Site Ten Cleared For Core Trenching, Plans On Site 11 Nearly Ready For Bids

Cage Bros., successful bidders on Sites 9 and 10 on Lowrey Draw, have completed brush clearing on Site 10 and started core trenching operations.

A core trench is dug under the centerline of the dam to suitable foundation material. The trench is then filled with compacted clay material to prevent seepage. A similar trench is cut for the automatic drawdown pipe.

R. L. McQuatters, superintendent for Cage Bros., plans to prepare Site 10 for installation of the 28 inch concrete drawdown pipe, then start construction on Site 9 on the James and Nancy Hunt ranch.

Completed engineering plans on Site 11 on the W. A. Miers ranch are expected to be received within the next few days. Bids for construction of the dam at Site 11 can then be prepared and advertised.

Only one easement is lacking on the Dry Devil's River watershed, and it is expected to be completed within the next few days. Indications are good that construction funds sufficient to complete the entire project on both draws can be obtained.

House Numbering To Get Underway - As Lions Teams Start Installations

Sonora Lions will install house and business building numbers here beginning Thursday afternoon, April 30. Working in four teams, Lions headed by Hillman Brown, F. L. McKinney, Joe Nance and Leon Neely will install numbers for $1.50 per address.

The city-wide project will begin on Main and Crockett Streets with a number being assigned to each 25 feet in the business section. The numbers are three and three-fourths inches high and of stainless steel.

Leaving the intersection of Main and Crockett Streets, buildings on the left will be assigned odd numbers and those on the right will be even numbered.

The teams plan to work at least one afternoon each week until the project is completed.

Boys at Boy's Ranch of West Texas near Tankersley are in need of sheep to carry out their agriculture program, according to J. M. VanderStucken, a director of the Ranch.

VanderStucken says the Ranch needs ewes for the program which serves two purposes-teaching the boys ranching methods and providing additional income for the institution.

Ranchers in the area who want to send ewes to the Ranch are asked to contact VanderStucken who will take the stock to Tankersley as soon as a load is made up.

The child's father gave artificial respiration until breathing was restored and Dr. J. F. Howell gave further medical attention at Hudspeth Memorial Hospital.

Dennis's condition was described as good Wednesday.

Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District News

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

This week of May 3-11 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week. Most local ministers will join with clergy over the entire country to emphasize the spiritual relationship between man and the soil.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who is also an outstanding church leader, has issued the following statement regarding Soil Stewardship Week:

We depend on soil and water for much of the food, clothing, and raw materials needed to maintain a strong Nation. It is fitting, therefore, that all citizens and organizations join in the observance of Soil Stewardship Week, sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and various national church organizations, May 3 to 11 inclusive.

The eight-day period, opening with the Rural Life Sunday on May 3, is the time when farmers and ranchers, churches, soil conservation districts, schools, urban people and many organizations will join in emphasizing that soil is a god-given resource. The observance stresses that man is merely the steward of the soil while he uses it and that he must pass it on in as good or better condition than he found it.

Soil and water conservation is an integral part of modern agriculture. Farmers and ranchers in more than 2,800 soil conservation districts throughout the Nation each year join with the clergy in emphasizing the spiritual as well as the material values of soil and water. They themselves set an example by recognizing that "the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof" and by heeding the Creator's command "to dress it and to keep it."

But because we all depend so much on the land for our high standard of living, non-farmers too, have a place in such an observance. I hope they will join with our rural people in increasing numbers in this recognition of the obligations and opportunities for soil stewardship.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

April 15, 1959
Mr. Stanton Bundy
Devil's River News
Sonora, Texas
Dear Mr. Bundy:

My wife and I recently spent several very delightful days at our ranch, which is located, as you know, in Sutton County. We enjoyed seeing many of our old friends at the Fling-Ding, and of course a visit with our son and his family was most pleasant. I was delighted to learn that Sonora has organized a Chamber of Commerce. Having been in commercial and public relations work for the past thirty years, I have often wondered why such an organization was not started in Sutton County, because I believe after having lived in many places that Sutton County is made up of some of the finest people I have ever known, people with large vision and great hearts.

Every community should have a live, wide-awake Chamber of Commerce, and it is almost impossible to build a progressive city without one. The Chamber of Commerce is the one organization in which the lines of demarcation which ordinarily separate the people of a community into social, political, religious and racial groups are entirely obliterated, and therefore it is the one and only institution which can bring together in a voluntary number manner all of those diverse elements for the advancement of the community as a whole.

The Chamber of Commerce idea in the abstract is valueless. Only when the idea is translated into terms of cooperative effort are we conscious of its dynamic power. Many of the most powerful forces of life are comprehended only in their application. The real meaning and power of a Chamber of Commerce is evident as you analyze its effect upon the community. The Chamber of Commerce takes an active part in civic and commercial activities of a constructive nature. It mobilizes the citizens of a town behind a program of community betterment. The Chamber of Commerce is the doorway through which the citizens pass from selfishness to service, and from solitude into companionship with their fellow citizens.

