WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

The Blade received a flattering note recently, along with a subscription renewal, from Russell Broyles over in Arkansas. The note appears elsewhere in this issue under the Letter to the Editor heading. A shame it is that postal laws make us charge such a nice man for his subscription!

Displeasure was expressed by this department several months ago when Joe Kerbel, the highly successful athletic director and head football coach at West Texas State University, was politely relieved of his duties at the school.

Kerbel, we think, fought a hard fight with a short stick

Through his leadership and direction, WT was granted membership in the Missouri Valley Conference and it appeared that he was over the hump of competing athletically without the attendance aid of conference rivalries and other advantages that being in a league brings about.

To earn this MVC membership, we understood that it was necessary for WT to have a well-rounded athletic program, among other things. Kerbel saw to it that the school was well rounded in all sports, including the minor ones like baseball, golf, tennis etc. He had a jam-up good program going, according to the things we read, and the potential was tre-

Now comes his successor and in one of his first decisions of major importance, after agreeing to accept the position, says baseball is being dropped from the sports curriculum.

That, fellow friends of West Texas State, is a step backwards, into the past.

Well, if the school had wanted an AD to cut out part of the sports program, they could have told Kerbel to let up and not work so hard. To take better care of his already-attacked heart and not worry so much about his job and the improvement of the University, the powers-that-be could have instructed him.

Reason for dropping baseball was bacause of a lack of money. So what else is new?

Isn't the lack of money an age-old problem that must be overcome by most all schools, organizations, corporations and individuals? How can institutions, for instance, afford to give up everything that doesn't show a profit?

If the profit angle is used for a basis, a lot of things will be left out.

We were of the opinion that good old individual initiative was supposed to take over when the money began to quit.

Evidently, WT and its new athletic director feels differ-

If one sport is dropped, others may be, too. The precedent has been established eliminate any and everything that doesn't put extra cash in the bank.

And when you do, you'll hurt your school and its image. This subject should have been headed: NOBODY ASKED US DEPARTMENT. The truth is that nobody did ask us and our opinion is worth about what you paid for it ---nothing. Nonetheless, that's kinda the way we feel about the recent decision of WT's new AD except stronger!

We were surprisingly pleased that The Blade was named the general excellence winner in Texas Press Association's newspaper contests. The awards were made in Austin last weekend at the annual TPA convention.

We stayed in this part of the country because of softballplaying obligations and other reasons ---- one of those being that we had no idea The Blade would score so well in its contest category, newspapers in towns of 2,000 or less population and didn't attend the convention. The award and 10 or 15 cents ---- depending on the coffee shop ---- will buy a cup of coffee most any place. However, it's fun and flattering to win. We appreciate the support of the community and the people we work with for making it possible for The Blade to receive the award.

Now that the weekend is over and after playing three softball games in as many days and with a sore, swollen right elbow and aching, aged legs, we're of the impression that we'd have had more fun at the convention. * * * * * Don't look now, but Winter's coming on. We reached the longest day of the year last

Isaac Department Store --

New Location For Business

Bovina Dry Goods is moving to a new location and getting a new name this week. The store is being moved across Main Street into the building formerly occupied by City Drug. The business is owned and operated by Edward and Helen Isaac.

New name of the firm, which will be effective with the move, will be Isaac Department Store, With remodeling which is now going on, the building which the store will occupy will be 28 by 85 feet. It has a glass and brick front. Bovina Dry Goods was founded in 1960.

The new store building is being rented from the Sud-Isaac says a grand opening is scheduled for a later day for most area businesses and offices, according to a check made by The Blade early this week. First State Bank, Post Office and City offices will be closed Monday, an official government holiday.

Wilson's Super Market and Super Saveway will remain open Monday and possibly several other places of business.

Play Night Set Friday At Arena

Play Night activities will get underway at 8 p.m. Friday at the Bovina Roping Arena, according to Ronald Mitchell of Bovina Roping Club.

