Enough to make even the grown-up's eyes bulge are some of the newer toys brought on by World War II. Typical is the game "Coast Defense," in which a naval fleet tries to capture a coastal fortress.

Game Commission Shows Wild Life Movies To Lions

With the opening of deer and turkey season only a few days off, the Lions Club was treated to some of the finest wildlife pictures taken in the Southwest.

Worthy of any Hollywood producer, technicolor pictures showed deer, javalina, wild turkey, coyotes, and many birds in their natural habitats. Even the rattlesnake and the lowly armadillo made their appearances in the beautiful drama of nature.

Shown under the auspices of Educational Department of the Game Commission, and accompanied by a lecture from Fred Thompson, who was on the field trip when the shots were made, the movie was taken on the Chapman and Bonner ranch in Maverick County and managed for 20 years by the late Mack Bursleson.

Although there were only six deer there when Bursleson took over, he was a believer in game conservation, and gradually built the ranch into a preserve. Today, as the pictures evidenced, there is an abundance of every kind of natural wildlife.

Guests at the meeting were Pat Reilly, Harvey Reynolds, and Jimmy Windham.

America Organizes For Raid Protection

Nobody in this country knows definitely whether Hitler will ever try to bomb the cities of the United States. But there is good enough reason for thinking he may try to make it simple prudence to get ready.

That is why the Office of Civilian Defense has organized a Citizens Defense Corps to train volunteers in all the special jobs that citizens have to do in total defense against total war. The importance of their role in the new kind of warfare was proved beyond all doubt during the fire raids over London last winter.

Because of the need for this kind of protection, especially in the cities along the seaboard, one day has been set aside in Civilian Defense Week to help educate the people as the need for volunteer workers and what they can do. This day is Saturday, November 15 and it is called "Civilian Protection Day."

To the residents of the metropolitan cities along the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Gulf, the air raid warden system established by the office of Civilian Defense are no longer academic. Men, women and children over the age of fifteen years are enrolling in large numbers for the training courses that will fit them for service.

Men and women alike may serve as Air Raid Wardens, one of the key positions open to volunteers. To many people, the Air Raid Warden is the personal representative of the Office of Civilian Defense.

While the Air Raid Warden does not exercise police powers, he functions with its help. The Air Raid Warden's post is organized to serve a unit of five hundred people. It is accessible and plainly marked, and inasmuch as at least one person always is on duty, four Air Raid Wardens usually are assigned to each post.

The Air Raid Warden's duties include: (1) Observing lights showing during a blackout and warning occupants of the building; (2) directing persons in the street to shelter; (3) reporting to the control center any fallen bombs; (4) reporting fires to the control center and assisting in fighting incendiary bombs as soon as they fall; (5) detecting and reporting to the control center the presence of gas; (6) administering elementary first aid; (7) assisting victims in damaged buildings.

The Air Raid Warden is chosen carefully. The position of Air Raid Warden may be filled either by a man or woman, provided the person chosen is capable of performing the duties. One of the most important duties is to set an example of controlled activity and cool efficiency under all conditions. Training is given all Air Raid Wardens in gas and fire-bomb defense, first aid, and general organization of air-raid services.

Other volunteer services in the civilian defense program include:

Auxiliary Police: In many communities, volunteers—men and women—are needed to aid to regular police force in performance of its duties. The number required is determined by the Chief of Police. Police functions in which volunteers assist include: (1) En-

Moral Victory In Close Score

Given only a slight chance to hold the Ozona Lions down to a small margin of victory, the Sonora Broncos played the vaunted felines to a standstill, although Ozona scored twice on passes.

Spark of the Broncos was Roy Cooper, who carried the running and passing attack forward, and who on one occasion, ran to the Lion's six yard line, only to have the play called back.

Ozona, on the top of the District 7-B heap, made both scores in the third quarter on passes from Hannah to Williams and Coates to Williams. The Broncos, however, penetrated twice, and made ten first downs to Ozona's fifteen.

The last game of the season for the Broncos will be played at Big Lake the night of Wednesday, November 19. This is not a conference game.

Elementary Boys Lose Only One Game In Tough Season

John Franklin, Coach of the elementary football team, would like to express his appreciation and gratitude to the boys for the splendid cooperation and willingness to work that they showed throughout the season. It is only through determination and cooperation that success can be achieved.

