R. L. Samples of Tail Twisting Fame Elected By Members From Six Towns

Twenty-five Lions and one visitor from five West Texas towns Monday night were guests of the Sonora club when re-organization of the group system, formerly in effect, was accomplished.

R. L. Samples of Eldorado was chosen group chairman and authorized to appoint his secretary. The next group meeting will be in Eldorado sometime in May, it was decided. Mr. Samples is one of the most widely known Lions Club members of the clubs in the group which he now directs.

The dinner meeting was in the basement of the Methodist Church with W. J. Fields, Jr., Sonora president, acting as chairman until Mr. Samples' election. H. V. Stokes was in charge of the program.

Five of the Juno Playboys musical group entertained with a number of instrumental selections.

Visitors were introduced and several spoke briefly after the dinner.

The new group president expressed his appreciation of the honor and reiterated his belief in the group organization as "the very core of our worth while existence as Lions Clubs."

Reports of activities of the clubs during the last few months were given by individuals from the various towns. All told of numerous projects completed. Boy Scout work, Christmas cheer, work for school children, sponsoring of stock shows and contributions to a gymnasium fund were outlined.

Shortly after his election as group chairman Mr. Samples was called to the telephone. The message was of the serious illness of his wife's mother, Mrs. W. E. Edgar, who died Wednesday morning in Houston. He left immediately. Sam Thorne, Walter Cork and W. E. Blanton, all of San Angelo, were instructed to write Mr. Samples of the group's sympathy for him in his sorrow.

Out-of-town guests at dinner were:

Eldorado: Robert Page, W. C. Doyle, John Rae, W. O. Alexander, Dave Williamson, Forrest Alexander, C. C. McLaughlin, Aaron Edgar, Cicero Smith, Henry Speck.

R. C. Vicars Sick This Week

Ill of influenza several days, R. C. Vicars, Sonora business man, was better this morning but is still confined to his home.

VENTILATION SYSTEM CHECKED BY FRISKY, WHITE HARE

A rabbit served as a laboratory subject for a Sonora business man Wednesday night and "came out of it" at 8:30 Thursday morning in excellent shape.

R. L. Hallum, Sonora Courts owner, has had seven 7-8-inch holes bored in each of the six window frames of every one of the cottages. Adequate ventilation is assured in this manner.

To test the "required ventilation" system a white rabbit was locked in one of the cabins at 7 o'clock Wednesday night and the gas heater lighted. As Mr. Hallum said yesterday "the cabin must have been up to 110 degrees when we opened it at 8:30 the next morning." W.C. Gilmore, mayor, was given the key to the cottage during the test. County health officer, Dr. J. Franklin Howell, observed the procedure.

Mr. Hallum said that a rabbit was used rather than a canary for the reason that the extreme heat would have killed the bird.

MEN NAMED TO ARRANGE BROTHERHOOD MEETING

Men of the Sutton community will meet Wednesday evening at the Methodist Church in the monthly get-together of the Men's Brotherhood, sponsored by the Methodist Church for all men of the county.

Preston Prater, secretary, said this week that the following men would be in charge:

Program: F. T. Jones, Boyd Caffey, H. F. Gilley.

H. F. Gilley, R. A. Halbert, V. F. Hamilton, Dr. J. Franklin Howell, Robert W. Jacobs, W. E. James, Alvis Johnson, L. E. Johnson.

HEALTH OFFICER WARNS OF MENACE OF DISEASE

Precautions by parents as an aid in preventing numerous cases of measles in Sonora were urged today by Dr. J. Franklin Howell, county health officer.

There is a case of measles in town now and it is likely, according to the health officer, that illness of another school child will be determined to be measles today. There has been one case of scarlet fever recently and in the Mexican district there are a number of cases of chickenpox.

Parents whose children show the slightest symptoms of illness should check their physical condition carefully in order that if they are ill they may be kept from spreading disease among other school children.

WHEN FIRESTONE, WHO DIED THIS WEEK, TOLD RUFUS DAWES HOW WORLD'S RUBBER IS GROWN

The death Monday of Harvey S. Firestone, pioneer manufacturer of rubber products, took from the American industrial scene a character who has been prominent for many years.

Firestone is Rufus G. Dawes, Fair president.

Although his Liberian rubber plantations were not established until 1926 he had seven million trees under cultivation in 1934. Tapping operations had been started on earlier planted sections.

Besides the trees at the Chicago exposition were life-like figures (one is shown in the picture) depicting the steps in gathering rubber in a setting of jungle life, its isolation disturbed only by wild bird calls and native chants.

Volunteer Firemen Name Junction Man As New President

Four of Sonora Department at Meeting in Ballinger Tuesday

Eight years old in December, the Hill Country Firemen's Association, made up of volunteer firemen of twelve West Texas towns, Tuesday conducted a business and entertainment meeting of the organization in Ballinger.

Sonora firemen who attended were Cashes Taylor, chief, J. H. Brasher, Jr., O. V. Mullins and Pete Andrews. The Sonora men did not take part in the contest, won by Ballinger firemen who were first in a pumper race, getting water through a hose in 23.4 seconds. Mrs. Mullins and Mrs. Taylor also attended.

Leon Powell of the Junction department was elected president of the organization which will have its next meeting in Mason. Ballinger firemen were presented service buttons for the years they have served their community as fire fighters. One, the chief, Chester Cherry, received a button indicating thirty years as a volunteer fireman.

Among those on the Ballinger program were:

The Rev. Max Wilkins, Ballinger; Miss Olga Juniger, of the State Fire Insurance Commission; M. R. Reid, State Department of Public Safety; Frank Williams, of the Firemen's School, Texas A. and M. College.

Bangs was admitted as a new member. Officers, other than the president, Mr. Powell, are:

Vice-president, Rance Pettit, Brownwood; second vice-president, Alfred Gromatzky, Eden; secretary and treasurer, John M. Hankins, Junction; chaplain, the Rev. Max Wilkins, Ballinger.

Sonorans who are members of the volunteer department are:

Fire chief, Cashes Taylor; assistant fire chiefs, J. H. Brasher, O. V. Mullins; president, J. H. Trainer; vice-president, Alton Coburn; secretary-treasurer, Beamon Speed;

Lee Patrick, J. G. Barton, Newt Poteet, Pete Andrews, W. M. McDonough, Jake Morgan, Bobby Allison, Matt Adams, Max Turney; Department mother, Mrs. J. H. Brasher.

Evangelists Badly Hurt in Car Wreck

The Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers Injured in Pennsylvania

Seriously injured in an automobile accident, the Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers, evangelists who were here last summer, are recovering slowly in a hospital at Brookville, Pa.

News of the accident was contained in a letter received last week-end by Mrs. E. E. Sawyer from Mrs. John G. Flowers, sister-in-law of the minister, who lives in Lock Haven, Pa.

The Flowers' car, a large sedan, skidded on icy pavement into the path of one coming toward them. They had opened a meeting in DuBois, Pa., the Sunday before the Tuesday on which the accident happened.

Mrs. Flowers suffered a broken arm, broken ankle, five broken ribs and numerous cuts and bruises. Her husband's jaw was broken, eighteen teeth knocked out and his knee cap shattered. The Flowers' car was badly damaged and the other one was a total loss.

