BAR ASSOCIATION NAMES COMMITTEES TO HEAR GRIEVANCES

Several lawyers of the 21st Congressional District have been notified of their appointment as members of district grievance committees of the State Bar of Texas. J. Glen Turner of Dallas, newly elected president of the attorneys' association, announced the appointments.

Purpose of the committees, as explained by Turner, is to investigate alleged cases of professional misconduct and establish better understanding between clients and attorneys. Aggrieved clients may make complaints against lawyers and be assured of a fair and impartial hearing. Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against erring members of the legal profession, the Bar president indicated.

Committeemen named by Turner include G. A. Wynn, Sonora.

Louis D. Gayer, San Angelo, State Bar director for the 21st District, will serve as an ex-officio member of each grievance group. Complaints against attorneys should be reduced to writing and forwarded either to Gayer or to State Bar of Texas, Austin, 15, Texas, for action, president Turner stated.

Cooperation On Bracero Problem Assured By Labor Dept. Official

The promise of fullest cooperation from the Department of Labor in negotiating the best possible labor contract between the United States and Mexico was made here Saturday by Under-Secretary of Labor Michael J. Galvin, who spoke to a group of 125 West Texas ranchmen and stock association officials.

Galvin said he believed the new farm and ranch labor agreement between the two countries to be the most workable to date, and that it is the intention of the Labor Department to provide ranchmen with workers when and where they are needed—domestic workers if possible and foreign if there are no domestic workers. Galvin also promised to work toward removing Crockett, Coleman and Upton Counties from the Mexican labor blacklist.

The meeting began at 2 o'clock following a luncheon at the school cafeteria. John T. Williams of Sanderson, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, presided at the meeting.

Among the speakers was Rep. O. C. Fisher, who expressed approval of the meeting since it gave government officials and ranchmen an opportunity to discuss their problems firsthand.

John Holland, district director of the Immigration Service from San Antonio, presented problems confronting that department. He stated that he would prefer the old "white card" system in bringing labor into this country, but that the Mexican government was opposed to it because of the large number of wetbacks in the U. S. now. He pointed out that in 1952 alone, patrolmen have caught 266,000 wetbacks and returned them to Mexico. There are so many in the Valley, Holland said, domestic labor is being crowded out.

Under the new program it should take only about 10 days for a ranchman's labor application to clear all channels and reach the border reception station, said W. B. McFarland of Dallas, regional farm placement representative, Department of Labor.

That is, he added, if there are no hitches as to working and living conditions on the ranch. The stockman who wants to hire braceros places his order at the nearest Texas Employment Commission office. The office first tries labor, if none is available, it forwards the order to the district to supply his needs with domestic office. From there it goes to Austin, then to Dallas, then to Washington. It is checked at each point.

If all conditions are met, the order is okayed and sent to the Mexican processing center. The ranchman must send a certified check of $15 for each man before his order can be completed.

He picks up his workers at one of three border reception centers, Eagle Pass, Harlingen or El Paso.

There is virtually no chance for his getting any specific man, such as someone who has worked for him before. Selection of the Mexican workers who get to go to the processing centers is left up to local Mexican governments, which are given job allocations by the central government.

4-H Club To Hold Show But Not Sale

The Sutton County 4-H Club, meeting Wednesday night with the 4-H Parents Club, voted not to have a lamb sale in connection with the Annual Lamb Show in January, 1953. Reason for the move was given as the severe drought in Sutton and neighboring counties. Members of the club plan to continue their feeding projects on a limited scale and will dispose of their animals at the larger shows.

Guests at the meeting included E. A. Brodhead, superintendent of schools, George H. Neill, and James A. Gray, Extension Service Animal Husbandman, of San Angelo. Gray presented a film showing how the U. S. Experiment Station in Idaho has improved breeds of sheep and how new breeds were developed at the station.

Brodhead clarified the schools' position in regard to 4-H work and Neill and Gray discussed problems that will confront 4-H members in their feeding projects during the coming year.

John Mittel reported on projects undertaken by the club during the summer and members went over plans for new projects this year.

All 4-H members who plan to feed lambs and who need help in locating and selecting lambs should contact Langford immediately.