A record of the season shows the following:

Games won: Sonora and Menard, 6-7; Ozona-Sonora, 13-0; Rocksprings, Sonora, 6-0; Eldorado and Sonora, 21-0; Rocksprings and Sonora, 20-0 and Eldorado vs Sonora 15-6.

Games lost: Menard and Sonora, 13-0.

The boys are soon to begin training for basketball. We believe that if the same spirit can be carried over into basketball that was manifested in football, that it will also be carried on with success.

Defense Stressed In School Programs

The Sonora High School, Elementary School, and L. W. Elliott Schools enjoyed two weeks of excellent programs last week and this week. This week, "Junior Red Cross Week," will be tied in with the national Red Cross drive. Appropriate programs will be given tomorrow.

Another "week" sponsored by the National Education Association, American Legion, U. S. Office of Education, and the National Congress of the Parent-Teachers Association, is "American Education Week." Program subjects for that week were "Education for a Strong America," "Seeking World Order," "Building a Physical Fitness," "Strengthening National Morale," "Improving Economic Well-Being," "Safeguarding school Support," "Learning the Ways of Democracy," and "Enriching the Family Life."

and do be careful!"

"Five mornings a week, nine months a year, we mothers of Texas get our children ready for school. In our home and a million other Texas homes, that's one of the first and most important duties of a mother's day. Sometimes Dad finds out what a job it is when he has to do it by himself."

All of us want our children to have the best education possible. Most of us look to the public schools for this.

Fortunately, Texas has the best public schools in the South. Helping to build and operate them is the Texas petroleum industry which pays 24 million dollars a year in taxes for school purposes.

These petroleum taxes pay an average of one-fourth the cost of educating our children. Altogether, they meet the entire expense of schooling nearly 400,000 Texas boys and girls.

In addition, oil has contributed substantially to the 70 million dollar permanent school fund. Oil is also responsible for much of the 30 million dollar permanent university fund, which has made possible the expansion of the University of Texas and A. & M. College.

Furthermore, taxes on petroleum products add another 11½ million dollars a year for the schools of our State.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

- Nine ways to kill a good town:
1. Don't attend any civic meetings and if you go, arrive late.
  2. Never accept an office. It is easier to criticize than do things.
  3. Do nothing more than absolutely necessary, but when others use their ability to help matters along, howl that the town is being run by a clique.
  4. If you have a suggestion to offer, do not think of going to the authorities in charge—just yell to the world at large.
  5. Get "sore" if you are not appointed on a committee, such as the park board, cemetery board, or public relations committee; but if you are appointed do not attend committee meetings.
  6. Get good and mad at some members of the organization.
  7. Be pessimistic about every proposal to expand trade and promote the interests of the town.
  8. Watch the proceedings of the local school board and town council, and point out the errors of their ways to everyone who will stop long enough to listen.
  9. Encourage your wife and relatives to do their shopping out of town.

"Refuse to make a speech if you cannot make a good one," says the Menard News, claiming that it is better to be suspected of dumbness than to prove it.

"He has good common sense"—
"He knows how to get along with the legislature"—
These are typical comments of citizens in a poll conducted by the Texas Surveys of Public Opinion about Governor Coke Stevenson. The poll shows that over 75 per cent of the people approve of him as Governor.

After getting Uncle Reuben seated at a football game between two colleges, his nephew told him, "You'll now see more excitement than you ever saw for two dollars." "I don't know," replied Uncle Reuben, "That's just what the license cost when I married Aunt Jennie."

Recently when your columnist asked the one and only J. Frank Dobie who his favorite Texas characters were, the famous Southwestern writer made this characteristically forthright reply: "I can think of several Texas characters I have been mighty fond of. None of them have been Ph. D. professors. One was a town scavenger but no mayor has been among them. Two or three have been goat-herders and another was always about to find the Lost Bowie Mine.

"Jim Bowie, with his Bowie knife, comes close to being my favorite character. Several favorites have been old trail drivers, like George W. Saunders, Walter Billingsley, Ab Blocker and Charles Goodnight. One of these range favorites was on old Mexican vaquero. "Just to satisfy you, I'll name for the moment Bigfoot Wallace as my favorite. He was full of vitality and heartiness. He was as cheerful as a fat mule grazing with mares and colts. He was as honest as daylight and could 'stretch the blanket' wide enough to make it cover half a county.

