Sonora Boy Likens Jockey Training To Military School

"Like a military school, with most of the Spartan and few of the social features," is the way Glenn Lee (Sonny) Crowell, 17 year-old Sonora jockey, described his five months of training under Cecil Locklear, prominent racing owner.

Ninety-nine pounds Sonny, who has consistently ridden in the money at River Downs, Cincinnati, puts in a full day of study and practice every day. Beginning with exercising Locklear's horses early in the morning, Sonny works on the finer points of riding and horse control until noon. The races generally start about 1:30, and from then until the races are over, he must remain in the jockey room or on the track. During the stay in the jockey room, valets are furnished by the park to help the boys dress, polish their boots, and keep their gear intact.

At night, there may be either skull practice or a movie which Mr. Locklear attends with Sonny. The idea of a chaperone is only a part of the rigid discipline which the apprentice jockey of the big leagues undergoes; a discipline which requires an abstinence of nearly everything from candy to liquors and virtually all night life. The discipline is easily understandable from two viewpoints: first, from the time the wire snaps until the first horse pushes his nose across the finish line is in the hands of the jockey, whose health and nervous makeup may influence the race just as much as those of the horse can, thereby causing the public to keep or lose its faith in racing; second, from the viewpoint of the owner, who has put thousands, sometimes millions into a stable, it is necessary that he have a "right" boy up every time.

Cecil Locklear estimates that it takes $10,000 to turn out a finished jockey during the fulfillment of the three-year contract, which may not be sold without the consent of Sonny and his parents. The contract is an ideal one, for it includes room and board (in the Locklear's home), insurance, clothes and transportation. Sonny's contract money is sent to the bank each month and he is allowed only spending money.

Although it seems strange to the average person that an apprentice jockey of five months has never ridden a winner, it is easily understood when it is explained that after he has ridden his first winner, the jockey is allowed to ride one year before he is required to pick up weight. Naturally an owner wants his jockey to be ready to win so he may take full advantage of his year of "free" riding.

The Locklear stables which now have five horses, Nanacub, Phillis, Busby, Lida K., and Raymond, has as its colors, green and gold. After finishing the races at Cincinnati, Sonny will go to Kentucky and New Orleans. According to word received here, he will visit in Sonora in a few weeks.

JOIN Red Cross Confronted With Gigantic Task . . . JOIN RED CROSS

Roll call time approaches for the American Red Cross—the time when Americans throughout the nation will be called upon to join or renew their membership in the Red Cross with the payment of the minimum fee of $1.00 and to say by their action that they want a part in the great humanitarian work of this organization.

It might be more fitting to say that since we cannot all go about the country in times of great disasters and tragedies that when the Red Cross goes it carries relief in our names. It is the dollars of the millions of people whose finances are about the same as ours that makes this great work possible.

Most of us are familiar with the work of the Red Cross in times of flood, tornado or other major disaster. Usually the Red Cross is the first organization on the scene bringing medicine, food, providing shelter and directing the work of relief and later of rehabilitation. It would do the same for Sonora.

Under its charter of 1905—that Congressional Charter by which it became a semi-governmental organization—the American Red Cross has the official duty of "mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other national catastrophes, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."

There are also countless smaller ways in which the Red Cross serves the people of this nation every day and is ever ready to lend this same assistance to people of this community should the need arise. Many times the amount invested by this community in the Red Cross could and would be returned to it.

There are uncertain times ahead and it is already evident that one hundred per cent more will be needed this year than last by the Red Cross. You are asked to remember this when the Roll Call opens on Armistice Day, November 11.

Three Leave For Army Tuesday

Reginald Trainer, Monroe Voight, and Manuel Nombrena left Tuesday night for Fort Bliss, El Paso, where they will be inducted into the U. S. Army training service, under the selective service act. The boys left by bus from Sonora late Tuesday night.

John William Bunnell of this city has been notified to report November 30 for induction into the army at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, according to W. E. Caldwell, local draft board member. Bunnell's order number was 503.

