New Western Type Band Uniforms To Be On Display In Near Future

The Band Parents Club has ordered new Western style uniforms for the Sonora Bronco Band. An exact model of the red and white wool uniform will be on display in the First National Bank in the near future.

In order to finance the $5,000 uniforms, the band will operate the concession stand at the Taverns of Sonora during the first week of operations. This will include the week beginning July 16 and the dedication week-end, July 22 and 23. Sold at the stand will be tamales, hamburgers and cold drinks.

Other plans include a benefit dance and any donations may be made to Harold Scherz, Mrs. Katherine Linthicum or Mrs. Gay Copeland.

W. J. (Bill) Fields, Jr. Receives Award As Outstanding Conservation Ranchman

W. J. Fields, Jr., has been named outstanding conservation ranchman in the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District for 1959. Fields received the award and accompanying plaque on the basis of work done in re-establishing, through a nine-year program, a bitterweed and liveoak rush ranch.

Fields' program began in 1950 with construction of several miles of cross-fences to permit more efficient management of livestock. He chained liveoak brush off some 3,000 acres to reduce competition for moisture and sunlight where grass production was at a low ebb. Brush piles and disturbed areas were seeded to a good mixture of native and introduced grasses.

During the recent drought fields reduced his livestock to about one-fourth of normal carrying capacity, but with less than half of normal rainfall for even years, grass on some 500 acres of deep soil died. The land became bare and devoid of vegetation. Showers, striking the bare formed a crust which precluded penetration of moisture the clay soil. In the spring of 1957, he pitted the 500 acres of denuded soil, and planted a mixture of native and introduced grasses. Rainfall was back to normal in 1957 and an excellent stand of grass was produced. Fields deferred the entire ranch during the growing seasons of 1957 and 1958 to allow grass to become well rooted, razing lightly during the winter months. Grass responded rapidly and by the fall of 1958 the ranch had far surpassed its pre-drought production of grass. Bitterweed was choked to a mere trace and was no longer a serious problem. In spite of seven drought years, by 1959 Fields' planned practices were all applied and his plan placed on a maintenance schedule.

Soil Conservation personnel estimate the Fields' application of the conservation plan has increased production of useable vegetation by 200 to 300 percent over production at the time of planning.

Devil's River Philosopher Up In Arms Over Suggestion That Time Clocks Be Installed In Pickups

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River is alarmed over a new proposal, which somebody apparently was kidding him about.

Dear editor:
According to an article I read in a newspaper which fell out of a teen-ager's car as he rounded a corner out here near my ranch yesterday, Congress is working on a new minimum-wage law, but I couldn't find a word about a minimum wage for ranchers.

I was talking about this with a neighbor this morning and he said he had been giving some thought to this problem too and had concluded the way to solve the farm problem is to pay a rancher a guaranteed wage.

"Yeah, but how you gonna figure out how many hours he works?" I asked him.

"Easy," he said. "I already figured it out. Just put a time-clock on his pickup, one on his barn door, one on his pasture gate, etc., and at the end of the year he'll have an accurate record of how many hours he worked. Then the government could decide how much per hour he ought to have to hold his own with steel workers, TV repairmen, auto repairmen, etc., figure up how much he got for his crops, and send him a check for the difference."

Now I have no objections to getting checks from the government, they're handy, they're neat looking, you can cash them anywhere, but I would like to say right now I have absolutely no use for time-clocks. I just don't want any accurate record of how many hours I spend in a pickup. It's un-American. It's none of the government's business.

Ranching is sort of like editing a newspaper. How would you like to have to punch a time-clock every time you sat down to your typewriter? With the clock running only while you were actually typing? Ranching is the same way. If you're entitled to sit and

Excessive Speed
Principal Factor
In Traffic Deaths

Excessive speed was the principal cause-factor in 53 percent of every rural fatal traffic accident in Texas during 1959.

Excessive speed does not necessarily mean violating a speed law, but is driving at any speed which is too fast for conditions-stare at your typewriter, why don't I have the same right to sit and stare at my pickup? Or my sprayer or my crop or anything else? You don't pay yourself by the number of sheets of paper you run through your typewriter, do you? No. And I don't want to be paid by the number of trips I make up one fenceline and down another.

Editing and ranching both ought to be kept on a high intellectual level.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

such as may exist because of heavy traffic, rain storms, a mechanically poor car, etc.

One of the objectives of the Slow Down and Live campaign is to encourage people to maintain an even and prudent speed that will reduce congestion and danger by an even flow of traffic.