Don't Be A Tragedy Queen
 By W. H. Marshall

When things go seriously wrong there is a strong temptation to cast oneself for a tragic role, to feel deeply injured and even embittered. The result of this, however, is only to make it more difficult to get things right again. Indeed, it may be quite impossible to at all so long as this attitude lasts.
 Self pity, by making us feel sorry for ourselves, seems to provide an escape from responsibility, but it is a fatal drug nevertheless. It confuses the feelings, blinds the reason, and puts us at the mercy of outer conditions.
 In the old-fashioned dramas a favorite role was the Tragedy Queen. It was traditional for her to stalk about the stage in heavy black with an intolerable air of injured innocence. She never made any attempt to put things right, and she invariably came to a sad end.

Don't be A TRAGEDY QUEEN, whether you are a man or a woman, for it is not a question of sex but of mental outlook. No matter what happens, refuse to take it tragically. Absolutely repudiate a crown of martyrdom. If you cannot laugh at yourself (which is the best medicine of all), at least try to handle the difficulty in an objective way, as though it concerned somebody else. To be tragic is to accept defeat. To refuse to be tragic is to affirm victory. Why not believe that you can be big enough to lick your problems, to get along with people, and then go out to look the world in the face and get yourself a great victory over all of life's ills. Don't whine. Be an adult, and stand up to life's tests like a man. Remember: God in you is STRONGER THAN ANYTHING YOU HAVE TO MEET.

Mrs. H. F. Sofge is leaving Saturday for Temple to visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sofge. On her return, she will be the guest of a sister, Mrs. J. F. Findley, in Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith have as their guest this week, their niece, Mae Dell McCollum of Brackettville.

Some people have a way of reading Scripture in their own fashion and making it say what the Lord never said. The thirty-first verse of the twelfth chapter of Luke they read as "Build ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you." God's Word says, "Seek the kingdom." People who think they have to build God's kingdom on earth are to be pitied. They work so hard trying to do that which is humanly impossible. They wear out their energies trying to reform an unregenerate civilization and make it over into the kingdom of God.

To those who have been by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ born into God's family, the kingdom of God within is a possibility and a privilege. Every child of God should have the peace which will characterize the reign of Christ on earth in his own heart now. Every Christian should have that love abounding in his own soul which marks him as a man who has come into bondage to the Saviour, but the kingdom of God upon the earth will be established by our Lord Himself when He returns to reign. He it is who will produce peace upon nations, not the U. N. or any other human organization. He it is who will cause nations to beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks. He it is who will rule with righteousness and govern with equity and make all things as they should be on the earth. When He comes as the King to reign, there will not only be concord among the nations, but there will be a change in all the earth. Under His governance, the very desert shall rejoice and blossom as a rose; and the animal kingdom will be marked by the difference which comes because of the very change in the natures of the beasts themselves, and the lion and the lamb shall lie down together.

We should seek God's kingdom now in our own hearts, and we should expect it when the Lord comes back. For the next verse in this same chapter in Luke, the thirty-second verse, tells us, "Fear not, little flock; for it is for your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." We do not have to build it; we do not have to establish it; we have only to look for it as we look for the King. And when He reigns, we shall reign with Him. When the kingdoms of the earth have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ, then the kingdom of God will be manifest; and until that time, all human efforts to establish a universal brotherhood are wasted efforts.

INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICTS ALMOST TRIPLED BONDED DEBTS

Texas independent school districts almost tripled their combined bonded indebtedness between 1946-47 and 1950-51, University of Texas researchers report.
 Dean L. D. Haskew and C. A. Nix of the College of Education said school districts, as they strove to provide school buildings for the burgeoning crop of youngsters, increased their gross bonded indebtedness from $110 million in 1946-47 to $315 million at the end of 1950-51.

"Other incomplete figures indicate that during 1951-52 the bonded indebtedness increased by at least $50 million," Dean Haskew added. "This means that the local school districts of Texas in a six-year span of prodigious effort have taken upon themselves a quarter of a billion dollars of debt to provide decent school accommodations for children. And the end is not yet in sight."

Dean Haskew said local taxpayers, to amortize the additional school bonds already issued, are paying at least $20 million more in local property taxes than they were paying in 1946-47.