Although the home of the Flowers is in Denton they have made it a custom to conduct meetings in the eastern section of the United States in the fall and winter and to come to the south in the spring and summer.

AL KINSEY, SONORAN OF 1912, HERE THIS WEEK

"Sometime I'm going to look up Ed Grimland and see if he still has my old fiddle I gave him to keep for me back in 1912."

It was Al Kinsey speaking in the NEWS office Monday morning. Mr. Kinsey, a Brewster county resident, lived in the Sutton section from 1906 to 1912. He stopped in at the newspaper office to say that the Sonora county and its newspaper did not seem quite the same with Mike Murphy and his brother, Steve, not in charge.

Mr. Kinsey smiled as he recalled about that fiddle of his. When he left here a quarter of a century ago he gave it to his friend, J. E. Grimland, who lives near Kerrville, to keep for him. Mr. Grimland had wanted to buy it, Mr. Kinsey says, but every effort to make a trade had failed for he prized it highly. When he went to the wide open spaces of Brewster county in 1912 he thought the better leave his precious instrument with his friend.

Baby to Ozona Couple

A baby girl weighing seven and three-fourths pounds, was born Tuesday in San Angelo to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, Ozona ranch people. The baby is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schwieng of Sonora and Mr. and Mrs. William D. Jones of San Angelo. The daughter has been named Jan.

Sonora Scouts and Million More Tell U. S. of Scouting

Nation-Wide Observance Order of the Week; New Patrols For Local Troop 19

Boy Scouts of America in Sonora this week are sharing with others all over the United States the celebration of the twenty-eighth anniversary of the Boy Scout movement which this year set a record of having on its rolls 1,129,827 members.

This morning a Boy Scout program, directed by A. W. Awalt, constituted the assembly in the high school auditorium. Last night the boys and several adults enjoyed a hike to the Joe Berger Ranch. Sunday night seven of the boys and a large number of other boys and men heard the Rev. R. C. Brinkley, Baptist pastor, in a sermon—"I Dare You," especially planned as a message appealing to boys.

DIRECTOR OF SONORA BOY SCOUTS DURING LAST TWELVE MONTHS

In charge of the work of Boy Scouts of America, Troop 19, Sonora, since January of last year has been A. W. Awalt, Sonoran since 1923. Mr. Awalt succeeded John Eaton, who was Scoutmaster many years. Assistant Scoutmasters are H. F. Gilley and Edwin Sawyer.

The Reverend Mr. Brinkley told his listeners that he dared them to

Sutton County AAA Work Inspected By District Agent

Applications For Sutton County 1937 Payments Nearly All Sent To State Office

The first Sutton county inspection visit of J. D. Prewitt, District Agent, Texas Extension Service, since he took that position last fall was made Monday.

Mr. Prewitt, formerly county agent in McCulloch, was accompanied over the county by H. C. Atchison, county agent. They saw terracing work that has been done on the ranch of Mrs. Velma Shurley, field and range terracing on the Ben Cusenbary and W. R. Cusenbary ranches and range terracing on the Alvis Johnson ranch.

Pasture improvement work, by means of Italian rye grass planting, was observed on the Cusenbary places and at the Ranch Experiment Station. The men also saw the 4-H Club lambs being handled by Harrell Turney Espy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Espy.

Only two applications for payment under terms of the 1937 range conservation program remain to be signed by ranchmen, Mr. Atchison says. Eight other applications were ready to be mailed Wednesday but were being held to be sent with the two when they are signed. Forty-eight applications have been sent previously.

Payments to Sutton county ranchmen for the work they did under terms of the 1937 program may be received at any time inasmuch as the required seventy-five per cent of applications from a county were sent the state office some time ago.

Roy E. Aldwell in Hospital

A report Thursday morning from Temple was to the effect that Roy E. Aldwell was doing well. Mr. and Mrs. Aldwell went there Friday and this week he has been receiving medical attention at a hospital.

PARROTS FOR ALARM CLOCKS . . . CAVORTING OF MONKEYS COMMONPLACE . . . SONORAN MAN WRITES

Several weeks ago an Air Mail letter came from Venezuela asking that the NEWS be sent to John Trainer, care of J. G. White Eng. Corp., V. O. C., Ltd., Apartado 19, Maracaibo, Venezuela.

In acknowledging receipt of the order the NEWS asked Mr. Trainer to write NEWS readers of life in the South American country where he and his brother, Jack, are working. The two are sons of Mrs. Rena Trainer who lives in Sonora.

The following account of the young men's life in Venezuela was received a few days ago. With it came the notice that their new address would be: care of M. W. Kellogg Co. St. Nicholas, Aruba, N. W. I. The story John Trainer has written for the NEWS tells of his going to the new location.

We departed New York City on the SS Carabobo, Grace Line, for Maracaibo, Venezuela, November 24th. The time spent on the water was fourteen days and such ports as Porto Cabello, LaGuaira, Curacao, Aruba, etc., were visited.

LaGuaira, the entrance port for Caracas, capital of Venezuela, is situated in the Andes Mountains at an elevation of 4,000 feet. On leaving the ship at LaGuaira we were greeted by a host of taxi owners, all possessing modern up-to-date American-made automobiles and for the sum of ten dollars in United States money a party of six made the trip from LaGuaira to Caracas and return, the trip taking about six hours, over tortuous mountain roads, where speed is limited to twenty miles an hour and many hair pin turns are encountered.

Wild Orchids Commonplace

The scenery between LaGuaira and Caracas is unsurpassed for rugged beauty, deep cut chasms and long slotted ravines. Mountain goats could be seen grazing at the edge of cliffs many thousands of feet high and wild orchids were growing in profusion.

On entering Caracas one is impressed by the cool air and the clean, orderly appearance of the city. All streets are paved and all modern city improvements being in use that are now in vogue in the cities of the United States. The absence of the familiar pack burro was also noted and in its place one saw the latest models of all American automobiles. The many parks and Plazas that abound in the city are filled with men dressed in neat, clean white linen suits and a person wonders who does the work while the men are arguing politics in the parks.

Largest Refinery On Island

On leaving LaGuaira we next sailed for the port of Cabello, the naval center of Venezuela where extensive harbor improvements are being made and where the fleet lays over between maneuvers. This is a lazy looking town and not very interesting.

Next came the port of Curacoca, the Dutch owned island that is a free port and a haven for smugglers from surrounding countries. Curacoca is a clean, well kept island with a fine winter resort nearby where many people go for rest from the tropical heat. The largest oil refinery in the world is located on this island and is owned by the Royal Dutch Shell group. Oil shipped from Venezuela is refined here for re-shipment to all parts of the world and a busy traffic in oil tankers is maintained to keep the refinery going at full blast.

Bargains in Free Port Town

The main street of Curacoca is occupied by stores of every description selling merchandise from all points of the globe at prices lower than offered at the home market from whence they came.

The reason for this is, that Curacoca is a Free Trading Port and no customs restrictions are enforced on any legitimate class of goods. All money is the same at Curacoca, no matter from which country, the standard of exchange being the Dutch Guilder.

