To the Graduates

Congratulations to you, the Seniors, for having now attained the most important goal, thus far, of your lives. You have now passed a mile-post on the road of life and the spirit you have shown, as you traveled, is an exceedingly commendable one. You have proven, to those qualified to judge, that you are now fitted for greater fields of endeavor.

And, as the larger and more complicated problems of the future confront you, may you face them with the same dauntless air of determination that has so typically characterized your attitudes in the past.

You have now reached the point where the path grows more tortuous, the climb steeper, and obstacles confront you ever more often. On your shoulders now lies the burden of responsibility for your own futures.

Decisions, that formerly were made for you, you now must make and abide by their consequences; responsibilities, that heretofore have been your teachers, are now passed on to you. May you prove equal to them, for, all the world is waiting either to criticize or acclaim.

To you, then, we wish, the fulfillment of your every ambition and may it be your lot to receive the best that life has to offer.

Sonoran's Father Buried Tuesday A. M.

Thomas Franklin Fuller, octogenarian, died Monday afternoon, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Della Kisselburg, and was buried in the Sutton County Burial Park Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Funeral services were held from the home of Mrs. Della Kisselburg by the Rev. R. C. Brinkley, pastor of the Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a member. The funeral was in charge of Joe Berger.

Mr. Fuller came to Texas from near Atlanta, Ga., where he was born when 21 years of age. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Jeffcoats at Blueridge, Collin county, Texas, in 1885. "Who's Who" in Sonora High "Who's Who" is a national movement, which heretofore has been confined to colleges, but recently has been extended to high schools.

A limited number of students are chosen from each high school. The choice is based upon character, sportmanship, extra curricula activities, personality, leadership.

A combination of all these attributes have been bestowed upon the six students, who are pictured and whose histories are published herewith.

LOUISE BRISCOE

Louise Briscoe, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Briscoe, was born December 7, 1921, in Sonora. She attended her first two years of school in Donna, Texas. The first semester of her third year was spent in San Angelo. The remaining eight and one-half years she has been a student in the Sonora Public Schools.

Louise, a senior this year, has engaged in various school activities. She has been active member of the Pep Squad for five consecutive years. In her sophomore year she was class secretary. In 1937-38 she was treasurer of the Homemaking Club and has served as secretary of the same club. In 1938-39, Louise, as president of the Sonora Pan-American Club, has very capably directed its activities. For two years she has been secretary of a Sunday school class.

After completing her high school course in Sonora, Louise plans to continue her education in Sul Ross College or in San Angelo College. As her major field of work she plans to study Business Administration with Journalism as her minor study.

Throughout her high school career, Louise has been an outstanding student. Her successful accomplishments have been due to her charming personality, excellent scholarship, good sportmanship, and capable leadership.

ROBBY JO WYATT

Robby Jo Wyatt was born September 23, 1922, and has been brought up by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Roneche of Sonora.

She entered school at the age of five years as school opened that year before her sixth birthday.

Her work as a student throughout her school life has been good and her name has seldom missed being placed on the honor roll of the school.

Although her work in school has not been difficult and her school associations have been pleasant, Robby Jo has never been particularly fond of the subjects she has studied until she began, in her senior year, the study of shorthand, which she has found so interesting that she has decided she would like to become a stenographer.

Upon entering high school, she was elected vice-president of the Freshmen class, and, during her sophomore year, she served as vice-president of that class.

Robby Jo is very much interested in all school activities outside of study. She was a very enthusiastic leader of the Pep Squad during the last football season. Her popularity with the football boys was made evident by the fact she was elected "Football Sweetheart" by the unanimous vote of the team.

Robby Jo is a member of two school clubs. She is vice-president of the Spanish Club and song leader of the Homemaking Club.

Outside of her daily school activities, Robby Jo has studied voice for the past two years and is at present a member of the choir at the Methodist Church.

Robby Jo enjoys sports of every kind and is especially fond of football, boys' basket ball and swimming. Her chief hobby is collecting drinking glasses of every kind and now has about one hundred different kinds in her possession.