"It is quite likely that this figure will rise to $30 million within the next quadrennium," he predicted.

Dr. and Mrs. William R. Johnson and daughters, Cecilia and Cynthia Lee are moving to Pullman, Washington, where Dr. Johnson will open his practice in general medicine. Dr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Johnson of Sonora.

Joe Whiddon of Premont was here this week visiting his brother, James, and other relatives.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

HOME PURCHASE CONTRACT NO CASUAL MATTER

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are thereby set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involves the deposit of money by the buyer. Some require the seller to put up a good faith deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations leads additional weight to the often stated admonition that no contract should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete legal description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction, complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement. The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated contract requiring payment of the loan transaction falls through, his entire consideration in cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished. These matters will be further explained in a later column.

The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. A partially printed form may not provide sufficient blank space for the addition of all essential details in your case. There is a consistent tendency to try to squeeze every sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving easily misconstrued or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pitfall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have just signed a receipt for a house on Blank Street. Will you take over now and see that everything is O.K.?"

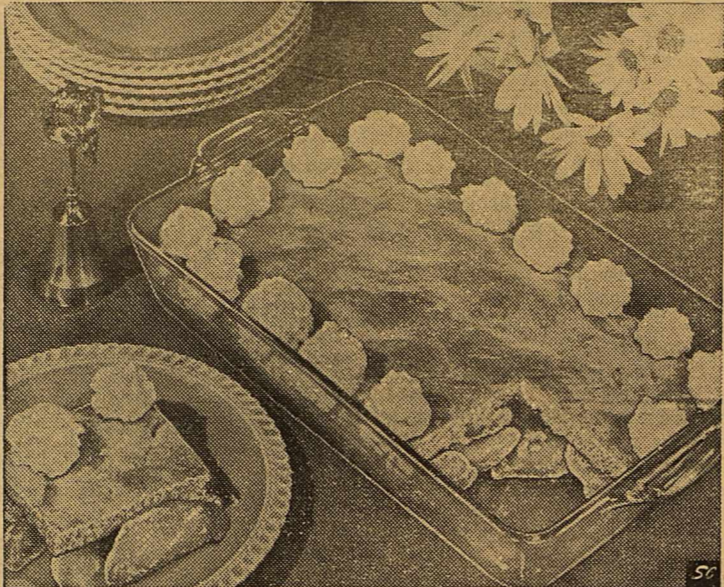

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform-not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Smith have as their guests this week, Mrs. Smith's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Telefus Cawyer of Stephenville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Awalt, Miss Blanche Awalt and Arthur Awalt of Brady, left Tuesday for a vacation in New Mexico and Colorado. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Preston Prater in Killeen.

Mrs. G. T. Rode had as her guests last weekend, her sister, Mrs. R. D. Carlisle of Snyder and her mother, Mrs. Florence Brundren of San Angelo.

Peaches Aplenty

Put them in a pie, make them into ice cream or serve "as is"—there are many things you can do with versatile peaches. And one of the tastiest ways to serve them is in a cobbler.

It's a good idea to make use of fresh fruits in season and this month peaches are plentiful. For flavor, nutrition and economy, here's a fresh peach cobbler that's made with Blue Bonnet Margarine. Serve it as the perfect ending to a summertime meal.

Fresh Peach Cobbler

4 cups peeled, sliced peaches      ½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup sugar                              ¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice            2 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine

