FORTIETH WEEK

Enjoy The 4th Of July Holiday Even More By Playing It Safe

The Fourth of July—annual observance of this country's willingness to fight and die in the cause of freedom—is on the verge of its yearly blood bath for less ennobling reasons.

While in 1776 early Americans poured from their homes and out of the hills to fight for independence with meager arms and little preparation, the coming holiday will see Americans, with the greatest amount of vacation equipment ever assembled, rush to the highways with an insatiable desire for speed, undertake frightening travel schedules with no more sleep than a combat infantryman would get in a forward post, and batter their way to a staggering waste of lives and untold hours of misery.

In addition to the traffic crashes, a number of other hazards confront these happy va-caution combat troops. Drownings now number 6,400 a year in the US, and firearms fatalities reach 2,200 with more than a fair share happening during the Fourth of July holiday period.

We offer these suggestions for a safer, saner holiday:

Don't overload (with sun, food, drink—or in a boat).

Don't show off (on a diving board, with a snake, playing ball or on the highway).

Don't push (hiking, swimming, boating, or your endurance).

Relax—that's what you're taking a vacation for.

Don't over exert yourself in any physical exercise.

KNOW what you—and every member of your family—is doing.

The Fourth of July will range from a one-day holiday to a four-day holiday. DON'T MAKE IT A PERMANENT ONE.

Damon Swails, 40, Funeral Services Held Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, June 23, for Damon Swails, 40, at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Alvin L. Loiry, pastor, officiating. Swails, a Sonora trucker, died suddenly in Houston Wednesday, June 21.

He was born February 13, 1921 in San Saba County and moved to Sonora with his parents at the age of 15. He attended local schools and enlisted in the Marine Corps just prior to World War II.

After seeing service in the Pacific theatre he returned to Sonora where he was married to the former Miss Dell Ory in 1944 in Ozona. He was employed by Southern Plaza Truck Company of San Antonio. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Dick; one daughter, Cheryl; five brothers, Turman Swails, Dayton Swails and Durwood Swails of Midland, Derryll Swails of Austin and Bert Swails of Sonora; and four sisters, Mrs. Tom Mayers, Mrs. Leon Griffith, Mrs. Pheron Ruple and Mrs. Lee Thomas, all of Midland.

Nephews were pallbearers. Masonic graveside services were conducted at Sonora Cemetery. All arrangements were under direction of Ratliff - Kerbow Funeral Home.

RETURN FROM CAMP

The Rev. Allan Guthrie and seven young people from the Church of the Good Shepherd returned Thursday from a week's stay at the Presbyterian camp near Richland Springs. Those attending the camp were Jan and Jean Williams, Tommy Lyne Smith, Bonnie McKinney, Priscilla Howell and Stan and Margaret Bundy.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

A guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Jimmy, John K. and Joe, is their niece and cousin, Lyttle Schultz of San Antonio. Lyttle, who will be a sophomore at Trinity University next fall, accompanied Mrs. Wilson to Sonora from Round Rock, where they had been the guests of Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. J. H. Kavanaugh. She will be joined this week by her family, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Schultz and Ott, and the four will proceed to the Big Bend National Park for a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Babcock and family of McCamey were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Babcock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hurst, Steven and Susan, of Kansas City, Kansas, are in Sonora visiting her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Locklin and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper and Debra.

Second Annual Junior Rodeo To Be Held Here July 20-22

Name - Dropping

Sonora young people have been traveling, vacationing at home, and even working. If you would like to know who is doing what, keep reading.

Weekend guests of Nancy Reed in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reed, her parents, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson and children and Jack's brother, Gene Henderson, all of San Antonio. Both Nancy and Gene are spring graduates of Sonora High School. Nancy, an honor graduate, plans to enter Texas Woman's University in Denton next fall as a library service major.

Gayle Copeland has recently arrived in Sonora from San Antonio, where she has been attending school at St. Mary's Hall, an Episcopal girls' school. Gayle and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Copeland, will leave for Rockport in a few days for a coastal vacation.

George Roberson returned to Sonora from El Paso, where he and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Roberson, have been visiting for several weeks. George reports that he enjoyed El Paso while he was there, but admits that he spent a great deal of his time in Juarez.

Jan McClelland is in San Antonio visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Straughan. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McClelland, Jan left Sonora Friday, June 23, and will return home after a week's stay. Susan Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lea Allison, is among the Sonora girls attending Camp Waldemar near Hunt. She will be an 8th grade student next year.