After her graduation from high school, Robby Jo plans to become a stenographer since that work, she thinks, will prove interesting.

JIMMIE GWYNNE LANGFORD

Jimmie Gwynne Langford, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wylie McDaniel, was born in Sonora August 26, 1921.

At the age of seven years she entered the public school of Sonora and throughout her entire school life has been an exemplary student in both behavior and scholarship.

Her name has been placed on the honor roll each six weeks that she has attended school, and, at the end of each term, she has been awarded an Honor Roll Certificate. She has also won several medals for achieving the highest average grades in her class.

Jimmie Gwynne has taken part in all school activities open to girls.

She was chosen leading lady in the senior play and again in the district one-act play. She was class reporter during her freshman, sophomore and junior years, and in her senior year she has served on the social committee of her class.

She entered the extemporaneous speech contest at the Four-County meet in her junior year and won second place. She holds the office of treasurer in the Pan-American Club and that of secretary in the Homemaking Club.

Her favorite subjects in high school are public speaking and English. Her favorite sports are tennis and hiking. The work she likes best is sewing, a very good indication she will make a good, thrifty housewife. Her favorite hobbies are collecting stamps, autographs and photographs, and making scrap-books.

After finishing high school, Jimmie Gwynne plans to enter Texas Christian University where she intends to major in speech arts, a course which she thinks will equip her for the greater and the nobler things of life.

Jimmie Gwynne has the native ability to accomplish whatever she undertakes to do as has been made evident by her work in the schools of Sonora.

JAMES D. TRAINER

James D. Trainer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Trainer and the grandson of Mrs. George Trainer, Sr., was born June 12, 1923, in Sonora. His entire school life has been spent in Sonora.

At the present time a junior in high school, James D. is known as an all-round athlete and a good sport. Already having lettered for three years in football and basket ball thus far in Sonora high school, he has participated in various track events in the Four-County and Invitation meets. At Junction this year in the Four-County meet he copped first place for a medal in the mile relay and placed third in the 440-yard dash.

While a sophomore James D. received medals in the Invitation meets at Barnhart, winning first place in the 440-yard relay; at Iraan, topping first place in the 220-yard relay and placing second in the 440-yard relay, as well as in the 50-yard dash at the Four-County meet here.

He has also been active in Boy Scout work for three years and has been leader of the Rattlesnake Patrol of Sonora Troop 19 which has made an outstanding achievement in scouting in the Concho Valley Council district.

James D. is known not only as an athlete, but as a very capable student in the literary field as well. This year he has been an active member of the Sonora Pan-American Club, which he served as secretary-treasurer during his Freshman year.

Not having definitely selected the course he intends to pursue in college after graduation from high school, James D., however, plans to choose between Vocational Agriculture and Business Administration. He has one more year in high school and in that length of time, he will, perhaps, decide on a course that will enable him to make greater accomplishments in life.

His sunny disposition, willingness to respond to requests made of him, and his ability to carry out those requests, have made James D. a popular student in Sonora high school with the student body as well as with the faculty.

MYRON EUGENE MORRIS

Myron Eugene Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Morris of this city. Myron was born in Sutton county August 19, 1929 and with the exception of some grammar school work at a rural school, Owensville, he had done the rest of his work in Sonora Public Schools.

Although Myron is only a Junior this year he has already distinguished himself as an outstanding leader, scholar, and willing worker who participates in social as

$60,000 Spent In Building

Resident and business building continues in Sonora without abatement. Three business houses have gone up with several residences completed, under construction, and just started.

Since January 1 the total amount which has been invested in Sonora property will range well up to $60,000.

The additions to the Mexican school, under Hugh Myers, started since January 1, costing upwards of $20,000, will be finished soon.

The Ben Cusenbary residence, opposite the home of Mrs. W. D. Wallace, is well along the way to completion. It will cost around $5,000; W. C. Rutherford, contractor.