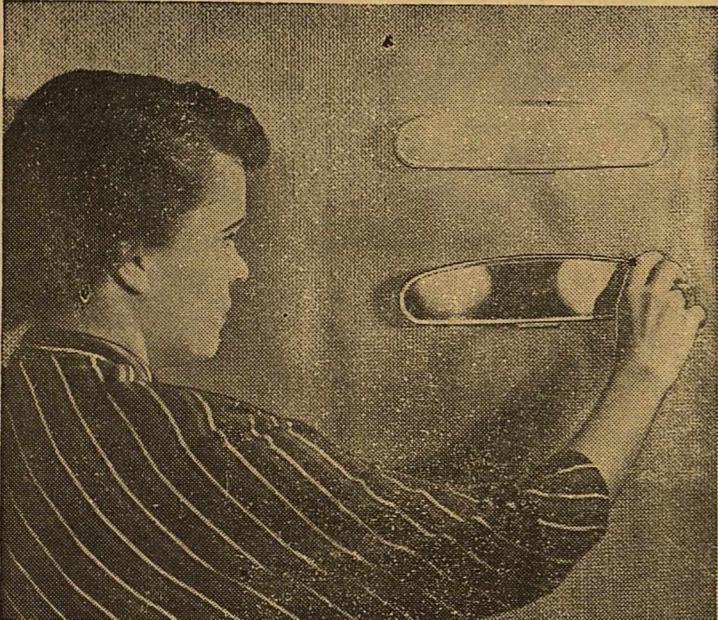

Place sliced peaches in shallow, heat-proof dish (10 x 6 x 2 inches). Sprinkle with sugar, lemon juice, cinnamon and salt. Dot with margarine. Top with following biscuit crust.

Biscuit Crust

1 cup sifted enriched flour            ¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder            2 tablespoons Blue Bonnet Margarine
(preferably Royal)                      ½ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in margarine with 2 knives or pastry blender until it is size of small peas. Add milk gradually to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead lightly about ½ minute. Roll out into a rectangle ¼ inch thick and place over peaches. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 20-25 minutes until golden brown. Serve hot with whipped cream if desired. Serves 6.

New Mirror Aids Highway Safety

PITTSBURGH—A prismatic tilt-type rear view mirror, developed by Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company research scientists in cooperation with Standard Mirror Company, is now available for motor cars, it was announced by Russell G. Whittemore, product development director of the glass company.

The mirror operates with a simple flip motion, bringing into focus a secondary or "ghost" image which removes the stinging glare of headlights approaching from the rear.

The secondary image provided by the prismatic mirror is sufficiently bright to permit the driver to clearly observe the maneuvers of cars following him without eye-strain.

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straight-away?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—especially women—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflo Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

Texas Beauty In Sheep's Clothing

Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn. To Name 'Miss Wool' For 37th Convention

Available now at Chamber of Commerce throughout Texas are entry forms for first "Miss Wool and Her Ten Pretty Maids" Contest. This is a real opportunity for girls between the ages of 18 and 25, unmarried, and wearing a size 12 garment. Besides winning a wardrobe, valued at $2,000, designed especially for "Miss Wool" by 26 leading, nationally advertised manufacturers, the chosen girls will represent the nation's largest wool producing state at various functions given in their honor and will reign over the 37th annual convention of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, November 10-12 in San Angelo.

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and Auxiliary, an organization of Texas wool producers with approximately 10,000 members and men whose businesses are affiliated with the wool industry, are sponsoring a State Wool Fashion Revue in San Angelo, November 10, during the Association's annual convention. To obtain models for this Wool Style Show, the San Angelo Board of City Development in conducting through the other Texas Chamber of Commerce and through the colleges, a state-wide contest, similar to the one staged for the Maid of Cotton. The girls will be selected from letters of recommendation, photographs and the completed application form. Eleven finalists will be selected by a New York studio from all applications received. One of these eleven will be "Miss Wool" and the other ten, her pretty maids.

Some of the garments being styled for "Miss Wool" and her attendants are now available in stores all over the nation and some will be available later in the fall. A whirl of entertainment is being planned for "Miss Wool". She will have complete newspaper coverage, television and radio broadcasts and newsreels taken of her activities.

This is a contest born out of an industry and sponsored by the producers of wool and mohair. It is fitting that the birth announcements of the first "Miss Wool" should be postmarked: San Angelo, since this city has long been known as "the largest inland wool center in the world." From post-Civil War days, San Angelo grew into a trading hub of the whole left arm of Texas through the giant livestock industry, which surrounded it. For many years all sheep and cattle in Western Texas had to come through San Angelo for shipment.

The girl chosen as the first "Miss Wool" will do a good bit of Texas history-making. All girls interested can get application blanks by writing: "Miss Wool and Her Ten Pretty Maids", Box 712, San Angelo or through their local Chamber of Commerce.

All entry forms must be postmarked not later than October 10, 1952. Girls are urged to get their applications at once - since competition will be stiff if our Texas girls are up to their usual beauty standards.

