, assisting Dickson.

Dickson had the closing time, and used it to say that would make the court suffer because the county can't afford it. "It can be afforded in Abilene." (Results of the Tuesday gong election weren't known at the time.)

The hearing ended at 10:10 a.m.

Rep. Temple Dickson

Extenson Meet Held On Monday

The monthly business meeting workers of the Extenson Department, First Baptist Church, was held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Henderson Monday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Lee Mitchell in charge.

Following the opening prayer by E. P. Robinson, Mrs. K. K. Kirk brought devotional thoughts from the 11th chapter of the book of Luke. Reports were submitted and a total of 180 visits recorded.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Robinson and Mmes. W. E. Herweck, W. A. Reuwer, C. W. Stubblefield, B. R. Christmas, Tom Lang, Kirk Mitchell, the hostess and one visitor, little Miss Johnson.

RISD Sidelights

On or before June 30, 1967 Ranger Public Schools will receive two new 48-passenger Chevrolet buses.

Gary Bauchamp, president of Ranger Athletic Club states they have $250 to donate to the high school athletic fund. This will be used to pay for 15 maroon sideline capes for use in track and football. They will partially replace the old grey hoods. On the back of the cape will be a picture of a Bulldog with the word "Ranger" in three-inch white letters.

Tax collections at the end of Feb. 1967 (both school and college) totaled $127,774.82, an increase of $9,717.41 over last year, same time.

Total enrollment, as of Monday, Feb. 27, stood at 618.

Circuit Supervisor Will Speak Sunday

A. Pate, representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y., and circuit supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, Texas Circuit No. 12, arrived in Eastland Monday, according to Eugene Sipes, president minister. He was accompanied by his wife.

They will assist the local congregation in their door to door ministry, and he will address the group Saturday at 8 p. m. and the public at 3 p. m. Sunday. Subject of his speech will be "The Heritage of Youth, Will It Be Good or Bad?" A color film showing how parents can assist the teen age with their problems will be shown following his talks, Mr. Sipes said.

All meetings will be held at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 204 North Dixie, Eastland, and the public has been invited to attend.

TOWN TALK

Even so, these figures are academic. They serve to dramatize an over-all picture.

The real significance lies in the relationship of the $20 billions to the earning power—the productivity—of the 190,000,000 people in this nation. Break it down to that level, and it is staggering in the amount of burden it lays upon each producer. It becomes a matter of how much in dollars and cents each of us is responsible for.