In the new addition on the San Antonio highway J. T. McClelland and crew are putting the finishing touches on a new $4500 home for Mr. and Mrs. Carnie Wyatt. The rock trimmings of this home are very pretty, and were brought to Sonora from the Rio Grande.

In the same neighborhood, H. V. Stokes has just had completed a sunroom for Little Miss Sue Ann Stokes. The room, which has been built to conform with the balance of the new home recently completed, cost upwards of $800.

Just a short distance this side of the Billy Penicks new home, work has been started on a residence for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mann. The building is next door to the Bill Fields' new home. The Mann place will cost between $17,000 and $20,000.

The Hillman Browns' residence is on the same street about a block closer in. J. T. McClelland finished this $4500 home since the first of the year.

Business houses that have been started and finished since January 1st are a $4000 warehouse of J. T. Penick adjoining his wholesale beer and tobacco house. This building is now occupied by Mr. Penick as a storage place for his wool and fur business. Earl Merck supervised construction work for Mr. Penick.

The other business house contains the Mexican picture show. The building was erected at a cost of $2000 for Andrea Aguirrea and is located in Little Mexico.

H. L. Brown, better known as "Happy," is occupying a business house located on the Del Rio highway in south Sonora. This place, which he owns and in which he conducts a cafe, cost $1000.

Among the building improvements and remodeling is mentioned the Methodist Church, whose missionary society and men's and women's Bible classes sponsored the improvements. About $600 was spent on the job.

Extensive remodeling is being done now to the home of Mrs. E. E. Sawyer.

THREE FAMOUS ACTORS TEAMED IN KIPLING STORY

Teamed together for the first time, Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., are seen as three comrade sergeants whose adventures form the basis of the stirring screen version of the famous ballad by Rudyard Kipling, "Gunga Din," now playing at the La Vista Theatre.

The three stars, each of whom has soared to new fame in recent months, portray a trio of British soldiers stationed at an army post in northern India. Their exciting experiences while trying to quell an uprising among a band of religious fanatics, who commit wholesale murder according to religious rites, provided the dramatic action of the story.

Grant has recently achieved added popularity in such successful pictures as "Bringing Up Baby," "Holiday" and "The Awful Truth." McLaglen has scored in "The Lost Patrol," "The Devil's Party," "Battle of Broadway" and "Wee Willie Winkie." Fairbanks' most recent hits have been "The Rage of Paris," "Having Wonderful Time" and "Joy of Living."

Joan Fontaine has the leading feminine part in "Gunga Din," the title role of which is portrayed by Sam Jaffe. Other players are Eduardo Cianelli, Montagu Love, Robert Coote and Abner Biberman.

WINGS OVER TEXAS

By LOIS CAMERON CHESLEY

The father of a fourteen-year old boy told me some months ago of his son's burning curiosity about the food habits of birds. Armed with his B-B gun he would bring down on one side of town several birds of a species. Then he would go to the other side of town, get a similar number and examine the stomach contents, comparing the diets of the two groups of birds.

That he was violating our bird migratory treaty with Canada and Mexico had never occurred to him. Neither had he thought of his sport as one that might be of any interest or value to anyone. But this tendency, properly directed and licensed can open up to him in later years opportunities for genuine service in the field of agriculture. The U. S. Department of Agriculture knows more fact about the food habits of its wildlife than any country does. The biggest contributor to this information has been the examination of stomach contents.

Where information about a bird's diet is needed a license is issued for the investigator to collect stomachs. After removal the stomachs are tagged in good carbon ink with this information: name of bird, sex, approximate age, date and hour of day, locality, method of capture and collector's name and number. They are then placed in a preservation solution, such as alcohol or formaldehyde. After five days they are removed, dried, wrapped, boxed and shipped to Section of Food Habits, Washington, D. C.

There the contents are washed out into a white-lined tray, and separated either by mechanical means or forceps. Unless a particle's being wet is an aid to identification, each one is placed on a white blotter to dry. The Biological Survey has an extensive collection of all the things most commonly found in bird stomachs: seeds, fruits, buds, insects, mollusks, skeletons of birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians and so on. If there is any doubt as to a particle's identification, the biologist at work can refer to said collection.