REPAIR YOUR FARM MACHINERY NOW

A Message to the Ranchers and Farmers of America:

The year of 1942 will be a critical one for ranches and farmers. Prepare for it by repairing your machinery now. The Food for Freedom program calls for a record production. At the same time defense needs will limit available labor. Ranchers who are unable to get enough labor will have to rely more and more upon machinery, but the defense program will mean much less new machinery in 1942. New farm machinery requires steel and other metals, and metals are a prime need in the defense program. You can help country and yourself by repairing your old machinery now rather than attempting to get new machinery next year.

Repair your farm and ranch machinery and equipment now. The Government is taking steps to provide as much steel and other metal as may be needed for all necessary repairs for 1942. To be sure of a supply of necessary repair parts, manufacturers need to know how much will be required. The only way to be sure of repair parts is to order them immediately. Failure to make repairs now may mean a crop loss later. I suggest you do these things at once:

- Check over your old machinery.
- Order necessary parts from your dealer.
- If parts cannot be obtained notify your county U.S.D.A. Defense Board.

As replacement needs arise throughout the year use substitutes for steel and iron wherever possible.

In many areas, county agents and vocational agricultural teachers are arranging for instruction in farm machinery repair. You may wish to take advantage of such instructions or to have others in your family do so. Make your old farm machinery and equipment do another year by repairing it now.

AFTER SEVERAL WEEKS of tedious work of building complete forms for the 18x45 foot water storage tank on water works hill, workmen for the Ross Construction Co. Tuesday night completed the uninterrupted job of pouring concrete to form the circular wall of the tank.

The reservoir walls were poured without interruption so that the completed tank would be seamless and of solid reinforced construction. More than four weeks were spent in building the huge form, after a 45-foot circle had been cleared and blasted to solid rock foundation.—Ozona Stockman.

THE COURT of Honor of Permain Basin Boy Scouts was postponed from last Thursday night until Tuesday night.

Boys from Texon, Iraan and McCamey received awards. Two boys from Troop 49, Iraan, received the Eagle award which is the highest rank in Scouting.

Some 28 men and 30 boys attended this Court of Honor which was held in the McCamey Scout Cabin.

Immediately after the Court of Honor, a business session of the District was called to order by Doug Corley of Iraan, who has served the past three years as District Chairman. The election of officers for the coming year was held at this meeting.

The new officers are:

Oliver O. Jacobsen, McCamey, Chairman.