Regretting to leave this island, we next set sail for the Island of Aruba, also Dutch-owned and occupied by two gigantic oil refineries, one on each end of the island, one owned by Royal Dutch Shell and dred years, but research men have found small quantities of many other gases in the air, all of which are necessary to the maintenance of life. Helium, neon and argon are the best known gases. They can be taken from the air and used for commercial purposes.

The latest discovery about air is that it contains a complex gas which scientists call nitrogen pentoxide. This gas seems to be to filter the dangerous, ultra-violet rays of the sun, which would make life impossible if they were not broken down.

DEBATE TOURNAMENT

A practice debate tournament was held Saturday in San Angelo with the following towns participating: Lubbock, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Slaton, Sonora, Snyder, Miles, Mertzon, Big Spring, Abilene and Brownwood. Most of the towns entered both boys and girls, and some them entered two representative boys' and girls' teams.

Those who represented Sonora were: A. W. Awalt and Myron Morris, the boys' team, and Serena Trainer and Mattie Mae Friess, the girls' team.

At 9:30 Saturday morning the teams assembled in the San Angelo High School auditorium where they received instructions. They drew for opponents to debate and went to the various rooms to debate. The Sonora boys' team first debated the San Angelo boys and

SONORA CHAPTER ACTIVE
Although one of the smallest chapters, the Sonora Pan-American Club is very active in its work. The Sonora chapter meets twice each month in the high school auditorium. Both active and associate members take part on the programs which are arranged for the entire year in the club's yearbook.

Club work as well as class work is made interesting by Miss Allison, Spanish teacher, who has studied in Mexico City the last two summers. Miss Allison has taught the members to dance the native dances of Mexico and to sing songs in Spanish.

Several citizens of Sonora who have visited the Pan-American countries during the last year have given interesting lectures on the countries. A lecture and moving pictures of the travels in South America will be given at the next regular session by Mrs. Lloyd Earwood. Besides the two delegates several club members plan to attend the state convention in Laredo March 18 and 19.

ASSEMBLY
Miss Duncan was in charge of the very pleasing assembly program last Friday. Miscellaneous numbers by pupils were presented. Mrs. H. F. Gilley presented Jane Neill, James Theodore Hunt, John Stanley Hamby and Shirley Leigh Adams in dances.

Margaret Schwiening and Doris Keene, pupils of Miss Marie Watkins, and O. L. Richardson, a pupil of Mrs. Jacobs, gave piano solos. Lavelle Meckel accompanied by Miss Leeta Mae Garrett sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" and "Sweetheart, Sweetheart."

Band pupils from the elementary school appearing on the program in solos were: Mary Burtle, George Schwiening and Willie Nell Hale. From the Speech Arts class the following students appeared in pantomimes: Mary Lee Heflin, Mattie Mae Friess, Lois Merck, Serena Trainer.

SONORA HI
Sonora Hi, I salute you,
Nestled behind the walls
In the Stockman's Paradise
Where Nature's grandeur falls.

When one first beholds you
With your superintendent and teachers,
He knows he's meeting people
Who the best prefers.

And your many busy pupils
With their clatter and clink
Seem to say, "Now, what's the matter?"
We have knowledge here to drink."

And the Campus so broad and clean
Seems to proudly say
Here the people know
What real sanitation pays.

And the students are fine and gracious
Just as friendly as can be;
Giving each a word of welcome
As he enters their campus of glee.

AIR
What is air? That is a scientific question which concerns all of us. Man can live only in an atmosphere adapted to breathing. Science puts it another way. Man is what he is because he is an animal which was developed after the contents of the atmosphere became settled.

Air is primarily oxygen, diluted with five parts of nitrogen. This has been known for several hundred years. The Sonora girls' team first debated the Slaton girls and won by a score of 3 to 0. After that the girls' team debated the San Angelo girls, and were defeated by a score of 2 to 1.

Those winning in the finals were the Lubbock boys' team and the Big Spring girls' team.

Flying Doctor Answers

Calls Sent Out by Radio
Sydney, Australia.—The substitution of the airplane for the horse and buggy of the country doctor in making his rounds has made possible a decided increase in the territory covered.

Dr. L. E. Odum, the flying doctor of Australia, who has based his airplane medical service on Broken Hill, estimates that he now serves a territory of 500,000 square miles, embracing New South Wales and parts of Queensland, South Australia and Victoria.

His practice has become so extended and at the same time so essential that the government has granted a subsidy to enable patients to call him at all times. Twenty pedal transmitting and receiving sets have been installed in various parts of the vast territory so that sick people can call him by wireless.

Wipe Feet on Gold
Philadelphia. — Philadelphians walk around on $10,000,000 in unclaimed gold, but it doesn't bother them very much. The cost of procuring it from the 15-foot vein of clay in which it lies would far exceed the value of the metal.

"THERMOMETER" RECORD OF SUNDAY SCHOOL PUPILS

Those who attend Sunday School at the Methodist Church are showing interest in a thermometer type of attendance gauge devised by the Rev. R. F. Davis, church pastor.

The "mercury" of the register rises a degree for each new member enrolled. The Reverend Mr. Davis said Wednesday that the Sunday School was "three degrees warmer" last Sunday.

At the morning service Sunday the pastor's subject will be "Have You Heard the Good News?" In the evening at 7:15 he will speak on "Our Substitute." Both subjects are of the series of sermons that is being preached about the life and work of Jesus Christ.

Earning His Bit

The plumber was working and his new assistant was looking on. The latter was learning the trade and this was his first day.

"Say!" he inquired, "does the boss charge for my time?"
"Certainly," was the reply.
"But I haven't done anything."
The plumber had been inspecting the finished job with a lighted candle, which he handed to his helper. "Here," he said, "if you've got to be so conscientious, blow that out!"—Edinburgh Dispatch.

1937 CONSERVATION WORK EXTENSIVE

College Station—The Texas A. and M. College Extension Service District 6, made up of 39 counties in West Texas, saw a big increase in range, soil and water conservation, trench silos and other activities supervised by county agricultural agents in 1937, the annual report of District Agent (J. D. Prewitt) shows.

More than 10,400 farmers and ranchmen signed up 24 million acres of land in the farm and ranch feature of the Agricultural grazing land to better advantage. More than three million yards of dirt were moved in building these tanks.

Deferred grazing was practiced on 1,235,855 acres involving 288 ranches. Prickly pear was removed from 323,200 acres of range land and an additional 110,333 acres were rescued from lechuguilla.

County agricultural agents supervised the construction of 288 spreader dams and spreader terraces on 77 ranches for the purpose

Scurry was second with 76.

The eleven 4-H Club livestock shows held in the district attracted the entries of 2,900 head of beef calves, sheep and hogs exhibited by 650 club boys. The animals were valued at $58,000.

Among the boys who won statewide recognition were Arlee Gowen, Dawson county; Charles Springstun, Reagan county; Garland Williams, Schleicher county; Tommy Stuart, Fisher county; R. R. Wilkerson, Dawson county;

Conservation Program and will receive benefit payments in return for conservation practices which they have carried out. The year saw 98,168 acres terraced and an additional 71,536 acres contoured on 1,308 farms and ranches.

In Reagan county alone, 2,388,000 feet of pasture terraces were constructed on 10,150 acres of range land under the supervision of the county agricultural agent. Ranchmen built 1,420 tanks which enabled them to utilize their of diverting run-off water to range land.

