Funeral Services For Mrs. Smith Held Wednesday

Sutton County's roll of pioneer citizens was reduced by one this week when Mrs. A. J. Smith, 84, died at Hudspeth Memorial Hospital early Tuesday morning.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Methodist Church. The Rev. W. H. Marshall officiated and interment was in Sonora Cemetery. The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Warren B. Seward, Mrs. Smith was born in Humboldt, Tenn. Her father was a relative of William Henry Seward, former governor of New York who negotiated the purchase of Alaska from Russia in 1867.

Mrs. Smith was graduated from the Jackson, Tenn., Female Academy and attended Drury College in Springfield, Mo., where she met Dr. Smith.

After their marriage they made their home in Farmington, Mo., and moved to Marlin, Texas in 1889. In 1906, after a train ride to San Angelo, Dr. and Mrs. Smith came to Sonora by horse-drawn hack.

Dr. Smith died October 25, 1928, after building a large practice in the ranch country. Mrs. Smith served more than 20 years as county treasurer, after which time she made her home in San Angelo. In 1949 she returned to Sonora to live with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Johnson. Mrs. Smith is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Mary Evans of San Angelo; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were P. J. Taylor, B. W. Hutcherson, Bryan Hunt, Henry Decker, George H. Neill, Harry Kiser, Lea Aldwell, W. P. Barnes and A. J. Presson of San Angelo.

Reagon Trips Sonora 26-12

Reagon County High School shook off a jinx Friday night to blast Sonora 26-12 in a non-conference game. It was the first victory Reagon has scored over Sonora in 5 years.

Taking advantage of the breaks, Reagon wrapped up the decision by scoring three touchdowns in the first half and holding Sonora scoreless.

James Vinson, Reagon tackle, scored the first touchdown when he blocked a Sonora punt and smothered it behind the goal line. The extra point effort failed.

In the second quarter, Jackie Holmes climaxed a 40-yard drive by plunging over from the one. He also booted a placement for the point-after-the-touchdown and a 18-0 lead.

Later, after a pass interception, the Reagon Owls drove to the Sonora four yard line and Jerry Thompson scooted around end for the third touchdown. The point after try was good for a 20-0 Reagon halftime bulge.

Sonora came back strong in the third quarter. A fumble recovery on the Reagon 25 yard line started the scoring drive. A pass from George Wright to Billy Savell covered the final 13 yards.

Still in the third quarter, Sonora used another fumble in Reagon territory to set up another touchdown. After a short drive, Bobby Scott went around end for 13 yards and the score was 20-12.

In the fourth period, the Owls started the final touchdown march on their own 40. Thompson raced the final 11 yards.

Reagon piled up 14 first downs to six for Sonora and smashing to 239 net yard to 48 for Sonora.

Soil Conservation District News

News of Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District Prepared by Local SCS Personnel

In a review of damage caused by recent heavy rainstorms in South Texas, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service today reported soil loss ranging from one-fourth inch to severe gullying on sloping under cultivation.

Announcing the results of the survey, Regional Director Louis P. Merrill said tests made in the Alice vicinity showed conservation-protected crop lands were able to absorb an average of 4.88 inches more water than lands on which water was free to flow off. Pasture lands with good stands of grass took up an average of 4.94 inches more water than range with poor grass cover.

The rains, of an intensity which weather officials say normally would be expected only once in a century, ended one of the area's worst droughts and found farm and range lands in poor condition for the most part to withstand the heavy rains. Total rainfall at Alice was 15.81 inches with 13.21 inches falling in 18 hours. However, Robert C. Forrest, Alice Work Unit Conservationist, reported stubble mulching, legume cover crops and properly maintained terraces with contour cultivation proved their worth as erosion-resisting practices on conservation farms in the area.

Some erosion was observed on terraced fields where terraces were not properly maintained, where terrace outlets were not protected by plant cover and stubble mulching had not been practiced in tillage, Forrest reported. Erosion on land not terraced or contoured was found where the slope of the land was more than one-half in 100 feet. Soil loss ranged from one fourth and one-half inch on the flatter slopes to severe losses and gullies on the steeper slopes.

Farmers who had applied all or most of their conservation programs reported that terrace systems on their farms yielded little runoff until late on the afternoon of September 13 when 10 inches of rain had fallen.

Forrest said his measurements showed that an average of 77 percent of the rainfall ran off the poor condition pastures he visited, while untreated cultivated land lost 50 percent of the total rainfall in runoff.

Stubble mulching of grain sorghum residue increased the intake of water by the soil from 16 to 60 percent more than on land without this treatment. Hubam clover grown two years doubled the amount of water absorbed. Properly maintained terraces, with contour cultivation, increased the water intake from 40 to 70 percent more than on land not terraced.