Public Warned Of Fake Social Security Cards Salesmen

October 29—Workers, employers, and the public in general were warned today in a statement by George D. Clark, manager of the San Angelo office of the Social Security Board, to be on the lookout for individuals representing themselves as salesmen for social security cards, who are traveling through certain parts of Texas and adjoining States and selling fictitious social security account number cards to unsuspecting persons. When last heard from, Clark said, these so-called salesmen were operating in San Antonio and Houston, Texas, as well as in the smaller towns adjacent to these cities.

In the Houston area the salesmen were receiving 25 cents for each card and giving as a token to the purchaser a "key tag." In San Antonio, the price was $1.25 each, according to information furnished the Board by purchasers.

"The card resembles the official social security account card with the exception that it does not contain the seal of the Social Security Board," Clark stated, "and on the face of the card printed in bold type is the word 'Specimen.' The serial number is 078-05-1120. The card is similar to the type usually used as a sample by one stores in the sale of bill folds and card cases."

DEFENSE BOND Quiz

Q. When will the "drive" to sell Defense Savings Bonds begin?

A. There will be no "drive." Many people think of the Defense Savings Program as like the Liberty Loan campaigns of the first World War, which were conducted for stated periods to raise specific quotas. The Defense Savings Program is a long-range, continuing effort to stimulate the people to buy more and more Defense Bonds and Stamps month by month and is essentially a program to promote mass saving, as well as to provide money for defense.

Q. Are the Defense Savings Stamps sold at retail stores exchangeable for Defense Savings Bonds?

A. Yes. They are the same as Stamps on sale at post offices and elsewhere.

NOTE:—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also stamps now are on sale at retail stores.

THE MENARD NEWS that arrangements have completed for the Parent Teachers Association Livestock Auction to be held on Main Street in Menard Saturday afternoon, November 8th, at 3:00 p. m. Livestock that has been donated to the Parent Teacher Association will be auctioned off and the proceeds will go to the treasury of the Association. Considerable livestock has been donated already and more will be expected during the coming week. This method of raising the necessary funds for the Association was suggested by ranchmen and the officers of the P-T. A. decided to use it.

The Parent Teachers Association is doing a splendid work in Menard this year and the response of the people will of course be measured by the interest taken in this Livestock Auction and it is hoped it will be a great success.

DURING THE PAST week 58,000 pounds of wool have been shipped from the warehouses in Mason. The wool was sold to Joe Blakeney of San Angelo, representing Howell, Jones and Donald of Boston. This wool was all 12-month wool and ranged in price from 37½ cents to 40 cents, the bulk being at 40 cents.

The Mason Warehouse, which sold 28,000 pounds sold all of its wool on hand; however, the Producers Storage, which sold 25,000 pounds of wool, still has some fall wool on hand. The mohair market for this fall has been very slow.—Mason County News.

PECOS COUNTY SHEEP growers are shipping out to feeders one of the finest lamb crops ever produced in the country, and at prices which spell prosperity for the sheep country. Ten cents is the prevailing figure, with some running up to 11 cents.

At a dime the average lamb is bringing the grower a net of about $7, which is the best price in a dozen years. Weights in many flocks are averaging better than 70 pounds.

Heaviest Pecos County lambs shipped thus far were those of Lloyd Ligon, which scaled 76 pounds after a 7 per cent cut.—Ft. Stockton Pioneer.

WALKER RAGSDALE, MANAGER of the Kimble Wool and Mohair Co., Inc., announced yesterday that his corporation had made sales of 401,000 pounds of mohair last week to eight different buyers. The hair went at 57 cents for grown hair, 67 cents for yearling, and 77 cents for kid. There is still approximately 10,000 pounds of kid hair, 35,000 pounds of yearling hair, and 40,000 pounds of grown hair in the warehouse that has not been sold.—Junction Eagle.

THE 1942 AGRICULTURAL Conservation program will stress more than ever before soil conservation, according to John R. Shurtleff, local ACA secretary. Soil building allowances will be greatly increased and benefit payments will be decreased. National defense calls for more feed and hay crops. Increased in dairy and poultry products, meats, and peanuts for oil are needed.