Whoops. I made a grave mistake while dropping names last week. Candace Cauthorn was not visiting the Jack Riggs family, though she does intend to do so later in the summer, but was accompanying Mary Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Wilson, to Sweetwater to visit Mrs. Wilson's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sandlin.

Mary Davis is presently employed by her father, Louis Davis, at Davis Insurance Co. Mary, who will be a sophomore at Sonora High School this fall, reports she is enjoying her work thoroughly.

Dick McMillan celebrated his 15th birthday last Thursday, June 22, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McMillan, feted him with a birthday dance in honor of the occasion. About 35 guests attended the dance, which was given at the McMillan home.

Annette Johnson and Jamie Fay Hill, who are attending Midland Commercial College were in Sonora visiting their families and friends last weekend. Annette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Johnson, and Jamie is the daughter of Mrs. Sadie Archer.

Three Sonora cowboys, Dan Carter Cauthorn, Zane Powers and Jimmy Frank Richardson, participated in the Kerrville Rodeo last week. Zane received recognition as the second place calf roper and topped the second go-round. Dan Carter received only a broken collarbone, which was incurred while he was riding—or maybe shooting—the bulls.

HUNT HORSE WINNER

James Hunt's Art Bars, a two year old, ran third at Ruidoso Downs Sunday, June 18. First was Golden Note owned by J. W. and D. J. Burr of Long Beach, California. Mr. Three Bars, owned by E. J. Burke of Larado, was second.

Sonora's second annual Junior Rodeo is scheduled for the week of July 17 this year, according to Louis Powers, secretary. Application blanks are ready for distribution and must be in the hands of the Sonora Park and Horse Show Association, sponsoring organization, by July 17.

Fifteen contests will be held this year, and all are approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association. They include tie down calf roping, ribbon roping, senior bull dogging and bull riding for boys aged 16 to 19; tie down calf roping, ribbon roping and bull riding for boys aged 13 to 15; barrel racing and pole bending for girls 16 to 19; barrel racing and pole bending for girls aged 13 to 15; barrel racing and pole bending for girls aged 12 and under; and barrel racing and pole bending for boys aged 12 and under.

Dances will be held at the Club center each night of the event.

Rangelands Make Good Comeback As Result Of Recent Heavy Rains

Fort Stockton Junior Rodeo Set July 7 & 8

The Pecos County Sheriff's Posse of Fort Stockton has announced that their Junior Rodeo, AJRA approved, will be held July 7 and 8.

Best all-round cowboy and girls will receive a full stamped $250.00 trophy. Saddle and silver buckles will be presented the winner of each rodeo event. Best all-round cowgirl will receive a ladies' western suit and trophies will be given in each age group. Those who may participate are in age groups of 12 years and under, 13 through 15 years, and 16 through 19 years, both boys and girls. Entry deadline is two o'clock Friday afternoon, July 7. Participants may contact Eugene Upshaw, Fort Stockton, Texas.

Widespread soaking rains received in the Sonora area last week have brought a new look to drought parched rangelands. Most of the six to twelve inches of rain soaked into the soil, causing the best growing conditions in many years.

Though the primary benefits were on a million-plus acres of range land in the Edwards Plateau SCD, the moisture was a boon to recently seeded flood prevention structures and to new grass seedings. W. L. Miers, Joe M. VanderStucken, G. T. Rode, and Frank Fish have good stands of grass emerging on pitted or root plowed areas. The grass cover on the seeded flood prevention structures is looking very good.

Floodwater was caught in eight of the 13 flood structures, but only Site 9 on the James Hunt and Nancy Powell ranch had the sediment pool filled. Site 11 on the W. L. Miers ranch caught several feet deep over some 40 acres of land, and lacked about one foot of reaching the automatic drawdown tube.

The Agricultural Research Service had several recording rain gauges installed on the Lowrey Draw watershed to record the rain. The gauge on the Allie Askew ranch recorded 3 inches in one hour, which was the highest intensity recorded in the watershed. Most of the rain fell slowly enough to produce little runoff.

With good moisture conditions, ranchmen have a good opportunity to rest pastures that need to mature a good seed crop and regain vigor. Short periods of six weeks to two months rest following the good rainfall will permit rapid improvement.

