Devil's River Philosopher Says Nobody Will Ever Accuse Ranchers With The Crime Of Price-Fixing

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-sweet ranch on Devil's River discusses the advantages of ranching this week, at least we think that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:
Every once in a while somebody asks me why I keep on ranching if it's as hard as I let on and the chances of breaking even are as slim as I claim, but that's because they don't understand all of the advantages.

It's true ranching out in the open under the uncertainties of the weather is a hazardous undertaking, about like trying to run a dry goods store without a roof or a bank without a vault, and it's true that insects are as smart as men and while man is staying up all night in a laboratory developing an insecticide that's bound to work, it turns out the insects stayed up the night before developing an immunity to it. As I've found out long ago, every time man comes out with a new insecticide, the insects come out with a new insect.

Moreover, a lot of people distrust a rancher. If he gets ahead, he's responsible for the high cost of living; if he fails, he's incompetent.

I could go on, but by this time you're probably wondering, what are the advantages of ranching?

Well, I won't have room this week to list all the advantages, not to mention time to think them up, or the imagination to manufacture them, but there is one advantage that occurred to me the other day and I've been banking on it ever since.

It's this: the ranchers will never be filed on by the United States government for price-fixing.

You're not going to catch us inviting the wrath of Attorney General Bobby Kennedy by getting together and deciding how much we ought to charge for what we produce. We've outsmarted all the lawyers in the government, and in all the history of agriculture since man first found out if you shear a sheep it'll grow more wool to the present day when we can produce more livestock than the country can handle, no rancher has ever been guilty of deciding what the price of what he has produced should be. We haul it to town and ask somebody. Lots of times we don't get near enough, but we sure stay out of court.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Emil VanderStucken of Princeton, New Jersey, has been visiting here with his brother, J. M. VanderStucken and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and children of Girvin spent last weekend here visiting with his mother, Mrs. Neil Roueche.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

May 7 is Children's Day. When we are hearing so much about juvenile delinquency, we can be happy that over 95 per cent of our American teen-agers have never been in trouble with the law. We regret that 5 per cent have trouble and we hear much about this 5 percent. It is easy to criticize, but we should be grateful for the large number of fine young people. It is surprising that so few have trouble with the law, when we remember the delinquent world in which we live. There are more opportunities to experiment with those things that degrade. Since there are so many suggestions in the way of advertising, it is surprising that more do not lose their way. Jesus said, "Woe to the world for temptations to sin!"

The Church and the family, working together, have the privilege of helping our youth and children in the world of today. We can arm them for the temptations that come by giving them strength from God. We can hold out to them a vision of a whole-life rather than easy conformity to lower standards. It is our privilege to give moral fibre to our children and to give them an ethical understanding as Christians. We can interpret to them the meaning of Christian vocation. We can help them choose religious idealism rather than secular values. We must help them see that their final responsibility is to God.

Pvt. W. H. Hill has returned to Fort Hood after spending the weekend here with his wife and his mother, Mrs. Sadie Archer.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

General Robert E. Lee gives vivid descriptions, in his letters, of experiences in Texas a few years before the Civil War, when he commanded the string of forts which guarded the frontier from the Indians.

Writing to his wife from Camp Cooper concerning the Fourth of July 1856, he said, "Mine was spent, after a march of thirty miles, on one of the branches of the Brazos, unded my blanket, elevated on four sticks driven in the ground as a sun-shade. The sun was fiery hot, the atmosphere was like the blast from a hot air furnace, the water salt, still my feelings for my country were as ardent, my faith in her future as true, and my hopes for her advancement as unabated as they would have been under better circumstances."

He traveled from Camp Cooper to Fort Ringgold on the Rio Grande, giving this account in a letter to his wife on Oct. 3, 1856: "I arrived here on the 28th after twenty-seven consecutive days of travel. The distance was greater than I had anticipated, being 730 miles. I was detained one day Association.