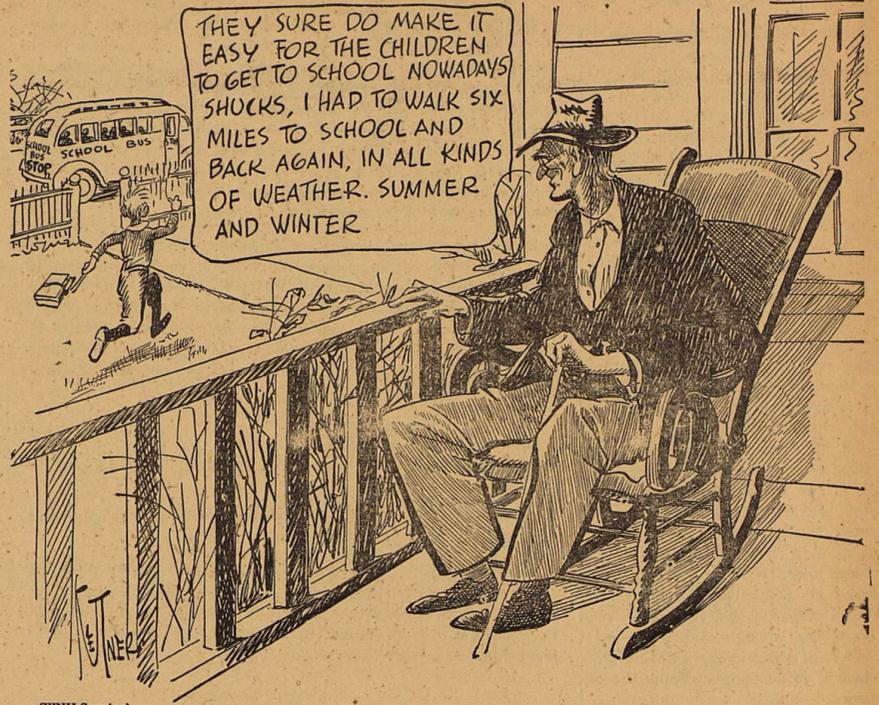

H. B. Blackburn, Iraan, First Vice Chairman.

Don Chaney, Crane, Second Vice Chairman.

Every town in the District was represented by scouters from Fort Stockton, Iraan, Big Lake, Texon, Crane and McCamey.

Paul Ireland, the Assistant Scout Executive of the Concho Valley Council, was present for both the Court of Honor and the District Meeting. In his talks to the groups, he gave both the men and boys an inspiration to reach higher goals in the work of Scouting, and thus better each community.—The McCamey News.

forcement of emergency restrictions on lighting and prohibitions on trespassing; (2) guarding of docks, bridges, and factories to prevent sabotage; (3) traffic duty to facilitate movement of essential vehicles; (4) prevention of looting of partially demolished shops and homes; (5) assistance to air-raid and Housing Corps, identified by the "coffee cup" insignia.

Decontamination Corps: The possibility that an attacking enemy may use war gas makes a Decontamination Corps necessary. Provision must be made for special treatment of clothing and equipment and also for chemical neutralization of streets and wall contaminated by the persistent liquids known as "blister gases" or vesicant. Specialized training and equipment are needed for this work. Instruction for the local defense organization receive training at Civilian Defense Schools conducted by the War Department. The Health Department is particularly concerned with decontamination work. Members of the Decontamination Corps are identified by insignia showing the chemical re-tort.

Demolition and Clearance Crews: After an air raid, streets may be filled with rubble, walls of partially demolished buildings may tilt dangerously, and streets may be blocked by bomb craters. Husky crews of enrolled volunteers, added to existing clearance forces, remove rubble from the streets and fill carters made by bombs or broken pavements. They are provided with equipment to dynamite unsafe walls and buildings. These crews operate ordinarily under the Public Works Department. They wear "the pick" insignia.

Road Repair Crews: Street or road repair crews, augmented by civilian volunteers, restore normal flow of traffic as rapidly as possible after an air raid. These crews operate ordinarily under the Street or Public Works Department following up the rough clearance of the demolition squads. They smooth the road surfaces, repave with available material and restore road markings. They wear "the shovel" insignia.

Auxiliary Firemen: Since fire is one of the greatest threats in air attack, augmentation of the regular fire-fighting forces is necessary. A practical plan, used in Britain and already under way in a number of American cities, is the establishment of three auxiliary fire stations around each existing engine company. One officer or first-grade fireman is placed in charge of each auxiliary fire station, and up to 30 enrolled volunteers, assigned on the platoon system, are allotted to each such station.

Fire Watchers: The menace of the fire bomb calls for unceasing vigilance and prompt, intelligent action. Fighting incendiary bombs as they fall is a duty in which all able-bodied citizens need training.

Improvements Made.

Noticed on the school grounds Wednesday were several improvements. Sidewalks have been built from the High School to the Home Making cottage from the High School to the gym, and to the street. Old entrances to the Elementary School basement have been blocked, thus preventing water seepage. Heating units in the High School auditorium have been repaired and minor electrical work has been done on the Elementary building.

Other news from the schools includes the facts that second six weeks examinations will end next Wednesday, and that this week is Visitation Week, all parents and friends being invited to watch the students at their work.

G. H. Davis' Home Recently Remodeled And Redecorated

The ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Davis has recently been remodeled and redecorated. The outside has been rock veneered in native stone on the interior, designed to be one of the most modern and complete ranch homes in Sutton County. The home is designed to express the personality of its owners and for the comfort and convenience of their daughters, Marjory, who is attending college in San Antonio and Flora Dell, who is in the third grade.