Prewitt gave credit for much of the work to commissioners' courts in a large number of counties where road machinery was furnished at cost for constructing terraces on farms and ranches.

There were 432 trench silos dug and filled in 1937 as compared with only 282 at the end of 1936. The silos hold 135,323 tons of silage valued at $541,000. Fisher county led the district with 80 silos, while Billy Kidd, Menard county. Each of these boys was awarded a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago for excellent demonstrations in crops, poultry and livestock.

Cotton improvement work drew considerable interest with 555 farmers organizing 11 one-variety cotton communities with a total acreage of 35,835. Other activities in the district included 1,070 swine, 795 sheep and 99 swine demonstrations.

Show and Sale Again Scheduled For Junction Fair

Maintaining of high tariff regulations on mohair as outlined in treaty terms with Great Britain was advocated Saturday when the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association members met at the home of C. A. Pepper, well known goatman, near San Antonio.

Fred Earwood and son, Armer, were among those who attended the meeting. U. S. Grant of Dallas, Ore., who has been visiting in this section several weeks was also there.

The consensus of opinion was that efforts should be made to induce manufacturers to label clearly all products as to the amount of wool used in their manufacture. This, it is believed, is more practical than to urge truth-in-fabric legislation by Congress.

Directors of the organization voted to hold the annual show and sale in Junction in August at the time of the Hill Country Fair.

Buffalo's Day Gone?

It wasn't long ago that the impending passing of the buffalo became a subject of national concern. And so widespread was the interest that steps were almost immediately taken to assure protection and increase for the comparatively small herds that remained.

And now even the effigy of the buffalo, the reproduction in nickel, the children's symbol of an ice cream cone, faces extinction. Its humped shoulders, its shaggy mane and head, seem likely soon to pass from the off-side of the five-cent piece. For twenty-five years it has stood firmly for sound currency and its belligerent attitude has sounded a warning against any efforts to pass off an inferior article for the amount of money it represents. And now it is proposed to chase the buffalo off the nickel with much the same ruthlessness that was exhibited in chasing it off the western plains. Poor old buffalo.

It has had a hard time since civilization caught up with it. But perhaps its departure from the face of the nickel may be partially compensated by the prospect that the last surviving "buffalo nickels," reappearing from time to time from hoarded treasure years hence, may command a value far in excess of what the best-fed and best-expected to get for his picture.—cared-for buffalo in America ever Christian Science Monitor.

Complexes Found Rising on Campus, Teacher Says

Berkeley, Calif.—Masculine ego is diminishing and is being replaced by inferiority complexes and other "personality" troubles, according to Dr. Sidney K. Smith, University of California psychiatrist.

Dr. Smith based his statement on requests for assistance made to him by 500 students of the university. He said that inferiority complexes harass 25 per cent of the men students entering the institution.

Some of the problems presented to him by students at the time of taking entrance physical examinations, he revealed, included: Lack of self-confidence, lack of interest in the opposite sex, monetary worries, inability to concentrate, self-consciousness, and inclination to daydream.

Dr. Smith said that a lack of balanced interests might be responsible for most of the students' troubles.

He pointed out that "many students have no social life, no hobbies, no particular friends and no amusements. Their whole life consists of study, classes, three meals and sleep. Mental disturbances under these conditions are extremely likely."

Dr. Smith at the same time praised men students for their "honesty in presenting their difficulties."

PIEMAKING CHAMP BOASTS MANY KINDS

Concocts 150 Varieties Out of Cherries Alone.

Toronto.—Monroe Boston Strause, at a salary of $100 a day, is telling a chain of Toronto sandwich shops how to make pies more inviting to the public palate.

Strause eats pie all the time and his waistline has not suffered from his gustatory exploits which earned him the title of world's champion piemaker. He has won so many pie contests and created so many new kinds of pie that he can't remember them all.

He claims to have originated "chiffon" pies and said he held the secret for four years before it became "public knowledge." He made a fortune out of the recipe while it lasted and traveled 30,000 miles in one year to show hotels and restaurants how to make them. He averages that distance every year.

Out of a job in Los Angeles, his home town, he heard about a $25,000 prize offered for the best pie made in California. He went to the baker at a prominent hotel with a proposal and they divided the $25,000.

"Pie is swell food," says Strause. "I eat scads of it. I have a good complexion and marvelous digestion. I always tell people who say pie gives them indigestion to try eating pie first and the rest of the meal last. They get indigestion just the same, but if they eat only the pie they don't. It's overloading that gives them the pains, not the pie."

Nobody knows how many kinds of pie there are, says the pie king. "I think up new ones every few days, usually while I'm standing watching a baker work. Out of cherries and pineapple I made 360 kinds in one test. Out of cherries alone I made 150.

Strause believes that bakers make the best pies. Mother was good, but not as consistent. The pie champion "sneaked" his pies into a score of big contests and in every case won from the amateurs. In Chicago he won a contest in which 2,546 pies were entered.

You cannot change Strause's mind about it—as a dessert pie is "tops."

Indian Princess Learns Archery at University

Salem, Ore.—Sitting Bull's granddaughter had to enroll in college to learn to shoot a bow and arrow.

The kinswoman of the Sioux Indian chief who fought Custer to the "last stand" in southeastern Montana in recent history is now a senior in Willamette university here.

The young princess from Culbertson, Mont., has displaced her Indian name, "Waste Agidiwin," for the simple title of Evelyn Welsh. Her Indian name translated means "Bring Pretty," or, more literally, that some day she must do something to bring honor and distinction to her tribe.

Miss Welsh has been prominent in Willamette student life. She is national historian of Daleth Teth Gimmel organization for independent women; was twice president of the university's International club, and takes active part in all choir and glee club activities.

Although her mother is of German descent and her father part French, she considers the Sioux tribe her people. Miss Welsh was reared on a large Montana cattle ranch where she learned to shoot and ride.

Sly, Long-Legged Turkey Is Back in West Virginia

Charleston, W. Va.—The long-legged variety of turkey—one of the big reasons why the Pilgrims were thankful—is reappearing in West Virginia.

The state conservation commission has liberated more than 3,200 of these birds in the state game preserves during the last three years. The birds are exceptionally cunning and seem to have a knack of evading the hunter. Twelve nimrods were set loose this season under the surveillance of game protectors, but only six were able to bring down one of the turkeys.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD TABLE-TOP HUMORETTES

Breakfast! A simple, humorous idea, simply and neatly told. The spotlight is a two-inch hole in a piece of cardboard, held in front of an amateur floodlight bulb. Exposure 1/2 second at f.16.

MOST amateur camera workers wait until they find a picture situation ready-made before they snap the shutter. Others have found that they do not have to wait—that they can often create a picture opportunity by selecting and arranging materials already at hand.

Still-life studies, of fruit, of flowers, of the play of light on textiles and glassware, are all examples of this creative method and a still-life expertly done can possess extraordinary beauty. Still-lives, however, require a keen sense of pictorial composition, judgment in lighting and a willingness to arrange and rearrange until everything is exactly right.

"Table-top" photography permits more latitude, particularly when the central idea is humorous. Here the emphasis is on telling a story, rather than developing an ideal arrangement of lights and shadows and textures. In consequence, the "table-top" worker can limit his labor to the story-telling essentials, and let supplementary considerations go.