Sutton County Ranchmen Give Nod To Three Deer Season Limit

Sutton County landowners meeting with members of the Texas Game and Fish Commission at the court house Monday afternoon, June 26, accepted two regulatory game proposals by the commission.

The first delegates to the landowners the handling of all doe deer permits and the responsibility for tagging any does killed on the landowner's property. It would eliminate the necessity for central checking stations such as that maintained at the locker plant here during the past two deer seasons.

The second proposes to limit the legal number of deer to three per hunter, with no more than two of the three to be bucks. A hunter would be permitted to kill two bucks and one doe, two does and one buck or three does. The third or "bonus" deer would be marked with a special tag which would be issued to the landowner.

Bag limit on turkeys will remain the same, two gobblers per hunter per season.

Votes on the proposals will be referred back to the State Game Commission which will then either accept or reject the new regulatory measures. The Commission's decision will then be sent back to the County Commission which will again vote on the measures before sending their decisions back to the State.

If the proposals are accepted by the Commission they will go into effect on September 1, 1961.

Lions Prexy E. B. Keng Reports On Convention Trip

Awards were presented to several local Boy Scouts at the Tuesday meeting of the Sonora Lions Club. B. W. Lovelace reported on a trip to Camp Sol Mayer last week. "Sonora should be very proud of Troop 19 and the adult leaders who have worked with the boys", Jimmy Powers, Zane's brother, was in Buffalo Gap participating in a rodeo this week. Jimmy added other winnings to his long list of honors, includes being named all-round cowboy at Alpine and second in calf roping and ribbon roping. He also entered the rodeo in Eutopia two weeks ago.

Wanda Sue Mackey, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mackey, is in Abilene working this summer. She is a graduate of Sonora Public Schools.

Joyce Hearn has found a new, and rather novel, way to "beat the heat" this summer. She left for Anchorage, Alaska, last week with her uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thiers and Linda of San Antonio, and another cousin, Charlotte Alexander. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hearn, Joyce will be a guest of relatives in Anchorage for about two weeks.

Lovelace said. He added that Troop 19 walked away with most of the awards.

Hillman Brown presented 2nd Class Scouting awards to Louis Wardlaw and Laney Cook. First Class awards were presented to Gary Hargrave, Jimmy Trainer and Eddie Howell. Jerry Shurley received the Star Award.

Merit Badge awards for Citizenship at Home and in the Community were presented to Gil Allison, while Dick Hardgrave received Merit Badge awards for World Brotherhood, Nature and Camping. Gil and Dick also received the Life Award for completing 10 Merit Badges.

Herbert Fields, local Scoutmaster, showed the awards won by Troop 19 at Camp Sol Mayer. The Troop won the coveted Best Camp Spirit Award—which is presented in memory of Mrs. Sol Mayer, and winners are selected by the boys. Troop 19 also won an "A" award for the best Camp, and some Rifle Range awards.

E. B. Keng gave a brief report on his trip to the Lions International Convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey. The Lions Club will not meet next Tuesday, July 4, because of the holiday.

Lions Elect International President

Per Ståhl of Eskilstuna, Sweden, was elected International President of Lions International at the Association's 44th Annual Convention in Atlantic City. Lions International, with 620,000 members in 112 countries or regions, is the world's largest service club organization. Lions International is best known for its many youth programs, community service projects, sight conservation activities and aid to the blind. Last year Lions Clubs around the globe completed more than 200,000 individual community service projects.

Galveston Flood Took Fewer Lives Than Auto Crashes

September 8, 1900 was a warm, cloud-flecked day in Galveston. Slowly the skies turned yellow, the beating of the waves on the wooden wharves increased in tempo, the skies darkened and the wind came. Inexorably, the sea rose about and through the city. Houses crumbled and washed away. Trees and railroad ties spun through the streets on sand and mud-filled torrents. Babies were wrenched from their mother's arms and husbands watched helplessly as their families were swept away or crushed by falling debris. When the sea and the winds receded 6,000 people were gone.

The Galveston tidal wave was one of three of the most dreadful "natural" disasters the United States has ever experienced. The Titanic, which struck an iceberg on a clear evening in April 1912 carried 1,517 people with her to the bottom of the sea. The Johnstown flood in 1889 swept away the lives of 2,209 people. By appalling coincidence, these three disasters prove that man is more destructive to himself than any of the forces of nature. In the three disasters a total of 9,726 lives were lost. In just three consecutive summer months, June, July and August 1958, 9,726 lives were also lost. But in 1958 man, himself, was responsible. 9,726 men, women and children were needlessly slain in traffic accidents on our streets and highways during those months—the exact number lost in the three "natural" disasters. And the terrible toll goes on, year after year, unheeded by the motoring public!