Intering into a small reception hall, the first thing that one sees is a large fireplace of native stone on the north wall of the living room. The living room is papered in ivory and blue drapes with large floral designs drapes the windows. On one side of the fireplace is a rose rust divan and on the other side is an occasional chair upholstered in white satin finish material with small flowers. One of the outstanding features is a small walnut table which Mrs. Davis' mother received as a wedding present. At one end of the living room is a large secretary. A gold chair in the same design as the divan and a piano over which are built-in book cases completes the living room furnishings. Beside the fireplace is a pair of woden shoes unique in the large fireplace are the T-Heart andirons made of inverted hearts crossed by bars at the apex.

A small entrance hall, lined with shelves, leads into the front bedroom, which is occupied by Marjory. On the bed is a red dotted swiss bedspread and the white swiss curtains are tied back with large red swiss bows. The dressing table stool is covered in the same material as the bed spread. On one side of the wall is a large white fireplace with various colored tile hearth. On either side of the fireplace are what-not-shelves. The furniture in this room is walnut and the wall is covered with a light paper.

From the bed room, one enters into the hall from which entrance to the guest room, bath room, bedroom and dining room may be obtained. The guest room is covered in blue paper with a small white floral design. This room is furnished with colonial furniture. The spool bee is covered with a white chinille spread and the large dresser has a marble top. Around the small dressing table, hangs a chintz drape of pastel pink.

The bathroom is red and black and the linoleum rug is white with black stars. The white background paper is covered in flowers of different shades of red.

The furniture in the masters bedroom is cherry and the cord bed is covered with a blue and ivory chintz spread. The bed, dresser and sewing table are antiques. Blue curtains are hung over the windows. Rag throw rugs in the blue are used. The joining bath is blue and yellow. Blue ducks flying across a white background paper is used on the walls and yellow curtains and mat are used. Large built-in drawers complete the bathroom.

DOWN IN TEXAS
By Edmunds Travis

Control of labor in the Texas-petroleum refining industry, which accounts for 40 per cent of the State's manufacturers, is soon to be sought by the C.I.O. in a heavily financed drive. Some refineries already have contracts with C. I. O. unions. The object of the new effort will be to organize the industry 100 percent.

Edwin S. Smith, former member of the National Labor Relations Board, will be commander-in-chief of the projected invasion. He made a name for radicalism and intense partisanship as a member of the board. At his disposal for operations in Texas will be a "war chest" of $200,000.

Best paid workers in the state are those employed in the refineries. They are not complaining. The impending drive is one for more power for the C.I.O. It threatens a repetition in Texas of the strife, disorder and paralysis of defense production which has lately been witnessed in Northern, Eastern and Far Western States.

Texans in Navy

Sinking of the destroyer Reuben James brought the conflict with Nazi aggression poignantly home to Texans. Commander of the lost ship was Lieutenant Commander H. L. Edwards of San Saba. Other Texans aboard were Lieut. Ben Ghetzler of San Antonio; Charles B. Cox of Houston; Paul R. Boynton of Carthage; Lee L. Reid of Dallas; Hartley Franks of Gatesville.

Perhaps it occurred to few who scanned this list that the proportion of Texas men in the crew of the James was rather below than above the average for Uncle Sam's warships. But such is the fact. Texas is heavily represented in all ranks of Navy personnel. Among the admirals hailing from this State are James O. Richardson, former Admiral of the Fleet; Chester W. Nimitz, chief of the Bureau of Navigation; Samuel M. Robinson, chief of the Bureau of Ships, and Adolphus Andrews, commander of the New York Naval district. Hundreds of officers of lower rank (one of them, Captain T. A. Thomson, Jr., commands the Texas district and thousands of enlisted men are natives of Texas. In all, there are more than 12,000 Texans in the U. S. Navy—which is one reason why it is the World's best.

Jesse James, Treasurer

In the early 1900's John James was a Santa Fe yardmaster at Temple. By way of a joke, his fellow workers called him "Jesse." When he announced the birth of a son, the youngster was dubbed "little Jesse." The name tickled the fancy of a grandfather, who insisted that it be made official.