This work has been going on for over fifty years, during which time well over 100,000 birds from all over the country at all times of the year have been examined. The civil service requirements of the workers are high. Those who interpret the findings have had rich experience farm or have had farm experience. in the field. Many were raised on This division of wildlife research justly feels that it has more than a bowing acquaintance with the food habits of North American birds. Only in this way is guess work eliminated. These findings form the framework of our laws protecting birdlife.

Thorough field observation is carried on in connection with the stomach analysis. Without this field work much of the stomach findings could not be interpreted correctly.

Since most of us form our opinions on what we chance to see in the field, it might be interesting to consider the results of an experiment conducted recently to determine the accuracy of field observation alone.

For two years a trained observer made intensive field studies of the food habits of a certain species of bird. He had grown up where the bird was common and knew it from every angle.

He listed both principle and occasional foods of the bird as he observed them in the field.

In the meantime over two hundred well-filled crops and gizzards of the bird were collected at all seasons of the year. Here is a comparison of the worker's data, based on years of study, with the laboratory analysis of the stomachs:

"Five of the plant foods that had been considered of greatest importance by the field observer were of only minor value. Six of the items found by laboratory analysis to be of great value were recognized by the field observer, though he failed to note 8 of the principle foods found by stomach analysis.

Of 22 foods classed in the laboratory as being of moderate value, only 5 were detected by the field observer.

He also noted only 38 foods while the laboratory examiner listed 460 kinds."

If the status of the bird had been determined on field observation alone it would have been determined on conclusions nowhere near 50 per cent accuracy.

10 MOST ACTIVE AT T. C. U.

These seven boys and three girls practically "run things" on the Texas Christian University campus this year. They are the 10 most active students at Frogland, according to a recent survey. They average almost 21 "activity points" each, whereas the student body as a whole averages only 2.5 points. James Matthews, Fort Worth senior, as the most "active student," is business manager of The Skiff, school newspaper; president of the Dana Press Club; member of the Student Council; a member of the Horned Frog (student yearbook) staff; and a member of The Brushes, student art club.

HEALTH

Austin, May 18.—Case reports reaching State Department of Health indicate that smallpox is rapidly forging to the front in the list of preventable communicable diseases over Texas at this time.

"Smallpox epidemics would never occur if everyone, especially children, could be effectively vaccinated", states Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. "At the present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school children and this constitutes a menace.

"Modern safeguards have removed every legitimate objection to vaccination. The virus is made from calves and, consequently, is incapable of transmitting human blood disease. Among some ten million vaccinations performed in the Philippine Islands, there was no loss of life or limb or demonstrable injury to health.

"A primary vaccination with one successful revaccination will, as a rule, protect throughout life from the milder forms of smallpox, but this is not true in the severer types of this disease. Therefore, be vaccinated and revaccinated at least every five years, so that you will have the greatest protection possible and the least chance of being sick. Revaccination should also be done after each time you have been near a known case of smallpox. Vaccination is not to be feared but rather sought as the only safe, positively harmless and absolutely certain safeguard against smallpox. See your doctor today and be sure that you are protected."

SONORA, TEXAS

35 Years Ago

Miss Luciel Adams returned home Tuesday from a visit to friends in Ozona and San Angelo.

A hop will be given in Sonora on Friday August 11th, to which the people of Ozona, McKavett and adjoining towns are invited.

W. F. Decker returned from a visit at Knickerbocker Wednesday.

Bob Holland the obliging dry goods clerk of E. F. Vander Stucken Co., left for San Angelo Sunday to attend the wedding of his sister, Miss Bessie Holland to Robert T. Crawford, which took place Wednesday, July 12th.

The ball at the courthouse was a grand and old time success. The floor was fine and the music inspiring. Altogether the day was most enjoyable.