Miss Margaret Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orr of Bertram was crowned Mohair Queen Thursday night at ceremonies climaxed the annual meeting of the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association in Rocksprings. Duchess from Sonora was Miss Marilyn Mittel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mittel. Her escort was Billy Bryan Savell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miers Savell. The coronation was centered on a selected theme of "Achievement". The achievement of the goat breeders, who started the breeding of the Mohair goat more than 100 years ago, was proclaimed. Glynn Varga was master of ceremonies. An improvised stage with a colorful backdrop formed the setting for the crowning of the queen. The Rocksprings School Band presented the prelude for the coronation. This was the first presentation of the band to the public. The band furnished fanfare for each dutchess. A square dance group from Divide gave a number on the program besides other musical numbers by popular performers.

Rural Population Loss Results In More Farming By Fewer People

It has become of the "40 acres and a mule" type. Larger metropolitan population and a corresponding decrease in rural residents is being viewed with alarm by many persons. The question foremost in their minds is: "Will the declining rural population in Texas hurt the state's future agricultural productivity?" A parallel situation arose about 150 years ago when Thomas Robert Malthus a brilliant but rather short-sighted English economist forecast starvation for the human race. The world population, warned the Englishman, is fast outstripping agricultural production.

But Malthus underestimated the farmer's ingenuity in constantly improving his raising methods. Because of this ability, and the advantages of mechanization, the present day farmer produces enough food for himself and 13 other persons, plus a vast quantity of goods for foreign export. In Malthus' day however it took three men on the farm to feed one man in the city.

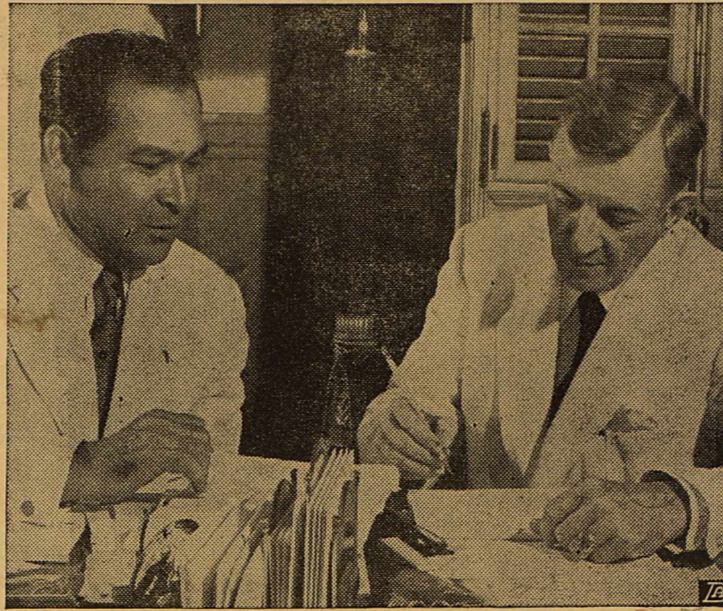

The rural population may be declining in Texas but the land is not being abandoned. Instead, more land is being farmed by fewer people. While there has been a decrease of some 4,500 farms in the state since 1919, the total cultivated land has increased 31,368 acres.

Farm tenancy was 37 per cent in the state in 1945. Five short years later, the figure was reduced to 30 per cent by population shifts. Yet, during that same time, Texas farm crop acreage increased 4 million acres.

Mechanized farming is largely responsible. The tractor began replacing the mule more than 30 years ago. In 1920, there were 9,048 tractors on Texas farms. This year, the figure is around 250,000. The mule is becoming a part of the past.

We in Texas have nothing to fear in the present trend as long as the farmer continues to increase his per-acre yields, improve his soil conservation practices and work for better plant and animal breeding.