Featured during the night's activities will be barrell races, pole bending, scoop races, flag races and ribbon races, and possibly a goat tieing. All Roping Club members

Breaks Arms In Accident

In a mini-bike collision with a concrete block wall Tuesday night of last week, the two-wheeler escaped unharmed but Mrs. Don Murphy emerged from the mishap with both arms broken as well as sustaining multiple abrasions and a "slightly silly" feeling.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Murphy decided to try out the bike in the family's back yard after watching her 11-year-old son, David, and her husband demonstrate how to operate the machine.

According to Mrs. Murphy, she apparently hit the accelerator pedal instead of the brake and the bike crashed into the concrete block yard fence.

Murphy rushed her to Clovis Memorial Hospital where she received treatment for the abrasions on her head and the broken arms were put into casts that night.

She was dismissed from the hospital Friday and is now at

week by Representative Bob Price and Senator John Tower of Texas that the Central Plains Comprehensive Community Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center of Plainview has been awarded a federal staffing grant by Health, Education and Welfare and the National Institute of Mental Health in the amount of $407,-

The grant, effective August 1, means that the Central Plains Mental Health Center will be open for the five services that it has been approved for and the springboard for many other services for the people of the nine county area the center will serve, which includes Parmer, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Lamb, Hale, Motley and Swisher Counties.

Planning the mental health center began in 1967 when it was brought to the attention of the Plainview Hospital Board that construction funds were available to build a mental health building in connection with the construction of the new Central Plains General Hos-

To qualify for federal funds, it was necessary to have 100,-000 persons to be served by the center. County judges in the nine county area were approached and brought in to the planning. To form a Community Mental Health Board, the judges appointed a trustee from each county to serve as a planning board, Appointed from Parmer County was Baker Duggins from

Mrs. Elizabeth Woodley was hired by the center board in 1968 to write the planning program, organize the nine counties, prepare pertinent data that was required and inform the citizens of the nine counties about the program. The plan was submitted to the Texas department of mental health/ memtal retardation in August 1969 and funded for partial operation in November 1969. In March 1970, Mrs. Woodley was hired as executive director; Faye Steele as business manager and Dr. Mary D.

Announcement was made last | Bublis as medical director. The staff moved into the $600,-000 building in July and began serving the nine counties on an emergency basis. Serving on the advisory board from Parmer County are Mrs. Vernon Estes and Mrs. Pearl Cervantez of Bovina, Mrs. C. C. Christian and Mrs. Gilbert Kaltwasser of Farwell, Mrs. R. J. Garner of Lariat, Mrs. E. A. Parham of Muleshoe and Mrs. J. T. Gee of

In the past year, the center has served 1900 patients from the nine county area on an outpatient basis. In February 1971, Mrs. Woodley wrote a supplemental grant for a pilot program three days a week to open a day hospital to supplement the outpatient service. This day hospital has had 17 patients since opening. The hospital is for transient mental health problems, state returnees and persons needing bolstering

Two outreach programs will be opened by September 1, one in Muleshoe and the other in Dimmitt. A local person will staff the office and be the referral source for the center in Plainview. This resource person will organize the community services to help on a local basis persons who need help with mental problems.

The center will be in full operation with inpatient, outpatient, partial hospitalization, emergency and education and consultation services, plus the outreach program, by August 1. These services have been made possible by the federal staffing grant.

According to Mrs. Woodley, over the next eight years approximately three million dollars will be received through the grant for mental health treatment in the center.

"The Store Where Your Money's Worth More"

Donaldson, Ellison Exchange Double Ring Vows Saturday

and Terry Lee Ellison exchanged double ring vows Saturday, June 26, at Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church before an altar of jade greenery and a cathedral candle arrangement with bouquets of daisy, gladioli and bridal fern completing the arrangements.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Donaldson of Oklahoma Lane and Mrs. Ermine Ellison of Asperment and the late Dewitt Ellison Sr. Bro. Bobby Cox of Fort Worth performed the marriage ceremony.