The ball game between the first and second nines attracted a large crowd, showed that ball playing is still a favorite with the people. The score stood 5 to 4 in favor of the first nine. Baseball is unquestionably great sport and it is to be hoped the boys will keep up their practice.

Mr. Caldwell, who works for Sonora Wool and Mohair Co., keeps the weather record there.

Reports from over the county are encouraging. Ranchmen gave the precipitation figures at from one-half inch to two inches. While some did not receive a great amount of rain, there was enough to start spring growth of weeds and grass.

The Dry Devil's river was nearly bank full here, caused by the heavy rains on its head.

From Eldorado, up where the river heads, it was reported at first that the town had received a seven-inch rain in the downpour Tuesday. Later the number was placed at four.

NATIONAL COTTON WEEK
MAY 22-27

★ THE FIBRE OF AMERICAN PROSPERITY

A COTTON SALES EVENT sponsored jointly by the National Cotton Council of America, and the Cotton-Textile Institute.

The walls will be of native stone veneer, similar to the bunkhouse, and the roof will be of iron, supported by steel trusses. Floor space will be 60 by 100 feet.

Besides this structure costing $5,500, the Reunion proper is spending some $4,500 for improvements at the rodeo arena and at other points on the grounds. A large shed has been built over the chutes, pens and alley at the arena. A press box has been built adjoining the judges' stand. Three new barns with stables for horses are being erected. New rest rooms are being provided at the grand stands and also at the chuck wagon reservation.

to absorb their tax load, these businesses must pass on a share of their taxes to the ultimate consumers."

Study groups in the NCTC tax campaign already are active in 4,200 communities, Mrs. Frazier said, with more than 500 of them in Texas. Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, is NCTC national committee member for the Lone Star State.

EDWIN F. BROWDER

Promotion of Edwin F. Browder as Secretary-Treasurer of the Penhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company, effective June 1, announced by Edward J. Engel, president of the System Lines, today earned widespread approval of associates and friends in public life. Browder has been cashier of the company since 1918.

He assumes the position vacated by the retirement of Joseph N. Freeman, one of the best known officials in the Southwest and veteran of more than 50 years service.

At the age of 44 years, Browder takes over the important position with the warmest of commendation from officials. Prior to employment with the railway he was cashier of Armour and Company at Sherman and later Fort Worth, Texas.

Born in Canadian, Oklahoma, he was educated in public schools in that area. He is married and has two sons, Edwin Junior, and William.

72 Hidden Taxes Boost Total Cost Of Cotton Dress

Dallas, May 18.—Cotton grown by the Texas planter picks up parts 72 local, state and federal taxes on its way through business channels to the retailer's shelves, Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, president of the National Consumers Tax Commission, said here today.

Citing an NCTC survey of taxes affecting the cost of a cotton dress, she stated that fractions of the taxes, accumulated at every step of the production and distribution of the finished cotton goods, are paid by consumers in higher retail costs.

Leader of the commission's non-partisan crusade to "arouse tax consciousness among women and to expose hidden taxes," Mrs. Frazier declared:

"Hidden taxes, which now produce a major share of all local, state and national tax revenues, raise retail prices, thereby reducing buying power and tending to retard sales. For example, they make up 8.4 percent of the cost of a cotton dress. As a result, a Texas woman buying a $3 cotton dress actually gets a $2.75 article and pays 25 cents in hidden taxes.

"Those unseen levies, paid by consumers on all necessities as well as luxuries, on a cotton dress are originally taxes against planter, gin, country buyer, railroad, coastwise shipper, cloth mill, dress manufacturer and retailer. Unable

Educational Tour Over Lone Star State

An all-expenses educational tour of Texas for forty-eight pupils and $100 to six teachers will be the awards for The Dallas Morning News' first Know Your Texas contest which opened May 1 and closes March 1, 1940.

The contest, which has been approved by the State Department of Education, will be based on the 1939-40 Texas Almanac and State Industrial Guide, and upon a Guide Booklet of 130 questions prepared by Dr. Carter Alexander, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City, and Arthur Maberry, state supervisor at Tyler.

