Pair Of Roses Wins Futurity

Pair of Roses came back to Big Spring and 3000 friends roared as the fleet filly repeated her performance of a year ago by winning a special half mile race during the Big Spring Futurity Trials, last Sunday.

Owned by Johnny Hamby, "The Fair" who last year was an outsider, went to the post this time with the good wishes of all the people who watched her overcome a speedy field of 3 1/2 furlong final-ists in the 1950 Futurity to take a photo finish win over the highly favored La Marga. This year it was easier. Pair of Roses had a half length to spare over Wee Wick in the seven horse field.

Sonora's hope for a repeat performance in winning the long division, a half mile this year, rests on Docotic, now carrying the colors of W. L. Miers. Originally nominated by the Hamby-Hightower partnership. The slick son of Patriotic has had several owners before appearing in the Big Spring Futurity, where he qualified to be one of the eight finalists who will vie for the long division honors, as well as for a slice of the $4800 purse, in the Final Stake at Big Spring Sunday, April 22.

Eight finalists will also run for quarter mile honors in the second of the two features on the ten race scheduled. Purse total for the short races $6100.

Nine races including five Futurity Trial heats were reeled off on a 30 minute schedule at the Big Spring track last week. The added races were all purse affairs. Eight additional purse races besides the Futurity Stakes have been written for the final day's program Sunday. No matched races are run at the Big Spring track.

Station Studies Ram Progeny Test Results

Figures on wool yields in the third annual ram progeny test conducted by the Sonora Ranch Experiment Station, will be released at the annual field day May 12, at the station.

More than 150 rams in the test were weighed for the last time Wednesday and sheared Thursday. The wool will be scoured and the yields computed in time for the field day.

Although comparative analyses have not been finished, 109 Ramboulllets have gained an average of 4950 pounds daily during the 224 days of feeding. Last year they gained .45 pounds daily. Last year all were fed in a large pen, while this year some were on pasture, some in small pens and some in a large pen. This year eight Delaines gained 4250 pounds daily; twelve Columbias gained .5150 pounds daily, and twelve Corriedales gained .4950 pounds daily.

Stanley Davis, wool and mohair specialist from Texas A. & M. College has measured staple length and taken grease wool samples of each ram. The fleeces will be scoured so the yield of each ram may be figured exactly.

In this third annual progeny test, rams by the same sires were fed in groups so the value of the sires can be determined by the performance of the offspring in wool and mutton production.

The station's object is to find bloodlines superior in important characteristics so breeders whose sheep are deficient in those characteristics can know where to find rams to improve their flocks.

Sixteen breeders had rams in this year's project in addition to rams owned by the Sonora and A. & M.'s Bluebonnet Farms near McGregor.

ENLISTMENT CHOICES OFFERED BEFORE MAY

The commanding officer of the San Angelo Recruiting Station today advised men contemplating enlistment to act before May, to insure obtaining their choice of service. He based his statement upon information released this week by the Defense Department in Washington which will restrict volunteers in their selection.

Though stating that he had not received official notice of the new plan, Sgt. A. J. Martin pointed out that it will not be effective until May 1 and the recruiting service can still enlist men under present regulations. "The volunteer can still select from several different enlistment programs," he said. "These include: the Regular Army, the Air Force, the Airborne, and the Far East Command; or, for high school graduates, a choice can be made of any of 23 Army Technical Schools. Qualified men are also being sought for Army Officer Candidate School attendance," he added.

"The Air Force volunteer undergoes aptitude testing at Lackland Air Force Base and is assigned to duties commensurate with his abilities and desires. Men with previous service may qualify for a non-commissioned grade in the Air Force providing they have sufficient technical or educational background," he concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ross and family of San Antonio were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Teaff and Mr. and Mrs. Neill Roueche last weekend.

Dr. Hardy Named Sub. Station Superintendent

Dr. W. T. Hardy, acting superintendent of the Ranch Experiment Station since the death of W. H. Dameron in October, 1950, was named superintendent effective May 1, according to R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new superintendent was unanimously recommended for the position by a committee appointed to survey the field of possible candidates.

Dr. Hardy took his degree in veterinary medicine from Texas A. & M. College in 1930, and became assistant veterinarian at the Sonora station June 20, 1930. He was named veterinarian September 1, 1948.

The new superintendent is vice-president of the American Veterinary Medical Association, and a past president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. He is the author and co-author of many bulletins, progress reports and scientific and popular articles on livestock diseases and parasites.

