ODDS & ENDS

Like everyone else in and around Sonora, we can't say enough about those Broncos. They've made a name for themselves again this year and the comments of last week's officials shows what kind of a name it is. The officials remarked that Friday night's game was the cleanest they had worked in a long time, that both teams displayed good sportsmanship and proved themselves both good winners and good losers.

We're reminded of Peter Marshall's prayer in the Senate: "Lord, make us quick to admit it when we're wrong and easy to live with when we're right."

JOE DAVID ROSS MEMBER OF A. & M. JUDGING TEAM

Joe David Ross, Texas A. & M. College student from Sonora, is a member of the college's livestock judging team which has been participating in judging contests in Chicago this week.

Tonight's game will be a real contest between two top teams and the winner will be the best team, there's no denying it, because both Sonora and Big Lake boys will be putting everything they've got into it.

James M. Hughes, educator, of Evansville, Indiana, said it: "A plain bar of iron is worth $5.00. This same bar of iron when made into horseshoes is worth $10.50. If made into needles it is worth $4,285.00. If turned into balance wheels for watches it becomes worth $250,000.00. This is true of another kind of material—you. Your value is determined by what you make of yourself."

Joe did it again this year! For the second year in a row, Joe Moore brought in the first deer of the season. Joe's eight this year and he and his dad, Hut

Moore, had good luck and had it early. The deer was an eight-pointer and Joe got him at 50 yards with a 32-20.

Sonora Cops District 8a Championship With 37-6 Victory Over Eldorado Eagles

George Johnson, shown here almost as big as life, is, so far as we can determine, the nation's top scorer in high school ball. Friday night he broke last year's record of 228 points by scoring 37 points to raise his season's total to 250. George has accumulated this almost phenomenal total behind spectacular linework and blocking by his teammates who are even prouder of George than the many Bronco fans. George stands 5' 11", weighs in at around 175. He is the son of Clift Johnson of Sonora.

Johnson Scores 37 Points Behind Outstanding Bronco Line Work

The Sonora Broncos, playing their outstanding game of the year, copped the District 8-A championship Friday night, defeating the Eldorado Eagles 37 to 6. It was a hard fought game with the Bronco line setting up play after play for star back George Johnson who scored all 37 points to lead the nation's individual scorers in high school ball.

The Broncos received the opening kickoff on the 40 yardline and Johnson and Butch Baker alternated in carrying to the Eagle 2. Johnson went over from this point for the first score. His conversion try was blocked by an alert Eagle line and the score stood 6 to 0.

In the second quarter Sonora took over on down on the 40. Johnson and Wall carried to the 3 and from there Johnson went over standing up. George ran the try for extra point which was good and the tally read 13 to 0.

Just before half-time a pass off the arm of Johnson was intercepted by Eldorado's Stockton who had hardly pulled it down before it was gone again, this time in the hands of Johnson who ran it the 35 remaining yards to the goal stripe. George's PAT was good and the scoreboard read 20 to 0 as the half ended.

In the third period a punt off the toe of Stockton was received by Johnson who ran it to the 40. A Johnson-to-Ratliff pass was incomplete. Trying again to pass, Johnson was unable to find a receiver so he took off on a spectacular 40-yard run with Adams, Neville, Smith, and Love clearing the path for another touchdown. His conversion was good to raise the score to 27 to 0.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Stockton booted to the 40 where Johnson took the ball picked up the blockers and showed his heels to the Eagle eleven in a 60-yard run into the end zone. Neville and Adams threw key blocks. George's PAT was good and the score went on up to 34 to

Social Security Information

Do you have your social security account number? If you are in self-employment that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance you'll need it when you report your net earnings for the year 1956, according to Floyd B. Ellington, manager of the San Angelo social security office.