There will be no feed allotments or feed payments in 1942, Mr. Shurtleff said. In order to receive wheat and cotton payments a farmer must devote one fourth of his tilled land to erosion resitting crops or land uses. This land will be his "government acres," and idle cropland will not qualify except that on which standard terraces are built during the 1942 program year (December 1, 1941 through November 30, 1942).—Brady Standard.

THIRTY THOUSAND POUNDS of graded mohair, about half the firm's accumulation, was sold late last week by Vernon H. Smith, owner of the Sabinal Wool & Mohair Co., in two sales.

In one of the sales, W. H. Crough Co., of Boston, took the No. 1 grown mohair at 68 cents a pound. O. W. Forte, Jr., of Forte, Dupee, & Sawyer, was the purchaser of four other grades, including the No. 3 grown at 52 cents a pound, the No. 4 grown at 45 cents a pound, the stained grown at 37 cents and the stained kid at 55 cents.

The warehouse has around 30,000 pounds of graded hair left, including the Nos. 1 and 2 kid and No. 2 grown. The sales were the first of the graded accumulation by the Sabinal firm this season.—Uvalde Leader-News.

PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION CO. of Denton was the successful bidder and was awarded contract for construction of 21 miles of pavement on Highway 163 south from Ozona when the Crockett County Commissioners Court met Friday morning to consider bids on the paving project.

Public's was the lowest bid out of seven submitted, the firm agreeing to complete the paving for a total of $95,981.97. The Denton firm was represented by W. M. Jago, contractor.

Specifications call for 21 miles of re-grading, drainage structures, caliche base and asphalt surface treatment on Highway No. 163 south from Ozona, the contractor to furnish tools, labor, equipment and materials and construct the road complete in every detail.—Ozona Stockman.

THE BIG LAKE Odd Fellow Lodge purchased from Mayor R. Theis this week the building which the lodge has been using for a hall and moved it on a lot north of the Chevrolet Garage.

The building, erected about twenty-seven years ago by Mr. Theis, was used as a feed barn in connection with an adjoining wagon yard. During Big Lake's boom days various types of business were in the building. For several years it served as a meeting place for the Church of Christ members until their new building was erected.—Big Lake Wildcat.

Lions Club Will Meet Wednesday Next Week

Avoiding possible conflicts with planned Armistice Day celebration plans, the Sonora Lions Club will meet Wednesday noon next week, instead of the customary Tuesday date, it was decided at the club luncheon this week.

Many local people plan various forms of entertainment for the day, and the weekly meeting of the civic body will be postponed in order to eliminate a conflict with these holiday activities, it was pointed out.

A musical program, featuring vocal and instrumental selections by school students under the direction of Mrs. Preston C. Lightfoot, was presented at the Tuesday meeting.

By-Laws and constitution of the club were discussed during the business session of the club and the proposed changes in the governing rules will be studied with the object of adapting them more completely with present conditions and circumstances in Sonora.

The Abilene Lions Club has invited members of the local club who might attend the Baptist Convention in the city to visit that club while there. Communications from the Abilene organization were read by Secretary John Eaton.

A meeting of the board of directors of the club was ordered for Thursday night in the office of J. L. Nisbet.

According to Secretary John Eaton, sixty-one Lions and twelve guests attended the meeting Tuesday noon.

Texas Rangers Riding Highways & Byways

Century-Old Force Is Staging Intensified Campaign To Prevent Livestock Theft

From "The Cattleman"

The Texas Rangers are expanding their forces and adopting new methods to combat the wave of livestock thefts which has plagued Texas in recent months.

State Police Director Homer Garrison began looking for new methods of combatting high speed rustlers when the theft situation began to become acute early in the summer. Ranger Sargeant Ernest Best was assigned to work out better methods for running down thieves who had suddenly began to make off with cattle, sheep, goats and hogs in large numbers.