Small toys, comical in themselves, are easy subjects to work with. Dolls are also convenient to use. The clever worker can construct funny figures from vegetables—for example, a carrot appropriately dressed and equipped with tiny wire spectacles can become a very presentable old lady. Cotton-and-wire pipe cleaners can be bent and combined into interesting action pictures—an instance would be adagio dancers on a stage. Good characters can also be made of modeling wax—and often the cruder the modeling the funnier the effect.

Scenic materials, when needed, are easy to get. Fluffy cotton makes excellent snow; small twigs make good trees; light brown sugar serves nicely for sand and a piece of glass laid over a dark cloth will do for water. Doll furniture is useful in realistic indoor sets.

Some amateurs build elaborate miniature stage settings for their "table-tops" just as if they were producing a professional motion picture. This can be fascinating work and often well worth while. But it is not imperative and can be avoided simply by selecting a story idea that does not demand realistic background.

"Table-topping" requires that the photographer work fairly close up to his subject. He can do this in two ways: either by using a portrait attachment over the lens of his camera or by using a camera with double-extension bellows. Cameras of the latter type will allow him to photograph small objects in their actual size and they usually have groundglass backs which help in focusing and arranging the picture. When a subject shows up too small on a negative, it is good practice to have it enlarged, with surplus margin masked out.

Try "table-topping." You'll like it.
John van Guilder.

Really Boring, and in His Dining Room

Independence, Mo.—R. G. Carpenter had heard about termites, and when a dark spot appeared on the wooden trim of his dining room he believed it a termite.

The insect was sucked into the dust bag of a vacuum cleaner, and was an inch and a half long. Comparison with prints of insects in a dictionary proved the bug to be a "pruner," which bores holes in oak trees to deposit larvae, which then bore out.

Carpenter believed the "pruner" hatched in a tree before the timber was cut for his home and was boring out through oak, pine and enamel.

Table Effects of Valentine Season Ones That Please

Pimentos, Red Cherries, Heart Shaped Cookies "Come Into Their Own"

Denton, Feb. 9.—Hearts and flowers regularly invade the kitchen at this season, and menu-planners turn lightly to creative work. Red and white Valentine colors offer the culinary artist her big chance for the most attractive table of the year.

Decorative reds are supplied by beets, ripe red cherries, cranberries, pimento, red rhubarb, tomatoes and strawberries. These may be combined with the creamy white of cottage cheese, ice cream, whipped cream, white breads, potato puff and fluffy rice.

Heart-shaped cutters for cookies and heart-shaped molds for gelatin dishes are often used. Tiny hearts cut from beets, pimento and red cherries may add touches of color. However, restraint in the use of both color and motif is preferable to "confused profusion."

Chicken a la King

Melt 3 tb. butter in top of large double boiler. Add 6 tb. flour, 1 t. salt and ¼ t. white pepper and stir until smooth. Stir 2 cups chicken broth and 1 cup milk. Simmer for 6 to 8 minutes, stirring constantly. Add 2 cups cooked chicken, diced. Place over hot water to reheat chicken. Stir occasionally. Serve in patty shells or on toast.

Garnish with tiny hearts cut from pimento. For the patty shells: cut ¼ cup fat into 1 cup flour and ½ t. salt. Add 2 to 3 tbs. water, mixing with a fork. Roll on floured board. Cut into rounds to fit on inverted muffin pans. Prick with fork to allow air to escape. Bake to delicate brown in hot oven (450F.) for 10 to 15 minutes. Carefully remove from muffin tins. Place on baking sheet to reheat before filling with creamed chicken.

Valentine Cakes

(Pan: 10x10x2)

Beat 1 cup egg whites (8 or 9) and ¼ t. salt until foamy. Add ½ t. cream of tartar and continue beating until egg whites are stiff enough to stand in peaks. Fold in ¼ cups of sugar, sifting on 1 or 2 tb. at a time.

Sprinkle on ½ t. vanilla and ¼ t. almond extract. Fold in 1 cup cake flour, sifting on a little at a time. Pour into pan lined with heavy wax paper. Bake in slow oven (300 to 325F.) for 40 to 45 minutes. Invert pan and cook cake. Remove from pan and cut into heart shapes.

Spread top and sides with icing: mix 2 unbeaten egg whites, ¼ t. of salt, ¼ t. cream of tartar, ½ cup water and 2 cups sugar in top of double boiler. Place over hot water and beat for 7 minutes with a rotary beater. Remove from hot water and cool until of the consistency to spread. Stir in ½ t. vanilla. Around the edge of each cake, place a border of candied cherries, cut and spread like tiny roses and rose buds.

MACHINES MAY RULE WORLD, PREDICTION

Professor Cites Changes Due to Mechanics.

Pittsburgh.—Futuristic novels and fiction magazines often have pictured a world ruled by robots, but Dr. William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago believes the world already is under the power of the machines it has invented.

He explained the theory recently in an address to a joint meeting of several Pittsburgh organizations.

Machines, he said, are causing centralization of government at Washington. Rapid transportation and communication are the reasons.

"Automobiles have done more to break down states' rights than the Civil war," Dr. Ogburn said, "and there has been a spiritual breakdown of county government all over the country."

Another influence of machinery is seen by Ogburn in the character of national government. He said that various industrial and special interest groups are sending representatives to the "third house" (lobbyists), which eventually will lead to weakening of legislative government and strengthening of administrative government.

"The character of the home has been completely changed in the last half-century," he said. "Formerly 90 per cent of all the family needs were produced in the household, but steam power has changed that. It is more economical to manufacture articles in factories."

"Now the home is little more than a parking place. Often it is nothing more than a few rooms over a garage."

Machines just over the horizon are going to produce a still greater change, Dr. Ogburn said. Television will bring the world indoors; cheapening of air-conditioning methods might bring a general movement to the tropics, where warm air could be cooled for the house; devices such as the "electric eye"—which can sort cans, grade tobacco and even count money—are likely to take the place of many workers.

To compensate for those losses of jobs, he said, business' best bet is to exploit the new industries.

Australian Native Killer Slain After Five Years

Sydney, Australia.—Northern territory police have been saved the trouble of searching further for Smiler, a notorious bad man aboriginal, who has been responsible for the deaths of at least five aborigines in the last five years.

Black justice has moved faster than the white man's, and Smiler's body, riddled with spears, has been found in the northern jungle.

Smiler, a strong, cunning and brutal fighter, had been the bogey-man of tribes throughout the far north. His bad deeds had made him an outlaw, and he hunted like a lone wolf. Frightful tales were told of his savage ways, and native women and children lived in constant terror of him.

Last September Smiler came out of the Arnhem Land aboriginal reserve, and, accompanied by another aboriginal, Jackie, found temporary employment on a peanut farm. Smiler and Jackie fell in love with the same native girl. She rebuffed Smiler, so he killed Jackie.

The killer fled into the Minoru district. Constable Hall tracked him to the border of the Arnhem Land reserve, but was forced back by the break of the wet season. The police chase was resumed immediately after the rains finished. It continued relentlessly until Constable Hall discovered that Smiler was dead.

