Only One Easement Needed For Completion Of Dams

Only one more easement is needed to assure construction of eight flood prevention dams on Dry Devil's River.

Construction funds totaling $600,000 have been earmarked for construction of 5 dams on Dry Devil's River if all easements can be obtained. Local sponsors have also been assured that there is a good possibility that additional funds to complete all of the eight structures on the 100,000 acre draw can be made available. No construction work can be started on Dry Devil's River unless all easements are obtained or assurances given that they will be obtained.

Core drilling operations will be completed this week on the Ben F. Meckel structure. All engineering information needed for design has been completed on all structures except for Site 1 on the R. D. Johnson ranch in Schleicher County. Core drilling is also continuing in anticipation that all easements will be obtained and construction started at an early date.

Construction is in progress at Site 10 on Lowrey Draw, with core trenching for the dam nearing completion. Concrete work on the 28 inch automatic draw-down tube is expected to start next week. R. L. McQuatters, superintendent for Cage Bros., plans to start construction of Site 9 on the James and Nancy Hunt ranch next week. This structure will be completed, with Site 10 being completed after the concrete pipe has been installed.

Engineering designs for Site 11 on the W. A. Miers ranch were received this week, which gives Sutton County the green light to prepare bids for advertising construction of the dam at Site 11. This dam will be the largest structure on Lowrey Draw, containing 293,000 cubic yards of embankment.

New P.O. Due Completion By September 1, 1959

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today that a contract has been signed for the construction and lease to the Post Office Department of a new Post Office building at Sonora.

Successful bidder was Jack H. Rice and Jack Bleakley, 1003 S. Bell, San Angelo. Construction of the new Post Office is expected to begin soon and completion is expected not later than September 1, 1959. The lease will run for 10 years with renewal options up to 10 years.

To be located on Water Street, this modern post office structure will provide 3,139 square feet of interior space and ample hard-surfaced space for parking and truck maneuvering. Specifications call for air conditioning, the latest modern lighting, and equipment, including a low, open patron service counter.

Postmaster General Summerfield said, "This is another important step in the Post Office Department's modernization program to improve postal services for the public by providing new buildings and equipment, designed for efficient and economical mail-handling".

Under the Post Office Department's Commercial Leasing Program, the Department now is awarding contracts for new postal facilities at the rate of three a day.

"Postal services are being improved in many ways," the Postmaster General said. "We are making bold alterations in our transportation patterns to speed the movement of the mails. We have expanded the use of airplanes, Highway Post Offices, trucks and buses, when these carriers have shown they can carry the mail faster."

Summerfield said the postal facility to be built in Sonora is typical of many others going up elsewhere throughout the country. And the new post offices, he said, contain not only the modern patron-service counters and eye-saving fluorescent lighting, but a separate patron lobby to allow patrons use 24 hours a day. New mechanical equipment and furnishings will be provided. Color harmony is part of the painting program throughout. The Postmaster General said, mail users will find mail service in the years ahead improved through an unprecedented program of scientific postal research and development.

"The Post Office Department already has under development," he said, "a machine that will 'read' the addresses on mail and sort it automatically. Other machines, already in operation, include those which sort mail and parcel post semi-automatically. Mail-handling on the work floors of larger post offices is rapidly being mechanized with conveyors, to end the old fashioned method of hand-labor, and the resultant clutter and confusion."

The new Post Office will remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal Government, and hence will pay local real state taxes.

"Comparative cost studies between Government-owned and commercially leased buildings, over a 50-year building life," Summerfield said, "have shown that the Post Office Department's Commercial Leasing Program saves between 30 to 40 percent in ultimate costs to the taxpayers."

HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Senators and Representatives will have only a brief breather between regular and special sessions of the Legislature. Gov. Price Daniel announced that lawmakers would convene again, the first of next week.

Big question around the Capitol now is how many special sessions will be needed to solve the state's tax problem.

Since the lawmakers failed, during their 120-day regular session, to erase the $65,000,000 deficit and balance the budget for 1960-61, that chore will be number-one on their agenda. And most observers think it will take at last two, and maybe more, 30-day special sessions to iron things out.

Only matters specifically offered by the Governor may be considered during a special session of the Legislature, and all legislation started during the regular session must start over, practically from scratch. Revenue-raising proposals will have to be introduced again in the House, heard in committee, etc., before they can go to the Senate.