Pupils awards will be divided equally between salary aid and nonsalary aid schools, with two awards being given in each of the twenty-four supervisory districts. Three teacher awards will be given in salary aid schools, three in nonsalary aid schools.

The Guide Booklet, prepared for teachers and pupils from the fourth grade through high school in the white public, parochial and private schools, can be obtained shortly from The News and later from teachers and principals. All booklets and essays will be judged at The News.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maberry and the WFAA sound equipment will accompany the children on the tour of Texas' principal regions, including sites of both historical and industrial interest. Each of the four leading cities and the capital will be visited, and the schoolboy and girl given an opportunity to visit the East Texas pines and oil fields, the beach at Galveston, the Rio Grande Valley and the Texas plains.

In announcing the contest, G. B. Dealey, president of the News, said, that it is the hope of sponsors of the contest that "the contest will not only furnish teachers with an interesting classroom projects, but that it will have the further constructive results of stimulating interest of the public in the school system of the state."

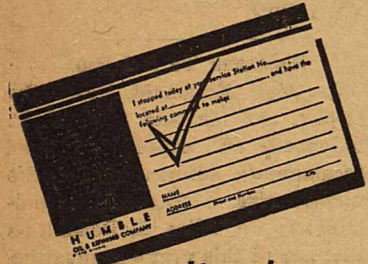

Improvement Made at Stamford

Stamford, May 18.—Improvements costing around $10,000 are now in progress at the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds just outside the city and will be completed in advance of the Tenth Annual Reunion, which will meet July 3, 4 and 5.

Major item on the construction program is a recreational building to be known as "The Roundup" which is being built by the oldtime cowboys association. The building will be used for the square dance, which in the past have been held in the cowboy bunkhouse. The new arrangement will leave the bunkhouse free for the purposes for which originally intended—a meeting place for the pioneer cowboys and their friends.

The Roundup is being built 200 feet southwest of the bunkhouse.

It makes us MIGHTY HAPPY to hear from you

THAT'S the reason why we put Service Check Cards in every Humble Service Station. Humble customers are invited to use these cards to tell us what they think of the service rendered, whether it's good, bad, or indifferent, which particular items please or displease. You'd be surprised at how many worthwhile suggestions come to us from customers who use these cards . . . And they make it possible for us to give you, through Humble Service Stations, the kind of service you want . . . In other words, we carry on a continuous study of what motorists need and want to make driving an automobile more pleasant, and then we try to give it to them . . . Do we succeed? . . . The check cards say we do, and their opinion is verified by the increasing number of Texas motorists who make it a regular practice to stop for service where they see the Humble sign . . . Seeing is believing, so we suggest that the next time your car needs a tankful of gasoline, you stop at the nearest Humble Service Station and check the service for yourself. . . . Then, if you care to, fill out one of the Service Check Cards you find and send it to us (no postage necessary). It will make us mighty happy to hear from you.

VOICE OF TEXAS

By PIERCE BROOKS

A national poll recently revealed the astounding fact that only one out of eight citizens claimed to know the words of our national anthem and an astonishingly low percentage of our public schools today have within their rooms the flag of our country.

A people who would be unwilling to commemorate in song and in story, in status and museum, a heroic band like that which followed Sam Houston 103 years ago would be unworthy of the boon that freedom gives. Like music and like flags monuments speak the universal language of man. They are and have ever been co-extensive with the vast and various pathways of men. Throughout the unfolding centuries monuments have been used by organized governments to memorialize heroic men and glorious women, great events and immortal deeds.

Carlyle has told us that Freedom is the one purport, wisely aimed at, or unwisely, of all man's struggles, toilings and sufferings, in this earth.

The immortal Gladstone has wisely said, "A happy home is the only safeguard and foundation of the church, the state and civilization." Brutes have no homes and when men have no homes, but only eating and sleeping places, they soon become brutes.

Do not keep the alabaster boxes of our love and tenderness sealed up until our friends are dead. Let us fill their lives with sweetness. Let us speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them and while their hearts can be thrilled by them.