A Message To "Grass Roots" Americans

President Fulgencia Batista, Cuba's "man of the soil" who has pledged his regime to sweeping advances for the farmers, workers and industries of his country dictates an invitation to the people of "the grass roots of the United States" to visit "our beautiful island and while you enjoy our vacation wonders, see for yourselves what we are doing now for the betterment of Cuba and the Cuban people." Batista, in his first message to "the people of our great neighbor to the North," directs his secretary, Dr. Andres Domingo y Morales del Castillo, to express his promise of "our most heartfelt hospitality." "I know," explained President Batista, "if the friendly people of the United States come to Cuba they will get first hand knowledge of what the present Administration is accomplishing for our people. There are close ties between our two nations and Cuba is pledged to fight Communism on the Western Hemisphere and has dedicated all its forces and resources to mutual security."

YOU BET, CREEP FEEDING PAYS

Cattlemen everywhere are finding it pays to creep feed calves. Calves gain faster, improve in quality for a higher price. Cows stay in better condition, too, as calves don't suck as hard or as long when creep fed. Creep feeding is profitable. Ask us about Purina creep feeding rations next time you're in town.

Mrs. America Adds Jewelry Wardrob

Stimulating jewelers' and consumers' interest in good design, the Jewelry Academy will place replicas of its award medal (inset) on watches, rings and other items selected as tops in design by its membership. Typical of best taste in jewel-wearing, they say, is striking rhinestone and simulated emerald ensemble being shown to advantage by the beautiful model.

NEW YORK—Miss and Mrs. America, conceded to the world's best-dressed women, will soon also be the jeweled if plans being developed by the Jewelry Academy work out.

"It isn't necessary to be an Indian Maharanee, swathed in ropes of pearls, to be well-jeweled," Sidney M. Brownstein, president of the non-profit organization of jewelry retailers, explained. "But every well-turned-out woman should have a balanced jewelry wardrobe. The proper jewelry accessories—necklaces, rings, watches, pins and clips—can add character and chic to a costume as nothing else can."

To help American women make certain their jewelry wardrobe represents the best in taste without requiring a mortgage on the family homestead, the Jewelry Academy is launching an annual selection of jewelry items that a vote of its members has considered outstanding, Brownstein revealed. Each watch, pin, ring or bracelet chosen for its design and quality excellence will bear a replica of the Jewelry Academy medal—assurance to purchasers that their choice has been approved by the country's outstanding experts. "Through this Jewelry Academy stamp of approval on outstanding pieces we hope to guide the buyer's taste toward the distinctive and unusual, and away from the trite and mediocre," Brownstein explained. "Thus, by coming with the Jewelry Academy member in her community, style-conscious woman can, over period of time, build a balanced jewelry and accessory wardrobe that she can wear with distinction and confidence."

A minimum basic jewelry wardrobe, he suggested, should include a single and double-strand necklace, both sport and diamond watches, at least three scatter in vari-colored precious or precious stones, a good cocktail dinner ring and a variety of rings, clips and hair ornaments. All girls, he said, are aware the best "starter" for a jewelry wardrobe is a diamond for the left finger, left hand!

YOUR HEALTH

Are you packing too much fatty beef for the size of your frame? If so, you're probably one of so you're probably one of the $100,000 Texans contributing to what State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox calls a "significant public health problem."

The number of obese (dangerously overweight) people in the state is growing, the doctor says, and they're laying themselves wide open to trouble.

For instance, if you are carrying too much fatty tissue you're twice as apt to get diabetes, and three times as likely to have heart trouble. Furthermore, if you get arthritis it will hurt you a good deal more because of your obese condition.

Many other conditions are made worse by a person's being too fat. "Obesity is just as serious a form of malnutrition as starvation in the long run," the health officer will tell you. Ask why some people get fat while some don't and he'll tell you the plain and simple reason is that usually the fat ones eat more than their systems need or want.

"Obesity is exactly the opposite of starvation. Overweight people eat too much. Emaciated people don't get enough. Both type are malnourished."

But why do they eat too much? There may be many causes. The glands may not be working just right. They may be having emotional trouble.

"Dietary habits perhaps established in childhood. Part of the reason might be that an overly full stomach gives them a sense of emotional relief. They might be trying to satisfy an emotional hunger as well as a physical one."

The best way to fight obesity is to cut down the caloric intake, he says. But to do this you've got to have a real desire to have normal weight.