I have been asked this question many times in years past: "What is a Chamber of Commerce?" and my answer has been something of this nature:

"It is the voice of the city; it reflects the ideals of the community; it expresses the aspirations of the people; it gives direction to the aims of the citizenship; it reduces the unorganized elements to an organized unit; it is the center of worthwhile enterprise; it is the magnet that draws the outside world to your midst; it is the clearing-house of civic pride; it is the powerhouse of progress; and finally, it is a composite picture of a city as its citizens would have it."

I was also delighted to know that Buzzy Stokes had been selected as the manager of the Chamber of Commerce. I have known Buzzy intimately since we were boys. He has rendered a great service to that area, and particularly to the town of Sonora in all these years. I am sure that with the cooperation of the good people of Sonora and Sutton County, he will lead you into a program that will be of great benefit to all concerned.

Looks like this is sort of a long article, but yet, when I get it to talking about Chamber of Commerce and their functions, I am always enthused. Having served in cities large and small, the last being Albuquerque, New Mexico, and previously that of El Paso, Texas, I have become convinced that it is impossible to build a live community without a live Chamber of Commerce. Cordially, Lloyd P. Bloodworth.

 Judge J. O. Your letter seems to indicate that such an incorporation would be for the best interest of your community, and if your town has not heretofore taken charge of its free schools, you could proceed under this and other laws relating to free school incorporations and issue the bonds which you need. Should you so incorporate and desire to issue bonds, you further advise this department and we will take pleasure in assisting you all we can. Yours very truly, J. S. ## Devil's River Philosopher Finds Scientists Now In Race To Go In All Directions At Same Time

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River is taking a non-progressive attitude toward science this week, but we doubt it'll have any effect on science.
Dear editor:

Sooner or later I know it will happen.

According to an article I read last night in a newspaper I picked up after it fell out of my neighbor's mail box after I tilted it a little, the United States and Russia are now in a race to see which one can penetrate the earth's surface first.

As I understand it, the earth's surface or crust is about eighteen miles thick on the average, and what's underneath nobody knows for sure. However, there are spots in the ocean where the crust is only two or three miles thick, and since man can drill a hole four miles deep, scientists are now figuring on lowering their drilling instruments down to the bottom of the ocean floor near Puerto Rico and from their trying to penetrate the crust.

At the same time, Russia is in the same race, although nobody knows where she's trying.

Consequently, the way it looks to me from my vantage point out here on my bitterweed ranch the world is now in a race to see how far out and how far down it can go at the same time.

This is known as going in all directions at the same time. I know the feeling, it's sort of like spinning your pickup wheels trying to go forward while slipping sideways down a hill. It's like gunning your motor while standing still in a traffic jam.

And you can't criticize the scientists. Everybody's doing it. It's the same thing as working fifty hours to buy a power lawnmower to save an hour's pushing with the old style model once a week. Although you can still turn a cow in and graze it off with no lawnmower at all.

As far as I'm concerned, it's perfectly all right for man to explore space in the morning and the inner core of the earth in the afternoon, with his nights free to figure up the tax bill for both ventures, but there's still plenty to interest me right here in eye-range of my front porch. For example, there's a newspaper out there on the ground now with a headline saying the cost of living index has gone up another notch. Mine hasn't. Ain't no notches left on mine.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Daniel hands an official memorandum to Bo Byers, capital correspondent for the Houston Chronicle. Byers is president of the Austin Professional Chapter. Center is Don Reid, Huntsville Item editor, immediate past president of the Gulf Coast Chapter which will host the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi at its convention in Galveston, May 1-3. Reid holds a plaque recently presented to Governor Daniel by the Gulf Coast Press Association, honoring him as one of the past presidents of that organization.

Wild Turkeys Have Unusual Roost Habits

There are many reasons why wild turkey is a very hard customer to plant, according to the Director of Wildlife Restoration, Game and Fish Commission. One, and probably the most important, reason is their sensitive attitudes toward roosts.

Usually, the turkey picks special trees for roosting. He, along with his band, will roost in these same trees each night. This is particularly true in all regions of the State except East Texas, where attempts are being made to plant the eastern turkey. They'll wander several miles each day, circling about in search of food, usually returning to the roost by nightfall. If while they are gone the roosting trees have been disturbed the flock will abandon the roost, sometime permanently.

Several examples were mentioned at the wildlife symposium held recently in Huntsville. As an example, a farmer didn't touch the trees in which the turkeys were roosting but cleared some of the cover brush around them. The birds refused to roost in the trees again. Some of the authorities at the symposium believed there is a key tree around which most of the turkey activity is centered, and this tree should never be disturbed.