Pastures in good to excellent condition absorbed from 50 to 220 percent more water than pastures from which most of the grass had been taken, Forrest said.

Forrest reported crop damage comparatively light because cotton and sorghum harvesting was nearly finished. However, he placed damage to harvested feed in the Alice area at $100,000. Washed out fencing was estimated at 190 miles with a replacement value of $50,000.

Damage to public and private property in the area was estimated by public officials at $1,800,000 exclusive of railroad losses.

At Falfurrias, where 11.19 inch rain fell from September 12 through September 15, SCS District Conservationist W. A. Watson reported comparatively light soil damage. Plant cover in most fourth and one-half inch on the flatter slopes to severe losses and gullies on the steeper slopes.

Farmers who had applied all or most of their conservation programs reported that terrace systems on their farms yielded little runoff until late on the afternoon of September 13 when 10 inches of rain had fallen.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Williams and Jean McPherson

MUNICH, GERMANY, Sept. 12—Miss Winnie Lea Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Williams, of San Antonio, Texas, and Miss Jean McPherson, son of Mrs. James McPherson, of Chicago, at a solemn ceremony on Saturday evening, September 8th, in St. Luke's Church here.

The bride's father is a member of the Munich Military Post Judge Advocate Section, with Headquarters in Munich, Germany; the bridegroom is personnel manager of the Frankfurt Central Exchange, Frankfurt, Germany.

Chaplain Philip W. Roberts officiated at the Episcopal double ring service.

The altar, lighted by myriad white tapers in candelabra and wrought-iron standards, was decorated with white dahlias, gladioli, and chrysanthemums.

The bride wore an ivory stain gown, fashioned with long sleeves, a stately long train, and with silver bead work outlining the off-the-shoulder neckline. A silver lace panel from her mother's wedding dress distinguished the front of her skirt. Her long veil was of Brussels lace. She carried white orchids.

Her aunt, Mrs. Lea Aldwell, of San Angelo, Texas, who was her matron of honor, chose a gown of yellow and gray chiffon and a small rose velvet chapeau. She carried rose-hued dahlias.

Green net over green taffeta gowns, made with picture-seue, ruffled-style skirts, were worn by the bridesmaids, Barbara Gassman and Captain Eleanor Klein, Classification and Assignment Officer, Hq. Munich Military Post. They had green velvet hats, and carried bronze dahlias.

Miss Gassman is the niece of Maj. Gen. Edmund B. Sebree, Commanding General of TRUST, and of Mrs. Sebree. General Sebree was formerly commanding general of Munich Military Post.

The flower girl, Victoria Fernandez, daughter of Munich Military Post's Judge Advocate, Colonel Claude E. Fernandez, and of Mrs. Fernandez, appeared in a long white taffeta frock, and carried a basket of roses.

The ring bearer, Jimmie Sherman, small son of W. J. Sherman, of the Judge Advocate Section, and of Mrs. Sherman, wore a white linen suit.

Acting as best man was Howard B. Jordan, of the Munich Military Post Comptroller Section, and as ushers, Frank LaSala and Fred Behrens, both of Nurnberg.

Mrs. Thomas H. Hooten, wife of Lt. Hooten, of the Judge Advocate Section, played the organ, and Capt. John E. Hult, of the U.S. Army Dispensary, No. 1, Munich Military Post, sang.

Here for the wedding ceremony was Mrs. McPherson, mother of the bridegroom.

Whadda ya mean "Little Things?"

DROP the wrench, buddy! We can catch the little things that go wrong before they develop into major breakdowns—if you bring your equipment to us for service at regular intervals.

We take care of countless truck troubles for wise haulers who count on us to keep their present carriers running smoothly. Our mechanics know all makes—it's second nature with them to watch for and correct the "ping" in an engine, or a steering shimmy.

Checking trouble points often overlooked in ordinary service is part of our maintenance program. For our men know the "little things" are important to the life of a truck—even more important in these uncertain times.

So make regular stops at our shop—save 3 ways: (1) cut down the possibility of costly repairs, (2) get better performance with less "down time," (3) get more years of service from the equipment you now own.

Get more "run" for your money!

A Day Worth Waiting For!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

There are but few times in a man's life when he gets a thrill that matches the one he gets when he takes delivery of his first Cadillac.

We've watched it happen many, many times—and it never ceases to be a heart-warming experience.

You see—a man isn't simply buying a motor car when he gets his first Cadillac. He is marking a milestone in his life.

For years, he has been saying to himself that, some day, he would step up to a Cadillac.

All this time, he has seen it as something he wanted to do for his family . . . and as a sort of personal reward for the effort and planning that have gone into his own work.

And when you watch him slide over behind the wheel

—well, it's a thrill just to be there. He's a proud and happy man as he turns the key in the ignition switch—and hears the deep-throated answer of the powerful engine.