Sargeant Best, former sheriff and cattle inspector, had been rather successful in breaking up cattle theft rings in the Central Texas Ranger district.

Convinced that livestock thieves cannot be caught in an office, Sargeant Best took two crews of Rangers and moved into the brush. For about two months these crews shifted about from one camp site to another in the Central Texas area. They set up blockades on major highways and stopped every vehicle. Livestock being transported in trucks was checked carefully, for marks and brands. When a driver was found who did not have the proper papers showing the ownership, description and destination of the livestock, he was advised of the law which requires such papers and informed that strict compliance with this law would be expected in the future. Passenger cars also were searched, since thieves sometimes butcher livestock on the spot and haul it away in the back seat of a sedan or hide a few head of sheep or hogs in the back end of a coupe.

The next step was to inaugurate night scouting expeditions along county and private roads where thefts most frequently occur.

The Rangers camped out just as did the Rangers of many years ago. Taking advantage of the element of surprise, they made it a point to keep the locations of the camps a secret. This work was carried out with the enthusiastic cooperation and assistance of sheriffs throughout the Central Texas area.

The next step was the organization of systematic methods of checking all livestock auction rings and other sales outlets, together with more strict enforcement of the laws requiring records to be kept by the operators of such places.

"I believe these experiments proven their value," the State Police director announced recently, "and we are adopting them throughout the State."

Need State Brand Law

"Of course, the biggest handicap is the lack of a comprehensive branding law, but we are not going to cry about that. I believe the Rangers, working together in this problem, can accomplish a great deal toward quelling livestock thefts."

On September 1 Sargeant Best was promoted to Ranger captain and retained in command of the headquarters district, of which he had been in charge for the last two years.

ly, but firm, Captain Best has amassed a wealth of experience in his 30 ears as a law enforcement officer. He wore his first badge as a deputy under Sheriff Charlie Tallard at Roswell, N. M. He served seven years with the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board and then was appointed sheriff of Lea County, N. M., serving the appointive term and one elective term. Then he returned to the Cattle Sanitary Board for three years, subsequently servide two years with the U. S. Border Patrol, and entered the Ranger service July 22, 1936.

He was born in Albany, Shackelford County, and finished high school there.

Garrison's next step was the appointment of six criminal investigators to new positions created by the recent Legislature. The new officers, most of whom will be assigned to investigations of livestock are:

E. H. Marshall of San Augustine, for five years sheriff of San Augustine. A former student of the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College at Nacogdoches, he served four years as deputy sheriff in San Augustine County prior to becoming sheriff. He is a graduate of the Peace Officers Training School conducted by the Department of Public Safety and of the National Police Academy conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He has been assigned to the Houston district.

Raymond Waters of Lubbock, who resigned last October as sheriff of Wheeler County has been employed by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission as game warden. He has been assigned to the Lubbock district.

Chief Deputy T. J. (Jim) Flournoy, for thirteen years a member of the Fayette County sheriff's department, has been assigned to the Austin district.

John Klavenhagen of San Antonio, for nine years a deputy constable and deputy sheriff of Bexar County, has been assigned to the Houston district.

Norvell Redwine of Lubbock, a highway patrolman since October, 1937, has served one year as sheriff at Tahoka prior to entering the Texas Highway Patrol. He has been assigned to the Lubbock district.

Leon T. Vivian of George West, a former cattleman who had been employed as a cattle inspector since 1939 by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has been assigned to the Del Rio district and is stationed at Mission.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

My first speech was on a Sunday School program at Yuletide, probably at the age of 6, and it was no such "kid stuff" as "Mary had a little lamb," either. No sir, it was:

If I had a dollar,
A great big round dollar,
That someone had given to me,
I'd jump up and down
And I'd certainly holler,
For I'd buy the whole Christmas tree.

My first dollar, by the way, was made soon after that great declamation by gathering a bucket of peaches from the tree in our back yard and trudging around, selling them. A dollar (I thought) was all the money there was in the world. Imagine my surprise when I counted up and found that I had actually sold $1.05 worth of peaches. That was when one young salesman called it a day."