This bird, which is so proudly displayed each Thanksgiving Day, likes acorns, about the most important food in the turkey range. Other wild foods include many insects, weed seeds, grass seeds, and native fruits and berries. Cultivated crops such as oats, chuffas, maize, and corn are frequently taken when they are available. But, the loss of one good crop can cause the birds to move on.

Miss Hunt represented "adventures in the Universe" and brought a look at the future in her robe of royal blue velvet and tulle over silver lame. The dress was fashioned with a front panel of the velvet heavily jeweled in a design symbolizing the myriad galaxies of the universe. The side panels of the dress were of star-studded tulle over silver lame. The train of velvet formed the back panel of the dress. As the central design the planets Earth and Saturn were shimmering in space. A great swirl of jewels reminiscent of the Milky Way swirled upward and around these planets and ended in the little dipper. Across the bottom of the train, a futuristic design fell in points to give an uneven edge. Brilliant rockets were blasting off from this base.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Alanson Brown
ARE YOU BAPTIZED? This question is not asked often enough for there is a vast number of our neighbors who are not baptized. The tragic part of this story is that they (the unbaptized) feel that they are CHRISTIAN. The simple answer is that any person is not a Christian unless he has been baptized with water... and in the name of the Holy Trinity. Yes, an unbaptized person may live according to Christian standards but this is not to be a Christian. A follower of Christ is one who has given his personal allegiance to Jesus the Christ and has in token thereof been baptized with water in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit and thereby been incorporated into the Body of Christ, the Church. Holy Baptism is therefore the outward and visible sign that a person has been changed and has become a new man in Christ. Would you like to become a Christian? If so, let it be known to some neighbor who is a Christian and they can take you to their Minister. If you are a non-believer, consider carefully the claims of God in Christ. There is no other Power able to fulfill men's needs as does the Christ. Rich or poor, black or white all are the same before the face of the Almighty. He is no respecter of persons. We will be judged by what we are as persons and not by fame, fortune, poverty or ignorance. Give yourself to Christ the only true Savior of the World and Man.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

By H. V. (Buzzie) Stokes
Wanted- At least six three-bedroom rent houses . . . PURPOSE: To house would-be citizens who would raise their children here, be active in the community and would spend their money with local merchants. We are losing citizens like these every day for lack of a house.

LABOR: At the last directors' meeting of the Sonora Chamber of Commerce it was voted that the Chamber office be a clearing house for local employment. So any one wanting to work, babysit, house, yard, ranch or dig rock post holes, let us know. And those wanting help, let us know. We don't guarantee anything except that our services are for free.

WORK, an uncouth work, is something a lot of which will be seen around Sonora this summer. Right now the following jobs are going on: Two dams, five bridges, nearly four miles road building, two geophysical crews and the following construction jobs going on: Robert Pfluger home, George Brockman home, Lee Fawcett home, Bryan Hunt home improvement, John A. Martin, Jr. home, and Milton Ricks three home, which are starting. Then there are several just being finished: Web Elliott, Selma Wyatt, Herb McKee, John Fields ranch home and then the Hattie B. Epps home is ready to start. All this in addition to a dozen modernization such as Geo. S. Schwening home. Boy, it makes me tired to think of all this work.

WOOL SHOW: Mark on your calendar, write your friends, plan now to attend the Wool and Mohair Show at the Wool House, June 17-18. This is the 22nd consecutive year for this, the largest wool and mohair show in the U.S.A. It will be bigger and better this year and we want to help the Lions Club make it so.

HIT THE JACKPOT: After 4 years of diligent and often discouraging effort he Uvalde Chamber of Commerce hit the jackpot last week with the announcement that General Tire Co. was instituting $400,000.00 tire test track there. This will bring some 80 new families to Uvalde. General says the attitude of the Chamber there and the work done by its president, Pete Knowles, influenced their decision, even though dozens of towns over the U.S.A. were applicants.

THE BRADY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE held its annual banquet last week and our Chamber was represented by its manager, Roger Wheeler, formerly of Del Rio, is the new manager at Brady. They had a 100% sellout of seats at the banquet and a very interesting program.

COMMUNITY COOPERATION in action is the story of the race meets this past weekend. Even though the Scoutarama in San Angelo and the Fiesta in San Antonio were strong competitors, Sonora people turned out nicely for the race meet and we never saw a better behaved crowd. Workers were everywhere and willing. Weather permitting, this weekend should hit the jackpot and if the weather is a good rain we would have a hard time loosing.

SHART: Have you seen the new entrance to the Airport? Ain't it pretty?

BEFORE WE QUIT, may we ask: Have you kicked in to the Cancer Fund? To the Little League? Have you, who haven't, joined your neighbors in the Sonora Chamber of Commerce? The joining is painless and the potential is great. We need to reach 175 members for maximum benefits, to all.