Your social security account is maintained by using both your name and social security account number. It's important that your account number appear on the social security portion of your tax return. If you do not have an account number, apply for one now and have it ready when you file your return. If you had a number but lost it, apply now for duplicate number. Application blanks for original and duplicate account numbers can be obtained from Neil Tarvin, the Social Security representative when he makes his regular trip to Sonora, Monday, November 26. He will be in the County Judge's Office from 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Cahill and Mrs. Ellen Ray spent the weekend in Lubbock the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ray and Kim.

Grade. Yvonne Davis was Queen of the Halloween Carnival, Barbara Chalk is Band Sweetheart, and Harold Garrett was named FHA Beau. Football Sweetheart has not yet been named.

Rus Chalk, who is attending school in Austin, arrived last weekend for a visit with his father, George D. Chalk.

Hunters Finding Deer Fat, Plentiful Turkeys And Javelina Still Scarce

More than 90 deer had been brought in to Sonora Food Locker by Wednesday of this week, five days after the opening of the season. This figure is considerably ahead of last year when about 90 deer were reported during the third week of the season. M. C. Scott, locker plant owner, described the deer as being in exceptionally good condition. "We have not had one poor deer," Scott said.

First deer of the season was brought in by Joe Moore, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Moore. Largest deer to date are two 109-pound 10-point bucks. One was brought in by Col J. M. Adamson and the other was killed on the Bryan Hunt Ranch.

Only one turkey and one javelina have been stored to date.

IT'S FEEDING TIME!

This cow's telling you something you probably know... it's time to start feeding. Grass is brown, tough, and doesn't have much food value. If her owner wants her to drop a husky calf come spring, then he'd better start supplementing her

She'd like Purina Range Checkers. They're easy to feed, tasty, contain a variety of proteins and carbohydrates and carry vitamins and minerals that the tough grass doesn't have.
Cows must have these materials to build the unborn calves

TWO BLADES OF GRASS

— where one grew before

We have many blessings to be thankful for on this THANKSGIVING DAY. We haven't suffered bad storms. We haven't had epidemics of the dread diseases. We have not had hungry people lined up before "Soup Kitchens." Many blessings have come our way — this THANKSGIVING DAY.

Because of adverse conditions caused by the lack of rainfall, all of us must double our efforts... we must make TWO BLADES OF GRASS grow where one grew before.

We, in the West Texas Utilities Company, are doing this very thing. We have spent, in the past 10 years, 56 million dollars on new equipment and installations. We are looking at both today and tomorrow, forming plans and working to keep ahead of the needs for electric power in the area we serve. We have confidence in West Texas and its people; we know they will do their best to make TWO BLADES OF GRASS GROW where one grew before.

"Bucks For Buckskin" Drive On

By Grady Hill, Rod and Rifle Editor,

San Angelo Standard-Times

Occupational therapy, which doctors consider almost as important as medicine and rest to bring tuberculosis victims back to normal lives, was just a theory in State Tuberculosis Hospitals until buckskin came along.

Somebody discovered that soft, pliable, durable buckskin is an ideal vehicle for handwork. From then on getting the tanned leather to the eager patients became a problem.

At first, cooperating groups footed the bill for shipping and tanning the hides donated by hunters. The supply grew, and likewise the costs. Motor freight carriers came to the rescue, carrying the "charity" marked rolls of hides free.

Donation of the hides by hunters has become traditional. The supply seems assured. The tanning expense is the major problem. So now it's up to somebody to foot the tanning bill, which averages $2.00 a hide wholesale.

Hunters, taxidermists and locker plant operators are asked to ship hides, cleaned, salted and rolled and plainly marked "charity" for the free motor freight line transportation to: L. M. Rathbone, Austin Taxidermist Studio, 2708 Fredericksburg Road, Austin, Texas.

Hunters this weekend will find tanning donation receptacles, carrying the legend "Bucks for Buckskin", set up at strategic sportsmen's centers in Sonora.

Checks payable to "Bucks for Buckskin" can be mailed to: Volunteer Council for State TB Hospitals, Box S, Capitol Station, Austin.