Every conscientious driver in the state of Texas should do all he can to prevent needless disaster on our highways this summer. Speed is our number one killer and that even through special enforcement programs are now in effect, the major responsibility must rest upon the driving public. Every motorist must pay special attention to the international SLOW DOWN AND LIVE safety program, now being sponsored for the ninth consecutive year by the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators. This program, which has grown to become the largest single safety education program in the world, has proven its effectiveness in saving lives. We MUST halt the needless slaughter on our highways. With citizen support and sane, safe driving practices we know we can.

The great stretch of Texas from Corpus Christi to the lower Rio Grande Valley now has many oil fields, ranches, farms and orchards of orange and grapefruit trees but here is the way the region appeared when Second Lieut. U. S. Grant traversed it some 115 years ago as the army of Gen. Zachary Taylor marched to what is now Brownsville, (as related in Grant's "Memoirs"):

"The distance from Corpus Christi to Matamoros is about one hundred and fifty miles. The country does not abound in fresh water, and the length of the marches had to be regulated by the distance between water supplies. Besides the streams there were occasional pools, filled during the rainy season, some probably made by the traders, who traveled constantly between Corpus Christi and the Rio Grande, and some by the buffalo. There was not at that time a single habitation, cultivated field, or herd of domestic animals between Corpus Christi and Matamoros.

"It was necessary, therefore, to have a wagon train sufficiently large enough to transport the camp and garrison equipment, officers' baggage, rations for the army, and part rations of grain for the artillery horses and all the animals taken from the North, where they had been accustomed to having their forage furnished them. The army was but indifferently supplied with transportation. Wagons and harnesses could easily be supplied from the North; but mules and horses could not so readily be bought.

"The American traders and Mexican smugglers came to the relief. Contracts were made for mules at from eight to eleven dollars each. The smugglers furnished the animals, and took their pay in goods of the description aforementioned. I doubt whether the Mexicans received in value from the traders five dollars per head for the animals they furnished, and still more, whether they paid anything but their own time in procuring them. Such is trade; such is war. The Government paid in hard cash to the contractor the stipulated price.

"Between the Rio Grande and the Nueces there was at that time a large band of wild horses feeding; as numerous, probably, as the band of buffalo roaming farther north was before its rapid extermination commenced. The Mexicans used to capture these in large numbers and bring them into the American settlements and sell them. A picked animal could be purchased at eight to twelve dollars, but taken at wholesale they could be bought for thirty-six dollars a dozen. Some of these were purchased for the army, and answered a most useful purpose.

"The horses generally were very strong, formed much like the Norman horse, and with very heavy manes and tails. A number of officers supplied themselves with these, and they generally rendered as useful service as the Northern animal; in fact, they were much better when grazing was the only means of supplying forage."

Buffalo Clover Festival
 Buffalo Clover is what the old settlers called it. Now it's known as the state flower of Texas.
 Most likely you prefer the modern name of this beautiful lupine plant for it does look more like what is now called—the bluebonnet.
 You haven't seen much of Texas either if you haven't seen the fields of sky-blue bluebonnets.
 Every April the town of Marlin in Central Texas (Falls County) holds a "Bluebonnet Festival." Beautiful models are provided to pose for the amateur photographers who travel from all over the nation to see the festival and to compete in the annual photo contest.
 Side-Wheelers At Jefferson
 Old side-wheeler boats used to churn up from New Orleans to Jefferson, Texas, in the north-east part of the state.