Claim Tall Corn Record for California Specimen

San Francisco.—Not to be outdone by tall-corn records of Iowa and Illinois and other corn belt states, this city of tall bridges and steep hills claims the tallest corn grown in the nation.

Four cornstalks, each nineteen feet tall, were sent to the Chamber of Commerce here by J. A. Morden, Turlock rancher. Morden said the four tall stalks were specimens seized at random from a seven-acre crop eighteen to twenty-two feet tall. For three years the corn has averaged more than nineteen feet in height, he said.

Claiming a twenty-two-foot cornstalk as an all-time record, the chamber challenged the corn belt states to beat it. Investigation revealed the seven-acre plot of corn yielded 231 tons of ensilage and 1,285 kernels were counted on one ear.

Past records of cornstalk heights show Illinois claimant of a twenty-foot, six-inch record in 1937.

Big Lunches Called Bad for Children

Hartford, Conn.—School lunches that are too big are bad for the children's health.

This is the warning of Miss Elizabeth C. Nichols, director of the bureau of public health instruction, to mothers.

Lunch periods are usually short, she says, and children gulp their food and then wash it down with liquid.

TEXAS DOUBLES ESTABLISH RECORD IN NEW YORK

It was "Texas Twins' Night" Saturday in Madison Square Garden when Blaine and Wayne Rideout with their teammates, Elmer and Delmer Brown, also twins, broke a world record in the medley relay event.

The Texans—students at North Texas State Teachers College—made the distance of one and seven-eighth miles in 7 minutes, 27.5, doing away with a former record of 7.29.6 set in 1932.

Sixteen thousand persons saw the Texans win. The Browns had difficulty on the turns of the broad track but the Rideouts made up for that and the world record was smashed.

Schooling of Horses Permits Missourian To Pursue A. & M. Veterinary Education

College Station, Feb. 9.—When Harry H. Pelot, 24-year-old freshman student in veterinary medicine at Texas A. and M. College, wanted to come to college, his best friends, horses, showed the way.

Considered by A. and M. experts as one of the best young trainers in this section, Pelot is earning his college expenses by training mounts for leading showmen. Four happy horses now are enrolled in his private school for show mounts.

A. and M. officials have cooperated by giving the young trainer valuable assistance in his work and by interesting horse owners to send their mounts to Pelot for schooling. Among these have been Dr. R. P. Marsteller, dean of the school of veterinary medicine; Prof. D. W. Williams, animal husbandry department head; and Owen Garrigan, trainer for the animal husbandry department and considered by many as one of the best in the business.

Pelot has had neighing acquaintance with horses ever since he toddled about as a three-year-old on his father's farm at Blackburn, Mo. He started his equestrian career on a pony but soon proudly was riding his own five-gaited saddle mare.

High school days found him picking up pocket money by breaking horses for nearby farmers, and it wasn't long until Pelot-trained mounts were nuzzling prize ribbons and cups on the Grand Circuit. He trained horses for the Clarkson Valley Stable in St. Louis, Mo.; the W. G. Brown Stable in Lamar, Colo.; the B. B. Tucker Stable in Fort Worth; and the Horseshoe Stable and the Rendevois Stable in Dallas.

In Dallas the past summer came the yen to be a veterinarian, a "vet" with the ambition both to practice his profession and to continue his work with beautiful show horses. A number of leading show stable owners helped him nurture this ambition, and his steps turned towards Texas A. and M. which has one of the leading schools of veterinary medicine in the country.

Pelot trained Lady Astral, three-year-old, five-gaited saddle mare, the past fall and rode her to second place in the junior stake and fourth place in the five-gaited saddle class of the annual Alexandria, La., show. The horse is owned by Charles M. Waters, of Alexandria.

Horses now being tutored by Pelot include two young stallions owned by J. J. Settegast, of Houston; a four-year-old mare owned by Mrs. A. J. Casperson of Houston; and a three-year-old mare, Goddess of Liberty, owned by Texas A. and M. and sired by Liberty Loan, the college's famous saddle stallion.

FORMER SONORA BASEBALL PLAYER IN NEW POSITION

Players of the Texarkana team of the East Texas League this season will be directed by Sam Gray, former major league baseball player who played on the Station A Sonora team a part of last season.

Gray was in the "big time" about eleven years.

After leaving here Gray was manager of the Iraan team of the Permian Basin League. Under his direction the players completed the season and was winner of the last half, losing finally, in a championship series, to the Station A Sonora players.

Gray recently announced that he would operate a baseball school in Sherman during the next few weeks.

The East Texas League season opens April 20.

Thrift of Vermonters Is Revealed in Statistics

Washington.—Spending habits among Vermont farmers have been surveyed by the bureau of home economics. Its report emphasizes what had been known of Vermont thriftiness, but adds testimony of a less-familiar virtue—generosity.

Families with cash incomes of $650 save $31 annually; those with $1,000, about $170. As compared with livestock raisers in the West, with an average recreational expenditure of $28 in the $750-$999 and $107 in the $2,500-$2,999 income categories, the Vermont farm family spends on pleasure only $15 and $49, respectively. Indulgence in tobacco runs from $13 to $32; only from $4 to $13 for reading matter.

In practically all income levels the Vermont figure for tobacco or reading or education is exceeded by the amount allotted to taxes, gifts and community welfare.

Damage by Forest Fires Reduced in U. S. in 1937

Washington.—The 1937 forest fire control season has been one of the most successful ever recorded in the history of the country, Robert Fechner, director of the civilian conservation corps, said.

Fechner said reports indicated the excellent record was due largely to favorable weather conditions, increase in acreage accorded fire protection, a strengthened organized forest protection, greater number of fire towers and the presence of CCC men.

Reports show that during a nine-month period in 1936 there were 767 reported fires, burning 15,132 acres, compared with only 346 fires, with a total of 1,512 acres burned, during the same period in 1937.

Prices of 100 Years Ago Shown by Old Accounts

Philadelphia.—One hundred years ago whisky sold for 12½ cents a quart, but a better brand brought as much as 16 cents, according to an old account book of the Bird-in-Hand general store, Upper Merion township.

Eight cigars—spelled "segarz" in the accounts—could be bought for 2 cents, but if sold to a heavy smoker 100 would cost only 22 cents, the ledger revealed.

Other deals showed that one dozen teaspoons were sold for 3½ cents; one dozen eggs, 12½ cents; a quarter peck of salt, 5 cents, and one pound of ham, 13 cents.

Edgar Rees of Odessa spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Penick.

Building Materials Challenge Windmills

St. Nicholas, Aruba—

the other by Standard Oil of New Jersey, with the little town of St. Nicholas lying half way between. Not much vegetation can be observed on this wind swept island and all drinking water is imported by the oil companies from the United States in oil tankers that are returning with fresh water for ballast.

City's Standards Varied

Two more days and we are in Maracaibo, a city located on Lake Maracaibo, with a population of 70,000, much electricity for power and lights, but no running water, gas or sewerage. The main streets are very wide and the cross streets just wide enough for one car. Here extremes in living standards are noted, there being only two classes of people—the very rich and the very poor. Pack burros roam the streets with all sorts of freight on their narrow backs and not paying too much attention to the many new automobiles that congest the streets of this boom city.