The use of the hides in occupational therapy has the approval of state game department officials, the Texas Tuberculosis Association and the state hospital system.

Mrs. Pearl Martin returned last weekend from Greggton where she spent a week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reese.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Savell had as house guests on the ranch last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Davis and sons, Kenneth and Jimmie, of El Paso.

Mrs. Robert Rees left this week for Shreveport, La. where she will visit her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Rees.

Looking Through The Windows Of Life

By W. H. Marshall

The problems of life are much as they ever were. Like the first settlers in a new country, that of building houses of just what they find on the spot.

Not many questions go deeper to the center of zest for life than this: CAN YOU DO ANY TRICKS with life? Can you take the common daily materials of life and so handle them that they take on a touch of true magic? Of course there innumerable foolish tricks people try to do with life. There is the something for nothing trick. We find them in the church even. Tricks endlessly played by those who attempt to take something valuable out of life without putting anything in. There are the tricks played on the nervous system. I am out of sorts with Brother B. Not that he has ever done me wrong, but I just don't like him. Why? Because your nervous system is out of sorts. Why? Because you have let your soul hate. Nervous system out of joint, all the illusions rising from many sorts of stimulation.

But the art that makes enduring magic is none of these. Some simple suggestions may be given for dealing magically with the ordinary things of life.

The First is that whenever we see all there is in anything or any person, we get a result that seems magical, compared to what the casual on-looker holds. It is the magic of the artist. A man sees and portrays all there is in some of the simplest things in life—two peasants in a field, and we have the legerdemain of Mil-let's Angelus.

Jesus looks into the heart of Simon Peter and we have the wonder of a transformed and multiplied personality. You see, you usually see in the other fellow what you are yourself. Jesus saw in every body something that was very good because he had goodness in his heart. When you say you see no good in others, you confess there is no good in you.

Jesus saw the lives and situation of people as giving him the opportunity to love and serve them. Oh, yes, Jesus could have used his religion as a stick to beat the other fellow into his way of thinking and acting, but he couldn't do that so long as he loved the people that he died for them; his enemies even. Here is Holy Magic. You and I too often go out and deliberately create our enemies in order to center our affections (our emotions) upon ourselves, and thus enjoy our ego.

When we cease our own chatter and stop long enough really to hear what another is saying in spoken or unspoken words, when we look with alert sympathy at people and get beneath defenses and appearances, the most ordinary things and people become extraordinary.

Life is transformed for anyone who genuinely thinks in terms of the interests and needs of others. Magic! No, there really is no such thing as magic. Love does the trick. Let love help you do tricks with your life.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Oh, come now, Mr. Thompson—Everybody gets a few bills the first of the month."

ACROSS the DESK Ideas from other editors

From the Lincoln Times, Lincolnton, North Carolina: The man wrote "Let me live in my house by the side of the road. And be friend to man," probably re-ided miles from the nearest highway. At least, it's reasonable to believe he never had to rake up the lunch papers and bottles and cans and candy wrappers and partly-eaten sandwiches from his front yard, and pick the used match books, punctured balloons, empty cigarette packages and assorted cellophane out of his hedge.

And if he had owned vacant property "by the side of the road," especially if it had a few trees on it, the accumulation of picnic trash, newspapers, old tires, even a junked car or two would definitely have deprived us of his touching poem.

But Keep America Beautiful, a non-profit corporation organized two years ago to restore its poetic faith in our fellow man and to clean up our highways and byways, our beaches, picnic grounds and sylvan dells, and keep them clean—is swinging into action on a wide front.

Associated with KAB in a nationwide drive against litterbugs are 36 influential, energetic national organizations, including the 4-H Clubs, National Grange, The American Legion, Boys' Clubs of America, the Boy Scouts, the Campfire Girls, and the National Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Bureau, National Council of State Garden Clubs, etc.