 In 1874 a natural barrier in the Red River was removed. This resulted in a lowering of the water level seven feet in Cypress Bayou, thus making it unnavigable for boat transportation.
 This ended Jefferson's standing as the principal river port and gate of entry to Texas.
Weatherford Walls Bullet Scarred
 A double log cabin stands at Holland's Lake just a few miles east of Weatherford, Texas, west of Fort Worth.
 Its east room is where George McCleskey was killed by Indians in 1873. This room still contains its bullet-scarred walls.
 The cabin was a popular spot for old settlers' reunions. Now it is a monument to the pioneers of Parker County.
Nacogdoches Was Battleground
 You could write a book about the battles that were fought for Nacogdoches. Also one about the armies and expeditions that captured this East Texas town.
 Two expeditions bent on freeing this land from the Spanish were those of Magee-Gutierrez and Dr. James Long. Both were ill-fated excursions.
 As a reminder of this stormy history, one of the oldest of the many historic homes still in Nacogdoches today is that of Adolphus Sterne, the Alcalde at the city when it was under Spanish rule.
 Sam Houston once lived in this same house.
Only Alto Site Remains
 Texas expelled the Neches Indians from the state in 1839.
 The site of one of their old villages is just five miles southwest of Alto, in Cherokee County, in the central portion of East Texas, near Rusk.
 This village was active in the lives of the Neches at the beginning of the 18th Century.
 The Neches River was named for these Indians, as was a nearby mission established by the Cherokee Indians, the Mission San Francisco de los Neches.

Traffic Deaths To Be Heavy This July 4th

Governor Price Daniel said Friday that "every Texas driver owes it to himself, his family, his passengers and his State to make certain that he is not involved in a traffic crash at any time but, more especially during the traffic-crowded Fourth of July period."

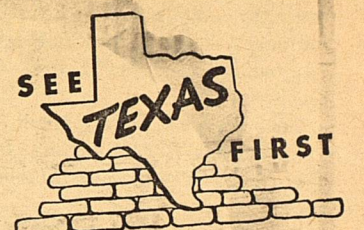

The Texas Department of Public Safety said the official "Operation Deathwatch," during which all victims of violent or accidental death will be counted, will be observed from 12:01 AM to 11:59 PM, Tuesday, July 4, making it a one day holiday.

"But I feel fairly certain," the Governor added, "that Texas highways will carry an unusual amount of traffic also on July 1, 2 and 3, immediately preceding the national Independence Day observances. So again we appeal to all drivers to exercise unusual caution and to drive carefully and legally."

The Governor said the average daily traffic toll in Texas was nearly seven a day in 1959 and just over six a day in 1960. In the light of records for the one-day Fourth of July holidays in 1956, when 12 were killed, and in 1957, when 15 were traffic victims, Governor Daniel added, "it is quite possible that the normal average could be doubled on the Fourth, and this we want to prevent."

The Governor has asked all State and local law enforcement officials to "maintain steady pressure particularly on persons involved in speed too great for conditions and driving while drinking, and against all drivers who either cannot or will not drive safely and legally."

In 1956, when the DPS predicted 11 traffic deaths, 12 persons died. In 1957, with a prediction of 10 deaths totaled 15. In the past nine years, Fourth of July traffic deaths have been fewer than predicted only three times. Two of those better years, 1958 and 1960, followed strenuous Statewide campaigns staged under the Governor's sponsorship, in cooperation with State and local law enforcement agencies and civic groups.

Hot Brings Cold

Hot water heaters are used to cool water in Smiley, Texas.

Sounds outlandish to say the least, doesn't it?

This happy sounding town in Gonzales County, in the central part of South Texas, has a powerful artesian well that pours forth its own hot water.

The town of Smiley pipes this hot water right into the homes. These fortunate Texans have all the hot water they need. But the residents use hot water tanks, not connected for heating purposes, to store the water long enough for it to cool for drinking purposes.

So, when in Smiley, remember to turn on the hot water faucet for a cold shower.

Nacogdoches Was Battleground

You could write a book about the battles that were fought for Nacogdoches. Also one about the armies and expeditions that captured this East Texas town.

Two expeditions bent on freeing this land from the Spanish were those of Magee-Gutierrez and Dr. James Long. Both were ill-fated excursions.

As a reminder of this stormy history, one of the oldest of the many historic homes still in Nacogdoches today is that of Adolphus Sterne, the Alcalde at the city when it was under Spanish rule.

Sam Houston once lived in this same house.

Everybody's Doing It--Eating Lamb

It's the diplomatic thing to do these days, enjoy lamb.

Heads of two nations recently demonstrated this; first, when President Kennedy listed as one of his favorite dishes, lamb chops, and secondly when Queen Elizabeth II served lamb to the President and Mrs. Kennedy during their recent visit to England.

The popularity of lamb as the dish of presidents and kings is a tradition fast gaining acceptance in this country as more and more people learn of the taste appeal of tender lamb, not only for festive occasions, a la king, but better yet, for everyday, home or away.