"ONE SHOP" TEACHERS—Any college graduate could teach school in Texas—at least for a year or two—under a House-passed bill.

Bill would grant a teacher's certificate good for one year to any bachelor's degree holder, whether he had teacher training or not. Certificates could be renewed twice. After that, the applicant would have to take 12 semester hours of teacher education.

Miss Maud Isaacks of El Paso, herself a teacher for many years, sponsored the bill. Professional educators were divided on the merits of the plan.

Some said it would increase qualified personnel; others, that it would attract to Texas the misfits and ne'er-do-wells from "all the freshwater colleges" in the nation.

PLUGHED UNDER—In the final days of a session, there usually isn't time to revive a bill that gets pushed aside. Among the bills whose setbacks were interpreted as death for this year are these:

MILK IMPORT REGULATIONS, sponsored by Sen Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo. House

supporters couldn't muster the two-thirds majority to take the bill out of order. Proponents said the restriction on milk brought across the state line was needed for health reasons. Opponents called it a trade barrier that would raise the price of milk.

BROADENING THE COMMON PURCHASER OIL BILL, by Sen. Hazelwood. Senate refused to take up the bill which would require pipelines to provide connections to new fields or transport the oil to market by truck.

BAN ON SUNDAY AUTO SALES, by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas. It passed Senate, but House refused twice to take it up.

BAND ON NUDIST CAMPS, by Rep. James Turman of Gober.

Senate passed, but House refused to call it out of committee. Committee had referred it to the Attorney General who said it would be legal.

HIGHWAY ZONING—Both houses moved quickly toward passage of a bill to protect smaller roads from heavier truck loads.

Governor Daniel asked for such regulation when he signed the bill to increase permitted truck loads from 58,420 to 72,000 lbs.

Proposed bill would allow the State Highway Department to zone state highways and farm roads for lighter truck loads and give same authority to County Commissioners for county roads.

TOURIST BILL PASSES—The much discussed and battered bill to permit the state of Texas to advertise its tourist advantages finally was approved by both houses of the Legislature before adjournment of the regular session.

As passed, the bill puts into effect the constitutional amendment approved by a close margin by the voters at the election last November. It differs in one important respect, however. It does not provide that industries shall match state funds—which was the sales pitch that was used to effect passage of the amendment by Texas voters.

Designated to handle the program is the Governor, the Chairman of the State Highway Commission, and the Chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission.

—1898—
D. A. McGonagill was appointed county attorney to succeed L. N. Halbert, resigned. Petition asking court to purchase land for a county graveyard was tabled. There was a full attendance of the court and they were in session three days.

—1898—
The commissioners court refused to buy land for a county cemetery, but the commissioners subscribed $5 each to a fund to be used for that purpose and W. A. Stewart, commissioner for precinct, circulated the paper and secured enough to buy three acres adjoining the old cemetery at $15 per acre.

—1898—
At five o'clock Monday evening a small sized cyclone arose in the northwest near Joe Parker's place, about 5 miles west of Sonora and came whirling along at a sixty mile gait through Sim White's farm, where it tore up a live oak, and continued on its course until it reached M. C. Walton's house, which it lifted and moved ten feet. It also paid its respects to C. G. Lovelace's windmill, which it picked up and stood on its head (the windmill's head) on the other side of the rock wall. This may seem a little "Spanish" but the wind actually lifted the windmill tower, posts and all, out of the ground and high enough to let the mill and tower turn upside down. No one was hurt and nothing upset at Walton's.

NOTICE

—Do you know: (1) A quick way to tell whether or not your car's headlights are in or out of focus? (2) Where to put your right foot on entering a busy intersection? (3) A quick way to check for unequalized brakes?

Knowing the answer to questions such as these could be instrumental in saving your life, because they are typical of the advance thinking necessary to be a safe, defensive driver.

The defensive driver is one who drives in such a manner as to avoid accidents by expecting the unexpected.

In addition to turning in a safe driving job himself, today's motorist also has a responsibility to make up for the shortcomings of others. Such an attitude comes naturally to persons accustomed to accepting their moral responsibilities in other areas of daily living.