And cooperating with KAB in newly inspired drives against litterbugs are the enforcement agencies of the various states where anti-litter laws, calling for stiff fines recently have received scant or inadequate attention. As of now, state, county and city police, justices and judges are pretty well agreed that motorists will Keep America Beautiful—else!

It is popular supposition that nice people (like you) are not litterbugs, and that people who strew trash in their wake are definitely not nice. But the sad fact is that all of us are litterbugs—to a greater or lesser extent.

As for how to NOT be a litterbug, here are KAB's rules: Dispose of your trash in a proper receptacle—wherever you are. (If there isn't any, keep the trash until you find one). Urge your community to provide plenty of such receptacles—conveniently located. Carry a litterbag in your car. Encourage local anti-litter programs. Set a good example to the youngsters—yours and others.

And do not, as the poet says "... sit in the scorners' seat Or hurl the cynic's ban"—or any thing else out of your car window

Gary Douer, Israeli Forest Department representative from Haifa, Israel, visited the Sonora Experiment Station and the Tom Davis ranch this week. He has been in this country some three months studying forest problems and conservation treatment.

Douer stated that the low limestone hills around Sonora look more like his native land than any part of the United States he has visited. Most of his study has been centered in the western states, mainly California and Arizona.

On the Davis ranch Douer saw his first Angora goats. Most of the goats in Israel are black, and resemble our Spanish goats. "Our goats are much larger and more agile", Douer said. Goats in Israel are kept primarily for milk, with the meat and coarse hair being secondary products Douer stated that too many goats over thousands of years have seriously damaged the grassland and timber resources of the Middle East, and have been largely responsible for the desert-like conditions.

Douer was interested in various conservation measures observed on the Davis ranch. Brush piled on the contour has caught much soil from recent rains, and green grass is coming up in the protection of the brush. Tom also has several excellent patches of grass, planted to produce seed and provide food and cover for birds. Tom is successfully raising bob-white quail, some of which have been released on the ranch.

Douer is well acquainted with Budda Orev, Israeli soil conservationist who visited the Sonora area about a year ago. After spending a few weeks in Washington, D. C., and England, Douer will return to Israel.

Backstage With "The Savage"

By Shannon Ratliff

This past week one of the most important parts of any stage production began to take shape due to the fine efforts of George Ed Hill. George Ed has had the responsibility of assisting with the designing and construction of the set for "The Curious Savage". You who have seen a play directed by Mr. Robbins know that his sets always add greatly to the feeling and mood of the play. Although incomplete, the set has already added reality to our rehearsals. So you who live across the street from the school need not be alarmed if you see some of the kids come to school on Saturday. They are just members of the old class of '57 who have been drafted to build the rest of the set.

This particular set employs a new technique "the raked stage". This simply means the set itself sits at an angle to the curtain line. The stage will be divided into two levels which will give variety to the movement. Another interesting feature of the set will be a large bay window.

Pat Garrett has been assigned the responsibility of choosing the color scheme to be used on the set. She will decide on the drapes, upholstery, and rug to be used. Which reminds me—the cast is in desperate need of an old carpet that could be cut. If any of our readers has such a rug please call the school and the seniors will be glad to come get it.

Since the practices must go on-district champions or no district champions - it seems as though the main diet of the actors has become cookies and Cokes. This week we have concentrated on the second act and the cast were expected to know their lines. (You'll notice I said "expected". Seriously, the play seems to be progressing very well and we are well pleased. So "man your hammers, men there's work to be done, and scenery to be built, and lines to be learned." These choice words ring out over the stage of the Sonora High School as the day breaks and the last thing we hear as we wearily leave the stage at 10:00 each night is, "Now don't forget to study your lines!"

The southern part of the country receives a yearly rainfall of less than two inches. The northern part of the country, between the Dead Sea and the Saspian Sea receives up to 30 inches of rain annually. Douer stated that the goat is unpopular in Israel because they are trying to preserve the few oak trees in south Israel where the pine tree is the principal tree found.