Queen Elizabeth served saddle of lamb to the President and Mrs. Kennedy. In the United States, the saddle of lamb is more commonly known as the rack of lamb, or half a saddle. Broken down into simpler terms, the rack is merely your favorite rib chops in one piece with the backbone removed for easy carving.

The rack or saddle, the regal crown roast, and the boned and rolled shoulder make up the larger roasts of lamb, but in these days of giving the customer what she wants, there are 43 different cuts of lamb, including several versions of the always popular leg of lamb. To name a few others, there are lamb shanks, an overwhelming favorite in many parts of the country, lamb shoulder chops, lamb shish kebab, loin chops, lambburgers, lamb stew.

So, everybody's doing it—eating lamb in a variety of forms, with a dash of rosemary, a smidgen of thyme or oregano, garlic crushed to nothingness with the salt and massaged into the meat, lemon juice to squeeze over it, or a white wine to baste it now and then. It's the queenly thing to do—eat lamb.

YEARS AGO

March 28, 1896

After a successful term of seven months the Sonora public school closed on Friday, March 20. The pupils attending regularly are reported to have made satisfactory progress. No special preparations were made for the closing except the regular monthly recitation, essays, speeches, etc. Prof. C. Stevenson made a few appropriate remarks to the public. Prof. Stevenson, Mrs. Rountree and Miss Thornton, the teachers, have made warm places in the hearts of the majority of their pupils and patrons of the school.

A very enjoyable social was given Monday night by Mrs. C. G. Lovelace at her residence in Sonora.

G. W. Morris called our attention to the fact this week that there are numerous graves in the Sonora grave yard that are not marked and several that need filling in. Parties who have friends buried here should see to this.

Often referred to as "socialized housing", because public housing is government owned and rented to low and middle-income families for about one-half of what they would rent for in free enterprise. Translated into simple language, this means that taxpayers chip in and help pay about half of the rent bills for public housing tenants each month.

Many such projects are filled mostly by city firemen, policemen, etc., earning from four to six thousand dollars annually. The following Texans voted

Devil's River Philosopher Declines To Use A Shovel, Speculates On De-Salted Ocean Water For Ranches

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River looks toward the future of ranching this week, but his vision may be clouded.

Dear editor:

I was sitting under a tree some distance away from my house yesterday afternoon where it was quiet, on account of I had just declined to shovel some dirt for my wife on the grounds that I read the newspapers and am fully aware of the dangers of a shovel, although I wish to say I don't rely on Washington to do my thinking and I declined to use a shovel years before Mr. Kennedy tried his hand at it, and pulled out a newspaper I had been saving for just such an emergency and read an article that interested me.

According to it, an experimental plant has been put into operation changing salt water out of the ocean to fresh, drinkable water, and several more plants are being built.

Eventually, the article said, sea water can be de-salted so efficiently and cheaply that it will be available for city use, industrial use, and maybe even finally for agricultural use.

Babes Of Wild Picked Up At Your Own Risk

Despite warnings to refrain from picking up young of the wild, the practice persists in many areas, according to J. B. Phillips, assistant director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

"Wardens all over the state have been notified to make arrests where violations are reported," he says. "Too many people are inclined to pick up baby animals, especially fawn deer. These animals have a much better chance of survival in their native woods than they do in the city, even when bottle fed."

He also pointed to the danger of having these animals for pets when they grow up. There are many instances where the animals will revert to the wild and seriously injure the person who raised them.

Phillips also warns against molesting nesting birds or tampering with other young wild game.

"Some heavy fines have been paid in recent weeks by persons who failed to heed this warning," he said. "We hope it stops."

against the bill: Fisher, Burleson, Casey, Dowdy, Alger, Kilgore, Mahon, Rogers and Teague.

It was this last use that interests me. According to one speculative article on this, one day pipes carrying ocean water will be run all over the country and all a rancher will have to do when he needs a rain is turn on a hydrant and irrigate his pasture. This, it said, will whip the weather problem and make ranching one of the easiest jobs on earth.

I am afraid the fellow who thought that up is a little over-enthusiastic.

In the first place, ranching is ranching, which is to say work, whether you get your moisture out of a pipe or out of the clouds.