Mrs. Peggy Sudderth provided traditional wedding musicat the organ and accompanied Mrs. Harold Hawkins of Bovina as she sang "The Twelfth of Never," "O Perfect Love" and "Our Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal-length gown of silk organza trimmed at the scalloped neckline with lace and seed pearls. The straight-lined gown featured long petal point sleeves and was designed with a full length Alencon lace redingote extending into a chapel watteau train. The redingote was enhanced with small covered buttons down the back and seed pearls. Her veil of silk illusion was secured by a crown of lace petals and silk organza leaves touched with pearls. She carried a bouquet of feathered mums and stephanotis cascading with love knots, satin ribbons and Lily of the Valley centered with a Cattleya orchid atop a white Bible. Something new was the bridal ensemble, something borrowed was the white Bible from Twila Donaldson, niece of the bride, and something blue was the traditional blue garter.

They were attired in formal length gowns of maize sheer nylon dotted swiss over taffeta featuring an empire waistline with lace intertwined with a velvet streamer at the waist, long Camelot sleeves and A-line skirt falling into a short train. The matron of honor and bridesmatrons carried cascade bouquets of Killian daisies, tulle and streamers. Honorary bridesmaids carried a long stemmed Killian daisy. They wore headpieces of a band of freshly cut flowers.

The mother of the bride was attired in a dress of Persian pink with embossed shell design featuring long tapered sleeves and a rolled collar accented with a tie. Her costume was complemented with lightly tipped pink Cymbidium orchids and bone accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a coral mist chiffon dress featuring a fitted bodice with rolled collar and long sheer sleeves. The full gathered skirt was attached with a shirred cumberbund. She wore matching accessories and lightly tipped pink Cymbidium orchids. At the reception following the

LIFE IS TOO SHORT TO BE LITTLE

Often we allow ourselves to be upset by small things we should try to forget. Oftentimes talking to people about their souls we find that they are putting their souls in danger because of little insignificant things. Perhaps someone we believed to be a friend has spoken ill of us, or some reward we thought we deserved has been overlooked. We feel such disappointment that we can no longer sleep or work, because of our thinking about it. Isn't that absurd? Here we are here on this earth, with only a few days to live, and we lose many irreplacable hours brooding over grievances that, in a years time, will be forgotten by us and everybody else.

Let us devote our lives to worthwhile actions and feelings, to great thoughts, real affections and lasting undertakings. Life is too short to be little. The magnified mountains of today will be looked back upon tomorrow as insignificant mole hills. Yes, life is too short to be little.

district judge and in private law practice. He spent almost his entire life in Parmer County, moving to the area and settling at Bovina in 1906. The family moved to Farwell in 1918, where John graduated from high school. He later attended classes at West Texas State Teachers College and Texas University, where he received a law degree in 1925. He was elected to the Parmer County judgeship at the age of 23, making him the voungest judge ever elected in the United States. He also spent several years as district judge of the 154th judicial district, later returning to private law practice. Present for the dedication on July 4th will be his widow, Mrs. John H. (Lillian) Aldridge; his daughters, Mrs. Mary Belle Washington and Mrs. Nancy Mehler; and his brother and law partner, Sam Aldridge.

Wording on the marker reads "John Hanibal Aldridge, Pioneer -- Lawyer -- Humanitarian, 1905-1968. Dedicated by

Festivities Set

Events scheduled for the Monday, July 5, celebration of the Fourth of July at Oklahoma Lane, will include a picnic meal, ball games and a short patriotic program, according to Mrs. Edmund Kitten, chairman of the planning committee for the celebration.

At 6 p.m., several ball games will get underway with a picnic meal to follow. Each family is asked to bring enough food for themselves and any guests they might have. A fireworks display will climax the end of the celebration, which will honor the 195th year of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

All residents of the Oklahoma Lane community are invited to attend.

to beat these tire values-anywhere. Dollar for dollar we don't think you can beat the quality that goes into Gulf tires. And feature for feature, we don't think you can beat the price. And we know you can't beat our Gulf Travel Card terms. At Gulf you pay only for the tire not the credit. Up to six months to pay, and no finance charge if you make your payments on time.