This is not "just another week", the marshal said, but has been set aside for a concentrated effort to remind homeowners of the simple precautions they should take this summer when they leave their homes for an evening or go off on a vacation trip.

From January to September 1960, there were three burglaries in Sonora. Unfortunately, some of these were the result of carelessness and probably could have been prevented. Something can and must be done to curb this menace.

Local law enforcement officers urge observing these precautions: Leave two or three lights on in house during evening hours. Put good locks on all outside doors. Latch window screens and install safety catches on windows. Stop all deliveries when leaving for a vacation.

Apprehending the criminal is the job of your law enforcement officers but the war against burglary can only effectively be carried out with the home-owners' full cooperation.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Capitol hands are engaged in a legal and dead-serious type of "numbers game." Object is to figure out how much money certain tax bills will bring in. Also what the legislature needs to round up in order to meet the state's obligations. Then, find out how much additional cash is necessary to foot all bills. Any number of persons can play this game—and a good many are. Looks like all Texans will be affected.

Gov. Price Daniel, who takes a dim view of the House passed 2 per cent sales tax, said it still would leave the state $50,000,000 short of needed revenue. Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity, sponsor of the sales tax, offered it as a means of raising $127,000,000 a year.

Texas Research League, which has made a continuing study of state finances, estimated Wilson's bill would raise $265,000,000 in the next two years, with $22,000,000 more coming in late because of a two-months collection lag. This would take care of the general appropriations bill as passed by the Senate, says the League, leaving some $106,000,000 to pay for teacher raises and medical care for persons on state welfare rolls.

Wilson has also put forward another tax bill that would repeal the corporation franchise tax and substitute a 4 1/2 per cent corporation income tax for a net gain of $50,000,000 a year in state revenue. Governor Daniel has proposed a new eight point compromise plan designed to add $73,316,000 to the general revenue fund over a two-year period.

His plan calls for (1) passage of the twice defeated escheat bill, (2) doubling tuition at state colleges, (3) shifting the $15,000,000 farm to market road spending from the general fund, (4) requiring county school superintendent expenses to be paid from local funds, (5) collecting $3,000,000 from families able to pay for care of relatives in state hospitals and schools, (6) diverting one percent ($12,000,000) a year from the permanent school fund for current expenses and (7) revising or shifting several other school fund allocations.

HOUSE PASSES BUDGET BILL—House passed a general appropriations bill calling for the spending of $2,520,000,000 during the next two years.

House bill is about $20,000,000 higher than the appropriations bill passed by the Senate in late March. It is about $130,000,000 more than is provided for present two year period.

One of the biggest increases would be for education, which would be boosted by $36,000,000 a year under the House bill.

Other provisions by the House would allow: $15 per month raises for state employees making less than $200 a month; 40-hour work week for employees of state hospitals and special schools; raises for State Liquor Control Board inspectors.

UNIVERSITY BATTLES—University has become a fighting word in the Senate, one that held up regular business for almost two weeks.

A determined group of Senators has opposed creating any more state supported universities on grounds it will put Texas in the position of the "old woman who lived in the shoe."

Nevertheless, Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells obtained final passage of a bill that would change the name of North Texas State College to North Texas State University. Opponents scoffed at the prospect of having two universities in Denton (pop. 27,000). Other is Texas Woman's University (formerly Texas State College for Women).

Sen Robert Baker of Houston had more difficulty with his bill that would admit the University of Houston to the state college system. Senators Hubert Hudson, Wardlow Lane, Charles Herring and W. T. Moore teamed up to "talk the bill to death."

IN THE YEAR OF

October 5, 1895

Edwin Martin left to take charge of the public school in precinct No. 4 Saturday. The school house is in R. T. Baker's pasture.