Ranchmen Talk Scabies Problem In Austin

Texas sheepmen met early this week in Austin with members of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, with Governor Shivers, and with members of the legislature in an effort to get $300,000 appropriated to assist the commission in the fight against sheep scabies among Texas flocks.

Restrictions placed on Texas sheep by other states, particularly California, are costing Texas sheepmen money and time, although the sheep have been declared clear of scabies.

Three new outbreaks of scabs, all unconfirmed but believed to be true, were reported in Upton, Brewster and Culberson Counties.

The delegation in Austin Monday met with Roy Loventhal, Fort Worth, chairman, and Duval Davidson, Fort Worth, director of the sanitary commission. Work was reviewed briefly. The sheepmen want $150,000 a year for the next two years to employ additional inspectors and to provide traveling expenses for them. Under the present setup the inspectors per diem allowance won't care for their expenses while on the road carrying out their duties.

Members of the House and Senate conference committees on the livestock sanitary appropriation were contacted Monday and the scab situation explained to them. Heading the group to Austin was Frank Roddie, Brady president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Sheep scabies were once eradicated in Texas and ranchmen feel that an all-out effort is necessary to prevent their gaining a foothold again.

Others attending the Austin meeting were Price and Jimmy Maddox, Sweetwater; Fred Earwood and Bryan Hunt of Sonora; Penrose Metcalf and Earnest Williams of San Angelo; J. T. Davis, Sterling City; Russell Martin, Del Rio; Steve Stumberg, Sanderson; and Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Lowrey of Del Rio were here Sunday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowrey.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q - - I already have changed GI Bill fields of training twice, and I'd like to make a third change, May I do so?

A - - VA will approve a third change of fields of study only if you can establish a need for a short, intensive course which will prepare you for employment in a critical occupation for which there is a shortage of skilled workers.

Q - - I am now drawing retirement pay from the armed forces as a retired officer. Do I consider that as income in determining whether I am eligible for a death pension as the result of the death of my son?

A - - Yes. Retirement pay received from a service department is considered as reportable income.

Q - - My wife served in the WAC during the war and recently passed away. Am I entitled to death pension payments from VA?

A - - No. Under present laws a widower is not entitled to death pension benefits, but surviving children may be entitled.

Rangeland Brush Fires Keep Area Fire Department Busy Last Week

Fire department from four area towns were kept busy last week fighting range fires, mainly cedar brush fires, on the North Llano and the Kimble-Sutton County line. Junction, Sonora, Menard and Eldorado had equipment out several times including a forty-eight hour stretch over the weekend.

The Sonora department was called to assist the Junction firemen who were battling a blaze at the Black ranch 16 miles this side of Junction. At 8:30 o'clock Saturday, Boyd Lovelace radioed Lee Patrick that another cedar fire had broken out on the John Fish ranch near the county line. This fire started in the middle of the Joy ranch and, aided by a south wind, swept about a mile and a half into the Fish pastures. It was brought under control Saturday night.

Sunday, a north wind brought some smoldering embers to life and the fire roared back on another course a mile and half from the Fish ranch to the Joy place. The Aldie Garrett ranch also lost pasturage as a result of this fire. Total acreage lost is estimated at about 1,000 acres.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
By Congressman O. C. FISHER

FINAL DEBATE AND PASSAGE of a draft-NMT bill by the House last week was overshadowed by President Truman's removal of General MacArthur from his command posts in the Far East. Not since the Soviet-directed Communists invaded South Korea last May has the capital been so stirred. After all, here was a case of one of the great soldiers in American history ending his career in dismissal from high office. And many felt that but for the foreign bungling the incident could have been averted.

Congressional mail doubled immediately. Telegrams by the thousands came to Congressmen, mostly protesting the replacement of the Pacific hero. One Texas Congressman said he received 1500 telegrams in two days. I received 26 telegrams, with 57 signers; 15 letters and one petition signed by 40 people. Suggestions of impeachments flooded the capital. Others pointed out, however, that our Constitution does not permit impeachment of President for exercising a legal right. Article II, Section 4, of the Constitution states: "The President, Vice-President and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for a conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors".

Transcending the immediate issues between the President and the General, there is the fundamental principal of the superiority of civilian over military control. In certain South American countries a Commanding General is often above civil control. But under our constitution system the military is made subservient to civilian authority. Our Constitution says that policy with respect to the conduct of a war is made by the President of the United States. That policy under our system may be wise or unwise; but the Constitution puts the making of policy in the civilian hands of the Chief Executive, whoever he may be.

At the end of the war President Truman, exercising his constitutional authority appointed General MacArthur Supreme Commander over the island of Japan; in 1951, exercising the same authority, he replaced him with General Ridgway.