These are times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from service of his country; but he that stands it now deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny is not easily conquered. Yet the harder the conflict the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly.

When our state becomes the grandest State between the Oceans all the world will have a desire to know all about the men and women, whose blood, tears, and heroism rescued this beautiful paradise from Mexican misrule and the Indian scalping knife. Then, I trust, some Homer or Walter Scott, or Macaulay will put in tablets of undying record the deeds of the founders of Texas.

An observant philosopher has said "I care not who writes the nation's laws, if I may listen to its songs." It may be that who occupy executive and legislative offices need to take second place in the work of influencing the thoughts and actions of our fellow citizens. Patriotic organizations suggest the teaching of—American History, or the study of the Constitution, or the making of pilgrimages to our sacred shrines.

These are all good, and yet I believe that were we to have more singing of our patriotic songs in the schools and in all groups where it can properly be done, we will have contributed greatly to the perpetuation of our patriotic ideals and to the protection of our country from the destructive germs of "isms" which fill the air.

An Empire of Unbounding Wealth

Wherever told, the story of Marvelous Texas, heroic and sublime, challenges wonder and admiration. From 1540 when Coronado in search for the fabled cities of the southwest, unfurled the royal banner of Spain near what is now Ysleta, and there proclaimed the ownership for Spain; from 1685 when LaSalle, probably the first European to set foot upon the soil of Texas, planted a colony of French along the waters of Matagorda Bay, a colony that was destined to a brief and tragic fate; from 1689 when Ponce da Leon, with a Spanish expedition, visited the ruins of LaSalle's fort, and then returning by the San Antonio river founded San Antonio de Bexar, through the period of colonization, beginning in 1825, through the revolution and independence gained in 1836, to statehood in the Union in 1845, and on to the present—that story is resplendent with a valor, a faith and a patriotism, of a citizenship whose history have tinted the flag with a new glory and ennobled the stirring annals of American enterprise.

The souls of Texan rise to inspired heights when they remember that "Thermopylae had her messenger of defeat while the Alamo had none."

Yet the grandeur and glory of Texas are not confined to wars' wild alarm under six flags, for there have been heroic and sublime days in time of peace. The patriotism, love for home and justice and freedom, gave Texans a vision and a fortitude out of which they redeemed their country from the despotism of "the Napoleon of the West" and then from the horrors of reconstruction and the tyranny of disfranchisement—more galling to the Anglo-American than an open contest with arms.

From 1825 to 1939 the people of Texas have been a busy people. From a wilderness they have produced taxable wealth and property estimated to have a value of twenty billion dollars.

Today the whirling wheels of of commerce and the beating hammers of trade herald their labors in this empire of unbounded wealth, the native home of the earth's greatest commodities, whose resources are the marvel of the world.

Great as is the stirring story of Texas and marvelous as are the challenging resources bestowed by a generous hand of a beneficent Creator, the Star of Texas has not yet approached its noonday splendor.

We recall the statement made recently by Pierce Brooks at a gathering of the Crusaders, "with Florida in the Valley of the Rio Grande, and Iowa and Nebraska spread over the Panhandle; with Wyoming and Montana in the ranches of the west and Washington and Oregon in the forest of the west; with Pennsylvania in her beds of coal and pools of petroleum and with one fifth of the earth's production bursting in the white banners of her fields of cotton; with more than New York in her ports and shipping—Texas lifts up her eyes to a greater tomorrow."

The Camera's Eye

By Jerry

Television is here. On May 1st all major radio manufacturers released television receivers for sale to the waiting public. The NBC recently broadcast and successfully televised the cartoon comedy, "Donald's Cousin Gus." Yes, certainly the picture was a Walt Disney prouduct.

"Man of Conquest," a story of Texas and for Texans, has been setting box-office records all over the country. A world premier opening of the picture was recently held in Houston where it played to capacity crowds; and well it should, for it is a true to life presentation of the career of Texas, most colorful figure, General Sam Houston.