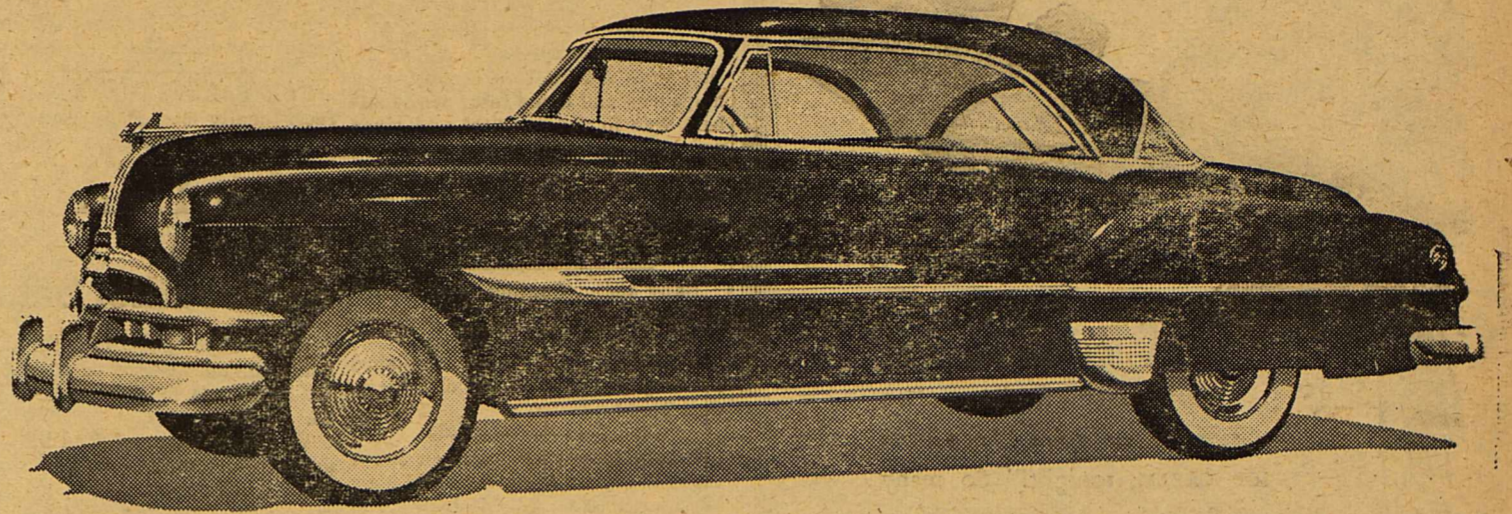

"This means," he explains, "the underlying emotional factors which created the obesity must be corrected by a greater urge, such as avoiding an early death."

When you get this desire you'll be willing to have your doctor prescribe a reducing diet and medicine if necessary and you will follow his advice.

"If you don't," Dr. Cox cautioned, "you'll probably find an early grave."

Fat people should get good physical examination by their doctor before they start on a rigid reducing diet.

Drouth Limits Prices At Rambouillet Sale

Every buyer got a bargain at the 16th Annual Registered Rambouillet Ram Sale in San Angelo, July 23.

With two years of feed bills, reduced ewe numbers, and continued drouth, sheepmen were slow in giving hardworking Nelson Johnson bids on all but a few lots.

A total of 287 top quality rams averaged only $96.21 for the lowest average since 1949—on the smallest consignment in twelve years at this sale.

Top price of the Sale was paid to Leo Richardson, Irran, for a beautiful, long-staple, open-faced ram—the only 2-tooth stud to rate the Stud Ram Committee's blue (no. 1 quality) stamp of approval. He was purchased by the Utah State Agricultural College, Logan, Utah, at $720.00 for use in their Rambouillet Research Project, and representatives of the College were frank in admitting they would have paid more.

S. G. Nelson of San Antonio paid $625.00 to R. O. Sheffield of San Angelo for his blue ribbon four-tooth stud. Third high-selling ram was consigned by Miles Pierce of Alpine and purchased by Arthur Henderson of San Angelo for $610. Only 16 rams were passed as studs by the critical selecting committee. Stud average was $347.50. The seven No. 1 or blue ribbon studs averaged $481.43, while the second best or red ribbon studs averaged $243.88.

