NO CREDIT-NO BLAME!

IT'S THE innovative basis of a concept that could propel Eastland County to it FULL potential.

Quietly being talked now around county, and it's conceivable the that we might be receiving invitations the first organization to soon meetings. Perhaps soon.

From what we've been told so far, the hope is that the county's resources could be harnessed vast truly magnificent economic for a re-birth, IF all could work together on common problems and goals, WITHOUT blaming others for what has happened (or not happened) in the past, AND with no one (or any group) taking credit for the achievements in the future. The idea makes sense, and very well could be the method through could which good things be accomplished. It could be a boom.

We all have our warts, of assorted sizes and colors, character traits and our hang-ups, and if we could all work "within the framework" existing structures and of personalities, then we might begin to see some chances for the good. And it's understood that the input must be from every direction and include everybody.

Kevin Espinoza To Compete In The 1992 Houston Rodeo

Kevin Espinoza, a 13-year-old 4-H member from Ranger, will compete in the 1992 Houston Rodeo calf scramble on Feb. 17 in the Astrodome.

The calf scramble is an exciting part of Houston rodeo action, featuring Travis Tritt and Tanya Tucker as part of that evening performance. Kevin, the son of Rudy and Ruth Espinoza, will the animal project. Beginning with athletic competition in the Astrodome, the program ends 12 months later with topnotch competition in the Astrohall showring.

The actual calf scramble event involves 28 energetic youngsters pitted against 14 vigorous calves. Each youngster is committed to capturing a calf, haltering and bringing it to the finish line but only the successful ones receive $1,000 calf purchase certificates.

The certificate, donated by a generous firm or individual, is used to purchase a purebred registered beef or dairy heifer. This year, several companies have strengthened their commitment to the calf scramble program by donating a calf for each of the 18 rodeo performances.

The calf is raised by the winner for special showring competition in the Astrohall at the following Additionally, as many year's Show. The yearlong project is closely super-

Another criteria we're hearing discussed, is a standing rule of In other words, "no negatives." none of us could ever say, "We tried that once before, and it didn't work, so we shouldn't try that again." Instead, we'd have to say, "Let's figure out what we need to do to make it work, and do it."

What are some of the ACHIEVABLE goals that could be attained? We all need to think about that. With the national and state economy being what it is, it's probably an undeniable fact that we cannot and will not bring a factory of any consequence to our area to employ people any time within the immediate future. We cannot will an auto assembly plant to move in here. There are some things that we just cannot do.

the reasoning follows, But, there are things that we could do for good, now. Without too much of a stretch of the imagination, a number of DO-ABLE projects could probably be laid on the table in a short time by a number of our people. And these could bear fruit. It's a fact that there are talented people with great ideas all over our area. If these brain children could be directed, assisted and bolstered along, there's no telling what we could see develop here. And these could be "home-made" jobs and that's the best kind. How much better if we could see ten little businesses each of which employed ten people, rather than one biggy that hired 100. Stability, we need.

And another thing, we could very well be asking, "How could we help our exisiting employers achieve their own greater goals so that they in turn could prosper, expand and need more employees?" Taking care of our own, all agree, should be one of our highest priorities.

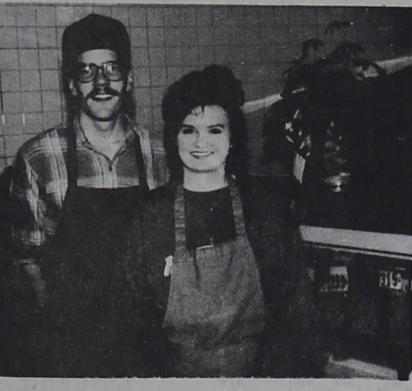

When asked for suggestions, one of the things that came to our mind was an EASTLAND COUNTY MUSEUM. have a marketable history, and We geographically ideal to attract dollar-spending visitors. Cerebral palsy is a neurological disorder that can cause spasticity, loss of coordination and balance, contracted muscles, involuntary movements, hearing defects, seizures, and in some cases, mental retardation. It is often not apparent until well into the baby's first year, and affects from 1 to 3 of 1,000 babies born in the United States.

That's the message on a plastic bag from a German pharmacy -- but it was an interesting ordeal getting to that point. Staying well on a foreign tour is a matter of great importance. We'd come out of Italy and exchanged our lire for DMarks, and it's a good thing we had: doctors medicine aren't cheap there and either. My minor frog-in-the-throat discomfort had been worn down, but Gaynell's bronchial condition was just getting worse and appeared to be a strip infection that needed attention. She'd really been miserable the last night in Venice so when we got back to Garmisch-Partenkirchen we decided we'd better get some professional help, before continuing.