And first time I ever saw my name in the paper was when I was recovering from a serious illness, not long after the peach-selling episode. In that particular issue of the paper, the editor told about Farmer Brown bringing in an extra large sweet potato and that item occupied six lines while the fact that I had been quite sick was given only three lines. It was a long time before I forgave the local Horace Greely.

My Grandpa used to say, After you've done your best, the result—whether success or failure, is in a Higher Hand. But have you done your best?

To which his grandson adds, What is failure anyway? Buckle wrote the history of civilization, but he didn't tell us what civilization is. "What is truth?" asked jesting Pilate, and would not stay for an answer. What has seemed a failure at the moment has oft-times proved to be the turning point that led man to great achievement. And what the world has called failure sometimes has proved, in the light of history, to have been grand success.

One of the chief objections advanced to another special session of the legislature is that, once the lawmakers meet, the bars are down and any subject is liable to be legislated on, with consequent increase in tax and legislation. . . . ;Ncrease in tax and regulations. Even at the recent special session called for just one purpose, the House passed some thirty bills on other subjects despite the fact that press and public were unanimous in insisting that nothing but the county road bond assumption bill be dealt with.

An old Quaker said to a friend, "Everybody is a liar except thee and me—and sometimes I have my doubts about thee."

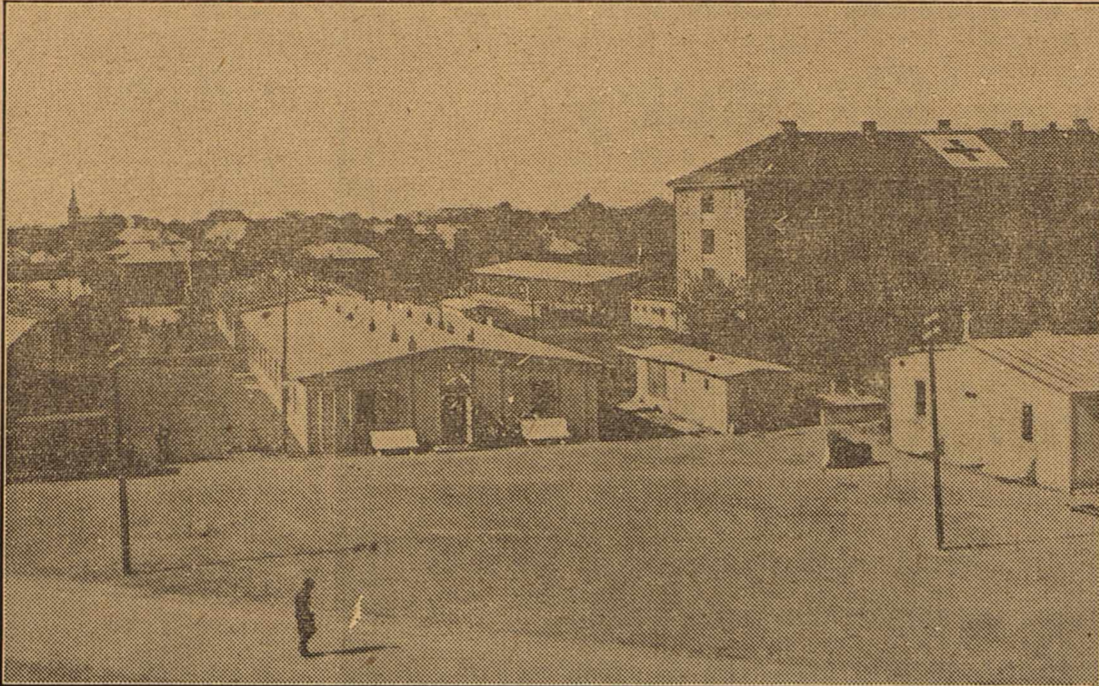

A sailor, after placing some flowers on a grave in a cemetery, noticed an old Chinaman placing a bowl of rice on a nearby grave, and asked, "What time do you expect your friend to come up and eat that rice?"