Oil is the main industry of this country and there are three major oil companies operating here, the Shell, Gulf and Standard of New Jersey, the last named operating under the name of Lago Petroleum Company. The people seem to be a quiet, peaceful and proud race, whose main diversions are lottery and cock fights.

Living in Jungle Town

However, our stay in Maracaibo was short-lived due to the fact that we were on our way to a little spot on the lake named Pueblo Viejo, which in English means Old Village.

Here we are sixty miles across the lake from Maracaibo, in the heart of the jungle and have started to construct a power plant to furnish power to operate oil wells in a new field in the area. This is one of the few places in the world where oil is taken from beneath the water. The Shell people have all the land concessions and the Gulf and Lago the lake and water concessions.

Strange to say, but the water rigs are producing more oil than the land rigs and are much cheaper to operate due to the fact of all-water transportation and direct loading of tankers with no comprehensive systems of oil storage and oil pipe lines to contend with and maintain at great costs. Our camp is laid out on the edge of the lake; alarm clocks are unnecessary here as flocks of parrots flying over our quarters each daybreak wake us up in time to have breakfast and be at our labors at six-thirty in the morning. Much wild life abounds here, tribes of monkeys roam the edge of the jungle jibbering like old men; panthers, jaguars, fox, wild cats, etc., are in large numbers, as are all sorts of birds, wild turkeys, quail, snipe and ducks and geese. The Andes are the background of our site, to the east. The lake is on our south and the jungle on the north and west. Lake Maracaibo is about 160 miles long and 40 miles wide.

Indians' Parties Wild Ones

Adjacent to the job is one of the oldest Indian Villages in the country, name Pueblo Viejo, and built on piles over the lake in order to have freedom from insects and to obtain the benefit of the lake winds. There are about 800 Indians living in the village, most of whom in the past lived by hunting, fishing and making grass mats, hats and other articles of weaving. Now they mostly are in our employ and have more money than they ever had before and as a result go in for drinking on a serious scale and beat their drums and tom-toms from the time they receive their pay on Saturday afternoon until the early hours of Monday morning. They are a weak race of people, but willing workers to the extent of their ability. The children run around with no clothes on, their standard of living being very low and their wants few and easily satisfied. Their main staple of food is fish followed by cooked bananas and a piece of game meat once in a while for a change of diet.

The laws of this country are very socialistic and favor the working man from every angle.

Working Conditions Unusual

No lost time for weather reasons, accidents or illness. A man cannot be discharged in the presence of other fellow workmen. No Sunday or holiday work is allowed.

A fixed rate of pay for every trade and a labor inspector to enforce all of the many labor rules and laws. Each man must be paid an allowance over his pay for house rental; if his work is more than two miles from his home his employer must furnish round trip transportation and the man travels one way on his own time and the other on the employer's time.

The climate is not too bad and at the same time it is none too good. The temperature ranges in the course of a year from 65 to 135 degrees. There are four seasons, all either hot and warm or wet and hot. There are the big dry season, the little rainy season, the big rainy season and the little dry season. Right now we are having winter, (the big dry season). This will last until about March 15th, then come the rains and the heat. In the lowlands malaria is not so prevalent but in the mountain areas it is quite endemic.

Dictator Ruled Many Years

For 28 years prior to December 19, 1935, this land was ruled by the iron hand of Dictator Gomez, a peon from the Andes, who could neither read nor write, and for sheer power out-Hitlered Hitler and made Mussolini and Stalin look like rank beginners in the game of politics. This little man gained control of the country by a regime of terrorism and fear coupled with crude punishment to all who opposed him and when he died left one hundred children, although he never married, and left three hundred million dollars in English and French bank vaults, and another three hundred million dollars in Venezuela in cash, cattle and land.

His death was not believed for three days after he died, but when the populace realized that at last they had lost their yoke, a reign of terror swept the land and all former Gomez satellites were either killed, maimed or fled the country. The prison at Caracas was torn down by human hands, all prisoners freed and a wonderful park now adorns the spot that once was the torture chambers of Gomez. Now a benevolent government is in power and the laboring class is receiving their long waited just dues.

Tax Burden Light One

Venezuela is one of the two or three countries that still remains on the gold standard, and is the only country in the entire world that is free of debt both internally and externally. With the exception of minor fiscal stamp taxes this country is almost tax free and as a result the average man has nothing to work for and nothing to show for his work. Other industries in this country are coffee growing on a large scale, cattle raising for meat and hide export, and a little rice and agriculture.

As I close will say, that with the climate being what it is, the economic conditions that give a man a job at all times, under his own conditions and with a free and easy life, I would much rather be in our own country where a man has an object in working and with a fair degree of sincere effort and a little hard work, will rise from the ranks and enjoy life as it should be enjoyed under ideal conditions and with his loved ones at home.

Travel may broaden one's outlook on life but life begins at home and home is where the heart is. With best wishes to our relatives and friends at home, and with belated holiday greetings to all.

YOUR family needs the protection of Servel Electrolux, the Gas or Kerosene refrigerator, NOW. Taking chances with the foods you eat is dangerous business. 70 Per cent of all sickness is caused by what you eat or drink. Food and milk spoil rapidly at kitchen temperatures. They must be kept cold! Servel Electrolux protects your family from sickness—by protecting your food from spoilage. Can you afford to take chances, when Servel Electrolux operates on as little as 2 or 3 cents a day? Protection for the price of a few sticks of gum!

★ HERE'S WHAT MRS. (DR.) R. P. GLENN, 896 HIGHLAND AVE., ABILENE, TEXAS, thinks of her Servel Electrolux: "We have had an Electrolux in our home for nearly two years; we get from it the most perfect refrigeration we have ever known. Our ice bills averaged $6.00 per month, annually; another type of mechanical refrigeration cost us, for a two-year period, about $8.00 per month. Our gas bill has increased only 14c per monthly average, in these two years. This period included the extremely hot August of 1936.

Whether it is dairy supplies, or garden stuff, or meats; whether the food is cooked or raw, its quality and taste are unimpaired after waiting in Electrolux. This is an especial advantage over week-ends and holiday seasons. Like all good servants, Electrolux does its work silently; there is neither buzz nor drone to annoy the most susceptible nerves.

Electrolux is the most easily cleaned, and the most easily kept clean of any kind of food-storage refrigerator I have known; and the defrosting is simple and adequate. Nor is there a consequent lowering of temperature to the detriment of foods. Nor the faintest of food odors. Who would wonder that we were glad that Electrolux found its place in our kitchen? ★

This is because Servel Electrolux is a different kind of refrigerator—different from all others. Its freezing unit has no moving parts. It cannot wear. But moving parts do wear. Lose efficiency. Cost more and more to operate. Get noisy. Eventually wear out. Servel Electrolux has no moving parts. Just a tiny, silent gas flame takes the place of all that machinery. Gives you twice the ice the average family needs. Protection for meat, milk and left overs. Ice cream every day, if you like. And for 2 or 3 cents per day!

You don't "buy" a Servel Electrolux—it's an investment. A good investment, which not only pays back what you put in it, but pays a profit besides. It takes only a small part of that investment to put Servel Electrolux in your home. Why not NOW?