When Jesse James was five years old, his father gave up railroad work for farming, settling near Milano. There were ten James children when the father died, and Jesse, still a boy, put in toilsome years on the farm before entering the drug business at Thorndale. After seven years of the drug store, he went to the Texas Legislature in 1933. He served three terms. In September 1937, Treasurer Charley Lockhart appointed Jesse James his assistant. When Lockhart resigned late last month, Governor Coke Stevenson appointed James State Treasurer.

Because he bears the name of the Missouri desperado—to whom he is in no way related—Jesse James of Texas is in for no end

Duce Made It — Anzacs Shoot It

THE SIEGE OF TOBRUK, Allied desert stronghold on the coast of Libya, is past the sixth month, but its out-numbered garrison of Anzacs (Australians and New Zealanders), Poles, British and Indians is holding as firm as ever. Inside the besieged area, which is about the size of Manhattan, life goes on in a primitive way, with much ingenuity in improvising arms and equipment. These men, for example, are members of the new Anzac "bush artillery", formed from infantry men armed with captured Italian guns and munitions. The boys have never learned the professional way of handling their cannon—they aim it by sighting through the hot barrel and working the whole gun until it points at the target—but the "bush artillery" is plenty effective, as testified by the failure of every Axis assault on the thinly-held defense lines.

of joking as the custodian of more money than the Missourian ever imagined. But Jesse can stand the jibes. His unfailing good nature is one of the qualities which have carried him through political and economic battles to become one of the youngest State Treasurers in Texas history. He is now 37 years old.

Who Started "Dust Bowl"

Albert Law, Editor of the Dalhart Texan, has been on the trail of the man who coined the expression "Dust Bowl". He wants to walk him tired through flourishing crops, set him down to the best steak dinner he ever ate, then see if he can originate a term that will really describe the Panhandle.

Maybe the man has been found. Ennis Helm, former free lance, claims that he was the first to describe the great mid-western area swept by dust storms as "The dismal dust bowl." But Helm can't take that walk and eat the steak dinner without some official interposition, because he is in the Oklahoma penitentiary.

Some Panhandle folk may think Helm's dilemma a case of poetic justice, and let it go at that. But Law's word is out. If the Oklahoma prisoner is really the author of the opprobrious appellation—not repeated here because it's a fighting term in the Panhandle—he may get the walk and dinner, even if he has to take them under the watchful eyes of a couple of husky guards.

Wher Good Teeth Grow
Speaking of the Panhandle, it is now a matter of scientific record that the best teeth are grown in Deaf Smith county. Dr. Edward Taylor of Austin reported to the American Dental convention, at Houston that not a single carious tooth or filling was found in the course of examinations of the teeth of 43 Deaf Smith natives, ranging in age from two years to "past middle age." And that isn't all. People moving to Deaf Smith from other areas cease to develop tooth trouble, according to Dr. Taylor.

Climate, soil products, water and milk found in the county are responsible, it is believed. It the news spreads the whole Panhandle section may become a haven for people who want to keep their natural teeth as long as possible.

Lockhart vs. Johnson?

Reports that several Texas congressmen, who are supposed to be at odds with Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, will have opposition next year, have received no confirmation other than a "boom" for O. P. Lockhart in the Tenth congressional district. Lockhart is now State life insurance commissioner. An original O'Daniel supporter, he has been talked of for several elective offices. His candidacy for Congress is said to be practically certain, whether Lyndon Johnson seeks a Senate seat or stands for re-election.

In a test of 308 days by the Department of Agriculture, pullets fed mash in pellet form each averaged 17 eggs more than those fed unpeletted mash. Feed consumption for each group was practically identical.

Feeder lambs should have a shed for shelter against wind and rain, allowing four square feet to each. A wet lamb in a muddy lot will not make good gain.

Calcium and phosphorus are the two most important minerals needed by dairy cows. Sources are ground limestone, oystershell flour and legume roughages grown on soils rich in calcium.

Esta Adams of Marathon is visiting his mother.

For roughage in feeding lambs, allow one half alfalfa and one half Johnson grass or Sudan hay. The hay should be green in color, well cured and free from mould.

Mrs. H. A. Ward of Oakwood is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Sawyer and Mr. Sawyer.

Visiting with the George Smiths is Mrs. Smith's mother Mrs. Oglesby of San Angelo.

For best production milking should be done at regular hours. After milking is started, it should be completed without interruption and as rapidly as possible.