If you are one who has been looking forward to a Cadillac—we think you would be well advised to come in and place your order now.

There's a little delay these days before a Cadillac can be delivered—and obviously, the sooner you place your order, the sooner you'll get your car.

And when the great day comes, you'll know at once that it was well worth waiting for—because all the things you've heard about a Cadillac are doubly true.

It isn't just a motor car. It's a wonderful contribution to a wonderful way of life!

The map shows the location of mass meetings (large stars) in the All-Texas Methodist Revival, youth rallies (medium size stars) and schools of evangelism (small stars).

Statewide Mission Of Methodists Starts Oct. 7

The All-Texas Methodist Evangelistic Mission has become a Revival in churches across the state, headed by Bishops A. Frank Smith, Houston, and William C. Martin, Dallas.

It is expected that some 50,000 persons will be won to Christ and church membership in the two weeks in October.

October 5-14 preachers from the northern section will be in the Houston-San Antonio section, Oct. 26 to Nov. 4, the procedure will be reversed.

Plans include combining preaching and visiting. "This is the first time in Texas that preaching and visiting have been featured at the same time," said Bishop Martin of the Dallas-Fort Worth Area.

High points in the program will be the schools of evangelism in each district, youth rallies at 20 central points on Saturday night, Oct. 6, in the southern section and mass meetings at 20 key cities Oct. 14 as a climax to the All-Texas Methodist Revival.

In the north part of Texas 27 youth rallies are scheduled for Oct. 27 and mass meetings Nov. 14, with schools of evangelism for pastors Oct. 29 through Nov. 2.

Involved in the plans are 58 districts, about 1,632 pastors and 2,221 churches with 635,200 members. These include the Mexican and Negro churches in the eight Annual Conferences.

Expanded Shale Aggregate Is New Industry for Texas

New attention has been focused on a thriving Texas industry, born since the war, with the announcement that expanded shale aggregate will be used in the structural concrete work on the new 40-story Republic National Bank Building in Dallas, scheduled for completion in 1953 as the South's tallest skyscraper.