General MacArthur has served with great distinction in the Pacific. There he has performed for the United States, the United Nations and for the Allied Far Eastern Command. He has enjoyed almost complete authority in the main island of Japan itself. In this triple capacity, he has been under many handicaps. He has been subjected to vague directives from Lake Success. And there have been unsparing criticisms, particularly in Europe, which have often followed his efforts to take these directives at face value. He has been faced with the special problem in the "privileged sanctuary" of Manchuria. Certainly all of these factors have tended to cause the General to act more and more on his own initiative.

I personally share the view that we should encourage and support Chiang KaiShek in his fight against the Chinese Communists. Above all, he needs equipment, guns and planes. And General MacArthur in his command in Korea has, of course, suffered from the UN prohibition against bombing the aggressor's supply dumps and lines inside Manchuria. It is indeed a strange war when a Commanding General is thus handicapped.

General MacArthur has been annoyed at these policies, or lack of policies. And being a strong-minded individual, he frequently expressed his dissatisfaction publicly even though his views were apparently contrary to some of those of the President. The record now shows that on two occasions (Dec. 6 and March 24) the General was warned by the Joint Chiefs of Staff that no further statement should be issued by military commanders in the field without first being cleared in Washington. Subsequent statements by General MacArthur precipitated the President's action in replacing him.

IN ANY EVENT, we can only hope the resulting public appearance of the General before the Congress and Congressional committees, and his message to the American people, will help to clarify the issues involved and subject his firm convictions to the scrutiny and force of Congressional reaction and public opinion. If the removal should lead to appeasement of the enemies of freedom, then the consequences of the replacement will, of course, be tragic.

Certainly the present jubilation over MacArthur's dismissal on the part of some European nations which have distinguished themselves in the Korean effort by doing least is a little hard to take. There is every indication that the successor - Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway - is a man of superb courage, of high character and genuine military genius.

Club Boys Study Judging Of Wool And Mohair

Ten Sutton County 4-H Club members attended a practice wool and mohair judging contest at the Western Wool and Mohair Company in San Angelo Saturday. The contest was for practice and no official score were taken. Teams from several counties participated in the contest and were preparing for the Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, and the State Wool and Mohair Judging Contest in June.

Camp Polk was the training home of the 45th Infantry Division of Oklahoma National Guard before its recent departure for the far East.

Llano 4-H Club Organized Here

The Llano River 4-H Club was organized Wednesday night at the Cedar Hill School.

The Llano river club will be a part of the Sutton County 4-H Club but will hold its meetings separately because the boys live so far from Sonora that it is difficult for them to come to the regular 4-H meetings in Sonora.

Joe David Ross with the assistance of Oscar Carpenter and Edward Valliant conducted the meeting.

Joe David acted as chairman of the meeting and Oscar and Elward gave interesting reports on the work being done by other 4-H Club members in Sutton County.

Ted Baily Joy was elected president of the new club; Gene Eubanks, vice-president, and Harold for the Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, and the State Wool and Mohair Judging Contest in June.

James A. Gray, Extension Animal Husbandman, was in charge of the judging contest.

Fourteen Sutton County 4-H Club members attended a wool, mohair and grass school at the Ogden Wilson ranch, Tuesday afternoon. James A. Gray was in charge of the group and gave a practical demonstration of how wool should be prepared for show or market.

After the demonstration, 4-H Club members from Sutton and Menard counties received training in wool, mohair and grass judging.

4-H Club members who are training for judging teams this year are: George Spinks, Joe David Ross, Betsy Ross, Carlos Loeffler, Don Valliant, Edward Valliant, Rodney Davis, Ben Richard Mittel, Billy Bob Ellingson, Russ Chalk, John Mittel, Oscar Carpenter, Jack Adkins, Corky Schwiening.

Louis Garrett, secretary. Other boys who attended the meeting were Dewey Shroyer, Curt Schwiening, Albert Sykes, and Alfred Sykes.

Parents who attended the meeting were Lester Shroyer, Venice Eubanks, M. E. Joy, Curt Schwiening and Wesley Sykes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q - I am about to be discharged from the Navy, and I would like to know what to do in order to keep my National Service Life Insurance in force.

A - - These suggestions should be helpful: (1) in order to avoid any chance of lapse, send VA your first remittance within 31 days after discharge; (2) give your full name, service number, policy number and complete permanent address; (3) pay by check or money order the same amount of insurance in force, and (4) pay premiums regularly each month. Don't wait for an official receipt, for there may be some delay initially in acknowledging your remittance.

Halibut, Brittany Style

The inspiration for this fish entree comes from a part of France that is renowned for its thrift and its good cooks.