The old Chinaman replied with a smile: "Same time your friend comes up to smell flowers."

With Texas the location of so many national defense industries—the bomber plant in Fort Worth and the airplane factory in Grand Prairie, to name only two—thought is being given by defense industry officials as to ways and means of preventing their workers from falling into the clutches of loan sharks. For loan sharks are enemies of national defense. Such is not their intention, for even a man who loans money at 400 per cent interest can have a spark of patriotism in his breast.

But J. L. Pritchett, manager of the Fort Worth Better Business Bureau, points out that one of the worst effects of falling into the toils of a loan shark is that the borrower who is unable to meet the payments begins to worry and his efficiency on the job is seriously reduced. National defense industry heads want to prevent such a condition among their workers and so credit unions (whereby workers in a plant pool their savings, and loans are made to individual members) will be encouraged.

In the Shadow of the Red Cross

DURING THE RAF to bomb this Red Cross hospital in Trondheim, Nazi-occupied Norway, the Germans have built their army barracks right up against the plainly marked structure. British raids on German-held Europe have been increasingly ferocious all summer, and resistance to the Nazis and hope for an ultimate Allied victory in the occupied countries is growing daily.

WHAT'S GOOD FOR THE DUCK HUNTER IS BAD FOR THE COOK; HERE'S HELP

AUSTIN—The duck and goose season is on and that's swell for the sportsman, but what of the harried housewife who's expected to pick the ducks and roast them in a manner pleasing in all respects to the Master of the Hunt?

The Game department will try to be of assistance.

First, this matter of picking ducks. Don't try to pick all those dry feathers off. Pluck the larger, coarser ones, and pour melted paraffin over the entire bird. Dip it in cold water. All you have to do then is pick off the paraffin, feathers and down in big chunks, and the job's over. When the feathers are off, dry the bird and singe it, and it's ready for roasting.

One Way to Roast Duck

In case the wife of the mighty nimrod is uncertain as to how to roast a duck, here's a suggestion:

Salt and pepper the bird inside and out, place breast down in roaster or rack, roast at 360 degrees (moderate oven) 35 minutes per pound, and baste several times while roasting.

Everybody wants a good dressing to go with roast duck, and a good dressing nine times out of ten means a wild rice dressing.

Here's how you make it:

Wash rice in several changes of warm water (wild rice swells more than twice during cooking). For each cup of rice add two tablespoons of butter, one-half teaspoon of salt, and cook in top of covered double boiler until done. For dressing, use two cups of cooked wild rice, add one tablespoon of minced onions, one-half cup chopped celery, one tablespoon of sage, one teaspoon of minced parsley and add cream to bind the ingredients together.

Ducks for Breakfast

Here's a duck-for breakfast recipe from the American Cookbook that might be of interest:

"Cut the meat (from the remains of wild roast duck) from the bones, pick out all the little tidbits from the recesses, lay them in a frying pan and cover with water and the cold gravy left from the roast. Add a piece of butter, let all boil up once and if not quite thick enough stir in a little dissolved flour. Serve hot."

The current duck and goose season will last through December 31. Shooting hours for ducks, geese and coot is sunrise to 4 p.m. The bag limit on ducks is 10 per day or 20 in possession. Daily bag may contain 3 buffleheads or 3 redheads, or 3 of these two species together, and not more than 6 of these ducks may be possessed. Daily bag may also contain not more than one wood duck, and not more than one of this species may be possessed. Bag limit for geese and brandt is three per day or 6 in possession. In addition, hunters may take 3 blue geese per day and they may have 6 blue geese in possession. The original 3 or 6 geese may include or consist entirely of blue geese and it is thus possible for a hunter to take 6 blue geese per day or have 12 in possession if he takes or possesses no other kinds of geese.

Duck stamp are required of all migratory waterfowl hunters over 16 years of age. Buy them at the postoffice. Price, $1.00.