An announcement of the marriage of Ruby Stephens Fay to Arlington Brugh would create very little interest, however, when these person's film names are substituted, it is news. The names, if you haven't guessed it, are Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor who were married Sunday.

We see by the preview that our hero, Buddy Ebsen, hooper extraordinary, is cast in a picture that is playing at the local theatre very soon. While Buddy has never won a beauty contest; he can act. Maybe that is why we try never to miss one of his pictures.

Considerable controversy has resulted over the release, (for exhibition,) of the picture "Confessions of a Nazi Spy." The official censor board of the country, however, has ignored the pleas of Nazi sympathizers and held that the picture may be exhibited in full and without cut of a single scene. Something tells us that Herr Hitler isn't going to enjoy this show.

to members and one guest of the Pastime Club.

Mrs. Rita Brown, Mrs. Cecil Allen, and Mrs. Hi Eastland, tied for high score.

The hostess served a sandwich plate to the following:

Mrs. Orion Brown, the guest, Mrs. O. G. Babcock, Mrs. Joe Berger, Mrs. J. W. Trainer, Mrs. J. T. McClelland, Mrs. Rita Ross, Mrs. F. T. Jones, Mrs. W. E. James, Mrs. W. D. Wallace, Mrs. Cecil Allen, Mrs. Hi Eastland, Mrs. C. E. Stites.

Tea and Picnic Monday Afternoon

A Japanese tea, honoring the mothers, was given by students of Miss Elizabeth Caldwell's third grade. The guests were met at the door by Tina Ann Taylor and Raymie Jo McClelland. Kathleen Schwiening and Helen Martin presided at the tea table.

The tea was in correlation with the Japanese unit the children had been studying and the work done while studying that unit was on display.

Following the tea, the room mothers, Mrs. Pope Lindsay, Mrs. Joe Brown Ross, and Mrs. Earl Merck, assisted by Mesdames H. L. Taylor, Mike Moore, Velma Shurley, John Martin, Ernest McClelland, R. S. Nance, gave Miss Caldwell, and the third grade a picnic.

The picnic was at the roadside park on the Del Rio highway. Games were played and a picnic lunch was enjoyed by all.

A Family Matter

They were discussing the question of repairing the old home, building a side porch and converting some attic space into a bedroom for young Tom.

"Ma," said the head of the household, "we just can't afford it. I haven't the ready cash and there's no place I know of where we can borrow it."

So the subject was laid on the table for another year. The old home would have to struggle along some way without a new coat of paint, the side porch would remain only a dream, and Tom wouldn't be able to display his grand collection of high school pennants in a room of his own.

Needless to say, this story is of the old days—for now Tom's father could borrow the money from this bank—that is if he were eligible for a FHA loan, and very few heads of households are not able to meet the requirements, and the loan may be paid in easy monthly payments just like rent. Don't you need something in repairs or remodeling around your home? Then why not get a loan and enjoy the newly added comforts while repaying the amount.

Full information on request. We are ready to discuss your home requirements with you at any time.

well as scholastic extra-curricula activities.

Myron is reporter of his class this year; has held offices of president and vice-president of other classes, is secretary-treasurer and reporter of the 4-H club this year, and is also president of the Thespian Club. During his three years thus far in high school he has been a representative at Interscholastic League meets in track, and has won the junior singles in tennis in 1938 and also in 1939. He was a member of the high school debate team in 1938, and this year went to the state meet in debating, having won first place in the 4-County District and Regional meets.

He has the distinction of being the youngest member of his class, has been on the honor roll each year of his entire school life, won a gold "R" in 1939, an award for the greatest amount of reading done in his class, and has been "Lion" each year in high school, which is an honor extended to high school boys making the highest average each six-weeks period.

To further add to his diversified ability Myron says his hobby is music. He plays the coronet and clarinet in the high school band, and is particularly interested in military marches.

After completing his high school work in Sonora, Myron plans to attend some Junior College for two years then enroll in the University of Texas where he expects to major in Law and pursue such as a minor study.