In the second place, if somebody runs a pipe with de-salted sea water out to my bitterweed ranch, I have a notion that just on the far side of the hydrant he'll install a meter, and before he turns the water on, he'll come up to my house and want a substantial deposit. Then when water flows over my ranch, the meter will start clicking and it won't be a free gift from the clouds but another bill to face on the first of the month. I'm not saying it shouldn't be this way, all I'm saying is that it won't make ranching the easiest job on earth. The only way to make ranching easy is to ranch like I do, but I don't recommend the method if the world wants to keep eating.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Fisher Opposes Housing Bill

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A MOTHER HUBBARD housing bill breezed through the House last week, by far the largest measure of its kind in history. Including "back door spending" provisions, such as Treasury withdrawals or contract commitments without future specific Congressional approval, the total amount involved is about $9 billion.

With something for everybody included, the bill includes a loan purchase provision, allowing 3% down payment on homes costing up to $15,000, with 35 years to pay. This provision was generally acceptable to critics of the omnibus measure.

The measure commits the government to a mammoth public housing program, on an unprecedented scale. Although nearly 100,000 such units are already authorized and in the pipe line, the current bill increases that by 100,000. The financing of the program is done by a "back door" device, and will cost the taxpayers in excess $2 billion for the 100,000 units, over a 40 year period. We already have some 600,000 such units completed.

"What program did you watch when you were little, Mama?"

It's easy for us to forget the comforts we have today. If we don't watch ourselves, all we think of is the hurry and bustle of the day.

The "good old days" to the little girl pictured above are just a few years ago to some of us. We forget that TV's so new. Yet most of our wonderful electric servants have been developed in just a generation!

As still more new ones come along, it's good to know that there will be plenty of electricity--from companies like this one--to run them. And the more new appliances you use, the less your electricity will cost per average kilowatt-hour.

Now think about it for just a minute--do you really want to live in the "good old days" without your electric servants--or is it just a dream?

Here's a bargain for Mama!

For less than 3¢ the average family, served by WTU, can cook a complete meal the modern electric way... and enjoy the cleanliness and convenience of Flameless Electric Living.

HOW COME A CAR THAT RIDES LIKE THIS ONE DOESN'T COST MORE?

A good question--and we could spend this whole page answering! But what it all boils down to is this: It just stands to reason you're going to get more for your money when you put it on the car more people are buying... and that car is the Jet-smooth Chevrolet.

Best way to settle any further questions about Chevy's ride is to settle behind the wheel and try it. Full Coil suspension and over 700 other gentle persuaders throughout the body and chassis will go to work cushioning, insulating, smoothing, JET-SMOOTH CHEVY soothing and pampering. Only question you'll have left is why didn't you try it sooner. You might also ask: Who else in Chevrolet's field gives you Body by Fisher craftsmanship and such a wide variety of models to make sure you get just what you're looking for? Answer: Nobody.

NOTHING DOWN TERMS TO SUIT 3 Years To Pay

Foxworth Galbraith Lumber Co.

YEARS AGO

March 28, 1896 After a successful term of seven months the Sonora public school closed on Friday, March 20. The pupils attending regularly are reported to have made satisfactory progress. No special preparations were made for the closing except the regular monthly recitation, essays, speeches, etc. Prof. C. Stevenson made a few appropriate remarks to the public. Prof. Stevenson, Mrs. Rountree and Miss Thornton, the teachers, have made warm places in the hearts of the majority of their pupils and patrons of the school.

A very enjoyable social was given Monday night by Mrs. C. G. Lovelace at her residence in Sonora. G. W. Morris called our attention to the fact this week that there are numerous graves in the Sonora grave yard that are not marked and several that need filling in. Parties who have friends buried here should see to this.

April 4, 1896 Very few muttons were shipped from the Sonora country last season and as a consequence the best muttons in Texas are to be found here. They have been fat for two years and will stand shipping better than in former years.

Joe T. Gurley and daughter Miss Ollie of Ozona came over Saturday. Miss Ollie is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Cusenbary.

E. S. Briant, S. G. Tayloe, Geo. Hamilton and C. Stevenson left on a week's fishing trip to Pecan Springs Thursday.

Mrs. A. V. Corhn of Ardmore, I.T., arrived in Sonora Tuesday, on a visit to her brother Walter and Will Whitehead of Val Verde County.

Mrs. John Eaton is recovering from major surgery undergone at Hudspeth Memorial Hospital here Sunday.