F. M. Wyatt is having his blacksmith shop moved from the corner to the old place near Mrs. Carson's. The lumber for his hotel is on the road and will be here in a few days.

ral", "A Study in Lavender", "Stars and Stripes Forever", "Blue-Tail Fly", "Caribeguline", "Wonderland by Night", "Spring-time Festival", "Danse Pavane" and "Black Knight".

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

ONE DOWN— Sam Allison says this race meet last Saturday was the best he ever saw. He sat up in a box seat and watched it rain 2½ inches on his ranch. For the first races of the season and the first cloud of the season, Saturday was a gala day.

The attendance Saturday probably broke all Saturday records. Next Saturday we hope all the ranchmen from the west side of the county attend the races and we'll see what happens. They do need the rain.

RITZY— Many visitors at our race meet were amazed at the new paddock at our park. First, it had been moved to the north end of the stands from the south end, which was a big improvement. But under the direction of Bustie Halbert, assisted by Bud Halbert and many others, the new paddock is a masterpiece. The track is equally improved under the direction of Wesley C. Young. He was greatly assisted by the Sutton County road department and by the El Paso Natural Gas Co., among many others. The Boy Scouts did yeoman service in eradicating the rock hazard from the track.

But when you begin calling names you are in trouble, so we will get in more trouble next week. We just can't refrain from saying "thanks" to people who give and give and give for community benefit.

"Promotion March". There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend the concert.

ONE TO GO— Saturday, May 6, 1961 is the day for the running of the West Texas Quarter Horse Futurity for a purse of near $10,000.00 give or take. 8 of the finest in two year old Quarter Horse breed will square off for the finish. Then, Sunday will see a full racing card featuring the Sonora Thoroughbred Derby and the Sutton County Derby. The Ruidoso Downs will present a cooler to the winner of the Thoroughbred Derby.

MR. RANCHMAN— Did you save a bag of wool or some choice fleeces for the biggest wool and mohair show in the country? Even though the sheep industry is on the sick list now is no time to let down. Take pride in your products, take pride in your show, let's make this one the best of all.

IT'S DIFFERENT— Visitors to Sonora this past week found one change. They missed Alton and Iva Hightower at the Park Inn. The Hightowers sold the Park Inn to the W. A. Humphreys recently. Our remark is, a good job well done, maybe a vacation is in order for the Hightowers.

SPIRIT— Many people feel that the good attendance at the races and the overall success of the first weekend is attributed to the window displays along Main Street and on the highway. It's the first time Sonora has demonstrated their hospitality with window greetings. It does look nice to visitors. Inexpensive, too.

MORE OF THE SAME— Several new homes for Sonora are in the planning stage with work starting on a guest house for the Willie Miers on the Miers ranch across from the W. A. Miers home.

GOLF— The plan to have a Golf Course for Sonora has met with more popular reception than any program here for a long time. The mothers of the community are greatly interested. The land has been secured from the City of Sonora, fairways have been tentatively laid out, the water situation is being worked on and a great number are ready to pitch in and make this one of the most interesting golf courses in the country. It has just that possibility. Son Allison is waging a one-man membership campaign.

PROGRESS— Who would have ever thought Sonora would be without a telephone operator? Remember when you on the ranch used to call, "Lois, find John in town and tell him to bring a package from the drug store,?" Getting used to dial in town was a shocker but what of the future? Too bad many ranches are now without telephone service for the first time in 50 years. One citizen said all he knew to do about the situation was to buy some telephone stock!

LITTLE LEAGUE— Opened in Sonora Tuesday evening with a grand turn out of fans. The Lions Club sponsors this all-important youth activity but it behooves all of us to support it, throughout the season. PLAY BALL!

ALLEN LOW BIDDER— Ford Allen of Sonora was apparent low bidder on Site 18A Brady Creek flood retardation dam Friday. Allen bid $78,535.06.

The site is the 41st and last of a system of dams to control the Brady Creek watershed. Ralph White, SCS construction engineer, who has supervised the Dry Devil's River flood prevention program will supervise the Brady Project.