Even though Webster describes fish as being "cold blooded," they are real friends of the homemaker. Fish, one of our most economical sources of protein foods, can be prepared in many tasty and unusual ways.

There is nothing "up the sleeve" in the cooking of fish in this manner. Poach it gently in slowly simmering well-seasoned water so that it will be cooked to meaty perfection. Onion, garlic and a faggot of herbs give the subtle seasoning to Halibut, Brittany Style. To make the faggot, simply tie together a sprig of parsley, a bay leaf and a bit of thyme with a string.

To round out the entree on a true French note, serve slices of toasted French bread spread liberally with fortified margarine.

- HALIBUT, BRITANNY STYLE
- 2 pounds fish (Halibut, perch and others available)
 - Boiling water to cover*
 - 1/2 cup minced onion
 - Faggot (1 sprig parsley, 1 bay leaf, a little thyme)
 - 2 cloves garlic
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 tablespoons fortified margarine
 - 8 to 10 small mushrooms
 - 8 to 10 small white onions, cooked
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 6 slices French bread
 - Fortified margarine for spreading
- Clean fish and cut in medium-sized pieces. Place fish in a skillet and cover with boiling water. Add minced onion, faggot, garlic and salt. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer gently for 12 to 15 minutes. Remove fish to hot serving dish. Strain the cooking liquid and reserve for the sauce. Melt margarine in a skillet. Add mushrooms and onions and brown lightly. Add flour and mix well. Add hot, strained fish liquid and cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Add pepper and lemon juice. Pour sauce over cooked fish. Toast slices of French bread on one side under broiler. Turn and spread liberally with margarine. Finish toasting. Serve as a bread accompaniment.
- Yield: 5 to 6 servings.
- *If desired, white wine may be used. In this instance, omit lemon juice.

The ankle will be in a cast for several weeks.

b. Don't pay any attention to the firemen. If they get in your way run over them. They are just there through curiosity while your presence is important; besides, they don't know what they're doing. At a recent fire in another town, there were nearly fifty autos at the scene. A whole section of hose was ruined by cars driving over it. That's the good old spirit! And, before you leave, don't fail to make some comparison with the New York City Fire Department or one in some other city you have visited.

who indicate a positive desire and intent to follow a life career in the military service of the United States and who without such a scholarship would otherwise be unable to attend college or follow such a career. At the present time, six students are at A. & M. College with the assistance of these scholarships. Application forms may be secured from high school principals throughout Texas or from Perryman. In addition, copies of the form have been sent to the PMS & T's of all high schools having ROTC units.

"Constant supervision by health officials keep food, milk, and water supplies pure and wholesome," the health officer asserted. "and communicable disease are controlled better today than ever before through the efforts of an intelligent citizenry, the medical profession, and public health workers." Children born into today's world are protected by immunization that were unheard of two generations ago, and the common sense measures that parents take to protect their own health also protect their children, the doctor indicated. A complete physical examination, including a blood test, before marriage is "part and parcel of better family living," in the mind of Dr. Cox. "Blood tests are sensible precaution against the possible spread of syphilis. More and more people are displaying their natural intelligence by taking blood tests." Also part of planned living, he believes, is for every expectant mother to have her blood tested as required by law. This could entirely eliminate congenital syphilis, because the diagnosis would be made early.

JESSE JONES ESTABLISHES TEXAS A. & M. SCHOLARSHIPS
Announcement has been made that A. & M. College of Texas is now accepting applications for two military scholarships established by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Jones. HOW TO HELP THE FIREMEN
The News publishes the following hints and suggestions purely as a public service:
1. As soon as you hear the fire siren, jump in your car and get the engine started.
2. While you are backing out of the drive, have your wife look for smoke so you will know which way to go.
3. If you have two cars, have some other member of your family bring the other one with all possible speed. Thus you can park one on each side of the street at the scene of the fire. This will enable your neighbor, who should be right behind you, to park in the middle.
4. Whatever you do, don't fail to get to the fire before the truck does. (This is imperative.)
5. In case you are late, and can't get right up to the fire, dash madly back and forth on the street in the vicinity of the fire.
6. In case you are the first one there, run up to the house and break out all of the windows, and open the doors so the smoke can get out. This makes a much better fire and your friends will be proud of you.
In the event that you suddenly decide to leave and find yourself hemmed in by other cars, this is the procedure to follow:
a. Run your car back and forth a few times until you finally run over the fire hose. This important move should be accompanied by continuous blowing of your horn.

Why not give your Pride a Break?

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER. It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