He said that this calls for the elimination of any speed-too fast or too slow that disrupts the orderly movement of traffic.

"It is important the public realize the dangers of improper speed, understand the speed laws, the meaning of speed signs and, above all, how to adjust their speeds to conditions of driver, vehicle, weather and roadway," Musick said. "A bit of common sense goes a long way in traffic safety. Every driver on the road must accept his responsibility and remember to drive safely."

Dr. Frank L. Bond of San Antonio was a weekend guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Bond.

Rabies Shows Slight Decrease During May

Both wildlife and domestic animal rabies showed slight declines in May, according to Texas State Health Department animal disease figures.

State Health Department veterinarians attribute the decline to a seasonal drop and the effects of local rabies control programs now active in several Texas areas.

Forty examined heads proved positive during May compared to 86 positive heads examined in March and 48 in April.

The number of heads submitted for examination is also declining. In May 409 heads were prepared for examination—a decrease from 591 heads prepared in March.

Whole heads are sent to the State Health Department laboratory in Austin where the brains are carefully prepared for microscopic examination for presence of "Negri bodies," indicating rabies infection.

A breakdown of positive animal heads examined for May shows 10 dogs and three cats. Also there were nine foxes, 15 skunks and three bats.

Statistics show that domestic pet rabies is running only one-third as high as the five year median while bovine rabies is just half as much as the five year median figure.

At the same time wildlife rabies is running ahead of the usual-incidence level.

The high rate of wildlife rabies makes control measures among domestic animals more important than ever, public health authorities say. They warn against possible outbreaks at any time or place.

An unprotected domestic animal population—especially dogs—could mean exposure to humans during an unexpected outbreak before emergency controls could be enacted.

Heads submitted for examination to the State Health Department laboratory include almost every species of wildlife—rabbits, rats, squirrels, flying squirrels, mice, raccoons, gophers and hamsters.

Laboratory technicians ask that heads sent for examination be packed in ice, but separated from ice in a smaller container.

Whole heads should be submitted instead of just brains to avoid accidental infection during removal of the brain by untrained persons.

Electric Kitchen

Symbol of Modern Living

The touch-of-a-button magic of an electric kitchen brings the whole world of tomorrow to today's homemaker. The modern electric food preparation center is a decorator-designed dream of beauty, comfort and convenience. Here's why . . .

CLEAN . . . . . In your electric kitchen everything stays sparkling clean. Walls, ceilings, curtains, pots and pans testify to the fact that your electric range gives efficient, controlled heat without the dingy by-products of flame-type cooking.

COOL . . . . . Electric heat is transmitted directly to the pots and pans, and not out into the room. Your kitchen stays cool and comfortable . . . and so do you!

CONVENIENT . . . . . Push a button or twirl a dial for automatic, carefree cooking, clothes washing and drying, dish cleaning and garbage disposing. It's as simple as that!

ECONOMICAL . . . . . Costs less than 3¢ to cook an average meal electrically in this area. And, a penny's worth of electricity does an equally big job in washing and drying your clothes, preserving your food, perking your coffee, toasting your bread, or disposing of your garbage.

SAFE . . . . . Enjoy odorless, flameless security in your electric kitchen. Breezes can't blow out this heat. And, you can safeguard youngsters by throwing away the matches forever!

SURE . . . . . In your electric kitchen you know the heat will remain constant; you know it will be the same tomorrow and the next day; you know it is the proper temperature for each dish you prepare; you know all this because you know you can depend on electricity!

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Doyle W. Morton . . . . .
Sidney J. Harris has written an article in the Reder's Digest for July, 1960, "Do you act or react?" He says that we react if we allow other people to determine whether we shall speak or not, whether we shall be rude or gracious. The Apostle Paul said it in another way "Be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind." (Romans 12:2) We often allow social pressure or unkind deeds of an individual to cause us to "conform" at that moment. To be kind when the other person is unkind demands the best in us. It means that we have been transformed by the renewing power of Jesus Christ. To conform is a negative approach because we allow others to think for us. Our attitudes are not our own. When we are transformed we take the positive, creative approach. We can have noble ideas and ideals. We will not allow ourselves to be pulled down by hate or untruth. We can fact life unafraid because we walk with our God.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hallum are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barton and son of Del Rio and Mrs. Margaret Dungan and Jon Barton Dungan of Odessa.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell have had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Allen, Kay, Susan, Nancy and Jack Brent of Perryton.