Here are the answers to the above questions:

1. Once you are certain your headlights are in proper focus, drive your car into your garage with headlights on high beam. Make a cross with a piece of chalk on the wall in the exact center of each beam. This isn't a foolproof system, but will help you detect any sudden change—which should be followed up with a thorough check by your mechanic.

2. Remove your right foot from the accelerator and place it lightly on the brake pedal until you are clear of hazards. This habit will reduce a major part of your reaction time in case you have to make an emergency stop.

3. When you first start your car, the brakes are cold. Pump the brake pedal slightly, at about 10 miles per hour. If the brakes are not gripping equally, the car will tend to sway.

Devil's River Philosopher Finds He'd Have Little Enthusiasm For Living In A Russian House

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-wood ranch on Devil's River discusses the housing situation this week. We think that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

Every time the Russians criticize us, it's not necessary to answer them, but I was especially interested in a criticism Premier Khrushchev made the other day about American houses, which he is an authority on since he has never been in one.

According to him, American houses look all right, but they're not made to last over 20 or 30 years. "Such a method wouldn't suit us in Russia," he said. "We will build in the Russian manner, so that the houses may be used not only by us and our children, but also by our grandchildren and great-grandchildren."

Well, maybe so, but things don't always work out like the Russians claim. You don't notice Stalin's children living in the house Stalin used, do you? Khrushchev has a pretty good house at the moment, but I wouldn't bet on any of his children taking over when he's gone.

Also, I don't know how a Russian can leave his house to his children when he can't own it in the first place. As I understand the Russian position, if she built any houses, she'd build durable one, but in the meantime the people can have one room per family in a state-owned apartment house.

And when it comes to building homes that last only 20 to 30 years, if Russia keep brandishing its military power around, the average Russian house may not last that long, regardless of what it's built out of.

Now as to American house's I don't know how long they'll last, but the one I'm living in has been here a lot longer than 30 years and will be here a lot longer, if I can ever get around to patching the roof and fixing the front porch.

Moreover, when a man builds one of these modern new fancy houses, he doesn't want to put too much permanence into it, he never knows when a new super-highway will come along and pass right through the middle of it.

But even so, I believe I'd rather live in a house of my own that's going to last only 30 years, than live in one that's going to last for 200 years, if it was owned by Mr. Khrushchev.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Interstate Livestock Buyers Must Register

Scores of southwest livestock buyers are expected to register and furnish bond under a new amendment to the Packers and Stockyards Act, effective May 24, 1959.

Dealers, market agencies, either buying or selling on a commission basis, and packer buyers—operating across state lines either in the country or at markets subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act—must register.

Also, all except packer buyers must furnish bond. Bond coverage is based upon the volume of business transacted, but in no case less than $5,000.

Previously, the regulations on interstate livestock marketing applied only to persons dealing at markets subject to the Act.

The law places the responsibility on the dealer to register and obtain bond coverage if he is operating across state lines.

Texas and eastern New Mexico livestock dealers should register immediately with the District Packers and stockyards office, 231 Livestock Exchange Building, Fort Worth, Texas.

Get inside the clean winged beauty of Buick '59

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights

Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks... and too great for you to miss.

Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thrifter, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.

At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list. But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability... and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59... in ways that warm the heart.

But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

The Sonora Chamber of Commerce entertained the officers and directors of the West Texas Quarter Horse Assn., with a barbecue preliminary to their annual meeting Friday night. Set up at the Bustie Halbert ranch, it did not take long to move when the spring rains began. Bustie, Edwin Sawyer, Bob McCarver and Stanley Mayfield quickly moved to the Hangar where the happy occasion was held, so happy because it was in the rain.

BEAUTIFUL, to behold, was the Quarter Horse yearling halter show Saturday morning. The aristocracy of the quarter horse futurity was on display. The nice crowd seemed to enjoy this feature of the program a lot.

Sonora was proud to have so many visitors from our neighboring towns. We suppose Del Rio turned out best of all, a big crowd being present each day from there. Many from Uvalde came to see the Herndon colt run and were not disappointed. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Smith of the Weathervane Stables of Uvalde were all smiles for the first and second colt in the Futurity finals were from their stallion, Hy Diamond.

County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The Official Highway Travel Map is used by all state and governmental agencies in the state for determining highway distances, mileages, zones, and like information. The same map is equally as useful to tourists seeking roads leading to good times in Texas.