ROME IS HONORING ITS FIRST EMPEROR

Fame of Augustus Celebrated in Great Exhibit.

Washington, D. C.—Naming the month of August for Emperor Augustus was not enough for Rome's first emperor. The ruler's fame now is being celebrated by a vast exhibit which is luring thousands of Italians and tourists to a new 50-room building in Rome's Via Nazionale.

"The exhibit contains a priceless collection of models and museum pieces recalling the 'Golden Age' in which Augustus reigned," says the National Geographic society.

"Two hundred scale models of dwellings, amphitheatres, triumphal arches, baths, bridges, aqueducts and other structures like those of ancient Rome, are on display as well as several thousand plaster replicas of historic objects in bronze and marble now preserved in museums in Europe and America.

"The Rome Augustus ruled (B. C. 27-A. D. 14) teemed with a million inhabitants. Its wealthy residents lived a social, outdoor life, strolling in white woolen togas through shaded marble colonnades and gardens flecked with splashing fountains. Wealthy men were followed by crowds of friends and servants. Romans spent more time in public places than in their homes. In the baths they met their friends; at the circuses they watched chariot races and gladiatorial contests. They made sacrifices to the gods in temples. In the crowded Forum they heard the orations of Cicero and the latest news from the provinces, and conducted the business of the empire.

Roman Tenement Houses.

"One of the outstanding exhibits is a furnished replica of a wealthy Roman's home. Such homes were usually one or two stories high, built around a central hall, like those in Pompeii, and many had private water supplies.

"Poorer classes lived herded together in tall 'tenement houses' usually from four to seven stories high, and obtained their water from public fountains. Of flimsy construction, these buildings were the cause of frequent fires and often some of them collapsed. Dark, unheated, and uninviting, they flanked narrow streets congested with donkeys, horses, and slaves. Rome was so noisy and crowded that wealthy citizens built country villas at Pompeii and elsewhere.

"Augustus is said to have boasted that he found Rome of brick and left it of marble. He rebuilt numerous temples and other buildings. Still standing in modern Rome are remains of the Portico of Octavia which he completed and named for his sister. Nearby stands the ruined Theater of Marcellus, finished by Augustus, and named for Octavia's son. Rome has recently reconstructed the Altar of Peace built by Augustus to celebrate the re-establishment of peace after his campaigns in Gaul and Spain. In the year 2 B. C. he built an additional Forum to commemorate the battle of Philippi.

Public Works.

"More important to his subjects than his memorials were the emperor's public works. He drained the surrounding malarial country, repaired the huge stone aqueducts that spanned it, and built new ones. He constructed good roads into the city. Wine wagons rolled over them as they do now. Into the capital poured corn from Sicily, and other commodities from Sardinia, Africa, and the East. From Egypt Augustus brought obelisks to adorn Rome's public places, and from Africa wild beasts to be slaughtered, hundreds at a time, in the arena.

"In an effort to reform Rome, the emperor organized a strong police system. He also extended the boundaries of the Roman empire. In the Forum he set up a golden milestone from which distances were measured to every part of the provinces. The Mediterranean, he felt, was his lake, and most of the lands surrounding it were made Roman provinces. His mailed legions went clanking through what is now Yugoslavia, Spain, France, and Germany, his fleets sailed the Rhine and Danube, and wherever he established fortified colonies, triumphal arches, bridges and aqueducts were built. Today, their crumbling massive remains, scattered throughout Europe, recall the strength and the dignity of the 'Golden Age.'"

Rare One-Family Colony Found to Be Successful

Stuebenville, Ohio.—A flourishing family colony, probably unparalleled anywhere in the country, is located on the edge of this city.

It is called the Myers colony and was started 10 years ago when J. Ross Myers decided he would like to have his daughter and five sons living in a village all their own.

The family gathered all their available money and bought a plot of 10 acres. The father and each of his children staked a claim to a part of the land and began construction of the first of seven stone buildings erected on the former barren fields.

Myers said the colony was a success because "it shows what brothers and sisters can do if they stick together."

be men, to play the game of life and "to surrender your hearts and lives to a transforming Christ."

The transforming power of the Savior was emphasized by a description of coal tar, a product from which come 200 products when it is chemically treated. The transformation of the product, a chemical, was pointed to as a very small example of the transformation which may come to a life through Jesus Christ.

Twenty Scouts Wednesday night met at the Scout Hall and reorganized patrols for the new year. Scoutmaster A. W. Awalt, Assistant Scoutmaster H. F. Gilley, R. D. Trainer and Joe Berger, the latter two "Scouters," were also at the meeting. Patrols organized were:

Flying Eagle: C. T. Driskell, patrol leader; Rex Hutcherson, assistant patrol leader; Robert Kelley, Clayton White, Clarence Smith, Wilfred Berger, Thomas Thorp, R. W. Johnson, Vernon Cook.

Rattlesnake: James D. Trainer, patrol leader; Willie B. Ory, assistant patrol leader; Paschal Odom, George D. Wallace, Glen Richardson.

Longhorn: O. L. Richardson, patrol leader; Jack Shurley, Roy Cooper, Ray Wallis Stephenson, Raymond Shroyer.

Wayne White has not been assigned to a patrol.

Mr. Awalt said yesterday that Saturday is to be "Clean-up Day," with all of the Scouts urged to do clean-up work at their homes. Parents are urged by Mr. Awalt to cooperate with the boys in their observation of Boy Scout Week and in their Saturday activities.

The general lesson of Boy Scout Week this year has been announced as "Building a Stronger Generation." On each day of the week Boy Scouts are carrying the story of the things they know and do to interested church, civic and social groups. In the E. F. Vander Stucken Co. and Gilmore Hardware Co. windows the Sonora boys have arranged displays telling of Scouting.

The program at the Lions Club Tuesday noon will be given by the Sonora Scouts, directed by H. F. Gilley, a Lions Club member and Assistant Scoutmaster.

O. P. Adams' Players Win From Three Teams Saturday

By a margin of only three points Sonora basketball players nosed out a hard-fighting Millersview quintet in Eldorado Saturday night to win an invitation basketball tournament—a handsome trophy for the case in the high school building.

Jim Taylor, Sonora forward, and W. Elliott, guard, made the all-tournament team, chosen from outstanding players of all the teams.

Sonora defeated Eldorado and Miles earlier in the day after losing the night before in Ranch Country League contest with Eldorado.

Accurate basket work by the Sonora players counted for much in their victory in the final game Saturday night. The Millersview players played well and showed adeptness at guarding but were weak in locating successfully the basket. Points failed to come to them when needed most. Elliott and E. Archer were high point men for Sonora, each scoring 9 of their team's 20 points. F. Archer made the other 2. The score was 20 to 17.

Tonight the Sonora players will meet Ozona, league leader, in a game on the high school court in the Crockett county town.

Sonora girls lost two of three volley ball games to Eldorado girls Friday.

Episcopal Service Sunday

An announcement was made by the Rev. Frederic M. Brasier Wednesday of the Sunday morning services at St. John's Episcopal Church. Holy Communion and a short sermon will be at 11 o'clock.

Tax Assistance For Sonorans

Aid in making income tax returns will be offered in Sonora March 3 and 4 by J. A. Miller, deputy collector, San Angelo, who will come here for that purpose.