A. M. Slater of Brackettville, was the leading buyer, paying $3,495.00 for 24 rams. Caton Jacobs of San Angelo, took the largest number 34.

Consignors expressed an overall satisfaction with prices, even through some rams hardly returned their feed bill. The breeders refused to exercise their one bid granted by the Rules, because they felt they should be willing to take the bad years along with the good in an Annual Sale of this sort. Only one pen of five rams was passed out unsold.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q - I'm a World War II veteran drawing disability compensation, on a graduated rating, for arrested tuberculosis. I understand there's a new law that pays statutory awards to veterans with arrested TB. Will I have to apply for these awards, or will I get them automatically?

A - So long as you're receiving compensation for arrested TB on a graduated rating—a sliding scale that's adjusted downward periodically—you will not have to apply for the statutory awards. They'll be paid automatically. A veteran who is not receiving compensation for arrested TB on a graduated rating, however, must apply for the new statutory payments.

Q - I obtained a GI home loan during the early days of the GI Bill, when the top guarantee was $2,000. Now I want to sell my house and buy another home. Will I receive any additional entitlement, even though my first house has been guaranteed for the entire $2,000?

A - Yes. You may be entitled to the difference between the $2,000 guarantee already used and the law's current top guarantee of $7,500 for home loans—or a home loan guarantee of $5,500.

Q - I'm in the Regular Army, assigned to a college to teach military subjects in connection with an ROTC program. I'm also eligible for GI training, since I was discharged in 1946 and reentered service sometime later. Would VA consider me to be a school teacher, and allow me to take summer courses under the GI Bill that lead to a degree, so long as I continue with my ROTC teaching the rest of the year?

A - No. VA would not consider you as a full-fledged school teacher, since you are not employed by the school, and have been assigned to your present duties for a temporary period of time in lieu of other regular military assignments.

Mrs. Mary Luckie and granddaughter, Barbara Chadwick, of Hagerman, N. M. are her here for a two-weeks visit.

Both consignors and buyers expressed their approval of the Sale's new system of Stud Ram Classification, which replaced the show line of previous years.

Dear Folks -

"Just a note to let you know I'm still o. k. Things aren't too bad over here but they keep us plenty busy and I'll sure be glad when my time for rotation comes! Well, it won't be too long now and after all, if you're going to keep a democracy I guess everyone has to pitch in."

Just a lonesome G. I. writing home.

He's helping in the armed forces. But there are things you can do to help, too. One of the most important of these is buying United States Defense Bonds.

Tens of millions of Americans own Defense Bonds now—more than 49 billion dollars worth! And every time you add to the total, you are helping to stabilize your country's economic power, making and keeping it as strong as the G. I.'s are keeping her military power. Remember, it's your bonds and other forms of saving that keep your country strong. And in these troubled times, peace is only for the strong!

So how about starting a patriotic program of regular savings now—by buying U. S. Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's one sure way to save!

Here's how E Bonds now earn more money for you!

Now safe, sure U. S. Series E Defense Bonds pay an even better return than ever before.

1. Now every Series E Bond you buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. And the interest it pays is now bigger at the start!
2. Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date.
3. During the 10-year extension period, every bond earns at the new, higher interest (average 3% compounded semiannually).

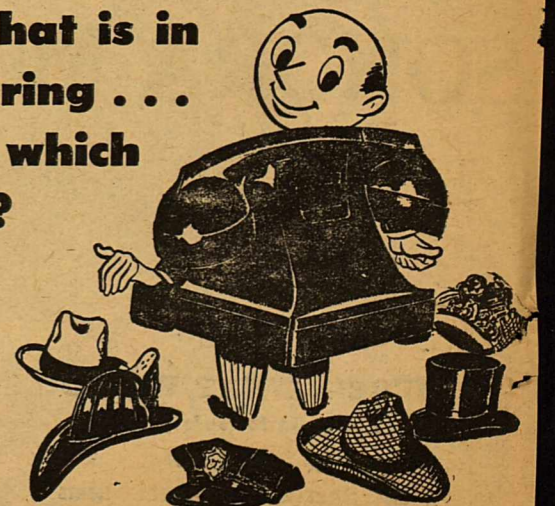

Start now! Invest more savings in better-paying United States Series E Defense Bonds.