We were told at the Gen. Patton Army Hotel where we were staying that we could "pop over" to the military infirmary and get help. Not so. After a rainy-day cab ride across town, we learned that "No, you'll have to go to the German civilian hospital." The military couldn't treat non-GI. Another long wet, ride to the other side of town to the hospital. It's educational.

You see the densly-populated towns, and eventually find the emergency room; fill out forms; talk to an aide; and wait for the doctor. comes; speaks little English, She except we make out that "No, there ambulance (clinic) service is no here." But the Army sent us here. "They should not. You must go to a specialist. I will call for you." She did take a quick look into the affected throat, and away we went again, armed with the address written. This third cab takes us to "near" doctor's office and branch more DMarks. Bank was easy but second floor office took some time and effort, in raincoats and umbrellas. And so, in time we were ushered into the immaculate office of Englishspeaking Dr. med. Jan Vohradnik, Allergologie, Hals-Nasen-Ohrenarzt, very professionally examines who Frau Gaynell O'Brien.

The bill? Well, he apparently did four procedures, each of 2.3

minutes (?) duration, each at a different rate, for a total of 136.12 DM -- just under about $100.00. We were given three prescriptions and directed to a shop, Brenner's Marien-Apotheke across the busy, busy street.

Very efficient clerk greeted us in the shop that deals only in prescription drugs, and health and beauty aids with heavy emphasis on natural products in the big choice over-the-counter items. She took our prescriptions, called the doctor to make sure they contained no penicillin to which the patient is allergic, went to drawers, took out (pre-priced) packaged containers, bringing them to the counter and explaining the use of each. A soothing lorenge, a spray, and an antibiotic, the price for which she apologized. Total: 144.75DM, just under $100.00.

Cab-ride back to the hotel, by now, dark, and in spite of the long, weary day in and out of the rain, medications eventually help.

And now it can be told: An Italian, either intentionally or unintentionally, un-endured himself to me back in Venice. It was the night we arrived there, and because it was cold, we were all bundled Church service was well attended at the Baptist church Sunday morning. There were several visitors, Bro. Joe O'Neal and the Henson's friend and three children from Arlington.

Darlene Turner of Levelland spent last week with her sister, Elaine and Don Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Heppy Jackson visited in Arlington with their daughter, Debbie, Danny, Cody and Cory Cox.

Mattie Donaldson and Linda Justice of Eastland and Joyce Berry of Cisco visited Friday evening with R. Lee McDaniel. Mack and Lavene Stubblefield were in San Marcos over the weekend to attend the wedding of Toby Maurice Burnett to Sabrina Leanne Cooke at the First Christian Church on Saturday, Feb. 1, at 7 p.m. Bro. Milton Burnett performed the ceremony for his grandson's wedding. Milton is Lavene's brother. They all enjoyed a family get together while they were there. Gordon White is home after having surgery at the Stephenville hospital. He is doing real well, and he and Jo are enjoying having his sister Merle and Ray Jones from Paris, Texas, visit with them for a few days. We regret to hear of the passing of Truman Been last week. He had lived in our community for many years. Our deepest sympathy goes out to Ardith, Mary, JoAnn and families.

Gorman. We had a real good singing. The lobby was full of singers and residents. Everyone seems to really enjoy it. Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Guy were her cousins, Ken and Hazel Kerbes of Calgary, Canda, and Earl and Mildred Freed of Carbon.

Dear Friends, I have been traveling over much of this beautiful country and have seen and learned a lot. It rains a lot and the roads are rough and muddy - for hundreds of miles.

It is fantastic how God works everything out, and it has been greathere. We have some good missionaries and pastors here. And I have been provided a pickup to use.

We are working on a church retreat center or camp west of the city. We have cleared jungle and construction has started. Missionary teams will also be able to stay there. I am living in a travel trailer some.

I visited the Indians (Maya) we worked with last summer and preached both services

Social Security

People born after 1937 will have to be older than age 65 before they will be eligible to receive their full Social Security retirement benefits, Glyn Hammons, Social Security manager in Abilene said.

While life expectancies have increased dramatically since Social Security was enacted in 1935, the retirement age has remained the same.

People who are reaching retirement age now can start their Social Security benefits as early as age 62, but their benefit amount is reduced. If they wait until age 65 to start their Social Security, they receive a full, unreduced benefit.

The usual retirement age for people retiring now is age 65. Social Security calls this "full retirement age," and the benefit amount that is payable is considered the full retirement benefit. Because of longer life expectancies, the full retirement age will be increased in gradual steps until it reaches age 67. This is the result of legislation enacted in 1983. later.