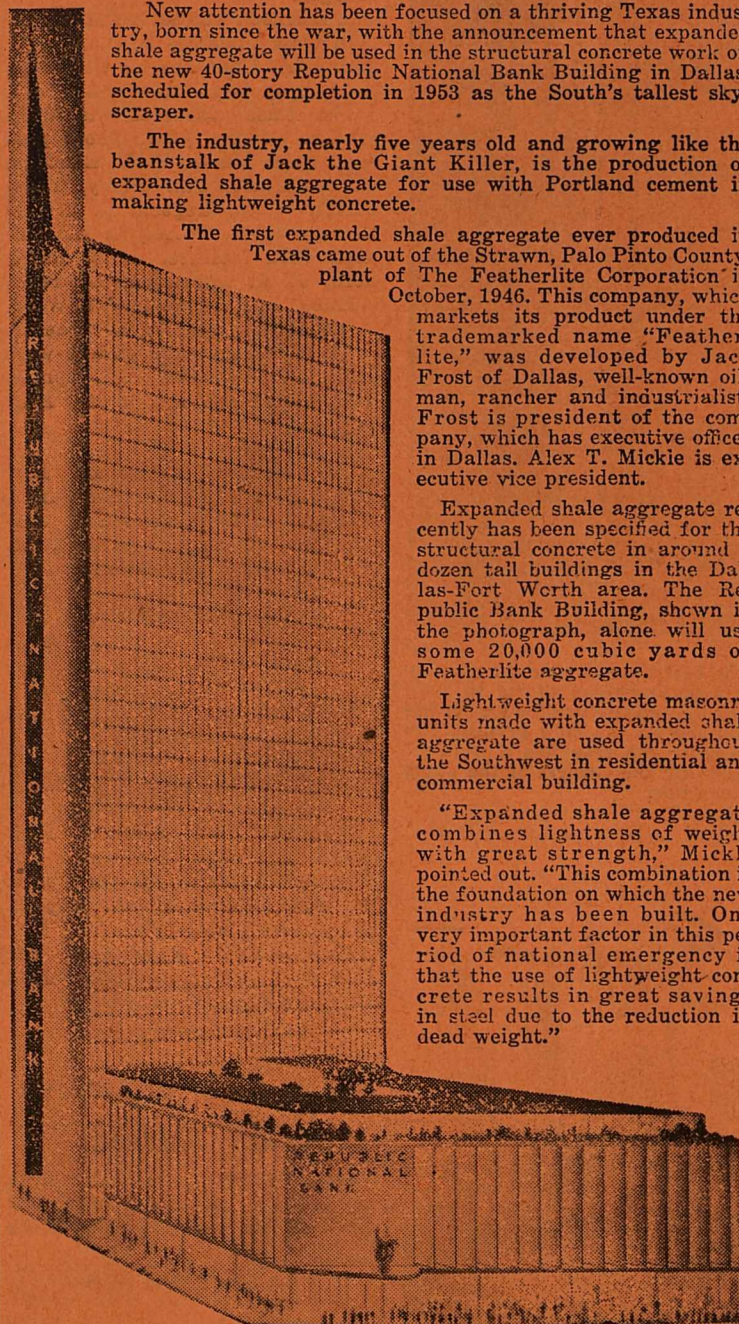

The industry, nearly five years old and growing like the beanstalk of Jack the Giant Killer, is the production of expanded shale aggregate for use with Portland cement in making lightweight concrete.

The first expanded shale aggregate ever produced in Texas came out of the Strawn, Palo Pinto County, plant of The Featherlite Corporation in October, 1946. This company, which markets its product under the trademarked name "Featherlite," was developed by Jack Frost of Dallas, well-known oilman, rancher and industrialist. Frost is president of the company, which has executive offices in Dallas. Alex T. Mickie is executive vice president.

Expanded shale aggregate recently has been specified for the structural concrete in around a dozen tall buildings in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The Republic Bank Building, shown in the photograph, alone will use some 20,000 cubic yards of Featherlite aggregate.

Lightweight concrete masonry units made with expanded shale aggregate are used throughout the Southwest in residential and commercial building.

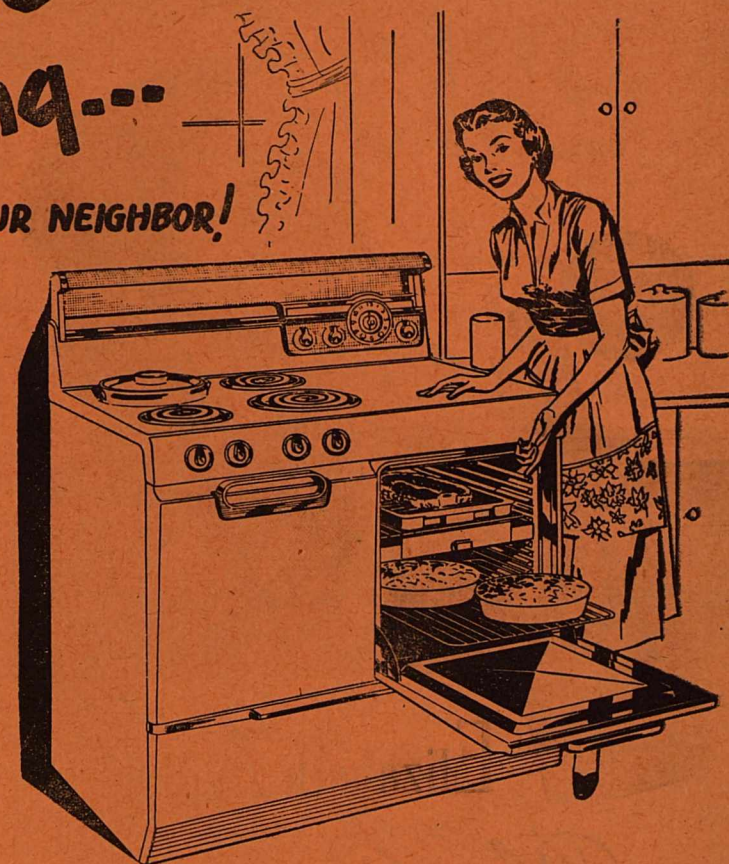

"Expanded shale aggregate combines lightness of weight with great strength," Mickie pointed out. "This combination is the foundation on which the new industry has been built. One very important factor in this period of national emergency is that the use of lightweight concrete results in great savings in steel due to the reduction in dead weight."

Defense is your job, too!

JUST one minute before this picture was taken you would have seen nothing here but waving grass, pine trees, and blue sky. For in only 60 seconds this alert Marine gun crew has landed by helicopter, set up its 75mm howitzer, and is ready to fire!

Precision training and maneuvering like this means that these men stand ready at a moment's notice to protect you and America. That they're doing their job for defense.

But, defense is your job, too! And one of the best ways to do your job is by buying Defense* Bonds regularly. For by buying bonds you help build the great American economic strength that backs up our armed forces. And at the same time you put your money in the world's safest place. For Defense Bonds are as safe as America!

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a house or educate your children, or support you when you retire. Remember, too, that if you don't save regularly, you generally don't save at all. So go to your company's pay office—now—and sign up to buy Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own automatically goes on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not $25—but as much as $33.33—if you just hold it the extra ten years! A $37.50 bond pays $66.66. And so on. For your security, and your country's, too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now!

*U. S. Savings Bonds are Defense Bonds Buy them regularly!
